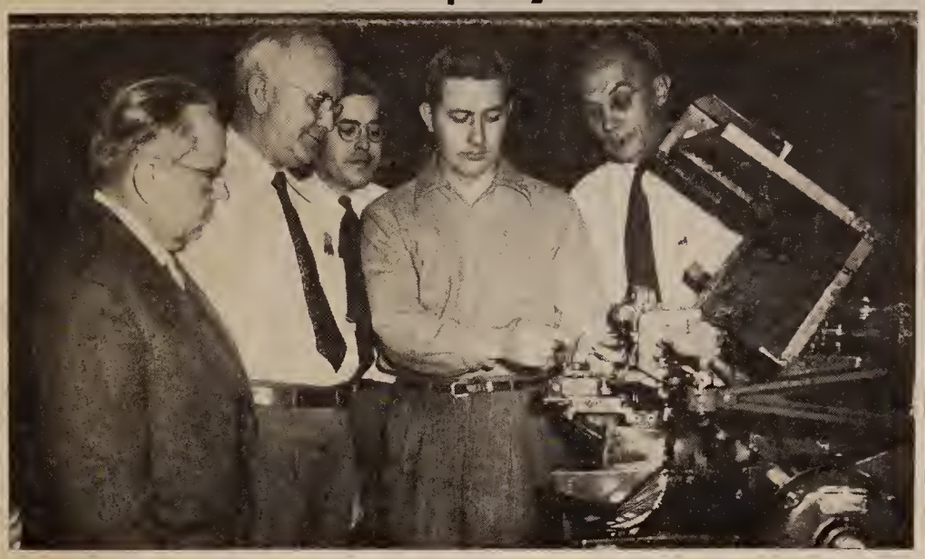
Digitized by the Internet Archive in 2020 with funding from Allen County Public Library Genealogy Center

https://archive.org/details/fortwayneworks1951

INDIANA COLLECTION

ALLEN COUNTY PUBLIC LIBRARY
3 1833 06601 9016
GC
977.202
F77ELG,
1951



FORT WAYNE WORKS
GE NEWS

Volume 34 | FORT WAYNE, INDIANA, FRIDAY, JANUARY 5, 1951 | No. 1

SAFETY COMES FIRST—

Your personal safety is not only the Company's worry but it is also your own. To find out how the Safety Section protects all of us, read page six of this week's WORKS NEWS.

247 Share $3,837.50 Suggestion Awards

EARNS TOP DECEMBER SUGGESTION AWARD—Melvin Curtis, FHP Motor Div. 13, (second from right) was awarded $565 for his suggestion to install another cutter on lead strippers. His idea saved a large amount of lead material which otherwise would have been scrapped. In the picture, he is pointing out several features of his idea to (left to right) H. E. Koehlinger, O. J. Meyer, Robert Coen and George App.

Melvin Curtis Gets $565; John Miles Receives $165 Prize Money

Two-hundred and forty-seven Fort Wayne Works employees ended the old year in a good financial manner by earning $3,837.50 during the month of December, A. C. Hartman, Chairman of the Works Suggestion System, revealed today.

Melvin Curtis, FHP Motor Div. 13, was top award winner with $565. Mr. Curtis suggested an additional cutter to be installed on lead strippers, making it possible to use several hundred thousand feet of lead material which would have been scrapped.

John Miles, FHP Motor Div. 14, was next on the prize list. He received $165 for suggesting that spring steel, used in making certain washers, be annealed before punching. Such processing prolongs the life of dies. As a result of his suggestion, it was possible to use a lighter grade of stock, at less cost, to produce the same results.

Wins $130

A new method of grinding shafts used on the FHP motors brought $130 to Herbert Richter, FHP Motor Div. 17. With his suggestion, it is possible to reduce grinding time and to eliminate excessive rejections.

An award of $100 went to John Schreiber, of the Taylor St. Power House. He suggested a more effective method of cleaning air filters used in the Taylor St. air conditioning.

Harold H. Fletter, FHP Motor Div. 17, earned $75 for his idea pertaining to air bumpers. Eighty-five dollars went to Levi C. Carpenter, Specialty Transformer Div. 94, for his suggestion about counters on test.

An additional award amounting to $50 was paid to Arthur F. Pequignot, Specialty Transformer Div. 94, for his idea involving the winding of transformers. Four em-

(Continued on page 4)

G-E Mobile Radio Units Help Solve Bus Disruptions

Fort Wayne Transit Company Uses 2-Way Receivers, Senders

Two-way radio is helping the Fort Wayne Transit Company to speed up its handling of emergency situations where normal service is disrupted by mechanical failures, weather conditions, traffic tie-ups, or other causes, transit officials have disclosed.

General Electric mobile receivers and transmitters have been installed in the company's supervisory cars, in vehicles of the overhead line and roadway department, and in garage and service trucks.

Station transmitters and receivers, also G-E, are operating in the dispatcher's office and at the downtown supervisor's position.

"The new system insures more

(Continued on page 4)

N. M. DuChemin, J. W. Belanger Appointed General Managers Of Small, Large Apparatus Divisions

NEW YORK—Nicholas M. DuChemin, of Lynn Field, Mass., and John W. Belanger, of Schenectady, N. Y., have been named General Managers of the Small Apparatus Divisions and Large Apparatus Divisions, respectively, of the General Electric Company's Apparatus Department, Ralph J. Cordiner, company president, has announced.

Both in their new capacities will be responsible to Henry V. Erben, G-E vice president. Formerly, they were assistant general managers of the department, Company officials explained.

The appointments mark an integration of the Apparatus Department into three basic units, according to Mr. Erben. These are the Large Apparatus Divisions, the Small Apparatus Divisions, and the Marketing Divisions.

Marketing Head Remains

Marketing operations for all products of the department will continue under Chester H. Lang, Company vice president and manager of marketing for the department.

Mr. Lang is responsible for over-all organization, operation and programs of district offices, general office industry divisions, advertising and sales promotion divisions, marketing research division, and order service and warehouse divisions.

According to an announcement by Mr. Erben, Mr. Belanger will direct and be responsible for over-

(Continued on page 4)

ONLY $10 DOWN . . .

Reservations For Elex-sponsored Bermuda Trip Now Being Accepted

Reservations are now being accepted for the Elex-sponsored trip to Bermuda during the vacation shut-down, Veora Habig, general travel chairman, has announced.

All G-E women's organizations are invited to participate in the trip, which will include air transportation on Pan-American Constellation planes and four days and three nights in Bermuda.

Total cost of the trip will be $159 including round trip air tickets from New York to Bermuda, all meals and lodging at Bermuda's most luxurious hotels, and incidental excursions on the island, Mrs. Habig said.

The suggested financing of the plan is a down payment of $10, when making reservations, and $25 monthly thereafter. Other arrangements can also be made if desired, Mrs. Habig explained.

Printed booklets in color describ-

(Continued on page 4)

Two Employees Win City Council Posts

Carl A. Alter, Bldg. 4-4, was elected vice president of the City Council and Hilbert J. Nahrwold, Taylor St., was named council representative on the City Plan Commission at Monday's organization meeting, Council sources have revealed.

Mr. Alter succeeds Mr. Nahrwold, who served as vice president last year. Both men are entering their fourth year as members of the council.

TAXES DUE AGAIN . . .

Withholding Tax Statements To Be Distributed Friday, January 12

Distribution of Employees' Withholding Tax Statements (Forms W-2) will be made Friday, Jan. 12, according to paymasters of the various divisions. The forms will be distributed with salaried employees' payroll drafts and to hourly-rated employees on the same day.

Indiana Gross Income Tax must be paid by Wednesday, Jan. 31. Final returns for Federal Income Taxes are due on or before March 15.

Employees who have received more than one Form W-2 statement during the year must add the amounts together in order to arrive at the total earnings and tax withheld for 1950.

FORT WAYNE WORKS
NEWS

Volume 34 Friday, January 5, 1951 No. 1

Lou Rotterman ..... Editor

Let's Use Our Heads

(Editor's note: The following is a guest editorial by Jim Mitchell. A dispatcher in Building 27, Jim is a former radio announcer. He recently completed a series of weekly Sunday afternoon half-hour programs entitled "Passing In Review" over WRSW-FM, Warsaw.)

Despite the current era of rising prices, mere Man has a physical (pre-inflation) cash value of approximately 98 cents. And, since today's dollar is only worth about fifty cents, it's not hard to ascertain one's physical value. Fortunately for all of us, our physical valuation is the smallest part of our actual worth.

Since each of us comes equipped with a standard item called the head, let us pause for a moment to review its many uses. It has hair; an item which many of us meticulously comb, curl, bleach, or dye, according to individual taste. It encases the eyes; these are demure, shifty, steady, sparkling, flashing fire, twinkling, or calm. They come in assorted colors.

The head has appendages called ears; ideal things for eye glasses anchorages. They also keep our hats from falling down over our eyes.

The head has another appendage called the nose. It is handy when we inhale cigarettes, keeps glasses from dropping down, and permits the detection of pleasant odors such as perfume. It looms over a large opening with two nice gadgets that are known as lips: these are ideal for kissing, holding cigarettes, or opening to allow food to enter into the cavity known as the mouth. At the base of the head is the chin; an active counterbalance while chewing gum or food. It is convenient to rest it in the palms of the hands.

With all this standard equipment and its many uses, let us pause for a moment to realize that within this head is a mechanism so complex, so delicately adjusted, and so phenomenal that only a rough estimate of its powers can be computed. It is called the mind. Although each of us has one, it's hardly noticeable on some of us. Others have recognized its potential and have endeavored to develop it.

Beginning right now, let us each take a personal inventory of this part of our physical equipment. Obviously, we can't do too much with the hair.

Let us open our eyes to see the serious world conditions we are now facing.

Let us "follow our nose" in the good old American way of getting to the seat of trouble and eradicating it.

Let us use our ears to scoop in the verbal garble that floats daily on the breeze, and choose only that which is good and sound for permanent storage.

Let us use the chin as a ramrod to keep the head erect to announce to all that the pride of being an American still lives.

Let us use the lips for only sound utterance based on fact, or if that proves futile, go back to chewing gum.

Let us pause at the opening and closing of each day, at a minimum, to thank Almighty God for the many blessings which we too often take for granted.

Let us ask Him, if it be His will, to forever grant the continuance of Peace on Earth, Good Will toward Men as an actual practice, rather than a hackneyed phrase.

The hour is late; LET US PAUSE.

A new page has been turned, and we are now looking toward the New Year and what it has in store for us. Maybe we had better pause long enough to look back over some of the happenings during December. . . . The General Electric Company entertained the Industrial Nurses of the North East District at a dinner meeting. The tables in the private dining room were beautifully decorated for the Christmas Season. I. H. Freeman, Kenneth Michael, Ivan Rinehart, Dr. H. W. Garton and Dr. Harvey Murdock were present to welcome nurses from industries in this locality. A short tour was made in the plant and through the dispensaries. Following a short business meeting, Dr. Garton gave an illustrated talk on skin conditions. . . . An interesting letter was received from Dr. George Faulkner, who is now interning in a Long Beach, California, Hospital. He sent some delicious dates to the section. It was very thoughtful of him. . . . We wish to extend our sympathy to Berneta Welbaum, whose grandmother died before Christmas. . . . Veda Orff spent her third week of vacation in Michigan where there was an abundant amount of snow. Florence Martin substituted in her absence. . . . December 25 was a double holiday for Berneta Welbaum. It was her birthday, so she received a double order of packages. . . . A delicious pre-Christmas dinner was held in the Main Dispensary Dec. 22, at noon. Roast chicken, dressing and all of the trimmings combined to make a grand meal. . . . The Claude Frybacks are driving a new Chrysler, and Thelma Harrison skims down the road from Huntington in her new Plymouth. This is to give chickens fair warning to beware. . . . Thus ends the unfinished business of the old year, now on with 1951 with best wishes for all.

Information Clinic

QUESTION:

I would like more information about why the company can't clean off the side walks in front of the plant and at the west side of Bldg. 17 to the railroad. Also, why can't the company clean off the parking lots. Surely, it wouldn't create any ill will.

ANSWER:

In general, the company attempts to clean the parking lots, side walks, other approaches and entrances to the plant. However, we recently experienced a rather abnormal snow fall which overtaxed our equipment, adequate under ordinary situations.

It is not practical to maintain equipment to remove large quantities of snow since this occurs very infrequently. The Company did engage the services of a local contractor equipped with caterpillar tractors and dump trucks to assist in removing the unusual quantity of snow.

Small wheel vehicles, such as industrial trucks, cannot operate in deep snow. In order to keep the plant operating, it was necessary to clear the way for these vehicles as a first priority.

The number and location of the company's many parking lots makes it difficult to clean them immediately, especially when the snow storm occurs on a week-end.

Although the snow storm was much heavier than usual, only a few days elapsed before a near normal condition was attained.

This storm also found the equipment of the city, county and state inadequate to handle unusual conditions, and it was several days before many roads were passable.

Don't look now but the first things we see in 1951 are bill collectors, tax collectors, draft notices, inflation, controls, wars and Margaret on television. Oh well, a bad beginning means a good ending. . . . Three draftsmen got caught in the draft. Three of our Reserves, Fernando Gonzales, Harold Fremion and Don Kent, will leave January 15 to serve for Uncle Sam. Bill Montville left to go back to school. . . . Bea Collar is back from California and expects to be working soon again for G-E while her husband, Roger, fights off the Reds in Korea. For Christmas Elaine Holmes accepted a beautiful diamond on the third finger, left hand, from Len Harlan. Best Wishes! . . . Having finished his duties in Central File, George Fridholm is now working in the AC Generator section.

VACATIONS: Third week vacations during the holidays were as follows: Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Hire went to Washington to visit with their son, Lt. Col. Homer Hire. . . . Amel Beck and Nolan Riley went to Florida. . . . Vaughn Sheets spent his vacation walking up and down the Old Trail (Road in Waynedale). . . . Wimpy Lemper sat by the old heating stove with his feet on the cracker barrel making chains for his tractor. . . . Al Swift spent a couple days each shoveling snow, ice fishing and being sick. . . . Cleo Crowe led us to believe he too was going to Florida, but from all reports he had to stay home and help with the house work. . . . HONEY: Instead of Ralph Hoover calling his boss a honey, he just brings him honey. We wonder what for or for what. . . . NEWS FLASH: Bob Pickett's new address is 382 General Hospital APO 660 San Francisco, Calif.

SICK LIST

The following people have been reported sick, dismissed from the hospital and returned to work:

Charles R. Kiess, Irvin Junk, Joseph Burton, James Christlieb, Mabel Englert, Jonathan Ford, Eugenia Gooding, Violet J. Mode, Phyllis Morrison, Rennie Phelps, Harold A. Richardson, Mardo Tobias, Marie Wilson, Geraldine Henline, Jennie Wright, Paul Bender, Oscar Reitorf, Margaret Parisot, Helen Burnam, Freida Morin, G. Uptghoft, Roy Patton, Jr., Helen Tolson, Verena Morgan, Margaret Voorhees, Elsie Fabian, Mary McKinney, Denzil Dowell, James W. Turner, Rose Richards, Mildred Gerken, Carroll Pond, Earl Copeland, Mildred Orr, Evelyn DiGregory, Maxine VanAllen, Joan Ensley, Marie Griffin, Viola Muchlenbruch, Marion Getting, Floyd Wilson, Edith Haas, Joseph J. Hartman, Dorothy Mabel, Orla Heminger, Donald Pritchard, George Luedeman, Opal Ewers, Edward M. Steinau and Marion Patty.

Left the Hospital

Mardo Tobias, Dorothy Weiler, Helen Brindle, Glenn Billman, Roy Solga, John McNulty, Anthony Crowe, Gloria Cuellar, John Brandeberry, Orville Stanton, Joseph Burton, Raymond Rybolt and George Luedeman.

Returned to Work

Harry G. Billman, Betty Pion, Mary Satterthwaite, Claudia Twibell, Ralph Jones, Viola E. Cowan, Grace Plattner, Nancy Hockensmith, Leonard Michel, Robert Busick, John Laymon, Sr., Dewey Leibrenz, Cora L. Asies, Carman Dominquez and Thurston Howell.

Since the holidays are over, everyone is resting up, if he can. . . . Blanche Mulligan had company from Pennsylvania, and she had her share of cooking and dishwashing. That goes along with visitors, doesn't it? . . . Geneva Harter spent Christmas in Evansville with her mother. . . . Some of the girls helped Darold Emrich celebrate his birthday. Do you always wash your face before you go home, Darold? . . . Brownie received a Christmas gift with a sucker tied on it. . . . Ida Haupt's daughter spent Christmas at home. . . . Bob Huhn played Santa Claus for several children. Nice isn't it, Bob when they have a gift for Santa? . . . Dollie Fodge, Ida Haupt and Violet Renkenberger had birthdays. . . . Ray Gebhart has really found "The Thing." Ask Ray what that little four-legged creature was that he brought into work with him. . . . Gloria Uptgraft has been having good news from her husband who is still in Korea. . . . Pat Rosenbury was married last week. Best of luck and good wishes.

Tire chains will help prevent slay-rides when roads are snowy and icy, the National Safety Council advises.

OUT OUR WAY

By J. R. WILLIAMS

Russell E. Blackburn Named FHP Div. 1 Production Supervisor

Russell E. Blackburn has been named Supervisor of Production for Fractional Horsepower Motor Div. 1, R. L. Spitler, Superintendent, recently announced.

. . . production supervisor

Mr. Blackburn is a native of Indiana and attended Purdue University. He joined the General Electric Company in 1940 as a schedule clerk for Large Motor and Generator divisions.

In 1945, Mr. Blackburn was transferred to Kokomo as a leader of a raw materials group. He subsequently served as Assistant to the Supervisor of Production and as Supervisor of Production in the Kokomo plant. At the closing of the Kokomo plant, he returned to Fort Wayne as Supervisor of Shipping and order service at Taylor St., where he has worked until his present appointment.

Mr. Blackburn is married and has four children. They reside at 4329 South Fairfield Ave.

SHIPPING: Three cheers for our little Betty Millhouse. She started 1951 off with a bang with a beau-ti-ful diamond on that proper finger. Congratulations to both Betty and hubby-to-be Dick Campbell, of Bldg. 6-3. . . . New Year's celebrations found Bob Jellison sporting a tuxedo. . . . Ferne Runyan celebrated New Year's twice. . . . Dorothy Johnson had two reasons to celebrate seeing as how New Year's Eve was the Johnson's first wedding anniversary. . . . TELEGRAPH: The holidays are over, and everyone is back to work. We certainly hope 1951 is a happier and more prosperous year for everyone. . . . We bade farewell to Gladys Hadley last Friday. Gladys is going to be a fulltime housewife, but we hope she don't forget to call us once in awhile. . . . The John Nelsons had a New Year's party Saturday evening to welcome in the New Year. Were those hot ribs ever good, Helene! . . . We all welcomed our Christmas card from former boss, Carol Levy Boslom. Carol, we thought maybe you'd forgotten us, how about paying us a visit? . . . Luella Welbaum is sporting a new diamond, so now the important question is when is that all important date, Luella? . . . Welcome back to Beverly Springer to telegraph office. We hope she stays with us this time. . . . If Lee Blake invites you out to her house this spring, there is a reason. They plan to build, and we heard they are getting an extra supply of hammers for any of their friends who venture out their way. Very clever, Lee. . . . Kitty Cooper is certainly a good Zollner Piston fan. Just remember, Kitty, even the best players get fouls called on them. . . . MAILING: We're hoping everybody had a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year and that Santa Claus got some skis so he can get back next year. . . . Here's wishing Robert Heyn a belated, but none the less sincere happy birthday Dec. 24. You were almost someone's Christmas present eh, Robert? . . . Santa dropped off a shirt and tie from the division for Frank Goetz. However, he made a very bad guess as to the size. . . . It seems that Christmas was a rather loud affair this year, judging from some of the shirts we've noticed since then on the backs of our boys. Nice shirts, though, fellows.

FIREMEN'S BANQUET—Merle Morkoetter, Sr., Taylor St. Fire Department (center), served as toastmaster at the G-E Firemen's annual Christmas party held recently in Bldg. 16-2. R. Nelson Snider, shown on the left, principal of South Side High School, spoke on the "Anatomy of Humor." G-E Fire Chief Ernie Hanauer is pictured on the right.

Jonathan W. Ford Dies Following Leukemia Attack

Johnathan W. Ford, 37, died of leukemia at 10 p.m. Monday at the Lutheran Hospital, after a four-year illness.

Mr. Ford joined the General Electric Company in September, 1936, as a helper at Winter St. In August, 1937, he came to Bldg. 12-1 as a compound molder. At the time of his death, he had been employed as a stock accumulator and pan dipper in Bldg. 26-1 where he had worked since 1940.

Surviving are the widow, Gabrielle Nichter Ford; one son, Jerry, and four sisters, Mrs. Lottie Ray, Mrs. Esther Mowery, Mrs. Effie Gebhardt and Mrs. Pearl Rayhouser, all of Fort Wayne.

The body was taken to the Jule Schone Funeral Home. Services were held at 8:30 a.m. Thursday at the funeral home, and 9 a.m. at the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception with the Rt. Rev. Msgr. John Dapp officiating. Burial was in Catholic Cemetery.

It was nice having Al Baker, formerly of the machinists section, as a visitor last week-end. Al's retirement seems to have made him look younger. . . . Why does Harry Parker try to get back change out of 30 cents for a 52-cent meal at the cafeteria? Maybe Harry was thinking of the good old days when he paid his bill. . . . Those fellows, Louie Watt, Bill Johnson, Bob RePine, Jake Allstetter, John Driver, Richard Nix and Ward Staley, certainly had a cold week of vacation if nothing else. . . . We miss those Warner shirts, with Ted being on nights and Bob Maggart working days on the switch-off. . . . Ward Staley was quite lucky at the Christmas Piston ball game. He came away with a chicken. . . . Mr. and Mrs. Belva Imel are the parents of a boy, David Lee, born Dec. 15, weighing 7 lb. 5 oz. . . . Louie Watt went fishing with Bob RePine just before vacation. After several hours of trying to locate a good place, Bob finally came through, beginning to catch some nice ones. Now whether Louis was cold or whether he couldn't stand to see Bob out-catch him is Louie's secret. Anyway, Louie began to cry about going home. . . . Howard McMaken has now changed from the chomping kind of tobacco to the burning kind. . . . Paul Boedeker and Jack Pollock went hunting together the other week. They each tell of the other's exploits. Jack says Paul couldn't even see the rabbits when they were sitting right in front of him, and to top that off he even got lost. Paul said all Jack did was sit in the car and read a magazine . . . Birthday greetings to John (Red) Braden, Fred Vietmeyer and Ed Harvey. Ed just left us recently to go to Bldg. 17 at Broadway.

A good citizen is a person who would behave just as he does if there were no laws.

Inquiring Reporter:

"WHAT WOULD YOU MOST LIKE TO DO IF YOU WERE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES?"

MABEL STOVALL

Bldg. 31-1

"If I were President, I would like to forget party politics long enough to make a complete change in the State Department, choosing men who have the ability to handle world problems and who are really interested in peace."

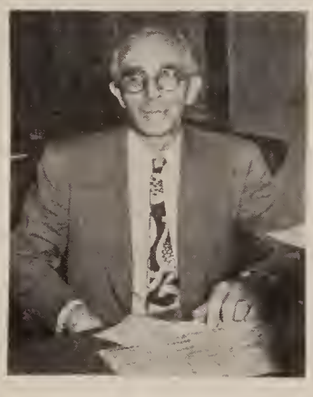
J. FRED ANDREW

Bldg. 18-4

"If I were President, I should like most to initiate, and to make effective and perpetual, the foreign policy to help every other nation to become self-supporting. This policy, declared and made effective by enabling acts, would in time lift our nation again to the position of high esteem which it held so long in the eyes of all peoples."

MARY McMANEMON

Bldg. 26-3



"I would cease useless spending, and use our money where it would do the most good. I would do more for America and less for foreign countries."

CHARLES ZOLMAN

Bldg. 17-2

"I would like most to reorganize the entire executive branch of the government and get real, honest-to-goodness, qualified American statesmen (not politicians) in it. Along with this, I would like to eliminate endless bureaus and committees so that the taxpayers could realize more good from each tax dollar paid."

RAYMOND C. FULGHUM

Taylor St.

"I would try to make a personal good-will tour to some of the larger foreign countries to try to gain their confidence, so they would be more willing to be our allies in case we need them."

COPS $100—John Schreiber, Taylor St. Power Plant, (second from right) was awarded $100 for suggesting a better and more effective method to clean air filters. In the photograph, he is being presented his award check. Left to right are Ralph Craig, Ralph Latham, Lee Hastings, Mr. Schreiber and Homer Markley.

Suggestion Awards

(Continued from page 1)

ployees garnered $45 awards. William C. Mills, Jr., Specialty Transformer Div. 94, received award-money for a suggested method of eliminating grounds. Gola Marshall, Danville, suggested a way of salvaging scrap wire. John C. Taylor, Wire and Insulation division, made a suggestion concerning cut-out switches; while Paul Weaver, General Tool division, earned his award with a die grinding idea.

Cop $35 For Ideas

William E. Braun, Specialty Transformer Div. 94, received an additional $35 for his innovation on reference prints. Dan Parker, Danville plant, also was paid $35 for his idea pertaining to the staeker stop.

For his idea about punching extractors, Carl A. Kloepper, FHP Motor Div. 15, earned a $30 award when he suggested the omission of the assembly of clamp bolts. Another $30 award went to Richard E. Gebert, FHP Motor Div. 10, for his suggestion concerning hardened gears. Jack Kirlin, FHP Div. 10, received $27.50 for his innovation on FHP drawings.

The following employees received awards amounting to $25; Charles Zolman, FHP Motor Div. 16; Margaret Monnot, FHP Div. 16; Arthur E. Hubler, FHP Motor Div. 17, who received two awards, and Elvie Dafforn, Specialty Transformer Div. 94.

Listed below are people who received awards amounting to various denominations from $5 to $20:

FHP Motor Div. 14: John R. Miles (two awards), Earl W. Strong, August W. Zollinger, Carl A. Kloepper, Ralph E. Hardesty, Guy C. Bragg (two awards), James H. Zuber, Golfrey Dillon, Theodore Crooks, Fred Kryder, Jr., Donald W. Sterling, (two awards), Grace Wall, Arthur L. Bear (two awards), Robert Till, Richard G. Double, Milt S. Marks, Laverne V. Amstutz, Theron J. Kitchen, Robert Sealover, Eugene L. Kilty, Edna L. Niman, and Robert L. Fry.

FHP Motor Div. 15: H. J. Wright, Evelyn L. Sansom, James J. Carey, William Fisher, Arthur Smith, Joseph B. Howard, Cecil E. Tarney, Arnold D. Linnemeier (two awards), Vernon C. Dafforn, Ralph H. McCain, Jacob S. Sappington, Charles R. Wheeler (two awards), Paul C. Knight, Neil E. Bracht, Van B. Nelson, Edward E. Cureton, Lillie S. Felt and Schemehorn.

FHP Motor Div. 16: John Westerhousen, Stephen A. Sallot, Jr., Everitt J. Padgitt, Jay J. Rippe, J. L. Bailey (two awards), Maude M. Goodrich, Ivah Grandstaff, Bernard Herbers, Jeanette Blough, Herb Halley, Edward F. Hines, Jr., Verna M. Bullerman, Ralph D. Gredier (two awards), Melvin E. Yoquelet, John O. Hart, (two awards), W. F. Hinrichs (two awards), Homer L. Murphy, George F. Eshelman, Basil J. Pearson, Lawrence E. Huffman, A. E. Maske, Edgar L. Studebaker, Ross M. Domer, Lee Shanabarger (two awards), Albert R. Wickliffe, Paul H. Koldewey, Dorothy Johnson, Anna E. Kensill, Eunice Zehr, Eugene Dahman, William W. Ort and William G. Martin.

FHP Motor Div. 17: Lloyd I. Pinkerton, Elmer Scheer, John B. Stetler, Lloyd A. Garrison, Joseph F. Snyder, Eldon R. Lewis (four awards), Richard W. Fisher, Wendell B. Crum, Robert E. Johnson, Harold Johnson, Ralph E. Jones, Ennon H. Richter (two awards), Robert Winkler, Edward M. Bircley, Woodrow Richardson, Darold H. Emrick, Janice D. Sollberger, Mildred Brown, Harley E. Johnson (two awards), Herb Fuhrman (two awards), Robert L. RePine, Fred E. House (three awards), Dhuaine J. Davis, John E. Donaghy, Keith Stephenson, Marvin Van Skyock (two awards), Marvin E. Fields (two awards), Robert J. Robertson, Robert C. Mock, Herman C. Watters, Martha Bennett, Neola Chistlieb and Fred B. Adams.

FHP Motor Div. 10: Everett C. Smith and Joseph F. Rowan.

Decatur Plant: Frank Rowley, Clarence Drake and William Hunt.

Tiffin Plant: Gilbert Theis, Russell Semer, Don Philhrick and Hiram Hippler.

DeKalb Plant: William C. Berg, Toivo V. Rae, Russ Wiley, Clifford Overton, Loyce Dryden, Harold Pippin, Henry Hurt, John Grennan, Virgil Fields and Marian Underwood.

Specialty Transformer Div. 91: Robert M. Bultemeier (two awards), Doyle G. Rice, Gustay Ruhn, J. H. Plescher, Norbert A. Hans, Doyle D. Miller, G. A. Snowherger, Dorothy C. Gerig, John A. Kennell and Charles F. Holtsclaw (three awards).

Specialty Transformer Div. 94: Carrie E. Green, Richard A. Hurst, Walter C. Eker, Harold G. Josse (three awards), Paul E. Black, Robert J. Frederick, Dorothy M. Luellen (two awards), Noel A. Smith, Don Waldrop, Harry D. Brattain, Laura E. Brown, James T. Keller, Mildred G. Bowers, Arthur F. Pequignot, Herbert V. Koch, Charles E. Whittern, Bronson E. Miser, Dale F. Stuckey (two awards), Murray J. Sherman, James McCray, Virgil B. Buchanan and Phil A. Roberson.

Danville Plant: Jack Brady, Eva Stout (two awards), Elsie Barker, R. W. Montgomery, Bertie Williams, Floyd Smith, Dals Smalley, Bethel Poland, Ralph Cravens, Mildred Nicklas, W. L. Bonebrake, Virginia Englert (two awards), Claude McWhorter, Jr., and Jane Bonebrake.

Large Motor and Generator divisions: Chase L. Robinette, Floyd P. Brown, Linwood V. Kelley, Calvin W. Marhenke, Robert H. Stute, John B. Dennis (three awards), Anna Fairbanks, Cloyd N. Krieger, Alfred L. Phillips, Helen G. Staley, Wanda L. Anderson and Wayne W. Blake.

Wire and Insulation Divisions: Franklin Sasser (five awards), Harry H. Beltz, Charles H. Pepple, Willis K. Deetz, Don McCrea, Alfred E. Eisenacher, Thomas G. Hutsell, Harry Ward, Elmer D. Bradley, Harry E. Perl, Charles Brubaker, Dean E. Inman, Dewey D. Parkison, Carl M. Junk (six awards), James E. Steffens, Franklin W. Jacobs, D. W. Detter, Louis A. Dasher (two awards), Harold V. Barrick, Joseph C. Taylor, Austin J. Garman (two awards), Harold Barrick, Arthur Ackerman, Oscar Baumgartner and Delmas Detter.

General Tool Division: Fred Nagel, Carl Einseidel, Robert D. Romey, Robert T. Reardon, Jr., John J. Hensler.

General Service Division: Arthur E. Ream (two awards), Tony W. Arthur, Wallace D. Reed, Norbert A. Hans (two awards), Oscar Meyer, John A. Birchmeyer, Franklin L. Treece, Raymond H. Bailey and Bert Meints.

Distribution Division: Robert R. Kurtz.

Miscellaneous: Olka P. Johnson, Robert E. VanHorn, Audrey Thomas and Albert D. Roth.

GRINDING IMPROVEMENT IDEA WORTH $130—Herbert Richter, FHP Motor Div. 17, (left) is demonstrating the application of his suggestion to Ralph Hare. He received $130 for suggesting a better method of grinding shafts used in FHP motors.

General Managers

(Continued from page 1)

all organization, operation and programs of the Large Apparatus Divisions, which include Aeronautic and Ordnance Systems Divisions, Aircraft Gas Turbine Divisions, Foundry Divisions, Large Motor and Generator Divisions, Locomotive and Car Equipment Divisions, Switchgear Divisions, Transformer and Allied Product Divisions, Turbine Divisions, Erie (Pa.) Works Service Divisions, Fitchburg (Mass.) Works, and Schenectady Works Service Divisions.

Mr. DuChemin will be similarly responsible for Small Apparatus Divisions, which include Control Divisions, Fractional Horsepower Motor Divisions, Industrial Heating Divisions, Lighting and Rectifier Divisions, Meter and Instrument Divisions, Small and Medium Motor Divisions, Specialty Transformer and Ballast Divisions, Welding Divisions, Fort Wayne (Ind.) Works Service Divisions, and Lynn (Mass.) River Works Service Divisions.

Mr. Belanger, of Rexford, near Schenectady, and a native of Bath, Me., studied electrical engineering at Franklin Technical Institute, Boston, and also attended Wharton School of Finance, University of Pennsylvania.

He began his career in the General Electric Company in August, 1917, as a student engineer on the Company's Test Course at the Lynn, Mass., Works.

He then successively held positions in the Power and Mining Department in Schenectady in the arc welding field, in the Philadelphia sales office as an arc welding specialist, in the Philadelphia office industrial department as a salesman contacting steel mills and oil refineries, and in 1930 as head of marine sales, Philadelphia district.

In 1940, he returned to Schenectady as assistant manager of the Federal and Marine Divisions and in 1943 became manager of these divisions. He was appointed assistant sales manager of the Apparatus Department in 1945, in October, 1947, became manager of the company's Turbine Divisions, and in 1949 was named an assistant general manager of the Apparatus Department.

Mr. DuChemin, a native of New York City, is a graduate of St. Bonaventure's College, Newfoundland, and also has had special courses at Boston University, Harvard, and Suffolk Law School, Boston.

He entered G-E in 1914 at Lynn River Works, graduated from the Apprentice Course, spent two years in service in the Navy during World War I, and returned to the Company in 1919 to work in the Lynn River Works turbine department.

After serving as boring mill hand and machine crew head, he was transferred to West Lynn Works and rapidly advanced to the position of general superintendent in 1923, making him one of the youngest executives in the Company.

He was appointed assistant works manager in 1935, acting manager in 1942, and in 1943 works manager. In 1947, he was named manager of the Meter and Instrument Divisions, and in 1949 an assistant general manager of the Apparatus Department.

RECEIVES $165 AWARD FOR IDEA—John Miles, FHP Motor Div. 14, (third from right) suggested a better way to produce spring washers and earned $165 for his idea. He is being congratulated by F. H. Campbell, Superintendent of the division. Left to right are Mr. Campbell, Russell Fry, Henry Carnall, Mr. Miles, Ewald Stinsmuehlen and E. J. Vosburgh.

Bermuda Trip

(Continued from page 1)

ing the trip will be available the end of this month and will be distributed to all Elex Club members.

G-E women will board the 57-passenger Constellations at New York City, have luncheon aboard the plane, and will arrive in Bermuda during the afternoon. The air trip will take approximately three hours each way.

Girls are restricted to 60 pounds of luggage per person, the limit for air passengers leaving the continental boundaries of the United States. A birth certificate and some other means of identification will also be required.

Reservations may be made in the Personnel Office, Bldg. 18-3.

Mobile Radio

(Continued from page 1)

efficient coordination between the three departments directly responsible for busses being on schedule," said W. D. Foutz, superintendent of transportation for Fort Wayne Transit.

For example, he said, the transportation office dispatcher can make immediate contact with an overhead truck when a power line breakdown develops. Similarly, a transportation supervisor in his car can immediately call for a service truck in case of mechanical failure on a bus, even though the trucks may be out of the garage at that moment on another assignments. In many cases, a truck is only blocks from the supervisor at the time, Mr. Foutz explained.

By now, they are lost, strayed or forgotten—all those good New Year's resolutions. . . . Santa wasn't very good to Bill Ort. He forgot to bring Bill a new front tooth. . . . Dorothy DePue received a gift that didn't take up very much room in her Christmas stocking. But wearing it on the third finger, left hand, it's a knockout. . . . If you had trouble getting your tree trimmed this year, keep in mind that Eileen Steinacker is quite a helper. Maybe you can get her to help next year. . . . Doris Lontz also enjoyed her third week of vacation last week. . . . The farewell dinner for Lilly Schoch and Clara Dixon was also in honor of Luella Masson. It was her birthday, although she didn't tell us until later. Happy birthday, Luella. . . . Joe Bell has been giving his new TV set a workout. Delbert and Marcille Thomas also got a set from Santa. . . . Ivah Grandstaff received that much-wanted spinet piano. . . . Hedy Harrison observed Christmas on the following Wednesday, when her guests from Tampa, Fla., arrived here. We hope they could take our cool weather. . . . Annabelle Cook really has cooperation from Mary Irven. When Annie and her Crosley get stalled on an icy hill, Mary gets out and pushes. . . . Glad to see William Snyder back in the groove. . . . Barbara Longbrake had the misfortune of falling, and she hasn't been able to make it in for a couple weeks. . . . Emma Black is also on the sick list. . . . Nora Vanover is in the Wells County hospital at Bluffton. We hope you are all back soon. . . . Charlie Francies remains about the same. He is at his home now. Let's send him a "cheer-up" card. . . . Violet Marks' brother-in-law was here for the holidays. He has been in the Walter Reed General Hospital after being injured in Korea. . . . Stanley Wickliffe paid us a visit last Thursday. He is in the Marines and is stationed at Oceanside, Calif. . . . When we are off on Monday due to a holiday, Stella Kemp thinks that Tuesday is still a Monday. . . . We wonder if Phyllis Lupton and Lorena Buuck have eaten those large Christmas cookies yet? . . . Ross Domer is chairman, and Elizabeth Wert is secretary for the "B" class of MBA for the coming year. They will be glad to give you any help that they can. . . . Happy birthday to Thelma Forehand and Mildred Huntine. Mildred had a great big cake baked for us. When she got it here, she found that the baker had forgotten to ice it for her. . . .

Thought for a year:

Let's have a safe year in '51.
Get Hap Hazard on the run.

From everything I've been able to find out, everyone had a very nice Christmas. . . . Mary Nute got more than she expected—she even got some luggage too! . . . Doris McAfee is wearing a new watch from her boy friend. . . . Bea Davis and her daughter spent Christmas vacation in Eau Claire, Wis. She said it is really God's country up there—such beautiful scenery. The houses don't have eaves spoutings, and great big icicles hang from the roofs. The people were skiing and skating. The snow was just out of this world! The trains were all late, too! . . . Congratulations to Ruby Houtz, who is wearing a new diamond on her third finger, left hand. . . . Clarice Reeb is wearing a diamond on her left hand, too. Wedding bells will ring for her and Ed Demongeot Jan. 27 at Antwerp, O. . . . Patty High, one of the office girls, is wearing a new diamond, too. . . . The boys in Bldg. 4-1 asked Ed Heins what he wanted Santa to bring him for Christmas. He said he asked for a new bike, but in this weather they think he would be better off if he had a heater for the old one! . . . That saddle that Rudy Zelt received brought back many childhood memories. . . . Charlie Griffith is a happy man. His wife returns form Seattle, Wash., this week. . . . A group of the girls had a Christmas dinner. Even if Stella Mailand did bring a cake, she packed her lunch and brought it, too. Hazel Stauffer packed hers, but thought in time, so she left it at home! . . . Hank Weigman is in Toyko now. . . . Floyd Truelove and George Johnson each have a son in Camp Breckenridge, Ky. . . . Jack Moore had tough luck with the mistletoe—all the girls walked around it! Could it be the mustache? . . . Santa came early for Charlie Hendrickson. He wore that loud shirt before Christmas! . . . Thelma Harter is much stronger than she thinks she is. She was cleaning her glasses and she ended up with a half of her glasses in each hand! . . . George Crickmore sure thought he had something when he picked up the rag, but to his surprise the mouse had run away! . . . Harley Heckley said he was snowbound; and he lives at Ossian! . . . Phil Zimmerman is on his vacation this week. . . . Bill Garton has a new Dodge. Wonder if Santa got it for him? . . . We of Division 1 extend our sympathy to the Sam Beer family. Sam was a former co-worekr, and he died last week.

RECEIVES CONGRATULATIONS ON 35TH ANNIVERSARY—Elmer Jockel, FHP Div. 14, (third from right) has completed 35 years of service with General Electric. He celebrated his anniversary Dec. 16, and received congratulations from his friends at Taylor St. In the picture are (l. to r.) W. C. Holloway, F. H. Campbell, Ewald Stinsmuehlen, Mr. Jockel, E. J. Vosburgh and George Angel.

Wonder why Ray Smith's ears looked like two red lights when I walked into the machinist's shop? . . . Butch Vegalues was seen coming out of the Employees' Store with an electric blanket. Butch says, "It's cheaper than getting married." . . . At a recent volunteer firemen's meeting, Ernie Hanauer asked all the retired firemen to stand. Charlie Hartman was among those standing. Charlie is going to install an oil burner in his house as soon as they get enough oil out of his ground to keep the house warm. . . . Congratulations to Delores Buclair. She's been sporting a diamond since Christmas. . . . Welcome to Bettie Casebere. She is working in Somers' section in Bldg. 20-2. . . . We think Harry Davis should paint his car bright red or yellow. He couldn't find it in the lot the other night, but had walked past it several times. . . . With all the trouble Walt Rosselot has been having with his car, he should buy a horse. . . . Congratulations to Arnold Landis, who has completed 25 years with the Company. He just doesn't seem to be appreciated in the engineering room. He wasn't "treated in a manner deserving to his position." . . . Red McClure shouldn't make any mistakes now. He was presented with a lovely new yardstick. . . . Since the Christmas holidays are now over, I would like to take this opportunity to thank Forest Somers for the beautiful organ music that he has presented to us again this season. His music could be heard from the Lincoln tower for the last few weeks. . . . No, our column wasn't left out of the paper last week to make room for the new calendar; we didn't have a column. Let's all try to get at least one article into the column every week.

2 Fort Wayne Works Employees Featured In "Brief" Magazine

W. L. Whonsetler, Bldg. 4-6, and Duane Stroud, of the Medical section, are featured in the December issue of "Brief," the Company publication for foremen and supervisors.

Mr. Whonsetler's poetic talents are the subject of the article entitled "When and What," and two of his recent verses appear in the magazine.

"They Measure Danger" features the Fort Wayne Works Medical section's surveys and studies in industrial hygiene. The article explains the program of industrial hygiene being sponsored by the medical division.

Top Floor TOPICS

Bldg. 26-5

By Art Huber

Norma Smith's New Year's resolution is not to put her boots on backwards. . . . A group was talking about small cubes dissolved in water, and June Mizell said they were "bunion" cubes. . . . Happy birthday to Fay Oldham on Jan. 9. . . . Ethel Grown is the prize cake and cookie baker of Bldg. 26-5. . . . It seems that Marge Carpenter was not present at her own birthday party. . . . Francis Gnau is going to take a can opener with him the next time he has a flat tire. He'll use the opener to take off the fender skirts. . . . Vivian Spindler and a number of her friends had a delicious buffet luncheon and a gift exchange at her home in Harlan, Friday evening. Those present were Catherine Parkins, Grace Hoon, Garnet Conner and Frieda and Alma Kaiser.

Hermetic Owls,

BLDG. 17-3

By Fern Yoder

As we begin the New Year, we are going to begin it right. That is by getting our news in the paper every week. The only way we can do it is by everyone's cooperation and we have had it. Thanks millions and one of these days we hope we'll be back on second shift. . . . We have had a grand year in Bldg. 17-3. . . . We are saying farewell to two ladies who are retiring. They are Clara Dixon and Lilly Schoch. A farewell dinner was held for them Wednesday in the G-E cafeteria. Messrs. Boles, Castle, Kryder, Hahn, Schidler and Weaver were present at the dinner along with about 40 co-workers. Mr. Castle talked to the group and stated that this was the first time he had the honor of having two persons in his division going on pension at the same time. He congratulated them and wished them much success. Mr. Kryder presented Clara with a small fishing reel to go ice fishing and he gave Lilly a pop gun to go hunting.

LUCKY LILLY

As we pause to tell you, Lilly, what we feel you surely know
We will not forget to mention that we'll miss you when you go.
We will not be selfish either, we want to see you have your fun.
We know that hunting is a hobby, that's why Jerry bought the gun.
But don't give her all the credit, to another credit's due;
A little bird said Walter told her it was just the thing to do.
May the future hold more pleasure than you've ever seen before,
And when this year is finally over, we hope you see many more.
May each one outdo the other, bring smiles instead of tears.
That's our wish and don't forget us as you travel through the years.
And if you ever get too many fish and rabbits too
Just send an invitation and we'll see what we can do.

By Edith Paxson

We hope you, Clara, enjoy your Eisenberg pin; and you, Lilly, your G-E toaster. Be sure you don't forget us. Come up and see us sometime. . . . Dick Gidley slipped on the ice last Sunday when he was going home from church. His story is that someone pushed him. . . . We have news that Erna Black is ill. Our editor, Fern Yoder, also has been ill. We hope to see you back to work soon. . . . Harry Crouse is leaving and going over to Bldg. 6-4. We all will miss you, Harry. We all wish you suecess on your new assignment. All the boys had a potluck dinner Friday night for Harry. . . . Line One had a potluck Friday night, Dec. 22. Each person brought a toy. It was decided that the toys be given to the children in the polio ward at the Lutheran Hospital. Those who attended were Mary Williams, Maggie Perkins, Helen McPherson, Mable Drummond, Edna Butler, Waunetah Brockmyer, Esther Andrews, Eileen Foor, Ruby De Pew, Bea Lantz, Deloris Johnson, Mayme Blain, Martha Small, Clare Gillaspie, Betty Collier, Verna Adams, Helen Trowbridge, Connie Dumford, Dottie Anderson, Jerry Nahrwold and our foreman, Ralph Armey. . . . Hope to see you every week this year.

TO CLARA

You know we're going to miss you
You are so very nice
We'll miss you in the summer
And when there's SNOW and ice
But we hope you will be happy
And enjoy many leisure days
Of contentment, joy and blessings
As you go along the way
We know that you go fishing
You told us so you bet
So here's a little pole from us
The worms you'll have to get.
And when the skillet's on the stove
And the fish are golden brown
Remember all your friends up here
We'll be over from miles around.

By Jerry Snyder

Every Employee Gets In The Safety Act

FORT WAYNE WORKS FOLKS WORK TOGETHER TO MAKE THE SAFETY PROGRAM SUCCESSFUL

by Herschel L. Smith, Works Safety Engineer

Your Safety Section exists primarily for only one reason. It is to STOP ACCIDENTS.

Although accident prevention has its monetary value to the Company, its greatest value is to the individual employee and his family.

Basically, success for accident prevention programs depends on the cooperative efforts of every employee.

The new employee meets safety the day he is hired during the Employment section's introductory talk. When he reaches the section to which he is assigned, his foreman explains safety measures which are required on his job—whether he needs goggles, gloves, safety shoes, or other special equipment. His machine was purchased with an eye to safety and guarded where necessary.

When his rate is checked, the time study man makes certain the employee is observing safety regulations during the production operation. The Medical section will already have checked ventilation to make certain the employee will not come into contact with any potentially harmful fumes or gases.

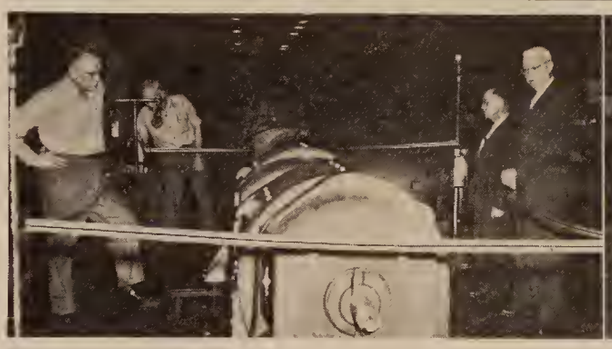
In short, everything that can possibly be done to assure an employee's safety on the job is considered. From there on, it is up to him to use his own safety "sense."

Safe Away From Work

"Off the job" safety is the Safety section's problem, too. We work closely with local and national safety organizations to control accident hazards away from work. The entire safety program has been set up to integrate safety into all activities.

The set-up is arranged for a two-way flow of information and ideas with everyone pitching in to help. Every occupation in the Fort Wayne Works is represented.

At the top of the safety organization is the Advisory Committee. This is not a separate committee but merely the integration of the safety programs into the regular meetings of managers and superintendents. The Works Manager serves as chairman of the committee.



Superintendents and managers follow through with safety in their division or plant and make it a point to carry safety on the agenda of regular meetings with foremen and supervisors. For example, safety appeared on the agenda of such meetings 488 times during 1949.

Plant managers and division superintendents take the responsibility of maintaining the best pos-

(Continued on page 7)

SAFETY ON THE AGENDA—Progress as shown on safety charts is the result of active interest in accident prevention by all groups in the Company. Typically, Foremen's meetings always include safety problems and discussions. Shown is a foremen's safety meeting in the Specialty Transformer and Ballast divisions. Left to right are Louis Sordelet, E. J. Schurenberg, Paul Peterson, General Foreman, M. M. France, R. E. Altevogt, chairman of the safety committee, W. H. Crouse, Superintendent, and Russell Groves.

ELECTRICAL SAFETY—This picture shows a "high pot" test being made in the Large Motor and Generator divisions. Safety is an important matter here, as high voltage is applied. John Donovan, with foot on the safety switch, is guarding the machine, and John Holly is controlling the voltage. R. J. Hoffman, General Supervisor of Inspection and Testing, far right, and W. P. Altckruse, chairman of the electrical safety committee, second from right, have checked the test to see that all safety features have been provided.

PLACE, PRESS, RELEASE, REST—In case of electric shock or exposure to gas, there are always men, trained in resuscitation, th oughout the plant. E. J. Cade, chairman of the FHP Motor test safety committee, on the extreme right, has instructed over 5,000 people in emergency first aid. Shown lying down are: (l. to r.) C. E. Weston, guard, C. W. Kroener, and Cliff Mugg, both of Bldg. 20-1. l racticing artificial respiration are: (l. to r.) D. L. Richmond and F. K. Calkins, guards, and O. R. Lawson, Bldg. 10-1.

THE AIR WE BREATHE—Duane Stroud, of the Medical section checks a job in Large Motor and Generator divisions for paint fumes, where Norman Stoller works. Constantly on the alert for potentially injurious fumes or gases, the Medical section conducts these tests with special industrial hygiene equipment.

SAFETY ACE—W. K. Rohe, safety ace foreman in a Wire Mill division, points out safety interlocks of a dielectric testing cage to Walter Englebrecht, chairman of the safety committee. Interlocks control the primary of transformers that supply testing current. The high voltage electrodes are totally enclosed when energized.

ACCIDENTS THAT NEVER HAPPENED—Recognition of outstanding safety performance is a major part of the safety program. Ed Klomp, foreman in Bldg. 17-4, shows Marjorie Crabill the record of their section. "You are working in a safety-conscious environment," Ed explains to each new employee.

Safety Program

(Continued from page 6)

sible safety records and active safety programs. They do such a remarkable job, that it is not uncommon for a division or plant to accumulate over one million man hours without a disabling injury. One plant and two divisions have gone over the two million mark and one division, during a war year, reached four million. Still another division is now working on its seventh no-accident year.

It is the job of the Works Safety Engineer and division and plant safety chairmen to keep the Advisory Committee informed and interested in matters pertaining to safety, just as much as it is to SAFETY COMMITTEE IN ACTION—A typical safety committee in Bldg. 6-1 is shown discussing material in handling in the Distribution division, where it is a major activity. There are 23 such committees, consisting of 600 employees, in the Fort Wayne and Branch plants. Shown are: (l. to r.) Frank Goetz, Dick Robertson, safety chairman, F. F. Wilson, Bill Miller, Art Heckber and Homer Thayer.

(Continued on page 8)

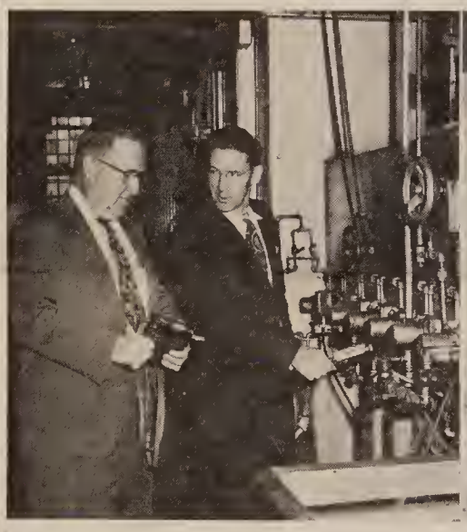
PREVENT FIRES AND EXPLOSIONS—Walt Seidel, Fire Inspector, issues a welding permit to Walter Pfeiffer (center). Lee Miller, Bldg. 20-2, left, prepares to repair the conveyor in Bldg. 4-2, while Carl Rehling, extreme right, chairman of the General Service safety committee, is shown inspecting the high pressure gas cylinder equipment.



BEST WAY IS SAFE WAY—George England, Bullard operator at Taylor St., says an operator knows best most of the safety devices that his machine requires, but that a good wage rate man frequently recognizes hazards that he has overlooked. John Laymon, wage rate man, always considers safety practices in his final preparation of a piece price. Left to right, George, Foreman Loyal Liddy, and John look over safety features of the Bullard.

PURCHASING FOR SAFETY—Milt Kline (center), Assistant to the General Superintendent, has responsibility for purchasing machine tools bearing all safety devices available. The punch press pictured was purchased with push-back cylinders and an extra heavy flywheel guard and brace. Loyd Bodenhamer, at right, a member of the Central Safety section, adds and improves safety devices where they are inadequate, such as the grill guard in front of operator Leroy Cook, Bldg. 27.

EASIER AND SAFER—Plant Engineering gets into the safety act with a specially-designed hydraulic device for picking up scroll stock. Layton High, Taylor St., demonstrates its operation to Bill Quarve, center, and George Wralstad, Works Laboratory, right. Engineers, lab men and operators work together to produce all kinds of gadgets such as this to make jobs easier and safer. This is only one example of many safety items in use throughout the plant.

WORKS LAB IN SAFETY—R. T. Reardon, left, and Bill Gregg check hydrogen furnaces in Bldg. 17-1 with a new gadget designed to keep the furnaces from exploding.

NIGHT SHIFT EMPLOYEES PROTECTED—The Plant Protection section also serves the safety committee on late shifts. Paul Tustison, guard, looks in on Eugene Woodworth as he works.

SAFETY KNOW-HOW—Ability to recognize hazards is best acquired from experience. Chairmen, Safety committeemen, foremen and others in a position to hear about accidents pass the word along to others, who may be exposed to similar hazards. Herschel Smith, Safety Engineer, on the right, is discussing a "hard to imagine" accident with Roy Chapman, Bldg. 17-2.

EYE INSURANCE—Helen Bilskie, of the Central Safety section, and Paul Traub, General Foreman, center, discuss prescription ground safety glasses purchased for Gerald Wert, die cast operator in Bldg. 17-2. Both Paul and Gerald have worn safety glasses for nearly ten years. Helen processes dozens of goggles and glasses orders monthly in her job as secretary in the Safety section office.

Safety Program

(Continued from page 7)

keep the people in the shop informed and interested in the subject.

Safety Chairmen Appointed

Each superintendent appoints a safety chairman, who with the general foreman, organizes and directs the activities of shop safety committee men. There is one shop safety committee to approximately every 25 employees. They assist in finding and correcting hazards and help maintain interest besides distributing information.

Meetings are held once each month on Company time. Last year, there were over 300 of these meetings and several thousand safety items were considered and disposed of.

The staff of the Safety section consists of the Works Safety Engineer, his assistant and secretary. This group works especially close with the Medical and Plant Protection sections.

The General Works Committee is composed of the staff, general foremen, and representatives from all activities.

Local and National Activities

Representatives from the staff and General Works Committee serve on Safety Committees in the Chamber of Commerce Safety Council, State Industrial Advisory Council, and the National Safety Council. All local safety activities are tied in with the Company-wide safety program in various ways.

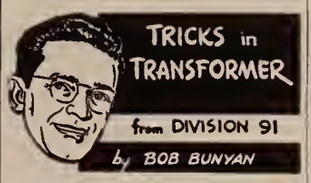
In addition to periodical safety and health inspections by the Central Safety section, divisions and plants conduct some form of regular inspections. They are also required to turn in a quarterly report to the Safety section called a "Self-Analysis Safety Inspection Report." This report covers a detailed safety rating of all foremen by their respective general foremen and superintendent or plant managers. Special publicity and recognition are given foremen with the highest ratings within the divisions.

Industrial health and hygiene surveys are made by the Medical section, wherever there is any question of health hazards.

Encourage Safety Records

Special efforts are made to encourage division and plant supervision and all employees to maintain good safety performances and high safety records. Education, training, inspections, action on safety suggestions and recommendations are not considered sufficient in themselves. Therefore, a program of awarding "Meritorious Safety Performance" certificates, signed by a managerial representative and awarded by the General Works Safety Committee, has been in existence for several years. Certificates are issued annually to divisions or plants for the following reasons:

a. One year without a lost time accident.



b. One million man hours without a lost time accident.

c. Combined frequency and severity of .40 or less.

d. Fifty per cent improvement over previous year's record.

Certificates are also issued to an individual employee who does an outstanding job in safety such as saving a life by artificial respiration.

The philosophy of the Fort Wayne Works Safety Committee has long been, "I shall pass through this world but once. Any good, therefore, that I can do or any kindness that I can show to any human being, let me do it now. Let me not defer or neglect it, for I shall not pass this way again."

We should have let Gerald Aspy write the news this week. His excuses for Hoagland losing to Huntertown would have made a nice long column. . . . Leo Simpson retired Dec. 29. He was given a nice send-off by the boys. Leo received a radio, smoking tobacco and a sum of money as a retirement gift. We wish Leo the best of everything. . . . Ravella Shepherd was supposed to pick up his mother-in-law, who was in town. He forgot it until he was well on his way home. The boys finally reminded him, and when he did pick her up, his excuses were something to hear. . . . Ed Kaliker got his picture in the news last week after completing 30 years with the Company. We didn't realize Ed was so good looking until we saw that picture. . . . Ray Redman's son, William, who is in the U. S. Air Corps in Keillser, Miss., was in to visit us last Thursday. He is a fine looking man, and we were all very glad to see Bill. . . . Orliss Royer is not a reindeer, although he has a red nose and wears the prettiest red shirts you ever saw. . . . Congratulations to George Horner, who celebrated another birthday last Friday. We all thank you for your candy treat and wish you many more happy birthdays. . . . We're glad to have John Laymon back with us after an illness of six weeks. . . . Don Huffman is beginning to realize the importance of his glasses, being at work instead of just the case. After all, he did want to get everything clean for the new year. . . . We hear George Schafer still depends on the old teakettle method to thaw out those frozen oil lines. . . . Our deepest sympathy to Harry Ribel in his recent bereavement. . . . Johnny Hughes had been having serious battery trouble until he learned that the little red light on his Pontiac dash was to inform him if his generator was working. Of course, Eddie Byers' guarantee is still good on the battery. . . . Paul Noffze just informed me that Group 2-112 has for the year of 1950 punched 16,291,073 complete eases and clamps without a lost time accident. We're very proud of this record. Let's all do our part to make 1951 just as safe.

Congratulations to Delores Swager, who is wearing a sparkler on her third finger, left hand. . . . We wonder if Darrel Franklin can explain the black spot under his eye and the mark on his forehead. . . . Will the co-workers who ride the same bus as Al Kissinger please inform him to take the Broadway bus to get to the General Electric? During the Christmas rush, he jumped on a bus, thinking it was the right one. It turned out to be a No. 8. He rode for a block and got off. Better luck next time, Al, and be sure you have a No. 4 bus. . . . Paul Stemmler's boys got a snow shovel and a basketball from Santa. Mrs. Stemmler broke the snow shovel, and Paul damaged the basktball while inflating it. . . . Ed Rodenbeck has a new method of firing flash bulbs with worn-out batteries. His method is as follows: just wet the base of the bulb to make a faster contact and it will fire—so Ed says. However, he had to retake all the pictures as the bulbs fired late. . . . George Kline left us for retirement. He says he is planning to do some remodeling to his home. His co-workers wish him lots of luck and happiness in his future. . . . Gerald Meeks bought a new Chevrolet but can you imagine running the battery down the first night he had it? Could it be the car, or the man driving it?

Quarter Century Club Welcomes Ten New Members

Charles W. Gatton
Bldg. 19-4

Ansel D. Feightner
Bldg. 17-2

Mary E. Longardner
Bldg. 4-3

James Clark
Taylor St.

Fred C. Reinking
Bldg. 19-3

Orville M. Somers
Bldg. 4-2

Leon C. Swager
Bldg. 18-3

Helen M. Stahl
Bldg. 31-1

Carl G. Fletcher
Bldg. 26-2

Forest R. Gee
Taylor St.

By Don Clark

Your Editor is now one year old in editing this column. We thank our reporters for their wonderful cooperation last year. This year we hope to include more news about more of the people in our division. . . . How did you like the sub-zero weather? Ross "Pioneer" Cohagan didn't mind it. He was married 33 years ago last week in weather just like that. Only they had a car with side curtains. Ross isn't happy though. He didn't win that bicycle with his "Hadacol" box tops. . . . What some fellows won't do to get to work on time. Dallas Kees purposely got up at 3 a.m. to start his car one cold morning. Was he surprised when it kicked right in! . . . Hayden Rice had so much tough luck on Thursday, Dec. 28, that he is becoming suspicious of the day. After finding his house cooled off from a frozen oil line to the heater, Hayden spent part of the morning nursing his car to work. . . . Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Libbing. They have a new baby girl. . . . Maynard Summers can't get enthusiastic over his new glass casting rod. Considering his luck last year. Mrs. Summers should have included a lake with some hungry fish in her gift. . . . Mrs. Van Diver gave Harry a new motor to operate an exhaust ventilator in his home work shop. She is hoping she can cut down her dusting schedule to once every three hours. . . . Dick Hemrick claims a light bulb caused that red spot that he has been wearing on his forehead. We hear he was using an extension cord looking for Christmas presents in a dark closet—the cheater. . . . We welcome Bill Gillespie and Ralph Wilson on the second shift. It is nice to have you with us. . . . There were many shells fired and lots of scared rabbits. But as far as Harold Knox was concerned it didn't mean much. He only brought down one with his new pump gun. . . . Frank Woenker's untiring efforts sure brought results. His son won that new bicycle. . . . While nearly all of us aren't considering taking a vacation, George Luker and Milt Ray will have just returned from theirs. No doubt, we will hear many yarns of how good fishing, swimming and boating was in the Sunny South, but we can counter these with one that will go any of theirs one better. We had the coldest weather that we've had for many years while they were away, and they both missed out on it. . . . Everett Schmidt is known as Round Trip Schmidt as of last Friday. It seems that Everett drove around the business district for 20 minutes that noon and couldn't find parking space until he'd driven back to the G-E parking lot. Consequently, being so far from where he wanted to go and so close to work, he took the line of least resistanee and came back to the office rather disgusted. . . . The drafting section bade farewell to the blueprint girl last Friday. Mildred is leaving to be with her husband who will be living in Michigan from now on. . . . Looks like our safety man, Don Clark, forgot one of the rules. It seems he took his wife ice skating and apparently was showing her how hard the ice really is for he's now sporting a swollen hand. Then again, he might have fallen. His safety slogan for the week might be, "Don't skate backwards until you've had 50 hours practice." We should remember to play safe as well as work safe. . . . It seems we have an orator in our midst. John Montgomery as a member of the Citizens' Council is the speaker for the next meeting. Wilbur Lane says they are really due for a disappointment. Make him eat those words, John. . . . Orval Smith says the fish are biting good at Randall Lake although we haven't seen any proof. . . . You have all heard the proverbial fisherman story, but have you heard the trappers story? A few days ago, Harold Blauvelt had a claw and toe from a mink that escaped from one of his traps. Here is the topper. Today, he said he caught that same mink. He (the mink, that is) was minus one toe. . . . Self-Safety Question: Will I be retired with all the parts that the G-E hired?

Transformer Tattles,

BLDG 26-4

by Russell James

Mike Dunscombe finally got that new hot water heater. Now he can start taking a bath again. . . . Our friend, Bessie Chapman, is home from the hospital and all set for company. Bessie says she hopes to be good as new soon. . . . The wagon thief of the Green Room was apprehended one day last week. Her initials are Novella Pape. . . . We wish Betty Hall a quick recovery and hope to see her back to her work soon. . . . Jim Baker says South Side High will be the new state champs this year. (Well, he can dream, can't he?) . . . Hilda Doehrman and Eva Johnson are on vacation. We wonder if they are ice fishing. . . . It has been so quiet and peaceful since Al (Fatty) Topp has been on vacation. The assemblers in Type M. think they can make it another year now. . . . We welcome Annabell Fisher back to the Green Room. . . . The Type M winders wonder if they can get another crane on the other side of the post by next Christmas. Or better than that, if they can make the one they have now swing over the winding section instead of the stock room. . . . Clara and Ross Cohagan celebrated their 33rd wedding anniversary Dec. 28. Clara said Ross took her out to dinner. . . . Carrie Green will be the news hound for the Green Room. Give her a little help, folks. . . . Nora Doud made a slight error last week. She picked up what she thought were Christmas greetings to mail, only to find out they were her son's love letters. Quite a difference, I'd say. . . . Ralph (I'll double it) Smith has turned over a new leaf this year. He is going to think all statements over twice before broadcasting them. . . . Bill Rectanus made a New Year's resolution to get his hair cut. We will withhold the name of the girl he is doing it for until we see if he gets it cut. . . . Joe Troendly's driver got him to work about fifteen minutes late last week, so the Mrs. puts him on the bus now. It is rumored in the winding section that Mrs. Troendly noticed the shortage on Joe's check. . . . Anyone having an extra turkish towel, please contact Mel France. He was observed trying to bathe at the drinking fountain again. This also applies to Test Foreman, E. J. Schurenberg. . . . We would like to welcome Ellen Armstrong to the Blgd. 26-4 office. . . . Santa Claus must have been awful good to Mel Franec. He was certainly chipper last week. . . . Bob Altevogt must have gotten a bargain when he bought the Christmas tree for the office. Heard some folks talking about a refund.

One morning last week, when I knocked at a neighbor's door to borrow one of bis saws, a cute little girl of three stood there. I knew her well, but my greeting was sileneed. "Sh!" she said, with her finger to her lips. With her other hand, she motioned me to follow as she tiptoed into the hallway. Thus, we entered the living room. As we stood there with our backs to the fireplace, I began to speak again. She whispered "Sh! The stork's here." Then her father entered and explained that the stork had just brought a new baby brother. What a wonderful way to start a New Year, and such a happy little girl. She was afraid that we might scare the stork away, and she would not get her baby sister or brother. I knew in her excitement she was a little glad when I left. It reminded me that out goes the old and in comes the new. May you all have a very pleasant New Year and may the best of luck be with you the next 360 days. . . . A certain someone has figured that the reason some people got their ears started last week was due to the fact that they were out most of the night and their cars were still warm the next morning. . . . Just in case you have missed Clarence Roth, Dal Smith, Jack Payton and Bill Grubb recently, they have been working in Bldg. 4-5 temporarily. . . . George Ellison hasn't been moving around too fast lately. George fell on the ice and tore a few muscles loose. . . . Paul Winters wishes to thank everyone for being so kind at Christmas. Paul says everyone is so nice. We'll say it could not have happened to a better fellow, and you are entirely welcome, Paul. . . . Orlie Conner comes up with a good one every once in a while. Ask him how many times his car drowned out from the snow recently. . . . Bob Wheeler is in quite a turmoil now that he has sold his home. Does anyone know where there is a six or seven room house for sale? Bob says, "Man, I gotta move and move quick." . . . . . Everyone read in the papers last week about the huge valuable stone in Westminster Abbey that was missing, and they suspect the Scotch of snatching it. Well, we were just wondering, could it be? Well, maybe not, but Roddy Rodemaker and Salsbury Solberger were off work last week for vacations. Any connections, boys? . . . Hubert Grage must have had the New Year Spirit last Thursday. He was seen dancing down the aisle singing, "Pretty Baby." . . . Bert Brown has returned to work after suffering from a bad chest cold. Glad you're back, Brownie. . . . THOUGHT FOR THE DAY: It is better to wear out than to rust out. . . . THANKS A LOT: I have been asked to extend many thanks to those responsible for the very nice Christmas party we had, the committee especially, George Ellison, Bob Weaver, Byron Neumann, Dorothea Swank and Voyce Brumbaugh. Those who were not there really missed a wonderful time and we hope they can attend next year. . . . Today, in a time when so many people are searching for peace and security, may we look to our brother, whether he be in school, in the service, in the home, in the office, in the store or laboring in the fields, in shops, or on farms. Today we need one another and we need God. Let's all start 1951 out by going to church. What could be a better way to start the New Year!

CO-WORKERS BUY BRACES—David Myers, 2½-year-old son of Everald G. Myers, FHP Motor Financial Div., is shown presenting a $100 bond to Mr. M. Hobbs of the M. F. Hobbs & Sons Orthopedic Appliances in payment for braces which enable the young lad to walk after a bout with polio. The money was presented to the boy's father by his co-workers in the FHP Motor Financial Div. Stricken Oct. 15, the youngster was severely paralyzed in the left leg but is now able to take nine steps with the aid of the braces.

"There is a Santa Claus," says Carl Lengerich. Carl arrived at the plant parking lot the other day with one tire flat. At the end of his shift, without thinking of checking his car, he went home with a neighbor to get some help to change the tire. When he returned to the parking lot, lo and behold, Santa Claus had changed the tire for him. . . . Important New Year's Resolution by Fred Busse, "I promise not to assoeiate with Herman Keller when Herman is in one of his 'short cut' moods." This resolution is seconded by Kenny Beard. . . . Our sympathies are extended to Bernard Lengerich on the death of his mother. . . . We wish to extend a Happy New Year and hopes for speedy recovery to the following employees who are absent due to illness: Robert Bertke, Doris Drake, Fred Engle, Anita Gehrig, Cecilia Goebel, Evelyn McAlhany, Clarence J. Meyer, Leroy Peters, Kathleen Niblick, Mildred Riley, Bricc Roop, Leonard Roth, Irene Schafer, Esther Strickler and Joan Workinger. . . . Fred (Jack) Deininger, long service employee, who has been absent for several weeks due to illness, has applied for Optional Retirement under the Company Pension Plan. We all wish Jack the best of health and enjoyment in his retirement. . . . Decatur Plant employees join the writer in this humble way to wish the best of success to our new Works Manager, Ab Martin, who took over his new assignment Jan. 2, 1951. We hope Mr. Martin will find that he can always depend on our plant to come through for him. . . . Decatur Plant also wishes to thank C. H. Matson for the part he played in making the Decatur Plant an integral unit of the Fort Wayne Works as well as an important unit of the Community life of Decatur. Decatur employees and his many friends in and around Decatur join in wishing Mr. Matson continued success on his new assignment as Manufacturing Consultant in the Apparatus Department. . . . What could Van Horn have been thinking of the other morning. He walked out of the shop with only one shoe. Oh, yes he was wearing a pair, but these were spares. . . . Some of the members on the bowling team with Oran Schultz think that he bowls better after taking some exercise. But Oran refuses to fall down stairs before each game. . . . Much interest was shown in the miniature Christmas tree which was prominently displayed in the lead section on Friday preceeding the holiday. . . . A week of vacation before Christmas was much enjoyed by Arthur Kelly. But perhaps he did get a bit impatient waiting for the jolly old fellow to arrive with his gifts. . . . Grace Fisher received a very pretty diamond from Santa. Curtis Nussbaum is the lucky lad. Curt works back on the Assembly Line in Bldg. No. 2; Congrats. . . . Harold Hugo Durbin is now driving a new Kaiser. . . . On our coldest days almost everyone likes to hibernate, but not Nyla Railing. She arose at 2:30 a.m., dressed and was waiting to come to work before she really noticed what time it was. . . . Erna Wailand celebrated her 30th wedding anniversary Dec. 28. Our congratulations to you, Erna. . . . The girls in 7-50 and 7-51 are full of surprises when it comes to getting married. Doris Hitchcock, welder in 7-50, became the bride of Earl Rolston Dec. 23. Best wishes to you, Doris, and a very happy married life.

"Why do you keep looking down all the time?" asked the nurse of a patient.

"The doctor told me to watch my stomach."

Only one ad per employee may be inserted. Each ad must be limited to 20 words and cannot be repeated. All articles mentioned must be personal property of the employee. Ad will not be accepted unless accompanied by the name, pay number, and division of the employee. No works building or telephone number may appear in ad, only the home telephone number or address.

"Lost" and "Found" articles must be cleared through the Plant Protection office, Bldg. 10-2, or the Plant receptionist, who will place the Ad-let and otherwise advertise the article.

No ad will be received over the telephone. Send all ads to WORKS NEWS office, Bldg. 18-3.

CLOSING DATE

Monday Noon, January 8, 1951

LOST AND FOUND

LOST—Yellow gold Central Catholic High School class ring. Initials D. H. inside.

LOST—Brown Sheaffer fountain pen. Lost on College St.

LOST—Wine-colored Sheaffer fountain pen. Lost in Bldg. 31-2.

LOST—Three keys in small light brown case. Lost between Lavina St. and Bldg. 19-5.

LOST—Brown leather cap. Lost between Broadway and Bldg. 4-2.

FOUND—Four keys on ring and a little pink boot attached. Found in Jones St. parking lot.

FOUND—One grey cloth glove. Found in front of Bldg. 19-Gate by bus stop.

FOUND—One pair ladies' black kid gloves with white stitching. Found on desk in FHP Div. 17, Taylor St.

FOR SALE

JUNIOR SIZE BOWLING BALL—Used once, for ages 6-12.

GIRL'S WHITE SHOE ICE SKATES—Size 8, excellent condition, worn once. H-67304.

BOY'S SHOE ICE SKATES—Size 6. H-46208.

HOLLYWOOD BED—Seven months old, like new. H-75694.

ONYX BLUE LODGE MASONIC RING—With diamond, size 9, reasonable. H-20364.

1938 FORD—Coach, good condition, $90. H-40213.

1948 TRAILMASTER TRAILER—21 ft., electric refrigerator, sleeps four, may be left in present location if desired, reasonable. A-29363 or 2705 W. Main St.

MONITOR TOP REFRIGERATOR—6 cu. ft. H-40633 after 4:30 p.m.

OLDSMOBILE—Owner leaving for service. A-26582 after 5:30. Ask for Mrs. LeVon.

TWO RUGS—One 9x9, other 8x10. H-67633 after 6 p.m.

LADIES' WHITE FIGURE SKATES—Size 5½, like new. H-57004 or 2444 John St. after 5:30 p.m.

RUGS—7.6x9, and 8.8x10.6, floral design, $7 and $10; Walnut finish smoker, $12. H-65681.

MAN'S DOUBLE BREASTED SUIT—Brown, size 28, trousers, 33-32, perfect condition. H-20322.

SIMMONS STUDIO COUCH—Like new, very reasonable, H-28483 after 4 p.m.

1936 FORD RADIATOR—Generator and starter; also Model "A" front axle and 21 in. tires, reasonable. A-89712.

WANTED

APARTMENT SIZE ELECTRIC RANGE—H-66332.

APARTMENT SIZE WASHER—H-28053 after 4 p.m.

GIRL'S SCOUT DRESS — Size 14. E-56822 before 2 p.m.

FOR RENT

UNFURNISHED APARTMENT — Four rooms, private bath, heat and water furnished, employed couple. H-35734 mornings.

TWO ROOM APARTMENT — Upper, bath, private entrance, near bus stop, Swinney Ave., prefer girl or lady. A-67921 after 5:30.

UNFURNISHED APARTMENT—Upper, four rooms, private bath and entrance, water and heat furnished, near bus, yard and garden privileges, adults. A-39462 after 4 p.m.

MISCELLANEOUS

WILL CARE FOR BABIES OR YOUNG CHILDREN—In my home, one block from G-E. A-40901.

TRANSPORTATION

WANTS RIDERS—From St. Joe, Ind. William Beebe, works in Bldg. 27 from 7-3:30. Extension 2337.

WANTS RIDERS—From two miles south of Kendallville to Taylor St. plant, day shift. Ad Ragan, Bldg. 26-1. Extension 457.

Reservation Deadline For Elex Parties Set Monday, January 11

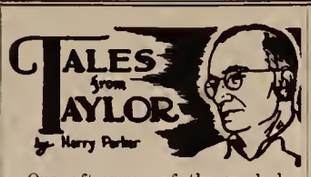
Deadline for reservations for both the first and second shift Elex parties has been set for Monday, Jan. 11. Guest speaker Kathryn Turney Garten will review "One Big Family," by Garth Hale.

The day girls' meeting will be held in the G-E Club auditorium. Dinner will be served from 4:45 to 6 p.m. Tickets are $1.15 each.

Second shift members will hold a luncheon at the YWCA at 12 noon. Tickets for the noon party are $1.25 each.

Thelma Stone, Elex Club president, disclosed the day girls will hold a board meeting Wednesday, Jan. 17, in the conference room in Bldg. 8-2 at 8 p.m.

Berneta Welbaum, vice president, has scheduled the night girls' board meeting for 1:15 p.m., Wednesday, Jan. 17, in Irene Meyers' office, Bldg. 18-3.



PAPPY PROUDLY PRODUCES: I took a solemn, public, and written vow never to insult Pappy Archbold any more because of his declining years. Yet, to even mention or to write of Motor-Generator division without using his name is equal to the discussing the affairs of State without using the names of Truman or Acheson. This little nosegay came straight from the vine; so, it must be true. It seems that Pappy was cognizant of the date his fair daughter was planning to wed, so he saved the third week of his vacation for that great event. Obviously, the wedding arrangements caused an undue drain on his purse. When he was ready to purchase his wife's corsage, he found himself entirely destitute. Undaunted, he called his pal Jack Hively for permission to enter his woods. Jack refused on the grounds that he did not wish to have his cattle frightened. So, for two days and nights, our hero disappeared from his comfortable abode. On the day of the wedding he returned and presented his wife with a lovely corsage of "bittersweet." (For verification, please refer to Journal-Gazette coverage on the wedding.) He says he got enough of the stuff to decorate his house for Christmas, too. Let us all silently remove our hats in honest tribute to such spirit in one of our fellow workers. . . . SHOOTING SAM STOMPS SAVAGELY: For the life of me, I can't figure out how I always become enmeshed in those "outside the plant" affairs of our affable friend, Shooting Sam Baumgartner. Sam, to my knowledge, has never done me a wrong; yet, I always wind up with some little bird perched on my shoulder whispering words of Sam's latest escapade. Now those of you who know Sam are aware that he is too young and innocent to have an escapade. But, for the record, I pass this along for your approval. It seems that Sam is extremely fond of hunting, and from this passion came his latest dilemma. Several weeks ago, he and a friend went in pursuit of the elusive bunnie-wunnie (rabbit to you mundane individuals). Like fishing, the farther you get away from home the better the results; and

"Fable In Rhyme"
"Mother, what's the reason?"
Asked a little pine tree cone,
"That all you ever seem to do,
Is moan and moan and moan."
"Well, Junior," said his mother,
As she held him in her hand,
"Sometime, if you get big like me,
I'm sure you'll understand."
"Long years ago, your Mother
Was a little cone like you,
And that stump down there was Grandma,
Who was quite a moaner too."
"And like all the other Mothers,
Grandma hoped that I would be Selected some December
For a glorious Christmas Tree."
"But nobody ever picked me
So, I've stood here all alone,
Just a disappointed pine tree,
That's the reason why I moan."
"But a Christmas Tree," said Junior,
"Only lasts a week or two,
So I'd rather live a hundred years
And be a tree like you."
"You have simply no ambition,
You are just a stupid cone,"
Said the Mother as she dropped him
With a long and sorrowful moan.
Now I could continue longer
As imagination soars
But I'll close by saying Junior
Ended up as two-by-fours.
And his Mother still ambitious
Rated just a little more.
In a modest four-room cottage,
She is now a polished floor.
This, of course, is just a fable
Of a little pine tree cone.
But it's true, there are many people
Who just moan and moan and moan.
—W. L. Whonsettler

DRY DAYS: Someone please inform Walt Gerke and Norm Oetting the water shortage is over. It's no longer necessary to bring a jug to work. Maybe they were like the two old time Westerners who were going on a gold prospecting trip. One had a jug of whiskey in case of snake bite and the other had a box of snakes. . . . TIME'S UP: Jake Sherbondy brought back his alarm clock. Either Denton Manecke and Bruce Curley ruined it by playing around, or Jake got his use out of it over the holidays. . . . LATE DATE: Boh Kirby was late for a Christmas dinner at his folks' home once. That was when he was born the day after Christmas. He hasn't missed a dinner since. . . . OFF WITH A BANG: That loud noise on the East side of the room wasn't dawn breaking. It was Benny's new extra-loud sport shirt coupled with a more subtle tie. . . . LOST HEEL: Most people lose their "sole," but Chris Flanigan lost his heel. (Wanted: one good pair of shoes with heels). . . . WE KNOW: There are two men in our office who know what they are doing. If you don't believe it, look at the handkerchiefs Jerry Duryee and Paul Berghorn received for Christmas. . . . HAPPY BIRTHDAY to Dick Heard, Jan. 7, and Ozzie Laccrte, Jan. 9. Don't forget, fellows.

15 miles away from the family residence, the friend and Sam emerged from the friend's car and wandered afield. Hours later, Sam returned but found that his friend was still engaged in the current pursuit. Since he had an appointment to keep, Sam started walking toward home. Yep, you guessed it, he walked every step of the 15 (count them) miles. No, I don't know if he got any rabbits or not. . . . VACATIONS: A great many think of vacation time as warm mild weather, blue skies and the open road. However, there are those who have chosen freezing weather, grey skies and snow drifts. Among the latter of our group are Helen Parrish, Dee Hamilton, Mangus Irmscher and Art Miller. (Forgive me if I've missed anyone.) To all of you we hope you had a fine time, a very Merry Christmas, a Happy New Year, and we are mighty happy to have you back with us once more.

One afternoon of the week before Christmas Leo Herber was rolling merrily along the highway on his way home from work. Suddenly a rabbit raced across the road in front of his car. Seemingly, it was the swan song for Sir Bunny, as Leo's car knocked it cold. Getting out of his car, he picked the rabbit up and placed it in the trunk of his car. Upon arrival home, he thought it best to clean the rabbit immediately. When he opened the trunk, something hit him in the chest and dropped to the ground. It was the rabbit which took off like a jet job, leaving Leo standing there looking bewildered. . . . "Tiny" Phil Schoppman has a novel method of obtaining his morning newspapers free. He purchases one each morning. Then during the day, if any of the boys wish to scan the news, they ask Tiny for his paper which he keeps under lock and key. The service charge on this paper is based on the length of time one keeps it. Sometimes, he obtains enough jack off of one rental to buy a whole week's supply of papers. . . . A lot of you are going to be surprised when you learn the fact that Everett McKee has signed an application for the Golden Gloves tournament. We all know that Everett is quite active and perhaps will make a good showing in some of the bouts. We want to assure him our wholehearted support and that we will be Johnny-on-the-spot with ringside seats to see him perform. We have our doubts about his going the entire route though. Some of the boys are of the opinion that he will go down like James J. Jefferies did before Jack Johnson. . . . Buck Adams played in tough luck on a recent ice fishing venture. It seems that some fishermen had cut an extra large hole in the ice which the recent heavy snow covered completely. Along came Buck, stepping into said hole clear up to his hip. Extricating himself, he decided to return to his car for dry clothing. After going but a short distance, he stepped into another hole wtih the other leg. This was enough for him. He gave up in disgust and went home.

"I will honor Christmas in my heart and try to keep it all the year. I will live in the Past, the Present and the Future. The Spirit of all three shall strive within me. I will not shut out the lessons they teach."

Scrooge in Charles Dickens, "Christmas Carol," learned his lesson the hard way—just like the European Countries. America has tried to be generous to others—and now China and others are biting the hand that has fed them for the past years. It might seem to us that the spirit of Christmas can not carry on—but right will be right in the end—so long as we do the right thing. . . . Congratulations—We offer our sincere congratulations to Ab Martin, who has just been appointed Works Manager, replacing C. H. Matson, who has been assigned other duties. . . . The last minute reports of the holiday season seem to indicate that everyone in Bldg. 18 enjoyed the season to the fullest extent.

HOUSE OF MAGIC GOES SOUTH—General Electric's famed promotional demonstration, House of Magic, scored a couple of "firsts" recently. It took to the air for the first time for its first performance south of the border. The show, actually not magic at all, but proof that scientific fact can be stranger than fiction, will be shown extensively throughout Venezuela. Directing the loading of the show's equipment aboard a Venezuelan cargo plane at Miami, just before it took off, is William Gluesing (on lift), of G-E's Advertising and Publicity Department in Schenectady, who will travel with the show.

Midnight Marauders IN BLDG. 4-3

By Donna Lindley

What kind of a surprise did Jean Pittinger have? Let us in on the secret, Jean. . . . Gaylene Dixon received a hamster for Christmas. She said she was going to get him or her, a he or a she. . . . We thought we saw a new Studebaker coming at us the other night, but it was just Jo Lee Zimmerman. . . . We just have to tell you about our Good Samaritan. Cliff Garrison heard of a family down the street who had several children and wasn't going to have a Christmas. So Cliff and his brother-in-law took down Cliff's Christmas tree and took it over to these people. They also took toys for the children and plenty of food. They certainly did their good deed in bringing happiness to someone else. . . . Naomi Williams will be married to Gene Lallow Jan. 6. Naomi says, "He sure is good looking." . . . What makes Polly Frohning so excited that she smokes two cigarettes at once? . . . "Hello" to Vera from Aunt Pearl. . . . Alice Fleck and Jeannette Broekhaus are leaving us to become full-fledged housewives. . . . Betty Taulbee is on sick leave. We hope you will be back with us soon, Betty. . . . Carl and Ardola Metker will be moving into their new home. We wish you all the happiness in your adobe. . . . Margaret Spurgat was on days this week. Anna Rolfing said that she sure missed Margaret. . . . We are wondering just how Kay Vondron would get around if she could take her feet off and put them in her pocket as she was wishing she could do. . . . We all liked Millie Sarrazin's new hair do. It is very beeoming, Millie. . . . Art Bailey must have frosted eyeballs. He can't see anymore. At least, he has been finding the wrong car. . . . Vera Neate had a niee New Year's present. Her husband is coming home from the Army. . . . Christmas really went over with a bang for Violet Smith. She says that next year she is going to ask Santa for a new home. . . . Hazel Leonard is the mousie type. If you don't believe so, ask Barbara Ray. . . . Jo Lee gave Gay a scare, with a mouse, that is. . . . George Miller is on a milk diet, and has been for 100 days. It seems he likes milk so well he hasn't eaten anything else. Maybe we should bring some to George in case he runs low. . . . Jim Parry has informed us he only reads the news when his name is in it. . . . We will have to wait until Ivan Parrish buys his washing machine to see how good of a salesman Bob Stanton is. . . . Nora Ridley is wondering what is coming next. First she was scared with a mouse and then a spider. . . . Dorothy Boneff should have asked Santa for some shirts so she wouldn't have to wear her husband's. . . . Have you heard Mary Koopenclocker's smart saying? . . . Marie Johnson and her husband were taking their son back to camp. They had car trouble so they had to hire someone to take him the rest of the way. . . . We shall miss Louise Smith's smiling face and all her jokes as she goes on days. . . . Nina Kougel's mother was operated on the day after Christmas. We hope she is well real soon, Nina. . . . Polly fell under the elevation. It happened quickly, but Polly must be the bouncy type as she bounced right back up. . . . Shame on you, Bill Byerlein, for crowding the kids away from the television set just so you can see. . . . What kind of gum was it Dick Clancy had. Must be a new flavor. It isn't too popular as yet. . . . George Elliot's oldest girl rode a pig home yesterday. . . . If you want to know how to spell geography, ask Betty Madden. . . . Mary Jackson has been smoking loaded cigarettes all week. . . . Martha Bullet got a hold of some of that "loaded" gum. It had cayenne pepper in it. How do you feel now, Martha? . . . If you were wondering what that wonderful smelling perfume was Mae Ohmart had, it was skunk oil. . . . Dorothy Favorite got a niee rear-view mirror, but she can't use it on her car. Wrong shape. . . . In case anyone gets hungry, ask Laurine Kraus for a piece of peanut brittle. I'm sure she would oblige. . . . Wonder if Dale Lauer is going to model those new clothes for us? . . . Nora Ridley got a mueh needed item for Christmas. Something she ean always use. . . . Mary Rueter got cold cream that pops up in your face. . . . That eackle you heard Saturday night was Mary Ann Miles. Her husband was supposed to wash and wax the kitchen floor. He called her up to see if he could use the bottle labeled "Glass Wax." . . . Wonder if Cliff Garrison got out production on wedging Friday night?

RECORD SMASHER!—Vic Rump, Bldg. 31-1, pictured in action above, broke existing 1950-51 G-E Club records when he bowled a 289 single game in a 690 3-game series Thursday, Dec. 28, while competing in the Apparatus League.

First Half Ends For Interdivision Volleyball League

By Bill Allen

Taylor St. took two games from the Apprentice Machinists in the Wednesday night Volleyball competition. Scores for the match were Taylor St. 15, 10, 15; Apprentice Machinists 8, 15, 3.

In the second match of the evening, Winter St. won three games over Drafting, with scores of 15, 15, 15 for Winter St. and 5, 12, 5 for their opponents. Main Office was victorious over Small Motors. The scores for this match were Main Office 15, 15, 15; Small Motors 4, 5, 3.

For the final match, Test Engineers won all three games from the General Tool team. Scores for this match were Test Engineers, 15, 15, 17; General Tool 10, 7, 15.

The final standings of the first half are:

	W.	L.
Taylor St.*	15	3
Apprentice Machinists	18	3
Main Office	16	5
General Tool	10	11
Winter St.*	8	10
Drafting	7	14
Test Engineers	6	15
Small Motors	1	20

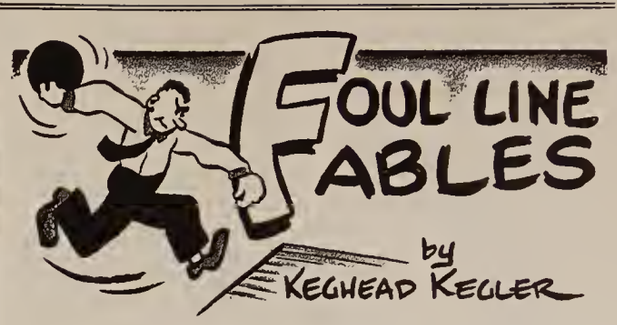
*Postponed match to be played at a later date.

Wednesday's Scores

Small Motor 15, 15, 15; Drafting 15, 11, 13.

Taylor St. 15, 15 16; General Tool 4, 11, 14.

Winter St. 15, 14, 10; Test Engineers 11, 16, 15.



Machinists 10, 3, 11; Main Office 15, 15, 15.

Thought For The Week: "The best way to make your dreams come true is to wake up."—J. M. Power.

CAUGHT: Madonna Bailey had quite a thrill one evening last week. She became entangled with a bus door. It was lucky that she was not injured. . . . Sarong—Dish towel that made good. . . . Baldness—Crisis coming to a head. . . . The honeymoon is over when the dog brings your slippers and the wife barks at you. . . . TOO FAR: A picture appeared in our WORKS NEWS of Dec. 22 portraying Mr. and Mrs. Collins Mannan and their two children doing a nice job of Christmas carolling. While we feel sure Mrs. Mannan and the children are excellent singers, we wonder who sold "Curley" on the proposition that he was a vocalist. To that culprit, whoever he may be, we offer this reminder, "Christmas spirit is a wonderful thing, but don't carry it too far."

Only those who have the patience to do simple things perfeetly will acquire the skill to do difficult things easily.—Schiller

Vic Rump, of the Apparatus League, really ripped the maples to shreds Thursday evening. Vic started his first game with a spare and then proceeded to throw in ten strikes and a nine pin count for a big 289 score. Vic's 289 is high single game in the city this year. Vic followed up with a 201 and 200 for a 690 count. This is high series for the G-E Club competition this season.

Elmer Schoenlein kegled a ladder series of scores 160, 161 and 162. Two hundred scores were rolled by A. Thompson, 200; H. Meints, 200; Paul Perry, 203, and Herh Langer, 223.

Tuesday Girls League

Rachel Mounsey led the afternoon's bowling with a 530 series on scores of 187, 170 and 173.

Other high games were rolled by Tommy Williams, 179; Ruth Waldo, 182; Frances Oberholtzer, 177; Winnie Scheurich, 193; Elsie Brown, 178, and Clarabelle Whiteman, 177.

Sounds in the Alleys

There are still plenty of openings on the 6 p.m. shift tomorrow in the Mixed Doubles Tournament, so come down and enter. Six o'clock won't be too late. The entry fee is only $4 per couple.

I hope everyone notes the picture of Vic Rump adorning this week's WORKS NEWS. Vic has not entered the Mixed Doubles Tournament yet, so first place is still open.

Wildcats, Bears, Tigers Win In Owl Cage Games

By Earl D. Stauffer

The Owl Cage loop, with no assist from the weatherman, played all three scheduled games on December 27.

The Wildcats subdued the Elks 28-24 in the first game. The Elks had only four men so manager Zurbuck of the Skyscrapers countered with the same and made a real contest of it. After a listless first half with the 'Cats in a 9-2 lead, both clubs found the range in the third stanza. Ken Spiker canned nine points to lead the Wildcats to a 20-11 margin at the start of the fourth period. Big Joe Schible sunk a half court shot to tie the score at the three-minute mark, but that was the final Elk effort. Two charity heaves by Jamison and a tip-in by Fuhrman elinched the game for the 'Cats.

Vern Burkett scored 13 points to lead the rout of the Bears over the Eagles by the score of 62-29. The Div. 1 lads poured it on and led 32-6 at the half. Barney led the losers with 11 tallies.

The Tigers won a hard fought win over the Cubs, 39-37. The lead ehanged no less than seven times. The Cubs, led by Eddie Dice, held a one point lead at the end of the first session 10-9 but the Tigers forged into the lead 21-19 at half. At the end of the third period, the Cubs again led 31-27. Cris Brenner held high scoring Eddie Diee to one free throw in the last period while his Tiger teammate, Ivan Lepper, canned four fielders; the last two of which knotted the eount and put the Tigers ahead for the win. Dice wound up the game with 18 to lead the seoring. Lepper had 14.

The scores for Wednesday, Jan. 3, were as follows: Wildeats 43, Bears 31; Elks 40, Tigers 29, and Eagles won a forfeit over the Cubs.

Standings

	W.	L.
Wildcats	5	0
Bears	4	1
Elks	3	2
Tigers	2	3
Eagles	1	4
Cubs	0	5

Summaries

WILDCATS

Player	G	F	T
Jamison	1	2	4
Perino	0	0	0
Fuhrman	5	1	11
Power	1	0	2
Fleckenstein	0	0	0
Smith	0	1	1
Spiker	4	2	10
Staley	0	0	0
Totals	11	6	28

ELKS

Player	G	F	T
Klenke	4	1	9
Hayden	2	0	4
Schible	4	1	9
Pappert	0	2	2
Totals	10	4	24

Scores by Quarters:

Wildcats	4	9	20
Elks	0	2	11

Officials—Boyce, Crosley.

BEARS

Player	G	F	T
Baker	6	0	12
Butler	3	0	6
Burkett	6	1	13
Klinger	6	0	12
Wilson	4	1	9
Markey	5	0	10
Totals	30	2	62

EAGLES

Player	G	F	T
Hower	3	0	6
Barney	5	1	11
Phillips	3	1	7
Deventer	0	0	0
Crum	2	1	5
Totals	13	3	29

Scores by Quarters:

Bears	16	32	44
Eagles	3	6	19

Officials—Boyce, Crosley.

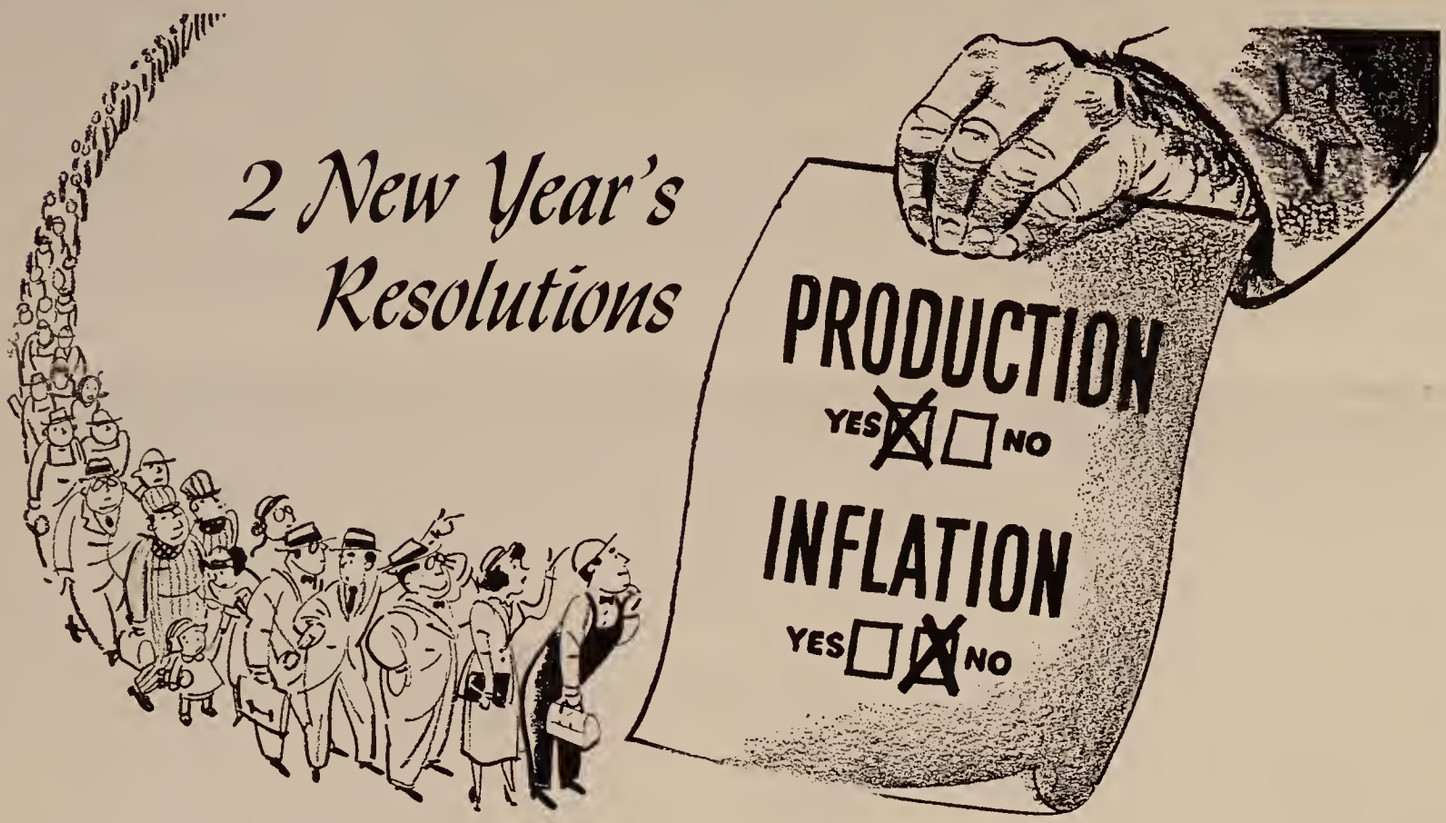
TIGERS

Player	G	F	T
Buuck	1	1	3
Brenner	4	0	8
Packwood	2	0	4
Trice	2	1	5
Lepper	6	2	14
Weaver	2	1	5
Totals	17	5	39

CUBS

Player	G	F	T
Ahlersmeyer	1	0	2
Dice	8	2	18
Brown	2	0	4
Manuel	3	2	8
Twigg	2	1	5
Totals	16	5	37

Scores by Quarters:



Tigers	9	21	27
Cubs	19	19	31

Officials—Boyce, Crosley.

NOTICE! LOCKER OWNERS

All employees in the G-E Club, with lockers having key padlocks, must secure combination locks at the desk in the bowling alley. If these padlocks are not removed within one week from today, the G-E Club management will have them removed and the contents of the lockers will be at the desk.

2 New Year's Resolutions

WE ENTER what promises to be at best a troubled 1951.

The usual New Year's resolutions have been made, of course.

But we should now think also about making—and keeping—these two unusual ones:

1. To do something really heroic about production.

The country now has a two-fold production job to do—and fewer people to do it with.

The Armed Forces may soon include from 3 to 5 million young people who would otherwise be in the productive work force.

The work force remaining must produce enough for our military needs. It must also produce as much as possible toward meeting our civilian needs.

So—through greater ingenuity, new tools, improved methods, less waste, more skill and effort—we will have to produce more goods per man-hour.

Then we may have to work more hours per week—even after bringing into the work force everyone available.

And there still may not be enough civilian production to keep us from lowering our level of living for a time.

2. To do something equally heroic about inflation.

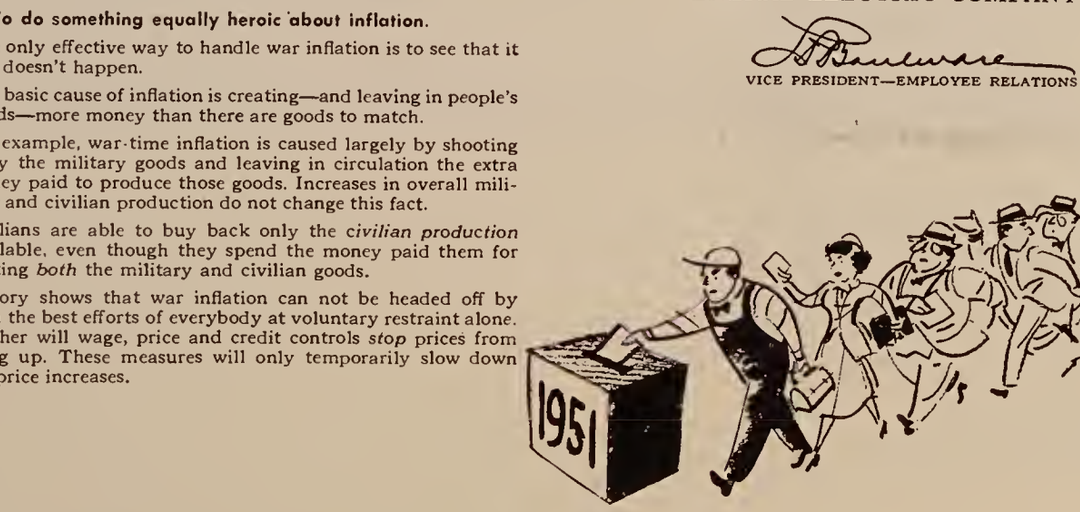
The only effective way to handle war inflation is to see that it just doesn't happen.

The basic cause of inflation is creating—and leaving in people's hands—more money than there are goods to match.

For example, war-time inflation is caused largely by shooting away the military goods and leaving in circulation the extra money paid to produce those goods. Increases in overall military and civilian production do not change this fact.

Civilians are able to buy back only the civilian production available, even though they spend the money paid them for making both the military and civilian goods.

History shows that war inflation can not be headed off by even the best efforts of everybody at voluntary restraint alone. Neither will wage, price and credit controls stop prices from going up. These measures will only temporarily slow down the price increases.



Really to halt the further war inflation now threatening us, we must prevent extra money—not matched by consumer goods—from being available for consumer spending.

Any such extra money—available for consumer spending but not matched by consumer goods—should be taken promptly by the government through direct and visible taxation on current incomes. Otherwise, the cost of war will show up in higher prices sooner or later — and mostly sooner — as our recent experience has amply proved.

The most important of all the steps we can now take in preventing further inflation is to understand, adopt, and support sound "pay-as-you-go" taxation of individuals and businesses. The extra money should be collected as it becomes surplus over the goods available. And it isn't just the amount of taxes that is important; it is also important that the extra money be removed before it adds to price inflation.

Ahead of us is a supreme test of the accuracy of our knowledge and the strength of our character. Doing our best to keep these two New Year's resolutions—"Yes" on production, and "No" on inflation—should be among the best possible aids for successfully meeting that test.

GENERAL ELECTRIC COMPANY

VICE PRESIDENT—EMPLOYEE RELATIONS

INDIANA COLLECTION

FORT WAYNE WORKS
NEWS

Volume 34 | FORT WAYNE, INDIANA, FRIDAY, JANUARY 12, 1951 | No. 2

HEY, FIGHT FANS—

The first bout of the big annual Golden Gloves Tournament, co-sponsored by your G-E Club and The Journal-Gazette, is slated at the North Side High School Jan. 23. For highlights of this great amateur classic, read page 11 of this week's WORKS NEWS.

G-E War Veterans Plan Membership Drive Jan. 16-22

Veterans Of 2 Wars Will Be Contacted

The G-E World War Veterans Association will hold their annual membership drive Monday, Jan. 16, through Friday, Jan. 26, Bill Spahr, membership chairman, announced today.

All World War veterans from all branches of the armed services are eligible for membership in the organization, Mr. Spahr said. During the drive, floor contact men will see eligible veterans for possible enrollment. Membership tickets cost 25 cents.

Veterans who are not reached by contact men may join by contacting any of the following members

(Continued on page 12)

NEW SUPERVISOR PILOTS—Shown looking over the membership lists are newly-elected officers of the G-E Supervisors Club. Left to right are R. A. Wefel, Taylor St., treasurer; C. E. Slater, Bldg. 18-2, vice president; W. R. Blomker, Bldg. 31-1, president, and G. E. Hicks, Taylor St., secretary. (see story at right)

Robert Blomker Chosen President Supervisors Club

C. E. Slater Named To Vice Presidency

W. Robert Blomker, Bldg. 31-1, will head the Supervisors Club in 1951, A. S. Johnson, retiring president, revealed today. A former administrator of the organization, Mr. Blomker was elected to the Club's top post at a meeting held Tuesday, Jan. 9.

Other newly-elected 1951 officers are C. E. Slater, Bldg. 18-2, vice-president; G. E. Hicks, Taylor St., secretary, and R. A. Wefel, Taylor St., treasurer. All four officers are charter members of the Supervisors organization. Mr. Wefel, the treasurer, will serve his second term of office.

(Continued on page 12)

Committee Named To Assist Civil Defense Group

SYRACUSE, N. Y.—Creation of a Departmental committee to direct a broad program of assistance in the electronics field for civil defense organizations, and appointment of a Civil Defense Planning Coordinator were announced today by Dr. W. R. G. Baker, General Electric Vice President and General Manager of the Electronics Department.

The committee, headed by E. H. Vogel, Manager of Marketing, comprises staff representatives of all of the Department's operating divisions, Dr. Baker said. One of the major steps in the Department's program is the offering of technical and engineering assist-

(Continued on page 5)

Traffic Signal Relieves Cop At Taylor Street

A traffic signal has been installed at the intersection of Taylor and Brooklyn Streets, directly in front of the Taylor St. plant. According to plant safety officials, the intersection has been a major plant entrance problem for several years.

The new signal will relieve the need for a traffic officer at the intersection and will facilitate both motorist and pedestrian traffic during rush periods. Controlled by

(Continued on page 12)

Cheesman Installed As ISPE President

R. P. Cheesman, Bldg. 4-6, was installed as president of the Anthony Wayne Chapter of the Indiana Society of Professional Engineers Monday, Jan. 8, at the YMCA.

Mr. Cheesman succeeds Ralph W. Walb, of the Masolite Division of the General Dredging Co.

Foremen's Association Plans Buffet Luncheon

The Foremen's Association will hold a buffet luncheon at the Chamber of Commerce Wednesday, Feb. 7, at 6 p.m., Bill Schible, president, announced today.

Election of officers will be held and entertainment will be furnished by the Dorothy Durbin studios.

Safety Committeeman . . .

R. J. Hoffman Named To General Electric Testing Safety Group

R. J. Hoffman, General Supervisor, Inspection and Testing, has been appointed to the Testing Safety Committee of the General Electric Company.

The committee replaces the Inter-Works Testing Division Safety Committee, of which Mr. Hoffman was a member for 25 years.

Membership in the Testing Safety Committee consists of representatives from each major Apparatus Department works and a representative from each of the other Company departments.

Elex 1st, 2nd Shifts, Partizan Chapter To Hear Garten Review

The Partizan Chapter of Elex will attend a book review by Kathryn Turney Garten at 1 p.m., Jan. 16, in the YWCA, Chapter sources have announced. Mrs. Garten will discuss the book "One Big Family" by author Garth Hale.

The committee in charge of arrangements for the Partizan affair are Myrtle Bennett, Peggy Flood, Bertha Piper and Frances Hart. Refreshments will be served following the program.

Mrs. Garten will review the same book at both the first and second shift Elex parties also planned for Tuesday, Jan. 16.

The first shift party will be held in the G-E Club Auditorium. Dinner will be served from 4:45 to 6 p.m. Tickets are $1.15 each.

Second shift members will hold a luncheon in the YWCA at 12 noon, preceding the program. Tickets are $1.25 each for the noon party.

Elex members are asked to

(Continued on page 12)

G-E Women's Squares To Hear Rabbi Doppelt

The G-E Squares Women's Division will hold a meeting Tuesday, Jan. 16, at 8:15 p.m. in the Squares Hall, Mrs. Charles A. Howlett, chairman of the group has announced.

Rabbi Frederic A. Doppelt will speak on the "Psychology of Jewish Humor." After the program, there will be cards and refreshments.

Mrs. Howlett is chairman of the meeting. Her committee includes Mrs. H. R. Gould, Mrs. W. L. Henderson and Mrs. C. E. Strecker.

Fort Wayne Employees Featured In Adventures Ahead Magazine

Two articles of special interest to Fort Wayne readers appear in the January-February issue of Adventures Ahead, G-E's magazine for employees' children, which will be mailed to subscribers next week.

"Champs of Two Hemispheres" is the story of Red Braden and the Capehart team's triumphant trip to Tokyo, where the Fort Wayne men won the Interhemisphere semi-pro baseball championship.

Another article tells about Patty Corbat, seventeen-year-old square dance caller with Joe Taylor's Indiana Redbirds. Patty is the daughter of James Corbat, Bldg. 20-2. She is said to be the first girl ever to record an album of square dance calls.

The feature on Patty is entitled "She Calls the Figures" and also tells about Joe Taylor's recent composition of several songs.

The leading article in the issue explains how to make your own

(Continued on page 12)

Purdue Univ. Center Offers Night Classes

Evening Adult Education classes, scheduled for the 1951 Winter term at Purdue University Center, have been announced by Dr. R. M. Bateman, director of the Fort Wayne Center.

The subjects offered include: Contract Bridge lessons, Speech for Inexperienced Speakers, Planning Your Financial Security, Essentials of Selling, Square Dance lessons, Kiddies Swim lessons and Homemakers' Week.

Classes are open to all interested. Enrollment starts next week.

FORT WAYNE WORKS NEWS

Volume 34 Friday, January 12, 1951 No. 2

Lou Rotterman Editor

American People Need More Civil Defense Information

It has been frequently said by many foreign peoples that Americans are great talkers and doers.

Most of us, proud of our country, its free expression and achievements, consider such attributed characteristics desirable. By talking and doing, we have built the richest nation on earth.

Among other accomplishments, we have managed to win the major wars in which we have become entangled. We won them because we talked about the moral issues involved and then did what was needed to win the victories. We have raised and equipped the armies, navies and later the air components to obtain the desired military decisions.

Crises, such as we are now facing, are nothing new to our nation. Since the American Revolution, we have periodically met and overcome various threats to our sovereignty and independence from without and within. From past experience, we realize our vast strength, both real and potential. Herein the danger lies.

During the previous crises, we have had time to mobilize our war machine after we had actually become embroiled in conflict. Time, in a shrinking world, is becoming increasingly more precious.

After much talk, we have again decided to make ourselves strong so we may be able to check the flood-tide of communism. Despite our growing awareness of danger and our subsequent preparations for defense, we are still doing a great deal of talking and are engaging in very little "doing" in some aspects of defense in which we are extremely vulnerable.

Take Civil Defense for example. For many months, newspaper writers, radio commentators and other information media have told us of various local, regional and national plans for Civil Defense.

Much Has Been Done

Locally, Col. Chester Lichtenberg, a retired G-E Fort Wayne Works executive, has worked with State and National civilian defense units and the National Security Resources Board in order to establish a defense system for Allen County. As an individual, he has done a remarkable job. Brochures, explaining local civilian defense procedure, directed by Colonel Lichtenberg, have been requested in Los Angeles, Milwaukee, Portland, Ore., Berkley, Calif., and Fresno, Calif.

Aircraft spotters' posts and connected warning communication systems are already in operation and are being expanded. Established local governmental organizations are partially prepared to meet a bombing attack. For instance, the Fire Department and its auxiliary would combat fires, the Police and Sheriff's Departments would attempt to maintain order and the Public Works Committee would be concerned with the repair of water mains and transportation arteries.

Water filtration employees have developed means for combating water pollution. Measures to prevent sabotage in various plants, including our own, have been adopted and others will be announced and put into operation in the near future.

Despite all these efforts, too many of us still would not know what to do in the event of an atomic bombing. Although the Civil Defense organizers and government officials may know what measures would be adopted, Mr. Average Citizen has been noticeably neglected.

Most of us believe that it "probably won't happen here." Perhaps such thinking is justified. After all, other cities are probably given a higher bombing target priority than Fort Wayne. Certainly, New York, Washington, Chicago, Detroit, Cleveland and some other metropolitan areas would be attacked first, we reason.

Bombing Insurance Needed

However, even a gambler who has all the odds in his favor endeavors to prevent one chance of loss. Although most of us believe that it is highly improbable that we shall severely injure or kill another while driving an automobile, we still buy liability insurance each year. What probably won't happen sometimes does.

If we were hit in the center of our city by an atomic bomb tonight, what would we do? How many of the survivors would become panicky? What about radio activity? If we survived the initial blast, what care should we take when using water? Where should we go? How could we help? Where and how would we treat the injured? Do we have enough plasma available to treat the large number of people who would suffer atomic burns? How would we dispose of the dead?

The federal government and various magazines have published pamphlets and articles concerning atomic bomb emergency defense measures. How many of us have seen these instructions? Do those of us who have been exposed to the literature remember what we have read?

In past conflicts, we have had the opportunity to prepare before we came to mortal grips with the enemy. The next time, we may not have such an opportunity.

We have been doing much talking. We need more doing.

GENERAL ELECTRIC

INFORMATION CLINIC

FORT WAYNE WORKS

AB MARTIN, Works Manager

BLDG. 18-2

I would like more information about.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

Signed.....

Location.....

The following G-E employees have recently left the Company to enter various branches of the armed forces, according to payroll section's reports:

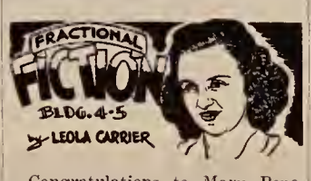
Donald E. Lohse, Myron C. Auer, Horace O. Evans, Dona J. Herb, John E. Stoody, Gerald A. Braun, Paul E. Koehler, Guy Colerick, Robert S. March, Paul A. Michael, Runy F. Wolfe, Garland C. Basey, Herbert C. Cooper, Paul H. Gross, Joseph A. Sorg, Henry G. Betley, James R. Bryant, Walter G. Childers, Wayne F. Steinbauer and Kenneth L. Wolf.

Service men and women are asked to send their addresses to the WORKS NEWS, Bldg. 18-3, so their names may be added to the mailing list.

Here are some recently-received addresses:

S/Sgt. Mary K. Bowman, A515223
7239th WAF Sq.
APO 207 c/o Postmaster
New York, N. Y.

* * *



Cpl. Esther Crozhan
WAC Det.
Fitzsimmons Army Hospital
Denver, Colorado

* * *

Donald C. Campbell, US55031659
114th Engineers Combat Battalion
Hdqtrs. & Services Co.
Camp McCoy, Wisconsin

* * *

Dale Porsch
1942 Reed St.
c/o General Delivery
Orange Park, Fla.

Congratulations to Mary Pepe, Virginia Shambaugh and Ailene Neuman, who are sporting diamonds on that third finger, left hand. . . . "Ducky" Knight says that the wrong time to run a red light is when you don't have a driver's license. He claims to be speaking from experience. . . . Does Chris Stauffer do dry cleaning and inspection both, or is he just a master paint remover for certain persons? If anyone gets any paint on his clothes, see Chris as he has now qualified as a dry cleaner. . . . Gene Berg claims he never gets his name in the paper. He finally made it. George Langenberg and Gene went to the Piston ball game. Already to hand the tickets to the man, George didn't have the tickets. Gene claims if George wins the new car they give away at the end of the season, he gets it. Gene was using his car to drive back and forth to George's house. . . . Welcome to all the new employees of the Small Lot Section. . . . Get well wishes go to Daisy Balyeat, who was operated on recently.

SICK LIST

The following people have been reported sick, dismissed from the hospital and returned to work:

Sick List

John McNearlin, Harry Kessler, Maxine Cavender, Dewey Heaston, Elizabeth Hall, Alice Snyder, Alberta Watt, Lucille Miller, Betty Voirol, Martha Watson, Violet Jung, Phyllis Lochamire, Donald Pritchard, Henry Webster, Lucille Quirk, Arietta Denney, Ina Etter, Marion Sprague, William Devine, Ioan Osterman, Hugh M. Stephenson, Orvil L. Shallenberger, William Sergman, Samuel Dailey, Elson Shanebrook, John P. Rushart, Clarence P. Mentzer, Mildred Harbee, Evelyn Hart, Marion Getting, Alfred Edwards, Anna Ruth Clements, Mada Caudle, Ford D. Burnau, Orval Gamble, Walter R. Amacher, Helen Karnap, Ralph Thomas, Herbert Wise, Imo Foley, Raymond J. Craft, Edward P. Saxton, Eileen G. Fitch, Richard Campbell, Grace Hall, Edna Goff, Anna Robinson and Nora Vanover.

Dismissed from Hospital

Berniece Gebhart, Cozette Walper, Paul Rowan, William Siegman, Ford Burnau, William Devine and Frieda Morin.

Returned to Work

Dorsey Merchant, Mardo Tobias, Kenneth Betts, Glenn Ramsey, Margaret Parisot, Mary Gettinger, Edward Steinau, Anna Gebhart, Martin Wells, Paul Habecker, Harold Canfield, Elizabeth Malone, Mary Brownfield, Veronica Smith, Louella Lahmeyer, Marjorie Hines German, Harry Billman, Paul Bender, Lawrence Andorfer, Doris Doehla, George Ellison and Mary McKinney.

OUT OUR WAY

By J. R. WILLIAMS

Memos from Taylor St. Shipping

By Dolores Connin

Here we are again from Taylor Street hoping to start the New Year in our division with this thought in our minds, "Being kind to your fellow-worker is being good to yourself." . . . Incidentally, one of our most confirmed "lady bachelors," Patricia Waterman, has become engaged to Jerome Kersh. Mr. Kersh is a reporter for the "South Bend Tribune." Much luck and good wishes to you both, Patricia. . . . Also, more pleasant news for us is that Mrs. Herbert Greiser, mother of Joyee, is home from St. Joe Hospital and is feeling much better. . . . "Doc" Potter sure is on the beam since his extra week's vacation over the holidays. . . . Also, Russ Carpenter, our boss, had his extra vacation. I guess they had plenty of rest all right. . . . Stella Hagadorn visited her sister in Chicago over the week-end and surely enjoyed being with her little nieces and nephews. . . . A son was born to Barbara Reeb Cleland, formerly of our division. His name is Michael Reeb. . . . Marilyn Richards is sure saving pennies these days. She is planning to vacation in Bermuda with the Elex Girls. . . . Little Carol Nelson, daughter of Mary Nelson, is just now beginning to pull herself up in her crib and is taking a few steps, too. . . . Vi Schneider has been a busy little bee lately. She has been running around the office trying to look like she's working. She hasn't had much work to do, and she just can't sit still. . . . Maxine Stoffel and her husband, and Barbara Schuckel and her boy friend spent a "quiet" New Year's Eve at a dance. Just ask them how quiet it was. They still have headaches to prove it. . . . Betty Bartley treated her little brother to a movie last Saturday. What a movie to choose, Betty, "Asylum of Horrors," with Frankenstein! The poor kid is still shaking. So is Betty. . . . You can walk into Shipping now and at a quick glance learn the names of most everyone in here. Everyone has his name on a little red ball tacked on his desk. . . . We hated to take down our Christmas tree. It was so-o-o- pretty. We almost cried when we found it gone Wednesday morning. . . . Ruth Ables was singing "Happy Birthday" to herself today. Knowing her birthday was in June, I inquired as to why she was singing it now. "Just practicing," she said. By June, she should be pretty good at it. . . . Maxine Householder is never going to offer to help her boy friend any more. Now, I ask you, is that the attitude to take? . . . We have all survived the holidays with only a few headaches. It's those few that bother us the most. Am I right? . . . Mary Wakeman has trouble keeping track of her papers. It seems she lays them down some place and they walk away from her. Sit on 'em, Mary! . . . Edith Robertson now realizes that after all these years at the G-E, this year they decide to list her name in the telephone directory as E. J. Robertson. I hope everyone knows who this person is. . . . Our telegraph girls, Faye Alexander, Naomi Snyder and Roselyn Standford, were very surprised and delighted to see Santa Claus come through the teletype machine. The girls from Broadway Switching Center designed him out of X's and O's. . . . Anybody got a stray mouse? Vivian Gepke tells us she collects them, dead or alive. We'll see what we can "dig" up for her. . . . Stuart Foreman had a very nice Christmas. He got everything he asked for from Santa and something he didn't expect. . . . We hear Barbara Schuckel is allergic to mistletoe!?! . . . Last, but by no means the least, we offer our warmest congratulations to Ed Sembroski on his new appointment as Assistant Supervisor of Order Service Division of Taylor Street. Mr. Petgen is assuming Ed's former job.

Rovings in BLDG. 17-2

By Bob Griffin

This being the first time I have ever written for our weekly publication, I want to take this opportunity to thank Haold Hohman and Walter Buesking for suggesting me as a candidate. Also I want it to be known that I fully appreciate this singular circumstance that permits me to needle all my friends, past, present and future, with immunity. . . . To begin with in the needling department, Eddie Bienz, one of our eligible young bachelors, has succeeded in reversing the old axiom, "Seen but not heard," by wearing some of the loudest shirts I have ever heard. And speaking of loud shirts, Archie Evans didn't do so badly with that super-audible job he wore between the holidays. Archie promises more of the same in the near future. . . . This is warmed over, but this item should have hit these pages before and didn't. One noon not too long ago, Bill Doell became so interested in studying all the interesting personalities passing his table that he inadvertently spilled his soup in his lap. The question comes to mind, Bill, what flavor of soup were you wearing that day? . . . In our "Interesting Personalities In The News" division, we give you Charles Zolman, whose picture and comment were included in the "Inquiring Reporter" column of last week. Charley's comment is characteristic of him. He is not given to idle talk or gossip. Everything he says is well thought out and interestingly given. A bit on the serious side mostly, Charley likes a good joke and isn't above helping play one on a co-worker. He is always cheerful and helpful around the shop and well thought of all with whom he comes in contact. In other words, Charley, we're proud to be associated with you. . . . Some of our off-because-of-illness people are back. Paul Bender has returned after being absent for over a week. He stated that he had a severe cold. Some of his co-workers ar inclined to believe the underlying cause may have been the effects of smoking the corn-cob pipe he received in the gift exchange. . . . It is good to see Paul Habecker back again after being off a month suffering from a serious virus pneumonia infection. You'll have to eat well and often to regain those 30 pounds you lost, Paul. . . . The Gene Rosswurms are the proud owners of a brand new 1951 model baby girl, born Thursday, Jan. 4. Congratulations and best wishes to Mom, Pop and the new arrival. . . . Group 16x42 have been buying new cars. The Chevy owners are feuding with the Ford owners. It's anyone's battle so far. Suggestion: Call in Mel Kiessling, the expert new-car analyzer, and what a field day he would have. . . . Jay Rippe and Earl Sweeney are both bemoaning the fact that their cars have been changed in appearance. Neither change is recommended by the car manufacturers. Maybe if you boys would get together you could get a cut rate on repairing the heaps because of the volume of the business. . . . In the sports department, no record's been set or broken so far as we have heard. Harold Hohman, faithfully finagling for the finny foes, hasn't been able to find the right spot. It's always the guy next to him who catches the limit, all big ones, too. Nuff said.

Charles Zolman

The after-holiday lull seems to be affecting the amount of news from Bldg. 18. The Accounting and Payroll people have been working many hours overtime to complete the year-end business and to get your statement of earnings to you in order that you may favor Uncle Sam and Mr. Schricker with your timely checks. (Just a reminder, January 31 is not too far away.) . . . Sympathy—We wish to extend our sympathy to Herman Volmerding in the death of his mother. . . . H. S. Shield has transferred from Production Service to the Accounting Division in Bldg. 18-1. . . . Happy Birthdays—Estella Monroe, Bldg. 18-1 celebrated her birthday Monday, Jan. 8, by staying at home ill. . . . Gladys Forst will celebrate her birthday next Saturday! Hazel McDougall will add one more year Jan. 15, and Doris Lehman, Bldg. 18-2 celebrated her birthday Jan. 4. Minta Cole's was Jan. 9. . . . New Cars—William Spahr of Bldg. 18-1, is the proud driver of a new NASH and A. S. Johnson is driving a '51 Ford. . . . Congratulations—Marilyn Mattes, Bldg. 18-2, received a very beautiful diamond for Christmas. The lucky guy is Ray Sorg.

We will miss Eloise Buhl, who is leaving today to become a full time housewife. And somehow when you leave, that job does become full time. You manage to do both while you are working but once you're home, you wonder how you did both because the house absorbs all your time. And then husbands discover there are other ways of fixing meat besides that quick frying method. Let us hear from you once in awhile, Eloise. . . . Welcome to Helen Hall, who has transferred to Central Cost as secretary to Mr. Duncan. . . . The next time Ruth English complains about a book's looking like an antique, she will be sure who studied out of said book. . . . Clara Billue has returned to work after being absent a week due to illness. . . . Two new test men have been added to the Sales Division. They are Peter Perino, who is working for D. C. Hanson, and George Rezebeck, for F. D. Wilson. . . . Carey Creamer is again working for Mr. Wilson. He spent the past few months on the Exhibit Train. . . . The girls in the Purchasing Division attended a party for Dorothy Rademaker at the home of Mary K. Hostetler. Dorothy will be leaving to assume household duties.

Inquiring Reporter:

"DO YOU THINK THE DEFENSE OF EUROPE IS MORE IMPORTANT THAN THE DEFENSE OF ASIA TO THE UNITED STATES?"

BETTIE CASEBERE
Bldg. 20-2

"Both of our coastlines are important if we don't want the Russians in this country fighting. I believe that we will have to find someway to defend both Europe and our bases in the Pacific. We must keep our guard up in every direction to ward off an attack."

GEORGE F. ZEIS
Bldg. 19-1

"I think there is so much propaganda that it is hard to determine the true facts, but I would say it is our duty to play our aces wherever they will do the most good for the U. S. A., the land of the free."

JOHN F. CRAMER
Taylor St.

"There are so many angles to this question. Asia has a vast population, but not very good industrial facilities, whereas Europe has much better industrial facilities and is more progressive. I would say to concentrate on Europe."

M. N. BRAYER
Taylor St.

"Europe is nearest to us. Our population and industrial power is located mainly in eastern United States. We have few important bases in the Atlantic. Our friends are in Europe, and with Asia now almost wholly communistic, there is little left to defend there."

GENEVA ATKINS
Bldg. 26-2

"The defense of Europe is far more important to the United States because our real enemy is Russia, who also dominates China. We are greatly outnumbered by China's millions and fighting them would only mean defeat, which is what Russia wants. If we would fortify and rearm Japan, it would hold Asia for us, leaving us free to put most of our men in Europe to fight the real enemy, Russia."

Du Chemin's Greatest Contribution

Nick DuChemin, recently appointed General Manager of the Small Apparatus Divisions, is probably the only man in General Electric who has had this experience.

While he was Manager of the West Lynn, (Mass.) Works, one of his employees sat down and wrote Mr. Charles E. Wilson, former company president, about Nick. It was the employee's 35th anniversary with the Company and the letter said that Mr. DuChemin was a wonderful boss to work for during a long span of years.

It was quite a letter.

Mr. Wilson was touched. He wrote back, "The fact that anyone has spent 35 years with a company and feels so kindly toward it proves that there is hope for that company."

Right after that Nick DuChemin was promoted to Assistant General Manager of the Apparatus Department.

Now . . . we won't say that the letter-writing employee takes full credit for Mr. DuChemin's promotion—we'll just say partial credit.

The Family Feeling

Anyway, the whole incident points up the fact that Nick DuChemin is very much a part of the G-E family wherever he goes. People are interested in his welfare. They want the best for him. They go out of their way to do things for him. He arrived in Lynn to take the G-E Apprentice Course when he was 19-years-old. There are women now working in West Lynn Works who remember him as he used to be then.

They say affectionately, "He had one brown suit which he pressed under the mattress."—"He was very reserved"—"He was the worst dancer."

They are intensely proud of him today and, incidentally, in private they still take a very keen interest in his clothes.

Naturally, Nick DuChemin couldn't arouse so much family feeling if he didn't have that same emotion about the whole thing himself. He has it.

Knows The Boys

During the war, he met and personally talked to every new employee who was hired.

They say when an employee was recommended for a raise. DuChemin never had to ask, "Who is he?" In fact, in budgetary circles, it is breathed around that on more than one occasion his comment was, "Why are you being so tight? There's nothing the matter with him."

Well, in short, Nick DuChemin was made General Superintendent of West Lynn Works in 1923 when he was 28 years old. Before and after that, he peeled thousands of onions for employees' picnics, put thousands of fish cakes on outdoor fires and sat on factory benches eating nickel bars of candy. All the time, he was talking a little and listening a lot—until he was steeped in all the joking, griping, jostling, encouraging, discouraging, noisy and hard-working life of the factory.

Basically he's a harmonious combination of some very bizarre elements.

One of his grandfathers was the proprietor of a cobbler shop and the other was a ship's chandler. They lived in Newfoundland.

His father was a building wrecker.

Nick himself was born in Greenwich Village, New York City. The family had come there with Nick's grandmother who had a taste for theater people. In fact, Donald Brian; who starred in the first presentation of the Merry Widow; is Nick's cousin and was brought up by his grandmother.

Catholic Background

As if all this diversity were not enough, Nick's education was handled by the Christian Brothers. He was sent to St. Bonaventure's College in Newfoundland at an early age. Two of his best friends and former classmates today are bishops. He knows a great many sea captains as well, and his wife is an operatic soprano.

Nick can make you a pair of shoes or paint you a picture with equal facility. Then, there's the phase of him that has to do with machinery. At St. Bonaventure, he was so promising academically that he passed the Rhodes scholarship examinations for Oxford. But he refused to submit his credentials for the scholarship. Instead, he was tempted to the other extreme action—and entered the G-E Apprentice Course. He wanted to learn how to do something useful with his hands.

To sum it up, as he puts it himself, "I had a teacher once who said, 'Know something of everything and everything of something'." He sure does.

This diversity has crept into his life, too.

Earned $4 A Week

He's been very poor. As an apprentice in 1914, he got $4 a week—out of which he paid $2 for his room. He had to work for his meals. He was a dish-washer and cook's assistant in a Lynn diner, getting up at 5 a.m. in order to be in the kitchen at 7. Every penny had to be counted and he did a lot of walking.

It was in this period that he got the peanut concession for the saloons in Lynn. He rented machines, installed them, supplied the peanuts and, on Saturday nights, collected the coins out of the slots.

Incidentally, the peanut story came out recently in a Boston Post article about him and he characteristically anticipated the reaction of his employees. When the first man dropped into his office to say, "Got any peanuts today?" he was ready. He pulled out the middle drawer of his desk. It was full of peanuts.

Well, he's been very poor. He isn't rich now, of course, but he hasn't washed dishes for a meal in a long time.

In fact, his progress in recent years is summed up in a very touching way by this story which he told us about his wife. She's very religious and he's always known that she prays for all the G-E employees who work for him. But he was startled the other day to hear her saying to a friend, "Before the war, I prayed for 2,500 of them and that seemed like a lot of people. During the war, it was 2,000 and now that he's got this new job—you know what—I find I'm praying for almost 30,000 people."

He has a variety of hobbies.

Raises Siberian Dogs

Take the dogs. He raises dogs but they're not the usual kind of dogs. They're Samoyeds. Samoyeds have webbed feet, are all white, and weigh 75 to 80 pounds. They're natives of Siberia and are used to walking over the snow and sleeping in storms with their tails in front of their faces. There are only a half-dozen of them in New England.

They're friendly and, if you speak harshly to them, they come over and put a big paw on your knee and keep it there until you say they are forgiven.

In dog genealogy, they're a generation removed from Canis Familiaries intermedius, one of the four original dogs, and it is only in the last 200 years that they've learned to bark. He's raised many of the dogs—and one a very near champion. He never sells them. He gives them away—usually to families with children.

It bothers him and his wife to part with them. The last time he gave one away, he arranged the donation something like this:

(Continued on page 12)

DuCHEMINS AT THE PIANO

NICK AND DOGS

"REEL" RELAXIN'

THE SUCCESS STORY OF A G-E EXECUTIVE WHO CAME UP THE HARD WAY

"UNSUNG HERO"

Some folks are remembered
For what they have done,
Like Generals or Admirals
For battles they've won.

While others are quoted
Long after they're dead
For wisdom and logic
In things they have said.
'Twould seem that a man

To be honored today
Must have done something big
Or had something to say.
But there's one other fellow.

We all overlook
A hero who never
Is named in a Book.
It's the man who remembers

At home or away.
That it's best to keep still
When there's nothing to say.

W. L. Wohnsetler

FLYING HIGH: Judy Clark is back from her trip to beloved, smoky Philly. It was her first plane trip. She believes that mode of transportation is here to stay. . . . LOOSE BEARINGS: Jack Kirlin, aided by Kaeck, Starkel and Sherbondy, was assembling one of our motors. On a test run, it was a little noisey. The boys were using 5/8" bearings on a 1/2" shaft. . . . HIDDEN ORANGE TRICK: In order to prevent embarrassment to a certain column editor, we will remain quiet about his name. However, Bob Kirby will supply it to anyone who cares. This certain character was walking down the hall tossing an orange up in the air in about the same manner as Li'l Abner playing with that half skinned baseball. On one toss, the orange stayed upon a rafter, and extra help was required to retrieve it. . . . TIPSY: When Bob Langdon's file cabinet tipped over it sounded like an accelerated Fibber McGee closet. If John Willsey hadn't helped, that file cabinet would have taken Bob down and sat on him. . . . MASS MIGRATION: Some of our best men and one boy are migrating South to the DC Section. We are going to miss everyone of you. So we say goodbye to Paul Shaffer, Bob Langdon, Virgil Cauthen, Max Barrows, Wilbur Boltz, Charlie Thomas, Bruce Curley, Harold Buck, Bob Wigent, Denny Druesedow, Chuck Kelso and also to Dick Trautman (our boy). Now don't you men forget to return to the best section of all whenever this war work is done. . . . SALES: DEEPEST SYMPATHY: We extend our sympathy to Fred Volmerding on the death of his mother. . . . HELLO AND GOODBYE: We all wish Bill Buchholtz lots of luck. He left us to work in the Cleveland Office. We'll all miss his ready smile. In his place, however, we have gained George Beck. . . . BEST OF LUCK: Maxine Lonergan was the guest of honor at a luncheon held last Thursday at the Company restaurant. She was presented with a beautiful gift. Maxine is leaving us to become a full-time housewife. Best of luck, Max. . . . HAPPY BIRTHDAY: Happy birthday to Dorrie Giltz, and Tom Doell, Jan. 15. . . . THANK YOU: Thank you, Mrs. Richard Heard, for those delicious cakes to help us celebrate Dick's birthday. . . . We bid goodbye and good luck to Herman Bergstedt, our test engineer, who was called to service by Uncle Sam. . . . WELCOME: Would like to welcome Roy Hardin, test engineer to our DC Division. . . . SO SORRY: So Sorry, AC that you are the loser and we the winner. We'd like to welcome Messrs. B. Curley, H. Buck, D. Druesedow, M. Barrows, V. Carthen, W. Boltz, C. Kelso, C. Thomas, B. Wigent and P. Shaffer and Master Dick Trautman, to our DC Division. . . . Hope you like being direct current instead of alternating current. . . . CONGRATS: I am sure we were all very happy to see the announcement of the engagement and approaching marriage of our own Mary Ellen Duer and our own Forrie Carlson. We couldn't have picked anyone better for either one of you. Needless to say we know you will be very happy. They will be married Jan. 27 in Ohio. . . . DID YOU KNOW? Did you know Toby Tyler is the proud possessor of a brand new cornet? Take it easy now, Toby! . . . NEW SONG: It has been suggested that we publish the song with which we surprised Ray Jones at our Christmas Party, in one last sincere appeal to return "Bossy" the cow. The words were written by Walter Whonsetler, and it was sung to the tune of "Somebody Stole My Gal."

Loose Bearings

"Somebody stole my cow—somebody has her now.
Some stinker came and took her away
I had no warning until one morning
I found she wasn't there—the place she stood was bare.
Can you—imagine who—would ever do
I wish I knew
That low down bum who has her now—
The guy who stole my cow."

WELCOME: We would like to welcome Natalie Kalb to our division. She will replace Mary Ellen Duer as Engineering Assistant.

MAILING: We wish to bid farewell and good luck to Earl Covault, who was transferred to the Wire Division Office, at Taylor St. . . . Happy birthday to Minta Cole, who celebrated her birthday, Jan. 9. . . . Loren Hill is reported on the road to recovery and may he back with us soon. . . . Welcome to Garland Helland, who joined us this week. We hope you like it here, Garland. . . . SHIPPING: Congratulations to Mamma and Papa Broxon upon the arrival of a wee tiny girl. Mamma is former employee Rosemary Broxon, and Papa works in Bldg. 26. . . . Happy birthday to Ed David, Thursday, Jan. 18. . . . Farewell and best wishes to Jerry Graybill, who is leaving Shipping Division to join the gang in Bldg. 18.

REACHES 30-YEAR MARK—Walter J. Wolf, Bldg. 26-B (center), chalked up 30 years of service at General Electric Tuesday, Dec. 26. On his anniversary, Mr. Wolf received a letter congratulating him on his long service record. Left to right in the photograph are R. L. Mann, Mr. Wolf, and F. N. Banks.

Committee Named

(Continued from page 1)

ance to communities in the planning of civil defense communications.

Because of his past experience with military as well as community communications systems, Neal F. Harmon, former sales engineer in Atlanta, Ga., has been appointed to the post of Civil Defense Planning Coordinator. Mr. Harmon will supervise all requests for services of electronics experts, to help communities and regions or states plan efficient emergency communication systems which will serve in peace as well as war. These experts also will be available for consultation on the coordination of present radio systems, such as police, fire and taxicab during a war emergency.

To Conduct Research

Other major steps in the Company's broad program, Dr. Baker said, include the study of new or existing electronic devices which would be of assistance in establishing an adequate civil defense program. The General Electric vice president recently announced conversion of a former tube plant at Utica, New York, in order to facilitate expansion of production of two-way radio communication equipment, which he said, will provide the backbone of civil defense communcations systems.

"In the event," Dr. Baker said, "of any major disaster—and that includes atomic attack upon our cities—which would interrupt normal power supply and therefore normal communcations, mobile, self-powered, two-way radio communcations must provide the means of directing rescue, medical, fire fighting, policing or other necessary operations."

Mr. Harmon, the new Civil Defense Planning Coordinator, Dr. Baker said, will keep all G-E communication experts in the field informed as to national civil defense authority communication requirements. He also will coordinate requests for communications planning assistance in mutual aid agreements made by cities or areas.

Thomas Edison said, "I, myself, do not know of a single case in which a corporation has bought a valuable invention to suppress it."

APOLOGY: We are just as quick to admit our mistakes as we are ready to publish our friends' humorous mistakes. So, with this thought in mind, we take our typewriter in hand to apologize to our old friend and pal, Sam Baumgartner. In last week's note we stated that poor Sam walked 15 miles home. Well, last Saturday morning Sam, in his usual friendly and cheerful manner, collared me and said, "Say you @?!;@? liar, you told everybody I walked 15 miles home. That is a @?!;@? lie; it was only 14." Sam, we stand corrected. . . . OPEN LETTER TO R. M. HARTIGAN: Dear Dick: Several weeks ago we brought to your attention the satorial perfection of one H. L. Stevenson. We still await, with bated breath, your decision to raise him to a post among the elite. In the interim, we have chosen not to sit idly by. Last week we announced to all and sundry the many virtues of one Frank (Pappy) Archbold. Of course, we are cognizant of the fact that Pappy has reached that heaven-on-earth type of job. (Big pay and nothing to do) But, let us pause for a moment to look in the direction of the common man. It is with a feeling of distinct pride and joy that we wish to call your attention to another of your employees, Bill Pomp. Bill went fishing last week and did not catch one fish. But was he discouraged? No, sir. Bill found a fish frozen in a hole and promptly dug it out with his spud. Such resourcefulness surely should be rewarded. Thank you. The gang in Bldg. 27. . . . LOST AND FOUND: Last year our genial friend Frank Newport lost about $30 worth of Golden Gloves fight tickets. This year, Frank avowed that he would be eternally vigilant. But, sad to relate, he nearly lost. It seems Frank was in a local (Sundae Dispensing) Emporium rapturously inhaling a banana split and, in his pocket reposed one hundred and twenty bucks worth of fight tickets. When he reached for them, he found to his surprise that their value had dwindled to a mere forty bucks. They had become lost, strayed or stolen. Frank enacted the first Fort Wayne male strip tease act in search of the elusive ducats. But to no avail; they had vanished. However, this story has a happy ending; Frank found the missing cardboards in the men's powder room. For details, we suggest that you contact Frank. . . . LATE: In last week's issue we neglected to relate an event of great importance so, we hasten, herewith, to make amends. Our good pal and friend, Pappy Weaver, went and got himself hitched. He did all right, too. He brought the bride in and introduced her to the gang. The couple made a splendid appearance. They now quietly honeymooning in Florida. The gang here in Bldg. 27 wish the happy couple every good wish for the coming years. . . . MISSING FACES: Last week, we suffered the loss of a smiling face. Ford Burnau was on the sick list. He was in the hospital for observation (physical only). However, we are happy to have him back with us once more. His smile is an asset to the organization. . . . LATEST FARM BULLETIN: H. L. (Steve) Stevenson, after weeks of worry and planning, has, at last, managed to get his corn in from the field. American ingenuity, Bub. . . . CORRECTION: For the benefit of the many questions that have been raised in Bldg. 27 regarding the apparel of Irma Thiele, our lovely office gal, we hasten to explain that she has not gone out for football. The ankle brace that she wears is to protect an injury to her ankle. You're welcome. . . . VOTE FOR HIM: Each morning B. S. (before seven) our friend and tireless exponent of the little man, Henry Parrish, delivers an interesting and lengthy tirade on our foreign policy. Henry is sincere and tireless. We feel that a vote for him is a vote for the common man. Please give Henry your support. . . . MYSTERY SOLVED: For years there has been a standing argument in our section as to whether Frank Rathert could read or not. Since Frank is only our inspector, we have never had the opportunity to ascertain. However, it now has been established beyond a reasonable doubt as to his persual merits. He came into the office with a book, the other day, and at random opened several pages and divulged their contents without the missing of a word. Frank, we are proud of you. . . . SHOT GUN FOR SALE: Last year, just before the hunting season opened, Clyde Ford purchased a new shot gun. Clyde laid great plans to go afield Saturday of the opening week. Alas, that Saturday found the poor man working on an overtime project. Later, a club promptly dispatched a setting bunny; then the car accidentally ran one down and promptly took its life. Last Saturday was to be the great day for the weapon's initial trial. Yep, you guessed it; overtime again. What will you bid for a wonderful new and unused late model shot gun? Send all bids to Clyde.

Decimal Minute Men's Club To Meet Monday

The regular monthly meeting of the Decimal Minute Men's Cluh will be held at 7:30 p.m., Monday in the Chamber of Commerce, A. J. Ruble, Club secretary, has announced.

Following a short business session, C. M. Summers, Chief Engineer of the Works Laboratory, will discuss "The Future of Nuclear and Atomic Energy."

We wish to welcome Mary Gray and George Malone from third shift. . . . Ann Lee is sure doing okay bowling. She bowled a 520 series on scores of 149, 166 and 205. Nice going, Ann. . . . Al Telschow, Darold Emrick, Ray Loudenhack, Olan Shank and Carl Kuzeff are the fishermen of the week. The fellows went to Holton Lake in Michigan. Darold, Ray and Carl did very well getting 58, 56 and 61 fish respectively. We know you had a good time celebrating the New Year along with fishing. . . . We wish to welcome Grover Wheeler, who is working with us on second shift. . . . Dollie Fodge is a grandmother again. We know you are happy with another granddaughter, Dollie. . . . Alma Raymer is a grandmother for the first time. The grandchild is a hahy boy. . . . We wish a very happy birthday to Ruth Gunn. . . . What was Chuck Boyce hunting for in the parking lot recently? Was it his car?

Cheer up. It's only 67 days until spring. . . . We think it is spring already on our floor. Last Friday, we left the place in shrouds. The air-conditioning was getting a spring housecleaning. . . . We hear that Max has been teaching Bob Rehrer the art of putting side arms on arbors. . . . Are you in a hurry? Is your hair a mess? Juanita Likens knows how to solve the problem. Just wash the front of your hair, the part that shows while wearing a hat. . . . Peggy Woods' husband is going to solve a problem for her too; the problem of getting up in the morning. He is getting her a clock with a bell and a horn on it. All the time we thought she was pretending she was still in California and coming to work by California time. . . .

Loses Race

We are sorry to see George Smith leaving us. He is going to work in Bldg. 4-5. . . . We bid farewell to Stella Jackson too. She will be spending full time on small garment making. . . . Last Wednesday Floetta Zartman and Doris Ryan were sure that they would have to wash dishes at the cafeteria. They both forgot their purses. Some kind friend came to their rescue. Floetta would have called home, but her dog doesn't answer the telephone. . . . The swish we heard Friday was Isabelle Blackburn and Lucy Alexander having a foot race for the bus. Lucy won. . . . Eunice Iehr wasn't so lucky. She ran for the bus, too, and ended by sitting on the ground. . . . We missed Ted Goll Friday. The wiring on his car caught on fire, and Ted didn't make it in to work. . . . Has anyone seen Kate Weigle's "Hopalong Cassidy" thermos? I guess she needs a lasso for it since it is always being lost. . . . Congratulations on the blue-bootied tax deduction at the Elmer Lamley home. . . . The Jess Hahns are in their new home. How about a housewarming? . . . It's a happy birthday to Margaret Monnot and Gwendolyn Robinson. . . . Ivah Grandstaff sent Luella Masson this belated birthday greeting on pretty wall paper. Ivah wrote the poem too.

I have bread without butter
And milk without cream.
Three years is the age of my hat,
And I'm trying so hard to be saving.
My purse is empty and flat.
I searched very hard for a birthday card.
But I couldn't find any at all.
So to wish you a happy belated birthday
I had to rip the paper off my wall.

Eva Smotherman says it happens every time. Just wear high heeled shoes, and she will stand all day. . . . Have you noticed the pretty diamond that Blanche Ramsey is wearing? . . . Last week Nellie Bellamy paid us a visit, and we were very glad to see her.

Hermetic Owls,
BLDG. 17-3

By Fern Yoder

Hi, gang, have you started this New Year right? Anyway, let's make it a good year here in Bldg. 17-3. Let's just be very optimistic in spite of obstacles that may come, and let's enjoy ourselves and enjoy each other as we all work together to make this a happy year. . . . Let's just keep on sending in the news so we can have a nice column each week. Thanks, gang. . . . We had a very pleasant surprise last Wednesday when Bill Bunnell came in to visit us. He said to tell all the gang, "hello." Since we are scattered in various divisions, we want to take this means to tell all of you he said, "hello." Bill is now a sophomore at Purdue University. He expects to be leaving for the Navy. . . . Elma Keiser has been helping out on Start Winding for Walter Kryder. Hurry back, Elma. . . . Esther Andrews spent Thursday shopping in Fort Wayne. . . . Ema Black and Fern Yoder were off from work because of illness, but one is back at work now. . . . Dick Gidley says when he locks people in the elevator they stay in or get out through the window. What window? . . . We would like to have some news from Nellie Bellamy. How are you getting along, Nellie? Don't forget, Clara and Lilly, call us some time. Are you going to take that trip, Clara.

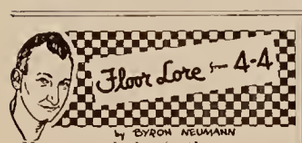
TALL STORY TELLER—Ami Fett, second from right, is pictured displaying the loving cup trophy which his co-workers presented him for telling the best tall story during 1950. A set-up man in Bldg. 4-4, Ami has been a leading contender for the award for several years. On his chest are names of past winners of the annual prize offered since 1936. Others shown are (l-r) Floyd Steinbacher, George Crickmore, Champion Fett and Francis Voirol.

By Don Clark

Ask Johnny Roach what became of his drawing. While turning hardened guide pins, the hot shavings flew over his shoulder and burned up half of it. You should see him grab his check when Bob Pequignot hands it to him. He isn't taking any chances of burning that, too. . . . There have been some changes made in 1951. It now costs $1 to park in Willie Garman's private parking spot downtown. That is from the latest police report. . . . We extend a hearty welcome to three new employees: Leo Ebert, who is working on the drill press, Luther Ogg, on the saw, and Richard Cline, in the Heat Treat Section. . . . Belated birthday greetings to Bob Palmer, who advanced one year in age Jan. 10. . . . Arnold Korte is now satisfied that he made a good purchase when he bought his new washing machine. He was able to see the strong construction recently when he had it torn down for repairs. . . . We are glad to welcome back Russell Jones, who is returning to work after an extended illness. . . . Paul Auman is thinking about digging out his auxiliary police club and helmet since the preparedness program is being stepped up. . . . We also welcome to the division our new blue print girl, Betty Strong. We hope that Betty will find her job interesting and the employees congenial. . . . DEFERMENT NEWS! Paul Wuttke reported for his physical last Tuesday, and Paul Mischo reports Jan. 22, 1951. They both have orders to report for active duty with the Marine Corps in February. . . . Elwin Coolidge, who has been frequently moving his drafting table around, does not have a housewife craze for rearranging the furnishings. Elwin says he is trying to avoid the water that's leaking through the roof. . . . Coming in late the other morning, Walter Esterline said his clock was off. We think he took time to catch a mess of bluegills before he came to work. . . . Paul Weaver attended a wedding reception dolled up in a new suit. Somehow he slipped a few nut meats into his coat pocket. Then Paul forgot about it until he wanted to wear the suit again. Guess what! A mouse found those nuts, and how did it get them? It chewed right through the pocket. . . . The Drafting Section welcomes Ed Brink, who is with us on a training program. . . . Ned Greulach, now on first shift again, brings a good report. His wife has recovered from her illness. Does she think you'd make good at nursing, Ned? . . . Chet Rennecker reports getting a nice letter from Fred Martin, former die plant employee. Fred, now located at Baton Rouge, La., would like to hear from some of his old buddies. See Chet for his address. . . . Every so often Harry Van Diver's car would quit running for him. A very nice mechanic overhauled the ignition system for a mere twenty bucks. Harry was happy until Thursday after work. His car wouldn't start. So another nice man, Dick Suter, tightened the loose battery cable and the car starts on a quarter turn. Now another nice man, John Fleischer, offers to save Harry $10 by selling him a crescent wrench for only ten bucks. . . . Mr. and Mrs. Art Keller were awakened the other night by noises from downstairs. After about one half hour, Art courageously stole down the stairs and caught the burglars single-handed. Their clock radio had turned on automatically. . . . We must have had some New Year's resolutions among our fishermen. Anyway, John Fleischer, Wilbur Lane or Orval Smith haven't told any of their fishing exploits lately. . . . We welcome Gordon Houser to the Tool Division. He's so quiet that you hardly know he is around. But Don Stroh is still here, fellows. . . . We hear that Bill Gallespie hasn't quite recuperated from his New Year's eve spent in Chicago. . . . Francis Gerardot says the Pistons will have more competition in the future (as if they need any more). With the birth of Gerardot's fifth son only a few weeks ago, Francis now has his starting five. Francis figures that by the time his boys are grown the League will have permitted Murray to use Charlie Share. . . . Did you hear about the increase in the Harold Lehman family? Its being only four weeks old, all that Harold hears is baby talk—baby parakee that is. The little bird was a Christmas present for Mrs. Lehman. . . . Glenn Kline had to leave work early Friday. He took his son, Ned, to Chicago to catch a plane for California. Glenn then spent the night in Chicago with his old fishing partner, Bud Fisher. . . . After a close call in passing a car on Beaver Ave., Harold Hoffman is thinking of putting on wings. He says if his car had another coat of paint there would have been an accident. . . . Del Stickler was going to show off his new "Power Glide." You're right, it wouldn't start until they came out with a new battery. That's better than having them fall apart, Del. . . . Ren Getty can tell you about that. John Hensler received a new electric razor for Christmas, and that isn't all. He also became a grandpa again on New Year's. John broke his glasses, however, and had to do a glyptal repair job to have that first look. . . . Imagine! Jim Ehresman bought a new Buick. However, it would not fit in the garage which Jim rents near the G-E. With the landlady's permission, Jim cut out the required number of boards to get his car in. . . . Welcome to Walter Greiner's section Merv Lowden and Mark McNulty. . . . Clyde Spangler had his troubles this week. Hursh's Leo Lions drubbed his Huntertown Wildcats, and to follow it up his hogs got out. Clyde had to knock off work and run after his future pork chops the rest of the afternoon. He should have gotten Bob Truelove to help run the hogs. Bob also was feeling bad about the game. . . . The neighbors thought the Korean front was moving in close. It was only our trigger-happy Art Dicke shooting up two boxes of shells to celebrate New Year's. . . . Woody Hursh traded his Kaiser, but before turning it over, he smashed it up. So "Whirlwind" Harsh went down the next day and drove his new Ford right into another accident. Whirlwind claims the Kaiser was parked. We believe you, Woody. Don't we, fellows? . . . Reiney Lepper has a new way of playing euchre. Pass and after the card is turned under, make it trump. No one ever remembers what was up to start with. . . . The great euchre team of Druhot and Welker beat the upstarts Foust and Lepper 248 to 235 games in 1950. . . . Bernie Byanski fractured a couple of ribs when he fell out of bed. He claims he was sitting on the edge of the bed putting on his sox. . . . Cary Baker wore his plaid Christmas shirt to work. The colors were so bright that everyone had to wear sun glasses. . . . Glen Ramsey is feeling fine after an operation which left a 14 in. incision. The only thing that bothers him now is that his meals aren't served to him in bed. . . . Elmer Sauerwein hopes to be back on the job as soon as his doctor and Mayo Brothers release him. . . . Everyone thought Ed Shafenacker hooked someone's clothes line with the door handle of his car, but Ed claims that he ties those rags on his door handles to keep them from freezing. Maurice Sordelet and Walter Greiner suggested that Ed have his wife knit some booties for each of his four door handles. . . . Self Safety Question: Will I learn by the way that it is painful and hard, if I neglect to replace that safety guard?

Transformer Tattles,
BLDG 26-4

by Russell James



The gals on the stacking bench would like to suggest that Val Sitcler trade that Horton washer for a G-E for happier wash-days. . . . We understand that Ceal Pranger had a swell time at the recent transformer party, but didn't we all! . . . Glad to see Dorothy Brown back to work after her recent illness. . . . Ralph Braden ought to either get a new gun or have his glasses changed—only three clay pidgeons out of ten at 25 yards. Tsk! Tsk! . . . I heard "Fresh Eggs" Keller's money bailer broke down over the week-end. It's sure tough to have that added expense for repairs right at tax time. . . . Anyone wanting to buy a later model car, see Ed Koontz. He has one for sale. . . . Anyone taking a vacation in December is advised by Eva Johnson to go East. Their trip was to Baltimore and Washington, D. C. They enjoyed it a lot. . . . Wonder where Ray Horstman keeps that fish trap. He seems to be the only ice fisherman who's doing any good. . . . The co-workers of Ilo Kraft wish to extend their sympathy to Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Kraft in the death of his mother. . . . Joe Troendly went out to one of his farmer friends to hunt, but didn't get any rabbits so Joe moaned so much that the farmer gave him a chicken. . . . Bldg. 26-4 has three potential flat feet in Claude Hughes, Delmer Dewart and Ralph Bultemeyer. They have all taken their examinations for the police force. Be careful what you say around them, they might use it against you some day. . . . They say that "Chow Hound" Braun eats 10 or 12 times per day. . . . The most original tale of the week goes to Leo Klejnot. "The steering wheel flew up and hit me in the face." . . . Roy Hosler finally got one of his shingles. . . . Bill Fowler is grandpa again and mighty proud, too. . . . The girls on Type M stacking and finishing wish Orie Cagnet a happy birthday. . . . Ethel Shroyer had a slight accident last week, so the gals and men in the winding and stacking sections took up a collection so she could buy some suspenders. . . . Paul Weideman has to have about two days a week off since he got married. The boys in the Stock Room wonder when Paul will get over his "Honeymoon Hangover." . . . 9:00 o'clock "Susie" is the new name for Susie Johnston. Could it be late hours? We think it could be by the gleam in those eyes.

First Spinster: "It says here that a woman in Omaha has just cremated her third husband."

Second Spinster: "Heigho! Isn't that just the way? Some of us can't get one and other women have husbands to burn."

EARN SUGGESTION AWARDS—Pictured are several employees who received suggestion awards of $25 or more for the month of December. Harold Fletter (left in the upper left picture) FHP Div. 17, received $75 for his idea. He suggested the omission of the rubber bumper assembly on certain motors, thus enabling the customers to oil motors without dismantling them. He is pointing out several features of his suggestion to his foreman, C. H. Penn. In the upper right photograph, Arthur Pequignot, Bldg. 26-3, (left) is receiving his $50 suggestion award from his foreman, Farold Schuman. Mr. Pequignot suggested a change in bringing out the leads used on preliminary coils so that they could be wound in multiples instead of singly. William C. Mills, Jr., (right, center row, left picture) is being congratulated by his foreman, Louis Sordelet. Mr. Mills was awarded $45 for suggesting an alteration in the lead holes to prevent the leads from grounding on the cases. In the center right picture, Paul Weaver, Bldg. 19-4, (center) is explaining several features of his suggestion to Norman Jackemeyer (left) and W. L. Paulson. Mr. Weaver was awarded $45 for suggesting that a fixture be used to grind parts of dies. Grinding time was consequently shortened. Christian Stauffer, Bldg. 4-5, (right, lower right) received $30 for his suggestion that two of the clamp bolts on motors be omitted in the assembly until after testing. He is showing to W. L. O'Brien, Supervisor of Inspection and Test, the application of his idea. A suggestion brought Elvie Dafford, Bldg. 26-5, (right lower center picture) $25. He suggested that the lead hole in transformer cases be raised to prevent a short in the coils. He is being presented an award check by Louis Sordelet, his foreman. Margaret Monnot, Bldg. 17-3, (right, lower right) earned $25 for her idea to shorten leads, thus aiding operators to perform the tying step in motors production. She is shown receiving her award from her foreman, Charles Rice.

Many people begin the new year with heavy, faltering steps. They are weighted down with blighting memories of guilt and failure. Their eyes are turned backward to deep shadows of the past, instead of forward to the rays of sunshine that could be shed upon their way. Others cannot make up their minds, going nowhere in particular. A modern writer compared them to a man who mounts a horse and then tries to ride in all four directions at the same time. . . . George Selby has made a New Year's resolution—not to clip Lloyd Runyon over twice a day. . . . QUESTION OF THE WEEK: Is any one in dire need of a nylon stocking? If so, better see Rody Rodemaker. It seems he carries an extra one with him. . . . E. Gillum celebrated a birthday last week and received a nice cake from the girls as well as some nice gifts. John Walters still can't figure it out. . . Florence Fett took in the Frankenstein movie at a local theatre recently and is still breaking out with the duck bumps. Florence says she never saw so much blood. . . . Salsbury Solberger has been about as cocky as your reporter's roosters on his shirt since becoming a grandfather. Congratulations, Walter, I mean Gramps. . . . We wish to welcome back Ruth Gongaware to the section. We hope she stays a long time now. . . . Just what kind of a deal was it that Ray Schuckel was trying to put over with Bert Brown? Something about being able to get a 1948 Lincoln very cheap. Do you think it would be a good bargain, Brownie? . . . The past week we've read in the papers about the lady who has to make a terrible decision of whether to let the doctors remove her child's eyes or lose her altogether. Mrs. Robert Wheeler, our packer's wife, recently wrote to this lady. You see, Bob and Mrs. Wheeler were faced with the very same problem. Their child's eyes were removed and at the age of four she died. Yes, Bob and Mrs. Wheeler can sympathize with this lady. It's a very hard decision to make. Yes, we all think we have problems, thank the Lord they are small ones compared to this.

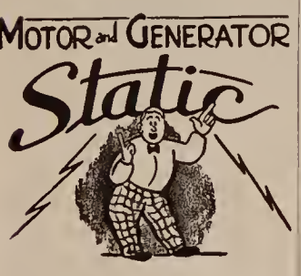
Irene Meyers To Be Kiwanis Club Speaker

Irene Meyers, Supervisor of Women's Activities, will be guest speaker at a luncheon meeting of the Plymouth, Ind., Kiwanis Club, Monday, Jan. 15, she has announced.

Miss Meyers has chosen "Great Women I Have Known" as the subject of her talk.

L. W. Burkett

W. H. Geller



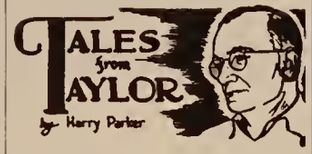
W. H. Geller, L. W. Burkett Named Plumbing, Maintenance Foremen

Wallace H. Geller has been appointed Foreman of Plumbing and Related Activities at Taylor St. on the first shift, and Leo W. Burkett has been named Foreman of Field Maintenance Work for the Broadway plant on the second shift, J. B. Greer, Superintendent of the General Service divisions, has announced.

Mr. Geller joined the General Electric Company, April 10, 1927, and has worked since then in the General Service plumbing shop and on air conditioning refrigeration. He is married and resides at 1112 Clara Ave.

Mr. Burkett has been employed since June, of 1927, in the General Service division. During that time, he has worked on electrical maintenance and construction work.

He is married and has five children. The Burketts live at 551 Ann St., New Haven.



Thought For The Week—A Business Man's Prayer: "Help me, O Lord, to remember that three feet make one yard, sixteen ounces one pound, four quarts one gallon and 60 minutes one hour. Help me to do business on the square. Make me sympathetic with the fellow who falls by the wayside in the struggle. . . . Keep me from taking an unfair advantage or selling my self-respect for a profit. Blind my eyes to the petty faults of others, but reveal to me my own." —Hudson News Letter

HOBBY: William Teagarden, Bldg. 19-1 Paint Shop, has a collection of over four hundred miniature horses. Bill says he will let us know when the collection is ready for showing. . . . FOOD: The partaking of food is indeed a pleasure. We notice our genial friend, M. J. Neal, is arranging for the usual number of free suppers this week. Wish we had his knack. Joe says, "This week, South Whitley, Hartford City, Montpelier and"—Laud, What a Man! . . . "Father Time is not marching these days — He's riding a jet plane."—Gen. Geo. C. Kenney. . . . "He tried to make a deal with his draft board—just to go to every other war."—Earl Wilson. . . . Welcome to Shirley Gratney to the Large Motor-Generator Division, Production Section. . . . AN AGENT'S PROBLEM: Being press agent for Dick Hobson presents its problems. The common procedure is for a press agent to bring before the public those acts or happenings which create an impression of bravery, romance or glamour. However, if this writer were to wait until Dick accomplished some act that would create such an impression, Mr. Hobson would be without his much desired and needed publicity. So we are forced to resort to a negative type of psychology—appeal to the public's sympathy. While Dick is a wonderful crooner and one of the prettiest fellows I know, his acts in no way reflect his personal glamour. Mr. Hobson resides in that part of the country known as Mt. Vernon Park and depends on a bus for transportation to and from work. The other morning, our hero started for work in his usual daze and boarded a Mt. Vernon Park bus instead of the G-E Special. As we mentioned in a previous issue, Dick picked a bus at random and landed somewhere in the Harvester neighborhood. This time he ended up in some other part of town far removed from either the G-E or Harvester. To climax the day, he rode home on the proper bus, but suddenly leaped to his feet, pulled the bell cord and leaped off when the bus stopped. Glancing around in a bewildered manner, he called, "Where am I," to Ed Foley as the bus started. Ed, being devoid of sympathy, just laughed and replied, "Three squares ahead of your stop. Start walking, bub." . . . HELP: Bob Kite has a beautiful calendar, one with a picture of a trout stream winding its way through a sylvan glade. During his off moments, which occur quite frequently, Mr. Kite sits and gazes at this picture with a longing look on his pan. To his fellow-workers, Bob confides that he felt someone should have presented him with a pair of hip boots for Christmas and that his cup of joy will never overflow until the day he goes fishing. Once before we appealed to you when Mr. Kite wanted shoes and your response was magnificent. Now we appeal to you again. Have you any old boots you don't need? If so, send them to Mr. Kite. If Bob can get the boots, then find a pole, line, hook and worm, he should be able to go fishing and thus be released from his inhibition.

GRANDPA'S CLUB: Wire Drawing now has a grandpa's club. Ralph Olinger and Clifford Grim are pioneer members. Fritz Ramseier recently became the newest member. The grandma of the club is none other than Bud Morris. Leo Elward is the fatherly advisor to them all. . . . CAT FISH: Paul Black took Darrel Troyer fishing. After Darrel caught all the fish, they started for home. They stopped at Paul's home for a little lunch. Darrel left the fish in his car. After a very enjoyable lunch, Darrel decided to continue on home only to find that Paul's cat had eaten up all the fish. That's really cat fish or is it a fish cat. . . . Oscar Baumgartner and Paul Rugman also went fishing and brought back a wash tub full. No foolin' the rest of the gang including Louey Maier actually saw them. When all had had good luck, Oscar Paul and Louey drove off to a filling station. When Oscar and Paul thought no one was looking they gave Lou most of the fish. We now can put two and two together when Lou tells us he's always got plenty of fish in that old ice box. We heard the story of bringing apples to the teacher, but bringing fish sounds "fishy." . . . MADE NO NEW YEAR'S RESOLUTIONS himself, but Louis Dasher would like to see some of his co-workers make resolutions as follows: Harry Adams and Jake Arnold smile just once in a blue moon. John Ruhl to stay off ladders. Cy Ort to stop bragging about his yellow Ford. Lou Maier to stop carrying a chip on his shoulder. Nolan Riley to start telling the truth about the gas mileage he gets out of his Nash and for the rest of us to stop getting Bill Rohe out of bed by calling him in the wee hours of the morning and asking him if this is H-1951 or what have you. . . . WELCOME BACK: Barbara Cross, we were glad to see you return to work after your recent operation.

Our very own clown, Al (Red Snapper) Renz, having been graduated from the minors, is now considering a contract whereby he will team up with Emmet Kelley in a big league circus this coming spring and summer. He is trying to persuade Arthur Brandenbarger to sign on as a side show barker because, as Red puts it, Art can yelp louder and longer than anyone he knows. Red is going ahead and making arrangements so that Art can have a tryout. He is positive that a contract will be forthcoming for Art. . . . All of us have been wondering about that famous green sweater of Chet Price's. We thought that surely it would make its appearance during the cold weather of the past month, but it failed to show up. He has been wearing a green shirt quite a lot lately. We thought by this that he was going to work up by easy stages to that famous atrocity. There is a lot of cold weather in the offing, so perhaps he will spring it on us yet. . . . Jim Goins' cocker spaniel is now going in for expensive eats. He is eating venetian blinds. The other day, Jim's wife left the house for a trip uptown. Upon her return, she discovered that the pooch had ripped down the blind at the kitchen window and consumed it. Not being worried too much about this, she left again a few days later. When she returned, a dining room blind was missing. Now they are in a quandry as to what to do about poochie. We suggest that they feed the poor dog enough or they might come home someday and find the furniture missing. . . . Willard Hull tells us that Joe Turley is not a very good host. Joe invited him to eat Christmas dinner with him, then all he gave Bill to eat was the turkey's neck. Now Bill, being a gentleman, ate it without saying a word but promises to even the score with Joe next year. Just remember this, Willard, that if you do not want to eat the neck, just wrap it up carefully in a napkin and deliver it to Mable Miller, who consumes them by the peck.

Suggestions Kept On File 6 Years

Suggestions submitted to the Fort Wayne Works are kept on file for six years, A. C. Hartman, chairman and secretary of the Suggestion Committee, has disclosed.

According to Mr. Hartman, suggestions are removed from the files and are destroyed at the end of the six-year period. After Feb. 1, the committee will reopen for consideration only those suggestions closed after 1944.

Top Floor TOPICS

Bldg. 26-5

By Art Huber

The editor of this column would like to thank Belle Buchan, Bldg. 2-2 editor, for the swell turkey dinner. . . . One New Year's resolution is broken. Bobette Shaw was late. . . . We have the Vapor Lamp Section this week. Members of the section are: Harold Josse, Tom Kirk, Mary Bartrom, Bennie Cahn, Carl Blair, Grace Bolyard, Nina Rider and Mrs. Tom Kirk. . . . A belated happy birthday to Alma Kaiser on New Year's Day. . . . Betty Harkenrider has chewed no more bubble gum after Mr. Peterson talked with her. . . . I wonder if Ray Feller had his mind on driving his car. He was the only one who was stuck in the snow Tuesday morning. . . . Bert Gruber was Decatur-bound over the holidays. . . . Susan Dove's birthday was Tuesday. Ethel Brown baked a swell cake for the occasion. . . . Don Waldrop's bark is worse than his bite. He did a lot of bragging about the mistletoe, but gave the girls the cold shoulder. . . . Lucille Quirk warned all the girls to lookout. She was going around all of them this week as she started to take Hadacol. Now, she isn't here this week. . . . Roy Patton, tester on first shift, is a registered watchmaker and jeweler. Anyone who has a watch or jewelry to be repaired, see Ray. . . . Birch, the tester, went ice skating on his face. Let's learn to stand up. . . . All Miller was absent this week. He has one boy on leave from the Army and another from California just enlisted. Both were home. . . . I'm very glad to have Wyonetta Gerdom, as second shift reporter. Anyone who has any news, see her.

We have been informed that Mildred Sadler received a brown purse for Christmas. It can be truthfully said that there isn't a purse as old or like it in the city. . . . Gerald Crum has been giving the boys a rare treat with that portable picture show. . . . If any of you fellows want to see a good job of hemstitching, John Laymon will be glad to show you a sample. . . . We all thank you, Arlo Amick, for the swell treat of pop corn balls. They were really swell. . . . After 22 years of married life, Al Campton finally came to work with a black eye. The story told by Al was that she did it with her elbow accidentally. Well, you fellows know Al too. . . . I guess it's only fair to advise Bob Hunt and Carl Noland that a lot of the fellows on this floor smoke cigars and cigarettes. Anyhow, they all wish you both lots of luck. . . . It looks as if Johnny Hughes would clean up that Pontiac if he intends to transport Freeman Rohlfing home to lunch. . . . We send our best with Wallace Wagner, who reports with his National Guard Unit for active service Jan. 15. We wish the same for him, as we do all the others, that he will be back with us soon. . . . We don't know if Bill Gefert is overworked and doesn't have the strength left to pull his new alarm key far enough to ring, or whether he failed to read the instructions. But he did have trouble. . . . On a recent trip to Louisville, Don Edgar was arrested for flying too low. The police caught him speeding, running a red light and crossing the yellow line. Thinking Don was a hillbilly native, the cop urged him to come back again and visit the courthouse. . . . The second trick says so long to Henry Mason and welcome to Ed Haas. Hank was our inspector and a grand fellow. Good luck on the day shift. . . . Ted Mullins has taken on a new responsibility. Ted and the Mrs. have adopted a small girl into their home. Ted says it feels great to be a daddy. Many blessings to Mrs. Mullens, Mary Ann and Ted. . . . If you need a table built and want legs on topside and bottom, see Fred Hess. He will take your order.

St. Petersburg, Fla.,
December 5, 1950.

Echo News,
Bldg. 19-2
General Electric,
Fort Wayne, Ind.

Started Gladys (McMillan) homeward this evening, had quite a time at the station, she insisted on taking with her on the train a bushel basket of grapefruit, two alligators and a bundle of St. Pete sunshine. The conductor protested, advised she take a freight train, compromised by shipping fruit and leaving the alligators. Please advise if she fails to return O. K.

Yours truly,
C. P. B.
Chamber Commerce
St. Petersburg

CLG-B

Only one ad per employee may be inserted. Each ad must be limited to 20 words and cannot be repeated. All articles mentioned must be personal property of the employee. Ad will not be accepted unless accompanied by the name, pay number, and division of the employee. No works building or telephone number may appear in ad, only the home telephone number or address.

"Lost" and "Found" articles must be cleared through the Plant Protection office, Bldg. 10-2, or the Plant receptionist, who will place the Ad-let and otherwise advertise the article.

No ad will be received over the telephone. Send all ads to WORKS NEWS office, Bldg. 18-3.

CLOSING DATE

Monday Noon, January 15, 1951

LOST AND FOUND

LOST—Large wool scarf with Persian print and red border.

LOST—Bracelet made of diamond shaped pieces of Indian Figures, black with silver engraving.

LOST—Bracelet with pearl beads and gold rope twisted together. Lost between Bldg. 31-2 and east side of Broadway.

FOUND—Two keys with green plastic between. Found on steps leading to College St. parking lot.

FOUND—Two identical keys No. 151 fastened together with a small ring. Found outside north door of Broadway Cafeteria.

LOST—Long spray pin, gold with cut aqua shells. Lost in Bldg. 26-2.

FOUND—White gold wedding ring. Found between second and third floors of office building at Taylor St.

FOUND—Bar pin with colored sets. Found on Broadway.

FOUND—Four keys on chain and another one attached in a holder, driver's license tag No. GC-633. Found on Lindley Ave. parking lot.

FOUND—Eight keys in brown leather case. Found in yard on east side of Broadway.

FOUND—Silver colored earring, made of foreign coins. Found in Clem's restaurant.

FOUND AT TAYLOR ST. — Brown leather belt; ladies' light brown leather glove; man's black leather glove; man's pair black leather gloves; ladies brown cloth glove; one brown leather key case and one key; one round gold pin with pearl sets; one black hair net; one purple compact; scarf with flowers and red border; one apron with roses and other figures and red binding; an apron with all colors of flowers and purple binding; one "Boye" thread holder; two door keys; four keys on chain and license plate No. GB 1494; two keys on chain; six single keys; one key on chain; two keys fastened together with a clip; one key on slip holder; one key and hair pins in variegated brown leather case; one silver colored earring with green set; one gold earring with rolled design; one small medal with flag and eagle on it.

FOR SALE

BOY'S BROWN CORDUROY COAT-STYLE JACKET—Sheepskin lining, size 14, $8; Leather jacket, $4; overcoat and sport jackets. H-40864.

GREY SQUIRREL COAT AND HAT—Size 16. H-70671 after 6 p.m.

EVENING DRESS — Blue Shagmoor ladies' coat; green dress, all size 12, excellent condition. H-26182.

GIRL'S COAT SET—Dark green, size 5; Boy's snow suit, size 2, both excellent condition. reasonable. A-99713.

1940 FORD TUDOOR—Extra good, $381. H-64554.

TWO-PIECE LIVING ROOM SUITE—Blue mohair, modern jumbo style, cheap. H-57711 after 4 p.m.

FOUR TIRES AND TUBES — Size 600:16, suitable for recap. H-02314.

G-E RECORD CHANGER—78 rpm, $5. H-66688.

CORONDA RADIO CONSOLE—Walnut, good tone and condition. H-82235.

BOY'S LIGHT GREY SPORT COAT—Size 38; grey suit, size 38; sport shirts, medium size, all like new. H-70322 or 3615 South Lafayette St.

SECOND HAND TABLE MODEL CREAM SEPARATOR — And strainer $18.50. H-67118.

FOG LIGHT—For 1949-1950 Ford, $3; Directional light for 1949-1950 Ford, $9. H-66259.

WRINGER WASHER — Good condition, $35. H-0700.

TWENTY ACRES — Suburban, nice woods, river frontage, gravel pit, six miles from city limits on St. Joe Road. E-87203.

1933 PONTIAC EIGHT—Runs good, excellent rubber, four door, cheap. A-78791.

1947 FORD DELUXE—Two-door, radio and heater, four extra tires, in good condition. H-74315.

TWO PAIRS OF ICE SKATES—Girl's, size 4½; ladies, size 8. A-78713.

CROCHETED AFGHANS—Table pieces and doilies. H-60149.

TWO 39 IN. BED SPRINGS—$3 each or two for $5. E-1345.

1940 CHEVROLET — Good condition, radio and underseat heater. H-60262.

ACCORDION—Lido Soprani, 120 bass, three shifts, with electronic amplifier, having four imputs, individual control, play back record player. A-95722.

LADIES' FUR COAT—Size 16-18, like new, $55; boy's sport suit size 16, $8. E-65662.

McINTOSH APPLES—Very good eating and cooking apples, $1.90 bu. 6213 Decatur Road or H-66687.

30 GAL. HOT WATER TANK—Almost new, $5. 1911 Brown St.

JUNIOR SIZE BOWLING BALL Used once, for ages 6-12. H-58515.

FREE

FOUR PUPS—Five weeks old, part chow. 1314 Wells St.

FOR RENT

LARGE SLEEPING ROOM—Single male or with kitchen privileges for young married couple. 420 Arcadia Court or H-69675.

LOVELY ROOM—In private home, south. H-69225.

WANTED

THREE-ROOM FURNISHED APARTMENT With private bath. Employed couple. A-57403 after 5 p.m.

MAPLE TWIN BEDS—A-99713.

EXTENSION LADDER — Preferably 28 ft. H-8995.

BUNK BEDS—Electric train with accessories. A-75442.

PIANO—Small upright or a spinet. H-75451.

RECORD PLAYER—For children's use. H-75525.

PORTABLE TYPEWRITER — Reasonable. A-75502.

TRANSPORTATION

WANTS RIDE—From 1½ miles north of Helmer on Route 327. Willard Parker, Bldg. 6-1, works for Ed David from 8-5. Extension 433.

WANTS RIDE—From Harlan to Taylor St. Plant. William Kizer works from 6:48-3:18. Harlan 3063.

Midnight Marauders
IN BLDG. 4-3

By Donna Lindley

After months of talking about cars—Fords, mostly, Alva Biggs finally came across and has a spanking new '51 Ford. Nice going, Alva. . . . Cliff Garrison is mother's little helper. He is always ready to help out. . . . We extend our sympathy to Vera Neate, whose mother died recently. . . . Nicknames are popular in our group. Marge Rock is known as "Pedro" and Kay Vondron is "Babee." . . . Jo Lee Zimmerman is wearing a halo until next Christmas. She can do no wrong. . . . To Beulah Imler, the Field Section sends its congratulations. . . . We welcome Ruth Sparks on winding and we hope you like us, Ruth. . . . We were sorry to hear Evaline Best had been ill, but are glad to see you back, Evaline. . . . If you want some pointers on euchre playing, just watch Jim Klinger, Oscar Miller, Kenny Miller and Clarence Norris. Maybe we could teach them a few things. . . . We are sorry to lose Gladys Sebolt, who is going to make her home in Muskegon, Mich. The girls had a potluck for her, and she received a lovely gift. . . . Cookie also made a grand appearance on her last night. . . . Helen Bishop beats them all when it comes to talking with her hands. . . . We're all glad the holidays are over so life for Hazel Leonard can go back to normal. . . . Why does Mary Jackson always jump when someone walks by her, especially Jo Lee? . . . Ardola Metker says the new year started out wrong for her. Well, a bad beginning means a good ending, Ardola. . . . Pearl, the gang would like to have some more of those frozen strawberries. . . . Gay Dixon made back page headlines. . . . Ruth Wydick is going to Bldg. 6-4. We hope you like it, Ruth. . . . Everyone was complimenting Van on her pretty shag rug, and found out that it was a purse. . . . Vergie Stephan has trouble telling her napkin apart from her neckscarf. . . . "Muscles" Norris is really slipping. He thought they had a new girl, but she had been in the division about three months. . . . Hazel Maxon and Martha Bullet have been promoted. . . . Joan Mode had an appendectomy and is getting along fine. Hope you are back soon, Joan. . . . Ida Pratt is sure proud of that picture she had up here. . . . Delores Schinbeckler says that Betty is going to follow in her footsteps. Our advice to you, Betty, is don't do it. . . . What is Eleanor Hoffman going to do with all the ham that was left over from the potluck? The rest of them took care of that. . . . They say Eula makes very good cakes. . . . Amy Dull claims she was almost drowned by a half inch of water. But not if it's in the bottom of a drinking glass, Amy. . . . Did you know that Merle Keesler is the Big Wheel? . . . We wonder if Doris Stearns or Polly Frohning are ever going to grow up. . . . Bunny has changed her affections from dogs to little rats (four legged, that is.) . . . Helen Duff says she has learned to whistle now. . . . We would like to welcome Richard Worman, Boh Cardwell, and Harold Durre to Group 1x86. . . . That was some Christmas card that Carol Shoff received. . . . Pearl Micheals has brought a giant-sized pencil to work. She claims she is always losing the pint-sized ones. . . . Ann Hershberger is going all out for granddaughter Cynthia Sue. She even had her dog drag in a hood for Cynthia. . . . People are either getting in too big of a hurry or their eyesight is getting bad. Esther Pape came to work the other day in her houseslippers. . . . Jim and Kenny cleared up all the scraps of the potluck. . . . We are glad to see Maxine DiGregory back after her recent seige of the flu. . . . Marge Rock solemnly announced that she had lost her soul, and it was not worth fixing anyway. Was that sole or soul, Marge? . . . Evaline Best was trying to keep it a secret that they were going to have strawberries for the potluck, and then she wasn't here to eat them. Dick Clancy didn't make it either. . . . There just aren't enough Thursdays for Jean Pittinger. How many without eats, Jean? . . . That disheartened look on Helen Thieme's face was for her Trixie. You see, Trixie died last week. . . . Love is making an old man of Jim Klinger. He says he is tired of floating around all these years. . . . Gay will miss her "auntie." . . . Who is Aldena Harris buying cokes for? And by the carton too. How do they rate? . . . Bea Stolte went on days and we miss her. Hope you like it, Bea. . . . Marjorie Goodrich and Jean Parrish have gone to Bldg. 6-4. We will miss you, girls. . . . Arlene Welches is a most welcome addition to our group. . . . Don Ritter says it wasn't he who had the squirt gun. Guess we had the wrong Don. . . . Helen Duff got an ironer so her husband could do the ironing. . . . Group 1x86 had an informal fashion show last week. Marge Rock was the winning gal. . . . Betty Taulbee called to say "hi" to all the gang. She is feeling much better. . . . Pearl (I Did It) Michaels is the new name bestowed on Pearl. But Pearl says she has broad shoulders. . . . Welcome to Betty and Delores, the two new tapers. . . . Mary Jackson has lost so many pounds she is now wearing bluejeans. . . . Mary Reynolds received a pressure cooker for Christmas. So she started by cooking beef and noodles in it. Something happened and Mary isn't quite sure what, but she said she had rare beef and real good noodles. . . . Dick Clancy says those long week-ends have spoiled him. . . . Bill Quarve would take a prize any day for unique Christmas ties. George Wralstad says they aren't too bad until Bill moves then they make a person dizzy. . . . Hobby Hobson claims that no snowdrift is too tough for his car. However, a small piece of ice in the parking lot was more than it could handle. . . . Art Lantz moved into his new home over the week-end. Art is extra proud of it because he built most of it himself. . . . Bob Hughes has an interest in John Lare's chickens. Bob claims that John is feeding them with his pop corn. . . . Otis Fitch is off work with a bad case of boils. Hope you are back soon, Otis. . . . George Dunifon is deeply hurt. He celebrated his birthday last week and the fellows in Bldg. 10 forgot to sing to him. Don't feel too badly about it, George, maybe they think you have celebrated enough birthdays.

We wish to extend our deepest sympathy to Eddie Kraft on the death of his mother. . . . Merla Miller's son is very ill in the Methodist Hospital. . . . We are sorry to hear that Ray Bistany has left us. He was transferred to West Lynn. . . . When Al Schairbaum goes visiting, he travels light. He came to work last week with his toothbrush in his pocket. . . . All Ford owners will agree that a Ford is a good car, but Al Schairbaum must think they are good enough to move a semi-truck off the road. Needless to say, Al has a repair joh to be done on his Ford.

STOP, LOOK, and—TAKE IT EASY—Shown observing the operation of the new traffic signal at Taylor and Brooklyn streets during a plant rush period are: (l. to r.) Capt. Gregor Klug, City Traffic Department, City Police Sgt. J. H. Hofer, Henry Carnall, chairman of a Taylor St. safety committee, and E. F. Caspar, Taylor St. guard.

Virginia McCoy, Marian Mills and Alva Briggs have asked Mildred Carpenter to please inform them when she lets out with her healthy sneezes. They all three reported they lost a year's growth! . . . Lillian Kidder, not knowing she was wearing her skirt backwards, was asked at noon if she was starting a new style? . . . With the experience Mae McDonald had with his glasses, he will be more considerate in the future! . . . Group 1x74 has decided that Bob Kugler will make some man a good wife due to his culinary ability, especially when it comes to baking chocolate cakes! . . . Some people would forget their heads if they weren't fastened on! Irmgard Gehle was getting ready to get on the bus when she realized she left her purse at work and had to go back for it! . . . Group 1x74 welcomes Hamilton McCoy and Daizy Ford baek from their vacations. . . . Congratulations to the Bob Blocker family on that new boy at their house—the first. He is named Dennis DeWayne. The whole family is doing fine! . . . Our sympathy to Stella Mailand, whose mother died last week. . . . Santa must have brought Evelyn Foulks a new purse. She isn't carrying the one with a broken zipper anymore! . . . Louie Barrow was a very proud man last week. He became a grandpa. The last we heard Andy Bordner and George Worley were still wearing the floor out with their walking to see who is going to be grandpa first. . . . George Forehand goes to the Navy next week. We wish you a lot of luck, George, and let us know where you are stationed. . . . Bill Siegman is recuperating from an operation. Hurry and get well. . . . Doris Doehla is back at work after an illness. . . . Anna Ruth Clements is on our sick list. Take it easy, Anna Ruth, and hurry back. You sure are missed! . . . Lola Rowe and Catherine Adair are off sick. Get well soon. . . . Everyone is glad to see Georgia Beamer back to work again after her operation. You are looking real good! . . . Congratulations to Helen Dennis, who recently became Mrs. Leonard Riblet. Incidentally, she thanks everyone for the gift of cash and she is going to put a little to it and get a portable radio. . . . We have another bride—Sue Munsinger became Mrs. Jake Chester a week ago. She received a toaster and towel set from the group. . . . Unis Steinbarger has been spending most of her time tobogganing, now that we have some snow again. . . . Esther Harkenrider received a bottle of rubbing alcohol last week from the girls. She had a stiff neck. She reported she had the last drop Monday morning. . . . Merle Keesler shot some rabbits last Saturday. Keep it up you may get enough for a coat for your wife yet! . . . We are sorry to hear that Clarence Renschler's son Bobby is in the hospital. We all wish him a very quick recovery. . . . Herb Sullivian is trying to ehange the style of hats. She invented a two-purpose hat in the size and shape of a bucket! . . . Due to a last minute change Howard Hamilton was beaten as runner up for the "BS" award—the honor going to Orville Owens! . . . CAN YOU TOP THIS? Butch Claymiller claims he got 528 miles on 15 gallons of gas on his new Studebaker. Let me know if you can top this. . . . Nancy Kispert is driving a new Buick these days. . . . Mildred Orr certainly has had an awful bad hand. Take care of it so you can hurry back to work, Mildred. . . . Melinda Gehle is bowling so much these days that it is getting rather hard to handle those little coils at work. Whenever she needs new wire, she always hollers, "Strike!" . . . Congratulations to Augusta Gallmier, who celebrated her birthday last week by treating us all to some delicious candy, and to Fern Painter, who also had a birthday last Sunday. . . . Julia Hohnhaus is going to be quite lonely now that her daughter and family moved down South. You probably would have spoiled the baby anyway, Julia. . . . Thelma Purdue's son and his family were home for some of the holidays. He is stationed with the Navy in Virginia.

Former Local Golden Gloves Champ Still In Shape

Whenever Golden Gloves time rolls around, a lot of G-E employees recall the records set by Bob Crosley, winner of six of the annual amateur boxing tournaments.

Bob, an employee of the FHP Motor Div. at Taylor St., fought over 125 amateur bouts during his boxing career. He took the local crown in 1937, 1938 and 1940 as a featherweight and the lightweight title in 1943-44-45. His greatest victory was his runner-up fight in the Inter-City, Chicago-New York, tournament in 1945.

When Bob was younger, he lived near the G-E Club, co-sponsors of the Golden Gloves with the Journal-Gazette. He and his brothers, Lee and Max, liked to play basketball there. Nick Little, who was coaching amateur boxers at the Club those days, told Bob he would have to work out as a boxer if he wanted to play basketball.

Ran In The Family

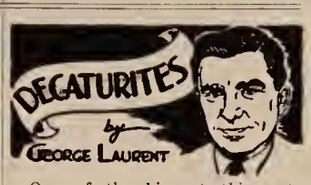
From then on, the success of the Crosley boys is Golden Gloves history in Fort Wayne. In 1944, all three of them won the tournament. Lee, as a welterweight; Max, in the middleweight class, and Bob, as a featherweight.

Bob was noted for his quick left and his counter-punching style. "My style might not have been exactly a crowd-pleaser, but it won me my fights," he said.

He fought one professional fight during his ring days, and it was his last one. "I won the fight," he recalls, "but just thought it was time to give up boxing."

Bob is a great supporter of the Golden Gloves, because he believes it is a great experience for boys who are in good physical shape. "Shape means everything to a fighter," Bob declares. "Every good fighter has some asset, like a good punch or fancy footwork, but in the long run, whether he wins or loses depends on his physical endurance."

Bob, himself, is still in good shape, although he is no longer boxing. A motor assembler, he plays softball with the champion Owl League team, and managed them for three years. He also plays basketball for FHP Motor Div. 17 and referees in the Interdivision League.



Bob in 1937

There was a mixed doubles tournament held at the G-E Club alleys last week for employees. The 8:30 squad consisted of the hot shot bowlers from Taylor St. Everyone had a swell time. . . . Oscar Schelper and his wife bowled in the 6:30 squad and rolled 2926. With the Taylor St., he paired with Moe Satterwaite and rolled 2927. That's being consistent, Oscar. . . . I could say a lot about another couple having first place in their hip pocket, but in the third game the bottom dropped out. . . . Iris Hebble gave her partner Bob Guingrich a few lessons in the art of bowling. Mel Lyttle also took a few lessons from his partner, Neoma Longsworth. . . . Joe Eifrid is always a money bowler, but in the tournament he must have had stage fright. He couldn't even hit his usual average. . . . Peg Ballinger and Mel Lyttle's wife, Evelyn, made a good showing. Is that the reason Peg brought all his relatives to watch him bowl. I wonder why he doesn't bring them down on league nights. . . . Have you taken a walk down through Oscar Schelper's section lately? It looks like "ghost town." . . . If you wonder why Frank Beatty has been gaining weight lately, it is because of Harry Richardson. The story is that Frank goes to the cafeteria to eat and always manages to sit by Harry. It seems Harry always buys more than he can eat. Frank says, "Harry, if you don't want that I'll buy it from you." We all know Harry wouldn't sell so Frank gets two meals for the price of one. . . . Evelyn Ayers is back to work after her recent illness. We wonder how Mary got along without her. . . . . Lena Stups has beeome one year younger today, here is happy birthday to you, Lena. . . . After all these years, we have just found out Mel Lyttle's downfall. He is ticklish in his ribs. . . . Rita Martin is still hepped up over the real doll she got in her house for Christmas. Only it belongs to her sister. Congratulations. . . . Tommy Williams can't figure how Moe Satterwaite can roll 238 and turn around the next game and get a 127. Explain to her, Moe, that it isn't easy. . . . Leonard Beckman says they have "The Thing" now. Guess who! Norm Wolf has joined the Die Cast section again. Don't let them scare you, Norm. . . . Ed Bireley says Mel Kessner sure was on the unlucky side of things Saturday. They went rabbit hunting. Mel insists he hasn't shot a shell, but when they put a tub on the fence Mel blew the whole bottom out of the tub. Mel also had trouble in the bowling line Saturday. It must have been those news items he was talking about. . . . We are sorry to lose Cy Liechty and Dorothy Frankling recently. Marvin VanSkyock must really have been in need of a dancing partner the other night. From what we hear he danced with his daughter's doll. He said the doll at least danced the way he wanted to. . . . Laura Krauskopf was very happy over the week-end when her son-in-law flew home from California. . . . We welcome Freda Meyers back with us. Also Freda wants to thank everyone for being good to her and also the Elex Club for what they did. We hope you will stay on the healthy side of life now, Freda. . . . The boys are wondering how many rabbits Roy Orr got Saturday.

In Bldg. 19-3 there are numerous sport enthusiasts. One is William (Bill) Irmscher, who was a former star soccer player of Saxony, Germany. He was recently elected to the Board of Dirctors of the Fort Wayne Sport Club. Congratulations. . . . Has anyone got any good ice fishing tips? If so, Howard Musselman would be glad to hear them. The ace fisherman hasn't been doing so good. Even Charlie McCormick has been eateh-ing bigger ones. . . . Are you living up to your New Year's resolutions? If so, you're off to a good start.

One of the biggest things to materialize this week is the birth of a big baby boy to Mr. and Mrs. Paul Gause. We say "big" and we rcally mean it. Yep, 11 pounds and some odd ounces. Congrats to the lucky couple on their rcent exemption. We wish them all the luck in the world. . . . We have a few strangers on the second shift. They are Emma Jean Switzer, Peggy Kelly and Norma Wolfe, all working for Mr. McDougal. Welcome, girls! . . . Maggie Pollock, the girl with the wind-blown look, took another meander home the other evening due to a slight draft. . . . We wish to apologize for not thanking Mickey, Rosemary and Lorena for those swell hot dogs. Gosh, they were good long as they lasted. . . . Ray Teeple can't get over looking at his fingers lately. I guess the reason is because he wants to be washing them all the time. . . . Norma Bower has another birthday today. Happy birthday, Norma. We hope you have many, many more of them. . . . Gertie Balsiger just can't seem to get the hang of it for some reason or other. She says that her work just whizzes right by her and she never sees it. Get on the beam, Gertie. . . . Norma Poorman would like to know who in the world sent her that post card the other day. Sure was some picture on it. . . . Listen, fellows, you have heard of Seat Cover Charlie haven't you? Well, we now have a new one. Yes, it's "Ironing Board Charlie," a name recently bestowed upon Charlie Debolt. I guess you will have to ask him how he came by that monicker. . . . Yeah, that is Max Drake driving that '51 Ford you see out in the parking lot. Nice going, Max. . . . Joan Oliver Workinger, the atomic energy brunette of the day shift, is still recuperating from her recent illness, but hopes to be back to work one of these days. Come on, Jo, and let's see your smiling face.

Entry Blank

GOLDEN GLOVES BOXING TOURNAMENT

Sponsored by

G-E CLUB — JOURNAL-GAZETTE

Jan. 23-30, Feb. 6-13

Please enter me in the Golden Gloves boxing tournament.

I certify that I am an amateur and am 16 years of age or over.

In consideration of your acceptance of this entry, I hereby for myself, heirs and assigns, expressly waive any rights or claims to damages which accrue to me against the G-E Club and The Journal-Gazette, its agents and representatives and others in any way connected with the promotion of the contest, as a result of said contest. It is understood that I participate solely at my own risk.

Signature Age

Address Weight

(Minors must obtain parents' or guardians' written consent.)

I hereby agree to and accept each and all of the above conditions and waivers on behalf of my son (or ward) whose signature appears above.

Signed

(Parent or Legal Guardian)

Mail or bring entry blank to the Golden Gloves Editor, Journal-Gazette, 701 S. Clinton St., Fort Wayne, Ind.

The Planning team came from behind and defeated the Models three games to win the first half of the Small Motor Bowling League. Close on the Planning team's heels were Drafting, R & R and Models, tying for second place, just a scant game behind the winners.

The second half started out a little differently. Models and National Construction are tied for the top spot with three wins each and no losses. Of course, the Planning team said that they shouldn't be counted out as they were just slow starters.

High games of the week were rolled by Doherty, 209; Daley, 219; Brandt, 200 and 203; Gitter, 213; D. Hoffman, 205; Quinn, 243; Boester, 230; Horstmeyer, 220; Vonderau, 204; Bauer, 203, and Kramer, 225.

The league is glad to welcome E. Aumann, D. Smith, and Bob Walt as recent additions.

G-E Mixed Doubles

The Boedekers, Paul and Wanita, are out in front after the first week-end's firing. They had a 1304 total on games of 454, 435 and 415. They had a handicap of 64 pins per game.

Art Smethers and Winnie Smith are second with 1270. They had a handicap of 73 pins. Liz Scherer and Paul Perry came in third with 1248.

Other high scorers were A. and Ella Hardiek, 1243; J. Heaston and B. McCague, 1237; G. Taylor and Liz Scherer, 1236; Mr. and Mrs. Schelper, 1229; Oscar Schepler and M. Satterwaite, 1227; Ray Brown and Mary Munk, 1224, and Moe Satterwaite and Tommy Williams, 1223.

Bowling will continue tomorrow with squads at 6 and 8 p.m. There are still plenty of openings, so come on down and enter the fun. You may enter as many times as you wish providing you change partners.

Monday Night Girls League

High scores for the evening were made by Bertha McCague, 202; Ruth Koeneman, 197; Francis Miller, 178; Dorothy Fuhs, 177; Betty Millhouse, 175; Marge Huber, 172, and Margaret Beugnot, 171.

Tuesday Afternoon Girls League

Marge Huber howled the day's high series of 522 on games of 169, 169 and 184.

Other high scores were kegled by Cora Bucher, 175; Tommy Williams, 178; Rachel Mounsey, 175 and 171, and Helen Wagner, 174.

Transformer League

Teams D and M are tied for first place with three wins and no defeats.

France had the high series of the evening with a 546 which included a 210 game. Two hundred scores were rolled by Leykauf, 235; Aker, 210, and Wendell Miller, 209.

Homer Meeker is still on his down grade with a 415 series.

Sounds From The Alleys

Mel Kestner went hunting last Saturday and didn't even get a shot. In the evening, his luck was just as bad, as his partner Rachael Mounsey beat him by 26 pins total. It has happened to others, though.

Moe Satterwaite and Tommy Williams are still crying as they blew up in the last game and shot a rousing 342. They had a middle game of 506. Moe shot 238 and Tommie a 194.

The Apparatus team headed the C-E teams bowling this week-end in the 31st Annual City Tournament. They had a 2923 count. The Doodlebugs of the Interdivision League had 2749 and the Firemen, also of the Interdivision, 2719.

Don't forget to come down tomorrow and bowl in the Mixed Doubles Tournament.

Keghead would like to have all the leagues represented in the column. Send league scores to Les Shroyer, Bldg. 31-2, after the evening's bowling.

Golden Gloves' Opening Bell Rings Jan. 23 At North Side

With only two weeks left until the opening bell of the Golden Gloves Tournament, there's an increased hustle noted around the training classes in the G-E Club Gym.

The Tournament, co-sponsored by the G-E Club and the Journal-Gazette, is scheduled for Jan. 23 and 30 and Feb. 6 and 15 in North Side High School. The annual classic is open to all amateur boxers in the Fort Wayne area who are at least 16 years of age.

There is no other entry requirement except to appear for the physical examination and matchmaking Tuesday, Jan. 23.

Bouts are limited to three two-minute rounds, with one minute rests between rounds. This differs from professional three-minute rounds and is designed to protect participants. Amateurs use 10-ounce gloves, instead of the professional six-ounce variety to limit the possibility of injury. Gloves are padded with sponge rubber.

Other safety measures in the amateur bouts require a knockdown count of eight and thorough physical examinations by competent physicians. Boys are in action only once a night until they reach the semi-finals. They may then be called upon to fight twice a night with long intervals between bouts.

Many Trophies Awarded

Large awards are not permitted under amateur boxing rules, but there are souvenirs for all who participate. They include:

A Golden Gloves emblem for every boxer who enters the ring, win or lose.

A pair of satin regulation boxing trunks for every boxer who wins his first bout.

An all-purpose jacket, trunks and shoes for the eight runners-up.

An all-purpose jacket, trunks and shoes for the eight champions, who will be taken to Chicago for four days, with all expenses paid, to participate in the Tournament of Champions at Chicago Stadium.

The Journal-Gazette Sportsmanship Trophy goes to the one boxer selected by the judges as best typifying the spirit of Golden Gloves.

Training classes are held every evening, Monday through Friday, in the G-E Club gym for any boy who is interested. All amateur boxers are invited to attend these sessions, whether or not they have entered the tournament. Facilities except personal equipment are furnished free of charge.

Now that Floyd Garland has moved into his new home, he has been declared the winner by a nose, in the race between he and Jess Hahn. However, Jess and Marjorie are moving into their new house next week, so the race was close. . . . I see that Howard Schultz's injured hand has healed. Howey is very careful now how he gets in and out of bed. . . . On the sick list this week is Joan Murphy, who is confined to her home with a severe sore throat. Hurry back, Joan. . . . No, that little man with the big sweater coming down the aisle, wasn't Santa Claus; just Bob Esterline in Pres Slack's sweater. . . . The office is all a sparkle with Christmas ties and Vern Castle's new green shirt. These are forerunners of Spring, I guess. . . . Today we say goodbye to Doris Sutton and hello to Florence Polk. We are very glad to have Florence with us, but also sorry to lose Doris.

Moves in New Home

Wildcats Scratch Bears 43-31 To Win First Round Of Owl Cage Play

by Earl Stauffer

The first round of the Owl basketball loop is history and the Wildcats from Bldg. 19 way rule the roost. The tall lads, under the coaching of Kenny Zurbuch, took care of the other non-defeated team, the Bears, in a good contest by the score of 43-31. The height advantage of the 'Cats under the boards was too much for the Bears to overcome even with their vaunted speed and aggressiveness.

Both clubs showed the strain at the charity stripe. The Wildcats canned nine out of 22 while the Bears scored only one of 10. Richardson led the scoring with 15 for the winners while Butler, with 12, paced the losers.

Joe Schible, player-coach of the Elks, came up with a much needed tall boy in Ed Suttor and he promptly made his size felt by scoring 16 points to lead in the 40-29 win over the Tigers. Bob Crosley came out of retirement and dumped in four buckets for the Elks. Criss Brenner and Bud Lepper led the losers with seven and eight points.

The Cubs failed to show in their game with the Eagles.

Schedule for Thursday, Jan. 18

8:30—Tigers vs. Bears
9:45—Eagles vs. Wildcats
11:00—Elks vs. Cubs

SUMMARIES

ELKS Player	G	F	T	TIGERS Player	G	F	T
Klenke	2	2	6	Brenner	2	3	7
Schible	3	0	6	Trice	3	0	6
Crosley	4	0	8	Lepper	3	2	8
Suttor	7	2	16	Buuck	2	1	5
Steel	1	0	2	Weaver	0	0	0
Pappert	0	0	0	Drane	0	1	1
Hayden	0	0	0	Packwood	1	0	2
Libbing	1	0	2
Bryant	0	0	0
Totals	18	4	40	Totals	11	7	29

Score by Quarters:
Elks 14 21 31
Tigers 7 12 17
Officials: Boyce, Stauffer.

WILDCATS Player	G	F	T	BEARS Player	G	F	T
Fleckenstein	0	0	0	Baker	1	1	3
Fuhrman	2	1	5	Burkett	3	0	6
Spiker	3	3	9	Markey	2	0	4
Richardson	6	3	15	Wilson	0	0	0
Blauvelt	4	1	9	Klinger	3	0	6
Jamison	2	0	4	Butler	6	0	12
Power	0	1	1
Totals	17	9	43	Totals	15	1	31

Score by Quarters:
Wildcats 9 21 26
Bears 2 10 18
Officials: Boyce, Stauffer.

Wildcats, Bears, Tigers Win

The Wildcats, Bears and Tigers won the opening games of the second round in the Owl cage league.

The Elks threw a scare into the Wildcats. With but two minutes to go, the score stood 25-24 in the Cats' favor. A long set shot by Schible failed to stick for the Elks and then Richardson and Fuhrman canned two quick buckets for the Cats to ice the game. Ed Sutter led the scoring with 11 points.

The Div. 1 Bears, led by Klinger who canned 17 points, swamped the Eagles 65-30. The Bears were very sharp in their passing and rebounding and fairly rushed the Eagles off their feet. Barney led the losers with 12 tallies.

Both the Cubs and Tigers played the final game with only four men. The Tigers won in the final seconds, 30-28. The Cubs led throughout the first half, which ended 15-13, but the Tigers came back and tied the score at the third intermission 21 all. Ties occurred at 23, 25, 27, before Ivan Lepper canned the clincher from the side and added a free throw for good measure.

Next Games
Thursday, Jan. 18

8:30 a.m. Tigers—Bears.
9:45 a.m. Eagles—Wildcats.
11:00 a.m. Elks—Cubs.

Summaries

ELKS Player	G	F	T	WILDCATS Player	G	F	T
Fleckenstein	1	1	3	Klenke	0	0	0
Richardson	3	0	6	Crosley	2	0	4
Fuhrman	5	0	10	Suttor	3	5	11
Jamison	2	1	5	Schible	1	1	3
Horstmeyer	2	0	4	Hayden	3	0	6
Power	0	1	1	Pappert	0	0	0
Totals	13	3	29	Totals	9	6	24

Scores by Quarters:
Elks 8 11 23
Wildcats 1 14 20
Officials: Stauffer, Boyce.

BEARS Player	G	F	T	EAGLES Player	G	F	T
Baker	7	0	14	Phillips	1	0	2
Butler	2	2	6	Barney	5	2	12
Burkett	3	1	7	Hower	0	2	2
Klinger	8	1	7	Johnson	0	0	0
				Campbell	0	0	0
				Crum	1	0	2
				Deventer	1	0	2
Wilson	6	1	13	Ayers	0	1	1
Markey	3	0	6	Cox	0	0	0
Rider	1	0	2	Vance	4	1	9
Totals	30	5	65	Totals	12	6	30

Scores by Quarters:
Bears 18 29 45
Eagles 8 13 19
Officials: Boyce, Stauffer.

CUBS Player	G	F	T	TIGERS Player	G	F	T
Stoner	2	1	5	Buuck	3	1	7
Brown	5	0	10	Weaver	4	2	10
Manuel	5	3	13	Trice	3	0	6
Sechler	0	0	0	Lepper	3	1	7
Totals	12	4	28	Totals	13	4	30

Scores by Quarters:
Cubs 10 15 21
Tigers 6 13 21
Officials: Boyce, Stauffer.

JAB-JAB-JAB—Melvin Green, an employee in Bldg. 19-3, is shown working out on a light punching bag in preparation for the annual Golden Gloves fights slated Jan. 23 and 30 and Feb. 6 and 13 at North Side High School. The big amateur pugilistic classic is co-sponsored by the G-E Club and the Journal-Gazette.

Fort Wayne Employees Complete Supervisory Training Program

Three Fort Wayne Works employees have graduated from the Advance Methods, Planning and Wage Rate Program, Schenectady sources have revealed. Picked by their division managers and given two years training in various divisions in preparation for supervisory positions are Robert D. Olson, Maurice F. Trott and John J. Howerton.

The Fort Wayne men were among 14 trainees who participated in an all-day graduation exercise held Dec. 21 in Schenectady. W. W. Trench, secretary of the company, presented diplomas to the graduates. Guest speakers at the exercise were K. O. Schulte, Wage Rate and Salary Administration Manager, C. A. Salmonsen, Manager of Manufacturing, Large Apparatus Divisions, C. W. Fuller, staff assistant, Manufacturing Plant, Large Apparatus Divisions, and B. R. Zimber, Special Assignments, Manufacturing Plant, Large Apparatus Divisions.

Robert Blomker

(Continued from page 1)

President-elect Blomker attended the Apprentice School and then entered the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis. He has been with the General Electric Company for nine years and is now employed in Large Motor and Generator divisions.

The new officers will be installed at a meeting of the entire club Tuesday, Jan. 23, at 7:30 p.m. at the Key Lanes.

The program will include a sound film of the Army-Navy football game. The movie will show highlights before and after the game, the actual game and activities during the halftime ceremonies. The North Side High School A Capella Choir will also present a program.

Milt Ray, Bldg. 19-5, and Mr. Blomker are in charge of arrangements for installation at the meeting.

Traffic Signal

(Continued from page 1)

a G-E traffic light timer, the light will operate continuously day and night.

The light is a result of attempts on the part of the General Electric Company, the City Traffic Department and the Fort Wayne Transit Company to eliminate the Taylor St. traffic problem.

Last year, bus stops were changed to encourage pedestrians to use the crosswalks and cut down on jaywalking.

Safety chairmen and their committees were also instrumental in obtaining the signal by their recognition of the problem and efforts to correct it, Hersehel L. Smith, Works Safety Engineer, said.

"She kissed him on the bridge last night, but she'll never do it again."

"Why not?"

"Because she broke his bridge."

HERE and THERE in BUILDING 17-4

by Maxine Baker

We're wondering what happened to your New Year's resolutions by this time. Do you still have a halo or are you back to normal again? . . . The girls helped Virginia Harris celebrate her birthday with a potluck last week. As usual, everyone was well stuffed, and the birthday can be considered well celebrated. . . . Our calendar mystery suddenly solved itself when Bill got his precious (?) Hoover Big Calendar back. Bill was really worried about it, but no amount of questioning revealed the culprit. Anyway, he's happy now. He can tell what day it is. . . . Alice Pflueger discovered her name on the list of jury people for January. We always knew she was conscientious, and this proves it. . . . John Hilsmier stopped by during the holidays to say "hi" to the gang—so did Charlie Schild. Now don't forget to come back before next Christmas. . . . Hobby paid us a flying visit too this week. Now if we could just convince the rest of our pensioners to come to see us. How about it? . . . Betty McPherson left us to return to housekeeping. Taking her place is May Lacey, our newest addition to the office group. . . . Mary Burkholder is our latest pin-up girl, and she was really surprised to see her picture so widely distributed on the floor. Well, anyway, Mary, the picture was a good one. . . . Fritz Stauffer joined the list of pensioners on Wednesday. The gang gave him a rousing send-off complete with a final ride around the floor, an application to the Apprentice School and speeches by "Butch" Vegalues, Mr. Mettler, Carl Hattendorf and lots of suggestions from the gang on how to spend his time. Fritz was presented with a drill press to help fill his leisure hours. All our best wishes go with you, Fritz, and we wish you much health and happiness in the years ahead.

"Pin-Up" Girl

Adventures Ahead

(Continued from page 1)

pinhole camera from an old cereal box. Diagrams accompany the article to make the design as simple as possible to construct.

When your camera is completed, there are directions for taking pictures and developing your own film.

Another story deals with a General Electric employee's hobby of collecting fingerprints and keeping three files of them—a personal file, a criminal file and national defense file.

Atomic Story Disclosed

A three-page article brings readers up-to-date on the happenings in the atomic energy field in the General Electric Company's General Engineering and Consulting Laboratory at Schenectady. The author says he expects Schenectady to be one of the principal atomic cities in the United States for some time to come.

Scientific adventures in this issue take readers to the land of frozen volcanoes in New York State. Made of frozen foamy water, these volcanoes are rare formations found only under extraordinary conditions.

Another interesting story offers the history of the White House from the first occupants down to the Trumans' residence. From the outside, the historic home of presidents looks unchanged, but the inside has been repaired and redecorated to keep up with the times, the article reveals.

Adventures Ahead is published every other month on a free subscription basis for the children of G-E employees between the ages of 10 and 18.

COUNT OFF — Taylor Street DIVISION 17

10 · 20 · 30

Dorothy Heingelmann

Jackie Elder Keller bowled in the mixed doubles tournament last Saturday night as did Peggy Bandt. They both said they had a wonderful time. Ralph Keller was there too. Although he doesn't bowl, he was having as much fun as the next one. Harold Fletter also bowled but he doesn't want to talk about that subject. . . . George Ryan's son left last Tuesday to go back to the Marines. . . . Pinky Sordelet's story about taking a vacation last week in Florida seems a little doubtful. Why should he go buy a sun lamp just before his vacation? Did he take the lamp with him to Florida, or did he stay home and sit under the lamp to get a good tan and then try to tell us his Kaiser would go as far as Florida? The story seems a mystery, so if anyone should hear the true story, let us in on it. . . . Best of luck to Cliff Balyeat's bowling team in the City Tournament this Sunday. . . . We thought sure after the snow melted away last week Warren Hawley would find his teeth. By one look at Warren, we see he didn't. . . . Ray Hill's wife left last Sunday for Washington, D. C., to become private secretary to the Hon. Ross Adair, Congressman. Ray says it looks like he'll be batching it for the next couple years. If any of you have any political problems, take them to Ray, and he will send them to Washington. If the fee is high enough, he'll gladly take them there personally. . . . We wish Harry Dull a lot of success with his new job over at Broadway. Harry said he really appreciated the cigar from George Marshand and Bob Johnson and will miss these little tokens from the boys. . . . We are happy to have Dorothy Weiler back with us after her recent illness. . . . Bob Johnson and Fred House say they will soon have a new pair of shoes paid for to give Howard Householder's new baby; results of the noon euchre games. . . . When it comes to shooting the moon, Bob Hull is the Champion.

HAS 40 YEARS OF SERVICE—George Waldschmidt (second from left) of Bldg. 18-3, completed 40 years of continuous service with the company Tuesday, Jan. 9. Then, his friends in the Personnel Division gathered to extend their congratulations on his long service record. Left to right in the picture are I. H. Freeman, Supervisor of Personnel; Mr. Waldschmidt; Evanell Holman, and Ivan D. Rinehart, Assistant Supervisor of Personnel. Mr. Waldschmidt first came to General Electric in 1906 as a messenger in the old shop office. He left the Company in 1910 and returned in 1911 as head timekeeper in Bldg. 2-1. In 1925, he was transferred to Bldg. 18-1 to assist in preparing the group incentive plan. From 1926 until 1939, he served as supervisor of time clerks and also in various capacities in the Payroll Section. Mr. Waldschmidt became a member of the internal auditing staff in 1939, and four years later was made a cost statistician and analyst in Bldg. 4-6. He transferred to the Employees' Relations Division in 1945 and returned to internal auditing in 1946. Since 1947, he has been in charge of Pensions and Life Insurance, and has been Treasurer of the G-E Club.

Garten Review

(Continued from page 1)

bring one package of cigarettes to the meeting for distribution at the Plastic Surgery Ward at Camp Atterbury. The cigarettes are for wounded Korean War veterans.

Reservations for the Club's trip to Bermuda during the vacation shutdown may be made with contact girls or at the Personnel Offices at Taylor St. and Broadway, Irene Meyers, Supervisor of Women's Activities, has announced.

DuChemin Story

(Continued from page 4)

"Come over at 5:30, my wife won't be here then. She's not coming home till 6:30 and you'll have him out before she gets back."

He's given away all but three dogs, one of which, he says, is the best Samoyed bitch in the world.

Then there's the community. He's the best known G-E personality in Lynn. The Lynn Item awarded him the Bouquet of the Week. They said he had had a hand in every worth-while civic endeavor in the past quarter century.

His most recent project was Junior Achievement. This is an arrangement whereby high school students are encouraged to organize and operate miniature businesses and Nick DuChemin was his area's first chairman.

Incidentally, the miniature business in which he bought stock was so successful that it paid greater dividends than G-E pays. You can imagine the ribbing he took about that one.

Enjoys Varied Life

Contrast all this with his Sunday morning activity. He and Mrs. DuChemin go to Our Lady of Assumption Church in Lynnfield. When there are no young people available, he serves as altar boy for the Mass.

Or contrast them with his low number pilot license for lighter-than-air aircraft. He acquired this during World War I and has maintained it ever since.

Or contrast it with painting, another hobby. He's been painting in oils for years. They say everything he paints turns out to be either a sea or a desert—we weren't able to find out why, but we offer the fact as food for thought.

Put all these things together and you've got Nick DuChemin. He's the ribber and the ribbed, the member of the family, the one for whom an employee wrote a letter to Wilson, the man whose greatest contribution to West Lynn, they say, was himself.

War Veterans

(Continued from page 1)

of the membership committee: Herb Cook, Bldg. 2-2 (east of Broadway); Pat Christle, Bldg. 19-2 (west of Broadway); Bill Sivits, Taylor St., and Wilmer Boek, Winter St.

"You had an argument with the waitress last night—what was the trouble?"

"I asked her what she had and she said, "I have stewed kidneys, boiled tongue, fried calves' brains and pigs' feet." So I said, "Don't tell me your troubles, sister. Give me a chicken pie and go see your doctor."

FORT WAYNE WORKS
NEWS

WANTED—A LETTER

Say fellow . . . have you written your former co-worker who is doing a job for Uncle Sam these days? Why not drop him a line just to let him know he is still remembered by you and the gang. Some addresses of the G-E GI's can be found on page 10 of this week's WORKS NEWS.

Volume 34 FORT WAYNE, INDIANA, FRIDAY, JANUARY 19, 1951 No. 3

W. R. Herod Heads European Defense Effort

Ft. Wayne Works Offers Speakers, Film Service to Community Groups

A speakers bureau and film service has been established by the Fort Wayne Works to provide programs for community groups in the Greater Fort Wayne Area, K. W. Michael, Assistant to the Works Manager—Special Assignments, announced today.

A booklet, describing the talks and films, will be mailed to civic organizations and service groups including business, professional, fraternal, veteran, educational and religious organizations, Mr. Michael said.

The initial program lists 15 talks and four films. Nontechnical in nature, the talks range from stories on the manufacture and use of several Fort Wayne-built products, to such other activities as labor relations, and research methods. The talks stress the human side of the subject, the skills of employees and the effect of the activity or product on the listener and the community.

More speakers and subjects will be made available during the year, covering such topics as wages, training, employee benefits, advertising, and additional product stories.

The films cover such subjects as community betterment, the American way of life, the infiltration

(Continued on page 4)

Education Loans, Scholarships Offered by G-E

1951-52 Applications Now Being Accepted

Applications for loans and scholarships available to employees and the children of employees of the General Electric Company and its affiliated companies are now being accepted for the school year of 1951-1952, W. W. Trench, Secretary of the Company and Chairman of the G-E Education Committee, announced today.

Since 1923, when the first formal educational assistance program was offered by the Company, some 889 loans and scholarships totaling more than $222,238 have been awarded, Mr. Trench reported.

Funds for the loans and scholarships will be provided from the General Electric Employees Educational Foundation, the Charles P. Steinmetz Memorial Scholarships, the Richard H. Rice Memorial Scholarship Fund, and the Gerard Swope Loan Fund, Mr. Trench said.

Deadline for submitting applications has been set at April 10 so that recipients of the awards may be notified early enough to com-

(Continued on page 4)

Defense Coordinator

I. G. E. President Will Supervise Newly-formed Production Board

William Rogers Herod, president of the International General Electric Company, has been appointed Coordinator of the newly-formed Defense Production Board for the countries of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

The announcement, made earlier this week in London by the Council of Deputies of the NATO, indicated that Mr. Herod's position will be roughly comparable with General Eisenhower's for military affairs.

The production board is expected soon to step up European arms production and Mr. Herod, as Coordinator, will supervise and channel the 12 individual programs into a unified organization.

Hoosier Born

Mr. Herod, 52, a native of Indianapolis, Ind., has held his present position with International General Electric Company since 1945 when he returned to the Company after serving three years with the U.S. Army Air Technical Service Command as a Colonel.

He attended Indianapolis public schools and was graduated from Shortridge High School in 1915. In 1918, he was graduated from Yale University, Sheffield Scientific School, and entered the Army

(Continued on page 4)

WKJG Will Air All Four Golden Gloves Fights

Company to Sponsor Tournament Broadcast

The General Electric Company will sponsor broadcasts of the annual Golden Gloves Tournament over Radio Station WKJG, K. W. Michael, Assistant to the Manager—Special Assignments, announced today. The amateur boxing classic is held each year under the auspices of the G-E Club and the Fort Wayne Journal-Gazette.

Broadcasts have been arranged

(Continued on page 4)

Squares Plan Bridge Tournament, Stag Party in Club Hall

The G-E Squares have scheduled a Bridge Tournament for tonight and the next two Friday nights, Jan. 19, Jan. 26 and Feb. 2, at 8:15 p.m. in the Squares Hall, Glenn Seabold, publicity chairman, announced today.

Entrants must register before starting time with Don Reek, Bldg. 4-6. If unable to attend, members are required to furnish their own substitutes.

An entry fee of 75 cents per couple is being charged. The money, plus a budgeted amount from the club treasury, will go toward the prize money.

The stag evening will be held by the Club at 8:15 p.m. Wednesday in the Squares Hall, Mr. Seabold said.

A business meeting will include various financial questions and new house plans. An informal get-together is planned after the meeting.

G-E CLUB "DADDY" RECEIVES FIRST LIFE MEMBERSHIP—Life membership cards in the G-E Club were mailed this week to nearly 1,000 retired employees of the Broadway, Taylor St. and Winter St. plants. E. A. Barnes, former general superintendent, (center), is shown receiving the first card from G-E Club president Dick Kent, (left), while Charlie Wilt, G-E Club manager, looks on. Pensioners have always been entitled to all G-E Club privileges, but membership cards were formerly issued yearly instead of on the new lifetime basis.

Two Works Engineers Garner High Award In AIEE Competition

(see picture page 4)

C. P. Hayes and H. R. Gould, Bldg. 26-2, were recently honored by the American Institute of Electrical Engineers when their paper on the subject of "Noise Evaluation of Fluorescent Lamp Ballasts" was awarded first prize in a competition sponsored by the Institute.

Nineteen other entries were considered before the winning paper in the AIEE General Applications Division was chosen.

Mr. Hayes, Staff Assistant to the Manager of Engineering, Small Apparatus Divisions, at Lynn, was formerly Ballast Division Engineer in the Specialty Transformer and Ballast Divisions. Mr. Gould is an engineer in the STAB Ballast Engineering Division.

The winning authors' paper, a product of six months of effort, will serve as a topic for discussion

(Continued on page 4)

FORT WAYNE WORKS NEWS

Volume 34 Friday, January 19, 1951 No. 3

Lou Rotterman ..... Editor
Virginia Molden ..... Assistant Editor
K. Marian Davies ..... Divisional News Coordinator

Freedom Is Cheap At Any Price

As is usually the custom this time of year, much is being said on the subject of taxes. Expressed in a well-worn cliche, taxes are as certain as death.

It seems most economists, government leaders and others are agreed that we should operate on a "pay as we go" basis during the current world crisis. To most of us, who have only the barest understanding of the complicated interworkings of economics, such a plan makes sense. To pay for the inflated cost of war materials during a later period of deflation would impose a much heavier financial obligation upon us than we are now facing.

Actually, we are fortunate we are able to produce the goods and services which enable us to earn money needed to meet the increased tax demands. It is our successful capitalistic system and its resulting high standard of living that we are asked to protect.

Those of us who are not asked to risk and give our lives at the battlefront are getting off easily by giving up a few luxuries. Dying or being maimed is a much greater cost than paying a tax increase through higher production efforts or longer working hours.

Even though we don't mind too much the work and price we must pay for freedom, many of us aren't too happy the way taxes are levied.

Who Pays the Most?

Who should bear the heavier share of the burden? Should corporation income taxes be raised higher in deference to personal income taxes? Logically, the method of taxation should reflect government's economic aims. If a reduction of economic inequality is a leading aim, the relatively rich should be taxed heavier than those in a lower income group. If, on the other hand, a large output is of top priority, taxes should not discourage effort, enterprise and risk taking. Surely, these theories may conflict.

If we carry the "ability to pay" theory to extreme, the confiscation of all portions of income above a certain level would kill incentive to earn and invest beyond a certain point. If the smaller income group is taxed too heavily, then it can no longer maintain the buying power needed to sustain a prosperous high production level.

A total war economy, over an extended period of time, would seriously undermine our high standard of living. We cannot completely dry up all civilian production without injuring many civilian retail outlets and non-defense producers. If we destroy all purchasing power, we become mere agents (or producers) of the State and are as enslaved as the communists we seek to combat.

All of us, worker, corporation and government are dependent upon one another. Corporations must profit so they can invest to create new jobs. Workers must have buying power to be able to sustain product demand. All must contribute to the defense effort. In substance, the well-being of the corporation and the worker are one and the same.

Government must guard against excesses by individuals, industries and labor. Fortunately, all of us ARE the government, through our representatives and lobbies. Thus, it is government that must move most wisely and courageously but cautiously. It is each and everyone of us, through our elected executives and congressmen, who must decide how we will tax ourselves.

Certainly, the best tax is the least tax—needed to pay the bill, that is. Government operational frugality is a must. Corporations must produce as efficiently as possible. Nowhere in the economy can waste be tolerated, whether in materials, planning, production, or government. Labor must not waste time nor effort. It must produce as much as possible with the available materials and tools.

When we increase our withholding, corporation and excess profits taxes, we must always look forward to the opportunity to reduce or abolish such taxes when the need for them no longer exists. We must guard against expensive government practices and yet must attract men of integrity and vision to our government policy-making posts.

Most of all, we must think clearly. Discussions on taxes, expenditures and all phases of government must be free and uninhibited. No man should be disregarded or called a fool for his honest beliefs. We have built our nation from the exchange of ideas. Let us cherish that freedom. Let us WORK and tax ourselves to protect and to expand it. If we do, it will be cheap at any price.

Thank God, we can still maintain the good way of life through effort.

. . . Bldg. 26-4 scribe

. . . reports Bldg. 17-2 happenings

This week, we introduce the Stacking Section. Members of the section are Helen Meeks, June Mizell, Garnett Marshall, Fay Oldham, Helen Meehan, Mary Blanchard, Ruth Klopfenstine, Marge Lehman, Marjoric Carpenter, Patrica Lemish, Ethel Brown, Bertha Gruber, Helen Reinking, Bea Marsh, Susie Dove, Ethel Dove, Norma Smith, Marguerite Geschwell, Lyle Bertsch, Donald Edwards, Robert Taylor, Carl Hansen, Marge Schafer, Noel Smith, and yours truly. . . . Does anyone want to know who is using three parking spaces in the Jones St. parking lot? Mary Blanchard has a new car and is watching those fenders. By the way, who pushed whose car, Mary? . . . Patrica Lemish had her picture in the Sunday Journal. . . . Ethel Dove is a new employee who started Monday. . . . Found in the Audio Section: Jack Lea's gum. . . . Lavon Lanzer has transferred to the first shift from the second in the Ignition Section. . . . We suggest that Grace Hoon carry a pillow with her the next time she falls to save her tummy. . . . Patrica Lemish was the guest of honor at a shower at Edna Hall's home Thursday evening. Those attending were Bea Marsh, Marge Lehman, Marge Carpenter, Edna Hall, Ethel Brown, Mary Blanchard, Lucy Keller, Helen Meehan, Marge Schaffer, Norma Smith, Helen Reinking, and Mrs. Lemish. . . . Our sympathy to Evelyn Brunkhart in the death of her grandmother. . . . Alberta Stiner Ely is back with us. . . . Wednesday was Louis Ellis' birthday. . . . Welcome to Jan Maloney to the Audio Section. . . . Lillian Krudop still has good ideas on how to choose a boy friend. . . . Robert Carpenter is on a diet of three rolls and two cartons of milk. . . . Richard Scholl, with the marine hair cut, is back with us. . . . We have the three sick repair men back with us this week. They are Al Miller, Alvie Dafforn and Henry Webster. . . . Ruth Durnil is quite a rabbit hunter. She got stuck in a creek bed and had to be pulled out. . . . Fay Oldham had a birthday Wednesday, and Ruth Klopfenstine's birthday was Thursday. . . . We hear Don Waldrop has money to burn. . . . Dorothy Myers celebrated her birthday Monday at a potluck. Elma Berger was guest of honor. . . . We welcome the following new girls to the second trick: Joyce Kryder, Mary Lansky, Phyllis Meier, Margaret Koch and Bobbie Lion.

Russ James, Bob Griffin Are New Division Editors

Bob Griffin, Bldg. 17-2, and Russell James, Bldg. 26-4, have assumed duties as division editors for the WORKS NEWS, Personnel sources have announced.

Russell has taken over the writings of "Transformer Tattles" from Clarence Rancy. Russ has been working in the Specialty Transformer and Ballast divisions for ten years, ever since he joined the General Electric Company. He is now an inspector in Bldg. 26-4.

A member of the Indiana State Umpires Association, Russ is a familiar sight on baseball diamonds around this area. He umpires both baseball and softball in the Federation, City and Buckeye Leagues among others. He also likes to hunt and fish.

Russ served as a reporter for Clarence Raney when he was doing the column and received additional reporting experience by contributing Owl League sports stories during the war.

Russ is married and has two daughters and one son. They reside at 733 Third St.

Carrie Green Assists

Carrie Green will serve as a reporter, covering the news in the Green Room.

Bob Griffin has taken over the WORKS NEWS column, "Rovings in Bldg. 17-2." Bob replaces Jeanette Blough, who resigned because of her working schedule.

This is Bob's first attempt at reporting, but he has always had an interest in newspaper work and once took a correspondence course in the subject.

He knows G-E and its activities well, having worked here for nearly 23 years. He joined the Company in 1928 on the messenger force. He began working in the factory about 1935 in Bldg. 4-2. During the war, he served as a foreman in the Supercharger plant at Taylor St., and he is now employed in the Tool Room of Bldg. 17-2.

Bob's methods of relaxation are reading, fishing and hunting. He likes to hunt duck, but says, "I'll fire at anything else that gets in front of me."

Bob, his wife, and two small sons live at 5902 South Calhoun St.

Archie Evans and Jeanette Blough will help him gather the news.

Heart Ailment Fatal To William Gallmeyer

William Gallmeyer, 68, of 425 Irene St., died at 1 p.m., Sunday, of a coronary occlusion at the Lutheran Hospital.

Mr. Gallmeyer had been an employee of the General Electric Company for 27 years. He joined the Company in 1920 as a grinder in Bldg. 20-1. In 1922, he became a bench hand in Bldg. 19-4 and later served as a respooler in Bldg. 8-1. At the time of his retirement in 1947, he was working in Bldg. 19-5.

Surviving are the widow, Dora; a son, Arthur; three daughters, Mrs. Louella Koethe and Mrs. Velma Knuth, all of Fort Wayne, and Mrs. Esther Hummel, of St. Louis; one brother, the Rev. Martin Gallmeyer, of Olean, N. Y., and two grandchildren.

Services were held Wednesday at the C. M. Sloan & Sons Funeral Home with the Rev. H. E. Levihn officiating. Burial was in Concordia Cemetery.

Transformer Tattles,

BLDG 26-4

by Russell James

Edna Bailey got a new fire truck. Oh! No, I guess that's a new 1951 maroon Ford. It looks plain red to us. . . . How's come Al Topp is considering trading his Chevrolet for a Plymouth? . . . Buzz Hiser finally saw the light and got rid of that Ford. . . . We are glad to hear Glenn Keck's daughter is recovering very nicely from her battle with the cat. . . . Congratulations to Ray Hosler. He's a grandpa again. . . . The Green Room welcomes Mary Garrett, Rose Ann Peters, Joyce Keller and George Simmons to our group. We hope they like us and enjoy working with our group. . . . We hope our little friend, Betty Hall, is feeling better and will be back with us soon. . . . We would like to welcome Eloise Mills to Type M Winding. . . . Congratulations to Velma Johnson, also. She is a grandmother again. . . . Fletcher Cumbey's Nash stops running every time he comes to a red light. Fletch says that is the economical part about his car. . . . Cecelia Kopp is one of the more fortunate people. She is taking a vacation in the South. We hope she thinks of us while enjoying the nice sunshine. . . . Roy Maurer's famous last words are, "What do I do now?" . . . We all extend sympathy to Susie Johnston in the death of her father . . . Francis Batzner, who is convalescing at the Irene Byron, read in the WORKS NEWS about Vic Scheele's getting his necktie cut off. She wondered if he had to get a shop order for a new one. . . . We are sorry to lose Eddie Murchland from the Green Room and hope he enjoys his new job. . . . Anyone knowing a good spelling teacher, contact the girls on the bushing assembly table. They can't even help this reporter spell such simple words as "convalescing." . . . Glad to see Norm Foulks back to work again after his illness. . . . Glad to hear Bill Guldice is getting along so well. Hope to see him back to work soon. . . . For what did Helen Hunt walk out to the parking lot last Wednesday after work? . . . We really do think Ray Horstman has a fish trap now. He couldn't even make it to work last Saturday. Ralph Smith must have had a special invitation to work last Saturday, as he was in. They also say Ralph is going to join the Air Force. He is going to furnish the wind for the wind tunnel. . . . Dewey Cobb started for Huntington on U.S. 24, but ended up some place in Ohio. He had U.S. 24, but going the other way.

Stand still and silently wateh the world go by—and it will.

The workers down in Bldg. 4-2 were wondering who in Bldg. 4-3 got so warm that she had to take her corset off and hang it out the window. Bob Blocker was the guy who put the thing out the window, but as far as I know it wasn't his or his wife's! . . . Veva Healy sure gave a jump when the little mouse (she says it was almost big enough for a rat) jumped out of her drawer at her. . . . We of Div. 1 extend our sympathy to Eleanor Whitehouse and Ethel Bobay in the death of their mother. . . . We also extend our sympathy to the family of Bill Gallmeyer. Bill was a retired employee and formerly worked in our division. He died last Sunday and services were held Wednesday morning. . . . Too bad Mary Gebhart is so bashful, but then Jack Moore is bashful too! . . . Toni Whetmore had a birthday last week, and so did Frances Romary. Congratulations to you both and to anyone else we might have missed. . . . Jay Michael's son was married to June Chaney last Saturday. She made a very pretty bride. . . . As far as we know this morning, George Worley and Andy Bordner still aren't grandpas! . . . John Whillet is driving a 1949 Chevrolet these days. He got rid of his Kaiser. . . . I haven't found anyone who can top Butch Claymiller's mileage claim. . . . Group 1x74 wishes to welcome Mabel Tyler, Dorothy Clark and Morris Jacobs into the group. . . . We wonder what Dorothy Rebber was so absorbed in when she locked her purse and keys in her locker when she got ready to go home. Dorothy shouldn't feel as bad about her forgetfulness as Marian Mills. On returning to her home, Marian found to her surprise that she had left her electric coffee maker plugged in all day! . . . Now we know where Herb Tillberry gets all of his energy. He takes Hadacol! Floyd Patterson says he will have to start taking it too—to keep up with Herb. Floyd claims since he started to work at the G-E his feet have grown and he had to get a comfortable pair of walking shoes. . . . Virginia McCoy moved from Huntington to her new apartment in Fort Wayne. . . .

They're Too Big

Fate was on McDonald's side when he stayed in for lunch one day last week. It could have caused him considerable amount of embarrassment if he had gone out. . . . We wonder why Carrie Menges has lost her taste for bean soup; she was a recent "dinner-winner" member by answering "bean-soup!" . . . Did Josie Chavarri hit the floor, or did the floor hit Josie as they met quite suddenly one day? . . . Ray Snyder is still saying that everything he got for Christmas is too big. . . . William Wickliffe wishes now that he had studied to be a doctor. . . . Ed DeWiess is at the hospital for a check-up. . . . Calvin Litzenherger's wife is in the hospital too. We hope both of them are soon out and on the go again. . . . The Commutator Section wants Jack Moore to enter the Golden gloves so he won't be coming to work all bruised up. . . . Elihue Lee got a brand new 1951 Ford. How about taking the gang for a spin, Lee? . . . Frances Rose is driving a new Ford, too, but she won't take it out on days like these . . . We're glad to see Alice Claymiller back at work after a week's illness.

SHIPPING: FLASH! A curious pigeon named "Mike" attacked defenseless Bob Jellison. Bob was saved only by a pair of rubber boots (galoshes) which he happened to be wearing at the time. Of course, anyone who doubts that story will please go to the back of the line and wait your turn to jeer. . . . True to her word is Marie Welch, who called ye olde Ed's bluff and brought her a whole handful of cashew nuts. . . . To whom it may concern: Paul Merkert has salt for sale. Call 416. . . . Welcome back to smiling Zercia Sinish. We're always mighty glad to have our old friends back with us. . . . 'Tis with a great deal of remorse that we bid farewell to Bob Gebert, today. We wish him the very best on his new adventure with our armed forces. . . . A king-size birthday wish goes out to "Dutch" Wilson on his day which is Wednesday. Being the Chief of shipping section entitles him to a big pow wow. . . . Helen Eggeman put up a terrific battle, but the dentist got her tooth anyway. However, the struggle kept Helen off her feet and on a liquid diet for several days, but she's back again looking fit as a fiddle. . . . MAILING: Norman Gertz is pretty happy about being the owner of a car, a Plymouth by name. He got real extravagant. He bought licenses, but then for no particular use evidently. He's been going through town (down town district) without them. . . . Congratulations to Keith Mast. Oh, no, just an uncle! . . . Bill Fitsgerald has been having the first of the year blues—you know what we mean—taxes, licenses and more taxes.

Does anyone know what happened to Sue Wagner's voice? She would like to know, too. . . . Everyone was wondering what the peculiar smell in Bldg. 19-3 was last week. When we could finally see through the smoke, we discovered some red hot rings had fallen on the floor. The hero who saved the floor and stopped the smell was none other than Forest Reed. . . . 'Tis an old saying: "The man who minds his own business usually has a good one." . . . The editor of this column stated that since she and Mr. Perry had moved to the Paulding Road, they get to work on time.

Inquiring Reporter:

"IF YOU HAD THE OPPORTUNITY, FOR ONE DAY, WITH WHOM WOULD YOU MOST LIKE TO EXCHANGE JOBS?"

WALTER E HART

Bldg. 19-2

"If I could exchange jobs for one day with anyone I choose, I believe I would exchange jobs with the time study man and find out why some of the rates seem so out of balance with the jobs."

JAMES W. BADDERS

Bldg. 4-4

"If I had the opportunity for one day to exchange jobs with anyone I please, my choice would be Charles E. Wilson, as head of the Defense Mobilization Board. I would then attempt to discover why the proven priority systems of the last war are not applied today in order to eliminate the confusion which now exists."

FLORENCE GROTHOUSE

Bldg. 8-1

"I would like to be Marshal Stalin so that I could raise the Iron Curtain, free the oppressed peoples behind it and open the road to peace with the western world."

MARJORIE HITE

Taylor St.

"I would like the thrill of exchanging jobs for one day with a foreign missionary and to have the opportunity of telling someone, who had never heard, of Jesus and his love. I would feel real joy just to see the face of one change from dark despair to hope."

EDGAR J. ALTER

Bldg. 26-3

"I would choose the President of the United States, then declare a new strong "American" foreign policy; notify Russia of our decision and make it stick; dismiss from government office all who are morally, politically and economically incompetent; roll back prices to last June's level and freeze them, and restore the principles on which our government was founded."

R. H. Carpenter Named Shipping, Receiving & Warehouse Supervisor

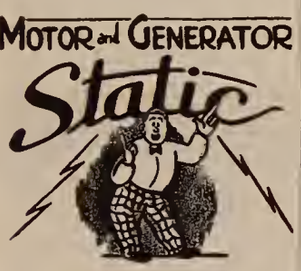
Russell H. Carpenter has been named Supervisor of Shipping, Receiving and Warehouse, FHP Motor Div. 25, Taylor St., A. J. Rose, Production Manager, has announced.

Mr. Carpenter attended Toledo University and served an apprenticeship at the Toledo Machine Tool Company before coming to General Electric in 1929. His first assignment was as a tool production clerk working for Mr. Rose. He then was assigned to production clerical work in all FHP Motor divisions.

In 1938, he became production leader of the Small Lot Section of FHP Motor Div. 13. The following years he was named Assistant Production Supervisor in Bldg. 4-2, Div. 12. Mr. Carpenter transferred to the Decatur plant in 1941, where he was in charge of production for Plant No. 1 until 1944.

He was next named Production Supervisor of the Kokomo plant. Returning to Fort Wayne in 1944, he was assigned to procedure analytical work in Bldg. 4-6. Since January, 1950, he has been serving as Assistant to the Supervisor in charge of Order Service for FHP Motor Div. 9.

Mr. Carpenter is married and has a son at the Naval Air Station at Jacksonville, Fla. The Carpenters reside at 1224 Jones St.



. . . new supervisor

Two Works Engineers

(Continued from page 1)

at the AIEE Winter Meeting in New York, and will subsequently be published in the meeting records, and in the publication, "Electrical Engineering."

Presentation of the award, consisting of $100 and certificates, will be made during the AIEE meeting Monday, Feb. 22, in New York. Mr. Gould will be present to accept the prizes for both men.

Thought For The Week: "In our Country, there are too many wide open spaces entirely surrounded by teeth."

—Charles Luckman.

We welcome Pat Kennedy this week to Bldg. 31-1. . . . January Journal—Janus, the Roman's "God of Beginnings," for whom this month is named, is usually pictured as having two faces, looking in opposite directions. Suggesting that we look backward and forward—to take stock of what has been accomplished, to make plans for the New Year (and to start figuring our income tax). Astrologically, people born from December 21 to January 20 are generous. Their weak points are self consciousness and a fear of ridicule. . . . We are now, unquestionably, in the second half of the Twentieth Century. So, a Happy and Prosperous New Half Century to all! . . . Typographical Tidbits—Caption under cartoon of two advertising executives: "Let's ask him for an unsolicited testimonial." . . . Selective service officials received a filled-in draft questionnaire in an envelope bearing this injunction: "Do not open until Christmas." . . . The Brazil (Ind.) Daily Times hails the installation of a two-way radio by the police in this fashion: "It will make it more difficult for justice to escape the clutches of the law here than ever before." . . . Sober-faced item in the Daily Californian, campus publication: "Mr. —— has been promoted to replace Mr. ——, who avoided the draft by joining the Army." . . . Turn About: In spite of his threats, I am going to tell. For the past two or three years, Ed Foley has taken a particular delight in putting Dick Hobson, Boh Kite, Frank Rathert and Roscoe Markley on the spot through the medium of "Motor and Generator Static." During this period, he has managed to keep himself out of the news except for a few minor mix-ups. However, I feel that the above mentioned gentleman may get some satisfaction from the fact that Ed too can slip on occasion. It seems Ed rushed out the other evening in order to catch the Mt. Vernon Park special. He hurried up the steps, deposited his dime and then in his usual genial manner griped because the seats were all taken. He looked around for some of the regulars, but each way he looked strange faces met his gaze. About this time, a suspicion entered his mind that he might be on the wrong bus. He questioned the driver and found he was on the South Wayne. Then a hot argument started. Mr. Foley wanted his dime back, but the driver disagreed. Eventually a compromise was reached, and Mr. Foley settled for a transfer. Slinking into the proper bus, Ed slipped the transfer to its driver and joined the group as if nothing had happened. This was supposed to be a complete secret and when Mr. Foley found out that we knew, he threatened us with dire consequences if the story was printed. But we refuse to be intimidated, so, fellows, it's your turn now. Have fun. . . . A NEW TITLE: According to Ed Foley, Frank Rathert is now known as "Doctor of Motors." The other day, he was observed engaged in the symptomatology of Bob Kite's car. "Does it go 'pftt, pftt' when it stops," Dr. Rathert inquired in his very professional manner.

Did you ever park your car with plenty of room to pull out and have some dear soul rest his bumper against yours while you were away? Then you know how Yvonne Rosendahl felt the other noon. Twenty minutes, she sat waiting for someone to come out and when they did they found about five feet of dynamite waiting for them. . . . Mary Kibiloski is out of the hospital now, but is still shakey after a siege of pneumonia. . . . Happy birthdays are in order for Charolotte Scott, Bob Winner, Mary Henry and Dick Kirk. . . . Loretta Brenner has left to spend her time at home. . . . The new girl in the Accounting Division is Marie Alleger. . . . If anyone has any old comic books send them to Bob Wildermuth. He loves them. We even heard that with a party going on around him he lies down on the floor (that must leave very little room for walking) and becomes absolutely absorbed in the comics. . . . Wayne Edington and Betty Sue Morris were married New Year's Eve. Mighty cute picture of Mrs. Edington in the paper last week. . . . Janice Haugh's mother and father moved to Florida last Monday. They'll miss all the lovely snow. What a shame.

Welcome, Marie

Speakers, Film Service

(Continued from page 1)

methods of communism, and the story of the General Electric Company and its people.

Most of the suggested programs are free of charge. The entire program schedule is sponsored by the Fort Wayne Works as a service to the community.

Golden Gloves

(Continued from page 1)

for four consecutive Tuesdays, Jan. 23, Jan. 30, Feb. 6 and Feb. 13. The first three evenings of Golden Gloves matches will be on the air from 8:30 to 10 p.m. and from 10:20 p.m. to the conclusion of the fights. The Feb. 13 events will be tape recorded and re-broadcast at 10:30 p.m.

Hilliard Gates, popular local sportscaster, will deliver blow-by-blow descriptions of the amateur bouts on the first three broadcasts.

For any amateur boxer interested in entering the contest, there is still time to mail or bring an entry blank to the Journal-Gazette. There is no other entry requirement except to appear for the physical examination and match-making Tuesday, Jan. 23.

Training classes are held every evening, Monday through Friday, in the G-E Club gym for all contestants. Facilities are furnished free of charge.

The tournament will be held in the North Side High School gym. Tickets may be purchased at the Main Auto Supply Co.

When success looks you over and then overlooks you, guess who's to blame.

Scholarships Offered

(Continued from page 1)

plete plans for college. Applications may be obtained from any General Electric personnel office, or from the Secretary, General Electric Education Committee, Schenectady, N. Y.

All General Electric employees, children of employees, and children of retired employees are eligible for the awards. Recipients will be selected on a competitive basis by the Company's educational committee.

Last year 105 persons were awarded loans and scholarships totaling $27,089.

The $200,000 General Electric Educational Foundation was established in 1945 as part of the $1,000,000 G-E Education Fund in honor of two former General Electric presidents, Charles A. Coffin and Gerard Swope.

Student Chooses College

Under the foundation, loans and scholarships are granted for undergraduate study in any accredited college or university the applicant wishes to attend. Loans up to $250 a year, repayable after leaving school, may be granted to individuals to attend the school of their choice and loans up to $300 may be obtained by students or their parents to be repaid by payroll deductions. A limited number of scholarships are awarded under the foundation.

The $40,000 Charles P. Steinmetz Memorial Scholarships were established in 1924 for aiding students either in engineering or academic courses at Union College, Schenectady. A yearly allowance of $500 may be awarded.

The Richard H. Rice Memorial Scholarship was established in 1924 by a gift of $30,000 to Stevens Institute of Technology, Hoboken, N. J., from the General Electric Company in honor of the former manager of the G. E. River Works at Lynn, Mass. A yearly allowance of up to $400 may be granted a student for four years' study with preference given employees and sons of employees at the G. E. Lynn plants.

In 1927, Gerard Swope, then president of General Electric, made a personal gift of $25,000 to Union College to establish the Gerard Swope Loan Fund at that school. The fund is administered by the college, and the recipients are selected by the G. E. Education Committee. Loans up to $250 may be granted for one academic year.

Sam Brand says—

A wise fellow once said somethin' about how if you built a better mousetrap, people'd beat a path to your door. That's good sense, 'cause I guess every manufacturer, no matter whot he mokes, is in the "mousetrop" business. Toke our brands. They're fine products. Trouble is, they get plenty of competition from other brand nomes. Some thing's true oll over. That's why brond folks hove to spend time and money testin' ond reseorchin' to keep their products one step ahead of the opposition. They know they con't operate if the customers stop knockin' ot their doors.

Defense Head

(Continued from page 1)

the same day as a private. Following his discharge in 1918 as a 1st Lieutenant, Mr. Herod entered the General Electric Company test course and later that year was transferred to the Construction Engineering Department at Schenectady where he became a special assistant.

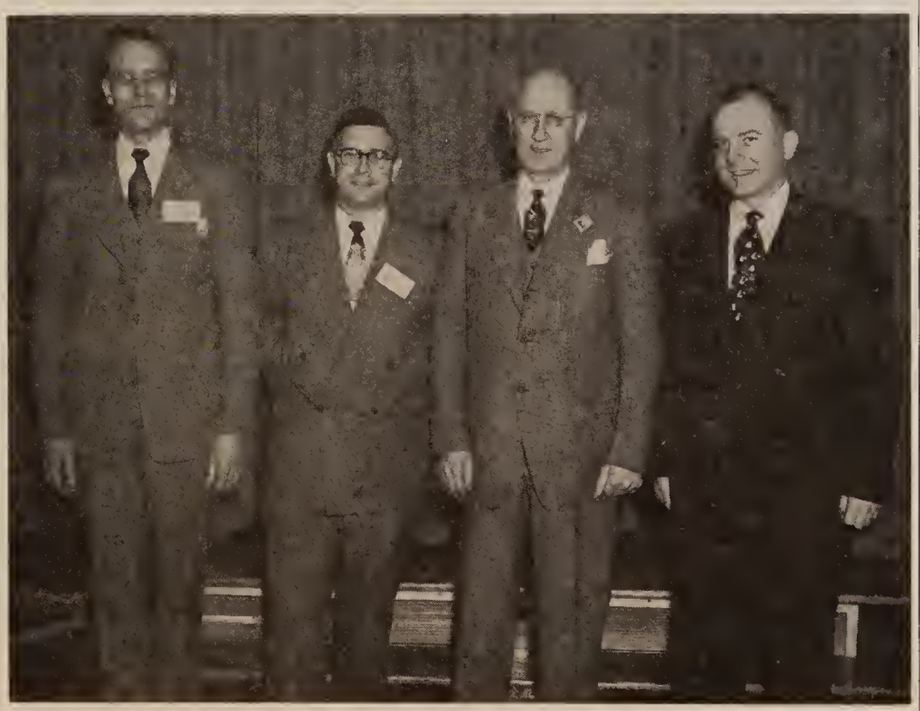
In 1929, he was made assistant to the president of International General Electric and until 1934 either lived or travelled in many foreign countries.

From 1934 to 1937, Mr. Herod was assistant to the managing director of Associated Electrical Industries, Ltd., London, with residence in that city. He returned to the United States as a vice president of I.G.E. in 1937, and remained in that capacity until he re-entered the Army in 1942.

He was the featured speaker at a dinner meeting of the Fort Wayne Squares Club and test engineers here at the G-E Club last November.

CONGRATULATIONS, BUDDY—C. P. (Pat) Hayes and Herb Gould congratulate each other on winning first prize with the paper they submitted to the American Institute of Electrical Engineers. (See story page 1.)

Why does Alice Bogenshust always walk up the steps backwards and Polly Frohning sideways? . . . Laverne Neate is our new contact girl in Bldg. 4-2. . . . The three godfathers of Gloria Kumfer, namely, Kenny, Clarence and Oscar, are sponsoring a special Sadie Hawkins Day for her. . . . Vergie Stephan is certainly glad that dreams don't always come true. Or at least she would rather have them a little more profitable. . . . Why was Dorothy chasing Alice, and with what? . . . After having eaten three packages of peanut-butter crackers, Jewell Clauch decided she didn't like them. Try animal crackers next, Jewell. . . . There are absolutely nothing scotch about Carol Eastes. She figures that she pays for the crackers, so whether she eats them or not she brings them back with her. . . . New girls in Group 1x79 are Marjorie Crabill and Mary Alice Williams. Welcome, girls, and hope you like us. . . . Doris Stearns and Polly Frohning decided that they wouldn't grow up. They will stay young. . . . We're glad to hear your father is much better, Lee Raver. . . . Our new girls in Group 1x29 are Peggy Norton and Dorothy Reinking. Hope you like it here, girls. . . . Lulu Gilliam has gone down to Bldg. 4-2. We'll miss you, Lulu. . . . Alice Robinson needs an alarm clock to arouse her at suppertime. . . . "Muscles" Norris is mighty proud of his wife's baked goods, as he always brings them to work and passes them out. . . . Where do the mysterious pies come from that Evaline and Reggie get? . . . Since when do you have to dress up to run a new drill press, Joan Hartman. Or do you have other reasons, Joan. . . . Enlighten us. What's this about the winders eating beans? . . . We will miss Delores Schinbeckler's witty remarks and her sense of humor, to the day shift. . . . Katy Putt is our new contact girl. . . . It is rumored that Eloise Gephart and husband have to sell their truck to pay their taxes. I think we are all in the same boat this year. . . . Reggie's new name is "Lightnin' Liz." . . . Delores Johnston is constantly massaging someone's back and tying rags around Delores' head. . . . Warning! Watch your zippers. Alice is crazy about unzipping zippers. . . . That is a cute halo Alice Bogenschust wears. Maybe horns would be better as it doesn't fit. . . . We have a couple anniversaries. Vergie Stephan had a birthday Monday, and Wednesday was Millie Sarrazin's ninth wedding anniversary. . . . Hazel Leonard is very envious of those who don't work on Saturday. . . . Evaline Best is at her best since she has been off. . . . We have a new girl, Mary Noll. Do you know she plays with toys? . . . Ann Hershberger ought to have a telephone number that is a little easier to remember. She went to pay her phone bill, and she just couldn't remember her number after having it for 12 years. . . . Pearl Forshea is sporting new specs. . . . Anyone knowing where "yet" is, tell Hazel Maxon. It will ease her mind. . . . Laurine Kraus is a gal who likes work. She really sticks to it. (Gloves, that is). . . . Mary Koopenclocker should watch her lighter. It was lost several times, and she doesn't have a very good memory. Polly finds it or her, accidentally, of course. . . . This I would like to have seen: Doris Stearn's sitting on a tack. . . . Two of our Safety Committeemen are Zelda Garrison and Herb Staak. . . . With the hunting season over, the bunnies won't have to shiver in their fur coats anymore. Here is one bunny who didn't do too much shivering. James Lindley went hunting one day, and he came upon a brush pile and there as pretty as you please sat a rabbit. So Jim took a shot and got him. He went over to pick it up, and it was frozen stiff. It must have been dead for more than a week. . . . "Geny" Beverforden should tell us about her thrilling seventh story ride. . . . Oliver's interesting last name is Bogenshuez. . . . Emma Bultemeier gave Pearl Forshea a recipe for rum cookies. We are wondering whether Pearl used rum or not. . . . Tell us what was in your package, Hazel Leonard. . . . Unpredictable Jo Lee Zimmerman bought a pound of chicken livers and hearts and ate them all herself.



Gee, it must be nice to not need your money, and right at taxpaying time. Milt Allmandinger tore up his check. . . . This week we say goodbye to Lucile Werling, who is going to Mayo Clinic for surgery. We wish her all good luck. Taking her place is Marilyn Richard, to whom we say, "welcome." . . . One smiling face we miss from the office is Dick Kimball, who is on special assignment at Taylor St. Sure miss you, Dick. . . . Vern Castle is the envy of the office since they sanded and varnished his corner of the floor. Now, he makes everyone wipe his shoes before coming near his desk. . . . Laurel Weaver says that one way to get your name in the paper is to get a good bowling score. Well, I can't think of a nicer way. . . . And now it is the girls who have some heated card games. What they should do is have a contest with fellows. I'll bet on the girls.

We hear that Milt Chronister is very good at tracking wild animals, especially if the tracks are large enough and in freshly fallen snow! He says that they were rats but from what he tells, they surely are of the jumbo size. . . . Yes sir, Arnold Martin is an uncle again. His sister Elva Martin Schum presented him with a niece. The mother is a former G-E employee. . . . We are glad to see that Kate Niblick, Esther Strickler and Carl Smith have recovered from recent illnesses and are back to work. . . . Belated congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Dick Ogg for whom the (wedding) bells rang at Christmas. . . . Birthday greetings to Miriam Moore. We enjoyed that greeting card almost as much as you did. . . . Sanna and David Langston are the parents of a baby daughter. Sanna is a former employee. . . . Happy birthday to Agnes Nesswald, Wilma Ross and Ruth Nicodemus. . . . We wonder if Henry Krueckeberg has any explanations for the possum he kept concealed in his garbage can? . . . Esther Strickler is back to work after three weeks of absence. . . . Luella Werst and Flossie Hower upon completing 25 years of service were presented lovely gifts from their co-workers. . . . Fred Schamerloh had excellent luck while ice fishing at Cedar Lake. . . . Charles Langston is a proud grandfather of a little baby girl. . . . Cy Heiman is a proud father of a little boy. . . . They tell me that Jake Eady is quite the engineer these days. Where? An electric train of course. I always knew that he would make good one of these days. They say that he can start and stop it at his own free will. I suppose that Pauly Myers is the fireman on that local. . . . Lois Myers recently spent one whole day in the City of Fort Wayne getting lined up for her sister's wedding which will take place Jan. 20. I imagine that Jake will give the bride away. More details later. . . . George and Annie Womack spend the wee hours of the morning watching the western movies on the television set. . . . Eloise Roeder, I believe, has a mind similar to that of the absent-minded professor. It seems the other day she came out to the car to get in to go to work and remarked that it was rather dark for that time of the day. Yes, I suppose it was for her; she had forgotten to remove her dark glasses. . . . Rita Osterman, the other day when we had our snowfall, went to Pokagon Park to watch the skiing there and lo and behold, when she got there—no snow. Rita I would suggest that the next time you go take some snow with you. . . . I saw Ed Warren the other eve, but he did not have time to stop and talk. I suppose that he was thinking of his petunias. . . . Wonder if Jack Eady still warbles as much as he used to? I sure miss that wonderful voice. . . . Ernie Foreman and his wife were nearly fitted for a pair of wings recently when they were sleeping. It seems as though there was a gas leak from the hot water heater. Close. . . . Miles Jones, the versatile man from the Packing Section, is only recently the daddy of an eight-pound daughter. Congrats, mom and pop. . . . Mabel Eyanson celebrated her 25th wedding anniversary Jan. 11. Mabel looks as young as she ever did despite the fact that she has five children and four grandchildren. Congrats to you and your family and wish you all the happiness in the world. . . . Ardella Heare, the peppy and sweet voice of the Personnel Section, underwent surgery last Saturday at the Adams County Memorial Hospital. At the time of this writing, she was getting along satisfactorily.

Neighbor: "Where's your brother, Freddie?"

Freddie: "He's in the house playing a duet. I finished first."

FORT WAYNERS COMPLETE TRAINING—Three Fort Wayne Works employees participated in the Group 2 Advanced Methods, Planning and Wage Rate Program graduation exercises held recently in Schenectady. Pictured (left-right) are Robert Olson, Motor and Generator Divs., Maurice F. Trott, FHP Motor Divs., W. W. Trench, secretary of the Company, and John Howerton, Specialty Transformer Divs.

BELATED: The rush of the year-end affairs is the only excuse that we can offer for not making mention in this column of the retirement of Edith Drivelbliss from the Accounting Group. She left us on Friday, Dec. 28, after having spent many years in that work. On Thursday, the girls in the group entertained with a luncheon in her honor and presented her with a farewell gift. Time seems to march on, changes are made and adjustments are necessary. Edith did not have a very definite plan made for her future, but we are sure she will find enjoyment, and that is our sincere wish. . . . WELCOME: E. A. Barnes was calling on friends in Bldg. 18 Monday. It was nice to see Mr. Barnes and to know that he had recovered from his recent illness. . . . SNOWBOUND: Janet Horne, Bldg. 18-1, and Imogene Schwartz, Bldg. 21, left on Friday for Jackson, Mich., looking forward to a wonderful week-end. Everything went well until the ice storm started, and the buses did not. To make a long story short, they had to patiently wait until Monday afternoon before the bus could start out. Anyway that made a nice long week-end. . . . LUCKY: Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wylie had planned to drive to Cleveland for the week-end and at the last minute changed plans and took the train, so the sleet storm did not bother them too much. . . . Even if the roadways were terrible, the traveling hazardous—the winter wonderland scene was perfect (if that is any consolation.) . . . INGENUITY: Arnold Hensick, Bldg. 18-1, bravely approached the chocolate sundae dispenser in the basement, inserted his dime and, to be sure, out came the sought-after delicacy—but alas! no spoon. The great American Ingenuity came to the rescue and after much cutting and, etc., he fashioned a spoon out of the lid and before the ice cream all melted. . . . SO SORRY: Mae Lacey, who formerly worked in the Accounting Group, is a patient at the St. Joseph Hospital where she underwent surgery. We hope that she is better by this time. . . . HAPPY BIRTHDAY: We wish to extend our birthday wishes to Ab Martin. His birthday was celebrated Tuesday, Jan. 16. . . . SYMPATHY is extended to Mr. and Mrs. William Kellermeier in the death of her father. . . . HELLO: Paul Noble was calling on friends in Bldg. 18 Monday. I tried to insist that he help me out by writing one of his famous poems for this column, but he seemed to be too busy at the moment. . . . WELCOME is extended to Joy Nolan and Donna Passwater, who are newcomers to the Data Bureau, Bldg. 18-5. . . . KATHRYN TURNEY GARTEN presented her summary of "One Big Family" for the Elex Girls Tuesday. Her interpretation of the story chosen was excellent, as always. . . . I have recently read, "Of all the forces that make for a better world, none is so indispensable, none so powerful, as hope. Without hope men are only half alive. With hope they dream and think and work." We can hope that our world will settle down soon—so that it will be a little easier to hope.

Time is a man's wealth, his capital. If he employs it productively, he builds future security; if he squanders it, he holds no valid claim on security.

The House that Jack Built

People are fond of Jack Belanger, recently appointed Manager of the Large Apparatus Divisions. That's why they make up so many stories about him.

There's the one about his Japanese binoculars. He has a pair of very powerful binoculars which he bought in a pawn shop in Philadelphia. He keeps them on a revolving stand in his living room. Now it just happens that the picture window in his living room looks out across the river at the Knolls. So—people say that Jack Belanger sits comfortably in his living room with his binoculars and reads Guy Suits' mail. Guy is vice president of the research laboratory.

Then there's the one about his monthly report on turbine production. They say he created a very artistic atmosphere of confusion about the number of turbines being produced each month. The way he did it, so the story goes, is that sometimes he'd report, "Five were steamed this month." Then sometimes he'd report, "Five were shipped this month." Everyone became so confused that they began to think of steaming and shipping as interchangeable expressions.

Right then, they say, he took each month to using the term that had the highest figure connected to it. If it had been a bad month and one or two of the turbines had not passed the "steaming test," he'd say, "Five were steamed." If it had been a good month and the two turbines from last month, as well as the five from the current month, had passed the "steaming test," he'd say, "Seven were shipped."

This went on, so the story goes, until Accounting got it all figured out. When they did, they started calling him HONEST JOHN after that Bowery personality, Honest John Kelly, whose conscience once prevented him from making off with a glass eye which a prize-fighter had asked him to hold. . . . We got that story from Accounting, of course.

Strictly A Character

But they don't really have to make up stories about Jack Belanger because he's kind of a fabulous character in his own right.

It was just 32 years ago that he stepped off the Bath-to-Boston boat, dressed in the first matching pants and coat he'd ever had, and set out to get a job at General Electric. He tore his pants on the way down the gangplank but he got the job.

It really wasn't much of a job either. He could make $50 a week in a shipyard in Maine. On test at General Electric, he received $10 a week. But he knew what he wanted and thus began his great battle to get things done.

Facing him on his desk today is a metal plaque which reads, "IT TAKES TOO DAMNED LONG TO GET THINGS DONE AROUND HERE." He sure doesn't need a reminder.

Since he's been at General Electric, he took a course in electricity at Franklin Technical Institute night school and later he took evening courses in English, Economics and Public Speaking at the University of Pennsylvania. The rest of the time he just got in there and pitched.

Won Navy Award

After 18 years of rugged sales work in Philadelphia, he was made wartime head of G-E's Federal and Marine Divisions. In his possession today is the Merit Award of the U. S. Navy's Bureau of Ships and an autographed picture of Vice Admiral Vickers, USN. The autograph reads, "To Jack, who never failed when called upon for extra production throughout the whole war."

Following the war he was made head of the Turbine Divisions. Even after the turbines steamed and turbines shipped had been straightened out, his record read 65 turbines produced in one year. This was seven more turbines than the goal for the year, which was the highest in the history of the Company.

"You can do anything if you plan it out," he says and he really means it.

Both in business and at home, he's a great planner. His plans usually work out, too. Of course, sometimes they don't.

Last year, he planned to be smart about the snow out on the Mohawk River where he lives. He bought a tractor with a snowplow attachment. But there was very little snow. And in the first snow storm he had a very frustrating experience.

It seems the man next door called him at the office and asked if he could borrow the snowplow to do the neighborhood driveway. Jack said, "Of course."

But when he got home, he found that the man next door, in a neighborly fashion, had plowed out the Belanger driveway as well as his own.

He's been a little bitter about the whole thing ever since. He'd looked forward to using that snowplow himself.

Good Neighbor

But sometimes the weather plays right into Jack Belanger's hands. Take the sleet storm last New Year's Eve. As part of his planning, he'd laid in a generator against just such an eventuality as a sleet storm.

When the power went off and stayed off for three days, the Belangers had lights and they kept their furnace going by means of this generator. They also brought a semblance of civilization to their neighbors. They moved their generator around by tractor, hooked it into the various lines, and warmed up the houses, one after the other, right through until early morning.

As you may have gathered, Jack Belanger's planning ability combines nicely with his male love of gadgets. In fact, it might be said that the love of gadgets has sometimes led him to stretch his imagination on possible catastrophes that might happen and that therefore must be prepared for. He is a little vague, for example, about what catastrophe he has in mind in connection with his purchase of a complete outfit to be worn at 20 degrees below zero.

His two garages are full of equipment—two or more of everything, as the legend has it—but he makes good use of it for the most part.

In the first place, there's the bulldozer. It's amazing what a bulldozer combined with Jack Belanger, his bare hands, and possibly a pick and shovel can accomplish.

NO DOG'S LIFE, THIS—Jack with his dog, Irish, fishes behind his house on the banks of the pond he made and stocked himself.

What we're thinking about, of course, is "Burma Road." It's about finished now—a regular road 250 feet long cut into a 90 foot drop going from his lawn straight down to the river. Some of it was blasted but the rest was done by pick and shovel, bare hands and a bulldozer.

Modern Paul Bunyan

Then, of course, there's the tractor. Among the neighbors, Jack Belanger and the tractor are now known as Paul Bunyan and the Blue Ox. It seems that, recently, with the tractor, he pulled down part of a barn for a neighbor, beams and all, in a matter of a very few minutes. The neighbor's wife gave him and the tractor their nickname, and the name has stuck.

The plain fact of the matter is, too, that he likes to work. He has a part-time hired man. But they say that the scene that is typical around the Belanger establishment is the hired man driving the tractor and Jack Belanger shoveling up

(Continued on page 7)

BULLDOZER PILOT—Jack and his tractor on "Burma Road"—a road which he cut into a 95-foot embankment.

General Manager of Large Apparatus Divisions Has Many Talents

By Don Clark

Please stand aside at noon and let "Cyclone" Joe Mettler have the right of way. Since his wife started working, it has been Joe's duty to dash home, boil the water and open a can of beans. . . . Welcome back on the job, Elmer Sauerwein. Elmer didn't mind the treatments at Mayo's, but he couldn't get used to the 30 degrees below zero Minnesota weather. . . . Bob Truelove finally acquired the habit of getting up on time. Now he has to train his driver. . . . One of our well-trained husbands, Charlie Bracht, is having difficulty with his grocery shopping. When checking out in a large supermarket last week, Charlie found several extra, high-priced and uncommon items in his cart. He was alone so he couldn't accuse his wife of putting them in. Very puzzled, Charlie put on his mask and started his detective work. Now, who is his hottest suspect? Elmer Auman, who was in the store at the same time. Could you be guilty, Elmer? Better take your wife along to guard your cart next time, Charlie! . . . Dick Reinking thinks his luck has now run out. He reports for armed service duty Jan. 30. . . . The Marines have rejected Paul Wuttke. The reason? His right arm, once broken, didn't pass the test. Paul will gladly show you how high he could lift his arm both before and after it was broken. . . . Bob Hirschmann found that driving his Buick on three wheels doesn't work. He had put on that extra one in the trunk. Just tighten the lugs next time, Bob. You'd be surprised how well they hold the wheel on. . . . Have you noticed the solitude since that anti-noise ordinance went into effect? Everyone is still happy, too. It not only broke the monotony but also changed some diets—from birdseed to cheerios. . . . After looking at his withholding tax statement, Bill Spieth had one more wish: That they would also tell where the rest of his money went That's easy—you eat, don't you, Bill? . . . Birthday greetings to Fred Nagel who is observing and we hope celebrating the occasion Jan. 22. Apparently the snow didn't hamper anyone in the Jig Bore Section from getting to work as even Cal Bear made it. . . . Robert Roy has redecorated their kitchen with the color of spring green. Bob claims it's a wonderful job and invites us all in to prove it. . . . The Tool Division basketball team is on an uncontrollable rampage tbis year. They have yet to win a game. Here is hoping you reverse your luck, boys. Those two weeks spent in Florida's sunny clime did something to Les Hines. This Indiana weather really has him shivering. . . . Jim Buchheit put in a phone call to a carbide company in Chicago. Imagine his surprise when his call came through. It was a meat market in Chicago's South Side. What was the price of their steak, Jim? . . . Do you know what gives Carl Schlenker that early start on Monday morning? He wears his apron to work. You know, he washes breakfast dishes and doesn't take it off. . . . Don Alcott, Bob Truelove and Joe Mettler made their annual trip to North Side gym to see their favorites, the Zollner Pistons. . . . Jack Schemchorn was also there and met our friend Bernie Byanskie on the way out. Bernie was lost and was asking directions to either State St. or the St. Joe River. We have it straight that the directions given Bernie led him straight to the Syracuse locker room. . . . It has been suggested that Jack Schemehorn install automatic doors on his garage. You can always find room to park there, Jack. We hear they are selling lots of them. Especially to the more elderly people, who find it takes quite an effort to open garage doors. . . . We extend a hearty welcome to Deloras Manning, now in the Production Section. . . . We hope that Helen Karnap's recovery will be complete. It is good to see you again, Helen. . . . Eldon Mee enjoyed several network radio shows in California on his vacation. He was plenty tired of the road blocks on the way back, however. They were looking for that desperado who was on quite a rampage. . . . Cary Baker must have a popular orchestra. At a restaurant the other day, a waitress was ordering new juke box records. She asked the customers for their selections. Clyde Spangler suggested "Harbor Lights played by Cary Baker." The co-operative waitress wrote it down claiming she would get it. We wonder. . . . We heard a very natural thing the other day. Eric Bluhm bought a new Ford. Is it true, Eric? . . . Ed Brink claims that a cop slowed him down on his trip to Chicago last week-end. Coming home he didn't need any officer to help slow him down. The weather took care of that in seven long hours. . . . Self-safety question: Is the floor of my home carpeted with the same variety of candy wrappers that beautify my work area?

Hello, folks, here we are again to tell you our crown in Bldg. 17-3 may be small, but we're a friendly group, and we enjoy chatting together. Here's some of our chatter. . . . We heard by the way of the grapevine that Evelyn Krueger is glad she could go on days. She now has a maid to do her dishes at the factory. . . . We hear Imogene Hinsch is having a very welcome guest. Her boy friend is coming home on a 30-day furlough. Good news, Imogene. . . . Charlie Irwin says he misses the gang since most of the people are working in the far end of the building. Charlie is in the Insulation Section and all alone. Don't worry, Charlie, we'll surprise you one of these days. We'll be back. . . . Betty Collier tells us she is the proud owner of a puppy named Toby. . . . Violet Jung has left us to go back to full-time housekeeping. We'll miss you, Violet. Think of us often. . . . Elenora Schaefer has also left us to take employment elsewhere. We wish you much success Elenora. . . . Ferbia (Susie) Maggard has been the new checker on days. Hope you like your new job, Susie. . . . We wonder how Mary Murphy is enjoying first shift. Just ask her, she'll tell you if she's here. Mary isn't alone either; we all know it is quite an adjustment after having worked for sometime on one shift to change. . . . The girls in the Lead Section tell us they got a letter from Iva Stephan and that she is enjoying her vacation in Florida a lot. . . . Mabel Drummond and her family recently moved into their new home. Mabel, we hope you enjoy it a lot. . . . We wish to extend our sympathy to Anna Kensill and Gertrude Wheat on the death of their father, Mr. Heckman.

Everything comes to him who waits—if he works while he waits.

Jack Belanger

(Continued from page 6)

the dirt to put into the carrier at the back of it.

But the great thing about Jack Belanger we haven't got to yet. It's people. He has a way with people.

Those who know him very well say things like this, "Never mention anything you'd like to have, or anything anyone you know would like to have, in the presence of Jack Belanger. If you do, you'll find it on your doorstep the next morning."

Those who are just beginning to know him say with surprise, "He always carries matches even though he never smokes—for guys like me, I guess—I never can find one."

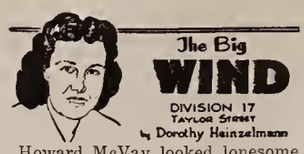
In short, he likes to do things for people.

This characteristic of his comes out very strongly in those fishing expeditions he organizes. Quite by accident a while back, he discovered one spot in the East where salmon can be caught. Every year he inveigles a group of G-E customers and others to spend a few days with him at this spot on the Mirachimi in New Brunswick.

He spends most of the year planning for these expeditions. He shops for foul-weather clothing and potential souvenirs in spots which range all the way from Abercrombie and Fitch to the nearest Army and Navy store. Last year, his souvenir was a Deliar, a small combination weighing and measuring device which makes on-the-spot statistics possible. He has flies made to order and himself sorts them into fly-cases for his guests.

Fisherman's Fisherman

They say that customers travel thousands of miles to fish with Jack Belanger. If the customer stops at Schenectady to look into buying a turbine—and many a one has—they say it's just because Schenectady happens to be on the route to the salmon fishing grounds. . . .



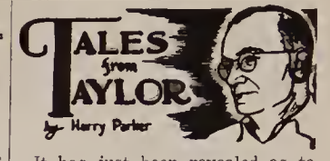
As for Jack, he divides his time on these trips between fishing and taking pictures. Sometimes he's torn between the two hobbies. He has hundreds of feet of colored movies on the fishing trips of the last 12 years and his pictures of the fall salmon jumps are collector's items.

This brings us to another point about Jack Belanger—he's very thorough.

Just how thorough he is, is evidenced by the fact that all the time he was getting to know the customers of the Turbine Divisions, he was getting to know the employees, too.

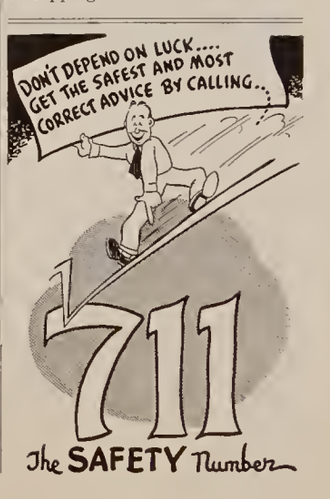
They say that the turbine family is a proud family and that, if they don't like you, you can never really belong. Well, they very thoroughly liked and accepted Jack Belanger. He spent many hours with them on the floor of the turbine shop. He looked forward to this time and they did too. . . .

He's interested in people and all the activities that are connected with them. He comes by this quality naturally. After all, he's from Bath, Maine. In Bath, the winters are long and there's a lot of time to savour all the stories past and present, consider all the adventures that a man can have in life, and make plans.



Howard McVay looked lonesome Wednesday afternoon when a lot of his die casters took off to go rabbit hunting. From what we hear they didn't get any rabbits; only the tame ones Jerry McKown bought. They must have tried to get Federspiel and Orr in shape for the Army, only the two were sitting in the car waiting on the rest of them to get back from hunting. Kessner doesn't think they'll make very good soldiers. . . . Della Zulch is wanting help to answer Norm Wolf's questions. If she knows Norm like we do, she'll have to have help. . . . We're glad to have Arveda Neal back with us again after an illness and hope she'll be in good health for a long while. . . . When Ernie Raypole was asked how he bowled Friday night he said the team won all three games. After all, Ernie, you can't always be lucky. . . . Nora Dudgeon must have found that piano player in Berne over the week-end. She called Rose Liby and said she's stranded. Really, Nora, the show wasn't that bad, was it. . . . Lela Line celebrated her birthday Jan. 13. When asked if it was lucky, she says she was also married on the 13th. We think she was asking for bad luck. . . . Marvin VanSkyock and Bob Federspiel would like to know why Wilbur Scott didn't show up Saturday night. Scotty, you had better start thinking up a good one and don't blame it all on your wife. . . . We also wish a speedy recovery for Dorothy Heinzelmann, who has been on the sick list for quite some time. Hurry back Dorothy, we really miss you, especially your "ghost writer."

Long time no see, kiddies, but you know they say that no news is good news. Don't fret, we're still around waiting for that extra bit of dirt. . . . Gas masks were in order when Joe Coughlin came into the office with a new pipe (a Christmas present from his sister in Germany). It's one of those pipes that's held together with a string, and you've really missed something if you haven't seen Joe trying to put it together when it falls apart. I'm waiting for the day when it decides to fall apart when Joe's smoking it. . . . A few weeks ago, Avenel Stanton came into the office with—a brand new hairdo—and bangs. Your reporter was not alone in thinking that this was "just a passing fancy." But, despite everything it looks like it's here to stay. . . . Our floor sitters club has a new member, Bob Triplett. We're still wondering how Bob could hit the floor without making a sound. . . . DON'T YOU WISH THAT you could whistle like Ginny Winegart. . . . AND AREN'T YOU GLAD YOU DON'T have Joe Behm's problems in allocating. . . . And how's about this—Cy Stonehill as our 1951 Calendar Boy? . . . Heap big chief Schoor, squaw and papoose of the famous Chicagoan Tribe have moved into their new tepee in Indian Village. . . . LIGHTNING HAS STRUCK TWICE IN THE SAME SPOT: Frank Ondrovik's on another diet.



The future is a convenient place for dreams.

It has just been revealed as to why there was such a shortage of the WORKS NEWS a couple of weeks ago. It seems that this publication carried an article accompanied by a picture of Ora Goff being presented with his 30th year certificate. The presentation was made by the usual dignitaries of his division. Now Kenny Thompson, who holds Ora in high esteem, went so far as to shave off that straggling mustache of his so as to resemble as much as possible one of the high brass. So delighted was Mr. Goff over the article and picture that he scooped up a whole arm load of this issue and took them home to send to his out-of-town friends. . . . Ed Moodie, who always carries his lunch, eats in the locker room. After the consuming operation is over, he nonchalantly strolls into the cafeteria, pinches a handful of toothpicks off of the cashier's desk, then saunters out and down the aisle with one of them in his mouth. By this act, he gives the public the impression that he had just devoured a hearty meal in this eating establishment. . . . Jimmy Sternberger, who has been with us for quite some time, took leave of us last week for his first love, the Large Motor and Generator Division. We enjoyed his association and regret very much his leaving. . . . A lot of us are inclined to think that we are soon forgotten after leaving a division where we have been employed for some time, but this is not true. Take for instance our pensioners; we here at the plant do miss them and often think of them. Some of them show up occasionally. Eldon Slater and Charles Masel call upon us quite frequently, and we certainly are glad to have them. Now there is our old friend Field Marshal Conrad Hohnholz, who never comes to see us, and we would certainly be delighted to have a call from him. . . . Our hot shot bowling team, comprised of Ace Sternberger, Paul (Whiz) Wilcoxson, George (Total Loss) Cowan, Omar (Low Pressure) Shinn and Tom (Big Flop) Cowan, lost the first half championship by two games. They have gone into high gear at the onset of the second half and so far are making a good showing. If they continue their present stride, they stand a good chance of copping off the second half title.

Toothpick Customer

MEDICAL MEMOS.....

By Mary Heymann

The column this week is written by a guest writer. Mary has what is known as a columnist's delirum—or what do you do when you have no news! Seriously though, it is hard to dig up news without some help from the rest of us. Although Mary has been doing a swell job, she would appreciate anything newsworthy you could report each week. . . . A week or so ago, it was reported in this column that the Frybacks have a new Chrysler. Well, it seems Minnie hasn't driven a car since the "flivver" days. Since she goes on pension soon, and plans to do some "gadding about," she is learning to drive the new car. If you should see a green Chrysler with slightly curled fenders and dented radiator, it isn't the Fryback's. Minnie will be a good driver, we know. . . . Speaking of driving, there is one individual in our section who is practically an expert on applying for driver's permits to learn to drive. It seems she just never gets any further than that. Maybe you could take some lessons from Minnie, Berneta! . . . Mae Mulvane was ill last week with a severe cold. . . . During this awful winter with its rain and melting snow causing the streets and sidewalks to be so messy, it sometimes just doesn't seem worthwhile to get all dressed up. Ask Mary Heymann! It seems she was downtown one day recently, all decked out in a crisp, clean uniform, hat and sparkling white shoes (she had even washed her shoe laces) when a nasty old truck hit a mud puddle next to the curb on which she was standing, and splashed her from head to toe. The ironic part of this story is that she was on her way to a class she instructs on the subject "Personal Hygiene"! Maybe no one noticed, Mary.

Guest Editor

"Expression"

Expression is the means we use,
To transfer thought and feeling
And just a single word or phrase
Is often quite revealing.
Some people think the Cuss Words
Sound more or less dramatic
While others use the milder terms
To make their speech emphatic.
A woman will exclaim, "Oh My",
"How awful", and "Oh Dear".
Or simply close her eyes and scream,
That is, if men are near.
A High School boy to show surprise
Will say, "Hot dog", or "Wow".
But, if he has to mow the lawn,
He'll grumble, "Holy Cow".
Some fellows like to say "By George".
And some perfer, "By Gum".
While others like, "By Cracky".
And "By Gosh" is used by some.
"Bologna", you recall was used
By Alfred Smith, deceased.
I often say, "By Golly"
But my choice is, "Judas Priest".
There's "Holy Smoke"; and "Holy Pete"
And "Holy Moses" too.
There's "What the Heck" and "Criminee"
To mention just a few.
But here's the man who takes the prize
To rhyme, let's call him Kunkle.
Because when he's surprised, he says,
"Well, I'm a Monkey's Uncle."

—W. L. Whonsetler

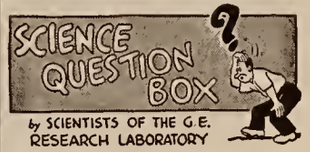
IN THE NECK: Our new test engineer Bemis Tatem, from Elizabethton, Tenn., is having a style fad of his own. It's a bandage around the neck to replace the customary necktie, but the catch is that there's a carbuncle under the bandage. . . . GODS ON VACATION: Charlie Koomjohn's good luck gods deserted him during a recent poker game. They have served you very faithfully in the past, but probably got tired and took a rest, Charlie. . . . IMPACT TEST: . . . Jimmy Templeton says, as he pounds his erasing machine on the desk, "It's a good little eraser, but it needs coaxing now and then." Well Jimmy's eraser will be even better—soon's it gets out of the repair shop. . . . EAT TO LIVE OR, LIVE TO EAT: "Eat to live or live to eat is the question," asked Doran Hershberger after he ate his lunch he brought from home and then received a phone call that he was requested to attend a luncheon. . . . HAPPY BIRTHDAY: Happy birthday to Lydia Wilkening, Jan. 19. Belated birthday greetings to Betty Puff, Jan. 7. . . . UNLIKE SOCKS: Boy, your socks don't match. Paul Motter was seen Friday wearing one brown and one wine sock. . . . BIG CAKE: What's nicer than one birthday; yep, two birthdays. Thanks, Tom and Dee, for that great big cake. . . . CORRECTION PLEASE: Toby Tyler, cross my heart when the news left my desk, I swear I had it straight that you were the proud owner of a brand new Coronet. Somewhere along the line it got changed to a cornet. We know you have lots of what it takes to blow one of those things, but what we actually meant to get across to the public is that you have a brand new Dodge Coronet. There! (Linotype operator's Note: It's all my fault, thought you meant a cornet —I'm sorry!) . . . Mary Ellen Duer and Forrie Carlson were the honor guests at a party at the Squares Club, Thursday evening. I hope we can all say when we read this, "we had a very good time." . . . We'll report more on this next week. . . . Today we bid Mary Ellen Duer, good bye, and we know you will enjoy being a fulltime housewife, with a brand new house, brand new stove, refrigerator, and new things all over the house, brand new furniture and most of all that husband. Who wouldn't be on top of the world? Forrie will keep us advised. Train him early is our advice. (Forrie, you know we are just kidding.) . . . Well, woddya know—three more birthdays coming up. Happy birthday to Bill Pringle, Jan. 23, and Harry Gebfert and Harold Struver on Jan. 24. . . . CONGRATS: Congratulations to Bob Wichstrom, whom the stork blessed with 6 lbs. 12 oz. Christopher Glenn. . . . GOOD TIME: Ken Whearley must have enjoyed his vacation in the Sunny South from the healthy glow radiating from behind his specs.

Belated Birthday

Rovings in

BLDG. 17-2

By Bob Griffin



Our former MBA secretary, Jeanette Blough, has asked that I inform you that she no longer holds the office. Several people have asked for application blanks, brought bills, etc., lately for which she has neither the material nor the authority to satisfy their requests. The officers who were victorious in the recent election were Chairman, Archie Evans, and Secretary, Janet Redding, Bldg. 2-2. . . . Our good friend Herbie Langer took a trip to Chicago Thursday, Jan. 11, at the request of the United States Navy. As usual, he's a disgustingly healthy specimen. By the way, kids, ask Herbie about his newly acquired short cut method to wealth. . . . Max Fielitz has been informed that he was chosen to serve on the Grand Jury in the next session. He wishes to inform our two unmarried juvenile delinquents to be especially careful that their paths do not cross his in the line of duty. . . .In the last meeting of the Safety Committee, The Good Drivers Program for High School Children was explained. This program is being sponsored by the County and City Police Departments, the Chamber of Commerce and the Fort Wayne Engineers Club. If you have children eligible for this program, please co-operate, as safety is not just our business; it's everybody's business. Now I wonder. Do you suppose we could enroll Earl (I-seen-a-blonde) Sweeney. . . . It has been conjectured that Bob Rehrer's wife, Daisy, must be putting all of those hot peppers in his lunch everyday with an idea other than pleasing his palate. If this be the case, Daisy, Bob isn't cooperating as he is always giving them away and then offering a cup of hot coffee to ease the burn. Nice fellow. . . . Speaking of something hot reminds me that Vern Castle would like to find something hot enough to fire a cigarette that wouldn't disappear. He can't seem to keep matches or lighter long enough to make it worth while putting them out on his desk. . . . It has been reported that Bob Esterline is no mean purveyer of the necessary rudimentary directions required to guide the affable couples through difficult but graceful motions of the square dance. (Oh, Shades of Noah Webster) Bob, how about breaking in the new floor on the north end of the building with a dance? . . . One interesting item reared its ugly head in the Interesting Item Department this week: Robert Black has an unusual hobby he is letting get the best of him. He is attempting to collect a complete set of coins by dates. (I can't even keep them long enough to read the dates.) So if he suddenly accosts you and asks for your change, don't run for the nearest gendarme, but hand it over. All of it, don't hold back; he promises to return value for value. I understand he also has time between counting his money to experiment with radio circuits. He's a very versatile guy.

New Juror

TWO RETIRE FROM BLDG. 17-3—There was a double retirement in FHP Motor Div. 16 recently. Clara Dixon, (left), and Lilly Schoch, (right), left Jan. 1 after seven years of service each. On their last day, Mesdames Dixon and Schoch were honored at a luncheon and received several gifts from their co-workers. Their foreman, Walter Kryder is extending his best wishes to them in the picture above.

Q. How do astronomers measure the distances to the stars?

A. Once a year the Earth revolves around the Sun, tracing out an orbit which is almost circular and about 186,000,000 miles in diameter. Thus, our position now is about this far away from where we were six months ago, and this shift is enough to cause a slight displacement of the nearer stars against the background of more distant bodies. Astronomers call this displacement "parallax," and it is greater the nearer the star. By accurately measuring and comparing photographs of the stars, taken six months apart, the parallax may be found, and from it the distance is calculated.

HONORED AT RETIREMENT—Sarah Smith, (center foreground), was honored at a potluck luncheon on the occasion of her retirement. Her friends in Bldg. 26-3 also gave Mrs. Smith a purse as a retirement gift. Her foreman, Al Rieman, is shown congratulating her while her co-workers look on.

"Lost" and "Found" articles must be cleared through the Plant Protection office, Bldg. 10-2, or the Plant receptionist, who will place the Ad-let and otherwise advertise the article.

Only one ad per employee may be inserted. Each ad must be limited to 20 words and cannot be repeated. All articles mentioned must be personal property of the employee. Ad will not be accepted unless accompanied by the name, pay number, and division of the employee. No works building or telephone number may appear in ad, only the home telephone number or address.

Send all ads to WORKS NEWS office, Bldg. 18-3.

No ad will be received over the telephone.

CLOSING DATE

Monday Noon, January 22, 1951

LOST AND FOUND

LOST—Silver chain which has rose on it with white petals. Lost between corner Taylor and Broadway C-E.

LOST—Brown leather billfold, with drivers' license, social security card, other papers and $45 in cash.

FOUND—Rhinestone necklace. Found on west side of Broadway.

FOUND—Black cloth pocketbook. Found in front of Bldg. 18-Gate.

FOUND—Green wool glove with embroidery work on top; silk scarf with flowers and brown border; one key. All items were found at Taylor St.

FOR SALE

DRY CHERRY FIREPLACE WOOD—Has wonderful odor. H-59086.

MEN'S SHOE HOCKEY ICE SKATES—Size 10. H-39642.

G-E MONITOR TOP REFRICERATOR—7.3 cu. ft., good condition. H-57982.

ST. MARY'S BLANKET COAT—For 9 year old girl; sunlamp never used. A-95064.

TWO PAIRS OF LINED HAMMERED SATIN DRAPES—Like new; two brass table lamps with red shades. H-76322.

CURTAIN STRETCHER—4 ft. x 8 ft. Quaker, $2. H-15604.

ABC AGITATOR WASHER—Cheap and guaranteed. E-36944.

1935 PONTIAC SIX—New Goodrich Silvertown tires, new battery, radio and heater, completely overhauled, A-1 condition and appearance, $200 cash. H-64962.

1947 OLDSMOBILE 98 SEDAN—Or 1948 Chevrolet Fleetline sedan, both have heater and radio. H-78180.

BOY'S TOPCOAT—Green corduroy sport jacket, both size 16; new Magic Defroster. H-67845.

PORTABLE ELECTRIC RECORD PLAYER—78 rpm, with permanent needle. A-75502.

DIAMOND RING—Wedding band to match. E-3030.

TOP COAT—Size 38-40, gray, good condition, $8. 2408 S. Wayne Ave.

1950 CHRYSLER RADIO—Eight tube, $50, new. E-68514.

NORWEGIAN BLUE FOX FUR COAT—Excellent condition, size 12, $50. A-97533.

BABY BED—Antique china cupboard with round glass front, embroidered white taffeta wedding dress. H-82286.

RUG—9x12, light maroon figured, $70, pad included, both like new. E-56672 after 4:30 p.m.

GAS RANGE—Oven and broiler in excellent condition, priced to sell. H-35604.

MAPLE UPHOLSTERED SOFA—Good condition, $35. H-70743.

LADIES' GRAY COAT—With mink collar, ¾ length, size 15, hat to match, both in perfect condition. H-55561.

ONE FORK AND ONE KNIFE—Of Fine Arts sterling silverware, Processional pattern, like new, $10. H-65884.

WANTED

LADY TO CARE FOR 16 MO. OLD CHILD—While mother works. E-66038 evenings.

UNFURNISHED TWO BEDROOM HOUSE OR LOWER APARTMENT—Employed couple with baby. Kathleen Webb, Ext. 415 or 646.

3-4 ROOM HOUSE OR APARTMENT—Unfurnished, preferably near Broadway plant, electric stove outlet, couple only. A-1716.

FOR RENT

SLEEPING ROOM IN PRIVATE HOME—Near bus line, prefer G-E employee, ½ square from Broadway bus, one or two gentlemen. H-19281 or 1136 Packard.

FOUR-ROOM UNFURNISHED UPPER APARTMENT—Private entrance and bath, utilities furnished, southeast, available Feb. 1. H-90745.

TRANSPORTATION

WANTS RIDE—To Taylor St. plant from 2 mi. south of Poe on Winchester Road. Fredia Meyer, works in FHP Div. 17 for H. McVay from 6:48-3:13. A-16642 or Extension 2617.

WANTS RIDE—From Broadway plant to Wildrose Addition (vicinity of Wayne Trace and Oxford) Henrietta Jimison works in Bldg. 6-4 from 7-3:30. Extension 2629.

WANTS RIDE—From 2 mi. west of Allen-Whitley County lines on State Road 14. Bonnie Coodrich works in Bldg. 6-4 from 3:30-11:43 for Carl Metker.

WANTS RIDERS—From near Etna or Larwill to Taylor St. Esther Water works in FHP Div. 17 from 6:48-3:18. Extension 2526 or 2527 or Etna 312.

We have decided after the taste of last week-end's winter weather, it has developed into an eight course meal by now. We are ready for dessert and the beginning of spring. . . . Rose Heche has gone to Florida for three weeks. . . . Clara Dixon, who left us for a life of ease, has gone to California for an indefinite stay. Aren't they the lucky ones. . . . Just before Christmas a group of Virginia Pelz's coworkers sent a Christmas greeting and notes of cheer to her son, Bob, who is stationed in Korea. Last week the girls received short letters from Bob. He had been so glad to hear from them. They in turn were glad to hear from him. It was such a nice thought. I wonder why we don't do more of it. Do you know of anyone in the service? Drop him or her a line. They will appreciate it. Bob was a former G-E employee, having worked in Bldg. 26-B and Bldg. 4-1. . . . We noticed that Jesse Wilcoxson has joined the "I Gotta New Car" Club. It's a Ford. . . . We have just lots of birthdays this week. It's a happy birthday to Grace Jones, Elizabeth Wert, Frances Eckrote, Juanita Likens, Mildred Melvin and Walter Kryder. May you have many more of them. . . . Does your TV set come in clear? Ask Delbert Thomas about having to wipe off the screen during the Joe Louis fight. . . . Dorothy Johnson must be anxious for daylight saving time, or getting in practice for it. She got up and had breakfast by 5 a.m., which is too early to come to work. . . . If you want to see some fast moving, watch Harold Bowker go for the time clock when the whistle blows calling us back to work at noon. . . . Sarah Meagher, we have a cure-all for you. It's good for anything from corns to dandruff. Try "Hadacol." . . . Luella Masson is really "safety-minded." She took no chances on her pressure cooker. She let cold water run over it for five minutes before removing the cover, and had to reheat the meat again. . . . We're sorry to see Boh Montgomery leave us. He has gone to Bldg. 6-4. Also Mary Garrett. She has gone to Bldg. 26-4. We hope that Mary's daughter is better after her recent operation. . . . Clara Thomas was in Tennessee a week taking care of her parents who are both ill. We hope they are on the "improved" list. . . . We're sorry to hear Bob Walt's mother is ill too; also that Jack Resler's mother and Lewie Hoffman's wife had the misfortune of falling. Lewie's wife works in Bldg. 4-3. Hope they are all improving. . . . Our sincerest sympathy to Anne Kensill and Gertrude Wheat in the death of their father.

Early Bird

KNOW SOMETHING: In June, 1949 Wimpy Lemper bought a brand new Ford which was cleaned and washed to perfection, but you know something? That was the last time it was washed until last Friday, which was Jan. 12, 1951. All of the other 18 months the natural elements had to take care of this poor forgotten Ford. . . . BETTER LATE THAN NEVER: While eating our lunch at the cafeteria the other day, Bill Rohe remarked that he never knew until today why he has always been broke in the past 46 years. Can anyone guess? Well then we'll tell you, he found a hole in his pocket. Here's another one our good friend Bill tells us. He bought a set of new spark plugs for that old vintage Plymouth and that ever since he did he has to shut off the ignition at least a block away from where he wants to park. The old bus has got so much energy and spunk it wants to keep right on going. Just like Bill. . . . IF YOU CAN'T SPELL: Don't write. The other day someone wrote a name on the bulletin board which was mispelled. Frank Sasser anxious to find out who did the scribbling stopped everyone whom he suspected and asked them to spell the name "Brower." All went well until he stopped Pappy Rasor, Sr., and asked him to spell the name which he spelled "Broer." That was exactly as it was on the board. That's one way to catch them, Frank. . . . HARVEY AND WILLIS BREEZE: Brothers both bought brand new Chevies. They now spend so much time telling us the good shape their trade-ins were in that we actually believe they would rather have the old ones instead of the new. Remember, boys, the old saying, "Never give up an old friend just to make a new one." . . . FLASH: Latest addition to our Grandpa's Club is Virgil Nash. Congratulations, Vig., old boy.

Insulation News

Greetings from a Marshmallow World! It would SEEM that everyone in the Insulation Division has been minding their own business in this new year since we have had little to report for several weeks. (We use the expression loosely.) However, a little newsworthy gossip leaks out occasionally. Agnes Ryan, from all reports, had a marvelous New Year's week-end trip doing the Chicago spots, notably the Ice Revue. Breakfast at a swank restaurant was a real high spot. She found out she was "eating pretty high up on the 'hawg'" when a measly seven strips of bacon tallied $11.70, not to mention the pastry she wanted to eat. . . . Eddie Opliger is now an Air Force trainee at Lockland Air Force Base in San Antonio, Texas. The Mica Section misses Eddie. All good wishes go with him as he serves his country. . . . Richard Dean Saaf, son of Carl Saaf, is a recent recruit to the Navy. . . . The balmy breezes of Key West, Fla., are beckoning to Paul and Kathryn Ragan. They leave today. Don't soak up too much Florida sunshine, Kathryn, and come back here to make us all jealous of a glorious tan. . . . We promisd a long time ago to give you a nail by nail progress report on the Elmer Bradley's new house but between one nail and the next the progress was slow for awhile. Well, by now, we are happy to say that things are picking up and the cupboard handles are on, the windows have been measured for blinds, and Elmer is most hopeful for an early move. He won't get to beat Al LeFevra because Al moved Baby Cathy and Betty in their dream home just before Christmas. Must be grand. The next phase of remodeling job that Jean Tindall and her husband are contemplating is changing their path to a bath. Well, that's what we live and work for—to realize one dream and start dreaming on a new one. Sweet dreams, kiddies. . . . Ray Fisher reports his son is stationed at Camp Gordon, Ga. He just finished his basic training in the Signal Corps.

Greetings To The Party Raiser

There you lie upon your bed,
Throat so dry and throbbing head.
Bloodshot eyes and body sore
The morning after the night before.
Can't eat nothin', got no pep.
Lost your money, lost your hep.
Can't git up, you feel so bad.
Boy! what a wonderful time you had Never felt so bad before,
Even your darned old tongue is sore.
When you sneeze you still taste gin.
Gosh, what a party must've been.
Can't remember where you went,
Don't know where your time was spent.
A WOW of a party it must've been,
For look at the h— va shape you're in.

WAS IT WORTH THE TRIP?—Bertha Burnau could not have been very hungry last Monday as she walked all the way to the cafeteria just to get a dish of raspberries. Was it worth the trip, Bertha, or did you go just to be company for someone else? . . . LAUNDRY BUSINESS IS PICKING UP! Linnie (Cing May Boy) Rodemaker certainly gets himself into some fine get-ups lately. Now how much finer can you get than to get into the nylon washing business? He was even displaying his samples on a clothesline near his bench the other day. . . .

No Tickee, No Washee

CHEAP AT HALF PRICE—Lloyd Runyon wants to seal his friendship to Bob Wheeler for $1, or if Bob buys the morning paper every day. At least Bob found out one thing, he can't insult Lloyd and at the same time read his paper. . . . Anyone interested in getting a real high class shoe shine, just see Paul Winters. He was really sporting a dandy the other day. . . . Did Ray Schuckel find out from his telephone call to Dal Smith last Saturday evening, just what time the ball game started. My how proud can you get? The Pistons playing New Haven? . . . Why Be Partial?—The man with social position may be looking for another stepping stone rather than a friend. May good come to the man whose approach to people shows no partiality. His friendships will be more genuine, his kindness more sincere, his stature more manlike. . . . THOUGHT FOR ALL THIS WEEK: Brute force never settles anything, it only breeds resentment and hatred. . . . In times such as these it is urgent to grasp at any proposal that seems to pronounce victory. We strive to keep our eyes on the ultimate goal. We ought to take advantage of every move that may give us an added guarantee of peace. When we speak of government, we are not thinking of any scheme of linking the church with agencies or organizations of political power. There is no secure basis for lasting peace except as the life of the world comes to be regulated by the principals taught in the New Testament and as men come to deal with their neighbors in the true spirit. Here is where we can take hold and lift. We can make sure that so far as our lives are concerned, the "Government" of the Lord shall have full control.

I believe everyone will surely remember our "Winter Wonderland" we had Monday morning. Can anyone see such beauty of nature and yet not believe in God? . . . We have our troubles in our office. Take Jeanie Smith for instance. She worried all last week as to what to wear to a convention in Detroit. We girls tried to help her. Some said, "Why not bear bluejeans?" "Better yet, go formal." Of all these suggestions, she chose none. Anyway, there was plenty of ice, so Jeanie stayed home. . . . The "young set" in our office has been planning a sleigh ride since last December, but to no avail. Anyway, they get a lot of talking done, and who knows, maybe this summer they will have a picnic planned. . . . We are going to miss our Elex contact girl, Marilyn Richards, who was transferred to Bldg. 2-2. We gave her a pretty gift; and she in turn treated us with plenty of "avoirdupois," Candy, I mean. . . . There have been plenty of parties around here too. Last week, the girls were invited to a party at my home and this week another one at the home of Jo Franklin. The girls seemed to enjoy them too. . . . I believe Spring is on its way. Pretty new dresses and smart new suits are being worn here in the office. It's good for the morale, too. . . . Edith Robertson has also left us for a while. Grace Taylor is "taking over" Edith's work. She is quite capable, so everything hums right along. . . . There's not much news this week. Snowed in, I guess. Cheerio.

When is a bargain not a bargain? When you drop the bottle before you get home. For proof, see the clean spot in the hall where the floor was bathed with hand lotion. (Anyone who saw Gerry's red hair flashing Friday afternoon, can draw their own conclusions.—Typist, another redhead). . . . Charlie Brown doesn't need to hide behind a large G-E fiscal calendar anymore. The clear glass door in front of his desk was replaced by a frosted partition. The door was placed on Chuggy Mungovan's office. The rumor is that Chuggy needed to be put in a cage. They added a drafting board so Chuggy could draw pictures. . . . Our new girl working for Red Kissell in the Sales Office, is none other than Joan Clibon. Sorry, fellows, don't know her phone number. . . . Frederick J. DeVeny, draftsman, left recently for the Navy—Ship Ahoy. . . . Uncle Sam is hot on the trail of Carl Nagel, who works in our Drafting Section. . . . Attention all employees: Anyone knowing the whereabouts of a good news item in Bldg. 31-2 please contact or send the writeup to Yours Truly.

THE GRAPEVINE

DIVISIONS 15 & 20

by Helen Burran

The other day Roy Berdelman bought two dozen eggs, and they mysteriously disappeared. Later in the day several of the boys were eating hard boiled eggs. Roy says he has a line on who-dun-it, but not enough evidence to convict him. . . . Lois Waterson still can't figure out how the Huntertown Wildcats lost to the Leo Lions. Lois says, "They sure were strangers around the basket." Someone said she even went out on the court after the game to see if the basket had a lid on it. Well, Lois, they can't win them all. Anyway, our crystal ball predicts Leo or New Haven to win the county tournament. . . . Ever since Ray Pflueger received permission from his wife, Alice, to go ice fishing on Saturdays, he has been working. Tough luck, Ray! . . . Our reporter needs a bigger and better mouse trap. A little mouse got caught by its nose in the one she has now, and pushed the trap out of the office and down the aisle. . . . Galen Kreig and Lois Waterson were re-elected for their second term as chairman and secretary of the MBA. If anyone breaks any bones, see either Galen or Lois. They will fix you up. . . . We wonder why Jane Crismore watches the fellows so closely when they go by. Could it be she is afraid they have a mouse to put in her gloves? . . . Russell Meeks was seen limping around one day. He decided to have a looksee and found a bobby pin in his shoe. Now how did that get in there, Russell? . . . George Hahn is going to the Keenan Hotel to answer an advertisement seen in the paper. It is on "How to Grow Hair on Top of your Head." . . . Art Bushing walked across the street in Decatur the other night and ran into a bicycle. Where was your mind, Art? . . . Roy Berdelman made a nice catch at Houghton lake in Michigan last week-end. Galen Krieg, Howard Huffman, George Bear, Clarence Reiter and Sam Sroufe, our fireside fishermen, are waiting for spring thaws and then summer fishing. . . . Sorry we don't have anything on Avery Spayde this week. Maybe we can find something out for next week. . . . We wish to extend our sympathy to Fred Pyle in the death of his mother.

Huntertown Fan

Kindling Orders Being Accepted

Kindling orders will be taken at the Employees' Stores, Bldg. 8-1 and Taylor St., beginning Monday, Jan. 22, Ray L. Fischbach, Store Supervisor, has announced.

RECEIVES GIFT AT RETIREMENT—George Kline, (center), is shown opening his retirement gift from his co-workers in Bldg. 4-5. Mr. Kline last worked Dec. 29 and retired after 39 years of employment at General Electric.

G-E GI's

The following are recently-received addresses of G-E employees who are now serving in the Armed Forces:

Cpl. Robert E. Dimick
A Co. Marine Bar. Naval Base 128 c/o FPO
San Francisco, Calif.

Robert Doelling US 55049883
Co. B, 502 Inf.
Camp Breckinridge, Ky.

Pvt. Charlotte D. Drewett
WA-8502919
WAC Det. 6003 ASU
Ft. Ord, Calif.

Cpl. Lois M. Drewett WR-514418
WAC Det. 5017 ASU
Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo.

Ens. W. C. Dutton U. S. N. R.
ATB
Ocracoke, N. C.

Lt. Kenneth D. Farber O-1647980
1st. Lt., Sig. C.
Bourbon, Ind.

Cpl. Lou Gallaway WA-8205102
C Co. WAC 7774 Sig. Bn.
APO 403 c/o Postmaster
New York, N. Y.

R. E. Gebert
5619 La Jolla St.
La Jolla, Calif.

Lt. Jack H. Horn
201 Archway
Austin, Texas

Pfc. W. H. Hunn 1104990
Hdqs. Co. 1st Inf. Training Bn.
Tent Camp No. 1, Camp Pendleton
Oceanside, Calif.

T/Sgt. Glenn C. Keever 35538816
601 Tac. Con. Sqd.
APO 171 c/o Postmaster
New York, N. Y.

S/Sgt. Vernon Reddin AF35558480
618th ACWS
APO 75-1, c/o Postmaster
San Francisco, Calif.

James E. Shanyfelt BM 3 293-7482
USS Gen. A. E. Anderson AP-111
1st. Div., c/o FPO
San Francisco, Calif.

Pfc. Charlotte E. Stanford
WR-514441
WAC Det. 5015 ASU
Camp Atterbury, Ind.

Pvt. John E. Stoody 1065486
2nd Rec. Bn. Plt. 282
MCRD
Parris Island, S. C.

Cpl. Harry Mitchel 35244071
212 W. Baltimore St.
Garrett, Ind.

A FINE KETTLE OF FISH—Ice, snow and sub-zero weather don't stop G-E ice fishermen like W. H. Kellermeier, Bldg. 18-4. This peculiar brand of sportsman just loves to drive hundreds of miles on bad roads to spend a week-end shivering on a cake of ice. The boys will endure any hardship for a chance to practice their winter angling techniques. As for the fish, any season's the same to them; they usually land in the freeze chest anyway. The drawing, shown here, was "conjured up" by some of Mr. Kellermeier's huddies with the help of a company artist.

PENSIONER PARADE

Murry C. Cunningham is a man of many interests. He is occupied at the present with his work as a furrier and with machine work. He still enjoys his hobbies of baseball and horseback riding, and is planning a trip to Nevada or a return to Texas in the not too distant future. . . . Bob Bradfield, of Fremont, writes: "I greatly appreciate my pension treasure—the memory of the fine people I met at the G-E. Sometimes I 'set and think, and sometimes just set.' I tend a small flock of sheep, drink from the Fountain of Youth (goat's milk) and raise some garden groceries. I might recommend a cheerful motto of living: Laugh with the world if you can—and at it if you can't. Unfortunately, the present plight and future destiny of the world and especially my own country, are no laughing matter." . . . Daily walks and reading keep John B. Grosjean occupied in the wintertime. Comes summer, he has his garden and fishing to look forward to. . . . Christine Cramotte is now living in Sherwood, O. . . . Lillie A. Benz is enjoying the beautiful weather in California, where the poinsettias are in full bloom. She took an interesting side trip over the holidays through the San Bernardino mountains, stopping to see Arrowhead Springs and Big Bear Lake. . . . We were sorry to learn that William C. Woodward has been ill for three months. A very speedy recovery is wished for him by all of his friends.

Happy birthday, Margaret Rollins. Why were you afraid to cut the cake, Margaret? Was it because of the cardboard cake that was given to Bob Born? Anyhow, the two cakes were lovely and very good. . . . Elsie Jones had an embarrassing moment when she picked up Eva Hazlett's purse by mistake. . . . Mabel Moser brought in some chocolate cup cakes. We hear they were very good. . . . Mae Boyce went rolling down the bowling alley the other day instead of the ball. It was in the rack. . . . Willie Jones caught his nose on fire when he was lighting a cigarette. . . . We see that Frank Cox is sporting a new red Kaiser with red upholstering and all the trimmings. . . . A little bird told us that when Charles Drury and Velora went to Ohio visiting, they took along their good clothes to go to church. It seems as though Charles forgot a very essential part of his suit. . . . Kenneth Beber celebrated his birthday and was given a box of gifts from his fellow-workers. . . . Velora and Charles Drury are having open house next Sunday, Jan. 20, from 1 to 6 p.m. at their home, 5205 Mt. Vernon Park Drive. Everyone is invited.

Telephone monologue: "Say, Dotty, Dad cut my allowance and won't let me have the car, but we could have a nice quiet evening at your - - - hello . . . hello . . ."

NEW G-E CLUB CHAIRMAN HOLDS POW-WOW—Earl Stauffer recently appointed G-E Club publicity chairman, is shown (writing) as he outlined a publicity program with other Club chairmen. Shown seated l-r are Frank Newport, boxing chairman; Ralph Heminger, entertainment; Mr. Stauffer, and Lou Rotterman, WORKS NEWS editor. Standing l-r are Les Shroyer, bowling; Denton Manecke, golf, and Erv Huth, athletic chairman.

NEW BOWLERS NOTICE

WANTED—Girls to make up Booster Teams for the Women's State Tournament to be held in Fort Wayne this March.

Any girl who has never bowled in a sanctioned league, or who has never bowled at all is welcome. Entry fee is $1.60. Teams will have their own prize list. For further information contact:

Voyce Brumbaugh, Bldg. 4-4, phone 2356 or Mrs. Marguerite Stephan, H-8053.

D. S. Heckman Elected Pres. Rod, Gun Club

Douglas S. Heckman was elected president of the G-E Rod and Gun Club at the annual election Tuesday, Jan. 9, at the South Side High School Range.

Other officers chosen at the meeting were Richard J. Poehler, vice president; Kenneth C. Hart, secretary-treasurer, and Ralph N. Wickliffe and Lester B. May, directors. The outgoing president is Oral G. Emrick.

The riflemen ousted the International Harvester Gun Club 1045-1028 in a match held Thursday night, Jan. 11, at the South Side Range.

Tact is when a woman proposes to a man in such a way that he thinks he did it himself.

The Boedekers, Paul and Waneta, held onto first place in the Mixed Doubles Tournament despite the firing of good scores over the week-end. Their total of 1304 was good for a first prize of $30.

Entries came in surprisingly well, with a turnout of 72 couples. Following are the official standings and prize list:

Place		Total	Prize
1	P. Boedeker-W. Boedeker	1304	$30.00
2	W. Summers-L. Weaver	1270	20.00
2	A. Smethers-W. Schuerich	1270	20.00
4	V. Rump-R. Krugh	1249	15.00
5	R. Schulke-B. Lantz	1248	11.50
5	P. Perry-L. Scherer	1248	11.50
7	A. Hardick-E. Hardick	1243	10.00
8	J. Heaston-B. Macque	1237	9.00
9	R. Brown-J. Coudret	1236	8.00
10	G. Taylor-L. Scherer	1236	8.00
11	O. Schelper-Schelper	1229	7.00
12	O. Schelper-M. Satterwaite	1227	7.00
13	R. Brown-M. Munk	1224	5.00
14	G. Satterwaite-W. Williams	1223	5.00
15	R. Guingrich-I. Hebble	1220	5.00
16	B. Dunmire-M. Schelper	1217	4.00
17	G. Vaughn-E. Vaughn	1209	4.00
18	O. Anderson-N. Anderson	1207	4.00

The money can be picked up at the Club counter. Here's hoping your name is in the prize list.

Friday Night Girls League

Virginia Mollet bowled a 516 series on games of 191, 156 and 169. Other high games were rolled by Nellie Wendt, 197; Delores Drewett, 171, and Dorothy Johnson, 173.

Small Motors Bowling League

The Models are still leading the league with six wins and no losses. The Drafting team just didn't have it Wednesday night and Models beat them three games. National Construction is in second place with a five and one record.

The pins were a little hard to get, and there were only two 200 games in the league. H. Miller had 215 for his season's high and Jim Carey had a 203.

Transformer League

The D's are in sole possession of first place this week. They are enjoying a slim one game bulge over the Toys and Watts.

Guess who had the high series this week. Last week's 415 bowler, Homer Meeker, is correct! He had a 527 series which included a 201 count. Mennewish had the night's only other 200 score, a 204.

Gnau seemed to have a little trouble last week, being 80 pins under his average.

All Star League

The All Stars will be back at the Club tomorrow evening. Don Stump is heading the men's division with 14 wins and six losses. E. Kraft and Cec Huffman are just two games back. Believe it or not, Scott, Jr., with a 200 average, threw a 126 game last week. It happens to the best.

Anita Rump is also enjoying a two game bulge in the women's division. Candance Miller is heading the girls' averages with 182.

Sounds From The Alleys

Keghead had a notion to make the Mixed Doubles a backwards tournament and pay off from the bottom up. That's the only way he could have collected.

Don Dimke had the only 600 of the Doubles Tournament, a 601. Liz Scherer's 539 was the highest series rolled by the fairer sex.

The Oscar Schelpers did okay. They each entered twice and collected twice.

Plenty of teams competed last week in the City Tournament with the Squares of the Masonic League showing the way with a 3021 total. SMI of the Specialty Fractional League also broke into the 3000 class with 3008.

Other scores were Small Motor No. 9, 2881; M and N of the Office League, 2855; National Construction, Small Motor League, 2849; Plattners, Interdivision League, 2762; Patrol, Masonic League, 2846; G-E Apparatus, 2821, and the Trowels, Masonic League, 2759.

We noticed the "Old Pro" Walt Mertz bowled in the City Tournament also, but we won't go into the scores rolled.

Tuesday Afternoon Girls League

Winnie Schuerich waxed hot Tuesday and came up with a 200 game. Tommy Williams was close behind with a 194.

Other high games were bowled by Marge Huber, 188; Helen Springer, 176, and Rachel Mounscy, 174.

Office League

With five wins and one loss each, the Amplidynes and C & S teams are tied for first place. Johnny Johnson picked up the 6-7 split just to show off, of course.

Walt Gerke paced the 200 counts with a 221. Other 200 scores were Bill Piercy, 218; Bob (Sore Thumb) Blomker, 213; Oscar Huge, 206; Wendel Miller, 204, and Gil Baker, 202.

Apparatus League

Team No. 8 won the first half of bowling with 31 wins and 17 losses.

The following scores were tallied over a two-week period: Ed Reese led the pack with a 635 series on games of 171, 255, 201. Two hundred games were rolled by Don Dimke, 201, 206 and 210; A. Thompson, 205; E. Meints, 202, Ed Bienz, 209; Dick Horner, 209; Paul Billue, 200 and 200; Marc Junk, 216; Jimmie James, 205; Vic Rump, 201; Bob (Sore Thumb) Blomker, 232; Bob Knepple, 215, and M. Chasey, 201.

by Ray Quinn

With two-thirds of the first part of the Interdivision Basketball League schedule completed, the Squares and Firemen are still in the lead with seven victories and no defeats.

Both Winter St. and the Accounting Division teams have been driving toward the top. Small Motors also is right behind the leaders. The rest of the teams are pretty well strung out with the Tool Division last without a victory. However, Mr. Yentes and his boys are out there giving it the old college try and this writer feels rather proud of the spirit they display.

The games scheduled for Tuesday evening of this week will be played tonight. The standings at this time are as follows:

Standings

	W.	L.
Squares	7	0
Firemen	7	0
Small Motors	5	2
Winter St.	5	2
Accounting	4	3
Fractional	4	3
Developmental	3	4
Transformer	2	5
Test Engineers	2	5
Taylor St.	2	5
Apprentice School	1	6
Tool Division	0	7

OWL BASKETBALL SCHEDULE

Tuesday, Jan. 23

8:30 p.m.....Wildcats vs. Tigers
9:45 p.m.....Cubs vs. Bears
11:00 p.m.....Elks vs. Eagles

The best way to prove you have good judgment is by not relying on it alone.

Team work is very important. Even a banana gets skinned when it leaves the bunch.

MIXED DOUBLES CHAMPS—Paul and Waneta Boedeker marked up a big 1304 total to win the Mixed Doubles Bowling Tournament held Jan. 6 and 13 in G-E Club Alleys. Seventy-two couples participated in the annual event.

E. V. Robin Named Manufacturing Loss Control Representative

The appointment of Elmer V. Robin as Manufacturing Loss Control Representative in FHP Motor Div. 1 has been announced by R. I. Spitler, Division Superintendent.

Elmer V. Robin

Mr. Robin joined General Electric on a Company training program in 1928. He was then assigned to the Meter Department and later to the Tool Room in Bldg. 26-5 as a machine operator. From 1935 to 1938, he served as a foreman in Bldg. 4-4.

He worked in the commutator section from 1940 until 1942, when he transferred to the model shop. He was named foreman of the dynamotor section in 1943, and also served as foreman of the assembly section in Bldg. 19-4 for one year.

He acquired experience in cost reduction while assigned to suggestions work in Bldg. 19-5 and later worked on manufacturing loss and cost reduction in Bldg. 4-4.

In 1949, Mr. Robin joined the repair and return section in Bldg. 4, where he has been employed until his present appointment.

Mr. Robin is married and has one daughter. They reside at 4701 Arlington Ave.

Supervisors Club Plans Army-Navy Football Movie

The Supervisors Club meeting, scheduled for Tuesday, Jan. 23, at 7:30 p.m. in the Key Lanes, will feature a sound film of the Army-Navy football game, W. Robert Blomker, newly-elected club president, has announced.

Highlights of the ceremony surrounding the annual classic will be shown, in addition to the game itself. The North Side High School A Capella Choir will also entertain members with a musical program, and newly-elected officers will be installed.

Milt Ray, Bldg. 19-5, and Mr. Blomker, Bldg. 31-1, are in charge of arrangements.

Apprentice Alumni Announces Schedule Of Social Activities

The following tentative list of Apprentice Alumni Association activities for the first six months of 1951 was announced today by the executive committee:

February—Spring banquet
March—Skating party
April—Industrial tour and smoker
May—Dance
June—Outdoor stag.

Times and places of these events will be announced at later dates.

Wednesday Volleyball Scores

Test Engineers 15-15-15; Drafting 5-13-0.
Taylor St. 15-13-11; Main Office 5-15-10.
Apprentice Machinist 15-15-15; General Tool 7-8-5.
Winter St. 15-15-15; Small Motors 7-3-11.

Three G-E Men Named Chairmen of Chamber Commerce Committee

Three General Electric employees have been named committee chairmen for the coming year by the Fort Wayne Chamber of Commerce.

R. M. Hartigan, Manager of Manufacturing, Large Motor and Generator Divisions, will direct activities for the Agriculture Committee. Jay Greer, Plant Engineer and Superintendent of General Service, has been placed in charge of the Fleet Safety Committee, and K. W. Michael, Assistant to the Works Manager—Special Assignments, will head the Membership Committee for 1951.

Chairmen are selecting their committees and first meetings of the year will be held this month, C. of C. sources have disclosed.

KING FOR A DAY—Fred Stauffer, Bldg. 17-4, was crowned and enthroned on his last day at work by his friends. Mr. Stauffer is now vacationing and will retire Feb. 1 after about 34 years of service.

B. F. Brickley Promoted To Asst. Supervisor's Post In FHP Div. 1

Brooks F. Brickley has been named Assistant Supervisor of Production in Fractional Horsepower Motor Div. 1, R. L. Spitler, Superintendent has announced.

. . . assistant supervisor

Mr. Brickley attended DePauw University and received a B. A. degree from Wittenberg College. In 1941, he joined the General Electric Company, working in production in FHP Motor Div. 15.

He was assigned to the Advanced Production Training Program in April, 1941. During the course, he worked at West Lynn, the General Office in Schenectady and the Chicago Sales Office. He completed the program at Fort Wayne in November, 1949, and was assigned to Div. 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Brickley have two sons and live in Uniondale.

Credit Union To Hold Membership Meeting

The Credit Union's annual membership meeting will be held Friday, Jan. 26, at 8:30 p.m. in the G-E Club Auditorium, Lee Cupp, treasurer of the organization, has announced.

Reports of last year's business will be given and election of officers will be held. The meeting is for all Credit Union members.

GETS SEND OFF AT RETIREMENT—Leo Simpson, (right foreground), was given a big send off when he left for retirement Dec. 29. On his last day, his friends in Specialty Transformer Div. 91 gathered to extend their best wishes. In the above picture, he is saying good-bye to F. N. Banks, the Division Superintendent.

Dr. Wm. E. Good Addresses Fort Wayne Engineers

Dr. William E. Good, of the Syracuse Electronics Department's Receiver Division, was the featured speaker at a combined meeting of the Fort Wayne Engineers Club and the American Institute of Electrical Engineers yesterday at the Chamber of Commerce. The subject of his talk was "Microwave Spectroscopy."

Dr. Good was one of the original pioneers in this country on the development and application of microwave techniques in the problem of obtaining basic information on the molecular structure of the elements. As a practicing engineer, he stressed the practical application of microwave techniques to atomic investigation and not just the theoretical aspects.

Dr. Good received an A. B. degree from Kalamazoo College in 1937, his M. S. degree in Physics from the University of Illinois in 1939, and a Ph.D degree in Physics from the University of Pittsburgh in 1946.

During the past ten years, he has been doing original development and research on airborne radar equipment, microwave and audio spectrum analyzers, microwave spectroscopy and on various other electronic projects.

Former G-E Employee Listed As Missing In Korean Fighting

Pfc. Glen Householder, 24-year-old former General Electric employee has been reported missing in action in Korea.

A veteran of six years in the army, Pfc. Householder re-enlisted in January, 1949. He was serving with the 7th Infantry Division when he was reported missing in action.

While employed at G-E, he worked in the General Service Division, Bldg. 20-1.

Pre-Lenten Square Dance Will Be Held In G-E Club Feb. 2

A pre-Lenten square dance will be held at the G-E Club on Friday, February 2, from 9 to 12 p.m., Earl D. Stauffer, Club publicity chairman has announced.

John Wright and his orchestra will furnish the music with the popular caller, John Wright, leading the "do si doe's," Mr. Stauffer said.

The party has been arranged for G-E Club members and their friends by the entertainment committee headed by Ralph Hemminger. There will be no charge.

More square dance parties are to be scheduled after Easter, Mr. Stauffer said.

FORT WAYNE WORKS
NEWS

Volume 34 | FORT WAYNE, INDIANA, FRIDAY, JANUARY 26, 1951 | No. 4

Thirteen Divisions, One Branch Plant Win Annual Safety Performance Certificates For 1950 Records

President Cordiner Appoints David C. Prince To Staff Post

David C. Prince, vice president of the General Electric Company, has been named by Ralph J. Cordiner, G-E president, to the president's staff, with special duties as assigned, it has been announced.

Harry A. Winne, vice president in charge of engineering policy, has been assigned responsibility formerly held by Mr. Prince, for the G-E General Engineering Laboratory, Schenectady, Mr. Cordiner also announced.

A native of Springfield, Ill., Mr. Prince joined the G-E Test Course after graduating from the University of Illinois, where he obtained a B. S. E. E. in 1912 and an M. S. degree the following year.

In 1914, he was assigned to work for Dr. E. F. W. Alexanderson, radio and television pioneer, then in the railway engineering department. Mr. Prince then served for three years with the Illinois Public Utilities Commission, and in 1917, was commissioned an Army first lieutenant. He was subsequently cited for his "especially meritorious service" in applying guns to aircraft.

Mr. Prince returned to G-E as an assistant to Dr. Alexanderson, and joined the Research Laboratory, where he conducted research on vacuum tube applications. In 1929, he joined the Switchgear department at Philadelphia and became chief engineer there. He was ap-

(Continued on page 4)

. . . joins president's staff

Elex Club to Distribute Cigarettes to Korean Wounded at Atterbury

The Elex Club's "cigarettes for servicemen" campaign got into full swing this month, when nearly 1,000 packages of cigarettes were donated by Elex members.

The cigarettes will be distributed Monday in the Plastic Surgery Ward at Camp Atterbury.

Former Taylor St. employee, Pfc. Charlotte Stanford, who is now stationed at Camp Atterbury, has made arrangements for wounded Wisconsin veteran Robert McHenry to distribute the cigarettes among other veterans in his ward.

Thelma Stone, Elex Club president, announced today that the Elex Club is also eager for donations of 25-cent books and used playing cards, as well as cigarettes.

Miss Stone added that organization of groups to carry out the Elex Club's armed forces program is underway and committees will be appointed early next month.

Fourteen Boxers Get Second Crack At Golden Gloves

2,500 Boxing Fans See Opening Bouts

More than 2,500 boxing fans thrilled to the 22nd annual Golden Gloves Tournament held Tuesday night in the North Side Gym. Fourteen young boxers slugged and punched their way to the second round of the amateur classic, sponsored by the G-E Club and the Fort Wayne Journal-Gazette.

Nine of the bouts went the three-

(Continued on page 4)

FHP Motor Div. 23, Tiffin Plant Complete Over Two Million Hours Without One Lost-time Accident

Thirteen Divisions and one Branch Plant are eligible to receive meritorious safety performance certificates for outstanding 1950 safety records, Herschel L. Smith, Works Safety Engineer, has revealed in the annual safety report.

Other high safety achievements listed in Mr. Smith's report disclosed the Fort Wayne Works has operated for 22 years or over 405,000,000 man hours without a fatal accident and has carried on manufacturing without the loss of one eye for eight years or 160,000,000 man hours. The most recent fatal accident in the Fort Wayne Area occurred in the Winter St. Plant, which is not a part of the Apparatus Department, Mr. Smith explained.

FHP Div. 23 High

Four Fort Wayne Divisions and one branch plant have records of 1,000,000 or more man hours worked without a lost-time accident. They are: FHP Div. 23, supervised by O. J. Mettler; Transformer Div. 91, supervised by F. N. Banks; Motor & Generator, supervised by R. M. Hartigan and C. W. Hale, and Insulation Div., supervised by H. E. Hire and Earl Gebert.

Certificates are awarded on the following basis:

(1) One year without a lost-time accident.

(2) One million man-hours without a lost-time accident.

(3) A combined frequency and

(Continued on page 4)

General Service Div. Puts New Barricade Signs Into Use Here

Barricade signs of the type used by the Highway Department are now in use by the General Service Division, Carl Rehling, safety chairman of the General Service Division, has announced.

The signs will be placed in the hands of one person, who will be responsible for keeping them in shape and seeing that they are always available. General Service employees will be responsible for

(Continued on page 4)

Shell Out Brother! Taxes Are Due Again

Income tax time again is at hand and only the tax filing deadline and method remain the same. Federal taxes are higher, due to the new law passed after the outbreak of the Korean war. Because the new tax hike went into effect last Oct. 1, the increase covers only the last quarter of 1950's earnings and amounts to five per cent. The full effect of the 20 per cent increase will be felt on this year's income.

Deadline for filing Federal Income Tax returns is midnight, March 15. Every person whose income totaled $600 or more during 1950 must file a return on either form 1040-A or 1040.

Form 1040 must be used by all persons who:

1. Had a total income of $5000 or more;
2. Had income from sources other than wages reported on withholding statements such as rents, royalties, annuities, etc.;
3. And, where it is desired to itemize deductions.

Persons who use form 1040-A, the simplified form, receive credit for about 10 per cent of total income towards charitable contributions, interests, taxes, medical expenses and other miscellaneous items, and the Collector of Internal Revenue will compute the tax after receiving the return and will then either send a check for any refund due, or a bill for any amount that is owed.

1040 for Big Deductions

An individual whose deductions amount to more than 10 per cent of total income would generally save on the tax due by using form 1040, popularly known as the long form, and by itemizing all allowable deductions.

The new law made no changes in exemptions, which are $600 each for husband and wife and for each dependent. An extra $600 is allowed if the taxpayer or his wife is over 65 or is blind. A husband and wife,

(Continued on page 7)

NEW BARRICADE SIGNS—Carl Rehling, safety chairman of the General Service Division, calls the attention of Louis Voirol (left) and Kenneth Greene, two General Service employees, to the new barricade signs now in use by the Division. (See story above.)

FORT WAYNE WORKS NEWS

Volume 34 Friday, January 26, 1951 No. 4

Lou Rotterman ..... Editor
Virginia Molden ..... Assistant Editor
K. Marian Davies ..... Divisional News Coordinator

Mothers March on Polio

Between 6:30 and 7:30 p.m. this coming Sunday, more than 1,000 Fort Wayne mothers will knock on the doors of all the homes in the city. Donating their time and effort, they will solicit funds during the "Mothers March on Polio" hour.

According to Mrs. P. O. Noble, co-chairman of the hour-long drive, and wife of the former Manager of Engineering, FHP Motor Divisions here, the canvassers are organized into school areas. Area directors, in turn, have appointed team captains who will coordinate the block workers.

Conducting their hour-long program in conjunction with the annual March of Dimes drive, the women need everybody's help. They need help because more people, stricken with polio, need more assistance than ever before. Polio incidence has risen to threatening proportions and has produced the worst polio epidemics in the nation's history during the last three years.

A dozen years ago, the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis was dealing with an average case-load of 10,000 cases a year. Now, polio fighters are struggling to meet the demands of more than 100,000 cases within a three-year period. For every three new patients that once needed help, there now are ten. Where the Foundation furnished nursing care and physical therapy for 30 cases, they must now provide for 100. Because of the higher polio rate, we must have more hospital space, more beds, more iron lungs, more hot pack machines, more physicians, nurses and physical therapists. As Mr. Basil O'Connor, the Foundation's president, has stated, "We must have more of everything than we ever had before."

Must Follow Through

We must have all the medical weapons we can muster to meet the increasing number of carry-over cases which must be cared for during a one or two-year span so that patients may reach a point of maximum recovery.

Mr. O'Connor has pointed out that a "heavy" polio year in the past was usually followed by a year of respite. In those days, the Foundation looked forward to "breathers" to replenish lowered funds and to prepare for new onsets of the dread disease.

Today, Mr. O'Connor warns, we cannot anticipate "light" polio years anymore. Especially during the last three years, all such precedent has been cast aside.

In 1948, the U. S. endured the worst polio epidemic in 32 years. Nearly 28,000 cases were recorded. Instead of following with a pause, the next year brought a nation-wide epidemic that was the most violent this country had ever experienced. More than 42,000 people were afflicted with polio that year.

After those two disastrous years, some dared to hope for relief in 1950. Their hopes were dashed to pieces when the devastating late-season epidemic turned out to be the second worst in the country's history.

Disease Does Not Respect Age

It became more and more apparent that polio is not only a children's disease. Locally, we have had cases up to 60 years of age. Many cases are in the 30 year bracket.

Today, the Foundation is operating at a deficit. The $3,700,000 raised in a special campaign for funds in September of 1949 was entirely gone before the end of that year. Five million dollars in unpaid 1950 bills which the Foundation has promised to meet must be paid this year. Most of the chapters are either without funds or are very low.

Much research is being done on a national scale to find the cause of polio. One research group, known as the "Virus Division," allotted $1,400,000 to John Hopkins University and the Universities of California, Michigan and Cincinnati to find out what sort of virus causes polio. The research for prevention and treatment of after effects includes grants of more than $250,000 each to Northwestern, Harvard and Cornell Universities and the University of Illinois.

Last year, Fort Wayne had 122 cases at an average cost of between $600 and $700. These cases last months and months . . . in some instances years and years. Allen County is still treating cases dating back to 1948.

In this city alone, we need to raise $50,000 this year. Everybody can help. It takes more than dimes to raise $50,000. It takes fifty-cent pieces and dollars!

Turn on your porch light Sunday night and help fight polio.

DO YOU REMEMBER WHEN?—The old Transformer Gang in Bldg. 8 got together about 25 years ago to pose for a picture. Their modern counterpart has just completed five years without a lost-time accident. How many of the fellows do you remember? (See at bottom of page.)

Here are the names of some G-E employees who left for military service this month:

Wallace L. Wagner, Kenneth H. Bauer, Carl Christensen, Virgil E. Rowe, David R. Brown, Eugene P. Beck, Robert J. Hurst, George R. Jacobs, Wesley O. Mershberger and Harold C. Fremion.

Eddie J. Opliger, Herman P. Bergstedt, Herschel C. Freeman, Bruce K. Williams, Jr., Robert C. Mountz, Donald L. Hurst, Richard E. Price and Robert E. Messmer.

If their friends or relatives will send their addresses to the WORKS NEWS, all servicemen will be sent the paper each week.

Dick Gebert

Dick Gebert, who is serving in the Navy at San Diego, Calif., is now temporarily assigned to ASW (Anti-Submarine Warfare) for three weeks. He writes that his work on new training devices to help pilots locate enemy submarines is very interesting.

When Dick wrote his letter, he was on a new type of watch—TV watch. It consists of supervising a large television set, which is placed in one of the buildings for the benefit of the boys. On New Year's Day, Dick and his family managed to take in the Rose Bowl parade and game on TV.

Here are some addresses of G-E employees in the armed forces:

Rct. Robert G. Warren 55059839
Co. B 506 ABN Ing. Regt.
101 ABN Div.
Camp Breckinridge, Ky.

Sgt. Louis C. Swager 35870460
5015th ASU Med. Det.
Camp Atterbury, Ind.
U. S. Army Hospital

The Big WIND

DIVISION 17
TAYLOR STREET
by Dorothy Heinzelmann

Harold Mosshammer was sure wound up, and it was Monday morning, too. We can't understand what happened to him over the week-end. . . . Connie Snyder takes the cake for staying home just to keep from signing a little slip. We'll let you in on a little secret, Connie, there wasn't any after all. . . . Lona Cook visited her daughter in Terre Haute over the week-end. . . . Jerry McKown says the "Lazy Rhythm" boys are taking over the Legion dances as of Saturday night at Churubusco. Everyone should see if Jerry plays the fiddle like he works. . . . Ethel Koontz has returned to work and says she's very glad to be herc. I guess she misses the gang the same as everyone else. . . . Paul Detweiler is back again on die cast, and we are also glad to have him back. . . . Anyone notice Vern Whitlow with that big smile last week? It was because of that suggestion award, and who wouldn't smile when they receive something like that. I guess everyone can't be that smart. . . . Mel Kessner and Ed Bireley are still going ice fishing every time they get a chance, but many more nights like last week and they will be going over the waves. You boys should make sure before you get out in the middle. On second thought, Mel, that would be one way of getting even with Ed. . . . Nora Dudgon really pulled the trick of the week when she locked her purse and also keys in her drawer. We wonder how she expected to get them out again.

SICK LIST

The following people have been reported sick, dismissed from the hospital and returned to work:

Sick List

Mac Mulvane, Neal McNamara, J. L. Lichty, Joan Marie Johnson, Orval Lippitt, Donna Jean Freshwater, Reba Wilkerson, Raymond Mock, Mae Lacey, Harold Schweyer, Beverly Willig, Ruth C. Trout, Raymond Stump, Grace Bullard, Ethel Crittendon, Adam H. Flager, Gladys Elliott, Edwin F. Glusenkamp, Chester Stienbarger, Ralph Klaren, Nina J. Koogle, Leonard R. Floyd, Herbert Lindenberg, William Stolp, Dorothy White, Esther Verhoegen, Walter Kammeyer, Clarence Mosshammer, R. Joan Trahin, Harry Diem, Margaret Voorhees, Lucille Werbug, Floyd Wilcoxson, Carl Sleppy, Angela Speith, Hulda Steffen, Edward Ryan, Velora Drury, Esther Rapp, Wilbur Weber, Arton Copp, James Joffre Saybolt, Charles Erickson, Cleota Stallbaum, Jean Reynolds, Robert Kappel, Albert Christman, Whitney E. Moore, Alta Sparks, William Schenher, James M. Wrisk, Henry Borne, Donald Bohrer and Mary Clibon.

Dismissed From Hospital

Alice Barton and Grace Hall.

Back to Work

Rennie Phelps, James Buchheit, Ralph Thomas, Helen Karnap, Barbara Jean Cross, Arveda Neal, Paul Habecker, Paul Liable, Dorothy Mable, Denzil Dowell, Herman A. Norr, Theodore W. Jones, Gloria Cuellar, Peggy Clengenpeel, Violet Mode, Warren Eberly, Gladys Dunbar, Rena Mitchell, Donelda Wedman, Marion Patty, Monte G. Miller and Elmer Dodane.

PIX QUIZ ANSWER—

Here are the names, how many did you know? (Standing) Earl Travis, Bldg. 26-B; Joe Damper; Ernest Sills; Gus Schuenberg, Bldg. 26-2; Charles Rayhouser, deceased; James Keller, Bldg. 26-4; Everett Coats, deceased; Leo Harkenrider and Clarence Russell. (Seated) Troy Long; Leo Maples; Elmer Fuller; William Kiser, retired; Fred Banks, Bldg. 26-2, and Rollie Wickliffe, deceased.

"Lost" and "Found" articles must be cleared through the Plant Protection office, Bldg. 10-2, or the Plant receptionist, who will place the Ad-let and otherwise advertise the article.

Only one ad per employee may be inserted. Each ad must be limited to 20 words and cannot be repeated. All articles mentioned must be personal property of the employee. Ad will not be accepted unless accompanied by the name, pay number, and division of the employee. No works building or telephone number may appear in ad, only the home telephone number or address.

Send all ads to WORKS NEWS office, Bldg. 18-3.

No ad will be received over the telephone.

CLOSING DATE

Monday Noon, January 29, 1951

LOST AND FOUND

LOST—Three keys in leather case.

LOST—Seven keys on ring and Veteran's Administration identification.

FOUND—Two keys on chain with name A. W. Wells on them. Found in Fairfield parking lot.

FOUND—One key on chain with initials R. P. D. on it. Found on Lindley Ave. parking lot.

FOUND—Man's hat, and a tiny toy violin. Found in cafeteria at Broadway Plant.

FOR SALE

ARVIN BATTERY GHARGER—E-1345.

EIGHT PIECE WALNUT DINING ROOM SUITE—1448 Stophlet.

FLAT TOP FRICIDAIRE—Good running condition, $25. H-77754 after Sunday.

BOY'S BOXING GLOVES—Boy's ice skates; boy's grey plaid suit; track shoes. A-87131.

1950 CHEVY PICK-UP TRUCK—½ ton, excellent condition. H-82820 after 4 p.m.

1937 PONTIAC—Heater, radio, four new tires, low mileage, very good condition, direct from owner. A-85341.

ENGLISH BULL DOG—AKG registered, distemper immune, female, four months old, $50. Monroeville 3728.

25 IN. HOLLAND FURNAGE—Good condition, jacket and piping. H-8884 or 521 Decatur Road.

G-E SWEEPER—Two years old; electric mixer. A-29105 after 5:30 p.m.

1942 DODGE PANEL TRUGK—Runs and looks good, $150. 1515 Swinney Ave.

TWO PIECE LIVINC ROOM SUITE—Very good condition, reasonable. H-57912 between 5 and 8 p.m.

SCHWINN GIRL'S BICYCLE—Lifetime guarantee. A-3724.

BLACK LEATHER PUMPS—Size 4AA, worn twice. H-81931 or 2404 Broadway.

50 WATER SOFTENERS — $2 each, faucet type, closing out stock. H-83925.

WHITE KITCHEN TABLE — Four chairs. H-68532.

THOR SEMI-AUTOMATIC WASHER—Three years old, good condition, $50. H-79555.

PORTABLE DISC RECORDER — 9x12 rug; living room suite; electric record player, 78 rpm. E-69114.

LADIES' BLACK SEAL COAT—Ladies' sable dyed muskrat, size 15, excellent condition. A-89343.

WANTED

PING PONC TABLE—Churubusco 3119.

CHILD TO CARE FOR WHILE MOTHER WORKS—Days only. H-28924.

PAPER HANCING — Reasonable. H-59382.

SET OF TWIN BEDS—H-74322.

FOR RENT

TWO LARCE SLEEPING ROOMS—Hot water, linens furnished, reasonable, private home. 1320 Swinney Ave., A-86925.

SLEEPINC ROOM—Ten minutes' walk from Taylor or Broadway Plant. A-69644 or 2029 Thompson Ave.

TRANSPORTATION

WANTS RIDE—To State Road 114, 12 miles east of North Manchester, Friday evenings, and return to Fort Wayne Monday mornings. Barbara Smith, Bldg. 4-4, works from 8-5:15. Extension 2270 or A-55013.

WANTS RIDE—From Berne to G-E Broadway. Coldie Lehman, Bldg. 18-5, works from 8-5:15. Extension 569 or Berne 22584.

WANTS RIDE—From 900 block Charlotte Ave. to Broadway plant. Prefers ride with girls in the car. Catherine Dull, Bldg. 26-3, works for George Brehm from 3:30-11:43. Extension 413.

One tried and sure method of getting your wife home soon from an out-of-town vacation is to send her a copy of the local paper with one item clipped out.

BROTHERLY LOVE: Vern Davis and Roy Fields were discussing pro and con that ever-popular subject politics. The conversation got so heated that it worked Roy up to such an extent that he was changing the felts on Vern's machine before he realized what he was doing. That's what we call brotherly love when you can't see eye to eye with your brother hut still love him so much that you do his work for him. . . . BOGEY MAN: Upon arriving near his home after working the second shift the other night, Willis Breeze saw between some houses, a man who looked to him like a window-peeper. Our brave Willis decided to investigate and as he started between the houses a woman came out on the porch and called to Willis to stop that man. Upon hearing this, the supposed window-peeper stuck his hands in his overcoat pocket to kinda lift up his overcoat so he could run a little faster. As our Willis saw this he thought the man was reaching for a gun, he promptly made a turn about face, headed for home, locked all the doors and windows, put out all the lights and hid in the coal bin. All the while the window-peeper was going 40 miles an hour in the other direction just as afraid of Willis as he was of him. "Boo." . . . OLD MAID: The co-workers of John Klejnot, who recently retired, spent a social afternoon at John's home last Sunday. Ray Kierspe was just itching to play cards and finally talked the gang into playing "Old Maid." This being the kind of game the name implies, Ray decided to liven up things a little by telling everyone he must have had a hole in his pocket because he was short five bucks. Are you sure, Ray, that the little woman would even give you five bucks to go out with the boys, or were you just putting up a front? . . . BUMS: Johnny Powner and Osear Baumgartner were to help Martin Hegerfeld move. Johnny was to call Oscar to make arrangements to meet him. Johnny never called. When Oscar asked him why not, Johnny replied, "Because you haven't got a phone." Oscar said, "I sure have." Johnny replied, "That's funny, I looked all through the Bum's and didn't see your name listed." . . . MONDAY MORNING: Paul Rugman said, "Good Morning, Judge." "Five and costs to you," said the Judge to Paul, "for flying too fast and too low in that '50 Chevy." . . . SMALL BOY: Said to his daddy, "When I grow up I want to be a daddy too." His dad informed him that he first must get married. Whereupon the boy shook his head and said that he wasn't going to get married. Because he heard after you get married you die. Well, who are we to argue with the younger generation. He's right; eventually all married folks will die. However, sonny, may we offer you this one small ray of hope. "It's a slow death." Now, girls, don't start throwing things. A fella's got to have a little fun once in a while. "Maybe we're right, maybe we're wrong, maybe we're weak and maybe we're strong, but nevertheless we're in love with you."

Old Maid Player

Insulation News

Our Marshmallow World has certainly dissolved into a balmy spring in a few short days but not before the ice had taken its toll. Agnes Ryan and Jim Norris both found that suddenly and without warning, they could be prostrate in a perpendicular world. They suffered only pain and indignity and so forthwith they picked themselves up and dusted off the bumpers and came to work. Not so, Chester Steinbarger. He lost his equilibrium and the results weren't good. Cracked ribs and bruises kept him home all the rest of the week. Well, kids, wear your rubbers and "Take it easy." . . . Didn't you miss that swishing sound that goes up and down our aisles so many times a day. Henry Reidenbach, who precedes that rush of air, spent the week in Schenectady, N. Y. . . . Willie Hout does have a hard life! He keeps backsliding. He gets up to the top of Bldg. 12, four floors nearer to heaven, then slides baek to the bowels of the earth, way down in Bldg. 12-B. Currently, he's nearer heaven, a newcomer to the Mica Section. . . . We have a new co-worker in the wood section, too. Welcome, Harvey Fairehild. We hope you get acquainted with your co-workers and find your new work most agreeable. . . . Orchids and the pool winnings to Agnes Ryan. Those fingernails gnawed down to the quick were not all just a mar to a good manicure. For someone who "just never wins anything," she says, "That's doing all right," to pick Huntertown in the Allen County Tounament. . . . Mr. and Mrs. Robert Martin entertained a squaredancing group from the office, Saturday night. Highlights of the evening were Bill Hattendorf having the wrong set of instructions to go with his square dance album, (no wonder we never got past the first couple) and Bob Martin's sudden disappearance from the party. Just when the caller and the instructions began to make sense, the doorbell rang and Bob was called outside. He came back some time later to announce that the little girl next door was locked out of the house and her parents were gone. He said something about duty before dancing and left the house with enough housebreaking tools to put the average second-story man to shame. We heard glass breaking and loud pounding from time to time. When he finally returned to the party, he said he had broken two windows and sprung one door to get the little girl back into her house. Upon inquiring, we found that the little girl is 22 years old. Mrs. Martin was a very gracious hostess in spite of her husband's second-story work.

Birthday greetings of the week go to Virginia Shambaugh. . . . Robert Morris is sporting a nice scratch on his forehead. He says the wood was hard that he was chopping. It's a good story anyway, Bob. . . . Betty Isenbarger called the oil furnace man to fix her furnace last week. The result was that she was just out of oil. Best wishes to her also. The wedding bells rang for her and Leonard Stawiski at Waynedale. . . . The co-workers are glad to see Earl Souers baek with the Test Section. . . . Get well wishes go to Frenchy LaGras, who reeently had an operation. . . . Freddy Rathert reports that he had a nice time when he was in Florida for two weeks.

Inquiring Reporter:

"DO YOU THINK 18-YEAR-OLD MEN SHOULD BE DRAFTED?"

FLORENCE HOWER

Bldg. 26-4

"I think it would be all right to draft 18½ year-olds, if they would not be sent overseas until they are 19. They should not be called until they have finished their high school education. The younger men make better soldiers than the older men do."

NOBEL BELL

Taylor St.

"No, I do not. At the age of 18, a lot of boys are still in high school. I think a boy should be permitted to finish high school, at least, before he is eligible to be drafted. I think the minimum age should be 19 or 20."

AUDREY HICKERNELL

Bldg. 2-2

"I don't believe 18-year-old boys should be drafted. Let's give them a year after high school to adjust themselves. It would make them more responsible and alert."

JERRY GARDNER

Bldg. 6-2

"I do not believe 18-year-olds should be drafted. It is entirely too young. They are just getting out of high school. I think they are entitled to a little fun before they go on their own. If the 18-year-olds want to go, all they have to do is join up. If they aren't old enough to vote, they're not old enough to fight."

HENRY W. SKEVINGTON

Bldg. 19-3

"If we are to preserve our democratic way of life, we must be prepared to defend it to the full extent of our ability. World conditions lead us to universal military training, and the 18-year-olds are the best age for such training because they can follow through after high school and before entering the business world.

Robert T. Blee Appointed Asst. General Foreman in FHP Div. 1

The appointment of Robert T. Blee as Assistant General Foreman in Fractional Horsepower Motor Div. 1 has been announced by R. L. Spitler, Superintendent.

R. T. Blee

Mr. Blee's continuous service dates to April 3, 1930, when he was employed as a welder in the Winter St. Plant. In 1935, he transferred to FHP Motor Div. 1 as a machine hand, and in 1937 was appointed assistant foreman in that division.

Mr. Blee served in the planning section from 1939 until 1940, when he was made a dispatcher. Two years later, he was named foreman of an armature winding section in FHP Motor Div. 1.

He was appointed head dispatcher in 1945 and chief dispatcher and foreman of stockkeepers in 1946, where he has been serving until his present appointment.

Mr. Blee is married and has a son and a daughter. The Blees reside at 1132 Westover Road.

"WISDOM"

No one ever has to worry
When the sun goes down at night.
That it might decide next morning
Not to give us any light.
There is never any doubting
That the new moon will appear.
And the stars that dot the heavens
Are the same from year to year.
No one feels the earth might tarry
In its trip around the sun.
It has always been on schedule
Ever since the world begun.
There has never been a summer
That skipped in ahead of spring.
No one ever has to wonder
What an April shower will bring.
Every single living creature
On the land or in the sea.
Gives a perfect demonstration
Of how things are meant to be.
Everything that God created
Does its job the way it should.
Everything except we humans
Seems to function very good.
We, it seems, were given reason
And dominion over all.
But to use a crude expression
"All we do is foul the ball."
We have everything that's needed
In this world to get along.
Everything that is, but Wisdom
To distinguish right from wrong.
So it's really quite important
If we hope to win our fight.
That we ask the Lord for Wisdom
To determine what is right.
—W. L. Whonsetler

UNIVERSAL FIT: Joe Donahoo appeared on the scene with a pair of those horn-rimmed specs that makes him look like an executive. It seems as if everyone had to try them on and they seemed to fit everyone. Joe must have a composite head of some sort. . . . TIRE PATCH: Marge Walker was wearing a suspicious-looking white patch under her schnozzle. The patch was one like a man uses occasionally when he cuts himself during shaving and has to plug up the hole to keep his mouth from leaking. Were you shaving, Marge? . . . FLY TIME: Flies must be bad around where Jack Kirlin works. We notice he was wearing a donkey tail to swish them away, and boy, was he swishing! . . . TRAIL BLAZER: When Helen Kassen got lost in Bldg. 8, that was excusable, but getting lost in Bldg. 4-6 is inexcusable unless it happens to concern your work. . . . HIGH TIDE: Some bright boy with the initials of Druesedown suggested that when the tide comes in at the parking lot the company supply one life boat and several life preservers for its employees, who must park at the east end of the lot. . . . GET WELL QUICK: We are wishing Nadeen Bright a speedy recovery from an appendectomy. . . . CONGRATS: Happy birthday to Dick Dochterman, Jan. 23, and Frank Olney, Jan. 28. . . . LUNCH FOR SALE: Say, Gil Baker, what's this we hear about you selling your lunch on Saturdays and then going over to the cafeteria? Boy, what some guys won't do for a hot meal! Did you make anything on the deal? . . . GOODBYE AND GOOD LUCK: Uncle Sammy called his first man from our midst —our little Irish draftsman, Frank Houlihan. Watch out, Joe, here he comes. We'll miss you, of course, and will be thinking often of you. Let us hear from you from time to time. . . . HAPPY BIRTHDAY: To Phyllis Braun, Wednesday, Jan. 31. . . . TOUGH LUCK: Ray Jones went to the company restaurant for a "free" luncheon (he thought) Monday. He waited and waited and no one else showed up. He finally called his office—Yep, wrong date. He couldn't go home; his wife wasn't expecting him, so he had to pay for his dinner at the cafeteria.

Lunch For Sale

Barricade Signs

(Continued from page 1)

erecting the signs when they are working at locations which might prove hazardous to other employees.

Mr. Rehling said that both the safety committee and the Division are anxious for all employees to become acquainted with the meanings of the signs and to respect their warnings.

Advantages of the new outdoor signs are that they can be easily seen, can be handled and removed properly, and can be folded and telescoped for easy storage and transportation.

W. E. McBride Dies

Willard E. McBride, 37, died in the Bluffton Clinic Hospital Tuesday morning after undergoing an emergency appendectomy.

Mr. McBride was a resident of Columbia City and had been employed at the General Electric Company since August, 1950, in Bldg. 4-3.

Golden Gloves

(Continued from page 1)

round limit, with one knockout and four technical knockouts.

Strictly a novice show, only two of the boys had ever entered the ring before. Three-fourths of the fighters were 17 years of age or younger. Melvin Green, Bldg. 19-3, the only G-E employee in Tuesday night's matches, lost by a decision to Vince Batt, Defiance, O., in the welterweight class.

With experience gained in the Tournament's first round, fighters will be more seasoned and some good matches are promised for next Tuesday's clashes, Trainer Frank Newport, of the G-E Club, has predicted. This week's winners and all others who weighed in but did not get into action will be eligible for next Tuesday night's fights, which begin at 8 p.m. in the North Side Gym. (For complete results of bouts, see Page 11.)

Safety Report

(Continued from page 1)

severity of .40 or less.

(4) Fifty percent improvement over the previous year's record.

Division 23 and the Tiffin Plant have records in excess of two million man hours without a lost-time accident, Mr. Smith reported.

Reviews Accomplishments

In reviewing other accomplishments of the 1950 safety program, Mr. Smith stated that safety was greatly improved at plant entrances with the installation of traffic lights at Fairfield Ave. and Taylor St. He also reviewed the two National Safety Awards presented to the Tiffin Plant for its record and to the Fort Wayne Works fleet truck drivers who compiled the best record for their class in the nation.

Safety was also promoted during the year by more consideration of safety on the agenda of Management Information Meetings, by the continuation of safety inspections and gatherings and in safety endeavors at local, state and national levels, Mr. Smith declared.

One out of 32 persons in the United States was disabled one or more days by injuries received in home accidents during 1948, according to the National Safety Council. The home death toll was 31,000, of which about half resulted from falls.

Prince Appointed

(Continued from page 1)

pointed commercial engineer for the entire Company in 1940, on the staff of C. E. Wilson, then president. He was elected a vice-president the following year and placed in charge of application engineering for the Apparatus Department.

Served Various Posts

Mr. Prince was named head of the General Engineering Laboratory in 1945, the laboratory's activities having been broadened to cover the entire Company.

He has been responsible for many important design developments not only in such fields as switchgear, but also electric locomotives, ship control, electronic tubes, and many others. He is active in the American Institute of Electrical Engineers, and was its president for the 1941-42 term. He received the A. I. E. E. Lamme medal in 1946. He is a member of several other leading professional societies, including the American Society of Mechanical Engineers and the Institute of Radio Engineers.

Mr. Prince is one of the pioneers in planning for peace and is actively connected with both national and local groups in that field. He has also been active in the Schenectady Chamber of Commerce, the National Planning Association and the Committee for Economic Development.

Winne Began in 1910

Mr. Winne graduated from Syracuse University in 1910 with an electrical engineering degree. He joined the G-E Test Course and subsequently was promoted to the power and mining engineering department.

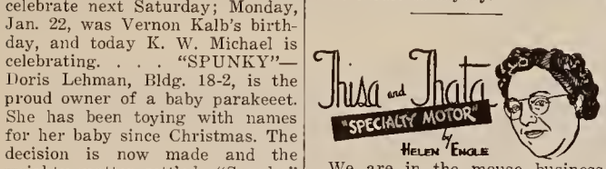
He became sales manager of the combined mining and steel mill section in 1936. The following year he was selected by R. C. Muir, then G-E vice president in charge of engineering, to be his general assistant. In October, 1941, Mr. Winne was elected a vice-president and placed in charge of design engineering for the Apparatus Department.

In January, 1946, Mr. Winne was appointed by Secretary of State James Byrnes to a Board of Consultants to aid the Committee on Atomic Energy. He is chairman of the G-E Nucleonics Committee which directs the Company's work in the field of atomic energy.

REVIEWS BOOK FOR ELEX—Kathryn Turney Garten is shown autographing the book she reviewed at the Elex meetings Tuesday, Jan. 16. Copies of the book, "One Big Family" by Garth Hale, were given as attendance prizes. With Mrs. Garten are, left to right, Margaret Taylor, Bldg. 4-6, Frances Eckrote, Bldg. 17-3, Helen Jane Faurot and Carol Bauermeister.

Herman Brandt was the originator of the slickest news item of the past week when he tried to pour six gallons of oil into a machine with a three-gallon capacity. Herman said he wasn't worried; he knew the floor would catch the overflow. This machine that Herman has been tuning up is an ingenious device to automatically lace and tie stators. With all the work he has been doing on the gadgets, needles, etc., we suspect that stators may not be the only product of this machine's endeavors. Who knows, in between each stator, there may be a sweater, pair of booties or knitted gloves. You may have a customer sooner than you think, Herman. . . . The customer could be Herb Halley, whose wife presented him with a boy, born Jan. 17. Herb says that it's great to know he is not in a rut. His first two tax exemptions are girls. Your co-workers congratulate you and your wife, Herbie, and wish all of you the best of luck. . . . Not everybody in the Die Cast Section was fortunate enough to attain what they were striving for, however. Jerry Wert, one of Herbie's pals has had an order in for a new Chevrolet for some time. His buddies, feeling Jerry was in need of a lift since his enthusiasm for the new car seemed to be tapering off, devised a method whereby they figured to snap him out of his lethargy. Jerry was summoned to the phone and informed by an anonymous voice that a car was available, but the color wasn't what he had ordered. Jerry said the color didn't matter and hanging up he sauntered back to work, head high, chest out, cigar at a jaunty angle to share his information with the skeptics. As if they didn't know. Of course, you can picture Jerry's embarrassment when asking the salesman that evening about his car and being told there was no car available and no call had been made. Jerry's retort as he turned away consisted of just two words. . . . Then to add insult to injury three days later, Herman Weigman was called by the same dealer who had Jerry's order to call for his new Chevy. Remember, Jerry, Job was beset by all manners of torment and he came out on top. One other thing, Jerry, "Silence is Golden." . . . One other item must be included before we wrap this up for this week. Bob Rehrer has found that there is something better to make him rise and shine in the morning besides the two alarm clocks he is in the habit of using. His wife bought two roosters on the hoof one day last week, tying them in the basement to a post directly under their bedroom. Now since she planned to prepare these birds herself, she neglected to tell Bob about them. At 4:50 a.m., these fowl creatures decided to harmonize. At the first note, Bob's feet hit the floor and under the bed he looked. By that time, he was fully awake and placed where the sound was coming from. Hmm, I must try that myself sometime.

Still Waiting



No matter how poor and mean a man is, his friendship is worth more than his hate.

EXODUS—From Bldg. 18-1. Last Monday A. S. (Sid) Johnson was transferred from the General Superintendent's office to the General Service and Plant Engineering Division in Bldg. 20-2. Next week Chester Kowalski will report to Schenectady for assignment on the Planning and Wage Rate Course. . . . To offset the moves, in part, Richard (Dick) Sebold, a trainee under the Manufacturing Training Course, reported to Mr. Wylie for an eight-week assignment. Time seems to march on rather rapidly—changes are the variety of life, so we should all be happy. We offer our very best wishes to the boys and somehow we feel that we have not heard the last of either of them. Dick will keep the rest of us under control. . . . Dick Goetz, Bldg. 18-4, was transferred from Mr. Kellermeier's office to the Purchasing Section under G. D. White. . . . D. Graybill, priority man, formerly in Bldg. 6, is now located in the Production Service Group, Bldg. 18-4. . . . GOOD NEWS—Last Friday, Jan. 19, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wylie received the wonderful news announcing the arrival of their second granddaughter. Their son, Robert, Jr., and his wife are residing in Barberton, O., and the young miss will start her career in a brand new home when she leaves the hospital. Grandfather and grandmother are both doing well. . . . Edgar Waldschmidt, Bldg. 18-1, cannot announce the arrival of a new granddaughter, but he is just as excited over the arrival of a new 1951 Mercury. . . . HAPPY BIRTHDAY and our best wishes to Al Tharp, Bldg. 18-4. He will celebrate next Saturday; Monday, Jan. 22, was Vernon Kalb's birthday, and today K. W. Michael is celebrating. . . . "SPUNKY"—Doris Lehman, Bldg. 18-2, is the proud owner of a baby parakeeet. She has been toying with names for her baby since Christmas. The decision is now made and the weighty matter settled—"Spunky" is the name. Imagine if you can, a tiny little bird bcing spunky! . . . The Navy lingo that has been floating around in the Data Bureau and other places in Bldg. 18, was not included in any of the Navy Data received, but was picked up at the Quimby Theatre last week. It seems that "Mr. Roberts" was quite a show. . . . It must have been "Old Home Week" last week—P. O. Noble and William Fritz were both visitors. . . . We are happy to report that Lena Provines, who formerly worked in this building, is convalescing from her recent illness at her home. . . . Marylis Redding, Bldg. 18-2, enjoyed a Sorority Convention at Pokagon Park last week-end. . . . Loren Hill, the first patient under our new insurance plan, returned to work Monday as messcnger in Bldg. 18. . . . SUCCESS—The Gompf's girls basketball team of Woodburn, coached by Betty Eisenacher, of the Data Bureau, had a successful week-end. They played in Alexandria on Friday evening, adding another scalp to their belt, and then traveled on to Indianapolis for a game Sunday evening, with the Indianapolis Television Center Girls. The Capital team had not been beaten during their season of ten games. That is, until they met Betty's crew—for they chalked up a 42-31 victory. To say the least, Betty is proud, and for that matter we are too! Keep up the good work and we will schedule a game with the Zollner Pistons! . . . HELP! Now, Evanel Holman, Bldg. 18-3, didn't boisterously shout for help. Oh, no, she very sweetly asked the cop in Auburn (where she resides) if he would help her get into her car that was parked near the theatre where she had been attending a movie. The gracious cop worked and worked, and he just couldn't get the key in the lock. So, he called her husband to come and help them. They continued to place their combined efforts to play "Jimmy Valentine" but to no avail. In due time, friend-husband arrived. After waiting some little time at their own car looking for his wife (by that time he thought maybe the wife and friend cop had eloped or something). He finally came upon them duly struggling with the lock on a car not only not their own, but not even the same make car. Was her face red! . . . ABSENT-MINDED professor, that is! One Ed Witte sailed out of Bldg. 18 one day last week making a bee-line for the parking lot. There to his amazement he found his car conspicuous by its absence. He stood silently for some little time, then slowly wended his way back to Bldg. 18, only to be amazed to find his car parked along the street. Those little elfs were certainly busy. Now, Ed, you don't suppose YOU parked it there, do you? . . . CONVALESCING—George Waldschmidt, Bldg. 18-3, recently underwent surgery at the St. Joseph Hospital. He is in Room 455. Hope you are soon better, George! . . . REMEMBER—Next Wednesday, January 31, 1951, at 12 midnight is the final hour and minute to pay your Gross Income Tax contribution. Best you not forget. That little penalty just adds insult to injury.

Girls' Coach

We are in the mouse business down in 1x29—Edith Harchelrode bought the traps, I paid for them, Ruth Tutwiller furnished the cheese and Glen Schwartz and the fellows on the second shift remove them from the traps! So far we have caught seven mice! . . . Frank Buhr is taking his vacation this week prior to his retirement on the first of February. He intends to spend much of his free time at his cottage at Crooked Lake. . . . We of Division 1 extend our sympathy to Irma Hanny. Her nephew was killed in the school bus accident in Baldwin, Mich. . . . Bill Schultz drove to work for a change. Wouldn't you know it. The car was out of gas when he got ready to go home! . . . Bob Kerr's famous last words are: "That's it. I don't care what anybody says!" . . . Finally the grandchildren arrived. Andy Bordner had a grandson Saturday, but George Worley beat him. He had a grandson on Tuesday, Jan. 15. All are reported doing fine! . . . Frank Hopper, who works on the third shift, leaves with the 163rd Fighter Squadron from Baer Field Feb. 1. . . . We of Division 1 extend our sympathy to Clarence Rentschler, whose brother died last week. . . . Esther Harkenrider is certainly resourceful these days. She forgot to get a spoon from the candy wagon and was seen eating her ice cream with a screwdriver. . . . Barbara Tschannen sure felt bad because Elmhurst lost in the tournament. Cheer up, Barb, they may win next time! She is not the only one who felt bad—I did too!

Last Saturday, Ray Leitz planned to relax completely and build his granddaughter a chair from a small nail keg some kind soul had given him. Without stopping at Andy's or Two Brothers', he made it to the dry goods store and purchased a substantial amount of red leatherette material and padding. About seven hours later the Carl Smiths paid a social (across the back yard) visit to the Leitz home. Besides tools, padding and material all over the house, they found Ray in a state of complete relaxation, except that the nail keg was still bare and Ray was getting hot under the collar and heartily discouraging any helpful hints from his wife. Carl looked over the situation and took Mrs. Smith back home. Upon arrival, he sat down to write Ray his suggestion: "Why don't you just paint the barrel red?" . . . Many people receive birthday gifts, but Pat Alspaugh received one that was unique from his fellow-workers: A greeting card covered with pennies—one for each year—plus a letter instructing him on how to spend all the cash. . . . A very lovely gift consisting of a matching necklace and earring set was presented to Ina Noack by her co-workers in honor of her 25 years of service. . . . A farewell luncheon was given to Revia Stauffer Jan. 17. She is leaving the Company to become a housewife, the bride of Dean Byerly. A lovely corsage and several gifts were presented to her by co-workers. Those able to be present at the luncheon were Emma Goldner, Annabelle Gehrig, Leona Krick, Ercie McConnell, Helen Britzenhoff, Kate Niblick, Marcile Jones, Betty Reichert, Ina Noack, Josephine Ivetich and Marcia Martin. . . . Lost, Strayed or Stolen: One small red hat. Keep the telephone busy, call all of your friends. Now, Marcia, go home and find your hat. It was there waiting for you all that time, but why lose your card after you find the hat? . . . Happy birthday with all the trimmings to Wayne Wittmer, Pat Alspaugh, Guy Lister and Oscar Teeple. . . . We wish a speedy recovery to Ralph Rabbit, Hez Cochran and Ardella Heare. . . . Strange as it may seem, parking meters expect to be paid for parking time. Sometimes we forget that later hours are included. For further details along this line, contact Tibby Gehrig. . . . Happy birthday to Doris Resh, Miriam Moore and Loren Gerber. . . . See Ralph Welch for first hand information to "Beauty Air." . . . Our compliments to Norb Hess for broadcasting our County Tourney games play by play. . . . Theresa Weaver has entered our local hospital for surgery. . . . Well, dear children of the second shift, I haven't much to say this week, but what I have to say is very sad news. Perhaps some of you do not know him, and those who do, don't know about this, but we are going to lose our very own Al Windmiller (The Geneva Whirlwind). Yes, we understand he is going on days at the other plant. Al is our chief dispatcher on the second and a good one, too. All I can say is that we will surely miss him and sincerely hope that he makes good on his new position and that once in a while he comes in to see us. . . . Bob Krueckeberg of the Flange Line has left us to join the regular army before Uncle Sam lays his hands on him. Good luck, Bob, and we hope to see you again. . . . Irene Shaffer is back with us again after an absence of several weeks due to illness. Nice seeing you again, Irene. . . . That sure must have been exciting when Norma Poorman took home Cleve Weaver, Berneice Weisz and Rachel Gerber the other eve. Cleva got so lonesome when she went anywhere in the house that Norma had to lead her by the hand. . . . What did you say about Carl Schnepp? I know he is looking good these days. Of course, he is not losing weight though. . . . Wonder how Norma Bower is making it on the third shift? Haven't seen her in a good while. Hi, Norma! . . . Don't blow your breath on Iola Hamrick as she is apt to get a chill. Must be that she is still used to that Tennessee weather. . . . Glenn Bates, who is with the Marines and stationed in California, was home on furlough for a few days.

. . . In case anyone loves dogs, Edna Houser has five of the most beautiful cocker spaniel puppies you've ever seen. They are pedigreed dogs, too! . . . We felt sorry for Delores Shinbeckler the other day. Just as she was bragging how delicious and wonderful her roll from the candy wagon was, it slipped out of her fingers and flew into the wastebasket. She only got one bite!

Representing the Lead Section this week are Loretta Bloom, Mabel Nelson, Leona Lethwaite, Zella Cluts, Bessie Johnson, Hazel, and Barbara Shipman. . . . Barbara Shipman's birthday was Sunday. She says that she is still a teenager. . . . Albert Norr has quite a display of his baby's pictures. . . . Francis Gnau now a tester, had better wear his elevator shoes to read meters. . . . Mary Alice Kieler and Bobie Shaw, our two office girls, hit the jack pot. Each received a suggestion award. . . . Someone should sign Bertha Gruber for the Golden Gloves. She turned on a couple of boys that were snowballing her and gave them a lacing. . . . Don Bectol is the new repair man replacing Francis Gnau, who is a tester now. . . . Your reporter caught 14 bluegills when I was ice fishing west of Angola. . . . We wonder why Alma Kaiser says she needs a chiropractor when all she needs is a carpenter. . . . We want to know if the domelight in Mary Blachford's new car really is broken. . . . Bertha Hill is the girl who pulls the starts and finishes leads to the coils. . . . Marie Slater is one of the girls on test and inspection. . . . Kenny Bower leaves Friday for Indianapolis. . . . Welcome to Forest Egner, a new man on specials. . . . This deserves honorable mention. Don Waldrop is one of seven brothers of a family bowling team. They were featured recently as "Bowlers of the Week" in a local paper. . . . Where was Helen Reinking? She turned in the model number on her work sheet instead of her clock number. Why does Hank's face turn white when he is changing wire. Did Don have something to do with it? . . . Grace Bolyard's mother is very ill. . . . Deloris Dawden is off sick. We hope she has a speedy recovery. . . . What do you think of a man's moving to Fort Wayne from Huntington to keep from driving so far, then running out of gas here? This happened to Kenneth Fisher. . . . We have a new winder on second shift, and we call him "Alice." He's doing just fine, rolls up his trousers legs and says, "My slip's showing." His name is Dale Amstutz. . . . Mary Ream and Arland Fair are new employees. . . . Jim Allison has a new girl at his home, and Christ Brenner, a new boy. . . . The people in Whimpy Blalock's section had a birthday potluck for him. He says he is 32. . . . Anyone who wants a hair cut see Dorothy Campbell.

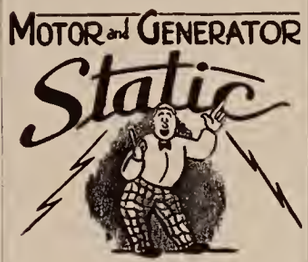
Bowler of the Week

Hello, gang. It seemed the cold spell had broken for a while and we enjoyed the beautiful sunshine as we journeyed through Bldg. 17-3. Let's see if we can't find a warm welcome awaiting each of us. . . . Speaking of doing things, here's one thing that really needs our careful consideration. Will all of you look once more in that trash box, drawer or wherever you have those forgotten articles and see if you can find those old-fashioned shoe button hooks? Some wounded G-I's are needing them quite badly. Those who have lost their hands are using them with artificial hands to button their clothes. It will really help if you'll take one, or as many as you can find, to your Elex contact girl or to Personnel. It sounds like a little thing, but it really means a lot. . . . While on the line of giving, don't forget the polio drive either. Again we have a countless number handicapped. It might have been you or your child. Let's all give and boost our polio fund this year so further research can be made and the day soon come when polio will not be so dreaded. Perhaps a vaccine or serum can be discovered so an epidemic may be a thing of the past. . . . We heard Jerry Nahrwald say all he did was tease, Gwen. No wonder Jerry isn't on pool as yet. Watch that Jerry, remember Gwen can take her own part. . . . We hear Betty Yarger, our check girl in the cafeteria at noon and co-worker on second shift, has turned out to be of service in seating customers as well as giving them their checks. When Belle Buchan came in looking for her husband recently, Betty said to Belle, "He is six rows down and on the end." Belle had no trouble in finding him. . . . Our sympathy goes to Blanche Norman and her family on the death of a sister-in-law. . . . Sure, I had a birthday Monday, or was it? I've always celebrated my birthday Jan. 15. Here on my birth certificate, it says, Jan. 20. Anyway I had a birthday. . . . Elma Keiser knew the remedy for Walter Kryder's ailments or did she, Walter? Anyway Walter is better. . . . In speaking of how our nations ought to co-operate and work in unity with each other, that same principle will hold true in a factory. It is so nice when everyone works together to put out the desired production and a spirit of co-operation prevails. Otherwise, we have discord and dissatisfaction prevalent which causes everyone involved to be disturbed. Let's brush up, where are those resolutions? Gone already? Let's work together to make this a good year in Bldg. 17-3 and make each other enjoy the work we are doing. Keep on sending me the news. Thanks, all.

By Don Clark

A hunter usually has a trained dog to hunt rabbits, not Kenny Zurbuch and Wilbur Lane. They train the rabbits to stand still when they yell at them, so they don't miss many shots. . . . "POOR KITTY"—We hear that Al Nebur now sleeps with the window open from the top. He has a good reason, too. One night with the lower pane raised, Al was snoozing soundly. A friendly cat crept through the open windows and decided to take a snooze at the foot of the bed. In the morning, however, Al lazily stretched out his long and lanky frame. The cat let out a terrific me-ow-oo-oo. Al's feet had her wedged against the foot of the bed. Quite a thrilling way to wake up, eh, Al? The story continues since the next day the cat gave up and died. The cause of death is undetermined as yet. It was either squeezed too hard or asphyxiated. . . . Congratulations to Herb Thiele. He is grandpa again. . . . We hear that Dick Florent is having a lot of fun at home. That electric train still fascinates him this long after Christmas. . . . From the aroma, the boys in the Milling Section thought Scotty Click was burning incense. It turned out to be just another new pipe and that high-grade tobacco. . . . Harry Henline is spending the week in Florida. . . . Birthday greetings to Hubert Langer and Robert Reardon. . . . The Heat Treat Section welcomes Eugene Dennie. . . . "DIE PLANT"—Paul Rosenhahn and Tom Welchel are in for a real send-off, as they leave to work for Uncle Sam. The Die Plant boys have a party arranged for tonight. Lots of good luck, fellows. . . . Earl Brandon finally kicked the bucket—of paint, that is. While painting a ceiling, Earl kicked over his bucket of white paint on the pretty red rug. It was really a sorry mess, but Mrs. Brandon came to his rescue and directed the clean-up operations. . . . Everyone was glad to see Joe Hartman looking so good when he came in to see us Monday. . . . Woodrow Hursh is going to be more careful whom he talks to in the future. . . . Unsuspectingly, Woody asked the Hauser jig-bore representative a question about the machine. Receiving an answer that he couldn't understand, Woody nodded his head and walked on. You were in "Little Germany," Woody, just ask Clarence Meeks. . . . Those bandaged fingers of Mary Ellen Owen really hurt, folks. Somehow a packet of matches became ignited, and she couldn't get rid of them quick enough. Did you have the cover back in place when you struck the match, Mary? . . . Betty Strong, at the County Tournament, and Helma Conrad, at the Piston game, thought it was a very exciting week-end. . . . "NEW SUIT?" — Finally Mrs. Nebur talked Al into buying a new suit. Al was bathed, shaved and dressed for action. After driving downtown, parking the car and walking to their favorite store, they found the door locked. The Neburs had their nights mixed. Did the Mrs. think of anything else to do, Al? . . . One of our Bldg. 19-5 farmers sold Maurice Sordelet some eggs. Maury completely forgot about them until he arrived home. Asking his wife what was on the menu for supper, she said, "Eggs!" Maury promptly grabbed his coat and recovered the forgotten property. . . . Earl (just call me Bottles) Lenz has a new hobby—collecting bottles. Can you help him out, fellows? . . . Self-Safety Question: I religiously read all safety posters, but do I give them serious consideration?

If you had something sparkling in your eyes, it was Marclyn Dafforn's diamond ring. We can say that it is a pretty one. . . . Charlie Prine was surprised with a birthday present. We hope you had a nice birthday, Charlie. . . . Hazel Dilworth and Florence Johnson got new cars last week. . . . We miss Evelyn Bullard's smiling face around work. Evelyn is on the sick list. . . . Rennie Phelps wishes to thank everyone for the gift she received during her illness. . . . Charles Best had a big week last week. The Bests received an addition to their family, a nice baby boy. Then when Mrs. Best came home from the hospital, Charles' mother went to the hospital and got a new baby boy also. . . . Velora Drury fell in the parking lot. She received a fractured heel. Take care of yourself, Velora, we miss you. . . . Mary Rose has been quite happy to have her son at home for a few days on leave. Jim is in the service. . . . Delores Gitner, Jean Stearns and Florie Sizemore celebrated birthdays this past week.



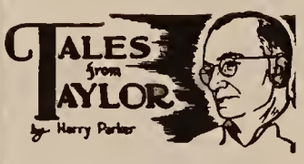
Pull off the road to change a flat and save your life—there's no spare for that.

Elex Club Plans 1st Shift Party

"All the pancakes you can eat" will be provided at the Elex Club's meeting for first shift members Monday, Feb. 12, in the G-E Club Auditorium.

Taking its theme from the "Deep South," the party will begin with a pancake and sausage supper from 4:45 to 6 p.m. Entertainment on the program will be furnished by the Indiana Travelers, vocal sextet. In addition to all the pancakes she can eat at the party, each member will also receive a package of pancake mix to take home.

Reservations may be made with contact girls or in the Personnel Offices at Broadway and Taylor St. Thursday, Feb. 8, has been set as the reservation deadline. Tickets for the party are one dollar.



Thought For The Week: "The trouble with the world is that the stupid are cocksure, and the intelligent full of doubt." —Bertrand Russell.

Welcome to Bldg. 31-1, Ellen Ball. . . . Good luck to James Laymon, who left for enlistment in the Army, Jan. 19. . . . HE'S IN AGAIN: Roscoe Markley, veteran coach and all-star basketball player, made the statement this week that had he been the Roanoke coach this season they would still be in the running. He says he will have a stonewall next year and will go through to state honors. Best of luck to your team, Roscoe. . . . SIGNS OF THE TIMES—Notice in window of Pittsburgh music shop: "Bebop spoken here." . . . Marine Corps enlistment pamphlet advises: "Ask the man who is one. Ask the man who was one." . . . Detroit realtor using applied psychology on signs in front of houses just sold: "Too late." . . . Advertisement of plumbing firm: "Get down in the sewer with us. See how the other half lives. We have it, if we can find it." . . . San Francisco firm sells "Waterproof Raincoats." . . . Proud attraction of Oakland, Calif., theater: "No popcorn." . . . NEEDED—Anything can happen on the Mount Vernon Park bus and usually does. This is the bus ridden by Dick Hobson and Ed Foley, two characters from our office. It seems that every few days a new operator is assigned to this line, and they, being unfamiliar with the district, depend upon passengers to direct their course. The other evening Mr. Foley took his turn as guide. May we explain that Ed is proud of his homing instinct, which he claims was inherited from his great - great - great - grandparents who were named Chief "Mud In Your Eye" and his wife, "Water on the Knee." In spite of this claim, Mr. Foley has enough trouble finding his way around the neighborhood, let alone trying to steer someone else through that maze of streets. This did not deter Ed, who stood beside the driver, proud as a captain on the bridge of his ship, and issued orders. After many orders of "turn here," "turn left," "turn right," he shouted, "Stop." The "stop" was ordered because Mr. Foley had routed the bus down a dead-end street ending in some 40 acres of farm land. Mr. Foley sized up the situation and ordered, "Back up." This, the driver did for a square and a half until he reached a spot where the bus could be turned around, and by the aid of other passengers, not more confused than he, brought the bus back on its proper course. Sometimes this writer feels that both Mr. Foley and Mr. Hobson, who again caught the wrong bus last week, should have "Seeing Eye Dogs," not only to guide them about the neighborhood but to "see" that Dick boards the proper bus each morning. They say a dog is Man's best friend, and these boys really need friends. . . . HELP—Men! Do you shudder when you look in the mirror? Do girls shriek in horror when you pass dressed in a bathing suit? Do you zig where you should zag? Do you fight the "Battle of the Bulge" every morning when you dress? Is your tummy development what your chest development should be? Even if all these things are true, there is still hope for you. Bud Weaver has developed a hankering for bulging biceps and is contemplating the purchase of a popular physical culture course. Be it now noted that Mr. Weaver is a kindly, thoughtful man, always willing to aid a needy brother. So, noting the physical development of many males in Bldg. 31-1, and hating to spend $19.00 out of his own pocket for the course, Mr. Weaver is canvassing the office attempting to locate 18 suckers, I mean, fellow-weaklings, who will contribute a buck to the cause. This club will be known as the "Weaver Body Beautiful Club for Men Only," (figuring the gals are OK as is). There are still a few memberships open. So, men, if your wife raves about the husky movie star, the ice man, the milk man or the cop on the beat, you need this course—but bad. Be a "Super He Man," be popular, happy and muscle bound with Weaver. . . . P. S.: For Mr. Weaver's information, Boyd Fisher has been corresponding with the same company and has the price whittled down to $4.98. Perhaps he can save you money.

It looks a little fishy when every ailment the world has requires bleeding Uncle Sam.

ELEX PARTY SINGERS—The Indiana Travelers, Fort Wayne vocal sextet, will entertain at the "Deep South" party Monday, Feb. 12, in the G-E Club auditorium. They will sing popular and semi-classical numbers.

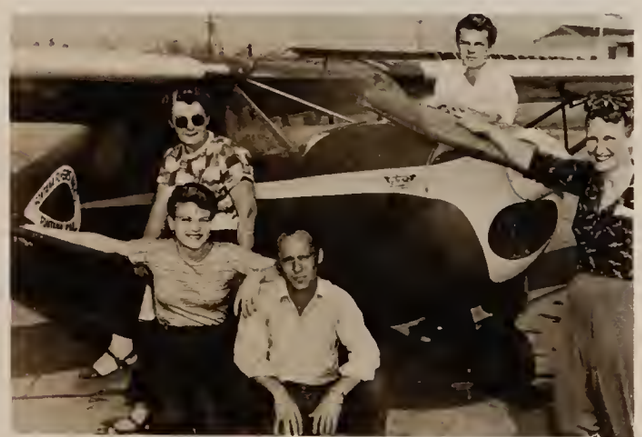
Herman B. H. Hake has an unique method of conserving gasoline. Perhaps some of you would like to call this method by a different name. Nevertheless, here is how his system works: He drives his car to the corner of Rudisill Blvd. and Calhoun St. and parks it on Rudisill .opposite Meyer's drug store. Then he stands on the corner until someone comes along that he knows. He then mooches a ride from that point to the plant. If on some mornings his method fails to click and time is running out, he will hop into his own car and proceed to the plant. . . . Clarence (Big Chaw) Schooley is now a patient at the Methodist Hospital recovering from a recent operation. We are happy to report that he is doing well and want to extend to him our very best wishes and hope to see him back on the job before many weeks have passed. There is only one thing that worries us; and that is about his supply of Bag Pipe chewing tobacco. We sincerely hope that he will have an ample supply to last over his period of convalescence. . . . John Weber, Bud Snyder, Kenny Miller and Herschel Foreman, all of our Rotor Section who are facing the fact that they were putting on too much weight, decided to go on a diet to streamline their figures. Herschel said that he positively had to keep his weight within certain limits so as to be able to continue wearing that new suit he received for Christmas. The first three named have been on a diet for quite sometime, but we cannot notice much change in their forms. To us, all of them look as fat and sleek as any well-fed porker. . . . If these big snows continue for the balance of the winter, Archie Boren will be fit to be tied. After the last big one, he got up early, then proceeded to remove the snow from the street and sidewalk in front of his place in Huntertown. Having completed the task, he stood there admiring his handiwork, when what should show up but the snow plow. Archie said that he was so burned up that his breath would have melted an iceberg.

OBSERVES 30TH ANNIVERSARY—Earl L. Marsh (center), FHP Motor Div. 14, completed 30 years of service with the Company Tuesday, Jan. 16. On his anniversary, Mr. Marsh received a letter congratulating him on his long record and the best wishes of his friends. Left to right in the photograph are Ewald Stinsmuehlen, Carl Reynolds, Mr. Marsh, John Burnett and Eldon Vosburgh.

GENERAL ELECTRIC
NEWS SUPPLEMENT

Candid Camera

VOLUME 16 JANUARY 26, 1951 No.1



A Change of Hands...R. J. Cordiner, far left, new president af General Electric is shown here talking with D. E. Craig during a recent visit ta West Lynn Works. (Above) Navy Secretory Matthews presents Charles E. Wilson with the Navy's distinguished public service award for his work in World War II. Mr. Wilson recently resigned as president of GE to become head of the notion's defense mobilizotion. (Official Department af Defense Phato.)

Spreading Cheer...GE employees of Bridgeport Works contributed gifts far hospitalized veterans during the recent halidays. Edna Hartman (left) and Bea Miller are shown distributing gifts to vets at Newington Hospital.

Ice Frolics...Muffy Hibbert, Knolls Atamic Power Laboratary, and D. C. Prince, vice president in charge of the General Engineering and Consulting Laboratary, along with many ather G.O. and Schenectady Works employees, are members af the RPI Figure Skating Club in Troy.

At Home in the Clouds...Opal Jeske (right) af the Ontaria, California, Works has been a ferry pilot, designer af hats, crop duster, and a flying instructor. Here she is shown with her flying students, Nona Maxcy, Wandajean Staffard, and Kenny Darse, all of the Ontaria Works. In the background is Opal's fifteen-year-old son, Norman, wha is her favorite co-pilot.

You Can Protec

1 First hold a family conference to discuss your local Civil Defense information and instructions. Then assemble and keep in a handy place such emergency items as a first aid kit, blankets, small garden hose and connector, flashlight, extra batteries, hammer and nails, pail of sand, candles and matches.

2 Make a tour of the house, instructing the family to use the basement as a shelter with a windowless outer wall the safest spot. Prepare for a possible stay of several hours by storing needed items there, including canned goods, can-opener, bottle of water, blankets, pail, toilet tissue and shovel.

3 Fire hazards can be eliminated in your home by removing odds and ends from attic, closets and basement.

4 If you live in a frame house, show the family where the gas and water cut-offs are in case these need to be turned off during an emergency. Make a check now to see that valves work freely by hand.

5 Have some member of the family know how to safely cut off electric power at the main switch to prevent fire from short circuits should your home be damaged in an air attack.

6 When the first air raid warning sounds, close all your windows and outside doors. Close venetian blinds, or secure drapes across windows to keep out flying glass. There are more casualties resulting from flying glass than from other causes.

Your Family Against a Bombing Attack

IN many communities advanced planning is now being completed for the organization and operations of Civil Defense. Your local city or area Civil Defense Director, in cooperation with your State Commission, has probably prepared instructions for use in the event of an emergency. Get this information now from your local agency, or Chamber of Commerce. You and your family should study the instructions given for your locality — because Civil Defense is everyone's responsibility.

Protecting most areas, a radar network and air raid observers will be able to spot approaching enemy aircraft in time to give advance warning. A system of air raid warning signals will be sounded. Learn the meaning of these signals and determine now the safest shelter for your family to go to in case of an air raid.

In addition, should there be a sneak attack, there are many measures which, if followed, will greatly minimize the destructive forces of any bombing — atomic, incendiary, or high-explosive. The success of Civil Defense will depend largely upon the efficiency and teamwork of everyone — and a full understanding on your part of what you can do now and what you should calmly do in time of emergency.

On these pages Candid Camera, with the help of Abe Kelman, foreman, General Receiving and Yard Rail Transportation, Bridgeport, and his family, illustrates how you can supplement your local Civil Defense program by organizing your own household for maximum protection.

7 Get under a table to escape danger of falling ceiling. Turn away from windows to avoid heat flash burns in case it is an atomic bombing. Covering neck, head and arms with a tablecloth will protect you from flying glass.

8 If you are outdoors when an air attack occurs, fall to the ground face down next to a building or wall if possible. Close your eyes and cover your face, neck and arms, to shield yourself from falling brick and stones.

9 Crouch behind a tree, if you are near one, with your back to the blast. Pull your coat over exposed skin for protection from burns should it be an A-bomb attack.

10 After an atomic bomb attack, nail blankets over all broken windows to keep out radioactive dust or fog.

11 Stay inside until informed by radio or air raid official when it's safe to go out. If you must leave your home because of fire or damage, cover your face with a handkerchief to prevent inhaling radioactive dust or fog.

Candid Camera

New Fashion Note . . . The Fashian Academy Award has been wan by the Chemical Department far distinctive styling af Textalite laminated plastics. Bess Galt, Pittsfield prôduc-tian sectian, displays a replica af the Academy's gald medal. (Left) Madel Phyllis Hunt unveils the nine patterns in the 1951 line af GE Textalite laminated surfacings.

Keeping in Tauch . . . Handling messages at the new Bastan Office telegraph center are, left ta right, Betty Kenefick, Muriel Davis, Lillian Claw, and Virginia McDermatt. This is the eighth such cammunicatian center in the campany.

Back to Vaudeville . . . R. W. Jacksan (left), Campany publicity representative, and H. P. Gaugh, District Manager af GE Credit Carparatian, ga inta their black-faced rautine during the San Francisca Office Emplayee's Club revue. Per-farmance was later repeated far patients at San Francisca Marine Haspital.

A Share in the Steaks . . . Trentan Warks Manager, E. E. Falsam (left), and "Bud" Straud, gen-eral fareman, pase with 175-paund deer they bagged during recent hunting trip in Pennsylvania.

Income Tax

(Continued from page 1)

both over 65, are allowed $2,400 combined deduction. The exemption for dependents is never over $600 each, even if he or she is over 65 or blind.

The law left unchanged the provision permitting the so-called splitting of income by husband and wife who file a joint return.

A husband and wife might file a joint return on form 1040-A if their combined incomes did not exceed the limits described for this form above. This joint return may be filed even though only one of them had an income.

All employees of General Electric have received a withholding statement showing the total wages paid during the calendar year 1950 together with the amount of money withheld for the Federal Income Tax. It is important to attach all such statements which are called form W-2 to the return when it is filed.

Income Tax returns must be signed by the persons who file them including both husband and wife if joint returns are filed.

Tax forms, together with an informative booklet entitled, "How To Prepare Your U. S. Income Tax," may be obtained at any office of the Collector of Internal Revenue, any post office and at most banks and savings and loan associations.

State Form Explained

Everyone receiving over $1,000 in total earnings in or from the State of Indiana during 1950 must file a copy of the 1950 Gross Income Tax and World War II Bonus Tax form with accompanying tax remittance before midnight, Tuesday, Jan. 31, or be subject to penalty and interest for delinquent filing.

The upper portion of the form, Schedule "A", is for computation of your Gross Income Tax. A typical form, which has been completed, is shown at the right. There has been no substantial change in this part of the form over last year.

The second step is the computing of your tax liability in Schedule "B" for the World War II Bonus Tax, which is in addition to the Gross Income Tax.

The Employees' Withholding Tax Statements (Form W-2) that were distributed with paychecks two weeks ago will assist you. It should be pointed out here that all those who have received more than one Form W-2 statement during the past year must add the amounts together in order to arrive at the total earnings for 1950.

Your Gross Income Tax will be one per cent of your total year's income, less exemption, and your Bonus Tax will be ¼ per cent of your year's income.

Bonus Tax Computation

You may proceed as follows in figuring the computation of the Bonus Tax:

Line 18: All taxable income received from Jan. 1 to Dec. 31, 1950, less exemption, should be entered here. (The illustration, above, shows $2,000.)

Line 19: Enter here, the amount of your bonus tax, which is ¼ of one per cent of the amount shown in Column 2, line 18. (In the example above, it would be $5.) Then place this figure in Column 4.

DO NOT WRITE IN THIS SPACE

INDIANA DEPARTMENT OF STATE REVENUE

INDIANA GROSS INCOME TAX—BONUS TAX

Form 1A | 1950 | INDIVIDUAL ANNUAL | 1950 | Form 1A

RETURN FOR THE TAX PERIOD

Beginning.....1950, Ending.....1950

On or before January 31, 1951, mail this return with tax payment to the Indiana Cross Income Tax Division, 141 South Meridian Street, Indianapolis 13, Indiana

Please Print or Type

NAME.....

STREET AND NO.

RURAL ROUTE..... COUNTY.....

POSTOFFICE..... STATE.....

What is Your Occupation?

Account Number

Social Security Number

Employer's Name

Employer's Address

ENTER ENTIRE INCOME RECEIVED IN 1950 BOTH TAXABLE AND NON-TAXABLE IN SCHEDULE "A" IF IN EXCESS OF $1,000.00

SCHEDULE "A" For Computation of Cross Income Tax	COLUMN 1 Taxable at ½ of 1%	COLUMN 2 Taxable at 1%	COLUMN 3 Taxable at ¼ of 1%	COLUMN 4 TOTALS
1. Retail Merchants Cross Income from selling at retail	$	XXXXXXXX XX	XXXXXXXX XX
2. Cross Receipts from Trade or Business (other than Line 1)	This Taxpayer was a Retail Merchant	$	$
3. Salaries - Wages - Commissions - Fees. Other personal service income.		$ 3000 00	$ XXXXXXXX XX
4. Gross price: Sale of real-personal and intangible property and securities—(List in Schedule 1)	From	$	$ XXXXXXXX XX
5. Interest - Dividends - Royalties - Rents - Receipts from investments—(List in Schedule 1)	To ..... Store License No.	$	$ XXXXXXXX XX
5. Other Cross Income—(List in Schedule 1)	.....	$	$
7. TOTALS	$	$ 3000 00	$
8. Deduct non-taxable receipts—Detail in Schedule 2	$	$	$
9. TAXABLE CROSS INCOME—Line 7 minus Line 8	$	$ 3000 00	$
10. EXEMPTION—Read instructions on the back of this return	$	$ 1000 00	$
11. Amount subject to gross income tax—Line 9 minus Line 10	$	$ 2000 00	$
12. CROSS INCOME TAX—Carry totals to Col. 4	$	$ 20 00	$	$ 20 00

A return is not to be filed for the 4th quarter of the year as the annual return covers that quarter. Filing of quarterly returns does not relieve taxpayers from filing an annual return for the same year. Credits for payments made on quarterly returns are to be taken on this annual return.

NO PARTIAL OR INSTALLMENT PAYMENTS OF THE AMOUNT IN COLUMN 4, LINE 28 IS PERMITTED. SEND THIS COPY WITH REMITTANCE IN FULL.

1950 QUARTERLY PAYMENTS CROSS INCOME TAX ONLY
13. First Quarter from Line 12 of Schedule "A" of Quarterly Return: Date 1950	$
14. Second Quarter from Line 12 of Schedule "A" of Quarterly Return: Date 1950	$
15. Third Quarter from Line 12 of Schedule "A" of Quarterly Return: Date 1950	$
15. TOTAL QUARTERLY PAYMENTS OF GROSS INCOME TAX IN 1950. Sum of lines 13-14-15, Col. 3.		$
17. BALANCE OF CROSS INCOME TAX DUE ON 1950 INCOME. Line 12, Column 4, minus Line 15, Column 4 ★		$ 20 00

SCHEDULE "B" For Computation of BONUS TAX	Compute Bonus Tax on Amt. on Line 18 at ⅛ of 1%	Compute Bonus Tax on Amt. on Line 18 at ¼ of 1%	Compute Bonus Tax on Amt. on Line 18 at ¼ of 1%
18. Copy on this line in each column the amounts shown on Line 11 in same columns	$	$ 2000.00	$
19. BONUS TAX—Compute tax in each column and carry total to Column 4	$	$ 5.00	$	$ 5 00

1950 QUARTERLY PAYMENTS BONUS TAX ONLY
20. First Quarter from Line 14 of Schedule "B" of Quarterly Return: Date 1950	$
21. Second Quarter from Line 14 of Schedule "B" of Quarterly Return: Date 1950	$
22. Third Quarter from Line 14 of Schedule "B" of Quarterly Return: Date 1950	$
23. TOTAL QUARTERLY PAYMENTS OF BONUS TAX IN 1950. Sum of lines 20-21-22, Col. 3.		$
24. BALANCE OF BONUS TAX DUE ON 1950 INCOME (Line 19, Column 4, minus Line 23, Column 4) ★		$
25. TOTAL BALANCE OF 1950 CROSS INCOME TAX AND BONUS TAX DUE (Add amounts in Column 4, Lines 17 and 24)		$ 25 00
25. If Delinquent add interest at 1% per month on amount in Column 4, Line 25, from date tax was due		$
27. If filed after due date add 10% of amount in ine 25, Column 4, or $2.00, whichever is greater		$
28. TOTAL CROSS INCOME TAX - BONUS TAX - INTEREST - PENALTY. Add Amounts in Column 4, Lines 25, 26 and 27		$ 25 00

MAKE REMITTANCE PAYABLE TO INDIANA CROSS INCOME TAX DIVISION. REMITTANCE ATTACHED ☐ CHECK ☐ MONEY ORDER ☐ CASH

INDICATE KIND OF BUSINESS OR PROFESSION

1. ☐ ACRICULTURE, FORESTRY OR FISHINC
2. ☐ MININC
3. ☐ CONTRACT CONSTRUCTION
4. ☐ MANUFACTURINC
5. ☐ TRANSPORTATION COMMUNICATION PUBLIC UTILITY
5. ☐ WHOLESALE TRADE
7. ☐ RETAIL TRADE
8. ☐ FINANCE INSURANCE AND REAL ESTATE
9. ☐ SERVICE INDUSTRIES
10. ☐ SALARY AND WACES
11. ☐ GOVERNMENT
12. ☐

PREVIOUS RETURNS

Date Last Previous Return was Filed .....

☐ Quarterly ☐ Annual From What Town and County Was Your Last Previous Return Filed? .....

If This Return Is Filed by the Taxpayer's Agent Use This Space.

I CERTIFY THIS TO BE A TRUE AND COMPLETE RETURN.

NAME OF ACENT.....

ADDRESS OF ACENT.....

DATED THIS.....DAY OF.....19.....

I CERTIFY THIS TO BE A TRUE AND COMPLETE RETURN.

NAME OF TAXPAYER.....

DATE.....19.....

Line 20, 21, 22 and 23: These lines are to be filled in only by those who have made quarterly returns during the year 1950.

Line 25: Add your total Gross Income Tax, which you have shown on either line 12 or 17 of column 4, to your Total Bonus Tax. (In the example above, it would be $25.)

Line 26: If you are late in reporting your income, this line is for computation of interest at one per cent per month.

Line 27. The penalty for failure to file your return before the deadline is 10 per cent of the combined total Gross Income Tax and Bonus Tax, and the minimum penalty is $2.

Line 28: You place the total of the above on this line, which is your Gross Income Tax and Bonus Tax, with possible interest and/or penalty.

You are then ready to fill in the general information data at the bottom and on the back of your official form.

When this is completed, make out one tax remittance to cover the combined amount of Gross Income Tax and make it payable to the "Indiana Gross Income Tax Division." Make all payments by check, money order or draft. Do not remit cash or stamps. Sign your return and remittance, seal in the envelope, and mail to the Indiana Gross Income Tax Division, 141 South Meridian St., Indianapolis.

Those warm days really spoiled us for Winter. Now all we can do is shiver and complain. . . . That was a cute little horn Sy Seymour was blowing Monday. Too bad it wasn't bigger. Who knows, he might have gotten a tune out of it. . . . We said so long to Bill Schultz, who is going to Bldg. 4-3, and hello to Mel Borcherding, who is back with us from Taylor St. Good luck to both of you in your new jobs. . . . Ray Solga has again rejoined the gang after his recent illness. Let's stay well now for a while and welcome back. . . . We learned Al Ray is in Florida taking life easy. We're hoping he is much better and can really enjoy that sunshine. . . . Did you see the gay tie Carroll Elder was wearing Monday? Such a bright tie for so early in the week! . . . Bill Hurtt is still in the market for any beat up calendars you might have. Whoever took the calendar left the empty base. Poor Bill, now he can't tell what day it is. . . . May Lacey is recovering from her recent operation and is now at home. Hurry back, May, we miss you.

Too much celebrating has kept many a man from becoming celebrated.

F. J. Stauffer

Sarah Smith

Lilly Schoch

Clara Dixon

George Kline

Five Employees Retire on Company Pension Plan

Four employees retired on the Company's Pension Plan, effective Jan. 1, while one will retire Feb. 1, Personnel sources have disclosed.

Fred J. Stauffer left the Company after over 33 years of service. He had been a lathe operator during his entire employment, and at the time of his retirement, worked in Bldg. 17-4.

An employee since 1943, Sarah Smith retired Jan. 1. She first worked at Taylor St. Plant on a burring operation. On Oct. 23, 1945, she transferred to Bldg. 26-3 where she did assembly work. Mrs. Smith then went to Bldg. 26-5 where she did miscellaneous assembly. At the time of her retirement, she was on a stacking job in Bldg. 26-3.

Clara Dixon retired Jan. 1 with seven years of service in the Company. During her employment, she has worked in various buildings throughout the plant. Mrs. Dixon has done winding, placing, tying and finishing. When she retired, she was working in Bldg. 17-3 on a finishing job.

Lilly Schoch left Jan. 1 after over seven years of employment. She started working here in 1943 as a janitress in Bldg. 6-B. Since then, Mrs. Schoch his filed burrs, taped, assembled and has done finishing work. At the time of her retirement, she was working in Bldg. 17-3.

George Kline had worked for General Electric 39 years when he retired Jan. 1. During most of his G-E career, he did test and inspection work in Bldg. 4-5.

Golly, I'm in the dog house! Here's how it all happened. Last week I wrote about Forrest Reed being a hero at the big smoke episode in Bldg. 19-3. Lo and behold, it was Forrest who dropped the red hot rings on the floor and gave those other men a chance to be heroes. The big heroes were Ed Dikty and Leroy Cook. The little heroes were Russ Neireiter and Willy Irmscher. Ed said that was the only chance he ever had to be a hero and I ruined it. My apologies, men. P.S.: The only friend I had in the Commutator Section last Friday was Forrest. . . . While we are mentioning last week's column, let's find out who is adding little items to the "Shaft Shavings." These items concern yours truly. . . . Spring must be here. Have you noticed how Leroy Cook shines his shoes before he goes home? . . . Onie Giggins (second trick man) gave the boys on first shift a nice surprise. He put a picture of a pin-up girl by each man's machine. Wonder what all the conversation was about the next morning! . . . Charlie McCormick and Art Keller were recent spectators at the South Side-Central game. Of course, they were rooting for S.S. . . . No. 1 booster for Elmhurst in the County Tournament was Floyd Mutton. . . . Has Howard Musselman given up ice fishing?

Some minds are like concrete, all mixed up and permanently set.

Ten Employees Honored By Quarter Century Club

Ned Brooks Biddle
Bldg. 26-5

Harley R. Springer
Taylor St.

Ruth A. Fuller
Taylor St.

Louis C. Pflueger
Bldg. 4-4

William C. Degitz
Bldg. 4-1

Samuel M. Hanes
Taylor St.

Edwin J. O'Neill
Bldg. 8-1

Margaret B. Flaugh
Taylor St.

Vodie T. Raypole
Bldg. 20-1

Russell P. Kryder
Bldg. 26-C

H-Bomb Research To Aid Science, Vice Pres. Says

SCHENECTADY, N.Y., — Start of intensive development work on the hydrogen bomb and discovery of the neutral meson, which may provide man a clue to the structure of the atomic nucleus, were among the foremost scientific achievements of 1950, according to Dr. C. G. Suits, vice president of the General Electric Company and director of research.

Speaking on a recent G-E radio show, Dr. Suits predicted the new research program on the H-bomb will yield important by-product knowledge which will profoundly influence the pattern of scientific knowledge in the years ahead.

"The conquest of atomic energy," he said, "is still number one on the scientific agenda."

Discovery of a neutral or uncharged meson by Dr. E. M. McMillen of the University of California is "an important contribuiton to modern phyiscs," according to Dr. Suits.

He explained that mesons are elementary particles that dwell in the atomic nucleus and play a basic but not yet thoroughly understood role in the constitution of matter.

Charged mesons originally discovered in cosmic rays have been produced in high-energy accelerators for the past two years, he said.

Two Elements Discovered

Among other advancements in nuclear research mentioned by Dr. Suit were:

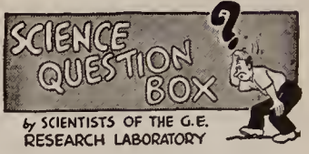
Artificial production of two new elements, Berkilium and Californium, at the University of California cyclotron.

Disintegration of the neutron into a proton and an electron by J. M. Robson of the Canadian Research Council.

Completion of a 385-million volt synchroton at Columbia University and a newly-designed 300-million-volt synchrotron in the G-E Research Laboratory.

Development of a simple photographic method of studying the inside of the atom by Dr. Cecil S. Powell, British scientist.

In other fields, several advancements have been made which will have a direct application to military and defense preparations. One of the more outstanding, the G-E scientist said, was the development of a radically-new technique in processing human blood for medical uses. Mobile blood processing units have been designed which make it possible to process blood immediately after it is collected, thereby saving both time and perishable portions of the blood.



What's this we hear about Helen Hall chasing the mail boy? Shortly after he delivered the mail, she noticed her filing basket was empty; and realizing what must have happened she took out after him. When she gave up, Les Glougie took up the chase and finally tracked the boy down. Imagine going to all that trouble over some filing, and that seems like such an easy way to get rid of it. Wonder if that would work for me? No, I'm just making zee joke—I'll file it. . . . Bob Kallmeyer was so happy about the warm weather last week. He tried to find someone to play marbles with him, but couldn't find anyone with all theirs. . . . Clara Billue never lacks for a sandwich. One day there was no cold meat in the house, but does that stop her—Oh no—she has a—ugh—banana sandwich. She says, "It is quite delicious." . . . N. E. Griffin has left us for a position with another company. Edith Robertson is transferring from Shipping to take over his job. . . . The dent in Janice Haugh's bumper was put there by persons unknown—so says Janet. . . . Jerry Green has left the Accounting Section to devote her time to household duties. . . . Dick Morgan has taken over a new job, one with the Air National Guard. Good luck, Dick. . . . Marty Zernick has left Central Planning to spend a few weeks in the Apprentice School on his training course. . . . Jan. 22 was a big day for Art Westenfeld, who celebrated his (?) birthday. He is mum about his age but then maybe with all that bottled pep he has been taking he just doesn't rightly know how old he is anymore. . . . The Accounting Section lost their game to the Firemen last week. We hear the Firemen are tough to beat. Our boys say they are still looking for a bigger cheering section.

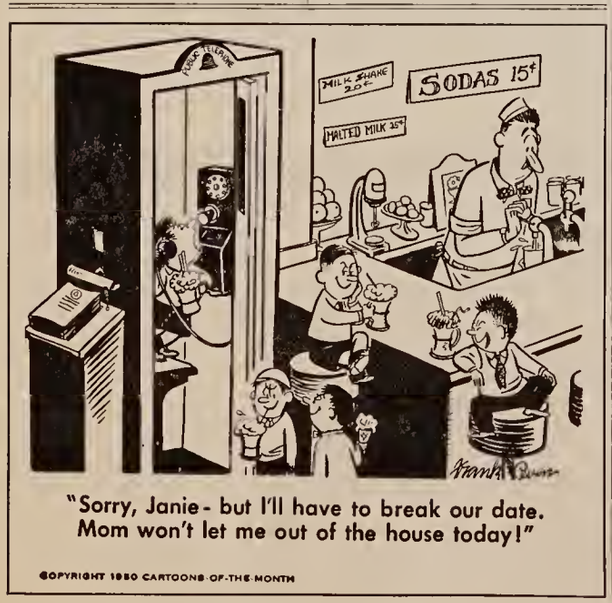
Anyone who wants to know a novel plan to hide earrings should contact Mildred Clevenger. Is it a deep secret, Mildred? . . . We're wondering how Harold Baker got his black eye. Come on, 'fess up, Betty. . . . What interest does Rosemary Diem have in the commutator press? . . . The light in Dorothy's eyes was the result of the call from her hubby who is stationed in San Diego. . . . Mary Lindemuth is taking Hadacol. And she follows it very quickly with a cracker. Is it that bad, Mary? . . . We hope Elanor Hoffman's sprained foot is better by now. . . . We wish Dorothy Favorite would quit pulling poles out of the boards. . . . Jo Lee Zimmerman says the news just wasn't interesting until she started working here. Jo, that is just one person's opinion. . . . Mary Koopenclocker is sure in a hurry for February to come. . . . Dorothy Boneff was showered with "little things" at a potluck. Her hubby wrote some clever thank-you notes. For further information, see Dorothy. . . . Reggie Engeman received her 25-year pin. Congratulations, Reggie. She says she is also a member of the F. O. F. club. . . . Welcome to Alberta Porter, Doris Garr, Marjorie Smith and Eunice (Skippy) Lahrman, who are new in our group. . . . We are very sorry to hear of Nina Kougel's accident. She and her little girl were both injured. We hope you will both be well soon, Nina. . . . Why does everyone always go "B-o-i-n-g" when they pass Doris Stearns? . . . According to Clarence Norris, Violet is responsible for everything that happens. That's okay, Violet, just tell him that you have broad shoulders. . . . Can you imagine Alva Biggs calling his "Dreamboat Ford" a piece of junk? . . . Were those flying saucers flying around in the Field Section? . . . Congratulations to Jim Klinger and best wishes to Carol Weber, who just became engaged. Carol's ring is lovely, and she presented Jim with a handsome cameo. . . . Wonder why Mary Reynolds doesn't put the fried potatoes on the table instead of all over the kitchen floor. . . . Helen Thieme spent quite a while getting knots out of her apron belt. She must have been very much occupied not to have noticed. . . . Alice Robinson was late two nights in a row and both of these nights she dropped stators all over the floor. They say the third night works the charm, Alice. . . . Gailene Dixon is a frightened little girl since she is alone. . . . We would like to know the secret of how Jo Lee smears on her lipstick. How about it, Jo? . . . Ida Pratt is our official coke-carry-upper. . . . We're glad to see Helga Wickliffe back on nights, but Jerry Kraft is going back on days. . . . Martha Bullet is slackening up on her job as weather observer. She hasn't been to the window in ages. . . . Emma Bultemeier was in a restaurant and was so intent upon paying the check that she started out without her coat. . . . Pearl Michaels took a well-earned rest Saturday. . . . Have you ever drank "be-bopp" music? Polly does all the time. . . . Laurine Kraus should know better than to put her hands in her gloves when they are full of pencils, clips, etc. . . . Joan Armstrong certainly had a happy look on her face last Friday. Could it be the two letters and the phone call she received? . . . We hear that Oscar Miller's wife is in the hospital. Hope she recovers soon, Oscar. . . . That mixer Violet Smith got for Christmas was just a blind, we think, so that her husband would do all the baking. That cake he made was really delicious. . . . It sounded as if someone was celebrating the Fourth of July a little early. Or was it the milk containers, boys? . . . How did Katy Putt get the black and blue mark on her arm? . . . Dorothy Boneff will lecture on dog care and training if you like. Her pup is well behaved, now. . . . We should all feel sorry for Jo Lee. Since Delores Schinbeckler went on days, Jo doesn't have anyone to argue with. . . . The gang had another potluck, so Evaline Best could have some cranberry salad she missed out on before. . . . Ask Polly "who" is "who" that comes to see her. . . . Opal Hamrick whistles so loud that Alva Biggs tries to copy. But there is one thing he can't copy and that is the wolf call. That takes a little more practice, Alva. . . . How was the show, Blanche Allen? . . . Bonnie Marks looks a sweet-sixteen, but she is the mother of two. The little girl's name is Cinda Rilla, which we think is very clever. . . . Hey, Bldg. 4-1: We hear there's quite a discussion going on about a certain product named Hadacol. How about it, Sparks? . . . We are very sorry about Alice Steinbarger's accident and hope you will be back on the job before long, Alice. . . . Talk about being absent-minded, Betty Madden went to the show and when she went to put her boots on, she put them on the wrong feet. Upon arriving at the drug store, she discovered her plight and then she hustled back to a table so no one else would notice. . . . Happy birthday to Mary Jackson. . . . Imagine, Clarence (Muscles) Norris being disappointed because they had no dip for his coils. . . . Angie Mello had just cause to be angry when she returned home from the beauty shop the other day. Tell them you could do that good, Angie. . . . We suggest Helen Thieme move to town. At least, she won't have to rake cinders all day so the mail can reach her. . . . We welcome Freddie Schroeder on nights. . . . Eula says the News is boring without her name in it. Maybe she will read this issue, huh, Eula? . . . Wish we were lucky enough to be Joe Lee's daughter — six new dresses at one time. I wouldn't mind being her daughter myself, for a time, that is. . . . Don't forget, folks, to give generously to the polio fund.

It isn't what the angry woman says that hurts so much, it's the number of times she says it.

Q. How can iron-rust stains be removed from an enamel sink?

A. The best method is with the use of acids. Lemon juice or vinegar may be used if the stain is not too heavy. Let it stand for sometime, then wash away with water. A diluted solution of hydrochloric ("muriatic") acid, applied with cotton on the end of a stick, may also be used if stronger acid is needed. Since this is a corrosive chemical, be very careful in handling it. Try to keep it away from metallic parts of the sink, and flush it down the drain with copious quantities of water.

Q. Would it be possible to have a winter in New England without snow?



A. It is very doubtful that a winter without snow in some parts of New England could occur. However, it is conceivable that some parts of southern New England, particularly along the coast, might experience a snowless winter, though this is unlikely.

Q. What is the best way to put out a fire in a burning electric motor in a barn?

A. First pull the switch controlling the motor. Then if a carbon tetrachloride, or a carbon dioxide, fire extinguisher is available, use it. If not, use a bucket of water, or throw sand on the fire. Sand should be the last resort, as it will probably damage the bearings of the motor.

Q. Why doesn't carbon monoxide, after it has cooled, settle down to the Earth and kill us?

A. Carbon monoxide is produced by the incomplete burning of coal and other materials containing carbon. It does not settle back to the ground for two reasons. First, it is lighter than air, even when cool. Also mixtures of gases do not separate from each other, but rather tend to diffuse and so distribute themselves evenly. Carbon monoxide in the air eventually is oxidized to carbon dioxide, and so it does not build up to harmful concentrations.

30-YEAR EMPLOYEE HONORED—Merle F. Morkoetter, Sr., (second from the right) celebrated his 30th anniversary at General Electric recently when he received the congratulations of his co-workers in the Works Fire Department. Left to right are Donald D. Brayer, Assistant Plant Engineer; E. M. Hanauer, Fire Chief; J. B. Greer, General Service Division Superintendent; Walter Siedel; Mr. Morkoetter and Howard Colby.

A GOOD BOY

I woke before the morning, I was happy all the day.
I never said an ugly word, but smiled and stuck to play.
And now at last the sun is going down behind the wood,
And I am very happy, for I know that I've been good.
My bed is waiting cool and fresh, with linen smooth and fair,
And I must off to sleepsin-by, and not forget my prayer.
I know that, till to-morrow I shall see the sun arise,
No ugly dream shall fright my mind, no ugly sight my eyes,
But slumber hold me tightly till I waken in the dawn,
And hear the thrushes singing in the lilacs round the lawn.

—Robert Louis Stevenson

This little poem hints what the column is to be about—children big and little—so here goes. Martin Lee and Danny Eugene Staniford are the two sons of Roselyn Staniford, who is one of the telegraph girls in our office. They do many sweet things, she tells me, but space doesn't permit me to tell you about them. There is a picture of Carol Diane Nelson, nine month old daughter of Mary Nelson. From what Carol's mother tells me, She (Carol) is sure a "wiggle worm." This is the first year of school for Kathryn Louise Mishler, "Tootie" to her mother, Mary. Tootie can recite poetry; and only five and a half years old. Of course, we have a couple "big kids" too, but, I can't seem to get their pictures. . . . Violet Schnieders has been as quiet as a mouse lately except for the clacking of her typewriter. She's typing D. O.'s now and doesn't have much time to talk anymore. . . . Betty Bartley is Ed Sembroski's new secretary. Congratulations to you, Betty. . . . Edith Robertson didn't leave us entirely, after all. She is in the Commercial Division here at Taylor St. . . . Farewell to Jerry Galland, who left us Friday to work over at the Employees' Store at Broadway. Good luck, Jerry. . . . We wish to welcome three new boys to our Mailing Section: Don Weber, Robert Bay and Bud Mendenhall. My, things sure move swiftly around here! . . . Marilyn Spice has enrolled in the swimming class at the "Y". When you finish the "Three Feet" class, Marilyn, then you can compete with Esther Williams in any class. . . . Mary Wakeman and her husband have now moved into their new home. This is worthy of mention, because I believe a home of your own, is one of the few proud possessions that we can boast of nowadays. . . . Maxine Householder surely has an "infectious" laugh. I hope it is catching. A few laughs never hurt anyone. But, believe it or not, she says she eats "feather soup." . . . Have you ever seen stars in the morning? Know why? Jeanie Smith became engaged to Artie David, last Saturday afternoon at 4:30 P.M. No, I won't tell where, and how, but she surely remembers. Lots of luck to you both, Jeanie.

Carol

Curiosity has been aroused since Dale Irwin was seen lullabying a little doll to sleep during his noon hour last week. . . . After the broadcast Hilliard Gates made of Sid Hutner's dog "Fritzie" being lost, the gang all came into work the following morning with the idea of claiming the award as "Fritzie" was at the Repair Bench. . . . Mike Alwine certainly had a house full the night of his birthday party. It seems everyone had a grand time until it was time to go home, and none of the guests were able to get out of the lane due to the ice which had covered the roads. . . . Margaret Cowan has been a busy girl getting ready to move in her new home. . . . We extend our very best wishes to Ivan Osterman, who is ill. . . . Herb Habig had better watch his step as we heard Fred Vogt is getting tired of playing second fiddle to him in the bowling league. . . . Fred should be so disturbed. Look at Alex Groza and George Mikan. . . . Walt Niemeyer's vacation was ruined when Fred sent him a telegram (collect $1.13) saying they had lost first place in their bowling league. It wasn't until Walt returned home that he learned it was all a hoax... The office girls had a pot luck at Ruth Dannecker's home for Orlida Popa, who is leaving. . . . Mary Jane Runkle has an addition to the family—a taffy colored cocker spaniel. . . . Bill Curtis, who is serving the armed forces in Korea, will receive a picture of his son riding his new tricycle. The fellows in our assembly group went together and bought Danny his tricycle. We think it was a mighty fine thing for the gang to do and think they should be thanked for their thoughtfulness by all of us. . . . We would like to extend our deepest sympathy to Arlo Hawk and his family in the death of their little daughter.

Gets Collect Wire

SHIPPING: There's something new in Shipping Section, and it's Tony Koorsen, who's replacing Bob Gebert. Welcome aboard, Tony. . . . A three-gun salute to Teresa Arend whose birthday is Sunday. Best wishes from the gang, Teresa. . . . If anyone can get their fingers on "I Thought I Saw a Pussy Cat," please contact Eva Westrick, because she's been trying very hard to secure that record. . . . Nice to see Helen Elbert back after her battle with the germs. . . . We regret to say farewell to little Maxine Hinkle today. We are all wishing you the very best of everything to come, Maxine. . . . Among his many talents, 'tis found that Dave Bridges also possesses the ability to guess people's weights. He has a very clever way of judging his customers' weight, as he so aptly demonstrated at the Fairfield guard house. . . . MAILING: Leave it to Ralph Miles to figure things out. It seems he had a date to attend the South Side-Central game. When the time came, girl friend, had to baby-sit, so (not to be outdone by a mere child) Miles, girl friend and little papoose attended the game together. If you ever put your child in Miles' care and then it is seen out in public, don't be a bit surprised. . . . Loren Hill is back to work after his long absence, and it seems a little hard for him to get back in the swing. . . . Jerry (Sees All-Hears All) Gardner, has decided to wait until Spring to fix his car because it's too cold out and it just isn't worth it. What! Jerry, isn't that automobile worth a little cold weather? . . . Bill Fitzgerald has decided to get a new chauffeur. Sunday he had to pull his profile out of the glove compartment. These sudden stops are liable to put a fellow anyplace, ch, Bill?

Bears Trample Tigers; Wildcats, Elks Win Owl Basketball Games

by Earl D. Stauffer

The Owl cage action of Thursday, Jan. 18, just enhanced the records of the present leaders when all of the games came out as expected.

The Bears chopped down the Tigers by the score of 37-24. The classy Bears zoomed to a 20-7 half time bulge and then coasted to the final horn. Bill Butler and Vern Burkett chipped in ten points each for the winners while Ivan Lepper had 13 for the losers.

Bebe Blauvelt, rangy forward of the Wildcats, went on a one man scoring binge and flipped in 26 points, 10 fielders and six free throws, to lead the 54-22 slaughter of the Eagles. The "Cats" dominated the entire game, holding leads of 12-6, 27-8, and 40-16 at the quarter posts. Big Freddie Phillips found the usual lid on the basket but managed eight tallies to pace the losers.

Joe Schible's Elks toyed with the Cubs and sank them to defeat by a 29-19 score. Charlie Klenke, who has had all sorts of tough luck on his shots, flipped in nine points to lead the Elks. Stoner was high for the losers with 12.

The three first division teams further beefed up their records last Tuesday morning in the Owl cage loop. The towering Wildcats swamped the Tigers by the score of 49-19. The Bears edged by the Cubs 34-30, and the Elks took the measure of the Eagles to the tune of 34-20.

The clash scheduled between the Elks and Bears for next Tuesday promises to be a dilly. Both teams are rounding into good shape as a threat to the leading Wildcats. Joe Schible's Elks have that necessary tall man in Ed Sutter who really knows his way around under the boards. Any disadvantage in height to the Bears is offset by the lightning speed fast break led by Bill Butler, Harold Baker and Vern Burkett. All in all, the final game of next Tuesday's session should be worth-while seeing.

NEXT GAMES
Tuesday, Jan. 23

8:30 Cubs—Wildcats
9:45 Tigers—Eagles
11:00 Elks—Bears

Owl Standings

Team	Won	Lost
Wildcats	8	0
Bears	7	1
Elks	5	3
Tigers	3	5
Eagles	1	7
Cubs	0	8

Summaries

ELKS

	FG	F	T
Klenke	4	1	9
Hayden	1	2	4
Schible	3	1	7
Crosley	3	0	6
Libbing	1	1	3
Totals	12	5	29

CUBS

	FG	F	T
Brown	1	0	2
Manuel	0	0	0
Stoner	6	0	12
Sechler	1	1	3
Twigg	1	0	2
Totals	9	1	19

TIGERS

	FG	F	T
Buuck	2	0	4
Lepper	6	1	13
Horstmeyer	1	1	3
Brenner	0	1	1
Weaver	1	1	3
Trice	0	0	0
Packwood	0	0	0
Drane	0	0	0
Totals	10	4	24

BEARS

	FG	F	T
Butler	2	6	10
Baker	4	0	8
Burkett	5	0	10
Wilson	0	0	0
Klinger	1	0	2
Ryder	1	1	3
Markey	2	0	4
Totals	15	7	37

EAGLES

	FG	F	T
Hower	2	0	4
Crum	1	0	2
Phillips	4	0	8
Ayers	1	0	2
Johnson	1	0	2
Cox	2	0	4
Totals	11	0	22

WILDCATS

	FG	F	T
Blauvelt	10	6	26
Jamison	1	2	4
Smith	1	0	2
Fuhrman	8	0	16
Wickliffe	3	0	6
Totals	23	8	54

You have all heard and seen people coming to work with their eyes half open, but Lou Holmes was in worse shape than that. She was seen dusting her desk with her head scarf. . . . Wonder if the Liars' Club knows about Charlie Hartman? He claims that he took home two hundred rabbits without firing a shot. He just opened his car door and they all jumped in. . . . Whitie Van Auken had a mirror on his desk last week. Luther Childers claimed that when Whitie was at his desk a perfect picture of "The Thing" showed up in the mirror. . . . Foreman wearing ties beware of fellows with scissors. Whitie Van Auken didn't look a bit neat with just the knot around his neck. . . . Bill Quarve, trying to abide with state rules, received a parking ticket when he went to apply for a license. Just can't win can you, Bill? . . . Wonder why Roger Pierson looked so down after a certain city series game? You should have taken the bet, Helen. . . . We are all glad to see Frank Auer back to work. He was recently discharged from the Navy. . . . Lee Miller, former foreman in General Service, was visiting in the plant last week. Come back more often, Lee. . . . There is a rumor that Maurine Wralstad doesn't like to mend. Is there any truth in that, Maurine? Be careful, we have quite a few details from George. . . . Say, fellows, for a good chicken dinner have Mary Jane Howe fry the chicken. Incidentally, she is always on guard for flying grease. Graceful, too. . . . In answer to all the questions: No, I haven't been combing my hair with an egg beater. In one of my better moods, I had it cut.

Good Cook

Music is the only language in which you cannot say a mean or sarcastic thing.

ELKS

	FG	F	T
Schible	3	0	6
Hayden	1	3	5
Klenke	2	0	4
Crosley	3	2	8
Sutter	5	1	11
Totals	14	6	34

EAGLES

	FG	F	T
Barney	4	1	9
Ayers	0	0	0
Vance	1	0	2
Hower	3	1	7
Phillips	0	0	0
Christman	1	0	2
Johnson	0	0	0
Totals	9	2	20

BEARS

	FG	F	T
Burkett	2	1	5
Baker	3	0	6
Markey	4	0	8
Klinger	3	1	7
Wilson	4	0	8
Ryder	0	0	0
Totals	16	2	34

CUBS

	FG	F	T
Brown	6	0	12
Manuel	2	0	4
Stoner	3	1	7
Sechler	2	0	4
Dice	1	1	5
Totals	14	2	30

WILDCATS

	FG	F	T
Smith	1	0	2
Fleckenstein	5	0	10
Fuhrman	2	0	4
Richardson	1	1	3
Spiker	4	3	11
Wickliffe	6	0	12
Blauvelt	2	0	4
Jamison	1	1	3
Totals	22	5	49

TIGERS

	FG	F	T
Trice	0	0	0
Lepper	4	0	8
Buuck	1	0	2
Weaver	0	0	0
Packwood	0	0	0
Drane	0	0	0
Horstmeyer	2	0	4
Brenner	2	1	5
Totals	9	1	19

Officials: Yergens, Glant, Monteith.

FINISHES 35 YEARS AT G-E—Erwin F. Richter, Bldg. 31-2, (third from right) celebrated his 35th anniversary of employment with the Company Thursday, Jan. 18. Several of his friends in the Large Motor and Generator Engineering and Drafting Divisions gathered to extend their congratulations on his long service. Left to right in the photograph are R. E. Pumphrey, E. F. Ginder, R. A. Van Horn, P. S. Stough, Mr. Richter, W. P. Lautzenheiser and K. R. McDougal.

by Ray Quinn

Thursday, Jan. 19, the Test Engineers took a close game from Transformer, 33-30, in regular Interdivision Basketball League competition. The Firemen beat down a stubborn Accounting team to win, 56-36. Taylor St. defeated the Apprentice School, 36-28.

Winter St. dropped a fairly close game Friday evening to Fractional, 34-27. The Squares kept pace with the league leading Firemen, beating Developmental, 49-28. Small Motors stayed right behind the leaders by winning a 52-31 ball game from the Tool Division.

Tuesday of this week, Winter St. regained their winning form and beat Developmental 35-27. The Squares ran wild over a game but outclassed Tool Division team, winning 86-17. The Firemen downed Small Motors, 59-36, to sustain their perfect record. This ran their winning streak up to nine in a row.

Standings

	Won	Lost
Squares	9	0
Firemen	9	0
Small Motors	6	3
Winter St.	6	3
Fractional	4	3
Accounting	4	4
Developmental	3	5
Test Engineers	3	5
Taylor St.	3	5
Transformer	2	6
Apprentice School	1	7
Tool Division	0	9

Summaries

SQUARES	FG	F	T	DEVELOPMENTAL	FG	F	T
Carl	5	3	13	Stouver	0	2	2
Krasienko	4	0	8	Doepke	5	0	10
Reynolds	3	0	6	Keller	0	0	0
Lindholm	3	0	6	Houser	2	2	6
Walley	5	2	12	Franke	2	0	4
Emling	2	0	4	Weaver	2	0	4
Hamilton	0	0	0	Houser	1	0	2
Totals	22	5	49	Totals	12	4	28

SMALL MOTORS	FG	F	T	TOOL DIVISION	FG	F	T
Bryan	3	0	6	Feasel	1	0	2
Sticote	7	0	14	Van Orsdale	1	0	2
Zimmerlee	3	4	10	Giese	4	1	9
Wickliffe	3	0	6	Yentes	1	0	2
Smith	3	0	6	Locker	1	0	2
Lee	4	2	10	Papier	4	3	11
Dwyer	0	0	0	Staley	1	1	3
Slack	0	0	0	Dunlap	0	0	0
				Stouder	0	0	0
Totals	23	6	52	Totals	13	5	31

TEST ENGINEERS	FG	F	T	TRANSFORMER	FG	F	T
McDougal	0	0	0	Lovell	2	0	4
Cochane	3	3	9	Carpenter	2	1	5
Perino	4	3	11	Bechtol	3	0	6
Beck	0	1	1	Taylor	2	3	7
Burgenister	0	0	0	Kumfer	0	3	3
Saunders	2	0	4	Waltke	0	0	0
Binder	3	2	8	Echert	0	0	0
Zernick	0	0	0	Baker	1	1	3
Keller	0	0	0	Simmons	1	0	2
Richards	0	0	0
Totals	12	9	33	Totals	11	8	30

FRACTIONAL	FG	F	T	WINTER ST.	FG	F	T
Honaker	0	1	1	Frazier	2	0	4
Hertz	2	1	5	Hayden	0	0	0
Waikel	4	2	10	Voors	2	3	7
Sparks	2	1	5	Gill	1	0	2
Cook	0	0	0	Buncefield	1	0	2
MacMaker	0	0	0	Schinbeckler	0	0	0
Rasor	1	1	3	Gettys	6	0	12
Smith	0	0	0	Kuzeff	0	0	0
Burkett	0	0	0
Lahrman	4	2	10
Totals	13	8	34	Totals	12	3	27

FIREMEN	FG	F	T	ACCOUNTING	FG	F	T
Baals	3	4	10	Raney	1	1	3
Reitdorf	5	3	13	Kent	0	0	0
Markoetter	1	2	4	Trabel	2	6	10
Wehrle	3	1	7	Raney	0	0	0
Hettler	5	1	11	Edington	1	3	5
Anspaugh	2	0	4	Frye	2	0	4
Etter	0	0	0	Harris	3	0	6
Webber	0	0	0	Grimmer	0	3	3
Wilson	3	1	7	Bosberg	1	3	5
Osbun	0	0	0	Wildermuth	0	0	0
Totals	22	12	56	Totals	10	16	36

APPRENTICES	FG	F	T	TAYLOR ST.	FG	F	T
Enyeart	1	1	3	Sproat	3	2	8
Batchelder	4	1	9	Smith	1	2	4
Davenport	1	1	3	Hughes	4	0	8
Stanek	3	3	9	Beaty	4	0	8
Beitz	0	0	0	Muzzile	0	0	0
Gottschalk	1	2	4	Cobrun	0	0	0
				Butler	0	1	1
				Offord	1	1	3
				Parker	2	0	4
Totals	10	8	28	Totals	15	6	36

WINTER ST.	FG	F	T	DEVELOPMENTAL	FG	F	T
Gettys	4	0	8	Stouver	3	0	6
Voors	5	1	11	Ream	0	0	0
Brincefield	0	0	0	Houser,D	4	5	13
Schinheckler	2	0	4	Houser,G	0	0	0
Hayden	2	2	6	Franke	0	0	0
Frazier	2	0	4	Keller	1	0	2
Gill	1	0	2	Bolds	0	0	0
				Doepke	2	2	6
Totals	16	3	35	Totals	10	7	27

TOOL DIVISION	FG	F	T	SQUARES	FG	F	T
Geise	4	0	8	Emling	2	0	4
Yentes	1	1	3	Reynolds	9	0	18
Van Orsdale	0	0	0	Lindholm	2	0	4
Staley	1	0	2	Hamilton	7	0	14
Grish	0	0	0	Walley	5	3	13
Dunlap	0	0	0	Carl	14	5	33
Locker	1	0	2
Feaser	1	0	2
Totals	8	1	17	Totals	39	8	86

FIREMEN	FG	F	T	SMALL MOTORS	FG	F	T
Morkoetter	7	0	14	Zimmerlee	0	3	3
Wehrle	1	0	2	Stricote	3	3	9
Etter	2	0	4	Dwyer	0	0	0
Reitdorf	3	5	11	Wickliffe	1	2	4
Hettler	4	4	12	Smith	1	0	2
Anspaugh	3	0	6	Rosswurm	2	1	5
Wilson	3	1	7	Bryan	3	2	8
Weber	0	0	0	Lee	2	1	5
Osbun	0	0	0
Baals	1	1	3
Totals	59	24	11	Totals	12	12	36

Taylor St. Ties For First Half Volleyball Title

by Bill Allen

The "red-hot" Taylor St. Volleyball sextette swept a three-game match from Winter St. Monday evening in a postponed first half game to jump into a tie with defending champs Apprentice Machinists for first half title honors. Scores for this match were 15-6, 15-3, 15-10.

In regularly scheduled games Wednesday evening Taylor Street edged near the top of the heap by winning two games from the Main Office Team with scores of 15-5, 13-15 and 11-10. This was a hard fought struggle with Taylor St. gaining possession of the ball in the last hectic seconds of play to score their deciding point as time ran out. Although playing good ball, Taylor St. was aided by several Main Office errors in crucial stages of the match.

The second half race now looms as a hectic team battle down to the finish between Main Office and Taylor St.

The only persons on earth who claim to have more sense than women are men.

1st Round Golden Gloves Results

Golden Gloves Tournament results for Tuesday, Jan. 23, are as follows:

Robert Sabo, Defiance, O., decisioned James Hoyt, Sherwood, Mich., (lightweights).

Dick Sabo, Defiance, O., decisioned Ernie Bailey, Rochester, (lightweights).

Richard Jackson, Fort Wayne, decisioned Joe Dominguez, of Fort Wayne, (lightweights).

Bob Smith, Defiance, O., scored second round technical knockout over Melvin Brady, Churubusco, (lightweights).

John Shoddy, Fulton, decisioned Alan Alleshouse, Bronson, Mich., (lightweights).

Dick Gaerte, Avilla, decisioned Floyd Curtland, Angola, (lightweights).

Dick Williams, Bronson, Mich., scored second round technical knockout over Wallace Felty, Fulton, (welterweights).

Vince Batt, Defiance, O., decisioned Melvin Greene, Fort Wayne, (welterweights).

Kuno Kaulbars, Defiance, O., decisioned Charles Bowers, Waterloo, (welterweights).

Dick Meyers, Geneva, decisioned Don Vorst, Fort Wayne, (middleweights).

Bill Reidenback, Fort Wayne, knocked out Bob Roth, Monroe, in second round, (middleweights).

Carl Johnson, Van Wert, O., scored second round technical knockout over Vern Dillman, Fulton, (featherweights).

Gene Lock, Churubusco, scored first round technical knockout over Raymond White, Fort Wayne, (featherweights).

Jim Knapp, Montpelier, decisioned Robert Huser, Monroe, (featherweights).

Volleyball Scores

Gen. Tool, 12-8-10; Small Motor, 15-15-15.
Machinist, 15-9-15; Winter St., 5-15-3.
Test Eng., 12-4-8; Main Office, 15-15-15.
Taylor St., 15-15-17; Drafting, 5-3-15.

The Toys, Watts and D's are all tied up for first place in the Transformer League.

Mennewisch had high series of the week, a neat 560 count. Two hundred scores were rolled by Macy, 200; Wendell Miller, 202; Nelson, 205, and Hurst, 215.

Office League

C and S is out in front with a one-game lead over Standardizing.

Carl Hattendorf paced the 200-counts with a 227. Other 200 games were rolled by Lloyd Parrish, 216; Frank Schlink, 213; John Root, 209; Harold Fanning, 202; Dick Kent, 201, and Johnny Johnson, 201.

Don Waldrop picked off the six-seven-ten split. No one fouled; guess the foul boy was asleep.

Interdivision League

Brouwers Tire and Battery and the Firemen are tied for first place. Just one game behind are Harvey Brothers and the Nogoodnix teams.

Two hundred scores were kegled by Dick Frede, 205; Don Lahrman, 212; H. Sexton, 213; Noah Kuntz, 205; Elmer Schoenlien, 202; "Keghead" Shroyer, 202; Leo Elward, 207; "Red" Smith, 213; Dick Blust, 207; "Gabby" Farrell, 215, and Leo (The Lip) Allmandinger, 213.

Roy Weick kept the Firemen out of the undisputed first place with his brilliant 93 count.

Tuesday Afternoon Girls' League

Unice McClymonds had the high game of the afternoon with a 187. Other high games were tallied by Marge Huber, 174; Jean Gladieux, 173, and Tommie Williams, 172. Helen Wagner, after missing all kinds of spares, picked up the six-seven-ten split.

Sounds from the Alleys

Mardo Tobias and son Dick, teamed up in the City Tournament doubles, put together a 1267 to place well up in the money.

Don't forget to take a shot at the Polio Fund Tournament. The price is only one buck.

Watch those s-l-o-w-w-w starters, the Planning team of the Small Motor League. They have started their move early this half.

The All-Star bowlers seemed to have a little trouble with the club alleys, as they had only six 200-counts for the evening. Anita Rump showed her class, shooting a 960 total after a 140 start.

By Mary Heymann

Many, many thanks to Imo Jean Schwartz, who so graciously wrote our column last week. Wasn't that a nice picture of her to decorate "Medical Memos?" Of course, posing for pictures is nothing new for this gal. After all, we can remember when she was featured in "Parade" magazine a year or so ago. . . . It seems good to have Mae Mulvane back with us again. She really put up a battle against a severe cold. . . . Birthday greetings are extended to Bertha Schrader, Jan. 17, and Duane Stroud, Jan. 22. . . . Mabel Wilson has always been known as an admirer of beauty and pretty possessions. Could that be the reason for her new interest in red lace? . . . Deepest sympathy to Irene Szink on the loss of her sister. . . . Note to the Census Bureau: Please increase Fort Wayne's recent population because three new residents have moved here. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Howell and their small daughter have moved here from Wabash. . . . "Past pains and pains to come seem never as bad as present pains."

BOXING COMMITTEE—Shown is the G-E Club boxing committee which worked hard to coordinate the many details of the annual Golden Gloves tournament now underway. Members of the committee are (seated, l-r) Bill Hanke, Frank Newport, John Dennis and Frank Hall; (standing, l-r) Guy Miller, George Hughes, Sam Baumgartner and Dale Weaver. Don Castle, Harold Smith and Dick Grote were absent when the picture was taken.

M. E. Keesler

M. R. Buckmaster

R. L. Clancy

Keesler, Buckmaster, Clancy Appointed Foremen

The appointments of three new foremen in Fractional Horsepower Motor Div. 1 have been announced by R. L. Spitler, Superintendent.

Merl E. Keesler has been named foreman of Field Winding and Assembly on the first shift; Max R. Buckmaster has been assigned as foreman of Machining and Punch Press, second shift, and Richard L. Clancy has been appointed foreman of Field Coil Winding, second shift.

Mr. Keesler joined the General Electric Company as a set-up man in 1940 in Bldg. 17. One year later he transferred to Bldg. 19-5 on dispatching in the armature section.

Navy Veteran

Mr. Keesler joined the Naval Air Corps in July, 1942. After serving 23 months in the Pacific Theater, he was discharged in November, 1945.

When he returned to G-E, he was employed in FHP Motor Div. 17 at Taylor St. A short time later, he was named leading operator of a field section in Bldg. 4-3, which position he held until his recent appointment.

The Keeslers live at 1009 Goshen Ave.

Mr. Buckmaster graduated from the Apprentice School April 17, 1943, as a machinist-toolmaker, and was assigned to the main tool room in Bldg. 26-5 on tool and die work.

He served in this section until he entered the army. He returned to the same work in 1946 after his discharge.

In 1947, Mr. Buckmaster was transferred to Bldg. 4-3 as a toolmaker, where he served until named to his present position. He is a member of the Foremen's Association.

The Buckmasters and their two sons reside at 4021 Buell Drive.

Began As An Apprentice

Mr. Clancy came to work for G-E in January, 1940, as an apprentice and graduated from the Apprentice School in 1942. His first assignment was as an instructor in the tool room, Bldg. 12.

In 1944, he entered the Navy and served until 1946, part of the time in the Pacific.

When he returned to the Company, he was employed in the main tool room in Bldg. 19-4 on bench work. He transferred to FHP Motor Div. 1, Bldg. 4-3, in 1947, where he worked until his present appointment.

Mr. Clancy is also a member of the Foremen's Association. He is married and lives at 1951 Sunnymede Drive with his wife and two children.

In almost all traffic accidents, one or more traffic laws have been violated by motorists, pedestrians, or both, says the National Safety Council.

G-E Club To Hold Square Dance Friday, Feb. 2, In Club Gym

The G-E Club will hold a square dance Friday, Feb. 2, from 9 to 12 p.m. in the G-E Club Gym, Earl Stauffer, publicity chairman, announced today.

. . . featured caller

Popular Johnny Wright will be featured as caller, and his orchestra will provide the music. Both Johnny and his brother, Chuck, have been calling for dances in this area for the past 20 years.

In an interview, Johnny stated that the day of the old-fashioned "hoe down" has been replaced with the more popular singing calls since the recent square dancing revival.

The affair will be the last G-E Club sponsored square dance until after the Lenten season, according to Ralph Heminger, entertainment chairman, and all G-E Club members and their friends are urged to enjoy the evening's entertainment.

There will be no charge for admission.

Pensioner Parade

Robert R. Dickens recently underwent a major operation and his wife reports that he is doing very well. He will return from the hospital today and would welcome any of his friends who could stop in for a little visit. Mr. Dickens lives at 2435 South Webster St. . . . Rev. O. B. Wiederhold says his personal visits to those who are sick in their homes or in the hospital are pleasure enough for him to consider it his hobby. Rev. Wiederhold also contributes articles to religious periodicals from time to time, believing that "the world needs a moral boost" and it is a real challenge to us all to do what we can. For about five years, Rev. Wiederhold taught a Sunday School class of young married people including Clifford Bowman, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Dowden, Henry Tucker and Walter Ballard, all of G-E. . . . Olive E. Worman and her husband are living in Bluffton on their farm. They have many fruit trees, mostly apples, strawberries, and raspberries. She also raised about 400 chickens this year. . . . Clara Dixon, formerly of Bldg. 17-3, has left on a vacation to California. She expects to be gone for several weeks. . . . Mrs. Alma Geary, retired, and her son, Maurice, Bldg. 4-4, spent the holidays in Bradenton, Fla., at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Smith. Mr. Smith, who retired the first of last September, is making his home in Florida for the winter. He is enjoying the fishing and taking it easy. He sends a "hello" to all of his friends in Bldg. 26 where he worked for many years. While the Gearys were there Mr. Smith and Maurice caught 45 trout in one hour, and Maurice brought 80 trout back with him to Fort Wayne. Alma had a nice visit with Genevieve Ayers Cleland and reports that she is looking just fine and enjoying her new home. Genevieve expects to stop in Fort Wayne in the spring and will pay a visit to G-E, especially Bldg. 17-3.

Falls are the No. 1 accident killer around the home, according to the National Safety Council. Keep ice off outside steps and walks.

A. S. Johnson Named Assistant To Plant Engineer & Supt. Of General Service Division Here

A. S. Johnson has been appointed Assistant to the Plant Engineer and Superintendent of the General Service Division, J. B. Greer, Plant Engineer and Superintendent, announced today. The appointment became effective Monday of this week.

A. S. Johnson

In his new position Mr. Johnson will directly supervise Plant Protection, General Service Production, Cost, Payroll and Wage Rate, Mr. Greer disclosed.

A native of Frankfort, Ky., Mr. Johnson graduated from the University of Kentucky with a B. S. degree in mechanical engineering. He joined the General Electric Company in 1929 as a drill press operator at Winter St., and was named a foreman in 1932.

He became a General Foreman at Winter St. in 1935 and transferred in the fall of that year as a General Foreman in the Plastics divisions, Bldg. 16-3. On March 9, 1936, he was assigned to the General Superintendent's Office on Special Assignments.

In 1938, he went to Large Motor-Generator Divisions as a group leader and was made Supervisor of Production, Bldg. 19-3, in 1941. That same year, he returned to the General Superintendent's Office as a methods planner.

Served in Army

A reserve officer, Mr. Johnson was called into service in February, 1942. He was immediately sent to the European Theater of Operations, where he remained until March, 1946.

Upon his return from the Army, he rejoined the General Superintendent's staff, as Assistant to the General Superintendent, working on manufacuring methods, layouts and appropriations. He served in this capacity until his present appointment.

Mr. Johnson was president of the Supervisors Club last year and is a member of the G-E Squares Organization, the Reserve Officers Association and the Engineers Club.

He is married and has one daughter. The Johnsons reside at 4406 Champlain Drive.

"Hoosier Hoopla" hit our floor with a bang last week. The County Tourney was on. The big roar was the Huntertown Wildcats, backed by Grace Jones. The little growl came from the Leo Lions, backed by Walter Kryder. . . . If you walk up to Charlie Rice's desk, look at the calendar and see "Enero," you aren't seeing things. It is January, and the calendar is from Mexico. . . . Joe Motter brought in a picture for Irene Blank. It was just a reminder of the "horse and buggy" days. . . . We have a hunch that the next time Mickey Simpson's wife has to go to the dentist, she will go alone. Last week Mickey took her, and he came home minus three molars. . . . Ida Sinn will probably be on the alert with whom she lunches. The other day she was ready to pay for her lunch and had no money. A friend-in-deed, Therlene Freiburger, came to her rescue. . . . Gladys Strong tried to go to the candy lady without money. It didn't work. She had to back-track and get her purse. . . . Who is this main winder that goes through winter without the aid of snowshoes or skies? . . . Lilly Schoch was up to visit us. Her life-of-ease seems to be agreeing with her. . . . It's a happy birthday to Fern Yoder, Laura Antrup, Virginia Hamilton and Bertha Witham. Some of Bertha's co-workers had a surprise potluck for her. . . . The broad smile that Mary McMonigal is wearing is because she is a brand new grandma. . . . By putting on her new spectacles, Doris Ryan thought people wouldn't notice she was "sleep" winding. . . . Delbert Thomas was a little skeptical last week when Marcille fixed a new dish. He thought it was "dog food." . . . Katy Salmon, hearing a noise, thought it was time to get up. She was all ready when she realized it was just a quarter after one. These early birds! . . . Hedy Harrison shouldn't eat before going to bed, as she had a nightmare. She came to work all tired out from running in her dreams. . . . I guess we will have to have a water fountain installed by Jane Meyer's machine. Every afternoon she is yelling for a drink—just anything that will wet her whistle. . . . Frances Eckrote was lucky at the recent Elex book review. She won a door prize. . . . Thelma Forehand's son has left for the Navy. He formerly worked in Bldg. 4. . . . Augusta Hoopingardner has left us to work in Bldg. 26-1. Sorry to see you go. . . . We're sorry also to report that Thelma Oswald's husband isn't so well. Hope you're on the mend and make it soon, Joe.

Has New Calendar

DIANA COLLECTION

FORT WAYNE WORKS

NEWS

Volume 34 | FORT WAYNE, INDIANA, FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 9, 1951 | No. 6

3 Vice-presidents Assigned Top Posts

Ralph J. Cordiner, G-E President, has disclosed responsibilities assigned to newly elected, executive vice-presidents of the Company, Henry V. Erben, Hardage L. Andrews and Roy W. Johnson.

Mr. Andrews becomes responsible for the Industrial Products and Lamp Group, consisting of the presently constituted Chemical Department, Construction Materials Department, Lamp Department, Small Apparatus Divisions, Carboloy Company, Inc., Monowatt Incorporated, and the Trumbull Electric Manufacturing Company.

Mr. Erben assumes responsibility for the Apparatus Group,

(Continued on page 9)

H. L. Andrews

H. V. Erben

R. W. Johnson

CUPID TAKES AIM—Better surrender, boys. Valentine's Day is drawing nigh and Cupid is drawing a bead on every mother's son. In case you're interested, our cover girl is MISS Arlene Welches, a winder in Bldg. 4-3. She is 23 and unengaged. (Additional details on page 2)

Employees Earn $3,362.50 For Suggestions in January

Two-hundred sixty-four people are on their way toward attaining the Suggestion System goal of "One for One in '51." They shared $3,362.50 in awards during January, A. C. Hartman, Suggestion Chairman, has reported.

Harvey V. Whitlow, FHP Div. 17, headed the Fort Wayners with a $125 award. He suggested a change in the manufacture of asbestos gloves to prolong their life. A Danville employee, George Howlett, earned $160 for his suggestion to salvage Scotch tape.

An idea for checking wash tanks brought Charles Druce, Specialty Transformer Div. 91, a $100 award. Bobby O. Black, FHP Motor Div. 1, received $100 for submitting a suggestion to improve the method of removing varnish from coils.

Mary A. Turschman, FHP Motor Div. 17, was awarded $80 for suggesting a different way of filling out material breakdown records. Sixty dollars went to Richard J. Hanson, Large Motor and Generator Division, for his idea pertaining to the calculation of weights. Avery Spayde, FHP Motor Div. 1, earned $35 for a suggestion concerning clearance for locating pins. An additional award of $35 was paid to Frank Bohnke, Decatur

(Continued on page 4)

Valentine Dance Slated Tomorrow By G-E Squares

The G-E Squares Valentine Dance is scheduled for tomorrow evening from 9.30 p.m. to 12:30 a.m., Chairman J. A. Walley reminded members today.

The dance is informal and open to all Squares members and their guests. Tickets are $1.50 per couple for members and $2.50 for guests.

Glenn Seabold, publicity chairman, also revealed plans today for a Squares Family Night Saturday, Feb. 17, 7:30 p.m., Squares Hall.

Entertainment will feature one and a half hours of movie cartoons and comedies. A ten-cent admission will be charged. Mr. Seabold urged all the children from "seven to 70" to come and enjoy the evening's entertainment.

R. A. Thomas, Wife Win Squares' Annual Bridge Tournament

A record turnout participated in the G-E Squares' annual bridge tournament which closed Friday, Feb. 2, Don Reek, chairman, reported today. Forty-four couples entered the event, which was held on three consecutive Friday nights.

The seven winners and their total scores were:

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Thomas..14,620
Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Edgar....14,140
Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Clarkson..11,590
Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Sharrow..11,370
Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Herman....11,300
Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Albert....11,060
V. Cauthen & C. Koomjohn..10,900

Prizes were awarded the winners and mystery prizes were given each week.

Company Announces Revised Survivorship Pension Option Rule

Under a new rule adopted by the G-E Pension Board, a participant in the pension plan may elect a survivorship option without taking a Company medical examination if he makes the election at least two years before his normal retirement date. In that case, the election becomes effective at his normal retirement date.

One important provision of the new rule is that participants, who were already within two years and 90 days of normal retirement date on Feb. 1, 1951, may elect the survivorship option on or before May 1, 1951, without a medical examination.

Before the adoption of the new rule, a participant could not elect the survivorship option until he retired or left the service.

It is still the rule that a partici-

(Continued on page 4)

Plans for Annual Mid-winter Conference Announced by Elex

Plans for the Elex Club's Mid-winter Conference were announced today by Thelma Stone, president. The one-day convention will be held Saturday, Feb. 24, at the YWCA.

With a theme of "Progress," the conference has been called to discuss and coordinate organization plans for the balance of the club year.

The conference will be of particular importance to contact girls and officers, Miss Stone said. All Elex members are urged to attend,

(Continued on page 4)

Vets' Party Canceled

Hugh Neely, president of the G-E World War Veterans Association, has announced that the Feather Party will not be held Friday, Feb. 16.

J. H. Hollomon, G-E Metallurgic Expert, To Speak in Ft. Wayne

John Herbert Hollomon, Assistant Manager of the Metallurgy Divisions in the General Electric Research Laboratory, will address the Fort Wayne Chapter of the American Society for Metals, Monday, Feb. 12. He will speak on "The Practical Significance of the Principles of Nucleation."

The organization will hold a din-

(Continued on page 4)

FORT WAYNE WORKS NEWS

Volume 34 Friday, February 9, 1951 No. 6

Lou Rotterman.....Editor
Virginia Molden.....Assistant Editor
K. Marian Davies.....Divisional News Coordinator

This Valentine Business

Z-I-N-G . . . . Here comes Cupid's arrow. It's Valentine's Day again and time for hearts and flowers!

This coming Wednesday, you may be as sleepy as ever, the weather will probably be cold and your coffee hot but Feb. 14 is no ordinary day. Oh no! It's going to cost you.

If you're married, your better half rates a box of chocolates . . . or if you're in the chips, a diamond bracelet or some other little remembrance . . . with a red ribbon around it. Even a paper card costs two-bits and the fellows with several girl friends will have to dig a little deep.

Valentine cards can say about anything nowadays. A few old-fashioned ones still read "Won't you be my Valentine?" But any resemblance between most of the present day cards and the ones of yesteryear is purely a mistake.

If you want to get a little dig in the guy next door or a fellow worker, a Valentine card may help express your sentiments. If you are real brave, you can probably rib the boss a little with a nasty little number signed "Anonymous." . . . and the venerable Saint Valentine started this whole deal because his feast day just happened to fall on the same day as an ancient lover's feast.

The kiddies send cards to Mommy and Daddy which have such phrases as "To my Daddy on Valentine's Day." The picture of a bear, rabbit or pussy cat over the endearing lines sometimes worry parents until they turn to the inside of the card and discover Junior's scrawl instead of an animal's paw mark!

Like so many holidays and other festive occasions, Valentine's Day is getting more and more commercial.

Oh Well! Who should be snooty about a buck? Guess we'd better knock off this chatter and get our pick of the cards and candy!

What Is Job Security?

I

Let's examine job security under the microscope and see what it is and how to get it.

First, we have to know what a job is.

A job consists of being busy making something that somebody else (called a customer) is willing and able to buy.

Without customers there can be no jobs.

Job security, therefore, requires customers.

II

Now, let's see if this is true—let's find out the source of factory payroll.

The manufacturer usually gets his income from the wholesalers who buy his goods.

But the wholesaler gets his money from the retail stores to whom he sells the goods.

The retailers, in turn, depend on customers: the people who walk into the store and spend their money.

III

As soon as the customer stops going into the store, jobs all along the line begin to dry up.

That's because all of the money paid to all the workers in the store, the jobbing house and the factory comes from the customer.

So the customer is the real employer.

IV

Now let's find out how the employees can get job security. They can't get it from management unless money is coming in from customers.

They can get job security only by helping management develop customer favor that turns into customer security.

Customer security comes only when the goods are of the right quality, design and price to make the customer willing and able to buy them.

In a free country no management can force customers to buy. Management must persuade the customer, and the employees' best protection is to help management do the persuading.

This condensation of an article by F. G. Clark and R. S. Rimanoczy is reproduced from the February 1951 Reader's Digest because it seems of timely and general interest.

L. R. Boulware
VICE PRESIDENT—EMPLOYEE RELATIONS

VALENTINE IN REVERSE—The WORKS NEWS thought its readers might be interested in the method used for its "real live" valentine pictured on page 1 this week. While two of the paper's staff held the big paper valentine, Miss Welches stooped and gave the cameraman a charming smile which failed to betray her cramped position. Hailing from Markle, Ind., Miss Welches joined the Company about a year ago as an assembler in Bldg. 4-3 and is now a winder in the same building.

Information Clinic

QUESTION:

I have heard two rumors in regard to vacations. First, that we would not receive a vacation this year, and second, that we would be allowed to take our vacation anytime during the year because of war work. Is there anything to either of these two rumors?

ANSWER:

Large Motor and Generator Divisions issued a bulletin to their employees this week to the effect that, due to defense contracts and contracts with customers who are expanding their facilities for defense work, Large Motor and Generator Divisions will not schedule a vacation shutdown. All employees will be expected to take their vacations, however, and beginning this week, the Division will start the preparation of vacation lists so that vacations in the Division can be spread as far as possible throughout the year.

In all other divisions, a vacation shutdown that will be as near 100 per cent as possible is scheduled at the present time.

With the exception of Large Motor and Generator Divisions, the Broadway and Taylor St. plants will close July 28, 1951, for two weeks, reopening for usual operations Monday, Aug. 13, 1951.

Some employees will be required to work during the shutdown period as follows:

1. It will be necessary for some few employees to work in order to protect the plant.
2. It may be necessary for some operating divisions to maintain a small skeleton force.
3. It also may be found practical to utilize this shutdown period for the completion of some physical rearrangement of facilities or the accomplishment of some essential maintenance work that cannot be done effectively in the usual working periods.
4. Government defense work may require some operations not known at this time. Where this becomes necessary, as much advance notice as possible will be given to employees.

SICK LIST

The following people have been reported sick, dismissed from the hospital and returned to work:

Sick List

William Weber, Otto Witti, Ross W. Cohagan, Elfrieda Doepke, Myrtle Rauner, Henrietta Jimison, Nicholas A. Leto, Lawrence V. Farmer, Beatrice G. Davis, Viola B. Martin, Helen Roth, Paul W. Hathway, Eleanor Heinker, Sarah Moore, Lorhene Wilson, Carl Rehling, Agnes Allomong, Gail Kirk, Alberta N. Porter, Mildred Bowers, Glenn Bell, Emma Black, Mary Cordell, Clementine Dykes, Virgil Davison, Florence Gamble, Louise Goelz, Chandos Hile, Eleanor M. Hoffman, Beverly Kireger, Lucille Keller, Walter A. Lydy, William Leimenstol, Jereld Nahrwold, William Nordyke, Nina A. Rider, Golda Rodich, Helen Smith, Ruby Shive, Paul Sell, Edward Schotter, Joan Trautman, Forrest Ulrey, Susie Waggoner, Earl T. Walker, Martin Walsh, Garland A. Ferrell, Margaret Voorhees, Clarence Johnson, Arthur F. Stute, Clyde Crowe, Carmelita Fough, Agnes Neideffer, Blaine Webster, Harry Freese, Mason Williams, Margaret Motherwell, Reinhart Herber, George Waldschmidt, Mable Englert, Gladys Dislin, Donna Voges, Gay Jones, Lucille Keller, Doris Joan Coddens and Robert M. Dunlap.

Dismissed From Hospital

George Waldschmidt, Edward Ryan, William Nordyke and Theodore Schelper.

Returned To Work

Dorothy White, Hulda Steffen, Norman Foulks, Ray Solga, Henry Wells, Max Shaw, Denzil Dowell, Elson J. Shanebrook, William Stolp, Mary C. Hall, Earl Leeth, Joseph Hartman, George Hill, James Saybolt, Elmer Sible, William Seigman and Henry C. Blume.

Mardi Gras—Dick Goetz, Bldg. 18-4, and a party of friends joined a tour to St. Louis to attend the Mardi Gras activities. . . . Best Wishes—Our best wishes are extended to the daughter of Col. and Mrs. Lichtenberg whose marriage was solemnized on Saturday. . . . So Sorry: We are all sorry to learn of the illness of P. O. Noble. . . . The extreme weather changes seem to be the cause for illnesses, colds, sore throats, to say nothing of sore muscles from shoveling snow and more snow. Vernon Kalb of Bldg. 18-2 will agree with my statement that this has been a rugged winter; you see, he shoveled snow the night it was 17 degrees below and the next morning he had a beautiful (?) cauliflower ear. Dick Sebold, Bldg. 18-1, offered the sound advice that the girls have something in their woolen head scarf craze. At least, he saved his ears that same night. . . . QUESTION: The new term at the Fort Wayne Art School started last week. Dorothy Leininger braved the cold night to attend. The rumor was afloat in Bldg. 18 that William Kellermeier, Bldg. 18-4, had planned to enter the class. Now, Mr. Kellermeier, if the model could stand the elements that night, you should have been able to take it! What happened? . . . A. E. Leider has his family all together this week. His daughter is back from her three-month assignment at the Veterans' Hospital in Waukegan, Ill., in connection with her nurse's training. The son Bill is home from Dayton University for his mid-semester vacation before resuming his pre-medic course. . . . Ab Martin spent a few days in the hospital for a checkup. . . . I recently read "Maybe bread cast upon the water will return, but most of the dough thrown across the ocean will not." How true! . . . I promised faithfully not to tell you about Ceal Romary's troubles last Monday, so I guess you will have to find out for yourself. . . . Good Luck—We all wish to extend to Minnie Fryback, of the doctor's office, our very best wishes for her future happiness. It will not seem quite right in Bldg. 21 without you, but we know that you will find a world of happiness in your future plans. . . . It must have been too cold for most people to venture out last week, news is a little slow.

Apprentice BROADCAST

By E. A. Rasor

I know what everyone is thinking, so keep it to yourself. From now on, you can look for a column every week. . . . First of all we wish all the luck to those who left for the 163rd sqd. at Baer Field last Wednesday, Feb. 1. Of course, everyone knows Owens is back with us indefinitely. But here's to Boh Smith and Max Poling. . . .

Welcome Home

Everyone had a welcome hand for our Southern gentleman, Robert Barnes, upon his return to Indiana. Of course, the weather man froze him to death; he has to huddle over a radiator for an hour every morning before his joints are thawed out. . . . If anybody is wondering who the stranger is in our Gear Section, he is Martin Zernick, a student on the Manufacturing Course. . . . Bill Mowery has left Bldg. 12-2 for a bench job in Bldg. 19-4 as Harry Ecenbarger is temporarily back at the dispatcher's job. Paul Wuttke has replaced Karl Hofacker on the mill in Bldg. 19-5, and Karl has returned to Bldg. 12-2. . . . In a beautiful ceremony, Saturday morning at St. Jude's Catholic Church, Robert Calkins and Joan Ankenbruck were united in marriage. The maid of honor and two bridesmaids preceded the bride and the best man and two ushers attended the groom. The reception was held at St. Nicholas Hall from 3 to 6 p.m., with congratulations from the boys in the Apprentice School. . . . A welcome to Robert Silk, who entered the Apprentice School a couple of weeks ago. . . . The Apprentice School has kept a name for itself in volleyball by winning the first half playoff from Taylor St. The scores were 15-4, 15-11, 15-10. We are out of the second half, and it looks as though there will be a tie between Main Office and Taylor St. for the second half. There are only a few more weeks left, and finals will be soon. . . . A belated welcome to Norm Stanek, Richard Rodenbeck, Dick Davenport and Robert Hill. Also best of luck to Neil Hesher, who enlisted in the Air Corps, and to Richard Reinking, who left for the Army.

Walter B. Kruse Assigned Post At Hotpoint Milwaukee Plant

Walter B. Kruse, Consulting Engineer in the Works Laboratory, has been named Laboratory Engineer of the Hotpoint, Inc., plant at Milwaukee, Wis., company sources reported today..

. . . joins Hotpoint

Effective Feb. 5, 1951, Mr. Kruse transferred to the Hotpoint plant in Chicago, prior to the establishment of operations at the Milwaukee plant. He will be in charge of the Laboratory in his new assignment.

Mr. Kruse has been employed by G-E since 1918, except for leave of absence periods to complete his education. Graduating from Purdue University in 1927 with a B.S. degree in chemical engineering, he returned to the Works Laboratory and in 1936, was appointed assistant engineer.

From 1941 to 1945, he was in charge of Laboratory operations at the Taylor St. plant, where he obtained wide experience and background in laboratory operation and metallurgical problems.

He is a Registered Professional Engineer, a member of the American Society for Metals, the G-E Squares Organization, Supervisors Club and the G-E World War Veterans Association.

Mr. Kruse, his wife and son, Richard, reside at 1814 Hawthorne Road.

The Grapevine

by

Pearl Hardy

Ted Schelper, recuperating at home now from what must have been double appendicitis, (he will be off four more weeks) wishes to thank all of the co-workers for their kind visits to the hospital to see him. If he had to be sick we think he picked a very good time—what with 17 degree below weather there is no place like home; that is if the coal bin is full. . . . But even with an empty coal bin, home couldn't have been any worse than Bldg. 4-1 last Friday. The best-dressed man was the one wearing his ice fishing apparel, for instance Bill Oberlin, complete with boots and cap and ear fobs down. . . . Ray Dotzer was also dressed for the weather with four shirts and a sweater and cap. Ray rides the bus from Waynedale for half price. Out of 365 days in the year, the bus picked this cold morning to break down, and Ray had to walk from the Taylor St. bridge to work. Are you sure you have been living right, Ray. That shouldn't happen to a polar bear. . . . George Hahn needs a new crystal ball. He has missed all his predictions on basketball this season. Are you really that bad at picking winners, George, or are you just trying to tease someone? . . . If any of the men were wondering who that cute little brunette was working in Bldg. 4-1 last week, her name is Berneice Alveld from Bldg. 4-5. Sorry, boys, she is married. . . . Elmer Leaderman has joined us on days from the second shift. Hope you like us and stay a long while. . . . Boys, you had better not tease Emerick Simon so much. Pick on someone your own size. . . . Adam Flager has a new way of dog-catching. He uses a big hook instead of a net. . . . A certain somebody in Bldg. 4-1 office has the hereafter all planned. If he is reincarnated, he wants to be a girl. They really have a soft life, he thinks. But with his specifications, I wonder. He wants to be 21 and a gorgeous blond, with 39 inch hips, 22 inch waist, and 40 inch bust and about 5 ft. 8 in. tall. Not exactly a Powers Model, do you think. Or do you???

BACKLASH: A good many of us have teased Barbara Mize about her accent. Since she comes from Georgia, you can well imagine how pronounced her accent is. The other night I was teasing her when she came up with this: "Ah do decleh, if you all don't stop talking like that, ah reckon you all will have po' lil' me talking like a Southerner." That did it; I resign. . . . NEWS FLASH: Pappy Weaver, the recent groom, is now back from his honeymoon in Florida. He has a beautiful tan. We just want to say, "We're glad you're back." . . . OFF AGAIN; ON AGAIN: Of course you have all heard that old Irish story about Flannigan. However, in our case, it's Art Stute. We aren't making fun, because Art has been having some real tough luck with his health. In all seriousness, Art, we all hope you get on the Get Well track real soon. . . . WE WONDER: Last week Clyde Ford did not report for work. Now we are not making any accusations, but we can't help but wonder if that new shotgun doesn't have something to do with his illness. What do they do to you for shooting rabbits out of season? . . . MAY WE PRESENT: We would like for you to meet a newcomer to our little group; the Rev. Henry Parrish. Rev. Hank doesn't seem to get the words in their proper rotation when he is preaching but he sure gets them all in. It's odd, but Henry just can't seem to acclimate himself to these increased taxes. . . . SPEAKING OF TAXES: Can't you just hear what our great, great, great, great, grandchildren are going to have to say about us? . . . CORRECTION: In last week's edition we told that Barbara Mize was from Alabama. We just can't figure out how we could make such an error when, all the time, we knew that she was from dear old, "Jahjah." We're sorry. . . . AIN'T IT THE TRUTH: Stanley J. Meyer from "Legion Magazine"—In the days of the Old Testament it was a miracle if an ass spoke. How times have changed! . . . GLOBAL SECURITY: Sidney Brody from "Legion Magazine"—

Laugh and the world laughs with you,
Weep and you weep alone,
Sign, and the world signs with you,
Ere banks will grant a loan.

IN RESPECT: This month we will commemorate the birthdays of two great Americans: George Washington and Abraham Lincoln. In stories, in plays, and in histories we have all learned the grave problems that faced these great men. We, too, have learned that with great courage, wisdom and patience these men overcame the obstacles before them. It was their finding of a solution to their problems that have made them eternally dear to the hearts of all Americans. We can't help but wonder what they would say if they were with us in these trying times. . . . CALLING SHERLOCK HOLMES: Since Kenny Seymour had his picture printed in that Trade Journal, we have constantly found him at his machine in that same stance. Everybody is now trying to discover whether he is working or posing.

SHIPPING: Thanks to a pair of pork chops, Herb Grueb was the lucky winner of a nice basket of groceries. Herb proceeded to answer the phone with "Pork Chops" even with overwhelming protests and snickers from friends and it finally netted a profit. . . . AH LOVE! Cupid's arrow has struck its mark again, and now, that happy Mary Ann Burke is wearing a very lovely thing known as a diamond. Congrats to you both, Mary Ann. . . . CANINE HALL OF FAME will undoubtedly add another hero to its long list of famous dogs. The latest name to be engraved will be "Whitey," a dog which we are sure will go down in history as the only dog shipper. Whitey is a member of Ed David's crew, and it is said that he can roll a barrel faster and better than any man on the floor. Ed seems to be having a little trouble getting all of Whitey's papers in order, however, because he refuses to divulge his social security number. In any event, if Ed refuses him we are sure Bill Saalfrank can use him to empty waste baskets, since he did such an excellent job of emptying Gil Bond's waste basket on his office floor. . . . HAPPY BIRTHDAY to Dorothy Johnson, Feb. 13. . . . MAILING: Welcome to Juanita Baker, who has joined our office staff. We hope you will like it here, Juanita. . . . Jerry Garner thought he had a sure bet, but it seems Central let him down. Now, Jerry, you can pay Gertz, and he will stop heckling you. . . . Cold weather or not, we had 100 per cent attendance last Friday. Of course, could be that Friday happened to be pay day. . . . Bill Fitzgerald, alias "Arthur Murray," decided to sit the dances out at the North Side-Central dance last Friday night. What makes you treat the gals so cruely, Bill. . . . Things sure have been cloudy around Mailing since Gene Doctor has been splurging on nickel cigars. So that's where all that fog has been coming from. . . . It seems as though Norm Gertz had his first flat tire. That happens when one acquires an auto, even the best of them.

E. S. Sembroski Assistant to Supervisor In FHP Shipping, Receiving & Warehouse

Edmund S. Sembroski has been named Assistant to the Supervisor of the Shipping, Receiving and Warehouse Section, Fractional Horsepower Motor Divisions, A. J. Rose, Production Manager, has reported. Mr. Sembroski's appointment became effective last month.

A native of Springfield, Mass., Mr. Sembroski served three and a half years with the U.S. Marine Corps, one and a half years of which were spent in the South Pacific. He graduated from Tri-State College in 1947, with a B.S. degree in Business Administration.

Mr. Sembroski joined the General Electric Company in July, 1948, when he entered the Advanced Production Training Program with assignments in Erie, Schenectady and Chicago. Upon completion of the course, he was assigned to the FHP Motor Order Service Section at Taylor St., where he served until his recent appointment.

Mr. Sembroski is married and lives at 5010 Bowser Ave.

E. S. Sembroski

Our advice to Reggie Engeman is to watch who she calls a jerk. . . . Delores Johnston is in the wrong profession. She is constantly singing at work. . . . We are wondering what Margie Michalowski had in her jar. Why didn't you pass it around, Margie? . . . Katy Putt should learn to obey traffic laws before driving on ice. . . . We are sorry to lose Mary Oakes and Anna Dray, who have quit to become full time housewives. . . . For a sight that would even make Dagwood sit up and take notice, you should see Martha Scott's sandwiches. . . . Martha Bullet returned from the window and informed the girls that it was snowing. What gave you the clue, Martha? . . . Happy birthday to Eula Laisure. . . . Congratulations to Mary Kintz on her engagement to Gale Stopher. Listen, and we may soon hear wedding bells. . . . Wanted: Two pairs of longies for Beverly Roebuck and Joan. . . . Amy Dull and Jean Pittinger are now riding the bus, as their driver is working overtime. It isn't that bad, is it, girls? . . . We hear Gailene Dixon's baby is ill, and we hope she is well by now. . . . We welcome Marian Greisley and Florence Cochran to our group. . . . I want to offer my humble apologies to Skippy Kurtz. When I welcomed her to the group, I guess I forgot and used her maiden name. Well, we are all entitled to one mistake. . . . Reggie and Jo Lee are sporting new cups donated by Evaline Best. . . . Someone should tell Dale Lauer the joke about Spic and Span. . . . We know what wakens Dale Stalter in the mornings. No, it isn't an alarm clock. Dale says it is his appetite. When he gets so hungry, he can't sleep any more. He gets up and eats. Good idea anyway, Dale. . . . Anyone wishing sideboards contact Clarence (Muscles) Norris. . . . Marjorie Crabill went to the show with Van Johnson. Or at least, he looked like Van Johnson, Marjorie says. . . . Polly is taking over Alice's hobby of unzipping zippers. Watch out, Polly, or you might get caught in one. . . . Jo Lee says hello to Mrs. Gzybowski. . . . Jim Klinger is so in love with his work that he dashes over after the coils. . . . We are beginning to believe Hazel Leonard doesn't know the difference between one and a dozen. . . . Nina Koogle is setting a new fashion. She is using a bowl cover as a head protector. . . . Barbara Ray should cease laughing if it makes her cry. . . . Helen Engle is getting in the swing with Hadacol. . . . Oscar Miller, how are your dishpan hands by now? . . . Polly, where did you get that pretty new watch? . . . Everytime a certain subject is mentioned Oliver's ears get red. Let us in on the secret, Oliver. . . . Doris Stearns has reached the point where she doesn't care anymore in bowling. . . . Pearl Michaels has been off all week. Hope you are okay and back to work soon, Pearl. . . . We hear Hazel Maxon's work has caused her to lose her voice. . . . Mary Rueter couldn't get her old buggy started the other day. It couldn't have been the weather, now could it, Mary? . . . Jo Lee Zimmerman is in the crocheting business. We hear she is open for orders. . . . This is to inform Nina Koogle that she just can't laugh and smoke at the same time. As you found out, you might choke. . . . Whenever Jean Pittinger's husband buys her a box of candy, she knows it is just soft soap. He wants to go bowling the next night. Now isn't that just like a man? . . . The next time Ardola Metker puts the teakettle on and goes back to bed, she had better set the alarm clock. That way she wouldn't have to buy a new teakettle. . . . When Arlene Welches drops money in someone's pants cuffs, she will consider it a lost investment.

Elex Partizans Plan Geo. Washington Party

A "George Washington" party will be held by the Partizan Chapter of Elex, at 1 p.m., Tuesday, Feb. 20, in the Gas Institute Kitchen, club sources have disclosed.

Hostesses for the afternoon are Nora Colburn, Burniss Cramer, Louise Heine and Bertha Mattes.

A junk shop near a railroad crossing in Denver carries a sign with this hint to motorists: "Go ahead; take a chance. We'll buy the car."

EARNS $125 FOR SUGGESTION—Harvey Whitlow, FHP Motor Div. 17, examines a pair of asbestos gloves, the outcome of a $125 suggestion. Mr. Whitlow suggested that these gloves be made entirely of asbestos, thus prolonging their life.

Elex Conference

(Continued from page 1)

she added.

Registration will be at 12 noon, followed by a luncheon at 12:30 p.m. Afternoon discussions will begin at 2 p.m. and the conference will close with a dinner at 5:30 p.m.

Fees for the entire conference will be five dollars. If members wish to register, attend the luncheon and part of the afternoon meeting, charges will be $3.25, or $3.50 for the meeting and dinner.

Berneta Welbaum, vice-president, and other second shift members will be in charge of the noon luncheon. Thelma Stone will preside at the meeting and Elex officers are in charge of arrangements.

Reservations are due Friday, Feb. 16, and may be made with contact girls or at the Personnel Offices at Broadway or Taylor St.

The Club is placing an order for club pins next week, Miss Stone said. Anyone wishing to order a pin should contact the Personnel Office at Broadway or Taylor St. Pins are $1.80, tax included.

Hollomon Speaks

(Continued from page 1)

ner meeting at Howard Johnson's restaurant at 6:30 p.m., preceding Mr. Hollomon's address.

Mr. Hollomon received his Bachelor's degree in Physics and Doctor's degree in Metallurgy from Massachusetts Institute of Technology. After spending four years in the army as chief of physical metallurgy section, Watertown Arsenal, Watertown, Mass., he joined the General Electric Company.

Numerous papers in metallurgy and physics journals related to behavior of metals have been written by Mr. Hollomon, and he is co-author of the book, "Ferrous Metallurgical Design."

He is a member of the American Physical Society, American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers, American Society for Metals, British Institute of Metals and the British Iron and Steel Institute.

Mr. Hollomon has been awarded the Legion of Merit by the Army; the Rossiter W. Raymond award, AIME 1946, and the Alfred Noble Prize, AIME 1947.

D. W. Thompson, Taylor St., is technical chairman of the meeting.

We have survived the below zero weather, but are still not up to par as for news. Come on here, gang, I'm not at all hard to get acquainted with, and I do want more news. . . . We are all wondering why Ralph Armey made Bea Lantz work back in the corner all by herself? Could it be that she was a bad girl? No, Bea says she's back there with the mice. We miss you, Bea, hurry and come back. . . . Imogene (Hinsch) Zimmerman brought the proofs of her wedding pictures over for us to see. They were sure swell, Imogene. It was nice to see her again, too. She is now in Bldg. 4-3 getting along fine. Come often, Imogene. . . . We wish a happy birthday to Pat Perry, who celebrated this week. . . . Jerry Nahrwold sure did miss Gwen because, when she went on days, Jerry got sick. Anyway, Jerry was gone all week. Hurry back, Jerry. We wish you a speedy recovery. . . . When the bell wouldn't quit ringing as it was time for us to get to work after lunch, we heard Louis Wyss say, "Wait until I get my hammer." He must have found it, too, because soon it sounded as if the bell choked and died. At least the noise ceased. . . . It is good to see Mabel O'Neil back to work after her sudden illness. We just wish you the best, Mabel, and hope it doesn't come back. . . . Dick Gidley is really being good these days. He holds the ladies' coats for them and won't do one thing that can be told in the NEWS. He says we don't dare put anything in the paper that is not true; so really this is all the truth. Just ask Dick. . . . Also we saw Dick snowballing the girls. Watch out there, they'll get you back, Dick. . . . We believe Dorothy Johnson gets lonesome for her husband. She calls home often. Could it be she's just checking? . . . We heard Delores Johnson is always suspicious that someone is talking about her. Delores, you don't have a guilty conscience, do you? . . . Ask Delores where she fell and banged her leg. She fell all right and we know where.

Cornered

Suggestion Awards

(Continued from page 1)

Plant, for an idea on winding machines.

Win Two Awards

Two awards went to Herbert C. Langer, FHP Motor Div. 16. He was paid $50 for a die grinding idea, and also received $30 for a suggestion about the removal of lift blanks. Tony Arthur and Ernest Lawyer, General Service Division, shared a $30 award for a better method of cleaning filters. Carl Scheimann and Joe Harvath, General Service Division, also divided $30 for suggesting a device to facilitate the removal of window glass.

Twenty-five dollar awards went to the following people: H. Eldridge Gillum, FHP Div. 15; Harold George, FHP Div. 15; LaVou M. Nesbitt, FHP Div. 16; Mearl E. Wilson, Robert J. Robertson, Kenneth Brown, Dallas Patten, Enno H. Richter and James R. Pugh, FHP Div. 17; William C. Berg, DeKalb Plant; Edward C. Haas and William Gepfert (joint), Specialty Transformer Div. 91, and Doyle D. Miller, Specialty Transformer Div. 91.

Many Other Awards

The following employees received awards ranging from $5 to $20:

FHP Motor Div. 1: Elmer V. Robin, Ernest A. Jones, Martin P. Vogel, Morris A. Peters, Marvin Gouker (two awards), Eleanor M. Hoffman (two awards), Harry P. Hyndman, Charles Foreman, Anna R. Clements and Lewis W. Clark.

FHP Motor Div. 13: P. A. Schoppman (four awards), Arthur Brandenburger, Harriet Palmer, Bernice Harmes, James D. Knupp, Clarence Watterson, Herald D. Patterson and Frances K. Funderburg.

FHP Motor Div. 14: Lottie McFarland, G. Robert Crosley, Raymond H. Huhn, Lewis H. Botteron, Laverne V. Amstutz (three awards), Oscar L. Fleming, Warren R. Colby, Earl T. Walker, Carl J. Miller (two awards), Robert D. Heimke, William H. Lewis, Dallas Corson, Paul C. Sollberger, Harold DeBolt, Leonard Runyon, Edna L. Ninnan (two awards), Everett T. Mullen, Raymond H. Rodenbeck, Arthur L. Bear, Guy C. Bragg, Walter Niemeyer, August W. Zollinger, Herbert C. Seider, Clair H. Forbes, Donld W. Dreyer, Mildred I. Orr, Grace D. Wall, Maurice Vonderhaar and Paul L. Beauchamp.

FHP Motor Div. 15: Forest E. Monroe, Mark Whitacre, Cecil R. Onion, R. E. Krieg, James J. Carey, Lucinda Pettit, Joseph Gamble, Jacob S. Sappington, Gerald F. Meeks, Leola R. Carrier, Francis F. Fann, Paul J. Stemmler, Kenneth Guisinger, Lyn L. Crawford, Gerald F. Meeks, Myrtle Barfell (two awards), Clayton Schultz, Roman J. Niebel, Roy F. Braeht and Harold George.

FHP Motor Div. 16: Herbert Winter, Stephen A. Sollot, Jr., Walter H. Buesking, Dorothy M. Johnson, Evelyn L. LeBeau, Thelma T. Oswald, Lloyd Ernst, William J. Cooper, Gladys M. Strong, Charles T. Irwin and Marjorie Ponsot.

FHP Motor Div. 17: John E. Donaghy (three awards), Ralph J. Begue, Hugh N. Johnson, Darold H. Emrick, Wendell B. Crum, William F. Rodoeker, Glen Buckmaster, Louise B. Sinn, Eldon R. Lewis (two awards), Enno H. Richter, Earl Frederick, George N. Miller, Margie F. Ulrich, Robert M. McCague, William J. Reffe, Chester Reinking, Robert C. Winkler, Warren B. Hawley, Fred E. House, Harold F. Cole, Harry C. Kessler (two awards), Glenn R. Miller, Frank D. Cox, DhuAine J. Davis, Kenneth Brown, Thomas P. Burlage, Roger I. Good, Reginald J. Bouthat, Fred B. Adams, Wilma E. Williams and Neola Christlieb.

FHP Motor Div. 23: Robert L. Short, Nobel H. Wagner (two awards), Albert E. Middaugh, Clarence F. Koepke, Earl D. Stauffer, Virginia J. Harris, Roger R. Crabill and Valjean Pete Uran.

FHP Motor Div. 10: John F. Driver.

Decatur Plant: Arthur Schrinner and Decatur Plant: Arthur Schinnerer and Clarence Drake.

Tiffin Plant: Donald Welty, George LaFontnine, Frederick Stone, Gerald Yost, L. Frankart, Alton Lonsway, Marion M. Shultz, George Blust, Brenton Hoffman, Fred Desbin, Harold Kays and Hess Koontz.

DeKalb Plant: Hugh K. Wells and R. Erwin, Gerald Wilson, Wyatt Schmidlap, William Berg, Glen Davidson and Fred Williams.

Specialty Transformer Div. 91: Paul F. Noffze, Kathleen Schafer, Ray Papenbrock, Owen R. Allen, Clair A. Wiebke, Rosella M. Dove, Irene C. Draper, Max W. Lydy and Charles R. Eastes (two awards).

Specialty Transformer Div. 94: Don Waldrop, Harry H. Freeman, Robert C. Triplett, Harold G. Josse (three awards), Levi C. Carpenter (two awards), Arthur F. Pequignot (two awards), Edward M. Dullaghan (two awards), Charles F. Holtsclaw, Mary Kieler, Bohette M. Shaw, James T. Keller, Carrie E. Green, Maurry J. Sherman, Bertha Gruber, J. Virgil McKeeman, Lyle E. Bertsch, William E. Braun, Eugene F. Mettler, Albert R. Oechsle, Gertrude A. Kummerant, Dale F. Stucky (two awards), Loyal Smothermon, Elvie Dafforn, Paul Haffner, Richard Hoopingarner, Blanche M. Kanning, Bertha Banister, Ruth Durnil (two awards), Wayne Winters, Arthur Rall (two awards), Bessie V. Johnson and Mabel M. Nelson.

Danville Plant: John Kinney, Robert D. Wright, Betty Tamalunis, W. L. Bonebrake, Raymond Vandom, C. W. Woodard, Derald Prather, Bertie Williams and William H. Urick (two awards).

Large Motor and Generator Div.: Guy Miller, Louis D. Hopper and Clarence S. Stoner.

Wire and Insulation Division: Richard D. Kite, Donald H. Mapes, Burl D. Teboe, Joseph C. Taylor, Dillo J. Patten, Robert H. Snyder, Warren G. Harding, Carl M. Junk (two awards), Virgil S. Nash, Donald Eaton and Oscar Baumgartner.

General Tool Division: Eldon N. Mee, Carl H. Einsiedel, William E. Jones, Chester J. Rennecker, Orville J. Anderson and Mildred M. Wagoner.

General Service Division: Homer A. Markley, Raymond A. Kreigh, Everett E. Ehle, Wallace D. Reed, Norbert A. Hans (two awards), H. L. Franklin, Herman Davis (two awards), Rudolph A. Wuttke, Alphonse Schuhler, Carl M. Junk, Charles Martin, Alva R. Johnlos, Everett Sink, Nathaniel Wyatt, Charles M. Hunt, and Chalmer Fisher.

Distribution Division: Glenn Kurnfer and Mary Ann O'Brien.

Miscellaneous: Mahlon R. Meriele (two awards) and Erma R. Meyer.

Melvin Riley has nice, white hands these days. He says it is from the solution that he uses to develop pictures, but we think otherwise. It could be from washing dishes couldn't it, Mel. . . . Ross Strodel is going to buy a new car. We have decided that he hasn't washed his old one for five years, so he is ashamed to park it in front of his new house. . . . Everyone is inquiring about Sarah Moore, who has been ill. Hurry back, Sarah. . . . Edna Wolf was thrilled when a cop whistled at her the other night. He only wanted her to get back to the curb, as she was walking against a red light. . . . We have word that Rose Chambers is living at 427 W. Fourth St. We are happy to hear she is well and working as usual. . . . Clyde Helms has a new switchboard operator. Eddie Bandt forgets to look behind him to see if the party called is present. It seems that these added responsibilities have caused Eddie to be a little absent-minded. He forgot to take the keys out of the door at home, making it easy for burglars. . . . Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hull on the arrival of Robert Jr. It seems that the stork outran Seabiscuit. . . . We are happy that Dorothy Weiler is able to be back to work. . . . Come on, girls, give. We would like to know about these secret parties, Elinor and Sydonna. . . . Ruby Stoops says at least she doesn't have to leave five years' dirt on her car like Ross Strodel, or carry 600 pounds of hard cement in the back of her car like Ralph Hare in order to keep the car from bouncing off the road. (The ghost writer says "Buy a Plymouth." You don't have that trouble and it goes faster than 80 miles per, too.)

A. E. Shaw, of Erie, To Address Decimal Minute Men Feb. 19

A. E. Shaw, Assistant Manager of Wage Rates for the Erie Works of the General Electric Company, will address the Decimal Minute Men in the Chamber of Commerce, Monday, Feb. 19, 1951. He will speak on the subject, "The Mechanics of Formulae Building."

A. J. Ruble, Bldg. 18-3, DMM secretary, said that dinner will be served at 6:30 p.m. All members have been contacted by letter for reservations.

Pension Change

(Continued from page 1)

pant, who waits until the date of his retirement or until he leaves the service with a vested right to his pension, must pass a Company medical examination before he can elect the survivorship option.

Forms Available Here

Forms for election of the survivorship option will be available at all Company locations.

A participant, who elects the survivorship option, receives a reduced pension and then, if his wife is living when he dies, she receives monthly payments during the rest of her life. A woman participating in the plan may also make this election for the benefit of her husband.

The election of a survivorship option, whether before or at retirement, is irrevocable except that the election becomes void if the participant retires on a disability pension, or if he leaves the service of the Company and withdraws his pension contributions, or if he or his spouse dies before his pension starts (or before his normal retirement date in case he elects the option in advance and then retires early).

If a participant never elects the survivorship option, or if he makes the election and it later becomes void, the plan provides certain death benefits in case he dies before retirement or within five years after retirement. On the other hand, those death benefits are not payable upon the death of a retired participant who is receiving a reduced pension under the survivorship option—in that case his wife, if living, receives payments for the rest of her life. But if she is not living, or when she dies, no one receives any further payments. Moreover, if the wife of a retired participant dies while he is receiving his reduced pension under the survivorship option, he still receives only that reduced pension for the rest of his life.

Let's talk about the new "hair do's" the men are wearing nowdays, especially Fred Wheeler. He bought his daughter and son a barber set (just a toy set, understand). Sunday afternoon during his afternoon nap, the kids thought they would experiment with their daddy's hair. With a snip-snip here and a snip-snip there, it wasn't long until Fred began to feel a draft around the upper regions, meaning his storage bin for intelligence. To make a long story longer, he had to make a rush to find a barber to "even things up a bit." Anyway, he still looks O. K. to us. . . . Farewell to Doc Potter! He was our livewire and really kept "things humming." He will be in Division 17—just a few doors away, though. . . . We nearly have a regular basketball squad right here in our office. Of girls, too! North Side vs. Central! When they begin discussing the merits of each side, the fireworks fly. Audrey Bradfield is for Central; and Bob Mueller, Dee Hahn and Judy Krebs for good old North Side. The rest of us are the cheering section. Comes Monday morning, hardly any one can speak out loud.

"TAXES"

For many weeks, I've had the urge
To write a dissertation.
On something, that I feel some day.
May wreck our glorious Nation.

Of course, we have a problem
With a bunch of nasty Reds.
But I'm thinking of taxation
By our Governmental heads.

I recall, a teacher telling me
When I was just a boy,
That the power to tax is also
The power that can destroy.

Everytime they raise our taxes
Up goes everything we buy
Then we've got to have more money
And you see the reason why.

Higher taxes, higher prices,
Higher wages, my, oh, my
What an economic cycle.
Can't be done, but still we try.

You, I'm sure have heard the story
Of the man who killed his goose,
And you also know the reason
That he gave for his excuse.

He just couldn't be contented
With a golden egg each day.
So he found, as you remember
That a dead goose doesn't lay.

Sure, he had to have more money
And was hungry, but I'll bet
That, he'd done some foolish spending
And was hopelessly in debt.

Now it's plain to me that taxes
Are the golden eggs today.
And that we as individuals
Are the geese that have to lay.

But a ninety-billion budget
Just for National level use.
Makes me feel that Uncle Samuel
Is about to cook his goose.

—W. L Whonsetler

FLORIDA THERMOMETER: Joe Donahoo wasn't nearly as cold as anyone else during that cold snap. His thermometer goes only to zero. . . . WELCOME TO Fred Schimmel, our new draftsman for 40 frame, and Nancy Grosh, who replaces Judy Clark. Judy is moving to Taylor Street. Our place of business will seem like a dead joint with the absence of Judy's usual quips and chatter. We'll miss you, kid, and wish you good luck on your new assignment. . . .

Going to Taylor St.

WORRIED MIND: Denver Druesedow actually showed consternation over a piece in last week's WORKS NEWS concerning Wilma's liking Denver. He says, "Who's this Wilma, and why did she pick on me?" . . . TO THE MINES: It won't seem like that to Dick Richards after he spent his vacation cleaning house. . . . HAPPY BIRTHDAY to Katie Gardt, Feb. 12; Bruce Curley, Feb. 13, and John Leffers, Feb. 14. Happy Valentine Day to all of you. Don't forget to give your Valentine a little gift of appreciation on her day or his day. . . . STUCK: Bet Val Rowan felt like he was back in the pioneer days when he was stranded in Auburn. It took him one full day to make a round trip to Waterloo. His train did not show up at Waterloo, which was to take him to Schenectady, N.Y., and since he couldn't get a bus back to Fort Wayne that night, he had to take a taxi over to Auburn to find a place to sleep. Then next day there were no busses to Fort Wayne, from Auburn, bad weather. . . . BAD BREAK: We have a very sad incident to report concerning the latest "feats" or shall we more appropriately say "defeats" in the Harry Balz' tropical fish business. Harry had a $4 plate glass top designed for his new tank, nice beveled edges, special feeding holes and all that. Irene called the office to tell him that the little crack, caused by the fluorescent light heat, had spread to many cracks, completely ruining the glass top. Several of Harry's friends who took the message in his absence wrote him a sad letter informing him of the tragedy which had taken place. Harry didn't think it so funny. His remark was that he supposed his informants would roll in the aisle with laughter had the whole tank broken. The fish now have a new roof, unbreakable, we hope. . . . TOO COLD: Believe it or not, Bob Loveland couldn't take it when we had 17-below. He thought he could always face the weather, come what may, to go home for his lunch. But this was too much. He called his wife and told her he was staying at work for lunch. . . . NEVER TOO LATE: The clutch on Dick Heard's car finally failed completely (he knew it was bad, but it happened to fail on the coldest day)—repair bill $33. "Never put off until tomorrow what should be fixed today" could have saved you a little dough this time, eh, Richard? . . . ARE THE SHACKLES OF WEDLOCK TIGHTENING? Everyone in the DC Division is still waiting for the candy and cigars, Forry. Just because Walter Brake didn't bring in his birthday cake, don't think you can get away without bringing something in. . . . SALES NEWS: We welcome John McNulty to Mr. Horan's Section. . . . The Sales Division wishes all the luck and happiness to Gladys Koehlinger, who is leaving today to become a full time housewife. The editor of this column also wishes to express his thanks to Gladys for the time she has spent reporting the news from her division. . . . The Engineering File Room extends a welcome to two newcomers, who are Marilyn Krick and Virginia Fraser.

Welcome to Jack Vorhees, Artie Hoffman and John Logan to Bldg. 20-2. . . . Loads of luck to Ray Quinn, who was transferred to Bldg. 18. . . . Art Smethers had all his teeth pulled, but isn't a bit worried about getting a new set. He knows a place where he can get them cheap. Is there any trade-in value on them, Art, for anyone who wants a better fit? . . . Did you ever hear of anyone's getting angry because he couldn't call himself on the phone? Whitie Van Auken was in his own office, calling his own number and was very unhappy when Van Auken didn't answer. Wallace Geller was the guilty party who slipped Whitie's own number in the list of calls that Whitie was to make. . . . Clark Gable must be having trouble trying to decide to give the WORKS NEWS the okay on Arnold Landis' picture. Arnold has been looking for it every week. Maybe the second picture didn't turn out either, Arnold. . . . Our deepest sympathy to Clarence Kroener on the death of his father. . . . Congratulations to Sam Henry and Howard Morton on the additions to their families. Howard has a new son, but Sam has some new lambs. . . . Bill Schible can expect the worst if he walks in to the office and Ross Sills and Bob Hatfield are already in there. What's the matter, "Pres," do they rib you a little? . . . Charlie Hartman knows that wealth is just across the road. The oil drilling machines are over there. Soon now, he can stop running his car on water and moth balls. No wonder it only costs him one cent a mile to run his car. . . . Attention draftsmen at Bldg. 20. Bob Hughes won a bet at Taylor St. for keeping quiet for one whole week. If this seems hard to believe, call Henry Kiess. He didn't think he would ever have to pay that debt.

"TAUT WE TAW A PUDDY TAT:" But we didn't, it was just the groundhog looking at his shadow. Steve Bobay sees shadows, too, but in Steve's case it's only five o'clock shadow. Being as skinney as he is, that's the best he can do. So what, Steve, so long as you feel good, and you should, there's not much of you to feel bad. . . . NOW IT CAN BE TOLD: After Bill Rohe moved out to his mythical farm after being a city boy all his life, Wimpy Lemper began to wonder and worry whether Bill was well versed enough in the art of farming that he could make this quick Dr. Jekle and Hyde change. After some thought, Wimp's brain lit up with this idea. He would invest 50 cents in post cards, which he did. He then gave the cards to Leo Elward with instructions to go through all catalogs and magazines and send Bill's name in on the cards for any and all kinds of information on farming and what-have-you. However, Leo had ideas, too. Since Wimpy is sort of a city farmer, Leo says to himself, "What's sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander." So Leo also invested 50 cents in cards and sent Wimpy's name in with Bill's for free literature, etc. As we said, "Now it can be told," how this little scheme backfired on our city farmer boy, Wimpy Lemper. Needless to say Mesdames Rohe and Lemper are kept quite busy these days carrying mail by the bushel baskets full from their R. F. D. boxes to their homes. Bill's very happy about the whole thing. He has received so many free flower seeds that he thinks he'll start a green house. As to the literature advising what to feed hogs so that they will weigh over 200 pounds in two weeks, it's simply out of this world. . . . PLAYS CIRCUS: Joe Taylor, our singing cowboy auctioneer, has a job salvaging bare copper wire. So that this work will seem more like play, our Joe spells bare, Bear, just for the Bier of it. . . . LENT: We are again in the Holy Season of Lent. A time for prayer and Pennance for the sins of our past life. Pray earnestly and really mean it. Pray that God may give light and guidance to our leaders who at times seem to be so misguided and frustrated. Just to move your lips is not enough. It must be sincere and come from the bottom of your heart if you expect to be heard by Him who can really give us true peace and happiness.

Now It Can Be Told

When you get to Heaven
You will likely view,
Many folks whose presence there
Will be a shock to you,
But keep very quiet
Do not even stare
Doubtless there'll be many folks
Surprised to see you there!

ST. VALENTINE'S DAY: It's next Wednesday, boys, don't forget to give that sweetheart of yours (even if you're married to her) an extra hug or kiss. She'll appreciate it and say you're the finest and swellest guy in the world. P. S. Won't cost one red penny either (we hope).

Character is like a tree and reputation like its shadow. The shadow is what we think of it; the tree is the real thing.—Abraham Lincoln.

Inquiring Reporter:

"ARE YOU IN FAVOR OF SENDING ADDITIONAL U. S. TROOPS TO EUROPE?"

JANICE SOLLBERGER

Taylor St.

"I'm in favor of sending additional troops to Europe to a certain extent. In case of an all-out war, we would have some of our men trained for those countries and climates, ready to protect what interests we have there."

THOMAS E. WOODWARD

Bldg. 26-5

"No. Let's keep our armed forces in this country and make the United States a strong defensive nation. The peace-loving nations of Europe should set about the task of setting up some defense measures of their own, and not expect the U. S., alone, to stop world-wide communist aggression."

CHARLES STRONG

Bldg. 6-1

"I don't think we should send any more troops to Europe. We have to build up a big defense here. Let them build up their own armies. I am in favor of sending them materials, but let's keep our men here."

RALPH L. NIMAN

Bldg. 27

"No. In my opinion, Europe should first show a definite willingness on her part to supply troops and weapons before being augmented with United States reserves."

GEORGE MOSSHAMMER

Bldg 17-1

"Yes. We should send more troops to Europe. We must send our quota along with the rest of the countries. We're all in this together."

The Club Everybody Built

POLICY MAKERS—The present G-E Club Board of Directors shown at one of their monthly meetings are: (l. to r.) Harold Carter, Bldg. 4-6, director; I. H. Freeman, Bldg. 18-3, director; G. R. Lindemuth, Bldg. 18-5, director; Evelyn Blakely, Taylor St., 2nd vice president; Pres Slack, Bldg 2-2, 1st vice president; Dick Kent, Bldg. 18-5, president; Charlie Winans, Taylor St., secretary; Sue Seidel, Taylor St., director; George Waldschmidt, Bldg. 18-3, treasurer, and Ife Holmes, Taylor St., director.

COMBINED EFFORTS OF MANY G-E ORGANIZATIONS, EMPLOYEES' CANDY MONEY HELPED CREATE G-E CLUB

A new G-E employee stood on the corner of Broadway and Swinney Ave. one afternoon after work, waiting for his bus. He noticed the impressive square brick building on the corner.

"The G-E Club," he read, "How do you get to be a member of that place?"

The new employee may not have realized it, but he was already a member in good standing of one of the most unique organizations in all the General Electric Works, and perhaps among all industrial recreation programs.

The day he became a member of the General Electric family, like all G-E employees, he became eligible to take part in any or all of the club activities that interested him. He could bowl, square dance, box, shoot pool, play ping-pong, or just stop in, before or after work, to chat with his friends.

The way the G-E Club got its start and grew into an institution is a long story. It is generally agreed by most old-timers that a lot of the credit for its beginning goes to the G-E volunteer firemen. In 1912, the 28 men of the Fire Department were preparing to attend a convention in a nearby town. Their hook and ladder skills were tops, but they felt they needed new uniforms to add to their performance.

Enter Candy Contest

Sparked by Jim Sivits, one of their members, they entered a candy-selling contest in the hope of winning prize money for uniforms. As the contest neared an end, they feared their chances of placing in the money were slim. So, they took the savings from their ice cream socials and parties and bought quantities of contest candy, intending to dispose of it when the contest was over.

In this way, they earned the second prize of $400, and 28 uniformed men represented G-E at the convention that year.

After the contest, Harry Zimmerman, who is now responsible for the entire candy vending operation, kept a secret supply of the candy in his desk, while his fellow-firemen spread the word around that it was for sale. When the candy was gone, the firemen found they had not only realized a profit, but they had discovered a method for keeping their bank account in good shape.

Their candy business came out in the open when management granted them permission to establish a canteen at the Firemen's Headquarters in the Bldg. 18 basement. Jim Sivits, office maintenance engineer, ran the canteen and bought and sold candy.

As business boomed and their savings mounted, rumors began to circulate around the plant. The firemen were going to divide the money among themselves, according to the gossip! It was even rumored that the firemen were going to buy a brewery in Defiance, O., for their own enjoyment.

At this point, E. A. Barnes, often called the "daddy" of the G-E Club and former general superintendent, stepped in. He felt, and the fire-

(Continued on page 7)

CANDY MAN—Harry Zimmerman, one of the original members of the volunteer firemen who started selling candy at G-E, is now responsible for the purchasing and selling of all candy.

BALANCING THE BOOKS—Bill Allen, assistant to the treasurer, on the left and Charlie Wilt, G-E Club manager, check over a day's receipts from one of the vending machines in the recreation room.

VISIT FROM ST. NICK—A chat with Santa is a highlight of the annual Kiddies' Christmas Party. Cathy Anne and Al Hein, whose father is W. J. Hein, Bldg. 26-2, and Bobby Burns, grandson of Albert Burns, Bldg. 4-B, greet their best friend.

GRAB YOUR PARTNER, SWING AROUND—Square dances are a regular feature on the G-E Club's entertainment program. Usually held on Saturday nights, the dances attract employees of all ages and their families.

G-E Club

(Continued from page 6)

men agreed, that the money belonged to G-E employees, since their money had made the profits possible.

Recreation Foundation Formed

With the firemen's fund as a start, the General Electric Recreation Foundation was established in 1922 for the purpose of buying land for a club house. Mr. Barnes, as first president of the Foundation, purchased the land where the G-E Club now stands with the Foundation's funds, from the Nirdlinger family. The Nirdlingers were stockholders in G-E and very happy to be a part of the plan.

The Recreation Foundation was a merging of many G-E organizations. Representatives from each acted as a "steering committee." Their names are commemorated on a plaque in the center hall at the club. They were: E. A. Barnes, general superintendent; R. O. Orff, Electro-Technic Club; Irene Ofenloch, Elex Club; W. S. Goll, Works Manager; W. F. Melching, Fire Department; W. M. Doan, G-E Band; E. M. Hulse, attorney, and E. J. Sivits, Fire Department.

In 1925, the Recreation Foundation, its job of land purchasing completed, was incorporated as the General Electric Athletic Association.

Mr. Barnes and F. S. Hunting, then Works Manager, talked over the idea of an employees' club house with Gerard Swope, then president of the Company, and finally got his approval. "It took 12 years of 'missionary work' among the 'big shots' to get the club," Mr. Barnes remarks in his memoirs.

The Company agreed to erect a building on the land, if the ground was sold at cost and deeded to the Company. The offer was enthusiastically received by Association officers, and the building was erected and leased to the G-E Club.

The new structure was dedicated with great ceremony in 1927. Company officers, including President Swope, were on hand for the occasion. The firemen acted as ushers, the band gave a concert, and hundreds of employees turned out to inspect their new club house.

Club Furnishes Interior

The interior of the building—furnishings, bowling alleys, bleachers, stage and other equipment were added and paid for by the G-E Club over the years.

The candy business has grown as the Fort Wayne Works has grown. There are now 10 candy wagons operating in the Broadway, Taylor St. and Winter St. plants, and many locations are now served by vending machines.

In days gone by, the candy wagons have sold such items as soap and towels (before the days of modern washrooms). Now they handle cigars, cigarettes, tobacco, pies, cakes, cookies, rolls, milk, candy, orange drink, fruit juices, fruit and even snuff.

The Club is run by a board of directors. There are five officers elected each year and the following directors: three directors (one of whom is a woman) are elected by the membership; the fourth director is the outgoing president, and the fifth is appointed by the Fort Wayne Works Manager. The treasurer is also appointed by the management.

The board itself is a policy-making group. All the Club's activities revolve around committees. Committee chairmen are appointed by the president and approved by the board. Committees include entertainment, athletics, golf, boxing, publicity and bowling. The board gives each of these a budget and from there on they operate on their own.

Manager Appointed by Board

Charlie Wilt, Club manager, was appointed by the board. He is responsible for Club property and upkeep and sees that activities run smoothly. Harry Zimmerman, as foreman, supervises the purchase and distribution of candy and other items sold on the wagons. He keeps the candy wagons operating. Bill Allen is assistant to the treasurer and does the bookkeeping.

These men, along with the rest of the staff, are all employees of the G-E Club, but enjoy all the privileges of G-E employees, such as insurance and pension benefits.

Most repairs are paid for by the Club itself. Major repairs, like a new roof, come out of the pocket of its landlord, the G-E Company.

(Continued on Page 10)

G-E HOBBYISTS STAGE SHOW—Last spring, the G-E Club sponsored an exhibition of employees' sparetime projects. This was the first event of its kind to be held in the G-E Club and was considered a huge success. Ninety-six employees entered exhibits in categories ranging from needlework to model trains, photography and woodwork. The show was held on three consecutive days in the auditorium and attracted thousands of employees, their families and friends. Shown above are a group of spectators admiring the model railroad exhibits.

BRASS BUTTONS—Shown is the original group of volunteer firemen who accidentally got into the candy business to buy the uniforms they are wearing so proudly.

They are: Seated (l. to r.): Tom Wilson, Paul Ginme, Lee Morrison, Cash Lutz, Chief Bill Wurtle, Herschel Fell, Howard Koontz, Otto Nahrwold. Second row, standing (l. to .): Sam Shives, Bill Bacht, Fred Kiefaber, A. Anderson, Doc Obenschain, George Doehla, Frank Martin, C. Bishop and Jim Sivits; back row, (l. to r.): Charlie Strodel, Philip Weick, Edward Holmes, Harry Zimmerman, Nelson Bucher, Charles Alter, George Taylor and Chris Martin.

AT SNACK TIME—Freida Goeglein loads up a candy wagon for its morning rounds. On the right, Emily Hennen and Louise Eggleston, both of Bldg. 18-4, try out the new vending machines in Bldg. 18-B.

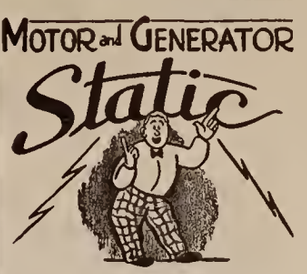
By Don Clark

Art Wolfe deserves recognition this week for an incident that occurred last Friday. Art headed home in his big Buick, relieved that his day's work was over. Arriving home he envisioned an evening of relaxation when he discovered that he had the wrong lunch bucket. This one was full of food. He had picked up Saul Felts' lunch by mistake. He drove 25 miles back to work so Saul could enjoy his supper. . . . We are glad to see Harry Henline back from that warm vacation. Can you imagine anyone's coming back from Florida with a frozen radiator and a case of frostbite? . . . DIE PLANT—Everyone is very happy to have Marion (Bill) Williams back on the job. About 18 months ago, Marion was handed a bad deal by polio. He is now making a valient recovery. Lots of luck, Marion. . . . Bob Bryan will watch his future parking space now. He hurriedly parked on a railroad embankment one morning. A protruding rail snapped the oil drain plug. A new pan plus three flat tires has just about flattened poor Bob. . . . There were some good prizes in the grab bags at the Shrine Circus. Just look at Cary Baker's new shirt. . . . The winning euchre players, Bob Branning and Eugene Denig, really aren't such good players. It's the coaching they get by "huh-uh" Rufus Niblick. . . . We congratulate Carl Mosser in the purchase of a new home. Carl and his son "Butch" had an extra room upstairs planned to be their den. Apparently they never mentioned it to Mrs. Mosser. It's now a sewing room. . . . Paul Weaver likes to get an early start Saturdays. The alarm rang, he jumped out of bed and aroused Mrs. Weaver to get his breakfast. Once downstairs his name hurriedly changed from Paul to "Mud." He was three hours early. It was only 2:30 a.m. . . . Do you remember the story about grandfather and his glasses? Here is a parallel. Harold Richardson looked in vain for his six inch scale. Coming to Harold's assistance, Bob Straub soon spotted it in Harold's apron pocket right under his chin! . . . Everyone's eyes popped out when Gale Rinehart walked in Monday morning. Some people thought he had cut his throat. A second look, however, revealed a red tie set off with a neat looking white shirt. . . . The draftsmen notice a few empty spaces since Ed Brink, Paul Wultke and Dick Reinking have departed. . . . If you haven't heard before, those new faces seen in Walter Greiner's section belong to Bill Mowery, Ron Allen, Mark McNulty, Merv Lowden and Jimmy Mattes. . . . Bernie Byanski's son, Beezie, claimed the car was in tip top shape. As he approached an intersection, Bernie was surprised to find no brakes. Bernie claims that it was the thrill of a lifetime, dodging those trucks, cars, telephone poles and a police car, so he parked the car and walked home. . . . Chick Abbott's daughter, Margie, is feeling much better. She was confined to the St. Joe Hospital with an attack of spinal meningitis. . . . Ralph Steward pays 83 cents for a hamburger, howl of soup and a glass of buttermilk. What no tip—Ralph? . . . Clyde Spangler gave free steak dinners to the Allen County champs last week. As everyone should know by now, Clyde's son, Bohby, is a member of this mighty Huntertown team. . . . Henry Frey says it's not this Henry Frey who was recently elected president of the Lutheran Hospital. . . . Woody Hursh's water pipes froze again. Since he hasn't room under the house to get at them and thaw them out, Walt Greiner suggested Woody either cut a hole in the floor or buy an electric heating cord to wrap the pipe. Ron Allen had an easier way. He told Woody to dip all the water he needed from the river. . . . Birthday greetings to Leo Ebert, who celebrates Feb. 10. . . . Our hats are off to Joe Mettler, Paul Brinkroeger and Cal Bear for each donating a pint of blood in behalf of Mart Walsh, who recently had an operation. Another good deed is being performed by Frank Hoffman. Frank has faithfully shaved Mart every day. . . . We are sorry to hear that Mrs. Frank Hoffman is ill and is a patient at the St. Joe Hospital. We wish her a speedy recovery. . . . There are some new faces on the second shift. Welcome to Saul Fett, Gerald Gamble, Loyd Tindall, Guy Brown and Joe Metcalfe. . . . The boys in the Mill Section say so long to Karl Hofacker, who is going back to school. A hearty welcome to Paul Wuttke who is taking Karl's place. . . . Purl Schoeff is back after being isolated by deep snow. Just a fair weather man, Purl? . . . John Ncukam has offered to pull Max Baron's infected tooth free. Max has declined. He claims he likes that sweet stuff the dentist sprays in his mouth. . . . Gus Berghoff fought below zero cold to get to work. He made it too, just in time for lunch. . . . George Houser reports that the ice now 12 inches thick is safe for anyone his size. . . . Self-Safety Question for today—will the rodents and the roaches sue me for non-support if I continually deposit my lunch scraps in a covered refuse can?

Everyone is wondering why Bill Bauermeister is wearing that cap. We asked him, but he says it is to keep the hair out of his eyes but we know better. . . . Rose Liby has our sympathy when it comes to going to jail. Although it was just a gag, it really had Rosy puzzled for a while. Next time she won't be parking three deep in the parking lot, as Frank Beatty said he would refuse to go her bail. . . . We want to congratulate Francis Lee for going into business for himself, but we were sorry to see him leave us. If any one is interested in any kind of insurance, we'll send them over to see you. We wish you much success in your new work. . . . Maggie Moore was seen taking in the circus over the week-end. We're wondering if she is really feeling that young. . . . Nellie Williams spent Sunday in Payne, O., with her mother. . . . Anyone wanting frozen mule meat should contact Mel Kestner or Ed Bireley. We hear they had a lot of it after last week-end fishing spree. . . . We have heard Otto Helmrich has a new color of overshoes, something new? . . . Mel Kestner wishes someone would tell Ed Bireley that there is no such thing as fish tracks in the snow on the lake. Ed spends most of his time trying to track the fish from hole to hole, Mel says. By the time they are ready to go home, Ed has so many holes chopped in the ice they have to worry about getting back to shore without getting a soaking by falling into a hole. . . . Ernie Raypole has more excuses about his bowling scores. First it's been a couple of weeks since he has last bowled, or he couldn't find the right ball. Anyway he had to have something to blame it on. Maybe the weather had something to do with it.

The mystery is—what did Joe Braun do with the slipper that the girl at the Horace Heidt show kicked at him? . . . The Shipping Section has five men who for five days in a row celebrate birthdays: Homer Wise, John Holthouse, Mart Hoffman, Merle Riley and Woodson Ogg. . . . We are glad to welcome Ralph Rabbit back to the Receiving Section. Ralph has been absent for several weeks because of illness. . . . The drifting snow and sudden drop in temperature worked together to keep quite a few of the employees at home on Groundhog Day. It wasn't because they were afraid of seeing their shadows. . . . How many of you have ever had the experience of backing your car—oh, so carefully, until you felt resistance, then put the pressure on the old gas to move the car behind; then discover too late it was a light post and not another car back of you? For detailed information, contact Frank Braun. . . . Weather or Whether. A favorite subject for conversation is the weather. First it is too hot, then too cold; too much rain, too dry; not enough snow, too much snow. We all discuss it, but none ever is satisfied; no matter whether the weather, someone wishes it to be otherwise. Ho! Hum! gets monotonous, doesn't it? . . . It is another blue-bootied tax exemption at the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Merle Burkhead and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Kohne. Hello, boys, and congratulations. . . . Birthday greetings to Josephine Wolpert. Thanks for the candy bars. . . . Now what could the matter be? Bob Miller must be very unhappy about something as he has not been singing as he goes about his work. Must be those snow drifts his Buick can't go through. . . . A very bright spot in the Toolroom these days is the check room which is receiving a fresh coat of paint. . . . Flossie Hower returned to work after a few days of illness. . . . Birthday greetings to Carl Roberts and Doris Durr. . . . Carolyn Baughn left the employ of the Company to take up household duties. Carolyn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Baughn, was married on Saturday, Feb. 3, to Walter Richter of Fort Wayne. . . . We extend our sincerest sympathy to Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bauman and John Bauman upon the death of their son and brother, David Bauman. David, also an employee of Decatur Plant, had been unable to work for about two and one-half years because of illness. Davy will be remembered as one of Decatur's ace golfers. . . . Emma Hebble, an employee of Decatur plant for almost 25 years, will retire from the Company March 1, under the provisions of Pension Plan. . . . Good and faithful service is oft-times overlooked and taken as a matter of fact or routine—the reporters who contribute these newsy items each week for the column deserve a very, very big commendation for loyal service. . . . In order to send the WORKS NEWS to our employees now in service, we are making an urgent appeal to all employees to help us get the military service addresses of all employees now in the service of Uncle Sam. Any employee who has the address of a relative or friend (employee now in service) is asked to send the address to the Personnel officc, Bldg. 1, Decatur plant, or to the WORKS NEWS office in Fort Wayne.



Now that you have survived those January tax battles, do you think you can hold out until spring? . . . The old groundhog saw his shadow, that's for sure. After the beating we've been taking all winter, he should have been ashamed to predict any more of the same. . . . That plaid hunter's cap Mike Lowe wore last week was really something; but then it was warm, if nothing else. . . . Roger Crabill learned the hard way about this business of answering the telephone. Now if he had said "bread and butter" or something in the way of food instead of "hello," he'd have been money ahead. The Dinner-Winner program called him and he had to go and say "hello." That's one way not to get any groceries free. How about it, Roger? . . . Ruth Troyer was having blouse troubles Monday. It seems she got the points of the collar going the wrong way, and finally she changed the blouse. Wonder if she really was awake? . . . May Lacey called in to say she is feeling much better and should soon be back with the gang. Good, we'll be looking for you, May. . . . Walter (Buck) Lydy returned Monday after a siege of illness. Glad you're back, Buck. . . . We want to extend our sympathy to Ray Debolt whose mother died last week.

The "Who Done It Mystery": Pat Tucker bought some un-mentionables, and she left them at work Friday night. When she returned Monday, her laundry was all done and hanging in the coat rack. . . . Carolyn Bonnelt will take a trip to Florida soon. This might be her delayed honeymoon. We would like to go along, Carolyn. . . . Belated birthday wishes to our second shift reporter, Gladys Moore. Her birthday was January 26. . . . We welcome the following people to second trick: Jean Stearns, Pat Pepple, Alice Zumbrum and Elizabeth Furge from Taylor St. and Eva Smothermon from Bldg. 17-3. . . . We of the Green Room offer deepest sympathy to Cecilia Kopp on the death of her husband, Frank Kopp. . . . Happy birthday to Rose Ann Peters and Mary Garrett, and thanks for the lovely treat. . . . Bettie Hall wishes to thank all her coworkers for the lovely gift and flowers she received while ill. She hopes to be back soon. . . . It's a good thing that the Test Section has a fence around it. There is one fellow in there whose initials are Tom Freeman, who needs the fence for protection. Those stackers are really irritated over that note Tom left on their table. . . . Thelma Johnston couldn't get her Kaiser started Friday. . . . Violet Gerbers was seen running down the street the other night yelling, "Don, oh! Don!" What was the matter, Violet? Were you afraid you wouldn't have anything to wear to the party, or have you taken up track? . . . Jenny Conrad has decided to give up ice fishing since she found out the procedure you have to use to keep the bait from freezing. . . . Roy Hosler can't keep his mind on cutting paper when he gets down around those girls on the stacking table. . . . Frankie Schlatter had to have his foreman, Mel France, help him find his slick that came up missing. . . .

We are happy to announce that our own Herschel Smith of the G-E will address the First Aid Instructors' Club at the Red Cross Chapter House on Tuesday evening, Feb. 13 at 8 o'clock. Anyone holding an instructors' certificate, current or otherwise, is cordially invited to attend this meeting. We feel it will be well worth your time.

Thought For The Week: "More harm has been done by old men trying to retain influence than young men seeking to attain it." Owen D. Young.

AT LAST: We are now able to give a pleasant thrill to the admiring readers of the various works of that well-known reporter, Poison Pen. Here he is. . . . WELCOME TO BLDG. 31-1, Doris Weber, Annamae Bowser and Leona Mitchel. . . . GREAT LIFE: Red Wells, Bldg. 22, Welding Section says, "Being ill isn't all bad, as it's not every day we get such loving care and coffee." . . . COACH: John Dennis, Bldg. 19-1, says that Frank Newport has aged 20 years since he took over the Golden Gloves this year. . . . SISSY: The "Bud Weaver Body Beautiful Club" is progressing nicely. One day last week, some of our physical culture fans were looking over one of the books which portrayed various "gorgeous hulks of men" showing off their muscles to the best advantage. Most of the above mentioned "hulks" were covered with a hroad smile and a small piece of leopard skin. This study of the body beautiful occurred on that day the temperature dropped to 17 degrees below. Everett Smith looked longingly at the pictures, gazed out the window and remarked, "I'll wear my clothes." Sissy! . . . A LIKELY STORY: When the boys in Bldg. 19-1 started panning John Rushart about refusing to get out of bed that morning of the big freeze, our hero came up with a quick explanation. Mr. Rushart's story was that he went to bed with a hot water bottle. During the night, the bottle burst, drenching his bed with water. This froze the covers in a solid mass, preventing his arising that morning. . . . WHICH? George Moses never does anything in a half way manner. The other day he was overheard negotiating a deal for 500 dominoes via telephone. Don't know whether he is trying to corner the market or intends to build a house with the little cubes.

Poison Pen

Well, I guess the place is going to pot. When you can go through that bunch of winders: Ralph Smith, Ben Keller, Otto Braun, Joe Troendly and Leo Klejnot and don't get any news, something is wrong. . . . Sorry to lose Claude Hughes, Ralph Bultemyer and Delmar Dewart to the city police force. We wish them a lot of luck in their new positions. . . . Ed Koontz still is trying to trade his 1950 Ford for anything that will start.

"Lost" and "Found" articles must be cleared through the Plant Protection office, Bldg. 10-2, or the Plant receptionist, who will place the Ad-let and otherwise advertise the article.

Only one ad per employee may be inserted. Each ad must be limited to 20 words and cannot be repeated. All articles mentioned must be personal property of the employee. Ad will not be accepted unless accompanied by the name, pay number, and division of the employee. No works building or telephone number may appear in ad, only the home telephone number or address.

Send all ads to WORKS NEWS office, Bldg. 18-3.

No ad will be received over the telephone.

CLOSING DATE

Monday Noon, February 12, 1951

LOST AND FOUND

FOUND—Round bar pin with light-colored sets. Found by Bldg. 18-Gate.

FOR SALE

MAGIC DEFROSTER—$5, excellent condition. H-66123.

CHILD'S BOOTS—Size 4; eight-weeks old puppies, partly broke. A-76122.

STORM WINDOWS—Two 28x63 with half screens, two 30x55 with full screens. A-1 condition. A-88494.

1942 OLDSMOBILE 98 Tudor, radio, heater or 1947 Dodge, four-door, new motor. E-40301 or 1837 West State.

THREE-PIECE WINE MOHAIR LIVING ROOM SUITE—Premire deluxe sweeper with attachments, good motor; Baby-Tenda, like new. H-35932.

LADIES' SUITS—And dresses, sizes 12, 14, 16. H-40025.

WEBSTER ELECTRIC RECORD CHANGER—And cabinet. H-46131.

IRISH SETTER DOG—Pedigreed, reasonable. H-81402 after 4 p.m.

NORGE ELECTRIC STOVE—Good condition, reasonable. H-90284.

LOT—142x306, fine garden soil, city lights, water, near school and bus, cheap for cash. H-66182.

1939 BLACK PONTIAC 6 — Tudor. H-65332 after 4 p.m.

BEAUTIFUL MAN'S BROWN SUIT—Like new, size 36-38, $22. H-20322.

FOUR NEW GOODYEAR TIRES—700x15. H-78655.

1950 STUDEBAKER — Deluxe model. H-8065.

WANTED

CAMP COT—In good condition. A-99461.

CHILD FOR DAY CARE—Close to Calhoun and Rudisill. H-60025.

SMALL CHILD TO CARE FOR IN MY HOME—During the day while mother works. K-3524.

CHILD TO CARE FOR IN MY HOME—While mother works. H-78132.

DRESSER—With mirror. H-66332.

USED 4x5 ENLARGER—Photoflood reflectors or service flash, cut film developing tank. A-85024.

TRANSPORTATION

WANTS RIDE—From vicinity of 537 E. Brackenridge. Bennett H. Crawford works at Broadway plant on second shift. E-5826.

RIDERS—From Columbia City to Broadway G-E. Ernest A. Jones, Bldg. 17-4, works for M. Crow from 7-3:30. Extension 2351 or Columbia City 744.

WANTS RIDERS — From Montpelier, Liberty Center or Bluffton to Broadway or Taylor St. plants. Stanford Hamilton, Bldg. 26-3, works from 7-3:30. Extension 413.

WANTED DRIVERS OR RIDERS—From Columbia City. W. E. Jones, Bldg. 17-2, works for Harold Hohman from 7-3:30. Columbia City 927-L or Extension 758.

Trying to top Del Morrical's story about the five foot snow drifts, Russ Neireiter says he went through four foot drifts back in 1936 with his 1940 Ford! Do you believe that? . . . It looked funny to see Charlie McCormick carrying two electric fans down the aisle on the "16 degrees below" day. Everyone wondered what he planned to do with them. Most of us were trying to keep warm. . . . Don't forget your Valentine next week.

Vice-presidents

(Continued from page 1)

consisting of the presently constituted Large Apparatus Divisions, Apparatus Marketing, General Electric X-Ray Corporation and Locke Incorporated.

Mr. Johnson heads up the Appliance and Electronics Group, consisting of the presently constituted Appliance and Merchandise Department, Air Conditioning Department, Electronics Department, Hotpoint Inc. and Telechron Inc.

The appointment of the three new executive vice-presidents became effective January 29, following action by the Board of Directors, as was reported last week in the daily newspapers. In describing the general responsibilities of each man as outlined above, Mr. Cordier pointed out that the prime objective is to relieve the president of the responsibility for maintaining direct contact with a large number of operating executives as was necessary under the former administrative organization. Further clarification of the revised operating procedure will be communicated through regular management channels.

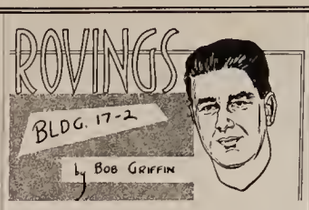
All Experienced With G-E

All three of the men who have been elected to the executive V. P. posts came to their new positions with a broad experience in General Electric.

Mr. Erben, a native of Schenectady, N. Y., formerly was a vice-president of the Company and general manager of the G-E Apparatus Department.

He was graduated from Yale University, Sheffield Scientific School, in 1919 with a degree in mechanical engineering. In 1918, he left Yale to enter the Army as a second lieutenant in the field artillery.

Mr. Erben joined General Electric in 1920 as a student engineer on the Test Course. Two years later he was transferred to commercial engineering work in the Lighting Department and the following year joined the Apparatus Division of the Central Station Department. He was named assistant to the manager of the Apparatus Division in 1928 and the following year was appointed manager. He was appointed manager of the Switchgear Division in 1933.



Six years later, Mr. Erben was appointed Assistant Manager of the Central Station Department and two years later became Manager. He was elected a commercial vice-president in 1944, and the following year was named Assistant General Manager of the Apparatus Department. He was elected a vice-president Jan. 1, 1948, and was named general manager of the Apparatus Department.

Mr. Andrews, a native of Boonville, Mo., was a vice-president of the Company and General Manager of the Appliance and Merchandise Department.

Missouri Graduate

He was graduated from the University of Missouri in 1910 with the degree of bachelor of science in electrical engineering, and was then selected for the G-E Test Course and assigned to Schenectady.

He was first assigned to the Railway Motor Department, and a few years later to the Railway Engineering Department.

Our genial, jovial William (Bill) Hofmann, the man behind the cigar, celebrated his 25th wedding anniversary Feb. 6. Bill said he actually celebrated the happy occasion on Saturday, Feb. 3. Wonder why? An inveterate cigar smoker, Bill is well liked by his co-workers because of his outstanding sense of humor. The boys want to take this occasion to wish you and your wife the best of luck with plenty of health, wealth and happiness on the next leg of your journey on the sea of matrimony. . . . It has been said, "There is nothing new under the sun," but you have to give these brainy guys credit for figuring out new angles. Al Wickliffe has a sure fire method of getting to work on time. It seems Al's faith in his jalopy's dependability has been somewhat shaken. He devised a remedy to overcome this by preying upon Jerry Wirt's good neighborliness and his love for a good breakfast of bacon and eggs. When Al, upon arising, decides the temperature has fallen low enough to make starting his car questionable, he calls Jerry and invites him over for his favorite early morning repast. At the last report, Jerry hasn't failed to answer all summons, but Al's car, demonstrating its right to temperamental lapses, has not been as reliable. One morning last week, when it appeared that starting the car was an impossibility, Al called Jerry and fed him an especially good breakfast. After the meal, Al, to prove to Jerry he needed his assistance, went out to the car and stepped on the starter. It not only started quickly but ran like a watch. All the way to work, Al berated himself for not trying to start the car before feeding Jerry that extra special meal. Jerry blithely followed Al into work as happy and contented as a man can be after a good breakfast. . . . Owen Cartwright found out to his sorrow that pouring oil on troubled waters doesn't apply to all situations, especially if the troubled waters happens to be the foreman's desk on the floor below. Tearing down a machine the other day in preparation to overhauling it, he found all the oil hadn't been removed. The oil ran away fast enough, through the floor and rained down upon the foreman's desk dierctly below. After frantically wiping up what he could and thinking the storm had subsided, 'wha hoppen?' It started to leak again. . . . Archie Evans related to some of the boys what was probably his most perplexing experience. One day last week while working on his car, he decided after finishing his job to run down and get some packaged coal. Now since it was rather cold outside, he had slipped on two pairs of trousers. He went to the coal dealer just as he was and, entering the office, he was confronted by a rather pretty girl. She wrote out the order, told him to pay her and pick his packages up on his way out of the coal yard. Archie reached for his billfold. Discovered it was in the pocket of the inside pair of pants, he said, "Oh, my money is in my other pants." He, without thinking, started to remove his outer pair of trousers. The young lady immediately colored up, and Archie noticing her embarrassment in turn became mighty embarrassed. He finally explained, paid and left as hurriedly as possible. . . . George Holthouse, your co-workers wish to extend to you and your family their heartfelt sympathy in the recent death of your mother.

Late in 1925, Mr. Andrews was appointed assistant engineer in administrative charge of the Railway Engineering Department, and four years later was advanced to the post of engineer.

Four years later, when the Department was reorganized as the Transportation Engineering Department, Mr. Andrews was named engineer. He was also assigned the responsibility for general commercial matters in the transportation field.

In 1934, Mr. Andrews was elected a vice-president and put in charge of steam railroad electrification, and one year later became directly responsible for all of the Company's transportation activities.

In July, 1939, Mr. Andrews was placed in charge of the Appliance and Merchandise Department.

Mr. Johnson was a vice-president of the Company and General Manager of the Affiliated Manufacturing Companies Department.

A native of Michigan City, Ind., he was graduated in 1927 with an A.B. degree from the University of Michigan. After graduation he joined the advertising firm of Campbell-Ewald Co., working in Detroit and the West Coast.

He started work with General Electric in 1930, working first as representative of the Maqua Company, G-E affiliate, in Bridgeport, Conn. After a few months, he joined that Department's advertising staff. He was made Assistant to the Manager of the Home Laundry Equipment Division but later returned to advertising.

He left General Electric in 1939, and in 1942, joined the War Production Board, becoming WPB's director of Facilities Bureau in 1943. He resigned from the WPB in 1944 and rejoined General Electric as vice-president in charge of commercial activities of Telechron, Inc., an affiliated company. In January, 1947, he was named Marketing Manager of the Affiliated Manufacturing Companies Department.

In March, 1948, he was named General Manager of that Department, and in September, 1948, was elected a vice-president.

BIRTHDAY: Ordinarily a birthday is just another day in our lives, one on which we becomc a year older. But Feb. 2, Minnie Fryback had a very special birthday. It was the beginning of a series of celebrations in her honor. She received many gifts, cards, a delicious cake and scores of good wishes from her friends. . . . RETIREMENT PARTY: Sunday evening, a dinner party was held at the Colonial Restaurant, in honor of Minnie, on her retirement. I. H. Freeman and Ivan Rinehart were special guests. The tables were beautifully decorated with spring flowers. Dr. H. W. Garton presided and short talks were made by Mr. Freeman, Dr. Garton, Imo Jean Schwartz, Mae Mulvane, Olive Walters, Veda Orff and Minnie. She was presented with an umbrella (a small joke), electric roaster, and a memory album, from her co-workers. Direct from the Crabapple Club, the famous "Apple Sisters," Seedy and Corey, entertained the group. Their music (?) was as corny as their costumes, and as for their beauty—let's just skip that subject. Anyway, Berneta and Mary will answer whenever anyone shouts "Seedy or Corey." OPEN HOUSE: Since Wednesday was Minnie's last day, she greeted many of her friends in the Main Dispensary where "Open House" was held. Minnie was a very capable and efficient individual, and will be greatly missed. It has been a privilege to work with her and to hear her cheerful, patient voice answering the many, many calls on the insistent telephones. The entire Medical Section wish you much happiness, Minnie, and hope that you have pleasure and joy in doing all of the many things you have planned for your retirement days. . . . When we look into the long avenue of the future and know that in the past we have done our best, we realize after all what a beautiful thing it is to work, and to live and to be happy.

So Long, Minnie

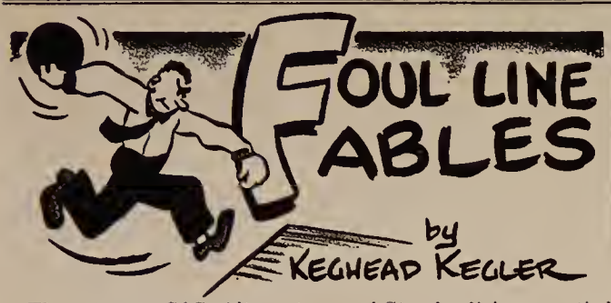
The following G-E employees left the Company to enter the armed forces this week:

Fernando Gonzales, Donald G. Kent, Frederick J. DeVeny, Thomas V. Whelchel, Francis E. Pinkerton, Robert L. Gebert, George L. Forehand, Luella T. Ternet, Robert A. Federspiel, Charles J. Huttinger and Herbert H. Hayes.

Here are some recently received addresses of former G-E employees now in the armed forces:

Capt. Harold J. Longsworth
O-348582
Personnel Center
Ft. Lawton, Washington

Cpl. Don A. Pace 1050414
Marine Bar. Guard Co.
Nav. Oper. Base Navy 926
c/o FPO San Francisco, Calif.



Robert Pickett
382 General Hospital
APO 660
San Francisco, Calif.

Dale Porsch
1942 Reed St.
c/o General Delivery
Orange Park, Fla.

Rct. M. C. Auer US 55060953
Co. G 516th ABN Ing. Regt.
101st Airborne Div.
Camp Breckinridge, Ky.

Cpl. Runy F. Wolfe 65556
Service Co. H & S Bn
Marine Barracks
Camp LeJeune, N. C.

Rct. Glenn H. Zook US 55060940
Co. G. 516th ABN. Inf. Regt.
101st A.B. Inf. Div.
Camp Breckinridge, Ky.

Three teams, C&S, Alternators and Standardizing, are tied for first place in the Office League with 10 wins and five losses each. It looks like any of them from now on.

Hal Fanning set the pace Monday evening with his big 237. Other 200 scores were rolled by Chuck Kelso, 221; Carl Hattendorf, 214; Duane Cole, 210; Erv Aumann, 207, and Johnny Johnson, 206.

Transformer League

The D's and M's are tied for first place with nine wins and six losses. In the tightest race of any league at the club, the last place teams are only three games behind with six wins and nine losses.

Groves' 532 count was the high series of the evening, and Downie's 210 was the only 200 score. Mr. Culp's 96 took care of the lowest for the evening.

Apparatus League

T. Bailey headed the 200 list with a 208. Oscar Huge was a close second with 207, and Jimmie Heaston's 202 concluded the 200 scores.

Team No. 10 continues to lead the league. Last week, Walt Beaty followed up his 200 with a healthy 99. Some fellows just can't stand prosperity.

Interdivision League

Brouwer's Tire and Battery continue to head the league, but only by the narrowest of margins, a slim one game over those ladder and hose boys, the Firemen.

Vic Rump's 233 paced the Brouwer boys to a 1011 actual pin total and league high single game. He had plenty of help from Paul Perry, who had a 220, and Elmer Schoenlien, 207.

Other 200 scores were rolled by Bill Nickerson, 202; Shepherd, 201; "Skeets" Lahrman, 206; Ty Cook, 207, and Walt Seidel.

Monday Night Girls League

Helen Wagner really was on the ball Monday night and rolled a 560 on games of 180, 231 and 149. The other high series was made by Marge Huber, who kegled 170, 153 and 186 for a 509 total.

Other high games were rolled by Eloise Karthall, 178, and Esther Muzzillo, 170.

Tuesday Afternoon Girls League

Marge Huber is consistent with those 500 series. She got a 523 total on games of 190, 147 and 186. Tommy Williams rolled games of 189, 153 and 186 for a high series of 528. Frances Oberholtzer got the other high game of the afternoon, a 197.

Sounds in the Alley

Rudy Zelt and Clarence Rump paced the G-E bowlers in the city tournament over the week-end with a 1230 score in the doubles. Don Dimke and Bill Piercy were right behind with a 1228. Don Dimke paced the singles with a 610 total.

We haven't heard a word from Adam Farrell about his bowling trip to Muncie. Guess he was just too glad to get back to those Fort Wayne alleys.

Don't forget to enter the Polio Fund Tournament. When you go down to the club, holler at Charlie, "Get out the polio sheet."

Vic Rump's 289 still heads the city in the single game division. His 690 also leads the G-E three-game total division.

G-E Club

(Continued from page 7)

Light, heat and power are also furnished by the Company.

An athletic, educational and social organization, the G-E Club offers members an opportunity to take part in athletics as spectators as well as participants.

Variety of Activities Offered

Sports in which employees are urged to participate include various interdivision basketball and softball events; tennis, volleyball, bowling, pool, billiards, table tennis, golf, archery, gymnasium classes, horseshoe pitching, boxing and wrestling classes.

As special events, there are dances, card parties, and the very special Fall Revue and Kiddies' Christmas party.

The Fall Revue consists of professional, first-rate performers from large cities, who present several shows each year to accommodate the over-flowing crowds.

The Kiddies' Christmas party, in many ways, is the highlight of the G-E Club year. Once again, professional talent appears on the stage, but then acts are booked with only employees' children in mind. Adults, except as escorts, are discouraged from attending because of the limited seating capacity—it's almost a private get-together for Santa Claus and G-E children. Last year, 5,500 kiddies attended the party, talked with Santa, were thrilled by the acts, and received bags of candy and fruit as gifts.

With the Fort Wayne Journal-Gazette, the Club also sponsors the Golden Gloves Tournament. The third floor training room is always available to aspirants and everything except personal equipment is furnished free of charge.

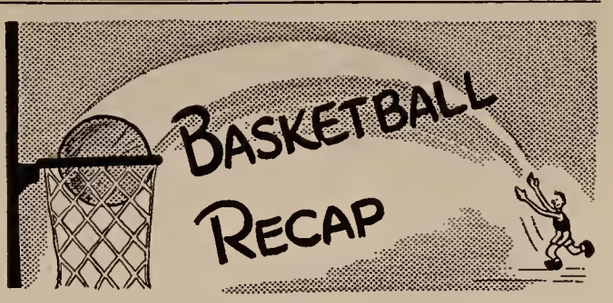
As a meeting place for G-E organizations, the lounge, or trophy room, is always in great demand.

Many Facilities Available

The G-E Club has in excess of $65,000 invested in equipment. There are 12 bowling alleys, four pool tables and one billiard table; boxing, badminton, shuffleboard, and horseshoe equipment; facilities for serving banquets to organizations—steam tables, coffee urns, banquet tables and chairs; complete stage lighting equipment, and motion picture equipment; locker rooms and showers for men and women.

The gymnasium-auditorium has 748 permanent seats and by placing temporary chairs on the floor, 1,300 people can be seated.

From humble beginnings, the G-E Club has grown into one of the nation's outstanding industrial recreational organizations. One reason for this, perhaps, is that it has always lived up to the purpose of its founders—never to be a "brass hat" organization, but just a place for all G-E employees to enjoy themselves in their spare time.



Fred Couture had his finger frost bitten last week putting car chains on. He said never no more will he do it in zero weather. . . . Delores Germano was wiser than the groundhog. She stayed in all day Friday; she was afraid of her shadow. Seventeen below was nothing to be scared of. It was 22 below on the night of Jan. 14 in Korea! . . . Bill Widdifield didn't show up until noon. He said the car froze up. We think it was Bill that frizzed to a frazzle. Next time, put red flannels on your old Ford. Better yet, buy a new one. . . . It is the second time in the history of Willard Smith's 1929 Plymouth that it wouldn't start. We think it was because he put on those new mud-gripper tires, and the car couldn't pull the extra load. . . . Vern Amans is walking to work these days. His 1937 Buick won't start. It seems the battery is a small one (the size used in a Crosley). He just won't get a large battery. . . . Howard Hubbard must have been snowbound Saturday. He didn't make it to work as he had so far to come—from the 1000 block of Broadway. . . . Nancy Kisspeck, as you already have heard, has a new dynaflow Buick. When they drove it into the garage, they didn't drive it in far enough so her husband told her to drive it in so he could close the garage. She didn't notice that the car was in reverse so she started the motor and the car went backward and she tore the garage door off! . . . Mildred Wahle had a double celebration on Feb. 2—her birthday and her 29th G-E anniversary. . . . Congratulations to the Bob Hull family on the new boy. Bob is a former coworker. . . . Anyone interested in cats see Glen Fernwall. He even got his picture in the paper because of the cats. . . . Bill Charleston is driving a 1947 Buick these days. We are all glad he has bettered himself, but we feel sorry for the guy who got his 1942 Pontiac. . . . We're glad to see Bea Davis and Joyce Berry back to work after a week's illness. . . . Harold Frazier spent most of his time last Saturday playing pickup! . . . Edith Juillart's son, Monte, left Jan. 15 for the Great Lakes Naval Training Station. He is playing in the Navy recruit band already. . . . Roger Williams is saving on his wife's clothing bill. He does the washing and changes the color of all the clothes. . . . Doris McAfee is the happiest gal in town. I wonder who he can be? . . . Jack Moore from the Commutator Section said that he was going to wear the first color of suit that Uncle Sam puts on him and wear it proudly. . . . Ed DeWeese says the reason why there is no gossip about the Commutator Section is because everyone gets along like one scrappy family. . . . Whatever happened to Group 1x79 last Friday? Just a mere handful showed up for work. Even Ray Soest was absent. I guess he couldn't get that "Green Hornet" started. . . . Tough luck has been following Freda Copeland lately. She fell several weeks ago and broke her head open. Now as a result of a new fall, she cracked her elbow bone. . . . Owen Gross had his government examination Wednesday. We may be saying goodbye to him soon. . . . Clarence Renschler tried his hand at shoe repairing but sure was terrible. He is going to stick to his regular job from now on. . . . Congratulations to Ed Taylor, who won an electric drill. We could sure use that this spring. . . . Rudy Zelt says if he hadn't worn a heavy pair of mittens one day last week, he would have frozen one hand. Riding a horse backwards has its advantages. It keeps the wind out of your face. . . . Glad to see George Luedeman back to work after an appendectomy operation. . . . Birthday congratulations to Robert Blocher, Feb. 9; Jerry Kraft, Feb. 27; Charles Hendrickson, Feb. 14; Florian Korte, Feb. 20; Otto Roehm, Feb. 20, and to anyone else whose name I might have missed.

The Birthday Club was entertained by Audrey Hickernell at the Hotel Van Orman. The girls with birthdays were Norma Krall and Eleanor Bolenbaugh. Those also present were Clara Theisman, Eileen Hennen, Dorothy Askren, Audrey Hickernell, Phyllis Braun, Addie Masbaum, Ann Tyler, Dorothy Mills, Florence Polk, Marilyn Richard and Martha Cox. . . . Laurel Weaver is one of the unfortunates who will be glad when this winter is over. Laurel slipped and injured her ankle. She is now confined to her home. . . . We extend our sympathies to Frank Shidler, whose father died this week. . . . And talking of bad luck, Harold Boles had a little too. It seems that he didn't move his hand fast enough and his saw took a nip at his finger. . . . Maybe next week I will have something cheerful to report, I hope.

All our actions take their hue from the complexion of the heart, as landscapes do their variety from light.—W. T. Bacon.

by Ray Quinn

Transformer, a team with lots of new talent but unable to click consistently this year, won a close ball game from Accounting, 39-25, in regular Interdivision Basketball competition.

Fractional, with Bucker showing some of his oldtime drive, beat the Apprentice School, 45-30. Test Engineers came up with one of their good games to trim Developmental, 36-34.

The Squares started off this week's activities by beating the Taylor St. team, 73-37. Carl, the hottest man in the league this year, tossed in 23 points. The Winter St. team, which has been doing very well after a slow start, dropped a decision to the Firemen, 48-35. Small Motors continued to press the League leaders by beating Transformer, 48-42.

This week ends the first round of play. The second half will be played as an elimination tournament. Pairings for the contest will be distributed to team managers Monday.

Standings

	Won	Lost
Squares	11	0
Firemen	10	1
Small Motors	8	3
Fractional	7	3
Winter St.	7	4
Accounting	5	5
Test Engineers	4	6
Transformer	4	7
Developmental	3	7
Taylor St.	3	8
Apprentice School	1	9
Tool Division	0	10

Summaries

ACCOUNTING

Player	G	F	T
Kent	1	2	4
Harris	1	0	2
Trabel	2	2	6
Eddington	2	1	5
Mossburg	1	3	5
Fry	4	2	10
Raney	1	0	2
Totals	12	11	35

TRANSFORMER

Player	G	F	T
Carpenter	2	1	5
Kumfer	0	2	2
Bagtol	1	1	3
Taylor	1	1	3
Baker	2	6	10
Simmons	2	0	4
Echart	1	2	4
Lovell	3	2	8
Totals	12	15	39

APP. SCHOOL

Player	G	F	T
Enyeart	0	1	1
Batchelder	3	2	8
Davenport	1	1	3
Staneck	2	6	10
Gotshall	2	2	6
Bietz	0	0	0
Allan	1	0	1
Totals	9	12	30

FRACTIONAL

Player	G	F	T
Honaker	4	1	9
Lahrman	2	3	7
Smith	0	0	0
Sparks	2	0	4
Rasor	0	0	0
Bucher	6	1	13
Waikel	0	0	0
Hertz	4	4	12
Cook	0	0	0
McMaken	0	0	0
Totals	18	9	45

DEVELOPMENTAL

Player	G	F	T
Ream	0	0	0
Bolds	0	0	0
Weaver	3	1	7
Franke	0	2	2
Houser,D.	3	3	9
Houser,G.	0	0	0
Strouver	2	1	5
Keller	5	1	11
Totals	13	8	34

TEST ENG.

Player	G	F	T
Cochran	2	1	5
Perino	5	3	13
Binder	2	4	8
Becker	0	0	0
Burgemeister	1	0	2
Zernick	0	0	0
Beck	0	1	1
Harlow	0	0	0
Bardin	0	0	0
Mc Dougal	2	3	7
Totals	12	12	36

SMALL MOTORS

Player	G	F	T
Bryan	1	1	3
Stricote	4	3	11
Rosswurm	6	0	12
Wickliffe	2	2	6
Lee	5	1	11
Smith	0	0	0
Zimmerlee	2	1	5
Totals	20	8	48

TRANSFORMER

Player	G	F	T
Bagchtol	1	2	4
Kumfer	1	1	3
Simmons	3	2	8
Baker	4	2	10
Mankey	3	2	8
Carpenter	1	0	2
Taylor	0	1	1
Levell	1	4	6
Totals	14	14	42

WINTER ST.

Player	G	F	T
Gettys	0	1	1
Hayden	0	0	0
Gill	1	0	2
Brinelfield	1	2	4
Frazier	1	0	2
Schenbeckler	1	0	2
Kenzel	0	0	0
Parker	3	1	7
Voors	3	6	12
Svoboda	2	1	5
Totals	12	11	35

FIREMAN

Player	G	F	T
Morkietter	5	2	12
Wherle	1	1	3
Etter	0	2	2
Reitdorf	3	0	6
Hettler	3	3	9
Anspach	2	0	4
Weber	0	0	0
Oshun	1	0	2
Baals	1	1	3
Wilson	3	1	7
Totals	19	9	48

SQUARES

Player	G	F	T
Emling	2	0	4
Reynolds	8	0	16
Lindholm	1	0	2
Hamilton	3	2	8
Walley	3	3	9
Carl	11	1	23
Kasienko	5	0	10
Johnson	0	1	1
Totals	33	7	73

TAYLOR ST.

Player	G	F	T
Sprout	2	1	5
Hughes	3	0	6
Beaty	4	0	8
Butler	0	1	1
Offord	1	0	2
Speeman	0	1	1
Hill	0	0	0
Coburn	6	2	24
Totals	16	5	37

Wildcats Defeat Bears 37-19 Copping Title in Owl League; Play-off Games Start Thursday

by Earl D. Stauffer

The Wildcats, coached by Ken Zurbuch, proved their mettle by pasting the Bears 37-19 and copping the Owl League title last Tuesday. They still have to survive a championship set with the winners of the round robin play-off scheduled to start next Thursday.

For the first quarter of the play-off game with the Bears, it looked very much as if the skyscrapers were in for a drubbing. Butler slipped under for a lay-up for the Bears but Richardson tipped one in to tie the score at 2-all. Baker scored a basket and a charity heave and then Markey chipped in two buckets to give the Div. 1 lads a 9-2 lead as the stanza ended. Blauvelt scored on a drive with a lay-up for the 'Cats but Baker countered with a one-handed shot as the second quarter started, 11-4. Spiker was fouled under the basket and made good on both free throws, 11-6.

Klinger widened the gap with a side shot to make the score 13-6, still in the Bears favor. Then the roof fell in on the challengers. Two buckets by Wickliffe, a basket and and a charity toss by Spiker knotted the count at 13-all with two minutes until half-time. Big Spiker kept pouring it on and added five more points before the half ended 18-13 in the Wildcats favor.

The 'Cats rolled on like an express train in the third period with Spiker again leading the way. Klinger canned the only fielder for the fading Bears who found themselves on the short end of a 28-15 score. The final quarter was an anti-climax. The 'Cats outscoring the Bears 9-4 to win going away. The winning Wildcats hooped 14 out of 44 from the field and the Bears hit 9 out of 43. At one time in the third period, the Bears had seven shots but failed to score.

The Div. 15 Eagles tuned-up for the playoff games by beating the Cubs 42-36. Big Bob Johnson paced the winners with 11 points.

A lively, gray-haired guy who refuses to get any older, Bob Crosley by name, led the Elks along with Ed Sutter to whip the Tigers 46-33. Bob always calls his shots with a "ding." Ivan Lepper led the scoring for the losers with 10 tallies.

Final League Standings

	Won	Lost
Wildcats	10	0
Bears	8	2
Elks	6	4
Tigers	4	6
Eagles	2	8
Cubs	0	10

Play-off Schedule

Thursday, Jan. 15

9:00 a.m. Div. 1 Bears vs. Bldg. 26 Tigers.

10:00 a.m. Div. 17 Elks vs. Div. 15 Eagles.

Tuesday, Jan. 20

9:00 Winners of Thursday's games.

WILDCAT TITLISTS—Pictured are the Owl lads who won 10 cage contests so far this season without a single loss. Holders of the Owl League title, they are (front row, l-r) Harold Jamison, Harold Blauvelt and Calvin Smith. Rear row (l-r) are Warren Wickliffe, Richard Fuhrman, Ken Zurbuch, manager, Leland Richardson and Ken Spiker.

FIGHTIN' 'CATS—Three Wildcat and two Bear cage players are shown during some heavy action under the board during the Owl League title game played last Tuesday morning. The 'Cats still have to survive a round robin play-off in order to cop the Owl championship. (see story above.)

Summaries

BEARS				WILDCATS
Player	G	F	T	Player	G	F	T
Baker	2	1	5	Smith	1	0	2
Butler	1	0	2	Jamison	0	0	0
Markey	3	0	6	Fuhrman	1	0	2
Klinger	2	0	4	Richardson	1	0	2
Burkett	1	0	2	Blauvelt	2	4	8
Nichols	0	0	0	Wickliffe	3	0	6
				Spiker	6	5	17
Totals	9	1	19	Totals	14	9	37

EAGLES				CUBS
Player	G	F	T	Player	G	F	T
Ayers	3	0	6	Brown	3	0	6
Grissman	5	0	10	Manuel	4	0	8
Johnson	5	1	11	Stoner	5	0	10
Haas	3	2	8	Hicks	2	0	4
Hower	3	1	7	Steigmeyer	4	0	8
Totals	19	4	42	Totals	18	0	36

ELKS				TIGERS
Player	G	F	T	Player	G	F	T
Klenke	3	0	6	Brenner	3	2	8
Crosley	6	3	15	Trice	4	0	8
Sutter	6	3	15	Lepper	5	0	10
Schible	5	0	10	Weaver	3	1	7
Libbing	0	0	0	Drane	0	0	0
Totals	20	6	46	Totals	15	3	33

So you thought it was cold last Friday? Well, it was. We're sure Mr. Groundhog had a nipped nose. . . . Chester Hill came up with a frozen ear. . . . Harold Bowker said his hens were not laying eggs. They were laying ice balls. In fact, if Harold had been down Rushville way, the fellow who predicted all this weather would have been in a bad way. . . . Can you imagine why Jess Hahn says that living in the country has its advantages? Maybe frozen wells and cars that won't start have something to do with it. . . . It wasn't too cold for cupid. He was out with his little bow and arrow. Today he makes Jeanette Blough the new Mrs. Ed Meyers. Our "We wish you happiness" mat is out for you. . . . Wonder if the cold weather had anything to do with the fact that Max Fielitz is trying to talk Lorena Buuck into knitting him a stocking cap? . . . Harold Kiel really has a way about him. He gets snow when he wants it. . . . It's a happy birthday to Doris Ryan, John Happel, Mae Jones, Faye Stockberger and Mary Foster. That was really some birthday kiss that Mary received. . . . If the people in Bldg. 17-2 hear a loud and unusual noise, disregard it. Sometimes Charlie Rice decides to sit on the floor instead of a chair. . . . Hickory, dickory dock; the mouse didn't run up the clock. It chose Kay Dolan's nylon-clad leg. Wonder which was more frightened? . . . We thought we heard a lot of woofing down on Line 562. Jerry Snyder was passing out "Yummy" dog candy to her co-workers. . . . I can't imagine what they had on the menu at the cafeteria last Friday that made Dick Gleim so skippy. After dinner he was really skipping down the aisle. . . . Wonder what Luella Masson was thinking about when she laid her thermos bottle on the conveyor after she finished eating? Did you think you had it tied? . . . Do you need a baby sitter? We hear Joe Bell is very capable. . . . House-warming coming up? Ruth Stout has purchased a home in Hoagland. . . . Lucille Miller will have to be a good girl now. Her husband joined the police force last week. He was employed in Bldg. 4.

J. V. Johnson Named Assistant Labor Relations Supervisor; W. J. Stoppenhagen, F. L. Richards Also Assume New Posts on Labor Relations Staff

J. V. Johnson

W. J. Stoppenhagen

F. L. Richards

James V. Johnson has been appointed Assistant Supervisor of Labor Relations and Walter Stoppenhagen and Francis L. Richards have assumed new responsibilities for hourly rated negotiations on the Labor Relations staff, according to an announcement by Charles E. Slater, Supervisor of Labor Relations.

Mr. Johnson began his association with the Company in 1916 and served on various planning and wage rate assignments in the Fractional Horsepower Motor Divisions until 1936. He was appointed Section Superintendent in FHP Motor Div. 17 in 1937.

In 1939, Mr. Johnson was made Assistant Superintendent of FHP Motor Div. 19 and 20. He was appointed to the Labor Relations staff in 1947 and, in 1948, was named Assistant Manager of the DeKalb Plant. He was recalled to Labor Relations late that year to handle hourly rated negotiations at Fort Wayne.

Mr. Johnson is married and has two children, a son and a daughter. He lives at 4526 Beaver Ave.

Mr. Stoppenhagen joined the General Electric Company in August, 1927, as a toolmaker apprentice. After graduation, he spent several years on various jobs in tool rooms and model shops. In 1941, he was made Foreman in the Power Drive Division.

He later became Superintendent of one of the divisions at Winter St. in the Air Conditioning Department. In 1949, he was transferred to Inspection Supervision at Winter St. Mr. Stoppenhagen joined the Labor Relations staff last fall and has remained in that capacity until the time of his present appointment.

He is married and has a son and a daughter. They live on the Coldwater Road.

Mr. Richards started as a Machinist Apprentice in 1929. After graduation, he was employed in the central tool room and on some mechanical operations in the shop.

In 1935, he was assigned special production work in FHP Motor Divisions. In 1938, he was assigned to Time Study and Wage Rate work in the Series and Specialty Motor Division. In 1943, Mr. Richards was assigned as a Motion and Time Study specialist in the Central Wage Rate Section, where he did instructing in that field. He remained on the Central Wage Rate staff until his present appointment.

Mr. Richards, his wife and three daughters live at 226 Lexington Court.

"Wha hoppened!" exclaimed Goldie Jackson and Thelma Williams Monday morning as they gazed in the empty room which the Sales Office vacated over the week-end. Their desks and chairs were gone—but where? Due to misunderstanding, the girls weren't officially informed that the new Sales Office would be in Bldg. 19-3. Guess they wanted to be moved by the movers, too. The ladies just didn't want to leave us. . . . At 16 below zero, who can blame the groundhog for going back in his hole—but who wants six weeks more winter. . . . Well, we finally got rid of those sales engineers, but not for long. Several suggestions have been offered to improve communication from Red Kissell's office in Bldg. 19-3 to the engineers in Bldg. 31-2. Novel ideas are to lower notes and papers down in a bag or basket, to use a pulley clothesline and pin the papers on with clothes pins, or to have a chute (but not too wide or the sales engineers would be coming over that way). Of course, there are always the hams, meaning those radio amateurs, Mert Baird, Charles Atkinson, and Mark Smith. The hams could set up radio communication by code to give Marv Adamson some practice on did, dit, dah. Marv has been practicing code with the help of Hank Albert during the noon hours. He wants to master the code in order to get his amateur radio operator's license this month. . . . Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Norman Jueschke who have a new son. The name of the new baby is Carl Edward. The Jueschkes now have two boys and a girl. . . . The boys seem to be outnumbering the girls lately. Congratulations are in order too for Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Emling on the birth of their third child. They named their second son, James Patrick. . . . Did we hear someone mention choosing our own vacation? Heavens! Now that we have some choice, we'll not know what to choose. . . . Willis "Pop" Noll marched down the aisle again. Last week-end "Pop" escorted his daughter Joan to the altar and gave her away in marriage to George Lauer. This is only the beginning for Pop, as he has several more daughters to give away.

Reservations for 2nd Shift Elex Luncheon Due Thursday, Feb. 15

Reservations for the Elex second shift luncheon and theater party are due Thursday, Feb. 15, according to Berneta Welbaum, club vice-president.

Tickets, which are $1.25 each, may be obtained from contact girls or at the Personnel Offices at Broadway or Taylor St.

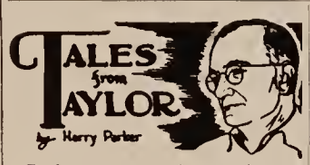
Luncheon will be served in the YWCA at 11:30 a.m. Theater tickets for "The Magnificent Yankee" at the Palace Theatre will be distributed at the luncheon.

There's no such thing as an idle rumor—they've always real busy.

L. K. Bodenhamer Appointed Assistant Safety Engineer

Loyd K. Bodenhamer has been appointed Assistant Safety Engineer of the Fort Wayne Works, I. H. Freeman, Supervisor of Personnel, said today.

A native of Bedford, Mr. Bodenhamer joined the General Electric Company in January, 1942, on assembly in the Specialty Transformer and Ballast Divisions. Shortly thereafter, he transferred to the Fabrication Section in Bldg. 26-B.



In September, 1942, Mr. Bodenhamer joined the staff of the Safety Section and he has been continuously employed there since that time.

Long active in local safety activities, Mr. Bodenhamer served as chairman of the Industrial Safety Committee of the Fort Wayne Chamber of Commerce.

The Bodenhamers and their five children live on a farm near Roanoke.

L. K. Bodenhamer

Perhaps some of you do not know this, but the fact remains that Don Arnold used to be a basketball player of no mean ability. During the past week-end, he attended a reunion of the Huntertown varsity squad of 1926, held in the city hall of this thriving hamlet. It was quite an affair with Mayor Archie Boren acting as master of ceremonies. The team members were our own Don, then Corbin, Rodenbeck, Blakslee and Warner. This team put fear into the hearts of all opposing teams and surely laid a lot of them low. Looking at Don today, one would scarcely believe him to be a demon ball tosser of yesteryear. . . . Quentin Romy and Louie Watt were completely off the beam last week. Buck Adams, being incapacitated due to a severe attack of lumbago, spoiled their daily fishing parties off the point near the annealing ovens. A good many big ones have been pulled in from there and now that Buck is back to work we can expect some more good catches. . . . Phil (Tiny) Schoppman moved into his new home on Harvester Ave. last Saturday and is very happy about it. He is planning on holding an open house and intends to invite all of his friends. A big feed is also planned, but all of those invited are expected to bring their own food. Tiny said that he would furnish the water. For his own satisfaction, he plans on devouring a cow's drumstick during the celebration. Do not forget this, my friends. There will be a contribution box just inside the front door where you are expected to drop in a freewill offering to help him pay off the mortgage. . . . Wilma Mauger's mother-in-law, who has been visiting him and his family for several weeks, left last week for her home in Texas. We think it is a good thing for Bill that she did because she had him doing all sorts of Indian dances. Some of them were so fast and furious that poor Bill is all but worn out. The cuffs of his trousers are all frayed, giving them the appearance of being fringed.

ELEX SMOKES FOR THE BOYS—Pfc Lige Smith, Jr., of Wayne, W. Va., is shown receiving three packs of cigarettes from Pfc. Robert McHenry, (left) of Oshkosh, Wis., while Cpl. Charlotte Stanford, a former Elex president, looks on. Both Smith and McHenry were wounded in Korea and are recovering from their wounds in the Plastic Surgery Ward at Camp Atterbury. Besides cigarettes for all the men in the ward, the Club recently donated money for the purchase of television stands. (Army Photograph)

INDIANA COLLECTION

FORT WAYNE WORKS
NEWS

To be prepared for war is one of the most effectual means of preserving peace.

—George Washington

Volume 34 | FORT WAYNE, INDIANA, FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 16, 1951 | No. 7

Wesley W. Brooks Receives Coffin Award

Apprentice Alumni Association Plans Spring Banquet, Feb. 27

The annual Apprentice Alumni Association's spring banquet will be held at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday, Feb. 27, in the Chamber of Commerce, Earl Plummer, publicity chairman, said today. Dinner will be served smorgasbord style and tickets will cost two dollars per person.

Red Braden's moving pictures will highlight a full evening's entertainment, Mr. Plummer revealed. The pictures cover the team's trip to Tokyo, Japan, where the Fort Wayne nine won a semi-pro baseball series. Mr. Braden will be on hand to narrate the pictures and to answer questions pertaining to the trip, Mr. Plummer said.

A short business meeting will be held preceding the entertainment.

Tickets Now Available

Tickets may be procured from the following contact men for 1951:

Broadway — East Side: Don House, Bldg. 18-2; Charles Lauer, Bldg. 4-5; Tom Doell, Bldg. 4-6; Wilbur Stocks, Bldg. 4-4; Eddie Bienz, Bldg. 17-2, and Clarence Nussel, Bldg. 17-4.

Broadway—West Side: Robert Keck, Bldg. 26-2; Howard Draper, Bldg. 26-4; Forrest Gibson, Bldg. 20-2; Cal Koester, Bldg. 31-1;

(Continued on page 4)

Sharrow, Brink, Denham Garner Speaking Honors

R. F. Sharrow, Bldg. 4-6, took first honors in a speaking contest at the final meeting of the 17-week Effective Presentation Course held recently in the Chamber of Commerce.

Ed Brink, Bldg. 18-1, and W. L. Denham, Bldg. 26-2, placed second and third respectively. The contest was held between the two classes, which were conducted this year by J. P. Coughlin, Bldg. 26-2, and C. J. Monroe, Taylor St.

Other class members participating in the contest were W. W.

(Continued on page 12)

LOVE THOSE PANCAKES!—Ruth Derloshon, Bldg. 26-3, was about eight-up on other Elex members, who had to keep going back for more chow at the Pancake Supper Monday night. The Deep South supper was a new kind of party for the Elex Club and, judging from the number of pancakes Ruth had stacked before her, the affair was a great success.

Wins highest honor

65 G-E Employees Earn Company's Highest Award

49 Accomplishments For 1950 Recognized

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., Feb. 16—Sixty-five employees of the General Electric Company and its affiliated companies today received Charles A. Coffin awards for work of outstanding merit during 1950.

Coffin awards, the Company's highest honor to employees, are recognized in industry as a unique way of honoring employees for outstanding accomplishments beyond

(Continued on page 4)

Women Squares To Hold Potluck

The Women's Division of the G-E Squares will hold a potluck dinner followed by canasta and bridge Friday, Feb. 23, at 6:30 p.m. in the Squares Hall, Mrs. Charles Cutshall, publicity chairman, has revealed.

Mrs. Wendell B. Hughes is chairman of the affair. Assisting her on the committee are Mrs. R. C. Gwillim, Mrs. Frank Ondrovik, Mrs. R. F. Sharrow, Mrs. R. J. Kilian, Mrs. R. V. Huffman, Mrs. R. A. Thomas, Mrs. J. D. Zasa, Mrs. Joseph Hamilton, Mrs. Joseph Behm, and Mrs. M. E. Robertson.

Ballast Engineering Group Leader Cited by Company

The Charles A. Coffin Award, the General Electric Company's highest employee honor, was given Thursday afternoon to Wesley W. Brooks, a development group leader in the Ballast Engineering Division. The award was presented to Mr. Brooks by William C. Wichman, Manager of the Specialty Transformer and Ballast Divisions, at a special surprise ceremony.

Prepared by high Company officials, Mr. Brooks' citation read:

"For his initiative, ingenuity and perseverance in the development of new designs of fluorescent lamp ballasts."

According to a letter attached to the citation, Mr. Brooks was recommended for the award because of the following accomplishment:

"This recommendation is made because of outstanding developments of ballasts for fluorescent lamps. Mr. Brooks, through keen ingenuity, unflagging perserverance, and disregard of previous tradition, has developed these designs which have added to our prestige by their excellent performance, increased our markets due to their low cost and, by unit saving of nearly half the copper, has materially improved our ability to produce during periods of critical material shortage."

(Continued on page 4)

Creative Engineering Class Applications Now Available Here

A new class of the 1952 Creative Engineering Program will begin in Schenectady, Tuesday, Sept. 11, 1951. The program offers an opportunity to those selected to develop their inventive abilities and to acquire valuable experience in the design, development, and production of important products for the Company, Schenectady sources declare.

The opportunity to apply for the Program is open to all interested engineers. Application forms and information concerning the program may be obtained from the Inspection and Testing Division Office, Bldg. 18-2. Applications must be submitted on or before Wednesday, Feb. 21.

(Continued on page 4)

Foremen's President

Ed Klomp Elected To Foremen's Top Office for 1951

Ed Klomp was elected president of the Foremen's Association at the organizational meeting held Feb. 7 in the Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Klomp, who has been with the General Electric Company since 1911, is foreman of winding in the Fractional Horsepower Motor Developmental Section, Bldg. 17-4. He has served as director of the Association and was its president in 1943.

Other newly-elected officers are Leo Burkett, Bldg. 20-1, vice-president; Ed Robin, Bldg. 4-3, secretary; Walter Holloway, Taylor St.,

(Continued on page 4)

Reservations Due

Reservations are due today for the Elex Midwinter Conference to be held Saturday, Feb. 24, in the YWCA. Reservations may be made with contact girls or in the Personnel Offices at Broadway or Taylor St.

FORT WAYNE WORKS NEWS

Volume 34 Friday, February 16, 1951 No. 7

Lou Rotterman ..... Editor
Virginia Molden ..... Assistant Editor
K. Marian Davies ..... Divisional News Coordinator

The Freedom We Fight For

Whether we call it "cold" or "hot"—we are in another war.

A little over five years ago, we finished World War II.

A little while before that, we fought World War I—the "War to End Wars."

For what do we fight all these wars?

FREEDOM!

Freedom is something we have to work for all the time—and fight for most of the time.

What is this freedom we work and fight for? And—if we get it and keep it—what's it worth?

Let's look.

In 1951 — as in 1776, 1812, 1861 1917 and 1941 — in foreign lands and in our own land—we are fighting against tyranny, and for the freedom of all nations and all people to live in peace and independence.

We are fighting against hatred, fear, greed, intolerance.

We are fighting for freedom of speech . . . freedom of religion . . . freedom of assembly . . . freedom from unreasonable searches and seizures . . . freedom from cruel and unusual punishments.

The rights we fight for are the rights of free men . . . the right to trial by jury . . . the right not to be deprived of life, liberty or property without due process of law . . . the right to work when and where we please or not to work . . . the right to bargain and trade freely.

This kind of freedom is not some vague and far-off idea just to be read about, or for children just to sing about, or for orators just to make speeches about.

This kind of freedom is real. It is the most important thing in our whole lives.

Such freedom can be taken away from us by a brutal foreign aggressor, of course. But it can also be taken away from us by ourselves—through slipping into the easy habit of turning over to government each new problem, along with an equal amount of individual freedom each time.

Let's rout out this dangerous thief to our freedom that lies hidden in ourselves. Let's put him in chains . . . first by learning the facts of how we can go on living and working together—to the greater benefit of all. And then, by the payment of proper taxes and use of proper restraint and sacrifices in our daily lives—all of which will prevent further inflation. And finally, by continuing now, as we have in the past, to produce, to save, to invent, to improve, to take risks—and to reward each other in accordance with the contribution each of us makes as a free man.

If a man is not free, he is not a man. Let's be men enough to work and fight for our freedom—so that we can continue to be men.

GENERAL ELECTRIC COMPANY

A. B. Bardwell

VICE PRESIDENT – EMPLOYEE RELATIONS

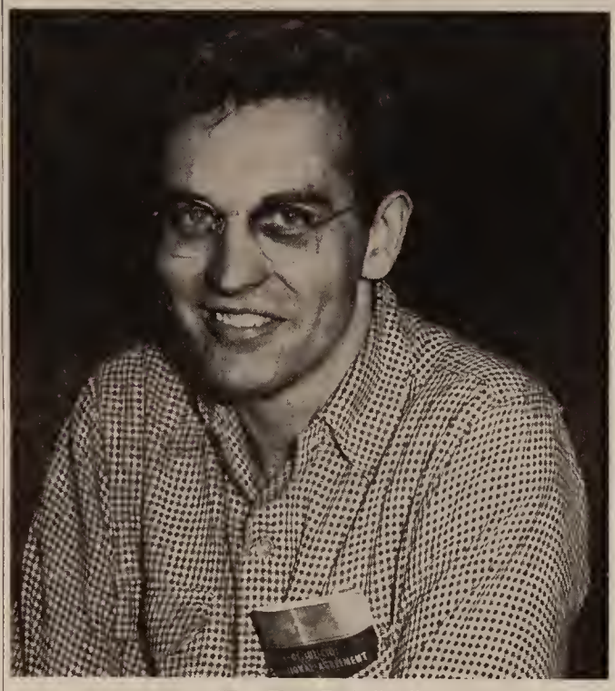
G-E GI's

Ned C. Frankart, 1st Lt. in the 163rd Fighter Squardon, has reported to his unit, which was activated Feb. 1 at Baer Field.

Mr. Frankart, a pilot during World War II, has been employed with H. L. Ferverda in the Chemical Section of the Works Laboratory at Taylor St. since his discharge and reemployment at G-E in October, 1945.

An informal send-off, with an appropriate gift, was held by his coworkers the Friday before he reported for duty.

For the present, Mrs. Frankart and their daughter will continue to live at 7425 Ideal Ave., Waynedale.



Others Leave

The following G-E employees left the Company to enter the armed forces this week:

William R. Sexton, Ward W. Staley, Jr., Paul F. Rosenhahn, Max L. Poling, Robert E. Smith, Richard H. Reinking, Ned C. Frankart, Carl F. Nagle, Russell J. Mabis, Harry B. Reed, Aubrey D. Treesh, Robert A. Hursh, Mark E. Whitacre, John E. Davenport, William J. Klug, James D. Meadows, Bernard L. Rhodes, Max L. Sitton, Richard K. Morgan and Frank A. Houlihan.

Birthday greetings to Salona Hunter, who celebrated the great day with a birthday cake and everything Feb. 9. . . . You have no doubt stopped to think, at sometime or another, about the numerous items which go along with the purchase of an automobile. Not only must you buy the blamed thing, but you must then have insurance, gas, seat covers, oil, directional lights, and all the latest, newest and most impractical gadgets which are brought on the market. But with all these items, still you can't drive if you don't have that eternal bother—the license. Now, I'm sure Dorothy Bartholomew has taken care of all the above items except, of course, the license. As the story goes, just the other day Dorothy was looking through her billfold and happened across her license. SHOCK—I guess so. Her driver's license had expired in October and here she was, driving around for five months with an out-dated driver's license. . . . The secret's out: Folks have wondered from time to time how Carl Rinne, the Division's Accountant, manages to keep in such fine physical trim. It now appears that strenuous exercise is the answer. At least, Carl did undertake a real workout the other day when he was seen worming his way through the secretary's wicket into Mr. Wichman's office. Seems "the boss" got locked out. No more bragging about that trim figure from you, Mr. Rinne! Anybody could keep slender if they worked that hard at it! . . . Among those giving up smoking during Lent are Art Rowe and Bob Triplett, and it seems that the first two days were the hardest. Unfortunately, Art was caught with a cigar (unsmoked, of course!) in his possession after Lent had begun. Harry Dolson (the man of many complaints) gratefully accepted Art's little gift of "a real dollar cigar." He had all but decided to smoke it on the train to Schenectady when Art cried out, "What'cha think I gave that to you for—smoke it here—I wanna enjoy it too!" Bob then announced that he too could enjoy Harry's smoke. While Harry smoked, the conversation went something like this: "Blow some in my direction—ah, umm—" "Hey it's my turn!" (Here we let Harry enjoy some of the cigar.) "Smell that sweet, clean aroma!" "Ah ummm." Can't you picture Art and Bob's leaning across "our fence" here in the office, and Harry's blowing smoke in their faces? This brings up that old saying, "I do anything for a smoke."

. . . "Top Floor Topics" Editor

Jack Lea Assumes Reporter's Job

"Top Floor Topics," WORKS NEWS column from Bldg. 26-5, is now under the editorship of Jack Lea. Jack has taken over the division column responsibilities from Art Huber, who was recently transferred to Bldg. 26-1.

Born in Hammond, Jack moved to Fort Wayne when he was a boy and attended Central High School. He has been with the General Electric Company since 1941, with the exception of three years spent with the United States Army in France and Germany.

Jack was a reporter for the "Spotlight," a Central High publication, and gets a big kick out of writing letters to the editors of local newspapers. He is a rifle and pistol enthusiast and belongs to several local marksmen's organizations. He is also a member of the Disabled American Veterans.

Reporters on his staff are Howard Shipman, Loretta Bloom and Roque Wibel.

He is single and lives at 4604 Spatz Ave.

OUT OUR WAY

By J. R. WILLIAMS

Top Floor TOPICS

Bldg. 26-5

By Jack Lea

We are going to have news of some sort in this column every week from now on even if we have to run a series of articles on "Life On The Farm With Al Miller" or "My Experiences On A Bus" by Richard (Crowbar) Hurst. . . . Lucille (Stitches) Keller is coming along nicely after an appendix operation. She will be confined to quarters for several weeks and, therefore, could use some reading material. Here's your chance to get rid of all your old magazines around the house. . . . Here they come down the home stretch—"Sylvester" Shaw and Mary Kieler, racing for that time clock every day at 12:06. . . . Some women are and some women ain't—afraid of mice, that is. Jane Maloney had a mouse hogtied and was chasing Lois Johnson down the aisle. Judging from the screams, Lois didn't appreciate it very much. . . . A bouquet of cactus to Francis Gnau for the most horrible song rendition of the week. He's been murdering the "Tennessee Waltz." . . . New employees: Pat McLaughlin in the Vapor Lamp Section. Pat is single and the line forms to the right, right in back of me. James Miller is a new worker on the Special Line, Whoops! I beg your pardon, Louie, I mean the Standard Line. . . . Speaking of the Vapor Lamp Section, here's an address a lot of us wanted to know:

PFC. Harold F. Trautman ER35252370
2nd Chemical Motor Co.
A. P. O. 301, c/o P. M.
San Francisco, Calif.

Harold is in Korea. Let's all drop him a card or letter. . . . Walt Mertz is looking for a reliable old car to push his new one with on these cold mornings. . . . Famous phrases: "Where're you from—cocoanuts?" by Howie Shipman. . . . Tonight a bunch of the boys are going to meet at the home of Hank Shirley for a social evening and to play a new game called "Sheep Dog." . . . Dick Pierce walked in with a big smile Monday morning. The Pistons won a game. Every morning following a Piston game, Dick Pierce and Al (The Echo) Tyson replay the game. It's better than television. . . . If you would like to see some real artistic painting, stop in at the home of Harold Josse. Harold's wife really does some beautiful work in oil painting. . . . Here's a conversation we hear every day by two old former army men. "Morning, Sergeant—I mean, First Sergeant, Sir." "Good morning, Colonel, Sir." Walt, I think we'd better join up again. . . . Pat Lemish, now Pat Huffman, is back to work with us. Pat has just returned from her honeymoon. On their first morning of wedded bliss, Pat had to make her husband mashed potatoes and pork chops for breakfast. . . . Loretta Bloom received an early Valentine from Charles L. (not the dogcatcher). . . . Ruth Durnil is having her house painted the same shade Bldg. 26-5 is now being painted. Wonder if the painters are missing any paint. A little coincidental, isn't it, Ruth?

Squares' Family Night To Be Held Tomorrow

The G-E Squares have planned a Family Night for 7:30 p.m. Saturday in the Squares Hall, Publicity Chairman Glenn Seabold has announced.

Entertainment for every member of the family will be provided. One-and-a-half hours of movie cartoons and comedies will be featured on the program. Admission will be ten cents.

A bumper crop is what a careless pedestrian reaps at a busy intersection.

WINDING CHANGE EARNS $25—Lavon Nesbitt, Bldg. 17-3, found a better method of winding coils to reduce spoilage and earned $25. She is pictured pointing out several features of her suggestion to her foreman, Walter Kryder.

SICK LIST

The following employees are reported on the sick list, dismissed from the hospital and returned to work:

Sick List

Beatrice L. Stolte, Lillian Krudop, Dorothea Giannini, Forrest Sutter, Opal Snyder, Gottlieb Nicole, Mary Brown, Fred T. Volmerding, Esther I. Johnson, Bethel Heerche, Julius Stephens, William Seigman, Eva Wilkins, Marguerite Dasher, William Draper, Betty L. Denney, Howard Griefenstine, Percy Lofton, Dorothy A. Edgar, Betty Furge, Nina J. Koogle, Eileen F. Johnson, F. F. Brown, Hazl Cox, Harry G. Ingersoll, Tillie Norris, Geneva Truman, Loren Sparks, Ned Raush, Jean Reynolds, Agnes Robinson, Edith Parisot, Dorothy Meyers, Virginia Mollet, Daniel A. Leitch, Joan Harrison, Jack E. Crabill, Paul Beaver, Wilfred Bohn, Norma Jean Book, Josephine Angus, Barbara Bishop, Gervase Herman, Elfrieda L. Lamle, Emilia C. Benton, Laurel M. Weaver, Mary Kibiloski, Maurice Holton, Dorothy Woods, and Gladys Strong.

Dismissed From Hospital

Edward Kaliker, Lucille Keller, Forrest Ulrey, Elizabeth Cleaves, Garland Ferrell, Dan Leitch, Max Holycross, Martin Walsh, Ed Schotter, Clarence Schooley, Zerline Abernathy, Mable Englert, and Tillie Norris.

Returned to Work

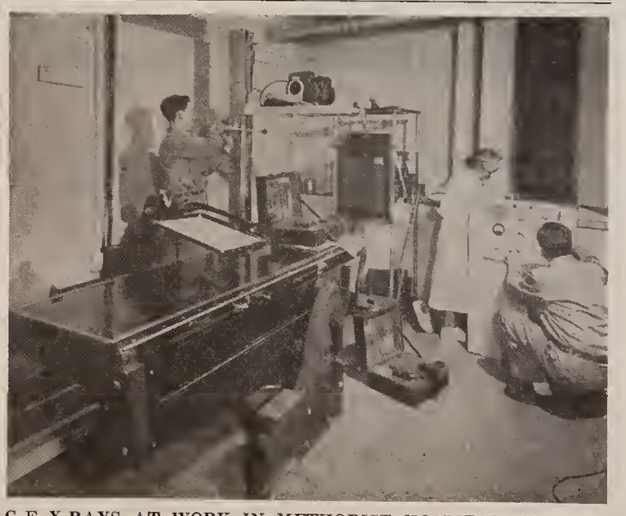
Albert Christman, Lucille Chamberlin, Nora Vanover, Floyd Wilcoxson, George Luedeman, Doris Coddins, Robert Dunlap, Mildred Bowers, Alma M. Giem, Carl Rehling, Homer Murphy, Clarence Keener, Clarence LeGras, Hugh Stephenson, and Margaret Motherwell.

Newest G-E X-ray Equipment Used In Hospital Here

New G-E X-ray equipment was recently purchased by the Methodist Hospital to modernize and improve the services to patients until the Parkview Memorial Hospital is completed. According to hospital authorities, the units will then be moved and installed in the new hospital's X-ray department.

The X-ray machine is only a small part of the equipment that will eventually be used at Parkview. According to Howard Wallace, G-E Sales Representative, it is very possible that Fort Wayne Works employees made actual parts for this equipment as well as donating money toward its purchase in the recent Parkview Hospital Drive. Pledges and contributions from G-E employees and the Company amounted to $155,414.85 toward the hospital building fund.

X-ray equipment of this type is designed and manufactured at the G-E X-Ray Divisions plant in Milwaukee.



IDEA EARNS $100—Bobby Black, FHP Motor Div. 1, (second from left) was presented $100 for suggesting a better method of removing varnish from rotor coils. He is shown at the presentation of the award. Left to right are Robert Blee, Mr. Black, E. R. Glenwith and R. L. Spitler.

I suppose everyone is wondering who the cute new girl is in the office. Her name is Carol Sellers. Boys, you can quit ogling, she is engaged to be married. . . . We wonder why Ed Johnson was so happy last Friday morning. Could it be a girl friend, Ed? . . . Some of the boys in Bldg. 4-1 think they can make up a basketball team that could beat the Huntertown Wildcats. Lloyd Covault will be the coach, George Hahn, the water boy, and Fred Pyle, the timekeeper. George Bear and Galan Kreig will be forwards, Jim DeArmond, center, and Frank Lawrence and Howard Stevens, guards. Are you laughing up your sleeve, Lois? . . . We must say that Jim had better get in better shape than he was last week. He played volleyball one night at Berne and had to take the next day off because of an injured back. . . . Bill, our elevator operator in the south end of Bldg. 4, has a novel way of keeping himself warm on these cold days. He made himself a blanket out of paper and had cardboards up behind him. Maybe some of the rest of us should try this. . . . All the girls were whistling at Clarence Reiter yesterday. He got his picture taken for the Quarter Century Club. Congratulations, Clarence. . . . Emerick Simon thinks G-E should furnish towels with the showers. He was working over the oleum tank and dropped one of the pieces he was working with into the tank. Emerick got the bath of his life. . . . We liked that red bow tie that Wilmer LaVine was wearing the other day. . . . Does anyone have a pair of crutches they could let Helen Burnam use? She turned her ankle one day. She could hardly sleep that night, the pain was so bad, and was still limping the next day. If she had been on the ice, we could understand and sympathize, but she was just walking across the office floor when it happened. Better watch where you are putting them down, Helen! . . . Marguerite Wyant helped us out a couple of days last week. Marguerite is from Bldg. 4-5. . . . Jane Crismore is getting her kitchen all dressed up for spring. She is getting new cupboards, a new paint job and new linoleum. . . . Galen Kreig has the answer to the mystery of the flying saucers. He says they find little men in them just two feet tall, and they are from Mars. He also says they are 500 years ahead of us so far as science is concerned. We worry about people like you, Galen. It couldn't be a heat stroke in midwinter. Have you seen your psychiatrist lately?

Has Red Tie

G-E X-RAYS AT WORK IN METHODIST HOSPITAL—Shown installing new G-E X-ray equipment at the Methodist Hospital are, left to right, James Bliss, G-E Service Representative, Mary Niccum, X-ray technician at the hospital, and Howard Wallace, G-E Sales Representative.

COFFIN AWARD WINNER AT WORK—Wesley W. Brooks, winner of the Coffin Award, the Company's highest employee honor, is shown observing the operation of a new circuit on an oscilloscope in the STAB development laboratory here.

65 G-E Employees

(Continued from page 1)

the normal expectancy of their work.

The figure represents a new record in the number of Coffin awards presented to employees for a single year. The previous high was for 1948, when 55 employees were cited.

The 65 Coffin award recipients were honored at separate ceremonies in 17 cities throughout the country where General Electric plants and offices are located.

Since the program was started in 1923, a total of 946 employees have received Coffin awards, named for one of the founders and the first president of the General Electric Company.

This year, a total of 49 separate accomplishments in the technical, business, and public relations fields were recognized, several on a joint basis.

Achievements Varied

Included in the wide range of achievements cited were contributions to improvements in turbine manufacture, development of a latchless, magnetized refrigerator door, improvements in the field of microwave communication, bettering the quality of silicone rubber, development of the first gas-turbine locomotive to be built in the United States, and the establishment of city-wide installation of food-waste disposers in Jasper, Ind.

Two men were honored for achievements rare in Coffin award history. George Fiske, Apparatus Department Office Manager at Kansas City, Mo., was presented an award in recognition of "rare, courageous, and outstanding service to his community at considerable personal sacrifice." William H. Tangeman, retired, formerly Works Manager at the Appliance and Merchandise Department's Ontario, Calif., works, was cited for "enlightened and warm personal leadership and for his inspiration of the Ontario supervisory group to bring about outstanding cost reductions and improvements in quality."

Three men, John B. Brightman, a section engineer in the Appliance and Merchandise Department's Household Refrigerator Division in Erie, Pa., Wayne H. Allen, an aviation engineer in the Apparatus Department's Engineering Division in Los Angeles, and Russell W. Van Kirk, Apparatus Department Office Manager in El Paso, Tex., won Coffin Awards for the second time. Mr. Brightman won a Coffin Award in 1948, Mr. Allen in 1945, and Mr. Van Kirk in 1929.

One woman, Mrs. Alice Meloy Colborne of the Appliance and Merchandise Department's Marketing Division in Bridgeport, Conn., was among those cited. She is the tenth woman to receive the Coffin Award.

Recipients included design and laboratory engineers; workmen; sales, application, and field engineers; tool designers and draftsmen; manufacturing supervisors; clerical workers, and other employees.

Schenectady Men Lead

Geographically, the largest number cited were honored at ceremonies here, where 17 men were given awards. The total included eight at the Pittsfield, Mass., works; six at the Bridgeport, Conn., works; six at Electronics Park in Syracuse, N. Y.; five at the Erie, Pa., works; four at the West Lynn, Mass., works; three at the Lynn, Mass., River Works; three at the Lost Angeles office; two each at the Ontario, Calif., works, the Plainville, Conn., plant of the Trumbull Electric Manufacturing Co., and the Waterford, N. Y., plant; and one each at the Ashland, Mass., plant of Telechron, Inc., the Charlotte, N. C., office of the Trumbull Electric Manufacturing Co., the Fort Wayne, Ind., works, the Hanford, Wash., works, the El Paso, Tex., office, the Kansas City, Mo., office, and the Philadelphia works.

Selection of award winners is made after careful study by the Company's Advisory Committee on the basis of initiative, perseverance, courage, and foresight. One important factor taken into account is the opportunity existing in an employee's daily work for him to distinguish himself with creative or constructive accomplishments.

Brooks Receives

(Continued from page 1)

It's Always Been "G-E"

Thirty-eight years old, Mr. Brooks has devoted his entire career to the General Electric Company. He joined the Company on the test course in July, 1936, shortly after obtaining his master's degree in electrical engineering at the University of Illinois. In April, 1937, he was assigned duties as a design engineer in the Fort Wayne Plant Construction Division. Later, in March, 1939, he began work in the Specialty Transformer Engineering Division where he had considerable experience in luminous tube transformers, ignition transformers, aircraft radio and radar components and domestic and commercial radio.

In December, 1944, his energies were directed to the Ballast Engineering Division where, in 1947, he became a group leader in charge of important ballast development work.

According to STAB management sources here, "Mr. Brooks, by ingenious design, thorough investigation of all design variables, judicious proportion, and leadership which brought the highest degree of co-operation from engineers responsible to him, planners, tool engineers, and factory personnel, has made signal contributions to the field of lighting, and has brought credit and profit to his divisions and the Company."

Born on a Farm

He was born on a farm near Mason City, Ill., where his parents still live. He now resides at 2801 Waynewood Drive, Waynedale, with his wife, the former Miss Evelyn Storm, a Fort Wayne girl, three daughters, and one son.

A man of many interests, Mr. Brooks is a "ham" radio enthuisast and operates a transmitter and receiver, with the call letters W9FVC, in his basement. Although not strictly a "rural man," he drives a Pontiac station wagon and is a zealous gardener. A general handyman around the house, he does much of his own woodwork, plumbing and wiring.

He is also a Clerk of Session and a member of the Choir at the First Presbyterian Church. Both he and his wife are fond of square dancing.

He is a member and past chairman of the Fort Wayne Association of G-E Engineers and the AIEE and is a member of the National Society of Profesisonal Engineers, the Fort Wayne Engineers Club and the Squares.

Klomp Elected

(Continued from page 1)

treasurer; Roy Paulson, Bldg. 19-4, and Dan Foreman, Decatur, both directors.

Mr. Klomp announced that the new officers will meet early next week to formulate plans for the coming year.

"TOO MUCH DIFFERENCE"
Years ago some man discovered;
Can't recall the fellow's name.
But he found that absolutely,
No two things are just the same.

That's the reason you are different
From your friends across the aisle,
That is why, when you are angry,
Someone else can always smile.

It's a common law in physics
And I'm using it today
As a means of introduction
For the thing I have to say.

Just because someone discovered,
That no two can be the same,
It's no reason for extremists
In this differential game.

I am quite content in being
Not the same in all respects
But my gripe is when the difference
Gets beyond what one expects.

I can tolerate the difference
In our color, race and creed.
I respect the disagreement
People have for what we need.

But I can't see why Joe Stalin
Always has to answer, "NO"
There just can't be that much difference
Forty vetoes in a row.

So I close with this prediction
Which, of course, is just a guess
I predict, there'll come a meeting,
When old Joe will answer, "YES."
—W. L. Whonsetler

WELCOME: We would like to welcome Arlein Yates in our fold. Arlein worked in D.C. way back in 1945, so she is not a stranger to many of us. Also, welcome to Alfreda Sutton, a new member of our Drafting Group. . . . CONGRATS: Congratulations to the Denver Druesedow's. They are the proud parents of Clark Maurice, born 11:45, Thursday, Feb. 8, at the Lutheran Hospital, weight, eight pounds. Pappa, Momma and Baby doing fine. . . . NO SUPPER: It's a good thing Helen Conrad's husband had to work one night last week. She set the automatic on her oven for a hot supper and, lo and behold, when she got home, the oven was hot, but no meal was in the oven—forgot to put in the food. . . . MAMA KNOWS BEST: Ray Jones; don't you think it would be a good idea to have waited until you had that dishwasher hooked up before you tapped into the waterline? Carefully marking the spot and drilling through the floor for the waterpipes, he was doused with a geyser of water when he pulled the drill out. And all this was after he had been warned by Mrs. Jones to be careful not to hit a water pipe. Better listen to mamma next time. . . . SORRY TO SEE YOU GO: One man's loss is another man's gain. Howard Ream starting working for Uncle Sam's Navy today. We sure will miss him . . . HAT SWITCH: Dan Geary and Frank Fleischer exchanged hats for the week-end. Monday morning each hat was returned to the rightful owner.

Mama Knows Best

IDEA BRINGS $100 — Charles Druce, Specialty Transformer Div. 91, received $100 for his suggestion, through which a new formula was developed to use less compound for washing transformer parts.

Apprentice Banquet

(Continued from page 1)

Hilliard Butcher, Bldg. 31-2; Vic Barcus, Bldg. 19-5; Don Alcott, Bldg. 19-4, and Charles Bracht, Bldg. 19-4.

Taylor St.: Charles Briggs, Lyle Claphan and William Irwin.

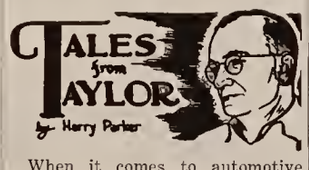
Winter St.: Ed Ehrman.

Engineering Class

(Continued from page 1)

Entrance exams will be given here Tuesday, Feb. 27, and personal interviews with applicants will be conducted between Feb. 28 and April 7. Those who are accepted for the Program will be notified May 1.

For further information, contact W. E. Holmes, Bldg. 18-2, Ext. 2372.



GETS $80 AWARD—Mary A. Turschman, FHP Div. 17, earned $80 for suggesting a change in filling out schedules. She is shown receiving her award from W. D. Caston, while J. W. Bendure looks on.

I wish spring would "Breeze in" one of these days. Everyone has the winter doldrums around here. Fred Wheeler gets around though. He went to Pittsfield for a supervisory course this week. . . . COMPLAINT DEPT.: It seems as though all day Wednesday Mary Nelson's desk had a squeak in it. Now, I'll admit this sounds a little silly. Nevertheless, Mary asked Russ Carpenter to remedy the situation; if he could. So—Russ looked the desk over from top to bottom, pondered awhile, then finally said, "Mary, just move this little tin desk tray a bit, and I believe everything will be all right." The tray was moved about an inch, the squeak stopped, Mary was happy and everyone is back to normal again. Now, the moral is this: "Little things make big noises." Which reminds me—today is moving day! The office furniture is being rearranged to a more convenient plan. There is nothing like changing things around a bit. . . . A number of the girls here in the office have been hurrying to get their tickets for "Oklahoma." Jean Smith, Judy Krebs, Marilyn Spice, and Joyce Greiser attended. . . . Last Wednesday afternoon we were all pleasantly surprised when Janet Ginder Tumbleson paid us a visit after an absence of three months. Janet and her husband have been living in Bellville, Ill., where he is stationed at Scott Air Base. . . . It must be the weather or something, but Clarence Schafer is getting forgetful. He came into the office and sat down at the wrong desk. I guess we all have days like that. . . . If you've noticed Maxine Stoffel walking around with only one earring, don't ask her why. She's full of foolish answers. . . . Larry Brown is back with us in the Mailing Section. It's nice to have you back, Larry. . . . Edith Swain is now working on the teletype. She's doing a wonderful job. . . . Everyone is very satisfied with the states they drew for the "Stop the Music" pool, especially Jerry Schlund. Jerry is hoping there is a talking horse somewhere in Nevada. . . . Judy Krebs is helping the girls type D.O.'s now. . . . Grace Taylor knows how to dress for this cold weather. She wears so many clothes that it takes her 15 minutes to dress and 10 to undress, but she keeps warm. . . . Ruth Abels doesn't like this cold weather at all. She walks to work, and if it weren't for Maxine Householder, she would freeze to death. . . . These icy roads don't keep Barbara Schukel from coming in from New Haven. She loves to work so much that she wouldn't miss a day for anything. . . . Stuart Foreman is no longer with us. We were sorry to see him leave and we hope he likes his new job at Broadway. . . . Bernadette Collis says she wouldn't mind working if there weren't so much work to do. She just can't seem to find an end to the work. It's there someplace, Bernadette. . . . Doc Potter aged a year when he left us. It was his birthday on his last day here. Many happy returns, Doc. . . . Maurice Petgen learned what the three best methods of communication are — telegraph, telephone, and tell-a-woman. Do you think that's true, Maurice? . . . If you've noticed Pat Waterman carrying a large box with her when she goes to the candy lady, it means only one thing. Jerry Schlund is hungry. . . . Of course, we have all heard about pink pajamas and pink elephants, but have you ever heard of pink noodles? It seems as though Jo Franklin specializes in making them. Sunday evening, she wanted to prepare a little snack for her friends, so she decided on goulash. She wanted it to be more colorful, so she decided to use a little red food coloring. Now we all know that you use noodles in goulash—well, those noodles absorbed all the red coloring. So everything was rather pinkish. . . . Here are Martin Lee and Danny Eugene, sons of Roselyn Standiford. Their mother is one of the telegraph girls.

Martin and Danny

When it comes to automotive electronics, Brice Martin cannot be beat. It seems as though he did a thorough job of rewiring the ignition system of his car preparatory to selling it. After the job was completed, he asked Don Arnold to act as test pilot. Seating himself in the driver's seat, he prepared to give it the works. He found the ignition switch hanging loose, nearly touching the floor, but he managed to turn it on. But Don could not get a snort out of the old boy. Upon investigation, he found that Brice had connected the spark plug wires to the studs that hold the motor head in place; the distributor was hooked up with the radiator; the coil connected to the carburetor, and this instrument directly connected to the muffler. Brice said that he thought this method would give the old motor more "umph." . . . Archie Boren has one of those new type combination cigar, cigarette and pipe ligbters and was showing it to us the other day. In giving us a demonstration, this gadget actually frightened us, as it threw a flame resembling that which comes from a flamethrower. Archie explained its fierce action by saying that when he wanted a light, he wanted one and no fooling around. Well, he sure will get one with that outfit, but we are afraid that he might set the house ablaze. . . . As you all know, George England rides to work with Dave Bartle and they have a unique signal system worked out. When Dave reaches a point about a half mile from George's home, he blinks his headlights. George turns on the porch light, then hurries down to the highway.

Has Signal Setup

Hi, gang, did you ever enjoy seeing the beautiful sunshine anymore in your life than you did after this cold spell? Well, you know then just how much I appreciate your helping me out with our column. . . . We wish a speedy recovery to Dorothy Scheiber's son Ronnie, who underwent an appendectomy at the St. Joseph's Hospital recently. Dorothy now works on the first shift. . . . Augusta Hoopengardner and Ethel O'Leary treated those in the Lead Section to cake and candy before they were transferred. Felix Neuman and Charlie Askren in turn treated the girls to ice cream and cokes. Nice guys, weren't they, girls? Hoopy is in Bldg. 26-1 and Ethel is in Bldg. 4-3. Both report liking their work fine. Don't forget us, ladies. . . . Delores Johnson's car had to go to the garage for repairs. She is already tired of riding the bus. . . . Amy Rupp has been transferred to Bldg. 26-1 and likes her new job. We miss you, Amy. She also says that her brother who had an operation recently, is coming along fine. Just hope he continues to have a speedy recovery. . . . Jerry Nahrwold is back after his illness. Glad to have you back, Jerry. Jerry is now contemplating going on days. . . . Dorothy Johnson has had a siege of sore throat and had to go home one evening. Hope it continues to improve, Dorothy. . . . Donna Sipe is enjoying the Florida sunshine at this writing. She and her husband have motored to Orlando, Fla., for their son who has spent the winter there with grandparents. Donna expects it to be warm enough so sbe can stick her feet in the ocean. They expect to return in two weeks. . . . We really enjoyed that lovely letter lva Stephan sent to Bea Lantz. It was real nice of Bea to share it with us. . . . Mabel Drummond and Maggie Perkins are off because of illness. The flu has really hit a lot of us again. Hope you can be back soon, girls. . . . It was good to see Willis "Pinkie" Mettler again. Pinkie is now working in Bldg. 4-2. Come back again, Pinkie. In all the transferring, our big family in Bldg. 17-3 has been scattered hither and yon. We enjoy seeing those who have left, and our friendships shall last just the same. . . . Our sympathy is extended to Frank Schidler, whose father died recently. . . . It is good to see Edna Butler back after being off due to illness. . . . We are happy to announce the approaching marriage of Betty Yarger and Charles Askren, both of Bldg. 17-3. The wedding will be tomorrow. Almost Valentine's Day, wasn't it, folks? We wish the happy couple many happy years together.

To be Wed

Well, the other morning, when it was so terribly cold, George was in his lookout position waiting for Dave to put in an appearance. When a car appeared in the offing, the headlights blinked. George snapped on his porch light and hurried to the road, but the car whizzed by him and disappeared over a hill. Now George was feeling pretty much let-down by this and decided to return to the house. Reaching the porch, he noticed another car approaching. The headlights blinked. George hurried back to the road and was very much relieved to find that it was Dave. Now he is inclined to believe that someone played a joke on him. . . . Phillip (Tiny) Schoppman is very disgusted with his car because it failed to start when the temperature hovered around 17 below zero. Arriving here at the plant, he questioned a lot of the boys about their cars. All of them told him that they had no trouble at all. Now Tiny has just about decided to peddle his old kettle and purchase a scooter.

Survivorship Option Explained by Company

Since announcing the new Pension Board rule on survivorship options in the NEWS last week, a number of inquiries have been received about how the option works.

The survivorship option in the Pension Plan is available to those who wish to elect it so that an employee can be sure that if he dies after retirement, his wife will continue to receive an income from the G-E Pension Plan for her life. Because, generally, this means the pension is paid out for a longer time since it is paid to the pensioner for his life and then to his wife for her life, the pension normally payable will be reduced somewhat, depending on the age of the employee and of his wife.

Employee Has Two Choices

The employee has two options. He can arrange for his wife to receive the same reduced pension he was eligible for up to his death or he can arrange for her to receive one-half his reduced pension. In this latter case, of course, since his wife gets a lesser amount, the reduction is not so great.

Here is how it works in a few cases. Let's assume John Jones will be eligible for a G-E pension of $140 a month at age 65. If he elects to have his wife receive the same G-E pension, he is eligible for, here are the monthly pension figures—

Monthly Pension to John Jones and to His Wife

Wife also 65	$103.18
Wife is 63	99.96
Wife is 60	95.06

If he elects to have his wife receive one-half the G-E pension he would be eligible for, here are the monthly pension figures—

John Jones, Monthly Pension While He Lives

Wife is 65	$118.86
Wife is 63	116.62
Wife is 60	113.26

Wife's Monthly Pension at ½ After Husband Dies

Wife is 65	$59.54
Wife is 63	58.31
Wife is 60	56.63

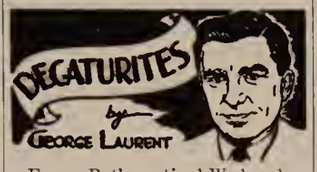
A female employee can elect a survivorship option so as to have a reduced pension paid to her husband if she should die first. The reduction in pension is somewhat different than that for a male employee.

Under the Pension Plan an employee can elect a survivorship option at the date of retirement subject to a company medical examination and consent of the Pension Board. The new rule of the Pension Board also permits an employee to elect the option two years before normal retirement age subject to Pension Board consent but without medical examination. All company units have available the necessary forms to make the election and can supply the reductions applying in each case where an employee wishes to determine what effect the option would have on his pension.

BULLETIN

The Apprentice Machinist volleyball team has won the Interdivision Volleyball League Title for the second year in a row by downing the Main Office squad, 15, 15-13. 9.

RECEIVES TWO AWARDS—Herbert C. Langer, (left) Bldg. 17-2, was presented two suggestion awards. He earned $50 for suggesting a change to dies so they wouldn't have to be dismantled each time for grinding. Another die change idea brought Mr. Langer an additional $30. This change prevented numerous mispunchings. His foreman, Harold Homan, is shown presenting Mr. Langer the two checks.



With the weather plunging down below the zero mark, when asked how the weather was out, Martha Scott said, "They tell me it's freezing outside." . . . Mary Noll and Evaline Best confess. They are going to have to take the test room out so they can squeeze through the aisle. . . . Kenny Miller wants to know if he can order a twin brother. As busy as Kenny is at times, he says he sure needs one. . . . Jim Klinger and Carol Weber have decided to tie the knot June 2. Congratulations to you both. . . . What's this we hear about Doris Stearns' buying a trailer to haul herself around in? . . . Someone please inform Vida Craft that china dishes do break if thrown on the floor. . . . Barbara Ray should powder her nose a little earlier so that Pearl Michaels could have her chair. . . . We are wondering where Mary Ann Miles gets all of her pep. . . . It seems as though Mary Reynolds and Taylor St. are getting quite friendly—the street came up to meet her. The result: a sore back. . . . We saw Bonnie Marks, Mildred Clevenger and Amy Dull making snow angles. . . . We are very sorry to hear that Jo Lee Zimmerman's little daughter is very ill. We hope you get better soon, Rena Jo. . . . Whose chicken house has Marie Johnson been in? It seems she is in the habit of putting chicken bones behind the tapers' chairs. . . . The Assembly Section had a Valentine potluck Wednesday night. They had a hankie exchange and a very good lunch. . . . Helen Duff had better get her thinking cap on. She didn't remember what day her daughter's birthday was. . . . We welcome some new girls to the group: Patricia Miller, Ethel O'Leary, Margaret Girado and Martha (Pat) Shaw. . . . Oscar Miller can buy Mama a new Easter bonnet with the three pools he won this week. . . . "Skippy" Kurtz is so wrapped up in her work that she sat down at the wrong machine before she noticed it. . . . We shall miss the friendly smile of our trucker, Charlie, who has gone on days. . . . Bonnie Marks and Mary Noll fell on the ice, and they both hurt the same wrist. . . . Jo Lee Zimmerman is now known as "Razor-Toe." . . . We're sorry to hear Bea Stolte is in the hospital. We wish you a speedy recovery. . . . What did Helen Thieme have on her mind when she borrowed a band-aid and put it on the wrong finger and then put her boots on the wrong feet? . . . Pearl Michaels is going in her second childhood. She is now chewing bubble gum. . . . Vera Stucky is leaving us to become a fulltime housewife. . . . We welcome Marie Anderson and Meta Racine to our group. . . . Viola Muelenbrach is on our sick list. We will be glad to have you back, Viola. . . . Edna Bauer should join the Polar Bear Club. She uses a fan in zero weather. . . . It was nice of Betty Byran to think of us while she was riding a bus the other night. . . . Barbara Ray is rushing the season just a little. She is getting her spring planting done. . . . We're sorry to lose Les Franke to Bldg. 6-4. We will miss you, Les, and come back to see us. . . . When Aldena Harris falls, she picks the park for her landing place. . . . Martha Bulleit says she got her hair chiseled off and then got a permanent. . . . We are glad to report Zelda Garrison's husband is much better after his recent illness. . . . Jo Lee Zimmerman, that little package of dynamite, took a collection for a pair of shoes. She got half of what she wanted as someone donated an old shoe. . . . Doris Garr has quite a problem. Her young son is always bringing other kids home for lunch when she leasts expects them. . . . Just a little late, but happy birthday to Pearl Michaels. . . . Congratulations to Arlene Welches who was chosen Miss Valentine of 1951.

The girls in the Birthday Club had a supper at the home of Francis Walker in honor of Francis and Hilda LeCoque. Those attending were Ruby Stoops, Marge Stahl, Selma Voigt, Elinor Laux, Sydonna Fox, Jackie Keller, Peggy Bandt, Betty Pion, Gladys Pantazin and the honored guests. The evening was spent reminiscing. . . . We wish to express our sympathy to Hugh Johnson in the death of his father. . . . Hilliard Moore is planning a large summer with his new boat. . . . Last week was Peggy Bandt's off week. First she had guests. The ice cream was melted because she had made a mistake and pulled the refrigerator plug. Later in the week, she fell down and hurt her knee. Then almost walked into the men's rest room instead of the ladies. Last of all, she forgot the gift for the birthday party and lost the birthday card on the way. Peg will be happy when the apartment is finished. . . . The Ralph Kellers spent the week-end in Van Wert, Ohio. . . . Ed Bandt is trying out his new machine this week. . . . Dorothy Weiler and Amelia Dickover will celebrate birthdays this week. . . . Melvin Riley is looking for a ride to work since he isn't sure he will be driving much longer. . . . Somebody should tell Herb Richter that we have had plenty of ice in Fort Wayne, and that he doesn't have to go to Indianapolis to see an ice show. . . . Sydonna Fox and Elinor Laux still haven't let us in on the secret of their Friday and Saturday night escapades.

The recently opened $7,000,000 Washburn Tunnel under the Houston Ship Canal in Texas is equipped with the latest tunnel control devices and switchgear by the Apparatus Department.

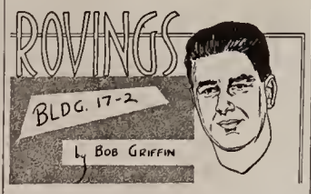
Emma Butler retired Wednesday, Feb. 7, after 30 years of service with the Company. Emma started to work at the Fort Wayne Works and was transferred here shortly after. She spent her time in various operations during her long period of service and was a connector at the time of retirement. A dinner was held at the Legion hall with about 40 of her co-workers present. Of course, a very pretty gift was presented to Emma at this time. Rumor has it that a very interesting floor show was presented after most of the guests had left. Really, Leonard, we are quite provoked because you didn't put on that dance so that all of us could see it. How long did it take you to perfect that technique, Leonard? . . . A number of Jim Chilcote's friends got together and sprung a surprise on him on his birthday at the home of Doris Resh. . . . Life Goes On: Second shift had a few birthdays, a baby was born and everything and everybody were just froze up last week. Eloise Roeder, celebrated her birthday. Yes, it's true, she is only 22. She received a present or two and one was extra nice. Cleva Weaver, also had a birthday Feb. 9. Katy Kitson celebrated hers on the same day. . . . Helen Beavers can lay claim to the soundest sleeping husband in this locality. It seems as though Ed failed to show up one night after work for Helen and her riders. They all finally got home anyway, and then Helen tried to wake him up to get in the house. Pounding was of no avail, so she found a telephone and that did it. We hear from reports that Ed feels very low. . . . Ed Hammond is the proud papa of a boy. Congratulations, Ed. . . . Do any of you boys happen to know Jake Hodle? And did you ever see him in an apron? We hear he is the best soda jerker in town. Jake, you said you never had your name in this paper. Well, now, here 'tis. . . . Miles (Do Anything) Jones is still stumbling around trying to recuperate from that recent addition to his family a few weeks ago. . . . Al (The Geneva Whirlwind) Windmiller has gone to the other plant and with him go our best wishes and he knows that we will miss him too. Be seeing you, Al. . . . Charlie DeBolt, by this time, is a full-fledged "Van Werter," having severed himself from the habitats of Willshire and the Town Pump restaurant where he always coffeed up and chewed that tough steak. He is in the home cooking class now and I believe he rather shows it too. . . . Ira Huber is still commuting from the realms of Willshire, having not yet decided which is the best for his health, Decatur or Willshire. Of course, he spends as much time one place as the other. . . . Edward Huston, son of Bill, and former worker for the G-E, has been inducted into the armed forces. . . . Where is Pauly Myers? Haven't seen him in a coon's age. Must be hibernating or else he can't get that car started. . . . It seems as though Marcia is very fond of coffee as Ada makes it. Is that the reason that Marcia leaves her thermos bottle in the car so that Ada will return it in the morning filled with hot coffee? . . . Birthdays seem to hit some folks harder than others. At least, Jimmy Chilcote stayed home to recover from his recent day of celebration. Of course, the weather played a major part in his staying home, he says. Happy birthday, Jimmy. . . . Oscar Returns: Sometime ago honor was given to a certain mechanic in the form of a half Oscar. Now the honor has been returned twofold. A winder was presented a complete Oscar with trimmings by the former winner of the dubious prize. . . . Anyone wishing to know a new name for a popular brand of perfume, contact Ella Scherry. Seems as though she renamed one of them the other evening—Wow! . . . On a cold and blustering day just 17 years ago Feb. 7, Mr. and Mrs. Alton Andrews were married. Congratulations, folks, and hope you celebrate lots more of them. . . . When it comes to stepping high, wide and acrobatic, the honors should go to Clyde Gould. Clyde was seen doing some fancy stepping after becoming entangled with a chain lying on the floor. . . . It has been reported that Dick Gehrig is confined to a hospital in Japan with a badly bruised foot and broken toes. Dick is the son of Tibby and Annabelle Gehrig. . . . Wanted: Live flies or gnats. Since Kate Niblick recently acquired a new pet, she was seen trying to catch enough live food to keep the pet alive. Now Kate, you know that a chameleon does not require very much to eat.

The best arguments are like fishhooks—they sink in easy, but they're hard to dislodge.

SHIPPING: Congratulations to the new bride and groom, Betty (Millhouse) Campbell and Dick Campbell (of Bldg. 6-3), who were married Feb. 10, and very pretty it was, too. . . . FORGETFUL: It could be overwork, or it could be world conditions, or well it could be most anything that led one of our foremen to get a beautiful haircut, then walk nonchalantly out of the shop without paying. The foreman so full of thought was Paul Merkert. . . . WELCOME: to Mary Jane Wise, MS typist; Betty Kemp, duplicator, and Betty J. Cutright, complete file. Nice to have you with us, girls, and hope you enjoy your stay. . . . GRAND TIME was reported by Mary Ann Obrien, who visited New Orleans and the Mardi Gras recently. . . . RECEIVING: Wash day was delayed at the George Michel home a Saturday or two ago when the good wife prepared to get a head start on the Monday wash. Alas, she couldn't find George's clothes. The reason was simple. George was working at Winter St. in an unheated building, and he had all his clothes on. This might explain why certain people thought we had an Indian on the payroll. George, wrapped in a blanket and with all those clothes, could manage to say only "ugh" when spoken to. . . . Elmer Griswold says, and we quote, "Never again will I believe what I have read about the sunny Southland." Elmer took a trip through the southern states recently and nearly froze to death. Since his return, Elmer visited the Employees' Store, purchased a sunlamp and a heating pad. Says Elmer, "With some rented potted palms, pictures of bathing beauties and records of dreamy music, I can lie in my front room under the sunlamp, dabble my feet in a pan of warm water and sip orange juice without too much effort and very little expense. Oh yes, Elmer, for effect you might even allow yourself to get a slight sunburn, get sprinkled with sand and every so often have someone, in a drippy wet bathing suit with sandy bare feet, run through the room and step in your face or bounce a beach ball on your stomach. What could be more realistic than that? . . . We have a variety of hunters in Receiving Division such as Amos Trowbridge, a fearless deer hunter, and Frank Parker, a relentless cake hunter, or even Mary Wolfe, who is always hunting something out of the wastebasket. Glen Kumfer tops them all. It could be that Glen is a descendant of Daniel Boone, for hunting seems to be a natural talent with him. One day while walking in the barnyard, pitchfork in hand, he spotted a rabbit going full pace across the snow. Glen quickly drew back his right arm and let fly with the pitchfork 20 yards and pinned that rabbit neatly to the ground by both ears. Glen told this story in his own simple way, unboastingly, and modestly, as is his nature, so NATURALLY, we believe this story to be the truth.

Rules are necessary in the game of football. They are even more necessary on the highway, because the final score may be death in an accident. The National Safety Council asks motorists and pedestrians to know and obey traffic laws.

OBSERVES 35TH ANNIVERSARY—Charles J. Gebhart, Bldg. 4-B, (third from right) celebrated his 30th anniversary with the company Friday, Jan. 26. Several of his co-workers gathered then to congratulate him on his long service record. Left to right above are Orval Harrold, C. L. Steinbacher, W. H. Franke, Mr. Gebhart, B. A. Rohn and Leo Heersche.



By Don Clark

That sub-zero wave caused many interesting incidents. Before Ed Gruber could come to work one morning, he had to thaw out his car doors with a tea kettle of hot water. Arriving in the parking lot, was he surprised when he found he couldn't get out. The hot water that had helped him get in had frozen, and Ed was sealed in. He pushed and he pounded. He shoved and he kicked. Finally the ice broke loose and out popped our cold wave victim. . . . The icy streets caused a collision of Chet Reynold's car and another vehicle. Luckily there was no noticeable damage except that an old fog light was knocked off Chet's car. Since the light didn't work anyway, Chet drove off without it. Chet was happy and felt good that his car wasn't damaged. Apparently one Fort Wayne citizen wasn't so happy, for on Monday morning Chet received a box containing the fog light plus a scolding letter. Chet was informed that the citizens of Fort Wayne don't object to a Decaturite's driving on their streets, but when pieces fall off his car, he should pick them up. What do you say, Chet? . . . One morning it not only felt cold in the office but looked cold too. Art Jenne was the only man that didn't have his hands in his pockets—he was wearing Gale Rinehart's red gloves. . . . Mary Ellen Owen showed us how to keep warm. She was typing with gloves on her hands and boots on her feet. . . . Louise Hegerfeld slid to work. At least, she slid down the cement steps leading to the parking lot. More fun that way, you know. . . . The dirty ice even marked up Delores Manning's coat. Somehow she suddenly decided to sit down on the ice after disembarking from a comfortable seat on the bus. . . . Belated birthday greetings to Dick Florent, who has now entered the "Life Begins at Forty Club." . . . Our hats are off to Christian Kaiser, who was pictured recently as "Bowler of the week." . . . In Milt Ray's section, each draftsman has listed a work schedule that would suit him best. Of course, everyone was different. Did anyone want third shift, Milt? . . . Bob Benz's latest purchase is a new washing machine and dryer. If he has to do the work, Bob wants the latest conveniences. . . . Charlie Ueber seldom makes the news, so Happy Birthday, Charlie! . . . Ed Boedeker is afraid to trust his diagnosis of engine trouble now. He thought a new carbureter would rid his motor of the habit of dying. After spending $20 plus half a day's work installing it, Ed was ready for the test run. Did it work? Well, maybe. The motor only stopped three times going around the block. . . . Bob Truelove made the trip to Houghton Lake in Michigan last week-end and caught plenty of fish. He should have taken Woody Hursh and Bernie (Bucketful) Byanski along. Bernie got his usual seven after a hard day's fishing, and Woody Hursh caught his usual zero. Woody says, "If you don't catch 'em, you don't have to clean 'em." . . . Fred Zollner should know of his expert analyzing board here in the Tool division comprised of Joe Mettler, Elmer Sauerwein, Glenn Ramsey, Bob Truelove, Ralph Foust, Eddie Kammeyer and Leo Schlaudroff. Every morning after a Piston game, they figure out what's wrong with the Pistons, win or lose. It looks like we should send Coach Mendenhall up to see these boys for the right answer. . . . Carl Einsiedel couldn't get his car started last week and he couldn't find "anyone" to give him a push. We told him if he had called Wolf Lake or Hurshtown, he would have had immediate service. . . . Mart Walsh is now at home and recovering in fine shape. We wonder if Frank Hoffman still has to shave him. . . . Eldon Mee was having trouble with the license bureau clerk. He thought she was overcharging him for his operator's license, but he apologized when he found out it was good for two years. . . . Everyone knows it now, but Paul Shive found it out last week. Everett Schmidt and Don Miller phoned Paul at five minutes until midnight and asked him if the street light was burning. Paul laid down the phone and proceeded to look out the window, but before he answered there were two lights burning. One had just turned on over his noggin. . . . Dick Suter is thankful for a friend who remembers good turns. At six below zero, Dick was stuck with a stalled car—that is, until Harry Van Diver showed up. . . . John Roemer missed a button from his coat at a basketball game last Sunday afternoon. It is not hard to figure out why. John had good reasons for his chest to swell and snap a button or two. His son scored 16 points in the game. Having seen John Neukam's performing some fancy needlework on his apron one day, we suggest you take your coat to him, John. He'll have an extra button in his sewing basket. . . . Lee Schnepp seldom misses his Thursday night bowling, but last week the story was different. His brakes were frozen, and bus and taxi service was very scarce. So in an unconcerned manner, Lee strolled back into the house with "Would you like to have me spend the evening at home, wifey?" Great sacrifice—eh, Lee. . . . That gaunt look on Harry Mitchell's face comes from "Batchin" it this week. Won't someone take him home for dinner?

Alma Welches got her eye lashes curled, eyebrows plucked and her hair curled all for nothing the other day. She says all you have to do is throw a bucket full of coal in the stove, it will happen. We are glad you weren't burned worse, Alma. . . . Wilbur Scott has a new name now. Call him "Chicken." We hear he goes to the dance on Saturday night, but won't dance. Why, may we ask? . . . Tommy Williams came in with her fingernails all painted Monday morning. She must have really went places over the week-end. They looked swell, Tommy. . . . We wish a speedy recovery to two of our girls who have been on the sick list for a while. Hurry back, Nora Dudgeon and Connie Saylor. . . . Jerry McKown says business is really picking up at the dances on Saturday nights but he says he'd like to see more of the G-E gang up at Busco. . . . Norm Wolf has turned over a new leaf. He thinks it's making a different person of him already. He feels much stronger. Don't let your imagination run off with you, Norm. . . . We wish to welcome the third trick workers on days. May your stay be a very pleasant one. . . . Mel Kessner says the ice fishing wasn't so good, but the bean soup was wonderful. . . . We are glad to have Dorothy Heinzelmann back with us. We might add you look wonderful. Hope you stay on the healthy side of life for a while (is the ghost writer relieved now!)

Tuesday of this week, we loaned the services of our good friend Herb Langer, to the United States Navy for an indefinite period. This is the second hitch of active duty for Herb, a Petty Officer, First Class, having served two years before. Added to this, he has over four years to his credit as an active Naval Reservist. What a gob of retirement points this gob has acquired! Herbie was called up late last year, but was given a three months' deferment to be on deck when his wife presented him with their first son. Herb, I think I express the sentiments of the group when I say, "You're an all around good guy and we will miss you very much." Here's hoping your voyage will be smooth sailing and you return very soon. . . . It has been said the course of true love never runs smooth, but we feel that Ed Meyers and Jeanette Blough could have at least given it a fair chance. When their friends, watching for their marriage license notice to appear in the paper, discovered it in the divorce notices instead, they were shocked no end. . . . That enterprising gent, Larry Huffman, to satisfy a yen to further his hobby and help out the family exchequer, has again appeared to Art Maske to buy not a beagle pup this time, but a canary. Larry has been raising beagles, and has tried unsuccessfully to sell one to Art several times. Art so far has stopped all transactions involving money by reminding Larry that dogs eat too much. So Larry, in keeping in mind the food problem, has again approached Art. This time he wants to sell Art a canary and enlightened him on the meager diet canaries require. Larry didn't sell him as Art heard Larry had trapped a bunch of sparrows and fed them carrots until their feathers changed color. . . . The recent cold snap was blamed for a lot of car trouble and rightly so in a large number of cases, but when Skinny Mosshammer had his starting troubles, it was after he had driven to work. On the way into the lot, his car stalled and wouldn't start. It was said a long line of cars behind Skinny waited very patiently until he was helped out of the way. The following day, he again had trouble getting started. Skinny says these car companies should rig up a holder on the steering wheel to hold open the book of instructions at the page on how to start your car with the carburetor flooded. That very helpful guy, Jerry Wert, offered to help Skinny out of his difficulties by swapping cars, providing he would first fill up the gas tank. Skinny has a new Pontiac; Jerry, a '34 Chevy. . . . One thing that has us puzzled in the tool room is how Walter Shultz can start eating at 8:30 a.m., continue throughout the day and do it all out of one standard-size lunch bucket. Walt says he is always hungry and feels that working so hard for the feminine half of his family may be partly to blame for this. His family; of which he is justly proud, consists of wife, three daughters, a cow and a lady calf. Walt says one way to be successful in this age is to not be bashfull, but ask for what ever you want. To demonstrate his point; when given a segment of pickle by Bob Rehrer to taste, he said, "Doesn't a sandwich go with this?"

Inquiring Reporter:

DURING WHAT PERIOD OF TIME WOULD YOU LIKE TO LIVE?

VIRGIL STOMBERG
Bldg. 17-4

"I would like to live during the next century. The threat of an atomic war should be over. Science should, by then, have found a cure for all the diseases that plague man today and a world government would be working for the best interest of all races and nations."

CHALMER STEELE
Bldg. 19-1

"There's no time like the present in any man's life. As you live and grow older, you find that out."

THOMAS L. FREEMAN
Bldg. 26-4

"From the practical standpoint, I'd take the present because of our advanced standard of living. From the philosophical standpoint, I would like to live in a period without wars and when the principles and morals of Christianity would be truthfully practiced by every person on the face of the earth."

JO ANN LEY
Taylor St.

"With the exception of the Korean situation and the enormous taxation, I believe that the present era is far superior to any other. Science has given us television, jet planes, motion pictures, automobiles and radios. What more could one ask for. This is certainly the push button age."

EDNA M. MILLER
Bldg. 16-3

"During the period of time between the Spanish-American War, 1898, and the beginning of World War I, 1914. From what I hear, this was a period of peace and contentment. During hard times, people seemingly helped themselves and were willing to help others and friendship really meant something."

Wonder why Thelma Purdue was so quiet last Wednesday? It seems as if she had to have some "bridge" work done. . . . Edith Harchelrode had the ice problem solved. She had some "spurs" that she fastened on her shoes. They dug right in the ice, and she kept right on walking! . . . Ervin Conrad must not be accustomed to working with so many of the opposite sex because we think his eye trouble is from looking too much. . . . Barbara Ternet was a bridesmaid for her sister last week. It took her an extra day to recuperate before she could return to work! . . . How do you like Mattie Fancher's new haircut. It looks real cute on her! . . . George Worley has a new TV set. Now he will have more company than he will be able to take care of. . . . Howard Hamilton was off two days last week. It was too icy for the junk business to be good, so we guess he must have been sick! . . . That guy walking around here with that fuller-brush on his face is James Salboy. He said he fell in a rat's nest and hasn't had time to clean off his face. He must have been eating honey the way the stuff stuck to his face—and it is much too early for him to play Santa, too! . . . Wendel Heckley has been recalled to the Navy. . . . Paul Henrick, Jr., is at Camp Breckenridge, Ky. He is a former co-worker, and his father works in Group 1x20. . . . The guys in Group 1x65 feel a little more free to pull some stunt now that Melvin (Tony) Miller is one of our new police officers. He is a former co-worker who had just joined the force. . . . Garland Roby is the guy who has Bill Charleston's old Pontiac. He has Merle Keesler to thank for turning the lights off so he would have a battery to get home on. . . . Crystal Koch Gill was married recently and has now left work to be a fulltime housewife. We wish her and her husband a life-time of happiness. . . . A wrong name appeared in the WORKS NEWS under the picture of the old firemen. It is Charles and not George Taylor, who was in the picture. He works in Group 1x20. . . . Hazel Ludwig is working in Group 1x20. She came from the Taylor St. plant. . . . Florence Byers and Berniece Johnson celebrated birthdays on the same day last week. Congratulations to you both. . . . Pat High has set the date! She is getting married April 21 in the Waynedale Methodist Church. . . . Carrie Menges has gotten back from her trip to Florida. We wonder if we sent the cold weather after her. While she was there, they had the coldest weather in Florida's history.

RECEIVES RETIREMENT GIFT—Frank Buhr, Bldg. 4-3, (left) is showing off his new billfold that his friends in FHP Div. 1 gave him. Mr. Buhr left the first of the month for retirement. His foreman, Everett Lindeman, is standing on the platform with Mr. Buhr, while co-workers look on.

Apprentice

BROADCAST

By E. A. Rasor

The boys in Class "G" can hardly keep their eyes toward the blackboard in Bldg. 8-2 because of an attraction behind them. It seems there is a man shortage. Carl Brandt has a few girls in his Detailing Course. And that's not all; there may be more in due time. . . . Bob Calkins is back with us after a honeymoon week in Chicago. They enjoyed a few sights as well as a few night clubs, but there's no comparison between a museum and the "Boulevard Room." . . . Bill Smith is back in the Bldg. 12-2 Gear Section. To the present day, he is running 100 per cent efficiently. Of course, Marty was released to the Mill Section in order to help the situation. . . . What could be nicer than cold weather? Warm weather, and that seems to be what it looks like the future has in store for us. The rumor last week was 25 degrees below, but a five degrees below was about all the weatherman could give us. "But that is really cold," says Bob Barnes, who came in with a sunburn. . . . Merle and Ann Aughinbaugh have moved into their apartment, and everything is on schedule. Monday morning, Merle's hands were an "Ivory Snow" compelxion, but his knees were a washwoman's type. . . . So that Konow and Allen would play euchre the rest of the evening, Hoppel and I had to let them win the first game. Being that was done, we wouldn't let them win another game and they went gunning to Hoyle. . . . By now there is a volleyball champion as the Apprentice School was up against the second-half winners, Main Office. It will be an even match, and the Main Office team usually has a well balanced team. The Apprentice School will have practically the same team next year as the boys will still be there. So we have a good chance for a winning team in the future. . . . Last Friday was the final day for another of the Apprentice boys. Robert Hill left for the service. He had been sick the last week, but managed to bid farewell to those in the school.

Wayne Bergman—pardon me—Lieutenant Wayne Bergman takes over the command of the Third Battalion of the Fort Wayne National Guard. Bergman is a former member of the Indiana State Guard and was an Air Corps officer during World War II. He holds the Air Medal and one cluster. Hats off to our commander. . . . Recently a discovery was made: McDougal has two suits. The conference room key was missing, and Margaret Norman said, "Mac had it last." On questioning him, he discovered he had left the key in his other suit. Pete Stough keeps check on Mac now so he doesn't carry the "key" off to the lake cottage. . . . Chuggy Mungovan once again has his private office—with no restrictions. Chuggy can now enjoy his freedom and have callers. . . . Bob Hickman is coming up in the world. He has moved into the old commercial office. He still has to take his "keys" with him. . . . Wonder if cupid was "on the ball" this week and brought us some news?

BETTER LATE THAN NEVER: The new people on our floor are Lucille Stron, Anita Boyd, Mary Brown, Mary Camos, Orville Wickliffe, Ray Murray, Russell Zion, Harry Hicks, Paul Brooks, Cornelia Parr, Helen Curtis, Pat Rooney, Ross McCalip, Jerome Frane, John Cameron, Sherman Bowles, Mark Grimmer, Robert Weet and Paul Nuemaker. . . . VISITING: Leon Stabler's son, William, was here from Camp Carson, Colo. . . . A little bird says, "There will be Tennessee wedding bells ringing for Ross McCalip this spring." . . . Emmett Zollinger and Earl Bunting bowled at Anderson, Ind., over the week-end. The boys say that everything was donated but the strikes and spares. Those, they couldn't find, especially when your vision isn't so good. . . . WEDDING BELLS: Oscar Johnson now has a new son-in-law. . . . PARTIES: Lawrence Pequignot seems to go for parties. At least one morning after the night before, he found that his automobile lights were still burning and he had an overcoat that didn't belong to him. . . . RETURNS TO WORK: William Erickson is back on the job again after a month's illness. Glad to have you back, Bill. . . . RESOLUTION: George Ealing resolves to set his brake and block the wheels on his Nash the next time he parks. Lady Luck must have been back of the wheel, George. No damage done, I hope. ILLNESS: We're sorry to hear John Butler is again a patient at St. Joseph Hospital. . . . Tom McClure is a new grandfather. . . . SQUIRRELY: Joe Laisure nearly ate a sack of cracked nuts (he had prepared for his little furred friends) instead of his own lunch. . . . NEWLY-WED: Rodney Dush took two weeks' vacation. During that time, he acquired a life partner. We wish you both the best of luck and happiness. . . . BR, BR, BUT IT WAS COLD: Ann Fairbanks came to work bareheaded and no overshoes at 17 below zero. . . . NEW HOME: Paul and Maxine Hathaway are now at home in their newly acquired house at 4522 Lafayette. . . . FIRST ROBIN: Gene Miller has spotted the first robin.

Wisdom has ten parts, nine silence, and the tenth brevity.

Q-C Club Welcomes Five New Members

Adam H. Flager
Bldg. 4-1

James D. Confer
Bldg. 4-2

Frank M. Shidler
Bldg. 17-2

Irvin A. Junk
Bldg. 10-2

Paul J. Rummel
Taylor St.

"Lost" and "Found" articles must be cleared through the Plant Protection office, Bldg. 10-2, or the Plant receptionist, who will place the Ad-let and otherwise advertise the article.

Only one ad per employee may be inserted. Each ad must be limited to 20 words and cannot be repeated. All articles mentioned must be personal property of the employee. Ad will not be accepted unless accompanied by the name, pay number, and division of the employee. No works building or telephone number may appear in ad. only the home telephone number or address.

Send all ads to WORKS NEWS office, Bldg. 18-3.

No ad will be received over the telephone.

CLOSING DATE

Monday Noon, February 19, 1951

LOST AND FOUND

LOST—Dark brown furlined leather glove for the right hand. Lost in west parking lot at Taylor St.

LOST—One key on chain with 45 Remington shell attached. Lost in Fairfield parking lot.

FOUND—Silver colored Catholic charm bracelet. Found in hall in Bldg. 18-1 by the Payroll Section.

FOUND—Yellow apron with brown and white flowers. Found by Bldg. 18-Cafe.

LOST—Tan leather wallet, all identification in the name of Rita Burns. Lost Friday, Feb. 2, 1951, between Bldgs. 4 and 16.

FOR SALE

TWIN BEDS—Walnut poster, innersprings, clean and good condition. A-26619.

G-E UPRIGHT SWEEPER—Good condition, $10. H-8888.

REBUILT HORTON WASHER—$15. E-36703.

GAS RANGE—Exceptionally clean burners, oven and broiler, priced to sell immediately. H-35504.

RIFLE—Winchester Model 1873, .32 cal., seven shot, lever action, excellent condition. best offer. H-60545.

OIL SPACE HEATER—Large, perfect condition, four new drums, rack, five valves, pipe, tubing, connections, draft regulator, second season. H-8680.

G-E CONSOLE RADIO—With record player attachment. H-67823.

COLDSPOT REFRICERATOR—6.5 cu. ft., good condition, $50. H-15622.

GIRL SCOUT UNIFORM—Size 14, includes tam, overarm bag, belt, tie, socks and dress; large boy's scooter. H-91562.

DINING ROOM SUITE—Five chairs, table, buffet, reasonable. H-58472.

1940 PONTIAC—Two-door, deluxe, excellent condition throughout, new factory paint job, 1948 motor, radio, underseat heater, defrosters, 2906 John St.

THERMOSTAT—Minneapolis-Honeywell, used only two years. H-69595.

DINING ROOM TABLE—Buffet, six chairs, good condition, reasonable. H-57665.

DINETTE SET — Five pieces, extra board, chair seats, covered with red leatherette, very good condition. H-48744.

G-E DELUXE REFRICERATOR—Six cu. ft., excellent condition; three shelf metal wall cabinet, 24"x30"x13". H-66705.

DOMESTIC SEWING MACHINE—Portable, converted, $35. A-46824.

ENGLISH SHEPHARD AND COLLIE PUPS—Good farm and water dog, three months old, brown and white, $5. E-35824.

CANARIES—All colors, $3 to $8. 406 E. Market St., Bluffton, Ind.

MONITOR TOP G-E REFRIGERATOR—Seven cu. ft. A-46595.

WANTED

JIG SAW—A-99332.

BUNK BEDS—Or twin beds, bathinette, small table model radio for bedroom. A-75442.

GIRL TO SHARE APARTMENT—Close to Broadway and Taylor St. A-98805 after 3:45 p.m.

HOME FOR TWO NICE KITTENS—A-50695.

42" DRAIN BOARD SINK—A-88003.

ALTO OR TENOR SAXOPHONE—H-28094.

APARTMENT SIZE GAS STOVE—H-20832 after 4 p.m.

FOR RENT

LARGE PLEASANT SLEEPING ROOM—Close to bus, private entrance, $20 a month. H-20832 after 4 p.m.

TRANSPORTATION

WANTS RIDE—From California Road near Routes 30 and 33 to Broadway. Barbara Rider. Bldg. 6-2, works from 8-5:15. Extension 607.

WANTS RIDE—From Waynedale Supply Co. to Taylor St. Eileen Davis, works from 6:48-3:13 for Elmer Sloan. Extension 2617.

For equipment and transportation American hunters and fishermen spend about $9 per pound for their fish and game.

FRACTIONAL FACTS

Taylor St. Office

By Barbara Meyer

INSTRUCTOR SOUGHT: for Esther Batchelder who really needs a couple of lessons on the proper technique of "putting-up-and-lowering venetian shades." . . . Candy was presented to the Production Office, by Mary Gemmill, who celebrated that "another-year-day" Feb. 10. . . . Payroll birthdays were celebrated by Bonnie Eggeman, Feb. 16., and Zella Howell, Feb. 18. Could it have been Zella Howell's birthday creeping up on her that made her forget her purse last week? It can't be that she is getting old because she throws her bowling ball around like she was just "sweet 16." . . . Betty Garber would sure appreciate some suggestions on how to get the wheels of her car out of the ice. Hot water bottles are too expensive, and she doesn't have an extension on her heating pad. . . . Where is it going to stop? Gert Kasimier got a new Ford, then Dorothy Crist, and now Marilyn Franke with a "Chevy." Has anyone an ol' Model-T they want to sell cheap? . . . Hope Marjorie Bear, Dora Holycross and Betty Carper like their new apartment. If you should pay them a visit, watch out. I hear that the whistles are strong enough to knock you down. How is the knee, Dora? . . . Welcome to Payroll, James Irvin, and congratulations on the birth of a new daughter. . . . Hope George Yarian's wife is feeling much better these days. . . . So long and good luck to Margie Aughenbaugh, who left the Taylor St. portals for Winter St. She will be Mr. Haycox's new secretary. . . . Another proud papa was Sid Raney last Thursday. They named the baby Christine. The mother is the former Evelyn Arnold, who worked in Div. 10. . . . Ruth Raypole is spending a few days in Chicago. . . . Home and housewife duties beckoned to Gladys Koehlinger, (Bldg. 4-6 Sales) so the girls from the Bldg. 4-6 and Taylor St. Sales Division honored her with a farewell gift and luncheon in the Taylor St. cafeteria last Friday. Come back and see us sometime, Gladys, but in the meantime please accept our best wishes. . . . Our sympathy goes to M. W. Edgar whose father died this past week. . . . We all wish Uncle Sam's new boy, Pete Perino, Test Engineer, the very, very best of everything. Drop us a line when you get a chance, Pete . . . . Fort Wayne welcomes Ruth Lenhan from Bloomfield, N. J. Ruth will work in Mr. Edgar's division. . . . Mike (Hello-and-good-bye-again) Trott left us and is now greeting Division 1. . . . Division 10 waved farewell to Isabel Trovinger, whose new job takes her to the office of Mr. Koehlinger. Hope you like your new job, Isabel. . . . A local hospital received a very unusual Valentine's gift from Alice Nichens. The gift—her tonsils—How do you feel these days, Alice? . . . Roll out the welcome mat, Division 10, for Vern Hamilton. . . . The Accounting Section hopes that Betty Harrison's husband has a speedy recovery from his very recent appendectomy. . . . Herb Crummitt blames his half-frozen look on the antics of one Elmer Haugh. Our advice to Mr. Crummitt is—do your own bus schedule checking instead of depending and believing Elmer. . . .Glenn Clifton's mother, Nina, is still able to keep that ol' eagle eye on her son since they are both working in the Accounting Section. . . . Belated birthday greetings are extended to Purchasing's Bob Bangert and Bob Duras, Feb. 4 and 3 respectively. . . . Now Sam Newlin's Feb. 13 birthday is not belated with reference to having forgotten it. It might be said, by those who know him, that it is belated if he sticks to his story that he is really only 39. The question which arises now is, "why is a 39 year old man talking so ardently about spending his leisure time in New Zealand when he retires?" . . . Sherlock Holmes has nothing on the "we-get-them-everytime" gals, Mary Gemmill, Irene Whelan, Mary Olson, Pauline Meehan, Bertha McCague, Mary Kibolski, Barbara Haley, Ingrid Swanson, Phyllis Ann Westbrook, Pat Brueggeman, Gladys Knauer, Yvonne Rosendahl, Sue Seidel, and Tavia Popa. These are the girls that are responsible for supplying your editor with the news which she prints. Thanks so much for your co-operation. I couldn't do without you.

by Vivian Bond

I HOPE you did not fail to send your wife a nice Valentine last Wednesday, just because I overlooked reminding you. I hope that is not a sign of age on my part that I would not look forward to such a sentimental day. . . . These important events seem to catch up with one a little too fast and furious. . . . Speaking of important events coming in this month, I wonder what Abraham Lincoln and George Washington would think of the mess the world is in today. It is too bad they can not come back and get some of our so-called politicians started on the right track again. . . . Speaking of CUPID: The little one has been busy in Bldg. 18-1. On Thursday, the girls in the Accounting Group, together with Ruth Fritz and Dorothy Leininger, entertained with a bridal luncheon in courtesy to Barbara Saxton, whose marriage to Gene O'Connor, a Marine stationed at Cherry Point, will be solemnized at St. Paul's church at nine o'clock Saturday. The bride was presented with a lovely gift from the group. . . . Yesterday, the Payroll girls, Bldg. 18-1, entertained with a luncheon honoring Phyllis (Tanner) Rudolph. She surprised her many friends by announcing her recent marriage to W. J. Rudolph. We wish to extend our best wishes to both of the girls and hope that the future will always hold a rosy hue for you. . . . CHANGES—Fred White, Bldg. 18-4, who has handled our transportation reservation worries for sometime, has been transferred to the Motor Generator Division. Raymond Quinn, of General Service, has replaced him. We all wish them both success in their new undertakings. Mr. White, when you start moving motor generators, it will take more energy than to play "train reservation chess" with all of our men. . . . BEST WISHES—An announcement in last Sunday morning's paper was made of the engagement of Joan C. Leider, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Leider, to Donald Mansfield of Decatur. It was a lovely picture, wasn't it? . . . Something to be PROUD about: Harriett Dewart is both a proud mother and grandmother these days. It was almost too much for her, having a new grandson and her son (the baby's father) appointed to the Fort Wayne Police Force all at one time. Congratulations, Harriett. . . . MYSTERY—solved. Last Friday the big mystery in the building occurred in Bldg. 18-2. The mystery was, "Where is Mary Cooper's check?" About 11 o'clock, Mary suddenly missed her pay check. She frantically searched through her desk. (Can't you just see her pawing through her purse and finally emptying all the contents out on her desk?) The check was nowhere to be found. She couldn't even remember having taken it out of the envelope. It was suggested that she check the wastebasket for the envelope—just to prove that she had actually received a check. After a few minutes, the searcher was rewarded. The blue envelope was there—and upon investigation so was the check. Result: a very much relieved (if not chagrined) Mary. . . . FANCY THIS!—Betty Eisenacher returned to her desk in Bldg. 18-4, Data Bureau, one noon hour and lo and behold there was a piece of lemon chiffon pie, to the envy of every one around her. And some even farther away. All I ever find on my desk is more work. . . . WELCOME—Bldg. 18-5 has added the following new girls in the vault: Marie Taylor, Jo Quinn, Joy Noland, Anita Nelson and Gertrude Wolf. We hope that you all like it here. . . . Bldg. 18-2 extends a welcome to Francis Richards, who has joined the Labor Relations group. Richard McNiece, who has just completed his assignment in the same office, is being transferred to the Motor Generator Division. . . . Margaret Tennyson, Bldg. 18-1, and her husband celebrated their wedding anniversary St. Valentine's day. . . . Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Fritz (Ruth of Bldg. 18-1) were in Detroit for the weekend. . . . We are very happy to know that Robert Meyer's father, Fred Meyers, is able to leave the hospital where he has been ill for a number of weeks. . . . Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Rudolph (Phyllis of Bldg. 18-1) were ice fishing at Clear Lake. Result: Two fish! . . . Marilyn Mattes traveled to Camp Breckenridge, Ky., last week-end to visit her boyfriend who was recently inducted in the army. . . . GOOD ADVICE—(James Whitcomh Riley):

It doesn't pay to say too much when you're mad enough to choke,
For the word that stings the deepest, is the word that's never spoke.
Let the other fellow wrangle till the storm has blown away,
Then he'll do a heap of thinking 'bout the things you didn't say.

I wish I could follow this advice—at least part of the time. If we all did—think what a nice world this would be. . . . DINNER WINNAH! The time was last Friday. Irene Meyers was preparing her evening meal and her concentration was interrupted by the telephone ringing. Now the question is, "Could it really be the Dinner-Winner program call or just someone having a bit of fun." There is always a chance that you will either miss the winning prize or be given the merry ha! ha! by some friend on the other end of the line. After very carefully analyzing the situation, she answered with "Eggs," only to have some voice say, "Do you mean to say that you are eating ham on Friday?" This confused the issue and she was not at all sure that she was not being kidded—but not to be outdone she stayed with her guns and assured the "voice" that she was not eating ham, only eggs. Believe it or not it WAS the Dinner-Winner program and she was the proud winner of a nice basket of food. Thank you, Irene, we will all be happy to accept an invitation out to your home for dinner.

SUGGESTION BRINGS $60—Richard J. Hanson, Bldg. 31-2, (center) suggested an improved method of calculating weights and received a $60 award from the Company. He is shown being congratulated by R. A. VanHorn (left) while E. F. Richter looks on.

HONORED ON 30TH ANNIVERSARY—Virgil W. Carmean, Bldg. 19-1, (second from left) has completed 30 years of service with General Electric. He received congratuations of his co-workers on his anniversary, Monday, Jan. 29. In the photograph are (l-r) Ralph Rockhill, Mr. Carmean, R. M. Hartigan, A. C. Braun and John Donovan.

Elmer Mesing got the usual treatment when he visited the Taylor St. office last week. It's an informal "sanitary" procedure that Art Everett gives all visitors. Smells nice too. . . . Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Louis Bricker on the arrival of a son. Ronnie only weighed 3 lb and 5 oz. . . . When Walt Rindchen went to get his lunch, it was gone so he went to the cafeteria. The next day he found his lunch bucket with two candy bars in it. He ate the candy and then put the bucket back where he found it. It didn't work though, no lunch—no candy. . . . I bet John Kleinknight won't borrow a chair from the Wire Mill anymore. He didn't know it belonged to a wild cat. Speaking of wild animals, did you know that Wallace Geller was a little confused as what to do about a "slinky job" in a leopard formal? He was so distracted that he doesn't even know what she was singing. An innocent bystander tells me that Art Everett and John Lare really enjoyed Wallace's embarrassment. Art said the formal was a convertible, no top. . . . Happy birthday to Maurine Wralstad, today, and belated greetings to Lois Ulrey and Marianne Kiep. . . . Welcome back to Helen Welsh, who has been off sick since December. . . . Lou Holmes said there was something wrong with her car because the generator wasn't getting enough gas. Somers asked her if she didn't mean the carburetor because the generator was used to warm the radiator. Next time, Lou, why don't you tell your car troubles to a mechanic instead of a plumber? . . . Does anyone want to trade a Model T Ford for a '49 Plymouth? Lee Huffman will trade even-up if you guarantee that the Ford will start in cold weather. . . . Wayne Marquardt has a different system for starting his DeSoto. He talks to it. He says it always worked with his old Chrysler. . . . Don Price bought a new Ford and was presented with a can opener to get into the "tin lizzie." . . . The Markle Fire Department was almost called at the home of Carl Williams last week. It seems Carl eats hot peppers in the winter to keep warm, but one he got was a little too hot. Better talk to Art Everett, Carl, he can tell a sad tale about someone at Taylor St. who ate hot peppers. . . . Hey, Sylvia, better shift gears, you'll be worn out in a week at the pace you are going.

HE'S BEEN HERE 35 YEARS—J. V. Johnson, Bldg. 18-2, (fifth from left) celebrated his 35th anniversary with General Electric Thursday, Feb. 8. Upon completion of his long service, several of his associates in Bldg. 18-2 gathered to extend their congratulations. Left to right are Elmer DeBolt, Francis Richards, L. C. Swager, Manager of Labor Relations and Wage Rates; Ab Martin, Works Manager; Mr. Johnson, W. J. Stoppenhagen, C. L. Slater, Richard McNiece, Lucille Curie, Mary Cooper and Donald House.

Frank Snyder says he'd like to trade a pair of rubbers for a pair of four buckle arctics he used to have before they took legs and walked off one morning. . . . Marjorie Cook is really disgusted with her car. After rushing out to start her car these cold nights, she finds it usually won't start. She's the last person off the parking lot. We know she hates to keep her hubby waiting at Broadway in the cold. . . . Anyone having trouble getting over the ice, ask Fay Patten how she managed. . . . We are sorry that Erma Fredericks injured her back and had to take time off. Hurry back, Erma, we all miss you. . . . We wish Helen Petrie and Mary Cuellar a very happy birthday. . . . Marilyn Gietz was married Feb. 10. She was presented lovely gifts from her co-workers. Congratulations, Marilyn. . . . May Boyce says bowling eight games before coming to work makes one feel old. . . On their most recent trip to Houghton Lake, the Die Cast's fishing trio Telschow, Laudenbeck, and Shank, did not do so hot. Ray (Shorty) Laudenbeck, the champion bluegill, is a better cook than he is a fisherman. Is it true you did not get even one bite, Shorty? . . . Coy Copesius says eating two candy bars and five meals a day is what causes middle age spread. . . . Anyone who needs a home see Maxine Timma and then just move in. . . . Since Josephine likes orange juice, the girls brought her a baby bottle with a nipple on it. Josephine took the orange juice like a baby and said it was very good. . . . Anita Fitch recently was surprised on her birthday. She had eight guests and they gave her records. A very good time was had by all. . . . Mary Rose must have really wanted some goldfish. She bought them downtown, took them to a sewing class and then to work. . . . Mabel Englert is home from the hospital. . . . We wonder how May Morgan likes getting up in the morning like Mildred Snider used to do. . . . Anyone who believes in signs should have been thrilled one day last week by all those signs that the West End kids had placed around the pup tent that had been hoisted over the 51 frame flange inspection bench to keep out the big drip. One of the several signs read, "Fire sale on rubber bands and snowballs, half price." . . . We had a letter recently from Velora Drury saying she is getting along okay from her heel injury. She sent this following poem.

MY BOSS

I sat down to write a poem, the title,
"My Boss."
But now as I have started, I am at a loss
But I'll try to do the best I can
To describe this really handsome man.

His hair is wavy and semi-gray.
His eyes are brown and bright and gay
His face both front and profile view
Really does something to you.

An average man in height and weight,
A very considerate boss when you come in late.
Lots of patience with one and all,
Always when we need him, he comes to our call.

Lots of questions and burdens too
We pile before him when we are blue
When our work is hard and all goes wrong
He helps to straighten us out all day long.

We say we want a day ur two off
Or we are sick, though it's just a slight cough
With all these burdens from day to day
Is enough to make our boss turn gray.

I bet he's glad as he can be
That his employees aren't a pest like me.
Like on his birthday, we told him there was a phone call,
When there wasn't anyone on the line at all.

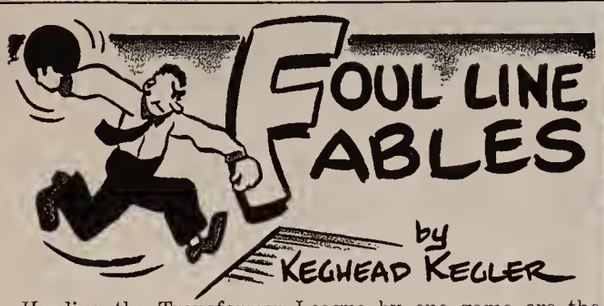
Just a birthday treat for him, a surprise,
Good to make laughter instead of cries.
Then back at work we feel quite gay
As he said thanks and went his way.

All in all we like him, by heck.
Especially on Wednesday's when he brings us our checks.
They say he's jolly and a very good singer
I suppose you have guessed by now, his name is Harley Springer.

Rumored: That Frank Elder is trading his old car in on a 1950 Olds' convertible. Gosh, what would anyone, even Frank, want with a convertible in zero weather. Oh well, just leave it up to Frank to get one over on us. . . . It happens every Thursday morning. At first we felt sorry for Art Swain when he came in to work limping. But it has become a tradition on that morning, so now everyone is wondering why. One of Art's friends thought perhaps there was a toss-up for the pay check on Wednesday nights, and Art loses out. Art, why don't you break down and tell them the real story behind the limp? . . . Bldg. 19-3 has grown this last week. We have with us, Mr. Kissell's section, otherwise known as Room 301. We want to welcome you. . . . Bldg. 19-3 is growing in all other sections too. We're glad to have all of you join us. Good luck. . . . COMING ATTRACTION: When spring breaks through, we have been promised a streamlined Mr. Ed Dikty. He says he'll have a figure all the girls will admire. We hope, with this sudden change, that Betty Whiteleather, the candy girl, doesn't go out of business. . . . Happy week-end to all.

February is that time between Gross Income Tax and Federal Tax, but it is also that time when we are grateful for the two great men whose birthdays we celebrate. Let's hope we can so benefit by their fine example of citizenship that we can be a credit to our community and our country. . . . The cottontail family has a new member now. Not only does the family include Flopsie, Mopsie and Peter, but Lois Jackson. Well anyway, last week she wore a bunny tail fastened to her dress. She answers to the name of "Carrots" or "Thumper." . . . It was really cold last week, or at least Carl Brenner thought so. He used a heat lamp to get thawed out, but the thawing went a little too far and burned a hole in his trousers. It all goes to prove, you can't win, Carl. . . . Esther Johnson is at the Methodist Hospital recovering from an appendectomy. Our very best "Hurry up and get well" wishes from all the gang, Esther. . . . Those noon hour euchre games sure must be red hot, judging by Mark Gotsch's enthusiasm. Is that so, Mark? . . . Don Baker is having quite a time deciding whether the orange juice from the candy wagon is food or drink. If it's drink, he's okay; if food, he's in a fix. Can you help him? . . . We're very proud to have as a member of our group, the President of the Foreman's Association. Congratulations, Ed. . . . Just call him "Drizzle-puss" Hurtt. He forgot the juice can was open and started to shake it up. Result: one spotted shirt. . . . We guess by now Walt Lorenz is over his mad-on with his Studebaker. It seems it wouldn't start those below zero mornings. Oh well, spring's coming, Walt, be patient. . . . Ed Schneider celebrated 35 years with G-E Monday. Congratulations from all the gang, Ed, and lots of happiness in the future, too. We hope you add lots more time to your record before leaving us. . . . To all our folks who are leaving us, lots of luck in your new work and remember the gang occasionally.

Prexy



Man is the only animal that can be skinned more than once.

EARNS $25 FOR IDEA—H. Eldridge Gillum, Bldg. 4-4, (left) received $25 for suggesting an improved way of repairing rotor mechanisms. He is pictured discussing the idea with his foreman, W. B. Putt.

SUGGESTION PAYS $25—Harold George (left), Bldg. 2-E, suggested a change to dies in heading machines. This idea paid Mr. George $25. He is shown being congratulated by Neil Allen, his foreman.

Heading the Transformer League by one game are the M's with 12 wins and six losses.

Nelson's 544 headed the individual scores which also included a 215. Howlett shot the high of his career . . . a big 221. Meeker and Macy had quite a battle for low, with Macy winning out by two pins.

G-E Interdivision

Standings are the same as last week with Brouwers Tire and Battery leading by one thin game.

Two hundred scores were rolled by Russell Rose, 206; Lee Crowell, 233; Weick, 205; Frank Gitter, 222; Leo Elward, 226, and Erv Haugk, 208.

G-E Apparatus

Team No. 10 was forced to forfeit three games and therefore dropped from first place.

Two hundred scores were kegled by Jimmie James, 200; "Sore Thumb" Blomker, 219 and 216 (Wonder what he had that other game); Billue, 200; Ed Bienz, 253; Bob Knepple, 204; Don Hoffman, 230, and Vic Rump, 234.

Please don't miss that 253 game rolled by Ed Bienz in the above 200 scores.

Sounds from the Alley

We think Clarence Kolmerten and his Winter St. League deserve a big pat on the back for their participation in the Polio Tournament last Tuesday evening. All league members, but two, entered the tournament. One of them rolled 138 pins over average which would have been good for second place. Let's see more of the same this coming week.

ANNOUNCING ANOTHER MIXED DOUBLES TOURNAMENT: It will be held Saturday, March 3, with squads at 6:30 and 8:30 p.m. Entry fees are four dollars per team, including bowling. Enter at the Club counter.

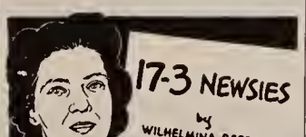
ANNOUNCING THE G-E EMPLOYEES ANNUAL TOURNAMENT. Dates will be March 31, April 1, 7 and 8. Entry blanks will be available at the Club counter. Enter early and get choice spots. First prizes are guaranteed and donated by the G-E Club. Watch your WORKS NEWS for further information.

Bob Buck and R. Knapp paced G-E bowlers in the City Tournament with a 1315 doubles count; good for fourth place. Bill Ort's 699 was tops in the singles division.

The All-Star league will be at the Club alleys this week-end. Come on down, get a few pointers and some open bowling.

G-E Club to Sponsor Mixed Doubles Tourney

The G-E Club will again sponsor a Mixed Doubles Bowling Tournament to be held Saturday, March 3, at the G-E Club alleys. Squads are to begin bowling at 6.30 and 8:30 p.m.



Entry fee, which includes bowling, will be four dollars per team. Applications for the tournament can be made at the Club counter.

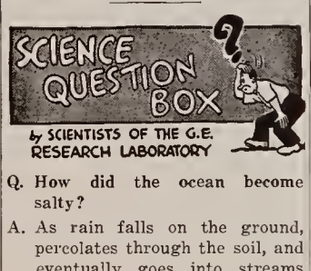
Apprentice Mach. Win First Half Volleyball Title

The Apprentice Machinist team has won the first half of the Interdivision Volleyball League, defeating Taylor St. by three games in a playoff.

The second half standings are as follows:

	Won	Lost
Main Office	19	2
Taylor St.	18	3
Machinists	15	6
Winter St.	11	10
Test Engineers	10	11
Small Motors	6	15
General Tool	4	17
Drafting	1	20

Did you miss out on the last shipment of pecans? Elex has ordered another shipment of them. See your contact girl so that you will be sure to get yours. . . . The cold weather is still piling up our troubles. Elmer Lamley fell and received a foot injury. . . . Gwen Gilstraps, when driving, didn't stop soon enough and had to replace a right, front fender. . . . Eunice Zehr came in late every morning last week. She had to push the car. She would like a course in "How not to get stuck in the barnyard." . . . Sarah Meagher had her share of troubles. First she got the wrong coat and had to come back. She also had her boots on the wrong feet. To top it off, she fell on the ice. . . . Mary Murphy did a sitting down act too. . . . I guess we'll all be glad to see spring and the last of ice and snow. . . . Charlie Rice was in such a hurry he started out wearing just one overshoe. . . . We hear that Harold Kiel is really good at the microphone. That is until he starts to sing, "I Taut I Tau a Puddy Tat." . . . Barbara Longbrake, Nora Vanover and Emma Black are back in the groove. We hope to see Helen Smith and Paul Weaver back soon. . . . Glad to hear that Dorothy Scheiber's little boy is recovering from a recent operation. . . . Kenneth Bender has left us to enter Indiana University. . . . If you call to Mary Stetzel and she doesn't answer, just say "Roanoke" and she will answer immediately. . . . Last week Jo Matter celebrated her 27th wedding anniversary. She also became a new grandma. Congratulations. . . . It's "Howdy" to all our newcomers. Glad to see you. . . . We also bad quite a few leave us for the "Owl" trick. . . . Our sincerest sympathy to Frank Shidler in the death of his father.



P.U.: Wasn't it hot and sultry last week? ? ? Everyone who agrees with that please stand on your heads for your brain must be working in reverse. . . . DOUBLE ECONOMY: Porky (Aaron) Schoenefeld bought a machine to roll his own cigarettes. His six-year-old son, Jerry, thought it was something to play with which quickly brought this idea to Porky.

Which One Has The Toni?

He would teach Jerry how to operate the machine, and in this way not only save on cigarette money but he would not have to buy any more toys cause he would keep Jerry busy indefinitely rolling cigarettes. May we say, Jerry, that all your work will be for nothing. Dad will just blow it up in smoke. . . . OUR DEEPEST SYMPATHY: To Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Hire in the death of Mrs. Hire's mother. May God grant her eternal peace and happiness. . . . TRAINEES: At present, we have two new trainees in the Wire Mill. Earl Covault, Jr., and Edward Brink. Earl graduated from South Side High School, majored in Art and English and at present is taking a special production training course. His sport interests are football, basketball, golf and, of course, girls. . . . Ed graduated from Colorado University and majored in mechanical engineering. Before coming to Fort Wayne, Ed had taken the G-E test course at Schenectady, with training at Lynn River Works, Bloomfield and DeKalb. His sport interests are basketball and golf. We hear by the grapevine that Ed will be married soon. Congratulations, Ed. . . . CONGRATULATIONS: To Ralph Martz, who was recently married. When we saw you and your bride's picture in the paper we didn't know whether the pictures were switched or whether you wanted to change your maiden name, Ralph. Anyway, you were a very charming couple even if the names did get a little mixed up. . . . CONGRATULATIONS: Are also in order to Art Gardt, who completed 25 years of service with the good old G-E Co. Feb. 11. You are now a member of our FOF Club, Art. . . . CORN FODDER: Harry Jones failed to show up one day last week. He said he couldn't get his car started because it was too cold. It seems as if Harry has a very small garage, and in order to keep his car from getting cold, he stuffs corn fodder shocks underneath, on top, and on the sides of his car. However, on the night before the day he didn't show up, he claims the cows got into the garage and ate up all the corn fodder. P.S.: Fritz Ramsier wants to know, Harry, how you fodder a car. . . . SMELLS GOOD: Bill Rohe tells us that the kind of dog food he feeds his dog smells so good and appetizing that he thinks he will eat some himself. He's sure it's better than some of the sausage he's been eating. The other day Bill ran out of dog food and gave the dog sausage instead and the hound wouldn't even touch it. It probably didn't have any meat in it, and a hound as big as he is certainly must have meat to sustain himself. After all, that's quite a job pulling that Plymouth around every morning to get it started. . . . They call her "bacon" because someone always wanted to bring her home. . . . She was only a dentist's daughter, but she ran around with the worst set in town. . . . LITTLE EMBARRASSING, isn't it, Cy Ort, after bragging up the beige-colored Ford the way you do and then not have it start when it's only four below? Maybe that will teach you.

Q. How did the ocean become salty?

A. As rain falls on the ground, percolates through the soil, and eventually goes into streams and rivers, it dissolves minute amounts of salt and other compounds which it carries to the ocean. Then the heat of the Sun evaporates the water, so that it may fall again over the land as rain, but the dissolved materials are left behind. As this cycle is repeated over and over again through the ages, the salt in the ocean is continually increasing. It is estimated that if the oceans were completely evaporated, the solid material left behind would be enough to make a layer 150 feet thick over the entire globe. Each year the rivers increase this by about a two-millionth part.

Q. What is berkelium?

A. This is a new chemical element, whose discovery was announced early in 1950 at the University of California, located in the city of Berkeley, after which the element is named. It is number 97 in the list of elements and its chemical symbol is Bk. It was produced in very minute amounts by bombarding another element called americum, which was also discovered at the University of California a few years ago, with atomic particles from a cyclotron. Berkelium is highly radioactive and, in less than five hours, half of a given amount will decay to another element.

by Ray Quinn

The Squares won the first half of the Interdivision Basketball league Thursday, Feb. 8. Their record was 11 wins and no losses. The Firemen were right behind them with only one loss while Fractional and Small Motors tied for third place, three games behind the leader.

The second half of the season will see the first six teams playing each other. The last six teams also will compete with one another for the remaining honors.

The winner of the top bracket will then play the winner of the bottom bracket. This game will determine who shall meet the Squares for the season's championship.

Last Thursday, the Fractional team beat Accounting Division, 42-28. Devclopmental downed the Apprentice School, 37-21, and Test Engineers topped the Tool Division, 43-20.

Standings for First Half

	Won	Loss
Squares	11	0
Firemen	10	1
Fractional	8	3
Small Motors	8	3
Winter St.	7	4
Accounting	5	6
Test Engineers	5	6
Transformer	4	7
Developmental	4	7
Taylor St.	3	8
Apprentice School	1	10
Tool Division	0	11

Summaries

FRACTIONAL
Player	G	F	T
Sparks	2	0	4
Waikel	1	0	2
Bucher	8	3	19
MacMaken	3	0	6
Lahrman	1	2	4
Smith	0	1	1
Cook	0	0	0
Hertz	0	0	0
Honaker	3	0	6
Totals	18	6	42

ACCOUNTING
Player	G	F	T
Edington	0	1	1
Fry	2	1	5
Wildermuth	3	0	6
Harris	1	0	2
Mossburg	2	1	5
N. Raney	4	1	9
Kent	0	0	0
Totals	12	4	28

APP. SCHOOL
Player	G	F	T
Enyeart	1	2	4
Davenport	1	1	3
Young	2	2	6
Batchelder	0	1	1
Stanek	2	0	4
Gotshall	1	0	2
Beitz	0	1	1
Totals	7	7	21

DEVELOPMENTAL
Player	G	F	T
Sturner	2	0	4
Reams	0	0	0
Weaver	0	1	1
Keller	4	0	8
Franke	0	1	1
D. Houser	2	1	5
Boles	1	0	2
G. Houser	3	0	6
Dolpke	3	4	10
Totals	15	7	37

TOOL DIV.
Player	G	F	T
Van Orsdale	2	0	4
Geise	0	1	1
Yentes	4	3	11
Grish	1	2	4
Dunlap	0	0	0
Totals	7	6	20

TEST ENG.
Player	G	F	T
Perino	7	2	16
McDaugle	3	0	6
Binder	3	1	7
Harlow	3	0	6
Zernick	0	2	2
Beck	1	0	2
Burgemeister	1	0	2
Becker	1	0	2
Hardin	0	0	0
Rickey	0	0	0
Totals	19	5	43

. . . best speaker

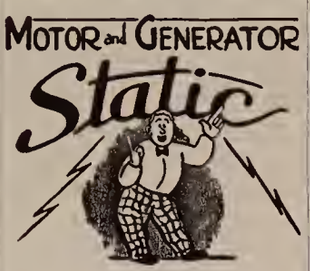
Sharrow Wins

(Continued from page 1)

Brooks, Bldg. 26-2, C. L. Sawyer and J. F. Settle, both of Winter St. R. E. Kohl, Taylor St., and J. C. Willsey, Bldg. 4-6, were alternate speakers. Talks were limited to approximately five minutes.

A buffet dinner at 6:30 p.m. and a review of the course by C. A. Krasienko, Bldg. 26-2, preceded the evening's talks. Speakers were introduced by M. C. Halleck, Bldg. 28-2. Mr. Krasienko and Mr. Halleck acted as joint masters of ceremonies during the evening.

While the judges were making their decision, Mr. Coughlin was called upon for an impromptu talk and Mr. Willsey presented a humorous dissertation on the art of public speaking.



S. A. Zimmerman, Bldg. 28-2, and H. J. Vineyard, Bldg. 31-2, were in charge of arrangements and publicity.

Members of the classes, in addition to the speakers, were: M. E. Evans, P. B. Shaeffer, G. W. Klein, R. S. Langdon, C. T. Johnson, and R. A. Heard, all of Bldg. 4-6; L. F. Schowe and C. I. Penn, both of Bldg. 31-2; W. C. Bloch and C. A. Howlett, both of Bldg. 26-2; Ab Martin, Bldg. 18-2, and K. K. Cooper, Winter St.

Jim Voirol couldn't get his old hack started one day last week. That evening he found out the old bus started a lot quicker if you turned the ignition on. . . . There is a new desk in the Wage Rate Section. The new occupant is Sam Macy. . . . Warren Wyckoff left to take a two-year training course in Wage Rate and Planning. His first stop will be in Schenectady, and then on around to the different plants. Warren Sexton will take over in his place. . . . Happy Birthdays to Mike Dunscombe, Val Sitcler and Ceal Pranger. A euchre party was held at the home of Susie Johnston in celebration of the event. "Hap" King and his wife also attended. . . . A happy birthday also to Therese Lindenberg. Was there a cake under those candles, Therese? We would like to suggest to the Planning section that lounges be put on the outside of the stock rooms. We poor unfortunate people could rest while we are waiting on Hap King and Dick Potee to try to decide whether they are going to give us any service or not. Might as well put in a coke machine, too. . . . We all extend sympathy to Hilda Vance in the death of her father, Louis Johnson. He was 90 years old. . . . The girls on the bushing table are running a cooking school for newlywed Mary Fletter. . . . Dutch Norwalt would like to know when Fletch Cumbey is going to get a car that will insure him not having to walk half-way when they go after milk. . . . The connectors in Type M would like to know what all the yellow sheets of paper are that the production men have. . . . It looks like Dewey Cobb will have to be moved away from the main aisle. A good-looking girl walked by Monday, and Dewey almost lost a finger while stripping leads. . . . The assemblers in Type M and D would like to know why some people get the high hat when they get promoted to the stock room. . . . Ethel Shroyer almost stopped production last week when she came to work in those brown slacks and bright yellow sweater. . . . "Double or Nothing" Smith went to Otto Braun with a dime in one hand and cup in the other to get some coffee. Smith held on to the dime so tight, that Braun refused him any coffee. . . . Ben Keller has thought up a scheme to get all the egg business in Bldg. 26-4. He's going to start putting double yokes in them. . . . Dorothy Brown must be the nervous type, because at night when that little buzzer sounds, she takes off like a jack rabbit. Either that, or she must have been a track star at one time, and it is just natural instinct to jump when she hears a whistle or bell. . . . We hear Francis Nelson did a good job of blushing the other day. We wonder what the reason for that was.

The smartest person is not one quickest to see through a thing, but one who is quickest to see a thing through.

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK: "That a man is known by the company he keeps is one of the basic axioms of human society."—Fulton Lewis, Jr.

PICTURE: To say that "Poison Pen" was flabbergasted when he saw the picture in last week's NEWS is putting it mildly. However, the picture is so flattering we are sure no one will recognize us. . . . WASTED: There is never a dull moment in the Campbell home. A few weeks ago we wrote of Homer's adventures while remodeling the bathroom. At that time, he sawed pipes and drove nails through them, drenching the kitchen on both occasions when water ran through the ceiling. Last week-end, he began tiling the bathroom. An old pipe which supplied "city" water in bygone days protruded from the wall and interferred with his work. This pipe had been squashed at two places to prevent leakage, but was too long to be forced back into the wall. Then our hero came up with an idea without even lumping his head. Why not drill a hole between the two compressed sections and see if any leak occurred in the pipe at that point. So he drilled and water squirted in all directions. A flooding of the kitchen was prevented by Mrs. Campbell, who rushed down into the basement and shut off the water. Then Homer retired to the basement and began tracing the water lines. He finally chose a pipe he thought connected to the offending line, disconnected it, plugged the tee, meanwhile flooding the basement with water which drained from the line and went upstairs to check. He tried the lavatory and bath faucets. They worked fine. Then he tried another item of bathroom equipment. No results. So our hero peened the old pipe, went to the basement and reconnected the pipe, again flooding the basement. He then decided to call it a day and was heard to murmur, "A whole day wasted and right back where I started."

FETED AT RETIREMENT—Minnie Fryback, Bldg. 21, (left) was honored last week at several parties celebrating her retirement. There was an open house Wednesday at the Dispensary for all her friends to say good-by. She is pictured showing a purse, one of her many gifts, to (l-r) Bernita Welbaum and Imo Jean Schwartz.

Pensioner Parade

Ida Stephens is really taking up traveling seriously these days. She, her sister and brother-in-law are touring the country by trailer. They have been all through the state of Florida, the Deep South, and New Orleans, Texas and, when last heard from, they were in Arizona. . . . In Tucson, where Ida wrote the letter, it was quite cold—as low as 22 degrees there. She had a slight case of flu in El Paso which held up their trip for a few days, but by now she should be on her way to California. We'll see you in the spring, Ida!

Ida and Catch

FORT WAYNE WORKS
GE NEWS

Volume 34 | FORT WAYNE, INDIANA, FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 23, 1951 | No. 8

Red Cross Plant Goal Set at $11,000

Fund Campaign Will Open At G-E, Monday, March 5

"Mobilize for Defense" will be the slogan as the annual Red Cross fund-raising campaign gets under way next month. K. W. Michael, Assistant to the Works Manager, and general chairman of the G-E Red Cross drive, has announced that the plant-wide campaign will be held from Monday, March 5, through Friday, March 9.

The goal for the Fort Wayne Works has been set at $11,000. The Fort Wayne goal is $132,686 and the national goal is $85,000,000.

Divisional chairmen, appointed by their managers, are Ray Soughan, Specialty Transformer and Ballast Divisions; Hubert Myers, Works Service and Contributing Divisions; Dwight Myers, Large Motor and Generator Divisions; C. J. Monroe, Fractional Horsepower Motor Divisions; Walter Whonsetler, FHP Motor Divisions, Broadway; M. E. Hamilton, FHP Motor Divisions Taylor St., and Roger Grant, Winter St.

Solicitors were being named this week and meetings of all solicitors will be held Tuesday and Wednesday. They will be notified of their selection by division chairmen. A Red Cross film will be shown at the meetings and a speaker will

(Continued on page 4)

Elex Club, Partizan Chapter Plan Rummage Sale in Early March

The Elex Club and Partizan Chapter will jointly sponsor a rummage sale Friday and Saturday, March 9-10, at 2028 South Hanna St., Co-Chairmen Mable Miller, Taylor St., and Mildred Van Horn, Partizan, announced today.

Members and friends are asked to bring their contributions to the Hanna St. address Thursday eve-

(Continued on page 4)

E. F. Paul Succeeds W. F. Oswalt As STAB Manufacturing Manager

Elmer F. Paul has been appointed Manager of Manufacturing for Specialty Transformer and Ballast Divisions to succeed William F. Oswalt. Mr. Oswalt has been named to a new position in the Control Divisions at Schenectady by K. R. Van Tassel, Control Divisions Manager. The Fort Wayne organizational changes were disclosed this week by W. C. Wichman, Manager of STAB Divisions.

Donald Poland, former Assistant to the Manager of Manufacturing, will replace Mr. Paul as Manager of the Danville Plant.

Mr. Paul joined the General Electric Company as an apprentice June 18, 1929. Upon completion of the Apprentice course, he went to work in Bldg. 26-5 as a universal mill operator and later as a mold and die maker.

In 1935, he transferred to time study and suggestion work in Bldg. 19-2. The next year he went to Bldg. 18-1 as a motion study analyst under L. P. Persing. Mr. Paul returned to Transformer Divisions in 1928 as a dispatcher and served as a methods and equipment planner and supervisor of planning during the next few years. He was subsequently named assistant superintendent in Bldg. 26-2. In 1945, he became a division superintendent.

Mr. Paul went to Danville as Manager of that plant in March, 1948, where he has been serving

(Continued on page 4)

Elmer F. Paul

William F. Oswalt

Donald Poland

New Bus Schedule Begins This Week

A change in the Broadway-Taylor St. bus schedule was announced this week by J. B. Greer, Superintendent of General Service.

Effective Feb. 21, 1950, the new schedule is as follows:

BROADWAY

The bus will leave Lindley Ave. at 8 a.m. and every 20 minutes thereafter. The last trip in the morning will be at 11:40 a.m.

The schedule will start again at 1 p.m. on a 20-minute schedule.

(Continued on page 4)

Works Firemen Win High Award For Top-notch Prevention Work

The Fort Wayne Works of the General Electric Company took second place out of 82 industries in the United States and Canada for its year-round fire prevention program and its activities during Fire Prevention Week in October, Company officials here have announced.

Ab Martin, Works Manager, presented a Certificate of Merit on behalf of the National Fire Protection Association to G-E Fire Chief Ernie Hanauer at a ceremony Friday, Feb. 16.

An international committee of judges reviewed 3,339 reports, of which 2,312 were from cities in the United States and Alaska, 660 from Canada, 82 from industries, 80 from Army installations, 138 from Navy installations, and 67 from Air Force operational bases.

The committee of judges was composed of Percy Bugbee, General Manager of the National Fire Protection Association in Boston; John A. Neale, Chief Engineer of the

(Continued on page 4)

New No-parking Rules Will Ease Congestion, Chief Vegalues Says

New no-parking areas have been marked off by the Fort Wayne Police Department to alleviate congestion in the vicinity of the Lindley Ave. parking lot, G-E Chief of Police, A. R. Vegalues, said today.

According to Chief Vegalues, parking is no longer permitted on

(Continued on page 4)

FORT WAYNE WORKS
NEWS

Volume 34 Friday, February 23, 1951 No. 8

Lou Rotterman.....Editor
Virginia Molden.....Assistant Editor
K. Marian Davies.....Divisional News Coordinator

Life-giving Blood Needed by Red Cross

Always progressive, our community has again garnered new laurels. Today, Friday, Feb. 23, is a historic occasion because it marks the first Red Cross Donor Day in Fort Wayne. Today, and every Friday, citizens here will have an opportunity to donate blood at the newly-opened Regional Blood Center, located in the Red Cross Chaper House, 406 West Berry St.

On other days of the week, the Red Cross Bloodmobile will collect blood in other towns and cities of this region. It is here, however, that blood will be collected from, and distributed to, 32 counties in northern Indiana and Ohio. Red Cross quotas here call for 125 pints of blood per week.

What do the Donor Days mean to us?

A glimpse into one of the five county hospitals within the last few months would have shown:

An auto accident victim receiving a transfusion to counteract shock and bleeding.

A burned patient receiving, first, plasma to replace blood components lost through skin seepage, then, a series of whole blood transfusions to fight anemia produced by toxins.

An anemic baby being given a new blood supply to halt a possibly fatal battle in his veins caused by Rh antibodies.

A new mother receiving blood to replace that lost by hemorrhage.

An elderly man getting a series of transfusions to give him strength through a dangerous operation. Ten years ago, he might have died for lack of blood.

A youngster wih rheumatic fever receiving injections, made from blood, to spare him from a serious case of measles.

These are a few ways in which Red Cross free blood is saving lives in Allen County and elsewhere.

During 1950, 3,706 pints of blood were used by the county hospitals for whole blood transfusions. At the average price paid by patients where free blood is not available . . . $25 a pint . . . the blood collected and used in Allen County would have cost the patients $92,650.

Under the Red Cross program, blood itself is free. The only fee paid is for the physician or hospital administering it. There is no legal obligation to replace blood, but many families of patients receiving it do everything they can to replenish the supply and frequently become regular donors.

How the Plan Works in This Region

Each town in this region has donors ready for the Bloodmobile visits. In Fort Wayne, the Bloodmobile will make visits to local industry whenever a full day's operation can be arranged at one location. Since the Bloodmobile will be very busy, most Fort Wayne donors will go directly to the Center to give their blood.

Here at G-E, Elex contact girls have a supply of donor cards. If you sign a card, the Red Cross will contact you when your blood is needed. Or, if you don't wish to obligate yourself now, you can go to the Center at your convenience.

Donating a pint of blood is an easy process, requiring only a few minutes. When finished, the donor is invited to spend a few minutes in the Red Cross Canteen where snacks and refreshments are served.

When collected, the blood is tested and typed here and then distributed to hospitals. If it isn't used within 21 days, it is returned to the processing center to be made into plasma, or derivatives for vaccines and serums. These are used for free distribution where needed.

Some of the whole blood goes to research centers where new uses are being discovered.

The Red Cross pays the entire cost of collecting, processing and distributing the life-giving substance.

The entire blood program is a community affair and is directed by volunteers who serve without pay. If each of us, who are eligible, give just a little blood, Fort Wayne's part in the Red Cross's campaign will be a smashing success.

By aiding the Red Cross, during the G-E plant campaign, through blood donations, financial help and personal service, we "do unto others as we would have them do unto us."

FRACTIONAL FACTS
Taylor St. Office

By Barbara Meyer

AN ODE TO THE COLUMN
If you think of something funny,
If you've got a brand new honey.
If a baby's on the way,
Or you see a darn good play,
Let's print it in this spot
While the news is fresh and hot.
Make our station look alive.
And your column here will thrive.
The Inveterate Rhymemaster

Oklahoma's fine production entertained Tavia Popa, Isabel Trovinger, Gloria Geesaman, Betty Stutz and Gertie Koldewey, just to name a few of its FHP viewers. . . . Happy birthday to Janet Crain, who celebrates Feb. 26 and belated greetings to Walter Lamboley, whose day was Feb. 12. . . . A hearty welcome to those flying fingers in Regional Warehouse Customer Billing Section which belong to Barbara Coolong. Rumor has it that Barbara and her husband, who is studying Civil Engineering at Indiana Tech., brought this rugged winter weather with them all the way from Patten, Maine. The Coolongs arrived with the first big snow. They have been hoping, like the rest of the Hoosiers, for the mild winter that we all have hoped would be ours. . . . Word has been received that Bill (P.O.—Post Operative) Brunner is guesting at the Lutheran Hospital after a very serious but successful operation. Here's to your future good health, and we sure hope that it won't be long before the medics are giving you that "100 per cent O.K." stamp of approval. . . . The whole division left us—that's the Dave Hanson's division. He, along with Ted Ness, Dave Jahns, Jim Jellison, Herm Priwer and Mary Henry, have moved back to Bldg. 4-6. Hope you all enjoy your new location. Come back and visit us when you get the chance, because you're all missed by us. . . . Mary Henry, will you please keep all of us posted on the recovery of your small grandson who is receiving special medical care in Kansas? We hope that he will soon be well and strong again. . . . Another Feb. 12 birthdate is that of Carol Ann, ever so young daughter of the Bill Martins. Proud mom and pop, please keep us posted via Tommy Thompson. . . . 5:30 a.m., Feb. 15, brought a new masculine arrival to the home of Joe Allens. Congratulations. . . . Best of luck to Carol Pond, who leaves today, and to Betty Carper, who is replacing her. . . . IBM School says, "farewell" to Pauline Meehan, and "welcome" to Betty Garber. . . . Up-in-the-air describes Isabel Bartholomew's mode of transportation to Florida where she'll spend a week. . . . The We-knit-in-the-rest-room-during-lunch-time Club could be said to have been started by Charlene Bly. . . . Now nearly every girl in Payroll can be seen emerging from that room with either a smile or a dejected look, depending on who won—the needles of the person. . . . New hair-dos are the girls' in the Payroll Section's way of expressing spring. Heading the class is Marilyn Parker, followed by June Gaunt and Bonnie Eggeman, with new haircuts. New permanents are being worn by Gert Kasimier and Marjorie Bear. . . . Strange happenings as the result of overtime in Payroll is evidenced by some girls mistaking the time clock for the drinking fountain, while others try using mustard jar lids in place of the top of their sandwich bun. Come now, girls, really! . . . Our sympathy is extended to Lura Wyatt on the recent death of her mother. . . . Let's hope that by this time May Bain's husband, Jim, is much recovered from his very severe hand injury. . . . Hurrah! for the Accounting Section basketball team who won with a seven-point lead over the Winter St. team. . . . On the Q-T—(did you know that Red Raney was "asked" to leave the last basketball game just when there were only 45 seconds of playing time left because of a personal foul?) . . . The Accounting team needs some real support from its spectators if it is to make a winning show in the basketball finals which started Feb. 15 and end March 22. Good luck, team, we're for you!

. . . New Taylor St. Office Editor

B. Meyer Edits Taylor St. Column

Vivacious Barbara Meyer is the new division editor of "Fractional Facts" for the Taylor St. office.

Barbara comes from a G-E family. Her father is employed in Bldg. 31-1 and her mother worked here before she was married.

A graduate of North Side High School, Barbara attended Indiana University Extension and has been working at G-E for over three years. While at North Side she worked on the school publication, "The Northerner."

All phases of the theater are Barbara's main outside interest. She is very active in the Fort Wayne Civic Theatre and has been taking part in productions since she was 15 years old. She is also a member of the Fort Wayne Radio Guild, the Fort Wayne Toastmistress' Club and the Elex Club.

Fourteen reporters will help Barbara gather the news in her division. They are: Mary Gennill, Irene Whelan, Mary Olson, Pauline Meehan, Bertha McCague, Mary Kibolski, Barbara Haley, Ingrid Swanson, Phyllis Ann Westbrook, Pat Brueggeman, Gladys Knauer, Yvonne Rosendahl, Sue Seidel and Tavia Popa.

Congratulations and best wishes to Ruby Hontz, who was married to Gorden Cunningham Feb. 10 in the Emmaus Lutheran Church. . . . Frieda Knoche is getting absent-minded. She bought her nephew a valentine gift, and on the day could not find it so she had to buy another. She made a special trip downtown to get him a tie! . . . Ruth Wilson says that there are some household duties she doesn't like to do, but she goes ahead and does them anyway. . . . Anyone notice the difference in Ervin Conrad's hair? His wife gave him a Toni! . . . Cecil Foor had been scouting the lakes to see where the fish are getting ready to spaun so when the time comes he will know where to "try and catch them!" . . . Jack Moore got several valentines from his many unknown admirers. . . . Glad to see Ileane Johnson back after being off for two weeks. . . . Ray O'Brian had to work fast when he knocked over the milk can filled with compound. He didn't lose one chew on his cigar in the process of clean up! . . . That unrecognizable fellow is James Saboy. He got rid of that rat's nest on his face. . . . Martha Sexton spent 10 days with her husband who is stationed at Great Lakes. . . . Otto Roehm came in an hour early one day last week. He sure left faster than he came in when he found out it was 2:30 and not 3:30. He says he looked at his watch wrong! . . . Whenever Maric Griffin goes to a bridge party, she can't leave until she has won a prize. She was standing at the door ready to leave when her number was called. . . . So sorry to hear that Dorothy Rebber's mother fell off the steps last Saturday and broke her hip. . . . Christine Cormier has a good pair of lungs. She was so afraid of that poor little mouse. . . . Our sympathy to Marie Griffin in the death of her father-in-law. . . . Ralph Weikart received a pair of 1951 blinders—with instructions on how to use them. Don't be surprised if you see Ralph with them on. . . . Helen Buck and Maureen Brake have returned to work after illnesses. . . . We miss Anna Ruth Clemments, and hope she will soon be able to be back at work.

Hank Albert said that the Valentine candy he bought wasn't fit for a dog. So he took it home to his wife. . . . Cupid has been using his bow and arrow. Helen Coddington now flashes a diamond on her left hand. Been wondering about her sudden interest in pots and pans? Helen is engaged to marry John Clark. . . . If you see Margaret Norman ride the trolley way past her regular stop, think nothing of it. Margaret is just trying to get even, as she accidentally dropped a penny in the box besides her dime. Since the conductor wouldn't give her penny back, she wants to get her 11 cents' worth. The FWT drivers just don't get along with Margaret. . . . The drafting fellows are really busy these days. We have two new draftsmen to help out. Our newcomers are John W. Drake and Harold H. Langer. Welcome to M and G, fellows. . . . Don't duck now, but if you see me coming, I'm either looking for some news or a pint of blood. Maybe you better scare up some news. . . . Margaret Fletcher thinks Curly Mannan should read Emily Post's book. Everyday on the special State Blvd. trolley Margaret accuses Curly of not being polite enough to give a woman his seat on the bus. Curly says politeness doesn't pay; just look at what happened to Vic Blomenberg. Vic was seated on the aisle next to a woman. Vic stood up to let the lady out and kept standing to let another lady in. But he stood a second too long —zip, another man had his seat. So Vic proceeded to sit down in the empty seat just in back of him. Did he make it? No, just as he turned around, another man sat down. Curly thinks Emily should rewrite her book. . . . Are you wondering why Chuggy Mungovan hangs around Vic Blomenberg's desk so often? It's a wonder Vic doesn't have a big crowd around since he brought in that new "calendar."

Lula Vare is sure disgusted with the men of today. It seems she went out to her car the other night and much to her surprise there was a flat tire. She proceeded to fix it while two men sat in the next car and watched. Lula says, "They could have at least offered a little help." . . . Bill Bauermaster must a good cook, even the dog won't eat anything he cooks for her. Don't be too disappointed, Bill, maybe she misses your wife, too. . . . Welcome back to Bernice Gephart after being on the sick list for six weeks. . . . Mel Kestner takes all top honors this week on the fishing deal. He went with the boys as usual. Only he started to go out on the lake. He broke through. Instead of going to shore, he kept going out towards the middle. Finally, he got on heavier ice so he could fish. Was the fishing worth getting your boots full of water, Mel? . . . Mel Bireley can't understand why he doesn't catch any big fish, but from what we hear he doesn't use very much bait. Maybe no one has told him he has to feed them to get any big ones. . . . Harold Mosshammer got pinched Saturday. From all reports his bluegills were too short for the law and someone had cut all their tails off. We also heard Harold was caught diving into an ice hole. Any truth to all this, Harold? . . . Wilma Welches helped her in-laws to celebrate their 55th wedding anniversary over the week-end. Hope they have many more anniversaries. . . . Lona Cook was at Terre Haute over the week-end and ran across Herman Turner. He says hello to all his friends at the G-E. . . . We wish to extend our sympathy to Arveda Neal, on the recent death of her brother who was killed in Korea. . . . Stella Evans has become a grandmother. Your reporter forgot to ask, but it must be her first grandchild because she's so terribly proud of it. The baby is a 6-pound red-headed girl. Her mother formerly worked in our division. Her name is Donna Conkle and she lives in Salt Lake City, Utah.

Friendship is one of the greatest things in life; acclaim is more to be desired than riches.—John D. Rockefeller.

COMPLETES 35 YEARS WITH G-E—George Luedeman, Bldg. 4-3, (second from left) recently celebrated his 35th anniversary of employment with the Company. On Feb. 6, several of his friends gathered to extend their congratulations. Left to right are Robert Blee, Mr. Luedeman, Edward Glenwith and Lewis Barrow.

Richard C. Lare Named Foreman

Richard C. Lare has been named foreman in Fractional Horsepower Motor Div. 1, according to an announcement by R. L. Spitler, division superintendent. Mr. Lare will serve as Chief Dispatcher and Foreman of Stockkeepers.

new foreman

Mr. Lare joined the General Electric Company in 1940 as a wedging machine operator and served as a stockkeeper and as a dispatcher in the magneto division, Bldg. 6-4, from 1942 until 1944. He was then transferred to FHP Motor Div. 16 as a dispatcher.

In June, 1948, he became a raw materials section leader in Bldg. 2-2, where his duties included order service and scheduling. He joined the FHP Motor Div. 1 organization in November of last year as a dispatcher, where he served until his present appointment.

An old saying for Ross Strodel is, "An old fiddle plays the best tunes," but why does he blush when he says it? . . . Clarabell Whiteman says she is going to bring napkins and a mask for Gladys Pantazin the next time she eats chocolate eclairs. . . . Sarah Moore has decided a Buick is a pretty good car since it went through mud a foot deep. Sarah's co-workers now call her the mud rat. . . . Dorothy Weiler finally admitted to the girls today that she had a loose screw. . . . Alice George and Florence Weimer received valentines last week. . . . A dinner was held in the cafeteria last Friday by Div. 17 in honor of Jackie Keller, who is being transferred to Broadway. A lovely Sheafer desk set was presented to her by the group. Our best wishes go with you, Jackie. . . . Melvin Riley is all smiles again since he can drive that new Nash again legally. . . . We welcome Chet Reinking, who is our new dispatcher—we wish Bob Hull the best of luck on his new job as Priority Clerk. . . . Herb Richter informed us that he went shopping in Indianapolis instead of to the ice show.

Our sympathy is extended to Mr. and Mrs. Louie Watt in the death of Mrs. Watt's mother. . . . Ozzie Nahrwold was so anxious to drive that new car and so excited about it that he forgot to put his fishing poles in it last week when he went fishing. Imagine his embarrassment after a brisk workout with his spud getting the hole large enough to pull out those big ones, then finding out he didn't have his poles along. . . . Jess Batchelder has gone in for coffee-colored shirts. Jess recently ran into a coffee shower as someone was throwing out the last of his coffee. . . . It is rumored that Russ DeVeny has been weaning that Mercury but hasn't been able to have it run without gas. . . . Since writing my last column, we have had several changes in the group. Chuck Boyce is back. Wilbur Jones is working at Broadway, and Herbert Hayes is now working for Uncle Sam in the Army. . . . To those of you who have had birthdays, we wish you many more happy ones, and how about your driver's license? Red Braden, Wilbur Jones, Art Kraft, Christ Delagrange, Lyle Claphan, Clarence Myers, Arnold Engle and Harold Whonsettler are some who have had birthdays, and perhaps there were some others that I missed. . . . When someone has a bower in their hand and their opponent lays down two bowers and an ace and marks up two points in the euchre game, it's time to have the deck examined. This happened to Lyle Claphan and myself last week. I don't believe Lyle has recovered from it yet. Have you made your predictions for the sectional tournament yet? There are lots of favorites in our gang, and we are just waiting for tomorrow's finals to see who wins.

John J. Butler Dies at Age 55

John J. Butler, 55, died at 4:20 a.m. Tuesday at St. Joseph's Hospital where he had been a patient for two weeks. He lived on the Maysville Road.

Mr. Butler was a lifetime resident of Fort Wayne and joined the General Electric Company in 1916, working in Bldg. 8-2, as a coil winder. In April, 1924, he became an armature bander in Bldg. 2-2, and later was an armature winder in the same location.

He was transferred to rotor banding in Bldg. 19-2 in June, 1937, and was working there until October of last year when he left because of illness.

Surviving are his wife, Margaret L.; four daughters, Mrs. Francis McAbee, Huntington, Mrs. William Gorsuch, Kimmell, Mrs. Donald Fox, Fort Wayne, and Miss Rita Butler, at home; two sons, John P. and Joseph T., the mother, Mrs. Flora Butler; two brothers, William and James, all of Fort Wayne, and nine grandchildren.

Services were held today at 8:30 a.m. in the Getz & Cahill Funeral Home, and at 9 a.m. in St. Jude's Church, with the Very Rev. Msgr. Charles Girardot officiating. Burial was in Catholic Cemetery.

LARGE MOTOR AND GENERATOR DIVISIONS CITED—William Hale, general foreman of the Large Motor & Generator Divisions here, is shown receiving a Meritorious Safety Performance Certificate from R. M. Hartigan, Manager of Manufacturing, while Ab Martin, Works Manager, looks on. M-G won the award from the Fort Wayne Works Safety Section for compiling 1,287,250 man hours without a single lost time accident.

E. F. Paul Named

(Continued from page 1)

until his new appointment.

He has been a member of the Chamber of Commerce, Kiwanis Club and Supervisors' Club in Danville. He is married and has one child. The Pauls plan to make their home in Fort Wayne as soon as possible.

Oswalt Began in 1929

Mr. Oswalt joined the Company in 1929 as an apprentice. He completed his apprentice training in 1934 and joined STAB Divisions on motion study activities. Later, he was assigned to wage rate and planning in the Transformer Divisions.

From 1941 to 1945, Mr. Oswalt served as supervisor of planning in the Taylor St. Plant, and, in 1945, was named Manager of the Danville Plant. He was assigned to Danville to start operations at the new ballast plant there, and moved his office to Danville in the spring of 1946.

He returned to Fort Wayne in 1948 as Assistant Manager of Manufacturing. The following year, he was named Manager of Manufacturing. He will assume his new duties in Schenectady March 15.

Mr. Oswalt is a member of the Chamber of Commerce, Orchard Ridge Country Club, the Apprentice Alumni Association, Supervisor's Club and the G-E Squares.

The Oswalts, with their son and daughter, reside at 901 Kensington Ave. in Fort Wayne. They plan to move to Schenectady in early summer.

Fort Wayne Native

A native of Fort Wayne, Mr. Poland became associated with G-E in 1935 as an electrical tester in Bldg. 26-1. In 1939, he became an inspector in Bldg. 26-3 and shortly thereafter entered manufacturing loss control work.

He became a foreman in Bldg. 26-3 in August, 1941, and, in 1942, was named expediter of war materials for the duration of the war.

He was appointed manager of the Clyde, N. Y., plant in 1945, returning to Fort Wayne in 1948 as superintendent of Transformer Div. 95. He was appointed assistant to the manager of manufacturing in August, 1949, and served in that capacity until transferred to the Danville plant as assistant manager in November of last year.

Mr. Poland is married and has two children. The Polands plan to move to Danville when the home they are building there is completed.

Mr. Poland is a member of the Supervisors' Club and the Chamber of Commerce.

Bus Schedule

(Continued from page 1)

The last trip in the afternoon will be at 4:40.

TAYLOR ST.

Leave Taylor St. at the Employment Office at 8:10 a.m. and on a 20-minute schedule thereafter. The last trip in the morning will be at 11:50 a.m. The schedule will start again at 1:10 p.m. on a 20-minute schedule. The last trip in the afternoon will be at 4:50 p.m.

No schedule will be in force from 12 noon to 1 p.m.

RED CROSS CAMPAIGNERS—Campaign chairmen for the G-E Red Cross fund-raising campaign, which will start March 5, are shown at a preliminary get-together at Red Cross Headquarters. Left to right are K. W. Michael, general chairman; Hubert Myers, Works Service and Contributing Divisions; M. E. Hamilton, Fractional Horsepower Motor Divisions at Taylor St.; Roger Grant, Winter St.; R. L. Soughan, Specialty Transformer and Ballast Divisions;C. J. Monroe, FHP Motor Divisions; Walter Whonsetler, FHP Motor Divisions at Broadway, and Dwight M. Myers, Large Motor and Generator Divisions. The nurses from the Fort Wayne Regional Blood Center are (l-r) Mrs. Beatrice Ware and Miss Margaret Degitz.

Darcie Campbell was telling Joe Turley that while in Chicago this past summer he put up at an ancient hostelry known as the Jefferson House. He said that it was named thus because Thomas Jefferson stayed there while in Chicago. Now we believe that we can pin Mr. Campbell down by checking a little history. Jefferson was born in 1743 and died July 4, 1826. He assumed the presidency in 1800, serving two terms. Now shortly after the Louisiana Purchase, Fort Dearborn was established on the site of what is now Chicago, the year being 1790. The name "Chicago" was not given to this far-flung post until 1830, four years after Jefferson's death. Therefore, we believe Mr. Campbell has stretched a point. . . . Now that William Mauger is well versed in the art of Indian dancing, he is planning on opening a dancing academy where he will specialize in teaching all Indian tribal dances. Big Chief Baldy Brandenberger will be his assistant and will have charge of the juvenile branch of the school. It will be his job to instruct the children in the finer points of these dances. . . . Andy Degler had quite an experience one evening last week during the heavy snowfall. It seems as though Andy decided to pay his brother-in-law a visit. Arriving at his place, he found said brother having a terrible time with his car and a snow drift. Brother told Andy to get the dump truck which was parked at the rear of the house and asked him for a push. Doing this, he eased up behind the car. When all was in readiness, Andy gave a terrific yank on a lever. The body went up, dumping a whole load of old battery cases into the middle of Highland Ave. . . . Mable Miller and several companions were out driving one evening last week. Bowling along Anthony Blvd. they came to the intersection of East Wayne St. Mable pointed the nose of the old kettle west and proceeded down this thoroughfare at a merry clip. Presently she noticed a car approaching from the opposite direction. The car was occupying the middle of the street. Mable, in disgust, said to one of her companions, "What is the matter with that fathead? Does he want all of this street?" Her friend said, "Mable, do you realize that you are going the wrong way on a one-way street?"

Wrong Way Mable

Time remains the champion flyer of them all.

Rummage Sale

(Continued from page 1)

ning, March 8. If this is inconvenient, packages may be brought to work and left at the nearest gate house. The Women's Activities Office should be notified, so they can pick up the contributions.

If packages are too large to be brought to work, the Women's Activities Office, if notified, will collect the contributions.

No-parking Rules

(Continued from page 1)

Parkview Ave., west of Lindley and in the alley east of Lindley Ave. No-parking will continue on Lindley Ave. from the Lindley Gate to Parkview.

The new restrictions were caused by the heavy amount of traffic on those thoroughfares during starting and quitting times, the Chief explained.

Red Cross

(Continued from page 1)

discuss the aims and purposes of the Red Cross drive, Mr. Michael disclosed.

No Payroll Deductions

Employees' contributions will be by cash only. Pledge cards may be signed or donations may be made in the full amount to solicitors. Solicitors will have window stickers, pamphlets and buttons for all those making contributions, Mr. Michael explained.

Funds raised during the campaign will be used for the advancement of Red Cross work in Fort Wayne and Allen County, and a percentage of the total funds raised will be sent to the National Red Cross to continue the agency's work on a national and international level.

The Red Cross's job includes these major defense tasks: Serving members of the greatly expanded armed forces and their families; procuring vast quantities of blood and stockpiling blood plasma for instant use; training 20,000,000 first aiders; teaching home nursing skills to hundreds of thousands, and instructing 100,000 additional nurses aides.

Firemen Honored

(Continued from page 1)

National Board of Fire Underwriters in New York; Fred Shepperd, Technical Consultant of the International Association of Fire Chiefs, and A. Leslie Ham, Manager of the Dominion Board of Insurance Underwriters of Montreal, Quebec.

City Rates High

The city of Fort Wayne also gained recognition as being third in the entire nation and the most outstanding city in Indiana for its fire prevention work.

Delco-Remy Division of General Motors, Anderson, Ind., received first place honors, Fort Wayne Works of General Electric was second, and the Guide Lamp Company of General Motors, also in Anderson, ranked third.

G-E fire inspectors are Merle Morkoetter, Robert Gebhart, Walter Seidel, Gerald Rodman, Harold Smith, Howard Colby, Ira Dennis and Arthur Seidel, Troy Long is president of the Volunteer Firemen's Association.

DECATUR MAN COMPLETES 35 YEARS—Ray Leitz (third from left, seated) completed 35 years of employment Feb. 10. He was honored at a luncheon celebrating his anniversary. Attending the affair were (seated, l-r) L. V. Baker, John Welch, Mr. Leitz, E. W. Lankenau, Roger Schuster and Charles Langston; (standing, l-r) Russell Owens, Louis Nelson, George Laurent, Frank Braun, L. I. Asher, Raymen Johnston, L. L. Ray, Paul Hancher, Dwight Girod and George Buckley.

We hear that Ina Noack cleaned out her purse in a hurry the other day. Could it be that you don't like those sneak attacks? We wonder if Johnny saw money or stars flying through the air. . . . Max Stucky filled the vacancy of Donald Voglewede, who recently was called into the army. . . . New faces seen in Leonard Meyer's section: Grace Foor, Norma Hamrick, and Romona Neuenschwander, all employed as winders. . . . Hilda Staley had the misfortune of slipping on the kitchen floor of her home. She injured her back. . . . When a new year starts, various scenes and pictures blossom forth on calendars all over the place. Some are really works of art. If you really want to see something, have a look at the beauitful picture of a waterfall hanging over Jake Eady's desk in the toolroom. It should be studied very carefully. Besides being a very beautiful picture of the Horseshoe Falls in Canada, it shows one of the prominent toolroom workers as he appeared 24 years ago. We wonder why it took so many years before the picture was presented to the public? By the way, how did Mike Kimble happen to get in that picture anyway? Some say Julie Baker had something to do with that natural-looking life-guard right in the midst of it all. . . . Valentine Day is a well-known day dedicated to romance. Rita Wellman received a valentine from Gene Heiman in the well-known form of a sparkler for the third finger on the left hand. . . . Kate and Dick Steele celebrated their wedding anniversary Feb. 14. Congratulations, folks, and hope that you get to celebrate many more of them. . . . Feb. 12, Lincoln's birthday is shared by Marcia Martin. Happy birthday, Marcia. I know that the cake was enjoyed by all, also the many unusual greetings that you shared with us. . . . The call for live gnats and flies issued by Kate Niblick is cancelled. Reason: the pet chameleon died, whether from loneliness or starvation, we have not been able to discover. . . . Speaking of automobiles, we want you to cast your optics on that underslung gas hack that Homer (Gene) Myers herds around. Yeah, that's a Cord. And that dash, you should see it. It has everything on it and the speedometer will register at 150 per. . . . We now have a new style of teletype between the two plants via the conveyor system. Yes, the other night we noticed that Bob Heller from Plant 1 sent his best wishes to Arlene Dersch, and what do you suppose it was? Here it is: "With your brownish hair and light complexion, It's to you I give all my affection." . . . Virginia Drake has taken a leave of absence. . . . According to reports, Ruth Kelly has severed her connections with the G-E to take care of her son. So long, Ruth! . . . The birthday party that Cleva Weaver, Katy Kitson and Bert Strickler had the other night was a success according to all the dope. . . . Someone suggested that I get Norma Bower in the WORKS NEWS. It seems as though Norma has a new boy friend, besides she is on the third shift, so between the two we don't see or hear much from Norma.

Judging from the valentines some of our west-end fellows received, we know now what we never knew before about those guys. . . . If you're wondering what that loud crash was the other day, no one dropped an armature, and it wasn't a gas explosion. It was just Bernadina Mailand who missed her chair and sat on the floor. . . . Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Schmidt on that new baby girl, Ruth Ann, born Feb. 9. Mrs. Schmidt is formerly Loretta Knipstein, now living in Chicago. . . . Most any day now, we might name the date for the grand opening of Bill Hale's new private office. There will be favors for the ladies. . . . According to reports on the Robert Lauer family, Bob has been doing the family washing. That is, he was until he bought a new washer. Now Mother Lauer informs hubby that she will do the laundry and Bob can wash the dishes. Wanted: An automatic dishwasher. . . . "Come here, I want to show you something," said Jerry Recht and Wayne Young to some fair ladies last week. I was sure there was a fire near the mold because Eileen yelled, "water, water." Then I saw Wayne and Jerry laugh like mad. They sure set a trap. . . . Wayne's son Ronnie is working with us now, and we are glad to have him. Anita Boyd will sure be sorry to see the last of the snow. Everybody in sight got snowballed. . . . Lawrence Pequignot feels neglected. He didn't receive one of those GOOD valentines this year.

HAS 30 YEARS OF SERVICE—Lewis J. Watt, Taylor St., (center) has completed three decades of service with the Company. Mr. Watt attained this goal Thursday, Feb. 8, at which time several of his co-workers gathered to congratulate him. Left to right in the picture are William Walde, Dewey Erne, Norman Bender, Assistant General Foreman; Mr. Watt, William Johnson, Jerry Knight, and H. E. Koehlinger, Superintendent of FHP Div. 13.

Can spring be so far away? This week, the rooting is for the sectional tourney. Also the big leagues are getting into spring training, and baseball will soon replace our basketball interests. . . . Last week, Johnny Happel folded his apron for the last time and bid us "goodbye." Best of luck and health in your new life of ease. . . . Congratulations to Frank Shidler for making the Quarter Century mark. . . . It's a happy birthday to Madolyn Briggs, Millie Fast, Tillie Nuttle, Elsie Klemm and Maude McFall. . . . Luella Masson was displaying a pretty watch that she received from her Valentine. Anne Kensill received a new electric toaster. Esther Meeks also was displaying a pretty valentine. . . . The people around Waterloo thought they were seeing the aurora borealis. It was just the air getting a blue treatment. Don Frazier came out of the house and hit a stretch of ice. He did a 20-foot skid, a flip and a half in the air before landing in a puddle of water. . . . If you thought Luella Knocke was late for the pancake supper, she had a reason. She was on her way when she and some mud became entangled. She had to go back home and get dressed again. . . . The girls on the night trick didn't recognize Evelyn Chapman. Since she has been on the day shift, comes Friday she discards her blue jeans for some very pretty dresses. . . . Kay Dolan says she really wasn't frightened by the mouse. She recognized it as Oscar by his little gray overcoat. Since she has moved to another line, he has been missing his evening meal and was just trying to find out what happened to her. . . . Mary Lou Street came over to see us and show us her pretty new diamond. Lots of luck, Mary. She is in Bldg. 4 now. . . . Other visitors last week included Lola McCague and Lilly Schoch. . . . What is this we hear about Beth Hirschy and seven points in shuffleboard? . . . Marie Lantz eats an installment breakfast these days: Fruit juice at home, brings a hard boiled egg to work and stops at the cafeteria for tea. . . . Leona Hollis got a roll from the candy lady. She laid it down on her chair and forgot about it. Sometime later she was holding something that slightly resembled a pancake. . . . Lucille Chapman spent the week-end in Detroit. . . . Maggie Kelley took a little vacation to Birmingham, Ala. . . . Minnie McCague had to make a trip to Bluffton to get her auto license. Did you say "auto license," Minnie? . . . Bill Martin is sporting new china clippers. However, we didn't know it would get him down literally. . . . Some of the girls in the Winding Section think they are getting old. But they found out that they aren't too old to get an old-fashioned birthday spanking.

W. E. Holmes, R. J. Hoffman Move Offices to Bldg. 18-4

The offices of W. E. Holmes and R. J. Hoffman have been moved to Bldg. 18-4. Mr. Hoffman was formerly located in Bldg. 16-3 and Mr. Holmes' office was formerly in Bldg. 18-2.

Inquiring Reporter:

"WHAT DO YOU LIKE MOST AND WHAT DO YOU DISLIKE MOST ABOUT MEN (WOMEN)?"

DONNABELLE WAGNER

Bldg. 26-2

"The quality I like most about men is their straight forward way of expressing themselves, especially when talking about one another. They very seldom 'apple polish.' The quality I dislike is their utter disregard for time. All in all, I believe their bad qualities are overshadowed by their good ones."

GENE LE FAVOUR

Taylor St.

"Personally, I think a girl who is neat, pleasant, and above all natural, has more charm than the type that goes all out with extreme dress and what-not to attract attention. The girls I admire are those with whom you can feel at ease, whether the occasion be formal or otherwise. I dislike very much to see a girl smoke."

GLENN E. GOSHORN

Bldg. 19-3

"I believe I like the companionship of a true helpmate most. There is nothing finer than sharing the problems and happiness together in work, recreation and raising a family. I most dislike the shopping habits of women—the habit of looking in so many shops before invariably returning to the first shop to make their purchase."

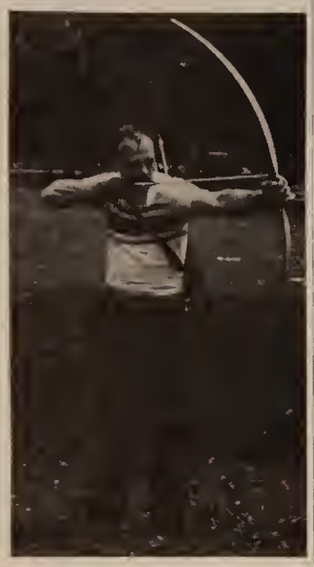
SHARON DASHER

Bldg. 26-3

"What I like most about men is the clean natural complexion all men seem to have. What I dislike most about men is that the majority of them can't be trusted any farther than you can see them."

OLIVER E. BRUECK

Bldg. 6-4



"Sweaters, long skirts and slacks don't help women much in my opinion. And, I don't like letting women have priority over the words 'give me.' I like women five feet four inches tall, brunettes or redheads."

BOW & ARROW MAN

G-E Employee George Maloney President of Ft. Wayne Archers

George Maloney, Bldg. 6-B, was elected president of the Fort Wayne Archers Club last Friday, Feb. 16, at a regular meeting.

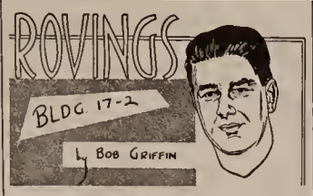
Mr. Maloney, who has been employed at G-E since 1935, first became interested in archery as a hobby four years ago. His wife is also interested in the sport and they were the first husband and wife team to win the city championship in the instinctive divisions, where no fixed sights are used.

archery enthusiast

The Fort Wayne Archers group meets at the indoor shooting range in the Franke Park Pavillion Tuesday and Friday evenings from 7 to 10 p.m. and Sunday afternoons. Two types of archery are practiced —field and target. Target archery is considered one of the oldest arts still being practiced today. The date of the bow and arrow's invention goes back as far as the discovery of fire, Mr. Maloney explained.

Field archery was started fairly recently in an attempt to revive and develop the art of hunting with a bow, Maloney disclosed. Various targets are set up throughout a woods with distances ranging from 15 feet to 80 yards.

Mr. Maloney extended an invitation to all G-E archers to join the activities of the club. "It's not necessary to be an expert," he said. "Anyone with a bow and arrow is welcome."



An invitational tournament will be held Sunday for all archers and the group will be at Franke Park all day.

Mr. Maloney is also vice president of the Indiana Field Archery Association.

In spite of rain, sleet, snow, ice or what have you, we keep up to the minute on the news here in Bldg. 17-3. . . . Our latest news is the wedding of Charles Askren and Betty Yarger which took place Saturday, Feb. 17, at the Hicksville Methodist Church. To Betty and Charlie, may you have years of continued happiness together. . . . Catherine Stanton, her husband and son attended the Boy Scouts banquet, Monday, Feb. 12. . . . Helen Bradley, our Elex contact girl, gave out announcements of the rummage sale which will be March 9 and 10. Get out those articles you have stored away that are either too large or too small and help Helen have a nice collection of articles from Bldg. 17-3. . . . Jerry Nahrwold said he didn't need ice skates to skate with, all he needed was the ice and a pillow. The other morning, Jerry took a spill, but he didn't have the pillow. . . . Helen Hawbridge and her husband celebrated their wedding anniversary Feb. 14. Helen's husband gave her a lovely Valentine box of candy. Congratulations, Helen and Fred, and may you have many more years to celebrate. . . . Esther Fox finds that square stators are a very snug fit on the round stator press. . . . Bea Stolte, formerly a checker in Bldg. 17-3, underwent surgery and is a patient at the St. Joe Hospital. . . . Helen Hawbridge tells us her mother, who lives at South Bend, has had an operation and is quite ill. We just hope she has a speedy recovery. . . . Kay Dolan's husband has had the misfortune of falling and breaking his leg. . . . We are happy to welcome on nights: Mayme Blain, Marian Potter and Vereda Reinig. Mayme is winding on Line 1 and Marian and Vereda are insulating on Line 4. Hope you like it on second, girls. . . . Vereda Reinig has lost a white nylon comb between Bldg. 26 and 27. Anyone finding it, please contact her in Bldg. 17-3. . . . We wish to extend our sympathy to Martha Small, whose mother died recently. . . . Delores Johnson has been transferred to Winter St. We hope you like your new job, Delores. . . . Dorothy Scheiber thinks when it rains it pours. Ronnie just got home from the hospital after having an appendectomy and now her husband is ill. . . . Mary Murphy has been off work due to illness. We're missing you, Mary. Hurry back. . . . Mable Drummond has an idea on how to bleach her white gloves. Use Roman Cleanser, but not as strong as Mable. Instead of gloves, Mabel has strings. . . . Mabel has some other good ideas. Ask her about the pencil holder. . . . Helen Hawbridge tried stretching coils to make them go farther. . . . Ruby DePew is on the sick list. Sorry, Ruby, hope you can soon be back. . . . We all think Donna Sipe put our pennies in the piggy bank. Yes, we did give her pennies, so she would send us cards while she is in Florida. So far we haven't heard from her. . . . Bea Lantz has made Dick Gidley an errand boy at the last minute. . . . Russel May's son has arrived home on a furlough from San Diego, Calif. . . . Rosemary Deam came over from Bldg. 4-3 to get something to eat. Anyway, we sent her back with a sack of popcorn.

Encouragement should go hand in hand with criticism.

If at any time Walter Shultz should approach you with a peculiar gleam in his eye, don't become alarmed. He only wants to ask if you have seen his boots, lunch bucket, sweater, etc. These and sundry other articles have a habit of becoming misplaced by Walt's good friends. Last Thursday Walt was frantically searching for his sweater and cap. When asked why he was so agitated, he replied that the sweater pockets contained his keys and he had no insurance on the garments. But this wasn't causing his agitation, he continued, rather it was the piece of bubble gum in the sweater pocket—brand new, too. . . . Frank Brohman proved that persistency pays off when he ran into difficulty with a grease gun the other day. After firmly fastening the nozzle on the grease fitting, he discovered the gun empty. Odd, isn't it? So without removing the nozzle, he unscrewed the barrel and filled it. When he turned it topside down to screw it back together the grease, being very soft, began to run out. Frank quickly put his free hand under it and caught most of the grease. He worked this back into the gun and proceeded to repeat the process. After going through the same sequence for the third time, he finally screwed the two parts together and found the fitting had been damaged so that it couldn't take the grease anyway. . . . While this little drama was progressing, a few of the boys offered Frank several helpful hints which he completely ignored. But when Earl Sweeny offered to shake hands, Frank was so pleased by this friendly gesture that he immediately reached and pumped Sweeney's hand, grease and all. Incidentally, it has been rumored that Earl is spending time and gasoline at Bluffton running up and down the main street. Maybe he feels the young ladies there have more to offer than our local girls. By the way, Earl, putting your overshoes on the top of the drill press seems a silly thing to do. . . . Owen Cartwright must feel spring is just around the corner with maybe higher temperatures. He was seen using fire to ventilate his overalls. He swears he was not carrying farmer matches on that side and blamed the cigarette in Walt Buesking's hand. Never mind, Owen, it is hardly noticeable and if and when it does warm up, look how practical the hole wil be. . . . Some people spend a good portion of their lives pursuing various hobbies; some for pleasure, some for profit, and some for pure love of seeing their endeavors blossom into the ultimate fulfillment of their desires. Quite often the ridicule and jibes fostered by jealous tongues are almost more than a body can stand. Such is the case of Harold Hohman when he inadvertently let slip the news about his latest project. A foundling home for fish. You can bet that any fish chosen to spend his or her reclining years in Harold's aquarium will live as nature never intended it to be lived. Pampered, petted and spoiled will most likely be their lot. What's this I hear in the background, that it is to be used as a temporary stopping off place for the little ones. Harold watches until they grow to frying pan size? Never mind, Harold, if such be the case, I'm sure your little friends will gladly satisfy your palate in return for the home you have given them even though it be temporary.

Has Fish Orphanage

Harold Braden should be in excellent physical condition. He has been bouncing back and forth from his desk to Laurel Weaver's, since Laurel has been off with an injured ankle. . . . Aren't weddings grand? Just ask Dorothy Askren, who had one in her family last week. Her brother Charles married Betty Yarger, who works in Bldg. 17-3. Good luck to the newlyweds. . . . Just in case you hadn't noticed, Vern Castle is letting his crew cut grow out. Oh yes, now that the locks are longer, Vern needs a new pocket comb. Anyone care to donate? . . . Jim Weigman is leaving to go to Div. 1. Taking his place in the Planning Section is Earl Cheevers. Don't forget to come in and see us sometimes, Jim. . . . And now we hear that Richard Kimball has taken a new job in his home town of Detroit. We were glad to have Dick with us even though it was only for a short time.

Comedy of the week: Ginny Winegart and Salona Hunter whistling like a couple of birds at each other. (I might suggest you ask for a demonstration). . . . Down through the years, the contents of a woman's purse has been the subject of much teasing, joking and conversation among the male population. Now at last these men have proof positive that nothing else, considering the amount of space, can hold so many articles. A recent demonstration was held at the Works Cafeteria, with Ruth Bullerman playing the leading part. As Ruth was standing in line, talking with the girls, she happened to turn her purse upside down, and the contents slipped onto the floor (believe me it's really one of those things you really couldn't appreciate unless you were there). Everything from lipstick to bills paid six months ago came spilling out. Anyway fellas, you may now have proof positive, but that still doesn't darken the fact that all, each and every one, of these things are vitally necessary—Who knows, some day within the next few months they may come in mighty handy. . . . As we recently read in the Works News, some of the men of this office were to attend the NESA Conference. Well, conference time is over, fellas. Tell us, just what did happen at the Conference? . . . The recent rise in the cost of hair cuts has had quite an affect on the men of the nation. Those in this vicinity have several methods of getting around the high cost. Ideas are: Running out to Roanoke (they're only 40 cents out there); driving to New Haven where 75 cents and $1 are competing with each other, and going without the bi-weekly haircut. Maurry Robertson seems to have ignored all of the above procedures and as a result, the hat was passed and everyone contributed to the "fund." Maurry was a good sport about it all and accepted the money and during his lunch hour proceeded to get the hair cut. Maurry had the last laugh though, because instead of using the collection money for a hair cut, he bought all those who contributed a gift for their thoughtfulness.

Purse Filled

DECATUR WOMAN RETIRES—Emma Butler (center, seated) will retire Thursday, March 1, after more than 24 years of service with the Company. She was the guest of honor at a dinner attended by more than 50 fellow employees. In the photograph are (l-r, seated) Luella Werst, Hilda Satley, Miss Butler, Leonard Meyer, Foreman, and Agnes Nesswald. Standing are (l-r) Margaret Waltke, Fern Passwater, Wilmad Ross, Erna Weiland and Ina Noack.

St. Patrick's Day—is the next big event on our holiday calendar. It may be a little early to repeat on old Irish verse. I was late with Valentine's Day so will make up for it by being early for St. Pat. This poem is fitting because Christmas did come on Monday last year, but how on earth did this Irishman know that we would be in such a turmoil this year. Smart men these Irish!—

Let Christmas Day on a Monday be
And winter long and cold you'll see;
Whistling winds shall freeze your bones,
And farmers' men cry out in moans.
Spring, summer, autumns all shall show
How the tempest wild shall blow.
More men shall arm at battle's roar
And cattle die than ere before.

SECRET—This episode actually happened and in spite of the grave efforts of one H. D. Kammeyer to keep it all under cover—murder will out—and it is really too good to keep. Last Friday noon, as he is wont to do, Herb bustled around and went down to the bank, looked the various lines over and chose the lessor of all evils and patiently waited his turn. Finally he was rewarded—now to make the deposit and cash the several checks that he had accumulated. BUT, lo and behold—the deposit and the checks were missing and our friend quietly walked away from the window slightly muttering into his beard. He hurriedly swallowed a meager lunch and made his way back to his office. After unlocking a few doors and drawers, he hurried out to wait for the next street car. Hoping that the full meaning of the episode would not be known. Oh! well, it is nice to see Fort Wayne via the Fort Wayne Transit Company. . . . Our Sympathy—We wish to extend our sympathy to Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Kline in the death of Mrs. Kline's mother, Mrs. Sophia Doctor. Funeral services were held on Wednesday. . . . SPRING moving is in the air—R. J. Hoffman has moved from Bldg. 16-3 to Bldg. 18-4 and W. E. Holmes has moved up in the world to occupy the same office. Carter McLaughlin moved to Bldg. 16-3 in order to make room for the new tenants. . . . RUSH—We know that most of us are very time conscious on Friday afternoon, but it takes Florence Badger to rush things. She was ready to check out at 4:15. Sorry, we are still working on Central Standard Time, Florence. . . . GREETINGS—You know the kind that I mean—were delivered to Ed Trabel of Bldg. 18-4. Wednesday was his last day with us. After Tuesday, he will be clicking his heels together and saying "Yes Sir!" We are sorry that you must leave us, Ed, but when the greetings arrive there is nothing else to do. . . . UNHAPPY—That is stating it mildly. Our good natured shutter-bug, Perry Esterline, wasn't quite so happy a week ago Friday. It seems he left his brights turned on all afternoon and come time to go home, his battery was as dead as dead could be. It was always his opinion that a Packard would never let you down. Well, Perry, all we can say is just live and learn! . . . Picture—That was a nice picture of Marilyn Mattes in Sunday's paper announcing her engagement to Raymond Sorg. . . . Changes—In the Accounting group, Bldg. 18-1—Louise Stevenson has been added. Walter Konow returned after an absence of several months and will replace Robert Zeisler, who will be leaving us soon. . . . Fishing—E. F. Waldschmidt enjoyed his favorite diversion over the week-end just trying to coax the fish out of Houghton Lake. . . . Harvey—It would seem that the setting for "Harvey" was changed just slightly last Saturday night—but the effect was much the same. A group of the Personnel Division all assembled at the appointed time and place to spend a congenial evening with Don Campbell, who was to have stopped here on his way home on leave. Well, Don and Harvey had much in common—for he could be here in spirit only. You know a little thing that often happens—"SNAFU." We know that you would have enjoyed the party, Don, so try it again. . . . For four weeks, he has been dizzily reeling from desk to chair to typewriter to typesetters and then to his home, only to start the same thing over the next day. Monday morning had him in bed with the flu. That was at 8 o'clock. At 10 a.m., his wife pulled him out of bed. They made a quick trip to the hospital (no, Lou wasn't ill). His wife presented him with a 6 lb., 8 oz., boy. Mother and son are doing fine. Lou—he's smoking baby cigars and once again reeling from desk to chair to typewriter to typesetters. Congratulations, Mr. and Mrs. Lou Rotterman on the big boy. Let's keep the "printer's ink" out of Marc Eric's veins.

Alias "Harvey"

For our part, we're glad we live in a country where Groucho Marx has more followers than Karl Marx.

Our latest addition to the office is Bess Armstrong. She is a new time clerk, and Mary Gerhard is "teacher." . . . We also had a little Irish gal with us last week. Her name is Rosie O'Grady, and she really has a neat chassis. It seems that Herm Lankenau dressed up as red-headed Rosie to take part in a "womanless wedding." We are sure he won't mind if you call him, "Rosie." . . . Why has Bob Sprinkle taken such an interest in the Die Grinding records? Or is it the records that he is interested in? . . . Ted Schelper paid us his weekly visit Friday. Ted expects to be back with us soon. . . . Roy Berdelman, Russ Meeks and Pete Bobay decided to visit Ted the other evening. They played a few hands of euchre, and then Roy suggested a game called "Dummy." Roy ended up being the dummy, and he didn't win a game all evening. . . . When Clarence Reiter, our ace inspector, came to work all dressed up in his Sunday clothes for his Quarter Century Club picture, he gave some of the boys a rough time. They had to have all the dirt and oil washed off of every piece of material before he would look at it. Poor Clarence took quite a lot of kidding about his attire. . . . Clarence told me to tell you that the picture wouldn't be any good because his false teeth slipped just as the photographer snapped him. We don't see how it could be anything but good because Clarence is such a handsome fellow. . . . George Hahn ran into Kenny Zink the other day. Kenny worked in Bldg. 4-1 before his retirement last year. He inquired about some of his many friends. He is loafing at the present time, but may take employment at the ordnance plant at LaPorte in the near future. . . . Roy Berdelman has his refrigerator filled with bluegills he caught at Houghton Lake, Mich. . . . We wonder who nailed Ed Hines' gloves to the floor. We think someone played a joke on him, but it might have been sabotage. . . . Some of the sectional tourney picks just came in: Lois Waterson and George Bear favor Huntertown all the way. Fred Schaaf picks North Side. Johnny Cupp says it will be a county team, while Jim DeArmond and George Hahn will string along with Central. They say the crystal ball isn't cloudy this time, but is very clear. Arnold Linnemeier is all for the Leo Lions. Clarence Reiter doesn't know yet. He seems to be waiting for someone to give him a hot tip. We do know that Clarence has Central scratched off. Bill Oberlin would like to venture a guess, but he doesn't even know who is playing. Let's give Henry Cluts two tries. He likes South Side or North Side. Maybe he likes the colors, green and red. Russ Meeks and Howard Hoffman have nothing to say at the time, but they are ready to rub it in after it is over and you are wrong. . . . Fred Pyle received one of those little red tickets from the police last Saturday. He was over the yellow line about a foot. Maybe you had better buy a shorter car, Fred. . . . Fred Higgins is going to raise sheep instead of goats. He says there is more money in sheep. . . . George Hahn hit his finger with a mallet the other day at work. He went to the nurse to get it wrapped up, and she insisted that he soak it in hot water for a while. George argued that he could come back to work without soaking it, but still, the nurse wanted him to soak it. The nurse finally won out, and George soaked his finger for an hour. Don't you know you can't argue with a women and expect to win, George? . . . Some of us are still trying to find out who sent the valentines. At least you find out what your so-called friends think of you.

Knows New Game

Apprentice

BROADCAST

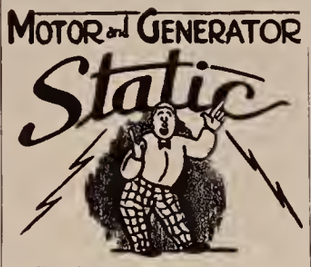
By E. A. Rasor

Our class seems to have a number of Volga boatmen. Of course, Jim Hoppel wasn't paying much attention, but to his surprise the "yo-heave-ho" was a line towing his notebook to the rear of the classroom. . . . Last Friday a convention was held at Indianapolis, quote: Doctor: Your Name. KONOW: Yes. DOCTOR: Can you hear? KONOW: No. DOCTOR: Read the eye chart. KONOW: What eye chart? DOCTOR: Can you breathe? KONOW: Yes. DOCTOR: Are you cold? KONOW: No. DOCTOR: Then you must be warm which makes you 1-A as well as the guy beside you, Dick Gotschall. . . . Welcome, Norman Patton, to the Apprentice School. Norman is just in time to help with tension devices. . . . There are only two more weeks of school left and then another semester begins lasting until June. This will be the last semester for Class "F" and a completion of one year for class "G". . . . The Apprentice School had a celebration a week ago Wednesday at Dick Clendenen's home. It seems that our volleyball team celebrated their victory over Main Office. The tension was great with the Apprentice team coming from behind to win the first game, 15-13. Then after a nip and tuck battle for the first game the team pulled away to win the second game, 12-9. This makes us winners two years in a row, but there are rewards for the first time to Jack Enyeart, Paul Mischo, and Dick Clendenen. . . . No wonder Uncle Sam was clamping down on Konow. His 21st birthday was Feb. 13. . . . Everyone was wondering where the blanket party was being held. For more information see Bob Barnes. . . . Ron Allen is spending a week with his folks in Perrysville, Ind. He will be around next Monday to bid farewell to the others as he leaves for the service February 27.

Last week, being Valentine's Day, we saw quite a few. . . . Velora Drurey sent valentines to everyone in her section. . . . Hilda Hirschy, where is your valentine that was left at your work place? . . . From whom did Helen Orr get a valentine? . . . Mary Rose was working so hard that she fell off her chair. . . . Wanetta Shoaff, Hattie Mae Springer and Virginia Cstrowski had birthdays, and there were three cakes for the celebration. . . . What is the great affection between Carl Smith and Grover Wheeler? . . . We are happy to report that Virginia Fells' husband is much improved. . . . Did you notice the button had popped off of Harley Springer's shirt since the poem last week? . . . Gayle Goff was retired last week and 70 persons enjoyed a potluck in Gayle's honor. She was presented a corsage of daffodills and a bowl of red roses along with a gift of a purse and money. A very good ham dinner with all the trimmings was enjoyed by her and her many friends. . . . Fay Patten, Helen Petrie, Florence Johnson and Maxine Lammie were transferred to Broadway. We hope you like your new jobs, girls.

Top Floor TOPICS

Bldg. 26-5
By Jack Lea



You've no doubt heard about people wearing two different socks. Well, Zella Cluts has started a new fad. She's wearing one gold earring and one silver earring. Yes, she's got another pair like them at home. . . . At the Elex pancake supper last week we hear that Leona Lethwaite really went for those pancakes, seven at a time! . . . Al Norr had his wife send away for a chicken and rooster, a special kind with a fancy name. Their order came back costing about ten dollars including extra charges. You guessed it; they were the wrong kind. . . . Lyle Bertsch, who has been bragging up his ability at the game of ping-pong, was challenged by Les Baker. The games were played at the home of Don Waldrop, where Les proceeded to trim Lyle eight straight games. Lyle is still a little bewildered. . . . Here's one for the books. Dorothy (Wiggle Nose) Harris and Alberta (I am standing up!) Ely were having an argument as to whether a person's feet are weighed if the person is sitting on a scale with their feet hanging over the edge! . . . When Ann Perlman was asked for some column news, Annie said, "I'm too busy, I never have time to listen to any gossip!" . . . There was a lot of screaming in the stacking benches the other day, with Bert Gruber leading the chorus. The reason—mice! One little mouse can get more action out of Bert than could a hotfoot. . . . Al Tyson doesn't give any more opinions on subjects; he hands down a verdict! It seems as though Al was called for jury duty the other day. . . . Ever been a fifth man on a four man bobsled? Buzz Gnau was; and he commented, "I never knew ice and snow could get so hot." . . . Marlene Laurent, who returned to work recently after a long vacation, made a slip on some stairs the other day, resulting in a lame ankle. . . . Overheard—Hank Shirley and Dale Stucky conversing about sheep and heifers. If you need any sheep, see Dale. They tell me he makes some good offers. . . . Hurrah! we've got two new grandmothers on second trick, Edna Lobert and Katherine Brent, and the two new income tax deductions are both boys! . . . Who were the young couple standing by the stock room window Tuesday morning?—hmm. . . . Famous phrases—"When am I going to get a raise?"—Elvie Dafforn. . . . She knew she was coming so she brought her own cake. That's Ethel Brown, who brought in a lulu of a Valentine cake for her co-workers.

Sounds in the Night

Hi, I'm glad to have someone to talk with. Everyone asked, "Where's your partner?" and with Marge Henry and Charlie, I'd ask, "Which one?" . . . While the Valentine market will rest for a while, I bet Dan Cupid doesn't. . . . Usually a man prefers his valentines one at a time, but not Emilio Hernandiz. He gave the whole blanket warmer table a box of chocolates. They said they'd be his valentine everyday. . . . Did you see Betty Baker's new hair-do. She looks cute. . . . Charlie's new hair-do is tops too. She's going the other extreme and is letting it grow. . . . Let's stroll down to Luella Frane's table on ignition. They say you ain't heerd nothin' unless you've heard her tell about the farm vs. the city. . . . I'm glad "Big Herm" is getting along. These icy walks played havoc with him. He's laid up with a chipped shoulder blade and a dislocated shoulder. . . . I see where Eddie Merchalnd has some new testers. They are Ray Metz, Jack Baumgartner, Paul Haffner and Art Kiercofe. . . . It's a good thing Fred Harris doesn't have to pass Army tests. Anyway he'd be rejected for the "dropsey." The whole lunch line was held up while he played pick-up. . . . Did you ever hear of a half-blush? She's a walking Ripley, and she is Doris Meek. I suppose, she'll have to lay under the sun lamp and even it up if she gets tired of razzin's.

CELEBRATES 35TH ANNIVERSARY—Edwin J. Schneider, Bldg. 17-4, (second from right) has completed 35 years of service with General Electric. He celebrated his employment anniversary Monday, Feb. 12. Left to right in the photograph are O. J. Mettler, Carl F. Hattendorf, Mr. Schneider and C. A. Hartman.

Thought For The Week: "Inflation is prosperity on the cuff." William J. McHale.

ONE SECOND SERMONS: Temptations are certain to ring your doorbell, but it's your fault if you ask them to stay for dinner. . . . Many a reformer stumbles over a pile of trash around his own door and then sallies forth to clean up the world. . . . WELCOME TO BLDG. 31-1 Beatrice Collar, Bob Bryant and Jim Foy. . . . WHAT'S IN A NAME? A few hundred years ago, a guy named Shakespeare wrote something about it being a tough job to judge a mind's construction by the face. That Shakespeare's words are still true, as recently proved to our satisfaction. John Dennis of Bldg. 19-1 was rendered speechless when on a recent visit to a funeral home. A lady turned to him and said, "Don't you think so, Reverend?" . . . RIGHT THIS TIME: Jack Hively and his dog cleaned up in a recent canine show at Marion. They brought home three first place ribbons and a trophy. This time the judge did not become confused and attempt to pin the ribbons on Jack. . . . SEES ALL, KNOWS ALL: Are you interested in what the future holds in store for you? If so, you should contact Mel Banet, a prognosticator with marvelous powers. As Mel's services are so in demand, all readings are by appointment. For a slight fee, she will read cards, tea leaves or gaze into a crystal ball. But for the best reading, the $2.98 job, she might be persuaded to go into a trance, call up "haunts" with tambourine pounding, bell ringing and weird figures floating about and ending the seance by reciting, "Curfew Shall Not Ring Tonight," with appropriate gestures. . . . OLD AGE. Pappy Archbold attended a square dance last Saturday night. During the dance it fell to Pappy's lot to swing four ladies around the circle (one at a time, that is). Our hero reports that before that action was completed the ladies had to drag him. Old age is taking its toll. . . . WATER, WATER, EVERYWHERE: One of our pensioners drove down the alley back of Mr. Archbold's home. He called in to report that from the size of a pond which is in Pappy's backyard, he figures Mr. Archbold contemplates one of three things: Planting rice to feed the Chinese, planting water lilies for his wife or establishing a wild fowl haven.

What's in a Name

Falsehoods not only disagree with truths, but usually quarrel among themselves.

Gee, we'd almost forgotten that the grass was green. It's been so long since we saw it, but Monday there it was—no snow. Now, the next question is, how long will it last? . . . Jim Smith is wondering about the snow, too, especially the part concerning boots. He has been having a rough time with this boot situation. He was ready to go home the other night when he discovered he hadn't put his boots on. He hurried over to the coat rack and found the only pair left had a big rip down the back. Now Jim began to lose his faith in human nature and complained loud and long but no other boots showed up, so he wore the old ones home. Finally, when his own boots failed to appear, he took the others down and had the ripped place patched. After he went to all this effort, he learned that he had left his own boots at a friend's house where he had visited the Sunday before. Moral of the story: better hang on to your possessions, or he who forgets gets wet feet. . . . Roger Crabill was trying his best to remember a nursery rhyme the other day. He could remember the part about fishing in a pail but the rest of it slipped his mind. Guess who finally finished it for him—none other than Ed Klomp. We thought only kids recited nursery rhymes. . . . Sy says the reason why Larry Reed is so unhappy these days is because he just discovered, while driving his son's Oldsmobile, how foolish he has been to drive a Hudson all these years. . . . Too bad the boys got cold feet before they got Nussel's tie cut off. That way we know he would have gotten a new one. . . . Blanche Allen bought a plastic pie container the other day. Now all she needs is some pie. Any offers? Pineapple or cherry preferred. . . . Reports from Esther Johnson and May Lacey say both girls are improving. Now, just keep up the good work. . . . Most important question of the week—Can you name the seven dwarfs from "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs?" Lots of us discovered our memories aren't so good. How's yours?

It's all right to hold a conversation, but you should let go of it now and then.

Five More Employees Join Q-C Club

Alfred H. Topp
Bldg. 26-4

Cora E. Rice
Bldg. 4-3

Rodney Dush
Bldg. 19-2

J. O. Robinson
Taylor St.

Walter J. Kritzman
Taylor St.

"Lost" and "Found" articles must be cleared through the Plant Protection office, Bldg. 10-2, or the Plant receptionist, who will place the Ad-let and otherwise advertise the article.

Send all ads to WORKS NEWS office, Bldg. 18-3.

No ad will be received over the telephone.

CLOSING DATE

Monday, Noon, February 26, 1951

LOST AND FOUND

LOST—Pair black gloves with scroll cut on cuffs and fastened to glove holder.

LOST—Two keys on chain. Lost between Bldg. 4-6 elevator and Fairfield gate.

FOUND—Pair yellow ear muffs. Found near Bldg. 18-Gate.

FOUND—Two keys on wire. Found by the east side of Bldg. 19.

FOUND—Three keys in brown leather case. Schueler Appliance and Sales, E. Wayne St. stamped on the case.

FOUND—Small pin with rhinestones in it.

FOUND—Tan two-blade pocket knife. Found in Bldg. 19-4.

FOUND—Man's plain gold wedding ring. Turned in at West Gate at Taylor St.

FOUND—Three keys, tire gauge, and broken flashlight on chain. Found on Lindley parking lot.

FOR SALE

TWIN BEDS—With innerspring mattress. Good condition. H-60025.

G-E MONITOR TOP REFRIGERATOR—Good condition, real reasonable. H-03314.

FOUR 600x16 USED TIRES—And chrome rims for 15 in. wheels; combination radio and record player, excellent condition, $30. H-66688.

KITCHEN SERVING TABLE—White enamel, like new, reasonable. H-67983.

LIGHT BIRCH FOLDING PLAY PEN—On casters with washable plastic pad, like new. H-50975.

BOY SCOUT UNIFORM—Size 14, includes trousers, shirt, cap, neckerchief, socks. H-60425.

MAGIC CHEF GAS STOVE—In good condition, $20. E-1963.

TWO 12 LIGHT ALUMINUM CASEMENT WINDOWS—New, bargain. A-55741.

G-E MONITOR TOP REFRIGERATOR—Seven cu. ft., excellent condition. E-66134.

GAS RANGE—Good condition, reasonable. H-40794 or 3116 Winter St.

ONE SET 16 IN. WHEEL RIMS—Like new, $4. H-65691 or 3120 Winter St.

MAPLE BUFFET—In good condition. E-40679 after 6 p.m.

1935 PLYMOUTH TUDOR—Good tires, and motor, reasonable. 617 Hendricks.

WALNUT DINING ROOM SUITE—Table, buffet, chairs and pad, $25. H-20001.

DETROIT JEWEL GAS RANGE—With Oven Control. H-28235.

CHINA CLOSET—Walnut, good condition. H-66332.

MAN'S HENDERSON BICYCLE—26 in., good condition; TBL training bag with gloves, like new. H-60885.

WANTED

LARGE WALL MIRROR—Suitable for over fireplace. H-02329.

WHITE KITTEN—H-83872.

RETINA II CAMERA—E-66134.

¼ IN. ELECTRIC DRILL—A-39005.

USED 600-16 TIRES—In good condition. A-75442.

SMALL CHILDREN TO CARE FOR—In my home in Waynedale while mother works days. H-26482.

FOR RENT

ROOM—Private, clean quiet home, convenient to G-E. H-19281.

ROOM—With garage. 2206 Thompson Ave. or A-57841.

TWO ROOM UNFURNISHED APARTMENT—Utilities furnished. A-49495 after 4 p.m. or 1235 College Ave.

TRANSPORTATION

WANTS RIDE—From Decatur from 7-3:30. Decatur 3-2077 or contact Bill Mowery, Bldg. 19-4, on extension 579.

WANTS RIDE—From Big Lake or Columbia City to Broadway plant second shift. D. P. Chambers, Bldg. 19-4, works from 3:30-11:48. Extension 279 or 495.

WANTS RIDE—From three miles west of 24 on 114. Bessie Scott works in Bldg. 26-3 for Al Rieman from 7-3:30. Roanoke 2130 or Extension 788.

WANTS RIDE—One and one half miles north of Helmer on 327 for one to three people. Contact Willard Parker, Bldg. 6-1, from 8-5:00. Stroh 9F11 or Extension 433.

WANTS RIDE—From Harlan to Taylor St. William Kizer works in Div. 14 from 6:48-3:18. Harlan 3063.

WANTS RIDE—From Kendallville, Ind., to Broadway. Arneta Uhl, works in Bldg. 4-3 from 7-3:30. Extension 646.

Poor Bonnie Marks! She fell on the ice, but all the sympathy she got was the query, "Did you break your thermos bottle?" She was also observed frantically hunting a safety pin. Did that help unstick your zipper, Bonnie? . . . Welcome to Faye Wilson on night shift. . . . Wonder where Merl Keesler gets his collection of jokes? . . . Opal Hamerick was in the clouds Friday. She received two letters from her husband in Korea. . . . The brides are taking the spotlight again. Mary Kintz and Gale Stopher were married on Valentine's Day. Carol Weber and Jim Klinger have set the date for May 19. Congratulations and best wishes to all of you. . . . The girls on big winding will get a little peace now that boilermaker Stanton has a muffler. . . . Happy birthday to Elanor Hoffman and Doris Stearns. We miss Ginny Beverforden and Ardola Metker, who have gone on days, and also Oscar Miller to Bldg. 6-4. . . . We wonder when Marjorie Goodrich will get to drive their new Plymouth? . . . Attention girls: If you want the secret of getting your husband to do the housework, see Angie Mello. . . . The girls had a farewell potluck for Mae Ohmart, and she didn't show up. You sure missed out on a very good feed, Mae. . . . That was a mighty pretty Valentine that "Muscles" Norris received. . . . We are getting a lot of new kinds of haircuts lately. First Martha Bulleit got hers chiseled and now Maxine DiGregory got hers shaved. . . . Pearl Forshea and Gloria Kumfer will have to deodorize their clothes after the shrimp fry. . . . Polly and Doris tried giving up smoking, but didn't succeed. . . . We are glad to hear Bea Stolte is improving following an operation Monday at St. Joseph Hospital. We wish you a speedy recovery, Bea. . . . I want to thank the girls in 1x50 for the "Wild Beast." But by now, he is where the wild goose goes. . . . Gene Haifley got a bang out of one of his cigarettes. In fact it blew up on him. . . . Delores Schmidt is really a very polite person. She bumped into a dummy uptown one day and said, "Pardon me." . . . That is a real curve Maxine DiGregory makes with the bowling ball. . . . Welcome to Margaret Rollins, who comes from Taylor St. . . . Glad to see Millie Sarrazin back after her recent illness. . . . Skippy Kurtz thinks winding gives her lots of muscle. She tried pushing a car that stuck in the ice. The result—well, the car didn't move, but she was a willing helper anyway. . . . Best wishes to Delores Schmidt, who is now wearing a diamond on the third finger. The lucky guy is Jack Daugherty. . . . Helen Stabler knows another use for an apron, especially when zippers are unzipped. . . . Don Ritter is back to work after his icy plunge into Bear Creek. Don is none the worse for his experience. Seriously, we are thankful none of them were injured. They were certainly lucky on that score. . . . Carol Eastes had a big thrill, her daughter, Robin, has started to walk. . . . We hear Gailene Dixon is trying to drink the water fountain dry. . . . Jo Lee says thanks for all her Valentine gifts and also the comic about elbows. . . . Charlie Henderson had a birthday on Valentine's Day. Instead of getting the appropriate heart candy, Charlie got the cutest monkey. He still doesn't know who sent it to him. . . . Jean Pittenger has postponed her "retirement" for another week. . . . Bunny Schloemer was a happy girl Friday. She visited her husband at Selfridge Field over the week-end. . . . Would like to put horns on Clancy so we'll know when he's around. . . . Mary Alice Williams is so tired at night she goes home and reads the paper. Eventually she dozes off and upon awaking in the morning she finds she still has on her coat and headscarf yet. . . . Pauline Luna was walking down the street and she felt water (she thought) dripping on her nose. On closer inspection, she discovered something flying overhead. . . . Pearl Forshea is now trying to be an experienced high jumper. For practice, she jumps over chairs. . . . After reading last week's column, everyone thought Barbara Ray was sowing her wild oats. As it was stated she was getting her spring planting done. It should have read spring painting. . . . Helen Duff got her new sweeper, she put it together and started it up. Instead of picking up the dirt, it blew the dirt all over. To her dismay, she found she had connected it at the wrong end. . . . Instead of husbands being a sorry lot, Joan Hartman thought the wives were. She had an accident with the car. She worried and worried about telling her husband about it. When she got home, he had had an accident with the truck. So she was saved by the ice. . . . Freddie Schroeder had a slight attack of forgetfulness last week. . . . We miss Les Franke from 1x74 since he moved to Bldg. 6-4. . . . It's very nice of Maxine to take a night off and then dream of us at work.

We welcome Carol Harrington to our office and hope she finds her work pleasant. . . . We sure have a "good cook" in our midst. It's none other than Stella Hagadorn. You should just see that delicious chocolate cake. Better still!—eat some. . . . Dee Hahn wishes to inform me that she definitely is not from North Side—Central High, if you please. . . . We are wondering if there is going to be a shortage of shoes. It seems as though Al Kruse is trying to get a head start anyway. A pair of shoes belonging to Stella Hagadorn came up missing one day last week, and it looks as if Al was the guilty party. . . . The list of "eligible gals" in the office has gone down by one again. For Valentine's Day, Barbara Schuckle got a little something extra in her box of candy (a diamond ring, to be exact!) My, wouldn't we all love to have candy like that? Congratulations, Barb. . . . Arguments and predictions have started already over the high school sectional tournament played this week. Everyone is sure that their alma mater will be the victor. Well, may the best team win. . . . Marilyn Spice has something new in the way of cats, that is a cat without a tail. During the cold spell of a few weeks back Marilyn's cat, Boots, got its tail frozen and consequently had to have the tail cut off. . . . Maxine Stoffell, Ruth Abels, Betty Bartley and Jane Lane have been on the sick list. We hope they are feeling much better.

People who can't get a good grip on themselves shouldn't wonder why success always slips through their fingers.

THE WHOLE TRUTH: We have always entertained a wholesome respect for one H. L. (Steve) Stevenson, chief Segundo in Bldg. 27. We have felt that he not only had ability in his chosen profession but, too, we have heard him relate his prowess concerning a working and mechanical ability about the home. However, our dream has been rudely shattered. His daughter has related the whole sordid story to one of the boys. It seems that he purchased a TV set recently to help entertain his wife who has not been feeling too well. It was to make her stay at home time more enjoyable. But, alas and alack, the best intentions some times go astray, and Steve's were no exception. "Now," says our informant, "as soon as Dad gets home, the first thing he does is plop down in the easy chair in front of the TV set. Here he stays until supper time. The dining room table has now been moved to the place where he can watch even as he eats. And, here comes the clincher—Now he has some of the live stock brought in and fed from his chair so that he won't miss any of the programs." It is with a sad heart that we acknowledge what TV is doing to our old pal. May this serve as a warning to others who have thought seriously of procuring a set. . . . A SALUTE: We wish to sincerely express our kindest regards to Monroe Brosius in Bldg. 31-1. After all the free meals he has sponged off of his fraternity, he is now making an effort to redeem himself in the eyes of his fellow men. And, too, he is doing it the hard way; selling tickets to a square dance. We certainly wish to applaud his efforts. . . . MORE ABOUT FOOD: While we are on the subject of free feeds, let us take a quick glance at two more specialists in Bldg. 31-1, Joe Neal and Pappy Archbald. While Pappy has years of experience over Joe, they tell me that Joe's famous appetite is rapidly gaining on Pappy's advantage. I feel that either of these two boys would make ideal candidates for selling tickets. . . . HELP: Last week there was an item in my column about Kenny Seymoure. Ken says that if he finds out who put it in he is going to sue for $150,000. Now if I find out who did it I get half. So, please will somebody tell me who told me all about Ken? . . . SPIRIT OF 76: Perhaps all of you have seen, many times, the picture called the Spirit of '76. Do you recall that one of the men depicted had a bandage on his head? If you wish to see an exact replica, come over and watch Joe Miller while he is silver soldering. . . . WARNING: This is to serve notice to Sam Baumgartner that I don't need his old photographs. (He feels I would double cross him.) But, Poison Pen and Pappy told me they had lots of pictures of Sam just in case I should ever need one. . . . PENSIONER RETURNS: Floyd Swihart, pensioned, was a visitor last week. He looks great, and we were glad to see him. He's plenty rugged because the morning he chose for his visit was that real bitter cold one. Welcome back to see us any time. We're always glad to see you Birthday greetings go to Pat O'Brien. . . . Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Paul Stemmler, who are the proud parents of a baby boy, named Johnny Conrad. . . . Paul Knight was seen by a couple of testers receiving a valentine. They said the valentine was named, "tightwad." Thinking no one saw him, he slipped over and hung it on Paulus Adams' brake. . . . Lucinda Pettit was caught wearing a shade of black mascara under her nose at the last Elex party. . . . Edna Stanton has had washing machine troubles. She put her wash in the washer and forgot to put her agitator in to do the washing. She went and told her husband that the washer was not working right. By that time, she found that she hadn't put her washer all together. Could it be Edna wanted a new washer?

TRANSFORMER DIVISIONS HONORED—Fred N. Banks, superintendent of Transformer Div. 91, left, and W. H. Crouse, superintendent of Transformer Div. 94, right, are pictured with Meritorious Safety Performance Certificates which were presented to them last week by W. F. Oswalt, center, former Manager of Manufacturing, Specialty Transformer & Ballasts Divisions. Div. 91 has completed over 1,576,132 man hours without a lost time accident. According to the Safety Section here, Div. 94 has had a "consistently good to excellent" safety record.

ICE AND SNOW: Is good for one thing at least. It fills up the holes in the streets and parking lot. . . . WELCOME: Virginia Gillingham to Wire Cost. Hope you like us, Virginia. . . . CONGRATULATIONS: Lawrence (Larry) Simerman on that baby boy. We hope he grows up to be a fine young man just like his father. . . . GETTING ALONG FINE: In St. Joseph's hospital is Elaine Frankart, who recently underwent a major operation. Get well real soon, Elaine, we miss you. . . . WE ARE HAPPY: To see Dewey Wisner back to work after a five week absence due to illness. . . . WEBSTER: Is compiling a special dictionary for Wire Mill employees only. (Names too numerous to mention.) Some of the advanced showings are: Feel, feal; Broadway, Boadway; Electrician, Lectrishun; Cemetery, Semetary; Film, Fillem; Middle, Middler; Mechanic, Machinik; Brewery, Burbury; Other, Outher; Tried, Tryeid; Easily, Easyly; Paper, Papier. We could go on forever but space will not permit. . . . BY THE WAY: You haven't heard of anyone who's been living in America getting packed to move and live beyond the iron curtain with Joe Stalin have you? No! And you never will! Old Joe could make it so easy for himself if he would only make up his mind that there is a God and that he should first love Him above all things and secondly love his neighbor as himself. But no, Joe would rather have power and glory on this earth and take his chances on hearing these words: Depart from Me forever into everlasting fire, instead of come with Me into everlasting Peace and Happiness. . . . AFTER: Bill Rohe received such an avalanche of mail about farming, he leaves us with this little note. "I have been threatened with bodily harm, law suits and breach of promises by Silo and Farm Implement salesmen as a result of the mail directed to my new suburban enterprise and I haven't a minute of peace and happiness. My mail box is bursting at the seams with the volume of mail being received. Please lay off for awhile and give the mailman a rest." . . . MAY WE SAY: That if it wasn't for Bill Rohe and Wimpy Lemper, this may be a very dull column. Bill and Wimpy not only contribute news regarding themselves but contribute many of the other articles which appear in this column. Your Editor wants to take this opportunity, Bill and Wimpy, to thank you for your splendid cooperation.

Insulation News

A warm welcome to several new employees over here. Betty Mast is our new office girl, and Helen Curtis is new in the Miscellaneous Section. . . . We hesitate to mention the late and not lamented ice and sleet, but we feel constrained to note the toll it took. Robert Martin found himself prostrate, but with no chargeable injuries. Not so Harry Ward. It cost him $1.69 for a new thermos, and he never found his spoon. . . . We're glad that Marguerite Kohr doesn't drive a car with that heavy foot of hers. It was so heavy that she walked right out of her shoe. . . . The candy and cigars were on Leon Shelborne. He and Irene announce the arrival of David. Thanks for a treat, and congratulations to the proud parents. . . . The Mica and Insulation Section is disappointed in Willie Hattendorf. He made such a poor showing in volleyball when he played against the Apprentice School. . . . The four Whizz Kids—Gebert, Kramer, Plummer, and Reidenbach—in their office euchre games are getting faster each day. They played seven games in 45 minutes last Friday. They could hardly see the spots on the cards as they flew by. . . . We won't write a eulogy, but we must note the passing of a friend. Albert LeFebra is leaving us today for Winter St. . . . We have noticed that ice fishermen are an eager bunch when it comes to their favorite sport. We've heard Earl Plummer and Bill Hattendorf talk and noted that particular gleam that comes in their eyes. There must be a limit, however. At least, Zelda Kiester had better watch her husband, Dean, a little closer hereafter if she notices that gleam particularly when there is no ice!

By Don Clark

ARE YOU HAVING ANY FUN?

Perhaps your job is not the kind
That thrills you as you do it.
But wherefore grumble? Why not find
The cheerful angle to it?

You have a sense of humor, give Yourself a break—employ it
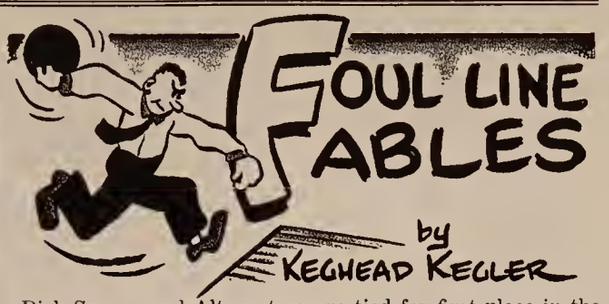
For, since you've got to work to live
You might as well enjoy it.

You think your duties dull and tough
Devoid of vim and color?
Perhaps—but that defeatist stuff
Will only make them duller.

Why be so strictly positive
You're "put upon" each minute?
You have to have a job to live—
Well, take some pleasure in it!

When labor seems a dreary curse
There's one way to combat it:
Even a hard job ain't so worse
When you go gayly at it.



There is a kick in work well done
With spade or pen or hammer,
And humdrum tasks may still be fun
And drudgery have glamour.

Each job has its own thrill to give,
If you know how to strike it,
And since you have to work to live
Go to it, kid—and like it!

The above poem was taken from an old issue of Popular Science and given to us by Paul Auman. We think it's worth reading not once but twice. . . . With Gene Dennie and Dick Wagner working in the Heat Treat Section, Bob Wallace is taking up blacksmithing under the tutorship of Charlie Ueber. . . . Kenny Sefton left his car parked in front of the home of Dave Lewis. The gears wouldn't mesh. Shortly afterwards a water main broke under the car and the Kaiser got its under parts washed, plus a free tow ride by the city. . . . The Grinding Section welcomes Harold Knox to the day shift. . . . All the draftsmen wish a lot of luck to Harry Hartman in his new job in the planning section of Motor Generator Division. . . . Art Dicke tried out his new Plymouth last Saturday by driving it to work. He was seen going over it with a polishing rag in Carl Einsiedel's favorite parking place. . . . Kurt Martin wonders if Al DeVaux is selling French dozens, ten and two-thirds eggs to a dozen. Al might be innocent because we saw several of the boys eating fresh boiled eggs. Kurt's wife always puts a boiled egg in his lunch. Last week she failed. When Kurt cracked his egg it splattered all over his face. Mrs. Martin says she's positive she boiled the egg. . . . Lloyd Welbaum is a bachelor this week. His wife is in Rochester, N. Y., taking care of his daughter who is very sick. Everyone thought the time was ripe for Lloyd to invite everyone out for a stag party. Of course, Lloyd would furnish the refreshments. . . . Paul Brinkroeger has sent out a call for an expert sewer repair man. Especially one that can handle a shovel and other intricate ditching tools. . . . We hear that Gene Denig and Carl Einsiedel just love boiled eggs. . . . Mrs. John Marks claims she didn't hit John on the end of the nose, but that he tripped and skinned his nose sliding down the stairs. . . . Bernie Byanski finally out fished his son, Beezie. Bernie got a bucketful to outweigh his son's eight bluegills. . . . The basketball players from Leo High School call Woody Hursh their one man rooting section. In a recent game at Monroeville when the weather wasn't fit for a dog to be out, Woody was the only Leo spectator. Don't get us wrong. We aren't calling you a dog. . . . Ron Allen left last week for the Army. Good luck, Ron. . . . We welcome Arthur Schoolcraft and Jack Hurless to the Tool Division. Jack is coming back after working at Taylor St. . . . George Luker, who is quite capable of keeping a secret, forgot to bring his lunch on Monday. Don't keep those things from us, George. Don't you want your name in the news? . . . Frank Woenker has a reason for wanting off work earlier. There are a lot of things to be bought for that new home, and he claims he selects the colors. . . . Good luck to Paul Mischo, who has returned to Bldg. 12-2. . . . John Roemer really concentrates on his work. Last week he stepped over to the pedestal grinder to sharpen a tool bit. He pushed the button but nothing happened. So he pushed it again and still nothing happened. Looking up he discovered the grinding wheels were missing. John then sheepishly looked around to see if anyone was watching. We are glad to report that he had an audience to help him find another grinder. . . . That smile on Stewart Bohrer's face comes from his heart. He is happy over those new rubber wheels on his dispatching wagon. . . . Having seen John Neukan's lavender sport shirt, the fellows are now ready to see his red one. They have their dark glasses handy. . . . Earl Lenz has to get along without his afternoon naps. He is now working the day shift. . . . DIE PLANT. . . . Frank Staley has received word that Tom Welchel desires some morale building vitamins. This vitamin is spelled M-A-I-L. For those who care to help his address is Pvt. Thomas Walchel U. S. 55111341, Btry D 515th ABN, FA. BN., Camp Breckenridge, Ky. . . . What kind of a fireman is Harold Wherry? Last week the elevator at South Whitley burned, and Harold didn't know it until he read the paper the next morning. . . . Carl Mosser, returning from an ice fishing trip at Houghton Lake, reports lots of water. It comes from those four-wheeled Cris-crafts. . . . We never thought the leak in the roof above the Milling Machine Section was so bad until we saw Ed Kayser taking a shower bath. . . . Self Safety Question—Do I have a good sound reason for not wearing the latest improved safety shoes?

GETS SEND-OFF AT RETIREMENT—John Happel, Bldg. 17-3, is shown, left foreground, saying goodby to his foreman, J. C. Dobson. His friends and co-workers, pictured in the background, gave him a send-off when he left recently for retirement after seven years of service. Mr. Happel first came to General Electric in 1944 to work in Bldg. 26-4. He transferred to Bldg. 17-3 in 1945 to work on hydraulic and pneumatic presses. At the time of his retirement, Mr. Happel was a miscellaneous finisher.

Dick Sunoco and Alternators are tied for first place in the Office League with 13 wins and eight losses. Out of 12 teams, 10 are within three games from the top placers.

Lloyd Parrish headed the pack with a 600 series on games of 244, 170 and 186.

Two hundred games were kegled by Johnny Johnson, 233; Sore Thumb Blomker, 210; Bill Piercy, 203, and Forrie Carlson, 201.

Transformer League

The D's are one over the M's and Bells.

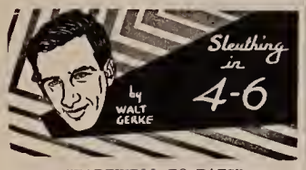
Groves bowled the high series of the evening, a 527 which included 212. Downie and Meeker got the other 200 games, which were 200 pins even.

Small Motor League

With the league nearing the half way mark of the second half, a tie still exists for the top spot. The National Construction team has served notice that they are not going to be counted out and have been staying in a tie with the Models team for the past three weeks. Still in the race, and coming up strong on the alleys, is the Test team which is only three games behind the leaders. The slow starters, the Planning team, can't seem to get started and are just about ready to throw in the towel unless they can get a couple of alleys that don't have nailed down pins.

Recent 200 counts have been bowled by Gitter, 201; Carey, 210; R. Tobias, 225; Windy Boester, 215; Smead, 221; Whonsetler, 201; Brandt, 200; Kramer, 201 (credit the pin boy with an assist on this one); Kenny Williams, 214; Bauer, 201, and Haugk, 201. H. Miller had the high single for the season, a 255.

Tuesday Afternoon Girls League



Tommy Williams led the afternoon's bowling with a 558 series. She rolled games 159, 201 and 198 to get this total. Rachel Mounsey got the other high game, a 186.

Sounds In The Alley

Don't forget the Mixed Doubles Tournament which will be held Saturday, March 3. Squads will begin bowling at 6:30 and 8:30 p.m.

The entry fee, including bowling, is four dollars per team, and applications can be made at the Club counter.

Sin has many tools, but a lie is a handle that fits them all.

"FAREWELL TO EATS"
I have been to see my doctor,
And he found me over-weight;
So he put me on a diet,
Said I'd have to liquidate.

Now I've always loved my eating
So this came as quite a blow,
And I may as well admit it,
I am feeling mighty low.

I informed him, when I'm hungry,
There is nothing else can beat
A meal of mashed oottatoes
With some gravy, bread and meat.

He agreed, hut told me frankly
It was very plain to see,
What the bread and mashed potatoes
In the past had done to me.

Then he quoted me statistics
On the normal span of life
Showing how a fleshy husband
Dies beforc his skinny wife.

"Holy suffering cats," I argued
"Just because I'm short of breath,
Must I understand your treatment
Is to starve a guy to death."

With a glass of juice for breakfast
And a single slice of toast,
Then for lunch, a cup of bouillon
Gosh, I'll soon look like a ghost.

Then we argued all the angles,
And we both talked pretty rough
But I paid him, and admitted
That he likely knew his stuff.

So I start next Monday morning
On this calorie dodging feat.
But I'll have three meals on Sunday
When I'm really going to eat.

—W. L. Whonsetler

THE BIG MOVE: Everyone is settled after moving to new locations. Scenes of people putting up pin-ups and calendars were common, but Jack Kirlin, of the AC Division, trying to staple a decimal chart to a metal wall was the berries. . . . BIG LETDOWN: Having a flat tire is awful especially when two eager guys like Gil Baker and Walt Gerke are anxious to get home from work, and on a Saturday, too. KEEPING AHEAD: Maurice Bennett was erasing with his new eraser and the eraser kept coming out of the machine faster than he could wear it away. He finally found the clamp to hold it in. . . . FULL DRESS: The question is "Is Denton Manecke cold or is he trying to set a new standard by wearing his sport coat around the office?" Maybe he made the final payment on it and is proud to own something. . . . VALENTINE: Judging from the valentine Charlie Koomjohn received someone must think something of him. We don't want everyone to know it was a comic valentine. . . . OPEN OR CLOSED: Since we moved into the north office, the skylight windows are either flying open or closed. It's a battle between the hots and the colds. Both sides get hotter over the exercise. . . . "LOOK BEFORE YOU LEAP" should be Shorty Poyser's slogan from now on. We are all very happy your accident wasn't more serious and we (as well as you) have learned our lesson therefrom. . . . MORE ACCIDENTS: Glen Stapleton hit the jackpot last week. First he had tooth trouble, then confined to his home with the flu for three days. Came back to work and—don't you know, his big feet didn't even hold him up on the ice in front of the Broadway Gate House. He looks pretty well this week, for all he's been through, though. . . . FAREWELL: We bid farewell and good luck to Ralph Keller. We'll miss you and wish you success in your new job. We also bid farewell to Bob Wigent. Bob left us last Friday and is now a member of the Drafting Personnel in the Transformer Division. Good Luck! . . .

Full Dress

HAPPY BIRTHDAY AND THANK YOU: Thank you very much Johnny Taylor (Mrs. Taylor, too) for those "Taylor-made" cakes you brought in to celebrate your birthday Feb. 18. It was very thoughtful of you and we all wish you many more happy birthdays. . . . HIDDEN TALENT: If you should happen to come back early some noon-hour, you'll see Phil Campbell memorizing his lines (looks like a little school boy studying his lessons) for his part in the forthcoming Civic Theatre play, "The Devils' Disciple." Didn't know we had a prominent actor in our midst, did you all? Let's go down and see him perform, eh? EMPTY: This item is for Mrs. Toby Tyler. I am sure you would have appreciated the hearty laugh of your "better-half" when he opened his lunch box, drooling for a sip of that hot coffee, or what have you, only to find the thermos nicely tucked away in its place—full of "Nothing" not even a lid. Well, we'll just mark it down to "Monday Blues" and let it go at that. . . . WELCOME to our new engineering assistant. Her name is Thora Robinson. . . . LOST AND FOUND: Oh, where—Oh, where has my little dog gone was the song being sung around Paul Motter's home last week, and lo and behold it paid off. The little dog came home. . . . VALENTINES: What's this we hear about Forrie Carlson receiving so many Valentines? Would they have anything to do with the cigars and candy that the D.C. Division didn't receive?

by Ray Quinn

The Squares extended their winning streak in the second half of Interdivision Basketball League play by beating Small Motors, 46-26. Carl again sparked the attack by getting 22 points.

The Firemen had to go all out to beat Fractional, 46-43. Don Reitdorf, displaying the form which made him a star of the Winter St. team for several years, tossed in 12 points in the first quarter. This feat got the winners out in front.

Accounting Division defeated Winter St., 41-36. Ed Trabel was high point man for the winners with 13 points.

The Apprentice School played one of their best games Tuesday night, upsetting Taylor St., 40-28. Test Engineers defeated the Tool Division, 37-27. The Transformer team came from behind in the last period to shade Developmental, 38-37.

Standings

	Won	Lost
Apprentice School	2	0
Transformer	2	0
Squares	1	0
Firemen .	1	0
Accounting	1	0
Test Engineers	1	1
Developmental	1	1
Winter St.	0	1
Small Motors	0	1
Fractional	0	1
Tool Division	0	2
Taylor St.	0	2

Summaries

SQUARES

Player	G	F	T
Emling	1	0	2
Reynolds	1	0	2
Krusicnko	5	1	11
Lindholm	2	1	5
Johnson	0	0	0
Hamilton	0	0	0
Walley	1	2	4
Carl	6	10	22
Totals	16	14	46

SMALL MOTORS

Player	G	F	T
Zimmerlee	0	1	1
Stricate	1	1	3
Rosswurm	2	2	6
Wickliffe	1	5	7
Lee	2	1	5
Bryan	1	0	2
Smith	1	0	2
Totals	8	10	26

FIREMEN

Player	G	F	T
Baals	1	1	3
Osbun	0	0	0
Wehrle	2	0	4
Weber	0	0	0
Morkoetter	4	1	9
Anspaugh	2	2	6
Hettler	2	1	5
Wilson	1	0	2
Reitdorf	6	3	15
Etter	1	0	2
Totals	19	8	46

FRACTIONAL

Player	G	F	T
Honaker	1	2	4
MacMaken	1	0	2
Sparks	1	0	2
Bucker	6	1	13
Hertz	3	4	10
Waikel	1	0	2
Burkett	2	0	4
Lahrman	2	2	6
Totals	17	9	43

WINTER ST.

Player	G	F	T
Gettys	3	3	9
Hayden	1	0	2
Gill	0	0	0
Bransfielder	2	1	5
Voors	0	1	1
Frazier	0	1	1
Schinbeckler	0	0	0
Svoboda	3	2	8
Parker	3	4	10
Totals	12	12	36

ACCOUNTING

Player	G	F	T
G. Raney	1	4	6
Mossberg	0	0	0
Trabel	3	7	13
Edington	1	4	6
Harris	2	2	6
Frye	2	3	7
N. Raney	1	0	2
Kent	0	1	1
Wildermuth	0	0	0
Totals	10	21	41

TEST ENG.

Player	G	F	T
Binder	1	1	3
Beck	1	2	4
McNulty	1	1	3
Harlow	6	1	11
McDougal	0	1	1
Burgemeister	0	0	0
Becker	0	1	1
Cochran	2	0	4
Geller	1	1	3
Zernick	3	1	7
Totals	14	9	37

TOOL DIV.

Player	G	F	T
Geise	5	1	11
Yentes	3	1	7
VanOrsdale	1	1	3
Staley	0	2	2
Grish	2	0	4
Dunlop	0	0	0
Burr	0	0	0
Totals	11	5	27

APPR. SCHOOL

Player	G	F	T
Stanek	0	3	3
Young	2	1	5
Davenport	1	0	2
Ahr	2	1	5
Beitz	2	0	4
Batchelder	6	2	14
Enyeart	3	1	7
Totals	16	8	40

TAYLOR ST.

Player	G	F	T
Spielman	0	0	0
Rife	1	0	2
Hughes	3	1	7
Cobrun	0	0	0
Butler	0	0	0
Spront	3	2	8
Beaty	1	2	4
Parker	1	1	3
Smith	1	2	4
Totals	10	8	28

TRANSFORMER

Player	G	F	T
Simmons	3	2	8
Tungft	0	2	2
Lovell	1	0	2
Betchal	2	2	6
Taylor	2	3	7
Carpentcr	2	0	4
Baker	2	3	7
Mankey	0	0	0
Kumfer	1	0	2
Eckart	0	0	0
Totals	13	12	38

DEVELOPMENTAL

Player	G	F	T
Struver	2	2	6
Franke	1	0	2
Weaver	0	0	0
Keller	0	0	0
Doepke	5	6	16
Houser	3	4	10
Boles	0	0	0
G. Houser	1	1	3
Totals	12	13	37

'Twas a group of disappointed fellows in the Commutator Section last Valentine's Day. The plans were all made to give Howard Musselman's epidermis a little warming up. The reason was his birthday. But, Howard didn't show at work that week. Now which was worse, Howard being sick in bed with the flu or getting a real spanking (with a wooden paddle) at work? . . . Roy Prince is vacationing in Florida. We know you'll have a fine time, Roy. . . . We're all hoping Forest Reed gets well soon and back to work. We miss him.

You don't need bank reference in order to borrow trouble.

Bears Down Tigers; Elks Get Win in Owl Contests

by Earl Stauffer

The Bears and the Elks won the right to enter the final play-off and a possible crack at the Owl championship by defeating the Tigers and Eagles last week.

The Bears displayed a snappy brand of ball to down the Tigers 58-30. Vern Burkett went wild with a 10 basket flurry, most of which he canned under the hoop. Bob Markey had his best day with 14 counters. The Tigers were in the game briefly in the first stanza but Bear power took charge and held a 26-11 lead at the half. Brenner and Horstmeyer paced the losers with nine points each.

The Eagles forgot to keep their eyes on veteran Bob Crosley who continually eluded his guard to go in for easy lay up shots in the second half. The Elks won the contest, 41-26. The lead see-sawed back and forth until two minutes before the half, when Crosley and Sutter canned fielders to give the Elks a 15-12 lead. Crosley wound up as the game's leading scorer with 13. Howdy Barney paced the losers with 10.

Bears Swamp Elks

(Press-Time Report)

The Bears served notice that they were ready for the championship set with the Wildcats by swamping the Elks last Tuesday morning 59-37.

The Bears overcame a big height advantage by playing the Elks off their feet with some of the most uncanny shooting this writer has ever seen. Many times the shorter lads intercepted passes intended for an Elk and converted the interception into a bucket. The team spirit of the Bears was definitely up for this "must" game.

Zooming to an 18-5 lead at the end of the first period, the Parrish coached lads kept pouring it on with Bill Butler and Verne Burkett leading the onslaught. A 12-point bulge separated the teams at the half with the Bears on top, 29-17.

The third stanza play was even and the Bruins added one point to their advantage leaving the score 39-26. The Elks opened the final quarter with a determined effort but relaxed their guard. The scrappy Bears were quick to take advantage and poured 20 points through the hoop. The Elks scored 11.

Bill Butler led the scoring for both clubs with 18 points and was ably assisted by Verne Burkett, who chipped in 16. Vern gave away lots of height to Ed Sutter of the Elks but held the big fellow to 10 points. Joe Schible was high with 12 for the losers.

The Bears canned 28 out of 62 tries from the field for an amazing .452 percentage. The Elks on the other hand shot only a .258 percentage with 17 out of 66.

Summaries

BEARS

Player	G	F	T
Klinger,f	5-11	0-0	10
Burkett,f	7-14	2-5	16
Markey,c	2- 5	0-1	4
Crissman,c	1- 4	0-0	2
Baker,g	3-10	1-1	7
Ryder,g	1- 1	0-0	2
Butler,g	9-17	0-2	18
Totals	28-62	3-9	59

ELKS

Player	G	F	T
Crosley,f	2- 7	1-3	5
Shipman,f	0- 3	0-1	0
Schible,f	5-26	2-2	12
Libbing,f	0- 0	0-0	0
Sutter,c	5-15	0-0	10
Klenke,g	2- 9	0-0	4
Hayden,g	3- 6	0-0	6
Totals	17-66	3-6	37

Score by quarters:

Bears	18	29	39
Elks	5	17	26

Officials: Yergens, Wickliffe.

ELKS Player	G	F	T	EAGLES Player	G	F	T
Klenke	3	1	7	Hower	3	0	6
Crosley	6	1	13	Barney	5	0	10
Sutter	4	0	8	Haas	2	1	5
Schible	4	3	11	Crissman	1	0	2
Libbing	1	0	2	Johnson	0	0	0
				Phillips	1	1	3
Totals	18	5	41	Totals	12	2	26

Score by quarters:

Elks	7	17	30
Eagles	8	14	21

Officials: McKeeman, Yergens.

BEARS Player	G	F	T	TIGERS Player	G	F	T
Butler	6	0	12	Weaver	1	0	2
Klinger	3	0	6	Trice	3	0	6
Markey	7	0	14	Brenner	2	3	9
Burkett	10	0	20	Packwood	1	0	2
Baker	3	0	6	Drane	2	0	4
				Horstmeyer	4	1	9
Totals	29	0	58	Totals	13	4	30

Score by quarters:

Bears	10	26	38
Tigers	7	11	19

Officials: Yergens, McKeeman.

SHIPPING: We bow our heads in shame, and our face is very red, because we forgot to convey our public welcome to Mary Gilliom when she arrived with us. So we welcome her aboard now along with Ivan Doster, who just started his stay on Monday. We certainly hope you both enjoy working with the boys and gals. . . . Milling around in back of this tired old brain is a faint suspicion that possibly another addition to the office had not been properly welcomed, meaning none other than that stalwart gentleman from our third floor (transferred to the office) Tony Koorsen. In case the foregone is correct, may we say right here and now, "WELCOME, TONY." . . . We have now discovered (thanks to Eileen Fitch) how Ruth Sorg gets to the local cinema and out so quickly on Saturday, when the rest of us have to stand in line for hours. Ruth's secret is very simple, she and hubby just go to the show in the afternoon, along with all the kiddies. Eileen, being the observant type, and with a little help from Ruth's husband discovered the two Sorgs going to the early show. Now there's a couple of smart cookies, "go early and avoid the rush." . . . FINALLY Eva Westrick got that record about "Putty Tat," and she's really wearing a victory smile. 'Twas a struggle, but she won.

Scientists have achieved some wonderful results, and maybe in time one of them will succeed in producing a cigarette the ashes of which will match the color of the rug.

HOBBY ENTHUSIASTS

Watch next week's WORKS NEWS for details concerning the coming annual Hobby Show at your G-E Club.

We are in a state of Emergency. We must build our military strength—and, at the same time, we must keep our economy strong for the long pull. Inflation bleeds both!

Every dollar cut from non-military spending is a dollar available for defense — and a check on Inflation

Senators and representatives who have studied the matter say non-military expenditures could be cut back 5 to 7 billion dollars without crippling essential Government functions or services.

Every dollar our Government can cut from non-military spending is a dollar saved for the defense effort. It is also a dollar cut from the amount our Government must get from all of us in taxes, or by borrowing. Every dollar so cut helps hold down the demand for goods and services and so helps check inflation.

Your money is at stake

All of us, as taxpayers, are already feeling the pinch of increased taxes, and there are more ahead. So every one of us has a personal stake in how our Government meets the responsibility of cutting non-military spending.

Calling on representatives in Government for economy in non-military spending is one of the most effective ways of aiding the defense effort and combatting inflation—the Sixth Column Enemy.

Of course cutting back means giving up some things, but this must be done to help pay for defense. The only source from which the Government can get money is the people—and one of those people is you.

5 more things that must be done to check inflation—even with price controls

1. Increase production: To meet defense needs and provide civilian necessities.
2. Support increases in taxes: To put our Government, as nearly as possible, on a "pay-as-you-go" basis.
3. Maintain credit curbs: To reduce the competition for civilian goods.
4. Increase personal savings: To provide investment money for greater production and to lessen the demand for goods.
5. Buy only for real needs: Overbuying only increases shortages, and adds to the inflationary pressures.

These things won't be easy for any of us to do, especially since we must forego increased wages and profits unless they are based on increases in production. Sacrifices are called for from all of us if we are to keep the Sixth Column Enemy—INFLATION—from bleeding our economy.

★ ★ ★ ★

This message is one of a series on Inflation brought to you by the life insurance companies and their agents who believe that to keep America strong is the job of every one of us.

You can help check the Sixth Column Enemy—INFLATION—by doing your part and letting your representatives in Government know that you support action they take along these lines.

[This message is regarded as so timely that it is being repraduced here by General Electric's Employee Relations Division with the permission of the Institute of Life Insurance.]

INDIANA COLLECTION

FORT WAYNE WORKS
NEWS

Volume 34 | FORT WAYNE, INDIANA, FRIDAY, MARCH 2, 1951 | No. 9

MOBILIZE for DEFENSE

through Your RED CROSS

Lynn Wingerter Heads 1951 Hobby Show

Personal Benefit Plans Status Reports Planned for Employees

A personal report which will give every General Electric employee an up-to-date summary of his status in the Company's principal benefit plans is now being prepared by the payroll section for delivery to Fort Wayne Works employees beginning next Friday, March 9.

The report, to be mailed, entitled "Your Share in General Electric's Employee Benefit Plans," is a four-page folder and is designed to give the employee his status, as of Dec. 31, 1950, in the Pension, Savings and Stock Bonus, and Insurance Plans.

The Pension section of the report will show each participating employee his estimated total monthly retirement income (including Social Security) at normal retirement age of 65, based on the

(Continued on page 4)

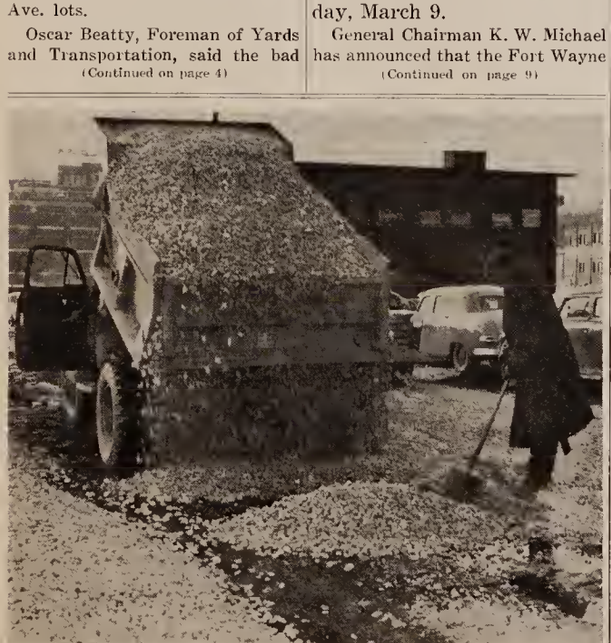
G-E Parking Lots Get Face Lifting With New Gravel

Water, Chuck Holes Being Filled Here

Water holes, chuck holes and other tire and wet feet hazards in G-E parking lots were being eliminated this week according to J. B. Greer, Plant Engineer and Superintendent of General Service.

Last week, 600 tons of gravel and cinders were used at the Taylor St. lot and this week 200 tons were deposited at the College and James St. and 400 tons at the Fairfield Ave. lots.

Oscar Beatty, Foreman of Yards and Transportation, said the bad



(Continued on page 4)

Red Cross Solicitors Begin Drive Monday; Division Quotas Set

The Red Cross fund-raising drive will get underway Monday in the Fort Wayne Works and will continue through Friday, March 9.

General Chairman K. W. Michael has announced that the Fort Wayne

(Continued on page 9)

GOOD-BYE PUDDLES—A happy sight for G-E motorists were loads of stone being dumped in the parking lots during the past week. Almost 2,000 tons of stones and cinders were used to repair damage caused by Old Man Winter.

Hobby Chairman . . .

Squares, Wives To Hold "Little Theater" Night

G-E Squares members and their wives will stage a Little Theater Night at 8 tonight in the Squares Hall, Don Reek, entertainment chairman, announced this week.

Each of the following groups will be responsible for one of the five skits planned for family stunt night: Fractional Horsepower Motor Engineers, FHP Motor Sales, Specialty Transformer and Ballast, Test Engineers and Works Service.

Door prizes will be offered and trophies will be awarded for the best skit and the top performance. Tickets are 75 cents per couple. A free lunch will be served.

Annual Employee Displays Will Be Held April 19-21

Lynn Wingerter, Taylor St., has been named general chairman of the second annual G-E Club Hobby Show to be held Thursday, Friday and Saturday, April 19-20-21, in the G-E Club Auditorium. Plans for the huge employee display were revealed this week by Earl Stauffer, Club publicity chairman.

The show, for all employees, present and retired, will be open from 7 to 10 p.m. Thursday and Friday evenings and from 1 to 5 p.m. Saturday.

Mr. Wingerter has urged all those interested in participating in the show to fill out the entry blank on page 5 of this week's WORKS NEWS and return it to him immediately.

Committeemen Named

The following committee heads will meet today to complete ar-

(Continued on page 4)

G-E World War Vets Make Banquet Plans

Plans were revealed today for the G-E World War Veterans' Association banquet to be held Saturday, April 7, at 6:30 p.m. in the Chamber of Commerce.

Walt Lamboley, publicity chairman, said that the event will center around a mystery theme of "4-4-2." Bulletin board announcements and story in a later issue of the WORKS NEWS will explain the theme.

The election of officers will be held at the affair. George Ellison, Taylor St., has been named general chairman of the banquet.

C. D. Uncapher

C. D. Uncapher Cited for Cost Reduction Work

Ft. Wayne Works Man Helps Save Million

C. D. Uncapher, superintendent of the Distribution Division, is among the 13 boxing, packing and shipping specialists for the Large Apparatus Division who has been cited by J. W. Belanger, Manager of the Divisions; C. A. Salmonsen, Manufacturing Manager of the Division, and K. N. Bush, Production Manager of the Division, for achieving a record-breaking goal in cost reduction activities this year.

According to W. J. Kinsey, coordinator of the committee and assistant to Mr. Bush, the group reported savings in excess of $1,036,900, more than 60 per cent higher than their original esti-

(Continued on page 4)

General Electric Paid $375,000 For Suggestion Awards in 1950

General Electric suggestion award winners received a total of $375,000 during 1950, according to figures being compiled for the Company's annual report.

This total represents the amount paid by the Company for 22,275 suggestions which were adopted from the 65,623 submitted by employees during 1950. Percentagewise, 33.9 of all suggestions submitted were put into effect, Company sources have disclosed.

The $375,000 for awards during the past year is an increase of $60,000 over the $315,000 given by the Company for 21,000 suggestions adopted in 1949. Sixty-five thousand suggestions were sub-

(Continued on page 4)

Four Works Employees In "Devil's Disciple"

Four G-E employees are appearing in the Civic Theatre's production of "The Devil's Disciple" which opened last evening.

Jane Wagner, Bldg. 8-2, plays the feminine lead as the vicar's wife and E. G. Stock, Bldg. 17-4,

(Continued on page 4)

FORT WAYNE WORKS
NEWS

Volume 34 Friday, March 2, 1951 No. 9

Lou Rotterman ..... Editor
Virginia Molden ..... Assistant Editor
K. Marian Davies ..... Divisional News Coordinator

A Lesson in Socialism

(A letter from Thomas J. Shelly, teacher of Economics and History, Yonkers High School, Yonkers, New York.)

As a teacher in the public schools, I find that the socialist-communist idea of taking "from each according to his ability," and giving "to each according to his need" is now generally accepted without question by most of our pupils. In an effort to explain the fallacy in this theory, I sometimes try this approach with my pupils:

When one of the brighter or harder-working pupils makes a grade of 95 on a test, I suggest that I take away 20 points and give them to a student who has made only 55 points on his test. Thus each would contribute according to his ability and—since both would have a passing mark—each would receive according to his need. After I have juggled the grades of all the other pupils in this fashion, the results is usually a "common ownership" grade of between 75 and 80—the minimum needed for passing, or for survival. Then I speculate with the pupils as to the probable results if I actually used the socialistic theory for grading papers.

First, the highly productive pupils—and they are always a minority in school as well as in life—would soon lose all incentive for producing. Why strive to make a high grade if part of it is taken from you by "authority" and given to someone else?

Second, the less productive pupils—a majority in school as elsewhere—would, for a time, be relieved of the necessity to study or to produce. This socialist-communist system would continue until the high producers had sunk—or had been driven down—to the level of the low producers. At that point, in order for anyone to survive, the "authority" would have no alternative but to begin a system of compulsory labor and punishments against even the low producers. They, of course, would then complain bitterly, but without understanding.

Finally, I return the discussion to the ideas of freedom and enterprise—the market economy—where each person has freedom of choice, and is responsible for his own decisions and welfare.

Gratifyingly enough, most of my pupils then understand what I mean when I explain that socialism—even in a democracy—will eventually result in a living-death for all except the "authorities" and a few of their favorite lackeys.

SICK LIST

The following people have been reported on the sick list, dismissed from the hospital and returned to work:

Sick List

Marie DeVaux, R. C. Renfrew, Marjorie M. Seibert, Kenneth Miller, Ruth Troyer, Mildred M. Fettinger, Elaine R. Frankhart, Marjorie M. Kline, John C. Krauter, Catherine Andrews, Maurice Houlton, Ellen Ditlinger, Lindsay Eastes, Delores Heaston, Walter J. Koehlinger, George A. Lamboley, Loretta Miller, Vera Neate, Kieth Parks, Margaret Stuck, James W. Templeton, Dorothy J. Wonderly, Flora Stricot, Irene Winecke, Julia Dillard, Mabel O'Neil, Arthur C. Koons, Bethel Heersche, James Barton, Magdaline Laughlin, Helen Keim, Emma Black, Edith McKeon, Lucille Quirk, Margaret Gerardot, Arthur H. Koeneman, Dorothy M. Lee, Viliace H. Lee, Mildred Sarrazin, Erwin Richter, Lewis G. Reith, Ruth Ann Wichern, Leland Hastings, Peter Mueller, Charlene M. Heinzelman, Clarence Pion, Glenn W. Fletter, Betty Bakalar, Lillian Hall, Norma Jean Book, Carl E. Wiegmann, Thurston Howell, Catherine Stanton, Maxine Bakle, Bruce Smith, Irene Williams, Clara Linderman, Beulah Howard, Gladys Strong and Aleda McWherter.

Dismissed From Hospital

Betty Denney, Morton G. Pugh, Beatrice Stolte, Glenn Calvert, Esther Johnson, Dorothy Edgar, William Brunner, Reba Wilkerson, Forrest Reed, Elaine Frankart and Marlin Johnson.

Returned To Work

Eileen F. Johnson, Donald J. Lauer, Laurel Weaver, Zora Van Skycock, Robert A. Bunyan, Helen Buck, Lillian Krudop, William E. Gouldice, Percy Lofton, John Brandeberry, Edward Trissel, Nora Dudgeon, Grace Bullard, Charles R. Kiess and Otto Witte.

Information Clinic

QUESTION:

Since G-E employees here have new sick benefit insurance which started Dec. 1, 1950, would an employee receive benefits from the new plan under the following conditions:

An employee was off sick prior to Dec. 1, 1950, and received hospital benefits in addition to weekly MBA benefits which were less than 14 weeks. I understand the amount of 14 weeks was the maximum one could receive payments from the MBA during any one illness, and in a period of one year. Assuming the employee joined the new sick benefit insurance plan, would that employee receive any benefits if hospitalization was again required before a period of one year had elapsed since the receipt of benefits from the MBA?

ANSWER:

Yes. The employee would be eligible to the full extent of coverage offered by the new plan. Any benefits accruing to the employee from the MBA, previous to Dec. 1, 1950, would not limit or affect subsequent benefits under the new plan.

PENSIONER PARADE

Mr. and Mrs. Clark Essig will celebrate 50 years of married life Sunday with a family dinner and Open House at their home in Ossian. Dinner for the immediate family will be served at Eve's Cafe. The Open House for all their friends and neighbors will be held from 2 to 5 p.m. and Mr. and Mrs. Essig have extended an invitation to all their G-E friends to stop in and see them.

Mr. and Mrs. Clark Essig will celebrate their Golden Wedding Anniversary Sunday at their home in Ossian.

Lillie Benz and her sister admire the poinsettias at her sister's home in La Verne, Calif.

Mr. Essig was a Specialty Transformer and Ballast Divisions employee for 29 years. He retired in May, 1946.

The Essigs were married in 1901 at Hoagland. They have a daughter, Mrs. Irene Heekber, and a son, Donald, two grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

They live at 108 Roe St., Ossian. Mr. Essig's hobbies are any kind of carpentry work and his garden. Mrs. Essig keeps busy sewing, cooking and taking care of their bungalow.

L. Benz in California

Lillie Benz is now living in La Verne, Calif., since retiring from Bldg. 4-3. She spends much of her time seeing the sights in California and recently returned from a 125 mile trip to the San Bernardino Mountains. . . . A. W. Pfeiffer has moved to 4520 Lafayette Esplanade and is looking forward to working the yard and getting the roses started. . . . Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Ross have returned home from a trip to Florida. They visited nearly every point of interest in the state, including St. Petersburg, Sarasota, Silver Spring, Daytona Beach and the Cypress Gardens. They said the weather was wonderful all the time and they even managed to get a little sun burn. They had several interesting adventures in unexpectedly meeting people they knew from "back home in Indiana."

By This Time you know if you guessed right or wrong. Did March come in like a lamb or lion or couldn't you tell? Whether right or wrong, we must have weather, whether or not. . . . Did You Know that Loretta Puff and her husband who own and operate the K-9 ranch have plotted out ground to be used for burial grounds for your pets? Not only that, but there will be headstones, flowers, and everything that goes with it. If interested, all you have to do is start dialing. . . . To Continue On with Webster's new dictionary for Wire Mill employees only: Rough, ruff; Property, propity; Started, starded; Dozen, dosen; Cement, seemeant; Pension, pentson; Bouquet, bowkay; Government, giverment. Don't worry, this is not all, we have more to cum. . . . In Veterans Hospital at Fort Wayne is Glenn Fletter, who is undergoing a series of observations. We wish you the best of everything, Glenn. . . . Just Because Joe Stalin's face looks like a hub cap is no sign he's the big wheel. . . . This Week's bouquet of carrots goes to Joe C. of our Inspection Section for so gallantly persevering in his plumbing career despite his total inability to plumb. . . . Thought For the Coming Week "Confidence:" He is vain who puts his trust in men or in things created. Depend not upon yourself, but place your hope in God. Do what you can, and God will he with your good will.

Our deepest sympathy to Martin Mills, whose mother died. . . . Birthday greetings to Bill Altekruse, Sam Henry, John Rodman and Ray Bailey. . . . I bet Joe Bar will be a little more cautious the next time he has his wife push him. His jeep wouldn't start, so his wife pushed him in the car. After the jeep got started, he came merrily on to work; and then the car got stuck and she had to walk back home. The air around the house that night was almost as cool as the snow bank in which she slipped and fell down. . . . Dutch Gaskill should get suspenders. How do you suppose that happened so fast, Dutch? . . . Wonder why "The Faultless" took the sign down over his desk? You should know that you can't get ahead of those fellows, Al? . . . Art Everett rode with Ted Waggoner from Broadway to Taylor St. Ted took him around to the West side of the plant. Art got out of the car and walked back to the East side of the plant. . . . Did you ever hear of anyone's trying to pay the candy girl with the straws he got off of her wagon? Harold Stinebacker got rolls and milk from the wagon and held out the straws to pay for them. She asked him what she was supposed to do with them before he discovered that she wanted money. . . . Al Hans has joined the rest of the soup drinkers. He does have a few teeth left, but not enough to be seen. . . . Bob "Joe College" Fritz has a new type hair cut. He says it does have its advantage. He didn't have to go to church because his wife wouldn't be seen out with him.

Three Employees Here To Play in Gershwin Concert Saturday Eve

Three G-E employees, Marian Leiter, Bldg. 17-4, Lester Redding, Bldg. 26-3, and J. F. Stenberg, Taylor St., will be members of the Fort Wayne Philharmonic Orchestra at the all-Gershwin "pop" concert slated to be presented at 8:30 p.m. Saturday evening in the Quimby Auditorium.

Eunice Podis, one of the country's outstanding pianists, will appear as soloist. She will be heard with the orchestra in a performance of "Rhapsody in Blue" and the "Concerto in F."

Works Here Sponsors "Gatesway to Sports"

The Fort Wayne Works is sponsoring the Hilliard Gates "Gatesway to Sports" radio program, management sources announced this week. The program is heard five nights a week from 6:15 to 6:25 p.m. on station WKJG, 1320 on the radio dial.

The last rain and freeze proved not a little disconcerting to Dorothy Goshorn, who at quitting time went to her car and found the windshield covered with ice. She removed a scraper from her purse and proceeded to remove the ice. After the job was completed, and upon entering the car, she discovered that she had operated upon the wrong car. Very much disgusted, she then looked up her own car and did the same job over again. . . . The girls of the Winding Section were very pleasantly surprised by a visit paid them by Beulah Bailey. As the big Elex Club pancake supper was but a few days off, she was invited by her former co-workers to be their guest and attend the affair. Mable Miller acted as chief pilot for her division and outdid all of them by eating more flapjacks than anyone in the house. She was not a little disappointed when there were no chicken necks on the menu. . . . Clarence Lahman, who has been basking in the warm sunshine of Key West, Fla., for the past month, has finally arrived back with us. He was just in time to get in on the tail end of the last severe cold snap. On the day of Clarence's return to work, Joe Turley said that he heard a tremendous blare of sirens coming down Brooklyn Ave. Upon closer observation, he discovered that it was Clarence being conducted to the Taylor St. plant by a large escort of state and city police. . . . Some of the fellows called up George Cowan a few Saturdays ago, inviting him to accompany them on an ice fishing expedition. He declined, saying that he was too busy helping his wife get their fall housecleaning done. It seems to us that it is a little late for this sort of thing, as spring is just around the corner. In just a few more weeks, he will have to begin to do the job all over again.

Opposites often team up, as when the head of the house foots the bills.

Birthday greetings of the week go to Paul Billue. . . . Paul Hapner is spending this week in the Sunny South; Florida, to be exact. . . . We wonder if Barney Heaston likes the color of the pink cards the Police Department put on his windshield for parking all day in a three-hour zone. . . . Dorothy Jensen is driving a new car (Dodge). She claims that she hates to get rid of her Chevrolet. . . . Did everybody hear the shrieking noise in the Small Lot Section? That was Charlotte Clover hollering when a mouse jumped out of her locker as she opened it. . . . Congratulations to Bea McClure for her birthday and wedding anniversaries in the past week. . . . Welcome to George Smith, Aircraft Section, and Imogene Meyers, Betty Lu Jacobs, Edward Strasser, H. R. Williams and Charles Wheeler, office.

The item of the week was Lawrence Beaty's dropping the coin off his forehead into the funnel inserted in his belt. Larry knew he could do the trick all right, but didn't know there was a can of cold water that went along with it. . . . Jess Batchelder was seen at the Sectional Tournament with some of his children. So far we haven't been able to find out if he made one of them stay at home so he could go to the games or not. . . . Bob RePine, Bill Johnson, Paul Boedeker and Bill Barter spent the weekend at Houghton Lake, Mich. Reports have it that Bill Johnson was practicing fly casting with his ice tackle. He was very successful in landing several bird's nests and one small perch. He thinks he will be in trim by the time the ice is all gone. Bob Repine is quite the driver too, making it three deep going down the highway. . . . Now that the Sectionals are over will Bill Herring be able to get his shirt buttoned after hitting the 297 total points for Saturday's games? He probably won't be able to do that again. . . . Birthday greetings to William Siler, Forest Gee and Russell DeVeny.

Foremen Will Install Officers Wednesday

The Foremen's Association will hold an installation of recently-elected officers Wednesday, March 7, in the Kreis Stolzenau Hall, Bill Schible, retiring president, announced this week.

Entertainment will feature moving pictures and a talk by Red Braden, manager of the champion, semi-professional Capehart baseball team. Dee Hamilton, team coach, will give sidelights on the team's trip to Tokyo.

Refreshments and cards will follow the program. Members of the Supervisors' Club will be guests at the meeting.

Our sympathy is extended to Myron Cox, whose mother died recently. . . . That old fellow, bad luck, seems to have a grudge against Bonnie Asies' home. A few days ago, Bonnie slipped and fell on the back porch of her home. Results: bad bruises and sore muscles. About a week later, her husband was hit by a car while crossing the street near their home. He received a fractured ankle. . . . Bob Buck bowled in a tourney at Toledo over the week-end. All Bob had to show for his efforts was a patch on his thumb. . . . Our new employees are Dean King, Jr., Elmer Prickett and James Englebrecht. . . . Rodney Dush reported back to work. Lots of good luck, Rodney. . . . Birthday congratulations to Carl Redding and Shirley Cunningham. . . . We're sorry to hear about Carl Sorenson's accident and hope that he will soon be up and around again. Carl lives at 3914 Lillie. He would be glad to have his friends call. . . . The Armature Coil Sections of Bldg. 19-2 unite with the family and many friends in mourning the death of John J. Butler. A kindly, courteous and considerate gentleman, he had for a long time operated one of the banding fixtures. He was frequently consulted by supervisors and engineers regarding problems of unusual banding applications. He was outstanding in his service to his fellowmen and utterly inflexible in following the precepts of the Faith in which he was born and in which he died. May he rest in peace.

CITED FOR SAFETY PERFORMANCE—Rohert Wylie, General Superintendent of Works Service & Contributing Divisions, is shown presenting a Meritorious Safety Performance Certificate to H. A. Hire, Superintendent of the Wire Division here. The Safety Section explained that the award was made as a result of the Wire Division's "excellent" severity record.

Father Flanagan's Boys Town Choir Included in Elex Plans

Father Flanagan's Boys Town Choir will appear at the closed November meeting of the Elex Club, according to plans completed at the organization's annual Mid-winter Conference. The Conference was held Saturday in the YWCA to plan for the remainder of the club year.

The one-day session began with a luncheon at 12:30 p.m. The theme of the affair was "In My Gondola" and tables were arranged with miniature gondolas filled with flowers and Venetian bridges. Berneta Welbaum, vice-president, served as toastmistress.

The following decisions were made at the conference.

1. The Elex Club will hold its own fall conference in September of this year. Last year the fall conference was held jointly with Inter-Club.

2. Club dues will be increased to $2.50 to help meet increased program costs.

3. The annual Father-daughter Party will be changed to a Sunday, when members and their fathers will attend a Daisy softball game.

4. The Elex Club will sponsor a one-day outing to Cedar Point in June.

5. The club will attend an operetta at the News-Sentinel Outdoor Theater in Franke Park on a Sunday.

6. The Elex Club will sponsor a one-day trip to Chicago to attend a performance of "South Pacific," if tickets are available.

7. It was decided to change Elex colors from silver and blue to navy blue and chartreuse so that they will not coincide with the GeCode Club's colors.

Defense Role Stressed

The banquet at 5:30 p.m. was centered around the theme of "In Central Park." Tables were decorated with replicas of hansom cabs filled with daffodils. Miss Stone acted as toastmistress and Ab Martin, Works Manager, gave the main address following dinner. Mr. Martin spoke on the challenge presented to women in the country's efforts to combat inflation and also on women's role in the country's defense projects.

Brief talks were also given by I. H. Freeman, Supervisor of Personnel, and Ivan D. Rinehart, Assistant Supervisor of Personnel. Doris McKeefer, Elex secretary, reviewed the decisions reached in the afternoon meeting. The conference was closed by Mr. Freeman, who read the Creed for General Electric Women.

Blood Cards Due

Blood donor cards should be returned to the Women's Activities Office at Broadway or the Employment Office at Taylor St. today, according to Geraldine Schmidt, who is in charge of the Elex blood activities.

Contact girls distributed donor cards earlier this month in cooperation with the Red Cross National Blood Program.

35-YEAR MAN—Raymond E. Pumphrey, Bldg. 31-2, (third from right) has completed 35 years of service with General Electric. He celebrated his anniversary Thursday, Feb. 1, when his Motor and Generator engineering associates congratulated him. Left to right are M. A. Baker, P. S. Stough, R. A. VanHorn, Mr. Pumphrey, K. R. McDougal and R. E. Hamilton.

COMPLETES 30 YEARS WITH G-E—Herbert L. Harter, Bldg. 26-4, (center) completed 30 years of employment Friday, Feb. 2. At that time, he received a congratulatory letter from Manager W. C. Wichman commending him for his long service record. Left to right in the photograph are W. H. Crouse, Paul Peterson, Mr. Harter, his son Max and Glenn Hobbs.

Benefit Reports

(Continued from page 1)

assumption that earnings will remain at their Dec. 31, 1950, level. Changes in earning rates will, of course, result in a different retirement income. The personal report for women employees is slightly different in that retirement income is computed at normal retirement age of 60.

Maturity Value Shown

Each participant in the G-E Employees Savings and Stock Bonus Plan will be able to see from the report the maturity value of U. S. Savings Bonds he had on deposit with the Company as of Dec. 31, 1950, the number of shares of stock credited to his account and the accumulated income on the stock bonus from the time of participation in the plan.

The third section of the personal report covers the improved Insurance Plan. It shows the amount of life insurance which would be paid to a participating employee's beneficiary, and weekly sickness and accident benefits for which the employee is eligible.

According to W. W. Trench, Secretary of General Electric, this is the first time the Company has prepared a personal report of this type. He said the idea is rather unique and is not done to a great extent in industry. Early in 1950, participants in the Employee Savings and Stock Bonus Plan received a report of their status in that plan. Mr. Trench said the personal reports will be revised from time to time, but probably not on an annual basis.

Remember that man who decided to take to the hills in the south? In fact, it was down in West Virginia. That's right, it was L. P. Larenitis (Larry for short). Frank Coulter recently received a letter from Larry. He is enjoying life down south and is thinking of investing in a television set. Larry said the reception is wonderful there. We hope he gets many hours of enjoyment from his set. Write again soon, Larry. . . . Al Nahrwold's favorite pet peeve is onion breath. . . . Did you see those happy faces last Friday? An article in the newspaper caused all this. A new medicine has been discovered to grow hair on one's head. Oh, happy day! . . . Clayton Dafforn and Rudy Rastenburg had a fine set-up all ready to give Charlie Waltemath a real for sure shock. He finally walked right into it. The comical thing was when Rudy accidentally walked into it and got the shock himself. . . . We were sorry to hear of the death of John Butler's father. We'd like to express our sympathy. . . . Glenn Goshorn secretly let the cat out of the bag last week. He wished to purchase a new suit. Lo and behold, he looked all over town and after visiting about 10 stores, he finally decided on one. Glenn, you shouldn't have told this since your pet peeve about women is their shopping routine. Ted Schlup thinks you out-do the women. . . . Have you been smiling this week? If not, how about it! This is National Smile Week.

RECEIVES GIFTS AT RETIREMENT—Susannah Romey, Bldg. 26-3, (right) received numerous gifts at a retirement party held recently. She is shown being presented a mixer and a table roaster from her foreman, W. H. Edmunds; Doris Hill, Audrey Oberley and Helen Landrie. Mrs. Romey began working at General Electric in 1943. Upon completion of the factory training course, she worked as an assembler at the Taylor St. plant. Since 1945, she has worked in Bldg. 26-3 on assembly.

Hobby Show

(Continued from page 1)

rangements for the show:

Frank Calkins, Taylor St., assistant chairman; Erven Huth, Bldg. 20-2, and Ralph Heminger, Taylor St., general arrangements; Harry Murphy, Bldg. 4-2, model cars and boats; W. E. Cornelius, Bldg. 19-B, woodworking; Charles Gable, Taylor St., ceramics; Melvin Faust, Taylor St., model airplanes; A. L. Olson, Taylor St., sports; Paul Perry, Bldg. 4-6, photography; Henry Witber, Bldg. 19-4, stamps and collections; Robert Neeb, Bldg. 4-5, and E. K. Wolfe, Bldg. 20-2, miscellaneous; Robert Johnson, Bldg. 4-6, model trains, and Lou Rotterman, publicity.

Any hobby may be entered in the show. Last year's exhibits included such displays as electric trains, canaries, oil paintings, hot rods, ceramics, stamps and covers, model engines, antiques, flowers, needlework, flowers, cats, photography, power tools and sports.

Ninety-six employees entered displays in last year's show and it is hoped that this year's Hobby Show will surpass that number, Mr. Wingerter said today.

There will be no charge for entering hobbies in the show and complete arrangements will be made for displays. The G-E Club carries full insurance on displays for the protection of exhibitors, Mr. Wingerter explained.

Suggestion Awards

(Continued from page 1)

mitted during 1949.

A $2,185 award at the Erie Works, Refrigerator Division, was the highest single award in 1950. Two employees, also at the Erie Works, Refrigerator Division, shared a $2,165 prize, the second highest. The third highest was for $2,000, awarded at the Lockland Plant, Large Apparatus Division.

In 1949, the highest single award, $2,750, also was paid to an employee of the Erie Works, Refrigerator Division. A $3,000 award, the highest in suggestion award history, was paid in 1946 at the River Works.

Devil's Disciple

(Continued from page 1)

W. K. Boltz, Bldg. 4-6, and Paul Binder, Bldg. 18-4, are British officers in the cast.

The play is a comedy set in New England during the American Revolutionary War period. It will be given again this evening, tomorrow and Sunday at 8:30 p.m.

Parking Lots

(Continued from page 1)

conditions were caused by the extreme winter weather and were not confined to G-E parking lots, but to many streets throughout the city.

Mr. Beatty said cinders and gravel would be hauled in and holes would be filled in the lots as long as there is any need for filling.

"Unfaithfulness in the keeping of an appointment," wrote the great educator, Horace Mann, "is an act of clear dishonesty. You might just as well borrow a person's money as his time."

The following G-E employees left the Company this week to enter the armed forces:

Robert E. Hill, Peter R. Perino, Jack L. Decker, Walter D. Zion, Henry G. Betley, Richard Wolfe, Philip E. Chamness, Paul E. Henricks, Jr., Wendell M. Heckley, Herbert C. Langer, Agnes Neidefer, Eugent A. Holdgrove, and Maurice W. Carr.

Cpl. Frank W. Hopper AF22966641
163rd Fighter Squadron
Baer Field, Fort Wayne, Ind.

T-Sgt. Harold C. Fremion 35332519
163rd Fighter Squadron
Baer Field, Fort Wayne, Ind.

PFC. H. F. Trautman ER-35252370
2nd Chemical Motor Co.
APO 301 c/o Postmaster
San Francisco, Calif.

Pvt. Thomas Walchel US55111341
Btry. D 515th ABN. FA. BN.
Camp Breckinridge, Ky.

PFC. Don A. Pace 1050414
A Co. LST Bn. 7th Marine
1st Marine Div. M.S.M.
c/o FPO, San Francisco, Calif.

Pvt. Paul E. Henricks US55111311
Co. C, 53rd ABN. Inf. Regt.
101st Airborne Div.
Camp Breckinridge, Ky.

Howard Ream S.R. 326-1077
Co. 284 U.S.N.T.C.
Great Lakes, Ill.

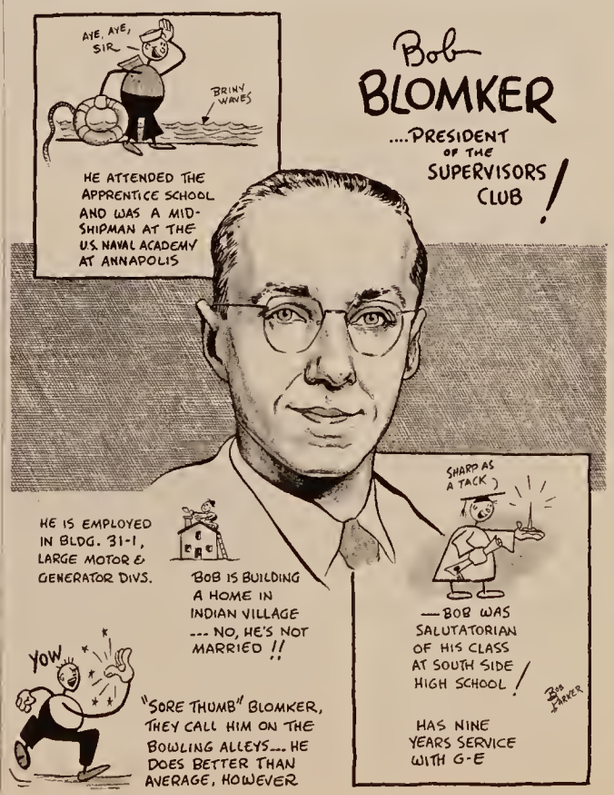
Uncapher Saves

(Continued from page 1)

mate. All of the savings represent improvements in materials, methods and technique.

In making the announcement of the group's record breaking goal, Mr. Belanger said, "The significant improvements and savings represented by activities such as yours are not only important from a cost reduction standpoint, but bear a vital relationship to improved customer relationships as well. And now, as we are entering an important defense period, the shortened manufacturing cycle and improved production that also results is of great national importance." Mr. Salmonsen's citation declared that the savings were not only of great value and importance in their own right, but could serve as a goal for other cost reduction groups.

Mr. Bush emphasized the importance of the improved techniques to the rapidly expanding production requirements of the defense program.



Mr. Uncapher and his wife live at 437 Rose Lane.

PFC. W. W. Shaffer 35336797
13th Ordnance AVP GP.
192 Ord. Bn. APO 59
c/o Postmaster
San Francisco, Calif.

Pvt. James R. Laymon 16359763
2nd Trng. Bn., 6th Co. 2nd Plt.
409th Engr. Spec. Brigade
Ft. Mac Arthur, Calif.

Pvt. Robert L. Gebert US5111314
Co. B,
432nd Engr. Construction Bn.
Camp Peckett, Va.

Meet the President

"THIS I WANT TO SEE"

Last week I read an item,
And I wonder whether you,
In glancing through your paper
May have read the item too.

It had to do with patents
And I'm sure if it is true
We can soon tell John L. Lewis,
Where to go and what to do.

It seems that two inventors
Have devised a simple way
To burn, of all things, water,
At least that's what they say.

They can heat a home, four hours
It is claimed in this report,
With their water burning gadget,
And it only takes a quart.

Sixteen hours to the gallon,
This, I'll really have to see,
Don't know how it sounds to others,
But it sounds like bunk to me.

Oh, I know with each discovery
There are always folks like me,
Who will say, "I don't believe it,"
Just because they fail to see.

I admit this stuff we're drinking,
Broken down, is H-2-0.
But to break it down and burn it,
I just can't believe it's so.

But they're asking for a patent.
And if granted, it will mean
We have two more great inventors
And a poet that's off his bean.

So it may be in the future,
When it's down to 10 below
We will all be snug and comfy
Burning plain old H-2-0.

—W. L. Whonsetler

WAISTLESS WALTER! You wouldn't believe it, but the husky dog foot is none other than W. L. Whonsetler as he appeared during World War I (the big war). Can't you just imagine Walter squatting like that now? Perhaps after his calorie dodging diet he will be able to do it again. . . . WANTED: Charlie Koomjohn needs a rubber phone. These plastic phones make too much noise. Charlie's latest routine is to bounce the phone on his desk when he can't hear good. . . . CAN'T RESIST: Carl Mann went to a farm sale and learned he should have been listening when he was talking. He now owns some more farm machinery. . . . PROMPT: Since Marge Walker has a new car she will be getting to work earlier even though she can't drive yet. . . . PICKUP SERVICE: Denton Manecke ordered six tickets to the Piston's game. When he went to pick them up someone had already picked up four of them for him. He was mad enough to whip the Lakers' team single handed. . . . HAW, HAW: That blood thirsty laugh coming from the Commercial Section isn't all coming out of Herm Priwer; part of it comes out of Jellison. It sounds like a joyous place to work. . . . HIGH VOLTAGE: If anyone has one of these 18-cell batteries to sell, see Bob Kirby. He has a special application for it. . . . YOU STILL HERE? Everyone asks Judy Clark when she is going to leave. She will be here until March 9. . . . HOT ROD SPAULDING: What's this about Ernie Spaulding wearing orange shoe strings? On you they sure look swell. That key chain holder is pretty flashy too. It must be the latest style, Ernie. You sure make a good looking hepcat.

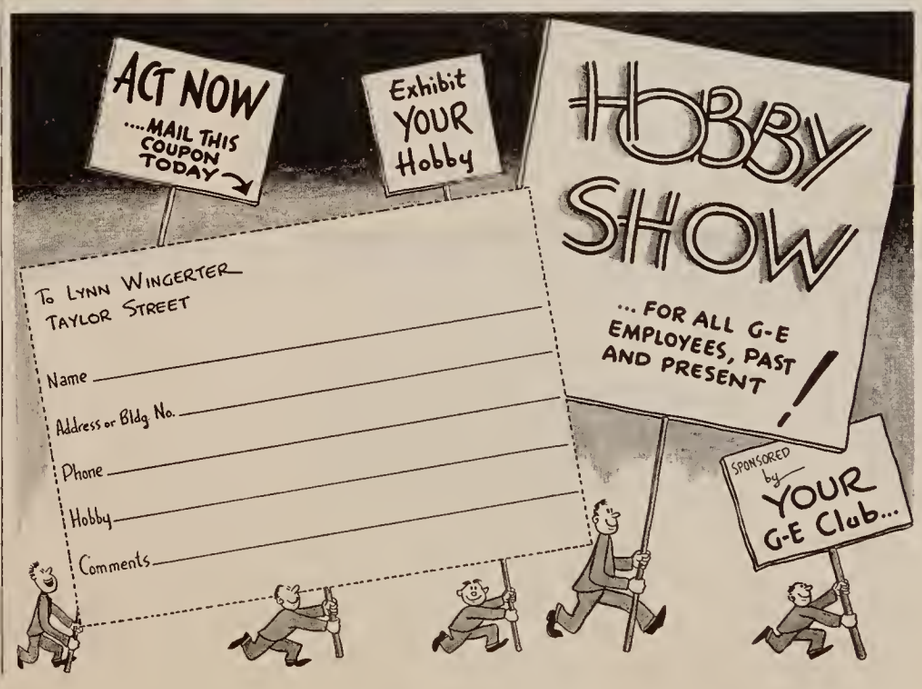
Hot Rod Spaulding

. . . BYE BYE. Farewell to Bonnie Klenke, who leaves today to take up her household duties. . . . CONGRATS: Happy birthday to Frank Moody. . . . SIGNS OF THE TIMES: Definition of the word "offer" is "to attempt to make or give" or "to present for acceptance or refusal." For further information see Margaret Taylor. . . . MORE CIVIC ENTHUSIASTS: Last week we mentioned our civic enthusiast, Phil Campbell. Phil wants you all to know, he is not alone in his stage adventures. Paul Binder and Wilbur Boltz are very enthusiastic Civic Theatre players and both have parts in the forthcoming production "The Devil's Discipline." That makes it that much more inviting, doesn't it? LEFT CAR RUNNING, WHAT NEXT? If you are undecided what make of automobile to invest in, I am sure Herb Reitz will swear to it that the 1951 Chevy is the most quiet running vehicle. In fact, it is so quite that one day last week, when he arrived at work, he turned off the radio, locked the car and proceeded to do his daily task, only to receive a telephone call from the Fairfield Gatehouse asking him what his license number was. Result: Herb had to make a mad dash back to the parking lot to shut off the ignition. . . . CONGRATS: We would like to extend heartiest congratulations to Sam Moore, whose birthday was yesterday. Also to Maxine Lonergan, Mar. 7, now on leave of absence. . . . DEEPEST SYMPATHY: Our sincere sympathy to Walter Brake on the death of his mother.

We have heard of people hoarding different things, but Selma Voight doesn't believe in hoarding thermos bottles. . . . There is a mystery. What happened to Clarabelle Whiteman last Monday. . . . Dorothy Weiler graduated from driving lessons and drove the car to church all by herself. . . . George Marshand and Bob Johnson will give advice to anyone who wants to know about fishing on Houghton Lake. They seem to think fishing is just as good in Indiana, but you never know until you try. . . . Ruby Stoops had a beautiful dream. We hope your dream comes true, Ruby. . . . Hilda LeCoque has been going around with a stiff neck today. She helped her aunt wash down the kitchen ceiling, and it didn't agree with her. She says she is getting in practice for her new home. . . . Marg Stahl had a centerpiece of camelias and daphne on her dinner table Sunday which were sent air mail by Mr. and Mrs. Guy Plaisted of California to their parents Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Archold in honor of their 48th wedding anniversary.

Graduated

SHIPPING: The lost is found. The lost was a partly crocheted table cloth belonging to Eva Westrick for which she had hunted high and low. Said tablecloth was finally discovered in a very inconspicous corner at home. . . . A SMALL WAGER has Carl Wagner over a barrel. It's all because Carl thought he was very safe in betting the little woman a fur coat that she couldn't put anything over on him, but she did. Carl trades rides with another fellow. When Mrs. Wagner suggested that the other fellow drive last Tuesday so she could have the car for some important errands, Carl fell for the tale completely. The car in her possession, Mrs. Wagner proceeded to load up a large birthday cake for hubby and drive to the G-E. She had to have one of the boys get the cake and take it up to the third floor, where Carl works on second trick, and the party was on. Naturally, when Carl found out that she had put one over on him he tried to deny everything to the boys. His little offsprings and his wife are all witnesses against him so it looks like he's stuck. . . . CONGRATULATIONS to Barbara Rider and her hubby upon the recent purchase of a vine-covered cottage on the California Road. . . . SHE'S ENGAGED. Beverly Springer is wearing a sparkler which would knock your eye out. . . . HAPPY BIRTHDAY on next Wednesday to Del Bucher. . . . WHO HAS MORE FUN than Herman Ebel? He and the family went to see Spike Jones over the week-end, and Herman's still laughing. Bob Jellison tried to keep Herman's laughter flowing by telling him all the latest jokes he accumulated from various radio programs and also from the latest copy of Charlie's Joke Book. After hearing some of those jokes, we are fairly sure that they were from The Museum of Natural History Monthly. . . . MAILING: "In the spring a young man's thoughts turn to thoughts of paying off sectional bets." This is especially true of Jerry Gardner. . . . The warm weather is also bringing forth ye old saddle shoes but Bill "Cupcake" Fitzgerald has a terrible time keeping them clean. And here all this time we thought the idea was to see how dirty one could get them. . . . Glad to have Dan Leitch back with us after his spell in the hospital fighting with appendicitis. Dan won and we're glad to have him with us again. . . . Norm Gertz, trying his best to be a thoughtful fellow and our very observant driver of the week, very politely offered to drive Gene Docker to school last Monday because of the downpour. This was a very nice gesture on Norm's part. When old "Bouncing Bessie" reached Fairfield, she was just too low on gas to run. Poor "Doc" got the soaking of his life on the way to school. . . . Juanita Baker, the new multigraph operator, is doing a fine job and we're sure glad to have her on board. . . . Best of luck to Dorl Roe, who joined the gang in Bldg. 17-3.



The crown of all faculties is common sense. It is not enough to do the right thing, it must be done at the right time and place. Talent knows what to do; act knows when and how to do it.—W. Matthews.

RECEIVES CONGRATULATIONS ON 35-YEAR MARK—M. E. Irmscher, Bldg. 27 (second from left) completed 35 years of service Tuesday, Feb. 20. Several of his co-workers in the Large Motor and Generator Division extended their congratulations on his anniversary. Left to right are A. L. Stevenson, Foreman; Mr. Irmscher; R. M. Hartigan, Manager of Manufacturing, and A. N. Farrell, General Foreman.

We wish to welcome Frances Oberholtzer and Garnet Zollinger to second shift. . . . We hear that Gayle Goff is missing the trip to work each day. She doesn't get to hear the news from Taylor St. . . . Mary Rose and her husband are going to California. Their son Jim is to be sent overseas. . . . We have come to the conclusion that Virgil Bowers must be henpecked because the guy couldn't be so unhappy at work. . . . There is a rumor that the safety committee called a special meeting the other day. They were to decide whether a certain general foreman's daily doses of Hadacol could have anything to do with his over-confidence of a sure-footing. When he stepped out of his car on the icy parking lot, he discovered his feet were in the general region where what he was resting on should have been.

Insult Upon Injury—One of those cold, cold nights recently when our Payroll Girls worked overtime, Nila Hansen's husband picked her up out in front. Being Good Samaritans, they offered to drive Marinell Bosserman to the parking lot to her car. The family pooch had accompanied friend husband so Nila generously offered the front seat to Marinell, and Nila chose the back seat with the nice black cocker. All went well until the dog decided that he would ride in the front seat too. Having lost her husband and then her dog, the combination was almost too much. To make the story more gruesome—they were unable to get Marinell's car unlocked and they drove her quite a distance to the home of her brother. It just goes to show you how a well meant turn will sometimes backfire. Anyway—all is well now! . . . Matron of Honor—Phyllis Rudolph served as matron of honor for her sister's wedding last Saturday. . . . Happy Birthdays, Bldg. 18-2 — Francis Richards celebrated Feb. 21 and Elmer DeBolt, Feb. 23. It seems that everyone in Bldg. 18-2 was especially indebted to Mrs. DeBolt for the excellent chocolate cake which Elmer was passing about. . . . Farewell: It seems that time is marching on, and we say farewell to Vernon Kalb, who left us Thursday for Syracuse, N. Y., where he will continue his training as a patent attorney. . . . Charlotte Hallauer, Bldg. 18-4 is enjoying a week's vacation from her duties in Mr. Leider's office. . . . Epidemic—It would seem that many of our people have been the victim of the form of flu that has been traveling around. It really isn't any fun and something that you would not wish on your worst enemy. I know that at least Ruth Fritz and Mildred Whitmer will verify my statement. . . . Last Sunday, Elizabeth Carnell called on "Spike" Jones at the Quimby Theatre. . . . New Home—Last Sunday Opal Burnes, Bldg. 18-1, served her first company dinner in her new home on the Paulding Road. . . . Ides of March—Just in case you might have overlooked the approach of a very unpleasant date, March 15 is near. If you have not given the matter your undivided attention, it is about that time. . . . In spite of the wrecked streets and highways, everyone who owned an automobile was out driving last Sunday. Wasn't it grand and glorious to have the sun shine once again. There is always something the approach of spring and sunshine bring—housecleaning. The advantages overshadow the hindrances, however.

WIRE MILL EMPLOYEE RETIRES—John Klejnot (fifth from left) retired recently with almost 23 years of service. He is shown saying goodbye to his co-workers in the Wire Division at Taylor St. Left to right are Harley DeWitt, Beaufort Pickett, R. L. Kierspe, Assistant Superintendent; Hobart Friend, Mr. Klejnot, Melvin Yates, Dean Pratt, Max Pickard, Vaughn Sheets, foreman; and Arthur Sullivan. Mr. Klejnot began his employment at G-E in 1927 as a helper at Winter St. He then worked alternately at Bldg. 27 and Winter St. as an enamel dipper. Returning to Broadway in 1933, he was a sweeper in Bldgs. 12-1 and 2-3. At the time of his retirement, Mr. Klejnot repaired wire reels in the Wire Mill.

HONORED FOR IMPROVEMENT—A. N. Farrell, right, general foreman in the Large Motor & Generator Divisions here, is pictured receiving a Meritorious Safety Performance Certificate from R. M. Hartigan, Manager of Manufacturing. According to the Fort Wayne Works Safety Section, Farrell's Division won the award for "considerable improvement" in its 1950 accident rate. The Division also has an "excellent severity" record, Safety sources disclosed.

FRACTIONAL FACTS
Taylor St. Office

By Barbara Meyer

Wanted: Some binder twine so that Estelle Sewell can put the hem in her skirt—this time to stay, we hope. . . . Last Monday morning Marv Hamilton was called home from work to find his wife locked out of the house. In the excitement, Marv forgot his keys, so therefore he had to remove a window to enter the house. . . . We are all glad that Alice Nichens is back in the fold again. "I'm feeling fine," says Alice. . . . The Purchasing Division has added none other than Pete Uran to its personnel list. . . . We all miss Ruth Wichern, who has been ill for two weeks and hope that she has a speedy recovery. . . . The Regional Warehouse scheduling is now in the hands of Rosana Boyle, who has returned to work after a leave of absence. Rosana was a former employee of the Broadway Office, but her main occupation lately has been her very young son. . . . Joan Byanski Ball brought in some very interesting pictures taken on her recent honeymoon at Daytona Beach, Florida. Even though she was cheated of a real terrific tan by the delayed flight of her plane, the bathing suit pictures brought envious sighs from the gang in Billing. . . . "Three times a bridesmaid—never a bride." Evelyn Mast wishes to announce that she is no longer available as a bridesmaid—(She'd rather not run the risk of proving that old adage.) . . . An aside to Donna Hayes: You don't need to go to such extremes to convince us that you are such a conscientious worker. (Donna used to dream marvelous technicolor fantasies—but every night last week she dreamed she was typing invoices up at the office.) . . . Some more new faces in Customer Billing are Bonnie Lou Orem, who was formerly a finisher in Bldg. 26-4, and Anna Jane Skinner. . . . Transfers: Paul Magnuson to Billing in G. J. Becker's Section; Max Harris, Sales Accounting, and Max MacDougall from the Customer Billing to Accounting. Best of luck to you fellows in your new jobs. . . . Bob Wildermuth and "Red" Raney are trying to see who can last the longest without smoking a cigarette. It's anybody's guess who will give in first. . . . Fractional has two more members to add to the "21-ers-Club." Congratulations Phyllis Ann Westbrook, Feb. 24, and Ruth Raypole, March 1. . . . We are all expecting the Accounting basketball team to make a better showing at their match with the Firemen than they did when they met the Squares. . . . Congratulations are extended to Phyllis Morrison, Sales Accounting, in her recent marriage to Jim Fisher, Sunday, Feb. 25. They will live in their own hometowu of Decatur, Ind. Good luck, Phyl and Jim. . . . We hope to see Mary Kibiloski back to work real soon. The latest reports are that she is progressing and may return next week. . . . Welcome to the Ediphone Room, Janet Ellenberg. . . . FRIENDS(?) BEWARE: After Marjorie Bear's unsuccessful attempts to insert a white penny in a locker at the local bus terminal—(says she thought it was a dime)—she has decided to get rid of her collection of white pennies. . . . New fur coat owners: It's a luxurious mink for Mildred Schroeder and a very beautiful Persian Paw for Lucille Schelper. . . . Marilyn Franke, known to a lot of people as "Peanuts," is going to start driving to work, so everyone start clearing the roads. Her license number is DG5624. . . . Marilyn Parker would like to know if anyone has any old shoes of the high heel caliber. She claims that she wants to practice (?) walking in them. . . . There is speculation of the on-lookers as they watch June Gaunt earnestly knitting a pair of booties for Juanita Schrecongost's new baby girl born Feb. 17. Juanita is an ex-payroll girl—Come on, June, we're waiting for the finished garment, so don't disappoint us. . . . We all hope that Charlene Bly's little girl is well on her way to recovery from her recent burns.

Walter Shultz converted what started out to be an unfortunate situation into a pleasant experience for the son of his neighbor the other day. With his car hopelessly stuck in the mud, he remembered his neighbor had just bought a new tractor. He was given the assurance that help would be forthcoming very soon. Shortly, a roar was heard and down the road came the new tractor in all its bright and shiny glory piloted by the neighbor's son with his bright and shiny face overlooking the controls. The young man helped Walt out of his difficulty and returned home. Walt says the look of pleasure on the boy's face in realizing he had done a man-sized job and being permitted to drive the new machine was so gratifying that he thought he would make getting his car stuck a habit for the boy's sake. . . . Virgil Royer was stuck last week also; not in the mud, though; with a parking ticket instead. His friends tell me they have repeatedly warned him that when he parks in that particular spot he is breaking the law. But Virg was just as insistent that parking there was legal as he hadn't seen any signs to the contrary. However, the minions of the law decided the argument in favor of Virgil's friends. It was said that he was sadder than "Sad Sam" whose place he had visited. . . . Bob Skumaker was striken with a peculiar ailment the other day. It seems to be a condition suffered by a breed of sportsmen called ice-fishermen. The diagnosis as to why they should suffer this way has never been explained, but it could be called a lacerated lip condition resembling fresh-cut hamburger. If at anytime you are wandering over a frozen lake and you see a fisherman frantically chewing the ice off his line, you will have discovered how it is caused. Bob says that ice may be water in another form, but the ice on his lines was the hardest, sharpest water he had ever experienced. His friends noticed Bob wasn't his usual happy self early in the week and made a special effort to cheer him up and bring the smile back on his face. He wants them to know their frantic antics were well received, but it did tend to retard the healing up process considerably. . . . Some kind friend has performed a deed whose value to the floor cannot be measured. The deed, whereas it may not be fully appreciated by Archie Evans, certainly can be considered a decided benefit for all those he comes in contact with in his daily travels. What is it, you say? Why someone painted the bowl of his pipe a bright red and topped it off by spelling "Archie" around it in white letters. This pipe, a no gob, no goo, aluminum and briar job, a favorite of the sporty type of person, bids fair to become a chemical warfare secret weapon. When Archie fires it up, stand back or take your chances on asphyxiation. With the red warning, it should be easy now for everybody to be well away when Archie and his pipe appear. Maybe a bell on it would also help when he sneaks up on you.

A motorist complains that you have to get into the middle of intersections to see the sign posts. On the other hand, lots of drivers get into the middle of sign posts before they see the intersection.

"Lost" and "Found" articles must be cleared through the Plant Protection office, Bldg. 10-2, or the Plant receptionist, who will place the Ad-let and otherwise advertise the article.

Only one ad per employee may be inserted. Each ad must be limited to 20 words and cannot be repeated. All articles mentioned must be personal property of the employee. Ad will not be accepted unless accompanied by the name, pay number, and division of the employee. No works building or telephone number may appear in ad, only the home telephone number or address.

Send all ads to WORKS NEWS office, Bldg. 18-3.

No ad will be received over the telephone.

CLOSING DATE
Monday Noon, March 5, 1951

LOST AND FOUND

FOUND—One earring with a red and blue set. three brilliants and five pearls. Found by bus stop, corner College and Wall St.

FOUND—One key on Lindley Ave. parking lot.

FOUND—Pair of white gloves, found on west parking lot at Taylor St.

FOUND—Four keys and bottle opener on chain. Found in front of Bldg. 26.

FOUND—Pair blue and white coveralls. Turned in at Bldg. 19-Gate.

FOUND—Silver chain bracelet. Turned in at west gate at Taylor St.

FOUND—Pair of black cloth gloves. Found in ladies' rest room on third floor office building at Taylor St. Call for them at the Taylor St. Employment Office.

FOR SALE

LEFT HAND CORNER SINK—H-75502.

SUMP PUMP—G-E motor, brand new, never been used. E-3993.

PICKET FENCE—Made of 1"x4" material, 11 sections, each eight feet long.

HORTON WASHER—Baby's highchair, both in good condition, reasonable. H-78972.

BOY'S TROUSERS—Three pairs, size 12, cheap. H-66332.

KROEHLER STUDIO COUCH — Like new, $35. A-95303.

LEATHER JACKET—Size 38, excellent condition, new zipper and lining, $10. 829 Goshen Ave.

TWO BROODER HOUSES — 12'x15', good condition, reasonable. H-28539.

GIRL'S BICYCLE—Good condition, used very little, will sell very reasonable. H-75832.

LEFT HAND CORNER KITCHEN SINK —2636 Fox Ave. or H-75502.

SHELLED WHITE AUSTRALIAN HULLESS POPCORN—Money back if not satisfactory, 15 cents per pound. E-72062.

FOX FUR COAT—Worn only a few times, will sacrifice, no tax. H-9852 after 4 p.m.

MAPLE YOUTH BED—In first class condition. H-48755.

WHIZZER MOTOR BIKE—Best condition, new tires. Zanesville 8-U.

WANTED

BOOKCASE—Preferably sectional, good condition. E-66462.

TO RENT, GARAGE—Near G-E. Raymond Duff, R. R. 1, Yoder, Ind.

FOR RENT

THREE-ROOM APARTMENT—Modern, upper, furnished, 9 mi. west on St. Rd. 24, garden space, garage, employed couple. H-4795 after 5:30 p.m.

TRANSPORTATION

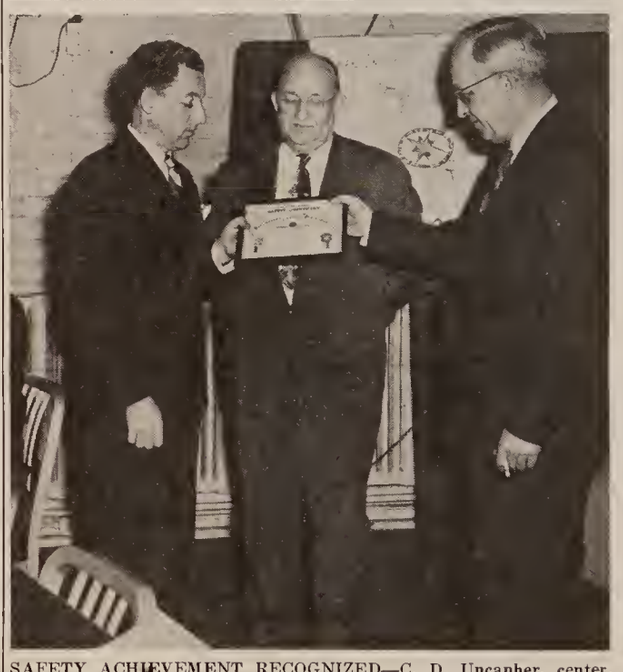
WANTS RIDERS OR RIDE — From Papakeechie Lake near Cromwell to Broadway. John Willig, Bldg. 6-3, works from 3:30-11:48.

WANTS RIDERS—From Huntington to Taylor St. from 3:18-11:43. Huntington 2836W.

WANTED RIDERS — From Auburn. Robert Penick, Bldg. 8, works from 8-5:15. Auburn 39-R.

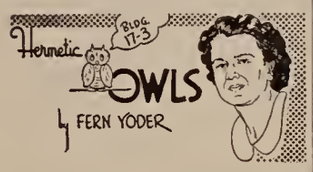
By Don Clark

DIE PLANT . . . Paul Rosenhahn, now stationed at Baer Field, paid us a visit recently. Already a long time model airplane enthusiast, Paul is happy to be associated with planes as a mechanic. . . . Oliver Lambert has some reserved feelings about our city streets. It seems that he hit one of those bomb craters causing his hub cap to fly off and roll down a side street. . . . Carl Zion thought he would take a drive in his new car and get out close to nature. Arriving in Wells County game reserve, he not only found nature but also Frank Staley. Frank attired in dark glasses was trying to get some interesting pictures of the elk. . . . Anticipating a demonstration of television, Leo Hines anxiously watched the erection of the aerial. As soon as everything was ready, they entered the living room to relax and watch the program. Suddenly it happened! With a crash, the aerial tumbled over and down on the roof ending the show for that day. . . . Everyone except the mice was glad to see Earl Lenz come back on the day shift. It seems the mice are missing those evening snacks. . . . Stewart Bohrer took one of Elmer Auman's jobs to Walter Greiner. When asked about the job, Stewart told Elmer, "It had Greiner's name on the envelope." Elmer then said "Well the name 'Superdie' is on here too, why not take it to him?" "I tried to but I couldn't find him," was Stewart's reply. . . . We welcome James Lee, who is working in the check room group. Elmer Fuhrman is another new face on the second shift. . . . If any of you country-dwellers are missing any goats see Orval Smith. He has a goat-skin coat to wear ice-fishing. . . . We bid farewell to Cliff Bieber, who has returned to the Apprentice School to continue his training. . . . Mr. and Mrs. Elwin Coolidge find Florida much to their liking. They are making a second journey for a two weeks vacation. . . . Bob Benz thinks that 88 on his Oldsmobile designates the cruising speed. Don't be fooled, Bob. You're supposed to add eight and eight to get your cruising speed—16 mph. . . . Somehow Clayton Racquet seemed mighty happy that Central won the tournament with 1459 points. . . . Tomorrow is an important day for the Frank Woenker family. They are moving into their new home. . . . Apparently the entertainment world has been missing a good thing. Glen Staight, our check room soloist, has plenty of support concerning his vocal talent. . . . Did you notice how quiet Julian Franke has been concerning politics lately? No, he isn't backing down. It's just a cold squeezing his voice box every time he tries to talk. . . . "Ho Hum—Oh Boy" and a big stretch gets Al Clark off to a fast start every afternoon. . . . Don Willeke has taken on a big burden with 14 new mouths to feed. Pigs, that is. With his wife taking care of them by day, Don thinks they will pull through okay. . . . Charlie Laymon, now in the Navy and stationed in Florida, was heard on Ted Mack's Amateur Hour in a harmonica duet. . . . A gathering was held Wednesday to honor Joe (Lucia) Mettler on his 30th anniversary with the company. Several interesting facts were brought out. Marion More exploded a 30-year old secret by revealing Joe's middle name. Joe's funniest episode was about the new toolmaker who started grooving a height gage to see the lines better. The same toolmaker had a carpenter square and a couple of saws for tools. Of course, someone had to remind Joe of the time he gave that good, bird dog away. It was good all right but also blind and couldn't hear. Congratulations, Joe, and also to Carl Schone on his 35th year with G-E. . . . That chesty attitude of Milo Rauner comes from one thing, a new baby boy. Congratulations, Mr. and Mrs. Rauner! . . . For many years, Nolan Lowden has been trying to purchase some of John Hensler's personal items at bargain prices. The deals have never been completed though since John's price always seems too high. But this week Nolan sprung the trap. John had offered to sell his pen for one dollar cash. Nolan picked it up and slapped down 50 cents claiming he will pay no more. Quickly, John scooped up the coin. Nolan was caught in his own trap. The pen was a 49 cent special and three months old to boot. . . . Safety Question—You want to live to grow much older, why not close that match book folder?

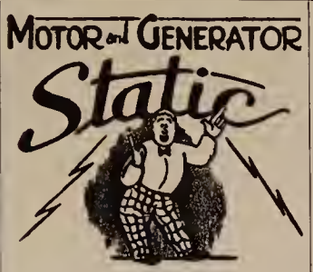


A certain pall of gloom descended on part of the office late Wednesday and Thursday. They have not fully recovered. Certain proponents of, N.S., S.S., and C.C. were rather quiet Monday. . . . Dick Baumbauer has a peculiar blue mark on his forehead. He claims it was caused by his daughter's toy. . . . Norma Bastian and Betty Foulks were visitors in our section last week. . . . Gordon Smith said he spent most of the week-end visiting the lower 40 of his country estate. He and Duke took an inventory of the lay of the land as to where he is going to plant his vegetable crop this spring. . . . The Aubreys are in the redecorating business, seems as though their plans of color combinations, etc., are up to their expectations. Green seems to be the predominating color, but that isn't due to some Irish ancestry. . . . The boys had a swell time at the party honoring Marv Hamilton. Hank Gollmer didn't think much of the night-crawler he found in his food until he discovered it was made of plastic. Mr. Hamilton was presented with some "unusual" gifts. . . . Kenny Sheehan is trying to get an education; he says not to mention it in the WORKS NEWS as he isn't prepared as yet to give an exhibition of public speaking. . . . Ed Schotter was in the other day and looked great. Hope it won't be long before he's back to work again. . . . Pat Anselman and her husband are visiting in the southern part of Texas and expect to make a short trip into Mexico. . . . The members of Planning Group are busy redecorating their homes. Spring cleaning came early at their houses. If anyone wants any papering or painting done, see Thomas Gable. He is an authority on furniture. The rest of the group are worrying that their wives will be finding work for them sooner than they had planned. . . . Gwen Hurraw has decided to take it slower coming down steps, as she stubbed her toe and thought she had broken it. We tried to talk her into putting it in a cast, but she decided it was only a bruise and did a little limping for a few days. . . . George Bridges had a long distance call from his daughter, Peggy, who is in school in Rockford, Ill., as to who won the basketball tournament. That's the old high school spirit in our "Hoop Happy" town.

REACHES 30-YEAR MARK—Albert H. Timme, FHP Div. 13 (fourth from left), reached the 3-decade mark Monday, Feb. 5. Several of his co-workers at Taylor St. then gathered to congratulate him on his anniversary. In the picture are H. E. Koehlinger, Chester Eastes, George App, Mr. Timme, Marion Oman, O. J. Meyer, Darnell Daniels and Clinton Romey.



It seems congratulations have been in order here on the floor for some time. Whether it was to be a secret or not, I don't know. However, we do wish many happy years of matrimony for Mr. and Mrs. Bob Gobel and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Mercer. . . . From the amount of telephone wire Ellen Marchenko had in her possession, one would think she intends to install several extensions in her home. . . . Red Holzworth was presented six puppies last week. We thought he might want to keep them all since he was so proud. He has been very liberal and found a home for each. . . . I hear Paul Noffze was very much upset over a postcard he recently received. It was a resemblance he can't deny. . . . Don Edgar is becoming very discouraged over his new car since a '40 model of the same make left him behind in a cloud of exhaust fumes. . . . Max Kinsey was just a little too bashful, and one of the twins he was interested in got married. He has been able to take her sister to the sbow. Better not slow down now, Max. . . . Since Al Campton and Rbinehart Beningzer have purchased new cars, it seems Bill Conrad couldn't stand the pressure. He had to have one too. According to the grapevine though, he couldn't buy until his wife gave him the money. . . . We were very sorry to hear that Rudy Jackson was ill, and we are wondering if he still feels it was those sardines that caused it. . . . The clean-up program in Group 15 has rather bogged down. It seems the promised equipment hasn't made an appearance. . . . The fact that Sam Rhoades is wearing glasses now doesn't mean his eyes are bad. It is just that Sam's arms aren't long enough.



SAFETY ACHIEVEMENT RECOGNIZED—C. D. Uncapher, center, superintendent of the Distribution Division here, is pictured looking over the Meritorious Safety Performance Certificate held by R. C. Robertson, left, chairman of the Distribution Safety Committee, and A. E. Leider, manager of the Production Service Division. Basis of the award was the Distribution Division's rapid rise from 21st to 5th place in Plant Safety ratings since 1948.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY, HENRY—Henry Lepper, the Fort Wayne Works' oldest pensioner, celebrated his 89th birthday Wednesday, Feb. 28. Mr. Lepper retired Nov. 1, 1929, with 35 years of service. He is shown receiving a birthday gift from his only great-grandchild, Carol Ann Kolmerten, whose father is a Winter St. employee.

This beautiful weather makes one feel as if spring is here and, even the robins' flitting around is a reminder of spring. Beware, March has begun, and it's hard to tell what is in store for us. Even so, we'll find out what is in store for this news column this week. . . . Jerry Nahrwold is one busy guy these days. He has been on a car deal and settled for a Dodge. We hope you enjoy your car, Jerry. . . . Dorothy Johnson has a new way to wear her shoes. She leaves them at work and wears her boots home, then wears the boots back. . . . Evelyn Chapman has a nice pet, a sty in her eye. I hope it's better soon. . . . Mabel Drummond talks too much or something, but we all know it is something for Mabel can barely speak out loud. . . . Edna Butler has the art of training her husband. Every evening he brings her a coke. . . . Donna Sipe didn't put our pennies in her piggy bank. We received lovely cards telling us she is enjoying Florida a lot and is returning this week. . . . Kay Dolan's husband is progressing fine. We're glad to hear it, Kay, and hope he soon can be out and around. . . . Dorothy Scheiber says Ronnie is starting back to school after his operation, but her husband must spend another week in bed. . . . Elma Keiser is in the process of having dental work done. Lots of luck, Elma; hope it doesn't hurt too bad. . . . Mable O'Neil has been on the sick list. We hope you can soon be back, Mabel. . . . Mary Noll came back to visit us for a few minutes the other evening. We were also glad to see Margaret Gerardot. We enjoy seeing the various ones who have been transferred. Hurry back, girls. . . . Welcome to our newcomers to Bldg. 17-3. We hope you like us real well. . . . Let's remember to give generously to the Red Cross. It is a very worthy cause, and we must do our best.

Thought For The Week: "Goodwill is the disposition of the customer to return to the place of business where he has been well treated."—U.S. Supreme Court.

RESOLUTIONS: By this time practically all New Year's resolutions have been forgotten. We know of one man who has stuck to his. Carl Stimson of Houston resolved to devote the first six months to minding his own business. During the second six months, he pledged to keep his nose out of other people's business. . . . WHICH? Sam Baumgartner is slipping. After the last Golden Gloves bout, our hero asked a pal to drive his car home. When they arrived at Sam's place, he invited them in for some refreshments. Without dissension, the fellows accepted and flocked into his kitchen. When he opened the refrigerator, it, like Old Mother Hubbard's cupboard, was bare. There was nary a malted milk or cheese sandwich, so the boys went home with their appetites unsatisfied. Now they wonder whether Sam's nerves brought this, or if he was kidding. . . . LATE: Eileen Hile has a little nephew, a wardrobe and a key. Junior has a habit of making raids on her wardrobe, so she locks it and carries the key in her purse. Recently the alarm rang. She arose and prepared to dress. She looked for her purse, but it was missing. Eileen was still looking for the purse when the bus she usually takes passed. Finally, it was located under a bed where Junior had put it. Eileen arrived at work late that morning. . . . NO MORE: Ray Wiese wants to build some cabinets in his kitchen. When he mentioned this to some buddies, Harold Eggeman offered to draw the plans. Knowing Harold eats in restaurants, Ray invited him to dinner when he took the measurements. After dinner, Harold jotted down figures and promised plans would soon be ready. Later, Ray asked how the plans were progressing. "Ah, ahem, I lost the figures," replied Harold, "I must come out again for dinner and get a new set." Ray was heard mumbling, "This is the last time, that guy eats more than the cabinets are worth." . . . LOOKING AHEAD: Madonna Bailey was so interested in getting back to work last Friday that she rang in this week's clock card. . . . SOME COOK: Ed Floey recently declared that he would prepare breakfast and that the little woman should stay in bed until it was ready. He said that French toast was on the menu. Hearing a clatter in the kitchen, Imo became curious and went out to see what was going on. There was Ed with three slices of bread and a large bowl of beaten eggs. "How much French toast do you intend to prepare?" "Three slices," replied Ed. "How many eggs are you using?" Imo asked. "Three," said Ed. So they had scrambled eggs and toast.

First of all we wish to welcome Dorothy Ramsey on days and hope her stay will be a very pleasant one. . . . The week-end must have been too much for Nellie Williams and others because they all seemed to decide to take Monday off. . . . Maggie Moore had to go clear down to Indianapolis to watch television last week-end. What's wrong with Fort Wayne, or did you really go to see your sister? . . . Ed Bireley was seen fishing off Spy Run Creek bridge Sunday. No ice, eh? How many did you say you caught, Ed? . . . What has happened to Jim Linn lately? Has the person working with him got him scared out from giving any news? Really, Jim, we didn't think you would scare that easily. . . . We wish a speedy recovery to Opal Snyder who underwent a major operation at the Clinic Hospital at Bluffton last Monday. We hear she is doing fine and hope to see her back soon. . . . Howard McVay really has a good alarm clock; the telephone, and all at 5:30 a.m. No wonder Howard was so wide awake Monday. . . . We're very sorry to lose Don Voorhees this week. Don is going back to school to get his degree. We wish him much luck and it's been nice knowing you, Don. . . . Mel Kessner says he's going on a diet now that we have his name changed to Bireley. After all he has to watch his figure like all the women of today do. . . . Harold Mosshammer is sure the lucky guy when it comes to tournaments. How do you pick the winner all the time, Harold?

Apprentice BROADCAST

By E. A. Rasor

The bachelor of the Apprentice School has finally wound his way into the marriage way of thinking. The event will take place March 24 as Paul Wuttke and Phyllis Davies will slowly tread the aisle in holy matrimony. . . . The clawing "Tigers" of Central High School have come through again for the city sectional champs. With a little backing up from Bill Smith, Jim Hoppel, Harold Wilkerson, I and a few others, we had our own rooting section. Of course, we had a pool with Hoppel winning, but he had a lot of confidence. . . . Marty Zernick has left the Apprentice School with five weeks of experience behind him. He will be in Transformer Planning for a while so we may run into him occasionally. . . . Tomorrow will be a big day for a couple apprentices, except that one is in uniform. Pete Zook and Robert Silk are both having weddings. Robert is getting married in Auburn. Pete will be home for a few days, just long enough to get married and return to the base. . . . Richard "Sleepy-eyed" Davenport has done it now. It seems that he couldn't wait so he trotted down to the Federal Building to see a certain recruiting officer. The latest word is that he will leave soon for the Marines. . . . A discussion in class the other week was soon brought to a close as a quick and final answer was expressed. LaMar Brandt asked, "What would you do if the radius and the wrinkles of a blank being punched were still causing you trouble?" Paul "The Thinker" Mischo came up with the answer, "Ring out and go home." . . . Bill Jones told us he had a little trouble Thursday night after the same class. The question was, "How to pack ball bearings in a row?" He had a solemn look on his face and was really thinking when he heard that they were packed in grease. . . . Bill Smith has heard from Uncle Sam and will take a pre-induction physical March 7. . . . We received two wonderful letters from Gebert and Zook. From the pink stationery that Gebert sent, I almost thought he was an instructor in the Waves.

Lack of will power has caused more failure than lack of intelligence or ability.

Five More Employees Join Q-C Club

Marion T. Ballinger
Taylor St.

Troy Long
Taylor St.

Victor A. Leakey
Taylor St.

William H. Hanke
Bldg. 19-1

Albertus F. Brown
Bldg. 4-4

ATTAINS 30-YEAR GOAL—Joseph L. Mettler, Bldg. 19-4, (third from right, seated) completed a 30-year service record Wednesday, Feb. 21. On his anniversary, several of his friends from General Tool Division gathered to offer their congratulations. Seated (l-r) are Robert Truelove, E. W. Auman; Mr. Mettler, W. L. Greiner, Foreman, and Marion Moore. Standing are (l-r) Paul Brinkroeger, Donald Alcott, James Ehresman and Merwood Dunlap.

Red Cross

(Continued from page 1)

Works goal of $11,000 has been divided into the following division quotas:

FHP Motor Divs. Bdwy.	$2,827
FHP Motor Divs. T. St.	2,662
Works Serv., Contr. Divs.	2,354
STAB Divs.	1,551
Large M-G Divs.	946
Winter St.	660
Fort Wayne Works Total	$11,000

The following solicitors, who will contact all employees, have been named by divisional chairmen.

Fractional Horsepower Motor Divisions at Broadway—W. L. Whonsetler, chairman:

Series & Spec. L. P. Kable, leading solicitor, M. Heller, R. Rose, J. Zumbrum, M. Brinker, E. Zollinger, H. White, L. Beyerlein, G. Ober, N. Carpenter, N. Standish, G. Walker, E. Lantz, F. Hollowell, P. Zimmerman, G. Worley, W. Dibert, A. Steinbarger, R. Engeman, L. Kraus, B. Clawson, R. Belchner, Z. Garrison.

Engineering, J. C. Duryee, leading solicitor, J. Chadwick, M. Smoak, M. Walker, W. Gerke, L. Wilkening, M. Murphy, L. Onspach, H. Van Gunten.

Quality Control, Hilda Reed, leading solicitor.

DC, C. H. Curtis, leading solicitor, Ray Dotzer, Fred Schaaf, Roy Berdelman, Elmer Diemer, Helen Burnam, Emil Ponsot, Audrey Turney, Paul Kennerk, Leonard Luther, Ray Lepper, Marjorie Johnson, Paul Boyer, Bernadine McCune, Forrest Allman, Sylbert Heaston, Daisy Balyeat, H. Struver, Boyce Lambert, Ernie Riley, Clifford Combes, Leonard Hutson, Garland Meyers, Charles Gabhart, Elmer Hart, Marion Patty, Clare Fryer, Ray Baker, Clyde Hemrick.

Hermetics, H. Koch, leading solicitor, Audrey Hickernell, Dorothy Askren, Agnes Robinson, Robert Walt, K. Sutton, Beulah Johnson, H. Lemmel, H. Halley, P. Bender, Eileen Foor, Bernadette Lantz, Carmelita Fough.

Development, E. G. Stock, leading solicitor, R. Thomas, C. Swaim, C. Crankshaw, Betty Rauci, C. Tregsang.

Repair & Return, C. Didier, leading solicitor, V. Brumbaugh.

Regional Warehouse, Erna Meyer, leading solicitor.

Winter St. Plant—Roger Grant, chairman.

R. Shoaff, Mary Leiter, Edna Koester, C. Foulks, M. Siples, W. Reed, Susie Jones, C. Kohisch, W. Bock, Justine Coudret, H. Ely, M. Bloomenberg, C. Kirbach, W. Shady, Mary Wyss, E. Miller, Doris McKecfer.

Works Service and Contributing Divisions—Hubert Myers, chairman.

Personnel, Ruth Shull, leading solicitor, H. Zimmerman, Alyce Fuchsehuber, Janis Ealing, Irene Szink, Emily Guth.

Works Laboratory, W. Histed, leading solicitor, Jane Foltz, Martha Winner, Ilene Hardisty, Daisy Sherick.

General Service, F. Somers, leading solicitor, J. Bell, C. Niblick, O. Dowell, H. Stirlin, H. Steinbacher, E. Anderson, A. L. Buchwald, R. Wilkinson, C. Scheimann, A. Lantz, A. Morgan, C. Dunifon, L. Woodward, R. Pierson, Harriet Dewart, T. Raypole, A. Beck, E. Ream, J. Niederneyer, R. Kreigh, E. Ehle, D. Mumma, C. Geller, J. Banks, C. Blair, A. Nickerson, I. Pipe, R. Nash, C. Blaising, F. Bendel, Velma Wilcox, W. Leonard, E. McDaniel, H. Pranger, C. Banks, W. Arnold, E. O'Brien, A. Sarrazine.

Contributing, Frank Goetz, leading solicitor, Helene Nelson, R. Goetz, Phyllis Crace, E. Geisswold, C. Oberwitte, G. Welker, H. Thayer, R. Gervin, R. Johnson, J. Hambrock.

Wire & Insulation, Wayne Getts, leading solicitor, D. Inman, Stella Morrols, R. Lebeau, R. Fisher, A. Menefee, C. Towns, M. Bill, W. Harding, C. Lothamer, R. Lindeman, A. Gardt, C. Sterling, H. Friend, O. Haver, Mildred Mundt.

General Tool, H. C. Foreman, leading solicitor, G. Houser, A. Nebur, P. Bauman, E. Dennie, J. Denis, E. Sauerwein, C. Ahlersmeyer, G. Widner, W. Elliott, R. Krugh, P. Richter, H. Buell, R. Palmer, J. Schemehorn, L. Welker, R. Truelove, A. Wiegand, W. Fruechtenicht, W. Walker, F. Armstrong.

Apprentice School, Harold Nilkerson.

Accounting Cost & Payroll, Ruth Fritz.

Labor Relations, Administrative, Superintendent's Office, Vivian Bond.

Technical Service, H. G. Kappel, E. Hagadorn.

Service Engineering, R. P. Cheesman.

Large Motor and Generator Divisions—D. M. Myers, chairman.

J. Hoelle, K. Hegel, J. Burton, A. Woehricker, D. Kelker, L. Standish, P. Walker, V. Ehrhardt, C. Steele, P. Miser, H. Skevington, P. Harting, F. McIntyre, R. Lauer, A. Nahrwald, F. Paul, J. Formanck, R. Dicke, C. McAfee, W. Shanebeck, E. Kahlenbeck, W. Wickliffe, F. McBride, H. Rhodes, V. Harshman, Specialty Transformer and Ballast Divisions — Ray Soughan, chairman.

Div. 91, E. Bobay, V. Caley, P. Noffze, E. Jones, G. Schafer, M. Laykauf, G. Schafer, W. Suelzer, C. Schwartz, M. Dauscher, L. Haller, Donnabelle Wagner.

Div. 94, G. Kummerant, Stella Wells, Mildred Haslup, Dorothy Campton, Ruth Trout, Genevieve Miller, Evelyn Armstrong, Mildred Steffey, Maxine Patterson, Carolyn White, L. Klejnot, F. Nelson, B. Herrman, T. Lauterberg, J. Hankee, J. Baker, Ruth Palmer, Eva Reffner, W. Mills, Jr., Loretta Bloom, O. Langohr, Roqua Wibel, Agnes Jump, N. Biddle, Lela White.

Div. 82, Gertrude Wagner, Barbara Dolson, Virginia Gaff, Bess Brown, Ruth Ehrsam.

Div. 81, Virginia Winegart.

Div. 85, R. Bruns and Matilda Collins.

Div. 90, Viola Brooks.

Fractional Horsepower Motor Divisions at Taylor St.—C. J. Monroe, chairman.

Div. 3 and 5, Ruth Hite, leading solicitor.

Div. 9, G. F. Schlund, leading solicitor, Irene Whelan, Barbara Schuckel.

Div. 10, G. E. Hicks, leading solicitor, R. F. Shoaff.

Div. 12, P. Gellert, leading solicitor, Natalie Alexander, C. Reiter, Pat Holmes, E. Myers, G. Yarian, Mary Henry, C. H. Starke, E. D. Mills.

Div. 13, R. Dunfee, leading solicitor, I. Romey, L. Eastes, J. Keck, F. Erickson, M. Woodward, P. Hille, L. Augspurger, A. Lindenberg, G. Wolfe, V. Spreer, L. Jentasch, A. Ufheil, J. Bledsoe, Alta Stanley, L. Anderson, J. Goins, P. Jeffries, R. Merchant, M. Miller, R. Molthan, G. Knight, R. Shirey, N. Bell, H. Gick.

Div. 14, L. Shattuck, leading solicitor, R. Johnson, G. Uhl, M. Dukes, D. Martin, L. Green, E. Watkins, Lottie McFarland, Catherine Auker, Ina Arney, Elizabeth Hudson, Grace Wall, F. Vogt, R. Crosley, C. Miller, L. Hesse, T. Kitchen, V. Hammonds, T. Slough, Mary Louise Smiley, I. Osterman, H. Carnall.

Div. 17, R. A. Weiel, leading solicitor, Thelma Stapleton, Mary Turschman, W. Hawley, Maggie Moore, Rosella Koontz, R. Boone, Helen Murray, Lois Yager, Arydth Hawley, Martha Bennett, H. Salter, C. Scott, Ruby Stoops, G. Miller, Louise Sinn, Sarah Moore, Eva Creigh, Olka Johnston, Virginia Philo, Florence Boyce, R. Shreeve, Irma Beard, Ruth Gunn, H. Walters, Betty Boldt, R. Rodger.

Div. 22, Vesta Good, leading solicitor.

Div. 24, M. Morkoetter, leading solicitor.

Div. 25, A. J. Kruse, leading solicitor, Jo Franklin, Joy Greiser.

WHAT WOULD YOU CALL IT: Ted Bauman took off several days ago in quest of his 1951 license plates. Patiently waiting in line for his turn to come to the little window where he could fork over his hard earned cash for those two precious pieces of metal, he found himself mentally patting himself on the back for doing a job he detested. At long last, it became Ted's turn at the window. He pulled out the papers for his license and, then, fate dealt Ted a severe blow. After all that waiting, he found that he had only brought the papers for his boy's motor scooter. Yep, Ted made another trip. . . . WELCOME: We wish to extend a welcome to Marion Bailey as new foreman of the Punch Press Section in Bldg. 27. Marion comes to us from the Raw Material Div. in Bldg. 31-1. We sincerely hope that he will cultivate the habit of guarding his speech as most of the boys in this group are Sunday School teachers. . . . TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN: It seems that the whole world has forgotten one of the most elementary axioms: The SHORTEST distance between two given points is a STRAIGHT line. . . . THOUGHTS IN PASSING: If we spent as much time in right thinking as we do in thinking we are right, what a changed world we could all enjoy. . . . HEY, FELLA: If you expect a longer column than this, open up the sweeper and let out a little of the dirt. . . . Thanks for reading this. See you next week.

All marriages are happy. It's the living together afterwards that causes all the trouble.

This is the season for basketball series games. When Lafayette Central was eliminated, Jess Moore said it was because his team was not accustomed to the hardwood floor. They needed some cinders on it so the boys could get some traction. . . . "A friend in need is a friend indeed," proved itself again in an incident that happened the other day. When Ed Lallock was caught with his truck at the door leading to the loading dock, his stalwart friend Ed Hines was right there to lend a hand to his namesake. . . . Happy birthday wishes go to Basil Squires and Elmer Leaderman. . . . It looks like Fred Pyle will be moving again. Fred says he thinks it will be a bungalow this time. What's the matter, Fred? Is it you or your neighbors? . . . Anyone wanting a recipe for a hard egg cake should see Roy Berdleman's wife. Roy has an awful time getting eggs that aren't boiled. . . . They are going to have to invent louder fire sirens in Roanoke. It seems there was a fire somewhere Sunday night, and Lee Hoffman slept right through it. He never even knew there was a fire until the next morning. . . .

Good Luck, Art

Wednesday was Art Bueshing's last day at work. He retires after 35 years with the company. We will miss Art, and we also want to wish him a very happy future. . . . In a recent storm, Lloyd Covault's house was struck by lightning. Considerable damage was done to the furniture and rugs. Lloyd feels, however, that things could have been much worse. None of his family were injured. . . . George Bear hurried out from work one night; and when he got to his car, he had a flat tire. George said it was only flat on one side. . . . George Washington Henry Joseph Hahn celebrated his (?) birthday Thursday. Yes, he is named for the "Father of Our Country." No wonder he has so many fine traits.

Inquiring Reporter:

"WHAT DO YOU LIKE MOST AND WHAT DO YOU DISLIKE MOST ABOUT MEN (WOMEN)?"

PEARL E. COULTER

Bldg. 20-1

"I like the fact that a sense of humor in most men prevents them from taking themselves too seriously. It makes for a happier working environment. On the other hand, I dislike men trying to inflate their own egoes with profanity and dense cigar and pipe smoke."

ROBERT E. ALEXANDER

Bldg. 26-4

"The thing I like most is their conversation. It seems as if they could go on indefinitely and still have something to say. I don't like women with short hair, slacks or extreme make-up."

DONALD L. BUFINK

Bldg. 17-3

"Women are good companions and level-headed. They can talk you out of your troubles and get you out of the dumps. On the other hand, they use too much make-up and are too bold with smoking."

JUDY KREBS

Taylor St.

"I'll have to be honest and say that I'm prejudiced because I have a man that is considerate and wonderful. My pet peeve is that some men insist on putting on a big show to get attention, but they really have no reason to. As a rule, I think most girls will admit that a man is a pretty nice thing to have around."

CHARLIE BROWN

Bldg. 31-2

"The thing that I like most about women is that they bring us our children and then take such loving care of them. By contrast, any pet peeves I have about women are so picayune that they do not deserve mentioning."

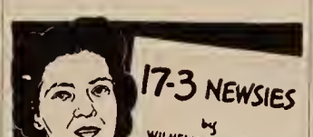
If you see Roger Williams carrying a shotgun uptown, he is keeping the pigeons away from his wife, Irene, while she window shops! . . . Mardo Tobias has an unusual story about catching his cold. . . . Congratulations to Clara and Louie Clark. They are grandparents for the first time. Their daughter, June Marie had a girl. Mother, father, daughter and grandparents are doing fine! . . . According to Bertha Click, the best way to keep a sick man down is to hide his pants and the car keys. . . . Glen Witte was so sure that Hoagland would win the Sectionals that he lost a day's wages to see them lose . . . John Willet's mustache came off the day his wife had a daughter. . . . Clarence Rump is looking at the world through "rose-colored glasses." He is wearing bifocals. . . . Jay Michiel's daughter is in training to be an airline hostess. . . . James Sterns is in the Fort Wayne Vets' Hospital for a check-up. . . . Howard Hubart and his girlfriend bought a chicken last Saturday and the guys are wondering who cooked it. He says he took it home to his mother, but the girl friend did the cooking. . . . Anyone who wants any basketball information ask Catherine Adair or Lola Rowe who are experts. . . . Marian Mills will look more closely where her feet take her. She received an ankle injury from colliding with a tote box. . . . It makes us all very happy to know that Dorothy Rebber's mother is on the road to recovery. . . . Daisy Ford baked a delicious cake for her co-workers. . . . We have lost Bob Kugler to the night owls. We miss you, Bob. . . . Mac MacDonald enjoys making certain people blush!! . . . We wonder what day Lillian Kidder thought it was when she put her time-card in the box on a Tuesday. . . . Mildred Carpenter thinks she can hear better if she removes her earrings when talking over the phone. . . . Esther Pape dreamed that a co-worker gave her a permanent. . . . The smile that Dorothy Clark is wearing is because her husband received a cancellation of his call for the Army. . . . Unele Sam has a way of changing people's minds. Joan High is getting married March 10 instead of April 21 as she had planned, because Uncle Sam has her husband-to-be's name on his list. . . . Ed Taylor was absent three days recently because his new Chevy wouldn't start! Kathryn Hepker suggested if he doesn't want to ride his horse to work, he should buy a new Plymouth. . . . Mary Garrard won some money on the Sectionals, so did John Wetzel and Ida Witte. . . . Is it true May Richart has a grass skirt at home? If so, Helen Bodecker would like to borrow it. . . . Bernice Johnson has had the stiff neck three months. Anyone who knows a good cure let her know. Could it be rigor mortis has set in already? . . . Margaret Chartres celebrated her birthday last week and brought in some candy and cake. . . . Martha Oetting was a week-end guest at Unes Steinbarger's. Unes had a big family dinner Sunday. . . . Delores Shimbeckler and Catherine Adair spent the week-end in Toledo. . . . Thelma Wyss celebrated her birthday last week. . . . Julia Hohnhaus had a visit from her daughter, Betty, her husband and baby, also her other daughter, Luella, her husband and two children. They really had a wonderful family reunion over the week-end. . . . "Ezra," the little stranger who made his way into the home of Alice and Butch Claymiller is quite the talk of the day. We enjoy hearing of the doings of Ezra, a parakeet. . . . Then we have another stranger we hear about too. It is Nipper, a toy manchester. He is making his home with Emily Nierman and Mary Cordell. . . . Some of the March birthdays are Ed DeWeese, 4; Matilda Reynolds, 4; Ruth Tutwiller, 5; Serena Slater, 6; Ted Bain, 8; Ruth Wilson, 2; Flora Crawford, 9; Edith Harchelrode, 10; Gloria Sarasien, 12; Verna Meyer, 8; Warren Jackson, 12; Louis Barrow, 22; Phyllis Hermes, 27; Margaret Hilgeman, 30, and Hilda Seiler, 30.

Notes— From Transformer Drafting

By Melba Jaekson

"SURPRISE." We decided it was about time we started a column for our section, so here we come. Ed Ellenberg got all of the information for us, and then our first major problem came . . . the title. Good ole Pete Eberhardt finally came up with it. Thanks, boys, for your helping hand. As of yet we are not up to par for news. Come on, gang, how about some help, I'm not that hard to get acquainted with; we do nced more news so why not pitch in and help. . . . WELCOME: If you notice a couple of new faces around Bldg. 26-2 it might be Ruth Bogenschultz, our new typist, or Bob Wigent, our new draftsman. He came from Fractional to replace James Hilfiker. Jim didn't leave us, but got promoted just a little. Congrats, Jim. So far he hasn't changed in his actions, he's still the same ole Jim. Here's hoping the hest of luck to all three. . . . Have you noticed a change in Mary Cline, our duplicator operator. It's all because Gerald Allen, her son, is no longer in Defiancc, Ohio, but with his "Mommy" in good old Fort Wayne. . . . What's wrong with George Owens? I thought he was a friend of mine once, but this last week you would never know it to hear or see him. What did I do, to cause this George? . . . Eileen Meyer just isn't the same girl anymore. All she does is just day dream. Could all of this be due to the fact that her wedding is coming around next month? Congratulations, Eileen and Dick. . . . I also heard the news about Dick and Bonnie now being the proud parents of a "Pekingese Dog." . . . Belated birthday wishes for Ralph Valentine, Les Hahn, Georgc Owen, Paul Ohnesorge and Ruth Ehrsam. Thanks for the candy, boys, and, Ruth, your fudge was simply delicious. . . . Speaking of cooks it seems Clara Myers is "tops" when it eomes to baking date hread so I'm told. Say Clara how about baking some more and let the rest of us have a sample of it. . . . The old "Cold Bug" has really been a busy fellow these last couple of weeks, just about every girl in this office has heen bit by him, among them arc Dora, Elaine, Eileen, Clara, Mary, Mollie, Melba, and by the sound of sneezing, Ruth got a visit from him also. Mildred Fettinger is confined to hed in the hospital in Huntington, here's hoping she will be able to join us in a few weeks. . . . It seems Wendell Miller tries his best to get a free meal at the cafeteria. Have you succeeded yet? . . . New Deal: Boh Henry now has a new trade—Upholstery. If you have any furniture that needs fixing up, give him a buzz on 2285. NO WORK GUARANTEED.

Top Floor TOPICS



Bldg. 26-5

By Jack Lca

Our floor was well represented at the Transformer skating party held recently. Those present were Stan Gongaware and wife, Orville Langohr and wife, Harold Josse and wife, Dorothea Winburn, Edna Hall, Lois Johnson, Jane Maloney, Lillian Bowman, Maxine George, Marcella Nicodemus, Pat McLaughlin and myself. Jane, Stan, Harold and Lea took charge of mopping the floor. . . . Ever drive a car with a 10, or 20 or 24-inch wheelbase? Nina Rider and Dorothy McDermott were discussing the wheelbases of their cars the other day. Where did you buy the cars, at Murphy's? . . . John (total wreck) Gadomski came limping into work the other day. It seems as though he wanted to aid the scrap drive, as his car kind of collapsed around him. . . . The Inspeetion Section has a new method to check for opens. You check the bushings of one transformer and at the same time check the leads of another. This was invented by Gene Mettler. . . . Ruth Bently and Don Edwards returned from an ice fishing trip at Houghton Lake. On the way, they stopped to buy groceries, including eggs. Ruth daintily dropped the eggs. Their first meal was scrambled eggs, the next day—cracked eggs. . . . You know we've got a real nice looking girl working on our floor, back in the office. She's Elsie Forschner. We don't see much of her but maybe that's better, because Elsie stops production as far as the men are concerned when she comes down the aisle. . . . Not bats in the belfry but a squirrel in the basement, that's the story brought in by Irene Slater. Investigating, Irene's husband fell off a chair, and Irene nearly died from fright. Last report the squirrel had gone looking for more peaceful quarters. . . . New faces: Nadine Bender is a new addition to the Winding Section. . . . Is Carl Hanson hiding from the tax collectors? He has been wearing sun glasses lately. . . . Overheard—that Margie Schaefer finagled some basketball tickets that are hard to get. Have you got pull, Margie? . . . It's a good thing Rudy Krug shut that crane off when he did! I don't know what Rudy was trying to prove, but he tore out the seat of his pants and had to go home for a quick change. . . . A sight to see—Orvill Langohr making some uncomplimentary remarks about a picture when a bird flew overhead, punctuating the conversation. . . . Who has more trouble than Al Miller? Al's cellar got floodcd and now Al is going to raise catfish and frogs down there. Al tried and tried to sell some flash bulbs reeently at work, without success. Bob Crippen finally bought them. Afterwards, Al had all kinds of offers to buy them. . . . Kenny Bauer wrote a letter from Georgia. Here's his address:

Pvt. Kenneth Bauer 55091606
Co. B. 303rd. Sig. S.V.C.B.N.
Camp Gordon, Georgia

We forgot to mention that Wyonetta Gerdom is our reporter on second trick. Get the news to her, gang. . . . Alice Walker, Joan Graham, Dorothy Gillingham, Bonnie Lou Olinger, Mary Watson, Mary Morningstar, La Donna Geoglun and Sylvia Kien are new girls now on second trick. . . . Chicago is the place for a good time. That's whcre Phyllis Meier spent Saturday. . . . Congratulations to Mildred Schoeff, Joyce Kryder, Garnet Borne, and Mary Morningstar, who celebrated birthdays recently. Garnet passed out candy (I didn't get any!) and a potluck was held for Mary. . . . Doris Coddens and Mary Lou Kelly are back to work after being ill. . . . Gervase Herman came for a visit. He brought his broken arm with him. . . . If you want to know how to change a tire see Wimpy Blalock. One rainy night Wimpy had a flat tire. It took five men to get the wheel changed: two pushing, two pulling and one bossing. To make matters worse, they were trying to put it on backwards! Who is this guy Blalock, anyhow? I hear he even brings his own lunch when invited to a potluck. . . . Maybe Glen Geist will quit bragging about his Pontiac now. He took a friend to the store. When they were ready to leave, it stalled. They let the car sit in order to get to work on time. . . . Loretta Bloom must have heen on a reservation over the week-end as she camc in looking as though shc had been scalped.

An umbrella is a light portable canopy on a folding frame, carried to protect against sun or rain. I hear we have a set-up man who didn't know you made use of an umbrella. . . . Grace Jones is spending this week-end in Missouri. . . . Irene Blank attended the Sportsman Show in Chicago. . . . Maude Mountz was showing the girls some little pin cushions she had made. They were very colorful hats. Max Fielitz walked hy and said, "I can make those too." . . . Do you ever have trouble parking uptown and wonder if you'll have a red ticket when you get back? Annie Cook will tell you how to solve that problem. . . . We are sure Mary Martin's theme song last week was, "River Stay Away From My Door." She had a flooded basement and no fire. . . . Ida Sinn was having trouble getting out of the garage. The mud was hubcap deep. . . . It's a happy birthday to Gwendoline Chinn and Alice Brockmeyer. . . . We're glad to welcome Peggy Need back. Also a hello to all our newcomers. . . . Jo Matter was grandma again last week. It was another girl. . . . A little birdie told us that matrimonial clouds are gathering on the horizon for Barbara Longbrake. . . . If you see Mary Irven with a string tied around her finger, it is to remind her to ring her clock card. . . . The Harold Bowkers have quite an increase out on the farm. The Easter bunny madc a pre-Easter visit with 17 baby bunnies. . . . Faye Stockberger's son left for the army last week. He was formerly employed at Taylor St. plant. . . . Earl Leith left us also. After a short vacation in Florida, he will be a fulltimc farmer. . . . Mary Murphy is afraid of ghosts. Dorothy Scheiber was telling her about one when the candy lady blew her whistle. Mary nearly jumped off of her chair. . . . If you see us trying to hang close to the ceiling of the elevator, don't be surprised. You can't expect anything else when Dick Gidley says, "Don't stand so close to the floor."

Four teams are leading the Office League with 14 wins and ten defeats. The teams enjoying this lead are Standardizing, Reproduction, Dick Sunoco and Alternators. The tenth place team in this close league is within three games of first place.

Two hundred games were rolled by Lloyd Parrish, 235; Bill Piercey, 210, and Derwood Franke, 203.

Tuesday Afternoon Girls' League

Marge Huber is back in the groove, bowling a 509 series with games of 174, 158 and 177. The high game of the afternoon, a 213, was rolled by Evelyn George.

Transformer League

The M's and D's are tied for first place with 15 wins and 9 losses. The Bells are just two games back.

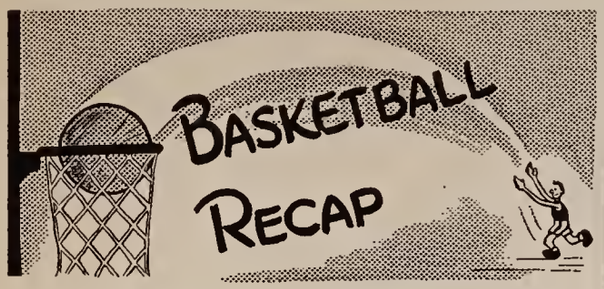
Macy paced the boys for the evening with a 551 which included a 208 single. Other 200 scores were made by Marsh, 235, and Homer Meeker, 217.

Mr. Aker seemed to have a little trouble as he came up with a 367 serics.

Apparatus League

Team No. 8 is two games out in front of Team No. 3 with Teams 1 and 10 onc game farther back.

"Sore Thumb" Blomker came up with a hig 260 count, but still failed to craek into the 600 bracket. Other 200 scores were rolled by Don Dimke, 206 and 203; Vic Rump, 217 and 206; R. Walser, 231; Don Huffman, 225; "Whitey" Boester, 213; Elmer Schoenlein, 207; Charles Griggs, 206, and Marc Junk, 202.



Sounds From The Alleys

Don't forget the big Mixed Doubles Bowling Tournament at the Club tomorrow. There will be squads at 6:30 and 8:30. At this writing, there were still a few openings left. The entry fee, ineluding bowling, is four dollars per team. First prize will be $25.

Come and see if you can't beat those Boedekers. They're plenty rough to handle. Of course, they might slip a little.

While you are at the Club Saturday, latch on to a G-E Employees' Tournament entry blank. First prizes are worth $85, team; $35, doubles; $20 singles, and $10, all events. These prizes are donated by the G-E Club.

Thanks to Joe Kramer and the bowlers of the city, the City Tournament will be held at the G-E Club next year. Wonder where all the G-E league delegates were last Saturday night?

by Ray Quinn

The Firemen defeated Small Motor 60-40 in an Interdivision Basketball League game Feb. 22. Trailing for the first quarter, they turned on the heat and took the lead in the half and wound up on top at the end of the game.

Fractional just managed to get by Winter St., 43-40. The Squares maintained their perfect record at the expense of the Accounting Section. The final score was 56-25. Gill Carl led the scoring for the winners with 20 points.

Ed Trabel played his last game of the season for Accounting and left for the army this week.

Developmental played with only five men Tuesday, but with Struver and Doepke hitting from all angles, plus the clever ball handling of Boles and the Houser brothers, they had little trouble downing Tool Division, 53-22.

Taylor St. dropped a 50-34 decision to Transformer. Test Engineers took a low scoring game from the Apprentice School, 27-21.

Standings

	Won	Lost
Transformer	3	0
Squares	2	0
Firemen	2	0
Developmental	2	1
Apprentice School	2	1
Test Engineers	2	1
Accounting	1	1
Fractional	1	1
Winter St.	0	2
Small Motors	0	2
Tool	0	3
Taylor St.	0	3

Summaries

ACCOUNTING

Player	G	F	T
N. Raney	0	0	0
M. Harris	0	1	1
E. Trabel	2	3	7
Grimmer	1	1	3
G. Raney	5	1	11
Edington	1	1	3
Kent	0	0	0
Mossburg	0	0	0
Totals	9	7	25

SQUARES

Player	G	F	T
Emling	0	0	0
Reynolds	3	1	7
Krasienko	2	2	6
Lindholm	2	0	4
Johnson	0	0	0
Hamilton	4	0	8
Walley	4	2	10
Carl	9	2	20
Totals	24	7	55

SMALL MOTORS

Player	G	F	T
Zimmerlee	6	1	13
Strickett	2	3	7
Rosswurm	3	0	6
Wickliffe	2	1	5
Bryan	2	0	4
Lee	1	1	3
Smith	0	0	0
Bruick	1	0	2
Totals	17	6	40

FIREMEN

Player	G	F	T
Baals	7	4	18
Hettler	0	0	0
Wehrle	0	0	0
Morkoetter	4	4	12
Wilson	1	1	3
Reitdorf	5	1	11
Anspaugh	3	0	6
Webber	1	0	2
Etter	3	2	8
Totals	24	12	60

FRACTIONAL

Player	G	F	T
Honaker	5	0	10
Smith	0	0	0
Sparks	4	0	2
Rasor	3	2	8
Lahrman	2	2	6
Bucher	7	3	17
Totals	21	7	43

WINTER ST.

Player	G	F	T
Svoboda	4	0	8
Brincefield	4	2	10
Hayden	1	0	2
Gettys	3	0	6
Frazer	3	0	6
Schinbeckler	4	0	8
Totals	19	2	40

TEST ENG.

Player	G	F	T
Binder	0	3	3
Harlow	1	0	2
McNulty	0	0	0
Cochran	4	1	9
McDougle	1	0	2
Beck	4	0	8
Becker	0	0	0
Burgemeister	0	0	0
Rickey	0	0	0
Zernick	1	1	3
Totals	11	5	27

APPREN. SCHOOL

Player	G	F	T
Batchelder	2	0	4
Davenport	2	2	6
Enyeart	1	1	3
Ahr	3	0	6
Gotschall	1	0	2
Totals	9	3	21

TAYLOR ST.

Player	G	F	T
Sproat	2	0	4
Hughes	3	0	6
Beaty	0	0	0
Butler	0	0	0
Offord	1	1	3
Speelman	1	2	4
Hill	1	0	2
Coburn	0	0	0
Hatcher	6	3	15
Totals	14	6	34

TRANSFORMER

Player	G	F	T
Simmons	1	1	3
Beghtel	3	0	6
Lovell	2	1	5
Taylor	3	0	6
Carpenter	4	0	8
Buick	0	0	0
Kumfer	1	0	2
Lepper	2	1	5
Baker	4	4	12
Woodward	1	1	3
Totals	21	8	50

Wanted: A hamburger with plenty of onions for Gwen Steinbarger. One Friday noon Gwen stopped in a downtown drugstore for lunch. She asked for a hamburger with onion. When Gwen started eating her sandwich she discovered the onion was missing. Humph, for 40 cents, it should have had three slices of onion with pickle and catsup thrown in. The following Friday, Gwen chanced to stop at the same drugstore. Again she ordered one hamburger with onion. When she was served her sandwich this time, she asked, "Does it have onion on?" Looking down the counter, the waitress said, "Ask the girl who made it." Gwen then directed the same question to the girl making sandwiches. "No," said she, "the onions are upstairs and I don't have time to get them." Says Gwen, "If it doesn't have onion, I don't want it." Disgusted, the sandwich maker went up to get the onions. On examining the sandwich, Gwen said, "Such a little measly moth-eaten piece of onion." As a result, Gwen missed a bus returning to work. . . . If you notice any of the women employees missing lately, it may be that they are trying out the new mattress on the cot in the rest room. . . . Vacations are starting already. Erich Gawehn will take his next week. . . . Helen Coddington leaves today for Texas. She will visit a few days with her parents who are spending the winter in the South. Don't suppose she is going on her honeymoon as she isn't taking her fiance with her. . . . We had a visitor from the Army last week. Dick Kent is stationed at Baer Field, so he may visit us now and then. . . . Due to an increase in his family, Claude Penn found it necessary to move. Claude bought a house on West Branning and now has room for the twins.

Plenty of Onions

Education can't make us all leaders, but it can teach us which leader to follow.

TOOL DIV.

Player	G	F	T
Geise	5	0	10
Yentes	0	0	0
VanOrsdale	1	0	2
Staley	2	0	4
Barr	1	0	2
Dunlap	0	0	0
Oelschlager	0	0	0
Grish	2	0	4
Totals	11	0	22

DEVELOPMENTAL

Player	G	F	T
Struner	8	1	17
Doepke	8	4	20
D.Hauser	1	1	3
Boles	3	0	6
G. Hauser	3	1	7
Totals	23	7	53

Wildcats Win Owl Basketball Crown

by Earl D. Stauffer

The Wildcats won the Owl crown last Tuesday morning by whipping the Bears in the Championship playoff game by the score of 50-37.

The finale was a bitterly fought contest with the outcome in doubt until the final three minutes when the Wildcats poured it on to settle the issue. The big guns for the tall Cats were Warren Wickliffe and Ken Spiker who scored 14 points apiece.

A basket by Spiker and two by Wick gave the 'Cats an early 6-0 lead but Haas tipped one in and Burkett followed suit to tie the score. Big Spiker and Butler traded charity heaves for 7-all. Wickliffe pitched in a long one and Burkett came back with one from the side to knot the count at the quarter at nine.

Richardson scored a tip-in to give the 'Cats a 11-9 lead. At this point, the Bears caught fire and scored eight straight points with three buckets by Butler and free throws by Baker and Christman to put the Bruins in front 17-11. After a time-out, Spiker took charge and canned seven tallies to put the Wildcats out in front to stay. Blauvelt added two more buckets to give the Cats a 22-17 bulge at the intermission.

The Bears could not get any closer than four points in the second half. The score stood 30-25 at the end of the third stanza. In the first two minutes of the final period, the Bears rallied and came within four points, 31-35, but that was their final bid. The Wildcats, tasting victory and the championship, were pulling away at the final horn.

Bill Butler led the scorers in the championship set with 37 points in two games. Ken Spiker and Vern Burkett were tied with 34.

This has been a rugged season and, to those who made it a success; I say, THANKS.

EARL'S ALL OWL TEAM

First Team		Second Team
Bill Butler	F	Harold Baker
Ken Spiker	F	Charlie Klenke
Red Richardson	C	Ed Sutter
Vern Burkett	G	Bob Crosley
Warren Wickliffe	G	Jim Klinger

Summaries

(Tuesday, Feb. 27)

WILDCATS

Player	G	F	TP
Jamison,f	0- 2	0-0	0
Smith,f	0- 1	1-2	1
Spiker,f	4- 9	6-8	14
Horstmeyer,f	0- 4	0-1	0
Richardson,c	2-10	2-4	6
Wickliffe,g	7-17	0-1	14
Fleckenstein,g	0- 0	0-1	0
Fuhrman,g	4-10	0-0	8
Blauvelt,g	2- 5	3-3	7
Totals	19-58	12-20	50

BEARS

Player	G	F	TP
Baker,f	1- 8	1-1	3
Butler,f	6-17	5-6	17
Barney,f	0- 5	0-0	0
Haas,c	1- 2	0-0	0
Christman,c	0- 6	1-1	1
Burkett,g	6-12	0-0	12
Klinger,g	1- 8	0-2	2
Totals	15-58	7-10	37

Scores by Quarters:

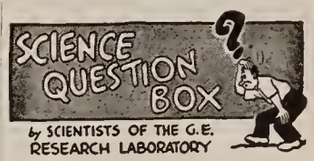
Wildcats	9	22	32
Bears	9	17	25

Officials: McKeeman, Yergens.

(Thursday, Feb. 22)

WILDCATS

Player	G	F	TP
Fleckenstein,f	2- 2	0-0	4
Blauvelt,f	3- 9	3-4	9
Smith,f	0- 2	0-0	0
Fuhrman, c	4-10	3-7	11
Spiker,g	8-16	4-9	20
Wickliffe,g	6-16	1-3	13
Totals	23-55	11-23	57



BEARS

Player	G	F	TP
Klinger,f	3- 9	0-0	6
Baker,f	0- 1	1-1	1
Burkett,f	6-13	5-5	17
Ryder,f	0- 2	0-0	0
Haas,c	1- 4	0-1	2
Markey,g-c	3-11	0-1	6
Crissman,g	0- 0	0-0	0
Butler,g	8-18	4-8	20
Totals	21-58	10-16	52

Score by Quarters:

Wildcats	10	27	41
Bears	17	27	35

Officials: Yergens, Crosley.

Q. What determines the shape of a rain-drop?

A. If the drop were floating freely in space with little or no motion with respect to the air, or if it were falling in a vacuum, it would have the shape of a sphere, which is the shape with the smallest surface for a given volume. However, as it falls, the air pressure is greatest at the bottom and less at the top and sides. Thus the drops are usually flattened with their longest dimension horizontal.

FIRST HALF INTERDIVISION CHAMPS—Posed here is the Squares Basketball team, first half champions of the Interdivision Basketball League. Shown left-right (front row) are C. Krasienko, G. Carl, M. Hamilton and J. Walley, coach. Standing are M. Emling, L. Reynolds, J. Lindholm, D. Johnson and Bill Hunt, manager.

WHY DO OUR BEST?

WHY BOTHER? Why not "let George do it"?

We have got to do our best—each of us—because it's the honest and patriotic thing to do; and because it's the smart thing to do.

To work effectively for our own selfish interests of tomorrow, we must each be unselfish in this crisis today.

We have got to quit jockeying with each other for individual advantage. We must all join in the fight for what we all want—the fight to be able to have and to hold the great things we now possess and the even greater things in store for us in the future.

* * * * *

How do we each do our part—and do our level best at it?

First, we must get used to the fact that some of the things we want most have gone to war. The new car, the new suit, the bigger house may be examples. But there will still be plenty left; and soon again even a whole lot more, if each does his part now.

Second, we must put forth our full skill, care and effort on our job—both at work and at being a good citizen.

Third, while businesses and individuals will generally be getting paid more for their services, we must understand that this extra pay will not have the buying power we are likely, first off, to think it should have.

In fact, Uncle Sam must and will get back most or all of any extra pay, either by taxing or by borrowing. Borrowing, of course, causes inflation—and thereby takes away the buying power of our pay just like direct taxes do—and almost as soon.

Some of the cost of the defense effort will be paid through the higher income taxes collected directly from each of us by the government. But we are also each going to pay for some more of the defense effort indirectly—through higher taxes which the government has asked business concerns to collect from all of us in higher prices.

Business concerns will be permitted to charge prices that—on the surface—might seem highly profitable. But business profits are a prime source of government income. First, "renegotiation" takes any abnormal profits for Uncle Sam. Then, if just present proposals go through, "normal" corporate taxes will take away over half what's left. Next, the government will be able to take up to 85% of any profit the law calls "excess"—pretty much regardless of growth or other reasons for such increased earnings. Finally, what is paid to people who invest their savings in business is taxed again as individual income—at rates up to 91%.

* * * * *

It seems too bad we have to do all this—as well as some temporary self-denial—along with our working, saving and promotion of confidence and cooperation in this crisis.

But it's not really bad—it's good. It means that we have the knowledge and skill, the equipment and capacity, the character and strength of will to supply ourselves and others with needed war power and still keep a level of living that seems luxurious to those beyond our shores.

It means we are capable of taking a little time out from our customary growth to eliminate a threat to our well-being—and, soon thereby, to resume at an even faster rate our progress toward a common material and spiritual well-being.

That's why we must—each of us—strive to do our best.

That's why we can't safely "let George do it" unless we are sure that George is you and I and every American who wants to enjoy—and wants to deserve to enjoy—the future that lies open to us.

GENERAL ELECTRIC COMPANY

VICE PRESIDENT—EMPLOYEE RELATIONS

INDIANA COLLECTION

FORT WAYNE WORKS
NEWS

MOBILIZE for DEFENSE
through Your RED CROSS

Volume 34 | FORT WAYNE, INDIANA, FRIDAY, MARCH 9, 1951 | No. 10

Employees Earn $3,000 for February Suggestions

Red Cross Drive Hits $3,133

Contributions to the Red Cross Drive, now in progress at the Fort Wayne Works, totaled $3,133 as of Wednesday night, K. W. Michael, general chairman, has reported. A goal of $11,000 has been set for the Broadway, Taylor St. and Winter St. plants.

Reports by divisions, of Wednesday's accumulated totals, are as follows:

Works Serv., Contrib. Divs.	$815
Spec. Transformer Ballast	550
FHP Motor (Taylor St.)	890
FHP Motor (Broadway)	342
Large Motor-Gen. Divs.	364
Winter St. Plant	172
Fort Wayne Works Total	$3,133

Elex Club Plans Sunrise Services For Palm Sunday

All Elex members, their friends and families are invited to attend Sunrise Services Palm Sunday morning, March 18, at the Franke Park News-Sentinel Open Air Theater, Thelma Stone, Elex president, disclosed today. Both first and second shift sections of the organization will combine to sponsor the inspirational program.

Services will begin at 7 a.m. and close at 8 a.m. in order to allow time for those participating to at-

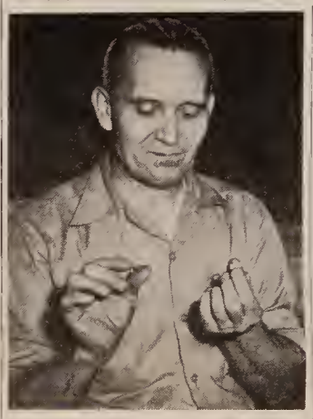
(Continued on page 4)

HEY GENIUS!

Anybody know about that hobby of yours? Why not give your co-workers a break and show them how talented you are in your spare time. An entry blank for the annual G-E Club Hobby Show is included on page 6 of this week's WORKS NEWS.

G-E, Affiliates Net Profits Over $173 Million During 1950

The General Electric Company and its consolidated affiliates earned a net profit of $173,424,000 for 1950, an all-time record total which was 38 per cent more than the previous peak earnings of $125,639,000 for 1949, President Ralph J. Cordiner announced today in transmitting to the stockholders the Company's 59th annual report.



These net earnings were equivalent to 8.7 cents and to 7.7 cents, respectively, per dollar of total revenue, and also were equivalent to $6.01 and $4.36, respectively, per share of common stock, Mr. Cordiner reported.

Net sales to customers during

(Continued on page 9)

J. V. McKeeman Takes $600 For Recommending New Nut

The Suggestion slogan, "One for One in '51" became a by-word for 186 employees for February. They earned a total of $3,000 in awards, A. C. Hartman, Suggestion System Chairman, revealed today.

RECEIVES $600 — Virgil McKeeman, Bldg. 26-3, discovered that knurled nuts could be replaced by less costly hexagon nuts on transformers. He received $600 for his cost-saving suggestion.

J. Virgil McKeeman, Bldg. 26-3, was the top suggestor with $600. He recommended that knurled nuts be replaced by less expensive hexagon nuts on transformers.

W. F. West, General Service Div., received $130 for suggesting an improvement for the control of steam to the power plant water heaters. A Danville employee, Melvin Butcher, also was awarded $130. He designed a new longer-lived soldering iron.

An award of $100 was paid to Carl A. Kloepper, FHP Div. 13. He suggested a method of repairing chuck jaws used on Pratt and Whitney machines. Eugene E. LaVine, FHP Div. 14, earned $80 for an idea concerning supporting slot insulation. Eighty-five dollars went to Walter McCormick, FHP Motor Div. 16, for a change on the automatic feed of certain drill presses.

(Continued on page 4)

DON'T TAKE IT SETTIN' DOWN—These chicks (fowl, that is) raised quite a fuss when Elex contact girls Mildred Daley, left, and Doris Stearns raided the hen house to obtain eggs for the G-E Easter Egg Day, Thursday, March 22. After dyeing, the hen's fruit will be sold throughout the factory and offices for 10 cents an egg. Proceeds from the sale will be used to buy boxes for G-E fellows serving Uncle Sam.

Employees Receive Benefit Reports Today

One of the Company's most extensive employee information projects is scheduled to be completed today when employees here will be mailed a personal report summarizing their status in General Electric's three principal benefit plans.

The four-page statement, entitled "Your Share in General Electric's Employee Benefit Plans," is designed to give each employee his or her status, as of Dec. 31, 1950, in the Pension, Savings and Stock Bonus, and Insurance Plans. Individual reports have been prepared for every employee.

A report of this nature had been under consideration for some time and was approved by the G-E Pension Board after the improvements in the Insurance and Pension Plans were put into effect by the Company late last year.

W. W. Trench, General Electric secretary, has said that this is probably the largest informational project of its type ever carried out by any company. Mr. Trench added that payroll units, throughout the Company, prepared the forms and were engaged in the project for two months.

Retirement Highlighted

The first section of the report will give each employee the estimated amount of his total retirement income at normal retirement age. For men, the normal retirement age is 65, and this section will show the estimated G-E pension plus approximate Social Security. It will also show the additional amount, if any, required to provide the guaranteed minimum retirement income provided by the Plan for long service employees. For women, whose normal retirement age is 60, the estimated income from 60 to 65 will be shown. Since Social Security normally starts at 65, a separate figure will be given for estimated retirement income after 65.

The last page of the form shows how payroll sections arrive at the

(Continued on page 4)

Company to Seek Equitable Pay Increase Rulings for Employees

Inquiries here and in New York indicate that many employees are concerned about whether they will be fairly treated under the various wage stabilization regulations which have so far been issued by the government.

Some have apparently assumed that there will be one basis for granting raises to certain groups and another basis for granting raises to other groups.

With the present trend in the cost-of-living index, it looks like so-called escalator contracts will this time result in a somewhat greater increase than would have been called for by the 10 per cent ceiling

(Continued on page 10)

FORT WAYNE WORKS
NEWS

Volume 34 Friday, March 9, 1951 No. 10

Lou Rotterman.....Editor
Virginia Molden.....Assistant Editor
K. Marian Davies.....Divisional News Coordinator

Wage-price Freeze Reaction

The hottest subject in some time seems to be the wage-price freeze, reports the Inquiring Reporter on one of the plant papers.

"The freeze should have rolled back prices to pre-Korean war days," said one employee. "Unfair because prices were frozen at their highest level in history," said another. "Prices on the essential foods were not frozen;" "Prices today are now at their peak;" "It should have been made retroactive to a time when wages were more or less equal to the cost-of-living," said others.

We don't know why Government didn't roll back prices to pre-Korean levels. But we suspect it was because the price stabilizers realized the economic impossibility of rolling back prices without also rolling back wages to the same level. And no matter how theoretically desirable a fair roll-back of both prices and wages might be, hardly any one believes it possible from a practical standpoint.

The refusal of Congress to permit farm prices, now below parity, to be frozen, let alone rolled back, reveals just one stone wall the stabilizers would run into if any roll-back was attempted. Employees, who have had wage increases since last spring, naturally don't want them taken away. In practically every direction the stabilizers try to move, they find themselves up against special groups, each feeling that someone else should shoulder the sacrifices that must be made.

Meanwhile, the feeling is widespread that prices have gone up a whole lot more than they actually have. This is indicated by the following cost-of-living table:

Consumers' Price Index
Bureau of Labor Statistics

Jan. 15, 1950	166.9 points
Mar. 15, 1950	167.0 points
June 15, 1950	170.2 points
Sept. 15, 1950	173.8 points
Dec. 15, 1950	178.4 points

The Dec. 15 figures are the last ones published, and they were up 11.5 points, or just under seven per cent, since Jan. 15 a year ago. The highest conservative estimate we have seen for the Jan. 15, 1951, figure is 181.0 points—14.1 points, or eight point five per cent, since a year ago at the same time. These figures while very serious, are much below some of the excited estimates we hear rumored.

Fairly soon, we should know what are the rules within which your company will be permitted to make desired and equitable pay rate adjustments during the emergency.

EVERY MAN COUNTS!

. . . new editor

Helen Wagner Assumes Editor's Duties for "Pick-ups" Column

Helen Wagner is the new division editor of "Pick-ups," the WORKS NEWS column from Bldg. 26-3. Helen succeeds Elvira Romary who has given up her reporter's job because of increased responsibilities.

Helen came to work for the General Electric Company in 1939 for the Specialty Transformer and Ballast Divisions. She is now doing instruction and clerical work in the Bldg. 26-3 factory office.

Helen's hobbies are bowling and reading. She is an active member of the Elex Club and, in past years, has served as contact girl and also as director.

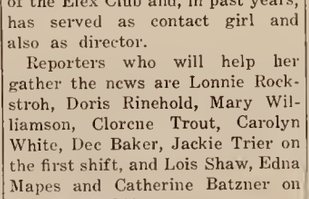
Reporters who will help her gather the news are Lonnie Rockstroh, Doris Rinehold, Mary Williamson, Clorene Trout, Carolyn White, Dec Baker, Jackie Trier on the first shift, and Lois Shaw, Edna Mapes and Catherine Batzner on the second shift.

SICK LIST

The following employees have been reported on the sick list, dismissed from the hospital and returned to work:

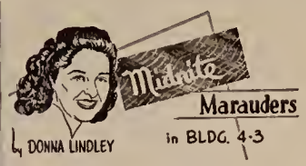
Sick List

Ralph Beerman, George Henschen, Donald D. Detamore, Betty Adams, Otto Braun, Donald W. Dreyer, Paul W. Hathaway, Charles H. Day, R. J. Hively, Mary Jane Meyer, Wilbur Grey, Walter Wolf, Jr., Peter Mueller, Walter Schuler, William Twibell, Patricia White, James Stearns, Fred Gersie, Chester Cline, Treace Trent, Helen M. Smith, Willetta Palmer, Harriett B. Palmer, Roy D. Sunderland, Clyde Crow, Curtis King, Clara Wisel, Betty Uhrich, Howard Smith, Luella Stabler, Frank McMasters, Marie McDougall, George Lamboley, Margaret Lehman, Dorothy Horton, Alice M. Huffman, LaVern Ferguson, Evelyn Foulks, Leo L. Boitet, Hubert Langer, Wilbur Gray, Edna Crow, Eula Laisure, Irene Blank, Gladys Lutz, Madonna Maldeney, Verna Bullerman, Beverly Jean Kicler, Lester Gordon, Malinda E. Behrman, Cecilia Kopp, Ralph Storm and Marlin Johnson.



Dismissed From Hospital

Reba Wilkerson, Mildred Sarrazin, Walter Wolf, Bethel Heersche, Henrietta Jimison, William Black, Marian Morrison and Betty Adams.



Returned To Work

Jay Golden, Mary A. Brown, Mae Lacey, Elizabeth Hall, William Devine, Floyd F. Brown, Ruth Joan Trahin, Lillian Hall, Beulah Howard, Eldon Swaidner, Forrest Reed, Evelyn Jennings, Richard G. Camphell and Cletus Ternet.

Any piece of lumber is a thing of beauty to a wood craftsman. What results from that piece of wood can be seen at the HOBBY SHOW.

I wish to offer my apology to Robert Mercer for the article that appeared in last week's WORKS NEWS. Apparently Bob is not married as we were informed. We're very sorry and hope it has caused you no embarrassment. . . . You have heard people say they were going to eat where they could get it for nothing. No one would think Waldo Greider would eat where he bowls for that reason. . . . We have been wondering what became of that beat-up hreadpan Mildred Stadler received in the mail recently and how her baking turned out. . . . Fred Wellensiek's donation to the Red Cross was used as a convincer by Paul Noffze, the solicitor in this group. . . . It seems Luther McConnhey doesn't provide the boys with a morning paper anymore since he bought that Frazer. Is it that you get all the news by radio now, Mac?

Here we are after a week's absence, and we'll try not to let it happen again. . . . We would like to have a volunteer to model Jo Lee's knitting. . . . We are sorry to lose Angie Mello, Joan Platt and Ida Pratt to the day shift. . . . Alice Robinson was singing "All I Want For Christmas Is My Two Front Teeth," but now she is all fixed up. . . . Wonder why Jim Klinger can't keep track of his cigars? And Amy swears up and down she doesn't smoke. . . . We hope to see Margaret Rollins and Vera Neate back soon. They are on the sick list. . . . That is a new Toni that Max Greeno is wearing. . . . Advice to Mary Noll: The next time you wire a coat up, be sure it's Jo Lee's. . . . Helen Thieme wants to move back to town. This thing of carrying bricks to get your car out of the mud has proved too much for Helen. As a remedy, Helen has a ride. . . . "Muscles" Norris got a card from the Buttinski. . . . We thought Martha Bulleit knew her way around better than she does. To think she could get lost in Bldg. 6-4. . . . Welcome to Catherine Traughber, and we hope you like us, Catherine. . . . The gang had a chicken fry for Eleanor Hoffman's birthday. From all reports they had all they could eat. . . . We lose Martha Tipsord to days and Gloria Kumfer to the office at Taylor St. . . . Jean Pittinger and Mary Alice Lindemuth have quit to become fulltime housewives. Good luck, girls. . . . Hazel Leonard's father is ill, and she wants to show what a Good Samaritan Katy Putt is. Katy took Hazel down to see her father and also shaved the gent in the same room with her father. So Katy did her good deed for the day. . . . Happy birthday to Ruth Wydick. . . . Barbara Ray might say she isn't Scotch, but she can't tell us. She washes Kleenex in the pockets of her dress and then dries and reuses it. . . . Ask Vida Craft what the silliest thing on earth is? . . . Marie Johnson's husband donated the chicken for the potluck, but why? . . . Nina Koogle and Eula Laisure are also on our sick list. Hurry and get well, girls. . . . Gene Bryant wiggles his nose when he chews his gum. . . . Never noticed what pretty eyes "Muscles" had until we saw him peeking through the cardboard. . . . Pearl Michaels is very sorry that Barbara Ray had to jump off the chair so quick. . . . Carol Eastes can certainly get her bottles mixed. She ordered shampoo and deodorant from the Jewell Tea. After receiving the order, Carol proceeded to use them. So, she used the deodorant to wash the kid's hair and used the shampoo under her arms. . . . The gang had a potluck for Mary Kintz, our new bride. . . . Mary Reynolds went home the other night with all symptoms of the mumps. We hope it is a false alarm and you will soon be back, Mary. . . . Here is another act of generosity. Jo Lee tried to give the shirt off her back to someone who was cold. . . . There is just no rest for the wicked. So, at least Eleanor Hoffman thinks. It seems she was all prepared for a nice long snooze, but her son had other ideas. He had about 'leventy seven comic books to read. Result: no nap. . . . Goodbye to Ruth Sparks, who has gone to Bldg. 17. . . . The cafeteria is doing a bang up business since Skippy Kurtz went on winding. Every night she eats cherry pie a la mode.

Glenn D. Willits Granted Patent For Newly-designed Motor Stator

Glenn D. Willits, design engineer for Fractional Horsepower Motor Divisions, Bldg. 4-6, has been granted an eighth patent entitled "Stator for Universal Electric Motor."

receives patent . . .

The patent concerns a universal series motor for operation on either alternating or direct current. The magnetic structure of the stator is so arranged, mechanically, to be divided through the center of each field pole so that the air gap flux is not affected but provides a high reluctance path for armature reaction flux through magnetic structure of the stator. This substantially neutralizes cross armature reaction at the commutator, greatly increases motor efficiency and also makes for better commutation and longer brush life.

Mr. Willits is a member of the Fort Wayne Association of General Electric Engineers and the Registered Professional Mechanical Engineers.

new foreman

Carl J. Metker Named Foreman In FHP Div. 1

Carl J. Metker has been appointed Foreman of Armature, Field and Motor Assembly, Fractional Horsepower Div. 1, R. L. Spitler, division superintendent, announced.

Mr. Metker came to work for G-E in 1934 as a duplicating operator at the Winter St. Plant. The following year, he transferred to Bldg. 4-5 on production control work.

In 1941, Mr. Metker became a leading operator in FHP Motor Div. 15 and was named foreman the next year. He joined the FHP Motor Div. 1 organization in 1947.

He is a member of the Foremen's Association. Mr. and Mrs. Metker live at 7318 Old Trail Road, Waynedale.

I really don't know what Walt Kryder and Harold Braden are going to find interesting to talk about when the basketball season ends. Of course, there is always baseball, and that is a good topic. . . . It's no trick these days to find Vance Burnau since we have the new grinder. I can't say that I blame him, for it is some machine. . . . Dorothy Askren was off a couple of days having a bout with the flu bug. I suppose she won as I see her at her desk this morning. . . . Harold Boles reports that his father is improving from his serious illness. Harold made a flying trip to Florida to see him last week. . . . As a receptionist, Wally McKay is a bit of all right, except at times. Never mind, Wally, I'll take over when you don't want to. . . . Mickey Crawford just loves to buy those delicious pecan nut meats from Elex, but the drawback is getting them out of the office. . . . Spring may be just around the corner, but every time I stick my nose around that corner to see, I get the sniffles.

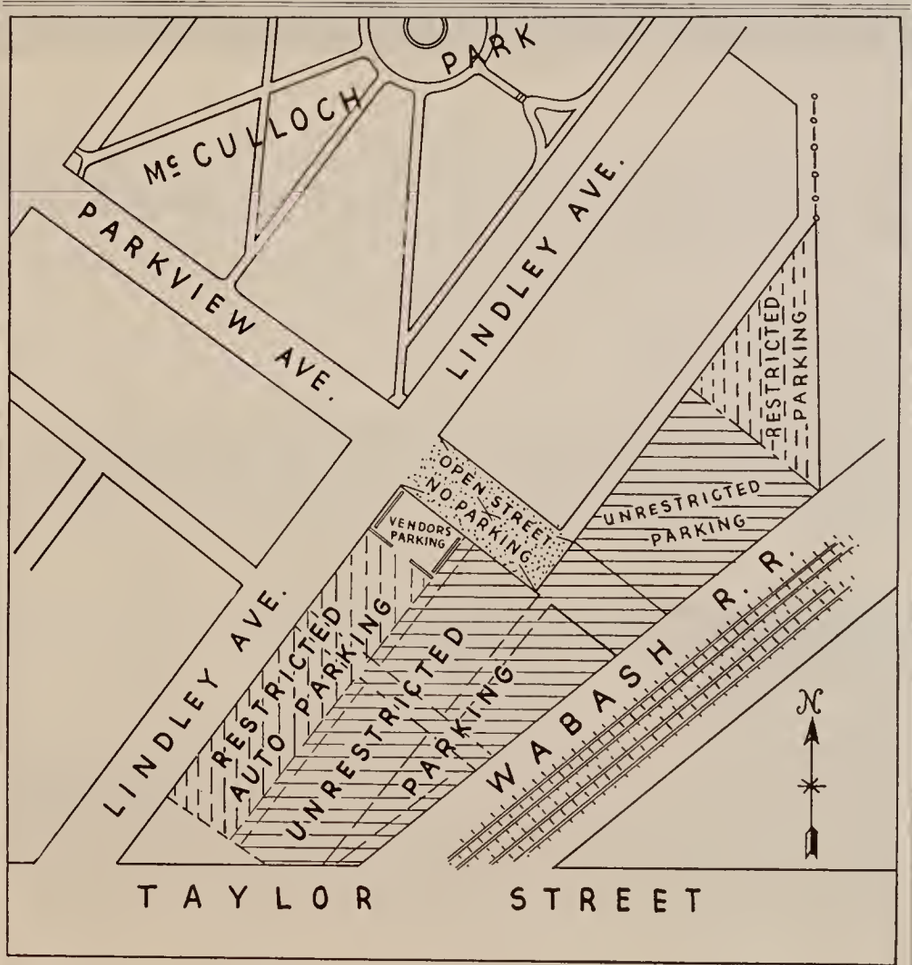
. . . visits Fort Wayne

F. T. Clarke, Safety Chairman, Visits Here

F. T. Clarke, Chairman of the Apparatus Department's Safety Committee, visited the Fort Wayne Works Wednesday and Thursday on a safety and health inspection.

While here, Mr. Clarke contacted all safety chairmen and superintendents in the Broadway and Taylor St. plants.

Count Off 10 20 30



TAYLOR ST. DIV. 17

By Margaret Stahl

The big rain we had last week was good for something. It washed Ross Strodel's car. . . . Betty Pion celebrated her birthday by baking her first cake. We think she was kidding, for it was delicious. The decorations were out of this world. We wish you many more happy birthdays, Betty. . . . We are happy to have Cozy Walper back to work again after her recent operation. You should have a lot to talk about, Cozy. . . . Ed Bandt says that Barkley hasn't anything on him. Barkley has been with the government for 38 years and Ed has been with the G-E the same number of years. Nice record, Ed. . . . Anyone wanting to learn to square or round dance contact Elinor Laux or Sydonna Fox. They are really on the the beam these days. They also wish to challenge anyone to a euchre game. . . . Wanted: Some new chairs in the Lead Section. Dorothy Weiler was seen sitting on the floor last week. . . . The girls in Lead Section are all anxious for Easter to get here. They want to see how that new fox neck piece looks in the Easter Parade. . . . Florence Weimer and husband spent the week-end in Springport, Mich., visiting their daughter. . . . Mel Riley couldn't understand why Hilda LeCoque took the salt shaker to the rest room with her.

First of all I want to thank last week's ghost writer, Alma Witte, for helping me out and doing such a swell job. . . . With the first signs of spring last week-end, everyone began getting spring fever and thinking of vacations. Dick Pinkham and Frank Peternell both went up to their lake cottages to see how they had survived the winter and what spring work needed to be done. . . . Ralph Dennison had the map of northern U.S. out trying to decide where he was going fishing this year. . . . Gordon Smith has had the seed catalog out and from what we can see, has sent in an order big enough to furnish the whole office with vegetables this summer. . . . We were sorry to see Walt Dreyer leave our office last week and go to Broadway. Good luck, Walt, on your new assignment. . . . Joan Ley is certainly doing her best to develop her talents. At the present time, she is taking piano and accordion lessons and is seriously thinking of starting dancing lessons. Gee, it must be nice to have some talent.

PARKING LIMITATIONS SPEED TRAFFIC—New no-parking areas, shown above, have been marked off by the Fort Wayne Police Department to alleviate rush-time congestion in the vicinity of the Lindley Ave. parking lot. Parking is no longer permitted on Parkview Ave., east of Lindley and in the alley east of Lindley Ave. No parking will continue on Lindley Ave. from the Lindley Gate to Parkview.

dies at home

C. W. Liebmann Dies At 70 in Retirement

Carl W. Liebmann, 70, died at 8:35 p.m. Tuesday at his home, 531 Pierce Ave.

Mr. Liebmann joined the General Electric Company April 4, 1922, as a student in Bldg. 6-2. He was assigned to sheet metal work in 1934 in Bldg. 26-1 and remained in Specialty Transformer and Ballast Divisions until his retirement June 30, 1947. At that time, he was doing layout work in Bldg. 26-B.

Mr. Liebmann was a member of the Quarter Century Club.

His survivors include the widow, Anna; a son Arthur, Fort Wayne; two daughters, Mrs. Herman Krueckeberg, Decatur, and Mrs. Earl Maus, Toledo; three grandchildren; a brother, Julius, Detroit, and a sister, Miss Erna Liebmann, Jackson, Mich.

Services will be held at 1:30 p.m. today at the Klaehn Funeral Home with the Rev. Fred Heidbrink officiating. Burial will be in Concordia Cemetery.

SUGGESTION BRINGS $100—Carl Kloepper, FHP Div. 14, (third from left) suggested a change to the chuck jaws for Pratt and Whitney machines and received $100. He is shown receiving his check. Looking on, left to right, are Robert Coen, Ewald Stinsmuhlen, F. H. Campbell, Clifford Witham and Henry Carnall.

Sunrise Service

(Continued from page 1)

tend their own church services later in the morning.

A devotional musical program and a sermon by the Rev. O. C. Busse of the St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church in Decatur have been arranged, Miss Stone said. Music will include Schubert's "Ave Maria," sung by Charles Bilskie, and "The Lord's Prayer," sung by Eileen VanDeGrift. The stage will be decorated in an Easter motif, Miss Stone revealed.

Members are asked to make reservations by Friday, March 16. There will be no charge, Miss Stone explained.

Hot coffee and doughnuts will be served at the Theater after the service.

Suggestion Awards

(Continued from page 1)

John F. Driver, FHP Motor Div. 13, was awarded $50 for suggesting improvements to V-belt drives on P & J lathes. Russ Wiley, DeKalb plant, received $30 for his idea pertaining to the backplate form dies. Thirty dollars went to Glenn Robinett, Specialty Transformer Div. 91, for his suggestion concerning certain shear blades.

Many Lesser Awards

Awards amounting to $25 were paid to Norma Werling, FHP Motor Div. 15; Max F. Fielitz, FHP Motor Div. 16; Elmer Lamley, FHP Motor Div. 16; Gerald E. Miller, Specialty Transformer Div. 94, and Harry W. Snoke, Specialty Transformer Div. 94.

The following people received from $5 to $20 for their ideas:

FHP Motor Div. 1: John W. Wetzel, Sr., Kenneth E. Miller, Dorothy Kick, Beatrice V. Shanyfelt, Bernard P. Kramer, August J. Delagrange, Carrie E. Menges, Jean S. Swinehart and Robert O. Maxwell.

FHP Motor Div. 13: P. A. Schoppman (two awards), Ernest E. Close, Charles R. Richardson, Edith M. Waite, Theodore H. Weber, Walter O. Schelper, John G. Weber, George A. Keller, Thomas D. Cowan (three awards), Leon E. Guillaume, Russell L. Poorman, Pearl E. Childs, John H. Allendorph, Carl W. Crapser, Charles K. Winans, James D. Knupp, William D. Cordy, Bessie C. Monroe, Clarence Watterson and Sidney E. Hanson.

FHP Motor Div. 14: Paul L. Beauchamp (two awards), Jay M. Stilwell, John C. Miller, Donald A. Ankenbruck, Forest Grim, Alfred J. Edwards and Walter W. Woehler.

FHP Motor Div. 15: Leonard E. Luther, Van B. Nelson (two awards), Edwin C. Rodenbeck, Irene Shoemaker, Kenneth Guisinger, Francis F. Fann (two awards), Walter Bauermeister, Orvale E. Harrold, Forrest Allman, Francis L. Bennett, Erma N. Manor, James J. Carey, Martha Smeader (two awards), Audrey A. Turney, Monte Miller and Dale M. Frederick.

FHP Motor Div. 16: Walter H. Buesking, Donald Williams, Rolland G. Mohler, Harold C. Kiel, Margaret Monnot, Jay J. Rippe, Sedoris Mason, Jr., Gustave P. Motz, Althon E. Simpson, Eleanor M. Bolenbaugh, Paul C. Stromheck, David G. Smith, Robert F. Zimmerlee, John C. Westerhausen, Joseph Jensen, Charles T. Irwin, Walter F. Hinrichs, Art Maske, George Eshelman and Minnie L. Lay.

FHP Motor Div. 17: Robert Klingel, Frank D. Cox, Fred E. House, Ralph J. Begue, Dallas Patten, Raymond C. Fulghum, Orville L. Gonser, Robert C. Winkler, Rudolph A. Wuitke, William Easterly, Jr., John E. Donaghy, Melvin E. Riley, William L. Anderson and Harry B. Richardson.

FHP Motor Div. 23: Robert L. Short, Harold D. Drage, Noble H. Wagner, Earl D. Stauffer and Paul H. Schlie.

FHP Motor Div. 10: L. Basil McDougall and Elaine M. Sutter.

Decatur Plant: Lee C. Kolter (two awards).

Tiffin Plant: Alice M. Antullo, Margaret Mowery (two awards), John Hampshire and Alfred J. Heilman.

DeKalb Plant: William C. Berg (two awards), Earl Waterfall, Walter White, Francis Sibley, R. W. Roselieb, Marian Underwood and James Lectch (two awards).

Specialty Transformer Div. 91: Albert F. Campton, Paul G. Rowan and Robert A. Bunyan.

Specialty Transformer Div. 94: Marie L. Droege, Robert L. Taylor (two awards), Velma L. Stitcher (two awards), Don Waldrop (four awards), Ernest Clark, Elmer E. Hazelett, Virgil B. Buchanan, Adolph W. Rzant, Kenneth E. Gasper, J. Virgil McKeeman, Robert H. Keck, Laura E. Brown, Winifred L. Coates, Arthur F. Pequignot (two awards), Francis M. Nelson, Louella D. Lahmeyer, Mary L. Kelley, L. W. Schuster (two awards) and Charles F. Holtsclaw.

Danville Plant: Elma Wynn, Owen Bedard (two awards), Lula Allison (two awards), Bernice Techtow, William Uvick, Robert Gardiner, Ralph Cravens, Albert Hegedus, Myron Prickett (two awards), Thelma Newton, Angeline Morgan and Vivian Calhoun.

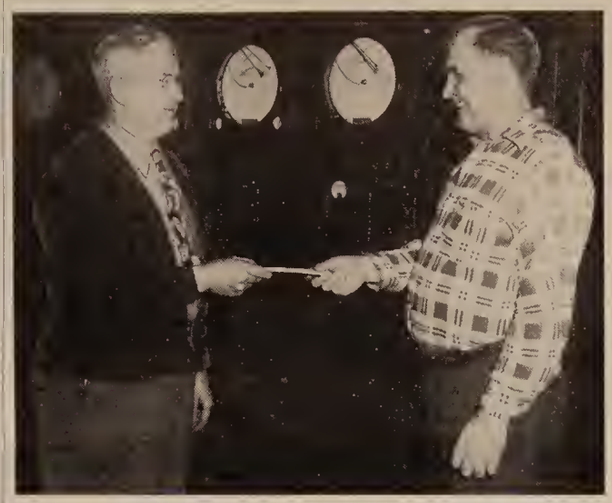
Large Motor and Generator Divisions: Margaret C. Schneider, Chalmer Steele, Edmund L. Anth and Osmer C. Eix.

Wire and Insulation Division: Loretta M. Puff, Eric G. Weber, Virgil Howell, Garnall D. Parkison, Franklin Sasser (four awards), Harold C. Somers, Martin Hegerfeld, Laurance D. Simerman, Gurl D. Teboe, Gerald W. Kummer, Richard D. Kite (two awards), Delmas W. Detter, Warren G. Harding, Harry Arnold, Jr., Gertrude Edwards and Louis A. Dasher.

General Tool Division: Arnold C. Kiefer and Robert Wallace.

General Service Division: John N. Schrieber, Gerald E. Christie, Norbert A. Haus, Carl R. Williams, Leo M. Didier, Arthur E. Ream and John A. Birchmeyer (two awards).

Distribution Division: Harry S. Price and Robert E. Younghaus.



Miscellaneous: Janice D. Sollberger and John J. Hensler.

At a recent second shift party, Howard Morton was seen drinking milk. It sounds rather odd but maybe the milk had foam on it, too. . . . Say, Harry Nickles, while taking that long bus ride after the foreman's meeting, did you ever figure out whether you saw two cats or just one? . . . Our deepest sympathy to William Heit and Merle and Speed Batchellor on the recent death of their mothers. . . . Art Hyser sure believes in getting to work on time. He came in to work a little after five one day last week. . . . Skinny McGary is going to get quite a kick out of life if he keeps wiring up machines like he has lately. . . . Everyone knows where some skaters should wear skates besides on their feet, but George Oden needs them on his head. He came to work with his nose skinned and said he had been roller skating. He must have looked like a bird when he landed. . . . By secret ballot of the Taylor St. heart players, Bob Hughes has been chosen Chief Kibitzer. . . . Bet Bill Quarve will do his joh before he collects his ice cream next time. He got caught and had to pay Bob Zoller back. . . . How much honor can one fellow get? Pop Luebke was recently presented with a plaque proclaiming him a charter member of the Daisy Knot-hole Gang.

Charter Member

GETS $130—William West, Taylor St. Power House, (right) suggested a change to the water heaters in the Power House and received $130 for his idea. He is shown receiving his award check from his foreman, Ralph Latham.

Employee Reports

(Continued from page 1)

estimated retirement income. This computation includes the amount of pension already built up to Dec. 31, 1950, which consists of credit for service prior to Sept., 1946 (paid for entirely by the Company), and service credit built up from Sept., 1946 (paid for by the employee and the Company). There are more than 17,000 employees who have money left in the old Additional Pension Plan, which, if kept in the Trust, will provide retirement income in addition to the income from the regular Pension Plan. The balances for these employees will be shown as an extra item on the statement.

The estimated pension for service from Dec. 31, 1950, to date of normal retirement (65 for men, 60 for women) is based, among other things, on the employee's pay scale on Dec. 31, 1950, and on the assumption that he will continue to contribute to the Pension Plan until retirement. In addition, the approximate primary Social Security benefits will be shown, and if necessary, the amount the Company would contribute to provide the applicable minimum guaranteed income under the modified Pension Plan.

The employee should bear in mind that this is only an estimate of his retirement income at normal retirement age based on Dec. 31, 1950, income and Social Security figures. For example, any change in income or Social Security laws will affect that actual retirement income.

Another section of the personal report to each employee will show the amount of life insurance each member of the Insurance Plan has as of Dec. 31, 1950, the weekly disability benefit for which each was eligible, and a summary of the hospital and surgical benefits of the Plan. The report will also show the hospital and surgical benefits available locally for the employee's dependents and whether he has subscribed for those coverages. In some locations, dependent coverages are provided through insurance; in others mutual benefit associations underwrite the coverage.

Savings Shown

Since savings are an important part of any individual's security program, the report also shows the status at the end of 1950 of those employees who are participating in the G-E Employees Savings and Stock Bonus Plan.

Information in this section consists of three items:

Maturity value of U. S. Savings Bonds on deposit under the Plan on Dec. 31, 1950;

G-E common stock credited to employee's account on Dec. 31, 1950;

Income on 1948 and 1949 stock bonus on Dec. 31, 1950.

Under the G-E Employees Savings and Stock Bonus Plan, employees can purchase U. S. Savings Bonds through payroll deduction and leave them on deposit with the Company for a five year period. Each year the employee is credited with a 15 per cent bonus in G-E common stock. This stock is delivered to the employee along with the income on the stock bonus at the end of the five-year holding period.

A final paragraph summarizes other plans available at most locations.

Thus, in one handy form, each employee will have available all the basic information concerning his share in G-E benefit plans.

DIVISIONS 14, 17 HONORED—Lisle D. Hodell, Manager of Manufacturing, Fractional Horsepower Divisions, center, is pictured as he presented Meritorious Safety Performance Certificates to safety chairmen from Divisions 14 and 17. According to Safety Section reports, Division 14 won the award for its excellent severity record while Division 17 was honored for its consistently "good to excellent" safety performance. Also shown are, l-r, safety chairmen Ross Strodel, Ralph Hare, Henry Carnall and Ewald Stinsmuhlen.

Washington made the cherry famous by chopping down a tree so we always think of cherry pie on his birthday. Now along comes Dale Cowan celebrating his birthday on Washington's day. Dale is changing the story by treating his friends with apples on his birthday. We say thanks for the apples. . . . It's a pink-bootied addition to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Nyffeler. Congratulations, folks! . . . Happy birthday to Eldora Kirchner, Esther Strickler, Joan York, Ralph Welch, Dale Cowan and Evelyn Plasterer. . . . It is another little girl at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Koos. Congratulations, folks, and hello, Nancy Jane. . . . We wish a speedy get-well to George Buckley, who is recuperating from a recent operation. . . . Clyde Beery has been on the sick list for a week. Hurry back, Clyde. . . . In the spring a young man's fancy turns to thoughts of—new cars. Gordon Railing, being the proud owner of a new Oldsmobile, decided to celebrate. . . . The Spike Jones show in Fort Wayne was enjoyed by a group from Decatur. They report never a dull moment in the show. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Lehman, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Stemen, Barbara Hurst, Junior Smith, Nora Bower, Marcia Martin and Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Schlickman. . . . Mystery for the week: Who put the colored Easter egg in Mina Lampy's lunch? Such a pretty one too. Oh, oh, it's a rubber one, too bad Mina can't eat that kind of egg. . . . Jerry Millier is on days replacing George Roop. . . . Come the weather what it may, Marcia Martin will sport a new pair of red shoes on Easter. . . . Esther Morgan, who recently underwent surgery, was seen up town chatting with her co-workers. Hope we see you back to work soon, Esther. . . . Joyce Fruechte is wearing a pretty diamond. When is the big day, Joyce? . . . Ella Scherry entertained at Sunday dinner for her brothers, Dr. Ed Worthman, from Kiel, Wis., and Mat Worthman, from Bluffton. . . . Rolland Scherry, son of Ella, will have arrived in Japan at the time of this reading. . . . Paula Thieme is sporting a new Chevy. . . . Things that I never knew until now: The time that Spike Cramer caught himself behind the boiler and his wife had to cut him loose before he could get out. . . . They tell me that George Womack will contract to haul cinders. Yes, he has a company formed. George takes the orders and Ann and Josephine do the hauling. . . . I sure would like to go some place and have lunch with Pat Huser, using the menu that she was showing around last week. Boy what wonderful eats. . . . Our sincerest sympathy is extended to Ruth Tinkham upon the death of her husband. Ruth, better known to us as Nancy, was a former winder for Mr. McDougal. . . . Lois Myers has left us and we will surely miss her. So long, Lois, and we'd like to see you again. . . . Leona Fruechte is back after a few days of illness. . . . Sincere sympathy to Ralph Stanley upon the death of his mother. . . . One of the best ones that we have heard in a long time is the one that Dale Cowan promulgated last week. Dale in a hurry to go home last week, grabbed a dinner bucket, thinking it was his, and off he went for home. When his wife went to wash it, lo and behold, the bucket was full. Dale, being a Good Samaritan, brought it right back deciding that he had some second shifter's feeding bag, and he was right. . . . A. F. (Ott) Passwater, retired, recently was home demonstrating the art of cutting meat in preparation to getting the noon meal. Before he knew it he had cut the wrong meat, it being the meat on his hand; he severed it and cut a nerve. He is recuperating nicely at this time. . . . Ann Werst is a cold meat addict; and we believe she surely loves it from what we have seen. The girls on the line the other day presented her with a very nice portion of it. . . . Want to see something? Just go out to Herm Myers' farm on 49 and see those beautiful triplet calves that he has. . . . Man without a country, I mean a man without his shoes, and that goes for Gordon (Cowboy) Railing. He lost his boots the other night and had to sit for a while. They were finally located and now he is walking again. . . . Overheard the other day that Cleva Weaver will now swap her donkey for an Easter Bunny. How would you like to have "Harvey," Cleva?

Mother and Triplets

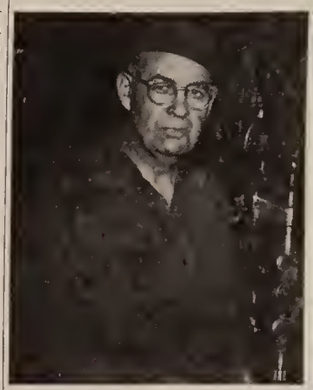
Slow but sure we are edging toward spring. The pussywillows are almost ready for those permanent bouquets. . . . Congratulations to Laura Starner on making the Quarter Century Club . . . It's a happy birthday to Geneva Farrell, Rachel Jackson and Thelma Overton. Kate Weigle, Gertie Wheat, Edith Gebhart, Mary Zirkle, Tena Dondero, Mabel Bucher and Bertha Witham helped Thelma celebrate by having a potluck dinner. . . . Augusta Boehm thinks that falling out of bed isn't the best way to start a new day. . . . The other day, Shorty Jackson was pressing away when the head of the press fell to the floor with a terrible clatter. We don't know which was more frightened, Shorty or Ella Arn. Ella jumped so much that she nearly sat on Mary Irven's lap. . . . You have heard how busy a one-armed paperhanger is at a jugglers' contest. Annie Cook can compete with that. She had two radios going, listening to the tournament on one and the Hit Parade on the other. In the meantime, she was reading the funnies to her little boy. We'll be with you and pulling for Auburn tomorrow, Annie. . . . Walter Kryder says that eating carrots keeps his eyesight good. He can even see around corners. So, watch out, gals. . . . Lillian Murphy thinks the hairpin is a wonderful gadget. The other day, when she found her blouse didn't have any buttons, a hairpin came in handy. . . . Velma Seibt is taking lessons on how to replace fuses when the lights go out. . . .

We were sent greetings from a former co-worker, Potsie Anderson, who saw Jack Pollock last week in Angola. Potsie said it was a bad winter in the Indian country and there were many days he couldn't have made it through Sunset Pass. Niee hearing from you, Potsie. . . . Cigars were passed out by Clarence Myers last week. The occasion was the arrival of a daughter, Mavis Beth, 6 lb. 12 oz. bundle of joy. Mother and daughter are reported doing fine. Congratulations, folks. . . . What do you think about those Boedekers again winning the Mixed Doubles Bowling Tournament. It's getting to be quite a habit, isn't it? . . . Lyle Claphan went to Houghton Lake, Mich., last week-end. Of all the times when it was nice to go, he waited until there was a good ice storm. It only took 10 hours to get there. He said he had a lot of fun even if he didn't catch many fish. . . . Don Batchelder was on the winning Zion basketball team and made the feature picture in the sport section of Sunday's paper. . . . You probably have heard of people who are a bad influence on children. I'll tell you about Louie Watt's influence on Perry O'Neil's, one evening. While having lunch, Louie dunked his cookie in his coffee. Of course, the youngsters, seeing the company do something unusual, watched very closely. The next morning for breakfast, Perry said both children promptly dunked their toast in their milk. Now you can all imagine how bad Louie felt about his influence on those children. . . . Here is a new way to dispose of your unwanted junk. Just mail it to your friends. Last week Art Brandenberger, Div. 13, received a pair of discarded license plates with a note, "Compliments of the Harold Whonsetlers." . . . Everett Anderson, our micrometer man, did okay by attending the "Share The Wealth" program. Everett came away with about $40 of the wealth. . . . Cecil Strong is going into the spray tank business, so get your orders in early. . . . Did you notice the patch on Howard McMaken's eye? No, he didn't run into a door, nor did he zig when he should have zagged. The truth is that Mac has a scratch on his eye ball. . . . Our hats are off to Fred Boehm and Troy Long on their efficiency at Tuesday's fire. Also congratulations to the rest of our volunteer firemen. Their promptness keeps these incidents to a minimum.

We're sorry to hear that Madonna Maldoney caught her hand in the car door and injured it. . . . We hope that by this time, Doris Lontz's mother is well on the road to recovery. . . . We're glad to hear that Clara Wisel is recovering from an operation. . . . Charlie Francis remains about the same. He would like to see some of his co-workers. How about it? . . . Hedy Harrison is back after a siege of the flu. . . . Evelyn Chapman says she needs some Hadacol. Her watch just runs when she does, and it has been running slow. . . . We notice that Joe Bell is starting to grow a little "cookie duster." . . . Our sincerest sympathy to Bob Walt in the death of his mother.

Clip the entry coupon and enter the second annual HOBBY SHOW at your G-E Club.

Inquiring Reporter:



"WHAT QUALITIES DO YOU LOOK FOR MOST IN A LEADER?"

WILLIADEAN RATHERT

Taylor St.

"A good leader, in my opinion, should have honesty, sincerity and courage with strength of character to carry out his convictions of right and duty."

OLIVER J. MILLER

Bldg. 2-2

"I believe a good leader should show respect for his fellow men and be able to hold the good will of those who come under his leadership."

ARNO TAYLOR

Bldg. 19-2

"Above all, a leader should be able to attain the approval of those he directs. He should be sincere, tolerant, yet firm in all decisions. He should never discriminate, except as to abilities. He should have respect for the ideas of others. I think these are the essentials of good leadership."

CHARLES F. HOLTSCLAW

Bldg. 26-1

"A leader should be a capable teacher and possess the following characteristics: Common sense in abundance, dependability which is unquestioned, integrity above reproach, good judgment, promptness, tact and thoroughness. He should have compassion for his fellow man and have faith and courage that comes only by the grace of God."

H. G. WIEGMAN

Bldg. 4-6

"In politics, in business or in industry, honesty is a prime requisite for a leader. The really great leaders in any of these endeavors are humble. They have a genuine desire to serve their fellow men and will dispatch their responsibilities according to the dictates of their personal convictions."

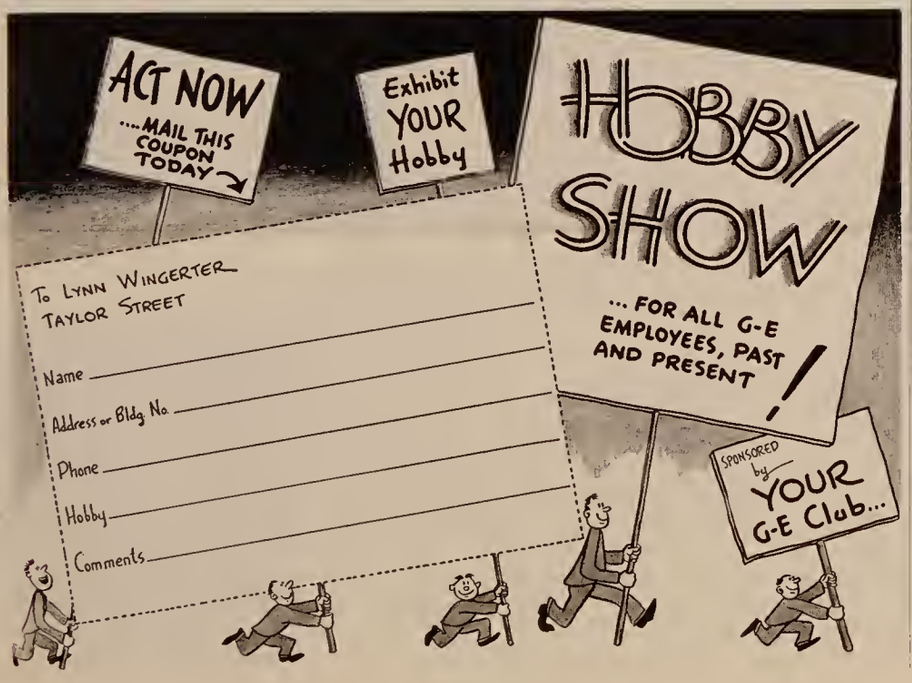
TRUE OR FALSE: It is easier to find a hundred reasons for not doing something than to find one for doing it. Your editor could find a hundred reasons for not writing a column this week but only one why he should. That one reason is that today, tomorrow, and all of next week he would be asked this question. "What's the matter, Al old boy (and we do mean old), you didn't have a column in?" Well, our answer would be that before we can put something "In" you must first give "Out." Know what we mean? Start flapping your lips and let us in on all those good items you have to make up a column. . . . COLLEGIATE SHEETS: We were wondering why Vaughn Sheets has been wearing those bright collegiate-looking ties, but now we know. He had a birthday March 3. Since this birthday put him beyond that 40, where-life-begins-age, he wanted something to remind him that he too was young one day. As a birthday present from his better half, he was given permission to trade in his old tub for another. Vaughn, we would not have mentioned the word "tub" if you had traded for a Ford or Chevy, but from a Dodge to a Plymouth, what else can you call it? . . . WANTS TO TRADE a tractor for a razor. Reason: Steve Bobay thinks a razor has more pull. . . . CUTTIN' HIS BUDGET: Although you can get ink from stationery stock, Bill Rohe has been borrowing ink for as long as we can remember. Now, in order to stop this habit, someone is filling his inkwell with water. It won't be long until he will be using invisible ink. . . . LAST SATURDAY Joe Cerveris bet on a horse. The last time Joe heard the horse's name was right after the announcer said, "They're off." Now Joe's worried. Did the horse drop dead or is he still running? . . . THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK: Be interested in others, interested in their pursuits, their welfare, their homes and families. Make merry with those who rejoice and mourn with those who weep. Let every one you meet, however humble, feel that you regard him or her as a person of importance.

Insulation News

Make new friends,
But keep the old.
The one is silver,
And the other gold.

We have several new friends to introduce, and by the same token to note the departure of several. Al LeFevra is now at Winter St. In his place, may we present a newcomer to Fort Wayne, Howard Kilgore, only two weeks ago a native of Bluefield, W. Va. He was stationed here at Baer Field in 1945, liked Fort Wayne and planned to come here sometime. He is married. He and his wife are temporarily residing with his sister. . . . Bob Nichols, now works at Taylor St. John Biddle is taking his place. He graduated from Elmhurst High School, and formerly worked at Meyer's ice cream factory. . . . Our "Swish" boy, Henry Reidenbach has been transferred. Bill Hattendorf will swish for us now. By the way he limps around, he'd better take his athletics, like volleyball, a little easy. . . . R. J. (Dick) Robertson is the newcomer in the dispatcher's job. . . . These nice spring days do make a person want to brighten up a bit, and Carl Saaf is no exception. We think those beautiful ties he wears rob the rainbow. Maybe it's because he celebrated his birthday last week. . . . Everyone will be pleased to hear the announcement of the birth of a 6 lb. 4 oz. little girl to Hollis and Fred Jack. We all send best wishes to the new parents. . . . At long last you may find the Elmer Bradleys at home on Buell Drive. That certainly accounts for that relaxed air about Elmer. It's been going on for a long time, but the last nail is in place now, and the moving van left the front stoop. . . . All the Elex girls are justly proud of our fine organization, and just among us girls, we have a charter member in our midst who is a real booster. This member cannot wait from month to month to read her copy of the "Echo," and consequently, in deference to a big drag, gets an advance copy every time. We think such enthusiasm is entirely justifiable, and we certainly wish to commend "Miss" Earl Plummer for her unflagging interest!

Here we are back in the news again after several weeks' absence. We hope to have a column in every week now, providing you keep us supplied with news. . . . Across our nation the last few days there has been a very powerful mobilization of men. The greatest door knocking ever. THE RED CROSS DRIVE. This organization is supported entirely by voluntary contributions from millions of people just like us here in Repair and Return. Local chapters through their workrooms produce garments, knitted articles and surgical dressings, etc. Beside maintaining canteens and recreational projects, the Red Cross recruits nurses for both Army and Navy, collects blood—and when do we need it more than now for our men in Korea! They cooperate with the Civilian Defense in preparing for possible disaster needs. Remember our very, very small one last year? Help prepare for an emergency; you never know when it might be yours. Think it over and when you are asked to contribute, let's make R & R 100 per cent givers. Thanks to all of you for your donations. . . . QUESTION OF THE WEEK: Who was it that said, "After talking to the new grandpa—that it takes more than a stork to get along with an old crow?" Clarence Hewes, perhaps? . . . After talking to his namesake, Lynnie Rodemaker is now looking for his family tree book. What's the trouble, Lynnie Boy, can't you remember what tree you swung from? . . . Very noticeable is the smile Florence Fett has been wearing and she needn't tell us why. We know it's because Ammie is back on days. . . . For many years we had thought the initials D. E. S. stood for Dallas Elmer Smith, but now we find, after reading an article in the newspaper lately, that they mean Don't Ever Slip. Don't feel bad, Dal, it isn't every day a fellow 102 years old will name his newly born after you. . . . After accusing almost every one of sending her a comic Valentine, Mary Ann Gressley found it was Ruth Gongaware, the girl next to her. Apologies are in order, Mary Ann. . . . Orlie (Shortstop) Conner should be given a medal for his being so generous. Orlie can't miss a day buying something for Ross Haflick from the candy lady. "And it's pretty hard to bite the hand that's feeding you," so says Orlie. . . . Ruth Barnes certainly explained to Cecil Onion very bluntly just how she figured Central won the sectional, and we might add it took only a few words. . . . Bill (Drugstore Cowboy) Morton was riding very high in his saddle on Hoagland to win the tournament until he met up with rough and tough Hopalong Gillie from Huntertown who lassoed him right out of his boots, and billfold. . . . Ross Haflich's joke of roping Paul (Scrooge) Winters into Jim Carey's little box backfired. As for Paul he really cleaned up, and not with his broom and dust pan either. . . . We are very sorry to hear that Jack Payton's wife is in the hospital and hope that she recovers very soon. . . . THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK: ASK YOURSELF, WHAT WOULD I GIVE TO STAY OUT OF KOREA? A pint of blood, a quarter, 50 cents or a dollar. Yes, it's so little, but ask the boys over there what they would give to get out, and then compare. Remember your Red Cross.



Now that you have had your faith in nature restored with such a beautiful Sunday as we had last week-end, maybe you can last until spring gets here. . . . Emmie Stock is convinced he has either a mouse or a monkey using his desk after he is gone. Nearly each morning he finds peanut shells and banana peels in the wastebasket by his desk. Wonder which it could be? . . .

Who's Using His Desk

Lucy Roskuski has been trying her best to ride on the bus for a penny. She keeps putting a penny in the fare box, and then the conductor has to remind her of the other nine cents. . . . The winding girls treated Jean Forst to a farewell potluck last Wednesday. Jean has decided to take up housekeeping as a full time career. Good luck, Jean from all the gang and be sure to let us hear from you often. . . . Roger Crabill was complaining long and loud about the work a potluck requires. Who should be close by to hear but Jean Forst who was supposed to be surprised when lunchtime came along. Oh well, the food was still good anyway. . . . Phil Kraft thought he was doing a good deed when he moved a dead animal off the highway. Was he surprised when it turned out to be a skunk? . . . One of those post cards that create a longing for the sunny South arrived from Fred Stauffer. Lucky guy, he is visiting Charles "Izzy" Israel and Milt Dennison in Florida. . . . Ray Greek has tried something new. He left his pay check in his shirt pocket and got it washed instead of cashed. Well, that's one way to do it. . . . Be sure to keep your eyes open now and watch for that robin. Who knows, spring may get here yet.

If people are to continue to inhabit the earth, they will have to learn to tolerate people, whether they like them or not.

Fred Fenner's face was mighty red the other day when he discovered he had misplaced his car keys instead of their having been borrowed as he first thought. When Fred checked the pocket that he always carried his keys in and discovered they were missing, he immediately accused Bob Shuelke and Paul Habbecker of taking them. Now Bob and Paul, those two cherubic young fellows, were deeply hurt when Fred hurled this accusation into their upturned, innocent little faces. Maintaining their composures, they professed no knowledge of the deed and offered their services in the recovery of the missing keys. It was said that a look of pain was noticeable on their angelic countenances when Fred, after retrieving them from his jacket pocket, refused to admit he had been wrong in his accusation. . . . That ten dollars Herb Halley won the other day must have come in handy when he purchased his auto license plates. He was seen putting them on his car in the parking lot after work on the afternoon of March 1. Herbie must have driven to work that morning on the old plates and a prayer. Incidentally the bet was paid in seven one-dollar bills and 300 pennies suspended in grease. . . . If any of you noticed the dazed look on Joe Jensen's face as he staggered out of the tool room the other day, mumbling, "They can't do that to me," and you were alarmed, you needn't have been. It was only a temporary shock sustained when Harold Hohman and yours truly garnered 21 straight points in the euchre game before George Holthouse and Joe were able to eke out their first point. . . . We have mentioned before in this column of Walter Shultz's voracious appetite and how the fellows sort of look out for him. This was the thought that prompted Owen Cartwright to send him, via Walter Buesking, a sandwich which he had ordered but decided he didn't want after eating the rest of his lunch. Buesking, true to his trust, carried the sandwich upstairs and went directly to Shultz. He informed Walt of what he had and of Owen's generosity. Walt's face lit up like a child's beholding his first Christmas tree, as he reached forth his eager hand to grasp this delicious gift. Buesking started to hand the article to Walt, but swiftly drew back. Looking inside the napkin enclosing the food, his early resolve to deliver this intact was replaced by a desire to have it for himself. Losing no time, he removed a large segment and masticated it with great gusto and much lip music. To say Shultz was shocked would be putting it mildly. His recovery was very rapid, however. Two days later and several extra sandwiches brought back his usual good humor. . . . Herb Langer, if you get this, I hope you enjoy it as much as we did. . . . We extend to Johnnie Johnson and his family our heartfelt sympathy for the loss felt by them when Johnnie's father, William F. Johnson, died.

Who Has His Keys

Even the lowly match box cover has its place in the HOBBY SHOW.

From G-E to G. I.

Some folks say that it is pretty hard on a fellow to leave civilian life and an industrial job and report to work for Uncle Sam. However, T/Sgt. Harold Fremon, who was recalled to active duty with the 163rd Fighter Interceptor Squadron, found that the changeover wasn't too difficult.

One reason, perhaps, is that the 163rd outfit is stationed for the time being at Baer Field, and for another, Harold was a veteran of nearly five years in the Air Force during the last war.

Typical of the many G-E employees returning to jobs in the armed forces, Harold was ready for the change when he received his long-awaited orders. The day after he received his papers to report for active duty, he brought them in to show his supervisor, Ross Van Horn, in the Large Motor and Generator Drafting Section.

In line with Company policy, employees with a year or more of service receive a military leave pay, amounting to one month's wages, when they enter the armed service. There's a minimum of red tape to this, and as soon as a simple form is filled out and properly approved, payroll sections issue the pay draft.

Second Interruption

Harold joined G-E in 1940. His industrial career was interrupted soon after that by the first call from the Air Force. He returned to the Company in 1946 and entered the Apprentice School, graduating from the drafting course in 1949.

"My service record is a race between G-E and the Air Force," Harold says. "I've had about five years in each, and now it looks as though the Air Force is going to win out."

Since the start of the war in Korea, more than 215 G-E employees, seven of them women, have left the Company to enter the service. Some of these have been drafted, some have volunteered and many have been recalled to duty as reserves. But the procedure for all of them is very similar—goodbye to the gang at work; hello to the gang in the barracks.

T/Sgt. Harold Fremion receives a requisition for parts from crew chief, M/Sgt. Donald Kent, on wing. Both airmen worked in Bldg. 31-2.

Harold shows his orders to report for active duty to R. A. Van Horn, his supervisor in the Large M-G drafting division.

Harold fills out a form and, with no delay, collects his G-E military leave pay, one month's wages, from Luevern Major, Bldg. 31-1.

Harold says good-bye to civilian life and to G-E buddies, William Gill, C. Arland Werker, and E. F. Richter.

The first day back in the Air Force, finds Harold checking in at his new G-I home at Baer Field.

REACHES 30-YEAR MARK—Jesse O. Moore (second from right) Bldg. 4-1, celebrated his 30th anniversary Thursday, March 1, at which time several of his co-workers gathered to congratulate him. Left to right are W. H. Franke, J. W. LaVine, Sam Sroufe, Ray Dotzer, Adam Flager, Mr. Moore and H. G. Siebold.

By Don Clark

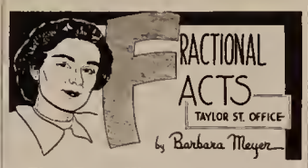
BOLTS AND NUTS

This blasted car,
Just won't work,
Starts to run and
Stops with a jerk.

It wheezes, coughs,
Shimmies and shakes,
News next morning,
"Giant Earthquakes!"

You check the gas,
Look at the oil,
While your temper
Comes to a boil.

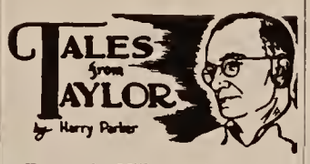
You look at the dash,
What to you see?
That you forgot
To turn on the key.
—Mary Ellen Owen.



Barney Weber, back for a visit, reports hearing from John Hengstellar in California. John is feeling fine and doing good in his agricultural enterprise. From all appearances, Barney also is thriving on his retired life of hunting, fishing and working around home. . . . Guy Wagoner was overjoyed to have Jack Hurless return. He missed Jack's affectionate back scratching, hair mussing and other kibitzing during the noon euchre games. In fact, Guy is quite jealous over Jack's affection. He even printed JACK on the back of his shirt so no one else would get those caresses. . . . DIE PLANT: Harry Klepper and John Bartles have been using their lunch periods to practice slight of hand tricks. They are now pretty good at making quarters disappear. Anyone interested can see this stunt for only two-bits cash. . . . This spring weather must be causing many Die Plant boys to consider the gas consumption of their cars. Ned Greulach's free trial offer of a special needle to improve gas mileage is getting a lot of attention. Bob Ray isn't too much concerned about his car's gas mileage. It is breaking him up trying to keep hub caps on his car. . . . Henry Sandguhler sure misses his wife when she is gone, especially when it's time to get up in the morning. Frank Lebrecht called him on the telephone, gave him a serenade with the car horn and pounded on the window but Hank slumbered on. . . . Lloyd Welbaum is either a conservative soul or likes his wife's cakes very much. He brings a piece of cake from home to finish off his meal at the cafeteria. He buys his nickel cup of coffee at the cafeteria, however. . . . That foul odor in the east end of Bldg. 19-4 wasn't caused by welding gas at all. That was Paul Dole smoking some five-year-old tobacco. Paul doesn't intend to use such aged tobacco except when substituted by one of his good friends. . . . Last week Don Eme tried heating his jar of noodle soup on the electric hot plate. It sure works too. In fact, Don forgot about it. The jar overheated, cracked around the bottom, and the last we saw Don was cleaning up the mess. . . . Everett Anderson did well when appearing on that "Share the Wealth" radio program last week. Besides winning $40, Everett showed us he isn't bashful when it comes to making love. . . . An embarrassing moment overtook Scott Click at the Cafeteria last week. He dropped a penny change so he stooped over to pick it up. A loud r-r-i-p-p hastened his return to a normal posture and exit from the scene. Safely back in Bldg. 19-5, Scott surveyed the damage with the aid of mirror. You're right. Another job for our needle and thread man, John Neukam. . . . With the critical day in his life coming March 24, we know why Paul Wuttke keeps sweeping around his machine. Just practicing to be the ideal married man. . . . Was Paul Shive ever flustered when he telephoned his wife and heard a man answer. Paul's face returned to a normal color though when he spotted Everett Schmidt on the other extension phone. . . . Captain Mark McNulty watched the Indianapolis Regional down at the Atterbury Air Base on television. He claims it was better than being in the field house. . . .

Saw Regionals on TV

Merv Lawden is getting his new telcvision set in shape for the finals. . . . Have you received your cigar yet from Walter Greiner? He just announced the coming marriage of his daughter, Vivian. . . . We are glad to see Ed Shafenacker's picture in the Pet Milk Magazine as a successful dairy farmer. . . . Bob Plasterer is moving into the photography hobby row with the purchase of a new camera. We'll be looking for some good pictures, Bob. . . . Lee Schnepp was happy this week-end, He correctly picked the winner of the Regionals. . . . Chet Reynolds claims he would have been happy without the lettuce if Decatur had only won. Bill Mowry claims the Yellow Jackets were tired. . . . Dick Burns has finally proven that working with Gale Rinehart is a strenuous ordeal. The bats can't even stand him. Anyway, one landed on the radiator beside Gale's drawing table last Monday and finding the situation a little boring he decided to give up and die. . . . Can you answer this question?—Why don't I give a pint of blood to save a life?



Ceramics can be interesting and profitable, too. This hobby is sweeping G-E in popularity. See the beautiful items employees have made at the G-E Club HOBBY SHOW.

The Fort Wayne Battalion of the Naval Reserve has some sharp looking swabbies (sailors, to you civilians), but none are as sharp as Seaman Albert Louis Volz. . . . Irene Whelan was in somewhat of a tizzy this past week. She's throwing a little reception for her daughter and son-in-law, Lt. and Mrs. Bain McClintock. . . . The Accounting basketball team lost to the Firemen with a score of 54-27. The team says that if they had a little more moral support at their games they would probably do a lot better. . . . An 8 lb. baby boy, Charles Robert, is the pride and joy of Mrs. Jane Reeves who is an ex-Accounting Section co-worker. . . . Strutting like a peacock was Gene Williams as he showed pictures of his small granddaughter to the office. . . . "Willie Puckett" is the new nickname which was given to Roberta James. . . . "Spring in the air" was the reason Nannette Holey and Ginny Price gave as to why they walked home from work one day last week—19 blocks, too. . . . Alice Hormann has lost all faith in color charts. After applying three different colors on the walls of her new apartment, she still has the original color. . . . A new feature of the column will be "Hints on Waistline Whittling" by Ruth Kibiger. Ruth's novel suggestion this week is to have the carpenter install the handles of your kitchen cabinets near the floor, as they did in her new home. (But, no fair doing your chores barefoot and opening the doors with your toes!) . . . Congratulations to Sue Seidel, who bowled a 230 game. . . . Are you ready to trade-in your new black Pontiac yet, Harold Nagel? . . . Beverley Goshorn reports that she had a wonderful week-end in Washington, D. C. She visited her twin sister, Barbara, who is a secretary for the F.B.I. . . . Thelma Barbeau will be back with us as soon as she recovers from her tonsilectomy. . . . Our sympathy is extended to Florence Mullaney on the death of her aunt. . . . We are glad to see that Harriett Heaney is getting some relief from her cold. . . . A lot of exciting things have been happening since a couple girls, Bertha McCague and Harriett Heaney, have been drinking their Hadacol—long hair one day and short hair others. . . . Since Dora Holycross has returned from the I.B.M. School, she is really getting bad. She uses a small flashlight instead of a fountain pen. . . . Bye-bye, Marilyn Parker, and good luck on your new job. . . . Chicago visitors were Gert Kasimier and Dorothy Crist. . . . To prove that the girls in payroll are really earnest about their knitting, Bonnie Eggeman had "the-little-club" over to her house recently. Those present were: Charlene Bly, Lucille Schelper, Marilyn Parker, Harriett Heaney, Janet Crain, Marilyn Franke and June Gaunt. . . . The group congratulates June on completing her first bootie. Now the race is really on to determine who will finish that last bootie, first—June or Bonnie. . . . Happy birthday to Dora Holycross and Isabel Bartholomew March 8. . . . DOUBLE BIRTHDAYS belong to Leon Hearn (who formerly worked in Sales, now in Peoria, Ill.), and his new, 8¾ lb. son, Gary Stephan. Feb. 18 is the momentous day. . . . Our sympathy goes to Marie Drewett, whose husband dicd. Marie formerly worked in the Ediphone Room of the Sales Div. and then for Paul Deal, until she and her family moved to Chicago. She is now employed in the Chicago Office. . . . We all want to wish Phyllis Ann Westbrook a speedy rccovery from her fractured finger. . . . Just in case you were wondering, that odd sound of clink—pause—bang is coming from the newly installed mail tubes in the file room. . . . From Purchasing comes wishes for a speedy recovery to Charlene Heinzelmann, who has been ill several weeks. . . . Welcome to Florine Sievers, who is filling in for Charlene. . . . Karl Knauer left his studies at Purdue to come home and help his mother celebrate her birthday. Happy birthday, Gladys. Karl, stop in and see us all sometime real soon (Karl formerly worked for Frank Goetz in Bldg. 6-2). . . . Beverley Springer, who use to be with the Customer Billing Division, and is now in Telegraph, Bldg. 6-2, is the proud owner of a very beautiful diamond. Art Staley is the groom-to-be.

Has New Feature

Emanuel Miller, who retired March 1, wants all of his co-workers to know that he has a super television set with a 48-inch screen in his home. He extends an invitation to one and all to come and see it and enjoy the programs. Of course, there will be a slight charge of 25 cents from 6 p.m. to 12 midnight. After midnight, when there is nothing on the air, the charge will be 15 cents. During the program, his wife will serve hot dogs at 15 cents each or two for a quarter. . . . Paul Faulkner wishes to announce that he is going to take unto himself a wife. The young lady is none other than Gail Pfeiffer of our Switch Section, who is now wearing a very beautiful ring. As yet there has been no definite date set for the nuptials, but they hint that it might be sometime in April. That is, if Paul can dispose of that motorcycle he purchased some time ago. The money will be needed to purchase some new clothes and other accessories that such an occasion requires. . . . Being a firm believer in the old adage that "If a man builds a better mouse trap, the world will beat a path to his door," Everett McKee is busily engaged in building a bigger and better rat trap. He says it will differ in many ways from the conventional traps now on the market. He tells us that this trap instead of breaking the rodent's neck, it will drop him into a tank of water. Then he will finally succumb by swimming himself to death. . . . Since the arrival of another baby girl at Ben Miller's home, he has constructed a look out tower and loaded all of his artillery with heavy-duty stork shot as a means of discouraging any future visits from this bird. Ben became a little nervous the other morning when Kenny Miller told him that he had just noticed a stork coming from the general direction of Ben's home with an empty carrying sling in his bill.

Like to fish? See how many G-E employees make their own fishing equipment at the HOBBY SHOW.

Top Floor TOPICS

Bldg. 26-5

By Jack Lea

Here's a conversation that takes place every morning in Vapor Lamp according to Pat McLaughlin: Carl Blair, "How are ya?" "Just like the judge always," says Mark,—"fine, fine!" . . . We hear that Mark has found a new use for those rubber bushings our floor uses. How does he look in a sweater, girls? . . . According to the reports, with Carl (Hey Rube) Blair giving off with those sideshow spiels and with the antics of Mark on the side, it's a wonder production is met. . . . Don Zumbrun found the articles from the glove compartment of his car had been scattered over the seat. Seems as though someone was making like Fibber McGee. . . . Ruth Bently celebrated a birthday recently. Bill Mills delivered the customary whacks! . . . Bessie Johnson has a new television set! I think she should invite us over some night when the reception is good. . . . There were numerous jaws chomping together, in the Luminous Tube Line. Blame it all on Dorothy Kaylor, who brought in a supply of bubble gum! Taking part in the contest with Dorothy were Halice Grabner, Irene Slater, Dorothea Winburn, Howie Shipman, Ann Perlman, Don Waldrop and Les Baker. . . . The award for the most brilliant conversation of the week goes to Edna Hall and Howie. Inquired Edna, "Did you know George was dead?" "George who?" "George Washington." Said Howie, "Did he work on this floor?" . . . I hear the reason why Norma Smith is so wide awake in the mornings is that she hits the sack as soon as she gets home from work. . . . Grace Bolyard brought in some swell pictures of her very nice looking niece. . . . The fire department made a call in Hazel Bennett's neighborhood last week. I understand Hazel was taking a bath at the time, got excited and almost ran outside barefoot up to her chin! . . . Barbara Shipman was walking around with what looked like a case of the mumps. . . . Was that a bomb going off in the Vapor Lamp Section? No, just Harold Josse storing a light bulb away for future reference. . . . Loretta Bloom received a letter from Charles (Merchant Marine) (Not The Dogcatcher). Incidently, I saw Miss Bloom Sunday and was she dolled up! . . . We welcome Anthony Konger and Glenn Rittenhouse to our floor. Glenn is a new winder and Anthony is our saw man. . . . We are sorry to hear Gerry Kurtz' little girl is sick. We hope she gets better soon. Gerry has been transferred to first trick with Maxine Bakle. . . . Alberta Ely and Dorothy Harris have joined Gertrude Hughes on the newly established Permafil Line. Gertrude has been rather lonely over there by herself, but she's got a couple of "live ones" to work with now. . . . Ask Archie Scott why he has been so happy lately. Come on, Archie, no secrets. . . . Jim Triece, when are you going to start shaving? If you would work eight hours on Thursday, you could afford a shave! . . . We are sorry to see Stanley Sakai leave but we are glad he's returning to Indiana Tech. . . . John Kintz, I hear you got stuck in the mud. Now you can haul gravel in your spare time. . . . Congratulations to Glen Geist and Mary Tanesky, who were married Wednesday evening, Feb. 28, at Huntington. . . . When you see Henry (Spider) Webster, ask him if he's heard any bushings cracking lately.

SHIPPING: REPORT FROM THE ARMY: In the form of a letter from Bob Gebert. Robert (Pvt. to Uncle Sam) reports that Army life is consistent if nothing else, but he seems to think things could be worse. Let's hope we hear from Pvt. Gebert often. . . . THE NEW FACE in our MS Typing Section belongs to Phyllis Poling. Nice to have you with us, Phyllis. . . . WELCOME BACK to Beverly Kieler. She beat old man germ in a tough battle and she's now fully recovered and back on the job. . . . A GOLD STAR for Viola Haiber. We don't know of anyone who gave more to the Red Cross drive. Besides donating twice, she is solicitor on her block and also is donating a pint of blood. . . . WE THOUGHT SURE that when Phyllis Crace moved to town she'd be here hours ahead of schedule, but alas, the first day in the city and she's 15 minutes late. Phyllis has resolved never to pass up a Taylor St. bus waiting on a G-E Special (which never came), thus causing her to be late the first day. . . . OUR NEW BRIDE, Betty Campbell, was entertained at a shower in her honor on Tuesday night. . . . MAILING: CRASH HELMET NEEDED for Jerry Gardner when he takes the steps at a terrific pace and leaps for the bottom. Due to a rather low ceiling part of Jerry's head is now part of the building. . . . SEEMS LIKE all of "Cupcake" Fitzgerald's auto accidents should lead to getting a newer car or possibly a new set of instructions. WOW! A MOTORCYCLE, yes, that's what we said. Russ "Tomato" Conrad is the proud owner. Line forms to the right for free rides. However, since Russ is leaving us this week, you'll have to hurry, fellows. . . . DID YOU SEE THAT RING which Garland Helland proudly owns? . . . A NEW HOLLYWOOD MUFFLER is the reason for all the stares in the direction of Ralphie Miles' car. . . . HERE WE GO AGAIN: The crew cuts are already beginning to appear. Butch Heyn is the first and Jack Sehoeneman has hinted that he's going Indian too! . . . A SOLUTION to the Court House pigeon problem has been suggested by Ed Blotkamp. Ed suggests that we teach the pigeons to fly upside down.

Congratulations to Elmer Fritz for his 30th wedding anniversary. . . . Birthday greetings go to Robert Kessens. . . . Welcome, Everett Smith, James Abbott and Carl Barber, to the Bldg. 4-5 office. . . . Dorothy Jensen and Roy Woods will be presented with their 25-year pins Monday. Congratulations from the co-workers. . . . Don Coehran claims you should own a Hudson. He came to work, turned the radio and windshield wipers off and locked the door. Then when it was noticed, he was notified his motor was still running. Result: He had to go back down and turn off the ignition. His famous last words were, "The Hudson has such a quiet motor that you eannot hear it."

If Dad doesn't know what to do with his spare time, take him to the HOBBY SHOW.

Easter Egg Day Planned Mar. 22

Easter Egg Day, the Elex Club's first major defense project, will be held Thursday, March 22, Thelma Stone, Elex president, disclosed earlier this week.

On that day, contact girls will visit every factory and office section throughout the Fort Wayne Works with baskets of colored eggs. Eggs will be sold for ten cents each and all proceeds will be used to send cheer boxes to G-E men and women in the armed forces.

Elex members who wish to contribute fresh or hard-boiled colored eggs, crepe paper, egg dye, nest paper, or egg money should bring donations to the Women's Activities Office at Broadway or to the Employment Office at Taylor St. by Monday, March 19. The Elex Club would also like to borrow market baskets for the project, Miss Stone said.

Partizans To Help

The Partizan Chapter will meet all day Tuesday, March 20, in the G-E Club to color eggs. First shift board members will pack baskets at their meeting Wednesday, March 21, at 7 p.m. in the north end of Bldg. 16-3 and second shift board members will meet in the Women's Activities office at 1:30 p.m., March 21, to work on the project.

Over 10,000 boxes were mailed to service men and women in World War II hy the Elex organization.

Miss Stone also announced that the Elex Club has an assortment of greeting cards for sale including birthday, humorous, everyday and children's cards. The cards come in specialized and assorted boxes, selling for one dollar a box. Everyday wrapping paper is also available at one dollar per box.

Rod Tush, our recent newlywed whose picture appeared in the WORK'S NEWS as a new Quarter Century Club member, is some what on the bald side. The kindly gentleman, Pete Scotton, wanting to do a good deed for his fellow workman, purloined a nice crop of hair from another picture and attached it to Rod's bald spot. Rod could then take the picture home to the Mrs. showing her what he once looked like. . . . Birthday congratulations to Eleanor Sarnecki. . . . Charles Hughes was our welcome visitor this week. . . . What is this we hear about Dewey (Dew-Boy) McDowell refusing to rent his garage in the future. If the last renter had praeticed backing before he backed out of Dewey's garage, maybe there would be two doors on the garage instead of one. . . . We're wondering who could be bombing for Ralph Smith. The other evening Ralph got in his Ford chariot, and as he stepped on the starter, there was a loud explosion that came from the hood. Result: There will have to be some fixin' done to that hood. . . . Our new co-workers are Merle Duffy, Helen Stabler, Milford Criek, Clara Metcalf, William Clevenger and Richard Nelson.

G-E Profits

(Continued from page 1)

1950 totaled $1,960,429,000, a record amount and an increase of 22 per cent over the sales of $1,613,564,000 during 1949. Sales to customers increased in each succeeding quarter of 1950 to a total of $605,946,000 in the final three months of the year . . . a new peak for quarterly sales volume, Mr. Cordiner stated.

Of the net profit earned during 1950, 56 per cent, or a record amount of $97,060,000, was declared payable as cash dividends on General Electric common stock. This amount, which included a special dividend of $1.00 a share, was equivalent to $3.40 a share compared with $2.50 a share declared in 1949, an increase of 36 per cent. Dividend payments during 1950 amounted to $3.80 a share compared with $2.00 a share in 1949.

Provision for all taxes for the year 1950 totaled $299,446,000, the largest sum ever required for the purpose and an increase of 97 per cent over the corresponding provision for 1949. Included was $197,000,000 as provision for federal taxes on income, an increase of 153 per cent over the 1949 total of $78,000,000.

The number of employees on the payroll increased from 168,841 at January 1, 1950, to a new peak of 200,419 at the close of the year. The average number of employees on the payroll during 1950 was 183,800 compared with 179,300 in 1949.

Total earnings of employees for the year aggregated $681,040,000, an all-time record amount which was 12 per cent more than the corresponding total for the year 1949.

Cash and marketable securities totaled $316,903,000 at the close of 1950 compared with $322,429,000 on Deeember 31, 1949, despite the fact that $144,500,000 was utilized during 1950 to pay off all of the company's outstanding obligations, thus leaving it for the first time since 1946 with no long term debt.

The Company's year-end inventories were carried at $338,774,000 and $300,135,000, respectively.

Expenditures for plant and equipment totaled $58,237,000 during 1950 compared with $60,905,000 during 1949, and provision for depreeiation amounted to $51,214,000 and $47,499,000, respectively. The net book value of General Electric's plant and equipment at the close of 1950 was $276,503,000, which was less than the amount spent for such items during the last four years.

GOIN' FISHIN' AT RETIREMENT—Emanuel Miller (standing), FHP Div. 13, is shown examining the new fishing rod his friends gave him as a retirement gift. Looking on are B. M. Bowley (left) and Edwin Stute. Mr. Miller left the first of this month with 16 years of continuous service. During most of his employment, he has been a punch press operator. At the time of his retirement, Mr. Miller worked at the Taylor St. plant in FHP Motor Div. 13.

Throw away all ambition beyond that of doing the day's work well. The travelers on the road to success live in the present, heedless of taking thought for the morrow. Live neither in the past nor in the future, but let each day's work absorb your entire energies, and satisfy your widest ambition.

Marilyn Spice experienced a sad and expensive incident last week. It all started with her cat's frozen tail. She took the suffering animal to the vet. The tail had to come off—three dollars. Operation completed, the cat returned home. One night poor kitty lost her stitches and was dying. Back to the vet went Marilyn and her cat. "No chance of recovery—has to be put to sleep—three dollars, please." Total six dollars and one headache. . . . Pat Waterman is giving up smoking for Lent. Pat, Lent started three weeks ago. . . . Maxine Stoffel is having a hard time this Lent. She can't eat between meals or eat any candy. Don't worry, Maxine, you can't lose anything but weight, and you don't need to lose that. . . . Carol Harrington, the new addition at Index, is now a member of the Shipping Section Euchre Club. The cluh members are Maxine Stoffel, Marilyn Spice, Mary Wakeman, Vivian Grepke, Barbara Schuckel, Vi Schneiders, Maxine Householder and Carol. . . . Last Monday a farewell potluck dinner was given for Mary Nelson. Mary, her husband and Carol are moving to their farm in a few weeks. Word just came that her baby is seriously ill. . . . A happy birthday to Gloria Kumfer, our new young lady at the files. Also, a pleasant birthday to "good ole" Clarence Sehafer. . . . Now, this is how you don't make coffee. First you fill the coffee pot with water, then don't light the burner, better yet, set the pot on the opposite hurner, then light the other one. This is how Fay Alexander tried not to make coffee one morning in a hurry. . . . Jo Franklin sure is a pretty advertisement for some heauty soap. O-o-o-h, that complexion! . . . Did you find Cincinnati a place to find excitement, Violet Schneiders? You sure looked as though you had a grand time. . . . Our faithful duplicator, Bob Mueller, has left us. He is an inspector at Div. 17. We are glad for you, Bob. . . . What's the matter in the Mailing Section, boys? Doesn't anything ever happen there? Come on, surely you have some news. . . . Norm Wickman, who has replaced Bob at the duplicator, sure has been in a spot lately. He and a couple other boys have been working on his car; but as we all know, that takes money. So, good old "Uncle Sam" came along with a nice check, and now Norm's worries are over for awhile. . . . Wouldn't you all want to make Easter a happy occasion for our own G-E boys in service? Just save one little dime to buy an Easter Egg from me (Elex Contact Girl) Mareh 22. This money is solely for our boys in service. Thanks. . . . A very happy birthday to Jerry Schlund. He never worries about them, though. Maybe, he will get a necktie or two. Also, a belated happy birthday to Roselyn Staniford. . . . Vi Sehneiders, Ruth Abels, Betty Bartley and Vivian Grepke all had a gay time Saturday night at the Prom Terraee with Jimmy Dorsey's band.

Statement of Earnings for the Years ended Dec. 31fi 1950 and 1949

Year Ended, Dec. 31	1950	1949
Sales of Products & Services to Customers	$1,960,429,449	$1,613,563,611
Deduct: Depreciation of plant and equipment	51,213,660	47,499,188
All other operating costs, expenses and charges	1,562,969,597	1,277,717,908
Total Operating c, e, & c	1,614,183,257	1,425,217,096
Income from Operations	346,246,189	188,346,515
Add: Dividends & interest from nonconsolidated affiliates	17,763,200	11,181,924
Other sundry revenue	11,166,187	9,012,234
Total Income from Operation & other sources	375,175,576	208,540,673
Deduct: interest & other financial charges	4,751,874	4,901,622
Earnings before provision for Federal taxes on income	370,423,702	203,639,051
Deduct: provision for Federal taxes on income	197,000,000	78,000,000
Net Earnings	$ 173,423,702	$ 125,639,051
Earnings per dollar of total revenue	8.7 cents	7.7 cents
Earnings per share of common stock	$6.01	$4.36

Employee Pay Increases

(Continued from page 1)

permitted over the average pay rates of the group on January 15 a year ago. But this must not be taken to mean that some General Electric employees will necessarily have their pay increases based on the 10 per cent formula while others will have theirs based on the escalator formula. While it is true that the most recent wage stabilization regulation does establish a special basis for granting increases to employees who were covered by a contract signed prior to January 25, 1951, providing for escalator pay adjustments based upon the cost-of-living index published by the Bureau of Labor statistics, the Government through Economic Stabilization Director Johnston has already recommended a further modification.

Under this recommendation, if finally approved, it is expected that where a company has customarily taken care of all its employees on a comparable basis—whether some or all of the employees were non-union or had their membership divided among several different unions—the company would be permitted to grant to all employees increases given to those under the so-called escalator clause.

While it appears clear that the wage stabilization regulations will thus avoid the inequity of treating one group of employees in one manner and another in a different manner, Vice-president L. R. Boulware announced in New York, "One and all in G-E can be assured we will do our best to see that everybody is treated fairly. Prompt relief will be sought by the Company from any regulation which looks as though it is going to set up any double, triple or other unfair multiple standard for establishing wages of G-E employees."

Mr. Boulware continued: "If no general policy has been announced that works automatically, we will of course apply for proper exceptions to see that all our folks are taken care of comparably—whether they be non-union or members of the AFL, CIO, or various independent unions with whom we have, in all, more than 40 contracts."

Notes— From Transformer Drafting

By Melba Jackson

WANTED: One good "Poker Teacher." Seven of the boys met over at Paul Ohnesorge's home last Friday night to play poker. It seems Jim lost around $4 in the deal and now wants a teacher. Around the table were C. A. Ellis, G. Owens, W. Miller, B. Henry, B. Wigent, P. Ohnesorge and J. Hilfiker. I hear George walked off with the winnings. . . . Mary learned last Wednesday night, after all these years, that the wringer on the washing machine is for clothes only—not hands. . . . I hear Shella has the authority when it comes to dealing with dogs. . . . HOBBIES: Henry Lantz has a wonderful stamp collection, and it is considered to be one of the best. Harold ("Bashful") Smith is a Ham radio operator. Jim Hilfiker and George Owens have coin collections. If you have any old Indian head pennies, come see them, because they would like to see you (your pennies, rather). . . . We will soon know if Dick Arnold is physically fit for Uncle Sam. He is to go Wednesday for his examination. Les Hahn passed, but does not know as yet when he will start wearing Army fatigues. . . . It seems B. Henry and E. Wareham are comparing notes on Barb and Harry Dolson's home. . . . Clara wants to know what causes "stiff neck" besides necking. . . . Ruth has taken up sewing and has become quite a seamstress. . . . Instead of "My Friend Irma," I'm known as "My Friend Melba" by Bonnie. It seems she thinks I give her too much filing for Station B256.

Style Show Postponed

A style show and book review, originally slated to be held Tuesday, March 13, by the Women's Division of the G-E Squares, has been postponed to March 27, Mrs. Ivan D. Rinehart, show chairman, has announced.

Further details of the affair will be disclosed in a later issue of the WORKS NEWS.

Every indication is that we are all enthusiastic that spring is very near. In fact, these beautiful days almost give us spring fever. Not only spring fever; the sudden temperature has caused many of us to catch cold. . . . We welcome three new winders: Lorraine Harmon, Marilyn Kaiser and Patsy Auer. Hope you like us, girls, and enjoy your work. . . . We say goodbye to Jerry Nahrwold, who went on first shift. Hope you like days, Jerry, but who are we going to tease now. Anyway, ask Jerry what happened when he threw the stator up on the table. . . . Mable Drummond will wear shoes, but not saying what kind. Mabel came in one evening dressed in her Sunday best. About nine o'clock, those high heels didn't feel so well, so Mabel took cardboard and tape and made her own sandals. . . . We wonder who'd win if Dorothy Johnson and Maggie Perkins were really running a race. . . . Mary Murphy really forgot where she was the other evening while working overtime. Someone was telling her a ghost story when the candy lady blew her whistle. Well, Mary wasn't expecting it and jumped as if someone had shot her. . . . We are sorry to hear that Kaye Meyers' husband was in an accident which did considerable damage to the car. We are glad that no one was hurt. . . . Maggie Perkins has several scars on her leg that she got while trying to learn to ride a bike. . . . Ralph Armey tells us he quit having birthdays a long time ago. But here is wishing him a belated happy birthday. . . . Do you recognize the picture? Well, it is none other than Dick Gidley, our elevator operator, and Jack, his grandson. Jack is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Kuneberger. The mother formerly worked in Bldg. 6. His grandmother, Clara Gidley, works at Taylor St., and the great-grandmother, Mary Schlotter, formerly was employed by the General Electric. Jack is from one big G-E family. Jack is better known to us as "Husky," a mighty fine chap, we'd say. And it's a good picture of grandpa, too. The picture was taken at the cottage at the lake. Jack's father is a lieutenant in the Air Force and is stationed at Baer Field. . . .

Jack and Grandpa

Several girls reported that they have received cards from Clara Dixon, who is vacationing in California. She says she's having a fine time and is okay. . . . Dona Sipe says she can never win an argument. We don't think she's always wrong, but someone always has to give in to stop the arguments. . . . Every one, do your best in the Red Cross Drive. It is a worthy cause, and one we all need to do our bit.

There was an addition in the Kincaid household this week. Mr. and Mrs. Russell Kincaid are the proud parents of a son. They also have a new Oldsmobile. Mary Rose and her husband left for California in their new Packard. . . . Art Luessenhop is enjoying a vacation in Florida. . . . What's this about Josephine Lutz finding a mouse in her lunch? . . . Donna Smith says Zeta Worthman sends her work down the line with her name on it. . . . Jessie Wass' son, Sam, who is stationed in North Carolina, was home and moved his wife and daughter there to be with him. We know Jessie will miss her granddaughter. . . . Last week Bob Rodgers had a birthday and was told not to open his lunch bucket until he got to work. When at work, he found a letter from his son saying, "Happy birthday, Dad, and many good wishes come true in the year. How do you like being 38? Love, Bobby." Bob also found 15 cents for his birthday from Bobby. Isn't it wonderful to have a son eight years old, Bob? . . . Eva Hazelet really makes good fudge according to the girls in Inspection. You can bring some of your yummy fudge anytime, Eva. . . . We wish Ann Cuellar a very happy birthday.

'Tis rumored that Jim Bunner was seen going around with "the" Henry J.—a new car, that is. . . . Here's your hat. What's your hurry! Harold Garrett phoned some friends to invite them over for dinner and supper a week ago Sunday. The invitation had one string attached—a condition that they leave early as the Garrets had tickets for the Piston basketball game. The friends agreed to the terms, so shortly after supper donned their coats and hats to leave. The friends were nearly out of the door when Harold searched for his basketball tickets. Horrors! He had sold them. Apologizing, he invited them back. . . . Introducing a newcomer, Dell Janet Schuerman. Dell is the 6 lb., 5 oz., bouncing baby girl who came last week to Mr. and Mrs. Ty Schuerman. . . . Ginny Mollet has a new great nephew named Jeffery Gordan. . . . G-E must be a good place to work after all. Sarah Jane Makey is back again to work as an engineering assistant. Sarah Jane will work for Gib Jamieson in the set group. During World War II, she worked in the exciter group. However, she is now a full pledged engineer as she received her degree in engineering from Purdue. . . . Jim O'Brien has recently received an "elevation." He is now a "second story man" and his office was moved from Bldg. 31-1 to Red Kissel's former office. Jim, Assistant to the Supervisor of Procedures for M-G, is not sure how long he will be able to enjoy his private office. Since he is to expedite the drafting boards which will eventually take over his office, we hope he can arrange to be here for quite some time.

Gets "Elevation"

Five Employees Honored by Q-C Club

Raymond T. Smith
Bldg. 4-4

Arthur G. Gardt
Taylor St.

Eldon N. Mee
Bldg. 19-4

Lelia R. Byall
Bldg. 4-2

Haldah S. Garton
Bldg. 19-1

Send all ads to WORKS NEWS office, Bldg. 18-3.

No ad will be received over the telephone.

CLOSING DATE
Monday Noon, March 12, 1951

LOST AND FOUND

LOST—Brown kid glove. Lost out of car on Broadway near traffic light in front of Bldg. 18.

FOUND—One key with name "Made in Russwin, U.S.A." Found near east gate at Taylor St.

FOUND—Small scatter pin with blue and brilliant sets. Left in Bldg. 8-1 dispensary.

FOUND—Some money on Wall St.

FOUND—Man's ring with blue set. Found in drain in men's washroom, Bldg. 4-6, by the plumber.

FOUND—Ball point pen. Found on desk in Room 630, Bldg. 4-6.

FOUND—Tie clasp shaped like a sword. Found on west side near Bldg. 19.

FOUND—Gold chain with heart shaped locket filled with rhinestones. Call for it at Employment Office at Taylor St.

FOR SALE

1940 LINCOLN—Four-door sedan, cheap; flat top gas stove, good shape. A-19814 or A-98109.

FOUR CHAIRS AND TABLE—Bowling ball. 3515 Middle St.

MOTOROLA DASH CONTROL AUTO RADIO—And antenna, good, $12. A-68032.

GIRL'S SPRING COAT—Wool skirts, royal blue dress and pink marquisette formal, all size 12, good condition. A-70653.

DOUBLE ROLL-AWAY BED—With mattress. Excellent condition, $18. H-66123.

BLACK PEDIGREE COCKER SPANIEL Registered, seven mo. old. A-57584.

NAVY PEA JACKET—Size 12, $5; girl's red flannel jacket, flared back, size 12, $5, both in A-1 condition. H-39505.

$800 BUYS GOOD PART TIME BUSINESS—H-78655.

SINK—Roll rim, 42 in., right hand drain board, $10; porcelain top kitchen cupboard, $5. 3215 Dinnen Ave. or H-24512.

SINGER SEWING MACHINE—Treadle type, recently overhauled by company. E-40001.

1946 "A" JOHN DEERE TRACTOR—Excellent condition, starter, lights, rubber tires, priced for quick sale. Spencerville 343.

WHITE TABLE TOP GAS STOVE—Reasonable. A-26012 or 1523 Wall.

500-CHICK ELECTRIC BROODER—With circulating fan, thermostat, dial thermometer and germicidal lamp, all for $20. H-37777.

LADIES' WHITE ROLLER SKATES AND CASE—Size 8; High chair; Single bed; Hot water or steam radiators. H-26185.

FOUR WINDOW SCREENS—Copper screening, used two years, three sizes 26 x 26, one 24 x 26. A-70122.

UNDERWOOD PORTABLE TYPEWRITER—In leather carrying case, $40. E-5924.

BEAUTIFUL ROSE GLASS LUNCHEON SET—68 piece, service for eight and serving dishes, never used, 10 cents each or $5.50 set. H-28053.

1940 PLYMOUTH—Four door, good condition. A-68335.

REFRIGERATOR—G-E Deluxe, 1940 model, six cu. ft., reasonable. H-8738.

PICKET FENCE—Made of 1" x 4" material 11 sections, each eight feet long. H-82774.

MONITOR TOP REFRIGERATOR—Seven cu. ft. A-70654.

WANTED

CHILDREN TO TAKE CARE OF DAYS While mother works, Southeast. H-5403.

SMALL CHILDREN TO CARE FOR DAYS In my home, reasonable rates, convenient to G-E. H-55803.

GIRL'S SPRING COAT—Size 3-4-5. A-75442.

PLAYER PIANO—Good working condition. E-66514 mornings.

STEEL BUNK BEDS—A-99405.

FOR RENT

ROOM—Reasonable, near G-E. A-50545 after 5:30 p.m.

SLEEPING ROOM—Very clean and comfortable, two blocks from G-E. A-79305.

TRANSPORTATION

WANTS RIDE—From Ossian or Kingsland, Ind., to Taylor St. Gloria Kumfer, works Shipping Office from 8-4:30. Extension 2583.

WANTS TWO RIDERS—From Waterloo or Auburn. Fred Heaston, Bldg. 6-1, works from 3:30 to 11:48. Extension 433 or Auburn 911 Ring 2.

WANTS TWO RIDERS—From either Spencerville, Leo and Cedarville to Broadway or Taylor St. plants. Contact Rachael Kelley, FHP Div. 13, Taylor St. Works for O. J. Meyers.

OPPORTUNITIES

SKATING CLASSES—For G-E girls, March 17 from 10 a.m. to 12 noon. H-48123.

A farewell stag party for Art Bushing was held on Wednesday evening. Fred Pyle, along with Ed Sonday and Wilmer LaVine, presented Art with a billfold which had a fifty dollar bill in it. Art was asked to make a speech, but he was almost speechless. A few of the fellows thought it was bank night. The next morning, Russell Meeks came to work wearing a new pair of shoes, but Bill Oberlin was lucky to have a pair of shoes left. Anyway, a good time was had by all, and we will all miss Art. . . . We are all glad to see Ted Schelper back to work again. Ted was off work six weeks due to an appendicitis operation. . . . Clarence Reiter was a bachelor last week. His wife took a week's vacation. Clarence went home one night and heard voices as he came up the front steps. He wondered who could be in his house, and the door was locked. As soon as Clarence got into the house, the mystery was solved. He left his radio on in the morning, and it had been on all day. . . . Wonder how Fred Pyle rates! He had a ticket for the Regional basketball game right by the Central band. Come on, Fred who do you know? . . . Mr. and Mrs. Galen Kreig celebrated their 22nd wedding anniversary recently. Galen sent his wife a dozen red roses. Galen said, "Anyone who could put up with me for 22 years deserves roses." Come now, Galen, we don't think you are that bad. . . . George Hahn is ready to throw his crystal ball away. It sure hasn't been telling him the right winners on basketball games this year. . . . The mice are getting so big in Bldg. 4-1 that they take not only the cheese, but the trap too.

Beautiful Day—March 1 came in just like a little lamb—it was a beautiful day. BUT—to A. E. (Hap) Leider the morning seemed just a little foggy. Making the initial elevator trip to the fourth floor, he got off on Bldg. 18-3. Looking around, he turned to ask Loyd Bodenhamer, "What am I doing here?" Naturally Loyd just couldn't find a single answer for that one! (Being a gentleman and, too, the fact that they ride in from Roanoke might have stilled his quick answer.) . . . Anniversary—Carl O. Olson, Bldg. 18-2, celebrated his 35th anniversary with the General Electric Company, Wednesday, Feb. 28. He states that they have been 35 short years—but what a volume of Company routines, policies and general information he has consumed and is always so willing to pass on to others. Our congratulations. . . . American Red Cross—Each year we are privileged to make our free will offering to the American Red Cross. It is difficult to realize how much good your money can do. This year in addition to the need for funds there is also an appeal to help stock the blood bank. One out of every eight people require blood every day. You may he next. In addition to your contribution, why not offer your assistance. . . . Missing—A progressive minister of a Michigan Church displayed a sign out in front of his church that may carry a mesasge to YOU. It reads, "This is a Ch - - ch. What is Missing?" . . . Visiting—We were pleased to have Lottie Schafer visit Broadway last week. She and Irene Meyers reviewed all the happenings since she left us. Come again. . . . Happy—We are happy to tell you that George Waldschmidt is recuperating satisfactorily from surgery and will soon be able to return to work. . . . Breakfast—Last Monday morning was sure proof that many of our men are not accustomed to getting up at five o'clock in the morning. It was the breakfast celebration for the S.A.I. class. Some even did not make it! . . . Happy Birthday—Last week Julia Ray, Bldg. 18-1, was entertained at the Hobby House for lunch hy Ruth Fritz and Phyllis Rudolph. It was Julia's birthday. . . . Did you see the lovely wedding picture in the paper recently of Barbara Saxton, Bldg. 18-1, and Gene O'Connor? . . . Fonta Cook, Bldg. 18-4, was ill Monday. . . . New Home—Eloise Kartholl, Bldg. 18-4, moved into her new home last Monday. It is located on Anthony Blvd., extended.

"RED CROSS"

Have you got your Red Cross Button?
Did you sign the dotted line?
Did you make your contribution?
If you did, that sure is fine.

If you didn't, what's the reason
That you'd rather not helong?
Do you feel it isn't needed
Or the way it's done is wrong?

Do you feel, when there's disaster
That you have a better way,
To assist the ones who suffer,
Than the Red Cross has today?

If tonight a spring tornado
Takes the home in which you live,
Can it be, you wouldn't welcome
What the Red Cross has to give?

It's the cheapest type insurance,
Any one can buy today.
And you get a greater benefit
For what you have to pay.

And another thing about it,
That should make you think a lot,
Is the fact that it will help you
Whether you helong or not.

That alone should merit something.
In the way of our support.
If it doesn't, then by-golly,
We're a most ungrateful sort.

Oh, I know it isn't perfect;
Humans always make mistakes.
But don't judge a million workers,
By the few you think are fakes.

And another thing in closing;
That may hit you with a thud.
Is, that thousands giving money,
Also give their pint of blood.

—W. L. Whonsetler.

WRONG WAY CORRIGAN—OR—YOU NAME IT: Last week E. M. (Stan) Stanbery had reservations to fly to Boston and a limousine was to pick him up at the West Broadway Gatehouse to take him to Baer Field. At approximately the same time the limousine was due, the regular Baer Field bus came along and Stan boarded it. The bus deposited him on the wrong side of the field and a lengthy discussion between Stan and the bus driver ensued—about not living up to agreement to take him to the terminal. It was either pay some kind person to drive him across the field to the terminal or "hoof" it. For an additional fee he arrived in time to board his plane. After many telephone calls between the field and the office and trying to pacify the irate limousine driver, we just chalked it up to a sad misunderstanding. We are all much wiser now. . . . CONGRATS: Happy birthday to Ernie Hicks, March 13, and many, many more. . . . SPRING'S ON THE WAY: Oh my—isn't spring fever wonderful! The gentle wind, the robin's and redbird's song, the bright sunshine and the thrill of seeing the first spring flowers of the year peeping through the ground? Spring arrives officially in just 12 days from today. . . . SPRING MOVING: "Tommy" Thomas is coming back to roost at his old spot in AC, while Bob Kirby replaces Bob Starkel and Boh Starkel goes to Commercial. Good luck to all of you. . . . STATISTICS: We have no news, but Don Miller has compiled some conclusive statistics. All of Cleveland's trains enter the city by rail. Half of the total number of people getting married today are women. The tensil strength of a fish worm is slightly less than the torsional strength of a robin's knee joints. . . . DEEPEST SYMPATHY: We extend our deepest sympathy to Ernie Spaulding on the death of his sister. . . . BRIGHT TIE: Frank Ross isn't going to let anyone get anything over on him. Have you noticed the bright green tie? (Everyone's trying to get their picture in the paper.) . . . HAPPY BIRTHDAY to Ray Hupp, March 11. . . . POPULARITY: Apparently Dick Trautman has quite an admirer. A disc jockey was requested to play a record for him as a request from someone secret. The disc jockey ended his dedication by saying "Come on, Dick, get on the ball and keep these women happy!" . . . SPRING IS SPRUNG: For one day it was warm enough for Gerke to shed his winter coat in the office. We hope the weather continues warm. . . . Don't forget the Red Cross, everybody.

THE BIG Wind

by Rachel Mounsey

Bob Walters really was in a hurry the other morning. He started to work even before the whistle blew. Are you that ambitious, Bob? . . . Bill Jones and John Hunnicutt bought some new locks. While playing around with them, they got their combinations mixed. As a result, neither one could unlock his drawer for the day. . . . Della Zulch is sporting a new apron, and she made it by herself. She says its the first thing she has made, but we think she must have had help. It is mighty pretty, Della. . . . Ed Bireley went all over Michigan Saturday to catch a few fish. He says the scenery was really pretty. We are wondering whether he was fishing or driving, because he came back to Indiana to catch the fish. . . . Kenny Wilt must have a good paper boy down at Markle. We hear he has a very good aim when it comes to Kenny's big picture window. How big a hole did he put in the window? Kenny's been expecting this, so he can relax now. . . . Ernie Raypole should have hurt his bowling thumb a long time ago if it helps that much, or was he just anxious to get that quarter bet? . . . Jim Linn is wondering where Nora Dudgon goes on the week-end to feel so good on Monday morning. . . . Emma Vaughn sure has the excuses when she doesn't like to bowl on certain alleys uptown. Gee, your son really comes in handy, doesn't he? . . . Lela Line enjoyed a big birthday dinner for her folks Sunday. . . . Dorothy Ramsey was all smiles too when she came in Monday. Why shouldn't she! They just got a new car. "We'd be happy too."

Junior won't have a chance when Dad gets stalled around the model railroad exhibit at the HOBBY SHOW.

Did you see the worried look on Sue Wagner's face? The reason for this was she lost her little black book. But much to her relief she found it after several hours. . . . We found out who really rates with the canine species. Sue Wagner and Elmer Schoenlein were tops with our black furry visitor last week. Perhaps the main reason was the cookies and meat. The dog would sit up and speak before he got a treat. . . . Watch for "Shaft Shavings" next week, because a special treat is in store for you. That congenial gentleman of the stockroom, Ed Dikty, will send his news your way.

WINS SAFETY AWARD—Lisle D. Hodell, Manager of Manufacturing, FHP Motor Divisions, left, is shown congratulating O. J. Mettler, Superintendent FHP Motor Div. 23, shortly after Mr. Mettler was presented with a Meritorious Safety Performanee Certifieate for his Division's outstanding record of 2,641,312 man hours without a lost time aecident. Other FHP Motor Divisions also eited were Div. 16, H. E. Boles, superintendent; Divs. 15 & 20, H. Seabold, superintendent, and Div. 1, R. L. Spittler, superintendent.

Pick Ups

26-3

By Helen Wagner

Due to the absence of a column until now, we extend belated congratulations to Mr. Schuman on his promotion; to Mr. and Mrs. Earl Cool on their new baby daughter, Vicki Lynn; Ruth Shive, who became Mrs. Al Goral; Virgil McKeeman on his fine suggestion award. The gang thanks you, Mac, for the treat. . . . Welcome back on days, George Brehm, but please try to act more awake in the mornings. . . . You have heard of absent-minded professors. Two foremen are having a little trouble. First, Bill Edmunds came to work only to be told later that he had left the motor running in his car. His excuse was he was in a hurry to get to work. Then George Brehm also had to be reminded that he had left his lights burning. . . . We are glad to see Hattie Drinks and Evelyn Jennings back. . . . We are sorry that Frank McMasters and his family have scarlet fever. . . . Almost every one who drives a car in Indiana knows that March 1 you need your new plates on your car. It seems Bob Knoll, who has had his plates for about four weeks, didn't know this. He drove to work on the old ones, then had to call Mrs. Knoll to bring the new ones to him. . . . Welcome to our section, Lynn Veazey. We hope you like your new job, Jim Jamison. . . . New cars are right in style for Bldg. 26-3. Edna DeLeury has a new Mercury. Ginny Baker, Millie Bowers and Jim Quinn have new Fords. . . . Mary Thomas' smile is due to that ring on her finger. . . . What is the attraction in Florida, Charlie Marahrens? We hear this is the second trip. . . . The people in the Stacking Section are very curious about your friend, Dorothea. Why don't you let them in on your secret? . . . We were wondering what happened to Dorothy Echer's pretty blonde hair. We found out her pen leaks. That is ink in her hair. . . . Ask Les Redding how and where he buys his Coca-Cola. His answer should be near Elkhart and by the case. . . . By the way, Elvira, what branch of the service are you in—singing, "I'm a Little Tea Pot" and that "dance" you do. . . . A brand new grandson caused Dorothy McGowan's big smile. . . . Al, we think you should tell Charlie Whittern that the stuff he pours in those units is called compound not concrete. . . . Dorothy, the next time Bernon Ternet tells you to smell those pretty washers, be careful. The blue circles didn't look good on the end of your nose. . . . We are sorry to hear that Grace Campbell and Claudia Twibell are ill. . . . Cloha Weitzman was very surprised by her neighbors who gave her a nice house warming in her new home. . . . Mr. and Mrs. Ted Keller have moved into their new home west of Waynedale. . . .

Anyone who has any extra cake please give it to John Collins. He will eat any kind any time. . . . Millie Haslup gets a medal. She has heen to work two consecutive weeks on time. . . . We are sorry to hear that Susie Romey isn't feeling too well. She fell on the ice the day of her retirement. . . . Zelma, don't do those things, and you won't be afraid when the photographer shows up in your section. . . . While other girls are receiving their refund checks from the government, Mary Cordell got her tax form back. . . . Our night shift welcomes Wade Bowman and Ed Lauer. . . . Gene Lollow doesn't blame married life for the spill he took on the floor. It was either wax or something on his heel. . . . Personal reminder to Lenora Gillard: We work on Fridays also. . . . Words of Wisdom to the winders: "Good winders must also be good acrobats." . . . We welcome Ronald Davies and Orvil Johnson to our section. They are wondering how their tools and machines get in that condition. . . . Transformer held a skating party last week. It was such a success that we had another one this week. . . . Anyone having insomnia see Mary Odom. She found a way to put herself to sleep fast, even on a skating floor. . . . Interested in shower accommodations while at work see Rose Onstatt at the west end. . . . Some of us would like to know if Beulah Schaeffer found what she was looking for when she was seen elbow deep in mud. . . . You have all heard about flying saucers. Ruth Freeland has flying arbors. She must eat Wheaties to knock them clear out in the aisle. . . . For the latest song titles see George Brehm's new tie. . . . Get well wishes to Ruth Pfieffer, Dorothy Edgar and Josephine Angus. . . . Belated birthday greetings to Marie Johanns and Lois Esters. . . . Evelyn Armstrong put pickles in two sandwich bags to keep them from leaking; instead she got them between the two bags. P.S. they leaked. . . . We are sorry to lose Thelma Dammeiar, Betty Fecher and Betty Nunemaker to finals.

CHALKS UP 35 YEARS WITH G-E—Carl R. Olson, Bldg. 18-2, (third from left) completed 35 years of serviee with the Company Wednesday, Feb. 28. Several of his G-E colleagues then joined together to offer their congratulations. Left to right are C. H. Matson, Robert Wylie, Mr. Olson, L. C. Swager, A. E. Leider, Ab Martin, C. M. Summers, E. F. Waldschmidt and K. W. Michael.

Of all the foolish mistakes to make, I sure make them. It is Patricia and not Joan High that is getting married March 10. I am so sorry, Pat, but at least I found out that a lot of the people read the column! . . . Ed Robbins has been elected Secretary of the G-E Foremen's Association. I imagine he will be having the writer's cramp now. . . . The Series and Specialty Supervisors Club had a dinner meeting at the Chamber of Commerce March 1. An election of officers was held and as campaign managers Elmer Sibel and Wilbur Stocks did marvelous jobs. Everett Lindeman is President, Chester Smith, Secretary and Treasurer, and Elmer Sibel and Carl Metker are Directors. Harry Haberkorn, who is retired was also a guest. . . . John Figley forgot his false teeth one morning. He tried his best to borrow Paul Hendricks but no such luck. . . . Ed Farrell and Jim Richards are still on the sick list. Gus Rutz is sick with the flu. . . . George Prince is now driving a new Chevrolet; and Richard Crickmore, George's "little" brother, is driving a '46 Plymouth. . . . Vern Burkett on the third shift got a new nickname, the "Saw Dust Kid." . . . Willard Smith is back after two weeks' vacation. It wasn't much of a vacation, he worked both weeks. . . . Mardo Tobias has sold his car and has been driving his son-in-law's. The other night he and Clara were on their way home and it caught on fire. It just happened that Clara was holding an empty bowl so he used it to get water from the ditch to put the fire out. . . . We extend our sympathy to May Heit in the death of her mother and to Wilbur Stock in the death of his father. . . . Bill Charleston wrecked his Buick. The front end was demolished, and he cracked five of his ribs in the accident. . . . Ruth Tutwiller got enough accessories for her Easter outfit for her birthday. I think the hat will start a new fad. . . . Marty Sexton had a very pleasant surprise over the week-end. Her husband, who recently left for the Navy, walked in early Saturday morning. . . . We never thought Don LeMaster could be embarrassed. When asked by Irma Haney why he had his shirt on inside out, he blushed, examined it, exclaimed, "Holy Cats," and rushed away. . . . The prankster of the floor was awfully busy over the week-end. When the girls got to work Monday, their chairs were wired to their tables and their wastebaskets nailed to the floor. . . . Ruth Reed came in the other day thinking her coat smelled like a "pussy cat." It seems that when they stopped to pick up a co-rider, there were two haby skunks at his feet. He got in the car—bringing the odor along also passing it along to Ruth! . . . Everyone is wondering what happened to Carl Metker's forehead. His story is that he got too close to a hot light bulb. . . . We were very sorry to learn of the death of Glen Archbold's mother; also we learned that Marie DeVaux's mother-in-law died. . . . Henrietta Jimison has had an operation. We hope she will be back with us soon. . . . Celeste Mommer has been on the sick list since January. Hurry and get well Celeste. . . . Viola Krominaker got a little too close to the fire the other day and singed a bit of those pretty braids. . . . Does Betty Thompson knock the pins down, or the pins get knocked from under Betty? . . . A million thanks to all who offered to donate blood to the Red Cross. . . . Why did Pondo get a ticket up town the other night? . . . Jackie Keller has come to join us in Bldg. 6-4 from Taylor St. She will be our new floor lady. Jackie is a swell gal, so let's all get acquainted and make her feel welcome. . . . Paul Clark has a new way to wear his socks. He wears one inside out. . . . We extend our sympathy to Marjorie Hahn in the recent death of her brother. . . . A short story: Fire department arrives—rings door bell—finds man in bath tub—no fire—surrounds himself with more water. The subject—Jake Butz.

Firemen, Squares One Game Behind Transformer Team

by Ray Quinn

The Firemen notched another Interdivision League win by defeating the Accounting Div. 54-27. The losers could not hit consistently and made only four points out of 19 chances at the free throw line . . . could be they missed their old spark plug, Ed Trabel.

Burkett, with 24 points, led the Fractional team to a 58-33 victory over Small Motors.

The Squares, with Krasienko and Carl getting 26 and 19 points, respectively, defeated the undermanned Winter St. team, 74-28.

Transformer jumped out to a 13 point lead in the first quarter and led by a good margin all the way to beat Tool Division 58-16.

Developmental downed the Apprentice School, 47-36, in a good ball game. The winners were especially proficient at the foul line, canning 12 out of 14 shots.

Taylor St. and Test Engineers played a real close one, needing a double overtime before Taylor St. finally triumphed, 43-39.

Standings

	Won	Lost
Transformer	4	0
Firemen	3	0
Squares	3	0
Developmental	3	1
Fractional	2	1
Test Engineers	2	2
Apprentice Sehool	2	2
Accounting	1	2
Taylor St.	1	3
Small Motors	0	3
Winter St.	0	3
Tool Div.	0	4

Summaries

FRACTIONAL

Player	G	F	T
Honaker	0	0	0
Spark	3	1	7
Burkett	10	4	24
Bucher	6	1	13
Rasor	0	0	0
Hertz	5	2	12
Lahrman	1	0	2
Totals	25	8	58

SMALL MOTORS

Player	G	F	T
Zimmerlee	2	0	4
Stricate	2	2	6
Rosswurm	6	1	13
Wickliffe	3	1	7
Bryan	0	2	2
Lee	0	1	1
Smith	0	0	0
Totals	13	7	33

TAYLOR ST.

Player	G	F	T
Beity	2	2	6
Hughes	3	0	6
Butler	3	1	7
Offord	5	5	15
Hatcher	2	5	9
Totals	15	13	43

TEST ENGINEERS

Player	G	F	T
McNulty	5	0	10
Binder	0	0	0
Beck	5	1	11
Harlow	1	0	2
McDougle	3	0	6
Zernick	0	1	1
Gellert	0	0	0
Burgermeister	0	0	0
Webb	2	1	5
Riche	2	0	4
Totals	18	3	39

APPR. SCHOOL

Player	G	F	T
Batchelder	3	1	7
Young	3	2	8
Enyeart	3	1	7
Ahr	2	2	6
Gotschall	1	2	4
Mischo	0	0	0
Beitz	2	0	4
Smith	0	0	0
Totals	14	8	36

DEVELOPMENTAL

Player	G	F	T
Struver	0	2	2
Franke	1	0	2
Doepke	7	4	18
Weaver	3	0	6
D. Houser	5	1	11
Boles	1	0	2
G. Houser	2	2	6
Totals	17	13	47

TRANSFORMER

Player	G	F	T
Lovell	3	0	6
Beghtel	5	2	12
Eckert	0	0	0
Taylor	1	2	4
Carpenter	0	0	0
Buick	6	0	12
Kumfer	4	4	12
Lepper	2	2	6
Woodward	2	0	4
Totals	23	10	56

TOOL DIVISION

Player	G	F	T
VanOrsdale	2	0	4
Geise	2	1	5
Grish	1	0	2
Yentes	0	0	0
Dunlap	0	0	0
Staley	1	1	3
Mischo	1	0	2
Totals	7	2	16

WINTER ST.

Player	G	F	T
Svoboda	4	4	12
Brincefield	2	0	4
Hayden	0	0	0
Gettys	3	1	7
Frazier	0	0	0
Schinbeckler	2	1	5
Totals	11	6	28

SQUARES

Player	G	F	T
Emling	1	0	2
Reynold	5	0	10
Krasienko	11	4	26
Lindholm	2	1	5
Hamilton	2	0	4
Walley	1	2	4
Lewis	1	2	4
Carl	8	3	19
Totals	31	12	74

FIREMEN

Player	G	F	T
Wilson	0	0	0
Reidorf	4	0	8
Baals	2	2	6
Wehrle	4	1	9
Etter	4	0	8
Morkoetter	3	3	9
Anspaugh	1	0	2
Webber	0	0	0
Hettler	6	0	12
Totals	24	6	54

ACCOUNTING

Player	G	F	T
N. Raney	0	0	0
M. Harris	1	0	2
G. Raney	4	1	9
Kuttner	0	0	0
Edington	2	1	5
Wildermuth	0	0	0
Kent	0	0	0
Mosshurg	2	1	5
Frye	3	0	6
Totals	12	3	27

Apprentice

BROADCAST

By E. A. Rasor

Our heartiest congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Glen Zook, who were married last Saturday in a memorable ceremony at the Trinity English Lutheran Church. A reception was held at the home of the bride with a number of the boys present. Myron Auer, stationed with Glenn at Camp Breckenridge, also was present. . . . Congratulations also to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Silk, also married Saturday in Auburn, Ind. . . . After 14 weeks of basic training, Bob Doelling is home on a delay enroute to California. He visited the school, and we enjoyed seeing him very much. He will be scheduled for overseas duty and may not he home for awhile, so "Good Luck" to you, Bob, and keep sending us a note once in awhile. . . . Duff, the lover, it at it again hut this time he just signs his name on her book and later talks his way into a date. I guess no one blames him. . . . A brief visit was paid to Bldg. 12-2 when Howard Morton spent a few minutes for a talk of old times. His main stop was to see Bob Barnes but also had a talk with Bob Doelling. . . . We say "so long" to Bob Broat from Class "G" as he will no longer have class with us. Upon completion of Tool Design III, Bob finishes his classwork as an apprentice. . . . "Best of Luck" to Norman Stanek, who left Feb. 27 for the Navy. Norm had enlisted for four years to choose his branch of the service. . . . It took Harry Ecenbarger's calculations to win the Regional basketball pool. The way I heard it, he had received a tip from a bookie. . . . The flash in our electricity class did nothing more than turn Konow white. You should have seen the recording of his heart beat on the oscilloscope.

Shutterbugs will get bug-eyes looking over the photography exhibit at the HOBBY SHOW.

HIGH SCORERS—Ed Trabel, left, is shown shaking hands with Gill Carl, leading scorer of the Interdivision Basketball League, shortly before Ed left G-E to serve with the Army. Ed was the Accounting team's high point man for the season before getting his call from Uncle Sam.

BOEDEKERS' TOURNAMENT—Paul and Waneta Boedeker again walked off with first place in the G-E Mixed Doubles Tournament. They shot a sizzling 1331 to better their other winning effort of 1304. Their scores were as follows:

Waneta Boedeker	172	201	200	573
Paul Boedeker	146	226	200	572
Handicap	62	62	62	186
Total	380	489	462	1331

Their victory was worth $25 to them. Marge Huber, despite her partner's bowling, was able to get herself and Frank Matthews into second place. They had 1273 with a 204 pin handicap . . . good for $15.

The rest of the prize list is as follows:

Third: Ella and Al Hardiek, 1272, $10.

Fourth: Virginia Mollett and Paul Perry, 1235, $8.

Fifth: E. Brown-Carl Miller, 1218, $5.50.

Sixth: M. Lunn-L. Rump, 1218, $5.50.

Seventh: I. Hebble-R. Guingrich, 1215, $4.

Eighth: J. Coudret-Ray Brown, 1187, $4.

The girls seemed to enjoy the tournament as they beat their partners in many instances. Not to mention names, just look at the winners for some fine examples.

The tournament attracted a total of 26 entries. Paul Perry's 585 was high for the men while Waneta Boedeker's 573 paced the women.

Transformer League

The D's are leading the league with 17 wins and 10 losses. The M's are one thin game behind.

Groves blistered the alleys with a sizzling 586 series which included a 202 and 207. His 586 is high for the half.

Other 200 games were rolled by Fritz, 200, and Wendell Miller, 207.

Leykauf's 96 fur liner was the only bad game of the evening. He claims it won't happen again.

Apparatus League

Team No. eight is enjoying a big three-game bulge over Teams three and nine. Team 10 has faded fast and is now five games off the pace. With Team four bringing up the rear 12 games back, I guess the track's too fast.

Two hundred scores were rolled by R. Smith, 229; Bob (Sore Thumb) Blomker, 224; W. Stute, Frank Karthol and Oscar Huge, 210, and last but still with an even 200, Don August.

Sounds From The Alleys

Hey, boys! Enter the Sixth Annual G-E Employees' Handicap Tournament.

Monday Night Girls' League

Marge Huber came forth with a large 541 on games of 201, 175 and 165. Other high games were Ruth Koeneman, 208; Margaret Beugnot, 180, and Frances Miller, 177.

Small Motor League

The Model team is still leading the pack in the league, but close on their heels is the National Construction team just one game behind. The National Construction team has a record of 19 wins and eight losses, while the Models have 20 wins and seven losses. The Test and Planning teams are tied for third place with 15 wins and 12 losses.

The new wood that Charlie put on last Wednesday proved to be a jinx to the league as there were only two games over 200. F. Quinn got one of them with a 203 count, while A. Cupp had the other one, also a 203 count.

With only seven weeks to go, the battle for the top position gets in full swing. It can be said that the two teams on top are not going to end there without knowing that they had some rugged competition from the other teams in the league.

Office League

Dick's Sunoco and Alterators are tied for first with three other teams one game behind. Ten of the 12 teams are within three games of each other.

Denton Manecke's 593 paced the evening's bowling and included a 224 and 212.

Other 200 scores were rolled by Bob Knepple, 222; Gil Baker, 211; Ralph Kaeck, 211; Loyd Parish, Clarence Rump, Forrie (Honeymoon) Carlson, 207; Harold (Bell) Fanning, 205, and John Root, 200.

WIN VOLLEYBALL CROWN—Shown here are the Apprentice Machinists, 1950-51 Volleyball champions, who won the first half, lost the second round to Main Office, and then took the crown by winning the playoff against the Main Office lads. Pictured, left-right, front row, are Jim Hoppel, Dick Clendenen and Merle Aughinhaugh. Standing are Emmet Rasor, Dick Wagner, Jack Enyeart and Paul Mischo.

Wade Tyler, bowling as an alternate, picked off the 6-7-10 twice.

Interdivision League

Brouwers Tire and Battery are one game up on those pesky Firemen. Frank Gitter paced the evening's bowling with a 601 on scores of 212, 177 and 212.

Other 200 scores were kegled by Murray Johnson, 226; Frank Matthews, 224; Rider, 214; Plattner, 202; Sexton, Saalfrank, 201, and Les Shroyer, 200.

Those polite Firemen give Erv Haugk all the room he wants when bowling by removing the bench. Was Erv's face red!

Don't forget the Sixth Annual Employees' Tournament.

Tuesday Afternoon Girls

Tommie Williams paced the scoring with a 551 on scores of 166, 209 and 176.

Other high scores were rolled by Marge Huber, 181, and Rachel Mounsey, 176.

RUMMAGE SALE SATURDAY

The Elex rummage sale will be held tomorrow only, club sources made known today. Items may be taken to 2028 South Hanna St. anytime after 7 p.m. tonight.

WILDCAT CHAMPIONS—Here are the Wildcats, champs of the Owl Interdivision Basketball League. Pictured left-right, front row, are W. Wickliffe, J. Fleckenstein, H. Jamison, C. Smith and H. Blauvelt. Standing are R. Richardson, A. Horstmeyer, K. Zurbach, manager, K. Spiker and R. Fuhrman.

WHERE DID GE's 1950 DOLLARS GO?

1,989 MILLION DOLLARS CAME IN

1,120 MILLION DOLLARS for those OUTSIDE the GE family

These 1,120 million dollars were to satisfy the bills of suppliers for materials and other services . . . to meet interest on loans . . . to provide for replacing worn out or obsolete facilities . . . and to pay the direct Federal, State and Local taxes . . . after having already paid the indirect taxes hidden in the prices of everything the Company bought.

869 MILLION DOLLARS remained to divide INSIDE the GE family

696 MILLION FOR EMPLOYEES

After providing for the necessary payments to outsiders, 869 million dollars were left to distribute inside. Of this, 696 million went for employee payrolls, pensions, insurance, social security, and other such employee benefits.

76 MILLION FOR GROWTH & STRENGTH

Adding to security and steadiness of present jobs — and opening the way for still more jobs — 76 million dollars were reinvested in further growth and strength. At the close of 1950, there were over 31,000 more GE employees than at the start of the year.

97 MILLION FOR STOCKHOLDERS

To the more than 250,000 General Electric stockholders went the remaining 97 million dollars as a reward for having risked their savings to furnish the tools and facilities which take perhaps as much as 95% of the effort out of the day's work or which — looking at it another way — enable us each to get about 20 times as much done as our muscle power alone would accomplish.

GENERAL ELECTRIC

FORT WAYNE WORKS
NEWS

DO YOU NEED—

a car, motor scooter, bicycle or house trailer to help you enjoy the coming balmy Spring weather? If you are looking for a good deal, why not shop in the AD-LETS on page 9 of this week's WORKS NEWS.

Volume 34 FORT WAYNE, INDIANA, FRIDAY, MARCH 16, 1951 No. 11

Record Red Cross Drive Brings $11,394.48

The Red Cross Drive at the Fort Wayne Works established a record in peacetime contributions this week with donations of $11,342.98, K. W. Michael, general chairman of the campaign, disclosed today. Complete returns are still lacking from some divisions. The G-E goal had been set for $11,000.

The plant-wide total was collected entirely by solicitors and does not include the Company's contribution to the Red Cross, Mr. Michael explained.

Press time reports and percentage of quotas reached by divisions are as follows:

STAB Divisions..$1,583.72—102.1%
Works Serv. and Contr. Divs. .....$2,459.88—104.5%
Large M-G Divs..$1,026.81—108.5%
Winter St. .....$686.50—104%
FHP Motor Divs. (Bdwy) ....$2,876.00—101.7%
FHP Motor Divs. (T. St.)..... .....$2,665.57—100.1%
FHP Motor Divs. Total..... .....$5,541.57—101.1%
Fort Wayne Works Total..... .....$11,394.48—103.6%

Mr. Michael was assisted in the fund-raising drive by divisional chairmen Ray Soughan, Specialty Transformer and Ballast Divisions; Hubert Myers, Works Service and Contributing Divisions; Dwight Myers, Large Motor and Generator Divisions; C. J. Monroe, FHP Motor Divisions; Walter Whonsetler, FHP Motor Divisions, Broadway; M. E. Hamilton, FHP Motor Divisions, Taylor St., and Roger Grant, Winter St.

"Gratifying Results"

"The results of the 1951 Red Cross campaign are indeed gratifying," Mr. Michael declared. "It is a credit to all those who participated in putting General Electric over its goal of $11,000. I want to extend my sincere appreciation to all who contributed their time, effort and money so that this great organization can continue to perform its humanitarian duties. Remember, the Red Cross urgently needs your blood, too."

The nation-wide Red Cross goal

(Continued on page 4)

Annual Veterans' Banquet Features Chicken Dinner

All G-E ex-G.I.'s Invited To Attend Affair, April 7

A delicious fried chicken dinner will be the main attraction at the G-E World War Veterans' annual spring banquet Saturday, April 7, at 6:30 p.m. in the Chamber of Commerce, Walt Lamboley, publicity chairman, promised today.

All G-E veterans of both world wars including WACS, WAVES, SPARS and WAFS are welcome to attend, George Ellison, general banquet chairman, emphasized.

(Continued on page 4)

AH (AH-CHOO) SPRING!!—Spring has sprung and old man Cold Germ has been taking a heavy toll of the G-E guys and gals. Glenn D. Seabold, of the Works Laboratory, shown here, is typical of the many sufferers who are providing a bonanza for pill companies.

G-E Apprentice Alumni to Hold Skating Affair

Quarter Mile Speed Race Will Highlight Program

(See picture Page 3)

The G-E Apprentice Alumni Association will entertain their wives and families with a roller skating party at the new Roller Dome on Lima and California Roads at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, March 27, E. A. Plummer, Association officer, said today.

One of the features of the evening will be a quarter mile race between four of the outstanding speed skaters of the middle west,

(Continued on page 9)

Purdue Tech. Institute Classes Begin in Fort Wayne March 20

Spring term Technical Institute classes in drafting and mechanical technology, building construction technology, mathematics, industrial technology and science will begin Tuesday, March 20, at the local Purdue University Center, school sources have reported.

All classes listed under the Spring schedule are available to veterans under the G. I. Bill. Dr. R. M. Bateman, director of the Center, announced that all veterans must begin training by July 25, 1951, if they desire to make use of the G. I. benefits.

Classes are offered on both afternoon and evening schedules, and can be taken separately or on a full time basis.

Upon successful completion of two years work in building construction, drafting, industrial or

(Continued on page 4)

All Employees Here Invited to Attend Palm Sunday Services

All G-E employees, their families and friends are invited to attend Elex Sunrise Services Palm Sunday morning at the Franke Park News-Sentinel Open Air Theater, Thelma Stone, Elex president, reminded employees today. No reservations will be necessary to attend the inspirational pro-

(Continued on page 4)

Elex Girls Plan Egg Sale For Servicemen

Elex contact girls, armed with baskets of colored Easter eggs, will invade every factory and office section in the Fort Wayne Works Thursday during the Elex Club's first major defense fund-raising project during the present crisis.

Eggs will be sold throughout the plants for 10 cents each and all proceeds will be used to provide cheer boxes for G-E men and women in the service.

Thelma Stone, president, has asked that anyone wishing to contribute fresh or hard-boiled colored eggs, crepe paper, egg dye, nest paper, or egg money may bring donations to the Women's Activities Office at Broadway or Taylor St. by Monday. The Elex

(Continued on page 9)

Record Number Employees Held Jobs During Feb., Govt. Says

A record number of civilians—58,905,000—held jobs in February, the highest ever for that month, according to the March issue of the monthly labor report published by the Department of Commerce, Bureau of the Census.

Although reporting a record number of jobs for February, the report said that employment continued its normal mid-winter decline. There were some 105,000 fewer people employed in February than in January, but it was much smaller than the usual seasonal drop, the report said.

In commenting on the significance of the labor data gathered in a sample survey during the week of February 4-10, Secretary of Commerce Charles Sawyer said:

"Despite predictions of serious unemployment resulting from the

(Continued on page 4)

Squares to Hold Open House in Club Hall Sat.; Novelty Slated

"Back to School" will be the entertainment theme of the G-E Squares' Open House at 8 p.m. Saturday in the Squares Hall, Don Reek, chairman of the Open House Committee, said today.

Entertainment will be divided into two parts, with George Finkbeiner, Bldg. 26-2, in charge of the

(Continued on page 4)

FORT WAYNE WORKS NEWS

Volume 34 Friday, March 16, 1951 No. 11

Lou Rotterman ..... Editor
Virginia Molden ..... Assistant Editor
K. Marian Davies ..... Divisional News Coordinator

You versus A-bomb

(Editor's note: The following includes excerpts from an official report prepared by the Civil Defense Office, a part of the National Security Resources Board. Government spokesmen and local Civil Defense officials believe the "Six Survival Secrets for Atomic Attacks" are so important that they have urged all citizens to memorize them.)

Despite any beliefs to the contrary, the total power of atomic, or even a possible hydrogen bomb, is limited. Neither will blow the earth apart nor will they kill us all by radiation.

Here are the facts:

In the city of Hiroshima, slightly over half the people who were a mile from the atomic explosion are still alive. At Nagasaki, almost 70 percent of the people a mile from the bomb lived to tell their experiences. Today, thousands of survivors of these two atomic attacks live in new houses built right where their old ones once stood. The war may have changed their way of life; but they are not riddled with cancer. Their children are normal. Those who were temporarily unable to have children because of radiation now are having children again.

If an A-bomb exploded without warning in the air over Fort Wayne tonight, your calculated chances of living through the raid would run something like this:

Should you happen to be right under the bomb, there is practically no hope of living through it. In fact, anywhere within one-half mile of the center of the explosion, your chances of escaping are about one out of 10.

On the other hand, and this is the important point, from one-half to one mile away, you have a 50-50 chance.

From one to one-and-a-half miles out, the odds that you will be killed are only 15 in 100. And at points from one-and-a-half to two miles away, deaths drop all the way down to only two or three out of each 100. Beyond two miles, the explosion will cause practically no deaths at all.

Your chances of being injured are far greater than your chances of being killed. But even injury by radioactivity does not mean that you will be left a cripple, or doomed to die an early death. Your chances of making a complete recovery are much the same as for everyday accidents. These estimates hold good for atomic bombs exploded without warning.

SIX SURVIVAL SECRETS FOR ATOMIC ATTACK

1. TRY TO GET SHIELDED
   If you have time, get down in a basement. Should you unexpectedly be caught out-of-doors, seek shelter alongside a building, or jump in any handy ditch or gutter.
2. DROP FLAT ON GROUND OR FLOOR
   To keep from being tossed about and to lessen the chances of being struck by falling and flying objects, flatten out at the base of a wall, or at the bottom of a bank.
3. BURY YOUR FACE IN YOUR ARMS
   When you drop flat, hide your eyes in the crook of your elbow. That will protect your face from flash burns, prevent temporary blindness and keep flying objects out of your eyes.
4. DON'T RUSH OUTSIDE RIGHT AFTER A BOMBING
   After an air burst, wait a few minutes then go help fight fires. After other kinds of bursts, wait at least one hour to give lingering radiation some chance to die down.
5. DON'T TAKE CHANCES WITH FOOD OR WATER IN OPEN CONTAINERS
   To prevent radioactive poisoning or disease, select your food and water with care. When there is reason to believe they may be contaminated, stick to canned and bottled things if possible.
6. DON'T START RUMORS
   In the confusion that follows a bombing, a single rumor might touch off a panic that could cost your life.

You wouldn't think of letting an angry animal loose to roam at will and injure passers-by. That would just be inviting an accident. Is there anything on your job that is similarly unsafe? If there is, the Suggestion Committee would like to hear your suggestion for eliminating the hazard. Suggestions on how to prevent accidents are important. Let the Suggestion Committee have yours.

SICK LIST

The following people have been reported sick, dismissed from the hospital and returned to work:

Sick List

Elwin Coolidge, Virginia Ruch, Mary Garrett, Marjorie Donat, Arnold Horstmeyer, Richard Eisenhut, Rosemae Tucker, Donald Seymour, Richard G. Campbell, Kendal M. Duncan, Grace Campbell, Charlene M. Heinzelman, Mary Bechtol, Henry Louis, Edith Childen, Helen Meyer, Roscoe O. Grover, B. Rush McClure, Geneva Moody, Betty Martz, Curtis King, William Berning, June Martin, Theodore Zinn, Mary A. Reynold, Betty Yarger Askren, Irma Baugh, Carl Hensley, Carlisle Hanson, Mary Hake, Shirley Mae Keller, Herman L. Lankenau, Bonnie Olinger, Jeanette M. Perry, Clarabelle Sapp, Lester C. Stauch, Beatrice Shaneyfelt, Charles H. Tuck and Treace Trout.

Dismissed From the Hospital

Clarence Pion, Wilbur Grey, Pat Perry, Clara Linderman, Mary Garrett, Lester Gordon, Nova Walker, Betty Shanyfelt and Lester Stauch.

Returned To Work

Daniel A. Leitch, Joseph L. Lichty, Margaret Voorhees, Reinhart Herber, Charlene M. Heintzelman, Mildred Covault, Homer H. Archbold, Elizabeth Cleaves, Ruth Ann Wichern, E. Cozette Walper, Luella Stabler, Helen M. Smith, Archie Zolman, Ralph Klaren, Lorin Prince, Eva Wilkins, Imo Gene Pitts, John C. Krauter, Clarence Pion, Sarah Beard, Kenneth Miller, Emma Black, Magdaline Laughlin, Grace Hall, Frieda Flaugh and Marcella Coahran.

6-4 AIRLINERS

By Joan Lindeman

We had reason to wonder about Millie Daley the other day when she asked her boss for some time off to go in search of eggs and a hen house. Mel DeLeye was standing nearby and said he'd always thought he'd like to be a foreman, but when he heard questions like that asked he didn't know. . . . We were sorry to learn that Betty Shanyfeld was taken to the hospital for an emergency appendectomy. We hope you'll be back with us soon, Betty. . . . I wish someone would donate Lubadell Dowden a pair of roller skates. She is wearing out all her shoes running from here to there. . . . Warning to all girls: If you think you can trade in your old gloves for new ones, don't try it. Irma Hanney broke down and bought a new pair. She said they wouldn't take her old ones on a trade-in. . . . Car For Sale: Mel DeLeye wants to sell his 1948 convertible. He says the only thing wrong with the car is that his wife wants a new one. Yes, if you've seen Mel walking around here as if he owned the world, it is because he's ordered a brand new, shiny black convertible, which he has named "Snowball." . . . If you noticed Willie Brummond walking around here whistling and looking under tables, chairs and even in the ovens, he says he is looking for his dog! . . . Don LeMaster shook his head in wonder when Helen Riblet said, "While frying chicken, three livers popped right out of the skillet, hit the wall and disappeared." She never did find them! . . . What big ears you have Grandma! Just ask Betty Thompson to see her cars! . . . Ask Eleanor Whitehouse what happened on the elevator the other morning. She finally got out and walked. . . . Marty Sexton has been busy with the time cards all week. She used hers to ring in and someone else's to ring out. . . . When asked what was news back where the men inspect, all they said was, "Pondo got a haircut!" . . . Hazel Leonard would like to thank all the night girls in Bldg. 4-3 for the collection for crutches for Earl Hart. . . . Pat Patterson can prove his tall fish stories and has pictures to back them up. . . . Patty Alles looked and looked for her black coat one night. Alas there was no coat until she remembered she had worn a grey one! . . . The Easter bunny paid a visit to Bldg. 6-4 riding on Johnny Ormiston's back.

OUT OUR WAY

By J. R. WILLIAMS

Receives Promotion . . .

Marvin E. Hamilton, Jr., Named FHP Cost Reduction & Expense Control Supervisor

Marvin E. Hamilton, Jr., has been appointed Supervisor of Cost Reduction and Expense Control in the Fractional Horsepower Motor Manufacturing Divisions, L. W. Kuttner, Assistant Manager of Manufacturing, has announced.

. . . new supervisor

A native of Indianapolis, Mr. Hamilton received a B. S. degree in mechanical engineering from the University of Michigan in 1947. During the war, he served as a captain in the Army Air Force, spending two and a half years in China.

Mr. Hamilton joined the General Electric Company at the Erie Works in July, 1947, on a Company training program. In August of that year, he came to Fort Wayne on a manufacturing training program. He has been serving as a foreman in FHP Motor Div. 17 until his present appointment.

He is a member of the G-E Squares Club and is married and has two sons. The Hamiltons live at 4705 Arlington Ave.

Annual Squares Revue Scheduled May 9-10th

The G-E Squares will conduct a name contest for their third annual musical revue scheduled for Wednesday and Thursday, May 9 and 10, in the Civic Theatre. Plans for the revue and title contest were revealed today by J. C. Hamilton, publicity chairman.

Contest entries should be sent to J. C. Hamilton, Bldg. 26-2, by Monday, March 26. The winner will receive two free tickets to the show. An entry form can be found on page 9 of this week's WORKS NEWS.

The song-packed musical will have a western theme and the setting will be a dude ranch. Both men and women will appear in the cast this year.

Decimal Minute Men Hold Election Monday

The annual election of officers will be held at the Decimal Minute Men's regular monthly meeting Monday, March 19, at 7:30 p.m. in the Chamber of Commerce, A. J. Ruble, secretary, said today.

Mr. Ruble has urged all members to be present in order to participate in the election.

FEMALE TROUBLE SHOOTER . . .

Pert Blonde Telephone Operator Helps Fix Working Difficulties pretty fixer

If you've got troubles—mechanical ones, that is, Delores Beuchler, Bldg. 20-2, is the girl that's always willing to listen to them. Dee is the voice that says, "We'll have that taken care of for you," when minor disasters strike at work.

If their typewriter bell won't "bing," or if they're working overtime because clocks are slow, or they're going down for the third time because of a leak in the roof—G-E people know they can always dial 20 and that Dee is ready to answer the call.

Officially, she is a telephone operator in the Control Service Section, but unofficially she is known as G-E's trouble-shooter. She has been working on her present job for about three months now, and she thinks it's fun being able to help on all the breakdowns from machinery to drinking fountains.

"We claim we can have anything fixed over here except zippers," she declared.

Things have settled back to normal again with some of the third shift fellows back on the second shift. Norma Bower and Millie Smith are also with us again. . . . Jack Weldy had a birthday on March 15. Jack, we wish you a very happy birthday and hope you are with us again next year. . . . Norma Bower and Junior Smith attended the Jimmy Dorsey show at the Prom Terrace in Fort Wayne recently. . . . That Fisher guy, I mean Orval, had to go and buy another Plymouth. Wait until some foggy night and then he will not be able to start it. . . . Glenn Hurless, former packer and now a permanent resident of Plant No. 1, was over to see the boys the other eve. . . . Pat Huser has been off work several days. . . . Chet McIntosh is going aristocratic. He has purchased a Buick. . . . James Blocker, third trick man of Bldg. No. 1, has lost his freedom, as a bachelor. Recently he repeated the words "I Do." Congrats, Jim, and best wishes to the new bride. . . . The Steeles have purchased a two-tone gray Buick. To make a long story short, a few months ago Dick purchased a green job, which Kate didn't like. She wanted a gray one. You see, Kate has won. How does Dick like the new one? Much, much better than the green one he selected, but won't admit it to Kate. . . . Lost-strayed-or stolen: A chair named Lulubell belonging to an inspector in Bldg. 1. . . . We welcome Nellie White to the day shift. Nellie just returned to work after an extended illness. Hope that you will like working with us on days, Nellie. . . . Can anyone tell Bill Kohls how to keep his favorite sweater from raveling? He would at least like to be able to save the collar. . . . The wedding bells rang recently for one of our employees. Congratulations, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Roop. . . . After seeing the show "Harvey," Ada Owens still wasn't convinced that such a rabbit really did exist. Imagine her surprise when opening her locker, she found "Harvey" sitting there patiently guarding her lunch. . . . It's a boy at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Braun. Mrs. Braun is a former employee, Joan Mowery. . . . The latest report is that Ralph Stanley might have to buy a new hat. The reason is a new granddaughter. . . . Congratulations to Hez Cochran upon his completion of 30 years service in the G-E. . . . Strange things do happen. Doors even get locked for Vida Lammert when she has her back turned. Now, Vida, we advise you to leave the door open next time. . . . Clyde Beery is still on the sick list. George Buckley has returned to his home from the local hospital. . . . Silvino Vergara, Shipping Section, has returned to work after a month's illness. Good to see you back again, Silvino. . . . Charlie Fisher has a new alibi for taking pills. It is to cure some other person's ailments. Now, Charlie, do you really expect us to believe that? By the way, what were you doing the other morning that took you so long to go home? Next time watch for those deep holes then you won't have to call Ernie. . . . Zula Holloway is back with us again after a few weeks' leave. How was the Sunny South, Zula? . . . We also have Dempsey Butcher returning to work this week. Hi, Bob!

BELATED GREETINGS: Since it was impossible for me to get my little bit ready for last week's WORKS NEWS, there are probably a few of you yet who didn't know that last Friday was Pappy Archbold's birthday. Just think, he has only one more year until he shall reach active retirement. We feel that it would be a very nice gesture for Dick Hartigan to give Pappy his old desk when he retires. Many happy returns of the day, Pappy. Take this last year easy. Remember, your bones are getting brittle. . . . FEELING AT HOME: The other day Earl Dindot was discovered by Sam Baumgartner endeavoring to climb over some billets loaded on a platform in front of the drinking fountain. "Where do you think you're going?" queried Sam in his usual genial drawl. "I'm trying to get over there to the pump." replied Earl. This remark was overheard by some of the boys, and immediately a small windmill was erected at the drinking fountain so that Earl would be sure to feel at home. . . . OUR HERO: Several weeks ago our pal, Ralph Nieman, got his Rand and McNally scattered across the WORKS NEWS by answering a question for the Inquiring Reporter. Now, since it's a known fact that Ralph can't speak or write the English language, everybody is wondering who he hired for a ghost writer. Ralph comes to us from a place called Garrett. When he talks, he sounds not unlike a Diesel with four loose main bearings.

SPEED DEMONS—Here are the Apprentice Alumni Association speed skaters who will vie for honors at the Association's roller skating party Saturday at the Roller Dome at Lima and California Roads. Pictured (left-right) are Wilson Garman, Donald Hoffman, Robert Branning and Gale Rinehart. (See story page 1.)

We are wondering where Bill Gefert obtained all of those coupons that can be redeemed for aprons. . . . John L. Laymon has been appointed safety man in Group 2-112 for this year. Let's all cooperate with John to help make this year a safe one. . . . I heard that Sam Rhoades gave himself an egg shampoo last week. That must be the reason he is using an egg beater to comb his hair. . . . Max Kinsey seems to be doing all right at a certain lunch room. He can get his meals free now. . . . There seemed to be quite a number of the boys alarmed last Wednesday when Lawrence Hosack failed to show. . . . We're all very happy to see Eddie Kaliker back on the stamping job after recovering from his recent operation. . . . Happy birthday to Mildred Sadler. It wasn't a bad cake pan after all, was it, Mildred? . . . Bill Connor lost his voice over the week-end. I heard it was from hollering at the girls. . . . Gerald Crum is walking around on air this week. He has some new shoes.

A. H. Schmidt Appointed Winding Foreman in FHP Motor Div. 13

The appointment of Arthur H. Schmidt as Foreman of Winding in Fractional Horsepower Motor Div. 13 has been announced by H. E. Koehlinger, superintendent.

new foreman

Mr. Schmidt is a native of this area and graduated from New Haven High School. He joined the Company in June, 1942, in the machinist course at the specialist school. That same year, he was assigned to the FHP Motor Experimental Division, Bldg. 17-4.

In 1945, he was selected to do experimental work on design and arbor making and, two years later, he was named leading operator of winding in the same division.

Mr. Schmidt is married and has a three-year-old-son. The Schmidt home is on R. R. 2, New Haven.

Record Drive

(Continued from page 1)

is $85,000,000, the major portion of which will be used for increased defense projects and the armed forces. Major defense tasks of the Red Cross include:

Serving members of our greatly-expanded armed forces and their families.

Procuring vast quantities of blood and stockpiling blood plasma for instant use.

Training 20,000,000 first-aiders; teaching home nursing skills to hundreds of thousands and instructing 100,000 additional nurses' aides.

Expanding Red Cross disaster facilities across the nation to assist in civil defense.

Recruiting millions of additional volunteer workers.

Divisions and the percentage of their quotas which they contributed are as follows:

FHP MOTOR DIVISIONS, TAYLOR ST.—Div. 3, 198%; Div. 5, 270%; Div. 9, 117%; Div. 10, 224%; Div. 12, 161%; Div. 13, 85%; Div. 14, 85%; Div. 17, 72%; Div. 22, 72%; Div. 24, 53%; Div. 25, 76%.

FHP MOTOR DIVISIONS, BROADWAY—Div. 1, 83%; Div. 8, 170%; Div. 11, 561%; Div. 15, 105%; Div. 16, 100%; Div. 18 and 23, 75%; Div. 20, 72%; Div. 26, 100%.

STAB DIVISIONS—Div. 91, 81%; Div. 94, 88%; Div. 81, 99%; Div. 82, 174%; Div. 85, 181%; Div. 90, 211%.

WORKS SERVICE AND CONTRIBUTING DIVISIONS — Personnel, 177%; Div. 55, 106%; General Service, 81%; Div. 59, 51, 53 and 57, 96%; Wire and Insulation, 83%; General Tool, 117%; Div. 34, 116%; Div. 60, 131%; Div. 68, 67 and 50, 204%; Div. 58, 161%.

LARGE MOTOR AND GENERATOR DIVISIONS—Mfg. hourly, 81%; Mfg. salary, 141%; Financial, 134%; Sales, 83%; Engineering and Drafting, 172%.

The Sales Office and Service Engineering had no quotas established, but both contributed to the grand total, Mr. Michael explained.

There is only one endeavor in which you can start at the top—and that's digging a hole.

Sunrise Service

(Continued from page 1)

gram.

Services will begin at 7 a.m. and close at 8 a.m. to allow time for those participating to attend their own churches later in the morning.

The devotional musical program will include a sermon by the Rev. O. C. Busse of the St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church in Decatur and musical selections by Charles Bilskie and Eileen VanDeGrift.

Hot coffee and doughnuts will be served at the Theater after the service. For those desiring transportation, a special bus marked "Franke Park" will leave Washington and Calhoun Sts., at 6:40 a.m.

Squares' School

(Continued from page 1)

class room, and W. M. Rowan, Bldg. 4-6, in charge of recess. During the class room quiz, the brighest students and those who should wear the dunce cap will be chosen, Mr. Finkbeiner disclosed. Mr. Rowan said a variety of group games has been arranged.

Refreshments will be served following the entertainment.

receives promotion

M. F. Trott Appointed Asst. to Wage Rate Supervisor in FHP-1

Maurice F. Trott has been named Assistant to the Supervisor of Wage Rates in Fractional Horsepower Motor Div. 1, R. L. Spitler, superintendent, recently disclosed.

Mr. Trott is a native of Fort Wayne and attended Butler University before joining the General Electric Company in 1941. He was first employed as a machine operator in Bldg. 4-1 and shortly thereafter went to FHP Motor Div. 15 on time study work.

In 1946, Mr. Trott was assigned to time study work in FHP Motor Div. 13. He entered the Advanced Methods Planning and Wage Rate Program in 1949 with assignments in Erie, Schenectady and Fort Wayne Works. He finished the course in December, 1950, and was assigned to the FHP Motor Central Wage Rate Division at Taylor St. until his present appointment.

Mr. Trott is a member of the Decimal Minute Men. He is married and lives at 2451 East Creighton Ave.

Flattery never comes up to the expectancy of conceit.

Glen A. Castle Named Aircraft Machining Foreman in FHP Div. 1

Effective last month, Glen Castle was named foreman of the Aircraft Machining Section, Fractional Horsepower Motor Div. 1, R. L. Spitler, division superintendent, has reported.

Mr. Castle is a native of Fort Wayne and has been employed at the General Electric Company since 1929. He worked briefly as a welder in Bldg. 27 and was then transferred to Winter St. in the Experimental Division. He later worked as a model maker and tool maker in the Winter St. Tool Division. In 1946, he was appointed Tool Room foreman, second shift, at Winter St.

Mr. Castle transferred to the Experimental Tool Division in Bldg. 17-4 as a model maker, where he has been employed until his recent appointment.

A member of the Lions Club, he is married, has two daughters and one son. The Castles live in Harlan.

G. A. Castle

Purdue Classes

(Continued from page 1)

electrical technology, students are awarded the Associate Technical Aide Diploma.

Requirements for admission state that an enrollee must be a high school graduate or have an equivalent background of experience or training. Program planning and counseling are available to all interested persons.

Classes Listed

Classes offered this Spring are:

DRAFTING AND MECHANICAL TECHNOLOGY: Technical drawing, machine drawing, graphical computations, advanced machine drawing, tool design, fundamentals of mechanics, statics and mechanism.

MATHEMATICS: Arithmetic, algebra and geometry, algebra and trigonometry.

BUILDING CONSTRUCTION: Plan reading, architectural drawing, frame construction, elementary surveying, structural drafting, history of architecture and freehand drawing.

GENERAL CLASSES: Economics of industry, democratic government, review of English grammar, English composition, technical report writing, psychology applied to industry, introduction to industrial chemistry, physics; mechanics, physics; electricity, physics; heat, operation planning and human relations in industry. Quality control, parts one and five, will also be offered.

February Jobs

(Continued from page 1)

conversion of plants to defense work, these figures make it clear that, as of Feb. 10, at least, the effect of the defense program has been exactly the opposite.

"Although there may still be temporary cutbacks in employment in some areas due to lags in conversion, developments to date would indicate that wide-spread unemployment is unlikely."

Situation Static Here

According to W. E. Beer, Supervisor of Employment, there was no marked change in the employment picture at the Fort Wayne Works during February. Mr. Beer explained that although 640 new employees were placed last month, there was no substantial increase in overall employment figures because of the rapid turnover in jobs at the present time. This turnover is largely attributed to the number of service men and their families being called to duty.

Veterans' Banquet

(Continued from page 1)

Reservation deadline is Friday, March 30. Tickets are available from the following members of the committee:

East Side of Broadway—Herb Koch, Bldg. 2-2.

West Side of Broadway—Pat Christle, Bldg. 19-3.

Winter St.—Neil Daley.

Taylor St.—Bill Smith.

Entertainment and refreshments are being planned for the program following the dinner.

Drive carefully; don't insist on your rites.

FINISHES 35 YEARS WITH COMPANY—Carl J. Schone, Bldg. 19-5, (fourth from right) finished 35 years of employment at General Electric Feb. 25. A group of his co-workers in the General Tool Division met to extend their best wishes on his anniversary. In the photograph are (l-r) M. L. Sordelet, C. A. Brenner, John Roemer, John Neukam, Mr. Schone, Elmer Aumann, Louis Paluszak and Chester Reynolds.

By Don Clark

Our "hot copy" this week is none other than Paul Martin, who has unwillingly joined our "Too Early Club." Monday morning, Paul arose as usual, had a nice breakfast and headed for the bus stop, but came right back home. He was one hour too early. Paul's thorough workmanship has caused him some anxious moments. He cleaned and oiled his machine, only to learn that he was using cutting oil. Don't be disturbed, Paul, some days are like that. . . . Birthday greetings to Paul Auman. It looks like Paul will be donning his carpenter apron to finish the upstairs rooms in his home. . . . Howard Demsey has a sure-fire way to get an uncalculated vacation. He just contacted the flu. . . . Paul Weaver must have been looking at some fascinating object to sit down and completely miss his chair. . . . We welcome Harold Lehman to the check room, and Victor Barcus to the Planning Section. . . . Carl Schlenker is getting quite liberal with his time. He took time out to shake hands and exchange greetings with our honorable Gov. Schricker. . . . John Marks insists he didn't have anything to do with his wife's black eye. . . . Paul Brinkroeger says it's accidental that his aprons come out of the wash a pretty pink. He is now wearing pink shirts to match. . . . Why is everyone calling Art Dicke's new Plymouth "a bucket of bolts?" . . . The Lathe Section's loss is Walter Greiner's gain. Lee Schnepp started to work on bench last Monday. . . . Have you noticed that charming beard that Mike Rauner was sporting this week? Keep it growing, Mike. In a few weeks you can get yourself a black hat and blue jeans. . . . We wondered what made Joe Mettler laugh so hard. He told us that Woody Hursh's Leo Lions finally won a county championship; table tennis, that is. . . . It is rumored that Murray Mendenhall is thinking about hooking up a telephone to the top row in North Side Gym to his able assistant, Coach Henry Gerdom. . . . We wish Leo Schlaudrauff lots of success in his new capacity of assisting Dave Bartle. We also welcome Dick Wagner to Walter Greiner's section. . . . The boys claim that a foreigner has been using the drill press in the Die Section. They were curious to see if he was a Chinese, Mexican, Eskimo or what. To everyone's surprise, it was none other than Rufus Niblick. Rufus claims just because his name is Niblick, it's no sign he is a golfer. . . . Eldon Mee tells us his son, Bobby, is now up in the front line in Korea with the fighting Marines. . . . We all wish Ray Renfrew a speedy recovery. Ray is convalescing at the Lutheran Hospital. We also send our get well wishes to Helen Karnap who is recuperating from her extended illness.

Die Plant

We say "Good Luck" to Ralph Grish, who is heading for the armed forces. Ralph took his physical examination and proved that he was the healthy recruit they were looking for. . . . After learning that a friend had offered Ralph Baysinger a living room suite for a wedding present, we find he is contemplating matrimony. . . . If you happen to patronize a downtown parking lot, don't be surprised if the attendant acts friendly. His name might be Harold Buell. . . . John Roemer was showing John Neukam a piece of work that had been machined wrong. This inspired Mr. Neukam to let loose a fine speech on the subject of work being spoiled through carelessness. It was thrilling until they investigated to find out just who had spoiled this certain exhibit of scrap. You can guess who it was—our good friend John Neukam. . . . Having installed a new television set, Merv Lowden isn't taking any chances on not seeing the whole show. He has invested in a new pair of glasses. . . . Bob Birkenbuel's wife put coffee in Bob's lunch last week. Upon reaching the office, Bob discovered it was dripping from his bucket. Perhaps preparing your enormous breakfast and pushing the cork tight is just too much to expect of your dutiful wife, Bob. Better lend a helping hand. . . . After seeing Miss America downtown last week, Bob Birkenbuel and Frank Woenker report they think their wives should have won the title. . . . What has Frank Woenker got that the rest of the draftsmen haven't? Last Friday the Roving Reporter came to our office and selected Frank for an interview without giving the rest of the draftsmen a second glance. . . . Elwin Coolidge has returned with his usual good looking coat of tan. Elwin says the trip to Florida and back was very enjoyable and trouble-free. . . . The jingle in the back corner of the Drafting Section last Monday was DeWayne Schele's way of letting everyone know that he was pleased about winning the pool. We wonder if DeWayne's big smile will disappear when Jane hears about this or reads it in this column?

Sure and tomorrow 'tis the wearin' o' the green. It is also the day to plant sweetpeas. . . . All the oh's and ah's in the Main Winding Section were over Minnie McCague's beautiful new diamond. One of these days, she is changing her name to Durnell. . . . Congratulations on the pink-bootied tax deductions at the Jack and Audrey Fox Bright and the Walter and Frances McCague Hart homes. Both of the little girls' mothers are former co-workers. . . . It's a happy birthday to Tena Dondero, Pauline Stocks, Eileen Steinacker, Halley Hosler, Mary Irven, Violet Martz, Beulah Johnson, Mabel Schaaf, Sarah Meagher and Jesse Wilcoxson. Potluck dinners were given for Tena, Halley and Mary. . . . Thelma Forehand spent last week-end in Chicago. She visited her son who is in the Navy. . . . Violet Adams and Johnny Williams visited us last week. Johnny's life of ease is agreeing with him. In fact, we think he is going to have to put elastic buttons on his coat. . . . It's "Howdy" to all our newcomers. . . . We hope all who have taken other jobs like their work. Don Degitz left us to go to the Taylor St. plant. Mickey Simpson also left us. . . . One day last week, we thought Bldg. 17-2 was going to lose their reporter. It was just one of the Main Winding Section girls having some machine trouble. She was dragging him in to show him the trouble. . . . Eunice Zehr says, "You really expect to get stuck in the mud out in the country. When you get stuck in the City of Fort Wayne, that's bad." . . . On our sick list are Lena Schaper, Virginia Hamilton and Emma Black. We hope to see you back soon. . . . Our sincerest sympathy is extended to Dorothy DePue in the death of her grandfather.

This may be stealing a line from Jimmie Fidler, but I doubt if he ever hears of it. Here is my Open Letter to the management. The report of the various benefits sent to each employee of the General Electric Company is so complete in every detail that I am sure even the most skeptical will have a difficult time in finding anything omitted. It is the most complete report ever made to the employees and, judging from the comments made, has been received with a feeling of gratification. . . . It seems that part of last week we almost had to draft visitors to call on the Personnel employees; so many of them were the victim of the unwanted flu germ. . . . Sorry—We are sorry to learn of the illness of H. D. Kammeyer. . . . Welcome is extended to Barbara Pence, Peggy Houston and Trudy Wolf. They are newcomers in the Bldg. 18-5 vault. We hope you enjoy your associations with us. . . . Cheer up—Golf is just around the corner, and for that matter so is housecleaning. . . . New terms—The recent heavyweight champion fight was being reviewed in the Data Bureau. Incidentally, some new terms were coined. Just what is a cauliflower nose, Olive? . . . Tomorrow we bow to the "Wearin' of the Green." May the luck of the Irish continue to hold out. This old world could use some luck about now as well as a good sense of humor. . . . Marie Taylor, Bldg. 18-5, surely likes to drive the new Oldsmobile—when her husband is out of town. I know you can't all ask her what this is all about. . . . Greetings and Goodbye—Greetings are extended to Ruth Beverforden, who has been added to the Wage Rate organization. She will replace Helen Rider Meyer, who is leaving today. The girls entertained Helen yesterday with a potluck luncheon in Bldg. 18-2 and presented the guest of honor with a gift. She is planning to spend her time being a housewife. . . . Returned—We are happy to welcome Helen Gellert back to work after several days' absence due to illness. . . . Wisconsin Visitors—Maryliss Redding, Bldg. 18-2; Annabelle Redding, Bldg. 18-4, and their family drove to Camp McCoy over the week-end. They visited their brother who is stationed there. . . . Belated Birthday Greetings and a Mystery—The mystery isn't why we failed to extend a birthday greeting to Dudley Snyder, Bldg. 18-5, last week. He lost his fountain pen the same day. The rumor is that his one-year-old son did away with it. Now, I wonder! . . . The tulips are up, the robins are singing, and the days are longer. Somehow the threat of additional winter in the form of ice, sleet and wind doesn't have quite the same sting. . . . Elex—it seems that the Elex girls were rather busy with their rummage sale last week-end. I understand that they almost sold some coats of the workers. To be sure, that is just another rumor. . . . Next week is Holy Week. We have much to remember. It would be wonderful if our prayers could extend the Golden Rule throughout the world.

It's A Mystery

Inquiring Reporter:

"AS A G-E EMPLOYEE, DO YOU FEEL THAT YOU ARE AS WELL INFORMED ABOUT COMPANY ACTIVITIES AS EMPLOYEES OF OTHER MAJOR INDUSTRIES?"

ELLEN SAPPENFIELD
Bldg. 26-4

"I feel that many G-E employees would appreciate more knowledge of the products they are producing and more knowledge of the products uses. I think the informative meetings are helpful, but additional information from time to time would create greater employee interest."

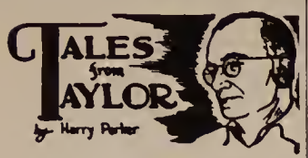
MAX PIPPENGER
Taylor St.

"Yes, by virtue of the WORKS NEWS, bulletin boards and informative meetings. We could be better personally informed by the foremen on the job in regard to lay-offs, transfers and seniority, and 24-hour notice of overtime, if possible."

ETHEL PERRY
Bldg. 2-2

"I think we G-E employees are as well informed as we should be and as well as in other industries. There may be some individual cases, but foremen should take care of that."

FRANCIS J. ROMARY
Bldg. 4-4



"As far as being informed about Company activities is concerned, I believe the General Electric Company has done a pretty thorough job through its Informative Meetings, WORKS NEWS, and the newspapers."

CARLTON W. PETERS
Bldg. 19-2

"I believe we are fairly well informed. We have features in the WORKS NEWS explaining things that come up, such as insurance, pensions, etc., and we have Foremen's Informative meetings which help some. Our foreman, by being in daily contact with employees, is in the best position to personally try to solve individual problems."

Phillip (Tiny) Schoppman has decided that his meals in the cafeteria cost too much and has been carrying his lunch. If one had to purchase what he eats, it, in all probability, would cost in the neighborhood of three dollars. The receptacle he packs it in resembles a small clothes basket which contains a gallon thermos jug full of coffee and two quarts of milk. Tiny said that he must take care of his girlish figure. . . . Our very own clown, Alfred (Red Snapper) Renz, is now engaged in rounding up his gear preparatory to joining the circus again this coming season. He has added a new piece of equipment to his already large accumulation of junk. It is a new car with all the gadgets one can think of on it, such as overdrive, power drive, free wheeling and fluid transmission. Red is not quite sure of himself with this new car and waits until everyone is out of the parking lot before he ventures out with it. If this car, with all of its automatic features, should give him trouble, poor Red will find himself sitting amidst bewilderment on some distant highway. . . . Ray Quandt, our man of many activities, is now busily engaged in the study of lens grinding and calibration. When finished with his studies, he plans to hand grind and polish a set of lenses to install in a telescope, powerful enough to read a newspaper a mile away. He also is working on an idea he has for producing a workable film pack adaptor for 35mm cameras. Some of the boys are wondering if it is about time for him to drag out that tractor and start working on it again. . . . Our self-styled champion crow-bumper-offer, Herb Saurer had better look to his laurels. Kenny Applegate plans to outstrip him in the art of slaying crows this coming spring and summer. Kenny tells us that he is going to make Herb look like a piker. He plans to spend all of his waking hours afield in search of the black demons. When fall comes, he anticipates having more crows feet on display than Herb has ever seen.

RETURN SOON: Our thoughts go out to Roy (Jack) Hively. We wish him a speedy recovery. . . . PARTY: We feel an under current regarding another party. All those who desire one, notify Marge Witte. . . . Our family in Bldg. 31-1 seems to be growing. We welcome the following new members: Mary Lou Bridges, Lois Wendel, Jack Woodcox, Virginia Hoevel, Gladys Fox, Mavis Kohlendorfer and Stan Amstutz. . . . COULD BE: Joe Neal could be right. "Gee," he remarked, "Don't you think girls are undependable? Last week, Gloria Barr swore she was off men, going to be an old maid and all that stuff. Now look at the rock she is wearing this morning." We looked. She had the proper ring on the proper finger and was happy as a lark. . . . SPUDS: Annamae Bowser and her girl friend decided to try a little cooking over the week-end. In these days when a can opener is the most important piece of equipment in the kitchen, we are not surprised to learn the meal came from cans. Among the items prepared was dehydrated potatoes. These spuds are mashed, dehydrated and sealed in cans. On the can are instructions for preparing this food. The girls figured that if a little was good, a lot was better, so they mixed the entire contents with water and milk as directed. Then the action started. Soon every bowl in the place was filled, and the girls made trips to a nearby grocery for more milk to use as a thinner. It looks as though the girls will be eating potato pancakes the rest of this week. . . . BET IT WAS: Paul Bohn remarked that March 12 was the second best birthday of his life. We presume the best one was the day he was born. . . . INVENTIONS: Many of this world's inventions are the results of laziness or something new discovered during the progress of an experiment. No one can ever accuse Ben Steigler of being lazy and the discovery he made came from an entirely removed experiment. His experiment was a result of attempting to do the family wash. Due to his efforts, he brought forth the "Stiegler wash and dye process." Ben, being a novice at washing, did not realize that colored clothes should be separated from the white. He placed some bright red pieces in the washer along with the white. Now, if Ben seems to radiate a glow, it's just his pink undies shining through. . . . HURRAH FOR US IRISH: "Faith and we feel honored." With St. Patrick's Day approaching, we feel honored that our division editor, Ed Foley, is an offspring from the "Auld Sod." However, some of the folks he has taken care of in this column feel he should be under that "sod" instead of "from." . . . NUFF SAID: Bert Spencer, Motor and Generator's biggest free-eater, visited in Huntington last Monday. 'Nuff said.

Beware, people! Roving among the group is a spy. Cunning and clever is he (she) from whom the most interesting, mysterious, information can be obtained. Watch your step. Be careful to whom you tell that funny happening. . . . What's this! Harry was seen taking the Packard to the "Packard Hospital?" That long awaited event has at long last come to pass. The Joe Coughlins have done it again. Deciding that the Ford had seen better days, they have taken the fatal step. Joe bought a Buick. . . . Our welcome mat has been enlarged to accommodate our newest arrivals. Leonard Kendzierski came to us from G-E X-ray in Milwaukee, Ted Lamm was transferred from Schenectady. . . . Official "Candy Lady Cart Pusher," Matilda Collins is really taking her appointment seriously. We see her rush when she hears the candy lady's whistle.

Buick buyer

Wendell had a little dog
His coat was black as coal
He followed him to work one day
And Wendell had to take him home.

Don't be a killer—obey traffic laws.

St. Patrick's Day, tomorrow that is, Curtis F. Martin will celebrate his 62nd birthday. Erin Go Brae and a happy birthday to you! . . . P. O. Noble visited the plant last week and all his friends reported they were very glad to see him. . . . William Dafforn also visited his former co-workers in Bldg. 19-4 and 19-5 Monday. . . . A letter from Mrs. Manford Lee (he formerly worked in Bldg. 19-2) tells us they have been eating fresh vegetables out of their own garden since the first of January. The Lees are living in Eustis, Fla. . . . Cora B. Graham, who is now living in Albuquerque, N. M., writes that Albuquerque is a wonderful place. She says the mountains are perfectly beautiful and the people are so friendly. "We never felt as though we were strangers," she writes.

"MONKEY BUSINESS"
When I see how things are muddled
In our price and wages freeze,
I'm reminded of the monkey
And the cats that found the cheese.

One cat thought because he found it.
That the cheese was his by right,
But the other claimed he smelled it
Long before it came in sight.

So they argued, each one claiming
That he ought to have it all;
Then agreed to ask the monkey
If he'd arbitrate their brawl.

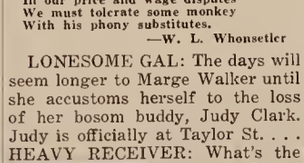
Now the monk, a politician,
Always looking after votes
Had the cats relate their stories
While he made some mental notes.

What was right, did not concern him
And as you may well surmise
He suggested, they divide it,
Which of course, is compromise.

But they didn't trust each other
Which is quite a common trait.
So they asked their friend, the monkey
To divide and check the weight.

So the monkey solved their problem
Just like fixers do today.
When the pieces didn't balance
He just ate some cheese away.

And the cats, of course, discovered
Very much to their surprise
That their cheese was disappearing
Right before their very eyes.



Now, the only thing that's different
With our price and wages freeze
Is, our monkeys try to fix it
Just by adding cheaper cheese.

Either way it's done, I'm certain
Like the cats, we'll realize,
That this dog-gone monkey business
Doesn't help our cheese supplies.

But until we trust each other
In our price and wage disputes
We must tolerate some monkey
With his phony substitutes.

—W. L. Whonsetler

LONESOME GAL: The days will seem longer to Marge Walker until she accustoms herself to the loss of her bosom buddy, Judy Clark. Judy is officially at Taylor St. . . . HEAVY RECEIVER: What's the matter Paul Shaffer? We've heard of blue Mondays, but not weak Mondays. Was the receiver that heavy? From the sound of the racket when it made connections with the floor, the poor guy on the other end should be deaf. . . . WELCOME: We welcome Martha Davenport to our Division and also Ruth Lowdermilk, (engineering assistant). Martha worked in FHP Drafting before, so she is not a stranger. We are very happy to have her in our fold once more. Ruth's hobbies (if you can call building a house a hobby) are quite diversified. Yes, she honestly built her own home and drew all the plans herself. In addition, she is an avid horticulturist, and also a 35 mm color photographer. She has a six-year-old son, Michael. . . . HURRY BACK: We were all very sorry to hear of Jessie Chadwick's bad luck last Monday and hope she makes an early recovery. The place just isn't the same without you, Jessie. . . . We were also sorry to hear that Adolph Strasser is feeling "under the weather" and wish him a speedy recovery too. . . . CONGRATS: Happy birthday to Max Barrows, March 19, and to Fred Suhr, March 25. . . . GREEN TIE: Herb Osborne wore a bright green necktie for three days last week, so he could get his name in the paper. Don't you think it was a little early for St. Patrick's Day, Herb?

Heavy Receiver

SHIPPING: "Shor and be gorry tomarrow's a great day for the Irish" and for Helen Elbert in particular (our most steadfast Irishman). Of course, Buck Buchanan will probably wear a green tie to prove that he's Irish, but it won't work. "Buchanan" definitely labels him Scotch, so drag out that plaid tie, Buck. . . . Speaking of colors, how about those socks of Bob Jellison's? They are green and black plaid with purple tops, heels, and toes. No wonder, we have such a traffic tie-up around G-E every once in a while! (Those tie-ups only happen when the green plaid with the purple trim shows up.) . . . Color seems to dominate the news. The nearness of spring might be part of the cause. It was a rather chilly day, however, that Dutch Wilson wore that lovely dusty rose shirt. . . . Then there's the tale of the unidentified grey coat which really belonged to Mary Ann but which Lenore Hanley thought belonged to her. Lenore wore it during lunch hour, but she discovered at quitting time that she had worn a navy blue coat and not her grey one. . . . Suburban life is just too dull for Paul Klage, especially on Saturday afternoons. In order to liven things up a bit, he decided to burn up some dead grass and brush. The roaring matter got out of hand, and Paul began to battle furiously but to no avail. Then some neighbors began to arrive and finally the fire department. . . . Happy birthday to Eloise Hoehn. We're a wee bit late, but none the less sincere, Eloise. . . . We thought many of you might be interested in knowing the address of Bob Gebert, so here it is:

Pvt. Robert L. Gebert US 55111314
Co. B 432 Engr. Constr. Bn.
Camp Pickett, Va.

It may have been spring fever that made Carl Reeves go to sleep on the bus. He did not wake up until the bus pulled into the barns. Anyway Carl was awakened by walking back to work. . . . Speaking of spring, it is in the air because Mel Keissling is looking longingly at new cars. One of these days he will weaken. . . . Some day we are going to have a whistling contest. I'll bet that Jack Welch and Fred Grunst will be the two to battle it out. . . . Bob Dent is popping buttons all over the place in honor of his newest tax exemption who weighed in at six and a half pounds. Now Bob has a good start for a girls' ball club. . . . Paul Clendenen had a birthday this week. He is going Jack Benny one better and only admits to 30 years. On the other hand, Bob Esterline also had a birthday, but he claims every one of those years. Of course, at Bob's age, you don't mind your years so much.

Alma Raymer was seen talking to herself while walking down the aisle recently. Did you think Dorothy Hart was still walking beside you? . . . Estella Coleman's husband broke his ankle. We wish him a speedy recovery. . . . Hazel Dilworth started to work wearing two aprons. There is nothing like trying to keep clean, Hazel. . . . Clara Soward and her family spent the week-end in Muskegon, Mich. They visited her sister. . . . Marilyn Leatherman had her ears pierced the other day. Now she can wear pretty earrings. . . . Joyce Lee really felt sorry about Marjorie Cook running a sharp pick half way through her finger. Joyce had just sharpened the pick. . . . Charles Best served cake in honor of his birthday. We wish you many more happy birthdays. . . . We are glad to have Velora Drury back to work. Velora wishes to thank everyone for the cards she received during her absence. . . . When Darold Emrick's car radio went on the blink, he decided to fix it himself. Of course, Darold ended up by hiring a repairman.

Martha Musselman had an appendectomy at St. Joseph Hospital. We are glad to hear she is improving. . . . Mart Heider was our welcome visitor this week. Judging from his appearance, that great outdoor life really agrees with him. . . . Congratulations to J. E. Laisure on his new grandson. . . . Howard Berrier's young son has the measles. . . . Edna Etzler and Ada Phillips visited Florence Weimer. They found her improved and in good spirits. Florence would be happy to see more of her former co-workers. . . . Robert Buck is now in Bldg. 19-1. Good luck, Bob, we're going to miss you. . . . Kenneth McDaniels is replacing Bob. We also wish the best of luck to you, Mac. . . . Our new employees are Dorothy Reinking, John Krauter, Elizabeth Revert, Jerald Taylor and David Guthrie. . . . Birthday congratulations to Clara Krauskopf. . . . Walter Hart really holds his head high these days. Yes, it's a 10 lb. baby girl, Joyce Ann. Congratulations, Mr. and Mrs. Hart. . . . If you see a couple walking down the street and one of them is riding a little red wagon, it might be Anita Boyd and her husband. The other evening they went visiting (with their little red wagon). On the way home, they decided they'd take turns pulling each other. Anita thought she'd put one over on hubby. She would ride the first half of the way home. It could be that she might get to ride all the way. Half way home, she was requested to get out and start pulling. To her dismay, there was a hill staring her right in the face. She showed him she was game anyway.

Ed Hines believes in being practical, even in the observance of an anniversary. This March, being the 35th since his first pair of long pants, he purchased a new pair of long "long" pants. In fact, they are about ten inches too long. Either he is optimistic about growing ten more inches or he figured the extra length would serve as a sweeper or be used for patches. But really, Ed, don't your arms get tired pulling them up so often? Why not use your shears to get rid of that excessive weight? . . . Helen Burnam deserves a medal for bravery. She had taken on the job of soliciting the inspectors for the Red Cross drive. Each time she came out to ask one of the fellows for his contribution, the rest of them would hide. After a day and a half, she got all of them. . . . We wonder what makes Ed Johnson so happy Friday mornings. Is it because it is Friday, or do you have some other reason, Ed? . . . What may prove to be a history-making event took place last week-end. Clarence Rosselot and Fred Higgins entered into partnership. Clarence has furnished the lamb, and Fred Higgins has the nanny goat. They believe that by feeding the lamb goat's milk, wool will be produced which will have an odor to it. This process would make it moth-resistant. If this ventures proves to be worthwhile, they plan to let the wind carry the smell of their business far and wide. . . . We wish to welcome Alfred Tracey in the tool crib. Al is taking Frank Martin's place since Frank was transferred to Bldg. 4-4. We extend a belated welcome to Clarence Goodpastor. . . . Here are some predictions for the game Saturday: Jim DeArmon and George Hahn pick Attucks, and Fred Pyle and George Bear pick Lafayette Jefferson. . . . Sam Sroufe did some plastering last week. The next morning he came to work with a very stiff neck. . . . Clarence Rosselot would like to buy an airplane to fly to Kentucky so he could see his little granddaughter more often. From what we have seen of her picture, we don't blame you, Clarence.

HAPPY ST. PATRICK'S DAY to all you fine Irish folks. While you are celebrating the day, the rest of us can plant sweetpeas. . . . IF THESE SPRING-LIKE DAYS keep coming, here's a preview of what most of you married guys will be hearing from the little wife. "Aloysius, dear, I want you to come straight home from work this afternoon because I'm gonna start housecleaning. I want you to help me with the rugs and mattresses. And another thing, don't make any plans to go fishing over the week-end. I want you to paint the kitchen and bathroom, clean all the wallpaper and help clean the woodwork. You understand?" "Yes, dear." . . . YOU HEARD THE STORY about the mail carrier who takes a walk on his day off? So it is with Loretta Puff. With all those dogs she boards and has to take care of at the K-9 ranch, she still had to buy one for her own little self. . . . DAILY AGENDA: Bill Rohe has a daily agenda of the things he is supposed to do that day. The last time we stuck our nose in his agenda it read like this: (1) Go to Hoffman's office, (2) Go to payroll, (3) Go to Patterson-Fletcher pick up clothes hangers (have sale on), (4) Take pants to dry cleaner, (5) Get gas for crate, (6) Have points checked, (8) Pick up bones at cafeteria (which he forgot to do after going to all the bother of making agenda). . . . CONGRATULATIONS: Issey (Isidor) Best completed 30 years of service with the good old G-E, March 8. . . . TO CONTINUE ON with the Wire Mill's new dictionary, here are some more: hydraulic, hidrolic; horizontal, horisontol; whether, wheather; mechanic, machenik, and spooling, spoolling. More 2 Cum. . . . WANTED: Patient girl. Must be tireless on her feet to answer phone in Wimpy Lemper's office. Reason: Everytime this phone rings, you have to get up on your feet to answer it. . . . NEXT WEEK IS HOLY WEEK and everyone should stop and take time out to meditate on the sufferings and death of our Lord and Savior, who gave His all that you and I might be saved. Do not neglect or forget it. It will be time and effort well spent.

Insulation News

Ode to Kathryn on her birthday—
Thirty-two years ago today,
Little Kathryn was on her way.
The stork flew around—
And then he stopped.
What do you think?
Little Kathryn, he dropped.
The years have passed
And Kathryn grew;
She grew broad—
And taller too.
In later years,
She started knitting,
Spent most of her time
Rocking and sitting.
The years will quickly pass away
But we wish you—
A Happy Birthday!

Leon Shelburne wrote this bit of poetic inspiration. We're sure Kathryn had a happy birthday. . . . Your reporter passed a milestone this week, too. In honor of these birthdays, Zelda Keister and her husband entertained with a family dinner last Sunday for the Ragans and the Seips. . . . At least five of our Insulation girls exposed themselves to Bach and the Lutheran Choral Society's presentation of the "Passion According to St. Matthew." How all the Dorothys, Kathryn and Zelda could find the same spot to sit was a wonder! . . . The Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Females, Picnicking in the Park by the Grave of Governor Bigger (may he rest in peace!) temporarily resumed meetings during our early spring last week. They have disbanded now, however, until further notice.

Since Neoma Perry is taking a week off, it behooves me, the old master, to take the helm of the good ship, "Shaft Shavings," and keep it afloat until Neoma gets back. . . . Did you know that Kenny Hart and Frank Elder are working in filling stations opposite each other after shop hours? They're friendly rivals. . . . If anyone has a sink cabinet for sale cheap, see Ted Schlup. Remember, the price must be right. . . . Howard Musselman is considering the purchase of tri-focal glasses. Perhaps, with his present cheaters, he misses too many good cigar snipes on the walks. . . . The gang in the Commutator Section has coined a new word that should enrich the lexicography of the English language. It is "slurp" meaning, among other things, to work overtime. . . . No longer can Russ Neireiter call Rudy Rastenburg, "beetle brain." He, like Rudy, tried to entice a victim into a trap to be electrically shocked but fell in it himself. . . . Henry Becker and Bill Irmscher were rather put out about some of the quiet overtime several of the boys worked a few weeks ago. . . . John Parren is leaving the section for a Bldg. 19-2 assignment. John coached high school basketball in Wisconsin after graduating from Indiana University. He is now interested in a good coaching job. Anything from Notre Dame to Ossian will do. . . . Philip Burney has developed a strong attachment for the electric dolly. Wherever he goes the dolly goes also. . . . Roy Prince returned last week from a two-weeks' vacation in Florida. He was visiting with his father, Norman, better known to most of us as Pete.

Bluffton Cousins Newest FHP Div. 17 Editors

Rachel Mounsey

Marguerite Stahl

A cousin team from Bluffton, Marguerite Stahl and Rachel Mounsey, have taken over division editor jobs in Fractional Horsepower Motor Div. 17 at Taylor St. Marguerite will write "Count Off-10-20-30 Frame" for the WORKS NEWS and Rachel will be responsible for "The Big Wind."

Both new editors, besides being cousins, have been helping with WORKS NEWS' columns for over two years.

Marguerite came to G-E in 1943, working in Bldg. 4-2. During the war, she was employed in Bldg. 19-5 and moved to Taylor St. in 1946. She is doing mechanism assembly on her present job.

Church work, a home economics club and all sports, especially basketball, keep Marguerite busy in her off-hours. Her trip to California last November was a highlight for her. She made the trip to visit her sister and brother-in-law, who are a San Francisco G-E family.

Marguerite is married with two daughters, one son, and a grandson.

Farm Gal

Rachel is a lathe operator in FHP Div 17, and has been with the Company since 1942. She and her husband live on a farm near Bluffton. Although she claims she really likes farm life, she admits she "won't get up in the morning for chores."

Her after work time is spent on the farm. Her big interests are bowling and "any kind of sport you can mention."

Both girls began their columns last week.

THE BIG Wind

TAYLOR ST. DIV. 17

by Rachel Mounsey

Chet Carey has troubles like all the women of today. He washed his hair the other night and just can't do a thing with it. . . . Nellie Williams went to Lima, O., over the week-end and had a very enjoyable time. . . . Mel Kestner is sure mad at Ed Bireley for leaving him out on the lake for three days on the ice. Then when he went after him he had to go in a boat. We don't blame you a bit, Mel, for being mad. . . . Fred Adams is still curious about how Bill Bauermeister washes his legs at home. Just because he forgot those legs on the grinder, Fred, he wouldn't forget his own. . . . Ernie Raypole sure is lucky when it comes to bowling for money. Maybe they shouldn't tell you what you have to beat, Ernie. . . . Frieda Meyer has all the bad luck around here. Especially when it comes to losing all her clothes. But don't get excited, they were only the extras she had in a suitcase. All jokes aside, Frieda, we do hope you find them. . . . If you see a girl going down the aisle with all her tools under her arm, that's Rosie Koons. She says she's just like a traveling saleswoman—never knows where she is going to stop.

Beware of praise; be sure it mellows your heart, or it is liable to swell your head.

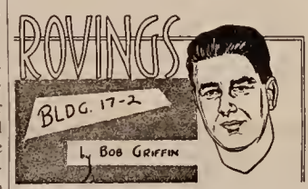
Though things have been a bit dull around the Fractional offices this past week, your reporter has nonetheless unearthed a few choice tid-bits which may be of interest. . . . Virginia Marriotte is the latest addition to the Floor Sitters Club. She discovered that Congress still hadn't repealed the Law of Gravity the other day, when she flopped on a freshly-waxed floor. A letter to her Congressman might help avoid this disconcerting situation in the future. . . . Lucky Arnie Bowers has hied off to Florida for a two-week vacation. We'd all like a little luck like that. . . . Not a "flash in the pan," but "flashy" irridescent socks and ties are being sported by sporty George Knight. Sounds like a bright guy (ouch!). . . . Poor Elmer Hough has lost confidence in Confidence Man "Red" Raney (and all the rest of the gang, too). He got the just-wrong tips on what team to bet on in the finals at Kokomo. . . . Happy housewiving to Marjorie Schuemann, who deserts the office gang to set up housekeeping—full time.

BORN 30 YEARS TOO LATE

Wally Simpson was the interesting topic up for discussion between Betty Harrison and Marie Allgier when jaunty Joan McBride stuck her foot in by asking who the gent in question was (or is). Shame, shame, Joan! . . . Since Ruth Kibiger didn't come through with her "Helpful Hint for Waistline Whittling" this week, up steps expert Louise Goudy with an idea. Louie says it's amazing how much weight the pleasingly plump Miss can miss (but not mourn) if she gets to the cafeteria ten minutes before anyone else and still punches her time-clock when everyone else does. Amazing is putting it mildly, MRS. Houdini. . . . Lucile Mourey, whose birthday came up March 15, has a bone to pick with Uncle Sam. Seems that unk not only has taken a sizable portion of her income, but is also asking 20 per cent on all birthday gifts received.

WANTED A HAIRCUT

A poor little lassie in Payroll wants to beg, borrow or steal a pair of scissors. Claims that her hair is driving her crazy. . . . Casualties, Inc., reports that Bill Brunner is feeling fine, but now Mr. McClure is warming a bed in the sick ward of the Lutheran Hospital right now. Here's hoping that all concerned will make rapid recoveries. . . . A happy March 13th birthday to H. E. Egger of the Purchasing Section. . . . Get out the sulphur an' molasses, Ma. Harold Federspiel has spring fever again. Careful, kid, that's contagious. . . . Mr. Connor's office extends a warm welcome to Judy Clark, a transfer from Bldg. 4-6. . . . Pat Brueggeman's hubby, Jack, would appreciate a little of your gas-and-oil jack that you spend on re-fueling. Seems that Jack has the Sunoco Service Station at Warsaw and Pontiac. . . . One more happy birthday wish—this time to Marjorie Bear. Many happy returns of the day, kiddo. . . . Did you catch your editor, Pat Waterman, of Shipping, and Donna Bauermeister, of the Production Office, on the Fort Wayne Toast Mistresses' informal radio broadcast Saturday, March 10, on Station WANE at 6 p.m.? The girls spoke on some of the women's organizations of Fort Wayne. . . . The Sales Office wishes to bid farewell and mighty smooth sailing to George Grega, who left March 14 for the U. S. Air Force. Drop us a line when you have time, George.



The 19 elevators providing service to the 20 floors of the new 20-million-dollar Statler Center now being built in Los Angeles will be powered by General Electric gearless traction motors. The elevators will be equipped with the latest innovations, including a telephone and a loudspeaker system in each car.

RINGS CLOCK CARD BEFORE RETIRING—William Keubler, Bldg. 2-E, is shown ringing out before going on retirement last week with 24 years of continuous service. His first job was working on a drill press in Bldg. 4-2. Later, he did armature work in Bldg. 4-1. He then operated a punch press, stacked rotors and packed cartons. Mr. Keubler has been an inspector since 1942, working in Bldgs. 4-1, 17-1, 2-1 and 4-B.

This week we're celebrating St. Patrick's Day, and it might be well to keep an eye on Florence (Casey) Grothouse. Florence loves parties and special occasions, so far be it from her to let this big day go by. . . . Frank Treece has left our office to work up in Bldg. 18-4. We will all miss you, Frank, but do hope you like your new job. The gang gave Frank a dinner party last week at the Paramount Grill. He was presented with a gift of two ties. . . . We also wish to greet Traverse Chandler, who will replace Frank. Traverse was working out in stationery with Harold Miller. . . . Ray Loveless is now in the Stationery Section. . . . There are lots of new faces and lots of changing around has been going on. The new lad with the white cap is Robert Pensick. He is working in tool supply. . . . We wish to extend congratulations to Bryon Simmons, Taylor St., and his bride, Marie Kessens. Ceremonies were performed at the St. Mary's Church, and the happy couple honeymooned through the southern states. . . . William Schenher is still off with the flu. However, he expects to be back about April 1. . . . Orville Koble has been ill this week. We hope that you will be back on the job real soon Orville.

Owen Cartwright had a perplexing problem answered for him the other day when Joe Jensen asked for his help on a job. Owen and Joe play a game or two of euchre with satisfactory results each morning before the shift starts. Such is not the case in the noon session indulged in by Joe and George Holthouse. They have had very few games they could call their own. Owen, hurrying with his luck, coaches Joe as much as he can but to no avail. This has puzzled Owen very much. Why can Joe win in the morning and lose so consistently at noon? This thought uppermost in his mind, Owen asked Joe why as he helped him repair a machine. Now get this, Herbie. Joe lifted his head, looking at Owen, pointed to the machine and said, "That is the reason. All my jobs here lately have been just like this one, all tough jobs. They make me so nervous and excited I can't relax and concentrate on the game." This came from a guy who wouldn't recognize a nerve, if he stumbled over it. . . . Bill Doell, our able milling machine operator, has decided that whereas Sweency makes that bench lathe look like an easy job, it has its characteristics. Bill had a little job he wanted done, so he asked Sweeney if he would mind if he (Bill) did it himself. Bighearted Sweeney, always ready to let his co-workers use his machine if they wish, stepped back. Bill chucked his piece and started the cut. He called to Sweeney that something was wrong. Sweeney checked and found the cutting tool was set too high. Re-setting the tool, he again turned away to be recalled immediately. This time Bill pressed the wrong button, the reverse button. Sweeney says that letting the fellows use his machine is fine, but the suspense is more wearing than if he did the jobs himself. . . . John Hart hasn't decided yet whether Archie Evans deliberately routed him down that road with the biggest and deepest chuck holes he ever saw or whether that is the only way to Archie's house. Johnnie spent a whole Saturday afternoon washing and waxing his car. Using hot water and soap and spending plenty of time and wax on the finishing-up process, he had a bright and shiny car that was a pleasure to behold. After the job was finished, his first thought was to put the car away and invite some friends over. Calling Archie, John was informed that they were unable to come, but would he visit them instead? They were having a small party of friends in for the evening. John finally agreed to come and asked how to get there. Archie directed him. John and wife started out. Their trip was uneventful until within sighting distance of Archie's house. John's car fell into a chuck hole full of water. The hole was large and deep enough that the splash of muddy water completely covered Johnnie's car. Archie says that bringing back John's good humor was quite a large and expensive undertaking.

"I Know Something Good About You"

Wouldn't this old world be better
If the folks we meet would say,
I know something good about you,
And then treat us just that way!

Wouldn't it be fine and dandy
If each hand-clasp warm and true,
Carried with it this assurance—
I know something good about you!

Wouldn't things here be more pleasant,
If the good that's in us all,
Were the only thing about us
That folks bothered to recall.

Wouldn't life be lots more happy
If we'd praise the good we see?
For there's such a lot of goodness
In the worst of you and me.

Wouldn't it be nice to practice
This fine way of thinking too—
You know something good about me,
I know something good about you!

It's a generally known fact that Frank Mann can sleep anywhere, but this is the payoff. He parked his car off of Electric St., and while waiting for traffic to turn on Taylor St., he fell asleep. Charlie Hartman said that when he saw Frank he wasn't moving a muscle. The horns of about six cars behind him finally awakened him. . . . Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Herman Davis, who have a new daughter. . . . John Madden almost went home with a red patch on his pants. He tore them to such an extent that they had to be sewed. He went back for them just before the patch was applied. Was that just luck, Johnny, or don't you trust your fellow workers? What would you have done if the time clerk would have come in then, Johnny? . . . Our deepest sympathy to Harold Miller, whose step-father died last week. . . . Pearl Coulter says she will have to wear dark glasses if Harry Nickles keeps wearing those bright ties. She said that when she was going out the gate she saw something bright in the guard house. When she got close to it, it was Harry standing behind a yellow tie. Don't ever wear a red tie, Harry, or it might cause a catastrophe. . . . Ed Trable, Elton Swank and Wallace Geller went fishing last week-end. They brought back fish but the biggest catch seems to be the sun and wind burn they got. . . . I'm afraid I'll have to disappoint Mrs. Everett this week. I don't have anything about Art.

Count Off 10 20 30

TAYLOR ST. DIV. 17

By Margaret Stahl

We are wondering if Maggie Moore tripped her sister Sarah on the new Taylor St. bridge. It seems that Sarah almost broke her foot and it couldn't have been the ruts that caused it. . . . The girls in Lead Section have changed Mel's name to Lydia. He is just one of the girls now. . . . Hillard Moore is all alone now since Ed Bandt went on his new machine. We hope Eddie's shoulder will get some rest now. . . . Bob Johnson is a glutton for punishment. He went back fishing to Houghton Lake over the week-end. Same old luck. George Marschand stayed home. We wonder why? . . . Why that downcast look, Oral Emrick? We know you were very happy that the tonsilectomy was postponed Friday to a later date. . . . We wish Wilbur Gray a speedy recovery and hope he will soon be able to be back with us again. . . . Selma Voigt isn't very saving with Thermos bottles but she sure is on gas for her car. She was seen trying to thumb a ride on the Taylor St. bridge one day last week. To think her brother-in-law owns a filling station. Could be she is thinking of a new Easter outfit. . . . Herb Richter is sporting a new Power Glide Chevy. He says it runs as well backwards as forwards. Just give him time, he'll learn how to operate these new gadgets. . . . Happy birthday to Otto Geiger, who celebrated March 1. . . . Marguerite Stahl was very pleasantly surprised Friday evening when several of her co-workers followed her home for a birthday supper. Ruby Stoops acted as chef and deep fried several pounds of shrimp and oysters. A beautiful birthday cake was the centerpiece and all the trimmings that go with that sort of supper were there. The favors were very unique. Those motoring to Bluffton were Hilda Lecoque, Selma Voigt, Sydonna Fox, Elinor Laux, Lona Cook, Peggy Bandt, Gladys Pantazin, Betty Pion, Ruth Cavender, Ruby Stoops, Travis Walker and Jackie Keller.

It seems that Pat Morey was having a little difficulty in getting to work on time. But last week she made up her mind that she was going to be on time every day, or know the reason why. One morning last week she awoke at 7:20 a.m. and then things really began to fly. Both she and her husband were mad at each other for oversleeping and they tore around the room getting dressed. Pat rushed into the kitchen to put on the coffee pot. Then she realized that it was Saturday morning and neither she nor Hal had to go to work. That's what we like to see, Pat, people who really enjoy their work and can't stand to have the day off. . . . We were very happy to see Ed Schotter back to work Monday morning after being off for several weeks for surgery. Glad you are feeling like your old self again. . . . Welcome to Eileen Goehringer, who started to work in the Wage Rate Section this week. Hope you like us, Eileen. . . . Today is Betty Vail's last day at General Electric. She is leaving to become a full time housewife. We all hate to see you leave, Betty, but are happy for you, too, and wish you all the luck in the world.

Send all ads to WORKS NEWS office, Bldg. 18-3.

"Lost" and "Found" articles must be cleared through the Plant Protection office, Bldg. 10-2, or the Plant receptionist, who will place the Ad-let and otherwise advertise the article.

Only one ad per employee may be inserted. Each ad must be limited to 20 words and cannot be repeated. All articles mentioned must be personal property of the employee. Ad will not be accepted unless accompanied by the name, pay number, and division of the employee. No works building or telephone number may appear in ad, only the home telephone number or address.

No ad will be received over the telephone.

CLOSING DATE
Monday Noon, March 19, 1951

LOST AND FOUND

LOST—Three five dollar bills rolled together, dropped out of a small purse. Lost in hall in Bldg. 4-6 or at the bus stop on Broadway by Bldg. 18.

LOST—Pocket knife with bone handle. Lost in Bldg. 26-1, Bldg. 26-4, or Bldg. 26-5.

FOUND—Pair men's leather gloves. Found in Lindley Ave. parking lot.

FOUND—One earring with three pearl and brilliant sets. Turned in at Bldg. 18-Gate.

FOUND—One white glove with black stitching. Found near Bldg. 18—Reception room.

FOR SALE

AUGER BITS—Complete set, one-quarter to one inch, by sixteenths, $6. Columbia City 2015-R after 7 p.m.

SEVEN ROOM HOUSE—Near Dixon, Ohio, on Indiana side, $3500; three piece bathroom outfit; beautiful crystal oil lamp. A-36333.

SIMPSON MODEL 555 RADIO TUBE TESTER—H-3607 from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m.

TWO-PIECE LIVING ROOM SUITE—Good condition; 9x12 rug with pad, very good condition. H-67983 after 4 p.m.

PREMIER COAL BROODER STOVE—Cover with thermostat, large size, used one season, original price, $40, will sell for $15. E-38898.

OCCASIONAL CHAIR—A-40255.

1937 PLYMOUTH SEDAN—H-55183.

DUNCAN PHYFE DININC ROOM SET—With "fold-in" extension board, lyre back chairs, good condition, complete, $60. A-87012.

BOY'S BICYCLE—Man's bicycle, reasonable; Frigidaire electric stove, good condition, $50. 219 W. Lewis St. or A-89012.

1947 DODGE—Cood condition. 3221 Winter St.

HOUSETRAILER—Streamlite, the "Cadillac" of housetrailers, purchased new Feb. 1949, 8x13 combination living-dining room, sleeps six, $1800 under cost. Lincolndale Trailer Park. Lot 19.

CUSHMAN MOTOR SCOOTER—With transmission and accessories, reasonable. Robert Johnson, 1 mile past Baer Field on State Road 3.

WELTA 3¼x4¼ PRESS-TYPE CAMERA—Accessories, darkroom equipment; baby buggy, bassinette with pads; steel bed, springs, mattress, rocking chair; victrola; electric phonograph. 323 Field St.

27 FT. ROYAL APT. ALUMINUM HOUSETRAILER — Modern. 737 Goshen Ave.

PHILCO AUTOMOBILE RADIO—Good condition. 2810 Culbertson.

80 BASS ITALIAN-MADE LA TOSCA ACCORDION — White mother-of-pearl, in carrying case, $150. 3921 Bowser Ave. or H-50684.

LARGE MAHOGANY DINING ROOM TABLE—Six chairs, buffet, A-1 condition, $35. H-57665.

DINING ROOM SUITE—Enamel top kitchen table and chair; aluminum shower with chrome fittings. H-58361.

LOVELY CROCHETED TABLECLOTH—Ecru, 67 in. wide, as long as you want, $35; other crocheted articles. A-76122.

1940 CHEVROLET TUDOR—Reasonable. Leo 2272.

SET DUAL CONTROL OVERLOAD SPRINGS—Fit any Ford, through 1948, used 2000 miles, like new. $20 off cost. Lincolndale Trailer Park, Lot 19.

POULTRY RANGE SHELTERS—Factory made, wire floors, metal roofs, easily moved in sections. H-37777.

1942 TORPEDO PONTIAC—Just overhauled, excellent condition. H-28961 after 3:30 p.m.

METAL CLOTHES CLOSET — Double door. A-1 condition. E-35983.

REFRIGERATOR—12 years old, 6 cu. ft. with sealed unit. H-82873.

FOR RENT

FOUR ROOM APARTMENT—Batb. At Uniondale, Ind., $30, A-56951 after 4:30 p.m. or 37 C, Uniondale, Ind.

UPPER TWO ROOMS—And bath, private entrance, oil heat, utilities furnished, refrigerator, one lady only. A-67921 after 5:30 weekdays or 12:30 Saturdays.

Apprentice BROADCAST

By E. A. Rasor

Already we have received a letter from Ronnie Allen telling us he is stationed in Georgia. He asked a number of questions and sent this forwarding address: Pvt. Ronnell Allen, U. S. 55135294, 224 Field Antiaircraft Artillery, Camp Stewart, Georgia. He asks that the fellows drop him a line, and as for me, I'll try to reach him through the "Broadcast." . . . The regionals are past and tomorrow is the final game, with Evansville Reitz, Lafayette Jeff, Muncie, and Indianapolis Attucks in the running. They are represented in our pool by Patton, Heppel, Duff and Smith, respectively. . . . Jim Duff must be falling head over heels for a girl in Bldg. 8-2. Last Thursday when the fellows tried to put him on the spot, it seemed as though Duff really fell (out of his chair). . . . Robert Smith paid us a short visit last week, as he is stationed at Baer Field. Bob is in the MP Corps and has every other day at home. . . . The finals are over for one semester and another semester has begun. With the terms lasting 13 weeks, it means that school will be out for the summer. That also means extra work. Some of the fellows are building, and others have gardens. But, of course, for fellows like Hoppel, it means housework. I think he will be used to it, as spring housecleaning has already begun. . . . That loud noise you hear is none other than Jack Enyeart's socks. In order to prove that they glow, all the lights were turned out. . . . It's really a treat to have the classroom windows cleaned, especially before the final quiz. They were so dirty that Jim Pugh wrote all over them to further his education. . . . We missed a note from Dick White last week-end. The week-end before he informed us he was behind Auburn. From lack of encouragement, he seemed to fade out of the picture. . . . Predictions of the week are Crispus Attucks over Evansville Reitz; Lafayette Jefferson over Muncie Central; finals, Crispus Attucks over Lafayette Jefferson. . . . Our Red Cross campaign again reached 100 percent. Thanks for all of the contributions and to those also giving a pint of blood. Wanted: A pint of blood for Karl Hofacker. . . . The class of Industrial Organization had a unique thesis for their final assignment. The topic was "Is There Opportunity in America Today?" It scems that it had to be 400 words so someone handed in his paper of "Yes" written 400 times. A lot of the fellows had the understanding he really meant it.

WANTED

THREE-SPEED RECORD PLAYER—Reflex camera. E-32705.

UNFURNISHED HOUSE — Reasonable. A-78983 between 4:30 and 6:30.

GARDEN TRACTOR—E-35545.

PIANO BENCH—K-4073.

THANK YOU NOTE

MANY THANKS FOR ALL YOUR KINDNESSES—To me while I was in the hospital. Thanks for all the lovely cards and flowers. I can't tell you how much I appreciate everything. Clara Linderman, Bldg. 16-1 Cafeteria.

TRANSPORTATION

WANTS RIDE—From Lincolndale Trailer courts, across from Prom Terrace. Jack Baumgardner works in Bldg. 26-5, from 3:30-11:48, Extension 488.

WANTS RIDE—From Auburn. Bob Williams works in Bldg. 4-5 from 8-5:15. Extension 2345 or Auburn 1199J.

WANTS RIDE—From Ashley-Auburn Road to Broadway. Alice Jacobs works in Bldg. 17-3 from 7-3:30. Extension 754.

WANTS RIDE—From Sandpoint and Kyle roads to Taylor St. Pete Uran works at Taylor St. In Div. 10 from 8-4:30. Extension 2541 or H-02329.

WANTS RIDERS — From Papakeechee Lake, coming through Wolf Lake, Merriam and Churubusco. John Willg works in Bldg. 6-3 for Del Bucher.

G-E DEATHS

C. A. Kerns Succumbs After Long Illness

Charles A. Kerns, 64, of 3626 Lafayette St., died at 6:25 p.m. Wednesday, March 7, at the Veterans' Hospital following a long illness. He was a lifelong resident of Allen County, a member of American Legion Post 47, the Quarter Century Club and the Modern Woodmen of America.

Mr. Kerns joined the General Electric Company in 1919 as a packer in Bldg. 6-1. In 1924, he became an assembler in Specialty Transformer and Ballast Divisions, Bldg. 26-B. At the time of his retirement in August of last year, he was employed on assembly in Bldg. 26-4.

Surviving are his widow, Hazel; a daughter, Miss Mary Alice; a brother, Floyd E., and two sisters, Mrs. Ed Roy and Miss Della Kerns.

Services were held Saturday at 1:30 p.m. in the D. O. McComb & Sons Funeral Home, the Rev. John Aeby officiating. Burial was in Greenlawn Memorial Park.

Gerhard Brokenhoff Services Held Mar. 8

Gerhard Brokenhoff, 60, of 5904 South Harrison St., died at 1 p.m. Thursday, March 8, in the Lutheran Hospital.

Mr. Brokenhoff had been a G-E employee since 1926, when he was first engaged as a painter in Bldg. 6-1. He subsequently worked in Bldg. 19-1 as a spray operator and at Winter St. as a painter. He was employed in Bldg. 26-1 when he left the Company because of illness.

Surviving are the widow, Grace, a stepdaughter, Mrs. Pauline Duryee; two stepsons, Ivan C. Miller, all of Fort Wayne, and Harold L. Miller, Waterloo; eight grandchildren, and two sisters and three brothers in Germany.

Services were held at 2 p.m. Sunday at the Crescent Avenue EUB Church with the Rev. A. H. Colpitts officiating. Burial was in Greenlawn Memorial Park.

Byron B. DePue Dies After 6 Weeks Illness

Byron B. DePue, 74, died at 9 p.m. Thursday, March 8, at his home, 3219 Dinnen Ave., after a six-week illness.

Mr. DePue was employed as a stockkeeper in Bldg. 26-4 from 1942 to 1946.

Surviving are his widow, Mamie; two daughters, Mrs. Hiram Drummond and Mrs. Glen Emrick; one son, Bert, and 10 grandchildren.

Services were held Sunday in the Elzey & Son Funeral Home with the Rev. H. H. Backs officiating. Burial was in Prairie Grove Cemetery.

MIXERS AVAILABLE—Jerry Galland, of the Employees' Store, explains the outstanding features of the G-E triple-whip mixer to Joanne Murphy, Bldg. 2-2. The Employees' Store reports that an "ample supply" of the household units are on hand.

Supply Triple Whip Mixers Now Available at Employees' Store

The Employees' Store has an "ample stock" of G-E triple whip mixers, R. L. Fischbach, store supervisor, has announced.

According to Mr. Fischbach, the mixer is one of the most powerful and is also the lightest of its type on the market today. It is the only mixer which offers three beaters, thus assuring the user that every bit of batter is whipped to the outer edges of the bowl.

There are 12 tested mixing operations listed on the selector band and the selecting knob is grooved to let slippery fingers easily manipulate it, Mr. Fischbach explained. A built-in light also shines into the bowl, he added.

Completely portable, the mixer is finished in easy to clean white baked enamel. A governor maintains selected speeds regardless of mixture stiffness and the motor has permanently lubricated bearings and a sealed-in-oil transmission case, Mr. Fischbach said.

The mixer's new juicer features a revolutionary oscillating strainer which juices more than a dozen oranges whose juice is kept pouring through an automatic strainer.

The units sell for $27.65, employees' price, the store supervisor revealed.

Kindling orders are still available in the Employees' Store.

Apprentice Alumni

(Continued from page 1)

Mr. Plummer disclosed. The team consists of "Rocket" Rinehart, "Speedball" Branning, "Atomic" Hoffman and "TNT" Garman. This highly-explosive group of skaters has been continually in training since the date the event was set, sources closely connected with the team have revealed.

All persons interested in attending the party should contact Association members. Mr. Plummer emphasized that everyone is invited to attend whether he has skated during the last ten years or not.

Egg Sale

(Continued from page 1)

Club would also like to borrow market baskets for the project, Miss Stone said.

The Partizan Chapter will meet all day Tuesday in the G-E Club Auditorium to color eggs. After the egg-coloring, the group will hold a business meeting and serve refreshments.

Members of the committee are: Clara Cooper, Mildred Van Horn, Ann Fox and Myrtle Lauer.

First shift board members will pack baskets at their meeting at 7 p.m. Wednesday in the north end of Bldg. 16-3. Second shift board members will meet in the Women's Activities Office at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday to work on the project.

G-E SQUARES REVUE TITLE CONTEST

Return to J. C. Hamilton, Bldg. 26-2

Here is my suggestion for the title of the third annual G-E Squares Revue:

.....

Name .....

Bldg. .....

Deadline for entries is Monday, March 26.

Notes— From Transformer Drafting

By Melba Jackson

Things have been really happening around here this last week. . . . OUR HERO: Henry Lantz was given a "medal" last Wednesday, March 7. This is a very "honorable" medal and one of the most unusual ones ever to be received by anyone. A "Red Cross" sign was fastened to a white satin ribbon and inscribed on the bottom was "Hero No. 4Z". Along with the medal came this message: "Presented to Henry E. Lantz on March 7, 1951, in recognition of his extreme generosity beyond the call of duty." . . . A surprise package was received by James Hilfiker, "our over-grown sized baby." It was a cute, little pink and white baby bib with his own little name on it. Now, Jim, maybe you won't spill your milk all over your shirt. . . . INFORMATION PLEASE; What's wrong with married life? Paul O., Ed E., and a few of the others sure try their best to discourage a few of us single girls who suddenly have a case of "spring fever" and such. . . . SLIGHTLY CONFUSED: One of the "glamour babes" (Mary) in the back who runs the "ditto machine" (with my help) sure had poor Smith going around in circles for a few minutes last Wednesday. We're sorry, Harold, we won't do it again, that is until we get another chance. . . . ELAINE, some of the girls and myself would like to know how you eat so much and yet never add inches to your waistline? We try, but with no luck. We sure wish that candy lady would stop coming around for a while because we just haven't the willpower to say "no." . . . NEW TYPIST: We now have a male typist since last week; none other than "Tony." It seems he didn't think the girls were doing a good enough job. He sure had enough to assist him, among them were Geo. H., Dick A. and Ed E. . . . Windell would like to know why Norma is singing a certain song?

Pick Ups

26 - 3

By Helen Wagner

"Spring is here," so says Frenchie and Herman. They both have seen night crawlers. . . . Mary Evans is having a little trouble finding mail boxes. She dropped her letters in the waste-paper box in front of Murphy's. Her poor husband had to dig them out. . . . Kenny Klopenstein is better known as Doctor of Propaganda. . . . Florence Kaiser was asked by Bill Edmunds where she took bowling lessons. If it helps, Bill, I'll take a few lessons myself. . . . I've heen told that mothers sometimes wait up for their children. It seems Bob Thomas does it differently. He waited for his mother to come home. After four hours, he remembered he was supposed to pick her up at a certain place. . . . Maxine Hathaway knows how to make good shoe leather, in case anyone is interested. . . . The other day Ray Scheibel was in a hurry to get home so Max Kimball offered to drive him home. After looking in two parking lots for his car, Max remembered he didn't drive to work. . . . The secret behind Glenna Koch's pep is Hadacol. . . . The Stacking Section is considering buying an alarm clock for Evelyn Ervins so she can make it to work at 7:00 a.m. . . . Ronnie Davies has finally learned that he needs more than one pair of roller skates when skating. . . . Our gentleman farmer from Ohio now has a TV set. . . . Pretty soon it will be warm enough for you to wash your car, Art. . . . Nellie Wendt and her husband had a very nice time in Kalamazoo last week-end. . . . Have a nice time on your vacation, Marie Droege. . . . Ted Keller has a new Chevrolet. . . . Lillian Mallo and Jane Eiler attended the beauticians' convention in Chicago last week-end. They had a very good time. The girls also had a little trouble getting on the train to come home. . . . Harry Brattain should give his music lessons in the evening so he could get to work on time in the mornings. . . . Phil Roberson had a good excuse for limping the other day, but we have our own ideas. . . . Evelyn Jennings, you should be more careful where you sit down. . . . The reason Floren Leiberenz didn't bowl Wednesday night was that the rough day in Packing Section got him down. It also took him 45 minutes to walk the four blocks home. . . . Anyone who wants to exchange formulas for raising puppies see Mary Cordell. . . . What happened to your eye, Doris, or were you really ill? . . . Ginny Baker is looking for a new hobby. She would like a few suggestions. . . . Bill Edmunds is better known as the "Peanut Kid!" The Candy Lady has them ready for him when he gets to the wagon. . . . If you want a "top-notch" sandwich, see Martha Hamilton. . . . Cora Bucher reported triplets at her home (lambs). . . . Anyone who wants to be a "sweater girl," see Mary Williamson. She found out in one easy lesson. . . . Lois Debold, please tell us why Al Coxon calls you "Maude?" . . . Edna Boland tells us the reason she isn't going to the candy wagon anymore is because she wants to buy a new dress and must diet. . . . Doris Rinehold has a new Pontiac. . . . We wonder who is going to take care of Vera Hoover's and Edna (Mert) DeLeury's aches and pains. Dr. Frank Pequignot is now working second shift. . . . When you see the winders wearing dark glasses you'll know John Collins has on that loud yellow shirt again. Speaking of loud, you can now hear Lorraine coming since she bought new shoe laces. . . . Wanda, how long do you have to be at the G-E before you learn that to run a machine, it must first be turned on? . . . Who was it that said, "flattery will get you nowhere?" Lois Bailey called, "Wire-boy." No results. She changed it to, "Wire-man," and the service was very good. . . . The second shift would like to welcome all the new girls to Stacking but we wish Sylvia Fenton wouldn't scream at the mice. . . . Have a nice vacation Eulalia Zuber. . . . We are glad to see Sarah Beard who is back after an illness. . . . Hurry up and get well Vilora Schnepp, as we miss you. . . . We are sorry Paul Black (first shift) did not receive the sardines left by second trick.

Hear Him Coming

The nation's first fluorescent street lighting system was recently placed in operation in Detroit, using, instead of the conventional globes, giant tubular fixtures, eight feet long, developed for the purpose by General Electric lighting engineers.

Friendship is the only gold that lasts.

Poem by Byron Neumann

Music by Buck Brown

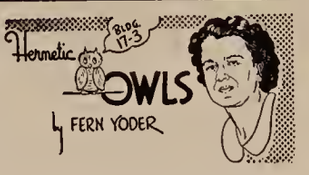
We've had for years among our midst,
A man who'll stand and shake his fist
At some auto salesman or a jewelry jerk
Oft times would be a clothing clerk.

He'll tell them off and, yes, what's more
Maybe ten times he's been in their store.
"I know you guys and all your tricks
You think this bald-head is full of sticks

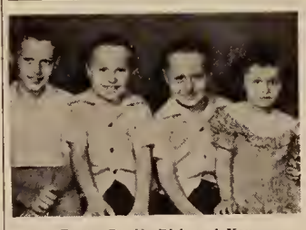
But remember this and count this true
I'll never buy a thing from you.
You add, divide and multiply
Until you get the price sky high

I'll keep my dough and fill my cup
If you guys keep those prices up.

Everyone is wondering if Eldridge Gillum has found out why Margaret McCaffrey had that long laugh. . . . Mary Ann Gressley wishes to apologize to everyone she accused about that valentine. . . . We deeply regret to learn of the illness of Mrs. Jack Payton, and we want her to know we all wish her a very speedy recovery. . . . Mel (Welcher) Williamson called off all his bets on the basketball tourney. Why? You'll have to ask him. He has quite a reason. . . . The latest in our art gallery is a fine painting of Bert (Banjo) Brown. Only one thing missing was the rock on his finger. . . . I tought I taw a mud puddle. I did, I did, I taw it, and it was with George Selby. In faet, he eame face to face with it. George was hurrying to the grocery, and his feet became entangled in a wire left by some newsboys. Down in the mud, he fell. . . . REMEMBER: SAFETY FIRST STARTS BETWEEN ONE'S EARS. . . . With the nice weather we've been having, a ray of sunshine eame to our seetion through the back window, and parked itself in a chair in our Winding Seetion. A ray of sunshine never hurts, no matter where it may fall. . . . QUESTION OF THE WEEK: Where does a girl spend her vacation? Florence Fett has the answer. A girl goes to Florida in the winter, to Alaska in the summer, and springs at every man that might fall. . . . Lloyd Runyon cannot figure how this game of basketball is played. We heartily agree with you after listening to the game in question, Lloyd. . . . With the fine weather recently, we wonder if it is the cause of some of the fine little ditties Ray Schuckel has been telling. . . . Ray Smith is in a dither. Who in the Repair Section was so kind to give him the cute little chicken that lays the golden eggs?



Marjorie Rollins is happy these days. Her son, Robert Dimick, will be home soon for a visit. He formerly worked in Bldg. 17-3. . . . Mary Garrard had a pleasant surprise last week when her brother, Robert, flew home from Germany on a six weeks' leave. . . . Helen Hahan was a mighty happy girl last week when her hushand arrived from Okinawa for a 30-day leave. He is a combat pilot and had completed 50 missions over Korea. . . . Wayne (Joe) Dibert was leading the fellows like a flock of sheep when he had them all herded together to go to the Red Cross meeting. He planned to take them all with him to save explaining it to them when he got back from the meeting! . . . Frank Voirol spent Sunday in South Bend. He and his daughter celebrate their birthday on the same day. . . . Howard Hubardt got some socks and a necktie from his co-workers and his girl friend gave him a watch. . . . We express our sympathy to Frank Devaux in the death of his mother. Our deepest sympathy goes to Billy Gawthrop, whose brother Leroy Baker was killed in Korea, and to the Calvin Listenbergers, whose twin sons died last week. . . . Mac MacDonald finally used an umbrella to keep from getting so wet when the water sprinkler let loose the other day. All the guys' coats got wet. They had to hang them by the heat and turn the air hose on to get them dry by quitting time. . . . Louie Becker got to work rather late the other day. He says the fuel line was frozen. . . . Louie Sauers and his wife took a short trip last Sunday to Ohio. They stopped at Van Wert to eat. Imagine his surprise when he got ready to pay the bill and he had no money with him! Once again the little woman came to the rescue! . . . Birthday greetings to John Razor and Chick Kortum. . . . If anyone has any antique furniture to redecorate call on Fern Hollowell. . . . Francis Harter is driving a new Ford these days. . . . Someone should show Doris McAfee how to fry chickens. She fries it to the cracklin stage. . . . We will miss Esther Comadoel, Joyce Berry, Marjorie Lunn, Nadia Ramer, and Jean Pittinger. . . . Margaret Chartres and Louise Bell would like to sell a hot water bottle. . . . Lorinda Byerlein won't be able to take another fall very soon. Would someone please find her a niee sturdy chair? . . . The girls in Group 1-70 want to say "So-Long" to Mildred Schaffer who was transferred to Bldg. 17-3. . . . Mildred Greene is selling some kind of salve. Ray Soest claims it's good to catch a man. Don't all you girls rush to buy it now. . . . Edna Hauser got the thrill of a lifetime. She drove her new Buick 40 miles. She says she felt like the queen of something or other. . . . Modene Smith received some beautiful new silverware for her wedding anniversary. It wasn't 25 years yet either. . . . Ellen Bauer and her husband will celebrate their wedding anniversary March 19. . . . The girls in 1x55 will miss Kathryn Adair, who has been transferred to Winter St.



What no sweets? Bldg. 31 was forced to give up candy for a few days last week. The four candy machines were taken out to be replaced by two machines from a new vendor. Have you noticed anyone losing weight recently? . . . WARNING: Don't yawn in front of an engineer. He may be one who is taking the Effective Presentation Course. "Ho-Hum" will start an EPC engineer off on a long four-point speech. The four points are ho-hum, why bring that up, for instance and so what. Those who will soon be available for speaking at your club meetings include Warren Brighty, Charlie Brown, Marvin Adamson, Dave Clugston, Bob Gillum, and Glenn Wimer. Step right up and get your speaker. The line forms to the right. If you are just interested in jokes, see George Friedholm. He has his catalogued.

The National Safety Council says that deaths from burns run close to a thousand a month in December, January and February. The principal reasons are defective heating appliances (or improper use of them) and defective chimneys."

One never knows what a day will bring and neither does one know what a week will bring here in Bldg. 17-3. . . . Angeline Fogle has been off work several days. She said that she saw spots before her eyes. Her little boys had the measles. . . . Between working in Bldg. 17-2 and helping out in Bldg. 17-3, Glen Jackson has more ups and downs than an elevator operator. . . . Ruby Depew wanted a fair complexion and tried to get it in a hurry. She broke a bottle of bleach while preparing the wash. . . . Edna Butler got a new pair of glasses with dark rims and all the trimmings. They look very nice, Edna. . . . We have been missing Betty Askren, who has been off due to illness. . . . Cecil wants Eileen to know that every week does have a Thursday. Eileen just got her days mixed. . . . Bea Lantz found out that her daughter is a real southern gal. Kaye gave her a quart of homemade hominy last week, and Rosemary ate it all in one meal. . . . John Hart has been doing a good job of helping Louis Wyss. . . . Bea Lantz's daughter is a good saleslady. Rosemary sold Bea's bicycle and could have sold another if she had it. . . . Mable Drummond has been off due to illness. . . . It is really bad when a person has to break into someplace. Ralph Armey tried getting into a locker and he did, but broke the lock. . . . These are the children of Kaye Meyer. They are in order as seated: Terry, twins David and Rick and Kay Lynn. . . . Helen McPherson has a hobby working as a mortician. She has worked part time for the past five years at a local funeral home and says the work is very fascinating. She took her schooling at Nashville, Tenn. Helen is planning to open a funeral home in the future. . . . . . Louis Wyss and the children really surprised Mrs. Wyss with a lovely birthday cake and chicken dinner. Louis baked the cake himself. . . . Lorraine Harman decided she preferred housekeeping and has left us. . . . Donna Sipe has also left us to care for her family. Sorry to see you go, Donna. Stella Rutdorf is the new girl on Winding. Welcome to our group, Stella. We hope you enjoy your work. . . . Helen Hawbridge was pleasantly surprised last Friday evening when the group in Bldg. 17-3 gathered in the eafeteria to eat with Helen and extend their best wishes for a speedy recovery. Helen is to undergo surgery at the Wolf Lake Hospital. Helen wasn't the only one who was surprised. She decided not to eat and went to Bldg. 17-4 to visit her husband. We had to hunt for her, take her to the cafeteria and proceed with the surprise. She received a lovely gift. . . . Thanks gang for the splendid co-operation. Our column is for the whole group. Anyone should feel free to turn in his suggestions.

Terry, David, Rick and Kay

Former ND Grid Star Red Sitko to Address Squares

All-American Emil "Red" Sitko will speak at the G-E Squares Stag at 8 p.m. Wednesday, March 21, in the Squares Hall, Chairman C. A. Krasienko announced today.

The former Notre Dame athlete will describe a movie and give highlights of his college and professional career. Following the program, he will answers questions during a discussion period.

"Six-Yard" Sitko played football for Central High School before attending Notre Dame. He was named to several All-American teams in 1949 and is now playing pro football with the San Francisco Forty-Niners.

Several 10-minute sports shorts will also be shown. After the program and discussion, there will be cards and refreshments.

Joe Hamilton, Bldg. 26-2, and Nate Horton, Taylor St., are assisting Mr. Krasienko on the committee.

Employees' Bowling Tournament Entry Blanks Available at Club

The sixth annual G-E Employees Bowling Tournament will be staged March 31, April 1, 7 and 8 at the G-E Club alleys, Les Shroyer, tournament chairman, has announced.

The team event will be held on all dates with squads bowling at 3:30 and 6:30 p.m. Saturdays and at 7:30 Sunday. Doubles and singles will be rolled each day of the tournament with squads at 1:30 and 8:45 p.m. Saturdays and 1, 3 and 5:30 p.m. Sundays.

Entry blanks are available at the G-E Club office. Entries close Saturday, March 24.

All G-E employees and G-E Club bowlers are eligible. Entry fee will be $1 per man, per event.

Contest Rules

Tournament rules are as follows:

1. Any G-E employee is eligible as long as he has an established average regardless of what alleys he bowls on. All G-E Club bowlers eligible.

2. Handicap will be 70% up to 1020 for teams, 420 on doubles and 210 on singles with max. handicap of 40 pins per game, per man.

3. Entry fee $1.00, bowling fee 90¢, tournament expense fee 10¢ (per each event)

4. Bowlers to use highest league average of 1949-50 season.

5. Bowlers can compete only once in each event.

6. Please enter doubles, singles, and all events on your five man entry blank.

7. Entry fee must accompany entry blank.

8. Guaranteed first prizes: team—$85; doubles—$35; singles—$20. All events—$10 (actual pins). Money donated by the G-E Club.

9. For any further information contact Wilt and Shipman, G-E Club or L. Shroyer, Bldg. 31-2.

10. Bowlers with no league average in 1949-1950, use highest league average as of March 1st.

11. Unsanctioned league bowlers are ineligible to compete.

12. Entry fees will be returned 100% in prizes plus $150 donated by the G-E Club.

Team No. eight is pacing the Apparatus League with 16 wins and eight losses. Teams one and three are only one game behind with Teams nine, two and 10 just one game farther back.

Oscar Huge of Team No. 11 rolled a 181 count and scored with 10 straight spares. Don Dimke, with 202 and 225, paced the 200 scores. Other high games were bowled by "Windy" Boester and E. Reese, 209, and R. Smith, 203.

Transformer League

The M and D teams are fighting it out for first place. They are now tied for first with 19 wins and 11 losses.

France led the individuals with a big 577 series which included a league high of 241 single game. Gnau had the only other 200 game of the evening, a neat 221.

Culp had the evening's low, a measly 98.

Interdivision League

Brouwers Tire and Battery continue to hold first place, two games ahead of the Firemen.

Murray Johnson snapped out of his prolonged slump with a vengeance and slammed the pins for a big 628 series on games of 213, 206 and 210. That is nice steady bowling, Murray.

Two hundred scores were headed by Rudy Zelt's 206 and 204. Others were Ford Nurnau, 234; Hal Spath, 207; H. Sexton and Les Shroyer, 204; Paul Perry, 203, and Russ Rose and Red Smith, 201.

Maurice (Ty) Cook picked up the four-seven-nine-10 split over on Alley No. Two.

Small Motor League

The National Construction team has taken the lead in the league. They are only one game in front, however, with the Models team close on their heels. Frank Quinn and his Contributing team are closing fast in the stretch, having won seven of the last nine games. The Office team started their stretch drive by defeating the Models team three games. This leaves the Office team just four games out of first place.

That new wood must have been good to the boys according to the 200 games. Bob Duras rolled a 201; Walt Whonsetler, 204; Leo Reffelt, 201; Jim Carey, 215; Carl Brandt, 202; Dick Tobias, 224; Lloyd Parrish, 204, and Joe Kramer, 201.

There still is time to enter the Sixth Annual G-E Employees Bowling Tournament.

Monday Evening Girls' League

Margaret Beugnbt paced the girls with a 531 series in games of 169, 203 and 159.

High games were rolled by Marge Huber, 178; Dorothy Fuhs and Voyce Brumbaugh, 176; Helen Wagner, 174, and Kay Bade, 170.

Tuesday Afternoon Girls' League

Rachel Mounsey rolled the high series this week with a 524 total on games of 175, 169 and 180.

The following girls bowled high games for the evening; Gerry Crabill, 184; Mildred Sitcler, 172; Ida Witte, 198; Emma Vaugh, 177, and Nellie Truesdell, 181.

Cora Bucher got that hard-to-get eight-ten split, while Nellie Williams got the three-six-seven-ten split.

Office League

Standardizing and Aircraft are tied for first place with eight other teams only three games away.

France led the pack with a 621 series. He rolled scores of 208, 203 and 210 to get this total.

Two hundred games were rolled by Carl Hattendorf, 223; Kelso, 219; Erv Aumann, 213; Forrie (Honeymoon) Carlson, 211; Blair (Wee Willie) Bushong, 210; Johnnie Johnson, 209; Dudley Snyder, 205, and Bob (Wedding Bells) Blomker, 201.

Top Floor TOPICS

Bldg. 26-5

By Jack Lea

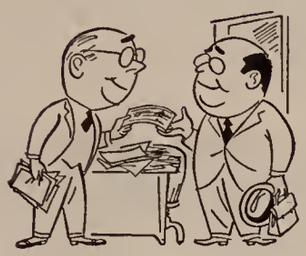
Man alive! We have a celebrity on our floor! Colonel Walt Pohler received a call from "Stop the Music." Walt was supplied the name of the first tune by a friend, but unfortunately he didn't know the Mystery Melody. According to Walt, the house was in an uproar, with the dog howling in the basement and neighbors knocking on the door. Walt won a pair of Benrus wrist watches. . . . Norbert Sordelet is another proud owner of a television set. Norb is offering ringside seats at $1.50 per person. Refreshments will be served at a nominal fee. . . . Forrest Egner must have fallen asleep on the job the other day. His finger got caught in the conveyor, resulting in a broken bone. . . . Houghton Lake must be a popular place. We have more people going there. Dorothy Kaylor spent last week-end at that lake. . . . Margaret Voorhees is back to work after a long illness. . . . "Stitches" Keller came up to see the gang. . . . I'll bet Norma Smith didn't realize she was going to create so much excitement when she gave that puppy to Bee Marsh! That puppy must have put on quite a show. . . . A famous phrase is "Nice large morning outside, isn't it?" by Louie Liebenguth. . . . What's this about Mary Blanchard gathering up a load of lunches? It seems as though some of the stacking bench girls were sent home, and Mary didn't want to see that food go to waste. The treat was on Mary the next day for she brought a pie from the cafeteria. . . . Spring has come and the grass has "riz" and men's thoughts turn to what they've been thinking about all the time: WOMEN! Anyhow, Al Norr says that Charlie Firks has that gleam in his eye! What about it, Charlie? . . . Don Beghtal is wondering why the women keep going in and out of the rest room with those big pocketbooks. You never can tell, Don, they might have a folding cot in those bags. . . . Elvie Dafforn's head is good for something, I guess. Some of the boys were using it to warm their hands one cold morning. . . . Pat Hoffman carried her husband's lunch into work by mistake. I wonder how he made out with Pat's lunch. Incidentally, Pat did show up the next day. . . . The new Hermetic line is starting to fill up! Russell Groves is the foreman, and Byron Hermann is the group leader. Some of the girls have worked with us before. They include: Ruby Brandt (Ruby, by the way, says she has her initials on her new chair and threatens to brain somebody if it disappears!), Ruth Fitzgerald, Betty Niedmeyer, Jeri Bevan, Florence Bieber (the gal with the beautiful red hair), Gladys Williams, Mary Ann Miller, Bernice Hughes, Leona Henry, Cecelia Pranger, Lillian Crowe, Mary Jane Bryie, Marjorie Klotz, Elizabeth Cleaver and Lucille Snyder. . . . Mertz is having trouble with that Olds again. It's spikes in the tires, now! . . . If you have the opportunity ask Harold Josse to do the Charleston. There's life in the old boy yet! . . . Harold Niemeyer must be coming down with the dropsy or he needs specs. Harold fell over a chair and made a one-point landing in a wastebasket. How did it fit, Harold? . . . I've seen some fine exhibitions of bowling, but never have I seen bowling as Dick Pierce does it! What form! What footwork! Dick can roll that ball down the gutter standing up or laying down! By the way, did you ever hear of anyone blocking the dance floor with one's own head? Ask Dick about that. On top of all that, Dick tried to push a taxicab through Toledo. . . . A potluck was held for Archie Scott and Ed Murchland in honor of their birthdays. Wimpy remembered this time, and he didn't bring his lunch! . . . Clara Koomler was seen getting into a new Nash at Taylor St. . . . Mr. and Mrs. Glen Geist wish to thank everyone for the wonderful wedding presents. . . . Second trick has a number of new faces. They are Maurice Green, Donna Miller, Beatrice Bickel, Rosemary Polley, Hanna Stith, Frieda Green, Evelyn Miller, Marian Gresley, Betty Johnson, Beatrice Adams, Mary Smith, Della Elaine Marks, and Betty Hartzler. . . . Maybe if Joe Gomez sees his name in the column, he'll be able to give Wyonetta Gerdom some news next time she asks. . . . Did you know the Transformer team is leading in the basketball league? Bob Taylor, Bob Carpenter and Don Brighton are some of the players. Watch the WORKS NEWS for the games and turn out and give these boys moral support. . . . Why does Benny Cahn get mad when someone asks, "How's your wife today?"

Stop The Music

Martha Scott has sworn off potato chips. It seems Martha was digging around to find a nice crisp chip. To her surprise, she found some "stringy packing." . . . Florence Seibert has transferred to the day shift and Helen Stabler has gone to Bldg. 19-2. . . . We're glad to see Kenny Miller back after his recent illness. . . . Happy birthday to Evaline Best and Mary Noll. . . . Aldena Harris is driving a new Ford. According to latest reports, she hasn't banged up any fenders yet. . . . Get-well wishes are extended to Marjorie Goodrich, who is recuperating from an operation. We hope to see you soon, Marjorie. . . . Pat Shaw and Catherine Bobbitt have left us for Bldg. 6-4. . . . Have you seen Mary Noll's posy? We bet that it's the latest thing in flowers. . . . The girls say that Amy Dull can make delicious peanut butter fudge. . . . That was some party that Marjorie Crabill attended. In fact, she had to rest up a day or two. . . . Betty Madden is really kept on the run by her daughter Vicki. Vicki is always a jump or two ahead of her mother. . . . We see that Margaret Girardot is back after being on the sick list. . . . Reggie is the new girl on the press. . . . Margaret Rollins has gone on days, and Jean Pittinger is leaving for a full-time housekeeping job. The girls held a potluck in Jean's honor recently. . . . We should buy Helen Thieme an alarm clock. She can then get her hubby off to work on time without making his driver wait. . . . Mary Noll doesn't know what she's going to do with all her wild animals. My suggestion is to start a zoo. . . . Anyone who is interested in skating is invited to join our classes. We would like to have a few more attend these sessions

G-E Snow, Rain Maker Speaks to Engineers

The possibility of releasing snow-making silver iodide particles from the ground and generators for this purpose were discussed last evening by Dr. Bernard Vonnegut, G-E Research Laboratory staff member, before the Fort Wayne Engineers Club at the Chamber of Commerce.



An entirely new field of meterology has been opened by Dr. Vonnegut and other researchers. The guest speaker was one of three scientists responsible for discovering methods of producing snow and rain from clouds.

Don't get too flowery. You might go to seed.

After you stop and think, don't forget to start ahead again.

DOING OUR BEST . . .

In the past ten years, as before, we have been doing our best to work for the best interests of all—our customers, our employees, our vendors, our stockholders, and our government—under our great American system which gives all of us the opportunity to go forward together.

These are times for humility, of course. But we nevertheless offer proudly the following report of what seems to us to have been ten years of real progress:

Prices we pay for materials—and for the other supplies and outside services which go into our own products and services—have gone up in the last ten years an average of quite near 100%

Prices we pay for work—the compensation for the skill, care, and effort of our employees (not counting in the greatly added costs of pensions, insurance, and other such benefits meanwhile)—have gone up in the last ten years well over 100%

Right now wages and salaries are about to go still higher.

Prices we pay for money—the compensation we pay in dividends to our stockholders for the use and risk of savings created and made available to us by stockholder self-denial—have gone up in the last ten years 84%

And it took a more than doubled investment in the business to permit even this 84% increase in the number of cheapened dollars now being paid our stockholders.

Prices we pay for government—for the services of Uncle Sam and of state and local governments—were greater in 1950, as compared with 1940, by 385%

But this includes only our direct, visible taxes, which last year were about $300,000,000, or well over a million dollars per working day, or an average of almost 80¢ an hour for each employee working last year, or about $100 a month for each of our more than 250,000 stockholders, or over 15¢ out of each dollar our customers paid us.

Such taxes are at a much higher rate now, and apparently going higher.

And there are indirect taxes in addition—hidden in the prices of everything we buy—estimated to average about 25¢ out of each dollar of those prices.

PRICES WE GET FOR OUR PRODUCTS

—for better quality and performance than ten years ago—have gone up in that time on the average only a little over 50%

That's real success in constantly getting more and better goods to more people, at greatly lowered real prices and greatly increased real values—despite the steady drop meanwhile in the value of the dollar.

★ ★ ★ ★

We think all the above adds up to a good record—one everybody in General Electric can be proud of—a record of serving the balanced best interests of our customers, our employees, our vendors, our stockholders, and our expensive but much needed national, state, and local governments.

We feel it is just such contributions of ingenuity and diligence that have partially offset the skyrocketing food and other such consumer expenses and made it possible to limit the over-all cost-of-living index (as of January 15, 1951) to only 81.4% above 1940 . . . while the cost of materials, labor, taxes, and other elements entering into industrial production were rising so much more than that during the same period.

But we must do still better. These are times when our normal best is not good enough. We have now got to do—and will do—our super best!

GENERAL ELECTRIC COMPANY

A. R. Burlingame

VICE PRESIDENT—EMPLOYEE RELATIONS

INDIANA COLLECTION

FORT WAYNE WORKS
NEWS

Volume 34 | FORT WAYNE, INDIANA, FRIDAY, MARCH 23, 1951 | No. 12

DON'T FORGET

The Department of State Revenue reminds Indiana residents who receive annual incomes of $5,000 or more that they must file quarterly returns on their gross income tax at a rate of one per cent and at a rate of one-fourth per cent on their bonus tax. Persons in this bracket will be charged for delinquency after April 30 if they fail to file their first quarterly return.

I TAUGHT I TAW A BUNNY WABBIT—It isn't every little girl who gets a peek at a real, live Easter bunny such as the one portrayed here by Irene Schultz, a winder in Bldg. 17-3. The smaller cutie is the granddaughter of Violet Brower, a leading operator on the same floor. The attractive Irene has four daughters of her own.

Squares' Annual Musicale To Raise Curtain May 9

Rough, Tough G-E Hombres, Feminine Side Kicks to Star in Western Saga

Final program plans for the Third Annual Squares Club's (no title) Musical Show were announced today by A. L. "Johnny" Johnson, general chairman. The revue will be held Wednesday and Thursday, May 9 and 10, in the Civic Theatre.

The plot, as outlined by R. C. Triplett, Bldg. 26-2, tells how a rough and tough bunch of canasta-playing, lemonade-drinking cowboys (played by G-E Squares) entertain a frilly, feminine bunch of Indiana dudes (played by Squares'

(Continued on page 4)

Ed Martin, Al Bobay Are Vet Pres. Nominees

The slate of candidates for 1951 offices in the G-E World War Veterans Association was disclosed this week by Howard Orr, chairman of the nominating committee. Election of officers will be held at the annual spring banquet at 6:30 p.m. Saturday, April 7, at the Chamber of Commerce.

Nominees are as follows:

President
Ed Martin, Bldg. 17-1
Al Bobay, Taylor St.

Vice President
Harold Eley, Winter St.
Al Adams, Bldg. 27

Secretary
James Pritchard, Winter St.
Fred Rathert, Winter St.

Treasurer
Ralph Sehroeder, Bldg. 28-2
Ray Wiese, Bldg. 31-1

(Continued on page 4)

DMM President

Grover F. Rhodes To Pilot Decimal Minute Men Here

Grover F. Rhodes was elected president of the Decimal Minute Men at their regular monthly meeting Monday night in the Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Rhodes is a charter member of the organization and served as treasurer during the first three years of its existenee. He is employed in Specialty Transformer and Ballast Div. 91, Bldg. 26-2.

Other newly-elected officers are: John Laymon, Bldg. 4-6, viee presi-

(Continued on page 4)

Club Hobby Show Dates Changed; Entry Deadline Set April 15

(see entry blank on page 7)

The deadline for entries in the second annual G-E Club Hobby Show is Monday, April 15, Lynn Wingerter, general chairman for the show, reminded Fort Wayne Works employees today. Hours and dates for the display have now been positively set for 1 to 10 p.m. Saturday, and from 1 to 5 p.m. Sunday, April 21-22, Mr. Wingerter disclosed.

Although it was previously announced that the show would be held Thursday and Friday in the evenings and on Saturday afternoon, April 19-21, committee members decided that the new times and dates would permit more second and third shift employees to participate in and view the event, Mr. Wingerter explained.

No Admission Charge

Practically any hobby may be entered in the big show which is free to all employees, present and retired. Last year's 96 exhibits included such displays as electric trains, canaries, oil paintings, hot rods, ceramics, stamps and covers, model engines, antiques, flowers, needlework, cats, photography,

(Continued on page 4)

Decatur's Red Cross Donations Gain 25 Per Cent Over 1950

The Red Cross Drive at the Decatur Plant came to a successful close this week with contributions of over $400, a 25 per cent increase over last year's donations, Personnel sources have revealed. No quota had been set for the plant.

George Laurent, who served as general chairman of the campaign,

(Continued on page 4)

More Than 7,000 G-E People Have Received New Insurance Claims

More than 7,000 employees and dependents received direct benefits from insurance claims payments under the new General Electric Insurance Plan during the first three months it has been in operation, W. W. Trench, secretary of the Company, has announced. The plan was put into effect Dec. 1, 1950.

Mr. Trench said payments for the month of February totaled more than $400,000 for weekly disability and hospital and surgical benefits only. He emphasized that payments for life benefits are in addition to the $400,000 figure. At present, claims are being paid at the rate of nearly 1,200 weekly, he added.

At the Fort Wayne Works, the Visiting Service Section contacts the employee after he has been absent three days. If expense is incurred, a form (or forms if surgery is necessary) is filled out by the

(Continued on page 4)

Personal Report Pension Plan Section Marked "Not Participating" Explained

Employees who were not eligible to join the General Electrie Pension Plan before last Dec. 31 because they had not completed one year of service then, and those who joined the Plan after that date received personal reports recently with the Pension Plan section marked "not participating."

These were reasons given by the Company to questions raised by some employees whose personal reports showed they were not participating in the G-E Pension Plan.

The Company explained that the reports were drawn up on the employee's status in the benefit plans as of Dec. 31, 1950. Any employee

(Continued on page 4)

FORT WAYNE WORKS
NEWS

Volume 34 Friday, March 23, 1951 No. 12

Lou Rotterman ..... Editor
Virginia Molden ..... Assistant Editor
K. Marian Davies ..... Divisional News Coordinator

Look Up—Fear Not

From every corner of the earth, voices utter the language of despair. One man speaks despondently, "What can we do? We are little people. If it comes, it comes."

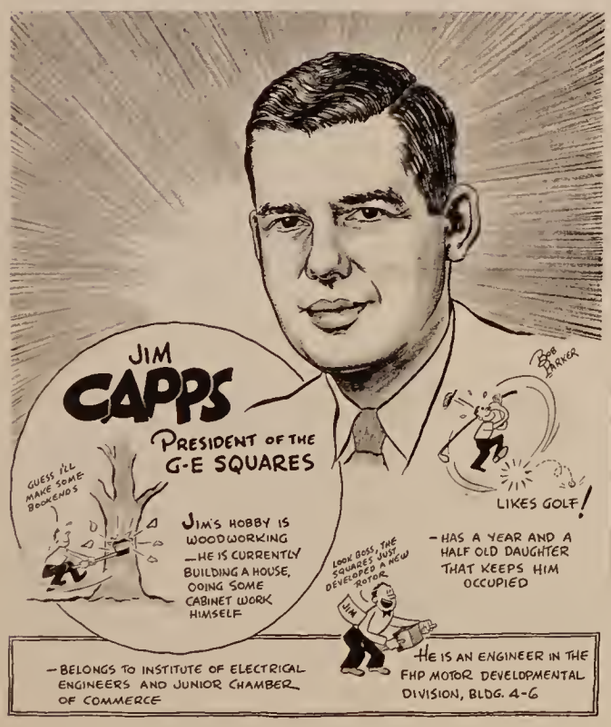
And another little man cries furiously: "We will blow them from the earth. We will rain atomic death from the heavens."

A third man whispers within himself—"I will get my share this time no matter what comes. I shall buy what others need and all will be mine."

And the wailing of the chorus grows louder. "Why should we work and give for an uncertain tomorrow. Today is all" . . . despite the waste. Hanging their heads in the gathering fog of death, they cannot see the ray of Light, and the din of their cries drowns the Voice.

But others, searching and listening in the night, caress the Light with uplifted eyes and grow strong in their hearts as they hear His words:

"Let not your heart be troubled; ye believe in God, believe also in me.



"In my Father's house are many mansions; if it were not so, I would have told you. I go to prepare a place for you.

"And if I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again, and receive you unto myself; that where I am, there ye may be also."

Beating their swords they cannot hear. Seeking the earth they die and are earth.

But they that do not fear lift their eyes and hearts toward the Light and rejoice with the risen Christ.

Meet the President

G-E GI's

The following G-E employees left the Company this week to enter the armed forces:

James E. Duffy, Otis D. Stevens, Gene L. Gilgen, George A. Simmons, Everett L. Tunget, John C. Baker, Carl K. Lunn, Richard J. Rian, James Simmons, Ronnell L. Allen and Edward J. Trabel.

Norman W. Stanek, Harry B. Reed, Donald A. Offord, Donald H. Schelper, Howard E. Ream and Robert Kappel.

Junior R. Smith, John T. McClure, Charles P. McClure, Chester E. Brock, Howard E. Wilkins and Donald G. Sproat.

Decatur

The following employees of the Decatur Plant have left the Company to enter the armed forces. Here are their addresses:

S-Sgt. Glen E. Bates
D & I Section 3rd R. T. Bn.
Marine Corps Base
San Diego 40, Calif.

Pvt. Thomas K. Bayles 16355891
81st Fighter Wing, Medical Group
Larson Air Force Base
Moses Lake, Wash.

Pvt. Paul H. Fallows RA15444330
3rd Armored Div.
Co. A-84th Tnk. Bn. Div. Tns.
Fort Knox, Ky.

Pvt. Donald W. Chronister
AF22965796
163rd Fighter Interceptor Sqdn.
Baer Field
Fort Wayne, Ind.

Cpl. Frank Clear, Jr. 5205794
5015 Med. Det.
U. S. Army Hospital
Camp Atterbury, Ind.

Pvt. Robert H. Krueckeberg
RA16359433
Co. 5-502 Abn. Inf. Regt.
101st Airborne Div.
Camp Breckinridge, Ky.

Sgt. James J. Strickler ER52005729
Hq. & Sv. Co. 892nd Engr. Cons. Bn.
Fort Leonard Wood, Mo.

Pvt. Edsel W. Brown AF15444075
3466th Student Squadron
F. E. Warren A.F.B., Wyo.

Pvt. Leonard D. Fox 55112230
Co. C 167th Inf.
A. P. O. 31
Fort Jackson, S. Carolina

Pvt. Wm. F. Huston
US 55-112-234 6th Armd. Div.
Btry. B 62nd AFA Bn.
Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo.

Pvt. Ralph E. Jackson AF22965755
163rd Fighter Squadron
Baer Field
Fort Wayne, Ind.

Pfc. Gene C. Myers 1104289
G. Co. 3rd Bn. 6th Marines
2nd Marine Div. F.M.F.
Camp LeJeune, N. C.

Pvt. Merle L. Kuhn AF22965752
163rd Ftr. Squadron
Baer Field
Fort Wayne, Ind.

Pfc. Eugene J. Miller, ER52005762
Hq. Det. 5015 A.S.U. Sta. Com.
Camp Atterbury, Ind.

Pfc. Thomas A. Miller 16332214
3514 Field Maintenance Sqd.
Box 348 R.A.F.B.
Randolph Field, Tex.

Pvt. James S. Parent AF22965821
163rd Ftr. Sqd. USAF
Baer Field
Fort Wayne, Ind.

Pvt. Ralph W. Ross 55049280
Med. Co. 169th Inf. Regt.
43rd Inf. Div.
Camp Pickett, Va.

Pvt. Dale A. Schnepf 55049274
169th AAA-B-N-S-P Hdq. Btry.
43rd Inf. Div.
Camp Pickett, Va.

Pvt. Frank H. Conn 55049276
Med. Co. 169th Inf. Regt.
43rd Inf. Div.
Camp Pickett, Va.

Pvt. Donald R. Voglewede
US55112238
6th Armd. Div.
Btry. C. 62nd A.F.A. Bn.
Fort Leonard Wood, Mo.

Ft. Wayne Works

Pvt. Edward J. Trabel US55135308
Co. 14 SCRTC
Camp Gordon, Ga.

Major Harold J. Longsworth
Hdqtrs. Replacement Center
Pier 91
Fort Lawton, Wash.

PFC. Robert Messmer, 22966755
163rd Fighter Squadron
Baer Field
Fort Wayne, Ind.

Sgt. R. M. Meese, ER 35332352
HQ. & HQ. Btry, Div. Arty.
6th Armored Div.
Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo.

Pvt. Kenneth H. Bauer, 55091606
Co. B, 303rd Sig. S.V.C.B.N.
Camp Gordon, Ga.

Henry Wiegmann, UT 2-C
Box G Navy 3835 c/o FPO
San Francisco, Calif.

Pvt. Robert Mock
Co. G 506th Ahn. Inf. Reg.
101st Airborne Div.
Camp Breckinridge, Ky.

George L. Forehand, S. R.
Co. 212, 81st Bat. 8th Regt.
Camp Porter R. T. C. USNTC
Great Lakes, Ill.

Richard Reinking, US55111285
Bat. D. 515th Airborne SA Bn.
Camp Breckinridge, Ky.

SICK LIST

The following people have been reported on the sick list, dismissed from the hospital and returned to work:

Sick List

Alberta Porter, Edgar Kuckuck, Elaine Omo, Ralph Sheldon, June Richardson, Andrew Bordner, Virginia Curtis, T. Dollie Fodge, Jonathan A. Miller, Esther Fox, Hubert F. Grage, Granville E. Heck, David Dulin, Leon Bond, Martha Musselman, Robert Menniwisch, Ora Jean Phillips, Emma Black, Geneva A. Schrock, Florence Clum, Lillian Pradtmiller, Dorothy A. Monroe, Charles Guin, Florence Gamble, Lena Schaper, Russell Kensill, Roscoe Grover, Peter Helmer, Charles R. Poole, Donald Ertel, Clara Nikelson, Herman Curry, Earnest Cutter, Edward Kratzes, Margaret Monnot, Tena Dondera, Bertha Bertsch, Richard Bolenbaugh, Trulie Nelson, Richard J. Hanson, Marjorie Ann Goodrich, Verena Hullinger, Paul Billue, Clifford Saylor, Francis Roloff, Esley Rooks, Betty J. Wagner, Kenneth Smith, Elma Wise, Helen Shuler, Dean Smith, Mary Wright, Adolph Strasser, Henry Ritter, Wayne D. Abbott, Donald Brown, Jesse Chadwick, Jack E. Crabill, Clyde J. Carey, Mabel Drummond, Hilmer H. Drayer, Phyllis Fisher, Richard S. Furthmiller, Flossie Greek, Helen Howbridge, Leland Hastings, John C. Krauter, Dorman Kirke, Orville Koble, Ruth Leimenstoll, Evan Morris, Irene Mohler, Fred Majors, Jessie Moser, Frank Mains, Fay Oldham, Agnes Robinson, Charles L. Robertson, Angela Speith and Alta Stanley.

Returned To Work

Frank McMasters, Eugenia Gooding, Edward Schoter, Clara Wisel, Samuel Hanes, Frieda Flaugh, Morton G. Pugh, Velora Drury, Mary Kibiloski, Arnold Horstmeyer, Walter Wolf, Jr., Edward Ryan, Margaret Gerardot, Edmund Kaliker, Betty Askren, Vera Neate and Oscar Risser.

OUT OUR WAY

By J. R. WILLIAMS

A. W. Thompson Named 2nd Shift Welding Foreman in Large M-G

Arthur W. Thompson has been named Foreman of Welding on the second shift for Large Motor and Generator Divisions, R. M. Hartigan, Manager of Manufacturing, has disclosed.

new foreman . . .

Mr. Thompson began his career with G-E in August, 1929, as an assembler in Bldg. 27. He subsequently worked on various welding and layout assignments in Bldgs. 17-2, 4-2, 20-1, 27 and 22. In 1942, he was transferred to the Kokomo Plant.

He was appointed foreman of welding at Kokomo in 1948. He returned to Fort Wayne in 1949 and has served on welding assignments until his present appointment.

Mr. Thompson is married and has two sons. They reside on R. R. 2, Leo Road.

500 G-E Ladies Can Take Bermuda Trip This Summer

Nearly 500 G-E women are slated to be on board when the giant Pan-American Airliners wing their way from LaGuardia Airfield, New York, to Bermuda during vacation shutdown. The Elex-sponsored Interclub trip will include four days and three nights on the Atlantic island.

The trip is available to G-E women at special rates—$159 from New York to Bermuda, meals, lodging and side trips included. A specially prepared folder on the trip has been distributed to Elex members. The price includes the three-hour plane trip out and back aboard 57-passenger Clippers, plus meals and room in the most luxurious hotels on the Island, the Elbow Beach Surf Club, the Princess Hotel or the Castle Harbor Hotel.

Excursions will be made to Harrington Sound, stopping at the Government Aquarium, Crystal Cave, Leamington Cave, and the Devil's Hole.

Those planning to make the trip may contact the Women's Activities Offices at Broadway or Taylor St. for further information. A registration fee of $9 should be paid as soon as possible, so as to be sure to be included within the 500-passenger limit.

Payments Arranged

An installment plan, calling for $30 to be paid the first of each month until the trip, may be arranged, or other payment plans to suit the individual are also available.

Members of all G-E women's clubs are invited to participate in the excursion. Planes will leave daily beginning Monday, July 30, to Thursday, Aug. 2.

A pessimist is a fellow who buys two lifetime pens.

Women Squares Plan Book Review, Style Show Tues., Mar. 27

A style show and book review will be featured by the Women's Division of the G-E Squares at 8:15 p.m. Tuesday, March 27, in the Squares Hall, Mrs. Ivan D. Rinehart, chairman, reported today.

Clothes for the style show will be furnished by the House of Golden. The following members of the Women's Division will act as models: Mrs. Jay Greer, Mrs. Arthur Rowe, Mrs. F. D. Olney, Mrs. Don Reek, Mrs. Robert Drake, Mrs. Claude Voss, Mrs. R. J. Kilian, Mrs. G. E. Jamieson and Mrs. Ted Ross.

Mrs. Robert Rowe will give the book review.

Each member of the group is invited to bring one guest to the meeting at no extra charge, Mrs. Rinehart said.

Members of the committee who will assist the chairman are: Mrs. R. A. Gallmeier, Mrs. M. E. Hamilton, Mrs. L. N. Nelson, Mrs. E. W. Auman, Mrs. W. K. Gregg, Mrs. D. A. Doherty and Mrs. Robert Bender.

Vending Machines To Replace Candy Wagons... Maybe

Plans for the installation of vending machines in Buildings 4 and 6 on a trial basis were revealed this week by G-E Club President R. W. Kent. Because of the shortage of equipment, these will be the only locations served by machines at this time.

The modern vending equipment will be installed within the next six weeks, Mr. Kent said. Equipment will include a Coca-Cola Cup machine, ice cream, candy, gum and cigarette machines.

If the initial installation is successful, the G-E Club president explained, a long range program of entire coverage for the plants will be put into operation as equipment becomes available.

Revenue Needed

For the past few years, G-E Club management has been concerned with the rising cost of merchandise and distribution, and its effect on the Club's income. Recently, budgets of the various committees have been cut to the point where the Board feels that steps must be taken to increase G-E Club revenue. Although 24 years old, there has been no previous attempt to modernize the method of merchandise distribution.

"After considerable study," Mr. Kent said, "the Board has reached the decision that replacing candy wagons with vending machines may be the answer."

It is hoped that trial installations in Buildings 4 and 6, where there is a concentrated area of employees, will determine the effectiveness of the vending machine program, he added.

"We know that we will encounter many problems in this changeover," Mr. Kent commented, "but with everyone's cooperation we sincerely feel that we will be able to show that vending machines installed throughout the entire Fort Wayne Works will return to our Club enough money to increase the activities for the members' benefit."

Present plans for further installations, although tentative at this time, propose that the East Side of Broadway will be covered first, followed by the West Side of Broadway and Taylor St.

A shady business never yields a sunny life.

Paul F. Lenz Appointed Buyer In Works Service Purchasing

Paul F. Lenz has been appointed Buyer in the Works Service and Contributing Divisions Purchasing Section, according to an announcement by G. Doyal White, Purchasing Agent. The appointment became effective earlier this year.

Mr. Lenz has been employed by the General Electric Company since March, 1935, in the Payroll Section, Bldg. 18-2. In 1938, he joined the staff of the Purchasing Divisions, Bldg. 18-4.

In June, 1942, Mr. Lenz transferred to the Purchasing Section at Taylor St., where he remained until late in 1945, when he returned to Bldg. 18.

He is a member of the Fort Wayne Purchasing Agents Association. He is married and has one son. The family resides on Old Auburn Road.

. . . appointed buyer

Col. C. Lichtenberg Elected President Of Engineering Group

Col. Chester Lichtenberg, retired G-E engineer, has been elected vice-president of the Central Area, Indiana Society of the National Society of Professional Engineers.

Col. Lichtenberg is currently Civil Defense Director for Fort Wayne and Allen County, vice-president of the Indiana Engineering Council, and chairman of the Young Engineers Committee of the National Society of Professional Engineers.

Lamp Sales Dept. Man To Address YWCA Club

Cliston Hyland, of the General Electric Lamp Department Sales Office, will speak to the YWCA Co-ed Camera Club Thursday, March 29, in the YWCA.

Mr. Hyland will talk on "Simplicity of Photographic Lighting." A sound film will accompany his address.

Bill Balderstone, publicity chairman, has announced that guests are welcome to attend the meeting.

Square Dances Slated At Club This Spring

Two Saturday night square dances have been scheduled by the G-E Club entertainment committee, Publicity Chairman Earl Stauffer disclosed today. Dances will be held Saturdays, April 7 and May 5, in the G-E Club Gym.

John Wright will be featured as caller. All G-E Club members and their friends are invited.

BERMUDA BOUND BETTYS—Shown (l-r) are Betty Garber, Taylor St., Betty Spittler, Bldg. 26-2, and Betty Carper, Taylor St., who have reserved space on the Pan-American Clippers slated to fly G-E women to Bermuda during vacation shutdown. The three Bettys are pictured locating their holiday island on the map.

Employees' Stores to Close For Inventory March 28-30

The Employees' Stores will be closed for inventory Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, March 28, 29 and 30. It will open again Monday, April 2, Ray L. Fischbach, store supervisor, has announced.

Squares' Musicale

(Continued from page 1)

wives). During the course of the show, love runs rampant, a horse is ridden across the stage, and the entire cast joins in a spectacular square dance, Mr. Johnson said.

Music will include many old favorite western tunes as well as several original numbers.

The committee assisting Mr. Johnson is as follows: Music, Glenn Seabold, Bldg. 28-2; tickets, Don Reek, Bldg. 4-6; script, Dick Thomas, Bldg. 4-6; stage, Marion Halleck, Bldg. 28-2; and publicity, J. P. Coughlin, Bldg. 26-2.

Rehearsals have started and Mr. Johnson predicted that the show will be the biggest and best Squares' extravaganza ever staged by the organization.

Free Tickets Offered

Entries for the "Name the Show" contest, open to all G-E employees, must be submitted by Monday, March 26. Names should reflect the setting and nature of the production, Squares sourees said. Winners, whose names will be announced in the WORKS NEWS April 6, will be awarded two tickets to the performance of their choice.

The Squares' barn dance, slated for Saturday evening, has been postponed indefinitely, Glenn Seabold, publicity chairman, has announced.

Decatur Red Cross

(Continued from page 1)

expressed his gratitude to all who contributed to the success of the drive.

"Solicitors particularly deserve our thanks," Mr. Laurent said. "Soliciting for any cause is a tough job and an assignment that most of us like to shy away from. I know that I am expressing the feeling of all Decatur employees when I again say, 'Thanks for a job well done'."

Solicitors in the Decatur drive included Paul Stahly, Bob Mills, Hugh Holthouse, Ken Beard, Bernard Rabbit, Therman Charleston, Merrill Weaver, Ed May, "Whitey" Brokaw, Ina Noack, Johnny Schieferstein, Mary Jo Wolpert, Doris Durr, Marjorie Shook, Agnes Andrews, Ed Meyer, Dick Schnitz, Berniee Weisz, Gordon Railing and Dorothy Schumm.

Hobby Show

(Continued from page 1)

power tools and sports, Mr. Wingerter said. Already entries in archery, leather tooling and a large variety of other hobbies have been entered in this year's show.

Pensioners are especially urged to show their old friends some of their interesting retirement pursuits, Mr. Wingerter said.

The G-E Club carries full insurance on all displays for the protection of exhibitors.

EASTER GREETINGS: May your hearts be filled with the joy and gladness of the season. We hope that your smile will be the only umbrella you will need. If the early part of this week was any indication of the weather to be, we will need a snow plow to have the Easter Parade. . . . IMAGINE IT: There was a line omitted last week (I must have been tired). I didn't really mean to tell you that H. D. Kammeyer was ill. It is his brother in California. We hope that Herb has received encouraging word by this time. . . . HAPPY BIRTHDAY: Last Monday, Ruth Fritz added one more year to her few. Phyllis Rudolph, Dorothy Leinninger and Julia Carle entertained with a birthday luncheon for her. . . . CHANGES: Richard Sebold, a trainee on the Manufacturing Training Course, was transferred to the Motor Generator Division for his next assignment. He was replaced in Mr. Wylie's office by Richard (Dick) White. Clifford Beiber was transferred from the Apprentice School to replace Dick in Bldg. 18-2. . . . SUNSHINE: The brightness the first of the week was not a reflection from the beautiful (?) snow as you may have thought. It was from Ray J. Hoffman's smile. His son Artie, also a G-E employee, held the lucky number for the Ford that was given away at the Piston game. Ray thinks it will be wonderful for those two grandchildren to have a ride now and then. . . . SUNRISE SERVICE: The Elex sunrise service, we are told, was beautiful. Aside from the large chorus assembled to sing for the service, the attendance was splendid. The girls were sorry the weatherman could not cooperate a little better, but were pleased with the crowd. . . . The Elex girls changed the General Electric product from electrical apparatus to colored eggs Thursday. They sold 'em by the hundreds. Everyone knew the cause was right and was willing to help.

Insurance Claims

(Continued from page 1)

employee and physician and sent to the Personnel Division where it is processed and sent to the proper payroll unit before being forwarded to the insurance company.

98.3 per cent participation

Employee participation in the G-E Insuranee Plan is now 98.3 per cent, according to the latest tabulation of enrollment figures.

DMM President

(Continued from page 1)

dent; Edson Dickie, Bldg. 26-4, treasurer, and Carrol Arnold, Bldg. 18-3, secretary. Elected to the steering committee were Neal Hench, Bldg. 18-3, for a one-year term; Eugene Foster, Taylor St., for a two-year term, and G. E. Hicks, Taylor St., for a three-year term. Harold Reinking, Taylor St., was elected to the sick and welfare committee.

Installation of officers will be held at the April dinner meeting. Retiring officers served as the nominating committee.

Apprentice

BROADCAST

By E. A. Rasor

Indiana High School basketball is all over and an unexpected team from Muncie was vietorious. It seemed like a sure winner for Jim Hoppel and Bill Smith. They teamed their pool to split fifty-fifty with Indianapolis and Lafayette. Jim Duff, who also ran, and was just one of the four, seemed to be the collector. Then for total points, guessing a 357, was Bob "Lueky" Calkins, who always seems to have his hand in the eollector's pocket. . . . This week it was NBA basketball as the Pistons played at Rochester Tuesday. You ean always tell when Mareh rolls around. The championship basketball games are at high speed. . . . We welcome Oliver Brueck to the Apprentiee School. . . . Good luck to Paul Wuttke and his bride-to-be. They are to be married tomorrow afternoon. . . . You would never know that spring is here. Children have their sleds out and everyone is cleaning their sidewalks. The only hope of spring has been a bird here and there. As for Easter, the new suits will be wool and the shoes will be covered with rubbers. I guess everything will be like last year. As we recall, the weather on Easter was snow and ice. . . . We reeeived a letter from Norm Stanek last week. He tells us he is enjoying the Navy. So far he hasn't reported seeing Gebert. With week-end passes, there are a lot of places to go in San Diego. . . . Imagine Paul Mischo sneaking in early in the morning to put his pin-up girl on the bulletin board. She is none other than Yolande Betbeze, "Miss America." Of course, some of the other fellows were jealous. . . . Maybe some of the older fellows .nd graduates who read this column would like to hear that Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Braun had a baby boy horn the first week of March. . . . Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Clendenen upon the arrival of a 6 lb. 3 oz. baby boy.

A sense of humor is what makes you laugh at something which would make you mad if it happened to you.

Pension Report Explained

(Continued from page 1)

on that date who had not completed one year with G-E, which is necessary to be eligible to join the Pension Plan, had that section of his report marked "not participating." Also any employee who may have joined the Plan after the report calculation date of Dec. 31 had his report similarly marked.

The Company said that those employees who joined after Dec. 31 and who would like to have their retirement income estimated, may do so by contacting their supervisors who will arrange to have it estimated on the basis explained in the personal report.

Those who have not yet completed one year of service, but would like to have their retirement income estimated from the time they may join the Plan, also ean do so through their supervisors, Personnel sources have disclosed.

DEAR MOM

Dear Mom—
The weather here is cold and damp
Your package arrived but was missing a stamp
And your cake made a hit with the boys in camp
OH! how they loved it!

And Mom—
The food is ok, don't worry your head
I sleep pretty well, but could use my own bed
And oh, how I wish they'd make this army co-ed
Still I like it!

If you should run into a certain you know who—
Please do this for me
Give her a kiss for me,
Tell her to write me nightly.

Dear Mom—
That's all for tonight, the bugle just blew
Tomorrow's a big day, in Korea, with plenty to do

I like it here Mom but—
I'm kinda homesick for you
For I Love You—Dear Mom.

Roddy Rodemaker went all the way to Houghton Lake, Mich., last week-end. He heard they serve wonderful warm meals to the fishermen out on the lake. . . . Ivan Ford is quite upset as to the recent play of the Zollner Pistons. Ivan has it figured one way and Cecil Onion another. In the heat of the argument between the two, Ivan simply walked away with a very red complexion, saying to himself, "I ean't see it." . . . SUGGESTION OF THE WEEK: Mary Ann Gressley should spend some of her basketball luck on instruetions at Foster Park. Where in Foster Park? At the riding aeademy, of course. The first day, Mary might do nothing but practiee the art of getting on and off the horse. . . . Clarenee Didier and Voyee Brumbaugh thank everyone who gave so generously to the Red Cross drive.

Vets' Nominees

(Continued from page 1)

Sergeant-at-Arms

Clayton Schultz, Bldg. 4-B

Reservation deadline for tickets is Friday, March 30. Walt Lamboley, publicity ehairman, reminded veterans that no tickets will be available at the door. All G-E veterans of both World Wars are eligible to attend the banquet. Tiekets eost two dollars.

. . . Mildred Hoover has developed the art of decorating magazine pietures with the faees of those in our section. Her partner, Margaret McCaffrey, does people's heels. They are both doing a wonderful job. Don't you say so, Eldridge Gillum, since you've been a victim of both? . . . The latest place Ray Smith's picture has appeared is in the Journal-Gazette last week—three different poses. . . . Sewing lettuce on St. Patrick's Day has been a tradition for hundreds of years. Since the weather was so bad, Voyce Brumbaugh did the reverse. Monday morning, she eollected plenty of it, which was Hoosier Hoopola in small but mighty packages. . . . The meanest thing Mother Nature could pull on a guy was done to Cecil Onion last week-end. He had tickets for the State Tournament, then became ill and could not go. . . . SPEAKING OF GOING: If you haven't anything new to show off this Easter Sunday, go to church anyhow.

Lettuce Collector

"SO LONG AND HAPPY RETIREMENT"—says Earl Ramey to Martin Didion (left) as the latter puts on his hat and coat before leaving General Electric. Mr. Didion began his G-E employment in 1925 as a helper. He then operated a drill press in Bldg. 4-1. Since 1947, he has heen a spray operator in FHP Motor Div. 14 at the Taylor St. Plant.

G-E SQUARES REVUE TITLE CONTEST

Return to J. C. Hamilton, Bldg. 26-2

Here is my suggestion for the title of the third annual G-E Squares Revue:

_____

Name _____

Bldg. _____

Deadline for entries is Monday, March 26.

KNOTS TO YOU! . . . Joe Gardt must be a frustrated Boy Scout. He is always tying knots and showing rope trieks. . . . NEW FACE: We bid goodbye to Mildred Heinkel and roll out the welcome mat for Jean Riedel. Mildred is a new addition to the Service Bureau. . . . HIDDEN TALENT: Dwight Willits makes an excellent chairman. He was fixing Jean Riedel's ehair the other morning. . . . VISITOR: Marcellus Junk, from the manufacturing training program, was visiting us for a few days last week. . . . WHOA, DOBBIN: Elmer Sherbondy's iron buggy wants to go home after it brings him to work. He had to go out and put it back in the stall one morning. . . . CONGRATS: Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Ed Whipple, who are the proud parents of a brand new baby daughter, born at 9:30 a.m. Monday at the Lutheran hospital, weight approximately 7 lbs. She is so new that they still have not definitely deeided on a name. We'll let you know later. . . . GLAD TO HAVE YOU BACK: Isn't it niee to have Bob Huffman baek with us again—after his spending approximately three months at the River Works. You should see the sign River Works presented Bob when he left. They were so happy to be able to use their telephone again. He kept the lines burning between the River Works and the Fort Wayne Works. . . . BYE, BYE: Goodbye to Natalie Kalb, who has left us to join her husband in Syracuse, New York. We hope you will like the East, Natalie, and we all will think of you often and wish you the best of luck. . . . WELCOME: We would like to welcome Shirley Doster. We hope you will enjoy working with us. We have to "grow on you" gradually, and no doubt you are bewildered by the many new faces to become acquainted with. . . . BACK SOON: Adolph Strasser, we hope you are feeling much better and that you will be back with us soon. Take the adviee of your doctor and we know you'll be O. K. . . . HAPPY BIRTHDAY: We wish Mary Smoak, of the Engineering File Room, a very happy birthday. . . . SORRY, WRONG NUMBER: . . . Speaking of Mary, she has quite a time with all her phone conneetions. She was dialing on 762 to get Lela's number, whieh is 785. Instead she was dialing 784, which is her phone number. Whenever she would answer 784, there was no one on the other end of the line. This kept up about three times, when she finally realized she was dialing her own number.

REALLY STACKED—A new 36-inch transite ventilation stack was put up on Bldg. 26 last week to help carry away fumes from the plating room. These stacks are unique because they are made of cement and asbestos which makes them immune to acid, General Service authorities said.

"READY FOR A CHANGE"

I've kept my secret long enough,
It's time the world should know.
I'm sick and tired of winter
With its ice and sleet and snow.

I've sprinkled salt and hacked the ice
I've pushed my neighbor's car
I've waited on the bus so much
My disposition's sour.

I've shoveled snow so many times
With my short handled scoop,
That now I find it difficult
To walk without a stoop.

This stoop, my wife informs me
Will serve as quite an aid,
When spring arrives, my hack will be
Already bent to spade.

I'll just he stooped enough, she says
To hoe and push the mower,
And when she's through with cleaning house
I'll even he stooped lower.

I had the stoop, I had the squint
But one thing I forgot.
In spite of this, I got so fat
That now it's hard to squat.

To fix the squint, I'll go down town
And simply change my glasses
And for the stoop and squat, I'll take
Some snlfur and molasses.

I'm sure when spring arrives, I'll be
As fit as any fiddle.
My weight will he redueed, I hope,
Especially through the middle.

Of course, when winter comes again
T'will he the same old story
But if it's any worse than this,
I'm going South by-gory.

—W. L. Whonsetler

Notes— From Transformer Drafting

By Melba Jackson

NEW DISEASE: Elaine suffered from a ease of mud-pox last Tuesday during the rain storm at noon. This disease is a very easy one to cure, just apply a good dose of soap and water and the pox disappear. . . . OVERHEARD BY A DRAFTSMAN: This discussion on politics went something like this: Paul: "I never thought I'd hear Hank admit the Democrats were wrong." Henry: "At least when a Demoerat is wrong, he'll admit it. That's more than I can say for a Republican." Paul: "That's because the Republicans are never wrong." Henry: "That's because they never have a chance to be wrong." . . . Some of the draftsmen seem to think that Dora is a hard person to please. . . . Here's hoping Tony had a happy birthday last week. . . . We regret to say that Mildred Fettinger is still confined to her bed in Huntington. She doesn't know, as yet, when she will be able to join us, but she is feeling a little better. We certainly wish her a speedy recovery. And we hope to see your smiling face soon. . . . Why did you take such good care of your left arm last Monday, Bob? Could it he that the National Guard thought your arm was a pin cushion? . . . LUCKY WEEK-END: Les Hahn and his bowling teammates plaeed in the money at Toledo with 2900. He also won in the singles with 633. . . . Sinee this is Good Friday and Easter will soon be here, we would like to sign off this week with a serious thought in mind.

Jesus, tender Savior
Thou has died for me;
Make me very thankful
In my heart to Thee.

When the sad, sad story
Of Thy grief I read,
Make me very sorry
For my sins, indeed.

Now, I know Thou livest
And dost plead for me;
Make me very thankful
In my prayers to Thee.

Soon I hope in glory
At Thy side to stand;
Make me fit to meet Thee
In that happy land.

Count Off 10 20 30

TAYLOR ST. DIV. 17

By Margaret Stahl

Gladys Pantazin was playing Easter Bunny Monday morning gathering up eggs. . . . We extend our deepest sympathy to Kenneth Bainbridge on the death of his father. . . . Oral Emerick spent the week-end in South Bend. We wonder why he didn't drive the Chrysler. . . . Alice George wishes they would make rubber kitehen sinks. . . . Ed Bandt puts his clock eard in the box on Tuesday night now. That's one way of cutting down on taxes. . . . Guy Johnson is driving a new Pontiac Catalina. . . . Several girls from Group 54 reeeived eards from Betty Socci, who is spending some time with her GI husband. She reports she is enjoying her vacation very much. . . . The girls in the "Kindergarten" welcome Fern Smith. . . . The square dance bug is really getting around. Ross Strodel and his wife are really getting on the beam. . . . Hedy Klejnot has a new sewing machine. We may all be over to see you to get our mending done, Hedy. . . . Everybody is curious about that bet Florence Minnich had on the new Easter hat she was modeling last Friday. It was a beautiful shade for St. Patrick's day. . . . Bob Smith is wanting tame rabbits and laying hens for the new farm he just purchased. . . . Red Yant would like a permanent chair by the television set at Fire Station No. 6. . . . Edward Hamilton was notified that his son Samuel Hamilton, who received his basic training at Ft. Riley, Kansas, was wounded in Korea Feb. 16. In a recent letter, he states that he has a broken leg and will be able to walk in about two months. He attended Central High School and boxed in the Golden Gloves in 1948. . . . We all thought Fred House was a grown boy, but he had the measles last week. Be careful, Fred, we hear there is whooping cough around. . . . Mr. and Mrs. Paul LeCoque attended the wedding of Lyle Call and Mary Potts at Waterloo last Saturday. Mr. Call is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William LeCoque.

Inquiring Reporter:

"WHAT IMPROVEMENTS WOULD YOU LIKE TO SEE MADE IN THE G-E CLUB?"

R. J. DURAS

Taylor St.

"I would like to see a plan inaugurated which would designate one week each year as "G-E Club Week" for the purpose of encouraging more employees to become active Club members. Greater employee participation will bring about the only improvement necessary to the G-E Club."

JIM STERNBERGER

Bldg. 27

"It would be difficult to suggest any improvements after receiving numerous benefits and pleasures the past ten years. However, I believe the re-covering of the pool tables would be a definite improvement."

FRANK WOENKER

Bldg. 19-5

"The G-E Club serves both employees and their families very well in providing recreation and entertainment for them, but I would like to see G-E represented by athletic teams in local and tri-state competition. Under the joint sponsorship of the G-E Club and the Company, these teams would provide entertainment and advertisement for the Club, Company and community."

MARY M. HIRSCHMANN

Bldg. 26-3

"I think the G-E Club is a nice place for G-E employees to enjoy different sports. I enjoy bowling there from 3:30 to 6 p.m., but I would enjoy it more if they sold sandwiches. Another bowler and I also thought it would increase interest if each league champion were given a sweater instead of having the roll-off for them between league winners."

PATRICIA MARLER

Bldg. 17-3

"Everyone doesn't own his own bowling shoes and the ones that the Club have for rent are about worn out. They could also use a few more bowling balls for women."

No, folks, that wasn't a woodpecker you heard. It was Jim Staley gently hitting his watch trying to start it going again. Jim has asked that we put this ad in the News: Wanted—A wrist watch guaranteed to keep accurate time regardless of the abusive treatment given to it. See Jim Staley if you have such an item. . . . Birthday greetings to Erna Weiland. . . . Alma Fruchte enjoyed shopping in Fort Wayne recently. How about modeling your Easter bonnet, Alma? . . . Ambrose Gase, George Anspaugh, Ken Nyffelder and Charles Morgan entered our local hospital for surgery. We wish them a speedy recovery. . . . Bob Owens visited in Indianapolis Saturday and Sunday. . . . The excess baggage that Dick Schnitz is carrying about is nothing but a bruised thumb that took the blunt of a terrific blow. . . . Loren Gerber leaves today for Norfolk, Va., to join a Naval Reserve Unit for a two weeks' cruise to southern points. . . . Evelyn Pasterer was so thrilled over her 200 bowling game. . . . Easter Sunday will bring forth one of the most spectacular social events of the season when Rachel Gerber will be united in marriage with William Biehold at the Reformed Church in Magley. This wedding is not private and all those that care to attend the wedding will be welcome. Bernice Weisz will be matron of honor and Norma Poorman and Nelvalene Biehold will be the bridesmaids. All of Rachel's friends wish her and her beloved the best wishes of the year and hope they have a wonderful matrimonial bliss. . . . Jake Hodle is the boy who takes the cake. Some of Jake's friends went West, and Jake asked for a souvenir from the Far West. The other day Jake got his prize, a buffalo cake. . . . Junior Smith, formerly of the third shift, is now employed at the Fort Wayne Works. . . . Hey, I saw Joan Oliver Workinger the other evening over at Ed and Pat's and I'll say she looks fine. Jo has been absent for several weeks due to illness. . . . Bert Strieler and her mother were in Birmingham, Ala., last week attending the funeral of their uncle and brother. . . . I wish everyone a very happy Easter and hope that the bunny brings you a lot of eggs, and I don't mean "Harvey" either. . . . By the way, Dale Cowan must be hungry because he makes sure he ean eat coming to work and going home. A few weeks ago Dale took home a second shifter's lunch bucket. This week Dale made the same mistake. Billy Meyers was the victim again. We believe that if Bill would cover his bucket with an insurance ad this mistake won't happen again.

If anyone has been having more car trouble than Bob Born, we would like to know who it is. . . . What's this about Becky Fogwell and Mabel Moser playing "andy-over." . . . We welcome Helen LaRue back on second shift. . . . Mary Stewart and husband went to Chicago to visit a new nephew and his parents. . . . Mary Rose is back from California and reports a wonderful time. . . . Agnes Neidiffer is back to work after being off ill for six months. It seems as though Agnes was on the list of people who were leaving for the service. Agnes says she didn't know she was a WAC. . . . We wish Blanche Mulligan, Braunie, May Boyce and Press Chaney a very happy birthday. . . . We wish to congratulate Russell Deveny on his new job. . . . We understand that the only thing wrong with Darold Emrick's ear radio was two little wires. . . . If you think it's expensive to build a new house, ask Walter Koehlinger. He was injured and off work three weeks. . . . The fellows are just hoping that Ernie Palmer has all the money he's going to need to pay off his bets. . . . Rachel Millikan has company from Iowa. Rachel and her husband are going to take them back to Iowa over Easter week-end. . . . Belated congratulations to Dorothy Hart, who celebrated her 30th wedding anniversary. . . . Herman Palmer is leaving us to go on a new job. We wish you the best of luck. . . . We are glad to see Alma Raymer back to work. She has been on the sick list.

BEGINS 36TH YEAR AT G-E—Edward O. David, Bldg. 6-1, (right) is shown being congratulated by G. F. Bond upon the completion of 35 years with the Company. Mr. David began his 36th year of service here Tuesday, March 6.

THE BIG Wind

TAYLOR ST. DIV. 17

by Rachel Mounsey

Howard McVay says, "It's really something for the books when Maggie Moore is late for work." . . . We are sorry to see Moe Satterthwaite go to Broadway. We wish you all the luck in the world on your new job. . . . Congratulations to the Bill Jones' on a nine pound boy named Miehael. We'd say he is almost as big as his father. . . . Johnny (You All) Mangan was sure hepped up about the basketball finals. Too bad, Johnny. . . . Arveda Neal enjoys sitting on Wilma Williams' lap, but she never knows just where she will land. Was the floor hard, Arveda? . . . We are wondering if Bernice Gephart needs a new alarm clock. Surely the sun will wake her up one of these mornings. . . . We hear Ernie Raypole had one of Jim Linn's lost week-ends, but Ernie uses the excuse he was husking corn. . . . We extend our deepest sympathy to Ethel Koontz on the death of her father. . . . Harold Mosshammer is pretty happy after winning two dollars from Rachel Mounsey. He was not nearly as happy as that lucky person, Maggie Moore. . . . Otto Helmrick needed a bucket to eatch all those tears Monday morning. He traded that Muncie ticket for another. . . . Esther Schladenhauffen wore a new green blouse to celebrate St. Patrick's day. . . . Vi Minnich has worn her hair parted in the middle for weeks. Today Dick Pion suddenly noticed it.

6-4 AIRLINERS

By Joan Lindeman

Luella McQueen is the proud owner of a new TV set. Are you going to sell ringside seats, Luella? . . . Wonder if Jackie will step on anymore "strings" she sees on the sidewalk. . . . We were sorry to learn that Helen Shuler is in the hospital. . . . Marie DeVaux is a grandma. Its a granddaughter, and Marie thinks she's the most perfect baby ever born. . . . Mardo Tobias was worried that his hair would lose its curl during last Tuesday's rain. He forgot his umbrella. . . . Ralph Lee and Pondo Vlasheff claim some bargains aren't what they're cracked up to be. They each bought a pair of trousers on sale and discovered later that the legs were out of proportion. . . . A shower was given for Phyllis Marqueling at Florence Weber's home last Thursday evening. Florence was a bit late. She greeted her guests in a housecoat and slippers. . . . Ray Porter came in all slicked up last Friday. . . . Our deepest sympathy to Lubadell Dowden, whose uncle died, and to Tillie Hautch, whose mother-in-law died. . . . Lillian Kidder bought a new blouse, and everyone knew how much she paid for it. She forgot to remove the price tag. . . . Leonard Brueck left us last Monday for the Apprentice School. We all wish you lots of luck, Leonard. . . . Dick Horn stomps on empty milk cartons and pops bags just to see the girls jump. . . . Birthday wishes to Pat Patterson. . . . Have you seen that flash of color go by? It's Fred Sarasien in one of his snappy shirts. . . . That ball of fire going by is Herby Telberry. . . . Howard Courtney really is the crooner. You can hear him singing anytime of the day. . . . When someone asked Helen Starry why she was so sleepy one day, she said she had been up all night with a sick brother. . . . Anyone wanting to learn how to knit, just join the knitting elass every noon. Esther Fagan is the teaeher. . . . Monna Lee Ford has gone to California to attend her grandfather's funeral. Our deepest sympathy, Monna. . . . Best wishes to Lois Bulter, who is to be married tomorrow. We wish her lots of happiness. . . . Zara Van Skyock has more trouble with her time card. She spends half her time taking it to her foreman. She just can't remember that you have to ring in mornings and out afternoons. . . . Don LeMaster must need some specks. He said he looked through the WORKS NEWS a half dozen times, page by page, and couldn't find our new column. . . . Did you see those socks Willie Drummond wore St. Patrick's Day? He said they're lime green. . . . My apologies to Mel and Willie. I misspelled their last names in last week's NEWS. I'll try to get them right next time.

SHIPPING: Helen Eggeman is the proudest gal in the Shipping Section this week and why not, she's a great aunt. We wonder if that bottle of white liquid the gals found while cleaning out the complete files is milk for that great niece; or was it some secret formula Helen worked out for herself? . . . Heartiest congratulations to Herb Grueb, who's leaving us to take over new duties at Taylor St. Shipping Section. . . . Walter Kammeier is the most ambitious man on second trick, much to the sorrow of all his neighbors. Walter goes to bed with the chickens Sunday night in order to be up at the crack of dawn (which was 3:00 a.m.) . . . Everything happens to Ruth Sorg. She fell getting on the bus and skinned her leg. The next day, she came down with the flu and had to be in bed for two days. Then Saturday, she was trying her best to hear the state basketball tournament while attending her hubby's bowling tournament at Hammond. . . . MAILING: The following is dedicated to the crew cut gang:

It turned red

Here's what we say to the messengers in 6-2
Who have had their hair whacked off, in a cut called
"crew".
A few of them have done us one better
by gar,
And have peroxided their hair, which is going too far!
Jerry Gardner's turned out red, and Johnny Pranger's turned out white,
But it seems Johnny got into the ammonia one night.
Bob Heyn tried out platinum,
And other bleaches, galore,
But none of them worked—so
He's still trying some more.
The crew cut is really the Lazy man's ransom,
It's cool, doesn't need combing,
Although it doesn't make it's Owner handsome!

TRAVEL NEWS: Juanita Baker was in Chicago several days and really had a grand time. Even more recently, Jim Stahl was in Florida for a week, and he came back with a tremendous bronze tan. . . . NEW FAD: Last payday three fellows came back to work after lunch with chartreuse (YES, WE SAID CHARTREUSE) hats. "Flashy" Saylor, however, did them one better by coming to work in chartreuse trousers, white shirt and fuchsia tie. . . . INTELLECTUAL CORNER: Minta Cole, chief mail handler for Bldg. 18, is really getting to be a literary bird! She spends most of her noon hours reading.

Word has been received that Wallace Harrison is taking his Navy training at San Diego, Calif. . . . We wish Rhinehart Benzinger and his team luck this week when they play for the state shuffleboard championship. However, we feel Benny should substitute another game if he is going to celebrate each victory as he did the last one. . . . Herman Gerbert seems to be a middle man in the egg business. Johnny Hughes feels he is being overcharged at 45 cents a dozen. . . . The West End boys don't want the office force to worry about the Boom, Boom. Everything is under control. . . . It looks as if steel helmets will be the order of the day for press operators soon. . . . Orliss Royer and Joe Krider not only work for Jim Stauffer, they also have him to teach them how to drive a new Ford with overdrive. . . . Note to Mrs. Marshall: Please don't take so long to decide whether Roscoe can go to the ball game or not. Nick Pennick can't hold the tickets for him forever. . . . Johnny Hughes and Ray Farrell had quite a debate over the rate on a certain job. Johnny insisted it was two hours a thousand, while Ray said it was 500 an hour. . . . Wimpy Guldice got a new Packard last week.

Last Monday morning, Frank Elder was wishing everyone a "Merry Christmas." We wonder why. . . . Just about the time spring gets a good start, you'll be in for a treat if you drive past Leroy Cook's house. He will have the show place of Spatz Ave. For further information, see Cookie. . . . Congratulations to the Art Swains. They have a new boy at their house. Art says there has been lots of excitement latcly. About three weeks ago, his little girl fell asleep behind the refrigerator. She gave her Ma and Pa quite a scare because it was several hours before they found her. . . . It just didn't seem like St. Patrick's Day this year. Since it came on Saturday, Pat Christle didn't get to wear his BRIGHT green tie to work. . . . Happiest people in the world are less forgetting and more forgiving. . . . If you ask Phillip Burney to lift 500 or 600 pounds, he will tell you it's impossible. He did that very thing. He saw Jerry Stanger with his legs accidentally pinned between two loaded platforms. Phil immediately lifted one platform to relieve the pressure on Jerry's legs. If we were giving medals for heroic deeds, the award would go to Phillip. . . . Here's wishing you all a very "Happy Easter."

"I've got a brother with three feet."

"What do you mean?"

"Well, my mother got a letter from my brother and he said: 'You would hardly know me—I've grown three feet'."

Janice: "What did you get in your stocking for Christmas?"

Janet: "Nothing but a runner."

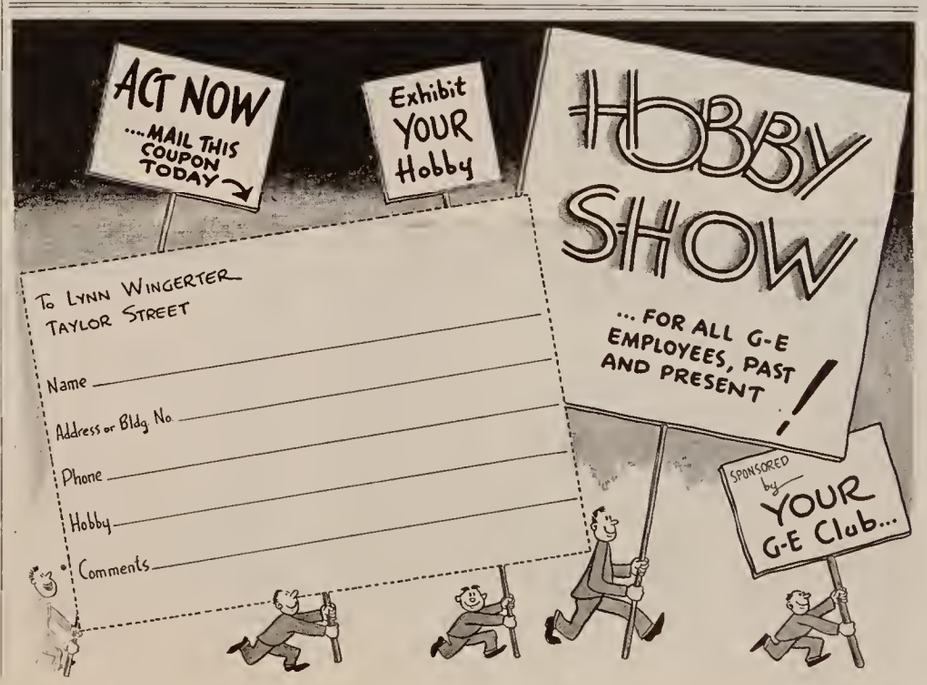
Janice: "Well, what did you expect—a pole vaulter?"

TUNES IN GIFT RADIO—William H. Skevington, former FHP Div. 14 General Foreman, was honored at a retirement party March 3 at the Squares Hall. About 85 employees, friends and guests attended the affair at which Mr. Skevington received a radio-phonograph combination, an autographed book and a scrapbook. He retired earlier this year with almost 40 years of service. He first worked as a lathe hand and later as a winder. He then became a foreman and later a general foreman in the Meter Department in 1916. He had been a general foreman in the FHP Motor Divisions since 1926.

At this time our thoughts are turned to Easter. Easter should always be a time when our thoughts are appreciative of the sacrifice that has been made for each of us. Let us rejoice in a Risen Saviour, and each one attend the church of his choice. . . . Maggie Perkins told us her face was really red Friday when she was talking on the phone. She wasn't very good in distinguishing voices. . . . Betty Askren is back to work after a siege of the flu. She treated us to some chocolates. She and Charlie are at home on Webster St. . . . Edna Butler had to part with those new glasses. She had the lenses changed four times. . . . Patsy Auer enjoys gum. If you don't believe us, watch her chewing it. . . . Helen Howbridge is recuperating nicely from her recent operation. Dorothy Johnson, Maggie Perkins, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Sipe and their children, and Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Yoder went to Wolf Lake to visit Helen at the hospital. . . . Mrs. Ruby DePew and her family spent the week-end at Litchfield, Mich., visiting relatives. . . . Mable Drummond has had quite a siege of illness. We hope you can come back soon, Mable. . . . Barbara Nine was absent due to a bad cold. . . . Dorothy Johnson spent Saturday evening with Dona Sipe and her children. Dona is a former employee of Bldg. 17-3. . . . Catherine Stanton is good at guessing. She did well in guessing the basketball score. . . . We congratulate Margaret Gerardot on the bedroom suite she won as first prize in a recent contest. Her idea was original and really clever. . . . Maggie Perkins is collecting match covers. She then pastes them in scrap books. Maggie says she enjoys it a lot and it is a good pastime. . . . Our janitor has been off work several days. Hope to see him back soon.

It seems as though Mr. and Mrs. Louie Watt were recent guests in the P. J. O'Neill home. During the course of the visit, Mrs. O'Neill served coffee and cookies. Louie, having been told to make himself at home, proceeded to dunk his cookies. The next day at breakfast the O'Neill twins had a new trick, they were dunking their food in milk. They thought it great fun but Mrs. O'Neill didn't think much of the idea. Of course, the whole thing was blamed on Louie. When Louie was confronted with this charge, his only excuse was that it was self preservation for his teeth because it was impossible to eat the hard things without dunking. Louie is sure that Perry must have made the cookies especially for him. . . . Jack Faust was certainly a busy fellow last week. Jack's wife and both daughters were ill. That made Jack chief cook, dish washer and nurse. We are happy to report that all are on the way to recovery and Jack has been relieved of all household duties. . . . Things in the city government will certainly be improved if Gene Foster is elected City Councilman. Gene threw his hat in the election ring recently, and we wish him luck at election time.

Sunday being Easter, Lonnie Rockstroh was seen modeling a new bonnet. . . . A belated birthday wish to Nellie Martin she was a year younger last week. . . . We wonder what Lenna Ferguson is building, transformers or hands? . . .What are you doing, Dorothea, trying to boost the price of cotton? Where is your night cap? . . . Several people have heard from Marie Crow, and she likes Tusco very much. . . . Jim Quinn has a new Chevrolet instead of a Ford. Mary Reed, we will let you in on a secret. Charlie Marahrens has a new car. . . . Ronnie Davies has a new Buick. . . . Was it that cold, Vera Hoover, or a way to soften lovely hands, the reason you were wearing gloves at your winding machine? . . . Our two Velmas went from "winders" to "window washers." Thanks, girls, now we can see out. . . . We wish Mary Odom lots of luck and happiness. Since moving to the "Windy City" we miss you, Mary. . . . Was that really Doris Rinehold seen riding in "Lizzie" looking like a ragged peasant girl or some refugee shipped in from a quilt patch? . . . Nancy McCrea gave a birthday dinner. What happened to the beans? . . . Marjorie De Armand and her husband bought a new home in Berne. . . . Mary Cordell has a new Ford. We also found out the name of her "pint size" watch dog is "Nipper." While Mary is working, she puts her alarm clock in with "Nipper." She says it is to keep him company. . . . Rose Klingenberger is going to be a "yell leader" now that her husband is a student in accounting school. . . . The girls on this floor have had plenty of "whistle bait" lately. First Mr. Schumann came in wearing a brilliant tie. Not to be outdone, Mr. Edmunds wore those bright socks. Mr. Schumann thought anyone with a complaint would be so overcome by the green glare that he would forget what he wanted. What Bill Edmunds thought, we will never know. . . . Berdine Shields is practicing so she can be as good as Blanche's doll. . . . Mr. and Mrs. Don Leach bought the Hanna Grill on the corner of Buchanan and Hanna Sts. . . . You can tell spring is coming by the new color shades being worn in the Preliminary Section. Zelma, how can you stand all that color? . . . Mary Williamson was so overcome by those colored sox Bill wore Thursday that she forgot to ring her clock card. . . . We wish Leon Bond a speedy recovery. . . . A PERSONAL NOTE TO ANDY O'DWYER: Don't take it seriously what Lois DeBolt tells you about working. We like to see you here on Mondays too. . . . Otto Fultz has a new pair of glasses. That is the reason you see him admiring himself in the mirror so often. . . . In case you see any buttons lying around, they belong to Joe Prairie. He is proud of his son who is on the National Honor Roll. . . . Anyone who would like some information about the Bermuda trip see Dick Rump. At least Kathryn Bailey and Jimmy Witzengrueter think Dick should know the answers. Kathryn wanted to know how much 60 lbs. of clothes would be and Jim wanted to know how far it was to Bermuda. . . . If anyone is going to Bermuda, would they please bring Clarence Raney some Bermuda onions? . . . We welcome Harvey Leonard. . . . We hope Charlie Adams likes his new job. . . . For some reason Willard Lenz can always tell when someone has been sitting on his chair. . . . Madge Lechleitner hasn't had a good night's sleep since she bought her grandson a puppy. . . . Happy birthday to Pauline Yancey and Ayleen Speice. . . . Welcome to first shift, Jim Wrisk, and would someone please tell him about animals? . . . Allen Gillium and his girl friend went skating. When it came time to go home, the car wouldn't start. Allen tried everything he knew to start it. Then his girl friend turned on the switch, and the car started. . . . It seems Mr. Evans is having a little trouble. He put the milk bottles out on the porch and the money in the refrigerator. . . . Tom and Dee are still trying to figure out what caused "Frenchie," "Whitey" and "Bernie" to have so many aches and pains Thursday.



To Melt Chocolate

You can melt chocolate, without fear of burning, in a saucepan directly over a surface unit of your electric range, says the General Electric Consumers Institute. Use the low heat.

We were all shocked and saddened to learn of the sudden death of Harold Moore on Sunday, March 18. Those of us who worked with Harold and knew and enjoyed his ready laugh and his love of life will miss his pleasant, cheerful disposition and his constant good nature. Very few of us are endowed with the keen sense of humor that made Harold so well liked and respected by his co-workers. His going leaves an empty place in Bldg. 17-4 that no one can fill for we will surely miss his genial greeting and cheery smile. We extend to Harold's wife and his family our sympathy and condolences. . . . Thanks to all you fine folks who responded so generously to the request for blood donations. Your cooperation is greatly appreciated. . . . Carl Swaim pops in and out so often we almost forget his new home is in Bldg. 18-3. Keep right on stopping in to see us, you're always welcome. That welcome also goes for the rest of our folks who have gone to the far corners of G-E. . . . On our latest trip to Chicago, we visited the Rathskeller at the Heidelberg Restaurant. The orchestra started playing "Happy Birthday," and, as is the requirement, the person being serenaded had to stand up. Lo, and behold, it was our own Clara Kleint. The M. C. asked her how old she was. Her reply was, "Asking a woman her age is like asking a used car dealer how many miles are on a car. You know they are going to turn it back, but you don't know how far." . . . Yesterday was really an "eggy" day here. Thanks, folks, for helping the Elex defense project and helping the bunny, too. . . . The talk may be about spring fishing or housecleaning as the case may be. So far the weather hasn't cooperated too well. Maybe it will get nice and warm now and we can really get some sunshine and fresh air. Let's hope so, anyway. . . . Happy Easter, folks.

Man may not live by bread alone, but some men seem to get by pretty well on nothing but erust.

Top Floor TOPICS

Bldg. 26-5

By Jack Lea

Sure and begorrie, the wearing of the green was noticeable on our floor last week. Ann Perlman, Halice Grabner, Dorothy Kaylor and Irene Slater all came to work with white blouses and green neck scarves. Of course, Al Miller wore his traditional necktie. . . . Walt Pohler has been walking around with his left sleeve rolled up and his arm in the air! He's showing off his "Stop the Music" wrist watch! . . . Lucy Kellar is back to work after recovering from an appendix operation. Lucy has been off a number of weeks and is a welcome sight to see! . . . Orville Langhor has also returned to work. Orville says if you get the flu, go to bed and stay there. . . . Imagine working here for eight years and three months and just finding out we don't get paid for our lunch period! Norma Smith was under that impression until the workers on her bench straightened her out. . . . Al Miller finally found out what was elogging his basement drainage system. It was one of those giant night crawlers Al has on his farm. Gene Mettler was there at the time when Al's night crawler reared up out of the tiles. Gene was so surprised that he took off across the fields. . . . We have more trouble on this floor with people getting their clothes torn. Forrest Egner was the latest victim. Forrest tore his pants while getting some trays. Doc Bartrom sewed them up with wire! . . . Ethel Henschel found out, to her regret, that she had been sitting on a chocolate bar. . . . Hey you, veterans! Don't forget about the G-E Vets' banquet! It's going to be a big affair and worth your while. . . . While I was back talking to Orville last week, his secretary Marie Stalter made a remark about my pipe tobacco making such a stink! This shocked me as I thought all the gals liked the smell. . . . Dick Hurst must have been in a fog coming back from South Bend. He made a wrong turn and went 50 miles out of the way trying to get back to Fort Wayne. Dick and Louie Sordelet ought to get together. Louie pulled that stunt not so long ago. . . . We've heard a report that Norb Sordelet really goes prepared on a fishing trip. They say that Norb uses a fishing rod with telescope sights, miniature mermaids for bait and that he pushes a portable refreshment bar out on the iee with him. . . . THESE WOMEN DRIVERS: Maxine Bakle and some friends had a few years taken off their lives in a driving incident recently. According to Maxine, their car didn't turn when the road branched off. Instead they went straight—straight into the ditch! . . . Stanley Gongaware fell for an old palm reading trick played on him by Jane Maloney. . . . There is a new club being formed on the floor by Howie Shipman, Jack Lea and Walt Mertz. The qualifications are high and the dues can be high also. For further information, contact one of the officers.

Prepared Fisherman

TOOL BITS

BLDG. 19-4 _ 19-5

By Don Clark

We would like to know where Orval Smith picks up his cigars that he pays off his bets with. Dick Hemrick had to wire his together with tag-wires before he could smoke it. Dick says the wire gets hot as the cigar gets shorter. Now he's looking for asbestos gloves. . . . Did Ed Schafenacker's face turn red when he looked in Paul Dunfee's new tool box drawer. The beauty of the set of drawers invited inspection but when opened the note inside caused many a shocked look. It read: "Hello, Nosey." . . . Adrian Libbing attended a lecture by two Fort Wayne policemen on how to tell whether the stop light at Cottage and Broadway is red or green. . . . The Grinding Section gives a hearty welcome to Harold Youse. . . . We haven't heard just how Ray Renfrew is, but we have been hearing about Boy Scout Frank Huffman. Frank has taken on the job of keeping Ray looking slick and neat. Frank takes along his electric razor and takes care of Ray's beard quite regularly. . . . Jim Kavanough partieipated in a bridge tournament at Muncie last Saturday. He didn't mention how he came out. It seems the great interest in the outcome of the basketball tourney highly interfered with concentration on eard playing. . . . We understand that Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Widner watched the basketball finals at Indianapolis last Saturday. . . . Lathe Section boys welcome Ralph Reed on days. . . . John Roemer came to work Monday morning with slightly mixed emotions. First, John didn't win the king-sized pool on the state finals. Second, his son's team lost in the final game of the grade school tournament, but, last and certainly not least, his son made the all-tournament team. . . . We hope Mrs. Baron mixes up a cake or two with that new mixer, Max. Chet Reynolds is expecting one. . . . Bernie Byanski, the man who saves cigar butts three inches long for a rainy day, has a new understudy now to aid him in his bench work. His name is Bill Mowery. . . . Mart Walsh had to return to the hospital last week for another operation. We hear he is doing fine and expects to go home soon. . . . We welcome Henry Sandkuhler to the Die Section. . . . Henry Gerdom was pleased to see his name mentioned as a candidate to be assistant coach to Zollner's Mendenhall. . . . Al Nebur recently broke up the noon time discussion of important topics with his question as to "Who puts the salt in the ocean?" . . . George Spittler hopes Paul Wuttke settles down after that important marriage ceremony tomorrow. It seems that Paul can't remember to ring his clock card. . . . Last week we saw Don Martz operating a welding machine while Max Shaw was ill. Now this week we catch Don with needle and thread quietly mending his apron. . . . With the parking lot full, Chet Burgette parked his car on the sharply inclined railroad embankment. Paul Shive says, "It's just natural for Chet's Ford, since Fords are part goat anyway." . . . We enjoyed having Elmer Bly drop in for a visit. Elmer reports having a wonderful time on an extensive sight-seeing trip all over the west by bus. With much of the winter spent in California, he will soon be located up at Lake George. . . . DIE PLANT: Frank Stalcy has his car troubles solved for awhile with a new maroon colored Buick. . . . John Schuchhardt, who has been giving his Plymouth an economy gas test, found out his car won't run when the tank is empty. . . . Bob Sowards spent Sunday in Indianapolis as a member of the Ossian Gun Club rifle team. Bob reports that the team came out in ninth place in the state-wide meet. . . . LaMar Brant spent a busy week at the Tool Engineers Convention in New York City. . . . Paul Shive had something to be happy about this week. He unexpectedly won a portion of a king-sized basketball pool. . . . We understand that Bob Benz either has to drive his Lafayette Flyer 75 m.p.h. or wear his hat pulled down over his ears. . . . Stolen from Lines and Angles: "One of the by-products of basketball," says Mrs. Erving Venderly of Spencerville, "is our national anthem's loss of significance." She cites the case of the five-year-old daughter of Woodrow Hursh, Linda, who was told to turn off the radio. Linda demurred. "I was going to turn it off," she explained, "then they started playing that music that starts the ball game."

Education is a good thing, but it doesn't go far enough. It merely teaches a man how to speak—not when or how long.

Ten Employees Welcomed by Q-C Club

Clifton Hosier
Bldg. 4-5

Oral G. Emrick
Taylor St.

Olivia F. Preston
Taylor St.

John F. Altekruse
Bldg. 26-2

Helen M. Reinking
Bldg. 26-5

Edward C. Parkison
Bldg. 26-1

Walter F. Bilcer
Bldg. 20-2

Raymond M. O'Neil
Taylor St.

Forest E. Grim
Taylor St.

Claude H. Hurraw
Bldg. 19-2

CLOSING DATE
Monday Noon, March 26, 1951

LOST AND FOUND

LOST—Black kid glove with black fur around the cuff. Lost on stairway in Bldg. 17.

FOUND—Green plastic button with purple center and gold and black stripe around the center. Turned in at Bldg. 18-Gate.

FOUND—Pair black leather gloves. Left in Conference Room, Bldg. 8-2.

FOUND—Man's gold ring with initial and two sets. Found in men's wash room, Bldg. 31-1.

FOR SALE

1940 FORD—Two-door. A-80907.

GIRLS GREY SPRING COAT—Size 8, $3; rose-colored suit, size 8, $1; navy pleated skirt, size 8, $1. H-02093.

G-E MONITOR TOP REFRIGERATOR—Seven cu. ft., reasonable. H-76035.

TWO KID GOATS—A-67112.

ONE AND TWO IN. MICROMETERS—Used very little, reasonable. H-59075 evenings.

27 FT. TRAILER—Ready for immediate occupancy, stove, hot-water heater, refrigerator, see at Waynedale Trailer Park after 4:30. H-76083.

UTILITY CABINET — Good condition, 64"x25"x12". K-4215.

GLEN PLAID SUIT—Gabardine topcoat, with inner lining; sweater, miscellaneous clothing for boy age 13-14. K-2037.

DINING ROOM SUITE—Walnut table, six chairs, three table leaves, asbestos pad, dustproof buffet. 318 W. Butler St.

GIRL'S 20" FRAME BICYCLE—H-65394 after 10 a.m.

LIVE WHITE EASTER BUNNIES—Will deliver. A-56615.

BOLSEY 35MM CAMERA—Eight mo. old, range finder, F3.2 coated lens, complete with case and flashgun. H-59152 after 4:30 p.m.

GIRL'S ELGIN BICYCLE — Apartment size washer. 445 Nussbaum St.

HONEYWELL THERMOSTAT — With clock, used two years, 425. H-66182.

G-E MONITOR TOP REFRIGERATOR 7.6 cu. ft., very good condition, $45. H-69324.

GIRL SCOUT UNIFORM—Size 12, good condition. A-59816.

CIVET CAT FUR COAT $20, size 12; red fox, three-quarter length coat, size 12, $40. A-86645.

GASOLINE FLAT TOP STOVE—Good condition. 1114 Glasgow.

CHAMPION OUTBOARD MOTOR — 5 3/10 hp, $50. H-58905.

1949 DODGE TRUCK MOTOR—Used two months, overhauled, will fit, 1948, 1949 Dodge, DeSoto or Chrysler passenger cars, $125. A-57123.

BICYCLE—26" girl's Gibson, like new, $35. H-0621.

BLACK LEATHER PUMPS—Size 4AA, worn twice. $1931.

CROSLEY REFRIGERATOR — Sealed unit, excellent condition. A-80122.

GAS RANGE—Excellent condition, priced to sell. H-35504.

1947 CUSHMAN MOTOR SCOOTER—Good condition, must sell. A-26092 after 4 p.m.

NEW ZEALAND WHITE RABBITS—Breeding stock or meat stock; also young Easter bunnies. H-37777.

GIRL'S LARGE SIZE TRICYCLE—Scooter and four-year-old white fur coat. H-8839.

WARM MORNING STOVE — $20; 100 lb. ice box, $15; two boys' bicycles, $10 and $20. H-28318 before 12 noon.

KIRBY SWEEPER—Good condition with attachments. H-76220.

STUDIO COUCH—H-79552.

NORGE ELECTRIC STOVE — Reasonable, good condition. H-90284 or 444 W. Wildwood.

ALUMINUM FRAME BATHINETTE—Curtain stretcher. H-59701.

GIRL'S BLUE SPRING COAT AND HAT—Size 8, reasonable. H-59604.

GIRL'S GREY SPRING COAT—Excellent condition, size 10. A-96601.

WANTED

FOUR-FIVE ROOM HOUSE TO RENT Modern by reliable couple. E-35303 after 5 p.m.

GOOD USED BOY'S OR MAN'S BICYCLE—Must be in good condition, reasonable. H-03114.

GIRL'S BICYCLE—H-64462.

SMALL TRICYCLE—Camp cots, outside swing. H-26185.

USED PING PONG TABLE—H-24829.

TWO WHEEL CAR TRAILER—A-49334.

FOR RENT

GARAGE—Close to G-E. 1034 Swinney Ave.

TRANSPORTATION

WANTS RIDE—From Van Wert to Broadway. Josephine Chavarrio, Bldg. 4-3, works from 7-3:30. Extension 415.

WANTS RIDE — From Churubusco to Broadway plant. Eunice Steinbarger, works in Bldg. 4-3 from 7-3:30 for Martha Scherzinger.

WANTS RIDE—From Bluffton to Taylor St. plant. Hulda Steffen works from 6:48-3:18 Extension 2526 or Bluffton 855W.

G-E DEATHS

Jordan H. Leatherman Dies in Retirement

Jordan H. Leatherman, 85, died in his home at 320 First St. at 4:45 a.m. Monday.

Mr. Leatherman was a retired employee of the General Electric Company and had worked here from 1917 until 1933 in Bldgs. 20-1 and 26-4.

He is survived by his widow, Fannie; three daughters, Mrs. Bertha Hite, Mrs. Elsie Schafer and Mrs. Clara Moser, all of Fort Wayne; two sons, William, of Chicago, and Homer, of Fort Wayne; two brothers, Daniel of Jackson, Mich., and Frank, of Oakwood, O.; two sisters, Mrs. Millie Asire, Oakwood, and Mrs. Cora Renner, of Gomer, O.; four grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Services were held at 11 a.m. Thursday in the East Side Church with the Rev. William E. Masters officiating. Burial was in Prairie Grove Cemetery.

W. H. Moore Services Held Here Wednesday

W. Harold Moore, 50, died at noon Sunday in his home, 2222 Thompson Ave.

A native of Rome City, he joined the General Electric Company as a tester in Bldg. 19-5 in September, 1925. He worked as a tester and assembler in Bldgs. 26-3, 19-4, 4-3, 4-2, and 6-B until June, 1945, when he was assigned to developmental tests in Bldg. 17-4. He was employed there as an experimental tester at the time of his death. He served with the Navy during World War II.

Surviving are his widow, Mabel; father, Edward C., Rome City; three sisters, Mrs. Mildred Prickett, Rome City, Mrs. Gertrude Ferguson, Ligonier, and Mrs. Louise Kimmel, Lansing, Mich., and two brothers, Karl F., Fort Wayne, and Ralph E., Rome City.

Services were held at 11 a.m. Wednesday in the Klaehn Funeral Home with the Rev. Gerald Jones officiating. Graveside Services were held at 2 p.m. in Orange Cemetery, Rome City.

Frank E. Sitton Dies After Long Illness

Frank E. Sitton, 55, of 2803 Hoagland Ave., died Monday at 5 p.m. in the Lutheran Hospital. He had been unable to work since February of this year.

Mr. Sitton joined the General Electric Company in 1923 as an electrician in Bldg. 20-1. He later served in the same capacity at Taylor St. and was employed in Bldg. 20-2 at the beginning of his illness.

Surviving are his widow, Margaret; a sister, Mrs. Elinora Sapp, Fort Wayne, two nephews and one niece.

Services were held at 10 a.m. Thursday at the Klaehn funeral home, with the Rev. George Kiehl officiating. Burial was in the Paulding, O., cemetery.

R. S. Peare, G-E Vice President, Former Hoosier, Dies in New York

Robert S. Peare, 50, of Schenectady, vice president of the General Electric Company in charge of public relations and advertising policy, died at Ellis Hospital, Schenectady, N. Y., March 18. He had suffered a heart attack a week before.

dies in N.Y. . . .

Widely-known in advertising and public relations, the G-E official in 1946 received an award from the National Association of Public Relations Counsel, Inc., as having made "the greatest contribution in the past year toward improvement of techniques and application of public relations from the professional and ethical standpoint."

Hoosier Born

Born January 11, 1901, in Bellmore, Ind., and a graduate of the University of Michigan in 1922, Mr. Peare joined the General Electric Company shortly after finishing school. He worked in accounting and advertising, then rose to the presidency of the Maqua Company, G-E printing affiliate, in 1934.

In 1940, he returned to an executive post in advertising in G-E, and in 1944, was elected a vice president of the company by the board of directors.

As vice president in charge of public relations, Mr. Peare had supervision over the company's advertising, broadcasting, and general publicity activities, and was chairman of the general advertising committee composed of the advertising managers of the G-E operating departments. He directed the activities of WGY, G-E's pioneer broadcasting station in Schenectady; WRGB, television station in Schenectady; frequency-modulation station WGFM, and short wave stations WGEA, WGEO, and WGEX, all at Schenectady, together with KGEI and KGEX, on the West Coast.

Had Many Interests

Active in many endeavors outside the company, Mr. Peare was a member of the Regents Advisory Council of the State of New York, the Association of National Advertisers, the Public Relations Society of America, and the Advertising Federation of America.

He was also a member of the University Club of New York, the Bureau of Municipal Research of Schenectady, the Schenectady Press Club; Parke Lodge, F. & A. M., Rockville, Ind., and the Mohawk and Edison clubs of Schenectady. Mr. Peare was active in the Schenectady Chamber of Commerce, of which he was a past president, and the Community Chest. In 1941, he served as chairman of the Schenectady County Defense Council.

The G-E official is survived by his wife, and two daughters, Elizabeth J. and Nancy J., all of Schenectady; and one brother Reeve, of Rockville, Ind.

Ripley should know Norb Hans. His first game of bowling was 300 and his second, 310. Norb is willing to give anyone a few hints on the finer points of bowling. . . . Lucky Artie Hoffman won a new Ford at the Piston game last Sunday. Have you had any offers for your old car, Artie? . . . Walt Chaney got a little confused at the wrestling matches. He went into the women's rest room by mistake. He said they were very nice about it, but it was noticed that he came out in a hurry. . . . Bob Hatfield has everyone a little confused since he started traveling with Herschel Smith. Bob, will you please clear up a few things for us? Did someone give you the wrong train time? Do you just like to sit around a train station? Are you always twelve hours early for a train? Bob went to the station at 4:53 p.m. and found out that the train he wanted wouldn't leave until 4:53 a.m. . . . In case you didn't recognize the slick looking gent in the Tin Shop at Taylor St., it's Charlie Hartman. It's said he puts the entire bottle of goo on his hair at one time. . . . We are sorry to hear that Frank Sitton is very ill. . . . Welcome to Jack Landis in Bldg. 20-1. Jack is working for Bill Schible. . . . The gang at Taylor St. was glad to see Rudy Kaiser, who visited them last Monday. . . . Has anyone seen the gang from Bldg. 10? Haven't heard from them for a long time.

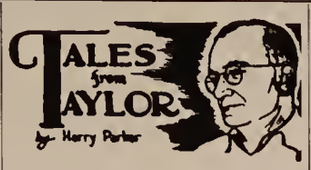
The 4:53 on Time?

We are glad to see Skippy Kurtz and Mary Reynolds after a week's absence. . . . Happy birthday to Evaline Best. Evaline received a new hat and dress to wear in the Easter parade. . . . Doris Stearns is a member of the bubble gum club. . . . We're sorry to lose Margaret Spurgat and Leona Yarbrough to Bldg. 6-4. . . . The girls had a potluck for LaDocia Clinger, who is going on days. . . . Martha Scott is off her diet. She brought her lunch and also ate from the candy wagon. That still wasn't enough, so Martha at at the cafeteria. . . . We are wondering what made Skippy Kurtz feel so much better. Are you sure it was the shot of penicillin, Skip? . . . Wonder who the big "Pooka" is that Doris Stearns has been going with. . . . Delores Johnston is going in for costume jewelry. . . . Congratulations to Marie and Frank DeVaux on the arrival of granddaughter Cheryl Ann. . . . Betty Madden bought some canned whipped cream the other day at the grocery. The label read "squeeze gently." Betty squeezed with all her might. The cream squirted across the table and all over friend hubby's face and hair. . . . Joan Brug has left us to become a full-time housewife. . . . We are glad that Mary Ann Miles' accident was not serious. . . . Marjorie Crabill was so tired after work one night last week that she felt she needed a refresher. She had a hamburger and coffee. Instead of putting the sugar in the coffee, she sweetened the water and stirred it. . . . Doris Stearns has more dimes than she knows what to do with. She can pay the bus driver a dime and then get right off the bus.

HONORED ON 35TH ANNIVERSARY—George E. Telley, Bldg. 27, (center) completed 35 years of service with General Electric March 3. Several of his friends gathered to congratulate him on the attainment of his service record. Left to right are Adam Farrell, H. L. Stevenson, Mr. Telley, R. M. Hartigan and Don Shimmele.

SOME OF YOU KNEW, OTHERS DID NOT, that your editor had a birthday last Sunday. To those who knew and were thoughtful enough to send cards and gifts, I thank you. To the rest, you're excused because you didn't know. As to the cards, we received one which when you opened it up, an old bat flew out at you and it read, "Happy Birthday you Old Bat." The other was a very nice card which read: "Although you missed being born on St. Patrick's Day by only a few hours, we still love you like an Irishman. After all, a Dutchman is just like an Irishman except the Dutchman has his brains knocked out." Now as to the gifts. I received one in a very nicely wrapped box which contained one pair of used socks wrapped in thatthere kind of paper. The other gift was a box fashioned after a egg crate and it contained rabbit eggs. Thanks again, folks. . . . THIS DICTIONARY THING is really becoming a problem. We are getting so confused that every time we write a letter we have to go to Webster himself to get the correct spelling. Business, buisness; Kierspe, Kierspie; Seed, sead; Tighten, tithen; Enough, enuff. Probably more 2 cum. . . . WE WELCOME to the Wire Division, John T. Ankenbruck, who is working in the Wire Lab. John was graduated from Notre Dame in 1949 with a degree in marketing in the field of commerce. A native of Fort Wayne, he graduated from Central Catholic High School in 1944. He spent two years in the Navy. His hobbies are music, painting, sailing and skiing. We're glad to have you as one of our group, John, and hope you'll like working with us. . . . HE HAS RISEN. HE IS NOT HERE. Yes, folks, Jesus, our Lord and Savior, had conquered death. We, too, can conquer Eternal Death if we will only keep His commandments, bear our daily crosses, and follow Him above everything else. To love God you must know Him, and in order to know Him you must be with and follow Him all the days of your life.

INSULATION NEWS



We extend our sincere sympathy to the Joseph Kramer family on the death of Mr. Kramer's father. Their household was gladdened again, though, when a new baby girl was ushered into the world. Thanks for the candy and cigars, Joe. . . . Jim Norris passed treat on Friday afternoon, too. He was rewarded for the birth of an idea that paid off via the suggestion box route. . . . Do you know Babe Hopkins? He is one clever man with the tools. He can not only whistle to those presses, but, with all he has to work with, he has added a new line. If your jacket and shirt become entwined in the same zipper like Ray Sinks' did, call "Hop." He'll set you free! . . . We must conclude that Kathryn just can't hold a candle to the bluegills in Houghton Lake as far as Paul is concerned, at least not when he has time to go fishing. . . . We were all glad to hear from our G-E GI, Pvt. Ed Opliger, who is now wearing the Air Force Blues. He is stationed at Fort Sam Houston, Texas. We hope he likes our round-robin reply. . . . A few brave, hardy souls from our section, buffeted by some mighty chilling winds, attended the Elex Club Sunrise Services on Palm Sunday.

Belated birthday greetings go to Chris Stauffer. . . . Velva Smith and her husband purchased a new Pontiac last week. They let it sit in the garage for three days waiting for the weather to get nice enough to take it out. Finally they decided that it wasn't going to quit raining. Velva is going to get a big umbrella and sit on the top of the car holding the umbrella to keep the car clean. . . . Lynn Crawford and W. Dillman report that fishing was best at Houghton Lake last week. They got the limit. . . . Robert Morris and his family are spending a week at Tampa, Fla., . . . Ralph McCain claims he broke a wagon at the grocery store by waving at the check-out girl. . . . B. Beaman spent the week-end at Indianapolis seeing the State Basketball Tournament. . . . We congratulate Paul Stemmler for coaching his church team through a one-defeat season. In previous years, the team had never won a game. . . . Get well wishes go to Linda Shuster, who was hit by an automobile recently. Her father is Robert Shuster.

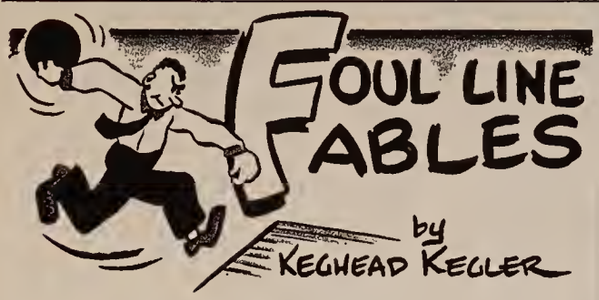
MARKS OFF 30TH SERVICE DATE—Isidor Best, Wire Division, (center) is shown circling the date he completed 30 years of employment with General Electric. He celebrated his anniversary Thursday, March 8. Looking on are Harry Beltz (left) and H. R. Thompson.

Art Brandenberger is now busy preparing to construct a new home on the Windsor Road. Receiving a set of last year's auto license plates in the mail gave him the idea that if he received enough, they could be used as sub-siding on the new house. He requests his friends to send him theirs. Address the package to 816 Poplar St. and send them express collect. We give him this bit of advice: Never build after you are five and forty, have five years income on hand before laying a brick and calculate the expense at double the estimate. . . . Mable Miller received a large shipment of fowl necks in response to a newspaper want ad. She is now so filled up on them that she sees them in her sleep. She says that she doesn't want to see a fowl neck for the next ten years. However, she is now going strong for hamburg sandwiches. She uses about a half pound of meat per sandwich. . . . Being a fisherman of the old school, but not getting entirely satisfactory results, Charles Clawson has enrolled in the Purdue Extension angling classes. After his graduation, he plans to take his diploma with him whenever he goes fishing and flash it on the fish. Better not do this, Charlie, because it will surely frighten them away when they know that you are a graduate of Purdue's Department of fisheries. . . . Clarence Stove, an ardent follower of Izaak Walton, has made final preparations to complete his abode on Big Turkey Lake. He says, "I will surely gather in the fish." So happy is he in these thoughts that he recited a bit of poetry for us, to wit:

When the wind is in the East,
Then the fishes bite the least:
When the wind is in the West,
Then the fishes bite the best:
When the wind is in the North,
Then the fishes do come forth:
When the wind is in the South,
It blows the bait into their mouths.

Happy Easter! We hope we won't have to carry an umbrella and hide our Easter bonnets. . . . SPRING NOTE TO ARLEENE WINBRENNER: You may not think the weather is spring-like, but I say spring has sprung. I've had the first meal of spring tonic—dandelions. . . . We were glad to hear Hugh Reynolds, Jr., had regained his voice. . . . For a while, we thought Joe Jensen was going to have to put his eyes back into the sockets. The machine he was standing by blew all the fuses at the same time. . . . Last week things were under control at the Brower home until Violet opened a bottle of cologne to freshen the house and put the air-wick on herself. . . . Minnie Barr looked all over for her overshoes then she discovered she had worn them all day. . . . Verna Bullerman enjoyed the basketball finals over TV, while Walter Kryder saw them in person. . . . The Harold Dominiques are in their new home. . . . MYSTERY OF THE WEEK: Why did a foreman get off the elevator with a new broom? . . . You can't have your pie and eat it too. Clara Thomas baked a pie for a sick friend. Her husband came home and ate half of it. Clara had to bake another pie. . . . Happy birthday to Gertie Wheat, Kate Weigle, Vereda Reinig, Floretta Zartman, Esther Fox and Mabel King. They had a surprise potluck for Gertie and Kate, but Kate had to miss it. The flu bug got her down. . . . Others on our sick list are Margaret Monnot, Bertha Bertsch, Irene Blank and Mary Wright. . . . We're glad to see Faye Stockberger, Ethel Keller, Elma Keiser and Ocea Allen back. . . . Virgie Mayer was carrying some candy when she and the candy hit the floor at the same time. . . . Ida Sinn was nursing a swollen jaw after a visit to the dentist. . . . Max Decker has had a lot of trouble from his inexperience as a farmer. . . . Want to know how to sit straight and not breathe? Mary Murphy knows the answer. . . . Clara Fulmer says "hello." She is well on the road to recovery. . . . Our sympathy to Gladys Lutz and Frank Beck in the deaths of their mother and father, respectively.

AT LAST! Something has happened in the drafting room. Arthur Shull pulled out his desk drawer just a little too far. The crash woke up everyone. The stuff that covered the floor was more than a woman could get in her purse. There were drafting tools, pamphlets, papers, pens, pencils, clips, nails, rags, ink bottles and heaven-knows-what. Art spent the afternoon playing pickup. . . . A neighbor's dog, following Curly Mannan and his children on their walk, nearly got hit by a car and then ended up falling into a fish pond. Curly thinks this clumsy-dog episode may convince his children that they don't want one. Curly would appreciate suggestions on tactfully discouraging children who want a dog. . . . Margaret Norman is vacationing this week. From her report, it wasn't much of a vacation as she helped paint the rooms of her home. . . . INFORMATION PLEASE! An informative meeting was held last week for Mr. Ginder's group. After some discussion, Elgy asked for questions. Not getting much response, Elgy asked again, "Any more questions?" "How about you, Tis?" Whereupon, Tis brightened up and replied, "Yeah, where's West Lakes?" . . . Ed Cwiklo and Les Schowe are patiently waiting for spring. They both have bought materials with which to build a garage. They intend to help each other. They figure that two heads are better than one, even if neither one ever built a garage. . . . A recent news report, heard on the air, said that Marvin Baker was found frozen stiff in an alley. We couldn't find the newspaper item to confirm this, but evidently the "big stiff" thawed out enough to get back to work. . . . Latest rumor says that Jim O'Brien "jitterbugged" so fast that he took a sudden spill and landed flat on the floor.



Information Please

We should never attempt to bear more than one kind of trouble at once. Some people bear three kinds —all they had, all they have now and all they ever expect to have.—Edward Everett Hale.

Wednesday, March 21, spring was officially here. Your editor need not have looked at a calendar to tell you that. The fact that most of the Fractional Offices have been exceptionally quiet this past week would indicate that something was in the air. All this quiet will be in H. E. Egger's behalf. This gentleman of nature lives the year around at Dewart Lake, and he is now dreaming of the glories of summer. At the end of a hard day's work, he can go to the lake, slip into those old fishin' togs, and ramble bare-footed down the path to the lake laden with fish poles and bait, to stand on the dock and breathe in that wonderful air, and then to scramble into the stern of the sail boat, and shove off into the breeze, to a summer of contentment. . . . Caught with that feeling of great space were Bertha McCague and Pauline Meehan, when the office elevator performed its periodical mis-function. . . . Ruth Graft played hostess to Dorothy Crist, Harriett Heaney, Lucile Schelper, Mildred Schroeder and Marilyn Franke. They are all members of the Payroll Knitting Club. . . . Better luck on your second pair of booties, Dorothy Crist. It is a shame that you had to rip out your first pair, five times. . . . Bonnie Eggeman's husband, Vince, is a pre-operative patient at the Veterans' Hospital, where he will undergo surgery on his nose. . . . Welcome, Hazel Kennedy, a worker in Payroll. . . . If you see any of the girls on the third floor walking around with only one leg, you can place the blame on Betty Carper. Betty's alibi is that it is so lonesome in the Addressograph Room, that she just wants to talk the leg off anyone who will listen. . . . Most of the girls in Payroll have received their checks from Uncle Sam, and March 15 was just last week. . . . "Didn't drink their Hadacol" is the only reason that we can figure out as to why George Yarian and Florence Mullaney, the two warmest-blooded people in Payroll, had to wear their coats and sweaters on that real warm day, last week. . . . Will Millie Schroeder ever bowl 150 in one game? Millie will collect enough banana splits when she does to gain back all that weight she has been losing. . . . Happy birthday to Pauline Meehan and Estell Sewell, who celebrate March 25 and 26, respectively. . . . A newcomer to Casualties, Inc., is Geneva Schrack, of Sales Accounting. The donation to the St. Joseph Hospital was one appendix. Hurry and get well real soon, Geneva. . . . Back in the fold are Mary Kibiloski and Phyllis Fisher. We're real glad to have you back. . . . The girls in Engineering Sales honored Joan Harrison last week with a luncheon in honor of her marriage Friday, March 16, to Dean Crowell. Congratulations, Joan and Dean. . . . Guess who's back in Engineering? Welcome home, Bill Brunner. We hope that your trips to the sawbones are over for good. . . . GOOD NEWS: Mary Henry's small grandson, who has been quite ill for a long time, is back in Fort Wayne after some very painful treatments out in Kansas City. We hear that he is coming along very nicely and we're all hoping that his complete recovery will be soon. . . . While out East recently, A. J. Rose had a very enjoyable visit with his daughter, son-in-law, and his cute granddaughter, Elizabeth.

The M's are heading the Transformer League with 22 wins and 11 losses, with the D's one game behind.

Antalis paced the evening's scoring with a whopping 562 series. This included a 212 game. Hurst's 202 and France's 205 concluded the high scoring for the evening.

J. Hamilton, Benzinger and Howlett broke out with furliners this week. (Furliners are games below 100.)

Office League

Standardizing moved into first place by one game this week. Dick's Sunoco is right behind.

Frank Schlink's 235 paced the high scores. Carl Hattendorf with a 205, "Wee Willie" Bushong, 205, and Earl Morrell, 201, had the other 200 games.

Tuesday Afternoon Girls' League

Helen Wagner led the league with a 524 series on games of 153 149 and 222.

Other high games were rolled hy Katie Auker, 168, Tommie Williams, 166; Dorothy Huffman, 169, and Wilma Pfireman, 169.

Sounds in the Alley

It isn't too late to enter the G-E employees tournament. You have until midnight tomorrow.

Bill Berning left for the Army last week. He was given a gift of money from his co-workers. Lots of luck, Bill. . . . Joan Leamon took her driving test and is now able to drive her 1949 Studebaker all by herself! . . . Ardola Metker got the wrong coat when she went out to lunch. The sleeves completely covered her hands and the coat touched her shoe tops. . . . Not only is Edna Rohrbach sporting a new short hair-do, but she changed her brand of cars—to Chevrolet! . . . Donna Lindley got in the wrong car the other evening as she was leaving work. A car drove up and she got in. Her car is one color, and the one she thought was hers was an all-together different color. . . . If anyone gets sick just call Anna (Betty) Froebe. She is studying practical nursing! . . . The annual increase at Bill Widdifield's arrived last week—a bull calf! . . . Helen Struver had some dream the other night. She dreamed that Ruth Tutwiller, Thelma Purdue, Hazel Herron and herself were at her lake home when they decided to go to an auction. They got Ruth to bid on something; sight unseen. It turned out to be a manure-spreader. They were dragging it all over trying to leave it someplace when she woke up and never did know what became of it! . . . Congratulations to Frank DeVaux, who is a new grandpa! . . . Several people on our sick list are Evelyn Foulks, Beulah Briner, Andy Bordner, Ervin Reichter, Berniece Johnson and Edna Hauser. We wish them a speedy recovery. . . . We are glad to see Ellen Knop, Pauline Elick, Flora Crawford and Ed Glenwith back at work after their illnesses. . . . The guys are wondering if Carl Brown's cigar is giving him back trouble. It seems to be the heaviest thing he lifts these days. . . . Everett Lindeman got a surprise when the eigar Jack Moore gave him exploded. . . . Al Rebber says when he gets moved into his new home he's going to have a marshmallow roast. . . .We know why Mike Kramer has an Irish name. He was born on St. Patrick's Day! . . . Marvin Reitz has just purchased a new Mercury. The only catch is that it is such a nice car it dare not stand outside. Papa Reitz is a little disturbed because his Chevrolet has to stand out in the rain. . . . Anyone looking for furnished rooms see Don Nagei. He is running a sign on the back of his car reading, "Furnished rooms for rent." . . . Mrs. Weis (our new bride) has been the main topic of discussion today. It is good to see you back, Pat, and may you and your husband have a life time of happiness. . . . Maxine Van Allen has been seeing spots before her eyes—her children have the measles. . . . Dick Clendenen is the proud father of a bouncing baby boy! . . . The girls from group 1x55 are glad Florence Byers is back on days. . . . We welcome all the people who came on days recently. . . . Merle Keesler spent the week-end in Detroit. . . . Ted Bain claims he gets all his ties out of "Cracker-Jack!" . . . Ellen Bauer had a nice surprise party last week-end. Her sister Betty planned it all. . . . Genevieve Beverforden recently switched to nights. We will miss her on days. . . . Marcella Schwarts, Bob Erickson and Clarice Fyock all got caught in the elevator. . . . Edith Juillerat and her family spent the week-end attending her son's graduation from boot training at Great Lakes. He will study 36 weeks at an electronics school. . . . The latest thing in Easter wear is worn by Ruth Tutwiller. It was designed by Helen Struver and is a light brown straw with a duck sitting in the middle of the crown with a bunny nest made of pink and green tulle on the side. Also on the brim is a rubber mouse, a lily, four small chicks, a red bird, a guitar, a tall feather, and a yellow rose. It is tied in a huge bow under her chin. With it, she wears a quilt-patch blouse with pockets that snap shut and she has a bright green shoulder purse to complete the outfit.

Decatur Slates Bowling Tourney; Winners Get Cash

Decaturites will have a chance to show their bowling skills at the annual Men's and Women's Singles Handicap Tournament to be staged at the Decatur G-E Club alleys April 3, 5, 8, sources there have disclosed.

There will be an equal chance for all bowlers, and a current average is not necessary. Chuek Cook, G-E Club president, reports that between 50 and 60 seeond shift howlers have already indicated they will enter the tournament.

Cash prizes will be awarded by the Decatur G-E Club. The prize list will be based on the number of entries and will be announeed Friday, March 30.

Entry blanks may be obtained from the Bowling Committee, at the G-E Club alleys, or in the Personnel Office.

OWL CHAMP WARMS UP—Warren Wickliffe, Bldg. 19-1, individual champion of the Owl Golf League, is shown trying out some new golfing gear in his living room as the "cow pasture pool" season draws nigh. Warren averaged 38 last year while playing with the 4-time champion Hot Shots.

by Ray Quinn

The Squares met and beat Transformer, 65-29, Tuesday night for their 17th straight victory and the Interdivision Basketball League championship.

Transformer, which had finished on top in the lower bracket, didn't have a chance after the first five minutes of play. As the game progressed, the Squares rolled along with a 20 to 25 point lead. The losers gave it all they had and, with just a little luck, could have made a much closer game of it.

The Squares, coached by Jim Walley and managed by Bill Hunt, had a team that left little to be desired. With plenty of height and lots of speed, they were as good a team as this writer has seen in the league in several years. Their fine display of sportsmanship and clean playing was appreciated by the rest of the league and its officials.

Summary:

SQUARES	G.	F.	T.	TRANSFORMER	G.	F.	T.
Emling	1	0	2	Lorell	3	0	6
Reynolds	3	5	11	Buuck	1	0	2
Krasienko	4	1	9	Beghtel	1	2	4
Lindholm	3	1	7	Taylor	1	1	3
Hamilton	2	2	6	Carpenter	5	1	11
Walley	3	0	6	Kumfer	0	0	0
Carl	8	0	16	Lepper	1	0	2
Lewis	3	2	8	Eckert	0	1	1
Totals	27	11	65	Totals	12	5	29

CHECKER FIENDS—Alva Tucker, left, and Joe Hawk, both of Bldg. 17-2, are fast becoming a regular afternoon feature at the G-E Club. These two checker-playing fiends meet every day in the Trophy Room before reporting for work on the second shift.

Pittsfield Engineer Addresses Members Of Chemical Group

"Some Recent Trends in Electrical Insulation Papers" was the subject of Dr. Harry F. Miller's address to the Northeastern Indiana Section of the American Chemical Society Tuesday evening. Dr. Miller is an engineer in the Pittsfield Works Laboratory.

According to Dr. Miller, paper is still the most widely used insulating material in the electrical industry. In spite of the advent of newer plastie materials, paper properties have not been duplicated hy plastics. Some of paper's advantages are its low cost and ease of manufacture.

Dr. Miller illustrated with samples, some of the recent reesarch done on the manufacture of insulation grade paper.

Before his talk, Dr. Miller visited the Fort Wayne Works and the Works Laboratory.

WHY IS BUSINESS BETTER PREPARED FOR THE WORLD'S BIGGEST JOB?

The biggest order in history has been placed on the desk of American business.

Our freedom is challenged and business must supply the material things needed to stand against the threat.

Fortunately, American industry is in a unique position to serve. It is far from full stride—yet we start from levels higher than the greatest production records of the past.

▸ We can make 20 per cent more steel today than ten years ago—more even than at the height of the last war—more than all other countries put together.

▸ Petroleum production is 46 per cent higher than ten years ago.

▸ We can make over 900,000 long tons of synthetic rubber—more than 100 times our production ten years back.

▸ Communications are doubled, measured by telephones alone.

▸ We have doubled our supply of electricity, too.

▸ Transportation can carry more freight by rail, almost twice the 1940 load by road, and is carrying over 40 times more by air.

These are important things to have on our side. But this production didn't come by pushing a button or by wishing.

It came about through hard work and able planning and foresight in developing personnel.

Above all, management showed great wisdom in using the profits business earned. It put aside a large part of these earnings to expand plants and install more productive machinery. Actually, of all money put into plants and equipment by corporations during the past ten years, 85 per cent came from profits and funds set aside for replacement.

America can be thankful that the resources of business are ready to serve the country, now, and with steadily mounting effect.

[Reproduced here as a matter of timely interest by General Electric's Employee Relations Division, with permission of N. W. Ayer & Son, Inc.]

The first day of spring will be here before we know it. Do you have all your Easter clothes ready for the big day? Remember to attend the church of your choice. . . . We lost Jo Franklin and Jane Lane in the last few weeks. Jo will be in Div. 13. How did you like the surprise we had on you, Jo? We all wish you loads of luck on your new job. Now, maybe you will get to go home to Cincinnati, Jane. . . . How does it feel to be a year older, Vi? You didn't eat too much birthday cake on your birthday, did you? That was a pretty blouse that you got from the girls. . . . We had a visitor last week. It was one of the girls who used to be with us. The visitor was none other than Alice Uffelman. . . . Many of us have been on the sick list during the past week. Some of the unfortunate were Mary Mishler, Naomi Snyder and Maxine Stoffel. Maxine was really sick, too. Her trouble was a terrific toothache. She'll come back a little smarter than when she left, though. She's cutting her wisdom teeth. . . . Speaking of the sick, we hear that Carl Swihart's father is ill. He was taken to the Lutheran Hospital for an emergency operation last Wednesday. We hope he has a speedy recovery. . . . Fred Wheeler's pet dog died last week. We are very sorry to hear about your pet, Fred. . . . Barbara Schuckel had her desk taken right out from under her the other day. . . . Jean Smith has been full of luck lately. She not only won the last "Stop the Music Pool," but she won the check pool the following week. . . . Ruth Abels and her hubby and Barbara Schuckel and her hubby-to-be went to the National Guard show featuring "Miss America." . . . If you would like to go to a formal dance, just contact Joyce Greiser or Audrey Bradfield. They are selling tickets to the dance their sorority is having. The dance will be April 13. Speaking of dancing, did you have a good time at the dance last Friday night, Norman? We hope you weren't as nervous as you were at work Friday. . . . Hey there, you readers! Why don't you contribute some news to our little column? That way, there would be some different news to read about. We can't get you all if we don't hear about you. . . . As I mentioned, Jo Franklin left last week, so your column editor has a new lass to fill her place—Audrey Bradfield, who is beginning this week. Again I wish to thank the girls who help me prepare the column each week. . . . All things have to come to an end, good or bad, so 'bye until next time.

FORT WAYNE WORKS
NEWS

Volume 34 | FORT WAYNE, INDIANA, FRIDAY, MARCH 30, 1951 | No. 13

G-E WORLD WAR VETS—

Today is deadline day for tickets to the annual spring banquet in the Chamber of Commerce Saturday, April 7. Pensioners who are veterans are especially invited and may obtain tickets from George Ellison, banquet chairman. Call E-3303 between 5 and 10 p.m. tonight.

First Aid, Home Nursing Plans Revealed

Safety Shoes Offered Here Through Payroll Deduction

A payroll deduction plan for the purchase of safety shoes will begin Monday, according to an announcement by I. H. Freeman, Supervisor of Personnel. The new plan is designed to help reduce the number of foot injuries. Any employee with one month's service is eligible to buy shoes under the plan, Personnel sources explained.

To purchase shoes through payroll deduction, employees may obtain a "Shoe Sale Authorization Slip" from their immediate foreman or supervisor. After shoes have been selected, the Employees' Store will make out a Payroll Deduction Authorization to be signed by the employee. One copy will be retained by the employee for his own records.

No down payment is to be made at the time of purchase. The first payment deducted will be an odd amount determined so that the remaining payments will be even. Under Indiana state laws, a five cent intangible tax is charged on this method of buying shoes.

As an example, on a pair of shoes costing $8.95, the first payment will be $2.95 and the three succeeding payments will be $2 each. Four weeks is the maximum time allowed for complete payment.

Ray Fischbach, Supervisor of the

(Continued on page 4)

Annual Reports Now Available To Employees

Copies of General Electric's 59th Annual Report and 1950 Yearbook were distributed last week to more than 250,000 widely-scattered Company stockholders and to the approximately 70,000 employees participating in the Savings and Stock Bonus Plan.

(Continued on page 4)

Program Aims to Train One Out of Five G-E Employees

Extensive first aid and home nursing programs will get under way here the first week of April. Plans for the programs, aimed at training at least one out of every five employees, were jointly announced today by Thelma Stone, president of the Elex Club, sponsor of the home nursing classes, and Safety Engineer Herschel L. Smith, representing the Works Safety Committee, sponsor of the first aid classes.

Developed in conjunction with the American Red Cross, the programs are part of the gigantic Civil Defense system now being set up throughout the country.

Application cards for employees wishing to take the 22-hour first aid instruction in emergency care of injured are now being distributed by safety chairmen. Enrollment will be strictly on a voluntary basis.

Employees interested in the first aid classes will be asked to fill out and return cards immediately to their safety chairman or to the Safety Section, Bldg. 18-3, in order that a schedule of classes can be arranged. It is hoped that the training program will get in full swing during April, Mr. Smith said.

Instruction in standard Red Cross first aid will be offered at the

(Continued on page 4)

HOME NURSES—PEACE OR WAR—Avenel Stanton, Bldg. 26-2, who completed the home nursing course this week, is shown bathing fellow-student, Olive Smith, Bldg. 18-4, under the watchful eye of their instructor Lyle Rupert. Another G-E nurse, Veda Orff (not shown) also serves as instructor in the standard Red Cross home nursing classes. (See story)

"Holiday Ranch" Title Gets Okay By G-E Squares

Mrs. Lois Harlow Wins Ducats for Naming Show

"Holiday Ranch", suggested by Lois Harlow, Bldg. 4-6, has been selected by the Reviewing Committee as the winning title for the G-E Squares Revue, J. P. Coughlin, publicity chairman, revealed today.

Mrs. Harlow received two tickets to the show as her prize in the contest conducted by the Squares Club to find a name for the annual musical show. The contest closed Monday, March 26.

According to Mr. Coughlin, the judges felt that Mrs. Harlow's entry captured the gaiety and the spirit of the show while still emphasizing its western theme. He also extended the thanks of the committee to the many other participants in the contest.

"Holiday Ranch" will be pre-

(Continued on page 4)

Stockholders' Meeting Slated April 17

SCHENECTADY, N. Y.—The General Electric Company's 59th annual stockholders' meeting, expected to be the largest meeting of its kind in industrial history, will be held here April 17, the Company has announced.

Last year, more than 1,700 stockholders, a record for industry, attended the annual meeting here.

William W. Trench, Company secretary, predicted that attendance at this year's meeting will exceed last year's.

The meeting will be held on the floor of a huge manufacturing building at the G-E Schenectady Works.

Mailing of invitations to approximately 250,000 company stockholders has just been completed.

In his letter of invitation to stockholders, Ralph J. Cordiner, Company president, outlined the program for the meeting.

Program Revealed

Stockholders and guests will see an exhibit of the Company's products, emphasizing, within security regulations, the equipment which is contributing to national defense.

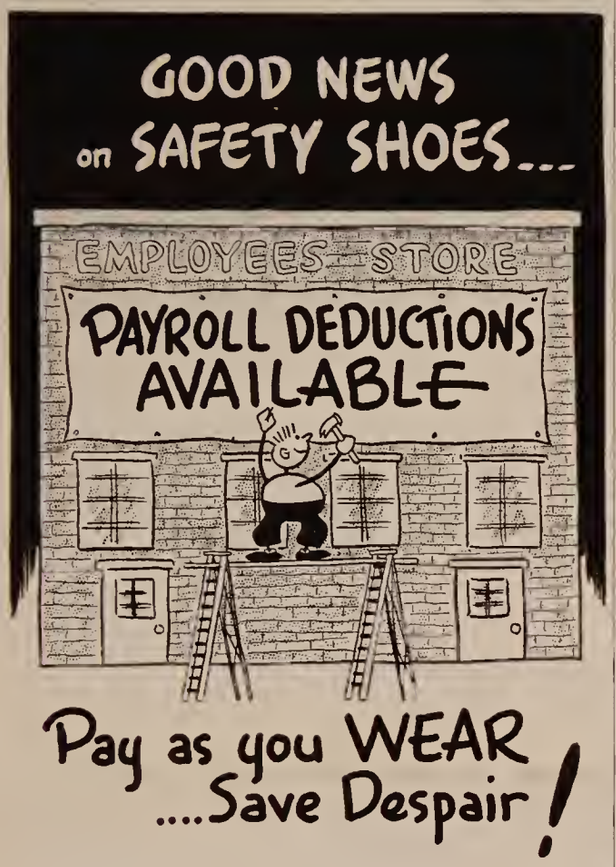
Also planned is a stage demonstration, "Light Sorcery," in which

(Continued on page 4)

Public Invited To View Club's Hobby Exhibition

G-E Employees, Families, Pensioners Can Display

Displays in the G-E Club Hobby Show will be exhibited to the public free of charge, Publicity Chairman Earl Stauffer made known today. Mr. Stauffer felt it was necessary to clarify the fact that, while entries are limited to G-E employees, their families and pensioners, the show itself will be open to the public.



The Hobby Show is scheduled for Saturday and Sunday, April 21-22. Lynn Wingerter, Taylor St., is general chairman of the event. Entry blanks should be submitted to him by Monday, April 15. Practically any hobby may be entered in the show, Mr. Stauffer said.

Displays will be shown from 1 to 10 p.m. Saturday and from 1 to 5 p.m. Sunday. The G-E Club will carry full insurance on all exhibits for the protection of entrants.

FORT WAYNE WORKS NEWS

Volume 34 Friday, March 30, 1951 No. 13

Lou Rotterman ..... Editor
Virginia Molden ..... Assistant Editor
K. Marian Davies ..... Divisional News Coordinator

Too Much Security

Long before Columbus discovered America there was in the Western Hemisphere a "welfare state" which provided "cradle-to-the-grave" security for everyone. It was the empire of the Inca ruler named Atahualpa—located in what is now the South American Republic of Peru.

In this empire, nobody was rich and nobody lacked the necessities of life. They had no money. The Inca and his court had better clothes than the people they ruled but everyone had shelter and plenty of food. Old folks lived, as a matter of right, just as well as they lived when able to work.

In order to keep some people from getting more than their share of goods, the Inca ruler enforced a strict system of controls. In fact, the laws made it almost unnecessary for the ordinary man or woman to think. A young man didn't have to trouble his head about his career, because in childhood he studied his father's trade and went to work at it as soon as he was old enough.

No farm boy ever needed to worry about where he'd find some land to start a home when he married. On marrying, he received enough land to support him and his wife. When they had children, they received more land as they could raise more food.

Every family spent part of the time working for themselves. They also had to work part time for the ruler, and part time for the priests. That system kept everybody busy, but it had some advantages too. When work got slack, the priests laid foundations for new temples, or the Inca began building new palaces or public storehouses.

These public storehouses were kept full of grain and other supplies for the benefit of people whose crops failed or who, for some other reason didn't have enough. Artists, carpenters, masons, stonecutters, and other workers employed on public projects drew rations from the ordinary storehouses.

The Inca's controls were so widespread that a young man didn't even have to choose his own wife. The ruler arranged matches for his royal relatives. The nobles picked wives for their sons. City or village officials paired off the common people when they came of marriageable age.

Largely because the Inca and his advisers did all the empire's thinking, the common people, and even the nobles, lost the power of acting decisively in a crisis. So it happened that, when their ruler was murdered, the whole empire was paralyzed. Governors didn't issue any orders because there was no one above to tell them what to say. Mayors did nothing because no orders came from the governors. The people puttered around aimlessly because no one told them what to do.

And, in the end, that was the end of the first (and quite luckless) "welfare state" in our hemisphere.

Information Clinic

QUESTION:

When will we receive some money back from the MBA Plan and how much will it be for "A" and "B" members? It seems as though all the old claims should have been taken care of by this time and the balance of the money returned to the members.

ANSWER:

Under the provisions of the resolution for dissolution of Class A funds, employees were given until June 1, 1951, to process disability claims. Refunds will he made shortly after June 1 to those employees who were members of the Class A Plan as of Nov. 30, 1950. The amount per share is in the process of being determined at this time. There will he no Class B refunds. Class B (dependents) coverage is still in effect at the Fort Wayne Works.

The redskins are back. Peanuts to you! The peanut machine was taken away two weeks ago. Now we have a new machine with bigger and better peanuts. For one penny eight and one-half or, if you are lucky, nine peanuts will trickle out in your palm—or on the floor. . . . We wish to inform you that the Ebonite pin which Virginia Mollet is wearing is not the result of buying a new bowling ball. Virginia received the bowling pin for a high score of 242. Congratulations. . . . Marcellus Junk has been working in the Engineering Section this week for part of his Manufacturing Training Course. . . . Spring has sprung, at least, according to the calendar. Everyone can look forward to spring cleaning, gardening, and lawn mowing, but don't forget your vacation will soon be here, too.

Manufacturing Trainee

The following G-E employees left the Company last week to enter the armed forces:

James R. Lide, Jr., Wallace K. Harrison, John L. Wyatt and Robert H. Rucker.

OUT OUR WAY

By J. R. WILLIAMS

TALES from TAYLOR

by Harry Parker

Being a gentleman and always willing to extend a helping hand to his co-workers, Pat Monroe received the pay-off—One of the women, mindful of all the courtesies extended her, presented him with an extra large pumpkin pie. He promptly took it home so he and Mrs. Monroe might enjoy it with their evening meal. . . . William Mauger, being quite holiday-minded, dressed himself and his family completely in green to commemorate Ireland's patron saint. They then went calling upon the Brandenburgers. Now, Bill, knowing that you are a good Irishman, we wish to say this, "When law can stop the blades of grass from growing as they grow; and when the leaves in summer time, their color dare not show, then will I change the color, too, I wear in my caubeen. But, till that day, please God, I'll stick to wearin' o' the green." . . . Archie Boren is now converting his lawn mower into a power job. Why he is going to all this trouble is more than we can understand. His lawn is very small and could easily be cut with a hand mower in about ten minutes. Perhaps he is going to mow all of the lawns in Huntertown this summer. He said that it always cost them too much to have his father-in-law do the job. Archie always had to treat him when the task was completed. . . . Harry Kokosa did a very foolish thing last week. He won a large goose. Then he was afraid to take it home, fearing that the little woman would object. He immediately sold it to the original owner for five dollars. You should not have done this, Harry. This fowl would have made a wonderful pet for your children.

We were pleased about the Elex Easter Egg sale. . . . Frances Eiler won the pretty cake donated by "Pop" Castle. . . . Happy birthday to Jeanette Brienfalk, Luella Knoche, Trella Gause and Evelyn Krieger. . . . Jeanette received a hat made of a tin cup and decorated with flowers. . . . Marcille Thomas was ready for Easter with a lavender and white outfit. . . . Joe Jensen has finally made the grade in euchre. Last week, he and George Holthaus skunked Bob Griffin and Harold Hohman. . . . Ida Sinn lost one of her china clippers. She wrapped it in tissue and waited for her dental appointment. When Ida arrived at the office, she found she had an aspirin instead of a tooth. . . . Last Friday we said farewell to Dick Gleim, who left for the Army. A surprise dinner was held for him by Barbara Longbrake, Gertrude Tempel, Irene Mohler, Mary McMonigal, Marge McDonald, Lorena Buuck, Phyllis Lupton, Eloise Stetzel, Violet Brower, Ross Hohbs, Roger Paxson, Enrico Gigli, Frank Beck and Don Gleason. . . . Ethel Carr is wearing a "new grandma" smile. . . . Elma Keiser received a letter from her son who is stationed in Korea. He has been promoted to a technical sergeant. . . . Rachel Jackson thinks getting a different car isn't such a good idea. Something went wrong with the steering apparatus. Rachel received a cut face as a result. . . . Mildred Briggs is in the hospital at Columbia City. . . . Arlene Winebrenner and Luella Masson had a bout with the flu. . . . Ivah Grandstaff took one of Mary Secrist's nerve pills. She thinks it wasn't for her, because it didn't help her. . . . Our sympathy is extended to Ada Herbst and Mary Baker in the deaths of their husband and father, respectively.

Easy To Clean

The porcelain surface of your range can be cleaned easily with mild soap and warm water, according to the General Electric Consumers Institute. Wipe the range off only when the porcelain is cool.

Courtland E. Eylenberg Receives Foreman's Post in Large M-G Div.

Courtland E. Eylenberg has been named Foreman of Maintenance in the Large Motor and Generator Manufacturing Division, according to a recent organizational announcement by R. M. Hartigan, Manager of Manufacturing.

new foreman

Mr. Eylenberg came to the General Electric Company in June, 1928, as an armature worker in Bldg. 4-1. After serving for two years as a beneh hand in Specialty Transformer and Ballast Divisions, he entered the Apprentice School in 1931 and graduated in 1936 as a machinist-toolmaker.

During the next few years, Mr. Eylenberg served as a machinist and a lathe operator in Bldgs. 20-1 and 27. In 1943, he went to the Kokomo Plant to work until 1948, when he returned to Bldg. 27 as a turret lathe operator. He was named leading operator in Bldg. 19-1 in October, 1950, where he served until his present appointment.

Mr. Eylenberg, his wife and daughter live on Winchester Road.

receives promotion

Jack B. Newton New Assistant To Large M & G Div. Accountant

The appointment of Jack B. Newton to the position of Assistant to the Division Accountant, Large Motor and Generator Divisions, was disclosed this week by R. H. Bender, Divisions Accountant.

A native of Columbus, O., Mr. Newton graduated from Miami University in Ohio with a B. S. degree in business administration. Following graduation, he entered the General Electric Business Training Course at Scheneetady, working on customer hilling in the General Office.

Upon completion of the course in 1948, he was assigned to Large Motor and Generator Divisions at Fort Wayne as a staff assistant. At the time of his present appointment, he was serving as internal auditor.

Mr. Newton is a member of the Squares Club, the Supervisors Club and the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The Newtons live at 1018 Rivermet Ave.

Everett Smith Named Assistant To FHP-15 Production Supervisor

Everett C. Smith has been named Assistant to the Supervisor of Production in Fractional Horsepower Motor Div. 15, H. G. Siebold, superintendent, has revealed. Mr. Smith is now located in Bldg. 6-2.

advances in FHP

Originally from Cleveland, O., he graduated from Oberlin College with a B. A. degree and did graduate work at Ohio State University. After graduation, Mr. Smith taught school for several years before joining the General Electric Company in 1941, working on raw materials in Bldg. 4-6.

In 1942, Mr. Smith was serving as a dispateher in Bldg. 4-4 when he was called into the serviee. He spent four years with the Field Artillery, rejoining G-E in 1946. He was then assigned to Central Production Office in Bldg. 18-4 as an expediter of materials for plant expansion.

From 1947 until his present assignment, he was working in FHP Motor Div. 17 at Taylor St.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith live on Alexander Drive.

Neil E. Firestone Appointed Assistant To Mgr. J. F. Eckel

A former Fort Wayne Works employee, Neil E. Firestone, has been appointed assistant to J. F. Eckel, manager of Large Motor and Generator Divisions, according to a recent announcement by Mr. Eckel.

Until his appointment, Mr. Firestone was a staff assistant to C. A. Salmonsen, Manager of Manufacturing of the Large Apparatus Divisions, and secretary of the Apparatus Appropriations Committee.

A native of Fort Wayne, Mr. Firestone joined the Company in February, 1943, in the Production Division of the Fractional Horsepower Motor Divisions at Taylor St.

In February, 1948, he was appointed to the staff of T. F. Garahan, produetion manager of the Apparatus Department at Schenectady. A year later, Mr. Firestone was named to Mr. Salmonsen's staff and to the appropriations committee responsibility.

Mr. Firestone attended Franklin College. Before joining General Electric, he was employed in the automobile accessories business in the Middle West.

Russell Jones Aids Iron Lung Campaign

Russell Jones, Bldg. 19-4, is serving as secretary of the Iron Lung Committee sponsored by the Farm Bureau in Marion, Madison, and Monroe Townships.

The committee was organized to purchase an iron lung which will be donated to the Fort Wayne Fire Department for use in Allen County by the Fort Wayne hospitals.

To raise funds for the projeet, various community groups in addition to the Farm Bureau have joined together to hold an auction sale at 6:30 p.m. Saturday, April 7, in the Hoagland High School Gym. All kinds of home-baked goods, farm commodities and other merchandise, contributed by farmers and businessmen will be sold at auetion. Beginning at 5 p.m., Home Eeonomic Clubs will serve supper in the gym.

Mr. Jones emphasized that everyone who is interested in the projeet is invited to attend. He explained that when an iron lung is purchased by a specifie group, it is available to that group's eommunity on a two-hour notice in ease of an emergency.

"House of Wonders" Featured at Jaycee Home Show in April

Claude M. Summers and the amazing "House of Wonders" Show will be the featured entertainment at the Junior Chamber of Commerce Home Show, April 20-21-22 in the National Guard Armory.

Educational as well as entertaining, the show will be given three times a day eaeh day of the home exhibit.

Mr. Summers, Engineer in Charge of the Works Laboratory, has deseribed tbe House of Wonders as a set of seientifie demonstrations very similar to G-E's travelling House of Magie.

Currently being highlighted are the transmitting of sound on a beam of light; uses of stroboscope light including photography and the explosion of a piece of paper; use of the eosmic ray deteetor in Nucleonie researeh, and the characteristics of high frequency wave transmission.

Marion Halleck and Paul Moore, of the Works Laboratory, will assist in the demonstrations.

Squares, Wives Slate Carnival

A carnival is planned for the annual charity evening held by Squares' members and their wives at 8 p.m. Saturday, April 7, in the Squares Hall, Glenn Seabold, publicity chairman, announced this week.

All proceeds from the evening will be given to the Allen County Parent-Teachers Association Scholarship Fund. Heading the committee are D. C. Reek, chairman of the open house committee, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Olney and Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Thomas.

Mrs. Olney, who is serving as chairman of the Women's Division's part in the program, will be assisted by Mrs. Richard Hamilton, Mrs. Charles Johnson, Mrs. Ray Atkinson, Mrs. John Flickinger and Mrs. Robert Langdon.

All Squares members and their guests are urged to attend. Mr. Reek said there will be booths with items for sale as well as for games of skill. A cake walk is also scheduled.

Elex Spring Breakfast To Be Held April 14

A Spring Breakfast for both shifts of the Elex Club will be held Saturday, April 14, in the YWCA, Thelma Stone, president, announced today.

Breakfast will be served at 10:30 and 11:30 a.m. to accommodate all members who wish to attend. Tickets are $1.25 each and reservations are due Wednesday, April 11. Contact girls or the Women's Aetivities Offiee at Broadway or Taylor St. will take reservations.

Favors will be given to eaeh member at the breakfast. Music will be furnished by the Fort Wayne Publie Library.

NEW CLASSROOM— Workmen are shown preparing a room in Bldg. 16-1 for use by Red Cross first aid and home nursing classes. The Company is cleaning, painting and refinishing the room with a sink and dressing room for Red Cross courses whieh will begin next month.

BUNNY IN HER BONNET—Taylor St. Elex contact girl Gladys Pantazin donned a speeial Easter bonnet for the Elex Easter Egg Sale last week. Her two customers are Bob Heinzelman (left) and Bob Robertson. Gladys didn't need her faney hat to sell eggs to Bob Robertson. An Air Force veteran, he was on the receiving end of a box in the last war.

Stockholders' Meeting

(Continued from page 1)

engineers of the General Electric Lighting Institute will show the step-by-step development of lamps and light sources and tell the story of the company's lighting accomplishments.

Bus tours of a portion of the plant and a luncheon for stockholders are also planned.

Forty-five per cent of the Company's stockholders, or about 112,000, are women.

About 87,000 or 35 per cent are men. Joint accounts, hospitals, banks, insurance companies, and other institutions make up the remaining group of 50,000 stockholders, about 20 per cent of the total.

Geographically, G-E stockholders live in every state. New York, with nearly 60,000 stockholder residents, heads the list, followed by Massachusetts with about 35,000 and Pennsylvania with about 20,000.

Last year, stockholders from as far away as China and Hawaii attended the meeting. Several of the Company's more than 2,000 stockholders who live outside the United States are expected to attend this year.

Safety Shoes

(Continued from page 1)

Employees' Store, reported that a complete and ample stock of safety shoes in various sizes, models and colors are on hand in the Employees' Store.

Unusual shoe sizes not carried in stock may be obtained by special ordering at no extra charge, Mr. Fischbach said.

Foot and toe injuries ranked second in severity to all other factory accidents in the Fort Wayne Works last year, according to Dr. H. W. Garton, Works Physician. Hand injuries ranked first.

Herschel Smith, Safety Engineer, expressed the hope "that this severity figure will be reduced by selling shoes through payroll deduction, thus saving employees the experience of painful and costly foot injuries."

First Aid

(Continued from page 1)

end and beginning of shifts and as evening classes. Classes will be held in Bldg. 16-1 in a room volunteered and re-finished by the Company for this purpose. It is expected that most trainees will enroll for a two-hour class two times a week.

Six employees, qualified as instructors by the Red Cross, will teach first aid classes. They are Clarence Weist, Taylor St.; Ed Cade, Bldg. 20-2; Gene Lordier, guard; John Bastian, Taylor St.; Ethel Schroyer, Bldg. 26-4, and Aris Cagnett, Bldg. 26-3.

All have had considerable experience in teaching first aid and many are instructing similar classes in the community. Those satisfactorily completing the 18-hour program will be issued certificates of qualification.

Open to Men

G-E nurses Lyle Rupert and Veda Orff will teach the home nursing classes which will be open to both men and women. Classes will help prepare employees for care of the sick in the home as well as for civil defense emergencies.

The classes will begin April 10 and 11 in Bldg. 16-1 and will be held from 7 to 9 p.m. They will be limited to 15 trainees per class. At the completion of the 14-hour course, Red Cross certificates will be awarded participants. Anyone interested in this type of instruction should contact the Women's Activities Office at Broadway or Taylor St.

Both courses, developed here and in other industries and organizations over the country, are a vital part of the Civil Defense program. The Red Cross has assumed the responsibility for training some 20 million persons to meet any emergency should the United States ever be subject to an attack.

A special section of the first aid course will deal with protection against and precautions for an atomic bomb attack. Such subjects as organization for Civil Defense first aid, injury types in modern warfare, internal and blast injuries, radiation sickness and the labeling of casualties will be covered.

Aims Outlined

First aid training aims at teaching the knowledge and skills needed for the emergency care of the injured until the physician arrives and also seeks to create an active interest in the prevention of accidents through elimination of causes. Many lives have been saved in the past simply because someone with the necessary knowledge was present at the time of an accident to care for the injured, Mr. Smith asserted.

The standard Red Cross course as taught includes not only first aid study but also some practical work. A list of the subjects covered includes general directions of first aid, control of severe bleeding, wounds and infections, burns, shock, fractures and splinting, common home emergencies, transportation for the injured and artificial respiration.

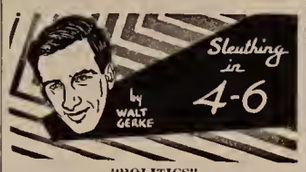
Thirty-one G-E women will complete the Home Nursing course, as taught by Mrs. Orff and Miss Rupert and receive certificates Tuesday and Wednesday April 3 and 4. They are: Lillian Baade, Florence Badger, Daisy Balyeat, Mildred Daley, Lydia Doehrman, Beatrice Eagleson, Fletta Erickson, Edna Fletcher, Anna Louise Froebe, Ruth Fuller, Esther Fagan, Mildred Green, Arlene Helberg, Elizabeth Jacobs, Dorothy Jensen, Thelma Johnson, Mary Junk, Clara Michelini, Clara Bell Nickelson, Rose Onstott, Elisabeth Pickett, Esther Seidel, Hazel Smith, Helen Smith, Olive Smith, Velva Smith, Lois Springer, Avenel Stanton, Priscilla Thrasher, Erma Wilkin, and Marguerite Wyant.

"Holiday Ranch"

(Continued from page 1)

sented Wednesday and Thursday, May 9 and 10, at the Civic Theatre. It is being produced by the G-E Squares Club under the chairmanship of A. L. Johnson, Taylor St.

Tickets will be on sale within two weeks and will be available from members of the Squares organization. Because of the tremendous success of past Squares' musical presentations, Mr. Coughlin advised employees to plan theater parties now. He predicted a sell-out performance for both evening performances.



Reports Available

(Continued from page 1)

In a letter which accompanied each report sent to employees participating in the Savings and Stock Bonus Plan, Mr. Ralph J. Cordiner, president of G-E, pointed out that the Annual Report, while prepared for stockholders, was "sent to you because you have indicated by your participation in the Savings and Stock Bonus Plan that you wish to share in the Company's progress, both as an employee and as a stockholder."

Any employee who is not a G-E stockholder or a participant in the Stock Bonus Plan but who would like to have a copy of the Annual Report, may receive a copy by contacting his supervisor.

The reason most people know very little about what's going on in the world is that this information isn't included in the comic strips.

"POLITICS"

Some time ago, my son inquired,
"Dad, what's a politician?"
"I'm not so sure," I said, "But still
I have a strong suspicion.

"The dictionary says it's one
Who deals in politics,
And that, today is nothing more
Than governmental tricks.

"Now if it's tricks he's dealing in,
I'm sure a politician,
Can very aptly be defined,
As, government magician.

"Magicians with their clever tricks
Deceive the human eye
And that is just exactly what,
The politicians try.

"A politician talks a lot
Magicians do it too.
It helps to draw attention
From the tricks they plan to do.

"Of course, the tricks magicians do
Are meant to entertain.
And when the show is over
No one asks that they explain.

"We know they're underhanded
That's what they're supposed to be,
And we know it's all deception
But that's what we pay to see.

"Now the only thing that's different
In the politician's show
Is the fact that his performance
Costs us all a lot of dough.

"And the part that's so disgusting
Is, we've seen his trick before
And the thing that's so amazing
Is, we call him back for more."

"Well, Dad, it seems he must believe His tricks are soon forgotten."
"They are my son, and that is why,
Our politics are rotten."

—W. L. Whonsetler

DOUBLE OUTPUT: Benny Bennett must figure that if a radio plays good on 110V output it should play twice as good on 220V. At least, he tried to do just that. The result was one badly strained radio. . . . GOODBYE AND WELCOME: The goodbye belongs to Helen Kassen; and Marylis Redding owns the welcome. We wish each of you success. You will have lots of help, we're sure. . . . HAPPY EASTER: Since the Easter Bunny made his rounds, the lunch-carrying boys can look forward to peeling eggs for the next two weeks. . . . CONGRATS: Congratulations to Phyllis Hines on her forthcoming marriage tomorrow. She was honored with a bridal shower by Ramona Ireland recently. We hear she was presented with a clever scrapbook made up by the girls. Good luck, Phyl! . . . KAYO: Jean Reidel wound up and let fly a hard right. It hit Elmer Sherbondy with such force that he left the room spinning like a top. Poor Elmer was just an innocent bystander. . . . CONTINUED FROM LAST WEEK: We promised to tell you the name of Ed Whipple's brand new baby daughter. They have called her Marian. Ed says she is a very good baby—so far. Her weight was seven lb. . . . GOOD PICTURE: Have you seen Julian Stark's color slides of Miss America? They were taken at the Armory when she visited Fort Wayne on the Red Cross Drive. If you have never seen slides taken with the Stereo-Realist and viewed them with the StereoRealist Viewer, you have a treat coming, especially of Miss America, third dimension and all. . . . CONGRATS: Happy birthday to Glen (Gussie) Stapleton Saturday, March 31. What is it now "39," or did life begin already? Too had, Adolph, you're missing out on a lot of cakes. . . . WELCOME: Welcome to Rita Alspaugh, who has been transferred to DC from the Service Division. Rita will work for Mr. Stanbery's group. Also welcome to Ray Solga, new addition to the Aircraft Group. Ray was transferred to us from Bldg. 17-4. . . . DEEPEST SYMPATHY: We extend our sympathy to Mr. and Mrs. K. W. Manecke, upon the death of Mrs. Manecke's mother; and also to Mr. and Mrs. Sam Moore whose brother-in-law died recently.

Good Picture

TWO TICKETS FOR "HOLIDAY RANCH"—Lois Harlow, Bldg. 4-6, is shown receiving her prize tickets from J. P. Coughlin, publicity chairman, for naming the G-E Squares' Revue slated to be held May 9-10 in the Civic Theatre. Mrs. Harlow's winning title was "Holiday Ranch." (see story page 1, col. 1)

Meet the President

We extend our sympathy to Mable Moore in the death of her husband. . . . Jackie, don't you hear well or were you just ignoring Joe Prairie when he was blowing his horn at you? . . . Mr. Schuman said that the first day of spring was the most "unspringiest" day that had ever been sprung. . . . Has anyone noticed Morris Felger's new short-cut back to his test set when the noon whistle blows? It is via the conveyor. . . . The other day Charlie Whittern thought his eyes had gone bad. It was only because Al Riemen walked by wearing that bright tie and socks. . . . Allen Gillium can't seem to make up his mind which he should do, go roller skating or play basketball. . . . Wayne Colvin and family visited in Indianapolis last weekend and enjoyed the basketball game very much. Wayne said, "There isn't anything like a TV set." . . . Second trick would like to thank Casey for that swell speech Friday night. . . . They would also like to thank Lyle Call for sweeping the floor. Lyle, didn't those splinters hurt? Most people use a broom to sweep. . . . Why and how does Virginia Speaks put out the fires in other people's drawers? . . . Latest bulletin on Mary Cordell's one hound is that she is teaching him to sit up. As soon as he is accustomed to the modern conveniences, she will enter him in the dog show. Edna Waterson is the assistant manager. . . . We are glad to hear that Zelma Koyth's husband is improving. . . . Mo Felger, how can you tell Jim Wrisk all those things? . . . A Note of Warning: Anyone who brings an umbrella to work, be careful. Doris Hill may try to give your umbrella to Helen Landrie. . . . Happy Birthday to Frenchie Chilcote and Doris Rinehold. . . . We are glad Garland Ferrell is back to work. . . . The girls had a pot-luck dinner for Doris on her birthday. For some reason, John Collins thinks Doris won't admit having any more birthdays. . . . Lonnie Rockstroh and Helen Studler did a nice job of selling Easter eggs. . . . Adolph, we are sorry you are leaving us, but did you have to come in with that discolored eye? . . . Al Riemen is the proud owner of a TV set. . . . Harry Brattain underwent an emergency appendectomy last week. Hurry back, Harry. . . . In case you see Whitey Lieberenz eating soup and getting thin, the reason is, he is getting his teeth pulled one by one. . . . Will someone please help Lola Brunner cross streets? . . . We hope everyone comes to our skating party March 30 at Roanoke. . . . Lonnie Rockstroh had a very busy week-end. We didn't believe her until we saw her light a cigarette and then throw the cigarette on the floor and then carefully lay the match in her ash tray. . . . Since Vi Schnepp got her new Pontiac, she has had troubles. She couldn't remember how to shift it. She stopped, got out the book of instructions and then went on. Her husband wanted her to bring it back from the station, so she asked the attendant to drive it across a busy street. . . . Homer Smith and Barney Morrell had trouble finding a new kind of iron. . . . Happy birthday to Celeste Farrell. . . . We hear Linda Werling is going to spend the week-end with Sarah Beard so she can get breakfast in bed. . . . Velora Schnepp says her wrench is hypnotized instead of magnetized. . . . Lorraine had a new idea the other morning. She now wears "one hair curler" in her hair. . . . Lena quit trying to make your husband talk when he is sleeping. . . . Lorraine, be more careful where you sit down as you can't tell where some people may leave a wet sponge. . . . We wish Grace Campbell a speedy recovery. . . . We're sorry to lose Jane Eiler. . . . Morris Felger, can't you tell the difference between a cigarette machine and a coke machine? . . . Evelyn Jennings behaved extra good all last week in hopes of the Easter Bunny's bringing her something. . . . Dorothy McGowan's son is home on leave from Florida. . . . Mary Evans, when you go outside to wash your windows, be sure to leave your door unlocked so you can get back in.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Taylor on their new son, Rickey, 8 lbs. 4 oz., born Mar. 20. . . . Nellie Parr went over to "Clems" one noon for pop, then dropped in on the way back. . . . Welcome to our new co-workers Amanda Pautsch, Donald Bock, Arthur Herbst, Wilbur Herzog, Dale Evans, Thelma Creech and Rebecca Creech. . . . We're glad to hear Mrs. William Hoke is now recuperating at her home after her recent operation. . . . Bob Stute and wife were shopping last Saturday for new Easter bonnets, no doubt. . . . Loyal Weist and Doug Heckman suggest reading the "Worry Column." I wonder why? They never seem to have any worries. . . . There has been much speculation as to what happened to Ernie Allmandinger's head. He went to the dispensary several days and had a little patch up on the bald spot. It looks like he should have zigged instead of zagged. . . . Jerry Recht is sporting a new Chevy. . . . Lee Anderson's son is quite an athlete when it comes to high jumping and mile relay racing. South Side should be proud of him. . . . Walter Duhn is boasting of finding the best bargain of his life—a cigarette lighter for one dollar. . . . Birthday congratulations to Elmer Yordy, March 26 and Joe Laisure, April 1. . . . Roy Lawrence is now ready to take your orders for fish. He has moved to his summer home at Hamilton Lake. . . . Thanks to Violet Trammel for her assistance on this column. . . . Belated good wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Karthroll on that new home on S. Anthony Blvd. . . . We're sorry to hear Frank Schlink's two sons have the measles. . . . From all appearances, Bill Hale had a slight accident on his "bald spot."

We wish to express our sympathy to Mabel Englert's family on her recent death. . . . Virginia Ostrowski says that she had quite a time at her house with the measles. . . . Charles Best says he was chief cook and bottle washer at his house last week-end. His wife was ill with the flu. We know you were busy, Charlie, with a small son and baby. . . . Golda Tuck recently went to Bowling Green, Ky., to attend the funeral of an aunt. . . . We wish to congratulate Delores Ginter upon her approaching marriage. . . . Mary Biehl spent Easter with her son and his family in Muncie. . . . Dollie Fodge and her husband went to Warsaw, Easter Sunday. . . . Ida Haupt and her husband motored to Wisconsin and spent the week-end with relatives. . . . Your reporter and family spent Sunday and Monday in Detroit, Mich. . . . We welcome Helen Houser to the Lead Section. We hope you like your new job, Helen. . . . Bill LeCoque went to Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., and traveled 3,100 miles from Saturday until Monday. He thinks he made quite a record. The LeCoque household is absent one member since Bill's stepson, Lyle Call, was married two weeks ago. . . . We wish Art Luessenhop, Mable Moser and Ann Lee a very happy birthday. . . . If you think the winders are putting on a little weight, it is because of those birthday cakes. Press Chaney was surprised with two lovely cakes.

News of the week is Ed Bierely's campaigning for Gene Foster, who is running for councilman. . . . What we'd like to know is, how Rose Liby got that beautiful shiner. We hope it wasn't a door knob. . . . We wish a speedy recovery to Nellie Biltz, who is ill. . . . We are glad to have Carlos Rogers back after his illness. . . . Ruby Allen lives entirely too close to the show. She just can't seem to stay away from there Monday nights. . . . We hear by the grapevine that the girls are going to put George Miller in a little room all by himself to save him from his most embarrassing moments. . . . Lulu Vare has moved into her new home at Williams Lake. Maybe we should go and help her fish this summer. . . . Doris Moon ran a red light in Decatur the other night, but she says that the cop was a nice fellow. . . . Elsie Fabian and Martha Bennett played Easter Bunny to Div. 17 and did a wonderful job of it. . . . George Maloney and Kathleen Clark seem to like to play football with thermos bottles. . . . Belated birthday greetings to Margaret Bishoff, Ruby Debolt and Freida Flaugh. Thanks for the cakes, girls. . . . We finally found a way to get Bob Boone's attention. We call him by his nickname, "Feet." . . . Bob Hosier has a new system of doing his work. He does it by remote control. . . . One of our frame boys brought Oscar Schelper some eggs for Easter. When Oscar was ready to take them home, the Easter Bunny had colored some and hard boiled some. Oscar is still trying to find out where the Easter Bunny really was. . . . Ethel Koontz wishes to thank everyone for what they did during her recent bereavement. . . . Good luck to Emma Vaughn, Wilma Williams, Helen Wagner, Charlotte Stanford and Rachel Mounsey on their trip to Indianapolis this week-end for a bowling tourney. . . . Martha Arnel had a wonderful reunion Sunday with her brothers. They haven't seen each other for 11 years. . . . Ethel Henderickson was out at Foster Park and saw the egg-rolling and clown band. She really had fun. . . . Alma Wells and her husband were up at Otter Lake looking the fishing situation over already. . . . We are sorry to lose Fern Smith and Frieda Flaugh from our group. They are now working for Ralph Keller. . . . We wish a speedy recovery to Alice Yant's mother-in-law. . . . Stella Evans wishes her son and daughter-in-law would hurry and come home so she can see her new granddaughter.

Inquiring Reporter:

"DO YOU THINK THE CITY OF FORT WAYNE SHOULD INSTALL PARKING METERS?"

IDA M. SCHRENK
Taylor St.

"Yes, I think it would be a great help to the city and community. A parking place is as hard to find as a needle in a haystack. The money from the meters could be used to fix up some of our streets."

DARRELL RICHMOND
Bldg. 10-2

"Yes, I believe they might provide more parking spaces by eliminating the wide spaces between cars and because people would move their cars more often. Meters might be less confusing to non-residents than the parking signs now used and the revenue could be used by the city."

MARY McMONIGLE
Bldg. 17-3

Yes, I do think we should have parking meters in Fort Wayne like other progressive towns have. It would help our people know where and how long to park and should mean more parking spaces for everyone."

CALVIN CARR
Bldg. 26-5

"Many cities have used the parking meter successfully and I believe Fort Wayne would find it successful, too. This would also help those who went to park for a short time. I most certainly think we should give it a try."

WILLIAM R. KITE
Bldg. 19-1

"Yes, I think they would be beneficial. Most of the places where they now have parking meters don't have a shortage of parking space because it does away with all-day parkers."

G-E DEATHS

Former Employee Maderas Putt Dies

Word has been received at the Broadway plant of the death of Maderas Putt, General Electric employee at the Winter St. Plant.

Mr. Putt died at 10:37 p.m. Thursday, March 8, in the Methodist Hospital after becoming ill while working.

A veteran of 34 years of service with the Company, he had worked for the past 17 years at Winter St. He joined the Company in 1916 as a tester and in 1929 was in charge of Developmental Tests for Specialty Transformer and Ballast Divisions. He went to Winter St. in 1933 as an assembler and at the time of his death was a repairman for CM compressors and condensers.

He is survived by his widow, Elizabeth, of 5990 Arbor Ave., and his mother, Mrs. Cora Putt, Wolcotville.

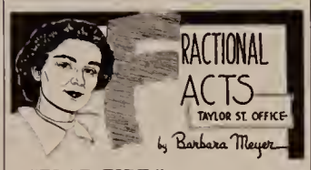
Services Held Here For Herman F. Heuer

Herman F. Heuer, 68, died at 8:15 p.m. Saturday at the Methodist Hospital after a two-year illness.

A lifetime resident of Fort Wayne, Mr. Heuer was employed at the General Electric Company from June, 1927, until his retirement in 1949. During his career at G-E, he worked in Bldg. 19 and Bldg. 16.

His survivors include three sons, Herman, Ronald and Donald; a daughter, Mrs. Ruth Peckham; a brother, William; two sisters, Mrs. Mary Schmeling and Mrs. Sophie Van Horn; two grandchildren and three great-grandchildren, all of Fort Wayne.

Services were held at the Mungovan & Sons Mortuary at 8:15 a.m. Wednesday and at St. Vincent de Paul's Church at 9 a.m., with the Rev. E. A. Miller officiating. Burial was in the Catholic Cemetery.



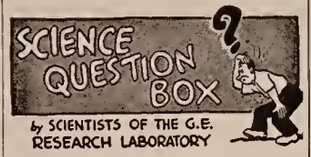
Mable Englert Dies After Long Illness

Mrs. Mabel V. Englert, 44, of Churubusco, died at 3:10 a.m. Thursday, March 22, in the Methodist Hospital. She had been ill since January and had been hospitalized for five days.

Mrs. England had been employed at G-E at various times since 1944. She had worked in Bldgs. 4-4, 4-3, 26-4, 26-5 and 17-4. At the time of her illness, she was working in FHP Motor Div. 17 at Taylor St.

She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Louis Pankop; two grandchildren; four sisters, Mrs. Leslie Eberly, Mrs. Paul Meyers, Mrs. Frank Holser and Mrs. Naomi Yates; two brothers, Ora Shambaugh, Auburn, and Harold Shambaugh.

Services were held at 2 p.m. Saturday in the Methodist Church at Churubusco, with the Rev. Lewis Strong and the Rev. Ray Noland officiating. Burial was in the Christian Chapel Cemetery at Merriam.



"FLAT TIRE," was my reason as to why I was a few minutes late for work on Monday. . . . The Tabulation Section bid farewell to Ella Cox. Ella's forthcoming marriage to Steve Miles is the reason. Mrs. Jim (Dinky) Geesaman, Dorothy Bolens, Mary Olson, and Betty Stutz entertained Ella at Dinky's home on Wednesday with a personal shower. We'll all miss Ella, but we wish her every happiness in the world. . . . A HEARTY WELCOME to Mary Mischler, who is Ella's replacement, and to Betty Taulbee, who is the new second shift key punch operator. . . . That smiling face in N. J. Singleton's section is Vickie (Bickis) Baciu. Vickie, before her marriage, was an employee in the Accounting Section, Bldg. 18-1. . . . The "flu-bug" is out again. This time his victim is Alice Hormann, from Customer Billing. A speedy recovery, Alice. . . . Another new member to the "21-ers Club" is Phyllis Fisher, who becomes a full-fledged member April 1. . . . Thelma Barbeau, Payroll, will be greeted April 4, with a lot of "Happy Birthdays." . . . I shoulda warned her, but, lo, and behold, I did not, and now poor Helen Smith, Sales Accounting, is sporting the first sun-tan—er — a — BURN — of the season. Helen decided to be a loyal G-E employee, so she went to the Employees' Store to buy one of them new-fangled sunlamps. She is now wearing the results of too much over-time. . . . WANTED: To beg, borrow, or steal, one MINE DETECTOR, cheap, for Bill Crane, of Production. William could not locate the paper hole punch the other day, and enlisted the aid of Mae Bain, who, after minutes (?) of searching, told Bill to look on the middle of his desk. . . . The new Test Engineer for Mr. Edgar is Dean Burgemeister, a transfer from A. C. Braun's office at Broadway. Welcome to the fold, Dean. . . . As if one candle on his birthday cake was not enough, Red Raney also received a horn with a bird on it to use on his Chevrolet. . . . Meade Waugh swears that he's just wild about peanut butter sandwiches (whether fresh or not) providing that they have plenty of jelly on them. . . . Spring is really here. Wayne Gilburg is now grooming his dog, Towny, for those forthcoming dog shows. He hopes that he will do as well as he did last year. Remember he won (his dog, that is) first prize. . . . Did you ever want to write a book? Well, B. MacDougal says that he will not only be willing to help you write this masterpiece, but that he will also help you finance—oops—that he'll be your financial adviser for such a venture. . . . Girls, have you sorta run out of ideas for your new spring bonnets? Elmer Haugk has really come up with the latest creation. The ingredients are one old ash tray, (be sure it still has its usual cigarette contents in it), some ribbon, or G-E rubber bands —and PRESTO—a hat that even you wouldn't wear. . . . Did you say that there weren't any WORKS NEWS for you last Friday? Ask Bob Duras why he took such a big stack of them home with him. . . . The Purchasing Section extends a warm welcome to newcomer, Georgia J. Lochner. . . . Bemuddled is Phyllis Ann Westbrook. The Westbrooks moved to a new location the other day, and their new domain is not too far from the old one. Results: Which house is home, P. A.?

$706.82 Raised By Egg Campaign

A total of $706.82 was raised for Elex defense work during the recent Easter Egg sale, Thelma Stone, president of the organization, reported this week.

Funds from the sale, which was conducted throughout the Fort Wayne Works, will be used to send boxes to G-E employees in the armed forces.

On behalf of the Elex Club, Miss Stone expressed her thanks to all club members who contributed their time and energy to promote the projcct and to all employees and friends who so generously supported the campaign.

Q. Is there any sound when a tree falls in a forest where there is no person or animal within hearing distance?

A. The answer to this old question depends on your definition of "sound." To the psychologist, this word refers to the sensation produced in the brain when air waves, or similar vibrations, stimulate the ear and the nerves connected with it. Under this concept, of course, there is no sound if there are no ears to hear. On the other hand, the physical definition of sound refers to the vibrational energy, transmitted by waves through the air or some other medium, which is capable of causing such a sensation. From this viewpoint, the sounds are there whether or not any person or animal can hear them.

Q. When will the next total eclipse of the Sun be visible in the United States?

A. The next, to be seen from any part of the U.S., will occur on June 30, 1954. The path of totality will start in Nebraska, as the Sun is rising. Then it travels northeasterly over parts of South Dakota, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Lake Superior, the Canadian provinces of Ontario and Quebec, and across the Atlantic Ocean to Europe. Along this path, about a hundred miles wide, the Sun will be completely hidden by the Moon, while a partial eclipse will be visible over a much larger area. The farther east one's position, along the North American part of the path of totality, the higher the Sun will be at the time of total eclipse, and the longer it will last.

SHIPPING: The silver bells were ringing for the Carl Meyers (Mrs. Meyers is better known as Emma) for their 25th wedding anniversary. Congratulations to you both, Emma. . . . Buying her new Easter outfit tried every bit of patience that Lenore Hanley possessed. Everything she bought turned out wrong. The shoes were too large, the hose were too small, and a very pretty new skirt turned up with a button missing. Now you'll have to admit that to keep your sense of humor under such a strain would take a lot of patience, but Lenore did it. . . . Thanks to Katie Minehart and her mother (that wonderful cook) ye old Ed has discovered that those lovely things known as dandelions are now a cultivated produce. . . . Our little bride-to-be has set the date. Mary Ann Burke has decided that April 21 would be an ideal time to tie the knot. . . . Newest things in shipping of late are the new hair cuts of Georgia Mechling and Dottie Johnson. . . . MAILING: The big news in Mailing this week was the potluck the boys fixed up for Frank Goetz's 45th anniversary with the G-E and which he was unable to attend because he entered the hospital over the weekend for an extended stay. The fellows had a beautifully decorated cake for Frank and lots of other good things to eat. . . . Frank was very pleased with the raincoat the fellows gave him Friday. He thanks them all again for their thoughtfulness. . . . We have a couple of new members in our gang, and to them we'd like to say "Welcome." They are Jack Woodcox and Bob Sturm. Sorry we didn't roll out the welcome mat for you sooner, Bob. Please accept our red faces as apologies enough. . . . "Cupcake" Fitzgerald seemed burdened the other day with a pair of pink (pardon the expression) unmentionables. Undoubtedly the local laundromats were to blame. . . . Norm Gertz found himself in a rather odd position last week. First, he was without a jacket. Someone, namely Clarence Saylor, mistook Norm's jacket for his and wore it home. Second, the keys to his car were in the jacket pocket on their way home with Clarence Saylor. . . . Best of luck to Jim Stahl, who left the gang to join Uncle Sam's Air Force. We hope you like the Air Force, Jim, but don't forget the gang at G-E.

Apprentice BROADCAST

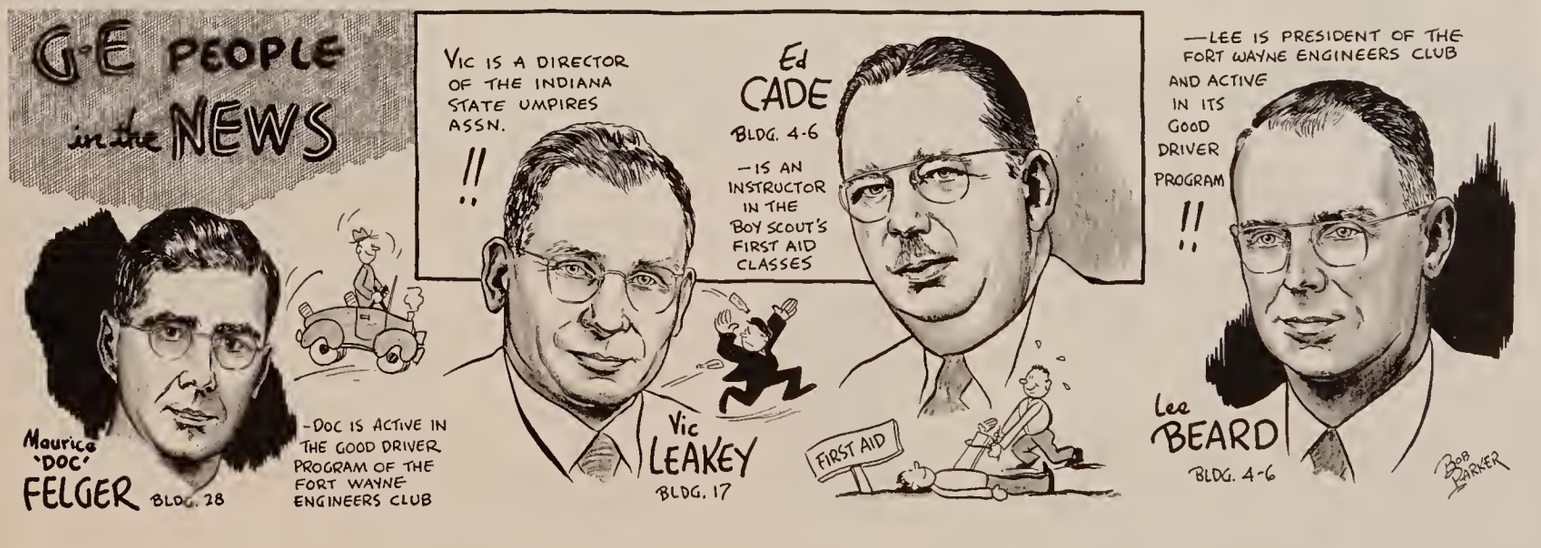
By E. A. Rasor

Through all the bruises of battle, it looks as though Paul Mischo is going to pull through. After wrestling with a paint brush, which since has been disposed of, his second one received a haircut. The test as to whether he was winning or not came later when his hammer got the best of him when coming in contact with his leg. . . . Dick Clendenen is looking for someone to help his wife with the sewing. There are a lot of buttons to be sewn on, especially the way Dick has been "busting his buttons." . . . Karl Hofacker was seen going to the fair last week. According to some of his papers he got back in class, someone was giving him a hint. . . . Oliver Brueck has been with us for two weeks now and doing his share in the Bench Section. Curley, as he is called, lives a mile and a half west of New Haven and attended Concordia High School. Curley is 21. He belongs to the 122nd Aircraft Control and Warning Section at Baer Field. He is also furthering his education by attending IU Extension. . . . What's this we hear about Jack Enyeart and Harry Ecenbarger racing with the kids at the Annual Easter Egg Hunt? They both got caught and disqualified, but Jack's brother came home with a ball bat.

The snow plow has been discarded for the season, and we did not need an umbrella in the Easter Parade. I am sure that the Fort Wayne Easter Parade was just as colorful as the one on Fifth Avenue. . . . To be sure, it was a little windy at times on Saturday. Traffic at the corner of Washington and Calhoun stopped completely while Florence Badger chased her hat which the wind had sent dancing down the street. . . . Happy Birthday to Edna Miller, Bldg. 18-4 and Virginia Wilson, Bldg. 18-1, Accounting. This is the first time Edna's birthday has fallen after Lent—so there was a double celebration Sunday. Helen Gellert, Bldg. 18-2, enjoyed her birthday, Saturday, March 24. . . The Easter Bunny must have been a trifle fatigued. With all the other work he had to do, he found time to bring Glenna Arnold, Bldg. 18-1, Accounting a beautiful new Consonata organ. . . . From the display of beautiful flowers on many of the desks in Bldg. 18, it would seem that the local florists were busy, too. . . . Welcome—to Barbara Hyman, who has been added to the Personnel Division. She replaces Margaret Bell, who is leaving this week to take up the profession of homemaking. Barbara just graduated from Indiana University where she majored in journalism and sociology. . . . Rose Ellen Mayer has been added to the Photograph and Reproduction Section. We hope that the girls will enjoy their new associations. . . . Goodbye—to Charlotte Hallouer, of Mr. Leider's office. She is leaving us this week to conquer new fields. She came to General Electric Co. about 27 years ago, and it is difficult to leave her many friends here. Several of her old-time associates entertained for her at the Berghoff Gardens and presented her with a lovely going-away gift. We all wish you success in your new life, Charlotte, and trust that we will be remembered kindly. . . . Congratulations to Hazel McDougall, Bldg. 18-2. Her eldest son, Robert L. McDougall, who is a senior at Indiana University, has been elected to membership in Sigma Xi, national professional science fraternity. Members are chosen for ability in conducting scientific research. We know that you are justly proud of your son, Hazel, and we are happy with you. . . . Moving—Ruth Maher, who works in the Data Bureau, and her family are moving this week from Huntington to 3621 Reynolds St. in Fort Wayne. . . . Disappointment—Monday was scheduled to be a big day for the Mailing Section. They were planning to help Frank Goetz, Bldg. 6-2, celebrate his anniversary with the Company. It was to have been a big luncheon, a beautifully decorated cake and everything to make it a festive occasion. The guest of honor was being entertained (?) at the St. Joseph Hospital. This visit was also a surprise to Mr. Goetz and not a pleasant one as the group had planned for him. Minta Cole was concerned over all the food that had been prepared. However, I understand that the food was well taken care of by the boys. We hope that Frank will soon be feeling better. . . . "Living in the past has one point in its favor—it's cheaper."

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Paul Ream on the arrival of a new daughter last Friday. . . . Whitie Van Auken wants everyone to know that he doesn't grind coffee beans in the pencil sharpener. He only serves Postum in his new cafe. . . . Roy Taylor had a few words with the law about speeding in his Plymouth. He has decided to buy a Ford so he can hear how fast he is going. . . . When Ray Bailey walked into his home the other night he thought he could smell refrigerator gas. He called an appliance store and they referred him to the Fire Department. The Fire Department referred him back to the store. The appliance store wouldn't help him so the Fire Department said they would check it. When Ray decided to re-check the refrigerator, he discovered that it wasn't gas that he smelled but orange peelings. Did the Fire Department get rid of them for you, Ray? . . . A welcome back to George Lamboley, who has been off for several weeks. . . . We are sorry to hear that Chris Baade cut his fingers rather badly on a saw at his home. Hope you are back soon, Chris. . . . Old Man Flu has caught up with Frank Mann. . . . Joe Stewart is now working at Taylor St. for Arnold Landis. . . . We don't know if Art Everett has passed a driving test for his wife, or if she has put the first dent in the new car. Art is doing his own driving now.

That long-billed bird, the stork, showed his superior speed over the slow-moving Easter Bunny in spreading good cheer and glad tidings. The Noble Dingers and the Joseph Hawks both are proud parents of brand new baby boys. Congratulations to you, Pops and Moms, and the best of luck to the new citizens. . . . Three weeks previous to the birth of Noble's son, it was feared by his co-workers that Noble would have to be hospitalized before his wife. The strain of waiting caused Noble to hate the word, "food." Consequently, he became a living example of what a well-fed male should not look like. From the latest reports, he is rapidly returning to normal. . . . We may have a gourmet in the person of Bill Doell. It was said he carried home one day two pigeon eggs, age unknown, that were found on the window sill. The eggs reappeared a couple days later with the ends pierced and the contents removed. We are thankful to Bill for returning the shell. They came in handy in demonstrating our fondness for a well-beloved member of the group. The day before Easter was Frank Brohman's birthday. To show him our hearts were in the right place, we contrived to fix something appropriate for the occasion. Frank's hat, being handy and of the right size, was half filled with sawdust and straw. The two artistically painted egg shells were laid on this. Topping this work of art was a cake purchased from the candy lady. In the center, a single burning taper was placed. . . . Some fun, eh, Herbie? We received your letter and were glad to hear from you. Write us again soon. . . . This happy Easter season seemed to affect people in different ways. Most ladies and some men went to great lengths to acquire some form of dress that is original or individual. This was not the case with Bill Hoffman. He had an opportunity to step out on Easter morning wearing a hat whose originality could not be questioned. Bill's shy nature would not permit him to leave those rabbit cars sewn to the sides of this nearly-new hat. He admitted they did look natural, held up as they were with wire supports. I wonder if there could be any connection between this incident and Archie Evans butchering those four rabbits he told us about. . . . Dorothy Kell was one sad young lady Good Friday. A few seconds before 11 o'clock, she settled back in her chair in preparation for the five-minute period of silence. When, after several seconds, the whistle didn't blow, she turned to Walter Fritz and asked him why. He, realizing she had her holidays mixed, soon straightened her out. He promised to see "Pop" Castle and ask him if he couldn't arrange for Good Friday to be observed in the same manner as Armistice Day. . . . Harold Hohman says that Walter Buesking is a handy gadget to have on the other end of a telephone, especially when he needs help in getting his car started. . . . We extend our deepest sympathy to George Eshelman, whose brother Ralph died at Peru, Ind.



Notes— From Transformer Drafting

By Melba Jackson

Maurice Cox once again became a grandfather this last week. His daughter had another bouncing boy. That now makes three boys. Congratulations. . . . Tomorrow being March 31 means that Eileen Meyer has only a few more hours until the wedding bells will be sounding over at St. Pat's. We want to congratulate you and hope that you have a beautiful day for the wedding. . . . It seems that Tony Kazelis has a new roommate. It is none other than Ed Ellenburg. Now isn't that cozy? . . . It is good to have Clara Myers back to work, after being off sick a couple of days with an extreme backache. . . . Our Molly Hile has a new name "Dirty Face" instead of the old one of "Baby Face." . . . Now that the Lenten season is over, maybe Eleanore Stoll will make us a batch of fudge. . . . We were very happy to have Mildred Fettinger to join our ranks again last Monday after her long illness. Welcome back, Mildred. . . . I thought the old saying was "Women are so forgetful, especially when they're in love." Well, it seems Ed Ellenburg forgot to go to his eight o'clock class last Monday, and then at 10 o'clock remembered it, now, Ed, what is your excuse; is it because you're in love? . . . We wish to extend our sympathy to Wendell Miller on the recent death of his father, William Miller. We extend our sympathy also to the George Owens family on the recent death of his father-in-law.

Having eaten our fill of colored eggs—enough to last for another year at least, we turn back to our daily labors once again. We hope you all had a very happy Easter. . . . Dick Clancy received an Easter basket from 1 x 50 and was trying to figure out what kind of animal was in it, whether it was a monkey or a deer. . . . Mary Reynolds played Easter Bunny and passed out little baskets. . . . Barbara Ray is driving a brand new Ford. . . . Anna Rohlfing says her kids got a dollar's worth of fun out of the Elex Easter eggs. . . . We are glad to see Maxine Van Allen back on nights for a couple weeks. . . . That was a weird-looking spider Pearl Michaels found in her glove. . . . Amy Dull and her hubby looked quite sharp in the Easter parade in their tailored jackets. . . . We wish a speedy recovery to Maxine DiGregory, who is recuperating from a minor operation. Also to Helen Duff's daughter, Bev, who is ill with rheumatic fever. . . . Barbara Ray was passing around delicious home made taffy. It turned out to be varnish. . . . Martha Bulleit bought the biggest Easter basket she could find for her grandson. Or at least she said it was for him. But then Martha is past the stage for the Easter bunny. . . . Katy Putt, there is a difference between wine and men. At least Dennis Morgan and Mogen David. . . . If you heard a shriek the other night, it was Bonnie Marks and Doris Garr. My, my, girls, here we thought you were out of your baby days. . . . That was quite a bath Aldena Harris got at the drinking fountain. . . . Welcome to Laura Black in 1 x 55. . . . Anyone wishing a pass to Bldg. 6-4, see Anna Rohlfing. . . . Carol Eastes was about to enjoy Barbara Ray's taffy until she found it belonged to Bonnie. . . . Ann Hershberger was collecting coupons for medicine. She thought they were candy coupons. . . . Pearl Michael's got a horse and buggy and a snow shovel. The shovel is to clear out her drive so she can get to work. . . . We will miss Faye Wilson, who is leaving to become a full time housewife. . . . Evaline Best is reducing. At least that is what they say. . . . The next time Charlie Henderson loses his glasses he will know where to look for them. He drove back Saturday looking for them and to his surprise his dog had been chewing on them.

We're very happy to see Paul Noffze and Fred Mennewisch back to work after a week's illness. . . . Dale Horner, who expects to be called to service soon, spent last week in Florida on vacation. . . . There has been a truce signed now. We won't have to get boxing gloves for Ed Taylor or beef steak for Max Kinsey. . . . We're wondering if Tom Linn got his hair caught in a fan or if that hair cut came with a speeding fine from New Haven. . . . There will be a wood drive in Group 2-002, so the boys can pick up the wooden blocks laying around on the floor. This is figured to make it a lot easier for Alva Parker to operate his machine. . . . The popular first words of Bud Garner are, "Did you hear the one about . . .? . . . Arnold Horsemeyer tells us he has been mighty busy this week. In fact, he hasn't had time to cut off anything but material. . . . William (Snowball) Yeiter was complaining about being cold although it was warm outside. They put him to drilling, and that's enough to make anybody warm. . . . We in Group 2-002 have missed Clarence Hoover, who has been off work sick. We're very glad to see him back. . . . This division challenges anyone to match the cheerful disposition, smile and laughter of our Uncle John Coon. We don't think it can be beat. . . . Robert Bunyan, our division editor, has been strutting around with his chest out and a proud grin on his face. He recently became a grandfather. Give him the name of your favorite cigars, men.

Egg Day for Elex turned out to be a big success. Everyone was willing to let each of our boys in service know we are thinking of them. . . . Dick Gidley bought his grandson Jack a cowboy jacket. Dick says that Jack's mother has a hard time getting it off of him when he goes to bed. . . . Louis Wyss is leaving us to go on first Gladys Pantazin looked snazzy in the new Easter hat she modeled last Thursday. No wonder the Elex eggs sold so well. Bob Robertson and Bob Heinzelmann were her able assistants. . . . Walter Amacher is back to work after his recent illness. . . . Ross Strodel gets all excited everytime there is an outside call on the telephone. He is still expecting—that new car. . . . If anyone has an old truck, Bob Robertson would appreciate it if he would park it beside his house. . . . Eugene Garrad is in the St. Joseph Hospital following an operation. We wish him a speedy recovery. . . . Crystal Boyd must have gone a long way looking for Easter eggs over the week-end. She didn't make it in to work Monday. . . . Florence Weimer was off work a couple days last week. We don't know if she was ill or looking for the little rabbit. . . . We wish Nick Derloshon the best of luck on his new job at Winter St. . . . Bob Smith is a Good Samaritan by helping pay for the veterans' hunting and fishing license. He wishes they would have raised them a little higher. . . . George Marshand called on Oral Emerick last Friday. Oral is coming along fine after his recent tonsilectomy. . . . Hillard Moore is off work because of illness. Herman Waters is back to work after being ill. . . . Selma Voigt says she is very put out with some people for not keeping their appointments.

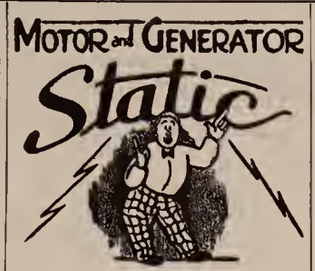
shift. You are going to have a lot of people missing you, Louis. Hope you like your new shift. . . . What happened to Esther Verhaegen's teeth? Just ask her. . . . Marion Potter married Raymond Sarazzin Sunday, March 18. Marion is a winder on Line Four, and Raymond is employed at the Taylor St. plant. . . . Happy birthday to Edna Butler. May you have many more, Edna. . . . We welcome Pauline Stocks back to our group. Pauline really brightens up that end of the line with her smile. . . . We hear Hoopy has that lower set of teeth, and it is too long. That's too bad, Hoopy, hope you get them adjusted soon. . . . Ethel O'Leary, Bldg. 4-3, has entered the hospital for observation. Also on the sick list is Mabel Drummond. Hope you can soon be back, Mabel. . . . We extend our sympathy to Frank Beck, whose father died recently. . . . Marge Radu has returned to work after being ill. It's good to see you, Marge. . . . Mayme Blain suggested that we get a spring vacation like the children. We'd all okay that, but, no foolin', vacation-time is fast rolling around. . . . Does Patsy Auer get excited? She sure does, especially when she places the chair in the wrong place. . . . We were all admiring the lovely Easter basket Kay Dolan brought to Jimmy, Esther Fox's grandson. It contained eggs, candies and candles. We are sorry to hear that Mary Noll was in an automobile accident. We hope you recover soon, Mary.



By Don Clark

Diogenes can hang up his lantern because an honest man has been found in the person of Chet Stoner. He reported finding a penny and asked Chet Reynolds to help locate the owner. . . . Vern Burk broke his expansion watch band, so he bought a new one and engaged John Hensler to put it on his watch. John did the good deed. Instead of throwing the old band away, he repaired it and placed it on his own watch. When called over to see John's "new" band, Vernon didn't recognize it, and told John that he wished he had one just like it. . . . Some months ago Del Stickler and his wife started to raise chickens, but Del was having trouble in getting good eggs. Finally one day, Del was at the feed store and found that sawdust isn't the proper feed for laying hens. After a lengthy sales talk, the feed man sold Del some chicken feed. Now, much to Del's surprise, his hens are laying in good style. He is getting no more wooden eggs. . . . We welcome Kenneth Smith back to work after his two-week bout with the flu. . . . The day shift welcomes Walter Pook in the Grinding Section. . . . Louis Pierper saw a fellow motorist pointing at the rear of his car the other morning. Louis stopped and found his dinner pail was on the splash guard between the bumper and trunk. . . . Die Plant—John Schuchhardt didn't feel so bad about leaving his keys in his car until he couldn't open his tool box. . . . Chet Rennecker, celebrating his wedding anniversary, is cautiously guarding the number of years he has been married. It isn't long, Chet, it just seems long. . . . Bob Roy showed up Monday morning wearing a new pair of work trousers. His apron was partly new, too. His wife had patched a good-sized hole while riding into work. Don't give her a minute's rest, eh, Bob? . . . Adahleen Carnes' sparkling eyes were unusually bright Monday morning. She was wearing a beautiful diamond on that important finger. We hope your happiness will be as long lasting as the sparkle of the diamond in your ring. . . . We thought that glasses were just glasses until Arleen Stanley came in with her new pair. . . . Many people have carried a basket and gathered eggs but Virginia Simon did it backwards. She carried her basket and sold the eggs. We were all glad to help her in the Elex project. . . . Frank Hoffman stopped in the other day looking fine and apparently quite busy in his active retired life. . . . The latest reports show that Herb Mennewisch is our leading fisherman. While fishing at Municipal Beach, Herb had quite an audience watching him pull in one fish after another. . . . The fellow workers claim that eating too many Easter eggs caused Henry Nagel to be four hours late Monday. . . . Claude Bobay got a real set-back last Sunday. They wouldn't let him part in the kids egg hunt. They thought he looked over 16 years old. . . . George Houser's nervous system underwent a gruelling test last week. He had left his car in a service station on the way into work. Arriving at work, George could not locate his wallet. His mind vividly flashed back to several unpleasant experiences with service stations as he headed back to the station and his car. George's fears were taken away, however, as he found his wallet snugly positioned between the back and the seat. It cost him a reward though. He bought an extra delicious malted milk for lunch.

Egg Peddler

Thought For The Week: "Too many of us conduct our lives on the cafeteria plan—self-service only."

WITH THE AILING: We are glad to report that Jack Hively is recovering nicely from his recent accident. Ed Foley, our division editor, was confined with the flu, but has returned to work. . . . "A doleful sound is the hollow reverberation of an idea striking a brass hat." Ronald Coleman. . . . NEVER GIVES UP: If Homer Campbell were twins, things would certainly happen. When Everett Keese left this division, we thought that there would never be another to equal him, but Homer has taken over. Not only has he equalled Everett, he has surpassed him. In previous issues, we told you of our hero's adventures while revamping his bathroom. In spite of Homer's best efforts, that piece of remodeling is progressing nicely. The water pipes are in order and functioning. The tile is applied, and the room is ready for the final trim. It seems the room was painted, and removing this finish was part of the program. Last week-end, Homer decided to complete this work. Armed with his trusty knife and paint remover, he began the final phases of his work. He applied remover and scrapcd, but this operation seemed too slow. Homer found his blow torch and began burning off the paint. This was just dandy until he hit a spot still wet with remover. There was a flash and a cloud of black smoke. Homer and the room took on a hue somewhere between tattle-tale grey and midnight black. He got buckets of water, soap and rags and began cleaning up. According to reports, he should be through with this operation in about two weeks and ready to mess things up again. He never gives up.

The United States spent $90,000,000 for chewing gum one year, according to a statistician. And got plenty of action for its money, if you ask us.

SICK LIST

The following persons were reported on the sick list, dismissed from the hospital and returned to work:

Sick List

Mary Harper, Verl M. Wells, Alma Raymer, Bernice Johnson, Arlene Helburg, Helen Wolfe, Mary Huguenard, Archie A. Zolman, Ernest Baade, D. Joan Wonderly, Mabel Booker, Evelyn DiGregory, Harry Brattain, Frances Roloff, Donald Rush, May Sucher, Dean Smith, Helen Shuler, Ann Smith, Luella Stabler, Naomi Snyder, Marjorie E. Scheiman, Martin T. Wells, Erma Poinsette, Elaine E. Omo, Paul Noffze, Erwin Mercer, Charles Munson, Ray H. Mose, Vaughn D. Hiser, Russell Hinsch, Lillie Felt, Ruth M. Cartwright, Wayne Chrystler, Winifred Coates, Catherine A. Batzner, Mildred Briggs, Alvin Barnes, Victor Nahrwold, Clayton Patton, Joseph Pozner, Blanche Allen, Wanita Koehlinger, Henry L. Wells, Frank Phillips, Naomi Braun, Sol London, Ruth A. Gerhardstein, Henry J. Bueshing, Marjorie Hack-Barth, Alvina Koomler, Alma Ladig, Walter Amacher, Augusta Boehm, Cleo I. Nicols, Goldsby Craig, Ethel O'Leary, Clarence Hoover, Betty Askren, Oral Emrich, Minnie Kendricks, Eva Johnson, Warren Briembaugh, Arlene Winebrenner, Charles M. Waltemath, Kathrine H. Wiegle, Richard Stetler, Villiace H. Lee, Harry G. Billman, Beulah L. Briner, Annie Olry, Russell Maxson, Vincent Heredia, Howard M. Koehl, Lois Edwards, Ervin Mercer, Betty G. Campbell, Christian Baade, Edna Howser, Lorenzo Smith, Luke Shorter, Bruce W. Smith, Robert Tanner, Edward Seymour and Joan H. Sheak.

Returned To Work

Lucille Keller, Chester Price, Golda Radich, Ruth Schmidt, Lena Schaper, John Krauter, Nadeen Bright, Henry Low, Leland Hastings, Garland Ferrell, William F. Brunner, Walter Koehlinger, Fred Gersie, Glenn Fletter, Edward Farrell, Treace Trout, Erwin Richter, Irene Williams, Park Schemehorn, George Waldschmidt, Wayne Abbott, Clyde J. Carey, Betty Zollars, Andrew Bordner, T. Dollie Fodge, Fred Majors, Dorothy A. Monroe and Marian Tarkington.

Send all ads to WORKS NEWS office, Bldg. 18-3.

"Lost" and "Found" articles must be cleared through the Plant Protection office, Bldg. 10-2, or the Plant receptionist, who will place the Ad-let and otherwise advertise the article.

Only one ad per employee may be inserted. Each ad must be limited to 20 words and cannot be repeated. All articles mentioned must be personal property of the employee. Ad will not be accepted unless accompanied by the name, pay number, and division of the employee. No works building or telephone number may appear in ad, only the home telephone number or address.

No ad will be received over the telephone.

CLOSING DATE

Monday Noon, April 2, 1951

LOST AND FOUND

LOST—Light brown billfold containing G-E check stubs, several twenty, ten, five and one dollar bills, driver's license, pictures and other papers with name Clara Heaston on them. Lost between Bldg. 4-4 and Fairfield parking lot.

LOST—Lince yellow gold wrist watch with gold stretch band. Left in men's second floor rest room at Taylor St.

FOUND—One key and a penny good luck charm. Found in Bldg. 4-1.

FOUND — One maroon-colored woolen glove. Turned in at Bldg. 18-Gate.

FOUND—Maroon and gold-colored ball point pen. Found in Rockhill parking lot.

FOR SALE

1941 CHEVROLET — Two-door, new paint, two heaters, motor overhauled, tires fair. A-60951 between 4 and 6:30 p.m.

G-E MONITOR TOP REFRIGERATOR—Seven cu. ft., good condition. H-76035.

MAJESTIC FURNACE—Used gas stove, high oven. New Haven 4085.

BOSTON TERRIER—Two and a half years old, not mean, nice pet with children. H-60885.

TWO-PIECE MAPLE LIVING ROOM SUITE — Good condition, reasonable. A-66043 after 5:15 p.m.

KIRBY SWEEPER—With attachments, good condition. H-67220.

2¼x3¼ SPEED GRAPHIC CAMERA—Flashgun, rangefinder, focus spot, pack adaptors, carrying case, six film holders, $170. A-57322.

G-E DELUXE REFRIGERATOR — 1940 model, six cu. ft., excellent condition. H-66705.

1936 G-E REFRIGERATOR—Flat top, sealed unit, A-1 condition. E-6226.

FLEETWOOD MEAT CASE—Sanitary scales; Fridig-Mist vegetable case; small fish case, like new. A-95413 after 4 p.m.

TRAILER HITCH—Adjustable, $3; Silex electric coffeemaker, never used. A-65015 at noon or after 5:30 p.m.

RUGS—Floral design, 7x9 and 8.8x10.6, $8 and $12. H-65681.

RUG—9x18 rust-colored and two matching throw rugs, $30. K-2223.

WINDSHIELD VISOR—1947-1950 Kaiser or Frazer; new tire and tube, 7.10x15, $23; Stainless steel wheel covers, 15 in.; Furnace regulator. A-40641.

PRECISION 844 MULTIMETER — Ranges to 600 volts ac-dc, 12 amps, 10 meg, nearly new, $37.50. Columbia City 2015-R after 7 p.m.

HORTON WASHING MACHINE—$20, single ¾ wooden bed with box spring and innerspring mattress, $20. A-75442.

LADIES PLAID SHORTY—Size 14-16, $3, good condition; black long coat, $5. E-36264.

PUNCHING BAG—With gloves, like new T.B.L. Trainers bag. H-60885.

ONE COMPLETE SET OF 7.60x15 SUPER CUSHIONED FIRESTONE TIRES —New, reasonable. 146 E. State after 6 p.m.

HOUSE TRAILER—29 ft., sleeps four, apt. range, 6 ft. refrigerator, shower, ideal summer or year-round home, sacrifice, A-0910.

SIMMONS DOUBLE DECK BED SPRINGS—Full-size. Very good condition. H-35114.

WANTED

ACCORDION—Beginners, to rent or buy. H-02093.

TO RENT, 5-6 ROOM HOUSE—In or near city. 4100 Newport Ave.

TRICYCLE—H-39805.

FOR RENT

ROOM FOR WORKING GIRL—Home privileges. H-50691 after 6 p.m.

SLEEPING ROOM—Clean, semi-private bath, very close. A-79305.

THANK YOU NOTE

MANY THANKS—For all of your kindnesses to me during my recent illness. August J. Delagrange, Machinist, Bldg. 10-1.

TRANSPORTATION

WANTS RIDE—From Lakeside to Broadway G-E. Maurice E. Jacobs, Bldg. 6-4. Works from 7-3:30. A-49103.

WANTS RIDE—From vicinity of Hessen Castle to Taylor St. plant. Imo Pitts, works for Eugene Fosnight from 6:48-3:18. Extension 2558.

WANTS RIDE—From Columbia City to G-E Broadway. Works in Bldg. 19-2 from 7-3:30. Dean King, Jr., extension 2251 or 3110M Columbia City.

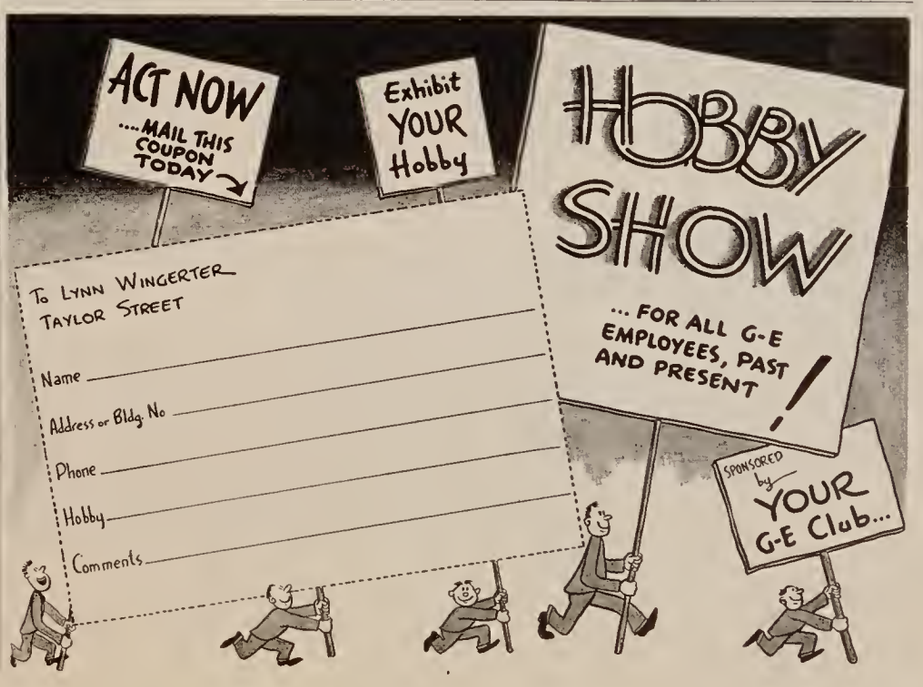
WANTS RIDE—From Bluffton to G-E Broadway. Mary Gilliom, Bldg. 6-2, works from 8-5. Bluffton 462.

WANTS RIDE—From North Manchester to Broadway. Betty Hartzler, Bldg. 26-5, works from 7-3:30. Extension 488.

Mickey McDougal saw a ghost. It seems as though Mickey awoke and thought he saw the ghost of the former owner of his home. Mick is sure worried. . . . Birthdays this week include those of Mickey McDougal, Rosemary Miller, Lorena Keller, Zula Holloway, Grace Fisher, Esther Harmon and Alton Andrews. We congratulate the entire class and wish them all the happiness that comes with growing older. . . . Hubert (Yub) Omlor has been raising a hen to have eggs for his on Easter. He had the eggs to substantiate his story and proceeded to pass them out to his friends. The only thing that I would like to know is how the hen was able to lay colored eggs? . . . Alice Burdg has given up trying to be a second Walter Winchell. It is believed that she missed some of her predictions. Yes, Alice, Dorothy has forgiven you for divulging her pet secret. . . . Congratulations to Ethel Schlickman on her 25th anniversary with the G-E. Everybody knows Ethel and also knows that she is a very nice gal. We are very happy that she has been able to stay with the Company for 25 years. Again we say, "Happy anniversary, Ethel." . . . Pat Huser, the energetic little tyke, really went all out last week on the art of hair styles. Pretty nice, and the bangs are so becoming. . . . Did you see the picture that Bill Huston was showing off his daughter Frances? . . . Rosie Raudenbush really made a Corrigan (wrong way) jump the other eve. She thought she was getting into Ralph Jackson's car, but it wasn't. . . . Now, Cleva Weaver comes up with something new. It seems that it was one of those cold nights a week ago and Cleva didn't have any pajamas. They were all in the laundry, so she proceeded to grab her dad's longies. Cleva says that they were real comfy. . . . Dorothy Ketrow Schumm has decided that she can do more at home getting meals and taking care of her hubby and father, so she has severed her connections with us. Sorry, Dorothy, you had to leave but come and see us sometime. . . . Miriam and Ed Meyers are the proud grandparents of a baby girl. Hi, grandma and grandpa! . . . Loren Gerber reports that a cruise to southern points with the Naval Reservists was cancelled. . . . Jane Harding returned to work after several weeks of illness. . . . The G-E Club is sponsoring a bowling tourney for G-E men and women in singles with a handicap. It has aroused the interest of many of our local bowlers. Applications are coming in fast, so why not join us and have a lot of fun? . . . We hear that Harvey Hileman is looking for a better dog house. The one that he now has isn't very satisfactory in cold weather. . . . It's a girl, a pink bootied tax exemption, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Gehrig. The grandparents, Tibby and Annabelle Gehrig, are planning to help spoil the baby. . . . Several changes have been made along the winding lines. Grace Foor, who has been working on L. Meyer's Line, is now working for H. Krueckeberg. . . . Marjory Shook has also been transferred to the Winding Section. . . . Doris Paxson Merriman, one of our winders, is leaving us to go to Fort Wayne. We hate to see you go, Doris, but hope that we will be able to follow you through the NEWS. . . . Mina Lampy must be a good friend of the Peter Cottontail family. One evening recently, she found Mrs. Cottontail decked out in her finest raiment in her locker ready to present her a box of candy. . . . Frances Reidenbach has returned to work after several weeks of illness. . . . On our list of ill people this week, we have Ruth Eckrote, Ruth Koos, Eloise Noll, Hez Cochran, Grant Fry, Charles Morgan, Clyde Beery and Goldie Roop. . . . Our sincere sympathy to Aldine Luginbill upon the death of her mother.

6-4 AIRLINERS

By Joan Lindeman



We hear that our "ace" bowler, Ralph Lee, had one of his best games in five years at the Hammond tournament. Nice going, Ralph. . . . Selma Hans' husband was home on a seven-day leave from the Navy. His time was spent with the children at home, as they have the measles. . . . Birthday greetings to Johnny Wetzel. Johnny received a birthday box full of lots of surprises last Wednesday from his packing helpers.

> Roses are red,
> Violets are blue,
> We want to wish you
> A Happy Birthday, too.
> —Selma, Bernice, Dorothy, Joan

We're all sorry to see Roy Porter leave us. He goes to Bldg. 4-4 on second trick Monday. Good luck, Roy. . . . Happy birthday to Betty Thompson Easter Sunday. She was going to celebrate Saturday night, but the question is—who with? . . . Ask Helen Riblet if you ean watch her lay an egg? She gives them away for gifts and they're nice pretty ones, too. . . . They call him the "Hadacol Kid," because Don Le Master must take a lot of it to have all that energy. Or is it his "blue-blood"? . . . Doris Boger has three-day measles. Phyllis Marquel-ing feels that she has inherited them and now we all wonder if maybe the entire floor will be quarantined. . . . Congratulaitons to Patty Alles. Have you seen that flash on her finger? It was a birthday gift of last Friday. . . . Our Easter Egg gal, Millie Daley, made a tour of the floor with a pretty basket on her arm selling colorful eggs last Thursday. . . . We're sorry to hear that Peggy Bahde and Marian Mills have been on the sick list. . . . Walt Richardson has been trying "Hadacol" and "Serutan" for pick-ups in health with little success. What are you going to try next, Walt? We hear it should do the trick. . . . Judy Sparks belongs to that knitting class. She knitted a scarf and rushed it home to wash and iron and brought it back next day to show everyone. . . . Eleanor Whitehouse walked home from work last Monday and Tuesday and couldn't make it back Wednesday. . . . Welcome, Jon Hendrickson, a newcomer on the 25 frame. I hear that he is a confirmed bachelor, girls. . . . Evelyn Kissinger brought in too many hot dogs for lunch last Friday, but finally sold two of them to Delores Schrinbeckler. . . . Don Burns and Bob Kerr better take time out and learn how to play euchre. They took the worst disgrace in all cards, a skunking. . . . Florence Weber spent the week-end in Richmond. What's in Richmond besides the Nut House? . . . Erwin Zollinger has been made leading operator on the 25 and 40 frames. Congratulations, Erwin. . . . Lubadell Dowden had better remember the air hose around here, as she jumps a foot every time she accidentally leans against one. . . . What happened to Erwin Zollinger's apron when he loaned it out last week? . . . Bob Burns wondered if the WORKS NEWS would have time to print news that I collected on Friday afternoon for Friday's issue. . . . Johnny Wetzel says he will marry when he finds a woman with a million dollars. . . . Mel DeLeve had better remember what he orders, as he finds it a bit embarrassing when he forgets. . . . Elmer Koehlinger came in all dressed up on Good Friday with one new Easter shoe on and one old work shoe on. Elmer was quite put out about it when he discovered his mistake. . . . "Moe" Satterwaite, our new addition from Taylor St., came up with one of his best series of the season—imagine a blistering 417! "Windy" Boester came up with an exceptionally high score of 422. Nice going, fellas!

Early one morning, Chuck Boyce was seen having a huddle with one of the members of the local traffic department members on Clinton St. Could it be Chuck was trying to get in on that ten-per-cent club? . . . There have been several changes in the group lately. William Siler, of the oiling crew, has been replaced by Galen Gillenwater. Bill went to General Service Division at Broadway. . . . Arnold Engle has left the group for Division 13. Congratulations and good luck. . . . Russ DeVeny was given a new title for his job when Arnold left. . . . Boh Maggart and Ted Warner are working on a switch-off again. . . . Congratulations to John (Red) Braden and the baseball club. We all hope you have another successful season. . . . John Driver is sporting a new tool cart of special design and color. It's a real first class job. Not to be out done, Gurney Lindley had his cart refinished a bright red. To make it a first class job, he will have to have a siren mounted on it. . . . Larry Beatty tried a new tooth paste recently. He said it really made a good lather, but from now on he will just use it for shaving only. It's funny how much those tubes look alike that early in the morning, isn't it, Larry? . . . Now that nice weather is just around the corner and Ernie Brown has taught the boys all he knows about the euchre game, he is going to take in some of the nice weather at noons. . . . Arnold Engle and George Bartle had quite a race one night. But, I haven't been able to find out who won. . . . As we near the end of the bowling season, I want to pass on this bit of news. It happened that the treat frame was up and Paul Boedeker was high until it came time for Justin Heaston to roll. He picked up Boedeker's ball and said, "I ean even best you with your own ball." He did just that, too. . . . It looks like we are about to have our overhead lights washed. If the two Joes do a good job like they usually do, we are due for a nice light place to work.

Repair and Return wishes to thank Bertha Burnau for her splendid contribution for our end-of-the-year party. It was very kind of you. The Arnold Bienz family says, "The cake was surely delicious." Thanks again, Bertha. With people like you in our division, we'll have a wonderful Christmas party. . . . Speaking of Christmas, if you should see a light flicker on and off of George Selby's face, it's not Rudolph-the-red-nose-reindeer. It's the trick cigar, given to him by Mary Ann Gressley. . . . We welcome back June Allgeier, who had been confined to bed. She had a very bad cold and had a terribly high fever. We do hope those cold shots helped June. . . . When Paul Winters found that nest of eggs Peter Cottontail left for him in the corner the other day, Paul immediately changed his plans on going to Foster Park with the rest of the kids last Sunday. With the price being so high on eggs, Paul planned on finding his this year. . . . When asked who his helper was a few days back, Dal Smith would only say, "That's my boy Raynum." Dal, did you say Raymond or Ruin-um?

Guess Who?

. . . Whenever we speak of Easter, one gets the spring fever. Already it has hit our foreman Bill Putt. Bill has his canna bulbs in fine sprouting shape. He is just itching to transplant them outside. . . . We think Clarence Roth has the spring fever, too, as he was overheard making the remark, "If he was smart, he wouldn't be working for a living. At least inside." . . . Clarence Didier wants to take Lloyd Runyon in hand and teach him a little about the game of tonk. Clarence thinks Lloyd pulls too many boners without his assistance. . . . Our leading operator, Clara Heaston, certainly had the bad luck last week. She lost her billfold containing nearly one hundred dollars. If it is found, kindly return it to Bldg. 4-4 Repair and Return Section or to Mrs. Heaston, 2056 Thompson Ave. . . . Louie Pflueger's children nailed him down last week for a bigger allowance. They politely told him it was a very miserable small amount compared to their friends and he should do something about it. We haven't heard the results, but knowing Louie as we do, he probably kicked in. . . . When Jim Carey asked Ruth Lange what she was doing with all her money, she replied that she was keeping it and that she wasn't getting married so some lazy bum could get his hands on it. . . . Dorthea Swank has a new place in which to start her hot beds for tomato plants. She planted some seeds in a box and placed it in her bedroom. A little mouse got into it and ate all the seeds. . . . Linnie Boy Rodemaker is all hopped up about baseball already. His team has that new sponsor. You can bet he'll be right in there pitching to make it a successful season. Anything to get to see a free game. . . . Voyce Brumbaugh wishes to thank everyone in the section for so generously contributing to the Elex Easter Egg sale. It was for a very worthy cause, and we know that all our people in the armed services will appreciate your help. . . . FAMOUS LAST WORDS by George Ellison: "Just what do you think they got me back here for, if it isn't to straighten out New Haven's gift to the Repair and Return." . . . In case you haven't guessed it, our bathing beauty is none other than H. N. Mettler.

Before Fred Adams left for Taylor St., John Figley overheard Fred say that he had ten or 11 years before retiring. After John looked Fred over from head to foot, he said, "You'll never make it." . . . We wonder where Ray Truesdell's mind was when he dropped the commutator in the glyptal. . . . Easter was very expensive for Doris McAfee. She lost her wallet. . . . Eileen Brown spent Easter in Decatur. . . . John Moore has been in a daze lately. Could it be that your heart is turning flip flops? You know; it is spring! . . . The happiest man is Bill Widefield. His children and grandchildren were home for Easter. . . . Faye Folk Wilson is leaving us to be a full-time housewife. Here is wishing you a lot of luck and happiness. . . . Frieda Knoche had a stiff neck last week. She said she turned her head to see if she was parked all right when she got the catch in her neck. . . . We wonder if Roger Williams has a kink in his back. He keeps stretching and trying to bend over backwards. . . . Audrey Brindle was working so hard the other day that her mallet slipped and she hit herself on the nose. . . . The new candy, coke and cigarette machines in Bldg. 4-4 are going to be right in front of the tool crib. Vern Amos is very happy about it. Just see how many pretty women he can whistle at! . . . George Worley had a birthday March 29. Here are some of the April birthdays: Hazel Martz Niswonger, 11; Ann Hershberger, 8; Jessie Hamilton, 12; Faye Folk Wilson, 26; Ilene Lantz, 20, and Eileen Brown, 30. . . . Bill Charleston got his Buick from the repair shop. He says, "It has a wooden bumper now!" . . . Clarence Rump is going to court! He is on the jury and the federal grand jury at Hammond. . . . Hazel Niswonger was disappointed that she didn't get any colored eggs, but she never gave up. She met a night girl coming in as she was going home and she got three eggs! . . . Butch Claymiller is getting ready for fishing season. He painted his boat. . . . Chauncey Buell is driving a new Buick. . . . David Dulin is on the sick list. . . . Helen Boedecker has been on the sick list. A speedy recovery is our wish for you both. . . . Josie Chevarri had an embarrassing moment when her zipper broke on her skirt. The good old safety pin came to the rescue. . . . Dorothy Clark took advantage of the mild weather, and her husband tried to teach her to play tennis. She is now creaking in the joints! . . . Lola Rowe couldn't find her glasses until she accidentally sat on them. She is looking for her scissors. . . . Fern Painter was probably the envy of the Easter paraders. Ellen Bauer and May Richart designed a gorgeous hat for her. . . . Mary Garrard really splurged. She bought two dresses and a suit. . . . Clarence Renschler took his children to the Moose Egg Hunt Easter Sunday. . . . Martha Scherzinger received a beautiful jonquil corsage from the office girls in Bldg. 4-3. She also received several other Easter gifts from her co-workers. . . . The Easter Bunny spent some time laying eggs and cigars on Merle Keesler's desk. He was very grateful to the bunny.

Top Floor TOPICS

Bldg. 26-5

By Jack Lea

Recently, at the local Vetenrans' Hospital a six-girl chorus called the Modernettes put on a show. Pat McLaughlin is a member of the group and does a fine job of tap dancing. At the conclusion of their performance, the audience was invited to participate. Harold Hosse almost broke his neck getting up on the stage. A so-called broom race was held with the winner to receive a prize. Harold didn't win and is still complaining about losing the prize, which turned out to be a kiss from each girl. . . . Francis Gnau is going to participate in a style show and model a strapless formal. Lucy Keller is loaning him the formal. I understand Ray Feller has some vital accessories to go with the outfit. . . . Fay Oldham has now been added to our list of grandmothers. . . . Bessie Johnson is taking reservations now for television seats. Bring your own refreshments. . . . Bessie Johnson, Ann Perlman and Pauline Bauer celebrated birthdays recently. . . . Anyone eating his lunch out, keep an eye open for sugar lumps. Bring them in to Florence Bieber, who, we hear, has a horse that goes for sweet stuff! . . . Mary Ann Miller has left the employ of the company to wait the arrival of a new member of the family. Mary Ann's co-workers gave her a number of gifts including blankets, toys and a new kind of Easter basket. The basket was made up by Betty Niedermeyer and can be used in several ways around the house! . . . Three more people have joined us on top floor. They are Pearl Eger, Faye Nichols and Ernie Kern. . . . There were a couple of red faces up here the other day. Dick Pierce's wife phoned asking for Dick. Louie Sordelet thought she was asking for Dick Hurst, and told her Dick had reported in sick. Louie went so far as to check at Dick's work bench to see if he was in. Louie was patiently trying to explain Dick wasn't working and Mrs. Pierce was impatiently insisting that she knew better! When the mixup was finally cleared up, Dick Pierce had to do some apologizing on that phone! . . . Pat Geschwell was supposed to come in last Monday morning decked out in high heels and false eyelashes. A case of the flu prevented Pat from showing up until Wednesday morning. During the day, she at one box of cherry flips, one pound of gum drops, one half of an apple pie and a pint of ice cream! . . . I understand that Colonel Pohler had the following order posted on the bulletin board during his stay in the army:

If it moves, salute it!
If it doesn't move, pick it up!
If it's too heavy to pick up, paint it.
Olive drab, put barb wire around it.
And set up a 24 hour guard!

Give her one dozen roses: Anyhow, it's rumored that a gal named Lucy got some roses from a guy named Freddie last Saturday night. . . . Second trick girls held a potluck for those that were transferred. . . . Mr. and Mrs. Glen Geist were given a wedding reception by Kenny Fisher and his wife. They wish to thank the Fishers and all the folks for the wonderful presents. . . . A person can't feel grouchy early in the morning when Barbara Shipman gives out with that pleasant smile and good-morning!

George Hahn was seen combing his hair recently. It took him three minutes to get it the way he wanted it. What did you do, George, spend a minute on each hair? . . . Easter was last Sunday, and most people had their new "bib and tucker" to wear. Opal Bates showed some of the girls her new hose. The only trouble with them was that they didn't match her new Easter suit very well. . . . The fellows thought Carol Sellers was blushing the other day. She put the sun lamp on her face and didn't set the alarm. She fell asleep. When she finally woke up, she really had a sunburn. . . . Daisy Tannis, Bldg. 4-2, helped out in Bldg. 4-1 for a few hours one day last week. The inspectors wish she could have stayed longer. . . . Clarence Rosselot had a very happy smile last week. His daughter, her husband and two small daughters arrived from Kentucky to spend the Easter holidays with him. . . . Avery Spayde and Bill Tennison have formed a "duet." Their favorite song is "Ring Around the Rosie." . . . Harold Boehms has nearly all of his equipment for his new job on the Plant Protection Force. A bon voyage ceremony was held last Tuesday and Ed Hines made the presentation to him of a cap pistol, a billy club and a star. Harold was somewhat reluctant to receive these gifts, as he was hoping for a pair of handcuffs to put on Ed Hines. . . . Robert Sprinkle, from down south in Huntington county, officially opened the spring season, when he came to work with the ear flaps on his cap tied up. . . . Fred Higgins has an article and picture describing a modern, up-to-date goat farm. He may desert his partner, Clarence Rosselot, and enter full time with goats and calves. . . . Ed Hines is a firm believer in people having hidden talents. This was proven one week-end when the expert lettering ability of Avery Spayde showed up at his machine. . . . Fred Pyle had better keep his eyes open in the mornings or match his stockings the night before. Fred came to work Monday morning with one red and blue plaid sock and one plain green one. . . . There can be no doubt about spring being here because Ed Arthur, Bldg. 17-1 stockman, has finally found bolts to put on his new auto license plates. He has taken the car out of moth balls for the usual summer run.

HERE'S TO A HAPPY RETIREMENT—Walter J. McCormick (right foreground) is shown receiving a retirement gift from Vern Castle. In the backgrouund are his his co-workers in Bldg. 17-2. Mr. McCormick is now on vacation and will retire April 1. He first came to General Electric April 14, 1926, as a punch press operator in Bldg. 4-1. Since that time he has worked in Bldgs. 4-1 and 17-3. He is now a broach operator.

SINCE OUR ABLE, beloved, reporter (A. A. Hambrock) decided to take his third week of vacation, some of his closest pals saw an opportunity to repay him for the blasts of publicity he so often cannonaded in our direction in this column. Therefore, we decided to really give him a "write-up" this week that he should remember to his dying-no-pension-day. However, as gentlemen, we shall refrain from such retaliatorial action on our part and repay hurts with kindness by helping this column stay alive during Al's much missed absence. How the Division as a whole will manage to struggle through five days without Hambrock's guiding hand is a question which is bothering everyone of us from top management on down. How we shall miss his cheery smile, his sage advice, his desperate search for news items, etc. All this we shall badly miss, Al, dear old boy.

POEM

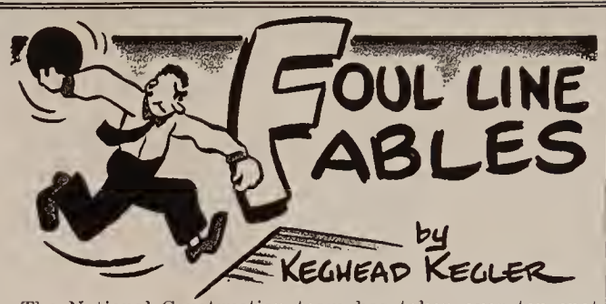
Don't worry and live under tension
Remember, you will get a nice pension.

O. DOHERTY TELLS US that he had no time to gather news items since he was too busy returning empty pop bottles to the Kroger Store. . . . ATTENTION, ALL DUTCH LUNCH ADDICTS: The "Connet's" have moved into their new home. The doors will be open 24 hours daily and a delicious ensemble of Dutch luneh awaits all well-wishers. The line forms to the right, please. . . . HAND CREAM: Leo Elward is using a new kind of hand cream. It has the distinct odor of Limburger cheese. Bud Morris cannot figure out how this happened, or can he? . . . HARRY JONES has a new cold weather car starting solution. He is piling boxes around his car instead of corn fodder. . . . ROBERT DRESSEL cannot cease talking about his electric train display. He has 23 eomplete trains which will run continuously for two weeks, one day, two hours, and nine minutes. Then, it cracks up. He can't figure out what makes them crack up at the same time. . . . HEY, WIMPY! You better look in your coat pockets and take an inventory of all eontents because it has been reported to the Humane Society that you have kept a live mouse prisoner for days without taking him out at lunch time to feed and sustain the poor thing. We know you are a great lover of animals, but they can't live on affection alone. Feed them onee in a while. After all, your WORKS NEWS reporter, now on vacation, put it there. . . . THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK: You can't have your cake and eat it too.

Insulation News

This is a speeial appeal for some person to donate a pint of much-needed blood to a very weakened column reporter. A special type of hlood is needed. Someone with a bit of printer's ink in his veins would do a world of good. If you have a story boiling in your veins, especially if it has an human-interest angle, you would be a very good donor. If your columnist is to survive, this is a most urgent appeal. . . . We extend our sympathy to Roy Hout for the recent death of his grandmother. Roy and his family planned to attend the funeral in Robinson, Ill. The trip proved to he eventful. They had to travel over a washed-out road and nearly drowned out the car. The day after they arrived, Roy's little girl came down with the measles and had to be returned home. . . . We hope we can be safe in saying that the ice and snow have passed, but some people don't need ice to take a tumble. The newest member of our clan to fall flat is Kathryn Ragan. She made a trip to Yoder to report a change in plans for Saturday night. When she got out of the car, down she went. Fashion note: Mrs. Ragan wore a very red skinned-up shin in the Easter Parade. Safety note: Walk, do not run, Kathryn.

Last Saturday night, Howard Mussleman's little girl put a great big raw carrot out for the Easter Bunny to eat. This week, everyone is calling Howard, "Bugs Bunny." . . . Poor Johnny Redmerski! It seems he attended the Easter Egg hunt at Foster Park. Now, Johnny, being just a LITTLE over the age limit, wasn't able to move fast enough. The little children scrambled right over him. They must have done some damage, because Johnny didn't show up at work Monday morning. . . . It happens every spring. The first one we've heard about is Verne Pease, and it's a new Packard this time. His old car broke down the day before the Packard was delivered. Verne, that's figuring it rather close. . . . The west office of Bldg. 19-3 personnel have become. quite cozy. It seems they bump elbows everytime they turn around. It looks as if eaeh person is allowed about two and a half square feet. If anyone gets out of his territory at the wrong time, it's liable to result in a collision. If anyone has any suggestions or several feet of space for rent, let them know. By the way, the new additions to the office are Harold A. Misegades, Robert Tieman, Martha Rulh and a few extra desks. Welcome to the new people. . . . "A mistake is evidence that someone has tried to do something."



Maxine Stoffel lost her headscarf in the ladies' restroom. She received it in the mail. . . . Grace Taylor and Barbara Schuckel were on our sick list last week. Flu got them down. We're glad they are better now. . . . Ed Sembroski is no longer looking for a cat. He found just what he wanted. . . . Vivian Grepke loves work so much that she has been staying overtime. More power to you, Vivian. . . . Roselyn Standiford and Edith Swain are running in cireles on telegraph. Naomi Snyder has been ill, and the girls sure miss her. . . . Mauriee Petgen has a great love for ice cream cones. . . . We wish to extend our deepest sympathy to Edith Swain, whose father-in-law died recently. . . . Betty Bartley has been a busy little girl lately that we have not seen much of her. . . . Next time you mail boys feel like pitching pennies, pitch some our way. . . . Bernadette Collis has a wonderful place for hiding her money. . . . Anybody had any good dreams lately? Barbara Schuekel is just loaded with them. She claims she is going to write a book on them. . . . Did you wear your coat, or didn't you? That was the question. It all arose because Norman Wichmann couldn't find his the other day. Did you really believe you came to work without your coat? We almost convinced you, didn't we? . . . Are you one of the girls with the sore back and legs? If you are, you must have gone bowling with Joyce Grieser, Delores Hahn, Judy Krebs and Jeannie Smith. They really had an evening. . . . Happy birthday to Jean Smith. By the way, Jean, do you like your new job as M/S typist? . . . Mary Mishler is going to work in Mr. Krumhigel's office. . . . Dee Hahn, what is the trouble with your typewriter? Don't you like it? . . . Did you all get your Easter egg Thursday? They were good and colored very prettily. . . . We were glad to see Jim Craw, who had been off quite some time due to illness. He paid us a visit recently. . . . The big $64 question of the moment is: "Who does the most work in the least amount of time, Fred Wheeler or Pat Holmes of the Customer Billing Section? It came out a draw, as they are both very efficient. . . . Stella has done it again. This time someone popped out right in front of her car as she was entering the Taylor St. entrance to the parking lot. Of course, she did not get a bit confused, but her lunch did. One moment it was on the seat beside her, and next it was rolling around over the floor. She brought it in and straightened it out as best she could. . . . Happy birthday to Larry Brown of our Mailing Section.

Pleasant words are like a honeycomb, sweet to the soul, and health to the bones.

DECATUR BOWLERS

Deadline for entering the Decatur G-E Club's Singles Handicap is today, March 30. Entrants without a current league average may participate and have an equal chance of winning. About 100 men and 40 women have already submitted their entries to bolster the prize list which will be announced today and posted on the Plant bulletin boards. Schedules will also be released today. Watch the bulletin boards or contact Paul Briede at the Club for further information.

The National Construction team has taken over top spot in the Small Motor Bowling League with Models just one game behind. The absence of Erv Haugk last week was too much for the Models. They lost two games, while the National Construction team won two contests.

The dark horse in the raee for No. one post is the Tool team. It is coming up fast, winning nine of their last 12 games. The Tool team is only four games behind the leaders. With only four weeks to go, will it be able to keep its winning streak going? The Test team shouldn't be counted out of the race yet. It, too, is only four games behind the leaders.

Whether it was the alleys or the pins, there were not many 200 counts seored. The 200's were rolled by Walt, 212; Bill Miller, 202; Doehrman, 207, and Daley, 207.

Monday Night Girls League

Helen Wagner came through with a big 514 on games of 167, 146 and 201.

Other high games were kegled by Marge Huber, 181; Dorothy Fuhs, 175; Kaye Bade, and Betty Campbell, 172.

Office League

Erv Aumann really waxed hot and came through with the league's high series. He rolled 166, 248 and 264 to get a rousing 678.

The 200 games were rolled by Bushong, 204; Paul Kable, 204, and Ken Parks, 200.

Standardizing is still out in front, while Dick Sunoco is only three games back.

Apparatus League

Teams Eight and Ten are tied for first place.

Don Dimke rolled games of 183, 227 and 206 to get a 616 series. Two hundred scores were made by "Sore Thumh" Blomker, 220 and 205; Whitey Boester, 227; Branning, 202; R. Bender, 220; Dimke (Don's brother) 204; Kelso, 205; Jimmy James, 206; Heinriehs, 210, and A. Thompson, 212.

Transformer League

The M's are still leading the pack with the D's two games away. Homer Meeker got the only 200 game, a 210.

Tournament Schedule

Doubles and Singles

*Denotes All-Events

Saturday, Mareh 31

8:45 p.m. Squad

*V. Rump—*P. Perry
*F. Matthews—*L. Shroyer
*D. Burns—*J. Fisher
R. Lee—(R. Meeks) (D.O.)
(R. Raber—C. Plattner) (D.O.)
H. Staley—*J. Skevington
I. Schlotterbach—*M. Bryan

Sunday, April 1

1:00 p.m. Squad

A. Farrell—*M. Johnson
*F. Quinn—*D. Hoffman
*Carey—(Bowser) (D.O.)
M. Van Skyock—(K. Will) (D.O.)

3:00 p.m. Squad

*J. Kramer—H. Conrad
*W. Pook—*G. Soule
*W. Bradfield—M. Marks
*F. Garland—*W. Wood
(H. Butcher—E. Aumann) (D.O.)
G. Baker—(W. Gerke) (D.O.)
C. Kelso—R. Knepple
*D. Pappert—*H. Fanning
M. Tobias—R. Tobias
*I. Parrish—*L. Parrish
R. Bucher—*D. Bucher
J. Meeks—O. Conner

Saturday, March 31

3:30 p.m. Squad

Team	League	Captain
Repair & Return, Small Motor		C. Didier

6:30 p.m. Squad

Drafting, Winter St.	C. Kolmerten
Planning, Small Motor	Wm. Miller
No. 8, Apparatus	C. E. Briggs
Lone Oak, Key Major	W. Mertz
No. 3, R.S.C., Series & Spec.	E. DeWeese
S.M.Y., Series & Spec.	E. Whipple

Sunday, April 1

7:30 P.M. Squad

First & Last Tav'n, Classic	I. Schlotterback
Brouwers, Inter-Div.	F. Matthews
Schueler's, Inter-Div.	L. Crowell
Plating, Small Motor	W. G. Dempsey
Test, Small Motor	C. Holmes
Elzey & Son, Merchants	R. Lee

BALLET BASKETBALL—The guy making like a Russian Cossack is Ralph Lovell, Jr., Bldg. 26-5, during the Interdivision Basketball League championship game played last week between the Squares and Transformer. Shown at Lovell's right is Gill Carl of the Squares, the League's top scorer this past cage season. The Squares won the contest 65-29.

HOW MANY TELEVISION SETS IN KOREA?

MILLIONS of us have now sat before the television screens watching the sweating faces and trembling hands of American citizens testifying to their own corruption or to that of others in gambling, politics, industry and government.

At the same time we have heard and read of scandal in high places . . . of sulking and walkouts . . . of the self-serving of still other Americans, on many of whom our nation depends for its very life.

Lucky for us there are no television sets in Korea.

Lucky for us that sons and brothers and friends out there can't see the shame of fathers, brothers and friends — their representatives and leaders — back here.

Lucky for us that at least our fighting men conduct themselves like men.

To win in modern war all must serve — none is exempt. To no person or group can war be an opportunity for selfish advancement.

Yet even in this universal service there is no actual "equality of sacrifice." Some will always carry the heavier load. And here at home we must admit no sacrifice of ours will ever meet or match the sacrifice of liberty, speech, comfort, body and life endured by men who fight.

Our task here is to be worthy of them out there.

And so to lay aside personal angers, hatreds and false ambitions . . . cast off corrupt practices . . . turn from slothfulness, from love of money, power and position.

Then, together, unselfishly to build the strength we need to win and hold a better world for all.

GENERAL ELECTRIC COMPANY

L. R. Boulware

VICE PRESIDENT—EMPLOYEE RELATIONS

FORT WAYNE WORKS
NEWS

Volume 34 | FORT WAYNE, INDIANA, FRIDAY, APRIL 6, 1951 | No. 14

GIVE TO CONQUER CANCER
AMERICAN CANCER SOCIETY

G-E to Sponsor Kids' Baseball

HOBBYISTS TALK IT OVER—Joe Horvath, Bldg. 20-1, (left) is shown passing on a bit of wood carving "know-how" to Works Manager Ab Martin, a fishing enthusiast. Joe's wild life carvings drew considerable attention at last year's Hobby Show and are slated to be exhibited again this year at the second annual event, Saturday and Sunday, April 21-22, in the G-E Club Auditorium. Entries for this year's show should be sent to Lynn Wingerter, Taylor St., by Monday, April 15. Practically any hobby may be entered in the display which will be open to the public. (See entry blank on page 9)

Supervisors Plan "Spring Fiesta" Tues., April 24

Wives Invited for First Time in Club's History

A "Spring Fiesta," featuring Al Stewart, director of music at Purdue University, has been scheduled by the Supervisors Club for 8 p.m. Tuesday, April 24, in the G-E Club Auditorium.

For the first time in the organization's history, wives will be invited to attend and take part in planning the affair, C. E. Slater, co-chairman disclosed.

Mr. Stewart, recognized as one of the nation's outstanding leaders in the field of choral music, will present his own particular program combining music and fun. His philosophy is based on the premise that "there is no fun without mu-

(Continued on page 4)

Pensioners Received $77,225 Hospital Benefits in 1950

General Electric pensioners covered by the Company Insurance Plan received $77,225 in hospital and surgical benefits during 1950, according to employee benefit statistics compiled recently.

This amount represents settlement of 1,017 claims filed during the past year by retired employees who were eligible for insurance plan hospital and surgical benefits.

Under this provision of the Plan, employees, upon retirement at age 65 (60 for women) who have had 15 years of continuous service and who have contributed to the Insurance Plan for as much of the 15 years before retirement as eligible, continue to receive hospital and surgical benefits up to a total of $500. No further contributions after retirement are necessary to maintain this protection.

(Continued on page 4)

Pres Slack Named "Little League Baseball" Pilot

16 Teams Will Compete In Four City Leagues

Pres Slack, Bldg. 2-2, will pilot G-E's Little League baseball team during the coming season, K. W. Michael, assistant to the manager in charge of community relations, disclosed today. W. A. Hattendorf, Jr., Bldg. 12-3, and H. G. Cowan, Taylor St., will be Mr. Slack's assistants.

Little League Baseball, a national organization begun in 1939, will be introduced in Fort Wayne for the first time under the sponsorship of 16 local business houses and industries. The 16 teams will be divided into four leagues of four teams each.

Each team will be composed of 12 uniformed players plus six reserve substitutes. A normal team will field five 12-year-olds, four 11-years olds and three players 10-years-old or younger, Mr. Michael said.

Little League Baseball is played according to regulation baseball rules except for a smaller diamond, bases being 60 feet apart and the

(Continued on page 4)

PREPARE FOR SOFTBALL SEASON—Erv Huth (left), G-E Club athletic director, is shown passing out softball equipment to Don Stoneman (center), co-manager of the daytime Interdivision Softball League, and Bob Crosley, manager of the Owl Interdivision League. Ray Quinn, co-manager of the daytime league, has announced that plans for the forthcoming season will be announced in the near future. (See Owl story in box at right.)

Fort Wayne Works Employees Spotlighted In March-April "Adventures Ahead" Issue

Fort Wayne G-E employees are featured in three stories contained in the March-April issue of "Adventures Ahead" slated to be mailed to subscribers next week.

"Fort Wayne's Magic City" tells about three G-E employees who dabble in magic in their spare time. Ed Gallmeier, Tom Rockhill and Al Stoner, the three "mystics", explain how they developed their fascination for the ancient art and describe some of their past embarrassing moments.

The hobby story of Fort Wayne's top train collector, Ralph Calvert, is told in an article entitled, "A House Full of Trains." Mr. Calvert's trains are familiar to all who attended the G-E Club Hobby Show last year and saw his outstanding display.

"Behind the Scenes in Scouting" salutes Fort Wayne Works men who are active in Boy Scout work in a story loaded with pictures.

The lead article in the teen-age G-E magazine, "Baking For Big Money," describes the thrilling experiences of entrants in the second Pillsbury Mills Grand National Bake-Off held at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel in New York. Of the 100 contestants, 25 were entered in the junior division.

Ruth Marie De Rousseau, 17, the

(Continued on page 4)

New Law Offers Ten More Years Interest To Holders of "Series E" Savings Bonds

A new law aimed at inducing owners of Series E Savings Bonds to keep them rather than cash them when they reach maturity age of ten years, has been signed by President Truman. Beginning this month, the first batch of bonds sold ten years ago will mature.

Under the new law, the bonds will draw interest for another ten years if their owners hold them. The measure provides for interest to accumulate at the rate of two and one-half per cent each year for the first seven and a half years after maturity and at a rate sufficient thereafter so that the total return for the ten-year extension period would be 2.9 per cent compounded.

In this way, owners of E Bonds would come out the same with regard to interest for a new bond held ten years, or an old bond held an extra ten years, the return being four dollars for each three dollars.

(Continued on page 4)

Softball Players to Meet Monday A.M.

Bob Crosley, manager of the Owl Softball League, would like all second and third shift softball players to meet at 9:30 a.m. Monday, April 9, on Diamond 4 in McMillen Park to discuss plans for the coming season. In case of inclement weather, the meeting will be held at the same location on the first fair day. Prospective players seeking further information should telephone Mr. Crosley at A-88185 after 3:30 p.m.

FORT WAYNE WORKS NEWS

Volume 34 Friday, April 6, 1951 No. 14

Lou Rotterman.....Editor
Virginia Molden.....Assistant Editor
K. Marlan Davies.....Divisional News Coordinator

Life and Death Facts

One out of five Americans—if present rates continue—will develop cancer . . . on the average one out of five of your community, one out of five of your Company, one out of five of those near to you.

Unless our efforts to cut mortality succeed, some 22,000,000 Americans now living will die of this disease.

But with our present medical skill, half of those who have cancer should be saved by early diagnosis and prompt treatment. Our present rates of cure should be doubled today. Research may save millions more tomorrow.

In 1950 some 210,000 men, women, and children died of cancer.

Some 70,000 persons with cancer were saved.

Some 70,000 could have been saved but were lost.

Among cancer's casualties were 100,000 men and women between thirty and sixty-five, in the prime of life.

These mature men and women were vitally important to our nation, to its industry, to its families. They were fathers and mothers, executives and skilled workers, they were experienced—they were not expendable.

What is the annual cost of cancer? To industry that loses trained workers? To the community that so often must meet the drawn-out expenses of care? To the family that must struggle along without its chief support?

The years' bill for cancer, including care and treatment, losses of wages and salaries, and other expenses, has been estimated at as high as $2,000,000,000.

The staggering loss of life could be cut one-third today—with our present knowledge—if men and women came to physicians in time for early treatment.

Keys of the Cancer Crusade to save lives are cancer's danger signals:

1. Any sore that does not heal.
2. A lump or thickening in the breast or elsewhere.
3. Unusual bleeding or discharge.
4. Any change in a wart or mole.
5. Persistent indigestion or difficulty in swallowing.
6. Persistent hoarseness or cough.
7. Any change in normal bowel habits.

These may mean cancer—they must mean an immediate visit to a physician.

(Reprinted from an American Cancer Society booklet)

OUT OUR WAY

By J. R. WILLIAMS

Our Secretary, Miss Jones

By Nadine Hall

Reprinted by courtesy of The Westinghouse News

SICK LIST

The following people were reported on the sick list, dismissed from the hospital and returned to work:

Sick List

Agnes M. Stansberry, Luke C. Shorter, Violet Smith, George Taylor, Carl Stadelman, Treace Trout, Arlene Welches, Daisy Richard, Alfred Woehnker, William Teagarden, Harold J. Bowker, E. Imogene Brunk, Martin Bradford, Joseph Miller, Alrick C. Johnson, Keith Pickell, Verna L. V. Powers, Russell Harden, Margaret Gerardot, Mary H. Noll, Helen Conrad, Margaret Rollins, Ronald E. Young, Clarence W. Hall, Clarence McClellan, Orville Gamble, Clyde Boyce, Geneva Curtiss, Carl Chadwick, Constance Dumford, Dorothy Gerig, Fletta Erickson, Loretta Day, Maude M. Ehrhardt, Emma Bultemeier, Martha Tipsard, Mabel Ellis, John Dennis, Rudolph Black, Cora L. Asies, Gerald Aspy, Virginia Bradley, Carl Bartaway, Martin Bradford, Emilia Benton, Iva LeCoque, Donald E. Davis, Eugene Garrard, Frank J. Goetz, Alice L. Hormann, Edward H. Horman, Arthur E. Happel, Francis Howell, Joseph Hendrickson, Ira Jones, John C. Krauter, Maxine Luker, Merrill R. McClain, Pauline Luna, Vaughn Moore, Carl Fletcher, Helen Murray, Gerald Norwalt, Ruth Emerson, Helen Sible, Joan Platt, Ethel Perry, Elmer L. Prickett, Ray Williams, Ned Klotz, Leo Boitet, Mary Crosby, Maxine George, Richard Hedden and Vera Neate.

Left The Hospital

Helen Shuler, Hubert Langer, Helen Wolfe, Curtis King, Florence Clum, Leo Boitet, Charles Hoffert, Marjorie Seibert, Herbert Langer, Roscoe Grover, Marjorie Goodrich, Ned Klotz, Dorman Kirk and Eva Johnson.

Returned to Work

Glen Calvert, George Lamboley, Margaret Monnot, Russell Maxson, Elaine E. Omo, Clarence Hoover, Bertha Bertsch, Carlisle Hanson, Marlin Johnson, Max Holycross, Paul Noffze, Mary Harper, Beatrice Stolte, Cleta Wilson, Kenneth Smith, Robert Tanner, Mildred M. Fettinger, Mable Drummond, B. Rush McClure, Glenn Bell, Helen Levy, Betty J. Wagner, Clifford Saylor and Dean Smith.

Could be another sign of spring: Ruth (gonna-get-my-cottage-ready-soon-look) English. . . . So long to M. L. Hartman, who is now in Div. 13 as Supervisor of Planning. . . . EMBARRASSED: Was Lucile Schelper when she went to the bank to cash her pay check, only to discover that she had left her check back in the office on her desk. What did you expect to cash, Lucile? . . . A SURE ROAD TO THE POOR HOUSE is the path that Ruth Graft and Charlene Bly will be following if they fail to keep their strict diet. Seems as though there is a penalty of 10 cents everytime one of these gals strays from the path of hunger. (By the way, who is the collecting agent?) . . . Dora Holycross's cold sure came in handy, for there are a lot of those "eligibles" living in the same apartment building as Dora. Were you able to do any research on your time off, Dora? . . . Lois Tritch Wilson (Payroll) is really in a "stew" these days, what with working and trying to plan her evening dinners. These meals must be simple to fix, fast, and appetizing morsels. Lois, you can always serve stew. . . . In case any of you drivers happen to remember "Peanut" Franke's license number (it was published in this column some weeks ago), your fears of being run over are over for a while at least. "Peanut's" latest driving feat was trying to start her car while the tires were blocked in front and back with bricks. Did they actually give you a driver's license, "Peanuts?" . . . That man walking behind Elmer Haugk (Accounting Section) down Rudisill Blvd. the other night was not a "tail" but a good Samaritan who was helping this citrus-lover carry home his latest "loot" from the grocery. Elmer's prize possession was a large burlap bag of fresh, tree-ripened Florida oranges. No matter how you try to bribe him, he won't part with this sack of GOLD for anything. . . . The envy of the Accounting Office is Janice Haugh, who will be leaving this section in another week for Vero Beach, Fla., where she will make her permanent home. Sigh, sigh! . . . Florida seems to hold quite an appeal for the slaves in the Accounting Section, for Arnie Bowers is back after spending two weeks vacation in St. Petersburg, the city of the "newly-weds, or the nearly-deads." Arnie says that he is neither, but that his wife and son, Danny, liked it so well that they are staying for another month or two. . . . The saying seems to be "go South, young man, go South." . . . with the South still in focus, a "Howdy-pardner, and welcome home" is in order for Mary Rogers (Production Office). Mary has just returned from a week's vacation in Texas—Dallas and other southern Texas points of interest were on her agenda. . . . So long and the very best of luck to Cary Creamer, who is being transferred to the Detroit, Mich., office. Drop us a line when you get a free moment, Cary. . . . Mr. Edgar's office rolled out the WELCOME mat to two newcomers this week, Phyllis Mae Scott, and Bob Meyer. . . . All well again is Phyl Ann Westbrook's fractured finger. How does it feel to discard those yards and yards of bandages, P. A.?

L. J. Speicher, Mrs. Jo Quinn Get Lead "Holiday Ranch" Roles

Rehearsals for "Holiday Ranch," the G-E Squares' musical revue, are underway, according to R. A. Thomas, Bldg. 4-6, Program Chairman. Mr. Thomas revealed that casting for all parts in the show has been completed and the cast is now engaged in an intensified period of practice.

In discussing the difficulties in casting a show of this kind, Mr. Thomas said that a wide variety of talent was required to cover the fast-moving plot and musical background. In addition to experienced amateur actors, the Program Committee was required to place members of the Square dance (the gigantic finale), the western band, male chorus, ballet, camp-fire scene and quartet.

An innovation to this year's performance will be the orchestra in the pit and the western band on the stage.

Leading roles will be played by L. J. Speicher, Taylor St., and Mrs. Jo Quinn, Bldg. 18-5. Mr. Speicher has been cast as a hard-riding western cow-puncher with Mrs. Quinn playing opposite him as a moon-struck eastern dude. Their romance is a see-saw affair, which Mr. Thomas guarantees will keep the audience laughing until the surprise ending. Music, dances, and western scenes have all been designed to provide the utmost in enjoyment, he declared.

"Holiday Ranch" will play at the Civic Theatre, May 9-10. Curtain time will be 8:30 p.m. Admission is open to the general public, but G-E employees and their families will be given first opportunity to purchase tickets.

Birthday greetings of the week go to Lucinda Pettit. . . . Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Brookhart, who are the proud parents of a haby boy. . . . Gilbert Auth had an exciting moment last week about daybreak. Somebody brought him a rooster to butcher, so he put it in the cellar until morning. The fowl began to crow in the cellar, which happened to be under Gil's bedroom. Gilbert went down to butcher it. It broke loose, ran across the cellar, smashed a bottle and spilled a can in which his paint brush was soaking. As a result, Mr. Rooster was soon ready for the pot. . . . The co-workers extend their sympathy to Lucinda Pettit and William Vachon in the death of their fathers. . . . Would the co-workers of Henry Vance please help him keep track of his car? One night, he came to work and parked his car in a different lot than he usually does. He walked over to another parking lot after work and remembered that he parked elsewhere. . . . Birthday greetings of the week go to Louis Hutchinson. . . . Myrtle Wagner was ironing recently on a Saturday when the lights went out. She put a new fuse in, but still no lights. Next she sent her daughter to get a new fuse. Result: The electricity was off all over her end of town. . . . Anybody needing a hair cut see Duer Kreig, of Bldg. 4-5 office. He was caught giving Elmer Fretz a trim. . . . Velva Smith was on the Dr. I. Q. contest at one of the theaters recently. She won a dollar. It could have been two if she had known how many two-cent stamps there were in a dozen. Better luck next time, Velva. . . . Ernest Kromm visited his co-workers last Friday after retiring a year ago. He reports he is just fine. . . . Birthday greetings go to Olga Hart for the past week.

Works Manager Named To Civil Defense Post

Ab Martin, G-E Fort Wayne works manager, has been named to succeed Hugo A. Weissbrodt, manager of the International Harvester Co., as local representative of industry on the Allen County Civil Defense Council, Col. Chester Lichtenberg, director of the Council, has announced.

Warren W. Wiedenhofer, advertising and publicity manager of the Indiana & Michigan Electric Co., has also been appointed to serve on the Council.

Elex Breakfast Reservations Due

Reservations for the Elex Spring Breakfast are due Wednesday, April 11, Thelma Stone, president, reminded members today. Breakfast will be served Saturday, April 14, in the YWCA.

Both shifts will combine for this party and breakfast will be served at 10:30 and 11:30 a.m. to accommodate all members who wish to attend. Tickets are $1.25 each and are available from contact girls or at the Women's Activities Offices at Broadway or Taylor St.

Notes— From Transformer Drafting

By Bonnie Hull

Surprised? We kind of pulled a switch on you. From now on, you unlucky people, I am going to be your "News Noser." . . . Melba Jackson, your previous reporter, is leaving the ranks of good "ole" G-E but for a very nice reason. She and one of our co-workers, Roy Metts, are to be married very soon. Best of luck, kids. . . .

Best Wishes, Melba

Last Thursday the men could have sworn that it was Easter. The girls in and around the section were dressed in their Easter finery. Wendell Miller felt so shabby that he wore his coat all morning. The girls were decked out because they were giving a party for E. Meyers, who was married Saturday, March 31. We wish you all the happiness in the world. "Ha Ha Ho Ho!" That was George Owens laughing at Dora Aughenbaugh's shoe combination. She was wearing one brown one and one green one because her feet hurt. In the background, we heard more laughter from Bob Wigent and Hank Lantz. It wasn't the shoes. It was the curly blue tail hanging from George's pocket, thanks to Ed Ellenburg, whom we will now call the "Tail-er." . . . Les Hahn is very happy these days. He was to report for induction April 4, but he received a telegram postponing the date until further notice. It's nice to have you with us a while longer, Les.

Now, don't be frightened, kiddies. That awful boom you heard was not an A-bomb. It was just some over-ambitious matches that Vern Castle ran over with his chair. . . . The little filing stool that Eleanor Bolenbaugh uses occasionally took a beating after that big meal that Eleanor tucked away the other night. . . . Eileen Hennen is proudly wearing a diamond on the proper finger. Best wishes to you, Eileen. . . . Jack Welch looks very cute perched on that high stool. Any day now, we expect to see him flying through the air with the greatest of ease. . . . Bob Dent is fully aware of the fact that there is a new baby in his home. Maybe after she gets back on her feed, Bob will lose those circles under his eyes. . . . Al Reynolds has been transferred to Div. 13 and taking his place is Walter Dreyer, Jr. Welcome, Walt. . . . It must be the springlike weather that makes Charley Rice and Vern Castle compare prices on new suits.

Welcome, Walt

Dorothy Reinking reports for work, wearing a new sparkler on her left hand. . . . We're sorry to hear that Ada Phillips' brother was injured by a hit and run driver, but glad that he was not seriously injured. . . . Birthday congratulations to Paul (Pete) Scotton and William Orr. . . . Flossie Shoopman and Harry Ehrsam are our vacationers. . . . On our sick list is Elmer Prickett and Tommie Black, also Paul Hathaway. . . . Congratulations to Harry Biddle on that new granddaughter. . . . When a fire breaks out in Bldg. 19-2, who gives the alarm to save the girls? None other than Henry (Heiny) Muehlenbruch. . . . The picture of the sweet little girl is Candies Ann Millhouse, granddaughter of George March. . . . What's your hobby? Eileen Gault prefers baking, leading Girl Scouts, painting figurines, reading and collecting antique cups and saucers. Melvin Tschannon is interested in mechanics and building race cars. Amanda Pautsch sings in the church choir, also likes to square dance, roller skate, knit and crochet. Nellie Parr prefers sewing, horseback riding and reading. Cecile Hinton has crocheted a beautiful Afghan that she hopes to display at the Hobby Show. Ada Phillips, Fayne Harter and Shirley Cunningham are members of the Camera Club.

Sweet as Candies

G-E Women's Groups To Meet at Danville

A spring conference for officers of General Electric women's organizations will be held at Danville Saturday and Sunday, April 21-22, with the DanGe Club as hostess. Irene Meyers, Elex advisor, announced that the two-day meeting will be open to all Elex members and officers.

Reservations must be made by Monday, April 9, at the Women's Activities Offices at Broadway or Taylor St. The conference charge will be $10. A two dollar down payment is requested with each reservation.

Everyone in our division knows that Mary Rose went to California and was off work two weeks. After she came back to work, the girls took up a penny collection to help Mary until pay day. . . . What's this about Virginia Free? Ginny's husband was ill for some time and now we hear she has him working on two jobs. . . . Did you know that Olen Shank is our junk dealer. It seems as though he has to be trading, and busy repairing something that can't be fixed. . . . The Bob Weavers have a new boy named David Lynn. Dave weighed eight pounds. A beautiful baby blanket was presented to the proud daddy for baby Dave. . . . We have something sparkling in our eyes. It is a diamond ring on Frances Orr's third finger. . . . We were sorry to hear that Agnes Stansberry is in the Portland Hospital for x-rays. We hope to see you soon, Agnes. . . . Charlie Best is going to have some fried chicken early, he hopes. . . . He has his baby chicks. . . . We will miss Stephanie Baszczak, who went on first trick this week. . . . Mabel Moser is enjoying her daughter's company. She is home on vacation from college. . . . Margaret Harrison had a birthday and brought in fried chicken for the girls. We wish you many more birthdays, Margaret. . . . Rennie Philips spent the week-end in Detroit.

Thanks, G-E

Editor's Note: Late last year, more than 7,000 long-service G-E pensioners were notified their pensions were being increased. For the majority, the increases amounted to from $24 to $49 a month. When making the announcement, the Company said the amended Plan for those already retired was designed to bring present pension payments more nearly in line with payments to future pensioners recently negotiated with the union. Pensioners were informed of the raise in payments by letter dated Oct. 5, 1950. Shortly afterwards the Company began to receive many "thank you" letters. Here is one of them:

Tampa, Fla.
December 2, 1951

G-E Co.
Dear Sirs:

Received regular monthly pension check. Also your check for an increase, for which I thank you.

It only bears out what I have always said. There is not another organization, large or small, that is as loyal to their employees as the General Electric Co.

Again I thank you.

Yours,
ERNEST M. RUBLE.

ROUNDS OUT 35 YEARS—Harold Seidner, Taylor St., (second from right) celebrated his 35th service anniversary Friday, March 9. Several of his friends in FHP Motor Div. 13 on the second shift extended their congratulations on his long service record. Left to right are H. E. Koehlinger, Harry Shoemaker, George App, Howard Sayles, Mr. Seidner and Henry Witte.

P. D. Q. finally made his appearance. Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Bill Quarve on the arrival of Paul Dennis Quarve last Friday. . . Walt Dial thinks the next collection should be taken for him. He lacked two cents of what was required for a recent collection. . . . We hear that Butch Vegalues would be a sure winner if he would campaign for mayor. Some of his "friends" have it all figured out. . . What's the matter, Cliff Nail, didn't you see the cross-walk? . . . Mounce Miller, do you still drink the buttermilk you buy for your hogs? . . . Welcome to Bernice Trott, who is working in Somers' Section in Bldg. 20-2. . . . We are sorry to see Gloria Weibke leave. Good luck on your new job, Gloria. . . Bill Quarve says that it's nice to be a new father. Whitie Van Auken is speaking to him instead of growling at him. . . . Picture, if you can, Al Hans with no teeth, his hat on backwards, wearing a pair of rubber ears and coveralls that would fit Red Pettit. There is a rumor that things like that run around loose on Mars. . . . The distinguished gent driving the bus is Virgil Lomiller. . . . Art Smethers and Skinny McGary must have gone shopping at the same time. They both have new teeth. . . . We wonder if Al Schairbaum and Bill Quarve ever found the bull cinch in the catalog. . . . Jay Greer really plays it safe. He never lets his left hand know what his right is doing. Recently a card got to the office in Bldg. 20-1 addressed to Jay Greer and signed by Jay Greer.

Pensioners' Benefits

(Continued from page 1)

Prior to Dec. 1, 1950, when the new Insurance Plan went into effect, hospital and surgical benefits were limited to $250, including five dollars per day for room and a total of $25 for hospital extras. Under the amended provisions of the new Plan, the $250 coverage was increased to $500, including costs up to $10 per day for semi-private room, a total of $100 for hospital extras and surgical benefits up to $175 according to schedule.

Supervisor's Party

(Continued from page 1)

sic and no music without fun."

According to Mr. Slater, Stewart, believes that singing is one of the best means of making an individual forget his seeming and fancied worries—that singing serves to ease the pent-up emotions and makes it easier for the individual to deal effectively with the problems that are really challenging. And, he adds, what is good for the individual is good for the community, the state, the nation and the world.

Following Mr. Stewart's program, there will be dancing to Bob Glendon's orchestra.

The informal fiesta is being sponsored by Group Six (Bldg. 18) of the Supervisors Club. Wives of members of this group will serve as committee members.

They are: Hospitality, Mrs. Ab Martin, Mrs. I. H. Freeman, Mrs. L. C. Swager and Mrs. Robert Wylie; Arrangements, Mrs. Ivan D. Rinehart, Mrs. K. W. Michael, Mrs. C. E. Slater and Mrs. R. W. Kent. Decorations, Mrs. Harold Boles, Mrs. H. B. Leach, Mrs. Edgar Waldschmidt and Mrs. J. V. Johnson.

Ye Olde Meter Girls Plan Party April 20

Ye Olde Meter girls will hold a party at 7:30 p.m., Friday, April 20, in the Dehler-Hughes Recreation Room, according to plans announced by Vera Wilcox Orr, chairman of the affair.

Entertainment will provide games and prizes. There will be attendance awards and refreshments will be served. Tickets are 50 cents each and may be obtained from Mrs. Orr, K-3718; co-chairman, Beatrice Stalter Helms, H-59955, and Agnes Beckman Schlotter, H-24974.

At the Broadway plant, tickets may be obtained from Ermagard Gehle or Viola Donahue, both of Bldg. 4-3, and from Maggie Moore, at Taylor St.

Mrs. Orr urges all Meter Girls to attend the evening's program.

Bond Law

(Continued from page 1)

However, according to the new arrangement, the interest accumulated by a new bond in its first ten years will, itself, draw interest during the second ten-year period of holding. For example, a bond purchased for $75 in 1941 would be worth $100 this year. If held until 1961, it would have a cash value of $133.33.

These extended E Bonds can, of course, be cashed at any time.

An additional feature of the extension of the life of E Bonds from ten to twenty years that will be of interest to many persons, and may be the deciding consideration with some, is the tax treatment. E Bonds are fully taxable but the owner originally had the option of paying the tax each year or waiting until maturity. The same privilege has been extended under the new law; owners will be allowed to defer reporting the interest for income taxes until they actully get it by cashing the bonds.

A provision of the Savings Bond plan which was left unchanged by the new law is that holders of maturing bonds can exchange them for Series G registered bonds which mature in 12 years. These bonds carry two and one-half per cent interest, payable semi-annually.

Baseball Planned

(Continued from page 1)

pitcher's box 40 feet 4 inches from home plate. Players, completely uniformed, may wear either gym shoes or shoes with rubber spikes.

According to present plans, twilight games, beginning at 5:30, will be played in four parks in widely separated parts of the city. Games will be limited to six innings. An official Little League Baseball film will be shown in all city grade schools. Time and place of practice meetings will be announced in the near future, Mr. Michael explained. A draft will be held to evenly distribute talent after a sufficient number of practice sessions are held and players' abilities are evaluated.

Winners of an end-of-the-season playoff will go to the state tournament and then possibly to a regional and finally to the national "little world series" slated to be held in Williamsport, Pa.

"League Age," as stated in the League's official rule book, is that age attained by a boy prior to August 1 of the season in question. For example: a boy who is 11 years of age at the time the call for candidates is made, but who will be 12 years of age before August 1, has a "League Age" of 12. In like manner a boy who is 10 when the call is made, but who will be 11 before August 1, has a "League Age" of 11. This principle applies throughout.

Any boy who will not attain the age of 13 years before August 1 of the year in question shall be eligible to active membership in the Little League.

Sponsors for the Fort Wayne circuit include Allen Dairy, Rogers Markets, City Light, Fleet Wing, Inca, News-Sentinel, Magnavox, Capehart-Farnsworth, Patterson-Fletcher, Indiana Rod & Wire, Superior Coal, Fort Wayne National Bank, George Runyan Superservice, Brouwer Tire & Battery, Council 212, UCT and General Electric.

BUY SHOES UNDER NEW PLAN—Shown (l-r) are Frank Valentine and Al DeCamp, both of Bldg. 17-2, getting fitted by store employee Jerry Galland with safety shoes at the Broadway Employees' Store. The two men were the first to take advantage of the new payroll deduction plan which began here Monday.

RETIRES AFTER 23 YEARS—James Uhrich, Taylor St., (seated) is shown drawing oil for the last time before retiring with 23 years of service. Left to right are Vaughn Sheets, his foreman; Fred Bergman, Hobert Friend and Ralph Hoover. Mr. Uhrich began his service January, 1928. He has been a helper, machine operator, winder, assembler, freight handler and stockkeeper. His last job was in the Oil House at the Taylor St. Plant.

"Adventures Ahead"

(Continued from page 1)

winner of a $5,000 first prize, also received the G-E range on which she prepared her prize-winning "Cherry Winks." Ruth mingled with celebrities, appeared on radio and television and had her fondest wish of meeting Arthur Godfrey come true.

Three other stories deal with the future in various professions for young people. Special articles appear on drafting and design and on youth's place in industry.

"Adventures Ahead" is published bi-monthly on a free-subscription basis for teen-age boys and girls whose parents are G-E employees.

To be different, just for this time
We decided to write our news in rhyme.
So here we go, on our way to explore
The events and happenings in 17-4.
Cy Seymour wears a look of sheer desperation
He's worried about the draft situation.
For our nameplates, on our desks that dwell.
Thanks, Earl Stauffer; they're really swell.
With Connie and Irene as supervision,
Mr. Metiler's the A-1 painter of this division.
"Emmy" Stock in "Royal Family" as Herbert Dean
Is definitely a performance to be seen.
To Ray Solga, we say adieu,
And wish the best of luck to you.
John Hilsmier paid us a call.
It was a pleasure enjoyed by all.
To Mary Burkholder, many thanks
For introducing us to "empty blanks."
Lois Jackson, in her sweater and jeans,
Looked like a child in her early teens.
About Crahill's Easter egg, we were going to hint
But decided that it was too raw to print.
The design for Gotsch's flies come out of his head
"Black-leaf 40" is good for this, we've heard said.
Time's running out and I'll end this rhyme
Turn in a news item, won't you, some time?

"Mabel The Label Maker"

Our very special "thank you" to our guest editor of the week, Betty Raucci. Betty is our ever cheerful office secretary who radiates sunshine and smiles for everyone each day. She recently celebrated her birthday with the help of the rest of the girls.

AL HAMBROCK, our dear editor, had never been out of town until he took his vacation this year. Naturally, he had to boast about it by sending post cards to his co-workers from far off Ossian, Ind. However, we want him to know that they were highly appreciated. . . . MR. JAMES UHRICH, who retired on Friday, wants to thank all his friends for their kind remembrance and the presents that were given him. They were deeply appreciated. . . . THEY SAY a woman has a right to change her mind. According to Mrs. Virgil Nash, if you get one wood butcher from the Wire Mill to put in some doors for you, he will change your mind for you when it comes to the size. When asked what size she wanted, she said standard 6'8" x 2'8". He made the hole that size all right, but forgot to make room for the door casing. Must have been the sliding rule, what say, Mate Coulter, or was it the new help? . . . ROBERT MORRIS decided to reduce so he purposely left his lunch at home. About 10 a.m. he could stand it no longer so he called his wife and had her bring his lunch to him. Can't lose any weight that way, Bud.

Square Dance Slated At G-E Gym Saturday

All G-E Club members and their friends are invited to attend the Square Dance Saturday night in the G-E Club Gym, Earl Stauffer, publicity chairman, said today.

Johnny Wright will be featured as caller. No reservations are necessary.

Glenn Schwartz is thinking of getting a cottage at some lake, especially since he saw those bathing suits in the paper last week. If you do get that cottage, Glenn, you would probably have a coming out party instead of a house, or should we say, cottage warming. . . . Betty Froebes' husband, Walt, almost set the house on fire on Sunday. It seems that Betty and the children went to church and he was going to get the dinner. He put the pork chops in the oven and then went outside and forgot about them. When she got home from church, the house was just filled with smoke. . . . Hilda Seiler wants to thank everyone for her many birthday gifts and cards. . . . Marian Miller had some jewelry the other day, but she said that she collected for it before she delivered it! . . . Edna Rohrbach just doesn't know when to stop bidding at an auction. She overbid Frieda Knoche and then she didn't get her money's worth! . . . Bill Wickliffe is on a week's vacation, but he says it won't be much of a vacation. He is going to refinish the floors in his home. . . . The other day the fire whistle blew and about 20 minutes later Cecil Foor looked at the clock and then turned to the guys and wondered why they blew the thing so late. Yes, he thought it was Friday already, but it was only the middle of the week. . . . Welcome back to Mary Rollins, Evelyn Foulks and Ruth Hine who have been on the sick list. . . . Martin Bradford was seriously hurt in an auto accident last week. He was confined to the hospital with a dislocated vertebra, but he has since been released and is at home. A speedy recovery, Martin. . . . Willard Smith must have thought he could do something about the odor in Bldg. 4-4, when he brought that 10-cent bottle of Irresistible perfume. Wonder what all the wives thought when their mates came home smelling of perfume? . . . Albert Flory, who has been on pension for over a year, was up to see us one day last week. He had a gift for George Johnson. It was a box of old apron strings and a small pair of scissors. Seems that George had a habit of cutting apron strings and now he has a whole box of them, but Albert doesn't want you to cut them all at one time. Just take your time and do a few each day. . . . Frank Voiro! and Chick Kortum are both in the midst of spring housecleaning. . . . Well, at last it has happened. Marie Griffin got herself a car. It's a '49 Plymouth and after all the talk about a Chevrolet. Didn't I tell you a Plymouth was the best of the two? She says that she thinks she should have the car to take her kids around so they can see some things, but we are wondering who will get the most enjoyment out of it, the boys or Marie? Her brother put the car in the garage and she hasn't taken it out yet. She doesn't know just how to go about it. It seems there is a telephone pole quite close to the garage. Oh, yes, the garage is too small for the car and some of it has to hang out. Better clean out the garage and then maybe you can move the car in! . . . Our sympathy is extended to Fern Painter because of the death of her sister-in-law. . . . A lot of good luck and success to Ruth Prezbindowski, whose last day at work is today. . . . Mildred Green reports that her two boys are just fine and that their main hobby is fighting. The rest of us with boys know just what she means. . . . Marguerite Smith bought a new bedroom suite and promptly took a day off to test it. . . . We all want to know if Roger Williams ever got the baked beans done. We hear he does the cooking while Irene is outside chasing rats! . . . Neva Scott had a wonderful unexpected trip to Buffalo, N. Y., last week. . . . Bea Davis sure is interested in her work these days. She worked quite a while the other morning before she took her hat off! . . . Emmett Rasor is welcomed to the Assembly Group. . . . Delbert Meyers left to take a job in the Planning Section. . . . Imagine Darwin Stanley's surprise the other day to find he had brought the wrong lunch. He had picked up a package of cookies instead of his lunch. He was given the Dunce award by his fellow workers. . . . Never a dull moment at the Dick Clindenens. Their bed lamp had a short in it which set their bed on fire. Their new bed was a total loss. . . . Jay Michaels' daughter is now a full-fledged air hostess and flying with TWA. . . . Several of our old standbys have gone to Bldg. 6-4. They are: Millie Wahle, Roxana Miller, Ray Snyder, Sherman Wolfe and George Luederman. There are probably lots of others but we just can't seem to keep up with them.

On her birthday Grace Fisher decided to treat her co-workers and was waiting for the mid-morning snack. Someone thought it fun to hide her treat, but when it came time to hand it over, lo and behold, it was gone again. This time several faces were red and all were ready to dig in their pockets when the treat was found elsewhere from where it was hidden. Boy! did that treat ever taste good. . . . Joe Craig returned to work after a few days of illness. . . . June Railing has so much to be thankful for. Her lost billfold was returned with full contents. . . . Leonard Meyer received birthday greetings on Easter Day this year. Belated greetings, Leonard. . . . Welcome to Viola Martin in Group 7-51. We're happy to have you and hope you stay with us. . . . Our sincere sympathies go to Clarence Painter and family upon the death of his wife, Lucile, who was a former G-E employee. We also extend sympathies to Nelvalene Beihold upon the death of her father. . . . The secret of the shine of Ezra Brandyberry's shoes is no longer a mystery. Ezra says that they are not only safety shoes but also are self-shining and give him the same ease and comfort that you would expect to get by going barefooted. . . . George Roop has returned to work after a recent illness. . . . An addition has been made to the Hesher family. Ed claims that the pet hamster belongs to his son. . . . Ada Owens has been added to the sick list. Hurry back to work, Ada, we miss you. . . . The new Kaiser car is now being displayed by several of our employees. Harriet Pollock and Jimmie Chilcote are the latest additions to the Kaiser owners. . . . Bob Miller and Clyde Beery are still on the sick list. . . . Rita Herndon has entered the hospital for surgery. We wish her a speedy recovery. . . . A new member to the sparkler-on-the-left-hand club is Ruth Fennig of the office force. Her fiance is Dick Gehrig, who is with the armed forces in Japan. Though many miles separate them, Dick was able to present her with the ring by using his mother as an accomplice. . . . The tool room rhythm boys have perfected a new symphony, their only means of expression being the clapping of the hands. . . . Birthday greetings to Eloise Noll and Jo Ivetich. . . . Did you know that we have had a fellow trying to train our jeeps to stop at the command of "Whoa"?

Vance Burnau found out the old saying, "Absence makes the heart grow fonder," really worked when his wife, Margaret, spent a week in Akron, O., recently. It worked in two ways. He could hardly wait 'til Mom got home, while she spent the week listening to and watching her two favorite radio personalities. Her family knew she had a special fondness for Don McNeil and Arthur Godfrey, but what Vance didn't know was what TV would do for this feeling she had for her favorites. To get Mom home on schedule, Vance had to promise to install a set as soon as possible. Vance says, "It's TV for me." . . . Walter Bueseking has proven that perseverance and patience are two keys to a successful conclusion. The other day, while helping Owen Cartwright overhaul a complicated piece of machinery, he carried a box full of small parts to his bench. This was a complete unit needing only to be re-assembled. But while Walt was busy elsewhere, some friend of his added several screws and a couple of small bearings to the pile that corresponded to those in the original assembly. Owen and Walt after several trys finally came to the conclusion that those extra parts just weren't to be included without revamping. . . . Harold Hohman was the recipient of a premature April Fool's joke Friday noon. Upon opening his lunch, he noticed the top layer of bread askew. So raising the slice to find out the cause, he found an enormous black spider. That's one he can't blame you for, Herbie, but how you would have loved it had you done it! . . . The other day Joe Jensen assembled a machine that had been changed a little in design. Instead of using a cable and weight to return a part back to its original position, a spring was used. When he told Bob Behler about the change and on a machine that Bob was very familiar with, Bob said he didn't think it would work right with that heavy a spring, as it would create too much tension. Joe immediately piped up, "I've taken care of that, I cut off three inches of it." That's the boy, Joe, just like the guy who cut it off three times and it's still too short. . . . Joe Haas received a request from a mother of a boy in Korea which he would like to pass on to you. This lady was informed by her son that he would very much like to hear from some of his former co-workers. He worked for Jess Hahn in Bldg. 17-3 before he was called to service. So you armchair generals, if you want some first hand information, include some news and views from the old home town with your questionnaires. Incidentally, he is well qualified to answer your questions as his letter to his ma was mailed just 15 miles from the old 38th. His address is:

Pfc. Stanley W. Wickliffe,
1063791 U.S.M.C.
"D" Co. 7th Motor Transport Bn.
Service Command F.M.F.
c/o FPO, San Francisco, Calif.

Folks who buy more and more government bonds are wise—others otherwise.

Inquiring Reporter:

"WHO IS THE MOST FAMOUS PERSON YOU EVER MET?"

BESS BROWN

Bldg. 26-2

"Eve Curie is one of the few I have met, and it is needless to say that her striking, dark beauty and stunning appearance certainly impressed me a lot. Having returned from several theaters of war during World War II, her experiences were undeniably imprinted in her personality. However, the charm of her continental background was one thing of great joy to encounter."

MARILYN BRAUN

Bldg. 18-5

"The most famous person I ever met is the band leader, Vaughn Monroe. I met him when he and his band made a personal appearance in Fort Wayne. He was very sociable to everyone and has a very nice personality."

LEONARD F. DEAL

Taylor St.

"Sam Jackson is the most famous person I have ever met. I met him in the Masonic Lodge about two years ago."

CHARLES H. CURTIS

Bldg. 4-2

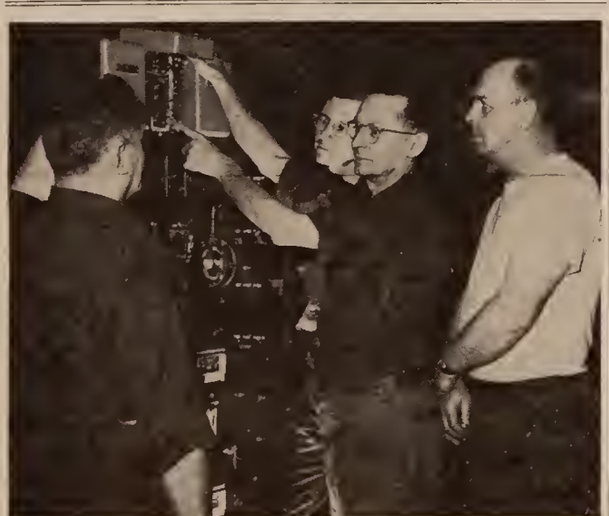
"It was a thrill for me to meet the famous band leader, Chuck Foster, at the Aragon in Chicago. He, in turn, introduced me to his vocalist, Millie Cory, with whom I had the pleasure of dancing."

THELMA CREECH

Bldg. 19-2

"Senator Capehart is one of the most famous people that it has been my privilege to meet. He was present at a luncheon I attended in December, 1950. He gave a speech containing several important questions facing government and people of our country today."

Top Floor TOPICS



Bldg. 26-5

By Jack Lea

There have been occasions in the past where we workers have been able to show our generosity with our contributions to different charitable organizations. However, it is a splendid thing and something we can be proud of that the people on this floor and throughout the company, have always taken to their own hearts the misfortunes that befall our fellow employees. In the past several weeks there have been several such cases, where the response has been heart-warming. Orville Langhor and myself were discussing this recently. Orville suggested we give a verbal pat on the back to those who deserve it—so we take off our hats to Transformer. . . . After that publicity we gave Norb Sordelet last week, Norb came in and displayed a fishing reel which he proclaimed was his only equipment on those famous fishing trips. . . . That isn't a club that Al Tyson is carrying around, that's his sore thumb! Al had an unfortunate accident with some hot compound. . . . What's this about Dorothy Kaylor nearly running down Les Baker? These jaywalkers! . . . Those people on top floor are a bunch of eager beavers about getting to work. They can't wait to get off the elevator. Some even get off on the fourth floor. Thelma Kistler pulled that recently. . . . Do you remember the Lil Abner comic strip where he was tangled up with that wrestler? Smitty and his wife, so I hear, put on a similar act in one of the down town shows recently. While in the theater, Smitty's wife unfastened her shoes to rest her feet. As they were leaving, she bent over to fasten them. Smitty was engrossed in getting his overcoat on. He didn't see his wife and sprawled over the top of her and both went down for the count. It was all arms and legs for awhile when they tried to get up! . . . Someone should take Carl Blair out to Al Miller's farm to plant corn. Here's Carl's latest gag: Said Carl, "I fell off a 20 ft. ladder the other day!" "Hurt yourself?" "Naw, I was only standing on the first rung." . . . When Mary Ann Miller left the employ of the Company, she donated her seat cushion to Ruby Brandt. Things must have been too soft for Ruby as she was off work all week! . . . The Transformer skating party held last week was a great success. Everyone had a swell time except for a few individuals (including me) whose cars got stuck in the mud. Those present at the party included Loretta Bloom, Hazel Bennett, Lucy Keller, Edna Hall and her husband, Pat McLaughlin, Dorothy Harris, Jane Maloney, Fred Gearhart, Ralph Lovell, Paul Haffner, Stanley Gongaware and his wife. Virginia Keesler, Erma Angel, Lucille Neville, Harold Josse and his wife, Don Zumbrun and myself.

If anybody has some old western magazines they would like to dispose of, please send them to Ray Loveless, who wishes us to state here that he is now located in Bldg. 12-2. Lloyd Hinton is now in stationery. . . . Orville Koble is still off due to illness and we hope you'll be back soon, Orville. . . . Nina Curtis sure likes fried chicken. After eating half a chicken for lunch, she came back to work and found a tempting box full of fried chicken sent to her. Five minutes later all she had to offer was a piece of fried potato and a palatable gleam in her eye. . . . Congratulations to E. J. O'Neill, who will become initiated into the fourth degree Knights of Columbus this week-end. A formal dance has been slated for this Saturday and dinner plans for Sunday. . . . The boys in the tool cribs are still wondering when they are going to meet the new girls here in the office; namely, Pat Henry and Ann Affolder. It's usually customary and the policy to introduce the new girls to the tool crib attendants. . . . Spring housecleaning is just around the corner and K. J. Redding is one jump ahead. He's busy these nights hanging wallpaper. When peering through their big picture window, one couldn't tell whether he was getting it on the wall or round his neck! . . . Harry Beaty sat gazing at a big wooden plug with a questionable look in his eye; we hope that solves your sewer problems, Harry! . . . Sometimes we have to lose to gain. A hard fall should mean a high bounce if one is made of the right material.

35 YEARS ON THE JOB—Edmund Bauer, Bldg. 20-1, (second from right) has been working for General Electric since March 22, 1916. He is shown pointing out some features of the test set he built to (l-r) Carl Hower, Ernest Lawyer and Howard Treesh.

"AMERICAN HUMOR"

Americans, and here I mean.
We folks in U.S.A.
Are often hard to understand
Our foreign neighbors say.

It's difficult for them to see.
Our humor, wit and fun,
And so I'll make an effort
To explain how each is done.

Our wit, I think, can be defined
As clever means of speech.
And fun is what we're having
When you hear us scream and screech.

Our humor is a part of life
The funny part of course,
And in the United States we find,
It's quite a potent force.

It's really disposition
Purely mental, nothing more
But without it, heaven help us,
Life would be an awful bore.

Now, like other things, our humor
Can be either good or bad.
When it's good of course we're happy.
When it isn't, then we're mad.

But I think, I ought to tell you
That we use good humor more,
And just keep the other handy,
For the times when we get sore.

Kaiser Bill and Adolph Hitler
Plus a couple other jerks
If they weren't dead, could tell you,
How our ugly humor works.

But we're really never happy
When we're getting mad at folks
We would much prefer good humor
With a lot of laughs and jokes.

If Will Rogers still were living
How we'd love to hear him say,
"Well, I wonder who Friend Harry Plans to mutilate today."

If the Russians had good humor
Then we'd need no army draft,
Think of what United Nations
Could accomplish if they laughed.

When we shoot the breeze, it doesn't Mean we do it with a gun.
When we beat our chests and argue
We can still be having fun.

So let's keep the right perspective
Let's continue having fun.
And just hope our foreign neighbors.
Sometime, see how it is done.

—W.L. Whonsetler

Don Miller tossed a small picture of himself in the wastepaper basket the other day after being told over the phone that they weren't needed anymore for chauffeur's licenses. He retrieved it hastily, however, a few minutes later when he found out that, instead of a license bureau official, he had been talking to someone a couple of desks behind him. P.S.: After the second call—he still doesn't need the picture. Anyone want it? If so, here is what it looked like. Don't call an exterminator, get a copy of it from W. Gerke. . . . WELCOME: We would like to welcome three new girls to the FHP Engineering File Room. They are Dorothy Lora, Carol Jacob and Carol Erwin. . . . CORRECTION: Ruth Oetting is taking Rita Alspaugh's place in the DC Division. . . . HELLO AND GOODBYE: We bid good-bye and the best of luck to George Beck, who was transferred to the Pittsfield Works, and we welcome Leon Argo, who will replace George. . . . GLAD TO HAVE YOU BACK: Sure is good to have B. R. McClure back after his recent trip to the hospital. . . . CONGRATS: Congratulations and best wishes to S. J. Miles, who was married last Friday afternoon, March 30, to Ella Cox, formerly of Taylor St. . . . CONGRATS: Happy birthday to Martha Davenport, Tuesday, April 3. We hope you had a very nice birthday, Martha. Also, we would like to extend birthday greetings to Mrs. Forrest Carlson (Mary Ellen Duer) April 5. Even though Mary Ellen left us sometime back, we still think of her and say, "Mary Ellen, we'd like to see you—why don't you pay us a visit soon?" . . . TRANSFER: Roy Hardin, Test Engineer, has been transferred to Winter St. We're sorry to see you go, Roy. . . . HURRY BACK: We hope by the time this is seen in print, we will have Helen Conrad back with us again. Helen has been absent because of illness. . . . AIR MAIL: Last week Lydia Wilkening literally flew on the elevator with an "Air Mail" sticker on her forehead. She was greeted with a loud ovation of surprise by the rest of the girls. The story (so Lydia tells us) is this: Her husband had forgotten to pick up the laundry for several weeks and this was a vivid reminder to him to pick up the laundry that very night. P.S.—It got picked up. By the way, if you are lucky enough to own a cottage at some Indiana Lake, you will be interested in reading a clever write-up Lydia composed on the woes versus pleasures of a week-end at the Lake. . . . FISH: The tropical fish hobbyists welcome E. M. Stanbery as a new member of the clan. Stan already has quite a family of "Black Mollies." . . . STAR: Have you seen "The Royal Family" at the Civic Theatre? Paul Binder plays the role of a butler, and he must be pretty good because he received a write-up in our local papers. It is being shown Friday, Saturday and Sunday of this week. . . . CAN'T READ, MA: Moose Foltz decided to tear March off the calendar, but it was too early on Monday for him to take stock of his reflexes. Someone had already removed March, so Moose tore off April. . . . APRIL FOOL: What's this we hear about Betty Stahl and Joe Gardt wearing a sign that said "grab me."

Last Thursday, March 22, we had quite a feast here in the Bldg. 4-5 office. In fact, we can still smell a slight aroma of baked beans. The pot-luck was sort of a farewell party for Mary Gerhard who is leaving her job in Bldg. 4-1 today to be a full-time housewife. Those attending our pot-luck were Addie Basbaum, Agnes Cordes, Barbara Yingling, Pearl Hardy, Betty Sue Eddington, Bess Armstrong, Mary Gerhard, Carol Sellers, and Helen Burnam. We had a minor tragedy when the casserole of baked beans exploded, while warming up on a hot plate. The office was filled with the smoke and smell of burnt baked beans. Just as we were ready to eat, Addie called to ask if the pot-luck was that day. She thought it was this Thursday and had not brought her "assigned" sandwiches. However, there was plenty for all, and Addie contributed some wonderful fudge she had made for her sister. A good time was had by all, even though Mary had to throw her casserole and hot plate into the waste basket. . . . Ray Pfleuger is eating heavy lunches again. For about three weeks, he lunched leanly on a boiled egg, fruit, and coffee. Now it is back to pie, cake, and several large sandwiches. Maybe Alice figures that he needs more punch to finish painting that picket fence. . . . Lois Waterson must spend a good deal of her time on the floor at the skating rink. The next day usually is a bad one because she doesn't seem to sit or walk around much. May we suggest you wear a padded suit when you skate? . . . Some of the boys made a trip to Houghton Lake in Michigan over the week-end. Those making the trip were Roy Berdelman, Bill Oberlin, Virgil Allmandinger, Frank Lawrence, and Ray Lepper. A nice catch was reported, but the real big ones got away naturally. . . . Two of our readers objected to some of the remarks made in this column last week. We are sorry if we stepped on anyone's toes. . . . Art Hoterman, our robust inspector, catches smoked fish right off the bridge at Benton Harbor, Mich. Wouldn't that be wonderful to catch fish all ready to eat? . . . Ed Johnson has left us for greener fields. He accepted a job in Columbus, O. We look for him back some day.

The girls are wondering when Clarabelle Whitman is going to leave for Brooklyn? Do you suppose they have bigger and better machines there? . . . Irene Campbell has gone to Florida for a two-weeks' vacation. . . . After seeing an article in the paper last week, Ed Fiedler was around seeing which of the girls had narrow eyebrows. He has a bald head. . . . We have heard of shoo-fly pie but never shirt tail pie. For the recipe, see Beverly Numbers. She was accused of trying to do away with her foreman Ralph Keller by baking him an imitation lemon pie. It makes a good April Fool Pie. . . . Louise Simms forgot she had to have a driver's license when she had a birthday. It dawned on her after driving for a whole year without one. She put her car in a parking lot while she went uptown to secure a new one. . . . There was a little black cat hovering around Paul LeCoque Saturday night while he was playing euchre. Could it have been a skunk? . . . Anyone wanting a pattern for the newest style apron, please contact Ollie Ragan. We have heard of aprons without bibs but never saw a bib without an apron. It seems that Ollie got too close to a certain machine. It caught the skirt of her apron and she was left with only the bib. Our advice to you, Ollie, is never wear a grass skirt to work. . . . Louie Kintz celebrated his birthday on the first day of spring. We wonder if that is why he has that spring in his walk? . . . We have found out that Ross Strodel doesn't shine his shoes any more often than he washes his car which is every five years. The expected has happened. The shiny new car is here. . . . Anyone wishing some new awnings contact Bob Heinzelman. . . . In five more years, Dan Bishop will be ready to sign with the Cardinals. . . . Clyde Helms has been quite busy with his spring housecleaning and putting a new motor in his car. . . . We have a student on the bench lathe. Herman Watters has been on a half a day's work for four days. Now we think the work will be scrap. . . . Enno Richter played euchre two days and took the cure. He decided he wouldn't get to Yellowstone this summer if he kept on playing. Norman Hughes is a proud new grandfather. . . . Paul LeCoque and Bob Smith followed the map that Eric Hellwig drew for them but it produced no fish Saturday. Hellwig followed the same map Sunday and caught five 5 lb. bass. . . . Clyde Boyce had a week's tussle with the flu but he won and is back to work.

6-4 AIRLINERS

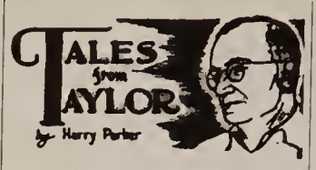
By Joan Lindeman

Don't ever ask Don LeMaster to bring you water for any reason, because when he gets right up to you, he stumbles — my flowers didn't get watered, I did. . . . Florence Weber was still sleepy Monday after her week-end trip. She picked up the soldering iron by the wrong end—the hot end. . . . Patty Alles was so thrilled over her diamond, she hardly knew what she was doing all day Monday. In the cafeteria, she picked up a plate of salad so fast, the salad slid right off the other side. . . . I'll bet Martha Jesse will take a look in the oven that they keep in their basement before she asks her hubby to turn it on next time. When she took the pie down to stick in, black smoke was rolling out. A roller that they had used for painting was baking in the oven. . . . Have you seen Zara Van Skyock's purse. The men ask her why she carries her mop to work. . . . Anyone who knows how to pick locks see Glen Castle. I'll bet Glen was saying, "What to do, what to do," last week when he came to work forgetting all his keys. . . . I saw Bob Pence zig zagging through a heavy line of traffic trying to get to the other side in the parking lot. When he finally made it, he remembered that his car was parked on the side that he had just been on. . . . Welcome Alice Steinbarger, who transferred from nights. There are so many new faces—ones who have been transferred and others who are newcomers—that I can't keep track of everyone, so we'll just say "we're glad to have you aboard" to everyone. . . . Happy birthday to Margaret Hilgemann, Friday the 30th, and you would never believe her age. Thanks for the treat, Margaret. . . . Lillian Shaffer is going to Louisville, Ky., for the week-end. . . . Ray Snyder can't figure out these new chairs we have up here. He sat down the other day and went clear to the bottom. . . . Selma Hans won't get into trouble, but Harry Barrie, Bldg. 4-3, might. Selma was helping out in the Packing Section and when she turned around real quick she ran into Harry and got lipstick all over his shirt. Harry looked in his horoscope to see what would happen to him. . . . Howard Courtney has been on the sick list this week. . . . "Moe" Satterwaite likes coffee with his do-nuts, especially if it is Pondo's coffee. Pondo doesn't miss it until lunch time and then finds he is one cup short. Come on around, boys, coffee is on Pondo. . . . Elmer Harshman is the coffee maker back in the Testing Section. The boys say it is darned good, too. . . . Gloria Schory must make every minute count on her week-ends. They say she is so sleepy every Monday she needs another week-end to recuperate. . . . Bob Pence has really taken a razzing this week. He traded his bathroom fixtures, storm windows and numerous other things to Walt Richardson for Walt's overhead garage door. Walt turned around and sold the bath tub alone for $25 and bought a new electric saw with it. Today I hear that he sold the stool for $15 and has yet the sink, storm windows, etc., to go. He's making money from this deal, especially since Bob sold all three bathroom fixtures to Walt for $25. . . . Ruth Troyer must work too hard. At the end of a long day, when she went to wash up she saw a ring on the wash stand, but it turned out to be a soap ring. . . . Carl Brenner wants to buy a bicycle cheap to save his shoes. . . . If you wonder why Don Wilson was floating around all day Saturday, it was because he took a bubble bath Friday night. . . . Vivett Johnson said that the rain we had all last week was wetter than water. . . . I guess Jim Saybolt figures he has to blow his nose so many times a day that Kleenex just isn't enough. He keeps a big roll of toilet tissue on his desk. . . . Welcome to Esther Johnson and Dorothy Ramsey to group 1-35. . . . Why all the frowns on the Collins line—could it be the new rates?

By Don Clark

SING WHILE YOU DRIVE

At 45 miles per hour, sing—
"Highways Are Happy Ways."



At 55 miles, sing—
"I'm But a Stranger Here, Heaven Is My Home."

At 65 miles, sing—
"Nearer, My God, To Thee!"

At 75 miles, sing—
"When the Roll Is Called Up Yonder, I'll Be There."

At 85 miles, sing—
"Lord, I'm Coming Home."

When the agent sold Russell Sage his insurance, he also gave Russ a card bearing the above advice. Since excessive speed is the cause of many accidents, let's play it safe and take it easy. . . . DIE PLANT: We welcome Arthur Templer and Charles Fike into the Die Plant Section. . . . Bob Bryan has a big job ahead in creating something new out of something old. After razing an old livery barn, Bop hopes to use part of the timber in building a new house. . . . Chet Rennecker's main concern is getting near his new home. We hope that load of crushed stone in the driveway does the trick, Chet. . . . John Montgomery recently decided to save a little money in repairing a leak in the basement. He soon persuaded his boys to help him in the project. After it was completed, he made the mistake of bragging about how much he had saved. The boys were on their toes with "How about our slice of the savings, Dad?" . . . We extend get-well-quick wishes to Frank Armstrong, a victim of pneumonia. . . . Jack Eckler is doing some spring housecleaning and painting in the tool crib. Having mixed his own paint, Jack is having one trouble. It won't get dry. . . . John Keller and Louis Iacona are welcome to Bldg. 19-5. . . . We have heard of fox chases. Now this year, George Houser has a new sport. It is called a fish chase. He has bought a new boat and motor and plans to chase the poor fish all summer long. . . . Bob Hirschmann also has something new, lockinitis. His first attack came when he locked his keys in his car. His dad rescued him with his extra set, however. The next attack found Bob with his raincoat caught in the door in such a manner that he could neither get out of the coat nor get any doors unlocked. Again his father rescued Bob. We're glad you have the remedy for lockinitis so handy, Bob. . . . Chet Reynolds received a nice surprise the other morning when Vernon Burke brought him a piece of his wife's fine cake. Chet had all the boys jealous, yet John Neukam turned dow a sample, claiming he is too fat now. John Roemer hungrily longed for a slice of Martha's cake, but when offered some he politely refused. He said his stomach couldn't take cake any more. It looks like you can really enjoy that cake, Chet. . . . Why did Arthur Schoolcraft rush out during noon hour? He forgot his glasses. Why was he jumping around here one morning like a chicken? He couldn't find his glasses. Why did he make a "U" turn on Taylor St. and make a mad dash for the Winchester road the following morning? He forgot his glasses. All those wearing glasses, please tell Art how you can see to pick up your glasses. . . . Lloyd Welbaum is glad his wife is home from Rochester, as he is now eating in style. . . . It's brought to the attention of the writer the fact that Glenn Ramsey deserves 100 in housecleaning. Being a modest gentleman, Glenn passes all the credit along to his special assistant, Mark (you can't catch me) McNulty. . . . George Hartman orders cinders for his alley from his honor, City Councilman Franke. George claims that is the best service he ever got. Several loads were piled directly in front of his garage doors. . . . Spring must be here as the golfers (goofers) Paul Brinkroeger, Don Alcott, Henry Sandkuhler and Glenn Hoon have all but started practice swings in their back yards. . . . Kurt Martin has trained his police dog to carry meat packages home. Imagine trusting a three-dollar steak to a dog. . . . To hear Joe Mettler razz Bob Truelove, you'd think he bought an old dynaflow Buick instead of a good Studebaker. . . . Mart Walsh is feeling much better and expects to be back soon. . . . Ed Kayser is getting so he spends the evenings checking up on his memory. One rainy evening last week, he quietly slipped up to the fifth floor to rescue the umbrella he had forgotten to take home. . . . George Hartman wouldn't tell us but he had an uncomfortable ride to work on the bus the other morning. It seems his lunch was inclined to leak. . . . The Grinding Section welcomes Harold Ritter to the second shift. . . . It's good to have Russell Kinsell back after an operation. . . . Singing commercials seem to be a new interest for Willie Garman, Dick Florent and Dick Pohler. As you talk through the Die Repair Section, you are apt to hear any one of their renditions. . . . The Jig Bore Section welcomes Ervin Beilsmith to the day shift. . . . That new dignified atmosphere in the east end of the fourth floor comes from two things. Herb Meyer and Fred Nagel are sporting new spectacles. . . . Observers near the welding booth say that Herb Menewish is receiving plenty of credit for skinning a four-foot blue racer caught in his back yard. . . . Bob Branning was caught in an embarrassing and helpless situation the other morning, but Norm Jackemeyer came to his rescue.

Sometime ago Gilbert Brown was tooting his horn in favor of a certain medium-priced car. In fact, he influenced several co-workers so well that they purchased cars of this make. Then what happened? Why, Gilbert sallied forth with one of those sleek high-priced jobs. Now the purchasers of these lower-priced cars are inclined to believe that Gilbert did this purposely so that he could look down upon them and crow about the finer points of his jallopy. Beware, my friends, of those who try to influence you. Henry Ward Beecher said, "The humblest individual exerts some influence, either for good or evil, upon others." . . . Helen Marquart pulled a good one last week. At quitting time, she went to her car. The old boy refused to start. She tried time and again to coax it into action, but no soap. In desperation, she called a mechanic. He checked the car. Finding nothing wrong, he asked for the ignition key. Turning the switch, he noticed the gas gage read, "empty." He said to Helen, "I do believe that if you would put some gas in the tank, this car would run." . . . Last week, Archie Boren's car was laid up for repairs. He made a deal with Everett McKee to pick him up in Huntertown. All went well until Friday. On that morning, Archie was at his post as usual. Sighting the car in the offing, he thought all was well. But Everett passed him up like a jet job passing a bomber. Archie said that Everett and some other bloke were in the front seat smoking big cigars and looking like bloated bond holders, never giving Archie a tumble. Feeling quite crestfallen, he had to thumb his way to work, arriving two hours late. Archie said that he could not board a car going 60 miles per hour. . . . Monroe Fuhrman has installed a single tree on the front bumper of his car. This, he tells us, is to be standard equipment as long as he keeps this car. It has been pulled more times by horses than its own motor. Perhaps you should dispose of that car, Monroe, and see Gilbert Brown. He will surely recommend the right car for you to purchase.

Mr. Wheeler has done it again! He had three flat tires in a row Sunday. Fred, if you are "tired" of changing tires, why not try "operating on the rim?" . . . Maurice Petgen said the other day that he just couldn't go to Bermuda (Elex girls were discussing their trip to Bermuda) because his wife wasn't working. . . . Jackie Miller sat on the floor where his chair "orta be," he said. . . . Remember Julius Caesar? The man who could talk, think, act, and write at the same time! We have a Miss Julius Caesar — Violet Schneiders. She talks, eats, plays cards and sings all at the same time. What, can't she write too? . . . Ruth Abel wants to know who is on the other end of the phone when she says certain things now. She called her hubby at work to tell him to get a loaf of bread on his way home from work. The man she talked to was her husband's boss. . . . Jerry Schlund is very proud of his nephew in South Bend. He is 6 ft. 10 in. tall, plays on a basketball team and recently scored 103 points in three games. . . . "Who done it?" That was the cry of Carol Harrington the other day when her purse was missing. Ruth Abel and Mary Wakeman were just having some fun. . . . Boy Trouble? Marilyn Spice has. It is very embarrassing to have all the boys accidentally come to see you on the same night. . . . Welcome: Georgia Laurent, daughter of George Laurent, from Decatur. She is a graduate of Decatur Catholic and attended International Business College. . . . We extend our greetings to Bernadette Collis, whose birthday was April 5, and to Patricia Waterman, whose birthday is April 9. . . . Ask Clyde, one of our latest mail boys, to write his last name for you and see if you can pronounce it. I can't even spell it. . . . Our bride to-be, Pat Waterman, is surely dreaming about Elkhart. . . . Vivian Grepke has the dreams, though. She has the ones that really throw you. . . . This is the complimentary paragraph. Jim Thompson, who is the very handsome fellow in our Taylor St. Lab., is quite popular with the young lassies in the Shipping Section. But, here is the catch. Jim said "I would rather go to Korea than walk through the Shipping Office." . . . My beautiful morning glories that have been blooming in the kitchen window for over a month, have finally died. . . . Last, but by no means least, we extend our "Memo of Welcome" to Herb Grueb.

G-E MEN GO G.I.—Mark McNulty, Bldg. 19-4 (left), and Paul Beltz, Works Lab (center), are shown filling out Company Armed Forces military leave pay forms under the direction of Payroll Section Supervisor W. J. Spahr. G-E will pay the men one month's wages before they go to work for Uncle Sam.

SHIPPING: Amid the clanging of knife and fork and the pleasant sound of food being served, farewells were bid to Herb Grueb Friday noon. It was in honor of his departure to Taylor St. Shipping Section. The party was a definite success, and the meal was supreme. . . . Herman (Curly) Ebel is taking over some of the duties of Herb Grueb. We are sure he will be a busy boy. . . . There seem to be lots of ways of getting the most for your money. No one but a Scotchman (Buck Buchanan, by name) would be able to secure two pieces of pumpkin pie for his dinner, when everyone else only received one piece of pie, and cherry pie at that. . . . The flu bug chased several of our stalwart citizens around for days, but finally cornered them last week. We were minus Dottie Johnson, Mary Ann Burke, Paul Klage and Bob Jellison. The latter gave the bug a terrific battle but was finally thrown for the count Wednesday. . . . Betty Cutright had some good news about her patient, but was very disgusted with the weatherman for holding up the progress of her house. . . . The question uppermost on many minds lately has been just what was Viola Haiber trying to pull with that large roll. She claims she picked it up by mistake instead of her purse? There's no paper shortage, that we know of. . . . Birthday greetings to Eva Westrick, who celebrated on Tuesday, April 3. . . . Welcome to Virgil McGuire, who intends to help with the Traffic Section problems. We trust you will find working with our gang very pleasant, Virgil. . . . MAILING: Congratulations to Minta Cole, who is now a grandma. Mamma and baby are doing just fine, Minta reports. . . . Ed (V. I. P.) Blotkamp seems to be really on top this week. He received a mysterious telegram with the initials, "H. S. T." signed at the bottom. Ed refused to divulge the contents of the telegram. It seems that Jack Schoeneman, Ralph Miles and Bob Heyn already know, but also refuse to inform the rest. . . . Who has more trouble than Bob Sturm? When he went calling on his lady fair at noon, she wouldn't see him. Worse yet, he had a wreck with his car over the week-end. . . . Speaking of cars, Jack Schoeneman picked a very inopportune time to prove to Jerry Gardner what good brakes he had. Jerry ended up with a very delicious (he thinks, probably) strawberry malt spilled on his maroon shirt. . . . The most outstanding fellow in mailing last week was Johnny Pranger. Of course, the reason might be that he was wearing a Chartruese shirt topped off with a bright pink bow tie. . . . Are congratulations really in order for Ralph Miles and his little lady, or was this one of his April Fool jokes? Ralph denies all, but time will tell whether he's April-fooling us or whether he really is a new bridegroom.

An accident caused one out of every 17 persons in the United States to suffer a disabling injury in 1950, the National Safety Council reports.

Barbara Ray is a poor morale builder when it comes to having teeth pulled. It seems Barbara was trying to help bolster up courage for Carol Eastes. When she was done talking, Carol felt like she had been dragged through a wringer. . . . Skippy Kurtz proved to be the winner of $10 in groceries on "I've Got Your Number." . . . Why did Polly take off so fast when she came to work? . . . Happy Birthday to Doris Garr. . . . Jo Lee Zimmerman is the new reinforcer. . . . Welcome to Joyce Druce, who is new in 1x55. . . . We thought for a minute the old rocking chair had either Don or Howard. . . . We hope to see Mary Noll back to work soon and hope she is getting along OK after her automobile accident last week. . . . The Pyramid Club proved too much for Vida Craft. . . . Amy Dull sure got a lot of sympathy from the gang for her blistered hands. Our only response was, "It's the saddest story we ever heard." . . . Nora Ridley is now smiling at Jo Lee again. . . . Those stars in Dorothy Favorite's eyes are the result of her husband's being home for a three-week stay from the Navy. . . . Why did everyone back down when Aldena Harris offered them a ride in her new Ford-a-matic? . . . Katy, did you notice Mary carrying the box? . . . Pearl Michaels proved to be a friend to Marie Johnson. It seems that Marie forgot her lunch so Pearl shared her beef and noodles. . . . Laurine Kraus dreams with her home magazines. . . . We are wondering how Doris Stearns bruised her chin? . . . Bonnie Marks has the cutest nautical shirts. They are nautical, but nice. . . . We are wondering if "Muscles" Norris' birthday present fits? . . . Polly and Don don't talk anymore. They just stare. . . . Skippy Kurtz drew the last straw in the Easter Egg Hunt. She took her two boys and waited in line for an hour and when the ropes were finally opened, they wouldn't go. Skippy says, never again. . . . Jo Lee proved her point. . . . Reggie: Beware of baldheaded men. . . . Why does Aldena Harris keep a rocking chair in the haymow? . . . We wish a speedy recovery to Maxine DiGregory, and we miss you a lot, Max. . . . I wish in this way to thank each and every one of you for the lovely gift and also the cards you sent me during my recent hospital stay. . . . Max.

The weatherman really reached to the bottom of the sack to give us all the varied weather we had on April Fool's Day. . . . Faye Stockberger thought the Easter Bunny very nice. He brought her a new grandson. . . . Leona Rauch is a proud aunty of a new nephew. . . . Harold Bowker came in last Monday morning carrying scrambled eggs, uncooked. . . . Ivan Grandstaff was seen going down the stairs with a coat hanger fastened in her coat belt—shortage at home? . . . Mabel Schaaf won an Arthur Murray dancing class ticket. Now she doesn't know what to do with it. . . . Gwen Gilstrap and Juanita Moennig were heating chili for their lunch. They accidentally spilled it, so their lunch consisted mostly of crackers. . . . Ruth Stout moved into her new home last Saturday. . . . We extend a welcome to all our newcomers. Hope you like us. . . . "Pat" Halley, one of our newcomers, wants to know how to get her name in the WORKS NEWS. . . . Louis Wyss came on days to pinch hit for Harold Bowker. Harold had an operation Wednesday. . . . Others on our sick list include Hedy Harrison, Augusta Boehm, and Ray Williams. . . . Joe Bell finds that stators belong on the conveyor or a truck. One hit him on the foot causing a fractured toe. . . . Dorothy Johnson's shuffleboard team won the trophy. Hope you make it in the State match. . . . Elmer Lamley plays shuffleboard, too. In fact, he couldn't make it in to work the next morning. . . . When Hazel Lockwood is driving a new Chrysler, we hear she has trouble parking. Especially where there are parking meters. . . . We also hear that Edith Paxson certainly likes orchids. . . . Birthday greetings go to Iva Mullins, Ruby Pomeroy, Arlene Winebrenner, Eliza Page and Bonnie Le Boeuf. . . . The race was on, but they made it. The other night Hazel Lockwood, Frances Eckrote, Irene Mohler, and Nora Vanover missed the bus to Bluffton. They hailed a ride and caught up with it out on Brooklyn Ave. . . . If you have a cough due to a cold, Harold Kiel's wife really has the right medicine. . . . Bob Bonar left us last Friday for the Navy.

Ten More Employees Join Quarter Century Club

Paulus Adams
Bldg. 4-5

Leonard Meyer
Decatur

Olka P. Johnston
Taylor St.

Harold F. Spath
Bldg. 4-2

Edward A. Dauscher
Bldg. 26-1

Paul I. Gellert
Taylor St.

John W. O'Neil
Taylor St.

Dorothy A. Jensen
Bldg. 4-5

Roy E. Woods
Bldg. 4-5

Walter M. Krieg
Taylor St.

Send all ads to WORKS NEWS office, Bldg. 18-3.

"Lost" and "Found" articles must be cleared through the Plant Protection office, Bldg. 10-2, or the Plant receptionist, who will place the Ad-let and otherwise advertise the article.

Only one ad per employee may be inserted. Each ad must be limited to 20 words and cannot be repeated. All articles mentioned must be personal property of the employee. Ad will not be accepted unless accompanied by the name, pay number, and division of the employee. No works building or telephone number may appear in ad, only the home telephone number or address.

No ad will be received over the telephone

CLOSING DATE

Monday Noon, April 9, 1951

LOST AND FOUND

FOUND—Black jet earring. Found on sidewalk in front of Bldg. 19 gate.

FOUND—Man's wedding ring. Found by north elevator in Bldg. 4-4.

FOUND—A pearl earring. Turned in at Bldg. 19 gate.

FOUND—Gold colored belt. Found in south end of Bldg. 16.

TRANSPORTATION

WANTS RIDERS—From Papakeechee Lake, coming through Wolf Lake, Merriam and Churubusco. John Willig works in Bldg. 6-3 for Del Bucher from 3:30-11:48.

WANTS RIDE—From 12 mi. north between Roads 27 and 427 to Taylor St. Georgia Lochner works in Purchasing Office from 8-4:30. Extension 2440 or Garrett 906R1.

WANTS RIDE — From Hicksville to Broadway, 8 to 5:15 p.m. Teresa Arend, Bld. 6-2. Ext. 662.

WANTS RIDE—From Bluffton to Broadway, 8-5:15 p.m. Mary Gilliion, Bldg. 6-2, Ext. 662.

FOR SALE

GIRL'S BLUE 26 IN. BICYCLE—H-44362.

TAYLOR TOT—$4. H-57923.

TWO NEW MOBILE TIRES—Size 7.10 x 15. H-9634.

WHITE ROTARY SEWING MACHINE—Treadle type, reasonable. A-99353.

FOUR TIRES AND TUBES—6:00x16, low mileage. H-69145.

BABY TENDA—Crib, ¾ size; bathinette, $20. E-32234.

HOUSE TRAILER—27 ft., excellent condition, bottled gas stove, electric refrigerator, immediate possession. Contact Dorothy Duff, second house off U.S. 30-West after 5 p.m.

SUNBEAM MIXMASTER — G-E twin waffle iron; Toastmaster pop-up toaster, H-48123.

TWO WINDOW FRAMES—31"x75", including sash, storm sash, half screens; C-E Monitor-top refrigerator; G-E wringer washer, H-60983.

PEACH FORMAL—Size 11, worn once, H-58213.

PORTABLE PAINT SPRAYER—Like new; kitchen sink, right-hand drainboard, with new faucets. H-81314.

CLOTHES—Girls' sweaters, coat, hat, gloves; woman's dress, man's hat; rollaway bed, mattress, pillows. H-26686.

TWO-PIECE LIVING ROOM SUITE—Very good condition, custom made slipcovers. H-66855.

CONTROL-LINE GAS MODEL AIRPLANE—With O.R. 27 motor, controls included, $7. 1203 Kinnaird or H-19044.

FULL-SIZE BED SPRING—Very good condition, $10. E-69644.

DELUXE WASHING MACHINE—Practically new. Reasonable. Call H-75544. 2116 Weisser Park Ave.

HUDSON—Model 41, super six, 4-door, overdrive. Good rubber. '47 engine. Call week ends or after 4 p.m. 1309½ Rockhill St.

COMPLETE AIR COMPRESSOR—Without mototor. Ideal for shop or garage. Call H-64552 after 4 p.m.

NYLON AND MARQUISETTE CURTAINS—One pair drapes; rug, 7 x 9, and 8.3 x 10.6. H-65681.

HORTON WASHER—Crosley refrigerator, guaranteed; '36 Chevrolet, clean; '42 Hudson 6; '41 Plymouth convertible, good paint and mechanically OK. Phone A-68032.

G-E MONITOR REFRIGERATOR—Good condition throughout. A-99160.

LARGE WALNUT DRESSER—H-55574.

PLAY PEN—Waxed birch, and pad. Like new. Teeter-Babe and High chair pad. Call H-68574 after 5 p.m.

DRY FIREPLACE LOGS—And furnace chunks. For chilly spring days. Can deliver. A-29819.

G-E ELECTRIC STOVE—With automatic clock and timer. Calrod units. Good condition. Reasonable. A-75026.

GOOSE EGGS—For hatching. Excellent. Strain of White Chinas. H-37777.

1942 PLYMOUTH—Good condition, new tires. Call H-77374.

G-E MONITOR TOP REFRIGERATOR—7 cu. ft. E-66134.

2 BOYS' SUITS—Sizes 8-10. Brown pants, two-tone coats, excellent condition. Very reasonably priced. A-68213.

ELECTRIC BENCH SAW—Slightly used, tilt blade with ¾ hp G-E motor. Mall electric saw. 1937 panel Ford truck. H-81535 after 4 p.m. 423 McKinnie Ave.

PIANO—Spinet-type. 1135 Broadway.

DIXIE APARTMENT STOVE—Gas. Also one set of laundry tubs. 68 Village Colony.

G-E AUTOMATIC WATER HEATER—40 gal. and G-E washer, like new. Call A-77853.

PRINTED BEMBERG—Maternity dress, size 12. Girl's 3-piece coat set. Corduroy junper, wool skirt, size 3. All Bissel hand sweeper. Men's safety shoes, size 11. H-0313.

FARMALL TRACTOR—B. Will trade for part beef and rest cash or all cash. $500. Inquire at 1238 Wall St. or call A-57371.

WANTED

OFFICERS B-4 BAG—H-77764.

G-E STEAM IRON—A-97771.

BOY'S BICYCLE—24" in good condition. A-67864.

USED ELECTRIC TRAIN—For young son. 162 Travers Place.

HOUSE — Furnished or unfurnished. Seven engineers (Hermitage) seeking better location. E-1342.

FOR RENT

SLEEPING ROOM—Close to G-E. 1004 W. Wayne St. or A-56112.

LAWN ROLLER—75 cents a day. E-36944.

GARDEN PLOTS—Rich black soil; ready to plant; 4 miles from Broadway Plant. H-59086.

FURNISHED APARTMENT — Four rooms. Call A-46532 after 5:30 p.m.

MISCELLANEOUS

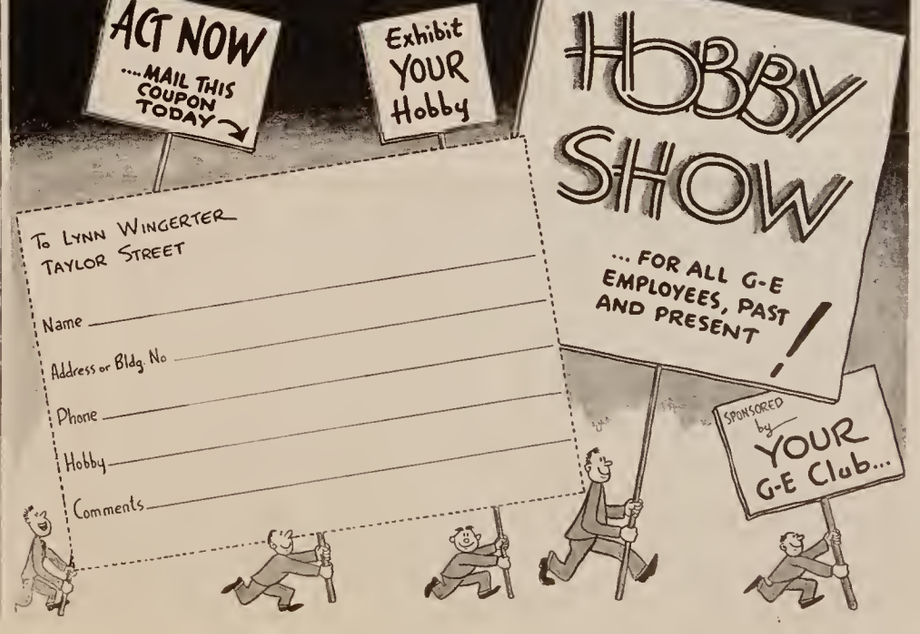
CAN HAVE 2x4 WOOD—By razing garage and cleaning up debris. Further details can be obtained from H-70761 after 4 p.m.

Apprentice BROADCAST

SPRING TONIC: Since it is springtime, Paul Mischo wanted Harry Ecenbarger to harden a spring for him (lead, of course). The worm turned. Harry, realizing the spring was lead, had made a switch. From time to time Paul would sneak a look at the spring in the furnace and his only comment was "Gee, it's red hot—it should be melted by now." . . . Our two alumni (Bob Barnes and Harry Ecenbarger) attended the Apprentice Alumni Skating Party and reported they had a very nice time. The amazing part was they made it in to work the next day. . . . We had a drip in the tool crib last week, and we don't mean Ray Loveless. . . . The Apprentice theme song is, "Where, oh where can our little grade cards be?" . . . Introducing our new apprentice: Robert Ramsey. Bob originally hails from Detroit, Mich., but has been working in the Inspection Section, in Bldg. 4-4. . . . GI's: Where are all those letters you promised to write? We haven't heard from any of our fellows in the service for sometime. We know you are very busy, but we would apprcciate a few lines whenever possible. Be sure to send us any change of address so there won't be any delay in receiving your WORKS NEWS. . . . Emmett Rasor has been farmed out to the Tool Room in Bldg. 4-3. . . . THEY'LL DO IT EVERY TIME: A few weeks ago when Pete Zook was married, he gave his wife special orders to be very nice to his officers. On Sundays, Pete and Marveen always attended church together at the camp. A few weeks ago after church, Pete and his company had started marching back to their barracks when Marveen decided to pass the company. Just as she pulled up even with them she hit a huge mud puddle. You can guess who her victim was—Pete's lieutenant. When Pete got back to his quarters, the lieutenant was very unhappy and didn't hesitate to inform Pete of the fact.

Don't put things off. Put them over.

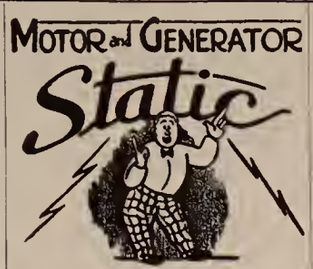
This is no April Fool: Hank Albert became a proud father in the dawn of April Fool's Day. Congratulations to Henry and Wilma Albert on the birth of their baby girl, Carol Elise. . . . "Big Bang of the Week" caused by petite girl. A sudden crash startled everyone in Bldg. 31 last week. Dust streamed down covering the desks on the first floor. Dashing to the scene in Ray Pumphrey's office, Warren Brighty found Elaine Holmes calm, hut bewildered, beside an overturned file cabinet. The cabinct fell forward because two full drawers were opened at the top, where Elainc was filing, but the bottom drawers were empty. Lucky for Elaine she was standing at the side. She must have had her rabbit's foot with her. . . . Goldie Jackson of the Commercial Sales Office transferred to Bldg. 18-4 last week to work for Mr. Leider. . . . Harry Rife is spending his vacation at St. Petersburg, Fla., this week. Going to Florida and hack in one wcek is a long trip. Harry will have to comc hack to work to rest up.



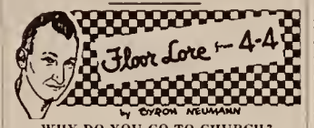
Seems that Junior (Sorehead) Schwerer had a very bad day last Thursday. He was so overworked he was still sore about it Friday. . . . Doyle Miller is certainly doing a lot of douhle-checking on his orders these days, or is it his dance program? . . . Gerald Crum has taken up secretarial work. At least, we noticed him taking down some dictation. . . . That billfold with the dog-chain attachment Ad Ragan has been carrying has given him the appearance of a Noble County beer distributor. . . . We were very glad to have Max Holtcross back with us after an extended illness. . . . We understand Ray Zell won't work Saturdays anymore because Mack McConehey pays him more to just tune up his Frazer. We sure hope he doesn't scratch that chrome. . . . Sam Rhoads has been having an awful time predicting the weather. When it rains, Sam doesn't have his raincoat, just wears a sweater. When it snows, he is sure to have just the opposite. . . . We welcomed Wayne Brickley into Group 2-002 last week and hope he likes our system as well as we do his. . . . Joe Krider has decided he cannot operate the shears and do a good job on the farm, too. We think he should be ahle to, because it is a farmer's job. As there is a farmer on the joh now, this whole incident has not left Ed Byers speechless. . . . Forrest Rupright was all set to go to the hasement, but is bearing his sorrow very well. . . . Charles Baker has a hohby of buying old, broken-down Model A cars. He has one in the garage for repairs daily and when he does take it out he can't help but celebrate. The State Police joined in his celebration last Wednesday evening by pinching him for speeding, faulty tail and headlights, etc.

RECEIVES GIFTS AT RETIREMENT—Eulalia M. Zuber, Bldg. 26-3, (right, foreground) is shown saying goodbye to her foreman Wade Bowman and several of her Transformer Division friends. She was honored with a dinner and received several gifts when she left April 1. Mrs. Zuber first came to General Electric in 1943. She has worked in Bldg. 4-2, Taylor St., Bldg. 17-3, Winter St., Bldgs. 26-5 and 26-3. At the time of her retirement, she connected and assembled in Transformer Div. 94.

You can lead a boy to college but you can't make him think.



The people in the office would like to welcome Gordon Stenson. . . . We are wondering why Carmella Raucci changes her entire outfit at noon? . . . If George Finkbeiner would like any advice or explanation on the subject of diapers, the girls in the office will help him out. . . . Edna Mapes is a proud grandmother again. . . . Mildred Steffey is looking for a talking set of teeth. . . . Best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Call. . . . While Levona Clark was ill, Doris Rinehold was very thoughtful and sent her some candy and a letter for which Levona was very thankful. . . . Lonnie what do you use in your cigarette lighter? Fuel oil? . . . A potluck was enjoyed Thursday night by everyone. It was in honor of Eulalia Zuber, who is retiring. We hate to see you go, Eulalia, but we are glad you liked your gift. . . . Evelyn Armstrong's son-in-law is home on furlough. . . . A potluck dinner was held for Hettie and Glenna Koch, who were both transferred. Hope you like your new jobs, girls. . . . Charlie, will you please give Carolyn the next installment as to what make and model? . . . When three old fishermen, Frenchie, Herman, and Whitey, get together and discuss worms and bugs, they should explain to Garland what "night crawlers" are. . . . A birthday dinner was held for Helen Landrie. Susie Romey was the special guest. . . . Cora Bucher, the gal with the halo, has been named "Angel Face." . . . Sorry to hear that your father is ill, Zelma, and we all hope he gets better soon. . . . Earl Bartling was seen going around looking at girls' eyebrows and checking the men for bald spots. Stop worrying, Earl, you still have a lot of hair. . . . We are glad to see Margret Deck back after her illness. . . . Millie Haslup has been nursemaid for her nephew, who has the measles. . . . Jim McGill, can't you find some reason to give up smoking those powerful cigars? . . . Whitey, after being here 17 years, wanted to go to Bldg. 12-3. After wandering around for awhile on the third floor and not recognizing anyone, he found out to his surprise that he was in Bldg. 10-3. . . . Bob Knoll, instead of blocking traffic like you did, why don't you buy gas for your car? . . . We had a wonderful dinner for Marie Droege Thursday. Marie is being pensioned and we are all going to miss her. The girls who prepared the food and set it out for us did a grand job. Marie received two nice gifts from her co-workers—a radio and an alarm clock. . . . We were in doubt if Al Rieman was going to be able to work after the dinner because anyone who had anything left just put it on Al's plate and he kept right on eating. . . . Happy birthday to Marjorie DeArman. . . . Mary Williamson, why do you talk so fast? Is it to keep you out of trouble? . . . Chester Cline wishes to express his gratitude and thanks to his co-workers for their thoughtfulness. . . . Dorothy McGowan was seen looking everywhere for her shoe knife. Know where she found it? It was in her right hand. . . . The "kid" in Packing Section feels bad because her name never gets in the paper. So now, Norma, you should feel better. . . . Frankie McMasters doesn't want to be called "the sweeper" anymore. He wants to be known as the "Sanitation Engineer." . . . Leonard "Pealy" Pequignot has gone into the stock business, but his moving facilities aren't what they should be. He bought a 351-pound calf from Dale Stuckey and moved it to his home via the back seat of his car. "Pealy" tried to hold the calf in a graceful position, but complained about his wife's driving. First she was going too slow, then too fast and it seemed every time Mrs. Pequignot had to stop the car, the calf would try to sit in "Pealy's" lap. No horn was needed as the calf mooed all the way home.



EVALUATION: Frankly, I do not expect much reaction from the following but, I can't help but continually ask myself this same old question: "How do I evaluate the true worth of a man?" Now that may sound senseless because probably a good many of those that I evaluate don't particularly care what my opinion may or may not be. However, can any of us really afford not to care how our fellow men appraise us? In the overall picture, we are aware that we can't please everybody, but if we do find that we please more than those whom we displease, we are taking steps in the right direction for a worth-while evaluation. Because each of us are prone to judge the other fellow according to our own standards of appraisal, I often wonder if we take into consideration the following facts: (a) Was that opinion based upon someone's say so. If that is true, are the statements you heard cold facts or did the one who informed you have some personal axe to grind? Was the informer reliable or could it be that he sometimes judges erratically, which best serves his own ends? Do you try to seek the opinion of those in whom you have confidence? Do you weigh the evidence, or do you rely on snap judgment? (b) Actually, what is a man? Do you measure his worth by his position in society; in business? Is it his every day relations with his associates? Just what kind of a yardstick do you use for measuring a man? (c) Would you select him to be a friend? Can you trust him as you trust real friends? Is he the type that you would enjoy bringing into your own home to meet your wife and family? Does he "measure up" on your mythical yardstick? (d) What do you expect out of him? If he roughs your fur, do you still have that good feeling toward him? Do you exaggerate his virtues because it makes your road easier? Are you honest in your opinion? I expect I could think of any number of questions along this same line of thought, but let's end it here. The only thing I am trying to say is this: As we go through life, each of us will continually form opinions of each of our fellow men. As we learn to know certain individuals better, we often change our original ideas about them. It is equally true that each and everyone that we meet is evaluating us. How do YOU stack up? THOUGHTS IN PASSING: In the high geared business world of today, you are finding more and more "experts" in every phase of business activity. Each must thoroughly understand his specific problem and must also thoroughly understand the functions and peoples that make his problem a reality. The failure to understand any one of these problems is apt to result in his being "misunderstood." JEST FOR FUN: A number of years ago, a schoolmaster roundly administered hickory stick punishment to an erring pupil. The lad left with this parting threat, "You are bigger than I am now, but someday, I shall grow up and I'll repay you for what you did to me today." Years passed and the boy grew to manhood. One day while passing a hotel window, he recognized a familiar figure seated in the lobby. He entered the hotel, approached the man, and demanded, "Aren't you the Mr. Jones who used to teach school years ago?" Mr. Jones, now aged and grey, acknowledged the fact. "Well," said the younger man, "I'm the Willie Brown that you whipped one day in school. I promised you that if I ever met you, when I'd grown up, that I'd repay that whipping. Even though you are old and grey, I want you to know that I still intend to keep my word. So, get on your feet." So, the old man got on his feet and whipped him again.

Thought For The Week: "Gentleman: Man who steps on his cigarettes so they won't burn the carpet."

GIVE THIS PEDESTRIAN A "BRAKE." A good driver anticipates that a pedestrian caught in the middle of the street between opposing lines of traffic may become "rattled" and step back into the path of a car instead of "staying put." Never count on any pedestrian to use good judgment. Slow down—and even stop—if there is not sufficient clearance for safe passing. . . . NOT SPRING: If you should see Pete Dannecker walking along with a dazed look and muttering to himself, don't be fooled. It isn't spring; it's lack of sleep and Jack Newton. Jack engaged in some overtime work and forgot to lock equipment usually locked at the end of a day's activities several times. Our alert plant patrolman, noting these omissions, called Pete. These calls often came at two or three in the morning. . . . ON THE AIR: Eddie Reese broke into print. Ed appeared on the "Man on the Street" program. Among the questions asked was, "What does your wife most dislike about you?" We will not go into detail about Mr. Reese's answers. However, we feel Eddie should have reacted as a fellow did on a similar program. When the interview was finished and the announcer thanked him for his participation, this man shouted, "Just a minute, bub, where is the refrigerator, washing machine and radio I am supposed to get?" . . . UP TO DATE: Roscoe Markley, "our boy" from Roanoke, is up-to-date in every way. With spring just around the corner, Roscoe does not depend on old-fashioned "sulphur and molasses." Being up-to-date, he has switched to "Hadacol." . . . TWINS: In last week's issue, we wrote, "If Homer Campbell were twins, things would certainly happen." Latest developments indicate that in natural ability to get into trouble, Homer must be twins. When our hero read last week's NEWS, he waxed eloquent about Pappy Archhold. "I'll beat bumps on that little blabber-mouth's head if he don't quit telling things," kindly Mr. Campbell remarked, "He didn't know the whole story, and it's too late to put it in the NEWS now." . . . With a little urging, Charles Homer unloaded, "After my bathroom fire was out, I started washing the walls but the smell of smoke seemed to grow stronger. I went down stairs to investigate and then it dawned on me that my wife had asked me to watch a chicken cooking on the stove. I looked, and that bird was burned to a crisp." . . . ECONOMY? Sometimes economy does not pay. At least Art Druce feels this is true. Paul Harding had a pair of shoes that did not fit him. Mr. Druce calculated they were his size and purchased them at a reduced price. The boys report that every hour on the hour, Art removes the shoes to give his "barking dogs" a rest. . . . WHAT A CHARACTER: Dick Hobson, crooner of Bldg. 31-1, is also a bait caster of no mean ability. Richard, Jr., is very much like his dad when it comes to getting into mischief. The other day when Dick, Jr., tossed a wheel from his velocipede on the roof of the Hobson house, the old boy had to take time off from his vocalizing to recover it. Mr. Hobson waited until it was dark so the neighbors would not see, then took his trusty rod and bait and started casting. After several hours casting, during which time he hooked shingles, gutters, a couple of stray chimneys and himself, the wheel was recovered.

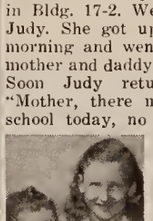
WHY DO YOU GO TO CHURCH?
Some go to Church to take a walk,
Some go to Church to laugh and talk,
Some go there to meet a friend,
Some go there their time to spend,
Some go there to meet a lover,
Some go there for speculation,
Some go there for observation,
Some go there to doze and nod,
The wise go there to worship God.

Ed (Wynn) Bowser says he certainly can move when the fire siren blows, but he also says thanks to some thoughtful person. He only gets to stand there when he reaches his destination. . . . Dorthea Swank this week has solved her seed planting problems. She is putting them in small fruit juice cans. Dotty has as her assistant (Johnny tomato seed) Stahley. Gladys gets the cans, washes them and Swanky places the seeds and dirt into them. Good luck, gals, we'll see you at harvest time with saltcellar in hand. . . . Ray (Unpredictable) Smith, who is always getting into or out of something, has this to say of your reporter.

Clarence and Zoa Didier

Only four little words, I know he really doesn't mean, "I don't like you." You are a little late, Ray, as you were at the last informative meeting. Lots of people don't like a reporter. A good kick in the pants sometimes, if hard enough, will win you a race. . . . It has been suggested that Voyce Brumbaugh auditioned for Ted Mac's Old Gold Amateur Hour. Thinks she could do different imitations of frogs. . . . George (Sticky Fingers) Ellisondowsky's bald head was lighted as bright as a 100-watt Mazda bulb after reading last Thursday morning's paper. Not a word of truth was it, George? Or was there since you were off work the next day? . . . Edith Venrick offered one pound of coffee to the person who would carry home the groceries she didn't win. . . . We were just wondering if Jack Payton is going to enter his latest hobby in the show at the Club. We think it to be a good idea. You might even end up with a booby prize, or should we say end up in the booby hatch? . . . Melvin Williamson wishes to thank Ross Haflich for his offer to drive Mel to Coldwater, Mich., last week-end. "It was a nice gesture," said Mel, "but I'm afraid it might end as did the Tennessee Waltz." . . . H. N. M. wants everyone to know that from last Friday forward his desk will be locked as the vultures are on the loose again. . . . A THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK: The trouble with people in these trying times is that they quit trying.

COMPLAINT DEPARTMENT: Justin Heaston, being in his usual form, was complaining to Red Braden about there being no beans in his soup last week. This happened at an opportune time because Mary Linn was just passing by. Red called to her and then told Justin to tell her what he just said to him. Justin, in a complete change of complexion, obliged. Mary very courteously took Jess' bowl back and returned it brimming full of soup with plenty of beans. Now what Mary probably didn't know was that Jess is a connoisseur of good soups, being a maker of some of the best varieties. This can be attested by one Jake Harshman of Blgd. 4-2. He also knows of Jess' ability to make good soup. . . . Blaine Webster of the tool crib is now getting along without his cast on his foot. . . . John Stettler has moved to General Tool Division. Good luck, John, on your new job. . . . We have a new apprentice in the group. James Duff is now working on molds. . . . Fred Boehm has now become one of the pure boys again, or at least I've been told so. Yes, it's official. Fred confirmed the statement. . . . John (Red) Braden is now at home at his new bench. Quick change, wasn't it, Red? . . . Fred Vietmeyer is now vacationing in Florida. It's rumored Fred took a couple cans along to syphon off the extra gas, since he has those extra gas savers installed. We hope you have a fine trip, Fred. . . . Bob RePine is going into the chicken business on a small scale. Bob now has a flock of five small chicks to start with, but someday hopes to have a large chicken ranch. . . . Birthday greetings to Bob and also to Ernie Brown this week. . . . Ozzie Nahrwold finally announced that he did not choose to run for Councilman of his precinct. Now we will be unable to "get on him" about city affairs.



Traffic accidents since 1900 have killed almost twice as many Americans as have been killed in action or died of wounds in all the nation's wars, the National Safety Council says.

BEAUTIFUL BRIDE: Ruth Shull and Richard Hartman, son of A. C. Hartman, Bldg. 18-3, were united in marriage on Saturday morning at 11 o'clock by Bishop Pursley at the St. John's Catholic Church, with a double ring ceremony. The bride was beautifully gowned in a white lace dress with a finger tip veil and carried an arm bouquet of red roses. Her maid of honor, Eleanor Lambroff, was attired in a pale green gown with which she wore a wreath of yellow roses in her hair. The groom was attended by Jack Kearney. A wedding breakfast was served to 30 guests at the Van Orman Hotel. The couple left for a short honeymoon and upon their return will be at home on Kentucky Ave. The bride is employed in the M. B. A. Office, Bldg. 18-3, and the groom works at the Wayne Oil Tank and Pump Co. We extend to the couple our very best wishes for their happiness. . . . Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wylie drove to Barberton, O., over the week-end for the baptism of their granddaughter. They were accompanied home from Cleveland by their daughter and granddaughter who will spend the week here. . . . GREETINGS: Leola Johnson has been added to the Insurance Office and Rosemary Hoevel to the Suggestion Office in Bldg. 18-3 this week. We welcome Goldie Jackson, who has replaced Charlotte Hallauer in Mr. Leider's Office. . . . LAST DAY: Last Friday, Charlotte Hallauer's last day with the Company, was a festive day for her. Her office associates had arranged an attractive tea table. There were also refreshments and gifts, including records, flowers, candy and jewelry. Pictures were also taken. We are sure Charlotte left us with a feeling that she was leaving many friends in General Electric Company. . . . NEW HOME: Delores Carter, Bldg. 18-4, and her husband have moved into their new home on Avondale Drive. . . . VACATION: Ray White, Bldg. 18-4, chose this week for a week's vacation. It was arranged to coincide with the school vacation-time, so the boys could help him paint the house on the outside. . . . SCENERY: The calendar which Carl Olson has acquired is making quite a sensation in Bldg. 18-2. You are invited to admire it—no charge! . . . HOSPITAL: Dick White, Bldg. 18-1, spent Monday morning in the hospital. His son fell and cut the inside of his mouth. It was impossible to stop the bleeding. The doctor accomplished the fete, and the youngster is none the worse for the ordeal. The parents were not so sure of the fun of it all—but it could have been more serious. . . . GOOD SPORT: Things seem to have a way of happening to Herschel Smith. One night last week on the way home from work, he tried to imitate the man on the flying trapeze by sailing through the air right out of the bus door. It seems that there was something on the floor that got in his way. There wasn't any damage done. The graceful bow that he made to the other patrons of the bus after he picked himself up was an art within itself. . . . THEN, the same week, same man! It seems that Herschel and Helen Bilskie of Bldg. 18-3 were involved in the following scotch tape story: Herschel gleefully announced that there was a lot of scotch tape in the vault. He proceeded to pick up a couple boxes and proudly displayed them to Helen. At that time Loyd Bodenhamer came along and pointed out that this was scotch recording tape and not adapted for sealing. Herschel hastily replaced the boxes, and Helen is again using conventional tape. . . . BRAVE: The moral to the persistence with which the beautiful crocus blossoms insist upon appearing so early in the spring through snow, sleet and rain, might be applied by some of us in attacking some of the problems that are given to us to meet.

March really went out like a lion and April has brought us showers mingled with snow. Sometimes we wonder "what next?" . . . Just so in Bldg. 17-3. We never know what next, so let's see. . . . Russ May was really mad the other night. Funny what a few pieces of paper will do between the points on a tester, isn't it, Russell? . . . No matter what Dick Gidley tells the ladies on the elevator, we won't believe him because he just tricks us every so often. . . . We welcome Doris Mavis and Clara Wise to our group and hope you girls like the second shift. Doris is placing on Line 3. . . . Ask Kaye Meyers where she got that black and blue spot on her arm. We'll have to take your word for it, Kaye. . . . We welcome Alice Walker as our new winder on Line 3. . . . Did you see Mary Murphy's new outfit? That plaid shirt and jeans. Mary says she is all ready to go milk the cows. That's right, Mary does live in the country. . . . The picture is of Judy, age 10, and Beverly age 3, daughters of Edna and Ralph Butler. Edna places on Line 1 and Ralph is an employee in Bldg. 17-2. We have a joke on Judy. She got up very early one morning and went to school while mother and daddy were still dozing. Soon Judy returned and said, "Mother, there must not be any school today, no one was there."

Young Butlers

Edna aroused, looked at the clock and it was only 7:10 a.m., so Judy was really an early bird. Beverly is three years old and could count to ten before she had her third birthday. The Butlers drive a Studebaker and Beverly can readily distinguish every one as they go driving. Nice girls, Edna and Ralph. . . . Kaye Dolan had one of those days. She put some of her clothes on wrong side out and even sewed the buttons on the wrong side. We're all acquainted with the rush, Kaye. . . . Mabel Drummond and family spent the week-end at her father's home in Kentucky. Mabel's father spent the last week here visiting his children, so Mabel and her family took him back home. We are happy to see Mabel back after her illness. . . . Several of our group are still out due to illness. Stella Reitdorf, Betty Askren, Catherine Salmon, Martha Small and Catherine Stanton. . . . You should see that new hair-do of Barbara Nine's. Looks nice, Barbara. . . . Dorothy Johnson says riding a bus is a headache, especially when you have to get off a mile from home. They should provide taxi service. . . . Charlie Irwin got tired eating cold lunches so is patronizing our cafeteria. . . . Well, gang, as we go strolling along, may you give us any suggestions you may have that would improve our column. 'Bye 'till next week.

Al Johnson wore the most beautiful sweater in to work the other day, but after so many compliments he refused to wear it again. Nellie Williams enjoyed waffles and sausage at Maggie Moore's the other night and then beat Maggie playing Canasta. . . . We hear Frank Beatty's Alley Cats are howling lousy and they were supposed to win all their games. . . . Welcome to Stephanie Baszczak in our group, and Paul Detweiler back on days. Hope both of you enjoy your stay with us. . . . Becky Frantz isn't nearly as old as she thinks from the way she was dancing Saturday night. . . . Eugene Foster was seen Saturday with a trailer behind his car. We're wondering if he is preparing to haul the voters on election day. . . . We wish a speedy recovery to Helen Murray who is ill with pneumonia. . . . Wilma Williams spent Tuesday taking Charlotte Stanford to Chicago where she starts her trip overseas. . . . Our Test Section had a potluck Thursday noon. Besides the testers, guests were Don Niles, Charlie Penn, and "Pinky" Pinkerton. . . . March birthdays included Esther Schladenhauffen, Vi Minnich, Olka Johnston, Eva Creigh, and Charlie Penn. Congratulations to all of them. . . . Esther Schladenhauffen attended her uncle's funeral at Youngstown, O. . . . All that noise you people hear at the welders' is Glen Buckmaster giving George Miller yodeling lessons. . . . Our deepest sympathy to Alice Yant on the death of her mother-in-law. . . . Clare Nickelson went to take the temperature of her first aid patient when she broke the thermometer and cut her finger. The bandage on her finger showed that her first aid course had done her some good, anyway. . . . Virginia Reed's son, who is in the Air Force, has completed his basic training in Texas and is going to Georgia now for further training. . . . Doris Brager visited Wednesday with her sister in Donaldson, Ind.

It seems only a short time ago that Joe Coughlin was heard advising a friend not to buy a Buick. Lo and behold, Joe bought a Buick, stating that, "I've wanted one all my life." . . . We wish the best of luck to Lee Argo, who left last Friday for training in the FHP Division. With the leaving of Lee, we welcome the arrival of a new TE, Kent Tiller, who hails from Alliance, Neb., and graduated from the University of Nebraska. Kent had test assignments at Pittsfield and Lockland Works, and he is single. . . . For those who have to hurry home and get a meal quick, it might be well for us to take some lessons from Kathleen Schafer. We have also learned that Clarence Burke is quite a cook when it comes to preparing Sunday dinner. . . . Ruth Bullerman is again dreaming thoughts of vacation time. This week the favored state is California. Last week it was Texas. . . . When the Dolsons got the Packard, we thought, at last, we'd seen the perfect car. Nothing at all would go wrong with it (that we'd hear about). But alas, Harry and Barb have joined the ranks of their fellow-workers, Joe Hamilton and Frank Ondrovik. The Packard's got troubles; and it seems it's always the car's fault. First this, then that went wrong. Finally, we find Harry and Barb driving east on 30 with Barb frantically holding on to the top of the Packard hoping that it doesn't come "unglued" before they reach home. Did it come unglued? They applied some good old reliable G-E Glyptal, and it is as good as new again. . . . Andy O'Dwyer is back in the office after an extended visit to the third floor. . . . Lou Goehring is due back Monday. . . . We're still trying to persuade Bob Eddy that it would be a good idea to take a Fort Wayne girl along to Cleveland with him, but he still states that he likes the life of a bachelor. . . . Epic of a man behind a newspaper: Ted Lamm is still looking for a place to live. . . . Last Friday I ventured out to the WORKS NEWS stand hoping to obtain a copy. To my surprise, there was none to be had. I was at a loss to understand why. After glancing at someone else's copy, I found that both Avenel Stanton's and Joe Coughlin's picture appeared in that issue. Since they both took copies home for all the relatives, I guess our news stand can't stand such a drain on its supply. . . . This week we say goodby to a long-time friend, Harry Dolson. We certainly are going to miss you, Harry, but we wish you the best of luck and success on your new position in Schenectady.

The scores in the Sixth Annual G-E Employees' Tournament ran very low, except for Dick Bucher's 715 in the singles. Dick shot an actual pin count of 631 on scores of 209, 212 and 210. Paul Walker is in second place with 661, including a 69 pin handicap. In third place is Harold Fanning with 646, handicap 84.

The SMY team of the Series Fractional HP League is in first place with a 2993 count. They carried a 567 pin handicap. Brouwer's Tire and Battery is in second with 2988 and a handicap of 279. Third is held down by drafting of the Winter St. League. They had a 2961 pin count which included a 468 pin handicap.

Frank Matthews and Les Shroyer hold first in the doubles with a 1270 total including a 123 pin handicap. Harold Fanning and Don Pappert are in second wth 1264, handicap 159. Irv Schlotterbach and Milt Bryan are in third with 1236, handicap 153.

Walt Mertz is leading the All-events with a 1768 spill. Walt had a series of 571, 574 and 624. Les Shroyer's 1751 is in second on counts of 585, 560 and 606.

Office League

Bad night—New wood—Standardizing in first place — France high, 551—Two hundred score, France, 209—'Nuff said.

Apparatus League

Horse No. Two is leading the pack, coming into the stretch with a one length lead over Team No. 8.

Jockey Vic Rump heads the list with a big 240. Other jockeys to hit the charmed circle are E. Bienz, 212, and J. Heaston, 200.

Transformer League

The M's are out in front by four lengths, making a runaway of the race.

Wendel Miller's 535 was high for the evening.

King's 202 was the only two hundred.

Tuesday Girls' League

Tommie Williams' 172, 152 and 203 for a 527 series was high for the afternoon.

Mary Hirschmann picked up the six-seven-ten split and also had a high game of 178. Other high scores were rolled by Marge Huber, 175; Virginia Moleski, 173; Emma Vaughn, 183, and Secretary Helen Wagner, 179.

Tournament Schedule

Doubles and Singles

*Denotes All Events

Saturday, April 7

8:45 p.m. Squad

C. Kolmerten—R. Brown
P. Cartwright—D. Miller
S. Macy—C. Stout
W. Weimer—R. Rump
(D. Demsey—F. Wheeler) (D.O.)
(P. Kable—F. Ross) (D.O.)
H. Vanee—Wm. Dunmire
(Stapleton—Satterwaite) (D.O.)
(W. Goss—E. Whipple) (D.O.)

Sunday, April 8

1:00 p.m. Squad

*E. Kraft—*Wm. Doehrman
Wm. Buuck—*C. Schoenherr
D. Madden—*H. Koeh
*L. Parrish—*I. Parrish

3:00 p.m. Squad

*D. Burns—*J. Fisher
(R. Meeks)—R. Lee (D.O.)
C. Miller—G. Haggenjos
Wm. Miller—L. Runyan
H. Hickman—(S. Baumgartner) (D.O.)
L. Larson—R. Thomas
*R. Rose—C. Ramp
R. Zelt—L. Elward
*M. Junk—*D. Dimke
*Wm. Pierey—*O. Anderson
W. Boester—(E. Bienz) (D.O.)
H. Thiele—W. Sanlfrank

5:30 p.m. Squad

*A. Smethers—*J. Hambrock
*P. Boedeker—*E. Brown
*R. Morris—E. Pranee
*F. Gitter—*F. Rurnau
*E. Haugk—*L. Crowell
*M. Cook—*D. Springer
*O. Somers—E. Roby
J. Heaston—C. James
*E. Crabill—*H. Garrett
*G. Sehlund—*D. Kaiser
*J. Stark—P. Billman
C. Brandt—G. R. Lindemuth

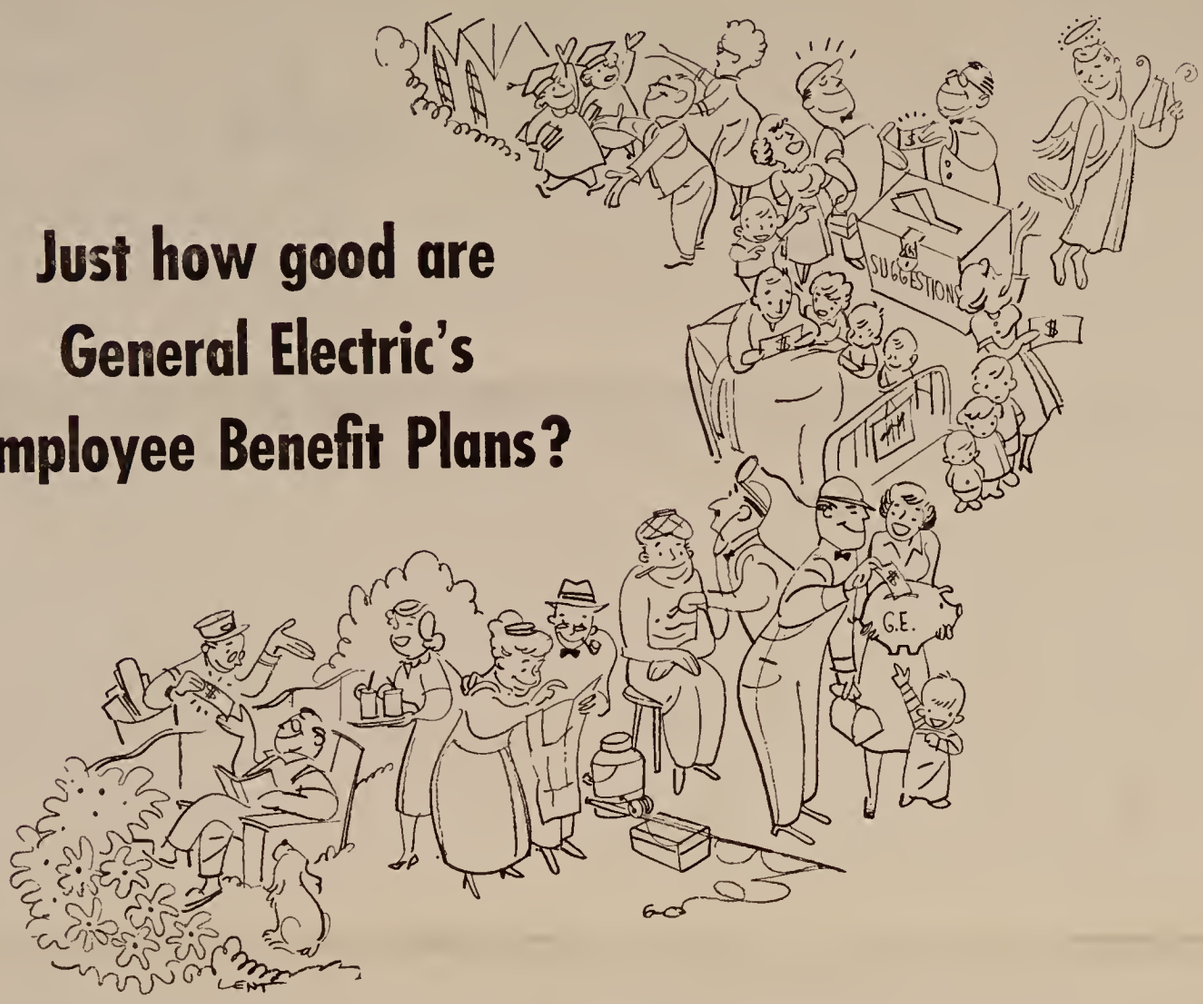
Team

Saturday, April 7

3:30 p.m. Squad

Team	League	Captain
No. Two, Apparatus		E. Bienz
Worthman, Classic		Wm. Doehrman
G-E Owls, Monday Owl		Wm. Pappert

6:30 p.m. Squad



Tower Fountain, Commereial	P. Boedecker
Village Inn, Moose Minor	E. Roby
Squares, Masonic	J. Harris
Series Spec., Interdivision	R. Rose
Doodlebugs	A. Farrell
No. Three, Apparatus	M. Junk
Harvey Bros., Interdivision	R. Frede
Tools, Interdivision	H. Thiele

Sunday, April 8

7:30 p.m. Squad

Devines, Scotts Thurs. Owl	H. Bradfield
Drafting, Office	F. Ross
Drewry's, Court Mon. Owl	J. Stark
National Const., Small Motor	I. Parrish
Standardizing, Office	E. Aumann
Contributing, Small Motor	F. Quinn
Autos, Transformer	P. Cartwright
Pillars, Masonic	G. Rodenberg
Sutterlin Drugs
No. Nine, Small Motor	J. Daley

Just how good are General Electric's Employee Benefit Plans?

YOU recently received an individual report of some of the benefit plans as they apply to you as an individual G-E employee.

You may now wish to see how they—and some others—add up for all General Electric employees.

Last year, General Electric paid $65,146,000 toward employee benefits—almost $13½ millions more than ever before. This is in addition, of course, to the amounts contributed by G-E employees themselves, and does not include administrative costs, all of which are borne by the Company.

The following indicates how much during just the past year these benefits have meant to present and retired General Electric employees and their families in terms of human happiness, assistance during time of need, and peace of mind:

Over 12,000 former General Electric employees or their beneficiaries are receiving monthly pension checks through the Company Pension Plan.

Under the amended Pension Plan adopted last December, all participating employees now retiring at normal retirement age with 25 years of credited service under the plan receive a minimum of $125 a month, including Social Security. Pensions automatically go up with pay and length of service.

Approximately 200,000 employees are participating in the Insurance Plan, providing life insurance equal to about 1½ times each employee's annual base pay, plus a $2,000 accidental death and dismemberment benefit. As of January 1, $1 billion 451 million of such insurance was in force protecting G-E employees.

The new health insurance program provides: semi-private room-rate up to $10 a day for hospital room and board; up to $100 for hospital extras; surgical benefits up to $175 according to a schedule of operations; disability payments of up to $35 a week; and a maternity benefit of $100. Also, thousands of G-E pensioners receive lifetime hospital and surgical benefits up to $500 at no cost.

Under the health insurance portion of the Company insurance program, about $400,000 was paid out in employee hospital, surgical and disability payments in February alone.

Over 70,000 G-E employees now participate in the Savings and Stock Bonus Plan. The Company pays a bonus of 15%, in General Electric stock, on the cost of the U. S. Savings Bonds they purchase under the plan and leave on deposit for 5 years. Thus thousands more G-E employees will soon become stockholders—and owners—in the Company.

$375,000 was paid to employees last year for suggestions which helped to improve Company operations. The highest award paid was $2,185. Altogether, $3,218,000 has been paid to employees for suggestions during the 28 years the plan has been in operation.

737 grants have been made by the G-E Educational Fund to employees, children of employees and others. During the past 28 years, $315,000 has been paid out to help these people obtain a higher education.

General Electric employee benefit plans are voluntary. No employee is required to participate. In the Pension and Insurance Plans employees and Company share the cost—roughly one-third for employees and two-thirds for the Company. This method enables employees to receive far greater benefits from their contributions than they could buy on the outside with the same amount of money.

We hope you are as gratified as we that together we have been able over the years to develop such sound and advanced plans, and have them available for the security and comfort of all General Electric people.

GENERAL ELECTRIC COMPANY

VICE PRESIDENT—EMPLOYEE RELATIONS

INDIANA COLLECTION

FORT WAYNE WORKS
NEWS

Volume 34 | FORT WAYNE, INDIANA, FRIDAY, APRIL 13, 1951 | No. 15

CAMERAS BANNED

Cameras of any sort are not permitted on nor may not be carried on or off of Company premises, A. R. Vegalues, Works chief of police, reminded employees today. Chief Vegalues explained that such a ruling is not new here at the Fort Wayne Works but that the current defense emergency has made strict enforcement of the regulation more urgent than before.

Two Separate Departments To Manufacture Appliances

BRIDGEPORT, CONN.—Establishment of two separate departments to be responsible for the manufacture and sale of major appliances and small appliances has been announced by the General Electric Company.

The two departments have been created from the Appliance & Merchandise Department "to meet more effectively the demands of the growing market for household electrical equipment," Roy W. Johnson, executive vice president, said.

Clarence H. Linder has been appointed general manager of the Major Appliance Department and Charles K. Rieger, is general manager of the Traffic Appliance Department, Mr. Johnson disclosed.

The move follows Mr. Johnson's announcement recently that the Company is planning to expand its major appliance activities at a multi - million - dollar "Appliance

(Continued on page 4)

Vets' President

World War Vets Pick E. Martin For Top Office

Ed Martin, Bldg. 17-1, was elected and installed as president of the G-E World War Veterans Association at the annual spring banquet Saturday night, April 7.

Other new officers are Harold Ely, Winter St., vice president; Fred Rathert, Winter St., secretary; Ray Weise, Bldg. 31-1, treasurer, and Clayton Shultz, Bldg. 4-3, sergeant-at-arms. All officers will serve one-year terms.

Hugh Neely, retiring president,

(Continued on page 4)

STENOGRAPHERS WANTED

Qualified stenographers are needed for office work here at the Fort Wayne Works, W. E. Beer, supervisor of employment, reported today. According to Mr. Beer, women already employed here as well as persons from outside the Company will be considered for "several" stenographic openings.

Annual Smoker Slated April 26 By Alumni Group

The Apprentice Alumni Association's annual smoker will be offered in the form of a "Gold Rush Party" at 8:30 p.m., Thursday, April 26, in the American Macedonian Hall, Earl Plummer, publicity chairman, announced this week.

Each member will be given $100,000 in stage money at the door. Throughout the evening the money will be wagered and invested in an effort to increase the amount. Prizes will be awarded to persons having the most money at the end of the party, Mr. Plummer said.

Lunch and refreshments will be served during the evening. Tickets are one dollar and may be obtained from contact men.

Test Engineers Get New Co. Publication Entitled "TEST"

Engineers on the Test Program received the first copies of a new Company magazine called "TEST" last week. The 16-page quarterly, according to Editor W. A. Kilrain, is designed to deal both with the Test Program and with subjects of general interest to engineers.

Former Test men, as well as

(Continued on page 4)

SUGGESTION IN BOX—MONEY IN HAND—Shown is Raymond Huhn (insert), of FHP Motor Div. 17, who received a $370 suggestion award for devising a method of removing the knock-out from dies without taking them from the press. The piece affected by the change is shown in the hand above.

March Suggesters Earn $3,175

Two hundred and ten employees shared $3,175 in suggestion awards during the month of March, A. C. Hartman, chairman of the Works Suggestion System, announced this week.

The leading award earner was Raymond Huhn, FHP Motor Div. 17. Mr. Huhn received an additional $370 for suggesting a punch and die change. He received $50 for the same suggestion last November.

Fred R. Boehm, FHP Motor Div. 17, was awarded $170 for recommending improvements on the New Britain machines. Next on the list was Gilbert Walker, FHP Motor Div. 1, who earned $90. He advised a better method of removing varnish from rotors. Charles A. Sherland, FHP Motor Div. 13, received $80 for a welding idea.

A Large Motor and Generator employee, William F. Meyer, was awarded $75 for a suggestion pertaining to stator frame ribs. Eunice Zehr, FHP Div. 16, earned $65 for an idea about reels for leads. Raymond Coe, Danville Plant, received $65 for a suggestion concerning wire spinner bearings. An award of $50 was paid to Cecil W. Strong, Taylor St., for suggesting changes to tools. John H. Root, General Service Division, earned $45 for suggested improvements on electronic counters.

Ersil J. Norris, Wire and Insulation Division, received $35 for a suggestion about Gutta Percha cloth. A packing material sugges-

(Continued on page 9)

Elex Fund Campaigns Disclosed

Another in a series of fund-raising projects for the Elex Club's defense program will be a "Tulip Time Card Party" Friday, April 27. The affair will be held at 8 p.m. in the G-E Club, Mary Zirkle and Alyce Fuchshuber, co-chairmen of the event, jointly announced today.

Elex members and others who wish to attend are asked to make up their own tables and bring their own cards. Admission is 50 cents per person. There will be table prizes and a fur coat, donated by Greenblatt's, offered as an attendance prize.

A fudge sale will be conducted during the party with proceeds going to the defense project. Members are being asked to donate fudge for the sale. For both fudge

(Continued on page 4)

FORT WAYNE WORKS
NEWS

Volume 34 Friday, April 13, 1951 No. 15

Lou Rotterman ..... Editor
Virginia Molden ..... Assistant Editor
K. Marian Davies ..... Divisional News Coordinator

DON'T MISS THE BOAT!

Imagine how you'd feel if you had booked passage on a boat, and as you reached the dock, you found the boat was half-way down the bay! Pretty disappointing thought, isn't it? Yet a similar fate is befalling many G-E employees day after day as far as their ideas are concerned. They are missing suggestion awards because they never get around to writing them up. Don't let this happen to you. Turn in your suggestions!

COURSE of the PAST Points the Way TODAY

It is a gloomy moment in history. Not in the lifetime of most men has there been so much grave and deep apprehension; never has the future seemed so incalculable as at this time.

"The political cauldron seethes and bubbles with uncertainty. Russia hangs, as usual, like a cloud, dark and silent, upon the horizon of Europe; while all the energies, resources, and influences of the British Empire are sorely tried, and are to be tried more sorely, in coping with its disturbed relations in China. It is a solemn moment, and of our trouble no man can see the end."

Something from today's newspaper?

No; it was said by the editor of Harper's Weekly in 1857. Yet we managed to solve the problems of 1857—and since then we've made more progress than had been made in all the time since the first Colonists from Europe landed in North America.

We can solve our present-day problems, too, if we prepare for the future rather than become afraid of the present.

* * *

The Customer Is Always The Boss

Who determines if business shall be big or small? Everytime a customer buys a car, a motor, a radio, or a bucket of paint, he casts a vote that determines which business shall be big, and which shall be small.

Both are necessary to make more and more jobs in industry, and even greater production to keep our country strong.

Words by Walt

Walter Whonsetler's poetry begins its first week today as a regular column on this page. His wit and talents are warmly welcome.

Walt's verses have become a familiar part of G-E birthdays and retirement celebrations, have assisted local charity campaigns and have regularly brightened the WORKS NEWS division column, "Sleuthing in 4-6."

His habit of using rhythm and rhyme to such good effect had its beginnings in Noble county in 1915. While he was teaching school there, he became involved in a debate on the relative importance of courses in agriculture and manual training. Struck by inspiration, he stated and won the case for manual training by presenting all his arguments in verse.

G-E Poet

Shortly afterwards, he gave up teaching and joined G-E, but the change from academic life to that of the factory didn't lessen his fondness for writing poetry. Today, as supervisor of drafting in Bldg. 4-6, he is still firmly convinced that, if one picture is worth a thousand words as the Chinese say, one verse is worth at least several hundred.

If there are any G-E readers who are not acquainted with Mr. Whonsetler's talents, we are reprinting two verses which have appeared in the WORKS NEWS. The third poem, entitled "Intuition," was written by Mr. Whonsetler for this week's issue.

SOMETIME

Sometime, when you're feeling important,
Sometime, when your ego's in bloom,
Sometime, when you take it for granted,
You're the best qualified in the room.

Sometime when you feel that your going,
Would leave an unfillable hole,
Just follow this simple instruction.
And see how it humbles your soul.

Take a bucket and fill it with water,
Put your hand in it, up to the wrist.
Pull it out, and the hole that's remaining,
Is a measure of how you'll be missed.

You may splash all you please when you enter,
You can stir up the water galore,
But stop, and you'll find in a minute,
That it looks quite the same as before.

The moral in this quaint example,
Is do just the best you can,
Be proud of yourself, but remember,
There is no indispensable man.

MONKEY BUSINESS

When I see how things are muddled
In our price and wages freeze,
I'm reminded of the monkey
And the cats that found the cheese.

One cat thought because he found it,
That the cheese was his by right,
But the other claimed he smelled it
Long before it came in sight.

So they argued, each one claiming
That he ought to have it all;
Then agreed to ask the monkey
If he'd arbitrate their brawl.

Now the monk, a politician,
Always looking after votes
Had the cats relate their stories
While he made some mental notes.

What was right, did not concern him
And as you may well surmise
He suggested, they divide it,
Which of course, is compromise.

But they didn't trust each other
Which is quite a common trait.
So they asked their friend, the monkey
To divide and check the weight.

So the monkey solved their problem
Just like fixers do today.
When the pieces didn't balance
He just ate some cheese away.

And the cats, of course, discovered
Very much to their surprise
That their cheese was disappearing
Right before their very eyes.

Now, the only thing that's different
With our price and wages freeze
Is, our monkeys try to fix it
Just by adding cheaper cheese.

Either way it's done, I'm certain
Like the cats, we'll realize,
That this dog-gone monkey business
Doesn't help our cheese supplies.

But until we trust each other
In our price and wage disputes
We must tolerate some monkey
With his phony substitutes.

INTUITION

There's a thing called intuition,
People have, but can't explain,
And it often puts their thinking
Under awful mental strain.

That's because they try to reason
With a force they fail to see,
And discover intuition
And their reason don't agree.

Now, with birds, we find it's different;
When it's spring, they start to fly;
Intuition moves them northward,
And they never reason why.

Have you ever watched a red squirrel
Storing hickory nuts away?
Well, that's simply intuition
Guiding him from day to day.

Nothing else has made him conscious
That the nuts will soon be gone,
And no other thing has told him
That cold weather soon will dawn.

Now, we men, who like to reason,
Show a rather stubborn streak;
So our natural intuition
Has become a little weak.

But our women, still a mystery,
Have accepted Nature's Laws.
And developed intuition,
To the point of, just because.

And it's really quite surprising
Just how often they are right;
So be careful with your story,
When you come home late at night.

Which reminds me, here's a story,
That explains it rather well.
It's an intuition story,
That I heard a fellow tell.

Said a drunk, "My intuition
Seems to tell me I am tight."
Then he bumped into a lamp post
And exclaimed, "By George! It's right."

—W. L. Whonsetler

OUT OUR WAY

By J. R. WILLIAMS

SICK LIST

The following people have been reported on the sick list, dismissed from the hospital and returned to work:

Sick List

Jacqueline Trier, Leona Franke, Doyle Blake, George Auer, Homer H. Archbold, Tomie L. Black, Louise Beamer, Gene Bryant, Kenneth Badertscher, William Boesch, Harry Conner, Walter Cook, Arton Cobb, Jeanette Conrad, Bennett H. Crawford, Ruby Chrystler, John J. Dennis, Floyd Dowell, Clarence Dick, Paul Flanagan, Catherine Faughber, Paul Faulkner, Ruth Gongaware, Mary Gerhard, Claude Golden, D. Evangeline Gephart, Frieda Hartman, Betty Hilgeman, Harry Hatcher, Ethel Hendrickson, Eva Heaslit, Mary L. Hayes, Percis Hatch, Edith L. Juillerat, Dorothy E. Johnson, Dorothy Kuckuck, Beverly Kruger, Gloria Kumfer, Erma Landis, Doris J. Lampe, Wilbur L. Monnot, Virginia Moore, Frank Martin, Myrtle Morgan, Charles R. Poole, Mildred Pfaller, Ina Smith, Gene Simmonds, Louis Scherer, Carlos Rogers, Carl H. Rinne, Owen Rupert, Ned Raush, Doris Reiter, Carl Kearns, Coy Capesius, Lester Rigley, Roy Redmon, Ruth Raypole, Frederick Stookey, Mary Stroup, Ross E. Sonday, Martha Small, Catherine Stanton, Ruth Sparks, Frank Sukup, Henry Shirley, Julia Sparks, Meredith Trout, Betty Uhuck, Jack G. Voorhees, James Wyatt, Kathryn I. Walper, Kathleen Wilson, Esther Waterman, Roy Yarman, Luella Hackemeyer, Delores Hartman, Catherine Bobbet, Hazel Buse, Ruth Nuttle, Paul Granes, Margaret Page, Mildred Heller, Edward Lothamer, Ethel Crittendow, John Brandyberry, Anna E. Minard, Laverne Lothamer, William Altekruse, Paul Klage, Philip Miller, Dorothy Collins, Frank Armstrong, Calvin Bishop, Clarence Thomas, Arthur F. Stute, Carl H. Rinne, Russell L. Stockert and Agnes Vaughn.

Dismissed from the Hospital

Marjorie Siebert, Ethel O'Leary, Frank Goetz, Eugene Garriard, William Teagarden, Elmer Prickett, Harry Brattain, Frieda Hartman, Imogene Brunk, Harry Conner, Harry Hatcher, Clarence Hartman, Floyde McDowell, Kenneth Badertscher and Harold Bowker.

Returned to Work

Vera Neate, Ina Smith, Virginia Ruch, Alice Snyder, James R. Craw, Marie McDougall, Jessie Moser, Esther Johnson, Donald Prichard, Evelyn Foulks, Virginia Curtis, Arnold Blomenberg, August Delagrange, Richard Furthmiller, Adolph Strasser, Lorenzo Smith, Emilia Benton, Otto Braun, Margaret Rollins, Alta Stanley, Harry Billman, Mildred Mundt, Chester Kline, Clarence McClellan, Russell Kensill, Annie Oby, Peter Mueler, Alice Horman, Grace McCullough, Arthur H. Koeneman and Enid Fuller.

Farold E. Schuman

Wade K. Bowman

Wehman L. Heniser

Darreld J. Hirschfelder

Edward Lauer, Jr.

Five Employees Named Foremen in STAB Div. 94

Five recent appointments in Specialty Transformer and Ballast Div. 94 have been disclosed by W. H. Crouse, Superintendent.

Farold E. Schuman has been named General Foreman in Bldg. 26-3 and Wade K. Bowman, Wehman L. Heniser, Darreld J. Hirschfelder and Edward Lauer, Jr., have all received foremen's assignments in new organizational changes.

Mr. Schuman began his career at General Electric as a winding operator in Bldg. 26-1 in January, 1942. A few months later he became foreman in winding and, in 1945, went to the Ballast Division as a winding foreman. He served in this capacity until named to his present appointment.

Mr. Schuman is married and has one child. They reside at 2131 Sherman St. He is a member of the Foremen's Association.

Wade K. Bowman

Mr. Bowman came to work in a STAB winding section in April, 1930. In 1942, he became a set-up man in Bldg. 26-3 and two years later was made foreman in FM's and radar. He was named foreman on preliminary and final assemhly in 1945. Until his recent appointment, he was assigned to a winding section in Bldg. 26-3.

Mr. Bowman will handle preliminary and final assembly of special transformers in his new position.

His family includes one son and one daughter. The Bowmans live in Zanesville, Ind.

Wehman L. Heniser

Mr. Heniser joined G-E on test work in Bldg. 26-1 March 15, 1941. He was named leading operator in hermetics, Bldg. 26-2, in 1942. He subsequently served as foreman in hermetics, Bldg. 26-4; in ballasts, Bldg. 26-3; in radio and on the vapor lamp line.

He was employed in the sample shop until his new assignment as foreman of permafil on the second shift, Bldg. 26-4.

The Henisers and their two children reside in Waynedale.

Darreld J. Hirschfelder

Mr. Hirschfelder has been assigned to hermetics on the second shift, Bldg. 26-5. He joined G-E in July, 1927, as a winder in Bldg. 26-2. He was later made a set-up man and leading operator in Bldg. 26-1. From 1939 to 1949, he served on various STAB assignments as a foreman and was working in the developmental shop, when he received his recent position.

The Hirschfelders and their son live at 4123 Hoagland Ave.

Edward Lauer, Jr.

Mr. Lauer will serve as foreman of winding and finishing on the second shift. He came to G-E in 1943 on the hermetic line in Bldg. 26-4, where he has been working until his present assignment.

The Lauers have one daughter and two sons. They live at 618 Claremont Drive.

Bob Triplett's Theatre "Savvy" Aids "Holiday Ranch" Production

. . . technical director

"Invaluable assistance" is the way A. L. Johnson, general chairman of "Holiday Ranch," describes Bob Triplett's contributions to the annual Squares' Revue. Bob is with the STAB Advertising and Sales Promotion Section.

Mr. Johnson pointed out that Bob's extensive theatrical background made him the logical choice for technical director. His dramatic experience includes acting as well as casting and scene design techniques.

A native of Ohio, Mr. Triplett attended Miami University, where he wrote and directed a number of shows. At the outbreak of the last war he entered the Army Air Force where he held leading roles on national radio network programs. On several radio shows, he worked with Ted Husing, the sports announcer.

During 1946 and 1947, following his discharge, he worked as a free-lance actor and announcer for the Armed Forces Radio Service as well as for national networks in Hollywood, Calif. While in Hollywood, he was associated with the Geller Theater as an actor and scenery designer. He appeared in such plays as "Mary of Scotland," "You Can't Take It With You," "Boy Meets Girl," "Julius Caesar" and a number of other plays.

He studied drama with Mme. Maria Ouspensayka, star of the Russian Art Theater. He later joined the Mt. Gretna Stock Co. as an actor and scenery artist.

During 1948, Mr. Triplett attended Bowling Green College for advanced study in dramatics and stage design. He worked there with Lennox Robinson, the Irish playwright and director of the Dublin Abbey Theater. He has appeared locally in a number of Civic Theatre productions and radio programs. Last summer he appeared with the Fort Wayne Light Opera Festival.

"Holiday Ranch" will be presented Wednesday and Thursday, May 9-10, in the Civic Theatre.

Forty-five cities of 10,000 population or more completed 1950 without a traffic death, the National Safety Council reports. The largest was Brookline, Mass., with a population of 57,000.

. . . new editor

Gladis Getts Assumes Role of Div. Editor

A recent addition to the WORKS NEWS staff of division editors is Gladis G. Getts, Bldg. 26-4, who is now gathering news for "Transformer Tattles."

Gladis has eight years of experience at G-E. Bowling is her hobby. She bowls with a Precious Blood Catholic Church group as well as with the Thursday Afternoon League at the G-E Club. Gladis is a charter member and very active in her sorority, Omega Chi Epsilon. She has been MBA secretary in her section for five years.

Ginny Applegate and Ralph Smith will assist her as reporters.

Gladis is Mrs. W. B. Getts away from work, and her husband is a G-E employee, too, at Taylor St. They live at 333 Burns Blvd.

T. N. Ness Awarded Membership By Refrigeration Engineers

Theodore N. Ness, application engineer in FHP Motor Sales Divs., has been awarded an honorary membership in the Refrigeration Engineers and Maintenance Society, FHP Sales sources have disclosed. The honor was bestowed upon Mr. Ness when he gave an address to the Society at Gary, Ind., recently.

Mr. Ness has been active in the pioneering and development work of motorizing hermetically sealed refrigerators for over twenty years and has contributed materially to the solution of its many motor prohlems. He is widely known as an authority in the refrigeration industry and recently addressed the American Society of Refrigeration Engineers at its meeting in Grand Rapids, Mich.

He celebrated his 25th anniversary with the General Electric Company last week. He and his wife reside at 4807 Arlington Ave.

. . . awarded membership

Elex Partizans Slate Gas Institute Confab

A business and social meeting has been arranged by the Partizan Chapter of Elex for Tuesday, April 17, at 1 p.m. in the Gas Institute Kitchen.

Vera Orr, Catherine Wise, Martha Zehendner and Wilma Gehringer are serving on the committee.

"If I refuse to be your wife," she said dramatically, "will you really commit suicide?"

"That," he said gravely, "has been my usual procedure."

Miss Irene Meyers Addresses Sorority

Irene Meyers, Supervisor of Women's Activities, addressed the Sigma Alpha Phi Sorority Tuesday evening, April 10. The dinner meeting was held in Howard Johnson's Restaurant. The subject of Miss Meyers' talk was "The Woman."

New Magazine

(Continued from page 1)

engineers eurrently on the program, will receive the new publieation. "Ex-Test men are naturally interested in what Test is like today," Kilrain explained. "The men eurrently on Test are just as intersted in what has happened to previous graduates. Sinee their interests are eomplementary, a magazine serving both groups at onee was almost inevitable."

Previously, former Test men had received a magazine ealled "PTM," whieh has been suspended.

The first issue of the new magazine includes an artiele on the hasic thinking behind the Test Program, by Karl B. MeEaehron, Technical Education Division, and a description of the process by which Test assignments are made.

Requests for copies should be addressed to Editor, TEST, Bldg. C-320, Schenectady, N. Y.

Elex Campaigns

(Continued from page 1)

donations and tickets, members should see contact girls or call at the Women's Activities Offices at Broadway or Taylor St.

Sales of all Elex merehandise are now being handled at a special Elex booth in the Employees' Store, Irene Meyers, Supervisor of Women's Activities, announeed this week. The booth was opened for husiness in the new location last Friday.

Elex articles will be for sale during regular store hours, from 12 to 4:20 p.m. Contact girls will also pick up their merchandise at the new location.

Miss Meyers said that the change has been made primarily to reach more employees and for the eonvenience of Elex members. The new facilities will also provide additional storage space and enahle the club to keep more merchandise on hand. The booth will be staffed by Elex members.

Taylor St. sales will continue to be handled hy eontact girls through the Women's Activities Office.

Breakfast Tomorrow

A Spring Breakfast, the combined party for both seetions of the Elex Club, is scheduled for tomorrow morning at the YWCA. Breakfast will be served at 10:30 and 11:30 a.m. Tickets are $1.25 per person.

The Elex Club will have a booth at the G-E Club Hobby Show for the sale of hot dogs, eoffee, sloppy joes and doughnuts.

The booth will he located in the Auditorium by the drinking fountain. Helen Engle, Bldg. 4-3, and Gerry Schmidt, Bldg. 31-2, are eochairmen of the project.

Appliance Depts

(Continued from page 1)

Park" to be established in the Middle West.

'The growth of the General Electric appliance business has been so great and the outlook is so bright that it is necessary for us to set up separate departments, eaeh with its own engineering, manufacturing, sales, advertising and research staffs, to market our products more efficiently," Mr. Johnson said.

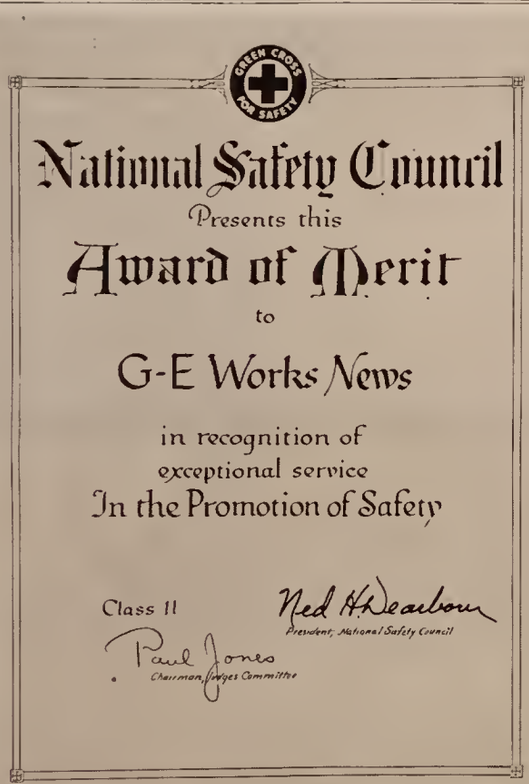
Divide Production

Under the new setup, the Major Appliance Department will be responsible for refrigerators, food freezers, ranges, water heaters, washers, ironers, dryers, dishwashers, garbage disposers and cabinets. The Traffic Appliance Department will handle irons, toasters, roasters, sandwich grills, waffle irons, mixers, fans, clocks, vacuum cleaners, automatic blankets, heating pads, heaters and heat lamps.

Mr. Linder was formerly manager of engineering and manufacturing for the Company's Affiliated Manufacturing Companies Department at New York. He joined General Electric at Schenectady, N. Y., in 1924, following graduation from the University of Texas with BS and MS degrees in electrieal engineering.

He subsequently worked as assistant to the engineer of the Engineering General Department, as a member of the general superintendent's staff, as assistant superintendent of the Industrial Control Department, as superintendent of the former Search-Light, Ordnance and Hydraulic Control Departments, and as assistant works manager of the Schenectady Works.

He was appointed assistant manager of manufacturing of the Apparatus Department in 1947, and assistant to the general manager of department in 1949. He moved to New York with the Affiliated Manufacturing Companies Department last year.



Mr. Rieger, who has been manager of the Household Refrigerator Division at Bridgeport since June, 1950, was graduated from the University of Missouri in 1936 with a BS degree in electrical engineering.

He came with the company that year as a student engineer first at Detroit and then at Schenectady, and was later transferred to the fractional horsepower motor plant at Fort Wayne, Ind., as sales engineer. During the war, he was in the G-E Dayton office assigned to Wright Field.

After returning briefly to Fort Wayne as proposition engineer, he was, in 1946, transferred to Bridgeport as assistant commereial engineer for the Home Laundry Equipment Division. He became commercial engineer the same year, and, in 1947, was named manager of the Heating Device and Fan Division.

THE CURTAIN CALL: Honestly, gang, it is with a feeling of genuine regret that I write this last eolumn of the Overhead Crane. It was so named because two of the aforementioned articles daily gallop up and down our center aisle. With the aid (?) of sueh whiz kids as Pappy, Poison Pen, Sam, Steve, Clyde Ford and his shot gun, Ed Fadooley of Motor Generator Static, and a host of swell fellows and gals, I usually managed to find some dirt in the old sweeper. It really has been a lot of fun. There are two definite reasons why I am now terminating my end of it: 1. This column has always been written at home and on my own time. That in itself has never been objectionable, but lately, too many Saturdays and Sundays found me away from home—hence, no column. 2. About May 1, my new radio show will open here in Fort Wayne and that will just about tie up my spare time completely. (Commercial). . . . To each and everyone of you grand people, let me sincerely express my thanks for your toleration of this eolumn. To those of you whom I especially ribbed through this medium, please allow me to express my warm admiration and commendation for your splendid sportsmanship. If Ye Editor appoints another reporter for this group, please give him the same grand cooperation you have so willingly extended to me. So long, gang. Thanks a million.

WORKS NEWS HONORED—Shown is the certificate of award for "Exceptional service to Safety" presented by the National Safety Council to all G-E Works News editions throughout the Company.

Spring Fiesta's Featured Artist Has Brilliant Musicial History

Al Stewart, slated to appear at the Supervisors' Club Spring Fiesta, Tuesday, April 24, was chosen last year from the nation's music directors as director of festival music for the Sesqui-Centennial ceremonies in Washington, D. C., marking the 150th anniversary of the founding of the national capital in that city.

music director

A brilliant director with the ability to make members of any group responsive to his every move, he possesses a personality and wit which make him an excellent master of ceremonies, C. E. Slater, co-chairman of the party, has declared.

Mr. Stewart joined the Purdue University staff in 1933 as director of Purdue Musical Organizations, including the Varsity Glee Club, Coneert Choir, the large University Choir and the Orchestra.

Born in Lafayette, the son of a Methodist minister, Mr. Stewart attended DePauw University, Purdue University and the Ameriean Conservatory of Music in Chicago.

His musical duties and contributions are numerous. He holds now or has held such positions as rural music chairman for the National Federation of Music Clubs, member of the board of Indiana State Federation of Musie Clubs, national and state chairman of industrial music, president-general of the National Association of Choir Directors, music chairman of state and county fairs and choir director of the University Presbyterian Church in West Lafayette and the Central Presbyterian Church in Lafayette.

"Home-made music is what the world needs today," Mr. Stewart says. "I mean families singing around the home piano, community orchestras, group singing, glee clubs, barber shop groups and quartets and hetter church ehoirs. It's so easy to turn a dial and bring in some of the world's best music, and also some of its worst, that we are inclined to lose the art of making it for ourselves."

The Spring Fiesta will be held in the G-E Club. All members and their wives have reeeived invitations to attend. Following tbe program, there will be refreshments and dancing to Bob Glendon's orchestra.

War Vets

(Continued from page 1)

reported that over 200 members attended the banquet. After dinner, the eleetion was followed by professional entertainment.

Mr. Neely said the proposed constitutional amendments were not passed, but were referred baek to committee.

Luella Boyce recently received a letter from Mary Alice Herber, who is vacationing in Madrid, Spain. She is now an employee of the U. S. State Dept., and stationed at Frankfort, Germany. . . . Betty Revert returned to work after a two weeks' absence. She was caring for her daughter who has heen ill. . . . If you see a blue and grey streak going down the highway, it could be Myron Cox in his newly acquired '37 Ford. . . . Birthday congratulations to Ernie Allmandinger and Kenneth Breuning. . . . Welcome to our new co-workers. They are Geraldine Garton, Thomas Davis, Luella Eisberg, Sanford Christian, Leland Lynch and Harry Miller. . . . We're sorry to hear that Vaughn Hiser is a victim of seiatic rheumatism. . . . Harry Biddle has a new kind of a starter for his Buick—a good neighbor. . . . What's your hohby? Frank Karthroll hopes to raise bigger and better mosquitoes for frog food in his mosquito swamp. Lawrenee Pequignot does house painting in the summer and eustom butchering during the winter. Bill Clevenger builds hot rods and Ed Hormann has an electrical store at Poe. He also does wiring and plumbing. . . . Congratulations to Doug Heckman. He is the new president of the G-E Rod and Gun Club. . . . Don Fox is counting the days when he ean start using his newly acquired tractor. . . . Our picture this week shows Stephan and Michael, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Schlink. . . .

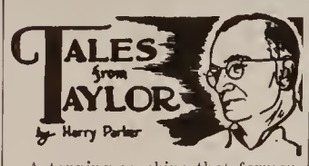
Stephan and Michael

As I walk through McCulloch Park every day, I often wonder how many G-E people stop to think what it really means to us or just take it for granted, as we do so many things.

Harold Whonsetler came through with his first scrap sale after his ad for old license plates, etc. He got a 35-cent offer from the scrapman. I've been told that Harry Parker ("Tales from Taylor") is volunteering for all the first-aid courses he can get. After his entanglement with the newsboys' wire and paper, Harry received an excellent first-aid job at one of the drug stores. He now thinks first-aid is a worthwhile project. . . . Jim Pugh has returned to the Apprentice School. All of us will miss Jim out here. . . . Ozzie Nahrwold has been having early morning consultations with Gene Foster and Harold Hart. He may be giving them a few pointers on how the city council operates since both are candidates for city councilmen. . . . Fred Vietmeyer arrived home from his Florida vacation where he hobnobbed with the movie stars. Fred also reported that the gas he saved was used for stove gas. . . . Bob Hendriekson, who usually comes up with a good one now and then, was fishing with Bob RePine. Hendrickson snagged something big. After a tough struggle and RePine getting all up for a big catch, something broke water. We now have a mounted shoe sole on our bulletin board to show all disbelievers. . . . Again we have that three in one birthday—Louie Watt, John Bastian and Ewald Stinsmuehlen. Congratulations, fellows.

Pick Ups

26-3



By Helen Wagner

We welcome Doloris Dunning and Betty Hendricks to the Stacking Section. . . . We hope Viola Germann will like her new home. . . . Moe Felger, what is the attraction in Stacking Section? . . . Doris Hill drove to work Thursday, but walked home. She locked her keys in the ear. . . . Maxine Patterson is leaving us. Good luck, Maxine. . . . Happy birthday to Millie Haslup. . . . We extend our sympathy to Homer Weaver on the death of his brother. . . . We are glad to hear Josephine Angus is better and hope she will be back soon. . . . We are sorry to lose Homer Smith and Frank Jordon. We wish you a lot of good luck fellows. . . . Phyllis Greulick, do you like deviled eggs? . . . Happy birthday to Evelyn Armstrong. . . . We miss Eulalia Zuber, who retired. She received a niee gift from her co-workers and a lifetime membership card from the Elex Club. . . . Viola, you should learn to spell. There is a difference between "girl" and "girdle." . . . Zelma, we are glad your husband is home again and feeling better. . . . Margaret Deck enjoyed having her daughter and granddaughter visit her. . . . Bob Wiehe had the surprise of his life. He got ready to eat his lunch, only to find that his wife forgot to put in the meat for his sandwich. . . . If you hear a weird noise at lunchtime, don't be afraid. It is only Mildred Steffey drinking her coffee out of a paper platc. . . . Helen Walker, arc you really singing in a night club in Ohio? . . . We are glad to hear that Grace Campbell is getting along finc. . . . Martha and Cloa, what do you two do with the remainder of thosc onions you eat? . . . Art, we know that you can get blisters wearing a new pair of shoes, but we didn't know you could get them roller skating. . . . Lonnie, why don't you grow up and quit playing in the mud? You will ruin your pretty red shoes. . . . Helen Gresham is having a terrible time deciding what color drapes she wants. . . . We are glad to see Ellen Gerber and Garnet Currie back to work. . . . Spring is here. Wanda and Lena are wearing anklets. . . . Lola outdid the boys' bright ties by wearing a tangerine blouse. . . . We all wish you a lot of good luck, Ruth, while you are waiting on the bundle from heavcn. . . . Congratulations to Pauline Yancey on her tenth wedding anniversary. . . . Florence Kaiser enjoyed Eddie Howard's music at the Prom Terrace. . . . We welcome Madeline Richey to the office. . . . George Brehm just keeps looking out the window toward the parking lot where he parks his car. Quit worrying, George, your car is safc. . . . Annabelle Blair paid us a visit this week. . . . Gary, why don't you talk to that girl when she calls you? . . . Evelyn Jennings likes chicken even when she is full of food.

6-4 AIRLINERS

By Joan Lindeman

Marian Mills is leaving us to become a full-time housewife. The girls gave her a beautiful bracelet. We're sorry to see you leave us, Marian. . . . We wonder if Ruth Mutton was running a race with the elevator or if she is just getting absent-minded these days. She got off in Bldg. 4-3 last Wednesday and made a mad dash up the stairs to Bldg. 4-4. . . . Moe Satterwaite and Ralph Lee gave Andy Anderson and Fred Clark another skunking. Those guys are real uchre players. . . . Looking for a baby sitter? See Elmer Harshman. He says his rates are cheap. . . . Andy Anderson is getting all set for the National Bowling Congress. He should be pretty hot by then as he hasn't had a game over 140 in six weeks. We might remind him that Paul Brandt is now giving lessons since he came up with a 540 last Friday. He put Moe and Pondo to shame, as it was his first time on any alley in over two years. . . . How many times have you heard men say they're going to quit smoking. It's a nasty habit and bad on the nerves. They buy something clse like butterscotch candy to take the place of a cig. So it was with W. Jackson and it lasted a couple months. What happened, Jack? Did you need just a couple of drags again to calm thc nerves? . . . Why does Betty Thompson go for a Buick eonvertible? . . . Delores Gladbach looks mighty stunning in her new hairdo. . . . When the fire siren went off Friday, Ralph Weikart jumped up from his chair and was ready to start running. Arnold Wendell calmly reminded him it was thc eight o'elock whistle. . . . We caught one Willie "Lump Lump" sitting in aisle smoking a big fat cigar and talking to a new blond. Sorry, Willie, the smoke screen wasn't thick enough. . . . Russ Rose needs a chair he can strap to his back. Then he can sit down whenever he feels the need. Russ says they always told him that life begins at 40, but he's found out that they're darned liars. . . . Helen Riblet came in with the office help last Tuesday. What's the matter, Helen—no alarm clock?

A tapping machine that formerly graced the Flange Machining Seetion was moved to Frank Kimble's Rotor Section. John McComb instructed the electrician to reverse the motor as it was to be used on left hand tapping jobs exclusively. All was in readiness. Mack said to Frank, "Give me a tap and we will try her out." The tap was handed to him. Inserting it in the machine and turning on the power, he gave it the works. The tap would not tap. Mack decided that the motor was losing power so he called the electrician. He discovered that they had a right hand tap in the machine. Frank and Mack are now good-naturedly blaming each other for the oversight. . . . Kate Schaefer, being a hand winder, is very count conscious. She tells us that she counts her very steps, knowing just how many steps it take to reach the garage, bus line, grocery, drug store and what have you. She said that in preparing a meal she counts every move. She even knows just how many slices there are in each potato that she prepares for cooking. Countess Kate should have a job in the Accounting Section. . . . Darcie Campbell and Pete Miller are helping an elderly lady elean and rehabilitate her home. They are painting wood work and small pieces of furniture. One job was to varnish the stairway. Darcie was the star on this job. He used a quick-drying varnish which failed to dry in the allotted time. The old lady called him on the phone and wanted to know how she was going to get to bed as she did not want to tread upon the sticky stairs. Now just how Darcie solved the problem of getting her to bed is beyond us. . . . Now that "Red Snapper" Renz is thoroughly familiar with the operation of his new car, he has been able to get to work on time. He tells us that there is one point on which he is still weak, and that is stopping the blasted thing. This must be the reason for him not leaving the parking lot until almost everyone has left. Some of the boys suggest that he get a ship's anchor and put it on board. Then, when he desires to stop, he can just heave it overboard.

Ah, spring, beautiful spring. It's just one rain after another. Who said spring was wonderful and sunny? . . . Buck Lydy proved that looks aren't deceiving and he is really strong. He struggled, huffed and puffed as he pushed the table loaded with the stators. He didn't know the brake was still on. . . . Fritz Stauffer stopped in to say hello and let us see his Florida tan. Oh, for this life of leisure! . . . Lester Stauch is recovering and should soon be back with us. . . . Betty McPherson has a new little girl at her house. Congratulations to mamma and daughter. . . . Bill Decker bids all the gang and the state of Indiana goodbye today in favor of his resort camp in Michigan. Good luck, Bill, and be sure to let us hear from you. . . . Mark Gotsch is now a part of Div. 13 personnel at Taylor St. Best wishes and visit us occasionally.

Inquiring Reporter:

"ARE YOU IN FAVOR OF THE PRESIDENT'S RECENT ORDER WHICH PROVIDES DRAFT DEFERMENT FOR COLLEGE STUDENTS WHOSE GRADES ARE GOOD OR WHO PASS A SPECIAL APTITUDE TEST?"

JOHN P. BASTIAN

Taylor St.

"No, because it favors those who are fortunate enough to attend college. History shows that many of our great American leaders were not college graduates. Why then should we start down the dismal road of class distinction? Why not give everyone the examination?"

MARY LU ADANG

Bldg. 8-2

"No, that would mean discrimination in a country whose cornerstone is democracy. All boys should be eligible for the draft. Upon examination at the induction center, if the tests show an unusually high ability, the boys should be sent to school for specialized study."

ROBERT DAUGHERTY

Bldg. 17-1

"No, I'm not, because some boys have money that they can go to college with and others have to work their way through. Some can't go at all. Therefore, why should they take boys that work their way through or boys that cannot go at all and not the boys that have money. I don't think they're any better than we are."

BLANCHE M. KANNING

Bldg. 26-3

"In my opinion the college boys of today are no better than boys ten years ago. There were no alternatives at that time. This order gives some a chance to dodge the draft. We need brains in service as well as at home. They are no better than ordinary boys."

ORLANDO F. SURFACE

Bldg. 27

"No! Men of draft age looking forward plan their future for labor, farming, office, college, or any profession or business. To all, their future looks good to them. So why should a few be given a deferment while the rest are sent to risk life or limb, health or even happiness?"

G-E DEATHS

. . . buried Monday

Frederick O. Pickell Passes Away at Home

Frederick Otto Pickell died at 6:30 a.m. Thursday, April 5, in his home at 2414 South Harrison St. He was a life-long resident of Fort Wayne.

Mr. Pickell came to the General Electric Company in May, 1925, as a stock helper in Bldg. 19-1. He retired in September, 1950. At that time he was a stockkeeper in Large Motor and Generator Divisions.

Surviving are a stepdaughter, Mrs. Louise Schultz, Fort Wayne; a stepson, Edward Small, Edgewater, Fla., and a brother, George, Wren, O. His wife, Nora, died in 1949.

Services were held at the Tom Mungovan Funeral Home at 1:30 p.m. Monday, with the Rev. George T. L. Jacobsen officiating. Burial was in the New Haven IOOF Cemetery.

Paul H. Traub

Last Rites for Paul H. Traub Held Mon.

Services were held Monday for Paul H. Traub, 51, of 2723 Parnell Ave., who died at 3 p.m. Friday, April 6, in St. Joseph's Hospital.

Mr. Traub joined the General Electric Company in 1917 as a machinist apprentice in Bldg. 26-5. In June, 1925, he became a toolmaker in Bldg. 26-5 and later served as an engineer in Bldg. 4-6.

He was named a section head in Bldg. 17-1 in 1938. The following year he was assigned to Bldg. 17-4 as a planning engineer. He served as a process engineer and tool and methods planner until 1943, when he was appointed to the position of general foreman in a Taylor St. division. At the time of his death, he was an assistant general foreman in Bldg. 17-3.

His survivors include his widow, Clara L.; a son, Joseph E., New York; a daughter, Norma Rose, at home, and a sister, Mrs. Harvey J. Keiser, Valparaiso.

Services were held at 11 a.m. Monday in the D. O. McComb & Sons Funeral Home with the Rev. W. J. Ratz officiating. Burial was in Lindenwood Cemetery.

We extend our sympathy to the family of Paul Traub, who died last week. Mr. Traub was assistant to Mr. Castle. . . . We also express our sympathy to Clara Wisel, whose brother died last week. . . . Bea Lantz quite frequently is a Good Samaritan. When Raymond Stanger, Bldg. 17-1 fireman, lost part of his equipment, Bea kept it in her locker until a later evening and returned it. . . . Should Johnny Hart turn out to be Superman, don't be surprised. John has developed his strength by placing wire for the winders while our wire boy is absent. . . . Taking advantage of a nice April day, Marilyn Keiser went shopping early one morning. We miss Maggie Perkins, who is on the sick list. Hurry back, Maggie. We are happy to see several who have been ill back to work. . . . We welcome Susie Theurer back to our group. Susie has been gone about six months. She is now a winder. . . . Hope you like us well enough to stay this time, Susie.

Jennie Myers, on the typing table, has been presented with a very lovely engagement ring. The lucky fellow is Arthur Heimann. We wish her all the happiness that can be had. . . . We nearly forgot to tell you that Barbara Hurst has come from the third shift to second shift. Here's a healthy welcome, and we hope to see more of you, Barb. . . . We have heard of flying saucers, but never of flying chairs. For further particulars, you will have to consult Maggie Fruechte. Of course, Maggie did some acrobatics which included sitting on the floor. . . . Did you see the picture Mabel Evanson was showing of her daughter Charlene? Charlene is graduating from high school this spring. . . . We're sorry to hear of Jesse Hamrick's illness and hope he recovers very soon. . . . Ernie Foreman is the mental banker for the shop. . . . Cathy Kitson is going to leave us. She is going home to take care of the kids. That's the way it is. When you get acquainted with someone then they leave us. So long, Cathy, be sure and visit us again. . . . Did you see that cattle wagon, whoops, I mean that beautiful new Catalina Pontiac, that John and Norma Poorman are driving? . . . Have you noticed the new red-headed girl? Oh, shucks, that's not a new girl, that's Lucile. . . . We do have two new young ladies with us. They are winding for Mr. McDougal. The girls are Clara Ellen Noack and Mable Hammond. Hi, gals, hope we see more of you and that you really like your job. . . . We wish to announce the marriage of Mildred Smith and Dwight Felty. Congrats to the young couple, and we hope they have a happy and lovely married life. . . . We hear that Pat Huser will be married sometime in August. Congrats, Pat, and let us know the date so we can be there. . . . Now we know how that chicken of "Yub" Omlor's got those colored eggs. He said he gave her wash bluing and red ink. . . . The birthday treats are again being passed around. We wish a happy birthday to Doris Ralston, Harriet Pollock and Florence Brandyberry. . . . Josephine Ivetich was in Cincinnati over the week-end. It was a combination business and pleasure trip. . . . That old flu bug has been very busy around here lately. Among his victims are Annabelle Gehrig, Ada Owens, Mina Lampy, Mary Fennig, John Schieferstein and Helen Brintzenhofe. . . . Twenty-five years ago on April 3, the wedding bells rang out for Francile Martin and Chester McIntosh. Congratulations, folks. We sincerely hope you get to celebrate many more years. . . . George Buckley, Foreman of Inspection and Test of Plant No. 1, has returned to work after several weeks of illness. We're glad to see you around again, George.

SHIPPING: Orchids to Beverly Springer, who becomes Mrs. Arthur Staley tomorrow. . . . 'Twas nice to see Bill Oberwitte, even though the visit was short. He was on furlough from Uncle Sam's army. . . . Eloise Hoehn and Lenore Hanley (makers of divinity fit for a wooden spoon) are seriously considering going into business, as soon as they get their method down pat. The only thing standing in their way of a landslide business is the fact that their divinity never hardens. Therefore, they must eat it with wooden spoons from a large dish. The old candy makers advised the gals to please cook the stuff a little longer. . . . The shower given for Beverly Springer was a delightful affair, thanks to the efforts of the hostesses, Mary Ann O'Brien and Shirley Doster. . . . The letter received from Marilyn Smith (now in North Carolina) was very welcome and newsy. . . . The gals in MS Section are in a tizzy; and the reason is the new MS form. Cheer up, gals, the sun is bound to shine. . . . MAILING. In addition to Frank Goetz's prolonged illness, Mailing also is missing Clarence Saylor, who is on the sick list. We sincerely hope to see them both back soon. . . . Clarence's week-end definitely didn't lack excitement. As soon as he left work, he found himself in the hospital. Moments later he was minus his old appendix. In spite of it all, however, he is feeling much better, thank you, and would like some visitors.

It takes a lot of thought and effort and downright determination to be agreeable.

The following G-E employees left the Company recently to enter the armed services:

Bennie Steel, Charles M. Craig, Elvin E. White, Robert E. Baals, James H. Stahl, Marion H. Tarkington, Thomas H. Parker, Richard K. Davenport, William C. Berning, Melvin R. Miser, Kenneth D. Brown, Donald W. Lora and Thomas F. Gerhard.

Letters from the Boys

To keep the G-E folks posted on some of the latest happenings near the 38th parallel in Korea, the WORKS NEWS is reprinting excerpts from two letters recently received from employees in the service.

Donald Rehling is the son of Carl P. Rehling, Bldg. 20-2. Don graduated from the Apprentice Drafting School shortly before leaving with the Marine Reserves last August. He has been in Korea since January and is with the 1st Marine Regiment, 1st Division. He was wounded in the left chest, shoulder and arm on March 1 by shell fragments. He is with an 81mm mortar company and has won expert rifleman, sharpshooter and marksman ratings. Following is his letter:

"We have been on the move for the last four days—up one mountain and down another. The 1st Division is now nicknamed 'the mountain goats.' We got fresh bread, doughnuts, candy, and stationery three days ago. We moved five miles the next day and seven yesterday. Right after we got settled, we found out our 'dear' sergeant left a radio behind, so I had to go all the way back to get it and bring it back.

"On the way back I caught four gooks. I shot three of them and brought the other one along to carry the radio on his back. I turned him over to Intelligence when I got back. I got shot at twice by snipers along the way. We got a couple of shots at them, but don't think I hit any of them—just enough to keep them ducking till we got around the hill.

"My feet are just one big blister, and boy, do they hurt. I could barely walk by the time I got back. It has been about 60 degrees out during the day and it really gets hot carrying a full pack and reel of wire plus all these winter clothes. Say hello to everyone for me."

Love,

Don.

. * * *

"It's been raining here for the past seven days and all you can see is mud every place you look. It's clear out today, however, and perhaps it may be clear for a while. We are now in Hongchon about 25 miles north of Hoengiong, where we were before. We are just a few miles from the 38th and it looks as though we are going to keep right on going.

"We are now waiting for between 70 to 90,000 gooks to start a counter-attack and try and push us back into the sea. They have a major defense line set up just south of the 38th and it may start anytime now.

"The people over here are really suffering. They have no homes, food, or clothing, and the little kids need medical care badly.

"I had a letter from Ella Arn yesterday giving me some of the dope from Bldg. 17-3. I guess they are still playing tricks on her. Say hello to everyone for me and tell them to write."

Pfc. Stanley W. Wickliffe.

Addresses of G-E Servicemen

Eugene Holdgrene SR 3275794
Co. 266 101 Bn. 10 Regt.
USNTC
Great Lakes, Ill.

Pvt. Joseph A. Sorg US 55059859
H & S Co. 432 Engr. Cons. Bn.
Third Platoon
Camp Pickett, Va.

Sgt. Roger W. Collar 846811
Fox Co. II Bn. 1st Marine Regt.
1st Marine Division F.M.F.
c o FPO San Francisco, Calif.

Norman W. Stanek SR 4304018
Co. 51-265
U.S.N.T.C.
San Diego 33, Calif.

Pvt. Eddie Opliger 16358847
325 6th Training Squadron
Ft. Sam Houston, Tex.

Pvt. Ronnell S. Allen US 55135294
Battery D, 713 AAA Gun Bn.
Camp Stewart, Ga.

Falls cause about one-half of all fatal accidents in the home, according to the National Safety Council.

MAKES $80 ON IDEA—Charles Sherland (second from left), FHP Motor Div. 13, turned in a suggestion to improve the method of welding stators and received $80. He is shown being congratulated by his foreman, Ralph Dunlap, while George App (left) and Robert Coen (right) look on.

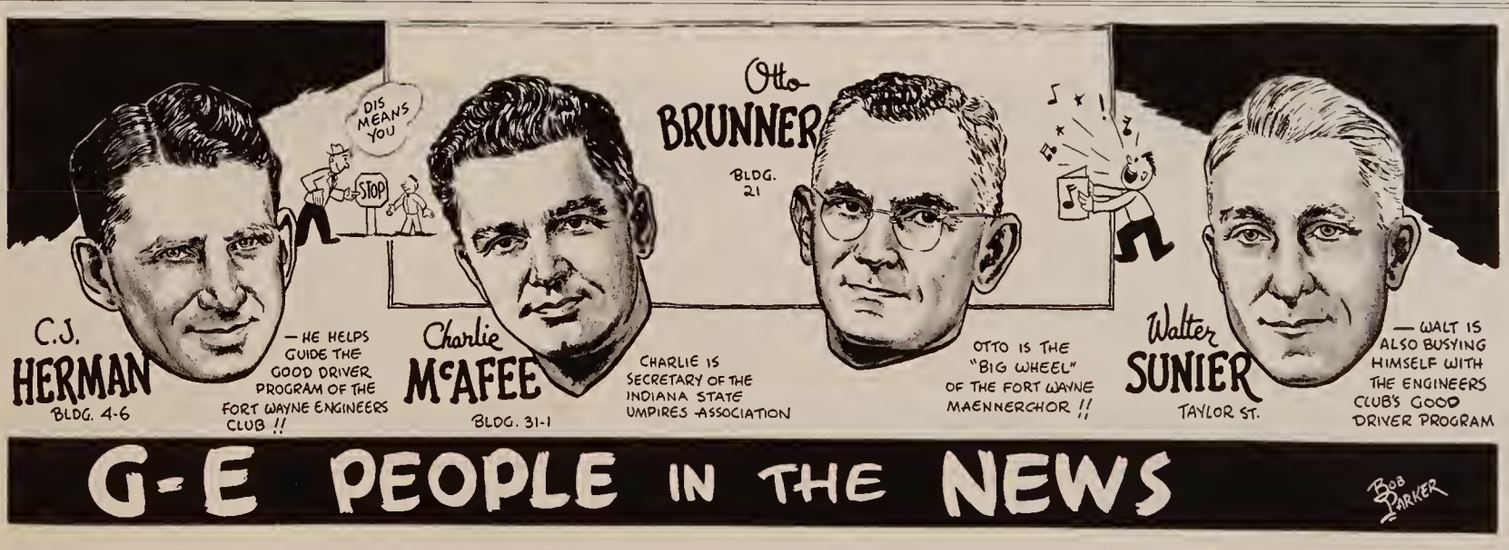
By Don Clark

Finishing some work in the field last week, Dan Knepper decided to ride one of his young riding horses bareback to the house. The horse was full of pep and immediately headed for the barn. Dan proved a capable rider until they neared the barn. There the horse made a mistake and plunged through the smallest door in the barn, and the side of the barn helped Dan to dismount. . . . While convalescing at home, the super duper euchre player, Hubert Langer, decided to invite a few lambs to the slaughter. The lambs were Glenn Kline, Charley Bracht and Herb Mennewisch. Playing with a marked deck and Herb as his partner, Hubert almost gained the well-known odorous kitty. Here is wishing you a speedy recovery and better luck in your euchre, Hubert. . . . Walt Esterline saves time eating his lunch by making one sandwich out of everything in his bucket, including pastries, vegetables and meat. This method gives him more time for that noon card game. . . . DIE PLANT: The women haven't anything on Bob Bryan. When he found out that the group was going to be in the picture with the 1,000th die, he sacrificed his lunch period by getting his hair cut. . . . Carl Zion's Sunday drive cost him money. He ruined a tire with a piece of broken glass. . . . Jim Buehheit got the old army treatment last week when he slowly strolled toward the elevator so that "Molasses" Schele could make the first load. Since the last man on is also the first one to leave, Jim felt quite smug. That is until someone reached over, grabbed Jim's hat and hung it on the telephone, causing him to wait until the elevator was empty to retrieve his hat. . . . Bob Broderick and Frank Woenker have accepted coaching assignments in the little kids' league. We wish you both success in your efforts. . . . John Hensler has decided to try an 80-day diet to lose some extra poundage. He doesn't mind the weight, but he would like to be able to tie his own shoe strings. . . . Eddie Bishop hurriedly stopped his truck as he spotted a bright red pencil. He looked around, scooped up the pencil, and drove away at a good rate of speed. We wonder how he felt when he found out that it was a handle from a pencil brush neatly painted red. . . . Carpie Frank Druhot caught a 22-pound carp Sunday in the St. Mary's. . . . We're glad to see Mart Walsh back on the job. Mart expresses his thanks for all the kindness and visits from the fellows in the tool room. . . . Bill Mowry is the proud papa of an 8-lb. baby boy. Congratulations, Bill. . . . Mark McNulty, Donald Macke, and Hank Sandkuhler were out burning up the Municipal Golf Course last week. We didn't get it straight whether they were raking and burning leaves or actually shooting some good golf. . . . The attendants all thank Woody Hursh for the swell party. . . . Ralph Foust's motto is, "If you're preparing a booby trap for Lowell Welker, don't get your wires crossed or you'll get burnt." . . . Good luck to Jim Kavanaugh. He leaves Lathe Section for a bench job with Paulson in Bldg. 19-4. . . . Just to prove that their hens were not laying wooden eggs, Mrs. Stickler sent a dozen of choice size eggs to Chet Reynolds.

CONGRATS: Birthday greetings to Cecil Harrod April 5. Happy birthday to Al Ulmer April 11. . . . NEW CAR: That new blue streak is Karl Feiertag in his new DeSoto. . . . WELCOME: We welcome Jim Brown, a new test engineer. He is taking Don Wiebke's place. . . . NEW TRACTOR: Anyone wanting any green vegetables this summer better get his order in early. Herb Osborne has purchased a new garden tractor. . . . VISIT: Pfc. Ralph Mesing visited us last week. He is stationed at Camp Carson, Colo. . . . MEAT ON THE HOOF: Joe Rowan is going to have plenty of beef for next winter. He purchased two calves and may go into the meat-packing business in a few years. . . . LIGHTWEIGHT: "Tommy" Thomas was on a strenuous diet last week. He may not look any slimmer, but he says he can guarantee he lost some weight. . . . WELCOME BACK: Jimmie Templeton is back after a few weeks' recuperation from an operation. . . . WAS HIS FACE RED? Whose? Why R. G. Dobbin's of course. Don Reck charged, earned, loaned or won a measly dime from Dobbin. Dobbin paid it, while Reek was out of the office (so was Ruth Oetting out of the office). Dobbin plaeed a very complimentary note with a few strong phrases on what he thought was Don Reek's desk. He didn't know Don had changed the location of his desk, so put the note on Ruth's desk, where Don had formerly been. Poor Ruth returned, read the note. She finally saw it was addressed to Don and took it over to Don's desk. . . . HURRY BACK: We are sorry to report that Helen Conrad is still on the sick list. We hope she is feeling much better and that she can return soon. Tom Doell has had the flu. We hope you feel better, Tom. . . . HEAVY ARM: We are all happy to have Jessie Chadwick back, even though it is only half days. . . . BYE BYE: A luncheon was held Thursday, April 5, in the Works Restaurant for Marge Albee, formerly of W. H. Weikart's Section. She left to be a full-time housewife. . . . HARD HIT: Fred Volmerding is seriously considering the purchase of a saddle and set of spurs to enable him to make a safe ride on the Lewis Street bus. Fred was unseated one morning on the way to work. . . . LONG DISTANCE CALL: The other day in the Commercial Division, Jim McKim made a long distance call. He was sitting on Fred Volmerding's desk and was trying to call Bill Weikart. He got Steve Miles, who is on the same phone with Bill. It sure was a long call from one desk to another.

Sam Brand says—

One of our boys in the service just wrote me. Says he's learning fast to be a good soldier because every time he steps out of line, the sergeant cracks down. Seems funny, for that lad was doin' the crackin' down when he was an inspectar in this shop. He made sure then that everything we made passed muster. He had to, for with a brand like ours, people learn to depend on it for steady quality and value. And the only way a manufacturer keeps people counting on him is by giving them a "good soldier" every time they buy his brand.



This past week has been Chrysler Products Week in Groups 1x10 and 1x20. John Figley has got the best '46 Dodge that was made. It was all handmade—oh, I beg your pardon—the book says "Custom made." The ear is just a little close to the ground and rubs on the driveway. . . . Willard Smith got Otto Roehm's 1940 Plymouth. This car has a habit of pulling toward the curb whenever it passes Kips. . . . Otto Roehm has a '51 Plymouth. This car doesn't have that habit yet, does it, Otto? . . Delbert Shear got some new kitchenware for his wife to dirty and him to wash. He attended an auction sale at Roanoke last Wednesday night. . . . Earl Sexton is getting a little heavy around the waist, so he decided to take some exercise. He bought a new outboard motor, ran it until it stopped and then rowed the boat back home! . . . Bill Tennisen has a new job now! He is running the elevator at a local hotel. . . . Del Winter says that he is sure that his new helper, Robert Grubb, is going to make it! . . . Matilda Reynolds surprised us all and got married to Burl McClain. Lots of best wishes from everyone. . . . Doris McAfee had to top everything off by falling over backwards out of her chair. Then at the end of the week, she brought in a big birthday cake! . . . Jack Moore's joke backfired this time. Fern Hollowell's hand slipped in the paint, and she accidentally got it around his neck. That sure was a nice paint job Fern. He who laughs last laughs best, Jack! . . . Mary Gebhart goes for blond boys even if she does get excited and drop a board of work. . . . Leonard Floyd hasn't been the same since George left. He must be homesick. . . . Ralph Gilbert says that he stepped on a rock getting out of the car and sprained his ankle. . . . Roger Williams and Bob Black sat in the bald-headed row at the Vets' party last Saturday night. They are still a bit hoarse from so much yelling. . . . Claude Steller is now known as Ed Glenwith's office boy. . . The new addition in the Betty Keister family answers to the name of Rusty and is a cocker spaniel. . . . We are glad that Virginia VanAllen is back on days now that her children are over the measles. . . . Olive Elliott is on our sick list. Hurry and get well, Olive. . . . Louella Hockemeyer is back at work after an illness. . . . Emmett Rasor does not work in the Assembly Group, but he is a TOOLMAKER! ! ! ! How could we make such a mistake? . . . Kay Webb had a time getting into her coat the other evening. Someone had wired her sleeves shut. . . . We wonder what Bob Blocher's wife thought when he came home smelling so good and not like the G-E? Did she want you to buy some for her, Bob? . . . Helen Struver is getting to work so early that she rides the buses again. She doesn't know what to do with her time. Before Jerry Kraft moved into his new home in the country, Helen rode with him and got here just in time to ring in. . . . Pat Weis' husband leaves with the army on April 26. . . . Vera Killian is on our sick list, too. A speedy recovery, Vera.

The latest to join the W. R. M. W. M. is Clarence Roth. The club has four charter members, who are, president, George Ellison; vice president, Ray Shuckle; secretary, Ed Bowser, and treasurer, Clarence Roth. The name of this outfit is, "We Run Motors Without Mechs." . . . Since Ray (I Fix Everything) Schuckle has worked on Edith Vendrick's pop-up toaster, she eats her toast from the kitchen light fixtures. . . . Lloyd Runyon tells us that we worked last week for nothing. He bought a new tire and tube at an outrageous price. . . . The garbage can is a fine place to hide your wife at assessment time. That's where Bertha Burnau landed after her husband backed his car, hit her and dumped her into the container. . . . Nena Foster had Ross Haflich fill a requisition order of packing material to be sent to Los Angeles, only to find she had sent the material several weeks before. . . . Clarence Hewes spent the week-end with his son at Camp Custer, Mich. . . . We are very sorry to learn of the illness of a former employee, Jean Conrad. . . . Latest in our section to revive the Charleston is Mary Ann Gressley. . . . Ivan Ford went fishing last Saturday and forgot his casting rod. . . . What is this we hear about Dal Smith going to Edith Venrick's window and making like a cuckoo bird every 15 minutes? . . . We thought Walt Sollberger was really serious when he boasted that he quit smoking. It lasted about a week, didn't it? . . . A THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK: The bigger a man's head gets the easier it is to fill his shoes.

If You Care to Keep Working—
Keep Working with Care

Margie Boner has been going around in circles about her 12 hens. When she began missing eggs, her first thought was that Gus, her husband, was getting them. She eliminated him and then tied up her wolf hound. Now she is getting 13 eggs, but only has the twelve hens. . . . Ellen Marchenko has been accused of feeding the mice in the office popcorn and peanuts just to keep them around. Jim Stauffer, on the other hand, worries about how he is going to rid the place of them. . . . Maybe Jim Callihan could give Max Kinsey some worthwhile advice on his problems. . . . It might help Bill Connor if he would learn to skate. He could give Junior Schwerer more opposition. . . . Benny Beningzer must believe spring is here. He has washed his car and is going to roll down the top. Maybe he desires attention. . . . Hank Bloom could possibly have a chance on the shunt job if he would furnish Bill Conrad with cigarettes, too. . . . The die setters put on a demonstration of their strength for Mr. Banks. It required every man to attach the pressure to one of the new dies. . . . I thank the WORKS NEWS editor, Lou Rotterman, for the coffee and doughnuts and hope he wasn't detained too long in washing the dishes. It seems everyone left after the meeting and lunch except Lou. . . . Clarence Hoover has the sympathy of the entire division upon the death of his father last week. . . . Wedding bells rang for Sole Booker and his lady last Saturday. We all wish Sole and the Mrs. the best of luck. With cigars the price they are now, he'll need it. . . . Since Henry Mason has been on an inspecting job, common clothes are not for him. He has given away better clothes than the average man can ever afford. . . . We have quite a celebrity in our midst. Sherman Miller has been the featured vocalist in a local night club. . . . We would have had a guest editor this week, but couldn't decide between Nick Pennick and Mrs. Roscoe Marshall.

Any mention of my name in this column is through the courtesy of Whitie Van Auken, and you can consider the source. Thank you, "friend." . . . We wonder what Art Everett knows about Carl Friend that makes him blush. . . . Ralph Latham has promised Virgil Kline some heat in the Power House for a small fee. We notice that Virgil is still wearing his jacket all day. . . . Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. John Nail on the arrival of a daughter. Now, maybe Pearl won't have to keep such close track of him. . . . Dick Gallmeier said he would vote for Andy Frank for Councilman just to hear him talk at the first council meeting. . . . Sorry I have to cut this so short, but we have more people interested in reading the column than contributing to it. . . . (Note) Mary Saxton (our editor of "Shorts and Snorts") and two friends went on a wild goose chase to East St. Louis as the result of a lonely-heart letter. Mary came back singing, "Oh, You Brown Eyes, I Will Never Look At A Pair Of Blue Ones Again."

We have a bargain hunter in the crowd. If you want to get the best for your money, see Martha Bulleit. She is attending all the sales. . . . We thank Dorothy Boneff for the candy treat. She has transferred to the day gang. . . . We wish a speedy recovery to Hazel Maxon, who has been on our sick list. . . . The casualty list is growing in the skating classes. First, it was Doris Stearns, then Dorothy Favorite and yours truly. . . . Nina Kougel should make sure the soldering iron is turned on before using it. . . . We are glad "Muscles" Norris is going to be around for awhile yet after Jo Lee thought he was at the retiring age. . . . Delores Johnston has our sympathy for her "busted" arm. . . . Reggie Enggeman is in her second childhood these days. She was caught playing with jacks. . . . Florence Seifert doesn't know what kind of weevils get into flour. She thinks they are boll weevils. . . . Oh! for the life of Mary Stopher. She sleeps 'til noon, goes to a show and then dashes to work. . . . Polly Frohning went to Illinois for the week-end. . . . Ruth Weideck couldn't stand to be away from us. She has to come back and work a night with us every now and then. . . . Nora Ridley has a new hair cut. . . . We hope Dick Clancy's daughter is over the measles by now. . . . Evaline Best never gets enough chicken. . . . "Muscles" Norris said thanks for the birthday gift. . . . Why was Martha Scott's face so red the other night? . . . Marjorie Crabill has an interesting sport. She goes rabbit hunting after work occasionally. And she gets her game. . . . What is Pearl Michaels busy making? . . . Mary Reuter got the wolf call down in the cafeteria. . . . The drinking fountains are providing free baths for Martha Scott.

Tip to Motorists: The best safety device ever invented is the one about nine inches above your shoulders.

OUR SECRET WEAPON

Quarter Century Club Welcomes Ten New Members

William L. Stout
Bldg. 4-B

Clarence H. Reiter
Bldg. 4-1

Caroline Hans
Taylor St.

Philipp Vorholzer
Bldg. 10-1

William H. Bartels
Bldg. 26-1

Ralph G. Ecenbarger
Taylor St.

Oscar L. Johnson
Bldg. 19-2

Laura J. Starner
Bldg. 17-3

Ross M. Sills
Bldg. 20-2

Ralph B. Howley
Taylor St.

Send all ads to WORKS NEWS office, Bldg. 18-3.

"Lost" and "Found" articles must be cleared through the Plant Protection office, Bldg. 10-2, or the Plant receptionist, who will place the Ad-let and otherwise advertise the article.

Only one ad per employee may be inserted. Each ad must be limited to 20 words and cannot be repeated. All articles mentioned must be personal property of the employee. Ad will not be accepted unless accompanied by the name, pay number, and division of the employee. No works building or telephone number may appear in ad, only the home telephone number or address.

No ad will be received over the telephone.

CLOSING DATE

Monday Noon, April 16, 1951

LOST AND FOUND

LOST—One car key with a yellow advertisement attached. Lost in Bldg. 16 or between Bldgs. 16 and 4-3.

LOST—One Ford key.

LOST—Combination pipe and cigar lighter. Lost in Bldg. 10-1 or Bldg. 20-1.

FOUND—One brown leather tobacco pouch with zipper fastener, and filled with tobacco. Found in yard by the Transportation Office.

FOUND—Small gold pendant carring with green set. Found in one of the parking lots.

FOUND—A white woolen glove. Turned in at Bldg. 18-Gate.

FOR SALE

GIRL SCOUT UNIFORM Size 14, includes dress, tie, socks, belt and overarm bag; child's tricycle. H-91105.

REGISTERED FULL-BLOODED FEMALE COACH DOG—Three years old. H-20945.

HIGH CHAIR—Minute washer, cheap. K-1121.

2¼x3¼ SPEED GRAPHIC PRESS CAMERA—F4.5 Compur German lens, 1 sec. to 1/1000, rangefinder, flashgun, seven cut film holders, film pack adapter, case; Federal enlarger, F6.3, $200. A-56701.

GIRL'S CLOTHING Size 7-9, skirts, dresses, reasonable, can be seen at 1125 Fairfield Ave.

1950 TWO-DOOR FLEETLINE CHEVROLET—Deluxe, 10,000 mi., radio, heater, white sidewalls, directional lights, undercoat. 3306 Broadway after 4 p.m.

DISC HARROW—Suitable for one plow tractor or small acreage. A-29819.

3¼x4¼ CUT FILM CAMERA Good condition, cheap. A-66043 after 5:15 p.m. or all day Saturday.

BABY BED—Full size, good condition, $5. A-79665

TELESCOPE—Four in. reflecting, fine instrument for viewing moon and planets. Arcola 44F31.

TWO-PIECE LIVING ROOM SUITE—Rug, reasonable. E-32654 after 4:30 p.m.

PLAY PEN—Girl's coat and bonnet, size 2; boy's topcoat and hat, size 6; portable phonograph. A-68335.

NEW STEEL CASEMENT WINDOWS—Complete set for six room house. A-92213 after 6 p.m. or Saturday.

ONE PAIR, DOUBLE HUNG WINDOWS—44x56, including sash, storm sash and screens, glass size 16x20. H-59644 after 6 p.m.

GOLF CLUBS—Three woods, five irons and good bag, very reasonable. H-75544 or 2116 Weisser Park Ave.

1949 CHEVROLET—Black Fleetline deluxe, radio and heater, low mileage. H-68631.

MEN'S CLOTHING—Size 52, 54. E-2776.

WHIZZER MOTOR BIKE—With extras; boy's and girl's 24-in. bicycles; Duncan Phyfe coffee table. A-85972.

FOUR PAIRS RUFFLED CURTAINS—50"x80", bathroom fixtures. K-1588 or 4324 Tacoma.

WANTED

GOOD BUILDING LOT—Prefer one in or near vicinity of Waynedale, Churubusco 5511.

LUGGAGE CARRIER BARS—For automobile, in good condition. H-8020 between 4 and 5 p.m.

APARTMENT SIZE GAS STOVE—H-20832 after 4 p.m.

ONE WHEEL TRAILER—E-55874.

FOR RENT

FURNISHED TWO-ROOM APARTMENT—Kitchenette, first floor, utilities and stoker heat, $13 weekly. E-2330 after 5 p.m.

LAWN ROLLER—75 cents a day. E-36944.

MISCELLANEOUS

WILL TAKE CARE OF CHILDREN—In my home while parents work. K-3524.

THANK YOU NOTE

CHARLOTTE HALLAUER WISHES TO EXPRESS HER GRATITUDE—For the thoughtfulness which prompted the lovely farewell party and for the many wishes and gifts from her associates.

Suggestion Awards

(Continued from page 1)

tion brought Donald Russell, of the Danville Plant, $30. William B. Crozier, Wire and Insulation Division, also received $30 award. His suggestion involved charts in the division. John A. Crocker, was awarded $30 for an idea about appliance tags.

Receive $25

Twenty-five dollar awards went to Eldon K. Bell, FHP Motor Div. 14; Eugene E. LaVine, FHP Div. 14; John E. Donaghy, FHP Div. 17; Portia R. Schaaf, FHP Div. 17; Max W. Lydy, Specialty Transformer Div. 91, and Charles H. Hartman, General Service Division.

Awards ranging in various denominations from $5 to $20 were made to the following employees:

FHP Awards

FHP Motor Div. 1: Catherine Putt, Lester A. Hubartt and John W. Wetzel, Sr.

FHP Motor Div. 13: Leon Guillaume, A. H. Brandenburger, James D. Knupp, Theodore R. Warner, Clarence Watterson, P. A. Schoppman (three awards), Thomas Blackwell, John H. Allendroph, Anna E. Griebel, Thomas D. Cowan, Richard T. Pemberton, Maurice J. Libbing (two awards), and Bessie C. Monroe.

FHP Motor Div. 14: Milt S. Marks, Roland J. Smith, Muriel N. Etchason, Robert M. Turschman, Nellie Ann Truesdell, Walter L. Niemeyer, Lamar Alwine, Irwin Korte, Joe R. Collins, Jr., Fred H. Vogt, Joseph Sallot, Walter J. Kritzman, Margaret Evans, Waveland H. Bernardin (two awards), Forest Grim, R. Scherrer, Nellie Ruger, John F. Poiry, Merrell S. Pettit, Marie T. McDougall, Thomas F. Gerhard, Hugh H. Miller, D. Florine Hudson, Eugene E. LaVine, Robert Till, Charles C. Rupel, Theodore F. Brockmeyer and Doris J. Dimke.

FHP Motor Div. 15: George A. Barnes, Argend Denney, Cecil E. Tarney, E. James Battrick, Wilbur E. Tibbitts, Edwin C. Rodenbeck, Leola R. Carrier (two awards), Raymond H. Christman, Arthur G. Kurtz, Francis F. Fann, Arlo R. Kissinger, Clarence Roth, Van B. Nelson (two awards), Francis L. Bennett (two awards), Edward M. Lallak, George A. Silk, Willis K. Dillman, Jack Scott and Everett S. Kelley.

FHP Motor Div. 17: Donald R. Batchelder, Eldon R. Lewis (four awards), Herb Fuhrman, Glen Buckmaster, Ernest C. Brown, Raymond J. Huhn, Robert C. Winkler, Glenn R. Miller (two awards), Neola E. Christlieb, Fred R. Bochm, George N. Miller, Fred E. House (three awards), Doris Brager, Virgil Bowers (three awards), Lloyd A. Garrison, Dallas Patten, Melvin J. Lyttle, Wallace Snyder, Joye Boyd, DunAine J. Davis, Raymond C. Fulghum, Marvin A. Van Skyock, Harold G. Giles, Richard A. Pion, Janice D. Sollberger, Neva L. Lutz (two awards), Patricia J. Morey, Thomas Burlage, Lulu G. Heckman, James E. Jackson, John E. Donaghy, William Anderson and Mary Louise Mertens.

FHP Motor Div. 23: Noble H. Wagner, Donald F. Stroebel and William H. Geist.

FHP Motor Div. 10: Betty Jane Wagner, Karl M. Feiertag and Stella M. Hagadorn.

Decatur Plant: Josephine Ivetich, Richard Schnitz and G. Frederick Dellinger.

STAB Awards

Specialty Transformer Div. 91: Joe W. Krider, Viola M. Brooks, Arthur C. Garner (two awards), Donnabelle Wagner, Glen C. Dunlap and Robert A. Bunyan (two awards).

Specialty Transformer Div. 94: Paul E. Black, L. W. Schuster, Albert E. Miller, Eileen R. Anderson, Francis M. Nelson, Thomas Hildebrand, Virgil B. Buchanan, Betty Jean Sapp, Kenneth C. Casselman, Edna R. Hall, Murray J. Sherman, Robert E. Carpenter, Ruth Durnil, Arthur F. Pequignot, Ethel Henschell, Lois C. Shaw, Frank F. Schultz, Jr., (two awards), James A. Jackson (two awards), Levi C. Carpenter, Velma M. Rose, Zella T. Disher, John C. Collins, Don Waldrop, Clorene Trout, Ralph Lovell, Jr., Mildred Bowers, Wyonetta Gerdom, Pearl G. Eger, William E. Brann, Norbert A. Hans, Fred D. Gearhart, Ann Perlman and John A. C. Lea.

Others Get Share

Danville Plant: Viola Kinney, C. L. Boncbrake (two awards), Octave Andre, Wilber E. Deichman, Helen Hager, Albert Hegedus and Mary K. Frater.

Large Motor and Generator Divisions: Wayne T. Young, Amos C. Schladenhauffen, Ernest R. Linn, Fred B. Lahrman and A. Hutchisson.

Wire and Insulation Division: Harold Barrick, Melvin Bill, Donald Eaton, Emmett M. Rasor, Warren G. Harding and Lewis Guenther.

General Tool Division: Alfred A. Arlic, Kenneth B. Handschy (two awards), Boh R. Shephard (two awards), Maynard S. Summers, Alber A. Clark, William T. Akers, Wilson Garman, Clyde Crow and Robert L. Krugh.

General Service Division: N. K. Wyatt, Francis J. Bendel, Arthur E. Ream (two awards), Mary E. Saxton, Tony W. Arthur (two awards), Eugene F. Diehm, Mildred J. Ellis, Preston H. Hille, Norbert A. Hans, Harold J. Rose, John N. Schreiber, Clifford A. Clauser, John H. Jennings and Frederick O. Harold.

Distribution Division: Carl K. Wagoner, Robert L. Arnett and Henry P. Hahn.

Miscellaneous: Frederick R. Bishop and Cora Polhamus.

TRANSPORTATION

WANTS RIDERS—From Sandpoint Gardens near Elmhurst to Taylor St. Pete Uran works from 8-4:30. Extension 2541 or H-02329.

WANTS RIDERS—From Bluffton to Taylor or Broadway, first shift, 7-3:30. Red Kriegs, extension 2108.

WANTS RIDE—From 400 E. Pontiac to Taylor St., second shift. Joyce Lee, Div. 17, works for L. E. Drake. Extension 2622.

WANTS RIDE—From 621 Douglas St., Auburn, Ind., to Broadway, first shift. Don Wilson, Bldg. 6-4.

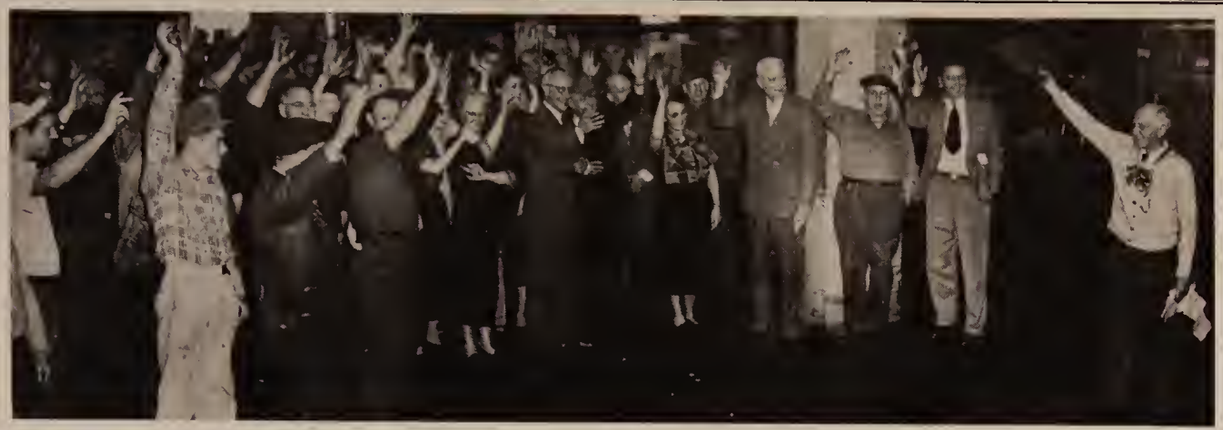
Notes— From Transformer Drafting

By Bonnie Hull

Everyone has spring fever except George Houser. He is in A-1 condition according to the Army. . . . Dick Koop has purchased a new tractor. He can hardly wait to begin his spring plowing. . . . We thank Jim Hilfiker for sharing his candy. It was made by Eleanor Stoll. . . . I just thought you might like to know a little about Peter John Eberhart. Pete's pride and joy is Martha Jane and Nancy Diane, his wife and four year old daughter. In his sparetime, he collects stamps and is a member of the Jaycees. At the present time, Pete has been kept very busy redecorating his newly purchased home. He was born in Hollendorf, Germany, 31 years ago. When Pete was six, he came to live in Chicago. He came to Fort Wayne in 1940 and took a job with the General Electric. . . . We welcome Joyce Keller. It's nice to have you with us, Joyce. . . . Ellenburg's at it again! He's always bragging about Minnesota. He doesn't like our weather. Ed told us that the first winter he was here, he had to wear snowshoes until May. . . . Ed and Les can't decide whether to join the Paratroopers or the Marines.

Featuring Pete

It was a shock to learn of the untimely death of Paul Traub. To his family, we extend our sincerest sympathy. . . . We also extend our sympathy to Anne Kensill, Gertrude Wheat and Faye Kitteridge in the death of their mothers, and Daisy Rickford in the death of her daughter. . . . Peggy Wood and Leona Scott went to Washington, D. C., last week-end to see the cherry blossoms. . . . Julia Scheumann finds that stopping at the bank can cost money, especially when she found a red ticket on her car. . . . If any of the connecters on Line 534 run into troubles, see Verda Deal. She is an expert at getting out of things. . . . Mary Lou Ragan was wearing a polka dot complexion last week. She had the measles. . . . When Nora Vanover takes a trip to Kentucky, there's never a dull moment. We wonder why she held the umbrella over the horse's head instead of her own. . . . Girls, you'll have to take a back seat on the color situation this spring. We saw Jack Pronger wearing a chartreuse shirt topped by a rosy pink bow tie. . . . Congratulations on the pink-bootied tax deduction at the Carl and Vera Gennaitte home. Vera is a former co-worker. . . . Trella Gause and Ruth Sparks have left us. They are trading coil placing for a full-time small garment making job. . . . The honors go to Emma Snyder for being the first one to try to cash her check stub. . . . Jess Hahn has been waiting for some nice weather. He wanted to get a couple sacks of fertilizer out of the basement before Marge discovered what was causing that terrible smell. . . . Mary Secrist thinks that picking up a stator instead of her purse isn't a very good idea at lunchtime. . . . Happy birthday to Esther Meeks, Patty Holley, Rose Fuhrman and Minnie McCague. . . . Mabel Schaaf is a proud new grandmother. . . . Virginia Pelz, sitting at her machine when the 6:55 whistle blew, started to work. We know she is trying to hurry the time because her son is coming home from Korea in July. . . . Shirley Case was happy as a lark and looking at the world through rose-colored glasses. The donor of the pretty diamond she is wearing called her from Florida last week. . . . Willie James Perry must have climbed out on the wrong side of the bed last Thursday. He put our wire on backwards all day. . . . We notice Walter Kryder is putting mileage on some new safety shoes.



EARNS LARGE AWARD—Fred R. Boehm (right) of FHP Motor Div. 17 is shown pointing out several features of his $170 suggestion application to his foreman, Norman Bender. Mr. Boehm suggested a method of conserving oil used in automatic machines.

HONORED AT RETIREMENT—Marie Droege, Bldg. 26-3, (right) was the guest of honor at a farewell party when she retired April 1. She received several gifts from her friends and is shown saying goodbye to (l-r) Al Rieman, her foreman; Luella Lahmeyer, Betty Sapp and Emily Droege, her sister who works in Bldg. 19-2. Miss Droege began her service with the Company in 1943 on a burring operation in Bldg. 26-4. She transferred to Bldg. 26-5 to stamp nameplates. Her next job was to connect and assemble in Bldg. 26-3. At the time of her retirement, she was making leads.

"SO LONG, GANG"—Says William C. Miller, Bldg. 6-1, as he waves good-bye to Receiving and Shipping Section personnel. Mr. Miller is now vacationing and will retire May 1. On his last day, his co-workers gave him a big send-off with gifts and wishes of good luck. Mr. Miller began his G-E Career in 1918. He has been a leading operator and inspector, working in Bldgs. 19-5, Winter St., Bldgs. 6-1 and 6-B.

Top Floor TOPICS

Bldg. 26-5

By Jack Lea

Mere words cannot express the sympathy we extend to Howard and Barbara Shipman in the recent loss to their family. . . . Ethel Brown has returned to work with a nice size black and blue bump on her head. Ethel celebrated a birthday recently. Could her birthday have anything to do with the bump? . . . Alma Kaiser has also been reported as being sick. . . . The closer it gets to June, the happier Charles Pearson seems to get. Chuck is expecting to get married in June. It's a pity a young fellow like him has to end up with a ball and chain! I guess we men will never learn. . . . What about Don Zumbrun detailing someone else to buy a birthday present for his girl? We wonder what kind of present Don wanted that he couldn't get it by himself. . . . Why is it Norma Smith turns red when you ask her how she made out on a recent week-end? . . . One of my agents reported seeing Fred Gearhart, accompanied by Lucy, Bea and Pat, at Gardner's drive-in recently during lunch period. 'Tain't fair, three to one! . . . Irene Slater had a squirrel in her basement. Now Halice Grabner comes up with a coon in the attic! When Halice and her husband noticed some wallpaper torn from the ceiling, they investigated and found a coon had taken refuge upstairs. Evidently, the coon forgot how it got there in the first place. There was a hole chewed right through the roof where an attempt to escape was made. Halice doesn't know for sure if Mr. Coon is still there or not. It crawled between the wall partitions when discovered. . . . Here's another report on spring. The fever seems to have hit Bob Schmeling. People are wondering if Bob has become a floorwalker. He seems to be making an unusual number of trips down the aisle lately! What's so interesting, Bob? . . . Hazel Busse is reported as having the flu. . . . This sounds like something the Army might do—placing a big guy like Gervase Herman on testing of small units and Bob Darr on testing the large units. They tell me Gervase is rather fragile and wanted light work. How about that?

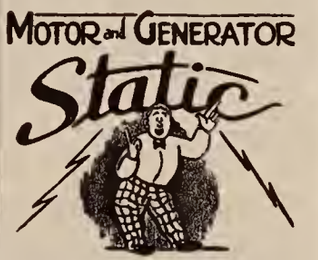
Apprentice BROADCAST

CONGRATULATIONS: It's an 8-lb. 11-oz. boy for the Bill Mowerys. . . . Jim Duff has gone to Taylor St. for an assignment, and Jim Pugh has returned to the school. . . . FOR SAFETY'S SAKE: The latest fad in the school is new safety shoes. . . . Merle Aughinbaugh had a letter from Ronnie Allen and he tells us Ronnie would appreciate hearing from any of the fellows: Pvt. Ronnell L. Allen, U. S. 55135294, Battery D, 713AAA Gun Bn., Camp Stewart, Ga. . . .

Maggie Moore went to Indianapolis to a wedding over the week-end. . . . Spring has arrived officially. Howard McVay and Chet Carey have discarded their top coats. . . . Tommie Williams is the new song bird of Div. 17. She makes a wonderful mistress of ceremonies. . . . Carl Busz came in with a big red feather in his hair Monday. We are wondering where he was over the week-end. . . . We wish a speedy recovery to Ina Smith, who is ill. . . . Vi Minnick helped her husband, Bob, pour cement and worked on their cottage at Goose Lake over the week-end. . . . Olka Johnston went to Harlan to visit her Aunt Nettie Minnick, who is 100 years young. . . . Nellie Williams visited Dorothy Ramsey over the week-end. . . . George Miller left for Great Lakes for two weeks' Naval training. We'll miss you, George. . . . Evelyn Markley was all smiles last week. Who wouldn't be, after getting a new car? . . . Congratulations to Pauline Underwood on her recent marriage. . . . Since Becky Weaver had her name in the newspaper, we can't leave her out of the news either. She has a book a hundred years old. . . . We're glad to see Helen Murray back after her illness. . . . Irene Deason returned last Tuesday from Alabama, where she visited her in-laws. . . . Ruby Shives and Ruby Chrystler have returned to work after being on the sick list. . . . After all the chances Ruby DeBolt sold for the Senior Carnival "King and Queen Contest," not one of us won a prize. . . . Mr. and Mrs. Richard Mahan are the parents of a daughter, April Clair, born March 31. Norma was a winder on third trick. . . . Stella Evans' husband, who has been gone about six weeks, hasn't returned yet. Don't give up hope, Stella. . . . Alice Yant has a new umbrella for the one she broke.

Emcee

THEME SONG: Don Konow is singing, "We're in the Army Now." . . . Pete Zook and Myron Auer are home on a 14-day furlough before going overseas. Pete was in for a visit with the boys last Thursday. . . . Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wuttke have returned from a two weeks' honeymoon in Florida.



Wayne Chapman may be a good cook and all that, but we wish he would boil the Easter eggs before coloring them and passing them out. . . . Happy birthday to Alma Raymer and Marie Smith. . . . Margaret Harrison had a birthday two weeks ago. She has now put her order in for a small size lawn mower. At her age, she can't push that big one anymore. . . . We welcome Leroy Ooley to our division. . . . Coy Capesius is in the hospital. We wish you a speedy recovery, Coy. . . . How do you like Homer Huser's new hair do? Homer, those bangs are really becoming. . . . Jack Craft and Ruth Gunn are going to hoist a Confederate flag on the assembly line. They are our two Southerners. . . . Elinor Schaffer spent the week-end in Detroit. She visited her sister. . . . What is this we heard about Mabel Shinn trying to buy milk from the candy lady for a penny instead of a dime? It doesn't hurt to try, does it? . . . Clara Koomler has been getting cards from a certain boy friend. . . . Marcey Dafforn is going to gain weight if she isn't careful. She was seen with a pound candy bar. . . . Irene Drabenstat visited her sister who is in a Detroit hospital.

G-E WAR VETS SPONSOR DISPLAY—Three officers of the G-E World War Veterans Association are shown looking over Norman Rockwell's Four Freedoms illustrations displayed last week at the Broadway Employees' Store. Pictured (l-r) are A. R. Vegalues, historian; Hugh Neely, president, and W. J. Spahr, treasurer. The art work was given to the vets by the Saturday Evening Post and the wood and glass case was built and donated by the Company.

Those silly old measles are no respecter of persons, time or place. Wally and Mrs. McKay found this out recently when they took Mary Lou, all decked out with her lovely new costume, to Chicago for a big revue. Just minutes before curtain time Mary Lou came down with measles. . . . Harold Boles usually gets his money, though sometimes its a little sticky. Vern Castle is just the guy who can supply the sticky stuff. . . . Does anyone want to buy a chair? Floyd Garland was seen trying to get rid of one by parading up and down the office aisle. . . . On behalf of my fellow-workers and myself I'd like to say that we are all better people just for having known and worked with our friend, Paul Traub. So long, Paul, it's been good to know you. Peace be with you in your new home. . . . The Birthday Club was entertained by Dorothy Mills at the Colonial Restaurant in honor of Clara Theisman. Those present were Norma Krall, Eleanor Bolenhaugh, Dorothy Mills, Clara Theisman, Evelyn Scheuman, Dorothy Crawford, Eileen Hennen, Marilyn Richard, Dorothy Askren, Addie Masbaum, Martha Cox and Belle Buchan.

Thought For The Week: "Small Town: Where everybody knows whose check is good and whose husband isn't."

We have members of the Motor Generator Division who aspire to be city fathers, John Hoelle and Ora Martin. . . . BIRTHDAY: Congratulations to Don K. Schultz, April 8. . . . Forest Sutter, Bldg. 19-1, takes no back seat as a farmer. Last Saturday, he and the tractor were out in the cornfield and the tractor bogged down. Forest became so irritated that he walked away and let the engine stand. The other tractor wouldn't start and no crank could be found. He sent his son to the tractor in the field for a crank. When the crank was found, this tractor had developed a flat tire. In the meantime, the tractor in the field ran out of gas. Forest then made a few pointed remarks and called it a day. . . . TOO HARD: Butch Vegalues feels let down. Next to himself, he feels that the "green hornet," his antique car, is about the keenest thing on our streets. A week ago, Butch was chugging down Jefferson St. Just in front of the Jefferson Theater, the "green hornet" spluttered a couple of times and died. Soon traffic was tied up. A kindly soul pushed our hero to a filling station at Clinton and Jefferson. It turned out that Chief Vegalues was trying to squeeze all the power out of every last drop of gasoline. He had squeezed the last one too hard. . . . A classified ad in a San Francisco paper read, "Cheery room, suitable for one with big bay window. Men only." This jewel came from the Lafayette, Ind., Journal and Courier: "For sale, two grave lots. Nice location. Fireplace fixtures."

OWL PRACTICE PLANNED

Bob Crosley, Owl softball league manager, has announced that a league practice will be held at 9 a.m. Monday, April 16, in McMillen Park.

In case of inclement weather, a meeting will be held at 2 p.m. in the Trophy Room at the G-E Club. All players are urged to attend this practice, Mr. Crosley said.

Mary Miller, Lee Gage Garner Top Honors in Decatur Singles Handicap Bowling Tournament

Mary Miller and Lee Gage copped the Women's and Men's Divisions of the special Singles Handicap Bowling Tourney sponsored by the Decatur G-E Club, April 3-8.

Mary won the Women's division with a neat 654; she also won special prizes for her high single (actual 196 and high series 528).

Lee won the Men's Division with a 666, nosing out several other bowlers for the grand prize. Bob Lord came in for a good share of the prize melon with a single game actual of 234 and high series actual of 611, besides placing high in the handicap with a 650.

A total of 110 men and 48 women employees were entered in the tournament. The top ten in each division were as follows:

Mary Miller 654, Marjorie Miller 623, Wilma Ross 618, Joan Lichtenstiger 615, June Railing 599, Evelyn Plasterer 595, Betty Moran 592, Mary Dull 590, Dorothy Schnepf 579, Frances Reidenbach 577.

Lee Gage 666, Charles Omlore 662, Buford Eull 662, Bob McAfee 659, Anthony Murphy 658, Harold Whitwright 655, Bob Lord 650, Jim Ahr 638, Gordon Sprunger 637, Dick Bogner 633.

The Squares won the team event of the Sixth Annual G-E Employees' Bowling Tournament which ended Sunday evening. They garnered a total of 3,093 pins.

Dick Bucher led the singles with 715 pins, while Walt Mertz got

Carl Brandt

G. Ray Lindemuth

Walt Mertz

1768 to win the all-events section. Carl Brandt and Ray Lindemuth walked off with the doubles on 1360.

Second place winners were Drafting of the Office League with 3082 in the team event. John Fisher was runner-up in the singles on 677 total. E. Roby and O. Somers placed second in the doubles. They got 1285. Second placer for the all events was Les Shroyer, who got 1751.

Final standings will be listed in next week's WORKS NEWS. Prize money can be obtained at the G-E Club counter.

Charles Baron's plumber didn't show up Saturday, so he went down and bought a new Dodge. . . . The candy lady thrived today. Cozy Walper and Sarah Moore finally broke down and went off their diets. . . . Art Cobb and Wilbur Gray are still on the sick list. . . . We are sorry to hear that Catherine Chilcote was in an auto acci-

TRANSFORMER TATTLES

By Gladis Getts

We shall try to pick up where Russ James left off and keep you informed better than ever. . . . Welcome home to Olen Lehman, who returns to the Green Room as first trick foreman, and a fond farewell to Buss Graves, who will take over the Hermetics on fifth floor. . . . Ilo Kraft tells us that she and Eddie have a new addition to the family—two little kittens. . . . Helen Mueller, do you prefer sitting on the floor, especially when tying your shoes? . . . Kenny Disler left last week to accept a position at Casad Engineers Depot. . . . Joyce Keller has been transferred to the Drafting Section and Don Coolman to the third floor Winding Section. . . . Tonsillectomies are in style. Mary Huguenard and Clarence Dick are the latest victims. Best wishes to Berniece Schumann, who is in the Lutheran Hospital and to Connie Dumford, who is confined to her home. . . . In our "New Faces Dept." are Clara Ballard and Jeanette Cook. . . . The Eugene Galloways have a new daughter, Cheryl Lynn. . . . Happy birthday to Suzie Johnson, Helen Hunt, Nora Spencer, Marjorie Miller, Eloise Mills, Ida Lowe and Mel France. . . . Goodbye to Jesse Newhard, who retired March 30. . . . Welcome, Jackie Rhodes. . . . Berneice Kratzsch went to Chicago to see "South Pacific." . . . We see that Marvin Johnson made it back after his unexpected operation. . . . A new tester has been added to our list. It's none other than the "Great Dewey Snyder." . . . Dutch Norwalt has recovered from his illness and plans to return to work this week. . . . Joe Troendly will compete in the first registered shoot of the season at the Ossian Gun Club. . . . We missed Otto Braun while he was off sick. . . . Bill Mills always brings Leo Klejnot to work. However, several mornings ago, Bill couldn't start the car. He asked Leo if he might be able to drive. After getting within two blocks of G-E, they ran out of gas. . . . Lillian Croy's ship has come in. She has returned from an eight-weeks' visit to her home in England. . . . I would like to thank my staff of writers. They are Ralph Smith, Ginny Carter and Anne Cerne.

All-American to speak

Football Star Red Sitko Slated At Squares' Stag Wednesday Nite

The Squares Club has re-scheduled All-American Emil "Red" Sitko to speak at their stag Wednesday, April 18, at 8 p.m. in the Squares Hall.

Chairman Chet Krasienko explained that, due to illness in the family, Red was unable to appear last month as scheduled. Roger Nelson of the Zollner Pistons substituted with a film of the New York-Pistons game followed by an informal talk. Mr. Krasienko said that Red has assured him he will be on hand for the stag this month.

The former Notre Dame athlete will give highlights of his college and professional career. He will compare college and pro-ball with particular reference to team spirit, glory, money and humorous incidents. Red said he will answer all questions on players, schools, coaches or trends.

Sitko began his football career at Central High School. He played halfback and fullback on the undefeated Notre Dame teams of '47, '48 and '49. He was named to several All-American teams in 1949. He is now a member of the San Francisco Forty Niners team.

Following the program there will be cards and refreshments.

Joe Hamilton, Bldg. 26-2, and Nate Horton, Taylor St., are assisting Mr. Krasienko with the arrangements.

Club Will Maintain Last Year's Golf Schedule, Manecke Says

The G-E Club has reserved the same golf schedule as last year at the Brookwood Golf Course, Denton Manecke, golf chairman, revealed this week. According to Mr. Manecke, the course will be available Monday afternoon and evening, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings and for the Owl Leagues.

The Club will sponsor the following program for the coming golf season:

1. Trophies and sweaters for two champions.
2. Golf shirts for league winners.
3. The Midwest Industrial Tournament.
4. Studebaker matches.
5. G-E Club Blind Bogey.

Mr. Manecke explained that everyone in the league will be required to pay their own green fees this year because of the reduced income of the Club "caused by inflation and various other factors."

Managers are now being selected and will be announced soon, he added.

. . . golf chairman

dent and suffered severe injuries. We wish her a speedy recovery. . . . Louise Keller and her husband spent the week-end at the Marrot Hotel in Indianapolis attending the wedding of a cousin, Richard K. Shull. . . . We are eagerly awaiting the return of Gene Garrard and Edna Wolf back to work after their illness. . . . Word was received from Irene Campbell, who is on vacation in Florida. She reports having a wonderful time. . . . Gladys Pantazin almost missed her own birthday party. . . . Terry Lee, son of Earl Fredericks, is in the hospital for treatment. . . . We wish Elinor Laux a happy birthday. Her daughter-in-law and grandson from Chicago spent the week-end with her. . . . We have word that Francis Walker, who is retired, has been ill. . . . Hedy Klejnot had a visit from her son, Chester, who is stationed at Camp Breckenridge, Ky. . . . Eddie Bandt won a contest at the Veterans' party. His prize was getting to dance the "Balling the Jack" with the star dancing girl. Ed says he really had a wonderful time. . . . Clyde Helms had to stay out until two o'clock to keep from having company after the Vets' party. We think he forgot to get the peppermint schnapps. . . . We welcome Harry Carr in Div. 17x70 and hope he likes his work. . . . Bob Johnson and George Marschand must have washed a lot of dishes to get to go to the Vets' party. It is reported that Howard Householder and Red Yant weren't so lucky. . . . Chet Reinking has been very busy getting a pink and blue room ready. . . . Kenneth Bainbridge says he almost lost the wheels off his car in the ruts on the Bluffton Road Sunday. . . . We wish Ralph Hare a happy birthday. . . . We are sorry to hear that Clara Grigley's mother is ill. . . . What's the attraction around town that gives both Mary Shreve and her husband sore eyes? . . . Anybody having birds, cats or dogs they would like to leave while they go away, see Mary Shreve.

Anyone seeking special service at the Berghoff in Chicago should consult Hugo Kleint. He is a hand-shaking acquaintance of the "Ober Kellner" there. . . . FLASH Sue Wagner is going to write a book on MEN. This should be good. May we have your subscription? . . . Have you noticed how bright everyone looks? It's because the windows were all washed on the inside. Now, if they wash them on the outside, too, everyone will sparkle. . . . Rudy Rastenburg swallowed the hook, line and sinker. Did you see Charlie McCormick smoking that stogie the other day? He did all this to help along a joke that was being played on Rudy and involving Slim Neireiter. Even a cute cartoon resulted and also a lot of laughs. Just to enlighten everyone, Slim's total is still three. . . . What did Harold Traxler have to show Johnny Redmerski on their trip downtown? It must have been a shock because Johnny missed another day of work. . . . Elmer Wagner received a swell birthday card from "Lollie." Now, who the heck is "Lollie?" It has Elmer going around in circles. . . . You're really not as old as you think you are if you're still learning new tricks.

New Authoress

Mark Smith came to the rescue. Mark, one of 17 hams (amateur radio operators), participated in the emergency practice of the Voluntary Auxiliary Signal Department of Civil Defense last Sunday. The hams were to act as watchers during a flood, so the men were parked in cars along the river to report the flood stages. While Mark was at his post at the Anthony Blvd. bridge, two men hurried to his car saying that a child had fallen into the river. Mark relayed the message to the hams and also to police over the air. Immediately, he left his radio equipment in charge of his son Butch and went to the river side. As the police and the firemen approached, Mark discovered what looked like a child from the bridge was only a log bobbing up and down in the stream. . . . The sunny beaches of Florida seem to be the most popular spot for M-G vacations so far this year. Joe Formanek is in Florida now and will stay another week. He is visiting the Kellogg's, and seeing the highlights of the state. . . . Next week will find Mabel Liggett at Jacksonville. Vic Blomenberg will be in Tampa for two weeks. Emery Pritchett and Eric Gawehn will also be on vacation next week. . . . Last week-end, Arthur Shull attended the spectacular wedding of his son Richard Keith to Avriel Christie, artist of the Avriel Art Associates. The wedding took place at the Marott Hotel, Indianapolis, in a Hollywood setting. Proceeding the bridal procession of two children, flower girl and ringbearer, six bridesmaids and the bride, two ballet dancers pranced down the aisle strewing flower petals. The bride designed her Victorian gown and the bridesmaids' gowns. The ceremony was preceded by the reading of a Shakespearean sonnet. A pair of doves flew around during the ceremony which ended with the bride and groom kissing amid a shower of apple blossoms.

Hero Smith

Doctor (after examining patient): "I don't like the looks of your husband, Mrs. Adamson."

Mrs. Adamson: "I don't either, Doctor, but he's so kind to the children."

Getting Along Together

Every so often in our concern with far away things—and what they mean to us—we forget about how we are getting along together in our jobs right here at General Electric—and what that means to us.

So at this time, particularly, it seems especially worthwhile to take a fresh look at fundamentals.

Three and a half years ago in the first of these pages we listed the following nine principal things we were trying to do to make jobs better. We know we haven't done all we set out to do, but these are still our objectives and we are going to keep on trying to achieve them.

1. We said we wanted you to get good pay—pay that was right for the job you get done. And, we meant not just what is in the pay envelope, but paid vacations and holidays, pensions and life insurance, suggestions awards, and other available benefits from your working here.

2. We said we wanted you to have good working conditions—a safe, well-equipped, convenient, pleasant place to work.

3. We said we wanted you to have good bosses—good in the sense they would help make a good job better—good in the sense of leading rather than pushing you around—good in the sense of doing their best to save you time, money, and worry in personal matters by reason of their training, experience and access to information.

4. We said we wanted you to have a chance to get ahead—on the basis of your ability, your ambition, and how well you do your job.

5. We said we would try to give you steady work—through doing all we knew how towards insuring a steady flow of orders—through pushing the expansion of our plants and equipment—through better serving and pleasing our customers when delivery was hard to make so they would be more loyal when sales were harder to make.

6. We said we would see to it that you were treated with respect—to make sure that everyone in management would try to see that you were respected as an individual and your dignity never in any way offended.

7. We said we would try to get the facts to you—so that everyone who works at General Electric would know what was going on, what our plans were, where we had had successes or setbacks, and what were the problems ahead.

8. We said we would try to keep you abreast of the importance, requirements, responsibilities, and possibilities involved in your particular job—all the things that are combined to create the willingness of our customers to keep on buying General Electric products and thereby adding to job security.

9. We said we would try to make it possible for you to enjoy your job not only through getting proper pay and other important material rewards but also through doing our best to find all possible extra ways in which we could work together to make our jobs both interesting and satisfying.

To what degree we have succeeded you can better judge than we. But whatever have been the results, the progress made to date isn't anywhere near enough to satisfy us. We will continue trying in every way possible to make jobs better. As always, your constructive criticism and other helpful recommendations will be warmly welcomed.

GENERAL ELECTRIC COMPANY

VICE PRESIDENT—EMPLOYEE RELATIONS

THE ORANGE KID he is now called. Herb Thompson decided it was time to reduce. All he had for lunch was three oranges one day. The following day he brought in three more. before he had time to consume them, Wimpy Lemper got hungry. As a result, there were no oranges (so he says). Therefore, he had to eat Swiss steak and potatoes for lunch. Friday noon he had another large lunch plus two trips to the candy wagon. Monday, he came hobbling in with three more oranges. . . . FISH WORM FARMER Bill Rohe tells us that with a little help from his co-workers, he will raise fish-worms instead of livestock. There is no investment or feeding expense connected with the raising of fish worms, provided his co-workers will send or bring him all their coffee grounds. Let's get behind this project folks, and give Bill all the coffee grounds you have. . . . IN NAVY TRAINING at Great Lakes is Charles, son of Vaughn Sheets. Vaughn is better known to his co-workers as the Mayor of Waynedale. Mr. and Mrs. Sheets will visit Charles May 12 when he will graduate. . . . ON COMMITTEE was Barbara Arnold, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Florian Arnold. Barbara served as a chairman on the committee for a Parish Day program held at Rosary College in River Forest, Ill., featuring a weekly Student Assembly series. . . . GRASSHOPPER AND DILL PICKLES. If a cypress log 12 feet long and 2 feet in diameter will make 10 bunches of shingles (100 shingles to a bunch), how long would it take a grasshopper with a wooden leg to kick out all the seeds in a dill pickle? Before we answer that, Wimpy Lemper, tell us first is the grasshopper working for chawing tobacco or peanuts? . . . IT'S A RULE, and it costs you hard earned cash if you do not remove your hat when you enter the Moose Lodge. We understand, Ralph Olinger, that you can testify to this. Better leave that old bonnet home next time. . . . REMEMBER. Safety is your business.

The Orange Kid

FORT WAYNE WORKS

NEWS

Volume 34 FORT WAYNE, INDIANA, FRIDAY, APRIL 20, 1951 No. 16

GIVE UP—

those precious gems of knowledge you gleaned from Tom, Dick and Mary and pass the top secret info' to your division reporters or editor. Let's share with the whole Fort Wayne Works all the doings and laughs on YOUR floor.

Doors to Spectacular Hobby Show Swing Open Saturday

The Second Annual G-E Club Hobby Show, scheduled to open its doors at 1 p.m. tomorrow in the Club Gym, promises to be even bigger and more entertaining than last year's event, Lynn Winegerter, general chairman, said today.

Besides a huge variety of displays ranging from model railroading to a necklace of human teeth, the gigantic show will feature magic acts, to be performed by members of the Fort Wayne Magician's Club, and musical entertainment including the currently popular Rhythm Rascals quartet. Open to the public, the exhibit can be viewed free of charge from 1 to 10 p.m. Saturday and from 1 to 5 p.m. Sunday.

Some of the more than 75 individual displays enrolled in the show include etching, oil paintings, photography, cats, crocheting and a variety of fancy needlework, pitcher collections, miniature models of trains, aircraft and boats, miniature tools, woodwork, sports and many others.

C. W. Moeller

Carl W. Moeller Named Assistant In FHP Eng. Div.

The appointment of Carl W. Moeller as Assistant to the Manager of Engineering in Fractional Horsepower Motor Divisions was disclosed today by J. J. Clarkson, Manager of Engineering. Mr. Moeller will assume his new duties immediately.

A native of Fort Dodge, Ia., Mr. Moeller attended Iowa State College and was graduated from the University of Minnesota in 1935

(Continued on page 9)

G-E Squares to Hold Square Dance Friday In Goeglein's Barn

The G-E Squares' Club has scheduled a square dance for Friday, April 27, from 9 to 12 p.m. in Goeglein's Barn, Glenn Seabold, publicity chairman, said today.

Goeglein's Barn is located four miles east of Fort Wayne. Paul Weaver will be the caller. Mr. Seabold emphasized that the dance will be strictly informal and plaid shirts and straw hats will be in order.

Tickets are $1 per couple.

Little League Tryouts Planned Sat., April 28

The "Big Day" in Little League Baseball will be Saturday, April 28. At 9 a.m. on that day, boys from 9 to 12 years of age will meet in four sections of the city to be rated and assigned to teams. Players must report to the area in which they live.

The city has been tentatively divided into North and South by the Pennsylvania Railroad and to the East and West by Calhoun St. Boys living in the Southwest will meet at Harrison Hill School Playground; in the Southeast at McMillan Park; in the Northeast at St. Jude's Playground, and in the Northwest at Hamilton Park.

The G-E sponsored Little League team will be in the Northwest division. Pres Slack, Bldg. 2-2, who has been chosen to pilot the G-E team, emphasized that only boys living in the Northwest are eligible to try out for the G-E team.

Registration cards for players will be available at the G-E Club Tuesday. Players may report to the field without registering, but they are urged to fill in cards if at all possible before going to practice.

Four teams of equal strength will be chosen in each group. Each team will be comprised of 12 uniformed players plus six reserve substitutes. An average team will have five 12-year-olds, four 11-year-olds, and three 10-year-olds or younger.

Sixteen local businesses and industries are sponsoring teams. W. A. Hattendorf, Jr., Bldg. 12-3, and H. G. Cowan, Taylor St., will assist Manager Slack.

5 Appointments Announced In Large MG Manufacturing

Supervisory appointments in the Large Motor and Generator Manufacturing Division have been announced by R. M. Hartigan, manager of Manufacturing.

F. M. Metrailer has been named assistant to the manager of Manufacturing in charge of Factory Operations and Fenton E. West has been appointed supervisor of Methods, Planning and Wage Rates, Mr. Hartigan disclosed.

F. M. Metrailer

The appointments of G. M. Murray as Purchasing agent, W. R. David as Production supervisor and P. E. Bohn as staff assistant on Special Assignments, were simultaneously revealed by R. A. Woehr, Production manager.

Mr. Metrailer is a graduate of Notre Dame University and joined the General Electric Company July 9, 1929. He served as supervisor of Methods, Planning and Wage Rates until his present assignment.

The Metrailers and their two children live on Liberty Mills Road.

Ball State Graduate

Mr. West, who is succeeding Mr.

(Continued on page 9)

"Fiesta" Plans Being Completed By Supervisors

The Committee for the Supervisors' Club "Spring Fiesta" is completing final arrangements for the party, C. E. Slater, co-chairman, said today. The fiesta will be held Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the G-E Club Auditorium.

Taking its theme from "south of

(Continued on page 4)

U. S. Employment Gains Sharply During March; Slight Change Here

Civilian employment swung sharply upward in March as more and more of the nation's production facilities shifted into high-gear war work.

According to the monthly report on the labor force for March issued by the U. S. Department of Commerce, total employment for last month rose 1¼ million above the February level of nearly 59 million. The estimated total employment figure for March is slightly more than 60.2 million, one of the largest ever recorded for this time

(Continued on page 9)

Company Sales, Income Soar to Record First Quarter Level; New Taxes Cut Profits 5 Per Cent

"Operating results of General Electric and its consolidated affiliates for the first three months of this year indicate that the far-reaching effects of the defense mobilization program, particularly the greatly increased taxes, are beginning to be felt by American industry," President Ralph J. Cordiner told the Company's stockholders at their annual meeting held at Schenectady last Tuesday.

"Although the Company's sales and income before taxes were both at record first quarter levels, an increase of $44,500,000 in the amount required for federal taxes on income reduced its net profit for the quarter to $34,996,000, or five per cent less than the $36,858,000 earned in the corresponding quarter last year," Mr. Cordiner reported. These respective amounts of net earnings were equivalent to 6.1 cents and 8.8 cents on each dollar of sales, and to $1.21 and $1.28 per share of common stock issued.

(Continued on page 4)

$350 Million Slated For 4-Year Expansion

The General Electric Company will spend upwards of $350 millions to enlarge its facilities within the next four years in order to meet the demands of the mobilization program and to provide capacity to cope with increased business in normal lines, President Ralph J. Cordiner told stock-

(Continued on page 4)

FORT WAYNE WORKS BULLETIN

Subject: DAYLIGHT SAVING SCHEDULE

April 20, 1951

At midnight, Saturday, April 28, clocks throughout the city will be set forward one hour to Eastern Standard Time. However, the Broadway and Taylor St. Plants of the Fort Wayne Works will not change their clocks to Eastern Standard Time until midnight, Sunday, April 29, at which time the least number of people are working.

Any third shift operators working on Sunday night will ring in on Central Standard Time and ring out on Daylight Saving or Eastern Standard Time so that the interval worked will be one hour less than the clock card registration. The Payroll Sections will take care of this adjustment in time.

A. Martin

Works Manager

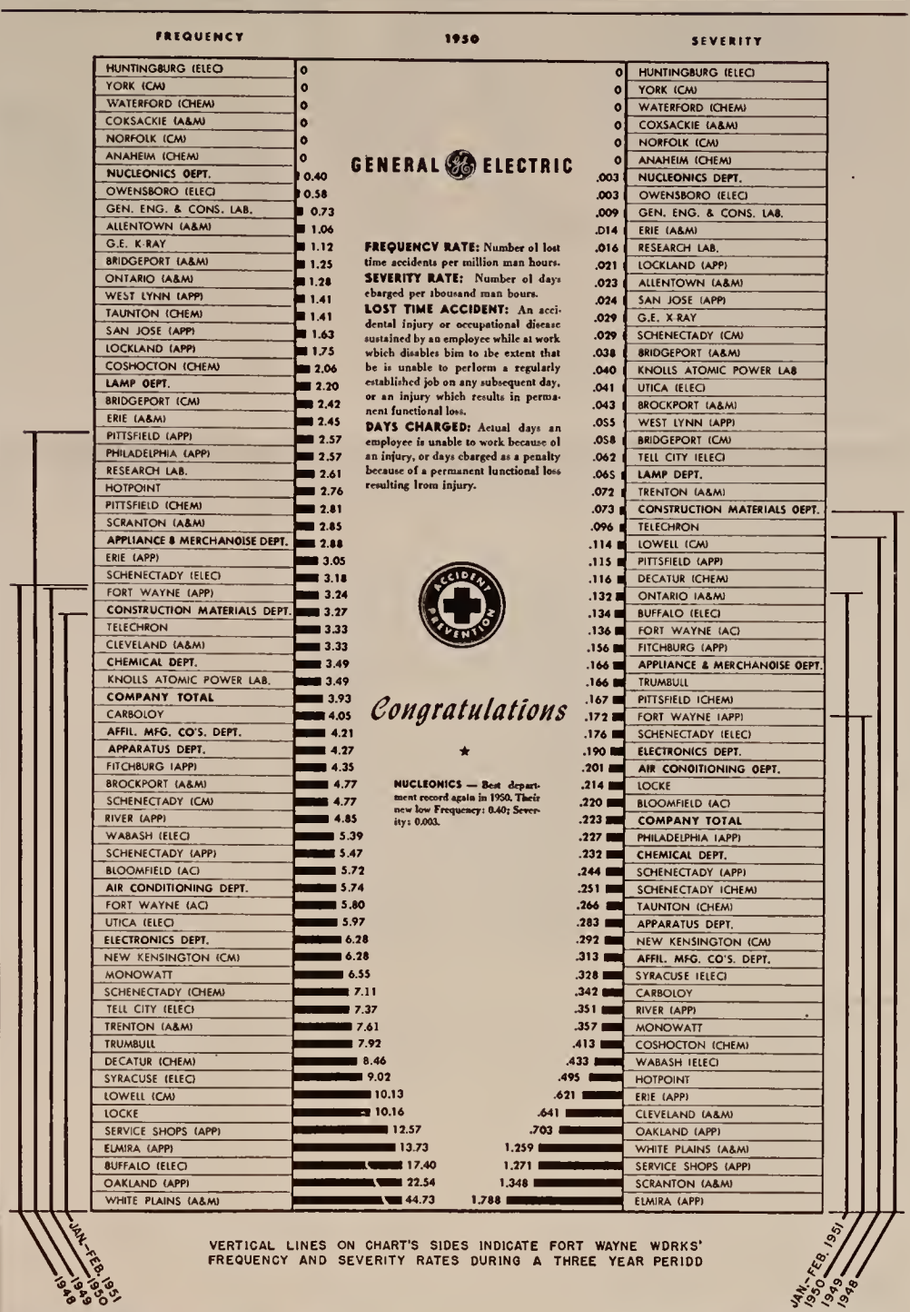
FORT WAYNE WORKS
NEWS

Volume 34 Friday, April 20, 1951 No. 16

Lou Rotterman ..... Editor
Virginia Molden ..... Assistant Editor
K. Marian Davies ..... Divisional News Coordinator

No Errors Allowed In this League!

During 1948, the Fort Wayne Works achieved the lowest combined severity and frequency accident rate in its entire history, a record-smashing .24! Unfortunately, that is the best we have done since then.



In 1949, the combined severity and frequency accident rate crept up to .26. Last year, according to reports recently issued by the Company, the Fort Wayne combined accident rate soared to its highest peak in three years with a crippling .57. Although the 1950 frequency rate remained almost unchanged in comparison to the 1949 figure, our severity rate dropped from .10 to .17. In short, fewer people were hurt last year but those that were injured suffered accidents of a more serious nature than in 1949. (The frequency rate is based on the number of lost time accidents per thousand man hours and the severity rate is determined by the number of days charged per thousand man hours.)

Figures, charts and lengthy reports grow rather tiresome but they do provide a graphic means of determining whether our work is becoming more or less hazardous.

The Company Safety men make a lifetime career of maintaining and discovering safety devices and procedures. They tell us how to play the safety game, how to protect ourselves and provide the utmost in the latest safety equipment to aid our compliance with safety rules. After receiving the ball from them, it is up to us to follow the play through. If a fellow employee drops or misses the ball, cover it for him. On the industrial safety team, everybody is his brother's keeper.

Figures and charts may not mean much to us but arms, legs, fingers, and even life itself, are pretty important.

Let's win the Safety Pennant in '51!

Words by Walt

RIGHT MATERIAL

I have read that it's material
In a thing that really counts,
And that men with right material,
After falling, always bounce.

And the bounce is in proportion
To the hardness of the fall;
Very much as you'd discover,
If you dropped a rubber ball.

Now of course the man I'm quoting
Didn't mean just what he said,
For men never bounce when falling,
But just flatten out instead.

What I think he meant to tell us,
Is that men who have the stuff,
Never flatten out, when failure
Makes their job a little tough.

When he speaks of right material
In a man, I think we'll find,
It is grim determination
What he really has in mind.

It's that little spark of something
In a man, that makes him fight
For a cause, however, hopeless,
That he really thinks is right.

It's that will to make a struggle,
When he's miring in the muck,
It's that faith in something better,
When it seems he's out of luck.

And recovery after failure
Is, of course, the human bounce,
Which depends on good material
And is proof, material counts.

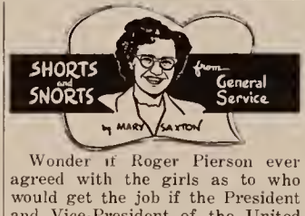
So I close with this suggestion
Lift your eyes and watch the sky
For I think you'll see MacArthur
Do a bounce that's really high.

—W. L. Whonsetler

new reporter

Bonnie Hull to Edit WORKS NEWS Column

Bonnie Hull has assumed the duties of division editor of "Notes from Transformer Drafting," WORKS NEWS column from Bldg. 26-2. Bonnie succeeds Melba Jackson, who is marrying and leaving the Company before moving to Virginia.



Bonnie graduated from South Side High School last year and has been a G-E employee for about three months doing general office work in the Drafting Section. News reporting is something entirely new for her, but she says she is looking forward to her new assignment.

Bowling and tennis are her favorite hobbies. She lives at 4210 South Anthony Blvd. with her family.

Surely we have had enough rain by now to grow those May flowers. Mother Nature must think we are going to raise waterlilies this year. . . . Marge Ponsot is waiting for some warm weather She has all new fishing equipment. . . . Vi Putnam of Schenectady was a visitor last wek. She is the co-ordinator of Inter Club consisting of General Electric women. . . . Don't forget to patronize the Elex booth at the Employees' Store. . . . On one of our recent rainy afternoons, Annie Cook and Mary Irven were seen carrying a bathtub down the street. Don't you have rainwater in Auburn? . . . Birthday greetings to Ethel Keller, Lillian Murphy, Loretta McCarroll and Florence Lea. . . . A belated surprise potluck was held for Kate Weigele to help her celebrate her birthday. . . . For that extra pep in bowling, we hear that Esther Meeks has to have a chocolate malt. . . . Pete Heckler went to Anderson to bowl last week-end. . . . We hear that Dorothy Johnson has been having trouble with the answers for radio quiz programs. . . . On our sick list are Doris Lontz, Alberta Foulks and Bill Ribel. We hope to see you back soon. . . . Ida Sinn was seen washing her purse and hands at the same time. . . . Dick Gleim sent us a letter telling us "hello." He would like for us to drop him a few lines. His address is:

Pvt. Richard D. Gleim, US-55137703
Btry. C. 652nd FA Obsn.
2nd Plt. Bn.
Ft. Sill, Okla.

Wonder if Roger Pierson ever agreed with the girls as to who would get the job if the President and Vice-President of the United States died. You might have known you couldn't outsmart them, Roger. . . . Bessie Fitch has been hearing about a new A&P store, so she decided to go there. When she got there, all she found was a stack of bricks and lumber. The store hasn't even been built yet. Why don't you wait for an announcement in the paper next time, Bessie. . . . Bldg. 20-2 has two candidates for public office. Carlos Campbell is running for Mayor. He has worked at G-E for 27 years, lives at 2102 Miller Road and was ordained a minister in 1939. All votes would be greatly appreciated. Attention, people living in the sixth district! Andy Frank is campaigning for Councilman for your district. He is married, lives at 2811 Gay St. and has two children. "Be frank with Frank."

M. M. Ray

J. L. Brant

D. A. Bartle, Jr.

W. E. Vought

A. C. Jenne

L. M. Schlaudroff

General Tool Discloses 6 Appointments

Six new appointments in the General Tool Division became effective last week, according to an announcement by C. A. Brenner, Div. Superintendent. M. M. Ray has been named supervisor of Tool and Special Equipment Design; J. LaMar Brant, supervisor of Tool Design and Drafting; David A. Bartle, Jr., supervisor of Office Activities; Leo M. Schlaudroff, foreman of Heat, Treat, Jig Borers, Slotters, Horizontal Boring Mills, Welding and Drill Presses; Walter E. Vought, Methods and Equipment Specialist, and Arthur J. Jenne, supervisor of Planning.

Mr. Ray entered the Apprentice School Jan. 13, 1923, and graduated as a machinist-toolmaker in 1926. In 1928, he joined the Special Machine Section in Bldg. 26-5. He transferred to machine design work in 1937 and was appointed supervisor of Tool Design and Drafting in 1941, where he served until his present assignment.

Mr. Ray is a former administrator of the Supervisors Club. He is married, has two daughters, and one son, now stationed in Florida with the Navy. The Rays live at 3429 Taylor St.

Brant Began in 1926

Mr. Brant joined the Company in 1926 as an apprentice. He graduated from the Apprentice School as a draftsman in 1929 and was assigned to the General Tool Division machine and tool design. He has been employed in that capacity until his recent appointment.

Mr. Brant is a member of the American Society of Tool Engineers and the Apprentice Alumni Association. He lives at 340 W. Sherwood Terrace with his wife and two children.

Bartle Was Apprentice

A Harlan resident, Mr. Bartle came to G-E in June, 1936, working in the FHP Motor rotor-die cast section in Bldg. 4-3. The following year he entered the Apprentice School, graduating in 1941 as a machinist-toolmaker.

Mr. Bartle worked as a Methods Planner in Bldg. 19-5 from 1941 to 1944. He was named supervisor of Production in 1944 and in 1950 became foreman of the Machine Section in Bldg. 19-4.

He is president of the Harlan P. T. A. group and secretary-treasurer of the Springfield-Scipio Athletic Association, and a member of the Apprentice Alumni Association.

He is married and has one son and one daughter.

After graduation from Concordia High School, Mr. Schlaudroff entered the Apprentice School in 1940. After graduation in 1943, he entered the Navy, where he served until 1946. He has been employed in the General Tool Room until his present appointment.

Mr. Schlaudroff is a member of the Apprentice Alumni Association and resides at 2029 E. Washington St.

Mr. Vought entered the Apprentice School in 1918, finishing the machinist-toolmaker course in 1922. He was employed in Bldg. 26-5 as a toolmaker until 1937 when he was assigned to Methods Planning work.

In 1941, he was appointed supervisor of Planning, where he has been serving until his new assignment.

Mr. Vought is a member of the Supervisors Club and the Apprentice Alumni Association. He is married and has three children and four grandchildren. He lives at 3221 S. Webster St.

Always in General Tool

Mr. Jenne has spent his entire G-E career in the General Tool Division, starting in 1919 as a machinist in Bldg. 17-2. From 1919 to 1936, he served as a toolmaker in Bldgs. 17-3, 4-2, 17-4, and 26-5.

In 1936, he was transferred to the Planning Section, where he remained until 1948 when he was named Assistant Supervisor of Planning.

A member of the American Society of Tool Engineers, Mr. Jenne lives at 2104 Andrew St. He has one married daughter.

Art Smethers Holds Lead in Men's State Bowling Tournament

Art Smethers, Taylor St., took over the all-events lead in the Men's State Bowling Tournament at South Bend Sunday. He accumulated a total of 1,850 points to replace Ray Elliot, also of Fort Wayne.

Smethers hit a 661 in the team event, rolling with Pollack Brothers. He added a 585 in the doubles and a 619 in the singles.

Squares' Revue Tickets Offered For Sale to Employees Today

Don Reek, ticket chairman for "Holiday Ranch," has announced that tickets for the G-E Squares' Revue will go on sale today.

G-E employees, who are being given first opportunity to purchase tickets, may make reservations (1) through Squares contact men, (2) through the G-E Club, or (3) by filling in the reservation coupon shown below and mailing it to Mr. Reek in Bldg. 4-6.

Since a limited number of tickets have been printed, Mr. Reek suggested that prompt action he taken by employees to assure their attendance at the comedy. Mr. Reek added that advance requests indicate a large number of theater parties are being contemplated.

"Holiday Ranch" is a fast-moving comedy, with its setting on a dude ranch. Its plot runs through a typical holiday week-end with a surprise climax. The supporting band, quartet, choir, orchestra and square dance finale are a sure bet for an evening of fun and entertainment, Squares sources declare.

ticket chairman

The show will be presented at the Civic Theatre at 8:30 p.m. May 9 and 10. Admission charge is $1, tax included.

Mail to: D. C. Reek

Bldg. 4-6

Please hold ..... tickets for "Holiday Ranch" for evening of Wednesday, May 9, or Thursday, May 10. (Circle evening desired.)

Signed .....

Bldg. .....

Division .....

Gordon E. Walter

Gordon Walter Named Assistant Division Engineer in STAB

Gordon E. Walter has been named Assistant Division Engineer in Specialty Transformer and Ballast Divisions, according to an announcement by C. W. Kronmiller, Divisions Engineer. Mr. Walter's appointment became effective Monday.

A native of Omaha, Neb., Mr. Walter attended Iowa State College and received a B. S. degree in electrical engineering in 1941. Following graduation he joined the General Electric Company on the Test Course. In 1942, he entered the Advanced Engineering Program (ABC Course) with a series of assignments in Control Engineering, Electronic Tube Engineering, Aeronautics and Ordnance, and in supervision of an Advanced Engineering Program class.

After completing the program, he was named Assistant to the Supervisor of the ABC Course. The following year he was appointed Supervisor of the Advanced Engineering Program and General Courses.

Mr. Walter transferred to the Fort Wayne Works, assigned to the Ballast Engineering Division in November, 1949. He was appointed group leader in Ballast Engineering in 1950, where he has been serving until his newest appointment.

Mr. Walter is a member of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers, the National Society of Professional Engineers, the American Society of Engineering Education and the G-E Squares. He also holds membership in the following honoraries, Tau Beta Pi, Eta Kappa Nu, Sigma Delta Chi, Phi Kappa Phi and Pi Mu Epsilon. Mr. Walter owns a patent on an electronic motor control, which he received while working on a control assignment in Schenectady.

He is married and has one son and one daughter. They live at 4312 Marquette Drive.

If there is anything more than any other that characterizes the average American, it is his eagerness to learn almost anything at almost any age.

Bob McKenna

EASES MONOTONY . . .

G-E Devises Special TV Set For Polio Victim in Iron Lung

ROCHESTER, N. Y., April 19—Life in an iron lung is no picnic, but for polio victim Bob McKenna the monotony has been eased by a special television set rigged by technicians of the General Electric Supply Corporation here.

Since Mr. McKenna can view television only through a mirror, he has to look at a reflected image which always appears in reverse. Thus, with an ordinary set, the reversed image would have left-handed baseball pitchers throwing right-handed, and runners stealing home from first base instead of third, etc. All lettering would be backward.

With his special set however, Mr. McKenna sees a true image in the mirror since the image on the set itself is reversed. The mirror re-reverses the image back to normal.

The special set was presented Mr. McKenna in Strong Memorial Hospital here by 15 past commanders of the Burton-Miller American Legion Post of Rochester.

"Fiesta" Plans

(Continued from page 1)

the border," the affair will be unique in that wives of members have been invited to attend for the first time in the Club's history.

Al Stewart, director of musie at Purdue University, will present an audience participation program eombining music and fun. Following Mr. Stewart's program, Bob Glendon's orehestra will play for daneing.

Group Six from Bldg. 18 are sponsors of the event.

"No one grows old by living—only by losing interest in living."

SICK LIST

The following people have been reported on the sick list and dismissed from the hospital.

Sick List

George Aikens, Esther Bailey, Glen Bice, Lenore Brown, Wallace Buzzard, Wilma Cross, Beatrice Eaglcson, Garland A. Ferrell, Anita Fitch, Maxine George, Thelma Harter, Perry Jefferies, Jeanette Guth, Harry Freeman, Daniel Darella, John Krauter, Robert Fry, Jo Ann Clibon, Patsy Auer, Clarence Dic, Maryellen Moudy, Irene Michel, Hazel Ludwig, Doris L. Lontz, Marjorie Lattimore, Mary Ragan, Wilhur Ribel, May Riehart, Virgil Roger, Clarence Saylor, Fannie Whitt, Helen Gettinger, Edward Saxton, Mae Lebold, Matthew Wiegand, Arthur Sorg, Dana Sawyer, Katherine Siler, Alberta Foulks, Ruby LeVon, Arthur Stute, Hubert Habig, Mary Warren, Genevieve Zimmerman, Barbara Meyer, Paul Tustison, Leland Sprunger, Harold Miller, John Knuth, Vera Kilian, Ann Gebhart, Merle Bachellor, Berniece Scheumann, Marjorie German, Clarence Goodpaster, John Poinsette, Jasper Routher, John Dalton and Clarence Hartman.

Dismissed from Hospital

Grace Campbell, Myrtle Morgan, Stanley Giese, Gene Bryant, Carl Kearns, Kent Graves, Russell Stockert, Berniece Scheumann, Wilbur Ribel.

$350 Million Slated

(Continued from page 1)

holders at their 59th annual meeting held in Schenectady, Tuesday.

While pointing out that sales of $1,960,429,000 for 1950 represented an all-time record and were approximately four and one-half times those achieved in 1940, Mr. Cordiner predicted an even greater volume of business for the Company in the years ahead.

The Company's new chief executive, making his first report to stockholders since he was elected to the presidency in December to succeed Charles E. Wilson, said General Electric's production this year will be divided equally among military items, normal capital goods for industry, and consumer durable goods. Despite this great demand for military production, he declared that peacetime possibilities for profitable operation seemed to be outstanding.

Tracing the growth of the Company during the past 10-year period, Mr. Cordiner told stockholders that General Electric produced almost twice as many household refrigerators during the past year as in 1940 and a total of 2,975,504 electric irons or almost four times as many as in 1940. In the capital goods lines, the Company produced large motors and generators rated at 550,000 total horsepower as compared to 350,000 in 1940 and 3,428,800 kilowatts of steam turbines as compared to 1,350,135 in 1940, he said.

Doubled Plant Space

Further explaining the Company's progress, Mr. Cordiner reported the company doubled its manfacturing space during the 10-year period until it now totals more than 53 million square feet. These areas, he said, were accommodating more than twice as many employees whose earnings last year amounted to $681,040,000 or four times as much as were earned in 1940. Provisions for taxes in 1950 had increased to $299,446,000 or nearly five times the amount of 1940, he pointed out.

"In the rising economy of the last few years, we have felt the impact all along the front, in almost every one of our produet lines, from electrical apparatus for industry to consumer hard goods. It is literally true that some of our household appliance lines have never come into free supply during the postwar years," Mr. Cordiner stated.

"Your management looks for some appreeiable acceleration of its troubles in the months ahead," Mr. Cordiner added. "There will be higher taxes, as the result of increases in the combined normal and surtax rate and the imposition of an excess profits tax. If our output is restricted, and it is almost certain to be in some lines, operation with fixed overhead costs will mean higher unit costs. This is likely to be the pattern of the foreseeable future. In view of the increasing demands of the defense program, higher taxes, government control of materials, credit and prices, and the uncertainty of wage stabilization, I should say that our stockholders should not logically antieipate a profit showing commensurate with our probable production volume. However, most of our ceilings are temporary, I am sure, and under any normal tax structure, the operations which we plan provide a stimulating long-range prospect."

In explaining the need for expansion, Mr. Cordiner pointed out that the Company's new $30 million turbine manufacturing facilities are already inadequate to accommodate the turbine orders on the books through 1953 which are in excess of 13 million kilowatts; that war-born radar equipment manufaeturing is probably a continuing business of substantial proportions; that the radio business has refused to lie down and die despite television; and that new gas turbine developments for stationary power plants, locomotives, and airplanes, have created a full-fledged production problem. He also called attention to recently announced plans of the Company to establish a new "Appliance Park" to provide improved facilities for the manufacture of household appliances.

Record Sales

(Continued from page 1)

Sales Up 36 Per Cent

The Company's net sales, representing shipments during the first quarter of 1951, totaled $569,689,000, an increase of 36 per cent over the sales of $418,450,000 in the same period last year. Total income before provision for taxes amounted to $106,996,000 compared with $64,358,000, an increase of 66 per cent.

Provision for federal taxes on income in the first quarter totaled $72,000,000 this year compared with $27,500,000 last year, an increase of 162 per cent. In part, this increase resulted from the larger amount of pre-tax earnings this year, but more importantly it resulted from an increase in the combined normal and surtax rate from 38 per cent to 47 per cent and, in addition, the imposition of an excess profits tax which, for the first quarter this year, amounted to $17,000,000.

Pointing out that none of the quarterly tax accruals in 1951 and 1950 will be comparable, Mr. Cordiner continued, "While these new and higher taxes also were applicable, in some degree, to last year's operations, they were enacted by Congress after September 1, 1950, and thus it was impossible to provide for them in the respective quarterly 1950 periods to which they actually related."

Other Factors Influential

"Apart from higher taxes, there are other factors subject to governmental controls which will affect our operations for some time to come," Mr. Cordiner continued. "For example, manufacturers must do their best to compensate for the higher unit costs resulting from fixed overheads as their output of certain items is restricted by shortage of materials. Also, there is always the question of the extent to which prices will be permitted to increase as a result of the higher costs of materials and payments to employees."

"In the meantime, General Electric's broad product diversification and strong financial position are greatly in its favor," Mr. Cordiner stated. "The Company will continue its effort to do a balanced job of producing maximum quantities of defense equipment, producers' goods essential to the expansion and modernization of industry, and consumers goods to the extent permitted by the availability of materials and manpower."

A dividend of 75 cents a share of common stock will be paid on April 25 for the first quarter of 1951, compared with 60 cents a share paid for the same quarter of 1950. The payment on April 25 will be the 216th dividend on the Company's common stock and will involve the distribution of approximately $21,500,000 to about 251,000 stockholders.

Consolidated statements of operations for the three months periods ended March 31 this year and last year are shown below. The results for the 1951 period are partly estimated and subject to audit at the close of the year.

Three Months Ended March 31

	1951	1950
Sales of products and services to eustomers	$569,688,610	$418,449,611
Deduct—Operating costs, expenses and other charges	465,419,282	356,428,531
Income from operations	104,269,328	62,021,080
Add—Non-operating income	2,814,197	3,390,840
Total income from operations and other sources	107,083,525	65,411,920
Deduct—Interest and other financial charges	87,130	1,053,529
Earnings before provision for Federal taxes on ineome	106,996,395	64,358,391
Deduct—Provision for Federal taxes on income*	72,000,000	27,500,000
Net earnings	$ 34,996,395	$ 36,858,391
Net earnings per dollar of sales	6.1 Cents	8.8 Cents
Net earnings per share of common stock issued	$1.21	$1.28

 Based on combined normal and surtax rates of 47 per cent in 1951 and 38 per cent in 1950. In addition, the amount shown for 1951 ineludes $17,000,000 as provision for excess profits tax.

LONESOME BOY these days is Orville Fritcha. His wife is vacationing in Florida. . . . BANGED UP EVERYTHING: Woody Fulk was waiting in line of traffie when an Olds "88" sneaked up and hit him, banging up everything; front and rear. The Olds had nary a scratch. Beats everything sometimes how a guy in the wrong can come out all right. . . . PASTE SLINGERS: Robert Morris and his wife, Dugan, tried their hands at paper hanging. After several hours, they not only had paper and paste all over the floor, but crosswise on the walls, windows all covered, paste in their hair and eyes, plus a lot of hard work and expense. They had to call a paper hanger to finish the job. We understand they called Leo Elward to help them out of their troubles, but Leo replied by saying, "No soap." . . . HARRY PERL is having nervous prostration while waiting for the weather to clear up so he can try out his new garden tractor. Be patient, Harry, old boy, better days are coming. . . . WE WISH to express our deepest sympathy to the family of Ralph Dennison. Ralph was formerly one of our very elose coworkers. . . . NEW CLUBS: Ray Kirk bought a new set of golf clubs. Ray says the old ones were in bad shape and were the cause of his bad scoring. That's not the way we heard it, Ray. If you would have kept your eyes on the little ball and the fairway instead of the fair ladies, your old clubs would have served their purpose for a long time yet. . . . THREE WRIST WATCHES: Clarence Coulter came in wearing three wrist watches. Yet, when he wanted to see what time it was, he looked up at the wall clock. Such prosperity you will only find in America. . . . A GOOD THING TO REMEMBER and a better thing to do, is to work with the construction gang and not the wrecking crew.

Birthday greetings to Doris Ralston, Kate Burkhart and Martha Mazelin this week. Happy birthday, folks, and may you have many, many more. . . . In a tight pinch, Roselyn Liechty has a way with police. . . . Our congratulations to Mary Miller and Lee Gage for taking top honors in the handicap bowling tournament. . . . A dinner in honor of Bessie Geisler with 50 of her co-workers was held at the Legion Home. Bessie has been an employee of the Company nine years and at the time of her retirement was on covering in Group 7-51. During her employment, her hobby of flower culture has been slighted, but now with time of her own, Bessie promises to have one of the prettiest flower gardens in Willshire. Entertainment for the evening was a prose script to each one present, which was read and composed by Erna Weiland, a solo by Harriet Pollock, and Leonard Meyer gave a song and dance specialty. Bunco climaxed the fun for the evening. Bessie then was presented a lovely pin from her co-workers. To Bessie, we want to wish her continued health and the best of luek. . . .

Word has been reeeived here that WAC Pvt. Charlotte D. Drewett, former Taylor St. employee, is now stationed at Ft. Sam Houston, Tex. Charlotte enlisted last September, underwent her basic training at Fort Lee, Va., and Army schooling at Fort Ord, Calif.

Pvt. Drewett

Here are some recent addresses of G-E employees in the service:

Walter G. Childers 3274958
Sub. Ad. T. Div.
Mare Island
Vallejo, Calif.

Pvt. Donald O. Offord RA 16360233
Hq. & Ser. Co. 194th Tank Div.
47th Inf. Div.
Camp Rucker, Ala.

Pfc. Howard E. Dawkins, Jr.
1110221
USMCR Div. P. O.
1st Marine Div. e/o FPO
San Francisco, Calif.

S. R. Wallace Harrison
430-40-70 Co. 51-279
U.S.N.P.C.
San Diego, Calif.

Sgt. Roger W. Collar 846811
Fox Co. II, Bn, 1st Marine Reg.
San Francisco, Calif.

Eugene Holdgreve SR 3275794
Co. 266, 101 Bn. 10 Reg.
U.S.N.T.C.
Great Lakes, Ill.

Pvt. Joseph A. Sorg US 55059859
H & S Co. 432 Engr. Cons. Bn.
Third Platoon
Camp Pickett, Va.

Pvt. Neil R. Hesher, AF 16358770
3761 Student Sq.
Sheppard A.F.B.
Wichita Falls, Tex.

We are glad that Eloise Noll, the nurse, had the opportunity to attend the Indiana State Nurses' Convention last week. This contact with so many nurses can not help bcing very interesting and educational. . . . Wanted—Any Unwanted Candy Bars; New or just slightly used ones preferred; Any variety except Clark Bars welcome. Who wants all of this candy? It is no one but Mina Lampy, who seems to never get her fill of the confection. . . . If these spring rains don't slow up, Larry Franklin might change his mind about that new garden tractor he purchased. He might wish that he had a boat instead. We understand that he is going to have to walk while he works because his tractor is not equipped with a seat. . . . Did you get through Friday the 13th without too much trouble? Cheer up, folks, we only have one more this year which will be July 13, and there is only one Friday bearing No. 13 next year. Now, that isn't so bad is it? . . . Welcome to Ralph Rabbitt, Ken Nyfeller, Ambrose Gase and Grace Tope, who have returned to work after a few weeks of illness. . . . Greetings to Curt Baxter, who celebrated his birthday April 14. "My 22nd," he says. But he, like Jack Benny, doesn't say how many more are added to that. . . . We extend our wishes for many more years of wedded bliss to Mr. and Mrs. Carl Smith, who recently celebrated their 25th anniversary. . . . Mary Ann Laurent's blue Monday was turned into a bright one. She discovered Sunday she'd lost a belt Saturday night, but it was returned Monday.

Several Employees Here to Participate In YWCA "Foto Fair"

The YWCA Co-Ed Camera Club's Foto Fair will be held from 2 to 10 p.m. Saturday and from 2 to 8 p.m. Sunday in the YWCA, Club sources have reported.

Clifton Hyland, of G-E's Chicago Office, will give demonstrations; using models, in triangular lighting. He will also show the prize-winning G-E movie, "Family Album."

Local camera stores will display exhibits and there will be a color-slide show, a black and white salon, and a third-dimensional show by Sheldon Hine. A booth has also been planned for photographie silhouettes.

The two-day event will open to the public Saturday with a water ballet given by North Side High School students.

Doris McKeefer, Winter St., is president of the organization sponsoring the show. Other G-E employees participating are: Miriam Valentine, Bldg. 4-2; K. Marian Davies, Bldg. 18-3; Fayne Harter, Bldg. 19-2; Ada Phillip, Bldg. 19-2; Marceille Bandtel, Taylor St.; Shirley Cunningham, Bldg. 19-2; Arnold Bowers, Taylor St.; Floyd Brown, Taylor St.; Bronson Miser, Bldg. 26-3; Paul Perry, Bldg. 31-2; Jane Foltz, Bldg. 28-2; Ionena Foster, Bldg. 4-4, and Jane Wagner, Bldg. 8-2, model.

Apprentice Alumni Smoker Slated Thurs.

Millions of dollars (in stage money, that is) will exchange hands at the Apprentice Alumni Association's annual smoker Thursday night in the American Macedonian Hall.

The "Gold Rush Party" will make millionaires out of paupers and vice versa, Publicity Chairman Earl Plummer, said this week.

Each member will be given $100,000 to wager and invest during the evening. The "richest" men at the end of the evening will receive prizes. Lunch and refreshments will be served. Tickets are one dollar.

"Tulip Time Party" To Be Held April 27

A fur coat as well as many other attendance prizes will be given away at the Elex Club's "Tulip Time Card Party," Friday, April 27. The affair, part of the club's defense-fund-raising program, will be held at 8 p.m. in the G-E Club Auditorium. Mary Zirkle and Alyce Fuchshuber are co-chairmen of the event.

The party is open to the public and those attending are asked to make up their own tables and bring their own cards. Admission is 50 cents per person.

Inquiring Reporter:

"DO YOU THINK WE SHOULD ATTEMPT TO MAKE A MILITARY STAND IN EUROPE AGAINST COMMUNISM, OR WOULD IT BE WISER TO SAVE OUR STRENGTH TO DEFEND OUR HOME SHORES?"

PAUL BOEDEKER
Taylor St.

"I think our home shores should be strongly protected first. Then, if we still have enough forces, send the remaining troops to Europe."

GWEN GILSTRAP
Bldg. 17-3

"I don't think we should attempt to take a military stand in Europe against Communism. We should build our strength to defend our own country and keep our boys at home."

LEON E. STABLER
Bldg. 19-2

"The theory of Communism as advocated by Soviet Russia should be combatted at its source. It is therefore inevitable that these United States take a military stand in Europe as well as at home."

ANITRA NELSON
Bldg. 18-5

"Both, because if we don't take a military stand in Europe, no one else will. Communism has its effect on the United States as well as over there and we have to fight to keep it out of our country as much as possible. However, we should save enough strength to protect ourselves against attack."

FRED WELLENSIEK
Bldg. 26-1

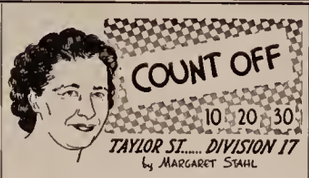
"Yes, we should take a stand against Communism in Europe, while we have friendly nations on our side. Otherwise, we may have to fight the whole of Europe some day on our own U. S. shores, if all of Europe should be overrun by the Communists."

Fat Man's Misery is now found in Bldg. 31-2. Have you ever been through the Narrows? You are invited to zig-zag through the Narrows of Drafting Room. Since the draftsmen were rearranged last Friday, we find only a narrow aisle with a hazardous "S" curve for east-west traffic. It has been suggested that a sign, "Slow, 'S' Curve," be posted at the east doorway for the benefit of the engineers. We expect any day to find either of our speed demons, Warren Brighty or Claude Penn, wrapped around the protruding drafting board. . . . Never has the drafting room been so clean. Even the windows are clean. After the big move, everyone washed and cleaned his desk and board. By the looks of the mountains of waste paper removed, it was high time for spring housecleaning. . . . Sunday, April 22, marks an important day for Helen Coddington. It's not only the beginning of a week's vacation, but the day she changes her name. Helen will marry John Clark at 2 p.m. at the Evangelical United Brethren Church in Churubusco. . . . Jerry Vodde left our drafting room last week to be inducted into the Army. Jerry Bolds and Lawrence Lee were transferred to the factory. We welcome two new draftsmen, Brian D. Bresser and Alfred J. Edwards. . . . Derward Franke helped the Zion team win the Lutheran midwest tourney in Detroit last weekend. Hurrah for the champs! . . . Introducing our "backward girl" of the Engineering Division. In Mr. Baker's absence, Marguerite O'Connel was typing some MS's for Jim O'Brien. He gave her instructions to start with January. Jim was a bit confused as she proceeded with an April MS, and piped up with, "Oh! I'm doing this backwards." By the look on his face, Jim was even more confused.

General Tool Division Finishes 1,000th Die

Completion of the 1,000th punch and die was celebrated by the General Tool Division Wednesday, April 4. The Die Plant has been in existence four years, the first die having been completed and delivered in January, 1947.

Since that time, rotor and stator dies have been delivered on a weekly schedule. According to C. A. Brenner, superintendent of the division, exceptionally close tolerances are adhered to and the fine quality of punches and dies with their many detailed parts has proven very successful in the field of operation.



The group shown in the photograph at right have been responsible for the success of this special method of making dies. W. E. Vought, E. W. Auman, A. F. Thieme and G. A. Mittermaier have had the responsibility for planning and putting into effect the many mechanical operations, the intricate tooling and the system of operation. H. C. Foreman is responsible for the system of costing, division sources revealed.

IDEA HELPS PAY FOR REFRIGERATOR—Cecil Strong, Bldg. 8-1 (left), received $50 for devising a method of grinding Carboloy tools to prolong their life and to cut down on grinding time. Ray Fischbach, Employees' Store supervisor, is showing Mr. Strong a new G-E refrigerator which may be partly paid for by the suggestion money.

We are glad to have Mary Odom back. . . . Mr. and Mrs. John Collins are moving into their new home. . . . Jim McGill is now known as "The Big Story." . . . Cora Bucher has a new hobby, tie collecting. . . . We hear that Garland Ferrell is getting along fine since his operation. . . . We don't believe Wade Bowman is quite as observing as George Brehm. . . . We're glad to have Ruth Emerson back after her illness. . . . Our sympathy goes to Charlie Bailey on his brother-in-law's death. . . . Carmel's big smile was because her two sons were home from the Navy. . . . Evelyn, why wouldn't you model your birthday gifts? . . . We're sorry to see John Plummer leave. Good luck on your new job, John. . . . Vi Schnepp is having trouble getting all the things she planned done on time. . . . Millie, you shouldn't expect those girls to do the right thing on the right day. Bring your lunch every day. . . . We wish Earl Cool would return to work soon. . . . Al Rieman repairs his chair with chewing gum. . . . Willard, the testers would like for you to tell them your secret. They can't read meters with their test sets turned off. But you can. . . . All that noise you hear from Packing Section is caused by the "quiet boy," Carl Noland. . . . Best wishes to Bud Miser, who was married Friday, April 13. . . . The new redhead in Finals was just Lillian. . . . We hear Murry had a little trouble getting out of his sheep's path the other night. Since then, Murry stands up at his work place. . . . Gary Pequignot ran out of gas the day after payday. . . . We are wondering if Art Rall and Bronson Miser are using an alias or what? When they received answers to their suggestion, the letter was addressed, "Rall Miser and Art Bronson."

Ruby Stoops motored to Huntington Sunday to spend the day with her parents and friends. . . . Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. George Kapp on the arrival of a baby daughter. . . . Louise Hugo attended the Elex breakfast on her parking ticket last Saturday. We are wondering if she got her car from the parking lot with her Elex ticket. . . . Irene Campbell and her husband have returned from their vacation in Florida. Irene says it was beautiful, but it didn't last long enough. . . . Alberta Watts is a patient at the St. Joseph Hospital following an operation. We wish her a speedy recovery. . . . Ed Brockhall received a belated plant for his illness a few months ago. The plant looked belated, too. . . . Amelia Dickover is on the sick list from the Lead Section. . . . Sydonna Fox traveled the northeastern part of Indiana over the week-end. . . . Mary Shreve would like to add a note to last week's WORKS NEWS that she only takes care of intelligent birds—birds that talk, that is. . . . Ed Bandt is taking a week's vacation. He is supposed to help with housecleaning. . . . Al Seifert would love to go to the baseball game in Chicago, but he says he doesn't like to wear his overcoat. He decided to stay home. . . . Since Old Faithful didn't stop to see Ruby Stoops, there has been a sign at her table. . . . Ed Saxton is a patient at St. Joseph Hospital for a major operation. . . . Wilbur Gray called on the gang today and is ready to return to work after his recent illness. . . . Elinor Laux was surprised last Monday night for her birthday with a pot luck supper. Those attending were Ruby Stoops, Hilda LeCoque, Selma Voight, Peggy Bandt, Lona Cook, Jackie Keller, Betty Pion, Marguerite Stahl, Ruth Cavender, Sydonna Fox and Gladys Pantazin. . . . We missed Frances Walker, who was ill, but we're happy to hear she has recovered. . . . We will all miss our superintendent, Ralph Dennison, and wish to extend our sympathy to his family.

Harold Mosshammer isn't superstitious about Friday the 13th. He's going in the cat business for cats have nine lives. . . . The girls are wondering where Bob Hosier gets those beautiful T-shirts. . . . Rita Bowman must have had a lot of trouble on the dance floor when she fell down. Who tripped you Rita? . . . What's this we hear about Ruby Stucky learning how to raise dogs? . . . Stella Zulch is wondering where Becky Frantz can get all those new dresses. . . . Jerry McKnown would like to see everyone at the benefit dance Friday night at Busco. . . . Welcome back to Carlos Rogers and Reba Wilkinson after their illnesses. . . . Marvin VanSkylock has his troubles. He lost by one pin in the tourney. . . . Did Oscar Schelper learn anything by watching those girls bowl Saturday night? . . . Congratulations to Sally Walker, who left us to take up her family duties. . . . Anyone wondering what that odor was last Friday? It was Dick Graham's wedding anniversary, and the girls wanted him to smell like a rose for his wife. The perfume was quite strong all over the Winding Section. . . . Ruby DeBolt's face turned red the other night when her joke backfired. . . . Belated birthday greetings to Hazel Graham. . . . Clara Nickelson was rolling in the money last week when she found a check in her purse for 68 cents. The next day, she came in with new shoes and purse. . . . Ethel Henderickson is back after an illness. . . . Clara Smith is a proud grandmother of a new granddaughter, named Clarice. . . . We hear Stell is happy now that her husband is coming home. . . . Happy birthday to Stella Evans and the cake was mighty good, too. . . . Ruth (Shorty) Olinger, who is attending a dental assistants' school in Elkhart, dropped in to see all the gang. She looked fine and likes school. She has a job lined up after graduation. There's only one objection, she'll probably make the patient laugh too much. . . . FLASH: Helen M. and Loretta D. came to work on time Monday morning.

DIE IS CAST—Shown observing the delivery of the 1,000th die from the four-year-old Die Plant in Bldg. 19-4 are: Kneeling (l-r) W. E. Vought, E. W. Auman, A. F. Thieme, G. Auscleron, D. Kees, R. Roy, J. Bartle, D. Long and C. Click. Standing (l-r) areL. N. Brunner, H. C. Mittermaier, H. Rice, A. Wright, O. Lambert, M. Guenther, C. Tike, R. Sowards, R. Baysinger, A. Templar, W. Schlecht, F. Staley, C. Renniches, W. Lloyd, C. Zim, M. Williams, J. Schuchart, O. Corkhill, H. C. Foreman, N. Greulock, R. Bryan, H. Buell, R. White and E. Stahl.

The field coil winders know that spring is really here from watching Dewey McDowell. "In the spring a young man's fancy, etc." . . . Congratulations to our new grandmother, Bonnie Asics. She has a new grandson. . . . Flossie Shoopman has returned from a two weeks' vacation at Orlando, Fla. . . . Good luck to Doug Heckman, who's being transferred to Bldg. 19-3. . . . Al and Oscar Johnson, John Winstel and Carl Dicke bowled in a tournament at Kokomo. It was just a lost week-end, except when Al got on the wrong highway. The boys enjoyed the extra miles. . . . Congratulations to Harley Urbine on his 30 years with the G-E. . . . Welcome to our new employees: George Mecks, Richard Decker, Joseph Dunham, Michael G. Garza, Deloris McCarty, Daniel Springfield, William Bellamy, Dale Bice and Lowell O'Connell. . . . Birthday wishes to Chauncy Fisher, Eugene Miller, Steve Morrell and Robert Stute.

TRANSFORMER TATTLES

By Gladis Getts

Lots of happiness to Bud Miser, who was married Friday. . . . By our new telephone book, we find that Al Topp is now the distributor for Canada Dry. . . . Ray Horstman is in the rabbit business. This week Ray reports seven recruits. . . . We hope that Tom Freeman will catch his limit of fish. That will be the only fair compensation for him hunting night crawlers every night. . . . I think Phyllis Borkenstein and Novella Pape were a bit critical of "Tueky's" driving. Of course, Tueky admits that the first two close calls were a bit frightening, but he says the third one wasn't bad. . . . Fran Nelson and Hap King, please learn to spell "Cincinnati." The Reds might get 13 runs, and you might not be able to recognize the name in print. . . . Alma Darnall says that Russ James' offer wasn't intriguing enough for her to work on Model No. 502's. . . . We don't know who was the most frightened, Gertie Hughes or the mouse, when Carrie Krauter gave that blood-curdling scream. . . . Sam Maey came to work Monday with his ear nearly chewed off. Sam says his dog had been the culprit. . . . Jim Goldsberry really had the girls guessing last Saturday night with the fragrance of his exotic perfume. . . . Four girls in Type M Winding baked cakes for Mel France's birthday. He loaded the cakes on a cart and served them to each one in his section. . . . We have some first-class leading operators, especially Bill Rectanus. Bill was instructing a fellow when the paint sprayer did an about-face, and the black paint went up his sleeve and all over his clothes. . . . Harold Rhine, you look dignified with that mustache. . . . Bea Craig really got a sparkler from Henry, a wristwatch with diamonds. . . . Beverly Gustin is wearing a ring on her left hand. . . . We shall miss Ed Koontz, who took a new job in Bldg. 19-4. . . . It's funny how you guys like telling jokes about your wives. It's different when the situation is reversed. Tom Freeman told the boys that his wife couldn't seem to get the new Plymouth to start. Last Saturday, Tom was found in the filling station having the same trouble. Why so quiet, Tom? . . . The fellows in the Packing Seetion have ehanged Bob Enz's name to "Pluto." . . . We had no idea that Ralph Braden was such a good Republican. . . . Welcome back to the Connecting Section, Buzz Hizer. . . . Henry Muller has gone modern and has sold his horses and bought a new tractor. Did Harry Lehman talk you into this drastic step, Henry? . . . So while we leave Mike Dunseombe looking for his ehair (which is only 10 feet away) and trying to keep him straight on which jacket belongs to him, we take our leave for another week.

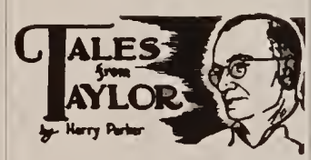
Rex Krieg and his wife celebrated their first wedding anniversary last week. This being quite an occasion, Rex wanted to treat his wife. They stepped out for the evening meal. After enjoying a delicious chicken dinner, the waitress brought them two finger bowls. Rex looked rather amazed and then remarked, "That's funny. I didn't order any tea." . . . There's nothing that compares with a two weeks' vacation in Florida. At least that's the way Leo (Pat) Christle feels about it. Quite a treat was in store for Pat. A motion picture company was filming a movie starring Gary Cooper. Pat enjoyed talking to the members of the company and has several snapshots of the stars. If only Pat would have had another week's vacation, he could have hired out as an extra. The part of the filming that he watched took place at Silver Springs. . . . We are happy to have Dorothy Brimeyer back again as our candy girl. . . . Things We Would Like To Know: Why do they call Joe Burton, "Greasy Thumb"? What does Johnny and Joe find so interesting just north of Burton's eage? . . . Ed Dikty is becoming the streamlined man of the stockroom. . . . By the way, the subscriptions are pouring in for Sue's book on men. . . . Happy week-end to you.

Star Gazer

Executives Here Address Shipping Course Students

The history of the Fractional Horsepower Motor Division was part of the welcoming address given by A. J. Rose, Production Manager, at the fourth and final meeting of the Shipping, Distribution and Warehousing Course held April 10 and 11 at the Fort Wayne Works.

Highlights of the two-day session were talks by L. D. Hodell, Manager of Manufacturing; A. E. Leider, Manager of Product Service; K. W. Michael, Assistant to the Manager; C. D. Uncapher, Superintendent of Product Service; C. E. Slater, Supervisor of Labor Relations; H. A. Norr, Supervisor of Package Design; W. M. Laymon, Supervisor of Package Design, and a tour of the warehouse and shipping areas.



Presentation of diplomas to the 11 graduates was made by Mr. Leider. (See picture at right.)

RECEIVE CERTIFICATES—Shown are 11 reeent graduates of the Shipping, Distribution and Warehousing Course. Front row (l-r) are Les Brown, Pittsfield; Bill Wallace, West Lynn; F. F. Brown, Bldg. 6-3; Jim Martin, Pittsfield; Joe Ponzello, Schenectady. Back row (l-r) are Frank Spadafore, Erie; John McKeon, Johnson City; Cecil Young, Lockland; Sam Mancivaleno, Pittsfield; George Schwab, Schenectady, and Fred Wheeler, Taylor St.

Carl (Tiny) Brown was broken of the hahit of getting his hands in Glenn Witte's dinner bucket last week. It took Glenn and a creseent wrench to do it. . . . Birthday eongratulations to Martha Scherzinger, who celebrates her birthday today. . . . Opal Brayton got a surprise the other day when she borrowed a cigarette from Violet Elliott and it turned out to be loaded. . . . We sure miss May Riehhart, Mary Warren, Edith Stouder, and Viola Muehlenbruch, who have heen on the sick list for over a week. . . . We are glad to see Mildred Greene, Betty Hilgeman and Thelma Harter back at work after being off for illness. . . . We all wonder how Merle Keesler hurt his finger. He claims he cut it on a 1951 Ford headlight! . . . Martha Scherzinger is a quick-change artist. She stepped into the washroom and came out dressed altogether differently. . . . Kathryn Hepker finally won at Canasta. By hook or erook she managed to take home a set of beautiful glasses from a recent party. . . . Ray Soest wasn't in Monday. I wonder if the wedding of his daughter which took place last Saturday had anything to do with that? . . . Some of the girls heard Guy Lombardo Sunday night. Helen White and Margaret Smith were two that we know were there. . . . Doris Doehla is putting a shield around her these days—especially when the "lamp-lighter" goes by. . . . Ross Sonday spent a week in Florida. He says he didn't notice if there was much fruit or not, as they weren't looking at the fruit. We believe him, because he lost his glasses somewhere on the trip and can't remember where. He has some on this morning, so he either must have bought new ones or the old ones caught up with him. . . . Stella Mailand came to work and left her house keys at home. When it came time to get in the house she couldn't, but she made good use of her time spent outside. She got out the rake and did some work in her flower bed. . . . Virginia Reckeweg was a bit flustered when the seam in her blue jeans ripped open. . . . Ruth Tutwiller was embarrassed when she got through eating and found out that she had left her billfold at home and didn't have a bit of money with her. She has sueh an honest face I guess that is the reason she got by. . . . After all this talk we heard about how wonderful the Pontiacs are, what does Cecil Foor do but get rid of his Pontiac and get himself a Dodge! . . . Doris McAfee's small daughter, Dana, was seriously burned and is in a serious condition in a Chicago hospital. Doris has quit her joh so she could be with her. We do hope she gets well real soon and is not too badly scarred. . . . We still wonder why Cora Rice blushes so. We thought that she would have outgrown that by this time. . . . Jake Kuglar is glad that the Pure Food Commission is taking a hand in this patent medicine deal. After the experienee he had several years ago he is more than sure to follow the directions because four days off work is too much for him. . . . Avery Spade is thinking of going to one of those seeluded colonies for his vaeation. He had a book on one and he even used a magnifying glass to read the small print. . . . Al Cramer got picked up by the game warden the other week. It seems one must not take a motor boat on the lakes at this time of the year as it disturbs the fish on their beds. Either he didn't know about the law or forgot about it because he was pinched. . . . Betty Baker is driving a new Pontiac. . . . Frank Voirol was seen instructing George Crickmore in the art of ballet daneing. I think those two would make wonderful ballet artists, don't you? . . . We of Div. 1 express our sympathy to the Ralph Dennison family. Ralph was well liked by all who knew him.

One afternoon, Frank Kimble was the star performer in a comedy act, the likes of which we have never before witnessed. The setting for this eomedy of errors was the wash room. Frank played his part well. As the story is long and our spaee limited, we suggest that you contact the star himself. We are certain that he will oblige and give you full details of this little comedy skit of his. . . . When it comes to versatility, William Mauger has no equal. He can drink milk, eat a candy bar and smoke a cigar at the same time. He also is entering the literary field, writing a mystery novel. The title is to be "Who Am I?" He has cast himself as the chief character in the story. There does seem to be an air of mystery hanging over him, and he admits that he is not certain of his own identity. Knowing Bill and the mysterious manner in which he goes about things, we are positive that his forthcoming novel will be a best seller. . . . Ray Quandt, our little man of many activities, sprang another one on us. This time it is miniature hot rod raeers. He and his son are collaborating on this venture, and we do so hope that they will really complete some of these little cars. Ray's failing has been the fact that he becomes very enthused over a certain thing, then suddenly loses interest, never taking a thing through to completion. We believe that he is going to do it this time, as there is so much noise around his place. One would think that he was drilling a half dozen wells at the same time. . . . Louie Mann was complaining the other day about his feet hurting him. He said that he believed that it is the wood block floor that is causing his foot distress. He also said that he really believes that if they would allow him to go barefoot as he did when he lived in Kentucky, his misery would disappear.

"Fear thou not, for I am with thee: be not dismayed; for I am thy God: I will strengthen thee; yea, I will help thee; yea, I will uphold thee with the right hand of my righteousness." — Isaiah 41:10.

dies suddenly

Ralph Dennison Dies Following Heart Attack

Ralph C. Dennison, 44, of 3423 Robinwood Drive, died at 8:15 p.m. Friday, April 13, in the Lutheran Hospital shortly after suffering a heart attack in his home.

Mr. Dennison joined the General Eleetric Company July 28, 1924, as an apprentiee in Bldg. 26-5. In 1927, he became a diemaker in Bldg. 26-5 and, the following year, a tool engineer in Bldg. 17-4. He subsequently served as a model maker in Bldgs. 17-4 and 18-4.

In 1939, Mr. Dennison was named supervisor of Planning and Wage Rates in Bldg. 16-3 and, in 1943, was transferred to Bldg. 4-6 as Supervisor of Planning. He went to the Kokomo Plant in 1944 as assistant superintendent, returning to Fort Wayne in 1946 as Superintendent of Fractional Horsepower Motor Div. 17 at Taylor St.

He was a member of the Quarter Century Club, the Supervisors Club, the Apprentice Alumni Association and the Foremen's Association.

Surviving Mr. Dennison are his widow, Pluma; a son Richard, and a brother, Milton, Tampa, Fla.

Services were held Monday at 11 a.m. at the Klaehn Funeral Home with the Rev. L. E. Olsen officiating. Burial was in Lindenwood Cemetery.

By Don Clark

Seeing a column of smoke billow up from the printing machine, Betty Strong excitedly sought the cause. The next time she catches anyone smoking in the printing room she will put them out with a fire extinguisher. . . . We welcome Everett Kelly. . . . When the clutch on Bob Branning's car went bad, Jack Schemehorn gave him a ride home from a party. It was a pleasant ride except for the odor of limburger cheese. Jack's sensitive nose caused him to become agitated until finally Bob had to let the secret out. The limburger was in Jack's coat pocket. It was put there by a certain Marion More. . . . Happy birthday to Burton Telley. . . . Cal Bear never needs to call a taxi again as he bought one last week. That is, he bought a Plymouth. . . . As Bob Palmer starts manufacturing children's lawn chairs, he will use this motto, "A chair of ease made to please." . . . Arnold Korte had to use some of his G-E shop experience to complete the installation of new cabinet tops in his kitchen. At least, he performed a slick job of patch work. . . . April has given us a rough deal, but John Inches is very interested in one of his flower beds. The attraction isn't flowers but a nest of bunny rabbits. . . . We thought that Carl Zurcher was the only flighty one in his family. It appears that his wife likes to get up in the air, too—in an airplane, that is. She left Easter Sunday and flew to Germany to visit her mother and Carl's mother. It was 22 years ago when Carl brought his bride to this country. We know he is anxiously waiting her return with fresh news from the old homeland. . . . Apparently DeWayne Schele sings best when he is dressed best. At least, he has cancelled all singing engagements until he can wear his suit again. Coming home from the last engagement, DeWayne slipped and ripped his pants. He is lucky, though. It happened near home. . . . Bob Kahlenbeck had a lot of fun last week when the Company played Santa Claus and overpaid him $50. This week wasn't so funny, though. They taught him there isn't any Santa. . . . Our hats are of to the check room bowling team for their fine showing in the G-E tournament. However, we hear that Harold Lehman and Gus Rodenberg aren't taking much credit for the high team score. . . . That sweet and sentimental look in the eyes of Carl Click, Bob Bryan and Oliver Lambert Monday morning was the effects of Guy Lombardo's music. . . . We were favored on Monday by having Ed Steward, looking young as ever, drop in for a visit. . . . We congratulate Cary Baker twice this week. He has a new granddaughter, and his other daughter is now engaged to be married. . . . Jimmy Mattes tells us his wife's crokets are in bloom. Can you flower lovers tell us what kind of a flower that is? . . . Attention: Farmers, a new type hen has been developed at the Hurshtown hatcheries. Woody claims he gets 10 eggs from eight chickens. . . . Why are the fellows calling Marion More, "the Jelly Kid?" . . . Why are all the calendars in Bldg. 19-4 circled April 28? Answer next week. . . . Mart Walsh looks pretty good physically but he threw our Cost Section out of gear when he was turning in counterfeit time cards. Maybe he's mixed up with the Spencerville Bank fraud. . . . Every time it snows Carl ("Zig" to us) Einsiedel wishes for a foot of snow, even in April. Let's send him to Alaska. . . . Don Alcott's only reason for not going for a game of golf with Paul Brinkroeger, Hank Sandkuhler and Captain McMulty is he doesn't own a pair of hip boots.

6-4 AIRLINERS

By Joan Lindeman

We have a real fire eater. Fred Clark felt like he had to cough while smoking. Instead of a cough, it was a sneeze. He swallowed what was left of the cigarette. . . . It's time to build a cage around Pondo again. The girls are bothering him, or vice versa. . . . Elmer Harshman is going to have what little hair he has left shaved off. He read where bald-headed men were more romantic than others. . . . Pondo is going to collect donations for the Community Chest again this year. Paul Brandt thinks this is a pretty good racket, so he is going to collect donations for our bowling shirts. . . . One of the good euchre players is Moe Satterwaitte. He got euchered twice in the same game while playing it alone. . . . Betty Thompson's pet nicknamc is "BeBe." . . . Opal Hamrick is very happy. Her husband is home for 30 days from Korea. . . . Bessie France had such a heavy foot that she pulled her pedal loose. . . . Anyone wanting a haircut see Gloria Schory. She did a bang-up job on Bob Burns. . . . Bob Pence has a solid walnut veneer bed that he's giving away for $75, but if you talk long enough he says he'll pay $5 to get rid of it. . . . Esther Muzzillo had better stop before leaving home in the mornings and take a reading. She might forget something. . . . Did Johnny Ormiston yell "OUCH" when he got his finger caught in the lead strippers? . . . Patty Alles, Margaret Hilgemann, Jean Parrish and Martha Jesse, fairly flew off their seats the other day when a motor tore loose on a rampage. . . . Don Wilson heard Ruth Reed say she didn't get a WORKS NEWS Friday, so he dug up about 15 and stacked them on her table Saturday. . . . Ask Bea Stolte what her description of Walt Richardson is. . . . Marjorie Goodrich is home from the hospital recuperating from her recent illness and doing fine. Hope to see you back soon, Marj. . . . Betty Thompson's new Sun Visor certainly led her off the beaten path. She started on just a little jaunt and ended up in Ligonier. She just couldn't see the road signs because of that "Visor" or was it really the "Visor," Betty? . . . Bldg. 6-4 will have a bowling team for sure next season. It will be called "6-4 Airliners," comprised of Andy Anderson, Moe Satterwaitte, Ralph Lee, Pondo Valscheff and Paul Brandt. Ralph and Paul will be the champs and you all know the rest will be chumps. This team is also entered in the Key Lane Summer League.

Each and everyone of us mourn the death of our friend, Ralph Dennison. . . . We heard from Coy Copesius last week. Coy is feeling much better since her recent operation. She is at the home of her sister in Elkhart. . . . Charlie Drury was seen playing in the mud. Were you trying to make mud pies, Charlie? All kidding aside, Charlie had to put his new shrubs out and had to mud them in. . . . Catherine Orr had a birthday and passed candy. . . . Millie Snider lost her pet last week. Snowball, her dog, was 10 years old. . . . Olen Shank is a busy fellow. He has a new occupation of painting shoes. Shank is now known as the "Ole Master Painter." . . . We welcome Herbert Calahan to our division. We hope your stay will be a pleasant one. . . . We extend our sympathy to Raymond Shreeve in the death of his mother. . . . Marcey Dafforn had a birthday. The girls gave her a beautiful cake, and Marcey received many nice gifts.

There is never a dull moment in this office. We have a Laurel (Weaver) and Hardy (Ralph). It is quite possible that if you call for Laurel that Hardy will answer. Confusing isn't it? . . . Talk about a chip off the old block this picture of little David Welch, son of Jack Welch, has all of the girls in the office wishing that they were kids in pigtails again. . . . Just as soon as that old sun gets up a little higher and the mercury soars, there will be a lot of hair flying around here. Some of the girls with the long tresses are Laurel Weaver, Evelyn Scheuman and Joan Murphy. . . . Frank Shidler and Jess Hahn just hope that their wives do not ask them to do any secretarial work around home. They both have writer's cramps.

Jack's Son

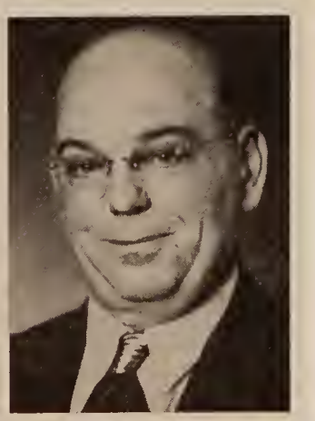
★ EIGHT EMPLOYEES JOIN QUARTER CENTURY CLUB ★

Francis J. Bendel
Bldg. 20-2

Simeon King
Bldg. 6-3

John W. Cochran
Bldg. 4-6

Lloyd Forsythe
Bldg. 4-1



George F. Houser
Bldg. 19-5

Henry E. Becker
Bldg. 19-2

Clyde Ford
Bldg. 27

George S. Weikart
Bldg. 27

F. E. West

W. R. David, Jr.

P. E. Bohn

G. M. Murray

M-G Appointments

(Continued from page 1)

Metrailer, is a graduate of Ball State Teachers College. A G-E employee since Aug. 12, 1942, he worked in the Kokomo Plant and in the Planning and Purchasing Section of Large M-G Divisions. He held the position of Purchasing agent before his recent appointment.

Mr. West is married and has one child. They reside in Markle.

A graduate of the University of Syracuse, Mr. David entered the Company's Advanced Production Program Oct. 7, 1946. He transferred to the Fort Wayne Works in 1949, where he has been working on various production assignments until his present appointment.

Mr. David resides at 353 W. Woodland Ave.

Wide Production Experience

Mr. Bohn has served at different times on all phases of production since joining G-E in 1916. At the time of his present assignment, he held the assignment of Assistant Production supervisor.

He lives with his wife and daughter at 4313 Arlington Ave.

The new Purchasing agent, Mr. Murray, has been with the Company since March 8, 1930. During his G-E career he has served on various production and purchasing phases of operation. For the past three years, he has served as Buyer and Purchase Analyst.

Mr. Murray is married and has two children. They live at 3113 S. Harrison St.

Send all ads to WORKS NEWS office, Bldg. 18-3.

"Lost" and "Found" articles must be cleared through the Plant Protection office, Bldg. 10-2, or the Plant receptionist, who will place the Ad-let and otherwise advertise the article.

Only one ad per employee may be inserted. Each ad must be limited to 20 words and cannot be repeated. All articles mentioned must be personal property of the employee. Ad will not be accepted unless accompanied by the name, pay number, and division of the employee. No works building or telephone number may appear in ad, only the home telephone number or address.

No ad will be received over the telephone.

Monday Noon, April 23, 1951

LOST AND FOUND

LOST—Green billfold containing between 15 and 20 dollars, social security card, pictures, charga-plate for Groth, Paris and Patterson Fletcher and other cards with name Margaret Voorhees on them. Lost between Bldg. 26 and Bldg. 16-2.

FOUND—Three keys in leather case. Left on L. Decker's desk in Bldg. 4-1.

FOUND—A fancy small ball point pen. Found near Bldg. 18-Gate.

FOUND—Silver-colored button.

FOUND—An earring with a green set and a pendulum of pearls and green sets set in gold. Turned in at Bldg. 19-Gate.

FOUND—Strand pearl beads. Turned in at West Gate at Taylor St.

FOR SALE

COOLERATOR—100 lbs., front icer, good as new, used six months, very cheap. A-39465.

ONE PAIR STARRET 1"-2" MICROMETERS. A-77155.

LUGGAGE CARRIER—Car top, like new. A-40251 after 3 p.m.

STUDIO COUCH—Good condition, reasonable. H-91295.

GIRL'S COAT—Size 10, melon color, fine condition, new style, $4. A-96103.

ALUMINUM SHOWER CABINET—$35; rose Wilton rug and pad, 9x18, $70; dining room suite, $40. H-58361.

COIL SPRINGS—Cotton mattress, twin size, used six weeks, bed free, $29. A-50104.

APARTMENT SIZE GAS RANGE—Good condition, reasonable. H-90745.

THREE LIVING ROOM CHAIRS—Like new, chrome trim, bird cage, stand, G-E percolator. A-98453.

MEN'S CLOTHING—Sizes 52-54. E-2766.

EIGHT PIECE DINING ROOM SUITE—Cheap. 525 E. Pontiac St. after 5:30 p.m. or Saturday.

TWO BEAGLE PUPS—Nine weeks' old, $15 each, eligible to register. Garrett 528W-3.

PART TIME BUSINESS — Completely equipped woodworking shop, will teach art of color, patching, refinishing and furniture repair. $800. H-74413.

FIRESTONE OUTBOARD MOTOR—7½ hp, perfect condition, $75. A-67444.

TRICYCLE—Good condition. A-59816.

THREE-TONE GREEN RUG—And pad, 9x12 just cleaned. H-70761 after 4 p.m.

1941 OLDS 6 COUPE—Radio, heater, spot light, standard shift, new battery, tires, 4000 miles on overhaul job. $485. H-92402 or 3402 Alexander Ave. after 4 p.m.

DRUM TYPE TABLE—Medicine cabinet. H-74722.

SAMPSEL COAL FURNACE CONTROL—Used six months, $20. H-44865.

G-E MONITOR TOP REFRIGERATOR—6.4 cu. ft., $50. H-79175.

SEWING MACHINE—White electric rotary, instructions, attachments, cabinet style, A-1 condition, $65; metal Chandler clarinet, 1837 W. State Blvd. or E-40301.

G-E ALUMINUM TUB WASHER—Wringer type about two years old, half price. H-17243 or 459 Buchanan St.

AMPRO TAPE RECORDER—Like new, six months old, $30 below list price. 1435 Eagle St. or A-66482.

RIFLE—Harrington and Richardson, good condition, leather case. A-86571.

20" TRICYCLE—Reconditioned, repainted, like new. 624 N. Main St., Roanoke or Roanoke 4054.

LAKE COTTAGE—At Rome City, insulated and furnished. William Springer, R. R. 4, Fort Wayne.

FIVE-FOOT BATHTUB—With legs and fittings, first $5 takes it. H-50681 or 4036 Robinwood Drive.

FEED GRINDER—Small size, good condition, only $8. H-37777.

GOOD WALNUT BEDROOM SUITE—$40. E-40671.

RUG—Green, 9x12, all wool; mahogany upright piano; G-E Monitor-top refrigerator, 7 ft. 3725 Arlington Ave.

HIGH CHAIR—Blond, studio couch, green, chrome breakfast set, red. K-3316 or 2602 Brooklyn Ave.

LOT—At Blue Lake, north side, restricted. H-64045.

WANTED

USED 275 GAL. FUEL OIL TANK—For conversion burner. H-20442.

CHINA OR KITCHEN CABINET—A-57622.

FOREIGN PAPER MONEY—Any kind. H-82534.

SMALL APARTMENT—Or room for mother and child in home where care will be given baby days while mother works. H-90745.

PLAYER PIANO—In good condition. H-75502.

BOTTLED GAS STOVE—And girl's 24 in. bicycle. E-3372.

FOR RENT

FURNISHED APARTMENT — Three rooms plus private bath and entrance. 1317 Jackson St. or A-29673.

WISCONSIN LAKE COTTAGE—Nine miles west of Spooner, good beds, electric refrigeration, bottle gas range, good fishing. E-72403.

THREE ROOM PARTLY FURNISHED APARTMENT—Private bath, entrance, all utilities included. $70 per mo. H-9953.

MISCELLANEOUS

WILL CARE FOR CHILD—or children in vicinity of 1000 block of East Berry. E-32572.

TRANSPORTATION

WANTS RIDE—From MacArthur Drive in Waynedale. Hope Hatfield, Bldg. 4-3, 7-3:30. H-20852 or Extension 2151.

WANTS RIDE—From Montpelier or Liberty Center to Broadway. Will drive some. Stanford Hamilton, Bldg. 26-3, 3:30-11:48. Extension 413.

WANTS RIDE—From Huntington to Broadway. Fred Orr, Bldg. 4-3, 3:30-11:48. Huntington 3249.

WANTS RIDE—From Hicksville to Broadway. Teresa Arend, Bldg. 6-2, 8-6:16. Extension 662.

Carl W. Moeller

(Continued from page 1)

with a B. A. degree in Business Administration. He joined the General Electric Company's Business Training Course following graduation and completed the course in 1937.

As a member of the Traveling Auditor's Staff, Mr. Moeller spent two years on assignments in Latin-America. In 1944, he was named Works Accountant at Bloomfield and two years later transferred to Philadelphia as Works Accountant.

From 1947 until 1951, Mr. Moeller has been serving as Divisions Accountant for the Switchgear Divisions in Philadelphia.

Mr. Moeller, his wife and two children have been making their home in Swarthmore, Pa., and plan to move to Fort Wayne in the near future.

They that can give up essential liberty to obtain a little temporary safety deserve neither liberty nor safety.—Benjamin Franklin.

SUGGESTION PAYS $65—Eunice Zehr, Bldg. 17-3, received $65 for designing a reel and cutter for tying tape. This method eliminated a large spool of tape and guess-work in cutting it. She is demonstrating her suggestion to her foreman, Jack Dobson.

Employment Gains

(Continued from page 1)

of the year, the report said.

However, in spite of new highs in total civilian employment, increases in war production are costing some workers their jobs. In recent weeks, layoffs have shown up in industries producing consumer goods, such as autos, household appliances and aluminum products, as the result of government restrictions on use of materials classified as essential to war production.

At the Fort Wayne Works, W. E. Beer, supervisor of Employment, said there is no more expectation of layoffs now, than several months ago when industry observers were also predicting temporary cuts in civilian employment.

Employment Steady Here

Mr. Beer explained that there had been no spectacular rise in employment here during March and that hiring activity was largely concerned with turnover replacement. He noted that Large Motor and Generator Divisions have shown the greatest rise in new employment during the past month.

Nation-wide observers continue to predict temporary layoffs as fewer vital materials—steel, copper, aluminum and other basic metals—are available for production of consumer goods. Workers made idle by these material shortages in civilian plants will be absorbed by expanding war production, the observers say.

Last week-end, my little girl Patty and I passed a very large and impressive building. "B-a-n-k," she spelled, "Is that where people get money, Daddy?" "Yes, and I'm going in and get some to buy you a new pair of shoes," I answered. "I would like to get some money, too," she said eagerly. I shook my head, "You have to put money in the bank before you can take any out," I told her. Just then I thought of our last informative meeting. Have you heard someone exclaim, "I don't like my work, I just can't get interested in it. There's no cooperation." Well, it's not to be expected unless you put something into making your job worth while. The more time you put into it, the more interested you get, the more you can expect to get out of it. There are those who shrug at work, ignore and neglect to support their jobs. Failing to do this is like a bank, where one receives not only what is put in, but "interest" as well. Money put into the bank, is as time, support, work, cooperation — it doesn't matter which—Invest in these and you are sure of the interest. . . . It seems Bert Brown's fingers are all thumbs since he's not playing his banjo so much now. . . . The boys treated Harold Mettler to a breakfast last Tuesday morning. They delivered him a nest of pigeon eggs. . . . Florence Fett and her husband are the proud possessors of a new DeSoto.

SOMETHING TO REMEMBER:

A good thing to remember
And a good thing to do
Is work with the construction gang
And not the wrecking crew.

ELEX HOME NURSING CLASSES

Please return to:

Women's Activities Office
Bldg. 18-3

I would like to enroll in the Red Cross Home Nursing Course beginning the week of June 4.

Name and Bldg.....

I prefer the class on Tuesday from 7-9 p.m. .....

I prefer the class on Wednesday from 7-9 p.m. .....

(Classes are instructed by G-E nurses Lyle Rupert and Veda Orff.)

SHIPPING: Best wishes are in order for Mary Ann Burke, who will become a blushing bride tomorrow. . . . We extend the hand of welcome to Dorothy McNeal, whose charming self is gracing our label typing section. . . . Our heartiest congratulations to the parents of Eva Westrick, who are celebrating their golden wedding anniversary with all of their 12 children, except one (Tony was killed in World War II) present. The Westricks have 33 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren. . . . With a nice parting gift to show her that we're sorry to see her go, the gang said farewell today to Lenora Hanley. Our very best wishes go right along with you, Lenora, (which we humbly hope makes up for our misspelling your name in previous columns). . . . 'Tis nice to see night foreman Del Bucher back on the job after his recent seige of illness. . . . MAILING: Good news! Frank is back, Frank Goetz, that is, and looking real well, too, after his recent operation. . . . We hear, via the grapevine, that Clarence Saylor is recovering very satisfactorily from his recent surgery, and may be home now, or in the very near future. . . . Thanks! Thanks! Thanks! to Frank Goetz for his treat for all the gang upon his return.

Bill Hofmann received a gift from his mother that brought back nostalgic memories of his boyhood days. She, a lady of 83 summers, sent him a painting of Gablent, Germany, his home town. . . . Jim Parker discovered that new "Caddie" of his has one thing in common with all other cars. Once it has settled itself firmly in the mud, it doesn't move out of its own accord. Jim says he didn't mind paying the towing charge as much as the embarrassment it caused. This happened when his passenger was a right slick chick. . . . The Ford Motor Co. lost a loyal supporter the other day when Jerry Wert went to work on Gene Rosswurm. Gene believed and was quick to elaborate whenever necessary that there was no car made that could make the Ford back down off the high pinnacle on which he had it placed. Jerry put on the pressure and finally unloaded his '35 Chevy on Gene. . . . The Robert Schuelkes have proudly proclaimed that their brand new and first heir has arrived on schedule. There is no doubt but what he is destined for great things. The young Mr. Schuelke made his debut at the Lutheran Hospital April 7. Good luck and best wishes for all of you. . . . Max Fielitz was just a bit uneasy after Herman Brandt coached him on what to expect when he told Herman about his having to serve on the Grand Jury. At least, it served one good purpose. The sweating it out Max did before the ordeal made it seem so easy he just hreezed through those two days. . . . Owen Cartwright has had it proved that Friday the 13th can he an unlucky day. Arriving home from work, he discovered one of his sows had had two pigs. Feeling all's right with the world, he went about doing his chores. After this was done, he checked again, still one sow and two pigs. Going into his house, he ate and fretted around until seven o'clock. He then dashed out to count the new arrivals. The result was still the same. By this time Owen became worried and called the vet who was not available. At nine o'clock, the vet arrived and proceeded to help nature to increase the pig population. It was nearly midnight when Owen felt free to go to bed. Net result: One sow, eight pigs.

Top Floor TOPICS

Bldg. 26-5

By Jack Lea

Mary Blanchard and Garnet Marshall now have something in common. They belong to that ever-growing list of parking violators. Did you get those parking tickets paid for, girls? Just don't give them to Dick Hurst, or you might end up in Sing Sing. . . . We are sorry to see Hank Shirley leave us and hope Hank will like his new job across the street. . . . Yipe! Here we go again! Another victim! Don Beghtel is planning to take that fatal plunge May 20. It's matrimony, of course. . . . Greetings to Gene Rasor, who has joined the Luminous Tube Line. . . . We also want to welcome Dotsy Smith to the Blanket Warmer Line. Speaking of the Blanket Warmer Line, could Dotsy he the reason Don Zumbrun is continuously coming by SLOWLY pulling a skid? Don seems to have lots of business in that end recently. . . . A short while back a heart to heart talk was held by two redheads up here. From what I hear, it must have done some good. . . . What happened? It is reported that Elaine Nicodemus left her finger in a car door recently. . . . I've heard of people getting a hot foot but not a hot belly! That's what resulted when Al Miller was talking to Dorothea Winburn. . . . "Speedy" is the new name given to Tom Kirk. Tom pushes that cart down the aisle like it was jet propelled. . . . Carl Blair has been nicknamed "Smokey." Carl has joined the men of distinction—the pipe smokers! Try some 79 mixture, Carl. . . . How about the people on second shift getting on the ball? Give Wyonetta some news. All we have on the night shift is the fact that Wimpy Blalock is back to work after a case of the mumps. Isn't that a heckuva thing for a hig guy like Wimpy to get? . . . When Charles Tuse came into work last Friday with a white shirt and tie, we thought perhaps he was the new foreman. . . . Walt Mertz returned from an unsuccessful bowling tournament at St. Paul. It's about time he got back. I've heen overworked while he was gone. . . . Elisha Phillips has also joined the gang on top floor. Phil came from Bldg. 26-4 and is with Hermetics.

QUITE A BOY: It seems that all the WORKS NEWS publicity has affected Herschel Smith. Last week he would not go home unless he was taken in the Company ambulance. We are sorry that you succumbed to the "flu" bug and glad to welcome you back. . . . Opal Burns and Helen Dafforn, Bldg. 18-1, were both absent recently with the "flu." Marie Taylor of Reproduction was a victim. When she returned, she found that Doris Snyder and several others had also been off due to illness. . . . SYMPATHY: We were all saddened by the death of Ralph Dennison and wish to extend to his family our heartfelt sympathy. . . . Also, our sympathy to Ray Fischbach, of the Employees' Store, on the death of his mother. . . . EVENTS: Things happen rather rapidly for Robert Wylie. Last Saturday he acquired a brand new Mercury, one of those nice green jobs. Before he could really enjoy driving it, he landed in the hospital for observation. He has had plenty of time this week to think about how nice it is going to be when he has time to drive the new car. . . . Now Carl Olson, of Bldg. 18-2, was a little more fortunate. He acquired a brand new Mercury without going to the hospital. . . . COMMERCIAL ARTIST: The Data Bureau welcomes Mary Lu Adang. She is our new commercial artist, and we hope she will enjoy working with us. . . . NEW GRANDDAUGHTER: Minta Cole is enjoying a new granddaughter. You know, there is nothing so wonderful in the world as a new born grandmother. . . . HAPPY BIRTHDAY: Janet Horne, of Bldg. 18-1, celebrated her birthday Saturday by visiting with her parents at Tri Lakes and then going to Edgerton, O., for the week-end. . . . Last week Phyllis Rudolph was entertained with a luncheon at noon and a dinner at night at the English Terrace for her birthday. . . . Don House, of Bldg. 18-2, celebrated his birthday on Friday the 13th. . . . HOSPITAL: We are sorry to learn that Ed Witte has been hospitalized with pneumonia and hope that he will soon be better. . . . VISIT: William N. Wehrs, former General Superintendent, visited friends in G-E Monday.

If April showers bring May flowers, we should have acres of blossoms next month. . . . Note of gloom: Did you know there are only 16 days left in which to pay your county taxes? . . . Politics has long been a subject of conversation among our men, but now we actually have one of the candidates in our group. Roger Crabill is running for office of Councilman from the third district on the Republican ticket. . . . Mr. Hartman is on the mend now. We're hoping he is soon back with us again. . . . Sy was trying to convince Hugh Stephenson that the melody Hugh was playing had a flat note in it. But when Hugh told Sy to sing the song to prove it, Sy refused. Wonder why? . . . Our "Thumper" Club has a new member. Bob Lauer became eligible for the club Monday when he was seen wearing a bunny tail. Hi, "Bugs." . . . If you need advice on how not to do a plastering job, Carroll Elder can really help you. He's had his share of trouble trying to do a plastering job at home. . . . Mary Burkholder was really surprised when Maxine rang her time card out by mistake, but she wasn't half as surprised as Maxine. Next time don't be in such a hurry, girls. . . . We had never thought of Bill Mills as Satan. All he needed was horns after someone had clipped a five-foot tail on him. What's wrong, Bill? We thought it looked dashing. . . . Wouldn't you know it would rain the same day they cut a hole in the roof for a vent pipe? That was the reason for the flood over in the Test Section last Thursday night. . . . Friends (?) of Betty Raucci could assure you she wouldn't let them use her umbrella. It is new and water might damage it.

Candidate

One man's meat is another man's person.—Old Cannibal saying.

Spring has definitely arrived. Fred Thieme was seen without his overcoat and insists we keep the truck door open at all times. Gerald Crum has discarded his winter cap, hoping that the sun will give him more hair. . . . That argument Paul Noffze had with Waldo Greider ended with Paul a winner of the argument, an apology and a candy bar. . . . You fellows who have been wearing that sad look around should see Al Bierman. He has water in his basement, too. . . . We're wondering if Mildred Sadler didn't take a couple days off last week just to keep from paying a little obligation. . . . Mack McConnehey certainly wasn't satisfied with Ray Zell's mechanical ahility in repairing his Frazer. He has undertaken the job of overhauling it himself. With scattered parts over the yard and taking both new and used parts home daily, we wonder if it will ever run again. . . . Dale Horner and Tom Lynn, with a couple other boys, provided a quarter each to buy a dollar's worth of gas, so they could go for a ride. . . . Benny Beningzer is going down town for his instructions. Perhaps then he can lay his top, play the radio and know which is the heater switch. It seems Benny attempted to lay his top last week, and it stuck at the half way mark. . . . The boys all feel very sorry for Bill Connor, who's been suffering with a toothache. . . . Fred Wellensiek and his wife have planned a vacation trip to Western Germany, leaving the first week of August. Fred can't take his new Chrysler with him, so he has agreed to turn the keys over to Sam Rhoades. That way, it will be broken in when he returns. . . . There has been quite a controversy over a sale of some geese by Ravella Shepheard to his pal Joe Krider. Joe had sold them for a nice profit before he even received them himself. When Shep discovered this, he was unhappy as well as goose-less. Joe not only made a profit from Shep's geese but Joe also got his goat for nothing. . . . Anyone wishing information on the flower fund see Everett Jones, who, at this writing, still has the record book. . . . Roy Redman made his quarter-annual reappearance last week. . . . You don't need a lot of ground to appear as farmers. Byers and Rupright are doing it with one and two acres respectively. . . . A smart man always remembers his wife's birthday but never reminds her of it. Arlo Amick remembered by taking his wife to Columbia City for dinner on her birthday.

SQUARES CUT-UP—Shown are some of the tests of skill at the recent charity carnival sponsored by the G-E Squares Club and its Women's Division. All proceeds from the affair were presented to the Allen County Parent-Teachers Association Scholarship Fund.

With the last week of bowling coming up, the Small Motor League is tied up with National Construction and Models in first place. They each have a 27 win and 18 loss record. Just one game behind the leaders are the Test and Contributing teams with 26-19 records.

The Hi-Low doubles tournament and distributing of the prize money will be held next Wednesday night.

The 200 scores this week were few and far between. Only two showed up. Pappy Quinn had a 218 and Dynamite Haugh had a bristling 200.

G-E Employees Tournament

Here are the final standings and prize list:

TEAM

		Hdcp.	Total	Prize
1.	Squares	471	3093	$85.00
2.	Drafting (O. L.)	543	3082	45.00
3.	Harvey Bros.	360	3062	30.00
4.	G-E Owls	372	3010	25.00
5.	S. M. Y.	567	2993	20.00
6.	Brouwers	279	2988	15.00
7.	Worthman Bldrs.	201	2966	15.00
8.	Drafting (W. S.)	468	2961	10.00
9.	Pillars	600	2949	10.00

DOUBLES

		Hdcp.	Total	Prize
1.	Brandt-Lindemuth	180	1360	$35.00
2.	Sommers-Roby	171	1285	20.00
3.	Crabill-Garrett	183	1273	15.00
4.	Matthews-Shroyer	123	1270	13.00
5.	Macy-Groves	210	1266	11.00
6.	Pappert-Fanning	159	1264	9.00
7.	Piercy-Anderson	144	1251	8.00
8.	Madden-Koch	150	1245	7.00
9.	Miller-Runyon	207	1245	7.00
10.	Cartwright-Miller	201	1239	6.00
11.	Schlotterbach-Bryan	153	1236	6.00
12.	Garland-Wood	150	1232	5.00
13.	Burns-Fisher	123	1232	6.00
14.	Meeks-Lee	225	1229	4.00
15.	Thiele-Saalfrank	198	1227	4.00
16.	Staley-Skevington	171	1219	4.00

SINGLES

		Hdcp.	Total	Prize
1.	R. Bucher	84	715	$20.00
2.	J. Fisher	57	675	15.00
3.	A. Smethers	54	673	10.00
4.	P. Walker	69	661	8.00
5.	S. Macy	117	657	7.00
6.	Thiele	102	651	5.33
7.	G. Schlund	75	651	5.33
8.	R. Rump	51	651	5.33
9.	W. Wiemer	69	648	5.00
10.	C. Schoenherr	48	647	4.00
11.	D. Springer	66	646	3.50
12.	H. Fanning	84	646	3.50
13.	L. Elward	81	642	3.00
14.	E. Haugk	69	641	3.00
15.	C. Rump	78	639	3.00
16.	M. Junk	108	639	3.00
17.	F. Burnau	87	639	3.00
18.	W. Bradfield	87	638	2.00
19.	C. Brandt	81	636	2.00
20.	W. Piercy	72	636	2.00
21.	D. Hoffman	117	631	2.00
22.	D. Pappert	75	630	2.00
23.	H. Garrett	114	628	2.00
24.	F. Quinn	99	625	2.00
25.	W. Mertz	51	624	2.00
26.	T. O'Connell	93	623	2.00

ALL EVENTS

		Total	Prize
1.	W. Mertz	1768	$10.00
2.	L. Shroyer	1751	8.00
3.	E. Kraft	1745	7.00
4.	J. Fisher	1741	6.00
5.	R. Rump	1706	6.00
6.	A. Smethers	1699	5.00
7.	C. Schoenherr	1693	5.00
8.	E. Crabill	1682	4.00
9.	P. Boedeker	1642	3.00
10.	V. Rump	1637	3.00

Those who haven't picked up their prize money may do so at the Club counter.

High Series of the tournament was Ed Crabill's 636 in the doubles competition. W. Woods' 255 was high single game which also was rolled in doubles competition.

The top nine teams averaged 989 on Alleys Five and Six; 1021 on Alleys Seven and Eight, and 1002 on Three and Four. Alleys Five and Six are just 32 pins tougher than Seven and Eight and only 13 pins rougher than Three and Four.

The following scores were the record highs of the tournament: Hahn Way Cleaners, 3315; E. Grier, L. Green and Bill Glenn, Schmidt, 1418; and Ed Kraft, 756 in singles and 1937 in all events. Actual pin highs were Worthman, 3026; Walt Mertz and Frank Matthews, 1271, and Ed Kraft, 717.

Apparatus League

Paced by Joe Kramer's determination to be on a winning team, No. 10 is heading the league by one game.

Two hundred scores were rolled during the last two weeks by: Walt Beaty, 246; Bob "The Groom" Blomker, 232; Don Dimke, 214; Schnepp, 208; Paul "New Dodge" Perry, 207; Vic Rump, 203; Alcott, 201, and Bob Stute and R. Dunten, 200.

Office League

Standardizing is two lengths in front of Drafting for the League lead.

Scores for the past two weeks were Wendell Miller, 211, 213, 177—600; Carl Hattendorf, 210; Frank Schlink, 210, 210, 233; Erv Aumann, 200; Bill Piercy, 206; Wes Goss, 202; Clarence Rump, 207 and 201; Hahn, 202; Johnny Johnson, 213, and France, 201.

Transformer League

The M's won the second half with 27 wins and 15 losses. Macy had the evening's high series, a 561 which included games of 214 and 202. Other 200 scores were rolled by Hurst, 204, and Rademaker, 203.

Tuesday Girls

Marge Huber blasted out the club high total of 621 Tuesday on games of 234, 174 and 213. This puts her in line for a club trophy.

Other high scores were garnered by L. Runyon, 172; Rachel Mounsey, 171 and 174; Nellie Beltz, 171, Winnie Scheurich, 178; Elzie Brown, 172; Tommie Williams, 177, and Helen Wagner, 170.

Clarabelle Witzeman made the six-seven-ten split twice just to prove it wasn't luck.

Club To Sponsor Owl Industrial Softball Team

by Earl Stauffer

The YMCA Owl Industrial Softball League will swing into action Wednesday morning, May 9, at McMillen Park. The usual league practice game will be played a week earlier.

The Club will sponsor the team in the City Owl League because there are not enough players to form an interdivision league.

Manager Bob Crosley has a wealth of good material to pick a team which will vie for the fifth Owl League crown. Other industries represented in the league are Indiana Rod and Wire, Harvester, Salisbury, Zollner, Echrich and F. O. P.

Bill Geist, who did such a fine publicity job last year, will assist Crosley and act as scorekeeper.

Owl Softball Notice

There will be Owl Softball practice Monday, April 23, at 9:15 a.m. in McMillen Park. In case of bad weather, the practice will be held the next possible day.

OWL GOLF MEETING

There will be an Owl Golf Meeting Tuesday, April 24, at 2 p.m. in the G-E Club Trophy Room, Manager Earl Stauffer announced today.

All second and third shift golfers are requested to be present at this important meeting, Mr. Stauffer said.

G-E Rod, Gun Club Team No. One Wins Industrial League Shoot

The G-E Rod and Gun Club Team No. One copped the Fort Wayne Industrial League annual trophy shoot, with G-E Team No. Two placing second. The match was sponsored by the Fort Wayne Rifle and Revolver Club and was held at the North Side Rifle Range.

Team scores for the top four squads were as listed below:

G-E No. One	P.	Sit.	Stg.	T.
R. L. Sowards	50	50	50	150
K. C. Hart	50	50	50	150
L. May	50	50	49	149
Team Total				449
G-E No. Two
E. Allmandinger	50	49	50	149
F. Reed	50	50	47	147
D. Heckman	48	50	48	146
Team Total				442

D. Miller shot a 148 score with G-E.

International Harvester No. One	Total
C. Braun	146
F. Croghon	149
W. Parks	143
Team Total	438
International Harvester No. Two
M. Sipe	145
W. Vanderford	149
C. Swihart	142
Team Total	436

This is "little bit" week here in Shipping—a little bit about everyone. . . . Violet Schneiders spent the week-end with Maxine Householder at Avilla. . . . Mary Wakeman is at the Index now. . . . Ruth Abels is replacing Maxine Stoffel, who left us last week to keep house. . . . Bernadette Collis, Mary Wakeman, and Larry Brown were on our sick list. . . . Betty Bartley spent last Sunday at Great Lakes. She also attended the Navy Reserve dance at the Prom Terrace. . . . Faye Alexander is one of our wealthy gals. She won "Stop the Music" jack pot in our office. . . . Audrey Bradfield, Norman Wichman, Joyce Greisser and friends attended the Nu Phi Sorority dance at the Woman's Club. . . . Maurice Petgen is at Broadway. Sorry to see him leave. . . . A hearty welcome to Eileen Zeigler. . . . I wish I knew a good one about Clarence Schaffer, but he is quiet. . . . Audrey Bradfield says the reason a car is called Tudor is because it has two doors. . . . Happy birthday, Joyce Greisser. . . . Jean Smith finally received her long awaited birthday gift from Artie, her fiance who is at Fort Worden, Washington.

Interdivision Softball Begins Wed., May 9

The Interdivision Softball League will begin Wednesday, May 9, if the weather is favorable, Don Stoneman, league co-chairman, announced today.

All team managers wishing to enter a team in the league are requested to attend a meeting in the G-E Club Trophy Room at 5:30 p.m., Tuesday, April 24.

Girls' Softball

Betty Puff has issued a call for all girls interested in playing softball this summer to meet in the G-E Club Gym Wednesday, April 25, at 7 p.m.

Aspirants are requested to bring their gloves and shoes for a practice session.

Clip blank and send to Betty Puff, Bldg. 4-6.

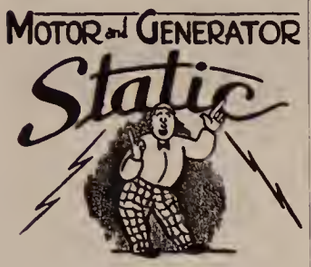
Did you know that Maury Robertson is a ham radio operator? Maury has his car equipped to send and receive radio messages, and recently took part in the emergency practice of the Voluntary Auxiliary Signal Department of Civil Defense. With Maury's car equipped so, it looks like a good way for Helen to give "orders for the day" to Maury. On the other hand, Maury could also use it to "check up on the little woman." . . . If you have noticed that bump on Cy Stonehill's head and haven't received a definite answer, here's the story: It seems that Mrs. Stonehill baked a cake recently. Cy's comments on this cake weren't the ones that a new bridegroom should make. Result: Cake flies through air—bump on Cy's head. . . . Who's the fellow that Frank Ondrovik calls "Hambone" over the telephone? . . . Big Chief Laughing Face is back with us, and 'tis sure good to have Lou back. . . . Art Rowe is back from the Pacific Coast. We wonder if Art's winnings resulted in Mrs. Rowe getting a new dress? Any comments, Art? . . . Ginny Winegart is renting her office for the week-end. The name of the week-end occupant is Cedric. (By the way, Cedric is a mouse.) . . . On the next rainy day, ask Salona Hunter for a demonstration on how to put-up and take down a folding umbrella. I assure you that very un--expert advice will be given.

Flying Cakes

Keep searching for the other fellow's good points. Remember, he has to hunt for yours, and maybe he'll be harder put than you are.—Felicitas.

G-E Club Girls' Softball

Name



Address Bldg.

Works Phone Home Phone

Position Played

GETS $75 FOR IDEA—William Meyer, Bldg. 31-1 (center), was awarded $75 for suggesting the fabrication of stator frame ribs. He is shown receiving his check from John Rogers (left) while Robert Olson watches.

Thought For The Week: "Lots of men are smart enough to catch on, but only a few are wise enough to let go." L. M. Foster.

CONGRATULATIONS: Patricia Wessel's approaching marriage to Sgt. Lloyd M. Ness will be held Saturday, April 28, at St. Patrick's Church in Arcola, Ind. . . . HAPPY DAYS: It looks good to see Roy (Jack) Hiveley back. . . . I wonder what became of the old fashioned Girl Scout cookies. . . . WHY? Homer Campbell managed to keep out of the news last week. But this week, our underground organization has dug up a little information that warrants publication. It seems Homer and Mrs. Campbell went out for an evening and on returning home discovered they had left their house keys locked inside the residence. Mr. Campbell, who is full of ideas, figured he could get a ladder from the garage, climb on the porch roof and open a storm window. Hardly had he mounted the ladder when a car pulled up to the curb and two men in blue stepped out. Homer spent the next half hour explaining to the police just why he was trying to break into his own home. . . . COULD BE: Ed Foley, our division editor, recently attended a "Last Man" banquet. Dick Hobson explains that title as meaning, "They try to see who will be last to leave the table." Ed says, "At least I didn't drive around all last week-end in second gear like Hobson did."

Is This the Way?

GENERAL ELECTRIC supplied $569,689,000 worth of goods and services for military and civilian use in the first three months of 1951.

This was $151,239,000 more—or about 36% more—than the value of goods and services supplied by General Electric in the first three months of 1950.

What happened to this additional $151,239,000? Let's see.

Extra materials and supplies—and the other added outside expenses and charges except direct taxes—took $60,371,000 of it.

Increased employee payrolls and benefits took $45,230,000 of it.

Additional direct taxes took about $47,500,000 of it. And incidentally, there are lots of indirect taxes hidden in the two items of materials and payrolls above, as our employees have to pay considerably higher taxes this year and our vendors have to pay very much higher

But those increases in materials, payrolls, and taxes add up to $153,101,000—or $1,862,000 more than the additional $151,239,000 General Electric took in compared with last year.

So, General Electric's earnings were $1,862,000 smaller in the first quarter of 1951 than in the same period in 1950. They were $34,996,000 this year, and $36,858,000 a year ago.

The earnings per dollar of sales were 6.1¢ this year and 8.8¢ last year.

Thus—while producing 36% more—the Company's earnings in total dollars were 5% less, and in cents earned out of each sales dollar were about 31% less.

If each business and each individual could find it possible and feasible to turn out 36% more—while paying such tax-laden higher prices and such still higher direct taxes as to have actually 5% less than a year ago to live on—our country would have more than solved its problem of getting out the needed production and preventing further inflation.

Not every business or individual will find such a thing possible or feasible or maybe even necessary.

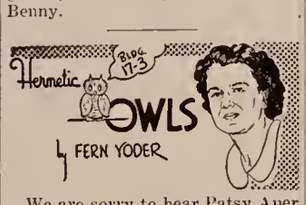
But this is a time when all should be finding what is required of them and then doing their best to get it done.

That's what we in General Electric are trying to do

GENERAL ELECTRIC

Notes— From Transformer Drafting

By Bonnie Hull



Pete Eherhardt had a little accident last week. His cigarette exploded, scattering tobacco in all directions. I wonder how that happened, R. A. . . . Tony Kazelis was very disappointed because Dick Koop's tractor wasn't the riding kind. Dick then fixed it so it can be ridden. . . . Last Saturday after work, Hank experienced one of his most embarrassing moments. He was in the market for a new suit, so he decided to try one on. The laughing sales clerk unhooked a string of paper clips. Hank explained that the office was full of screwballs. . . . Lots of luck to Roy and Melba, who were married last Thursday. . . . Congratulations to Wendell Miller, who has won the lunchtime hearts game three days in a row. Besides playing cards, Wendell bowls, plays tennis and golf and swims. Wendell and Memphis, his wife, have two children and two grandchildren. At one time, he was a physical education teacher. He taught school in Akron, O., for 10 years. Wendell also tried his luck at farming and still makes a garden every year. The only thing against the farm was the cows. He just can't stand cows. Wendell also takes great pride in his home. He has been doing some remodeling of late. He complains that he has a very uneven temper, but his wife calms him by saying, "Now, Wendell."

HIGH IN THE AIR: The reason for Dick Heard's floating around in the air is because he has a brand, spanking new Ford. Take it easy now, Richard, and try to keep it on the ground most of the time. . . . HOWDY: Hello to Paige Thompson and George Schroeder, new design engineers in the D. C. Division. Paige has been with G-E "down from Atlanta, Ga., way." . . . It's goodby and good luck to Sunny Boy Richard Trautman. We'll miss seeing you around, Dick. . . . LOOKS ARE DECEIVING: Chris Flanigan and Herb Osborne both bought an orange from the candy lady. On the way back to their desks, Herb said his orange was bigger than the one Chris had. So, they proceeded to argue and then thought the only way to settle it was to weigh them. The result was, that both were the same weight. . . . SOME TIE: I'm sure no one missed the bright bow tie worn by Leon Diegel. It sure did brighten up the office on that gloomy day and took one's mind off MacArthur and Truman. . . . CRASH! BANG! BOOM! No, it was not flying saucers, but a runaway trailer with lumber from Herb Osborne's car. He now needs one new trailer hitch and some dents removed from his car. . . . HELLO AND GOODBYE: Ernie Spaulding left Developmental Division to go to the DC Division, and Owen Vaught left DC to come to the Developmental Division. . . . THANKS PAL: Jimmie Templeton returned to work in the party mood. He brought a fine lunch for someone. At least his lunch sack looked as if a bear went through it. . . . HELLO: Diane Kay, pewee daughter of Don and Dee Miller, bids a hello to its new world. . . .MYSTERY: Benny Bennett received a check through the mail, much to his wife's joy. Benny was puzzled as to why he should receive a check from the G-E with his name and someone else's clock number. Maybe the boss is beginning to notice your hard work, Benny.

Mystery

We are sorry to hear Patsy Auer was involved in an accident and has an injured shoulder. We wish you a speedy recovery, Patsy. . . . Stella Rietdorf has really kept our set-up men busy. She said it is good she has access to a second winding machine. . . . Mabel Drummond's dozen eggs were one short after Mabel broke one, poured salt on it and ate it. . . . This picture is Jim May, son of Russell May. Jim is now home for furlough from the Air Force. He is stationed at Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Texas. Jim is a cook and says he likes it fine and is used to cooking for a crowd. . . . Kay Doland and Mabel Drummond don't mind the rain when the umbrella works. The other evening they took Eileen's and had a time getting it up and a harder time getting it down. In the procedure, Eileen figured her umbrella got hooked. . . . Who filled Mabel Drummond's pockets and fixed the fringe on her coat? It's all a mystery to Mabel. . . . We are happy to have Catherine Stanton back after a recent illness. . . . Dorothy Johnson has been pinch-hitting on the press on Line Three, along with placing on Line One. . . . Larry Small, son of Martha Small, was a recent winner on the "Dinner Winner" program. He got a nice basket of groceries. By knowing the key word he got a box of candy as an extra gift.

Air Force Cook

No man was ever great without divine inspiration.—Cicero.

We wish to extend our sympathy to Paul Graves in the death of his father. We also wish him a speedy recovery in his illness. Also our sympathy to Norman Bender in the death of his wife's mother. . . . Birthday greetings this week go to Ardell Hambrock, John Driver and Hubert Sherlock. . . . Bob Repine has retired from the chicken business turning his flock of five chicks over to Jack Pollock. . . . Bill Johnson is now sporting a new fascinator, and all the gang has taken notice of it, too. . . . Gurney Lindley now has his new outboard motor. After making two trips to Huntington to get it, he then had to try it out in his bath tub. He said he flooded the thing and sure had a time. Oh, no, he didn't flood the bathroom, just the motor. Now, he claims it is ready for a good fishing trip. . . . Red Braden was required to write an apology to Justin Heaston on the SOUP STORY in order to get any of his jobs out. Jess was going to put it on the hulletin board. When he read the part about his face and ears getting so red, he decided he had better save it for personal reference only.

INDIANA COLLECTION

FORT WAYNE WORKS
NEWS

Volume 34 | FORT WAYNE, INDIANA, FRIDAY, APRIL 27, 1951 | No. 17

Wage Increases Offered to All G-E Employees

Last week-end the Company announced its intention to make general wage increases to all employees effective as of March 15, subject to the approval of the Wage Stabilization Board (such approval is not necessary for those unions covered by an escalator clause).

The proposed general increase will amount to nine cents per hour for all hourly-rated employees. A corresponding increase will be asked for salaried employees. Because the nine cents an hour exceeds the present 10 per cent ceiling over average wage rates as of January 15, 1950, permission to make the full increase for most employees must be granted by the board.

Price Index Governs

The proposed general increase of nine cents is based upon the March 15 Consumers Price Index advance over the September 15, 1950, index, on the basis of one cent per hour for each full 1.14 increase in the BLS Index. Approximately 60,000 of the Company's more than 200,000 employees are covered by contractual arrangements providing for an increase on this basis. The Company believes that permission to grant increases to the other employees—whether non-union or members of

(Continued on page 4)

Welch Succeeds Lankenau as Decatur Manager

Departing Mgr. Guided Decatur Plant 31 Years

Enno W. Lankenau, who guided the Decatur Plant through the 31 years of its existence, will retire as plant manager Tuesday, May 1.

Mr. Lankenau joined the General Electric Company at Fort Wayne in 1918. When the Decatur Plant was dedicated in 1920, Mr. Lankenau was named superintendent. Last year, the plant, under his management, celebrated its 30th anniversary of manufacturing operations. During Mr. Lankenau's supervision, employment rose from 225 to 1,000 persons and the plant more than doubled its physical size.

(Continued on page 4)

. . . retires Tuesday

new manager . . .

New Manager Began at Winter Street in 1934

John F. Welch has been named manager of the Decatur Plant, M. E. Lord, manager of Fractional Horsepower Motor Divisions, announced today. Mr. Welch will succeed E. W. Lankenau, who will retire May 1 after 31 years as plant manager.

Mr. Welch attended Antioch College and Purdue University and joined the General Electric Company in 1934 at the Winter St. Plant. He entered the Test Course and was assigned to the Product Service Section of the Specialty Appliance Sales Division in Cleveland.

Successively, Mr. Welch was assigned to Electric Refrigerator Sales and Electric Sink Sales and later served as district representative of Appliance and Merchandise Sales in Cleveland.

He returned to Fort Wayne in 1942 as assistant supervisor of Inspection and was appointed general supervisor of Inspection of the FHP Motor Product Quality Division in 1945. In 1947, Mr. Welch was named assistant manager of the Decatur Plant, where he has been serving until his present appointment.

Mr. Welch is president-elect of the Rotary Club in Decatur and vice president and director of the Decatur Chamber of Commerce. He is married and has one daughter.

New Savings Bond Law Explained By Nine Questions and Answers

What about this new law that adds 10 years to the life of U. S. savings bonds, Series E?

This question has come up repeatedly since the bill affecting savings bonds was signed into law several weeks ago.

In brief, when bonds mature after 10 years, owners can retain them and continue to draw interest on the face value for another 10 years. The new law takes effect May 1, 1951, when bonds purchased 10 years ago reach maturity.

Q. How does the new law make a difference in U. S. savings bonds, Series E?

A. The difference is that the bond that matures on May 1, 1951, or thereafter can be held and continue to draw interest on the face value. Interest will be added at the rate of 2½ per cent each year up to 7½ years. If the bond is held longer, the yield will rise gradually to average 3½ per cent of simple interest each year for 10 years. This is equal to 2.9 per cent

(Continued on page 9)

Elex to Hold Mother-Daughter Parties for 1st and 2nd Shifts

Elex Club members will entertain their favorite girl friends, their mothers, at the annual Mother-Daughter parties, Elex President Thelma Stone announced today. The first shift will hold their party at 8 p.m. Thursday, May 10, in the G-E Club Auditorium. Second Shift members have planned a luncheon at 12 noon Tuesday, May 8, in the YWCA.

Members will present a skit, entitled "From Bloomers to Blue Jeans," as one of the highlights of the first shift affair. The show will be a contrast between Elex girls of yesteryear and girls of modern day. Elex "old timers" and younger members will all take part in the show.

The main musical attraction will be the Minute Men Quartet, a barbershop foursome from Auburn, Ind. They will harmonize on familiar favorites and popular songs.

Prizes will be awarded for the oldest and youngest mothers, for the mother coming the greatest distance and for the oldest grandmother. Refreshments will be served and gifts will be presented to each mother.

Berneta Welbaum, vice president, will serve as mistress of cere-

(Continued on page 4)

GOODNESS! I'M BEING ROPED!—cries "cowpoke" L. J. Speicher as Jo Quinn wields a mean lasso. The two have been chosen for the leading roles in the G-E Squares' revue, "Holiday Ranch."

Interdivision, Owl Golf Leagues Begin Playing May 10, 14

The deadline for Owl Golf League entries will be Friday, May 4, Floyd Garland, league manager, announced at a meeting held in the G-E Club trophy room last Tuesday.

The opening day of play has been set for Thursday, May 10, at 9 a.m. at the Brookwood links. Five teams have already registered and three more are expected to complete the field of eight teams.

All team entries are to be sent to Earl Stauffer, Bldg. 17-4. Anyone not connected with a team should also contact Stauffer, Garland said.

Interdivision Golf

Interdivision golf will begin the

(Continued on page 4)

FORT WAYNE WORKS BULLETIN

Subject: PRIMARY ELECTION, MAY 8, 1951

April 27, 1951

Tuesday, May 8, will be Primary Election Day. Polls will be open continuously from 7:00 A.M. to 7:00 P.M., Central Daylight Saving Time.

No change in factory or office working hours will be made on this day. Office employees, supervisory employees and other employees whose duties require them to work after closing time of the first shift of the factory may take time out to vote at some mutually convenient time during the day.

Employees who are working on night shifts will probably wish to vote during the day and will begin work at the regular starting time of their shifts.

It is believed that the foregoing arrangements will meet the needs of the employees and will allow ample time for them to vote. However, if more time is needed, employees may arrange with their supervisors to take whatever time is necessary.

A. Martin

Works Manager

FORT WAYNE WORKS NEWS

Volume 34 Friday, April 27, 1951 No. 17

Lou Rotterman.....Editor
Virginia Molden.....Assistant Editor
K. Marian Davies.....Divisional News Coordinator

Submit that Flash— Collect the Cash!

More and more employees here at the Fort Wayne Works are getting on the Suggestion Band Wagon.

Last week, the Suggestion Committee received 275 ideas, the most ever received here in a single week! Last year, the Fort Wayne Works paid a record-smashing $39,420.50 to 7,383 employees for their innovations. Records are being smashed like atoms at the Company's Knolls Laboratory!

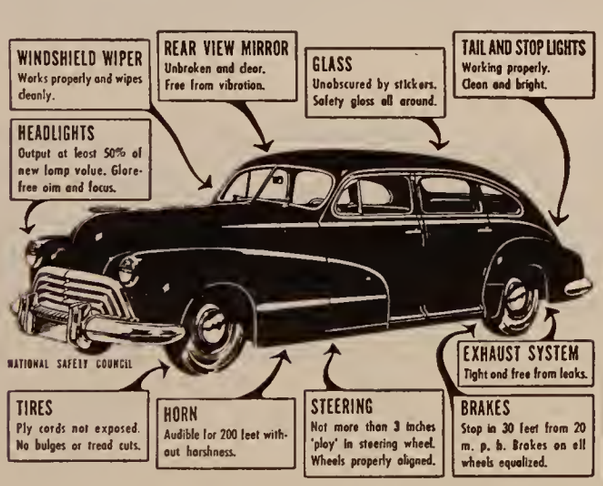
Far from satisfied, however, the Suggestion Committee has sets its sights on an even bigger target this year. They are out to get at least one suggestion from each employee. In short, they want to give each and everyone of us some extra money. With little effort, all of us can be had.

If the idea is a little difficult to put into words or diagram, your foreman or members of the Suggestion Committee will be glad to put your brain child into acceptable form.

Let's make it "One for One in '51."

* * *

Safety Responsibility Important on Highways



Comes spring and every living thing seems to take a new and stronger hold upon Life. Trees blossom, birds return to their nests and young Johnny's heart is full of love. Almost everywhere there is Life—especially on the highways.

Clear roads, sunny skies and fish-packed, blue lakes beckon us on the week-ends to get behind the wheel and drive to our favorite relaxing spot. Too often, some of us don't reach our destinations. Too often, our search for Life is abruptly ended by Death.

Most auto accidents are the results of poor judgment—too high a speed for the road, unsafe passing technique, mixing liquor with gasoline and other bad driving practices. Mechanical failures account for less crippling and killing accidents than do human failures.

Nevertheless, mechanical failures do take their toll.

After the long, severe winter, our automobiles should be thoroughly checked in order to insure safe operation during the coming months of hard driving. Besides the usual oil change, it is wise to check the parts of a car shown in the National Safety Council diagram below:

Words by Walt

"THRILLED"

It seems, the Editor has moved me,
To the editorial page;
But don't get the wrong impression,
I'm no literary sage.

How it happened, is a mystery,
But I'm glad he took a chance,
Haven't felt so all important,
Since I wore my first long pants.

If I'd say I wasn't tickled;
It would simply not be true.
I admit I bubbled over,
For it thrilled me through and through.

And I feel that while I'm at it,
Though, of course, it can't suffice
I would like to thank those people,
Who have mentioned things so nice.

I must cover things in general,
If this column ever clicks.
What I write, must now be written,
For the Works and not Four-Six.

What was once a column fill-in,
For a news-reporting friend,
Now I find is just a solo
I must write, and then defend.

May this column, when you read it,
Always leave you feeling good.
That's my one and only purpose,
And I hope that's understood.

May I always pick a subject,
Not too heavy, not too light,
If I make some wrong deductions,
Hope somebody sets me right.

May I never mix the meter
So it's difficult to read.
If by chance you find a moral
May it prove a fertile seed.

If you don't enjoy poems
Please don't fly into a rage
When you get the News on Friday
Skip the Editorial page.

That I think about embraces
All the things I have to say.
All except this slight addition;
Quite appropriate today.

This has been my introduction
In the role that I've been cast
How I do, must now determine
Just how long this role will last.

—W. L. Whunsetler

new editor

Joan Lindeman Edits "Airliners" Column For Bldg. 6-4 Folks

"Airliners," the WORKS NEWS column recently added to cover the doings in Bldg. 6-4, is under the editorship of Joan Lindeman.

Joan has been with G-E for over a year, starting on the third shift in FHP Motor Div. 17 at Taylor St. and recently transferring to Bldg. 6-4. She moved to Fort Wayne in 1938 from Zanesville, Ind., and attended South Side High School. At South Side she worked on the "Times," school publication.

Joan is married and has two daughters, Cheryl Ann and Cathy Ellen. Her husband, Bud, works in the Wire Mill.

SICK LIST

The following people have been reported on the sick list, dismissed from the hospital and returned to work:

Sick List

Claire Knepple, Clyde Goshorn, Donald Schweyer, Jacob Sappington, Willis Mettler, Reita Martin, Gilbert Jamieson, Eileen Hennen, Glenn Bell, Margaret Bradley, Grace McCullough, Rose Leatherman, Leander Knapp, Ruth Raypole, Helen Riblet, Ed Witte, Emma Voirol, Ruth Thompson, Lloyd Smith, Verl Pribble, Frieda Meyer, Frank Meggison, John Laymon, Sr., Ronald Williams, Esther Muzzilo, Wilma Redding, Dorothy Kuckuck, Margaret Blust, Barbara Hyman, Dolores Hartman, Nayadeen Brown, Ethel Crittendon, George Hill, Doris Jones, Lincoln Chapman, George Hockenberry, Robert Birkenbuel, William Babb, Eugene Carpenter, Bernadine Fortier, Alma Anderson, Mildred Wagoner, John Brandyberry, Glen LaTourette, Albert Watt, Robert Bryant, Vassie Tom, Ruth Fields, Alberta Malcolm, Louis Scherer and Edith Venrick.

Dismissed from Hospital

Garland Farrell, Jo Ann Clibon, John Krauter, John Knuth, Ethel Crittendon, Ruth Fields, Robert Fry, Margaret Page, Willis Mettler, Albert Watt, Reita Martin, Ed Witte, Robert Wylie, Donald Schweyer and Verl Pribble.

Returned to Work

Doris Reiter, Lewis Reith, Barbara Meyer, Geneva Schrock, Hazel Ludwig, Carl Weigman, Erma Poinsette, Mary Stroup, Reba Wilkerson, Ruby Shive, James Templeton, Doris Lontz, Beatrice Shaneyfelt, Joseph Miller, Alfred Wochnker, Viliace Lee, Kathryn Walper, John Poinsette, Tomie Black, Clarence Dick, Clarence Goodpaster, Beverly Krieger, Mildred Greene, Thelma Harter, Betty Hilgemann, Frank Goetz, Ethel Hendrickson, Roy Hively, Helen Gettinger, Roscoe Grover, Marion Geeting, Margaret Gerardot, Mable Binkley, Gustave Dressler, William Boesch, Patsy Auer, Lela Gaunt, Jeanette Huth, Carmen Dominquez, Betty Askren, Esther Bailey, Curtis King and Danelda Dotterer.

Could it be spring fever? Last week, Homer Conrad was talking to someone at his desk when he leaned back. He must have stretched too far. A thud was heard, and everyone looked up to find Homer had fallen off his chair. One day after work Homer accepted a ride home with Ed Cwiklo. Meanwhile, his wife was patiently waiting for Homer and the car keys beside their car in the parking lot. . . . There are several new faces in the Commercial Sales Office, Bldg. 19-3. Ruth Claeson has taken Thelma Williams' place, and Thelma has replaced Goldie Jackson. Josephine Biddle came over from Bldg. 4-6 to work for Bill Weikart and Ted Appelman of the Renewal Parts Section. Josephine is replacing Marjorie Albee. . . . We also have a new engineer, Edward Wabl, in the Sales Office. Ed will replace Paul Gratny, who is going to Cleveland for training and then to Canton, O., as a sales engineer. New, too, is Frank Karkoski from Howell, Mich., (near Detroit). Frank will work on motors in the AC Division. . . . Be sure to get your tickets early for the Annual Squares' Revue. The Squares' production, "Holiday Ranch," will be presented at the Civic Theatre, May 9 and 10. Don't miss Bob Gillum singing in the chorus and Ed DeCrappeo swinging his wife in the square dance. . . . During Helen Coddington Clark's wedding reception, Margaret Norman opened her mouth and stuck her foot in. Helen made herself a corsage from her bridal bouquet. From the flowers left, Margaret, who caught the bouquet, was busy starting a corsage for herself. Meanwhile, the conversation in the rest of the room turned to "who's next to be a bride" and "how to get a husband." At this time, Margaret piped up with, "How do you get started, Helen?" Margaret noticed deep silence over the room and the thoughtful look on Helen's face. Then quickly from Margaret came, "I mean the corsage."

Where's Homer?

OUT OUR WAY

By J. R. WILLIAMS

Elex Officers Hold Meeting in Danville

by Bess Brown

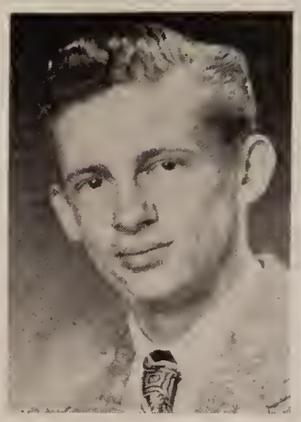
Representatives from DeKalb, Tiffin and Fort Wayne were present at a two-day officers' conference held in Danville, Ill., April 21-22.

Following registration Saturday afternoon, the conference swung into an interesting session with an official welcome from E. H. Woods, Supervisor of Personnel, and DanGe Club advisor. Reports from the presidents of the groups and a stirring message from Irene Meyers acted as a spur for those present and a very timely prelude to the theme of the conference, "Spirit of Growth."

Fort Wayne girls were proud that our own Ab Martin was the principal speaker at the "April Showers Dinner," held in the Junior Ballroom. Louise Dettman served as toastmistress and Mrs. Patricia Brown, president of DanGe, gave the welcome greeting. Don B. Poland, plant manager, E. F. Paul and "Uncle Ike" Freeman gave short talks that inspired the entire conference. Sunday was another gala occasion. It was Uncle Ike's birthday, and, much to his surprise, a large tray with a birthday cake and candles was brought in for the candle blowing ceremony. Birthdays are still fun for Uncle Ike.

Lots of Entertainment

The evening presented no end of attractions. Musical numbers, an acrobatic dance and a film, presented by the Pan American Airlines showing the scenic island of Bermuda, added to the entertainment.



Sunday we were escorted on a tour through the Danville Plant by Mr. Poland. Even though the plant was not in operation, the tour was interesting. Miss Phyllis Epperson was toastmistress at the Sunday luncheon. Each guest was given a lovely nosegay of brightly colored flowers and each place was marked with tiny sprinkling can nutcups for favors.

With the impressive, traditional candlelight service conducted by Irene Meyers, the conference closed.

The DanGe girls won our admiration for a joh well done. DanGe is less than three years old. We feel proud that the influence of Elex was so evident throughout the two-day conference. To Danville we say, "Good work, and a job well done."

Leonard G. Reuss

Harold W. Eggeman

Calvin W. Marhenke

Three Named Foremen in Large M-G

The appointments of three foremen in the Large Motor and Generator Manufacturing Divisions have been announced by R. M. Hartigan, manager of Manufacturing.

Leonard G. Reuss has been named foreman of Second Shift Operations in the Large Machining Section; Harold W. Eggeman has been appointed foreman of Third Shift Operations and Calvin W. Marhenke will serve as foreman of Test on Second Shift Operations.

Mr. Reuss joined the General Electric Company in 1939 in Schenectady. He graduated from the Machinist Apprentice Course in May, 1942, and worked as a toolmaker and production machinist until entering the Army.

Upon his return from service, Mr. Reuss was assigned to Methods Planning and Wage Rate until he joined the Advanced Methods Planning and Wage Rate Program. He had been assigned to the Welded Productions Division in Schenectady until coming to Fort Wayne this month.

Mr. Reuss is married and has one daughter.

Eggeman Began in 1940

Harold W. Eggeman joined G-E in 1940 as an apprentice in the Machinist Course. He enlisted in the Army Air Corps in 1943. When he returned to G-E in 1948, he was assigned to Large-M-G Divisions as a methods planner.

He completed the Manufacturing Training Program in 1950 and was assigned to the Methods Planning and Wage Rate Division.

Mr. Eggeman resides on Flutter Road, R. R. 9.

Mr. Marhenke began working for the Company in 1929 as an electrical tester. He graduated from the Apprentice School in 1935 as a machinist-toolmaker. From 1935 until his present assignment, he has been employed in Large M-G Divisions on various electrical test assignments.

The Marhenkes and their three children reside at 1903 Curdes Ave.

PIRA Group to Hold Bosses' Night May 7

A "Bosses' Night" has been scheduled for Monday, May 7, by the Fort Wayne Personnel and Industrial Relations Association, W. E. Beer, president of the organization, said today.

Ab Martin, Works manager, will give a "Response from the Bosses," and John M. Convery, member of the Industrial Relations Committee of the National Association of Manufacturers, will be the principle speaker. His subject will be "Critical Problems of Industrial Relations in a Defense Economy."

Musical entertainment will be furnished by the G-E Squares' German Band.

For as many as are led by the Spirit of God, they are the sons of God.—Romans, VIII, 14.

Top "Holiday Ranch" Assignments Revealed

(see picture page 1)

The leading roles in "Holiday Ranch" will be played by L. J. Speicher, Taylor St., and Mrs. Jo Quinn, Bldg. 18-5. Mr. Speicher is cast as "Shorty," a tough, likable cowpoke with an aversion to women. Mrs. Quinn plays "Gertrude," a lovesick dude who carries the torch for Shorty. Publicity Chairman J. P. Coughlin declared their roles to be "something new in theatrical romance."

The complete cast of 40 persons includes a wide variety of acting, dancing, music and comedy talent, Coughlin said.

Glenn Seabold, Bldg. 28-2, is directing the chorus in a number of novel and popular western ballads. The square dance is under the direction of Harold Boles, with K. B. Parks, Bldg. 4-6, acting as caller. L. A. Goehring, Bldg. 26-2, plays the part of a Mexican ranch hand. The pit orchestra is under the direction of Bob Sharrow, Bldg. 4-6.

A. L. Johnson, general chairman, reported in a recent interview, that all plans are progressing according to schedule. He said that he is particularly pleased with the tremendous interest exhibited in the musical and the fine cooperation of all participants.

"Holiday Ranch," the annual revue sponsored by the G-E Squares, will be presented at the Civic Theatre Wednesday and Thursday, May 9 and 10, at 8:30 p.m.

Tickets are available to G-E employees now from members of the Squares or at the G-E Club. Beginning May 1, the ticket sale will he open to the general public.

Lisle Hodell Feted At 35th Anniversary

Lisle D. Hodell, manager of the Fractional Horsepower Motor Manufacturing Divisions, celebrated his 35th anniversary with General Electric Friday, April 20.

Several of his FHP-Motor associates honored him at a luncheon. They were L. I. Asher, W. H. Sunier, R. C. Hanna, P. M. Deal, M. E. Lord and J. J. Clarkson.

G-E LIGHTS THE SKY—Shown is the new General Electric sign which was erected this week on the roof of Bldg. 4. Composed of 714 25-watt lamps, the sign is 82½ feet in length. The letters are six feet high and the monogram has a diameter of 21 feet. The new sign replaces the original one which was put up 30 years ago. The super structure was not replaced.

TWO-TIME WINNER—Frank Auer (right) of the General Service Division at Taylor St., shows Wallace Geller the safety glasses which saved his eyes recently when molten metal splashed in his face while working. Frank was wearing the safety glasses which he received in the Navy. Oddly enough, his eyes were saved by G-E safety glasses while he was on duty in the Navy. (See story below.)

Six G-E Employees Get Wise Owl Memberships at Safety Conference

Presentation of Wise Owl memberships to 12 industrial workers was among the highlights of the Northeastern Indiana Safety Conference and exhibit held Tuesday and Wednesday in the Chamber of Commerce.

Sponsored by the Industrial Safety Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, the two-day meeting opened Tuesday with a talk on "Purchasing and Specifying for Safety" by William H. Evans, Schenectady Works safety engineer. Herschel Smith, safety engineer for the Fort Wayne Works, presided at the session.

Tuesday afternoon the principle speaker was G-E Fire Chief E. M. Hanauer, who discussed "What Makes Your Plant Fire Safe." Don Weis, International Harvester plant protection chief, spoke on "Plant Security." Tuesday evening E. C. Liedtke addressed delegates on the subject of "The Importance of Safety in Peace or War."

Works Engineer Speaks

C. M. Summers, Works Laboratory engineer, gave a talk on "The Atomic Bomb and Fort Wayne" following luncheon Wednesday noon. Loyd Bodenhamer, assistant safety engineer, served as chairman for the session.

At the final meeting Wednesday evening, "A New Look in Industrial Safety" was the topic, with Professor Phillip Garman, of the University of Illinois, as speaker. Prof. Garman's talk was preceded by presentation of the Wise Owls Club of America memberships.

To be eligible for membership, an industrial worker must have saved the sight of an eye by wearing goggles or safety glasses while working.

New members are: Paul Morgan, Walter Dane, James Couture and Howard Bowsman, Salisbury Axle Works; William J. Pomp, Monroe Fuhrman, Clarence Wood, James Krupp, James Parker and Frank Auer, General Electric Company; Thomas Neal and Allen Dale Stetzel, International Harvester Company.

The Wise Owl Club is sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce's Safety Council.

Dewey Wickliffe spent the weekend at Danville, Ill., attending an Inter-Cluh conference. . . . Congratulations to Harry Hicks on his new eight pound daughter, Deborah Lee. . . . Amanda Pautsch is nursing a few bruises from falling down stairs. . . . Welcome to our new employees. Robert Tribolet and Darwin Klenke. . . . Speaking of talent. Carlton Peters can crow like a rooster, and at times he seems to be practicing opera. Could a hog calling contest he in the offing? . . . Lend your ear, fellows. Some of our girls are learning to square dance. . . . Birthday wishes to Harry Hicks, Lowell Kelsey and Dewey Wickliffe. . . . Roy Lawrence would be happy to sell you tickets for the Barber Shop Quartette at the Quimby Theater, April 28. . . . This little fellow is now an AC field winder with 31 years of service. He's Henry (Heiny) Muehlenbruch.

Before his G-E days

Wage Raise

(Continued from page 1)

the 40 unions with which the Company has contractual arrangements—can be obtained from the Wage Stabilization Board in order to treat all employees comparably.

Appropriate applications will be filed with the Wage Stabilization Board, according to Vice President L. R. Boulware, who added, "Such increases will be made effective only with union agreement in the case of unionized employees." He stated that various unions representing employees have indicated their intention to accept the wage proposal and cooperate with the Company in obtaining the proposed increase, and that "We are presently negotiating with the other unions."

No Double Standard

"In a previous Company announcement to employees about this approaching situation under stabilization, as in many earlier instances, the Company has emphasized its established policy of taking care of all of its employees on a comparable basis—whether such employees were non-union or were represented by one of several unions, and stated that prompt relief would be sought by the Company from any regulations setting up a double standard for establishing wages of G-E employees," he declared.

In one such prior announcement, Boulware said, "If no general policy has been announced that works automatically, we will of course apply for proper exceptions to see that all our folks are taken care of equally—whether they be non-union or members of the AFL, CIO or various independent unions."

Since escalator contracts which pierce the 10 per cent ceiling do not require Wage Stabilization Board approval, General Electric employees covered by escalator-type contracts probably will have the announced general increase included in their first pay check after May 2, according to a statement issued hy D. L. Millham, Company comptroller.

Because of the work involved in calculating the retroactive pay to March 15, however, the announcement indicated that the retroactive pay will be made as soon as possible, but not later than May 18, 1951.

In the case of increases for all employees other than those covered by an escalator, the Company will set aside an amount equal to the proposed increase from March 15 until such time as the board passes on the Company's application for the full increase.

It has been indicated that the new Wage Stabilization Board will not begin operations until next Tuesday, and the current backlog of cases before the board is such as to indicate that it may be several weeks before the Company's applications can receive the attention of the hoard.

Mothers' Party

(Continued from page 1)

monies for the second shift party. Tickets for the second shift luncheon are $1.25.

"Because it's Elex, you won't want to miss it," Miss Stone said. Reservations may be made with contact girls or at the Women's Activities Offices at Broadway or Taylor St.

Our theme this week could easily be defined as "transferring." Transfers have broken up our gang on Line One. Maggie Perkins and Dorothy Johnson have transferred to days. Mabel Drummond and your columnist have been transferred to placing on Line Three. Ruby Del'ew has been transferred to machine insulating. . . . We wish to welcome two new winders this week, Norma Miller and Evelynne McCullum. We hope you like us, girls. . . . The group here in Bldg. 17-3 wishes to extend its heartfelt sympathy to Willis Mettler, whose wife died last week. Also, Willis, we wish you a speedy recovery from your operation. Willis is recuperating nicely. He was formerly a janitor in Bldg. 17-3. . . . We wish a happy birthday to Willie Everett, who celebrated last week. Willie treated us all to candy bars, which we enjoyed a lot. . . . Stella Rietdorf always gets the hlame when a winding machine on Line One breaks, even though she hasn't been near it. Stella can take it, as her machine is doing better. . . . You should see that girl! Mable looked grand in that lovely new red suit Saturday evening. . . . Esther Verhagen was involved in an auto accident recently. We're glad to hear you weren't hurt Esther. . . . Kay Dolan does right well fixing fancy hair dos. The girls enjoy having her comb their hair. . . . Esther Fox has some of the best color transparencies we have ever seen. They are really good, Esther. They mean a lot to her since they were mostly of her grandchildren.

Golf Leagues

(Continued from page 1)

week of May 14 at Brookwood, Denton Manecke, league manager, disclosed today.

Any team wishing to enter the league this year is requested to contact any of the following managers:

Monday Afternoon League, Fletcher Cumbey, Bldg. 26-2, extension 307; Monday Evening League, Lou Goehring, Bldg. 26-2, extension 640; Tuesday Evening League, Jack Jennings, Bldg. 4-6, extension 707, and Wednesday Evening, Winter St. League, Glenn Schimmele, extension 28-321.

Barn Dance Tonight

The G-E Squares Club barn dance will be held tonight from 9 to 12 p.m. in Goeglein's Barn, Glenn Seabold, publicity chairman, reminded members today.

Paul Weaver will be the caller for square dancing. Tickets are $1 per couple.

Lankenau Retires

(Continued from page 1)

Honored at Retirement

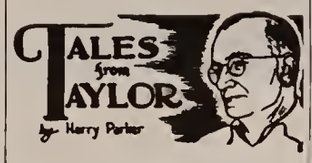
Mr. Lankenau's approaching retirement has been the occasion for many parties and celebrations in his honor. The Decatur Supervisors' Club honored their retiring chief earlier this month with a banquet at the Orchard Ridge Country Club. As a remembrance, the organization presented him a plaque commemorating his 31 years of service at Decatur and a lifetime honorary membership. Mr. Lankenau was also given a modern set of power tools to equip his home hobby shop. The gift included a bench lathe, jig and band saws and drill press.

Goodwill messages and wishes for long years of health in retirement were sent to the Decatur Plant manager by various Fort Wayne Works organizations and were read at the celebration.

J. K. Eady, president of the Decatur supervisory group, presided at the affair and John F. Welch, assistant plant manager, acted as master of ceremonies during the informal program and presentations.

Saturday night, Mr. and Mrs. Lankenau were honored guests at a dinner given by the GeCode Club. The main feature of the party was a skit in which the Lankenau's son and daughter, Herman Lankenau and Mrs. Paul Hancher, portrayed their mother and father hy depicting various highlights of Mr. and Mrs. Lankenau's lives.

Tables for the affair were decorated with wishing wells and spring flowers. A large wishing well concealed the gift which the club presented to Mr. Lankenau. GeCode president Harriet Pollock presided at dinner and Dorothy Schnepf and Rosemary Miller were co-chairmen in charge of arrangements.



Monday of this past week, the 20-year men of the Decatur Plant entertained Mr. Lankenau.

LANKENAU HONORED—E. W. Lankenau is shown receiving an anniversary plaque and lifetime membership certificate from J. K. Eady, president of the Foremen and Supervisors' Club. Toastmaster John Welch is at the left. In the background are the jig and bench saws, part of a home workshop presented to Mr. Lankenau by the organization.

We are proud of our talented associate, Jo Quinn, of Bldg. 18-5, who has the leading lady role in "Holiday Ranch," the G-E Squares' presentation. Jo comes well recommended for this assignment. While in college in Minnesota, she took up dramatics. She says that she was more interested in her major, dental surgery. While she and her husband were in Schenectady, she worked with an oral surgeon who trained her in principles of general anesthesia. Dick Quinn, her husband, has a test engineering assignment in the Wire Mill at Taylor St. They came to Fort Wayne about a year ago from Schenectady and Erie Works. Jo served as president of the Test Engineers Wives Club, and before coming with G-E worked for Dr. Cline, dentist in the Wayne Pharmacal Building. Just as a matter of warning to you, one and all—she has a hobby—believe it or not she collects teeth (she says from various dentists) and makes them into necklaces and earrings. She displayed her work at the Hobby Show last week-end and we must say it was attractive. We should all see "Holiday Ranch," and let Jo know how much we appreciate the hard work she is putting in on this revue. . . . WELCOME was extended to John E. Estabrook, who was in from Syracuse, N. Y., last week-end and called on friends at the Plant. . . . We are glad to see Eileen Hennen back to work after two weeks with the "flu" germ. Esther Sears of Bldg. 18-4, recently had a round with the same type of germs—glad you are both better. . . . THOUGHTFUL (?) Olive Smith of Bldg. 18-4, wonders who was so thoughtful to present her with a necklace made of copper wire. . . . NORMAL: Donald House, of Bldg. 18-2 is slowly regaining his normal complexion. You see he recently joined the F. S. C. (Floor Sitters Club). . . . Estel Monroe of Bldg. 18-1 has not quite returned to normal. It seems that she installed a sunlamp in her bathroom and has made regular trips to the Dispensary the past week, as a direct result! . . . BIRTH ANNOUNCEMENT: Jean Edwards of Bldg. 18-1 has proudly announced the arrival of three kittens at her household. . . . FLORIDA: Marinell Bosserman and her husband are enjoying a short vacation in Sarasota, Fla. . . . CHICAGO: Margaret Tennisen and her husband enjoyed the week-end in Chicago. She reports that Maxwell Street is still operating in full swing. . . . HAPPY BIRTHDAY: Last week Herbert Kammeyer celebrated his birthday, and Monday Perry Esterline celebrated his birthday with a lovely birthday cake. . . . SPRING CONFERENCE: The officers and sponsors of Elex met in Danville, Ill., over the week-end for the Spring Conference. All reports were enthusiastically favorable from those in Bldg. 18 who attended. Mr. Martin gave the evening address Saturday. Mr. Freeman, Irene Meyers, Veora Habig, Lois Miller, Hazel McDougall, Margory Meyer, and Thelma Stone, president of Elex, also attended.

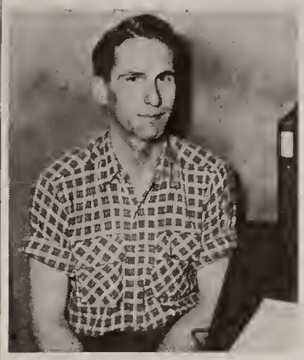
Joe Schible was the target of many jibes last week. They were brought forth by the wild-looking shock of hair that adorned his head. He took it good-naturedly for several days, then appeared upon the scene minus hair. Actually he looked like a peeled onion. When asked why the close cropped dome, he stated that he did not want the gang to kid him any more about looking like the Pennsylvania River Brethren. . . . Russell Lee has been driving his wife's new Dodge to work while his old jalopy is undergoing a face lifting job. It seems that Russ expects his wife to keep the tank filled with gasoline since it is her car. He found out the other morning that she did not plan it that way. Russ ran completely out of go-water on his way to the plant and had to stand off a filling station attendant for a tank full of gas. . . . The other day, William Mauger reported that he had plowed up a gigantic bomb on his land and is at a loss to explain its presence there. Of course, this happened a year ago, but he just got around to telling us about it. Why the secrecy? We do not know. He said that he pulled the detonator and dumped said bomb in the Wabash River. He also said that he was certain that it was a Russian blockbuster, as it had Joe Stalin's picture engraved upon its side. . . . Billie Whitlow was observed coming out of the City Traffic Department offices. She had a very disgusted look upon her face. When asked why the sour expression, she explained that she had to go to bat for her husband who had parked their car the wrong way on a one-way street. Well, one learns by experience.

BEGINS 31ST YEAR—Harley L. Urbine, Bldg. 19-2, (third from right) is shown tearing a page off the calendar to begin his 31st year with General Electric. He completed his service Thursday, April 12. Several of his co-workers gathered to offer their congratulations. Left to right are Emmet Zollinger, R. M. Hartigan, C. W. Hale, Mr. Urbine, Russell Prince and Lee Anderson.

We all wish Eddie Dauseher and George Christman many more happy birthdays. A thank you goes to both for the delicious candy treat. . . . We are very happy to report John Laymon and Donald Schweyer are recovering from their operations as good as could be expected. . . . Group 15 wishes Calvin Kiester great success in the lumber business he proposes to enter very soon. . . . Carl Nolan plans to move into the city. Being one of Mack McConnehey's riders, it will undoubtedly affect that overhaul job of Mack's. . . . Henry Blume seems a little confused about weights. Hank believes that a ton of feathers is heavier than a ton of steel. . . . I am sorry Fred Menniwisch was disappointed in not seeing a special item in last week's News. . . . Paul Noffze has insinuated to Fred Wellensiek that he make this trip to Germany this summer a one-way trip. Fred seems somewhat disturbed over this suggestion whether Paul was sincere or not. . . . Ravella Shepherd has a brand new batch of geese at his place. He even had a four-legged one. Shep says he is keeping his eye on his ex-pal Joe Krider, because if there is any profit to be made from geese, he would use it himself this time. . . . Our buddy and editor, Robert Bunyan, observed his birthday last Monday. Good luck and thanks for the treat, Bob. . . . Glenn Kaylor's nephew, Donald, arrived home last Saturday from Ft. Campbell, Ky., on a three-day pass from the Paratroopers. . . . Williams Yeiter must have heard of a beauty contest in the city. He is now sporting what appears to be a permanent. Bill really looks sweet, too. . . . Orliss Royer would get this hair waved too if he could find enough. . . . Watch this column for a very good pickle recipe to be published very soon.

"Finders keepers, losers weepers," says Velora Drury. She found a dime and a penny under her table. . . . We have a report from Doris Jones that she is getting along okay since her accident. We wish you a speedy recovery and that you will soon be back to work. . . . Will someone please give Alma Raymer a suggestion how to develop her lungs. . . . Ruth LaPradd attended a wedding reception Saturday night at the Log Cabin. . . . Where did you go last Saturday, Jack Craft? . . . Clara Koomler got slightly mixed up when she took her key to unlock her drawer and tried to unlock the light switch to turn it on. . . . Violet Rinkenberger was happy the other day. She received a radiogram from her son, Dick, in Japan. . . . What's this we hear about Bill LeCoque raising goats for milk? . . . We wish to welcome Marilyn Hardisty to our division, and also Margaret Rollins and Flo Cochran, two new winders. . . . Mary Stewart says she has her fourth beginner's driving permit. This time, she hopes to take her driving test. . . . May Boyce is in the painting business. At the rate she is going, she will soon be done, ready to help anyone else needing a lift.

Inquiring Reporter:



"WHAT IS YOUR OPINION OF THE PRESIDENT'S RECENT ACTION RELIEVING GENERAL MacARTHUR OF HIS COMMAND IN THE PACIFIC?"

ALFRED H. TOPP

Bldg. 26-4

"In the best interests of this country and everyone in it, I think Truman should fire Dean Acheson, should reinstate MacArthur, and then resign himself."

HAROLD SPEELMAN

Taylor St.

"I believe the President had the right to make this move, but he should have asked Congress for their opinion. As for the best interests of the United States and all concerned, I think MacArthur should have been retained in command."

MARGE MURPHY

Bldg. 4-6

"I believe he made a mistake by releasing him. I cannot see how the President can tell a man with all the military experience of MacArthur when and how to win the war in Korea. That's why we have military leaders."

ERNA ELEY

Bldg. 31-1

"The President, as commander-in-chief, was within his rights in relieving General MacArthur of his command in the Pacific, but I consider the move ill-advised, unjust and undemocratic."

E. WOODROW HURSH

Bldg. 19-4

"I am in favor of the President's action because he upheld the principles of the Constitution of the United States by keeping the control of foreign policy in civilian hands and not in the hands of military personnel."

HOBBY SHOW SCENES—Shown above are several candid pictures taken at the second annual G-E Club Hobby Show last Saturday and Sunday. More than 2,500 people attended the two-day exhibit. The show included displays of over 75 hobbies ranging from cats to trains, needlework, woodwork and a variety of other subjects.

Club's Second Annual Hobby Show Attracted Enthusiastic Crowds

by Earl D. Stauffer

"Grand show—wonderful exhibits—really nice" were among the varied favorable comments overheard by this reporter from the 2,500 people viewing the huge second annual G-E Club Hobby Show held last week-end at the Club Gym.

Without taking anything away from last year's show, this year's exhibits were better planned and better presented. It would be difficult to say which of the displays commanded the most attention because the spectators looked over each with delight and interest. The entertainment by the Rhythm Rascals and the sleight of hand performed by the Fort Wayne Magicians' Club were also enthusiastically received.

All the exhibitors deserve the heartiest congratulations for their fine efforts and willingness to participate in this long-to-be-remembered event.

If you feel like seeing something different in the way of entertainment; if you feel like taking a holiday; by all means don't miss "Holiday Ranch." Once a year the G-E Squares present a musical production. If you have ever seen them, I don't need to tell you that they are good. I'm here to give you a sneak preview of who's who (in our division) in "Holiday Ranch." There's going to be a chorus, a cowboy chorus. The chorus boys from our division are G. E. Walters, R. J. Hirth, P. A. Vance, G. A. Rowley and R. G. Culp. Lou Goehring (from now on we call him Pedro) is doing a Mexican routine, and knowing Lou you'll agree that it's bound to be good. Three of "The Voices" in the quartette are G. E. Walters, R. J. Hirth and G. R. Culp. Bob Triplett, besides being the "brains" of the outfit, will sing a solo (girls are requested not to swoon). Joe Coughlin is handling publicity. Don't forget to order your tickets now, because I'm sure you won't want to miss "Holiday Ranch." . . . This week we say goodbye to Reece Gwillim. Reece is leaving us to take a position in the San Francisco office. We certainly hate to see you leave, Reece, but we wish you the best of everything in your new position.

Better get a bottle of liniment ready. With garden making and housecleaning time coming up, you'll have muscles ache that you didn't even know you owned. . . . SURPRISES: Norman Current was surprised to find he was sitting on the floor instead of being on a chair. . . . Luella Knoche was surprised to find she had carried a sack of garbage to work. . . . The Harold Kiel's were surprised to find they were locked out of the house. He is going to carry a can opener from now on. . . . Bob Griffin's wife was surprised when little Junior revealed her pin-money hiding place to Bob. . . . A surprise potluck was held for Madonna Maldeney. She left us last Friday for a full-time housekeeping job. . . . We were surprised to see Jane Meyers doing the latest dance steps. She is taking dancing lessons now. . . . Mary Jane Redding almost drove to work Saturday, but her car wouldn't start. . . . Kate Weigele got a good whiff of some cheese Jess Hahn brought to work. She isn't so sure that it was fertilizer in the basement of his home that was causing a terrible smell. . . . Little Olga is now at the Steve Kalynyczenko home. Congratulations to the new papa and mama. . . . Our "we wish you happiness" mat is out for Margaret Swain, who changed her name to Wolcott. . . . Birthday greetings to Leona Hollis and Mabel Buker. . . . WANTED: One good used television set. Contact Hazel Lockwood. . . . It's hello to all our newcomers. Hope your stay with us is pleasant. . . . We're glad to hear that Harold Bowker is getting along fine after his recent operation. He appreciated all of our cards. . . . DON'T FORGET DEPT.: Tonight is the "Tulip Time Party." Don't forget to come and bring your own cards. . . . Tomorrow night our clocks advance an hour. . . . Don't forget to pass along all your news items to your reporter.

Fort Wayne, April 23, 1951

Mr. Lynn Wingerter
General Chairman, G-E Club 1951 Hobby Show
Taylor Street

Dear Lynn:

You, and the members of your committee and all those who participated in the 1951 Hobby Show, are to be congratulated for all the effort and thought which went into making this year's show a success.

I know from my own personal experience and from the comments of many people whom I talked to about the show that the many and varied exhibits were well worth anyone's time to see.

The G-E Club can certainly be proud of sponsoring this type of show.

Dick Kent

R. W. Kent, President
G-E Club

GENERAL ELECTRIC
NEWS SUPPLEMENT

Candid Camera

VOLUME 16 APRIL 27, 1951 No. 4

Glamour Department... Schenectody Works News stoff member Louise Boyko (left) interviews Sue Eostmon, Glamour mogazine foshion consultant. During her visit to Schenectody, Miss Eostmon gove o talk to Generol Electric women on the lotest spring style trends with speciol hints for women in industry.

In The Basket... For the second stroight yeor, the "Aces" coptured the GE Interdeportmentol Bosketboll Leogue championship ot Switchgeor Divisions, Philo. From left: Grohom Quinn, Sam Hunter, Horry Weidmon, Bob Munns, Roy Hosselquist, and Al Urevick.

Hit Skit... With their "Two Little Words" sketch, these Product Service employees copped first prize during Engineers Association Skit Night held recently ot the Bridgeport Works. Emil Moresz mokes time with "olluring" Som DeLisi in scene from winning skit.

His Dad's Hobby... Young Ronold, son of photographer Al Miller of Fitchburg Works, displays his father's nearly-finished model of a DC-3 airship. His dod olso built o model of a gasoline-powered speedboot, which took neorly 500 spore-time hours to complete.

Red-Hot Firemen... Fort Wayne Works recently took second place out of 82 industries in the United Stotes and Canada for its year-round fire prevention work. Works Manoger Ab Martin presents the certificate of merit to Fort Woyne Works Fire Chief Ernie Honouer. Directly behind Mr. Martin is Plant Police Chief A. R. Vegolues. Fort Woyne Works fire inspectors ore, from left to right: Robert Gebhart, Howard Colby, Arthur Seidel, Gerald Rodmon, Wolter Seidel, Harold Smith, Merle Morkoetter, and Ira Dennis.

Helping

For each employee, the pragrom starts when the Payrall section notifies the personnel manager thot he will be eligible for retirement five years hence. Here Dorothy Page, clerk, colls Walter Flodd's service recard to the ottentian of Leslie Starbard, payrall supervisar.

The personnel monager calls on Walter Fladd's supervisars to discuss the plons for his coming retirement. From left to right are: C. F. Scott, Asst. Mgr. Engineering, A & M Dept.; G. R. Fugal, Personnel Mgr.; F. E. Meade, Supt.; ond J. H. Krasky, Foreman.

C. F. Scott discusses retirement with Walter Fladd. Here, and at later meetings, they review Walter's Campany pensian, Sacial Security, ond ather assets, and campare these with his martgoge payments and ather financial needs. Walter reveals his interest in clack repairing as an ofter-retirement hobby.

As the pragram develaps, G. R. Fugol ond C. F. Scott again discuss Walter Fladd's plans. By this time Walter has arganized a clock repoir center in his basement.

When it becames apparent that Wolter is planning a very active after-retirement pragram, plant physicion Dr. F. T. Oberg checks ta make sure that his physicol condition will stond it.

Becouse of his interest in clocks, Walter is put in cantact with R. O. Pickes, Manager af the GE clock division at Bridgepart, wha is oble ta answer many af Walter's questians.

Employees Plan Ahead for Their Retirement

A PROGRAM in human relotions which is proving popular among employees neoring retirement age is now under way ot the Bridgeport Works. Developed from the ideo that "graduation" from industrial employment can be a satisfying experience for pensioners, this pre-counseling program is proving effective in assisting employees to make sotisfactory plans for retirement.

The program's objective is to encourage employees nearing retirement to toke a positive attitude toword their retirement; in setting up an after-retirement budget and in shaping their after-retirement plans; and to help them, both before and ofter, in making the necessary readjustment thot comes with retirement.

In addition to a plonned program of counciling, it has been found thot management can help in many ways to solve the problems thot arise in individuol circumstances.

In order to show how the program is being conducted, a recently-retired Bridgeport employee, Walter Fladd, here demonstrates the procedure followed in his particular case.

Finolly the big doy orrives, os fellow-workers ond supervisors honor him on his last day ot work. No sinking feeling here—Walter's plons for the future ore oll made.

The progrom continues os Employee Service Section supervisor Rudolph calls on Wolter Fladd at his home to deliver his first monthly pension check, and to see how his plons ore working out.

As Walter begins to put his plons into operotion, he colls on R. A. Dute, Product Service Supervisor of the Compony's clock division, who helps him solve mony of the problems which come up.

Recently Bridgeport Works Monoger M. W. Reid ond Personnel Monoger G. R. Fugol dropped in, to find Wolter Flodd happily engaged in his neighborhood clock repair business, from which he is now bronching out to include the repoir of toosters and other smoll oppliances. For Wolter, the months of pre-retirement planning hove poid-off.

Candid Camera

Junior Achievement At Work . . . Manufacturers of the Scotty Dog Night Light, this group of high school students gets assistance from four employees of the Switchgear Divisions, Philadelphia. From left: Michael McKenna; Jim Cox, a production adviser for the group; Joseph Young; George L. Stanford, also a production adviser; James Lorman; O. L. Ansink, the group's business adviser; Bertha Robinson; and George Masland, Jr., who is their sales adviser.

Beef Trust Hoofers . . . This lineup of "girlies" was the hit of "Coney Island," an original musical comedy written and produced by a group of Bloomfield Works employees. Left to right: Pete Hromniak, Fred Arena, Charlie Bill, Carl Cihoski, Jim Casler, Ed Wagner and Gene Moran. The third musical production, sponsored by the Air Conditioning Recreation Association in as many years, played to capacity crowds.

Milestone in Meter History . . . The Somersworth, N. H., Plant is now producing "Certified" Meters, the first time this type of precision measuring device has ever been given a quality guarantee. L. P. Hannaway (left), manager of the plant, presents first I-50 Meter to be certified for quality and performance to D. E. Craig, manager of sales of the Meter and Instrument Department. In center is J. H. Dennis, chief inspector of the Department.

Proving a Tale . . . Daniel Michaels (left) had to bring his prisoner into Schenectady Works to show his doubting fellow workers that he had caught the culprit who was stealing his chickens. He and Tom Cross demonstrate that a possum really does hang by his tail, as Bob Lawrence and Bob Eaton watch.

"Cutting Up" . . . During recent foremen's meeting at Bridgeport Works, guest speaker Clyde R. Powell, public relations director for a shoe company, gave a new twist to a safety lecture with demonstrations of magic and hypnosis. Joan White, Bridgeport Works, still has her hand, although she was reluctant to put it in "guillotine" with which Mr. Powell previously sliced carrots.

In Memoriam

It's still just a little quiet here in Division 17 office this week. We're still trying to get used to the idea that the Boss is gone. He left us rather suddenly, just when we all thought he was feeling much better.

It's not really the Boss we miss; it's the man who sat in the boss's chair. It's the man who always made you feel that your problems were his most serious problem. No matter what your problem was—business or personal—he always had an idea that would help or knew someone who would have. He always had time to listen to what was important to you.

Every once in a while we still look up from the desk and expect to see him standing there smiling and hear him say, "What are you scowling about? You just do the work and let me do the worrying." Or if you stayed around a little late at night, he'd often stop and say, "What's the matter—is it piling up on you a little bit? Let me have some of it tomorrow. They've got me on a rest cure and I haven't much to do." There hasn't been too much hilarity here this week, but every time there was a laugh you would find yourself listening for his laugh with the others. He always liked to laugh and hear other people laugh. It's just another thing we'll miss around here. We'll remember, too, how he used to say in his meetings, "Here's something I want to read to you. I think you'd ought to know it. It shows you what a good job you're doing." If it was a good job, he always said "you" did it; but if things were not just as they should be he'd say, "We're in a jam and here's what we're going to do about it."

He used to come around behind your chair and put his arm on your shoulder and say, "Say, I wonder if you would do something for me." Right away you felt that you had been selected because of your superior qualities for the job. After you finished it and had reported it to him with pride and satisfaction, you sometimes realized it was part of your own job, that you should have done the day before. That was just his way of getting it done.

Yes, we're going to miss the man who sat in the boss's chair. We call him Boss because we were proud to work for him. He had his own name for some of us: Waffle, Sheenigan, Gausenpohl, Banure, Gordo, and many others. We won't hear them again. They wouldn't be the same from anyone else anyway. We'll remember the best moments that we had together and forget the rest—that way there'll be so little to forget.

I want to thank Gordon Smith for expressing the thoughts of all of us here in Div. 17 and putting into words what we all felt for the Boss—Ralph Dennison.

SOMETIMES WE WONDER what the initials of middle names stand for. Here are a few: Lois Marie Connett, Priscilla Ann Thrasher, Wayne Bowman Getts, Herbert Ray Thompson, Harry Elijah Hire, Wilhelm Karl Rohe, Aaron Henry (Porky) Schoenfeld, Orville Austin Doherty, Vaughn Arthur Sheets, Jack Kenneth Heiniger, Mildred Frances Mundt, Ina May Dorsey, Betty Jane Toole, Flawrence Henry Lemper (yes, it's a boy), and Albert Aloysius, your editor. Cute, isn't it? . . . AFTER Amel Beck cut his finger, he wanted a nursery pass. We don't know whether it was to a baby, tree, or old people's home nursery. We surmise it was the latter. . . . LOST: Jack Heiniger is looking high and low for his locker. Can you imagine anyone losing anything as large as a locker? Why don't you offer a reward, Jack? . . . VIRGIL HOWELL wants to learn to play and sing just like our cowboy auctioneer, Joe Taylor. Out of the generosity of his heart, Joe presented Virgil with a toy mandolin to practice on. As to Virgil's voice, go to the wrestling match sometime when he's the referee. Virg grunts more often and louder than the wrestler (especially if a female wrestler kicks him in the shins). . . . LAST SATURDAY Ray Kierspe was seen taking in the farm auctions. When we saw that he didn't buy anything, we asked him what he was looking for. He replied, "A fertilizer fork without a handle." Cut off the handle, curly locks.

By Don Clark

Del Rehm came to work last Wednesday wearing his special chicken feed necktie. The pattern was bluc and white squares and Del claims he uses it to start races at Winchester. . . . Lloyd Welbaum walked home from work one evening only to find his car missing from the garage. He had driven it to work that morning! . . . When Ross Cohagen drove out of the parking lot the other evening, he also towed a car that was parked behind him. Somehow the bumpers were hooked together. Ross didn't know that he was pulling the unoccupied car until someone yelled at him. Then he made the mistake of stopping, and the driverless car continued its momentum, crashing into his tail light. . . . Dick Poehler, apprentice test pilot for Schwinn Bicycle Co., gave his bike its spring tryout. It was thrilling until a loose generator caught the front wheel and gave Dick a nice ride through the air. . . . DIE PLANT: Ralph Baysinger is sort of blue this week. A Ford went around him. . . . Bob Bryan is glad that this week is over. He is looking forward to that extra hour of daylight carpenter work. . . . We welcome Marty Zernick to the Design section and Marjorie Albee to the Planning section. . . . George Luker has the proper method for paying his spring taxes. He does it with a suggestion award. . . . Would you trust your money with a bank whose president kept the records under his bed? That's what George Hartman did when he was president of the Credit Union back in the early days. . . . Congratulations to Kenny Frick in taking the "I do" step in matrimony. . . . We hear that Don Eme and John Hensler have convinced Bob Bryan about his drilling trouble. He was drilling a right hand hole with a left hand drill. . . . Can you imagine John Neukam's attitude the other day as he stepped into a hardware store and someone plunked him on the head with a casting plug? . . . Max Baron is thankful to whoever was kind enough to send him that set of false teeth. . . . Clarence Meeks was very meek and embarrassed after that big sneeze at the drill press. He not only broke the drill, but also his teeth as they went flying down the aisle. . . . When a buyer called at the Jones farm to see a tractor that Russell had for sale, Mrs. Jones told the man to go ahead and look it over since Russell wasn't home. When inspecting the machine the buyer ignored Russell's little daughter's demands that he should "stick 'em up." This puzzled the little girl so she sicked her dog on him. The dog meant business and the buyer had to be rescued from the top of the fence by Mrs. Jones. . . . April 28 is important to Mr. and Mrs. James Ehresman since the source of many exciting events was born three years ago that day in Jean and Jim. The twins really keep Mama and Papa Ehresman busy.

Ehresman Twins

Top Floor TOPICS

Bldg. 26-5

By Jack Lea

Here's a story about Louie Sordelet that few people know. Louie's wife, Alice, plays tricks on Louie occasionally such as loading his cigarettes. Louie was in the rest room smoking a cigarette that his wife had fixed with three loads. The cigarette blew up. Louie, thinking the hot water tank had blown up, beat a hasty retreat. . . . Marge Schaffer just found out Friday why the fire siren blows every Friday at eight o'clock. . . . Did you get a load of that hair cut Bob Beghtel has? He must have owed the barber some money. . . . Les Baker and Paul Haffner would like to arrange a transfer for Buzz Gnau. Buzz has been singing again. This time it's "Would I Love You?" . . . Pat Rooker and Smitty had a head-on collision recently as a result of not looking where they were going. Pat left a perfect, lipstick imprint on Smitty's shirt. How did you explain that to the wife, Smitty? . . . Ned Miller had just filed away the check pool money last week when some character came up with a better hand. Ned said it wouldn't have been so bad if he hadn't already put the money in his billfold. . . . The Blanket Warmer Line held a pot luck in honor of Lois Ellis, who has left the employ of the company. . . . Bessie Johnson is a grandma again! . . . What's happening to this floor? Now Quentin . reiburger is getting married! The date is May 5. . . . According to Stan, Jane Maloney was putting on a demonstration of the art of love making. We won't mention to whom she was supposedly making love. . . . Carl Blair is trying to decide whether to buy a Pontiac or a Belaire. Mark says that better accessories come with a Pontiac. There's a pun there somewhere. . . . Could it be love or just spring? Barbara Shipman seems to be interested in Junior Lovell and also John Sweet! One at a time, Barb. . . . Gardener's hamburgers must be getting better. Lucy, Pat, Barbara, Fred, Carl and Junior went down in a body to eat there. . . . I've heard of this happening before. While Walt Mertz was on that bowling trip, it seems a car stopped for a redlight right in the pedestrian lane. Walt opened the guy's back door, walked through and out the other side! The driver was shocked, to say the least.

14 Supervisors Complete Course In Production

The fourth and final meeting of the Production Supervisors' and Assistants' Course, Group II, was opened with a welcoming address by R. A. Woehr, production manager of Large Motor and Generator Divisions Tuesday, April 17.

Highlight of the two-day session was the presentation of diplomas to the graduates by Mr. Woehr at a dinner at Orchard Ridge Country Club. R. M. Hartigan, manager of manufacturing, was guest speaker at the dinner. A tour of Large M-G Divisions and speeches by F. E. West, purchasing agent; P. S. Stough, manager of engineering; G. M. Murray, purchase analyst; G. D. White, purchasing agent; R. W. Lutticken, supervisor of education; Ab Martin, works manager; I. H. Freeman, supervisor of personnel, and L. C. Swager, assistant to the works manager, completed the program.

PRODUCTION COURSE GRADUATES—Shown at the final meeting of the Production Supervisors' and Assistants' Course (standing l. to r.): A. R. Cook, Johnson City; J. S. Jones, Schenectady; H. R. Dietrich, Philadelphia; R. F. Male, C. B. Anderson, W. K. Small, all of Schenectady; H. F. Arrowsmith, Erie; E. H. Lovequist, West Lynn; L. A. Wuenschel, Erie; W. W. Schaum, Philadelphia. Seated (l. to r.) are W. M. Petrie, Schenectady, G. M. Murray, Fort Wayne, and H. E. Rocklin, Schenectady.

G-E DEATHS

John O. Greider Dies After Long Illness

A retired G-E employee, John O. Greider, 80, died at his home in Auburn at 5 a.m. Wednesday, April 18, following a heart attack. He had been ill for several years.

Mr. Greider joined the General Electric Company in 1909 on SM work. In 1921, he became a rester and reporter in Bldg. 3-3, where he served until 1927 when he was made a foreman in Bldg. 17-1. He retired in 1939.

Surviving are his widow, Mary; two daughters, Mrs. Manford Adams and Mrs. Dwight Sporee, Fort Wayne; eight grandchildren and three great-grandchildren; a brother, Joe, of Phoenix, Ariz., and a sister, Mrs. Margaret Kinnerk, of Fort Wayne.

Funeral services were held Saturday at the Chalfant-Perry Funeral Home with the Rev. Donald Bailey officiating. Burial was in Prairie Grove Cemetery.

Last Rites Held Wed. For Mrs. Lydia Reese

Mrs. Lydia Reese, 48, of 538 Wagner St., died Sunday morning in her home of a coronary occlusion.

Mrs. Reese had been an employee in the Taylor St. Cafeteria since 1946.

Surviving are her husband, Alfred; two daughters, Miss Margaret and Miss Dorothy; one brother, Adolph, Adams County, and one sister, Miss Clara Stoppenhagen, Fort Wayne.

Services were held at 1:45 p.m. Wednesday in the Rodenbeck-Pook Funeral Home and at 2 p.m. in the Concordia Lutheran Church with the Rev. Walter Klausing officiating. Burial was in Concordia Cemetery.

This should be "R. and R.'s Golden Rule:"

Speak no ill, but lenient be
To others failings as your own
If you're the first a fault to see,
Be not the first to make it known

For life is but a passing day;
No lips can tell how brief the stay
Be earnest in the search for good
And speak of all the best we may.

Frank Fogwell went hunting sasafras roots recently and came home with hazelnut roots. Does that make good tea, Frank? . . . Jim Carey, (Shorty) Conner, Mrs. Ray Smith and Ray went bowling. They swear they'll never take Mrs. Smith again. Why? You might know—she beat the daylights out of all three! . . . Roddy Rodemaker pulled a fast one on his little helper. He gave him all the dirtiest motors to dismantle. . . . Florence Fett has named her new DeSoto "the Swan." Now Paul Winters knows why they were going to Franke Park and the woods—to bathe the swan. . . . Mildred Hoover has made plans for a ham party. You bring the bread. . . . Mary Ann Gressley wasn't quite awake one day last week as she purchased an orange from the candy wagon and took two straws with which to eat it. . . . Would anyone with good suggestions for building a lake cottage please come forward. Ivan Ford is very much interested in lake cottages just now. . . . A THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK: The surest way to petrify the human heart is to awaken feeling and give it nothing to do.

I am sorry I misinformed you last week of the departing of Kathy Kitson. She decided to hold over another week so that we could get better acquainted. She will not be here after this week as she said she will take up a few household duties that she has been neglecting. So long, Kathy, and as you say, "I'll be seeing you." . . . In case you want your hat cleaned and blocked, see "Ironing Board Charlie Debolt." They say he is really good. . . . And Joe Burnett, Plant One, is getting real high class. The other eve he went home to change his trousers for lunch. Bill Meeks can give us more details? . . . Barbara "Spareribs" Robinson was working hard the other night and discovered she had lost her box of tickets. She almost didn't get them back, either. . . . Speaking of hobbies, Alice Burdg has one. Yes, it seems as though she dearly loves birds. . . . Art Denig, dispatcher deluxe, lives in Convoy, but he couldn't tell you where. He really doesn't know whether it is the last house or the third one going cast. What's the number of your house, Art? . . . Noami Eyanson Boro'f is the mother of a baby girl born April 12. That makes Mabel a grandma again. Congrats to the mother and the grandmother. . . . Who's the blond working for Mickey? Why that's Barbara Sautter. Hi, Barb, how's everything going. . . . Don Sipe, head packer, was ill a few days this week. He is back now. . . . When the GeCode girls were in Chicago the other week, Barb Robinson had her mind on the hills. All she wanted to do was play hillbilly music on the juke box. . . . When you read this it will be exactly three months until that much longed for vacation starts. It isn't long, but I can hardly wait. How about you? . . . Where is Grant Fry? I haven't seen him in quite awhile. He's probably baby sitting with Jake Hodle. . . . Phyllis Arnold is back with the gang after several weeks of illness. . . . Our sincerest sympathy goes to Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Bodle and family upon the death of their daughter, Marcella. . . . Birthday greetings to Arnold Martin and Ruth Eckrote. . . . Mary Reed is sporting a pretty sparkler. When is the date, Mary? . . . Our cheery get well wishes to Murray Holloway, who is on a sick leave. . . . Hi, Jim Ahr, John Spencer and Bob Stults. Long time—no see. . . . Did you hear that Velma Gohlz is in the market for a new mouse trap? One that doesn't have such a sudden snap is preferred. . . . Birthday greetings to Jerry Gehrig, who celebrates this week. Hope you have many more of them, Jerry. . . . Oh, oh, all ready to snap that picture, but where is the camera? After a hurried inspection, we discovered that Marcia had all the other equipment with her but had left the camera at home. . . . Among those attending the spring convocation banquet in Fort Wayne were Harold Baughn, Cletus Miller, Ralph Stanley and Frank Bohnke. . . . George Heare, grinder in Plant 1, has entered the local hospital for surgery. We wish George a speedy recovery.

WITH G-E 35 YEARS—Frank Braun, Decatur, (seated, second from left, was the guest of honor at a dinner celebrating his 35th G-E anniversary, March 14. Attending the celebration were (seated, l-r), E. W. Lankenau, Mr. Braun, John Welch, Lou Nelson and Charles Langston; (standing, l-r), L. V. Baker, George Laurent, Dwight Girod, Paul Hancher, Ray Johnston and Ray Leitz.

Details From Draftings

26 - 2

By Bonnie Hull

FASHION PARADE ON REVIEW: Les Hahn sports yellow shoes and a green, glow-in-the-dark tie. They tell me he wears the tie so the gals won't have any trouble finding him. . . . Ralph Valentine, our fisherman, is anxiously awaiting warm weather so he can invite the section to a fish fry. I understood you correctly didn't I, Val? . . . Speaking of eats, Tony Kazelis and Jim Hilfiker have been eating so many pork chops that they have decided to grow their own. . . . George Houser is surpassing Harold Smith as the office wolf. . . . Welcome, Irving Anderson, to our section. Andy hails from Boston, Mass. Before coming to Fort Wayne to join the Philharmonic Orchestra, he spent 24 months in the service, 17 of which were overseas. Andy is a graduate of the Boston Conservatory. He sings baritone, plays the tuba, violin, and the viola. Andy has been married four months. His wife, Joan, is a nurse at the St. Joseph Hospital. Lots of luck to our newcomer. . . . We sincerely regret that Ed Ellenburg received no sympathy for the tooth he recently lost. . . . With the bowling season ended, Wendall Miller is getting his Olympic swimming team in shape.

We are sorry that the following people are ill and we wish them a speedy recovery: Rollie Irven, Mary Ellen Moudy, Edna Mapes, Harry Freeman and Audrey Oberley. . . . Happy birthday to Zelma Kuyoth, Frank McMasters, Rollie Irven, and in the Winding Section, Rosie, Lola, Ellen, Dorothy and Lonnie. . . . A hearty welcome to Bonnice Bunting, Phyllis Martin, Mary Grace, Doloris Turley, Edna Faulkner and Mary Mullins. . . . Jay and Aylene Spiece are now living in their new home. . . . Jim Wrisk has a "Bright Yellow Cabin Cruiser" on wheels. . . . Blanche, where did you get that nickname "Gabby?" . . . If anyone needs help with housecleaning, see Bob Carpenter. . . . Dorothy Echer has gone in for big game hunting—mice. . . . Willard Lenz was playing a new game, "Pillow-Pillow, Who Has My Pillow." . . . The office welcomes Larry Schuster. . . . Bill Slater was doing his best to help get warmer weather. He came in one morning wearing a sport coat, but no top coat. At noon it was snowing, and Bill was wishing for his top coat. . . . Welcome back to Ruth Armstrong, Mable Binkley, and Allene Tew. . . . Audrey Oberley had Helen Landrie, Doris Hill and her daughter, Viola Germann, Dorcas Colbert and her son, Mary Reed and Carolyn White out to her house for a chicken dinner and to watch television. . . . Edna DeLaury planned to hear the broadcast of Gen. MacArthur's return. She listened until he got four blocks from the hotel and then the sandman took over. When she awoke the National Anthem was playing. . . . Otto Foltz was baby-sitting with his niece. He failed to watch her, and she got into Mrs. Foltz's perfume. Results: Mr. and Mrs. Foltz slept in the attic, and nobody wants Otto for a baby sitter. . . . Art Rall was seen looking everywhere for a test meter. He finally found it on his test table. . . . Lois Shaw has so much electricity that a light bulb lights up when held against her arm. . . . Preliminary girls are suspicious of Bill Edmunds because he has been agreeing with them. . . . Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Morrill, who are the proud parents of Sandra Jean. . . . We hear Bertha Miller has bees in her bonnet, but she says they know where honey is. . . . We are sorry to hear about the accident of Ralph Foreman's brothers. . . . Anyone interested in hearing radio commercials, see Vi Schnepp. She sings them. . . . Ruth Freeland, can't you find a better fitting jacket than George Brehm's vest? Is George color-blind or does he need a color chart since he calls Lola's tangerine blouse "chartreuse"? . . . Bob Whiehe must have gotten hold of something too hot to handle, for we see he has two burned fingers. . . . Vera Hoover found out Stuckey not only has a solid handclasp but also a greasy one. . . . Art Pequignot treated the girls in his group to a candy bar the day he got his suggestion award.

The Millers

HERE and THERE in BUILDING 17-4

by Maxine Baker

Now that the trees on the west side of Broadway have finally blossomed, spring should have officially arrived. Hooray, we didn't think it was going to make it. . . . Uncle Sam called and Jim Schwartz left us Wednesday to join the service. All our wishes for good luck go with him. . . . Herb Buck is really having a time trying to repair a coo-coo clock. So far the little bird isn't talking. Now if only someone can tell Herb how to cure a coo-coo's laryngitis, all will be well. . . . The girls helped Mary and Maxine celebrate their birthdays with a dinner at the Berghoff Monday. All the girls were wearing those "We're well fed" smiles when they returned, so we know the luncheon was a success. Both Mary and Maxine want to thank the girls for their gifts and the luncheon, too. . . . Jim Smith has been bedded with a throat infection. We're hoping by the time you read this, you will be here to read it, too. If not, we hope he'll be well real soon. . . . Our former co-worker, Marcus Gotsch, was noticed parking his car Wednesday evening. Was the nice policeman telling you how or how not to park it, Marc? . . . Then there are people who take a lighter from Larry Rickert. When they plan on returning it, they find someone has taken it from them. There's bound to be a loser, but who it's going to be worries us.

THRILLS, CHILLS AND SPILLS: Almost everyone always talks about my driving in the parking lot, but Harold Whonsetler says, "If you really want a thrill just ride with Chuck Boyce and Ray Bowers." Harold says they really take his breath away. . . . Another thrill demon is Lyle Clap-han. Lyle forgot to shift his ballast (Ed Brockhall and Paul Boedeker) or he would never have touched that fender he hooked. Boedeker also failed to come through as his co-pilot. . . . Bob RePine gave Hubert Sherlock a cigar for his birthday last week. It was one of those spring filled tricks, and everyone was disappointed because it let go in the Cafeteria before Hubert got back to the group. . . . Ernie Desmonds did a one-meal diet last week when he left his lunch on the bus coming to work, and there was no cafeteria on third shift, either. . . . Don Batchelder isn't passing up anymore phone calls. He thought someone was trying to play a joke on him. . . . Congratulations to Fred Boehm on another birthday.

You are doing your best only when you are trying to improve what you are doing.

No ad will be received over the telephone.

Closing Date

Monday Noon, April 30, 1951

LOST AND FOUND

LOST—Three keys fastened to rivet out of a key case.

LOST—A case knife.

LOST—A one-half inch square white ring stone with an anchor around it. Lost at Taylor St.

FOUND—Man's gold colored ring with black set. Found on a casting in Bldg. 20-1.

FOUND—Plastic powder case with powder puff and powder container. Turned in at Bldg. 18-Gate.

FOUND—Small scatter pin with a cameo and sets around it. Turned in at Bldg. 18-Gate.

FOUND—Small gold colored button. Found near Bldg. 18-Gate.

FOUND—Red wool plaid cap with AFL badge No. 414 pinned on it. Found on Broadway near Bldg. 18-Gate.

FOUND—Brown wool glove with flowers embroidered on top with set in the large flower. Turned in at Bldg. 18-Gate.

FOUND—Green fountain pen with name "Arnold" on it. Found by wood pile near Bldg. 10.

FOR SALE

CLOTHING Silk dresses, wool dresses, wool skirts, size 10 to 14 years, good condition. 1224 Michigan Ave. or E-2769.

BED SPRINGS—For standard size bed, good condition. H-35114.

1949 FORD, CUSTOM—Tudor, radio and heater, undercoat, very clean. A-4556.

MARMOT FUR COAT—Full length, size 12-14, one year old, very good condition. H-64731.

40-LB. PULL BOW—And a dozen arrows with leather arm guard, good condition. H-75544 or 2116 Weisser Park Ave.

GIRL'S BICYCLE—26-in., reconditioned, repainted, new tires, tubes; Chrome breakfast set, linentop, eggshell seat covering. 624 N. Main St., Roanoke, or phone 4054.

24-IN. BOY'S BICYCLE—Excellent mechanical condition; one tire, seat and grips new. $25. A-98772.

DAY-OLD GOSLINGS — Reasonably priced. H-37777.

FIVE-PIECE BREAKFAST SET—With extension; two burner electric hot plate; electric toaster, reasonable. E-3030.

TWO WARM MORNING HEATING STOVES—Good condition; ¾ ton hard coat, priced below cost; six cu. ft. refrigerator. 2417 Oliver St.

MAHOGANY DINING ROOM TABLE—With six chairs, reasonable. A-58211 after 5 p.m. or Saturday and Sunday.

CHROME AND WHITE PORCELAIN EXTENSION TOP TABLE—Red leatherette chairs; ice refrigerator, 50-lb., three compartments, porcelain interior. H-3687.

8 MM UNIVERSAL MOVIE CAMERA—With case, perfect condition. E-40472.

GREEN MOHAIR LIVING ROOM SUITE—Very good condition. A-70695 after 6 p.m.

HOUSE TRAILER—28 ft. Travelmaster, 1949, shower, gas stove, electric refrigerator, like new, priced reasonable, can be seen at Wayne Trace Trailer Park or call H-76083.

HIGH CHAIR—Bassinette, potty chair, car chair, good shape, $12. H-79923.

STORKLINE BABY BED—With matching chifforobe; Detecto baby scales. K-3159.

TWO PIECE MOHAIR LIVING ROOM SUITE—Very good condition, reasonable. A-75026.

TEN NEW STORM WINDOWS—New, white pine, two-pane, size 24"x71½"; three 24"x67½", $3 each; man's riding boots, size 8, $4. A-65015 at noon or after 5:30 p.m.

ALMA TRAILER—Also for sale or trade, two Angora kittens. 1420 East Creighton or H-78244.

TWO BEAGLE PUPS—Ten weeks' old, $15 each. Garrett 528W3.

USED LAVATORY—Standard size, excellent shape, $10. A-76304.

MAGIC CHEF GAS RANGE—Table top model, creme colored enamel. H-48554.

1950 PLYMOUTH—Special deluxe, four-door, 7100 miles. A-36333.

1936 TERRAPLANE—Four-door, good tires, good running condition; Hoover sweeper. H-57912.

1947 MOTOR BIKE—Good condition, $50. H-78191 or 4643 Calumet.

FOUR MILK COATS—526 E. Pettit.

1948 CUSHMAN AIRBORNE SCOOTER—A-1 shape. H-67374 or 3122 Robinwood Drive.

1937 PACKARD CONVERTIBLE—Good condition, reasonable. H-46511.

1941 FORD TUDOR—H-57644.

BLOND MODERNISTIC BRIDGE LAMP—$5; two chrome and black torchiers, $15, all in excellent condition. H-8792.

ONE OUTSIDE STAIRWAY — 2217 Thompson or A-40901.

WAFFLE IRON — With indicator. H-76804.

SINGER ELECTRIC SEWING MACHINE—Good condition, walnut cabinet, reasonable. Markle 185-5R.

Vets' Meeting Slated

The G-E World War Veterans' Association will hold a membership meeting Wednesday, May 9, at 7 p.m. in the G-E Club Auditorium. Ed Martin, president, said the membership will vote at that time on the proposed changes to the constitution.

WANTED

ART WORK—And lettering, rates reasonable. A-56371.

GIRL'S BICYCLE—or long tricycle for girl age 6. H-15439. Saturday or Sunday.

YOUTH BED—Or single bed. K-3316.

BINOCULARS—Willis Bunyan, Sandpoint Road.

ELECTRIC SEWING MACHINE—Prefer maple or mahogany cabinet in good condition. H-64731.

TYPEWRITER — In fair condition. H-35881.

FOR RENT

THREE ROOM UPPER APARTMENT—With private bath and entrance, adults preferred. H-9781.

TWO VERY CLEAN AND COMFORTABLE SLEEPING ROOMS—Two blocks from G-E. A-79305.

MISCELLANEOUS

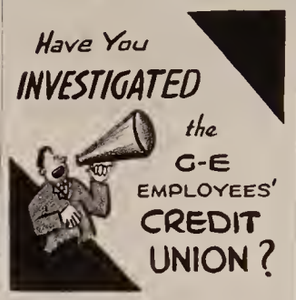
STARTING A CARPENTER SHOP FOR GRADE SCHOOL BOYS—Will gladly pick up donations and new or used tools. H-58515.

WILL CARE FOR BABY OR SMALL CHILD—My home days, Southeast, K-3524.

WILL CARE FOR CHILD—Or children in vicinity of 1000 block of East Berry. E-32472.

TRANSPORTATION

WANTED RIDERS—From State Road 224 or north on day shift. Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Chrystler, work for John Hollaway at Taylor St. and Kenneth Hyman, Bldg. 17-2.



WANTED RIDERS—Second shift, from Garrett to Broadway and Taylor St. plants. Richard H. Bartels, R. R. 1, Garrett, Ind.

WANTED RIDERS—From Garrett on first shift. Don Dickson, Bldg. 4-5, Extension 343 or Garrett 528W3.

WANTED RIDERS — From Columbia City to Taylor St. plant, 6:48-3:18. James Gambrell, FHP Div. 13 Taylor St., works for Ralph Dunlap, Columbia City, 2095W.

WANTS RIDE—From St. Joe Road to Broadway plant. Edna Faulkner, Bldg. 26-3, works for Ed Lauer from 3:30-11:43, Extension 413 or A-67119.

The Commies want peace in the world, piece by pieee.

Bond Law

(Continued from page 1)

compounded semiannually, for the 10-year period.

Q. Wasn't this always the case?

A. No. Before the law and Treasury regulations were changed, an E bond could draw no further interest after maturity. If the bond was cashed in and the money reinvested in a new E bond, the interest would be low for the first few years. The bond would draw less than one per cent for the first two years. The interest rate would gradually increase. If the bond were held for the full time of 10 years, then the yield would be equivalent to 2.9 per cent compounded semiannually.

Q. Why was the change made?

A. The higher interest for bonds held beyond maturity is expected to induce owners to hold them. An owner can get face value plus 2½ per cent for each year beyond maturity. For example, an E bond purchased 10 years ago for $75 now is worth $100. If held two years more, it will bring $105. But if kept for 10 years from now, it will bring $133.33.

Q. Why was the change made at this time?

A. The change was made now because Series E savings bonds begin to mature on May 1. Unless owners were given an incentive to hold these securities, they would begin to cash them, and might not reinvest in Government bonds. Altogether, E bonds with a value of 1.1 billion dollars become due this year. And in 1952 bonds worth 3.9 billion will reach maturity. Total value of E bonds outstanding is nearly 35 billion. Many additional E bonds were cashed before maturity.

Q. Will the owner need to exchange old bonds for new?

A. No. He will just keep the old bond, as the extension of interest is automatic. When he redeems it, the total interest will be figured by the bank or agency redeeming it. He will get interest based on the face value.

Q. Can a matured E bond be turned in for another type of U. S. bond?

A. Yes. It can be exchanged for a Series G savings bond. These are pay-as-you-go interest bonds. They pay 2½ per cent interest, mailed semiannually to registered owners. G bonds mature in 12 years.

Q. Can these G bonds be cashed in at face value?

A. Yes. G bonds received in exchange for matured E bonds can be turned in at face value any time after six months. In this they differ from other G bonds, which bring less than face value if the buyer cashes them in before 12 years. However, with the interest and the cashed-in amount that he receives, an investor always gets back what he put into a G bond. And in most cases, he receives more. Thus, an investor who held a G bond that cost $1,000 for the full 12 years would get back a total of $1,300.

Q. Can anybody exchange E bonds for G's?

A. He can if he has enough matured E bonds. G bonds for exchange will be in denominations of $500, $1,000, $5,000 and $10,000. A person must have matured E bonds worth at least $500 to make an exchange.

Q. Who can make the exchange?

A. Exchanges will be made by the U. S. Treasury and by any Federal Reserve Bank or branch. Exchange of E bonds for G's must be requested within two months after the month of maturity. However, a succession of maturing E's may be accumulated up to 12 months if exchanged within two months after the final E bond's maturity.

According to J. D. Lockton, treasurer of General Electric, a substantial number of savings bonds owned by employees and held by G-E's Treasury Department for safe keeping begin to mature on May 1. He said the Company will contact the owners of all these bonds to learn whether they should be retained in safekeeping and continue to draw interest on the face value or be exchanged for G bonds.

OPTIONAL EXTENSION OF UNITED STATES SAVINGS BONDS—SERIES E

TABLE OF REDEMPTION VALUES AND INVESTMENT YIELDS RELATING TO EXTENDED BONDS

Table for the 10-year extension period showing: (1) How bonds of Series E, by denominations, increase in redemption value during successive half-year periods following date of original maturity; (2) the approximate investment yield on the purchase price from issue date to the beginning of each half-year period; and (3) the approximate investment yield on the current redemption value from the beginning of each half-year period to extended maturity. Yields are expressed in terms of rate percent per annum, compounded semiannually.

								Approximate investment yields[1]
Extended maturity value	$13.33	$33.33	$66.67	$133.33	$266.67	$666.67	$1,333.33
Original maturity (or face) value	10.00	25.00	50.00	100.00	200.00	500.00	1,000.00
Issue price	7.50	18.75	37.50	75.00	150.00	375.00	750.00
Period after issue date	(1) Redemption values during each half-year period							(2) On purchase price from original issue date to beginning of each half-year period	(3) On current redemption value from beginning of each half-year period to extended maturity
10 to 10½ years	10.00	25.00	50.00	100.00	200.00	500.00	1,000.00	2.90%	2.90%
10½ to 11 years	10.12	25.31	50.62	101.25	202.50	506.25	1,012.50	2.88	2.92
11 to 11½ years	10.25	25.62	51.25	102.50	205.00	512.50	1,025.00	2.86	2.94
11½ to 12 years	10.37	25.94	51.87	103.75	207.50	518.75	1,037.50	2.84	2.97
12 to 12½ years	10.50	26.25	52.50	105.00	210.00	525.00	1,050.00	2.82	3.01
12½ to 13 years	10.62	26.56	53.12	106.25	212.50	531.25	1,062.50	2.81	3.05
13 to 13½ years	10.75	26.87	53.75	107.50	215.00	537.50	1,075.00	2.79	3.10
13½ to 14 years	10.87	27.19	54.37	108.75	217.50	543.75	1,087.50	2.77	3.16
14 to 14½ years	11.00	27.50	55.00	110.00	220.00	550.00	1,100.00	2.75	3.23
14½ to 15 years	11.12	27.81	55.62	111.25	222.50	556.25	1,112.50	2.74	3.32
15 to 15½ years	11.25	28.12	56.25	112.50	225.00	562.50	1,125.00	2.72	3.43
15½ to 16 years	11.37	28.44	56.87	113.75	227.50	568.75	1,137.50	2.71	3.56
16 to 16½ years	11.50	28.75	57.50	115.00	230.00	575.00	1,150.00	2.69	3.73
16½ to 17 years	11.62	29.06	58.12	116.25	232.50	581.25	1,162.50	2.67	3.96
17 to 17½ years	11.75	29.37	58.75	117.50	235.00	587.50	1,175.00	2.66	4.26
17½ to 18 years	12.00	30.00	60.00	120.00	240.00	600.00	1,200.00	2.70	4.26
18 to 18½ years	12.27	30.67	61.33	122.67	245.33	613.33	1,226.67	2.75	4.21
18½ to 19 years	12.53	31.33	62.67	125.33	250.67	626.67	1,253.33	2.79	4.17
19 to 19½ years	12.80	32.00	64.00	128.00	256.00	640.00	1,280.00	2.83	4.12
19½ to 20 years	13.07	32.67	65.33	130.67	261.33	653.33	1,306.67	2.87	4.08
Extended maturity value (20 years from issue date)	13.33	33.33	66.67	133.33	266.67	666.67	1,333.33	2.90	....

[1] Calculated on basis of $1,000 bond (face value).

Dorothy McCoy has left our office and is now working in Bldg. 6. She had worked in Stationery nine years, and it will seem a little strange not seeing her there. A dinner party was held Wednesday noon for Dorothy, and the gang presented her with a little gift. Don't forget to come back and see us once in a while. . . . We are sorry to hear that Harold Miller is off work again due to illness. We all wish you a speedy recovery. . . . We welcome Denelda Dotterer to our office and hope you like working here with us. . . . Heiny Guenther is getting to become one of the expert woodworkers in artcraft. Heiny's display at the Hobby Show was a good example. Incidentally, what is that growing on your upper lip, Heiny? Something new has been added. . . . Congratulations are in order for Melvin Rose, who is the proud father of a baby daughter. . . . Doyle Huffman has started the plastering in his new home on the Winchester Road and should be ready to move in by June. Doyle has built this house himself and should feel very proud. . . . Cecil Strong has a new truck now and is contemplating the spray business. . . . The biggest news is that Mac has become the ideal grinder. How come? . . . Fishermen are advocating no Saturday work. Reason: Fishing season is coming up. . . . George Earl is very unhappy. His wife is having their home done over—by him.

Gerald Gehl has returned to Bldg. 4-1. Good luck, Gehl. . . . Denver Coolman has come to first trick to help in our Repair Section. . . . Owen Winters broke ground for his new home in Roanoke. Winters says, "Enlistments are in order now, and draftees will follow." . . . We welcome Robert Winkler to our Inspection Section. . . . Congratulations to Harry Richardson on the arrival of a grandson. . . . We wish a speedy recovery to Freda Meyer, who is ill, and also Bill Harrison, who entered the hospital for surgery. . . . Rita Bowman can really mess up a floor in a grand way. Ask Rita for information. . . . In our time we have seen a lot of artists draw pictures, but Bob Hosier takes the prize. He takes real fruit, arranges it on the table and you can't tell whether it's a picture or the real thing. . . . All that light and sparkle from the Test Section is caused by the beautiful diamond Ruth Leverton is wearing. Best wishes, Ruth. . . . Lucky Charlotte Blauvelt just had a week's vacation. She cleaned house, so perhaps she wasn't so lucky after all. . . . Joyce Boyd had a bit of remodeling done on her home. . . . We're glad to have Evie Creigh back on our line again after her absence. . . . Marvin Vanskyock got his house all turned around and came into work an hour early. . . . Ethel Koontz had a very good time in Indianapolis over the week-end. . . . Welcome back to George Miller, who has been gone two weeks for naval training. . . . We are glad to have Anna Harding and Katherine Kral working with us. . . . Fern Smith is also back with us. . . . Stella Evans finally got to see her new granddaughter. Her son arrived home Thursday. . . . A speedy recovery to Bertha Steele, who is in the hospital. . . . We welcome Joyce Passwater to our group. . . . Ruby Debolt sure is getting lazy. She went to get a drink. All she did was lean over. Nothing happened. No one told her she had to step on the pedal. . . . Congratulations to Leaman Huffman on a new granddaughter.

You haven't lived until you've heard Martha Scott's rendition of "She's Never Been Kissed." . . . Barbara Ray and Jim Klinger don't like salt water, especially when Amy Dull fixes it. . . . We welcome Merl Keesler and say goodbye to Dick Clancy. . . . We're glad to see Eleanor Gligor and Angie Mello on nights. . . . Nina Kougel had to search the floor for enough bobby pins to put her hair up. . . . We extend our sympathy to Clarence Norris in the death of his father-in-law. . . . Happy birthday to Martha Scherzinger and Mary Reuter. . . . A speedy recovery to Eleanor Hoffman's, Kenny Miller's and Thelma Kouder's sons. . . . Bea Webster and Delores Johnston have a secret pal named Harvey. And speaking of Harvey, we haven't seen Doris Stearns Harvey for a while. . . . We are happy to report that Maxine DiGregory is coming along fine. . . . We welcome Doris Garr and Leona Yarbrough to Group 1x29. . . . Pearl Michaels got a good trade-in on her purse. . . . Jo Lee Zimmerman left her purse at work and had to return at 1 a.m. for it. . . . Vida Craft is taking no chances on being tired. Have you seen that cushion? . . . Leah Coolman is fed up on ready roasted chickens. From now on, Leah will fix her own. . . . "Muscles" Norris is always showing off his wife's baking. . . . Martha Bulleit saw her work go up in smoke. She tatted for hours and then by mistake, burned it up. . . . Jo Lee Zimmerman gives good interest on Evaline's quarter. In return, she brought in a 69-cent candy bar. . . . Mildred Clevenger has quite a time changing shoes. Mildred wore her good shoes to work. She took them off and put the same ones back on three times.

TRANSFORMER TATTLES

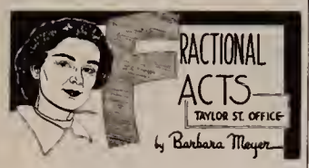
By Gladis Getts

Goodbye to Faye Misner and Ellen Armstrong. Hello to Retta Biddle. . . . Orie Cagnet wanted to talk to John Bryne, so he called John on the phone. Their desks are 10 feet apart. . . . Type M Winding Section welcomes Wayne Blakchedge, James Turner and Don Coolman. . . . Sam Dailey is on the sick list again. . . . Best wishes to Pat Moran and John Hockaday, who were married April 21. . . . Our floor now has two TV experts, Oral Hyser and John Mueller. . . . Otto Braun, Frank Schlotter and Mel France would make good accountants. How many times did you have to count those units before you discovered there were 78? . . . Therese and Roy Lindenberg got their new Pontiac and Therese told him that they were going to keep this car in good shape. She also was going to show him how to do it. How much did it cost to have those fenders hammered out, Therese? . . . Jack Sweet has a collection of mice. Jack says that each family has a right to its own little home. He has our wastebaskets lined up like a housing project. . . . Novella Pape, Norma Baker and Joe Fosnaugh had birthdays this week. Joe arrived home three and one-half hours late for his dinner. Of course, the party being a surprise, Joe was unaware of it, and worked overtime. . . . Vera Everett's head scarf was snatched up by the air vents. She thought she might rescue it as it floated out over the building. . . . Ray Duff nearly begged for a garage. Then after getting one, he parked his car in the lot for two weeks. . . . We wish that Archie Rian knew how to pronounce words with more than three letters in them. . . . Rumor tells us that Al Topp's wife would be pleased if Al would get out of bed long enough to eat his meals Saturdays. . . . So, leaving my co-editors, Ralph, Ginny and Anne, looking for news for next week, I'll just sneak away for awhile.

It was the prettiest crimson color you ever did see. What was? LeRoy Cook's face was red when he got caught imitating the boss in the office. Maybe we should call LeRoy, "Mac the Second." . . . Frank Enderle's life-long ambition is to be a railroad engineer. In order to realize this ambition, Frank is buying himself a train set next Christmas. . . . By the way, Frank Enderle is the only man in the Commutator Section who is sticking up for the President. You see, both of them are from Missouri. . . . Don't forget to set your clocks ahead tomorrow night or you'll be late for your Sunday date. . . . You're in for it again next week, and that's good. Our friend Ed Dikty will be writing for you again. So watch for "Shaft Shavings" next week.

Next Week's Editor

SHIM—WORKS NEWS STYLE—Shown (l-r) are William W. Johnson, Charles Winans and Dave Bartle looking over segments of an Oct. 19, 1934, WORKS NEWS issue that were removed recently from a Kaiser winding machine in Div. 13. The paper had been serving as a shim in the machine for more than 16 years.



PENSIONER PARADE

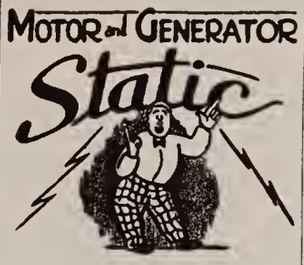
Elsie Brecheiser, who retired last October, has been touring the state of Florida since February. She visited Key West, Okechopee, Fort Meyers, Sarasota, St. Petersburg, Tampa, Daytona Beach, Silver Springs, Cypress Gardens and Orlando. In fact, she will have seen all of Florida by the time she returns home May 1. She plans to travel through Georgia and the Smokies on the return trip. . . . Ima Hanson is on vacation in Oregon after a leisurely trip from Corpus Christi, Tex., to visit two sisters in Brookings, Ore. Another sister, Mrs. Blanche Winegart of Fort Wayne, also made the trip and the four of them had their first reunion in 27 years. Ima will be in Oakland, Calif., at the Garden Show until the first of May. She then plans to return to Fort Wayne for a visit.

Florida Traveler

SHIPPING: Congratulations to Eloise Hoehn and (departed) Lenora Hanley. They finally mastered the art of candy making and the last try was delicious and didn't have to be eaten with a spoon. . . . Speaking of candy, salt water taffy has become quite an incident in the life of Viola Hailber, especially since the struggle to dig up 12 cents (in cash) for postage due on the package when it arrived from Atlantic City. Vi didn't know, however, that the package had previously gone through the hands of Frank Goetz and Tom Dent, who very cleverly rearranged the package to show that 12 cents postage was due, before they presented it to her and demanded that the U. S. Post Office wanted its money. The salt water taffy was a gift for all the gang from Gilbert Bond. . . . Dutch (Chief) Wilson is soon to become a father-in-law, and what a change, for Mrs. Wilson is finally going to have a little help in handling those Wilson men. Congratulations to both the bride and groom-to-be (who is Dutch's older son, Lt. Robert Wilson, U. S. Army). . . . MAILING: The trend in cars for Mailing department is rising to limousines and Buicks, well Buicks, anyway. For proof, just feast your eyes on that 1941 Buick, whose owner is none other than Bill Fitzgerald. . . . Farewell to Bob Heyn, who departed from Mailing last week to begin his new job in Bldg. 26-3. For his farewell, Bob received a colorful gift from the gals in shipping and something from the boys in Mailing, too. Good luck, Robert. . . . If you've been wondering what the queer put-put noise it, it's only John Pranger trying to show the boys how fast his hot-rod, which is an 1834, or 1934, Ford (John won't say which) travels. . . . TELEGRAPH: Our bride, Beverly (Springer) Staley, is back on the job and without a single burnt finger from cooking for that new hubby. . . . A hearty welcome to June Dalzell, whose pretty smile is now a part of our section. Hope you will like it here, June.

Howdy, pardner, have you heard about the splendid progress of the Squares' "Holiday Ranch"—a production to be staged at the Civic Theatre May 9 and 10? Al Johnson and L. J. (Spike) Speicher say that we're all in for a swell treat and to set aside one of those two dates. . . . Donna Bauermeister's latest exploration under her desk would be an excellent idea for weight reducers. . . . Recently your editor won the local speech contest of the Fort Wayne Toastmistress Club, and placed fourth in a nine-speaker contest in the meet at Indianapolis. . . . Janice Haugh should have had a few lessons in how to change a tire. Experience, being the best teacher, was Janice's teacher on her recent trip to Florida. Five flat tires would be anyone's teacher. . . . A home-wrecking crew from the Accounting section did just that when the Gene Williams celebrated their 40th wedding anniversary, April 20. . . . Saturday overtime was probably responsible for Evelyn Campbell to mistake a sack with a dress in it for her lunch bag. . . . Red Raney is still recuperating from the basketball season. He says that next year he's going to leave it for the young kids. Now, Red, you're not that old—weren't you seen recently at the golf practice range? . . . Happy birthday to Barbara Coolong, Frieda DeVaux and Harriet Heaney. . . . The Payroll Section bids farewell to Frieda and wishes her the very best of luck and hopes that she keeps them posted. Frieda leaves to take up full-time housewife duties. . . . More farewells are extended by Payroll to Charlene Bly and Janet Crain, who are now working in Bldg. 4-2. . . . Casualties, Inc's., latest release is Geneva Schrack, whose recent appendectomy forced her to take leave of her office duties. . . . Ted (Red) Wright, seven pound bundle of dynamite, is the new and third son who was recently added to the George Wright family. Congratulations, Mr. and Mrs. Wright. . . . A hearty welcome is extended to Janet Grunstad, and to Test Engineer Harry Geller. Both will be found working in Mr. Wright's office. . . . Ingrid Swanson wishes to report that her parakeet, Tippy, who flew away last Tuesday, was located in Indian Village by a kind Fort Wayne lady. The sad news is that he died over the week-end. . . . The 21-er's Club welcomes its newest member, Al Volz. Many happy returns of the day, Al.

We received a card from Dick Reinking, who is now taking basic medical training at Ft. Sam Houston. After he finishes his basic, he is to go into Laboratory Technology School. Dick's address is Pvt. R. H. Reinking, US55111285, Co. "D," 2nd Plt. 1st Med. Tng. Bn., MRTC-BAMC 1300 Area, Ft. Sam Houston, Texas. . . . Art Rasor's theme song is, "I don't want to set the world on fire, I just want to keep Hoppel warm." . . . Ray Loveless is now in Tool Supply, and Verl Ohmart is our new Tool Crib attendant. . . . Donald Konow is leaving for Uncle's Sam's forces. We wish Don lots of luck and hope to hear from him often. . . . Karl Hofacker is now at the Winter St. Tool Room. . . . Needed: One euchre player for the noon hour euchre games. . . . Want to buy a hoss? See Jim Pugh or Cliff Bieber. They have two old horses. . . . We have a couple of celebrities. Tom Ahr' and Jim Duff's pictures were in the paper Saturday night. . . . Merle Aughinbaugh says the only "last word" he ever gets is when he uses the indicator. . . . Wilkie and those great big blue eyes! It's the same old story: He ran into a door. . . . Mr. Wolf has been gone a couple of days to the apprentice supervisors' conference. . . . He's just like a kid with a toy. Tom Ahr was seen waxing his new tool box.



BECOMES 35-YEAR MAN—Owen O. Vaught, Bldg. 4-6 (seated), celebrated his 35th anniversary with General Electric Tuesday, March 27. He is shown reading a congratulatory letter from M. E. Lord, manager of the FHP Motor Divisions. Harold Carter, assistant manager of FHP Engineering, is looking on.

Fifteen Owl Players Turn Out for First Softball Practice

by Bill Geist

Fifteen men answered the call for the first outdoor practice of the G-E Owl softball team. Manager Bob Crosley was well-pleased with the turnout and predicts another good season for the team.

Practice sessions are scheduled for Monday, April 30, and Tuesday, May 1. A practice game with Salisbury Axle has been arranged for Friday, May 4. This game will be held at 9:15 a.m. in Lawton Park.

Thought For The Week—"By the time a man can afford to lose a golf ball, he can't hit it that far." Roy M. Gardner.

MEALS: To ye Editor, breakfast is just about the best meal of the day. With this idea in mind, Virginia Worden is now serving breakfast every Friday morning consisting of orange juice, milk, brown toast, and maybe two soft boiled eggs. . . . REMEMBER the peg-top trousers and the high collars. Wolf & Dessauer was located on West Berry Street when Don Shultz was 10 years old in 1906, or when "The News" was on Calhoun where the Peoples Trust now stands. . . . Dick Hobson made the statement that he has the most even temper of any person in Bldg. 31. . . . Who is the young lady by the name of Lois, Bldg. 31-1, who lost her way downtown one noon last week? . . . FRAMED? Sometimes we just can't understand Jim Studer. Last Friday Jim celebrated another birthday. As is the usual custom of the Stouder clan, Jim's birthday dinner was served at a restaurant. During the party, his birthday greetings were opened and passed around the table. Imagine the guests' surprise when they saw one card signed, "Happy Birthday to Me, James V. Stouder." Jim claims he was framed. . . . THAT'S LIFE: According to Dick Hobson, Ed Foley was a bundle of energy, a human dynamo, a go-getter who did not know the meaning of relaxation. Over the week-ends, he amused himself by various chores around the neighborhood, and polishing shoes for his family. Ed went to the store and purchased two bottles of polish. Gathering together the family shoes, Ed went to the kitchen and dumped the contents of a bottle on Imo's clean floor. He spent the next two hours scrubbing the floor under Imo's wrathful surveillance. . . . Ora Martin is taking time out from his campaign for councilman to attend the Little Turtle Federation of the Indian guides. He and his son are members of the Mohawk tribe.

Time Out

Be kindly affectioned one to another with brotherly love; in honour preferring one another.—Romans, XII, 10.

The second half of the Small Motor Bowling League is history. Models wrapped it up by winning two games and ended the half with a 29-19 record.

Four teams were tied for second place: National Construction, Contributing, Test and Office, each with a 27-21 record. The Drafting team really got hot the last night and rolled a 2739 for the season's high three-game series. If Troutman and Kelso could have gotten some help from Whonsetler and Lamboley, they would have had the high single game.

The Models and Planning (slow starters) team will roll for the league championship.

The 200 scores were bowled by Trautman, 202; D. Hoffman, 220; Brown, 205; Bowser, 201, and Kelso with a pair, 211 and 201.

If it hadn't been for the five pin, Frank Gitter would have made the 200 group, but Frank ended up with a 199. The five pin would not fall. There will be a few openings in the Small Motor League next September. If you are interested in joining, send your name to Joe Kramer, Bldg. 4-5.

Monday Girls League

The Sugar Bowlers and Pepperettes vied for the league championship with the former coming out as victor. Scores for the championship roll-off were Pepperettes, 693, 649 and 669; Sugar Bowlers, 654, 766 and 809.

Ilo Motter had the high series of the evening. She rolled a 501 on games of 116, 175 and 210. Other high games were kegled by Marge Huber, 181 and 171, and Helen Wagner, 191.

Sounds in the Alley

Monday night will wrap up the old season for good. That is when the league champs will bowl to determine the winners of those G-E Club sweaters.

Winners of the trophies are Bonnie Workman, 258, high single game; Marge Huber, 621, high three-game total, and Vic Rump who walked off with both trophies on scores of 289 and 690.

Jones and Dietrich won the Masonic League Hi-Lo doubles with 1205. E. Meyer's 589 won the singles and the Squares won the league championship.

Alleys Close May 5

The G-E Club bowling alleys will close for the summer Saturday, May 5, Charlie Wilt, club manager, announced today.

There will be plenty of alleys available for open bowling from Tuesday, May 1, until Saturday, May 5.

Little League Tryouts Planned In Four Areas

Little League Baseball tryouts will be held at 9 a.m. Saturday in four city locations and players will be rated and assigned to teams, Pres Slack, manager of the G-E team, said today.

The city has been divided into four areas with Clinton and Lafayette Sts. the boundary line between East and West and the Wabash Railroad between North and South.

Boys living in the Southwest will meet at Harrison Hill Playground; in the Southeast at McMillan Park; in the Northeast at St. Jude's Playground, and in the Northwest at Hamilton Park. Players must report to the area in which they live. The G-E sponsored team will be in the northwest division.

Four teams of equal strength will be selected in each section. Boys from 9 to 12 years of age are eligible to play in the Little League.

Registration cards are available at the G-E Club and may be picked up by the boys or their parents regardless of residence. It is not necessary to register before reporting for tryout, but players are urged to do so if they can, Mr. Slack said.

Ham League Sounds Call for Men Over 35

First call for Ham League players was announced this week by Bill Schible, Bldg. 20-1, who will manage the team this year.

Practice sessions will be held Tuesday, May 1, and Thursday, May 3, at 6:30 p.m. in Packard Park. The Ham League is open to men 35 years of age or over, who still like to play softball, Mr. Schible said.

Sam Baumgartner, Bldg. 27, will coach the team.

Softball Notice

Persons who would like to play softball with the Apprentice Alumni Association team in the Interdivision League should report at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow at McMillen Park. If unable to attend phone Warren Berkheiser, Bldg. 4-6, Extension 2341 or A-59881. Players should bring their own gloves and shoes.

Elex Bargain Shop In Employees' Store Plans Special Sale

The Elex-sponsored Korner Kupboard Shoppe will be located in the Employees' Store, President Thelma Stone has announced. Novelties and quality items will be available at bargain prices.

A special for Mother's Day will be attractively-boxed candies. Miss Morris candy in one-pound boxes will sell at $1.35 a pound and two-pound boxes at $2.50. Gorgeous Candy will be available in one-pound boxes at $1.50.

The Korner Kupboard Shoppe will serve all Broadway and Winter St. patrons. Candy can be purchased at Taylor St. through Evelyn Blakely in the Women's Activities Office. Winter St. employees may order candy through Elex contact girls.

The Elex Partizan Chapter will make home-made egg noodles to be packaged in one-pound cellophane bags to be on sale next week. Helen Thiele, Partizan president, said Elex noodles are just like home cooking.

Miss Stone said the Korner Kupboard Shoppe will try to offer employees the best in merchandise for the least money. She added that employees are helping themselves when they help Elex.

FLASH! Spring has arrived in Group 1x29. Evelyn Foulks opened the window beside her. We will know it really arrived when she takes down her shield. . . . They tell me spring arrived up in Bldg. 4-4, too. Willard Smith has taken off the "long-johns." . . . Anna (Betty) Froebe was the only one from Div. 1 with a display at the Hobby Show. Where were all the rest of you hobbyists? . . . Ralph Mennewisch spent the week-end in Detroit on a round of parties. He says he had a grand time. . . . We were all wondering if Gilbert Walker had forgotten to shave when we saw that dark streak under his nose. He says if it makes the print he will shave it off. Come on, Walker, you look much better without it! . . . Leonard Floyd says his telephone service is very good. . . . Jake Jacobs is one hoss who has his mind on his work. All night long he dreamed of getting enough LL4 stator cores in production. Now the boys are wondering if his dreams came true? . . . Frank Voirol says it wasn't the ballet he was teaching George Crickmore. He was just giving George some instructions on foot exercise for tired feet! . . . Martha Scherzinger really celebrated her birthday. She got three cakes. I guess people must think she is fond of cake! . . . Carl Kinscy had a birthday April 24, and Merle Keesler has one on the 29th. . . . John Willet was shaping a piece of iron with a hammer the other day. He almost had it done and wanted to hit it a light blow so he put his thumb on it to soften the blow! Results: One puffed up thumb! . . . Wilbert Wells got the fish this week—14½ pounds of bass. One of them weighed 5½ pounds! . . . Everett Lindeman went fishing, but he said all he got was cold pants! Everett went to a party at Mardo Tobias' the other night, and we are wondering what kind of catsup it was that he used on his sandwich? We want to welcome all the new help in Div. 1. There are so many that I'm afraid we might miss some if we started mentioning names so welcome one and all!

6-4 AIRLINERS

By Joan Lindeman

I think that I can speak for everyone in saying we are sorry to see you leave, Johnny. Lots of luck to you. . . . Esther Muzzillo will be in the hospital for a short time. Hope to see you back soon, Esther. . . . Andy Anderson is happy that spring is here. He is going fishing tomorrow. . . . How did Elmer Harshman get his head and hand banged up? His story goes like this: Pondo shoved him, Andy tripped him and Lee tackled him. It was really his young ideas against too big a jump for an old man. . . . Moe and Pondo are in deep thought as to just what they are going to do for an enjoyable evening Fridays now that bowling is over. . . . Our inspector, Gerald Briggs, is a pretty quiet sort of a guy. All he does is set and reject, with a smirk all over his face. . . . We hope we don't find the things in our food that Florence Weber does. Betty Thompson doesn't appreciate it. . . . Helen Riblet was up to bid farewell. She is taking a leave because of ill health. Hope you'll be back real soon, Helen. . . . Wava Lee Miller just can't make up her mind what trick she wants to work. She jumps from first to second. Now she's back on first. . . . We are happy to see Betty Shaneyfelt back after her recent illness. . . . Herb Tilbury, there has been complaints that you win the check pool too often, and the rest are about to gang up on you. . . . Have you seen the new style Marie Martz has in shoes. They were white, but someone painted the top of one shoe green. Marie says they're still solid comfort. . . . Say, Walt Beatty, you're going to have about two dozen girls on your neck if you don't get the WORKS NEWS out on time Fridays. . . . Herb Braun thought he had influence when he had our time clock repaired, hut it wasn't that at all. The story goes that the girl in General Service went to school with Herb's daughter. When Herb called he said, "This is Marilyn's husband, not father. She wants you to have our clock fixed." . . . Jewell Claunch had a bit of bad luck. She not only ran a drill in her finger, but had to have numerous shots for it.

G-E CLUB HOEDOWN—Mr. and Mrs. Emery Kramer, Indiana champion square dancers, help publicize the last Club square dance of the season Saturday, May 5. The dance will be a strictly informal, jeans and calico affair. Mr. Kramer is employed in the General Service Division at Taylor St.

I want to tell you about a most interesting hobby of one of our co-workers, Faye Alexander. When Faye was 10 years old, she bought a Brownie camera for $2.25 that she had saved just for that purpose. As the years went by she knew that photography was her great interest, so in 1947 she purchased an eight MM movie camera with which she takes mostly colored movies. Since then she was given a Kodak Tourist as a present. Her cameras always accompany her on vacations. Among her movies are pictures of the Smokies, Niagara Falls, Wisconsin Dells, Home of the Dionne Quints and Sonja Henie. In her travels she encounters many interesting people and stories. Faye is also interested in ceramics. It takes three weeks to complete one piece as one must first mold the clay, then sand and finally glaze it. Each piece has to be baked in a kiln for several hours. . . . Maxine Householder spent Thursday night with Violet Schnieders. They attended the opening of the Clyde Theater. . . . Marilyn Spice also was there but on Saturday night. . . . Sick list for this week includes Pat Waterman, Barbara Scheckel, and Betty Bartley. . . . Jerry Schlund is showing his bowling skill in the tournament. . . . Betty Bartley has been blushing for almost a week. She is her old natural color today, though. . . . Carol Harrington was very worried about her husband who underwent a tonsilectomy a week ago. He had a great deal of trouble but Carol reports that he is doing fine now. . . . Maurice Petgen is back for a short time. We're glad to have him back. . . . Stella Hagadorn celebrated her birthday April 24.

Pretty Hobbyist

Squares' German Band Slated at Convention

The G-E Squares' German Band will play for the five-state convention of the Knights of the Round Table when they convene May 4-5 at the Hotel Van Orman, Squares' sources have announced.

The band is scheduled to entertain the civic service group at the Chatterbox Friday night.

Musicians in the band are G-E employees R. K. Drake, Bldg. 28-2; W. R. Hunt, Bldg. 28-2; V. R. Peterson, Bldg. 26-2; M. M. Felger, Bldg. 28-2; and R. G. Gillum, Bldg. 31-2. Glenn Seabold, Bldg. 28-B, is the director.

"EAT LESS, LIVE LONGER," is the motto for Ray Jones, Bob Loveland and Wes Goss. They try to blame it on a virus of some kind (you can call it that if you wish) but strange they all became violently ill after returning from a trip to Dayton. . . . CONGRATS: Happy birthday to Robert Welch on April 29 and to Paul Shaffer on April 30. . . . NEWEST MEMBER: Newest member of the Floor Sitters Club is Garland Roby. He joined with a loud bang and ovation from the office. . . . GLAD TO SEE YOU BACK: Glad to welcome Helen Conrad back to her desk after a four-week illness. . . . BY THE BOX: Since Adolf Strasser is on a diet, he buys his oranges by the box from the candy lady. Good for you, Adolf, that's the way to do it! . . . HAPPY BIRTHDAY: Dottie Brubaker is a nice gal to have birthdays with. She passes the cake and candy like it belonged to someone else. . . . BLUE TONGUE: Jean Reidel was eating hecto-coated candy, she says, and ended up with a very blue tongue. Maybe she was like Charlie Chaplin eating spaghetti at a big celebration. He was eating ticker tape and didn't know it. Jean could have been eating typewriter ribbon. . . . EARLY BIRD: Moose Foltz had a watertight alibi for not ringing in one morning. He says he got here so early he forgot to ring in. His case might hold water because a guy could get here so early that he'd still be asleep. . . . VISIT FROM THE NAVY: Howard Ream, on leave from the U. S. Navy, paid us a visit last Monday. . . . GOOD TIME TO STAY AWAY: It is time for housecleaning and repairing electrical appliances. Jim Brown usually goes home for lunch. Today with the repair man working on refrigerator and stove, and then the rug cleaner, he decided not to go home. . . . CONGRATS AND GOODBYE: Larry Schuster is joining the ranks of married men, April 28th, and also will be transferred to Schenectady. . . . FINALLY: We are happy to see Paul Motter has finally decided to wear just one pair of glasses.

Newest Member

Any nation that permits its youth to reach the age of 18 years without knowing the meaning of work is merely setting the date of its own decline.—School Review.

The girls in Lead Section say there is no living with Melvin Riley since he goes to college. . . . Laura Adams' husband thought she was lost Saturday night. He was about to call out a search party when he found her gossiping at the neighbors. . . . Our new name for Ross Strodel is the "Shinola Kid." . . . Clarabelle Whitman wishes the farmers would scrape off their shoes before they come to work. She gets it on her shoes here because she doesn't raise chickens. . . . We extend our sympathy to Vada Putt on the death of her mother. . . . Dale Ross, Rose Chambers, Sarah Moore and Clara Gidley had a wonderful time at the meter party Friday night. . . . Linda Wahrer spent the week-end in Cleveland visiting her nephew, who is a patient in the hospital. . . . Congratulations to Paul and Hilda LeCoque on their wedding anniversary April 23. They were so busy getting moved into their new home they forgot the important day until reminded by Marguerite Stahl. . . . We welcome Martha Watson and Virginia Ruch to Group 17x53. They were transferred from Div. 13. . . . Ralph Keller says he is going to try and get up an hour earlier next week and hopes everybody else remembers the fast time. . . . Betty Pion has returned to work after being absent because of illness. . . . We wish a happy birthday to Gladys Pantazin and Ruth Cavender. . . . The R. K. C. line welcomes Rosa Johnson and Frieda Flaugh. . . . Anyone who doesn't know what to do with their gold fish may donate them to Mary Smith. Be sure and send directions on how to change the water or plug up the sink. Hers went down the drain. Better luck next time, Mary. . . . We hear that Elinor Laux bakes wonderful cup cakes so she must be an excellent cook and shouldn't be single. . . . Clyde Helms spent the week-end in Knox, Tenn. . . . Bob Johnson and George Marschand are very sorry they hurt Ruby Stoops' feelings. They think it really made her very happy for she was very generous in giving the sign away.

FORT WAYNE WORKS
NEWS

Volume 34 FORT WAYNE, INDIANA, FRIDAY, MAY 4, 1951 No. 18

BULLETIN

The last G-E Club Square dance of the season, originally scheduled tomorrow night at the Club Gym, has been cancelled, Ralph Heminger, club entertainment chairman, has announced. The dance will not be held at a later date, Mr. Heminger said.

Employees Garner $2,957 for April Suggestions

June 1 Last Day For Filing All MBA "A" Claims

All claims for MBA Class A (employee) benefits must be submitted to Ruth Hartman, Bldg. 18-3, before June 1, 1951, General Chairman Hubert Myers said today.

Class A MBA was dissolved Nov. 30, 1950, when the new Insurance Plan was inaugurated. According

(Continued on page 4)

May 10 Deadline Set For Elex First Shift Mothers' Day Party

Reservation deadline for tickets to the first shift Elex Mother-Daughter Party has been set for Monday, Club sources have announced. The annual party will be held at 8 p.m., Thursday, May 10, in the G-E Club Auditorium.

The Mother-Daughter party for second shift members is seheduled

(Continued on page 4)

AIN'T NATURE GRAND—A beauty and blossoms are the only excuses the WORKS NEWS photographer needs for a feature picture on a balmy spring day. The girl is Mildred Burkett, a MARRIED teletype operator in Bldg. 31-1. The apricot tree in front of Bldg. 20 has been a G-E landmark for more than 30 years.

Doyle Miller Collects His 60th Award Check; Has Earned $2,141

Two hundred and thirty-three employees divided $2,957.50 in award money and brought the Suggestion System's goal of "One for One in '51" closer to realization during the month of April, A. C. Hartman, suggestion secretary, disclosed today.

Doyle Miller, die setter in Specialty Transformer Div. 91, earned an award of $350 for his idea to use scroll material for making shunts. The April award was in addition to $255 previously paid for his suggestion. He has collected a total of $2,141 through sixty adopted suggestions out of 125 submitted.

Next on the list was Ralph N. Hoover, Wire and Insulation Division, who was paid $100 for an idea pertaining to the solvent still. H. C. Lemmel, FHP Div. 16, received $85 for adding improvements to cams on punch presses.

Two Receive $60

Sixty dollars were paid to John F. Driver, FHP Div. 13, for suggested changes to the clutch on grinders. Arthur F. Pequignot, STAB Div. 94, also received $60 for his idea involving coil winding.

Homer A. Markley, General Service Division, was awarded $37.50 for his suggestion concern-

(Continued on page 9)

Vending Machines Replace Wagons In Bldgs. 4, 6

Operation of newly-installed vending machines in Bldgs. 4 and 6 will begin Monday, I. H. Freeman, supervisor of personnel, and R. W. Kent, president of the G-E Club, announced today.

A total of 46 vending machines, replacing candy lady service, will furnish complete coverage of the two locations. Machines for dispensing ice cream, candy, mints, cigarettes and Coca-Cola are included among those dispensers installed.

According to Messrs. Freeman and Kent, the new machines have been put into operation on a one-

(Continued on page 4)

Div. 17 superintendent

P. F. Peternell Named Supt. of FHP Div. 17

The appointment of P. Frank Peternell as superintendent of Fractional Horsepower Motor Div. 17 was announced this week by Lisle Hodell, manager of Manufacturing. Mr. Peternell will be in charge of Unit Bearing and 10-20-30 frame motors at the Taylor St. Plant.

A lifelong resident of Fort Wayne, he entered the General

(Continued on page 4)

Curtain Rises Wednesday Night on Squares' 3rd Annual Musical Revue "Holiday Ranch"

The curtain at the Civic Theatre will rise Wednesday night on the first performance of "Holiday Ranch," the G-E Squares' third annual musical revue. General Chairman A. L. Johnson said the show definitely would be given for two nights only, May 9 and 10.

First nighters will see an unusual, original musical comedy, which Mr. Johnson predicts will be the biggest and best extravaganza ever staged by the Squares' organization.

The setting is a western dude ranch, with the plot revolving around the adventures of a group of Indiana vacationers who go "western" on a holiday. Cast in the leading roles are L. J. Speicher, who plays "Shorty," a reluctant cowboy, and Jo Quinn, who portrays "Gertrude," a lovesick dude.

(Continued on page 9)

New Insurance Plan Pays X-Rays to $100

Experience with various benefits of the General Electric Insurance Plan since it became effective last Dec. 1 indicates that many employees are not fully aware of the types of services which the Plan offers.

For example, certain X-ray

(Continued on page 4)

IDEA BRINGS TOP MONEY—Doyle Miller, STAB Div. 91, is shown demonstrating his suggestion of using scroll steel instead of strip stock for making shunts. Last month he received $350 in addition to $255 already paid for the same idea. Mr. Miller has earned $2,141 through the adoption of sixty of his suggestions. (See story at top of page)

FORT WAYNE WORKS
NEWS

Volume 34 Friday, May 4, 1951 No. 18

Lou Rotterman ..... Editor
Virginia Molden ..... Assistant Editor
K. Marian Davies ..... Divisional News Coordinator

Every Vote Important

A municipal primary election will be held in our city next Tuesday. Those of us who are interested enough will cast our vote for either Republican or Democratic candidates for mayor, city judge, city clerk and for each of the council offices.

Although many citizens protest the inroads made by federal government into local government activities, they do little to improve the surviving local administrations elected to serve them. The need for the currently active Special Senate Committee to Investigate Organized Crime substantiates the increasing evidence revealing corruption in local and higher governmental levels.

Within a comparatively recent span of time, we have displayed a greater interest in things political than we were inclined to do in the not-so-long-ago past. Primarily, however, we have concentrated our renewed political interest upon national and international affairs. While such a trend is commendable, it must not dim our concern for the smaller political realms. Indeed, it is in the lesser political waters where the big, government fish of tomorrow spawn and are fed.

Thus, our national government will be led by men who are only as competent as their earlier political training and responsibilities enable them to be. If we are concerned—and our freedom entails a sacred duty to be concerned—we will vote conscientiously Tuesday in order to insure the best sort of government at all levels.

Words by Walt

LIZZIE

I have traded my DeSoto
Built in nineteen forty-two,
When depreciation gets them,
There is nothing else to do.

I've acquired a later model,
Gadget packed from stem to stern,
Even has a light to signal
When and how I plan to turn.

When I lifted up the cover,
Maybe I should say the hood,
I discovered I had purchased
Many things not understood.

As I viewed this new creation,
I remembered, years ago,
The Model-T, Dad purchased,
That I thought could really go.

All the family called her Lizzie,
She was lean and black and slick,
If her spark was not retarded,
When we cranked her, she would kick.

I recalled that strip of highway,
Where I used to let her go,
Thirty-four or five per hour,
Something father didn't know.

I remembered how she chattered,
When we had her in reverse,
And the brakes, we used to stop her,
Even made her chatter worse.

She had quite a simple motor,
With some coils and carburetor,
Plus magneto and a timer,
And of course the radiator.

When it rained, she had some curtains,
Four of them, beneath the seat,
In the race to get mounted,
Ten to one, the rain would beat.

For a horn, she had a klaxon,
That we pounded with the fist,
And I have a scar to prove it,
On my knuckle, where I missed.

There was nothing like a starter,
When she stopped, we had to crank,
And when cold, there was a choke wire,
Out in front, we had to yank!

And she didn't have a battery,
Her magneto furnished light,
Which reminded one when driving,
Of a fire-fly after night.

Some one always asks this question:
"What, back then, did it require,
When a fellow had a puncture
And was forced to change a tire?"

But, I'd rather not discuss it
I'd prefer to just forget,
For of all peeves I remember
This has always been my pet.

So in viewing this creation
Up to date and gadget packed,
I am thankful time has furnished
All these gadgets Lizzie lacked.

—W. L. Whonsetler

Paul V. Beltz, a first lieutenant in the Air Force Reserves, left Tuesday to join his unit, the 73rd Troop Carrier Squadron at Atterbury Air Force Base.

Lt. Paul V. Beltz

Pvt. Robert Gebert

Mr. Beltz served in the Air Force from June 25, 1942, to Oct. 31, 1945. Since then he has been working in the Chemical Section of the Works Laboratory and during the last two years has carried on laboratory operations in the Wire Division at Taylor St.

An informal send-off, with an appropriate gift, was held by his co-workers. For the present, Mrs. Beltz and their children will maintain their residence at 1920 E. Creighton Ave.

Pvt. Robert Gebert is now stationed at Camp Pickett, Va., with an Engineering Construction Battalion. Bob was formerly employed in the Shipping Section, Bldg. 6-2.

The following G-E employees have left the Company to enter the armed services:

Donald R. Konow, Cletus D. Spieth, Harry B. Reed, Donald A. Offord, Donald H. Schelper, Howard E. Ream, Robert Kappel, Norman G. Carl, Gerald F. Vodde, Richard G. Campbell, Ralph E. Martz and Paul V. Beltz.

Pvt. Ronnell S. Allen US 55135294
Battery D, 713 AAA Gun Bn.
Camp Stewart, Ga.

Pvt. Robert E. Dimick, 1065415
Pvt. 33, 2nd Rec. Tr. Bn.
M.C.R.D.
San Diego, 40, Calif.

Pfc. Stanley W. Wickliffe 1063791
D. Co. 7th Motor Transport Bn.
Service Command, FMF Pac.
c/o FPO San Francisco, Calif.

Cpl. Lou Gallaway WA 8205102
C. Co. WAC 7774 Sig. Bn.
APO 403, c/o Postmaster
New York, N. Y.

Thomas F. Garhard US 55136430
827th Sig. Base Depot Co.
Camp Gordon, Ga.

Pvt. Gene L. Gilgen US 55135117
784th T. Base Depot Co.
Ft. Eustis, Va.

Wallace E. Castle 52005824
MP Detach. 1-5015 ASU
Camp Atterhury, Ind.

S/Sgt. Robert Baals 46846—11x1
General Delivery
Camp Pendleton
Oceanside, Calif.

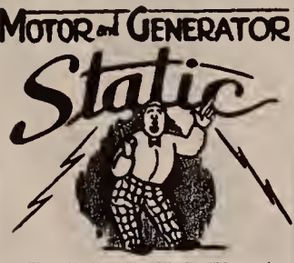
Pvt. James H. Stahl AF 16360709
Sqd. 3747 Flt. 1082, 3740 BMTG
Sheppard Air Force Base
Wichita Falls, Tex.

Darwin K. Eshelman
Underwater Demolition Team
Navy 3923, c/o FPO
San Francisco, Calif.

SICK LIST

Sick List

Annie Olry, Leonard Rice, Harold Spath, Clara Myers, Jay R. Walker, John Brophy, Jack Wilson, Martha Watson, Leland Hastings, Lois Edwards, William Harrison, Bertha Steele, Ellen Knop, Ruth Thompson, Jack Shoemaker, Lawrence Rickert, Robert Nash, Harold Miller, Henry Nagel, Evelyn McCallum, Garnett Patrick, Marilyn Noble, Richard Raber, Flossie Shoopman, Peggy Moyer, Carl Starke, Margaret Parisot, Elmer Hamilton, Charles Gebhart, Sue Dague, Edmund Weese, Virgil Bobay, Nina Koogle, Fern Hartman, Gertrude Koldewey, Marcella Schwartz, Samuel Dailey, Gladys Hahan, John Kyle and Audrey Oberley.



Dismissed From Hospital

Paul Graves, Warren Brumbaugh, John Laymon, Sr., Esther Muzillo, Lawrence Rickert, Garnet Patrick, Lloyd Smith and Ruth Thompson.

Returned To Work

Arthur Stute, Gerald Norwalt, Robert Wylic, Viola Martin, Russell Stockert, Genevieve Zimmerman, Doris Lampe, Virginia Moore, Lela Van Dyke, Frances Roloff, Marguerite Winkleblack, Martha Musselman, Frieda Meyer, Eileen Hennen, Eva Heaslit, Wilhur Gray, Augusta Boehm, James Courtney, Harry Freeman, Helen Conrad, Ernest Cook, Alma Kaiser, Harold Berkey, Alberta Foulks, Wesley Brooks, Lucille Bates, Doyle Blake, Merle Bachellor, Rollie Irvin, Eugene Garrard, Wallace Buzzard and Calvin Harvey.

MOTOR and GENERATOR Static

Thought For The Week—"Never do so many write so much about so little as the baseball correspondents in the spring."—Red Smith.

HOGS: For a time, we thought that Roscoe Markley, Bldg. 19-1, was the hog king of Northeast Indiana. Forest Suter (Red), however, has gone him one better. Forest became so angry with his hogs because they were continually jumping the fence that he gave six of them away. . . . DID YOU FORGET?—John Hoelle, Bldg. 19-1 Test, is a candidate for City Councilman. He mailed out 250 campaign cards and failed to sign them. He is so well known in our district it probably won't matter. . . . OVER ANXIOUS—Frank Rathert, Bldg. 27, informs us that along about 1908 when he was a scene shifter at the Majestic Theatre, a traveling show came to town, and put on their performances at League Park on Calhoun St. This show was "The Last Days of Pompeii." Frank's brother was working this show. At a given signal, he was to touch off the fireworks that destroyed the city. Frank says that one night his brother was 10 minutes ahead of time, and the entire city of Pompeii was destroyed before the Roman soldiers attacked. . . . Remember the time when the first of May arrived, and you begged your mother to let you go in your barefeet. Don Schultz can't remember back that far. . . . IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE—In last week's column, we said that Virginia Worden, Bldg. 31-1, is now serving breakfasts. She reported to us this Monday that she received three reservations over the week-end. This pleases us very much as it means that at least three people are reading this column. . . . I wonder how we could go about getting the supervisors in Bldg. 31-1 to turn over the names of new employees to us so that we can make them welcome in this column. As far as we can determine, we are about eight names behind right now. . . . Congratulations to Paul E. Bohn on his 35th anniversary with the Company. . . . Did you ever know that Art Braun, Bldg. 19-1 Test, used to be in the Wolf & Dessauer ladies' ready-to-wear department when the store was on West Berry St. The editor knows this to be a fact as he was in the linen department at the same time. . . . Our friends Bob Jellison and Ivan Doster visited us in Motor-Generator. . . . We welcome Wilma Echtenkamp and Betty Lupton to Bldg. 31-1. . . . THOUGHT STARTERS: Women are attractive at 20, attentive at 30, and adhesive at 40. . . . Whether we give top rating to health or wealth depends on which we haven't got. . . . That pensive look often becomes expensive. . . . This country needs the Spirit of '76 and the prices of '36. . . . The perfect guest is liked most for his shortcomings. . . . About the only way for a bridegroom to attract any attention is to fail to show up for the ceremony. . . . The government is now getting down to brass tax. . . . Some people don't have much to say, but you may have to listen a long time to find it out. . . . Many girls go for the simple things in life—men!

There once was a man named Hall
Who said, "You had better get on the ball.
If you don't get started.
You'll soon be departed
And we won't have to wait 'till the fall."

Birthday greetings for the past week go to Imogene Meyer, Melvin Brown, Frances Fitch, Beverly Hack, Gerry Coyne, Myrtle Wagner and Alice Dahman. . . . The office girls spent a hectic hour at the home of Gladys Cleland eating hot dogs during their lunch hour. . . . Pat O'Brien spent a couple days at the Curtiss Wright Company last week. He also substituted for his son on the paper route recently when he was ill. Pat doesn't make such a good paper boy. He had to try too many times throwing the papers on the porches of upstairs apartments. Pat also was short a paper when he finished. . . . Pete Macke was on his vacation last week. He spent it in and around Fort Wayne. . . . We send get well wishes to Erma Manor, who has been on the sick list for sometime. . . . Bob Decker, who is in the armed forces, visited with his coworkers Monday. He is stationed at Camp Gordon, Ga.

OUT OUR WAY

By J. R. WILLIAMS

Dr. James Lemons Joins Staff Of Company's Medical Section

Dr. James A. Lemons has been added to the staff of the Medical Section here on a four hours a day basis, Dr. H. W. Garton disclosed today. Dr. Lemons will assist the medical staff in carrying out the many activities of the industrial health program.

new doctor...

A native of Kansas City, Mo., Dr. Lemons graduated from the University of Kansas City in 1938. After spending two years as a high school principal, he entered Northwestern University's Medical School in Chicago and received his M. D. degree in 1944.

Dr. Lemons served his internship at the Wesley Memorial Hospital in Chicago and began a surgical training period which continued for five years. Most of his training was spent in a residency at the Wesley Memorial Hospital and associated institutions in Chicago. He received a certificate from the American Board of Surgery following examination last October.

Dr. Lemons came to Fort Wayne last September and is engaged in the practice of general surgery, including surgery of the chest.

Some people sure do demand service. Charlie Gable has been trying to get someone to do a little plowing in his back yard. After much bargaining and dickering, he finally got Gordon Smith to agree to do the job for him. The only catch was how he was going to get the plow and Gordon over to his house. Next he tried to get Jack Faust to rent a trailer to go out and get Gordon and tractor and bring them into his house. As yet, he hasn't been successful in getting Jack to agree to this. What we are wondering now is who he is going to hit next to furnish the gasoline and lunch. . . . People in the Production Division are keeping an eye on "Firebug" Jaek Bendure recently. First he set a waste paper basket on fire and then a few days later, Jean Harm's desk. It just isn't safe to let him alone with a match or eigarette. . . . Our very best wishes to Jeanne Holthaus, who will become Mrs. James H. Kortenber at 9 a.m. tomorrow in St. Peter's Catholic Church. . . . Peg Turschman has the right idea when it eomes to selling Elex candy. She bought a box the other day and passed it around for samples. Remember Peg and Elex when you are wondering what to buy for that Mother's Day gift. . . . Congratulations to Frank Peternell, who was recently appointed superintendent of Div. 17. Of course, Pete is not new to the division, so we were very glad when he took over as our new boss. . . . It really is bad when you can't stand your own cooking. Recently Janice Sollberger made a pineapple upside-down eake, but she was the only one who ate any of it. Before the evening was over, Janice was a very sick girl. The only thing she could find that she had eaten that her husband had not was the upside-down eake. She still doesn't know what she did to the eake, but she is sure of one thing. That is that she doesn't want any more pineapple upside-down cake for a long, long time.

Try, Try Again

purchase analyst

Marion R. Bailey Named Large M-G Purchase Analyst

The appointment of Marion R. Bailey as purchase analyst in Large Motor and Generator Manufacturing Divisions has been disclosed by R. A. Woehr, production manager.

Mr. Bailey joined the General Electric Company in 1939 as an apprentice. His course was interrupted from 1941 to 1945 while he served in the Army Air Corps. He returned to G-E immediately following the war and was graduated from the Apprentice School in the machinist-toolmaker course.

After graduation, he worked in the Tool Division in Bldg. 19-4 for several months and then began the local manufacturing training program.

Until his present appointment, he has been serving as assistant to the supervisor of inventory control.

Mr. Bailey is married and lives at 1624 Sprunger Ave.

The surest way to go broke is to sit around waiting for a break.

B. R. McClure

D. C. Hanson

K. R. Whearley

3 Sales Division Employees Promoted

To keep pace with the constantly expanding fractional horsepower motor business, three promotions in the Sales Division have been announced by R. C. Hanna, manager of sales.

B. R. McClure has been appointed assistant to the manager of sales; D. C. Hanson has been made manager of the Refrigeration Equipment Sales Division, and K. R. Whearley has been placed in charge of the Distribution, Parts, and Serviee Sales Section. The appointments, Mr. Hanna said, will be instrumental in serving increased customer needs and in providing better service through distributor-dealer channels.

Mr. McClure is a native of Fort Wayne and a graduate of Purdue University. A veteran in the Sales Divisions, he has held such positions as group head in charge of Series Motor Sales, group head in charge of the Distribution, Publicity, and Statistical Group, and staff assistant to the Divisions manager.

Mr. McClure is well-known for his aetivities in sales training eourses, such as the Sales Analysis Institute and Effective Presentation of Business Ideas. He is unmarried and resides at 2920 N. Clinton St.

Hanson Here Since '35

Mr. Hanson has held various positions at the Fort Wayne Works in the Production and Sales Divisions. He has heen employed by the Company continuously sinee 1935, except for five years of Army service from 1941 to 1946.

A graduate of Kansas State College, Mr. Hanson received a BSEE degree in 1935. Mr. and Mrs. Hanson and their three children live at 1828 Ida St.

Mr. Whearley graduated from Purdue in 1928 with a BSME degree. He has been employed with G-E since 1930 and has had wide experience as a proposition engineer in the FHP Motor Sales Divisions. He is a member of the Purdue Alumni Association and the G-E Squares' Club. He resides with his wife and son at Palatine Drive, R. R. 11, Fort Wayne.

SHIPPING: Happy birthday to Doris Smith. . . . A great big hello to our two newcomers, Vivian Graham is replacing Betty Burford, and Margie Hulwick will be filing in our complete file. . . . In case you don't believe that spring is here, witness the pretty eottons the gals have blossomed out in and the new hair-dos (mostly short). . . . MAILING: Roy Rogers and Tim Holt are in danger of losing their popularity to a new rough rider known as "Bouncing Boy Fitzgerald!" Bill has been doing considerable practicing and hasn't been thrown more than five or six times in the past week. . . . Garland Helland is modeling the latest thing in men's hats. . . . A searching party for Loren Dunlap has been called off. We discovered he's been here all along. He has started to eomh his hair after weeks of leaving it hanging down in his eyes and the boys didn't recognize him. The boys can't deeide which way they like it best. . . . Wanted! Ed Blotkamp to wear one of his other ties. Not that the boys don't believe you have another tie, we just want you to prove it. . . . In case you've been thinking of going out to the speedway, don't bother, just come out to the parking lot every night, and Jerry Gardner and Ralph Miles will give you a show when they race to see who gets out first. It may not be as exciting as the speedway, but it's free. . . . RECEIVING: What's in a name? For the Smiths and Browns there's monotony, but for DeWayne Freshwater, it's variety. With that unusual name, it is not uncommon for people to remark that DeWayne must be of Indian descent. In the past there have been many variations of the eorrect pronuneiation, but this one topped them all. Last week a messenger came into the office, looked around inquiringly and remarked, "I'm looking for Mr. Freshmoister." . . . Receiving welcomes Dorothy McCoy, who transferred from Bldg. 8-1. Dorothy is known to most of her co-workers, having worked in this division previously. . . . Tom Dent, through the generosity of Vi Haiber, did receive a piece of the now-famous salt water taffy. However, he examined it very carefully for possible booby-traps before he devoured it.

Thanks: World War Vets

I wish to express my thanks to our past president, Hugh Neely, the eo-chairman and eontact men for their splendid cooperation in helping to make such a success of the annual banquet of the G-E World War Veterans' Association.

George D. Ellison
General Chairman

IN WITH THE NEW—New vending machines were installed this week in Bldgs. 4 and 6 to replace eandy wagon serviee. The two men installing the colorful devices are Bob Kinney (left) and Bud Haines of the Kinney Koncession Co. Bob is a former Zollner Piston star. (Story on page 1.)

Insurance Plan

(Continued from page 1)

costs are paid for under the $100 maximum allowed under the special hospital services benefit. This amount is over and above the payments for charges for semi-private room and board up to $10 per day for a maximum of $700.

X-ray costs that are covered under the $100 special hospital services benefit include those taken in connection with emergency treatment and when the employee is a bed patient. Also, X-rays that are directly related to the period of hospitalization for which daily benefits are paid and, if made within two weeks of hospitalization, may be covered by the $100 provision.

$100 Maximum

However, if X-ray costs, added to other special hospital services such as anesthesia increase the cost to more than the maximum provided for under this benefit, only $100 of the bill is covered.

Not all X-ray expenses are covered by the special hospital services benefit. The Plan generally does not provide for payment of diagnostic X-ray examinations for out-patients since the Insurance Plan was designed (within the employee and Company funds available) to give maximum assistance to employees at times of serious emergencies.

Usually these serious cases require hospitalization which is expensive, and then the Plan provides real benefits. To provide for the casual X-rays of $5, $10 or even $25 would necessitate reductions in other benefits of the Plan.

The employee faced with a $5 or $10 X-ray charge or a doctor's bill for the normal one or two visits does not have a need which threatens his financial capabilities. To have the Insurance Plan pay for a lot of small charges also builds up the costs which use up funds that otherwise would help the employee who is hit the hardest by serious illness.

Deadline Set

(Continued from page 1)

for 12 noon Tuesday, May 8, in the YWCA.

The Day Girls will feature a skit, "Bloomers to Blue Jeans," which will contrast the lives of G-E women employees in 1921 and 1951.

The Minute Men's Quartet from Auburn, Ind., will entertain at both parties. There will be favors for every mother attending with her daughter as well as special prizes.

FHP HONORS LANKENAU—Shown at a recent Fractional Horsepower Motor retirement party honoring E. W. Lankenau, former manager of the Decatur plant are: (seated l. to r.) L. I. Asher, Ab Martin, L. D. Hodell, C. H. Matson, R. C. Hanna, H. G. Siebold, H. E. Boles, H. E. Koehlinger, L. W. Kuttner, R. L. Spitler, George Auer, J. J. Clarkson, A. J. Rose, N. M. DuChemin, Mr. Lankenau, M. E. Lord, and John Welch. Standing (l. to r.) are W. H. Sunier, W. N. Oberly, P. F. Peternell, O. J. Mettler, F. H. Campbell, P. M. Deal, E. F. Harmison and W. K. Williams.

Peternell Named

(Continued from page 1)

Electric Apprentice School in 1930 in the machinist-toolmaker course. Upon graduation in 1934, Mr. Peternell was assigned to the Tool Room in Bldg. 26-5.

During the next ten years he worked on operation planning in Bldg. 4-6, on tool and equipment planning and wage rate in FHP Motor Div. 15. Mr. Peternell became a planning leader in FHP Motor Div. 15 and was named general foreman in Bldg. 4-1 in 1944.

In 1947 he transferred to Taylor St. as supervisor of expense control, and a year later was assigned to labor relations work as a negotiator. From 1950 until his present appointment, he has been serving as assistant superintendent in Div. 17.

Mr. Peternell is married, has two sons and lives at 608 Fricke St.

My most embarrassing moment, by George March: "The first time I rode on the new transit bus to Waynedale, I tried to make my exit out the center door, not knowing I had to step down. The bus stopped, but the door failed to open. The driver said, 'step down.' Not knowing what he meant, I just looked at him. Again he said 'step down,' but I continued to stare at him. A lady close to me said, 'Step down, George.' I thought she said sit down, so I did. By that time, I was the center of attraction. Then they explained it more fully. I got off the bus, and was my face red!" . . . It's good to see Martha Musselman with us again after her six weeks illness. . . . We extend our sympathy to Glen Cavender in the death of his father-in-law. . . .

Frank, Eloise and Friend

Our new head dispatcher is Murray Johnson. We're glad to have you with us again. . . . Irene Nichols, a former employee, plans to leave May 11 for California to visit relatives. . . . Bill Hale is the proud possessor of a new Chevrolet. . . . If you are interested in joining the M-G softball team, contact Ronnie Young. . . . Thelma Dammeier leaves us this week for Taylor St. Good luck, Thelma. We'll miss you. . . . Birthday wishes to Melvin Tschannen, Jr., Charles Britton, Mary Brown, Edna Etzler, Al Johnson and Murray Johnson. . . . Welcome to our new employees, who are Edward Mulliken, Jr., Ralph Weaver, Ulice Windom, Donald Woodeward, Frieda Pace, Conrad Smith, Albert Taylor and Clestes Pierson. . . . Frank and Eloise Karthroll paid Guy Lombardo a visit at the Quimby Theatre. Kenny Gardner, the soloist, snapped the picture.

MBA Claims

(Continued from page 1)

to the Articles of Dissolution, any bills submitted after June 1 will not be allowed. This refers to Class A only, Mr. Myers explained.

The present MBA Class A assets, including cash and bonds, amount to approximately $175,000. The major portion of this amount will be paid to the 607 former members who were pensioned before Dec. 1, 1950, with ten or more years of MBA membership. Under the MBA constitution, they are entitled to a $200 death benefit.

The Special Committee will establish a reserve fund to cover all members who have been on continued disability for as much as two years before Nov. 30, 1950, the date of dissolution. These members are also eligible for a death benefit of $200. Any remaining assets of the reserve fund, if any, will revert to dependent coverage (Class B Plan).

Surplus to be Divided

The plan for dissolution, as approved by officers and directors of the organization, will be followed and the remaining funds will be divided as follows:

Active member of less than one year's membership—1 share.

Active member for one year but less than five years—2 shares.

Active member for five years but less than ten years—3 shares.

Active member for ten years but less than twenty years—4 shares.

Active member for twenty years and over—5 shares.

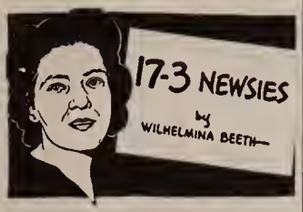
The amount of dividend per share will be computed and paid after June 1, 1951. The WORKS NEWS will carry advance notice before distribution of shares is made.

Vending Machines

(Continued from page 1)

year trial basis. It is expected that the modernization of candy-dispensing methods will provide a more efficient service to employees and at the same time increase profits for the G-E Club.

They added that no further installations in other locations are contemplated at this time.



Buildings already serviced by vending machines are Bldgs. 31 and 18. The concession company will be located in Bldg. 16-1. For service on machines, phone ext. 20.

ROUNDS OUT 30 YEARS—Garland Roby, FHP Div. 1, (center) celebrated his 30th anniversary with the Company, April 10. Robert Blee, Harry Magner, Russell Blackburn and Richard Lare (l-r) joined to extend congratulations to Mr. Roby.

EARNS SUGGESTION AWARD—John Driver, FHP Div. 13 (right), received $60 for suggesting a change to grinder clutches, thus saving maintenance costs. Mr. Driver is showing the application of his idea to his foreman, Norman Bender.

Have you ever been up that well-known tributary without a visible means of locomotion? For instance, did you ever have a radiator run dry on a Sunday afternoon. Just look around and see if Harry Chism is there to help you. He will be glad to use his big scoop shovel and a pint thermos to give you a refill. . . . Our "We wish you happiness" mat is out for Marjorie Schaefter, who was married April 21. . . . Happy birthday to Jerry Snyder and Alice Neyman. . . . Elma Keiser has also tried to cash the stub of our new style checks . . . Betty Lupton has left us to work in Bldg. 31. . . . The other morning when the elevator stopped at our floor, Mary Baker said, "This can't be our floor." We had a new window installed for safety reasons. . . . We have a lot of safety-minded people from the number of safety shoe boxes we saw on the floor last Friday. . . . Eva Fisher had the water all ready to make coffee when Charlie Ricc kicked it over. Eva didn't think the second time was an accident. . . . We're glad to see Augusta Boehm and Doris Lontz back. . . . We're also glad that Beth Heersche is on the improved list. . . . Hazel Lockwood must have been getting an early start with daylight saving time. Last week she was ready to go to lunch an hour early. . . . Jeanette Smith is going to have to tie a string around her lunch sack. She is always misplacing it. . . . Mary Jane Redding's aunt is visiting her from California. The other evening they were cozily tucked in bed when it hit the floor. Mary Jane got some tools to fix it, and they got all settled again when down came the bed. Mary Jane said she should have put her nylons somewhere else as it was too much weight. . . . Do you need a good cook? We hear Bill Ort is really in the groove. . . . Bill Martin claims to be the best, but we are not so sure. . . . Evelyn Chapman couldn't imagine what was flying around. It was only oil from a machine behind her. . . . Rose Fuhrman was surprised to find a writing pad stapled to her apron. . . . Everybody was rowing and no one rocking the boat. Last week we had a "special" stator come through. At 3 p.m., we had it ready for shipment. At seven o'clock the next morning, we had the report from Tecumseh on its working ability. That is known as speed.

appointed foreman

Engle Appointed Div. 13 Foreman

Arnold G. Engle has been appointed foreman in training on the first shift in Fractional Horsepower Motor Div. 13, according to a recent announcement by H. E. Koehlinger, superintendent.

A graduate of Elmhurst High School, Mr. Engle attended Indiana University Extension before entering the General Electric Apprentice School in 1941. He graduated from the Apprentice School in December, 1943, as a machinist-toolmaker.

Mr. Engle was assigned to the Tool Room at Taylor St. until 1944, when he entered the U. S. Navy. Upon his release from the service, he returned to the Tool Room at Taylor St., and has been employed there until his present appointment.

Mr. Engle is a member of the Apprentice Alumni Association and resides with his wife and two daughters on the Getz Road.

All problems become smaller if you don't dodge them, but confront them. Touch a thistle timidly, and it pricks you; grasp it boldly, and its spines crumble.—William S. Halscy.

STARTS 36TH YEAR AT G-E—Paul A. Peterson (third from left) general foreman, Bldg. 26-4, completed 35 years of employment with the company and began his 36th year April 13. Left to right, joining to congratulate him, are W. H. Crouse, Wayne Weimer, Mr. Peterson, Bret Young, O. B. Fultz, E. F. Paul and T. H. Gugler.

By Don Clark

If any of you want to lose a game of horseshoes, just take on Carl Ahlersmeyer. He recently beat the ex-city champ by tossing six double ringers. . . . Having mastered the operation of the boring mill, Herb Meyer has moved to the Multiple Die Section. . . . Apparently this daylight time doesn't bother Arnold Korte. He just sleeps on until he is ready to get up. . . . Otto Meyer has found a new type of restaurant in Detroit. They fill up your gas tank free while you eat your lunch. . . . Walt Esterline is an honest man. Although he was at the lake all day, he confessed that he had to buy his wall-eyed pike. . . . The dentist really made it tough for Louis Pieper when he pulled most of his teeth. The thermos bottle doesn't hold enough to keep a hard working man in shape. . . . DIE PLANT: Ralph Baysinger, now driving a '51 Mercury, claims he had to get rid of his 1950 model. The ash trays were getting full. . . . Mrs. Robert Roy claims her housecleaning work is easier now. That is since Bob tore off the wallpaper and painted all the walls. . . . Art Templar has left to live in Ohio. . . . Ralph Reed was quite upset when his new threading die was returned to him all full of nicks. You should have seen him later when the party asked Ralph what he had been cutting. . . . Stewart Bohrer is proud of his title, but Max Baron turned a little red when a neighbor boy called him "grandpaw." . . . It was Ralph Foust's turn to get red, however, when he stopped at Max Baron's house to show him his fish. Ralph was explaining all the details of his wonderful fisherman's luck when Max pointed out towards Ralph's car. It was parked on the wrong side of the street and at the time two policemen were investigating its presence. Ralph finally caught on that they wanted the car moved so he hurriedly sped away and Max didn't get to see the fish. . . . We congratulate Mr. and Mrs. Walter Greiner on the marriage of their daughter Vivian last Saturday. A very nice reception was held at the Key Hotel. All of Walter's men were invited. Charlie Abbott's "Sweetest Music this side of Leo" furnished part of the entertainment. Sandy Greiner and the bridegroom's niece sang several duets. Ed Schafenacker proved to be very good in tending the refreshment bar. . . . Don Alcott's little girl had a phone call from one of the neighborhood boys asking her for a date to one of the local shows. Miss Alcott said a very firm, "no," and slammed the receiver. Her daddy asked her what was wrong. She politely told him the fella was too old. Don found out that this romeo was seven years old. His daughter was only six. . . . The best fisherman in Bldg. 19-4 is Reiney Lepper. He was with a fellow who caught a five-pound bass. . . . Fishing hopes were high so Harold Blauvelt, Jack Ecker and Bob Krugh decided to go last Saturday. Jack Ecker said he knew a good lake, but he forgot to tell Harold and Bob that there wasn't any fish in it until after they got home. . . . Louis Iacona is transfering to Bldg. 17-2. . . . You should see the nice sunburn on Wilbur Lane's head. . . . The second shift Grinding Section welcomes three newcomers: Gerald Grandstaff, Richard Working and Donald Amsden. . . . Bob Benz was becoming a little self-conscious about his tie. After three months of daily use it was getting soiled.

Inquiring Reporter:

"WHAT CHANGES WOULD YOU MOST LIKE TO SEE MADE TO NEW AUTOMOBILE MODELS?"

RICHARD RIGEL

Bldg. 31-2

"I would like to see new automobile models with less high priced extras on them, smaller economical motors and more standard parts for all models at a price which would make it possible for more people to own and operate a late model car."

JUANITA HOUT

Bldg. 26-5

"The change I would appreciate most in new automobiles would be a higher drivers' seat. Driving becomes a task if one must sit on the edge of the seat to drive. Also, I would like to see the seats covered with seafoam rubber for better wear and more comfortable riding."

TOM BAILEY

Bldg. 26-2

"Primarily, I'd like to see a substantial lowering of prices. But aside from that, I believe the most desirable improvement would be an engine designed to give 10 or 15 more miles per gallon. This might mean a reduction in power, but I feel it would certainly be worth the sacrifice."

KATHERINE JOHNSON

Taylor St.

"Since a great number of the new cars are coming out now without shifting, why not have a finger-tip control for the brakes? I would also like to see something installed on the carburetor to give more gas mileage to help reduce the cost of operating a car."

BERDELL SMITH

Bldg. 18-3

"New automobiles of today are tops in design as far as luxury and convenience are concerned, but the quality of materials and workmanship is not what it should be for the expense involved."

Harry A. Dolson Leaves STAB For Schenectady Assignment

Harold A. Dolson has been transferred to the Promotional Service Section, Small and Medium Motor Sales Division, Schenectady. Mr. Dolson had served since Sept., 1946, in the Promotional Service Section of the Specialty Transformer and Ballast Sales Division. Under his new assignment, he will head the promotional service activities of the Small and Medium Motor Divisions.

transferred . . .

Mr. Dolson began his G-E career in the Schenectady Accounting Division in 1936. In 1941, he joined the Air Force and served four years. He returned to G-E in Aug., 1946, and joined the STAB Sales Division in Fort Wayne.

Another G-E employee, Barbara S. Brower, became Mrs. Dolson in 1947. Mrs. Dolson continued to work as an engineering assistant in the STAB Engineering Division, where she had been employed since 1942 except for a short-period transfer to Schenectady during the last war.

According to co-workers, the "Dolson team" became a "landmark" in Bldg. 26-2. Among their activities was the building of their own six-room house in Sunnymede Addition, east of the city. They literally built this house, doing nearly 100 per cent of the work themselves. They were just putting on the finishing touches when Mr. Dolson's transfer to Schenectady was announced.

WITH COMPANY 35 YEARS—Hugh M. Stephanson, Bldg. 4-6 (center), received congratulations on his 35th G-E anniversary, April 24, from several FHP engineering colleagues. Left to right are M. L. Schmidt, H. B. Carter, Mr. Stevenson, R. H. Johnson and L. R. Beard.

6-4 AIRLINERS

By Joan Lindeman

We welcome Glen Castle, the new foreman on the 25 and 40 frame Aireraft. Lots of luck, Glen. . . . Congratulations to Margaret Hilgemann. She is the new group leader on the collins and computer lines. . . . Millie Daley has set the date. She will be a June bride. Best wishes for a happy future, Millie. . . . "Pondo the Smoothie" has it beat. He bums tobacco from the boys and when the women can't stand the bad smell, they buy him a good sweet brand that they like. . . . Norbert Engleman, the guy who is always razzing the other guys about getting tickets, got one himself. . . . Delores Gladbach created quite a lot of excitement this week, when she had her diamond off to have it cleaned. . . . Martha Jesse had quite a battle with a bottle of sour milk last Sunday. After she was all ready for church, the top blew off with the sour milk squirting all over her hair, down her clothes, down the wall, and the floor. Her husband thought it was pretty funny. . . . Everyone is glad to see Howard Courtney back after five weeks of illness. . . . Best wishes to Joan Baker, who will be married May 26. Her husband-to-be is in the Air Corps. . . . Happy Birthday to Marie De Vaux on May 7. . . . Thelma Purdue won a prize at the card party she attended. It was a complete lubrication job on her car, but she doesn't have a car. . . . Jim Saybolt wants to say, "So Long," to the gang up here. We will miss seeing you around, Jim, but lots of luck to you. . . . We wonder what Les Hubartt and Paul Strombeck tell Pondo to make his face turn so red? . . . Grandma didn't get her cookies, but Ruth Troyer sure had plenty of them for lunch when she brought in the wrong sack. Her husband had fried ham and made such nice sandwiches for her. . . . Just ask Wava Lee Miller how to dye hair. She decided to be a blond and used two bottles of peroxide, but forgot the ammonia. Her hair turned out orange. . . . Herbert Mailand would like to get acquainted with more girls up here, but is too shy. He is a young bachelor with a new car and is really a swell fellow, so, gals, let's make the first move and help him along. . . . Maxine Root had better keep an eye on her pillow, because I hear that someone else has their eye on it, too. . . . About all you see is a streak going by when Del Gillian races out of here at 6:30 p.m. to meet her hubby. . . . I hear some Kentucky gal has Artic Bobay in a daze. . . . A happy birthday to Bessie France last Saturday, and thanks for the cake, Bessie.

ROUNDS OUT 35 YEARS—John Schimmele, Bldg. 27, (center) completed 35 years of service Tuesday, April 17. Several of his friends in the Large Motor and Generator Divisions gathered to offer their congratulations. Left to right are H. L. Stevenson, R. M. Hartigan, Mr. Schimmele, A. N. Farrell and George Weikart.

The Grapevine

DIV. 15 & 20

We were all very sorry to hear of the sudden death of Harry Bixler. Harry died from a heart attack last Thursday. He will be missed by everyone who knew him. . . . Roy Berdelman went fishing last week-end, and all he got was a nice sunburn. Better luck next time, Roy. . . . It has been said that measles is a disease of children, but our welder found differently. Maybe you are in your second childhood, Ray. . . . Ted Schelper purchased a new suit last week. When he took it home, the little woman thought it was too loud for a man of his age. So Ted took it back and traded it for something less "flashy." . . . Clarence Rossolet and his wife motored to Kentucky last Saturday and Sunday to visit their daughter and her family. . . . Sam Srouff is getting pretty tired of carrying his hand around in a cast. He says it is getting pretty heavy. . . . Fred Higgins has sold all of his goats. Could it be because they are going to extend the city limits? . . . The planners rearranged our office in Bldg. 4-1 last week. Carol Sellers remarked that she had to turn sweeper and sweep a path to her desk through dirt and debris. However, that sort of thing keeps her in practice. . . . Ernie Riley was seen some time ago limping over to the dispensary carrying a huge piece of chocolate cake. We have not figured out yet how chocolate cake can be used in the treatment of an injured toe! . . . Harley Bottorff can not understand why his weight doesn't go down when all he eats for lunch is a bowl of soup. We are wondering if it could be what he eats for supper. . . . We see George Mosshammer is getting the travel fever now that the weather is getting nice. He has been bringing in his viewmaster scenes of the places that he visited last summer. . . . And speaking of traveling, Carl Fisher made the rest of the fellows look pale when he came back from his trip with a nice Florida tan. . . . We are happy to welcome Mamie Allen back after her recent illness.

Emergency or disaster, and who's in the middle of it? Ham Mark Smith and his radio car. First reports of last week-end's tragic airplane crash came in on Mark's radio transmitter while he was on his way to visit a friend. Too interested to leave his short wave radio, Mark invited his host to sit in his car. One of the hams took out a large engine driven searchlight. On arriving at the scene of the accident, he discovered the glass and the bulb of the light had been broken by a lantern when an officer waved him through the barricade. By short wave, the request came in for another light bulb. Mark soon located one and delivered it to equip the only high-powered searchlight on the scene. . . . Charlie Beck will be returning Monday after a week's vacation. . . . Al Braun will leave shortly to spend a week in Alabama. . . . Minnie Ferguson and her husband are taking another trip West. They will go through Tennessee and Arkansas to Texas and then on to Phoenix, Ariz. . . . Pop Noll intends to spend a week getting his "hotel," as he calls his home, ready for the summer. With Pop busy, everything should soon be shipshape. . . . Becky has a new helper to get out all the work that stacks up. The new girl in the Service Bureau is Bea Heck, who previously worked at the telephone company.

Meet the President

G-E DEATHS

Heart Attack Fatal To Harry S. Bixler

A heart attack, suffered while working in Bldg. 4-1, was fatal to Harry S. Bixler, 52. He died at 4:15 p.m. Thursday, April 26, in the Lutheran Hospital.

Mr. Bixler joined the General Electric Company in 1913 and worked as a clerk in Bldg. 26-5 until 1925. He left the Company for a short time and returned in 1926, subsequently working in Bldgs. 19-5, 19-3 and 17-2.

Surviving are two aunts, Mrs. Pauline Hess and Miss Emma Koehnlein, with whom he resided; and two sisters, Mrs. Marie Moore and Mrs. Dorothy Mettler, all of Fort Wayne.

Services were held at 3 p.m. Saturday at the Klaehn Funeral Home with the Rev. L. E. Olson officiating. Burial was in Lindenwood Cemetery.

dies at age 73

Willis Foster Dies; Worked Here 24 Yrs

Services were held Sunday at the Waynedale Community Church for Willis W. Foster, 73, who died at 3:55 a.m. last Friday at the McCray Hospital in Kendallville.

Mr. Foster was employed at the General Electric Company from 1921 until his retirement in 1945. At various times he had been employed as a milling machine operator in Bldg. 19-3; an acid dipper in Bldg. 26-4, and a group leader in Bldg. 27. At the time of his retirement he was working at Winter St. as a drill press operator.

Surviving are three sons, Charles E., Columbia City; Robert J., Fontana, Calif., and Lee W., Kankakee, Ill.; two daughters, Mrs. Carl Mossburg, and Mrs. Charles Cunningham, Waynedale; one sister, Mrs. Adam Filler, of Fort Wayne; 29 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Services were held at 2 p.m. Sunday with the Rev. Harry M. Gaunt officiating. Burial was in Prairie Grove Cemetery.

Ronnie Phillips likes rhubarb pie. She didn't get the pie, but she got the rhubarb. . . . Margaret Kenyon fell in the bushes and was scratched. What was the idea, Margaret? . . . Bob Borne sharpened the scissors for the girls in the lead section and did a very good job. Thank you, Bob. . . . Violet Renkenberger and yours truly had wedding anniversaries April 28. . . . Gladys Disler, who has been ill for sometime, had a birthday recently. . . . We wish to congratulate Faye Vance. She is now Mrs. Art Fritinger. We wish you much happiness, Faye. . . . Helen Moring was a year younger the other day. She received a pair of nylon gloves and many other nice gifts. . . . Geneva Harter has a new hair-do. We must say it looks quite pretty, Geneva. . . . The assembly group is thankful to Guy Livingston for his efforts in helping win the good housekeeping trophy. . . . Robert Bauer is leaving second shift for days. His group gave him a nice present. . . . Tom Owens is in need of glasses. The motors seem to pass by him without being painted. . . . We wish to welcome all the old and new faces we see in Div. 17.

We're just a little late in wishing Merle Keesler a happy birthday. We are really sorry that the gift was too large. But then, Merle, you should grow into it. . . . Let's hope Dorothy Favorite doesn't breathe too hard. There are apple blossoms floating all over. . . . Congratulations to Florence Siebert, who is wearing a diamond on the third finger, left hand. . . . We hope Mary Reuter's son has a speedy recovery after his emergency operation. . . . An official badge and hat are in order for Fire Chief Annie, who is none other than Ann Hershberger. Ann says she learned how to put out a fire in a skillet. . . . All Jo Lee wants from her co-workers when she retires is just a new home. . . . We wonder if Leona Yarbrough has found a chair that suits her yet? . . . Katy Putt and Laura Black, after working side by side for sometime, discovered they are cousins. . . . Vida Craft is very good at imitating people. . . . Poor Barbara Ray! When she gets company, they come in droves. She had her neighbor's spare bedrooms filled. . . . Aldena Harris has come up with a new headache remedy. Did the chewing gum help your headache, Aldena?

SUGGESTION BRINGS $100—Ralph Hoover (second from right), Wire and Insulation Division, was awarded $100 for advising a better method of cleaning packing in the solvent still. He is being congratulated by H. E. Hire, division superintendent. Looking on are (l-r) W. B. Getts and Aaron Schoenefeld.

Louie Clark, the set-up man in 1x29, retired May 1. We will all miss Louie. Whenever anything went wrong, he was the one who could fix it. He is moving to Michigan where he says he is going to do some hunting and fishing. He was given a deer rifle, case, cleaning outfit and some shells. Here is hoping that you get a deer the first time you go hunting, Louie! Enjoy your retirement to the fullest, Louie, and if you ever get back to Fort Wayne, come in and see us. . . . Thelma Harter has moved into her new home, and Ruth Tutwiller is having her bathroom done over. Each had a different idea for the use of the grab-bar on the soap dish; and it is not to hang a wash cloth on or for paper! . . . Congratulations to the Homer McMackens on the new boy at their house. . . . Ralph Waikel is going to have to grow up. He got sick smoking a cigar! . . . Bob Black must have been fishing over the week-end. His face looked like a roasted hot dog Monday. . . . Glen Witte had a red face, too, but he says he was riding around in a convertible all day Sunday! . . . The radio transmitter that Roger Williams has in his car was put to use. The radio announcers used it to report on-the-scene happenings at the plane crash Saturday night. . . . If Louie Barrows would watch where he was walking instead of who was walking down the aisle, he might not have those skinned shins! . . . Ed DeWees underwent a major operation at the St. Joseph Hospital last week. Hurry up and get well, Ed. . . . Jack Moore received a gift from his co-workers when he left for the army last week. . . . Anyone wanting to buy a 1951 World Series ticket should see Bill (Short Bill) Schults. He says the White Sox are in! Quite an optimist, aren't you, William? . . . Congratulations to the Donald Bohrers on the new bouncing baby boy at their home! . . . Walter Frain thought that he could talk his wife out of a trip to Michigan by asking her to give him 35 reasons why they should go. Walt didn't get off so easy. He got the reasons so to Michigan he did go!

Earl Cheever has a new little tax exemption, and her name is Kathy Ann. Congratulations to the new parents. . . . We have been doing our spring housecleaning and moving. It is now just like playing hide-and-seek trying to find everyone. . . . Speaking of moving, Larry Gase and Mel Keissling had the help of the whole crew when they moved the office mail box. Some of the help wasn't so good either. . . . The Birthday Club held its regular dinner meeting at the Candlelight with Eleanor Bolenbaugh as hostess. Two girls had birthdays. They were Joan Murphy and Eileen Hennen. Those present were: Phyliss Braun, Eileen Hennen, Ann Tyler, Clara Theisman, Florence Polk, Joan Murphy, Dorothy Mills, Norma Krall, Eleanor Bolenbaugh, Marilyn Richard and Dorothy Askren. . . . We are a little late, but nevertheless sincere in extending our sympathies to Paul Clendenen in the death of his mother.

POWERED BY G-E—This is the first flight photo of a jet powered version of the Air Force's Chase XC-123, troop and cargo-carrying transport which is powered by four General Electric J-47 turbojet engines. Designated the XC-123A, the plane first flew April 21 at the Mercer County Airport, W. Trenton, N. J. Rated at 5,200 pounds of thrust each, the four J-47 turbojets provide 20,800 pounds of driving force for the ship.

Top Floor TOPICS

Bldg. 26-5

By Jack Lea

Murder by experts! Loretta Bloom and her roommate, Mabel, committed an act of violence—strangulation! The victim? A poor little parakeet bird. Mabel had to do the dirty work as Loretta got chicken-hearted. Loretta, by the way, realized one of her life's ambitions to fly! Loretta flew to Indianapolis recently. "It was niee, but all too short a trip," said Loretta. . . . Ruby Brandt was waging a political campaign for a Republican (pardon the expression) candidate. Her campaign was short-lived, however, as Ruby was defaeing our newly painted walls. . . . When you see Louise Perry, ask her why she prefers to use the mirror in the men's rest room to comb her hair. . . . Need any wallpapering done? Call on Dorothy Meyers and Cecilia Carrig. Of course, your walls will have a lot of patchwork, as these gals don't seem to get the paper cut the same length as the wall! . . . This could only happen to Harold Josse! Harold forgot to set his clock ahead and came in at eight Monday morning. . . . Darlene Richardson is to be a blushing bride in June. However, the time is drawing near and she hasn't made up her mind as to whether it will be Rusty or Oliver. . . . Jim Jackson is the proud father of a new boy! Jim and his wife wish to thank their co-workers for the baby gift. . . . Wimpy Blalock and Fred Day took a cigarette test recently. Fred got a big bang out of a Spud. Wimpy didn't think much of the Old Gold he tried. . . . Garnet Borne spent the week-end in Cleveland. See any Indians, Garnet? . . . Second trick gals are looking forward to a housewarming at Luella Frame's. She is having an addition put on her home. . . . Gale Harris is reported to be shaping up very nicely since he is doing his daily exercises and dieting. . . . We all wish a speedy recovery to Hazel Busse, who has been hospitalized for the last four weeks. . . . Our sympathy to Jim Trice in the death of his baby and his father. . . . Welcome to the new gals on the night shift. They include Louise Tiller, Bonnie Lou Ayers, Phillis Arkwright and Pat McLaughlin. Pat isn't new, but was recently transferred from first.

The BIG WIND

TAYLOR ST. DIVISION 17

by Rachel Mourseg

Why did Mary Keller have all those dogs escorting her to work the other morning? How many of them were yours, Mary? . . . My! Why doesn't Fred Adams get rid of those dead fish. By the way, Fred, what was the real disappointment you had? . . . Was Arveda Neal ever disappointed when she went home the other day to find no baby? . . . Maggie Moore has a new G-E television, so you can all go to Maggie's now. . . . We extend our deepest sympathy to Leonard Beckman in the recent death of his brother. . . . Vera Fletcher had troubles the other night when she locked herself in the fruit cupboard. . . . Congratulations to Mabel Thompson and Johnny Quinn on their 34th anniversaries. . . . Taylor St. bowling league had its roll off between Fan Motor and Lab. Oscar Schelper found out they had $20 for the winner so he got his first 600 count of the year. . . . Charlotte Blauvelt, Eva Creigh, Vi Minnick and Olka Johnston went to Indianapolis over the week-end to attend the grand chapter of lodge. Charlie Penn wanted to ride along with the jack. . . . Someone please remind Kenny Martin we work Monday. . . . Maxine Herbst must have had a new hair-do Monday from all the glances she had. . . . We are wondering if Woody Richardson will use that calorie chart of Fat Wheeler's that was sent to him by whom? . . . Welcome to Bob Bower on first from second trick as set up man.

HERE and THERE in BUILDING 17-4

by Maxine Baker

Now that spring is here; can summer be far behind? . . . Mr. Hartman is reported improved and will be back with us soon. . . . Larry Rickert is home from the hospital and at last report was doing fine. Now keep up the good work, Larry. . . . Sy discovered that mixing cement and such work is for youngsters. He learned the hard way. . . . What brightens our day? Why, those bright bow ties Ralph Dochterman and Bert Girardot wear when they visit us. . . . The girls helped Mae Lacey celebrate her birthday with a luncheon at the Belmont Wednesday. Mae says she is 19 years old, so we celebrated accordingly—lunch and no intoxicating liquors. We had a wonderful time and happy birthday, Mae. . . . Our "hello-and-hope-you-like-us" greeting to Ramon Leffel. Ramon replaces Jim Schwartz, who will soon be saying "Yes, sir," and "No, sir," to his sergeant. . . . To bring the newer members of the floor up to date, that brown (but not because of hair) head hobbing around in the Test Section belongs to Lester Stauch. Lester has been in the hospital and in Florida while gone from the division. (Too much time in the hospital, too little in Florida). It seems that in order to meet the housing situation in Florida, Lester adopted a son. Since he doesn't do things half way, picture the result: Lester and his six-foot boy, Logan. As a word of caution: If Lester tells you the fish in Jimmerson Lake are as big as those in Florida, he knows better.

HE'S BEEN HERE 30 YEARS—George M. Todd (second from left), FHP Div. 14, completed 30 years of service Thursday, April 26. A number of his co-workers gathered to offer their congratulations on his long record. Left to right are Ewald Stinsmuhlen, Mr. Todd, Fred Campbell and Eldon Vosburgh.

MAIN OFFICE Confidences

by Vivian Bond

I had the old minstrel gag pulled on me last Friday, "that was no lady, that was my wife." Marinell Bosserman changed it to "that was no husband, that was my brother that I accompanied to Florida." All eligibles, please note, she is not married! . . . The events of last week-end in Fort Wayne give one the worried thought of, "I had better make the most of the minute at hand; there may not be more." . . . Spring is in the air. In the spring a young man's fancy may turn to love, but for Neal Hench it turned to a Studebaker, a nice new green one. Butch Vegalues joined the "Own a Mercury club." . . . FREE PLUG for Richard (Dick) Kent, Bldg. 18-5. He is running for councilman of the Fourth District and help will be appreciated, I am sure. . . . WINDOW WASHERS took Bldg. 18 by storm last week. Two swishes and the building was completed. . . . Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Leider were in Dayton, O., Sunday. They took their son Bill back to school. . . . WELCOME is extended to Gerald Michael and Delbert Rehm, who have been transferred to Mr. Wylie's office. . . . DERBY: Tomorrow is the famous Kentucky Derby with all the colorful show of thoroughbred horses, beautiful women, orchids and more people than you can imagine in one spot. We will expect a full report from Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wylie and Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Johnson when they return. . . . Congratulations to Raymond J. Hoffman on his 45th anniversary with the company. . . . GAIN: It is our loss and Taylor St.'s gain. Jo Quinn, the Squares' leading lady, left Bldg. 18, this week to work at Taylor St., just to be near her husband. . . . The glad hand was extended to Ed Witte, who returned on Monday after a seige with pneumonia. . . . ROSY GLOW: It is not hard to tell who had their first week-end out in the great open spaces. The first crop of sunburns is very much in evidence.

Details From Draftings

26-2

By Bonnie Hull

Here's a warning to all female pedestrians between the ages of eight and eighty. Beware of a red Ford convertible. This car is dangerous. It has been seen in the vicinity of Broadway G-E between 12 noon and 1 p.m. It is reported that this car harbors two or three wolves. This report was contributed by Mildred Fettinger and Ruth Ehrsam, who were nearly run down by the automobile. . . . We are very sorry to see Les Holm leave us for the armed forces. We wish him the best of luck and hope he will drop us a line now and then. . . . THIEF! STOP! It seems Bob Wigent unknowingly carried away several G-E bricks on the back of his car. The bricks fell from a building in the Fairfield parking lot. When Bob got the repair bill, he decided the bricks were mighty expensive. . . . Congratulations to Tony Kazelis. He and his partner won $5 in a bowling tournament. . . . It has been rumored that W. A. Miller has been called Fido around home. This has been going on since the picture of Mrs. Miller was in last week.

TAYLOR MADE TOOLS

by Charlie Winans

Our sympathy is extended to Gerald Knight in the death of his father. . . . We noticed there were several good cases of sunburn after that nice week-end weather we had. . . . On a bowling trip to Kokomo not too long ago, Paul Boedeker was telling of watching TV shows. Then on waking the next morning and looking out the window, he said he thought someone had set up a large TV screen in his room. On second look, it was just another of our late snow storms. . . . Bill Johnson is in need of some instructions on how to ring his clock card. First he tried the back, then upside down and finally made the right insertion. . . . Herb Tons of Div. 14 and Frank Phillips both renewed their Sawbreaker Club memberships. . . . Have you noticed how the good housekeeping has picked up since Andy May has taken over the sweeping? Nice job, Andy, and I think we all appreciate it, too. . . . We are glad to see Paul Graves back on the job. . . . Ray Bowers is taking his vacation this week.

FRACTIONAL ACTS

TAYLOR ST. OFFICE

by Barbara Meyer

How mean a lasso can Jo Quinn actually wield? Will L. J. (Spike) Speicher be able to escape? Al Johnson won't tell! Those of you who saw the Squares' "Gaslight Gaities" last year, know of the wonderful evening of entertainment which these thespians can provide. This year's "Holiday Ranch" proves to be more hilarious than any of their past productions. Why not come to the Civic Theatre either May 9 or 10 and spend a wonderful evening watching the boys? . . . Casualties, Inc.'s newest victim is Carl Starke, who is in the Lutheran Hospital recovering from recent surgery. A speedy recovery, Carl. . . . The Purchasing Division rolls out the "welcome" mat for newcomer, Harry Mentzer. . . . CITY SLICKER is Ed Martin, who has left his 20 year domain in Leo to return once again to the city. . . . Beverly Goshorn walked around with a stiff back last week. It was the result of severe bruises received in a recent automobile accident. . . . Belated birthday greetings are extended to F. L. Gale. . . . The Payroll Section bade farewell to Betty Locker, who left last Friday, and welcomed Florence Hoevel, a transfer from the Broadway Employment Office. . . . Belated welcome to Janet Leitch, who is working for Mr. Becker. . . . We're glad to hear that Ingrid Swanson has purchased a new parakeet, named Tweedie, to replace Tippy. . . . Betty Quinne played hostess for the girls in Engineering Sales when they gathered at her house for a wonderful evening. . . . Helen Smith's newest possession is a 1951 green Buick. . . . Don't forget to see "Holiday Ranch." Tickets may be purchased in the Engineering Offices.

Elex Notebook

by Bess Brown

The Elex Tulip card party, held last Friday, April 27, was a very festive affair and for a most worthy cause—our drive for defense. All the funds go to send boxes to G-E employees now serving in the armed forces. Aletha Tarr, Bldg. 31-1, won the grand attendance prize of a beautiful fur coat generously donated by Greenblatt's.

* * *

The regular board meeting for the Night Girls will be held in Bldg. 18-3 Wednesday, May 16, at 1:30 p.m. Berneta Welbaum will preside and all board members are urged to attend.

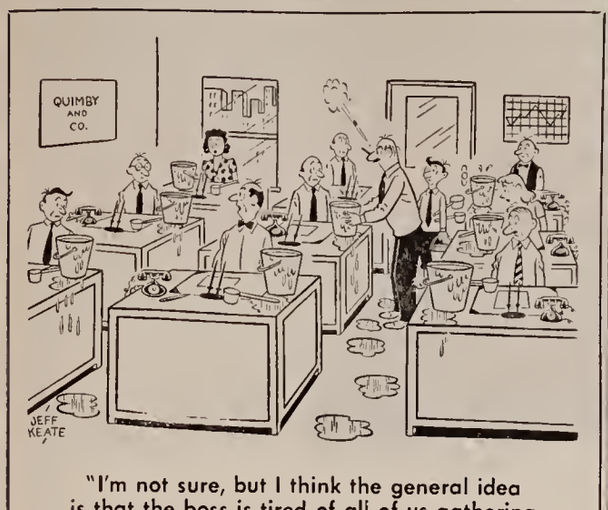
* * *

The Day Girls' board meeting will be held in the Conference Room of Bldg. 16-3 at 8 p.m. Wednesday, May 16. Thelma Stone will preside and she has requested all standing committee chairmen to be present.

* * *

The committee to serve at the Trucker's Rodeo Sunday, May 20, at Smith Air Field was announced this week. Justine Coudret, assisted by Margaret Taylor, will have a volunteer crew to serve at the concession stand from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Girls will work in the stand on two hour shifts. Visit the Rodeo and visit the Elex booth for refreshments.

Three Employees Join Q-C Club



Arnold Landis
Taylor St.

Carl J. Furge
Taylor St.

Charles W. A. Beck
Bldg. 31-2

"I'm not sure, but I think the general idea is that the boss is tired of all of us gathering at the water cooler every day"

COPYRIGHT 1951 CARTOONS-OF-THE-MONTH

Suggestion Awards

(Continued from page 1)

ing the cooling tower. A $35 award was made to Theodore N. Slough, FHP Div. 14, for his advice to form stator shells. Another award amounting to $35 went to L. J. Mellinger, FHP Div. 23. His suggestion affected the slot in brush holders.

Received $25

Twenty-five dollar awards went to Herbert A. Landstoffer and Robert Davison, FHP Div. 15; Frank A. Brohman and Max F. Fielitz, FHP Motor Div. 16; Harry C. Ribel, Charles F. Holtsclaw and Paul Noffze, STAB Div. 91; Albert E. Miller, STAB Div. 94, and Jess Butikas, Danville Plant.

The following employees received awards amounting to various denominations from $5 to $20:

FHP Div. 1: Harry P. Hyndman, Robert O. Maxwell, Jennings B. Horn, William Widdifield, Martin P. Vogel, James H. Courtney, Ida S. Witte, David D. Eckelbarger, Florence E. Merriman, Norbert A. Hans, Lewis S. Barrow, Wayne W. Dibert and Bernard P. Kramer.

FHP Motor Div. 13: Edward J. Sarrazine, W. Hartman, John G. Weber, Arthur F. Sorg, George M. England, James R. Menroe, H. G. Cowan, Lawrence W. Beaty, Nina Growcock, James C. Gambrell and Harold Stith.

FHP Motor Div. 14: Florence E. Hargan, Betty A. Harrold, Grace D. Wall, Elmer J. Jockel, Eugene E. LaVine, Rogert F. Scalover (two awards), Milt S. Marks, Jay M. Stilwell, Sylvester LaFontaine, Marian Mannisto (two awards), Perry L. Arrants, Myrtle Barfell, Raymond H. Rodenheck, James H. Zuber, Lydia M. Doehrman, Paul L. Beauchamp, Esther I. Bailey, John Schlichter, Lamar Alwine and Donald U. Gage.

FHP Motor Div. 15: Arthur G. Kurtz, Gilbert D. Brookhart, Henry E. Foley (three awards), Leon W. Rademaker, Lewis H. Hutchinson, Hugo Wengert (two awards), Cecil E. Tarney, Irene S. Shoemaker, Merlin G. Gromeaux, Wilbur E. Tibbitts, George A. Barnes, Robert V. Davison (two awards), Francis L. Bennett, Margaret Parisot, Arlo R. Kissinger, Fred A. Herport, Emanuel E. Easterday and Leola Carrier.

FHP Div. 16: Herman C. Brandt, Herber C. Langer, Walter H. Buesking, Jack E. Welch, Charles F. Askren (two awards), Orville Kaufman, Paul C. Stromberk, Earl Yoquelet, John C. Westerhausen (two awards), William W. Ort, Glenn W. Lewis, Russell C. Cowan, Floetta M. Zartman, Donald Degitz, Gertrude Maske, Althon E. Simpson (three awards), Charles Zolman, Stephen A. Sollot, Jr., W. McCormick, Louis D. Hopper, Lawrence E. Huffman, Joseph Jensen, Howard G. Farrell, Constance Dumford, Gwendolyn C. Robinson and Robert T. Gahman.

FHP Motor Div. 17: Victor Leakey, Fred R. Boehm, DhuAine J. Davis, Frank J. Diss (two awards), Neva L. Lutz, Jessie Keller, Wilfred Yant, Robert C. Winkler, George Sonner, Lloyd A. Garrison (two awards), Robert E. Born, Wendell B. Crum, Glen Buckmaster, Fred E. House (three awards), Wanda I. Platt, William J. Reffe, Robert J. Robertson, Edward P. Saxton, Robert E. Mueller, Jr., F. Reita Martin, Ollie M. Ragan, Dan Bishop (two awards), William Anderson, Earl H. Frederick, Eugene Kelsey and Harry L. Babcock.

FHP Div. 23: Solomon S. Andorfer, Roger R. Crabill, Earl D. Stauffer (two awards), Lewis J. DeVoe, Robert L. Short and Arthur R. Spoerhase.

FHP Div. 10: Oscar O. Mize, Enid Fuller and Betty J. Puff.

Decatur and Tiffin

Decatur Plant: Arline Heare.

Tiffin Plant: Hiram Hippler, P. Raitz, Margaret Mowery, Charles Stahl, Herman Kraft, Joseph J. Matsick, Kenneth Oder, Charles Jones and Arche J. Welch.

DeKalb Plant: Ralph Carey and James Leetch.

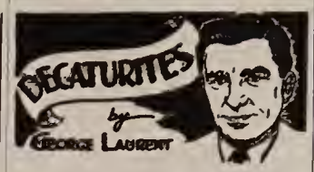
STAB Div. 91: Robert M. Bultemeier (two awards), Grover S. Rhodes, Merle E. Byers, Forrest Rupright, Lawrence E. Hosack, Charles F. Holtsclaw (four awards), William F. Suelzer, Glen C. Dunlap, Harry M. Rollins, Donald D. George and Glenn R. Kaylor.

STAB Div. 94: H. M. Rhine, Albert E. Miller, Phillip Shulze, Talitha Stickler, Lillian L. Mallo, James McCray (two awards), Richard A. Hurst, L. W. Schuster (two awards), Allen B. Carper, Betty J. Sapp, Arthur F. Pequignot (two awards), Howard J. Christley, Lester L. Baker (two awards), Lillian Bowman, Irene I. Slater, Harry H. Hire, James G. Witzigreuter, Laura E. Brown, Clorene Trout, Frank C. McMaster, Dorthea E. Kaylor, Blanche M. Kanning, Don E. Waldrop, Delores I. Sheckart and Robert E. Carpenter.

Danville Plant: Helen Wright, Wilbur Deichman, Robert Menestrina, Mona Ashby and Garnett Coffey.

Large M. & G. Divisions

George W. Thurber, Clarence S. Stoner, Donald August, Ralph E. Hill, George I. Fields, Helen M. Stahl, G. Ben Porsch, Jr. and Lucille Strong.



Wire and Insulation Division: Robert H. Snyder, Richard D. Hensler, Franklin Sasser, A. E. Menefee, Gerald Kummer (five awards), Charles H. Pepple, Louis P. Klotz, Paul Rugman, Alfred J. Rudasky (two awards), Robert G. McCollister, Harry Arnold, Jr. and Delmas W. Detter.

General Tool Division: Carl G. Schlenker, Glenn Kline (two awards) and Richard H. Wagner.

General Service Division: Theodore Raypole, Norbert A. Hans, Edward O'Brien, Arthur Smethers, Virgil P. Kline, Roscoe C. Hamilton, Robert E. Cuney, Edwin J. Meyer, Walter Lydy and Herman Bertsch.

Distribution Division: Arthur E. Thompson.

Miscellaneous: George Jones, Frederick R. Bishop, Hans K. Muller, Lois B. Miller and Eugene E. Miller.

Now hear this! It seems as thought Miss Krick, the second shift angel of mercy, is about to start a barber shop and tonsorial parlor on the side. Clyde, the fireman, decided that he needed a shave the other evening and thought he would shave in the sick bay. He was even lathered up and ready to go, when Miss Krick changed his mind for him. . . . Cathy Kitson just recently left the Company and lo and behold, have you seen her lately? She looks like she had gone through a sausage grinder with a pretty good bang on the forchead. The excuse she gave was a very poor one, indeed. . . . Alice Schrock is the name of the young lady who has made her appearance on the flange line for Mr. Patrick. Greetings, Alice, and we hope you like your job. . . . When it comes to saving money, Edwinna Stucky has the best idea. When she and some others were in Fort Wayne, she got her purse stuck with something and could not get it open until she was nearly home. . . . Bert Strickler is a grandmother, and congratulations to her. Her daughter, Mrs. Barbara Doan, was presented with a lovely baby last week. . . . Virginia Drake, who has been ill for some time, is improving at this writing. . . . Maggie Fruechte had a birthday April 30. Happy birthday, Maggie, and we hope you have many more. . . . What's the cause of all these crew haircuts making their appearance in the shop? They must be a new fad. The one of Boh Kreischer's is something to write home about. . . . Have you met Fagan? We hear that Jo Ivetich managed to tame him enough to enter him in the G-E Hobby Show. What is he? He is a ceramic creation modeled after a prehistoric monster. . . . Dewey Gibbons is getting very ritzie wearing house-slippers to work. . . . Marj Miller, of the office force, has left the company to take up household duties. We're sorry to see you go, Marj, and we'll miss you. So long! . . . Dick Roth has undergone surgery at our local hospital. His condition is reported satisfactory. . . . Carrying the G-E Club name, the following girls will bowl in a women's tournament at Muncie Bowling Center May 19: June Railing, Nila Morningstar, Emma Lou Kukelhan, Bernadette Reynolds and Evelyn Plasterer. . . . Raymond Seitz is taking two weeks training at Great Lakes Naval base as a reservist. . . . Birthday greetings to Dorothy Heimann, Marcile Jones, Betty Frauhiger, Freida Keller and Tye Fry. This was a well celebrated week. . . . Mina Lampy and Ada Owens visited Saturday evening with Fannie Amstutz at her home in Berne. . . . Did you notice how bright and sunny it looked back in the Lead Section the other morning? No, the sun wasn't shining. It was the cheery colorful apron covered with roses in full bloom worn by Marcia Martin. . . . On a cool and cloudy day, just 29 years ago, April 26 to be exact, two of our employees were married. Congratulations to Emma and Dallas Goldner. We hope that you get to celebrate many more anniversaries. . . . When it comes to keeping up with the styles, we find that the men are as style-conscious as are the women. Ed Borne found that the plastic aprons can be beautiful as well as practical. . . . It's a girl at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Brice Hower. Congratulations, folks. . . . Jake Eady, Al Schneider and Chet McIntosh spent the week-end in St. Louis. They were members of the local teams representing Decatur in the Elks bowling tournament. . . . Thank you, Mr. Gehrig! "Tibby" Gehrig takes pride in always having his lake boat in perfect shape and gayly painted. So the first nice week-end this year he went to work in earnest. After much sanding and chipping and rubbing, he finally applied the last coat of paint. He was ready for the annual spring launching when neighbor, Grant Fry, discovered his boat was missing. The cops found Fry's boat under the elbow grease and paint recently applied by Tibby to "his" boat. . . . AU REVOIR, Enno: When Enno W. Lankenau retired as our Plant Manager April 30, he left behind a host of fellow employees with fond memories. Enno, as he preferred to be called, prided himself in the fact that for a good many years he knew the names of every employee in Decatur Plant. He made it a point to meet every employee personally, and each and every employee sensed a happy feeling that he also knew the boss personally. During Decatur Plant's rapid rise in employment during the war and because of his pressing duties, Enno found it impossible to meet every new employee, but his keen trait of observance served him well in remembering faces if not all of the names of younger employees. To say we will miss you, Enno, would be a gross understatement. The expressions of best wishes and honors heaped upon you in the past several weeks by employees and associates convey that message more deeply than Decaturites can find words to express. In a humble but sincere way, I prefer to say only, "Au revoir, Enno, and hope you come back and visit us often."

AWARDED $85—H. C. Lemel, Bldg. 17-2 (center), devised a better method of securing cams on certain punch presses. He received $85 for his suggestion. Left to right are V. R. Castle, Mr. Lemel and Robert Esterline.

Squares' Revue

(Continued from page 1)

The complete cast includes more than 40 persons.

Interwoven with the plot are many original as well as familiar western songs under the direction of Glenn Seabold, Bldg. 28-2. The pit orchestra is conducted by L. A. Goehring, Bldg. 26-2; stage decorations, Marion Halleck, Bldg. 28-2, and square dances, Harold Boles. The script was prepared by R. A. Thomas, Bldg. 4-6. Technical assistance was provided by R. C. Triplett, Bldg. 26-2, and publicity was handled by J. P. Coughlin, Bldg. 26-2.

Ticket Chairman Don Reek declared that choice seats are still available and may be obtained from Squares members or at the G-E Club. They are $1.

Curtain time is 8:30 p.m.

DECATUR EMPLOYEE HONORED—Bessie Geisler is shown at a party held recently in honor of her retirement May 1. Seated (l-r) are Hilda Staley, Frank Braun, general foreman, Mrs. Geisler, Leonard Meyer, foreman, and Emma Butler. Standing (l-r) are Olive Lose, Nina Brown, Nyla Morningstar and Effie McGill.

Most of the accident death toll is made up of one or two-death accidents, the National Safety Council says. Only three catastrophes in 1950 caused more than 50 deaths each—the November wind and snow storm in the Northeastern states, the collision of two suburban trains in New York, and the crash of a scheduled air transport plane in Lake Michigan.

To see what is right and not to do it is cowardice.—Confucius.

For safety instructions in the use of a straight ladder, see Dutch Ohlwine. For instructions for the removal of the ladder with a piece of conduit installed through it, see Don Hower. It proves complicated after all leads are soldered and taped. . . . Some of the fellows think that Otto Hans should get his euchre instructions before he plays, not after. . . . Skin McGary bought a row boat, but it didn't have any oars. Walt Chaney told Skin he had some that Skin could have if he would pick them up. When Skin got there, he discovered that they weren't exactly what he could use, each oar was in several pieces. He did find a friend in Luther Childers, however. He furnished Skin with oars. Skin will have to take a week's vacation to row across Blue Lake. The oars are rather small. . . . It has finally happened. Butch Vegalues has traded the Green Hornet for a mighty Mercury. The pale green, delicate, color reminds one of a honey bee rather than the rough and ready green hornet. To what do you attribute this drastic change, Butch—your age or the miles you have traveled? . . . Quite some time ago, Roy Weick was bragging that he had chased a cat away from the West Gate at Taylor St. Last week he called for someone to bury a cat that had died out there. Wonder if it was the same cat coming back to get his revenge. . . . Something went wrong recently at the bank in New Haven, and the vault had to be cut open. Naturally, a situation like this would require a trustworthy and dependable guard. We are happy to announce that Charlie Hartman and his coon dog were chosen. . . . Wonder who had the fire sale on bow ties. Even George Wralstad has joined the ranks. . . . No, Sam Ratcliff doesn't have his nose in the air to ignore everyone. He has new bifocals. . . . Arnold Landis spent half a day looking for an order that he was carrying in his hand. . . . Goodbye for awhile to Myron Cole, Bob Zoller and Vance Fenimore, who are going to Danville.

If you have not often felt the joy of doing a kind act you have neglected much—and most of all yourself.—A. Nielen.

VAN HORN COMPLETES 35 YEARS—R. A. VanHorn (center, seated), Bldg. 31-2, celebrated his 35th anniversary with G-E April 17. Left to right, seated, are K. R. McDougal, Mr. VanHorn, and P. S. Stough; standing, F. J. Kissell, E. F. Richter, W. P. Lautzenheiser and R. E. Pumphrey.

